Town of Wayne Issues Conditional Use Permit for Child Day Care Center

By Louise Martin

Action was taken at the October Town of Wayne board meeting to issue a conditional use permit to town resident Dodie Sargent for the purpose of operating a child day care center in the building located on the corner of Highways H and W in Wayne. After some building renovations, Sargent plans to open the center in the spring of 1997.

Legal counsel for the town, Gerald Kiefer, advised the board of some technical corrections and additions needed to the developers agreement presented by Kim and Mary Rodenkirch for the proposed land development on Broadview Lane. As part of the development, it will be necessary to widen Broadview.

The Rodenkirchs have agreed to provide the extra land needed to make this improvement. Acting on the recommendation of the Plan Commission, the town board approved the certified survey map for the development contingent on a developer's agreement, acceptable to the town board. The agreement with the required changes and additions should be ready for review at the November board meeting.

A town resident questioned if Broadview or any future development projects requiring road construction would take priority over other town roads that need work. Attorney Kiefer felt the question was premature as no definite decision on Broadview had been made. Chairman Mark Strobel responded that road improvement delays have been the result of inclement weather or waiting for the comple-

CVC Sold to West Bend Firm

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

Amidst the tedious annual chore of budget review, the Kewaskum Village Board made a surprise announcement at Monday evening's meeting regarding the sale of the Central Village Complex, the former West Bend Savings Building located at 114 Main Street.

According to Village Administrator Dan Schmidt, "We have an active offer to purchase. The offer to purchase is between the Village of Kewaskum, as the owners of the property, located at 114 Main Street with Silbernagel and Jason Financial from West Bend at an offered price of $180,000."

Schmidt stated the Village is selling only the property located at 114 Main Street, not the property adjacent east of that property, which is 45 feet in width.

Village President Robert Wagner asked for clarification on the 45 feet in regards to an easement.

Schmidt reiterated, "The 45 feet will remain in Village ownership as part of the Village's other property known as the old Sentry store property. An easement will be brought back to the board prior to December 1, regarding nine parking stalls and access to those parking stalls adjacent to the property."

Schmidt added there is a mutual agreement regarding the details of the easement, but this has to formally be agreed to by both parties. He also stated there was a contingency on financing, but the financing had been approved as of late Monday afternoon, however the Village was awaiting written confirmation. Closing is expected to take place on December 2, 1996.

Trustee Gary Gavin made the motion to accept the $180,000 offer from Silbernagel and Jason Financial on the CVC Building which was seconded by Trustee Bob Stoltzmann and unanimously carried.

Administrator Schmidt then explained two points were brought out following building inspection of the property. The two points were the roof with the other being the chimney. Schmidt added a roofing contractor had been brought in who indicated the chimney is the problem of the roof, too, because of the flashing.

Schmidt said, "In the offer, they (Silbernagel

Local Author Publishes Second Children's Book

Karen Hartman talks to visitors at Kettle Kountry Kolors about her new book, "Gift from the Eagle." Sharon Callaway Roznik photo

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

For self published author Karen Hartman, symbols have a way of working themselves in and through her life. So it was with her newly released book, "Gift From the Eagle."

There is an experience that led to this story," relates Hartman, well known for her first work, "The Dream Catcher Lady," and the inspirational messages she carries to school children throughout the state. "I never dreamed of doing another book," she states, but Karen knows only too well that sometimes dreams take us places we never thought to visit.

That place happened to be the Gardner Dam, set upon the Wolf River, where Karen was asked to speak in front of 1,200 mothers, boy scouts, and scout leaders at a Scout-Trek weekend retreat. "It was a 4 1/2 hour drive, and the group had lost their entertainment at the last minute, and asked me to stand in," she remarks, disbelief still lingering in her voice. "I told them I couldn't do it. I tried to find someone else who could entertain these scouts. Then they backed out. I couldn't find anyone. So when I got there it was a sea of people, and I thought - what have I gotten myself into?"

