least one Kewaskum football game and felt the excitement surrounding the Homecoming game would be perfect," said WBKV Program Director Bob Bonenfant.

"We encourage people to bring their radios to the game -- but most of all, make a lot of noise!"

Second Generation New Owners of Floral Shop

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

The owners of Kewaskum Floral have an idea that someday when they're not so very busy they're going to sit down together and write a book on some of the crazy occurrences that could only happen in the floral business.

"There's the time the bride's bouquet got stolen by the neighbors," points out Millie Herman, one of the founders of Kewaskum Floral, along with her husband, Tom. Her daughter, Laurie, chimes in, "and don't forget the bride who walked down the aisle in her bedroom slippers... and the customers who stop in at 2 or 3 a.m. when we're working an all nighter, just to order something at the last minute."

After 44 years in business, the Hermans have decided to retire and let the next generation follow in their footsteps. Laurie and Rick Maske officially took over as new owners on August 20, with plans to continue a long tradition of quality floral service to the community, that began in 1952.

Tom and Millie Herman were married in 1942, and after World War II, they bought a home in the Town of Wayne, just down the road from St. Bridget's Church. One day their car broke down in front of a greenhouse in Slinger, and the couple got to talking to the owners of the business. "It really got us interested in the idea, and Grandma Herman (Tom's mother) encouraged us to open our own store," Millie remembers.

It was Easter, 1952, when Kewaskum Floral first opened its doors in Kewaskum, in a building on Main Street which now houses apartments. "We operated out of two small rooms, and later moved down the street to a place where Wendi and Randy Dreher's house now stands," Millie relates.

The flower business flourished in a small town, and the Hermans were kept busy filling orders for weddings and funerals, while their seven children grew up amidst the hustle and bustle of the family's livelihood.

Laurie remembers the awful dread of Sunday afternoons. "Every Sunday after church, us kids marched

SHARE The Season With Families in Need

The holiday season is soon approaching. As an expression of the spirit of the season many churches, businesses and community organizations donate food baskets to families in need. This year, I invite your group to be part of "SHARE the Season," a special outreach offered by SHARE Wisconsin for the holidays. SHARE distributes food to more than 20,000 families each month and has been helping families in Wisconsin for more than ten years. Because we are part of a national food buying organization we are able to offer significant savings to our participants. Whatever amount of money you plan to contribute this holiday season--for one family or one hundred--you can reach twice as many families by working through SHARE. Our proven buying and distribution system can make this an easy and joyful experience. Here's how:

You may purchase as many holiday packages as you wish for $14, plus a small fee for transportation where applicable. To order, call the SHARE office in Butler at (414) 783-2500, or toll free at 1-800-548-2124. You may also order directly from a SHARE host site in your community. Call 626-2804.

The deadline for Thanksgiving orders is October 28, 1996. The food will be distributed on November 23rd. The deadline for Christmas orders is November 25th. Food will be distributed on December 21st. You may distribute the food directly to families of your choice, or donate the holiday food packages through your local host site, or another community organization. Payment is due at the time you place your order.

"SHARE the Season," is a way for us to ensure that no one is left outside the light of love that shines so brightly during the holidays. We hope you will join us in this special community effort and share in the spirit of giving that is a cornerstone of our holiday traditions.

For more information please call (414) 783-2500 in the Milwaukee area, or toll free, 1-800-548-2124.

down to the greenhouse to pull the weeds, and it took forever, or at least we thought it did. I was so thrilled when sterilizers came along for the soil, and then the job was done in half an hour."

The greenhouses were started at the Herman home in Wayne in 1947, before the store was ever opened in town. Two buildings, one 100 x 30 foot, and the other 96 x 20, are home to 4,000 geraniums, plus numerous other spring annuals.

"There are at least a thousand flats of flowers every spring," Millie counts, who plans to continue working the greenhouse end of the business, along with her husband. "She's not the type to quit," her daughter Laurie asserts, remembering the tale that surrounds her birth.