While she was waiting to speak to the group,

Hartman looked up and noticed two eagles circling above the audience, reminding her that it's not what you have in your hand (that counts), but what you carry in your heart (the basic message of her book), and told the director to point the bird out to the boys. That's how he introduced her... "Here's Karen Hartman, the Dream Catcher Lady who brought us the eagles."

With knocking knees, Hartman spoke to the crowd about the Dream Catcher, Native American beliefs, and the importance of not judging people from the outside, using the buffalo horn as an example - its once rough exterior polished into a beautiful piece of art. "When it was over, people told me how much they loved it, and one of the eagles came back and circled again," Karen observed, questioning the meaning of the symbolism.

She didn't plan on staying the night, but after a moonlit walk, she relented to inner feelings. The next morning she awoke at 5:30, drawn to the Wolf River, and once again met the circling eagle, and watched it land in its nest at the top of the tallest tree. "His head was glistening in the sun," she remembers. "What do you want me to do, I asked, and when I looked away, and then turned back, I couldn't find the eagle or the nest anymore.

Karen returned home feeling good about her experience with the scouts and the eagles. Four days later, she was awakened at 2 a.m. with memories of an eagle vision she had years ago; the eagle turned into a cloud, and a young boy took a feather from her. She began to write it all down, finally realizing how the story was meant to unfold. "One year at Indian Summerfest, I was given a carved, eagle claw pipe I admired but couldn't afford, a school gave me an eagle pin after one of my talks, and I recognized how many times eagles have come to me, and I had this strong feeling that I needed to get this story out."

The Dream Catcher Lady makes an appearance in Gift From the Eagle, tying the two works together. "The best gift a person can give is to share themselves, their personality, and their talents," she asserts. "It's how we show people respect, that's how this book just happened to fall together. I've learned a lot writing it."

While in the process of completing the book, Karen also learned she had cancer, and as with all experiences in her life, she uses it to benefit others. "As a cancer survivor, it gives me strength to know I can help other people. I can talk to them and say, I have gone through this, too."

Gift From The Eagle was released in hard cover last month, through Weeping Heart Publications, and Hartman sings praises to illustrator Louise Bussiere, for her thoughtful presentation of Karen's story. Done on soft parchment paper in sepia tones, the illustrations are shaded pencil drawings, detailing scenes of Native American life set within the natural world. Subdued tones create a "days gone by" feeling throughout the pages that fits well with the story, and Hartman's business card motto, "Our business is going backwards."

The story itself revolves around Weeping Heart, a young Native American girl, who dreams of a gift from an eagle. Others ridicule her as she struggles to realize the meaning of the dream. Years pass, and on a special night during the Celebration of Grandmother Moon, she comes to realize she always held a special gift within her heart. Weeping Heart no longer fears rejection of others, because she believes in herself.

"I don't know how this book came together, it just comes from the heart, and I want people to read it, and feel that. Louise did an excellent job conveying these feelings." 6,560 books were printed, using recycled paper only manufactured by the printer four times a year.