Millie laughs, as if it's all in a day's work. "I was working on a wedding order I had to finish, but I knew it was getting close, so I went to see 'Doc' Edwards, the town physician. He examined me, and said, 'young lady, you're in labor. I want you to tell Tom to get you to the hospital, now!' This was at 4 p.m. I went back to finish the order, and around 7 p.m. I finally told Tom. We rushed to the hospital, and ten minutes later, the baby was born."

On New Year's Eve, 1962, tragedy struck, and a fire burned Kewaskum Floral to the ground. Laurie tells the story. "A train was coming through town in the middle of the night, saw the flames and blew its horn all the way from one end of town to the other, waking up the entire community. It scared some of the World War II vets, who said it sounded like an air raid."

The cause of the devastating fire was never determined, and the family operated the business out of their home, until they relocated once again, this time in a building at 119 Main Street that used to occupy McLaughlin's Butcher

Shop.

The Hermans ended up buying and remodeling the shop, where it has remained to the present. They still use the original butcher shop cooler, and Laurie now plans to add an additional walk-in cooler, update the lighting, and eventually build a new entrance with a wheelchair access.

The couple's seven children, Jane, Tom, Ellen, Laurie, Glen, Gary, and Patti, have all helped out through the years, but it's mainly been Jane, Laurie and Patti who have stuck with it. Patti recently moved to Madison, but Jane still works part time at the floral shop during off hours from her third shift job at Serigraph. "I've been here forever," she declares. A new employee, Kathy Jacque, started in August, under the businesses new name of Kewaskum Floral, Inc.

Through the years, the business has seen immense changes in the variety of flowers that have become available to the average buyer through world trade. "Back then, customers could only get what was in season around here," Laurie points out. "People don't know how lucky they are nowadays." Flowers arrive from Holland and South America, the two largest growing regions, and in fact, most of the flowers sold in the United States today are grown in other countries. "The quality is excellent," Laurie adds. They have seen a decline in the availability of dried materials, due to outbreaks of civil wars in the countries that supply them.

Silk flowers, balloons, stuffed animals, baskets, dried arrangements, and an assortment of collectible gifts now fill the shelves of Kewaskum Floral, along with the traditional flowers. "It isn't just a woman's gift anymore," Laurie observes. "It's now commonplace to send arrangements to men and children."

The Maskes look forward to keeping in step with the changing trends, yet remaining steadfast in the tradition of quality service the Hermans have established within the community. They share in the every day lives of the people; their weddings, funerals, birthdays, anniversaries, graduations, births, illnesses... it's all part of small town life, and Kewaskum Floral Inc. will continue to play the role it began more than 40 years ago.

What's New at the Public Library?

The Kewaskum Public Library would like to increase your awareness! Did you know that the library offers the following?

More than 500 videos; local newspapers; FAX services; books on the best seller lists; Americans with Disabilities Information files; legal information (Wisconsin statutes, etc.); income tax information and forms; Kewaskum Statesman newspapers since 1980; Friends of the Library group; Loud-R amplifying device for hearing disabled; volunteer opportunities; toddler board books; summer reading program; interlibrary loan services (from other libraries); more than 70 magazine titles; encyclopedias you can check out; state jobs bulletin; local high school yearbooks; phone books (including 800 directory); Wisconsin Blue Books; travel guides, tour books, atlases; book discussion group; Magna-cad (video magnifier); audio books (novels, the Bible, etc.); children's computer with CD-ROM; children's story times; local maps; free informative brochures/pamphlets for local organizations and events.

The library staff has gotten lots of questions about our new computers! Here are the most common questions:

QUESTION: When will the library start to use the new check-out system?

ANSWER: It's hard to set an exact date, but hopefully in the very near future (before the end of 1996).

QUESTION: Why is it taking so long?

ANSWER: The staff and volunteers are working hard to put bar codes on EVERY item in the library. With more than 17,000 items, this is a very time consuming job!

QUESTION: When will we issue the new plastic library cards?

ANSWER: As soon as we finish with the bar codes, the staff will be trained and we will need to hand-enter all patron information into the new computer program. THEN (and only then) we will be ready to issue the new cards, and begin using our new system. Each patron will be required to have a clean record before receiving a new card (fines paid, overdue materials returned, etc.).