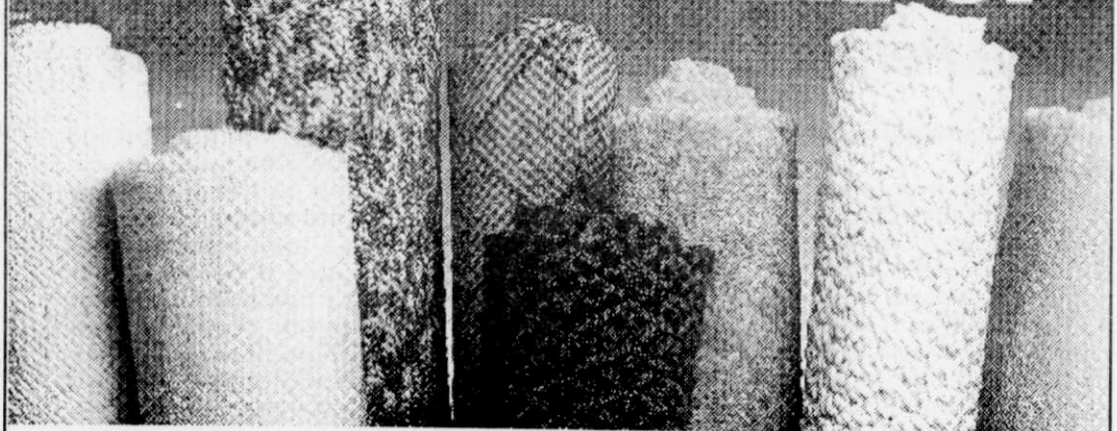

Karen's future plans for self promotion include talk radio shows, and appearances on local cable stations. "What I'm learning I can always pass on to someone else. I was always the different kid on the block, and that struggle has helped me become the person I am today. So many people have helped, and given me support along the way. I thank everyone whose path has crossed mine."

Gift of The Eagle is available at Schwartz Books, Audubon Court, The Book Mark, West Bend and Kewaskum Pharmacies, Teacher's Pet, the Kewaskum Historical Society, and the Milwaukee Public Museum.

tion of engineering plans. The board will ask town zoning administrator Gordon Hoffmann to investigate a junk car complaint and possible town ordinance violation after the matter was brought to their attention by a town resident.

A complaint was also received of remodeling materials being dumped on Highway W. Following a discussion regarding the location of the materials, it was determined the disposed materials are most likely on private property. The board suggested the town resident contact the Washington County Sheriff's Department to file a complaint and take the matter to civil court if necessary.

The board approved a one time assessment fee of $265 to support the Wisconsin Towns Association office building project which will be located in the Shawano area. Board members remarked that this is a helpful organization to townships and it was at one of their meetings members learned about the availability of highway money from the DNR. The town of Wayne recently received $26,000 from the state for the repaving of Mohawk Road.

The next town of Wayne Plan Commission meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, November 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Town Hall with the monthly town board meeting to follow on Wednesday, November 20 at 8 p.m.

and Jason Financial) agreed to pay the first $500 and split everything after that 50-50, which is even more than the village board had asked for."

Schmidt added that contractors have been called in to take care of the chimney because everything is needed to be in order before December 2. He said, "We will have to do some of the flashing, caulking ourselves because you can't get contractors this time of the year, which the buyer is fully aware of. The estimate from the contractor is $400 to fix the chimney."

Trustee Gary Gavin asked, "If they are agreeing to pay the first $500, why are we even getting involved?" Schmidt answered, "We own the building." Schmidt reassured the board that the buyers would be paying for the repairs, but the village would not receive the money until closing.

Following the meeting, President Wagner remarked, "I would like to add I'm real happy that things worked out the way they did. I'm proud of the board and Dan and all his hard work. The property will now go back on the tax roll and another new business will be brought into the community."

Fourth Grade District-Wide Field Trip

What sings, dances, and has dinosaur exhibits?

For the fourth graders in the School District of Kewaskum, the answer was a district-wide field trip. "Harmony in the Arts" was the theme for the recent fourth grade trip. The students visited the artistry of the Milwaukee Public Museum, followed by a concert at the Marcus Center for the Performing Arts (formerly the PAC). The field trip was arranged through the elementary schools and the district's program for Students with Gifted and Talented Needs to encourage excitement and appreciation for the arts. Similar trips will be taken by the third and fifth graders later in the year.

Mrs. Domasky's Fourth Grade class of Farmington Elementary offered this report on the recently-attended concert:

The fourth grade classes of the Kewaskum School District went to hear the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra on October 15.

The music was set to Rhythms of Dance, and it was begun with a Native American drum and dance presentation. Another arrangement, "In the Mood" was presented with a lively dancer. Our favorite music was "Gopak" with three men dancing at high speed. Sometimes they danced in a squatting position. The waltz was done with ladies in pretty dresses to "Tales of the Vienna Woods" by Johann Strauss.

Watching the different instruments that were played alone or together was interesting. It was a spectacular concert.

The event was held at one of the 25 agencies benefiting from this year's drive: the Senior Center in Hartford. Entertainment, including "island songs" were provided by the Kitchen-naire Band of the Senior Friends.

"We like to showcase our member agencies wherever possible," said United Way Executive Director, Barbara Hurula. "The Senior Center was a great setting for the event for about 70 campaign volunteers, United Way Board members and agency representatives," she said.

"We're running

slightly ahead of target," said Campaign Chair Mark Nielsen. "We know our volunteers are working very hard to generate gifts and pledges, and it was a fun celebration to note which divisions are already at or above the 65% mark: Accountants and Business Services, Attorneys, Clergy, Non-profits, Physicians, Other Professionals, Washington County Employees, Allenton, Jackson, West Bend City Government Employees, Financial, Special Gifts, Key Firms, and Richfield, Hubertus and Colgate.

Nielsen's closing comments echoed the feeling of the volunteers, "The campaign appears to be on course... we've spent the first half of our journey sailing with the wind. We cannot and will not let the agencies and the people they serve go down. In fact, we want to "buoy" their spirits and their lives," he said.

The campaign continues through early December 4 at West Bend Mutual Insurance.

Buckskinners a Big Hit at Kettle Kountry

The Buckskinners encampment covered both sides of the river with a record turnout of Rendezvous participants at this year's Kettle Kountry Kolors.

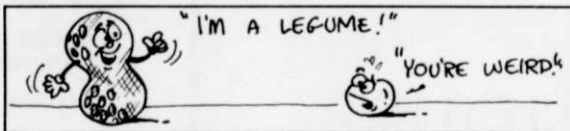

Jim Barrett (the Whip) fires a musket across the Milwaukee River, hoping to hit the fry bread ladies, who yelled back, "Fire in the hole!"

D.J. Butzke has a grand time climbing trees, while his grandparents, the Odekirks, visit with the grownup Buckskinners.

This is the season we finally get to see ends meet -- on the football field.

The peanut is not actually a nut, botanically speaking, but the fruit of a vegetable plant related to the green pea.

KMS Sixth Graders Attend Camp Whitcomb

Alexa Nelson and Katie Klug celebrated their birthdays at camp, so they had to "Kiss the Moose."

Kewaskum Middle School sixth graders again attended Camp Whitcomb in Hartland on either September 19-20 or September 26-27. The camp is located in Hartland, Wisconsin, and contains 284 acres of forest, lakes, marsh, ponds, open fields, cabins and lodges.

While at camp this year, they enjoyed a wide variety of classes offered by many very willing KMS staff members. The teachers and their activities were: Leslie Bruss and Diane Stangl - Co-op Challenge; Cathy Daniels - Robin Hood; Kim Gutjahr and Laura Schultz - Wet and Wild; Karen Larson - Fresh Prints; Kathy West - Box Baking; Erv Uhlman - Walk on the Wild Side; Kris and Chuck Dreher - Homeward Bound, and Bob Gonwa and Clark Pearson - Cabin Supervision.

A huge thank you to all these teachers who left their classrooms to share their talents with the sixth graders.

In addition to these classes, the students also had fun with the Suzy game, group sing-alongs, kissing the moose, taking a night hike, playing tug-o-war, and enjoying the camaraderie of their cabin groups. The camp naturalist provided Canoe Safety for all students.

When asked about their Camp Whitcomb experience, all sixth graders were willing to share their most enjoyable moments. This is an educational experience that will be remembered for a long time.

Letters to The Editor

To Those Who Opened Their Hearts:

A year ago our lives were shattered when our then seven-year-old daughter, Kelly, was hit by a vehicle while crossing the road in front of our home. While we suffered through the first days and weeks while Kelly remained in a coma at Children's Hospital, many of our friends began their support behind this little girl who they heard was in very serious condition.

First, the prayer lines opened. We heard hundreds of people were praying for her recovery. Many cards, letters and gifts began coming to the hospital and to our home. An account was set up in her name at West Bend Savings and as Kelly started to recover, some very dear friends took it upon themselves to start a benefit to help offset some of the costs incurred from her recovery. In short, hundreds and possibly thousands of people from the entire area of our rural community helped in some way or another to show our family that we were not alone.