QUESTION: Will I be able to use a library card from another library?

ANSWER: Everyone registered will get a new Kewaskum Library card, even if they have a card from West Bend, Campbellsport, or any other library. We will require you to use OUR card when you check out at the Kewaskum library. Each library has its own policy regarding patron cards.

QUESTION: When will the card catalog be available on the computer?

ANSWER: Good news! It is available NOW. The old card catalog is no longer being used. Almost all of our books are now entered into the computer. The program we have selected is very user-friendly (easy to use), but we will be happy to assist you if you are having any difficulty.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor,

The Kewaskum School Board has implemented a policy that states that a fee "may" be charged when information is requested by the public. The policy does not include criteria for whom a fee will be charged and/or why. Recently, I was charged full price while my friend received materials free of charge.

In the interest of saving others from having to pay for duplicate information, I would like to share two of the more interesting bits of information that I received.

On August 8, the Kewaskum School Board treated themselves and others to dinner at Hon-E-Kor Country Club at taxpayer's expense. They enjoyed $57.00 spent on flowers, a master of ceremonies, and charged a grand total of $665.00 to our district for 38 people. No business was conducted.

On August 14-16, six Kewaskum administrators travelled to Fox Hills Golf/Conference Center in Mishicot, WI. Twelve items of business were conducted during an "administrative planning session." A cost in excess of $1,400 has been billed to taxpayers of our district.

I will continue to pay 25c per page because it is well worth it to me to know where tax dollars are being spent. Few, if any, governmental bodies charge a fee for information. I believe the Kewaskum School Board should reconsider their policy on public records. An open door policy will create far more public trust than one that picks and chooses those offered materials with no cost and those who must pay.

Sincerely,
Ruth A. Schmitt

Dear Sirs:

The plans for the Washington County 1996 CROP Walk are well on their way, but additional help is needed. Anyone who would like to participate can contact Wendy Coulter at her office at 334-3334 or at home at 338-3296.

Mueller - Suda

Our Savior's Lutheran Church, West Bend, was the setting of the May 18, 1996 wedding of Jennifer Ann Mueller and Paul Edward Suda Sr. The officiating pastor was Rev. Adolf Quast and Shelly Sekas, friend of the bride, was assisting minister.

The bride, daughter of Jerome and Barbara Mueller, West Bend, is a sixth grade teacher at De Pere Middle School.

The groom, son of the late Edward and Verna Suda, is employed by Lamer's Bus Co., and also plays in a band.

Honor attendants were Janet Hathaway, sister of the bride, and Matt Tucker, friend of the groom.

Denise Wilke and Kim O'Donnell, friends of the bride, were the other attendants. Jeff Mueller and Dan Mueller, brothers of the bride, were the groomsmen.

Paul Suda Jr., son of the groom, and Bill O'Donnell, friend of the bride, were ushers.

A reception, dinner and dance was held at the KC Hall in West Bend. The couple lives in Green Bay.

Run County Park. A total of 25% of the money raised will be donated to area food pantries, while the remainder will be distributed through Church World Service to the thousands of people in need because of earthquakes, war, and droughts. Over $22,000 was raised at last year's walk.

"WALKING" -- we can do it anywhere, indoors or out and at our own speed. It's good for us; it renews our energies and de-stresses our minds. We walk because we want to walk.

"WALKING" -- three miles to the nearest stream; three miles back home; three times a day - for water. With three gallons of water on her head, with a huge load of sticks on his back, to the clinic, to school, to market, to the fields, to seek shelter, to escape harm, to find a home. We walk for the hungry because they walk. Join the CROP WALK on Sunday, October 13, 1996.

Meet the Staff at KHS

KHS Principal
Larry Wilson

The new school year brought a new office -- and a new position -- for current Kewaskum High School Principal Larry Wilson. After serving as the KHS assistant principal for the 1995-96 school year, Mr. Wilson was named to the post of principal for 1996-97.

As far as the new year is concerned, Mr. Wilson stated, "I am looking forward to getting to know the school better this year (and) am looking forward to working with the faculty and students to improve the curriculum that we provide."

Prior to his arrival at KHS, Mr. Wilson spent six years as an assistant principal for the ninth grade at West Bend High Schools. Before that, he taught as an LD/ED teacher in a Lake Geneva High School. But both posts were far away from his roots.

"I was born in Oklahoma," explained Mr. Wilson, "which is why I still say, 'Howdy,' and 'You all.'"

He is married to Jeanne, a teacher at West Bend West High School. They have a daughter who's a senior there, and a son who's a senior at UW-Madison. They also have two cats: "One which thinks she's a dog and is very friendly, and the other, which never comes out except at night."

Mr. Wilson is also an avid cyclist and camper.

This past summer, he spent a month "bicycling, hiking, and camping (all on a bicycle) in the Canadian Rockies."

Mr. Wilson's educational philosophy seems to mirror his proactive hobbies.

"(I believe) the future does not just arrive suddenly one day. We are building it and living it by what we do today and every day," he explained.

And what does the future hold for Kewaskum High School?

"I would like to see the district programs and relationship with the community continually improved," he stated. And Mr. Wilson believes that is an ongoing process. "When we believe that everything is 'just right,'" he added, "we are usually wrong."

Life is so much sweeter when we learn which things are worth worrying about and which aren't.

Childrens Activity Tent Will Be Featured at Kettle Kountry Kolors

By Louise Martin

An annual feature at Kewaskum's Kettle Kountry Kolors Family Fun Festival is the Childrens Activity Tent in which many interesting activities will again be held during festival weekend October 12th and 13th at River Hill Park in Kewaskum.

Returning by popular request and a must see for all attending is the magic and ventriloquist show by Bruce and Judy Dicker of Sheboygan. The Dickers will dazzle spectators with magic, ventriloquism, clowning, balloon sculpting, games and prizes. Add to all this, audience participation, which results in a dynamite show everyone will enjoy! Performances are at 1:15 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

A new addition to the activity tent will be K'Nex for Kids from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days. Children are invited to use their creative imagination to build a masterpiece with these bendable building blocks.

Also returning to the festival is the International Institute of Wisconsin hosting ethnic workshops for children with palm printing and dream catchers from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and again from 2 to 3:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Another new event to the tent from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday will be Eccentrics by Kimetha of Kewaskum who invites children and the young at heart to experience "Feelings with Flowers." All are invited to make a unique corsage or small floral arrangement reflecting their own personal creativity and style. The cost will be $1.00.

Children can also visit "The Pumpkin Patch," hosted by members of the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club, select a pumpkin and paint an expressive, colorful face. The cost is $1.00 and you get to keep the pumpkin.

The Make-It and Take-It craft area is another popular attraction with children, as well as their parents. This area will be located adjacent to the main craft tent, and will enable children (and adults) to try their hand at creating their own craft masterpieces.

For a nominal fee, young crafters can sit down and work on the project of their choosing, and take it along home with them upon completion. An instructor will be on hand to help with all the details. This "crafty" idea gives parents the opportunity to browse through the craft tents while the kids are busy perfecting their works of art.

Illinois Hiking Club Visits Kewaskum Segment of Ice Age Trail

Members of the Forest Hills Hiking Club from Illinois were in the area this past weekend hiking in the Northern Kettle Moraine. This club has over 200 members and many travel throughout the United States for hiking experiences. The trip here to the Kettle Moraine in Washington County is an annual event for them. While staying at the Country Ridge Inn Bed and Breakfast, members of the club checked out the newly opened Kewaskum segment of the Ice Age National Scenic Trail, just east of the bed and breakfast on Ridge Road, Kewaskum. Shown above, outside the Country Ridge Bed and Breakfast, is owner Ron Ellefson, (far left) and members of the Illinois hiking club. The Kewaskum Segment of the Ice Age Trail is in the background of the photo.

A photo is taken in front of the newly erected Ice Age National Scenic Trail sign which designates the Kewaskum Segment of the Trail.