At this time (after being told last Christmas that Kelly's vision was not likely going to return) her vision has extremely improved, although she now wears glasses. She still continues to work with a tutor in school to help her try and recover as much as possible.

Kelly was moved from second to third grade due to the overwhelming support from her therapists, teachers, tutors, and classmates. She struggles in school at times, and is still unable to go full days, but Kelly continues to surprise people. She has come from a coma that lasted more than five weeks, unable to walk or talk, to a smiling, active, now eight-year-old girl.

No one knows if she will ever recover what she has lost, but with the help received from all who cared or said a prayer or just thought of us over the last year, we can't come up with the words to thank you all. We owe so much to all of you! Our family is extremely grateful for everything you've done for us over the last year. Our thoughts go out to you and your families. You've prayed for us and we now realize that miracles can and do come true.

Our prayers are with you. Thank you all!!

The Wagner Family

Dear Editor:

Page 12 of the October 17, 1996 Kewaskum Statesman (volume 100, number 45) begins: "It took seven years for Mother Nature to share her sunshine on all of the Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Kolors Festival, but shine she did." We are disappointed that you did not give credit where credit is due.

Rather than giving credit to the Lord who controls the weather, you have given credit to a false god of the New Age

Movement -- Mother Nature. Remember, "The earth is the LORDS, and everything in it, the world, and all who live in it." (Psalm 24:1). Please consider thanking the Lord in the future.

If your intent is to report without interjecting religion, we suggest that you stay with the facts. For example: "After seven years of less than perfect weather, the sun shone brightly on the Kettle Kountry Kolors festival."

Sincerely yours,
Rev. and Mrs.
Timothy A. Henning

EDITOR'S NOTE:

I sincerely believe my readers know me and my style of writing (I think of it as a letter to a friend) and any semi-intellectual person with faith in God realizes when we refer to "Mother Nature" we ARE referring to God.

Anyone who cares enough to know me personally, knows I attend church every Sunday (almost). Those involved with Kettle Kountry Kolors from the beginning and anytime after, knows of my deep commitment to it, knows of my sadness during the rainy years, and also knows I HAVE been praying to God for seven years for a full weekend of sunshine!

The term "Mother Nature" is used by myself, often, strictly as a "figure of speech." I believe 98% of the Statesman readers realize that and also are aware of the fact of who controls the weather.

I don't feel I have to do any "name dropping" to let my readers know whether or not I have religious convictions. I happen to feel my relationship with my Lord is a very private thing and does not require incorporation into my articles.

I am truly sorry if the term "Mother Nature" offends anyone... but really... New Age Movement?? (I guess I've been accused of worse!) But please... don't try and "label" me... I'm just a small town editor trying to meet a weekly deadline the best way I know how. And I truly resent ANYONE inferring I am less of a Christian because I happen to use a figure of speech occasionally instead of constantly reiterating my religious beliefs in print. Read between the lines before passing judgement.

Meet the Staff of the Kewaskum School District

KES Fifth Grade Teacher Deb Hubbard

Whether hunting for student strengths, or hunting for geese, fifth grade teacher Deb Hubbard is excited about being here at Kewaskum.

"I'm in my second year here at Kewaskum Elementary," Mrs. Hubbard stated, "and the staff here is wonderful. They have really made me feel welcome from the beginning."

"And it's great," she added, "seeing my students progress, too."

When she's not teaching, however, Mrs. Hubbard can often be found pursuing some favorite outdoor activities such as camping, fishing, or hunting with her husband David and her dogs, Cody and Chico.

"To look at me, you might not picture me dressed in camouflage, lying in a corn field, waiting for geese to fly by," she joked.

"But I do," she continued, "and this past week, I got two geese."

Mrs. Hubbard's love for the outdoors may stem from her upbringing in Menomonie, the one in west-central Wisconsin, as she points out, "not Menomonee Falls, or the Indian nation." Following her schooling at UW-Eau Claire, Mrs. Hubbard taught in Menomonie as an instructional assistant until she began at KES in August of 1995.

One of Mrs. Hubbard's favorite school activities this past year was her class's "States" Fair.

"Each student researched a state and created a report, a three-dimensional display and two creative projects, such as brochures and travel guides," she explained excitedly. "We set up the displays in the cafeteria for classmates, parents and some of the other classes, too."

"I'm hoping that we can do it again this spring," she said.

In the meantime, Mrs. Hubbard will keep enjoying her fifth graders, and keep an eye out for geese.

KES Third Graders Study Hawaii

FES Third Graders Tour QG And Ride On a Steam Train

On October 15, Mrs. Larsen's and Mrs. Marschner's third graders went on a field trip to Quad Graphics in Hartford and to North Lake to ride on an old steam train. It was a great day, weatherwise and otherwise.

At Quad Graphics, the students were given lessons in the use of the only four colors used in all the printing done there. The colors are black, cyan, magenta and yellow.

They were shown exactly how each part of the magazine, called a signature, is put together and stapled. The magazines are put into stacks of about a dozen and shrink wrapped for protection, then put onto pallets where the whole pallet is shrink wrapped in plastic so they will not be damaged by the weather. Each small group of five or six had its own tour guide.

After the tour of Quad, the group boarded the bus and traveled 11 miles south to North Lake where they rode an old steam train consisting of the locomotive and two cars. They were all in one car.

For the first 25 minutes, they moved forward and the last 25 minutes they went backward to where they had started. It was a very enjoyable and educational day. The teachers would like to do it again next year!

Llama Visits KES

Erin Langenfeld, a five-year-old in Mrs. Perkin's class, looks on with awe as she holds Peanuts' rope.

"Gorgeous" (in hat) and "Jingles" clown around at the KHS Open House held earlier this year.

Mary had a little lamb, but students at Kewaskum Elementary School had a lot more than that! "Peanuts," a three month old male llama, came to KES for a visit, along with his owners, Bert Clements (ED aide at KES) and her husband, George.

Students stroked the llama's lush coat and listened as Peanuts grunted, "Hello." The llama, usually found in the mountains of Peru, seemed quite at home in the school's courtyard, as Mr. Clements fielded students' questions.

Although Mr. Clements and Peanuts weren't dresses as clowns for their KES visit, they have made clowning appearances throughout the area as "Gorgeous" (Mr. Clements) and "Jingles" (named for the bells on Peanuts' clown costume).

In addition to Peanuts, the Clementses have two other llamas. They also have two horses, a hedgehog, a guinea pig, and cats, at their mini-farm, the Valle Vista outside of Kewaskum.

Friends Looking for Craft Donations

The holidays are coming! Before you know it, Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas will be only a memory.

Friends of Abused Families has participated in the Main Street Mercantile Craft Mall in Hartford for almost a year now. At this time, Friends is looking for people willing to donate holiday craft items to be sold in their booth.

The money from the sale of these crafts will help fund the renovations of their transitional house, Gateway, located on Highway 60, between Hartford and Slinger.

The Main Street Mercantile Craft Mall requests that all products are hand-crafted in the USA by or under the direction of the crafter. Additionally, they reserve the right to approve all crafts before they are displayed. Therefore, Friends of Abused Families suggests donors bring in a sample ahead of time for the Mercantile's viewing and approval.

If you prefer to purchase crafts instead of making them, Friends would like to invite you to come and see their booth at the Main Street Mercantile. It might just be the answer to your holiday buying needs.

If you want more information about the booth or donating crafts, please contact Linda at 334-5598.

THANK YOU

My sincere thanks to all who visited me, sent cards, flowers and gifts while I was in Intensive Care at St. Joseph's Hospital. Special thanks to all the doctors and nurses, Pastor Schlieve for his visits and prayers and to June Lepp for all her help. Your kindnesses will always be remembered. God bless you all.