Grounds, I would like to add that both Panzer and Lehmann introduce a sales tax for surrounding counties to pay for the new golf course being built in the Hartford area. Maybe they could include a luxury clubhouse, sales tax free, for the affluent, as in the luxury boxes at the proposed stadium. These suggestions seem to be far fetched, but compared to the stadium, they are conservative.

Thank you,
Lloyd A. Koch

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

According to local area newspapers, Trunzo, the stadium board chairman, indicated that the board was not going to build something "the public doesn't want" after the Matsubishi offer to lease equipment for the stadium to the stadium board, so that the cost could exceed the lawful $250,000,000.00. If this is the case, he should immediately discontinue the sales tax on the five counties involved and return the money already accrued. I am sure the stadium board and state politicians realize that the public in this area, in general do not want the responsibility of paying for this project and they would have had a referendum if they had thought that it would pass.

Now, I understand, the Brewers have requested a $10,000,000.00 penalty clause if the stadium isn't built by March 1, 2000. The audacity of this organization to request something like this is unbelievable. The only reason there was a delay in the ground breaking is because of the Brewers refusal, or inability, to pay their commitment toward this project. If anyone should be penalized for delays it should be the Brewers. Trunzo, in my opinion, is showing his disregard for the intelligence of the public by making the aforementioned statement. It seems that he is trying to make the public believe that they, the stadium board, are doing us a favor by forcing us to pay for the stadium. Whether leased or not, it's going to be the responsibility of the five counties, therefore nothing more than the agreed to amount should be paid by the public, whatever method they use to deceive us.

In a letter written in the West Bend Daily News last week suggesting that Panzer propose a sales tax on bordering counties to pay for the Washington County Fair

Grand Opening of Kewaskum Segment of Ice Age Trail To Be Celebrated During Annual Amble Saturday

The Ice Age Amble, being held this Saturday, October 5, invites hikers to help raise funds to support the Ice Age Trail. Kewaskum Amblers should meet at the Kewaskum segment of the trail. Sign-up will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Visitors to the Kewaskum area are enjoying the new segment of the Ice Age Trail, that was recently opened off of Ridge Road.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

The Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation, Inc. will be celebrating the grand opening of the new Kewaskum segment of the Ice Age Trail at this year's 10th Annual Ice Age Amble, scheduled for Saturday, October 5th (formerly the Hike-A-Thon).

This addition of the Ice Age Trail has been carved out on land owned by the Foundation and includes an easement granted by Jim Engle of the Summit Ski Corporation. The three and a half miles of loop trails meander through hills that were formed by deposits from the Green Bay lobe of glacier, offering a 360 degree view of the area, plus a trek through a Sugar Maple woods.

Most of the land was once farmed, evident by the various rock piles marking the terrain.

Parts of it are still being farmed, and as hikers crest the hill, a spectacular view of the surrounding countryside takes in Campbellsport and Dundee Mountain to the north, and to the south, the sprawling community of West Bend.

Descending the hilltop, the trail enters a mature, hardwood forest dominated by Maples, but a keen eye may observe one of the largest Beech trees found in the area, along with the elusive wild turkey. Walk quietly, and you may be able to observe some of the abundant wildlife that thrives in the woods and meadows of this scenic segment of Washington County.

Entrance to the Kewaskum loop trails is off of Ridge Road. Take Highway 45 south to Badger Road, travel west 1/4 mile to Prospect Avenue, which turns into Ridge Road when it curves west.

Turn into the parking area at the top of the hill. This beautiful addition to the trail offers a walk through moderate terrain, making it accessible for nature lovers of any age.

Registration for the Ice Age Amble will take place the day of the event, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The cost is $8 per hiker, $20 per family. Organized groups qualify for a discount. For information, registration or pledge forms contact the foundation office at 691-2776 or 1-800-227-0046.

Participants may hike on their own, or join with interpretive guides, available hourly. Water and apples will be available at rest stops along the way, and don't forget to bring your camera, since the fall colorama promises to be magnificent.

There will be drawing for hikers who make pledges to support the trail, and the Monches Mill House Bed and Breakfast has once again donated one night's stay, which will be awarded the hiker with the most collected pledges.

Join forces with other amblers from across the state, as they gather on October 5th to help raise money to complete Wisconsin's Ice Age Trail. Ambling necessities include comfortable walking shoes, plenty of water, and a trail map. Before you set out, know where the restrooms are located, and when you need to be back.

The Ice Age National Scenic Trail meanders along the terminal moraine left by the great Wisconsin Glacier over 10,000 years ago. It begins at Potawatomi State Park on the Door County shores of Lake Michigan and winds south over the long moraines of Kettle Moraine State Forest. It then turns north along the driftless area where the glacier halted, passes through the wilds of Chequamegon National Forest and ends where the melting glaciers carved the incredible Dalles of the St. Croix at Interstate State Park.

Today, over 500 miles of the trail are complete, with less than 500 miles to go. Through IAPTF, the Ice Age Trail is connecting people, communities and state and local parks, providing a living history of Wisconsin's geological past. Amblers will be joining up with the trail at 17 different locations throughout the state for the Ice Age Amble.

Kewaskum area hikers should meet at the Ridge Road parking lot to register, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturday. Come help celebrate the grand opening of the Kewaskum segment of the Ice Age Trail, and enjoy one of the many scenic opportunities this part of the country has to offer.

School District to Administer State Exams To Fourth, Eighth and Tenth Grade Students

As part of the mandatory State testing program, Kewaskum School District fourth, eighth and tenth grade students will be administered a battery of assessment tests beginning October 7, 1996.

Parents will receive letters this week with additional specific information on the examinations as well as a brochure developed by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction explaining the Wisconsin Student Assessment System.

The test takes six hours to complete and will be taken in the student's individual classrooms. The tests are designed to show student understanding of language arts, mathematics, science, and social studies.

All students will also complete a 45 minute writing sample as part of the test. Eighth and tenth grade students will also take a career inventory test.

Results from the tests will be available to students, teachers, and parents in early March.

All students including special education students, in the three grades, are required to take the test battery unless parents request that they be exempted.

According to George Allmann, the district assessment coordinator, these tests give the District and parents a chance to see how students are achieving and how well that achievement compares to the state and national level.

"Effective this year," said Allmann, "students who score at or below the 25th percentile as a total test score will be required to retake those sections of the tests in the spring of 1997. If the student fails to score above the standard, he or she will then be required to attend summer school. If students fail to pass the examination after summer school, they would be retained in their previous grade."

The summer school instruction will be specifically designed at each grade level to accommodate the student's deficiency in the knowledge and concept areas of the major disciplines.

In addition to the fourth, eighth and tenth grade tests in October, kindergarten, second and sixth grade students will also be administered examinations in April to determine their level of achievement. Results of these tests will be given to teachers and parents in May.

Parents of guardians who have questions about the District's testing program should contact the building principal at their child's school or George Allmann at the District office at 626-8427.

Hoping to fit into more parents'/ guardians' schedules, Open House followed school from 3:45 until 6 p.m., instead of being held in the evening hours. On a motion by Trustee David Goeden, seconded by Trustee Gary Gavin and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the advertising for sale the IHC 1973 tank truck.

Assistant Fire Chief Mark Herriges reported that another EMT had left the Department because of relocating to another community. It was noted they are looking for EMTs, especially daytime.

Chief of Police Richard L. Knoebel informed the Board that the School Liaison Program has begun and is going well.

Chief of Police Richard L. Knoebel indicated it was the Board's wish to review the Halloween Trick or Treat hours, possibly moving them to evening hours. President Robert Wagner promoted the change to evening hours indicating they would be more traditional and more fun for the children. Chief of Police Richard L. Knoebel indicated the hours were changed originally to provide for a safer type environment for the children; also to maintain similar hours for all area communities to prevent community to community trick or treating. The safety concerns were addressed indicating possibly trying late afternoon to early evening hours on the Sunday prior to Halloween. On a motion by Trustee Gary Gavin, seconded by Trustee Warren Dums and carried by the majority voice vote, the Board established Trick or Treat hours for this year, Sunday, October 27, 1996 from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. It was noted that this would be a one year trial basis and that the Board should revisit the issue September of 1997.