KHS Musical, 'Once Upon a Mattress' to Open Nov. 1

KHS junior Josh Dieringer, son of Jim and Laneille Dieringer, will play the Jester in the upcoming KHS musical, "Once Upon a Mattress."

This fall's KHS musical, "Once Upon a Mattress," will find senior Katie Yogerst, daughter of Bob and Lois Yogerst, in the role of Lady Rowena.

Many moons ago, in a far-off land, princesses from neighboring kingdoms vie for the honor of marrying the Prince Dauntless.

Thus far, twelve princesses have tried and failed the impossibly difficult tests which dominating Queen Aggravain makes them take. Well... if you want to know the rest of the story, get your tickets soon.

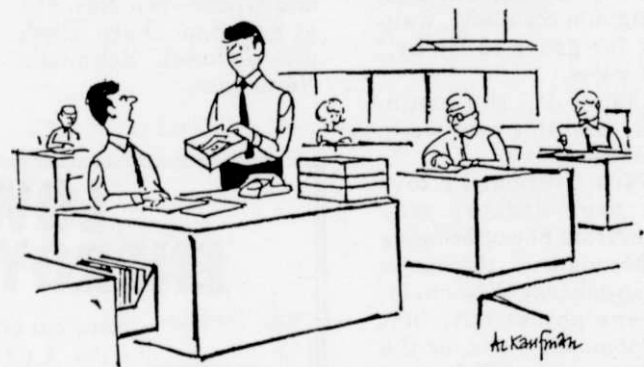

The Kewaskum High School musical, "Once Upon a Mattress," is opening on Friday, November 1, with a second performance scheduled for Saturday.

Tickets can be obtained by calling the high school at 626-2166 or they can be picked up in the music rooms during the school day. The performances will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auxiliary gymnasium.

A special senior citizens performance will be held on Thursday afternoon, October 31, beginning at 4 p.m. This performance has no admission charge and all area senior citizens are welcome.

The actors and musicians of Kewaskum High School hope to see you at their showing of "Once Upon a Mattress."

Improving Cancer-Fighting Chemotherapy

(NAPS)—Although the 25-year fight Americans have waged against cancer has not yet yielded a complete victory, the good news is that much progress has been made in minimizing the side effects of cancer-fighting chemotherapy.

A recent survey found that although most people (80 percent) chose to have the most aggressive chemotherapy possible in their battle against cancer, an even higher percentage (91 percent) want doctors to do something to minimize the side effects. A new, free booklet "Patient to Patient: Sharing Our Experiences with Chemotherapy" summarizes the results of the survey and focuses on the experiences of four patients.

Each person receiving chemotherapy has a somewhat different combination of side effects. Some of the most common are nausea and vomiting; hair loss; anemia; serious, possibly life threatening systemic infection; and low numbers of blood platelets which can cause you to bleed or bruise more easily than usual.

Much progress has been made in treating side effects, with medications available to combat the lowered resistance to infection and nausea. These medical advances often allow patients to receive stronger doses of chemotherapy, which can give them a better chance of beating their cancer.

When Wilhelmina Grant received a high-dose chemotherapy treatment that included a series of three drugs, some days her stomach felt like "a gerbil running round on its wheel." Other times, she said, it was as if "someone were scrubbing my stomach."

Staying informed can help a patient win the battle against cancer.

Her chemotherapy treatment was administered in combination with a bone marrow stimulating agent, called NEUPOGEN®, to help produce the infection-fighting white blood cells that would be lost during chemotherapy and leave her vulnerable to life threatening infections.

Now Wilhelmina enjoys her second chance at life and a new-found purpose. She provides outreach to the African-American community, including workshops in wellness training and hotline call-backs and is very involved in patient advocacy work.

Not all side effects develop in everyone but there are steps you can take to minimize some of the side effects you do experience.

For a free booklet of tips on how to cope with and minimize side effects, call (800) 333-9777.

Grandparents Day Held at Holy Trinity School

One of the large family groups, Mrs. Tessar with Austin Cochran and his grandmother, Mrs. Helen Beisbier.