The related accounts generally reflected an increase totaling an estimated 16% increase. This increase is primarily caused by community growth.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee John Kenworthy and carried by the majority voice vote, the Board acknowledged receipt of the petition for annexation and recommended turning it over to the Village Attorney and bring it to the Plan Commission. Indians Narrowly Lose Non-Conference Tilt, 21-20

After an easy win last week, things got tougher this week, as the Kewaskum football team traveled to Manitowoc to take on the Manitowoc Roncalli Jets.

Roncalli will be a member of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference next year, so this game was a preview of what might be in the coming years. It turned out to be another tough game for first year Head Coach Perry Koth, as the Indians lost 21-20 to the unbeaten Jets.

Kewaskum took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards in 10 plays, highlighted by Kevin Martin's 42 yard touchdown pass to junior Ryan Rammer for the first score of the game.

Freshman Chris Koth kicked the extra point to give the Indians a quick 7-0 lead. Koth was kicking for the Indians regular kicker, junior Sean Cotter, who pulled a hamstring in the Chilton game and was not kicking for this one.

Martin ended up completing eight of 17 passes for 185 yards and one TD. In the second quarter, the Jets marched 67 yards in nine plays capped off by Marc Wadzinski's 12-yard run for the score. The try for two points was not good, so the Indians went into half time with a 7-6 lead.

Wadzinski led all rushers with 131 yards in 27 carries and scored two touchdowns.

Kewaskum did have one late drive in the second quarter that covered 54 yards which was highlighted by a Martin to Dan Jeserig (three catches for 49 yards) 29 yard pass play to give the Indians a first down on the Jets 26 yard line. Kewaskum reached the 11 yard line, but after a couple of sacks for losses, they gave up the ball on downs.

The third quarter belonged to the Jets as they outgained the Indians by 80 yards (88-8) in the quarter and scored a touchdown with 11 seconds remaining to take a 14-7 lead.

It looked like the Roncalli Jets had taken over the game as they dominated the line play as they entered the fourth quarter. But this year's Kewaskum's team does not give up so easily. On their first play in the fourth quarter, Kevin Martin connected with his brother, Ryan, for a 34 yard gain to the Jets 29 yard line.

The next play, Eric Kopecky broke through the middle of the line after shedding several tackles, and scampered 29 yards for the touchdown. Koth's kick tied the score at 14 a minute into the final stanza.

Roncalli came right back with another long drive covering 72 yards and regained the lead with quarterback Greg Steizer snuck it in from the one. The kick for the extra point was good and the Jets had a 21-20 lead with six minutes left in the game.

Once again the Indians responded when they had to, as they came right back with a 70 yard, nine play drive with Kevin Martin running the ball in from the six yard line. The drive was highlighted by Martin's 19 yard run on a fourth down play and by Martin's 33 yard pass play to Ryan Rammer (two catches for 76 yards).

With the Indians trailing by one point, Koth decided to kick the extra point. The snap from center was short and the holder could not handle the low snap. By the time the ball was picked up and put on the tee, the Jets were deep in the backfield and blocked the kick, giving them the one point margin of victory, 21-20.

"There were four minutes left and we felt that if we stopped them we would have had enough time to score one more time," said Koth. "We talked it over on the sidelines about going for two points and the win, but we decided that it was a non-conference game and if the game should go into overtime, it would be a good experience for the team heading into our final four conference games."

Koth also added that if this game had been a conference game, they would have gone for the two points and the win.

Kewaskum had 274 yards of total offense compared to 338 yards for the Jets. The Indians were without defensive coordinator Randy Westerman who had missed all week due to illness. JV Coach Joe Kinney filled in for Westerman during the game and did a good job.

The loss gives the Indians a 2-3 record while the Jets record improves to 5-0. The Indians are celebrating Homecoming this week and take on the Two Rivers Raiders on Friday at 7 p.m. following the Homecoming parade.

Results this week in EWC: Plymouth 28, Sheboygan Falls 0; Kiel 48, Chilton 14; New Holstein 34, Two Rivers 12.