On Thursday, September 26, Holy Trinity School celebrated Grandparents Day. About 150 grandparents and other guests came and enjoyed the day with their grandchildren.

The day began at 9:30 with a Mass celebrated by Father John Brophy, pastor of Holy Trinity, where the students sat together with their grandparents. This was followed by an hour of classroom visitation. Many grandparents were kept busy visiting more than one classroom.

The day ended with an indoor picnic lunch with families eating together. The largest contingent of grandchildren belonged to the Schoofs family, with seven grandchildren at Holy Trinity, and the Beisbier family, also with seven grandchildren at the school.

One student, Lauden Belongia in second grade, even had grandparents here from Arizona, who enjoyed the day. Grandparents Day has become a special tradition for both the students and the grandparents.

New 'Red Menace' Threatens Face of Aging Baby Boomers

(NAPS)—Baby boomers may have survived one "red menace" during the Cold War, but now another looms on the horizon, silently preparing to attack members of the largest generation in U.S. history. Today's "red menace" is an embarrassing and potentially disfiguring facial skin disorder called rosacea that usually strikes adults in middle age and now affects an estimated 13 million Americans.

According to a recent National Rosacea Society survey of more than 2,000 sufferers, 44 percent reported that symptoms of this acne-like condition first appeared when they were in their 30s and 40s, while 43 percent reported first experiencing symptoms after age 50. Since the oldest members of the baby boom generation are currently turning 50 and the youngest are 32, they have reached the prime years for rosacea.

"While the incidence of rosacea appears to be rising sharply as more people enter the most susceptible age, many mistakenly think it's just a complexion problem that will go away by itself—but in fact it usually keeps getting worse if left unchecked," said Dr. Joseph Bikowski, assistant clinical professor of dermatology at the University of Pittsburgh. "Of greatest concern is that only a small percentage of rosacea sufferers realize that medical help is available."

A chronic, progressive, yet treatable disorder, rosacea usually begins as a redness or flushing on the cheeks, nose, chin or forehead that may come and go. It may initially be mistaken for a sunburn, especially if the person spends much time outdoors.

Over time, however, the redness becomes more severe and persistent, and small dilated blood vessels may become noticeable. Left untreated, bumps and pimples often develop, and in some people the eyes may feel gritty and appear bloodshot. In advanced cases, the nose may become swollen from excess tissue—the condition that gave the late comedian W. C. Fields his famous red, bulbous nose.

While rosacea's physical effects are distressing enough, its other costs—damage to self-esteem and professional and social life—can be even worse, according to Dr. Thomas F. Cash, professor of psychology at Old Dominion University.

Fortunately today, rosacea can be controlled with proper diagnosis and medical therapy from dermatologists, as well as lifestyle modifications to avoid factors that may trigger flare-ups.

For information on rosacea and a list of dermatologists in your area who treat rosacea, contact the National Rosacea Society, 800 S. Northwest Hwy., Ste. 200, Barrington, IL 60010, telephone 847/382-8971, or e-mail rosaceas@aol.com. Information is also available on the Society's Internet Web site at <http://www.rosacea.org>.

Third Annual KEYS Run/Walk a Huge Success

KEYS Runner
Dr. Charles Johnson

KEYS Runner
Megan Hammen

KEYS Runner
Kevin Chambers

KEYS Runner
Matt Fehlhaber

The third annual KEYS Scholarship 5 K Run/Walk saw a record turnout and record amount of money raised for the scholarship organization on Saturday morning, October 12.

Jim Koneazny of Milwaukee won the event with a fine time of 16:20 after battling with Mark Pasten who finished second in 16:23.

In the womens division, West Bend's Lisa Johnson finished first with a very good time in 18:42. Both Jim and Lisa also won $75 gift certificates donated by Ray's Shoes.

A record 350 individuals registered for the event and about 250 people turned out to run or walk the 5 K (3.1 mile) race. Preliminary reports indicated that $7,000 was raised to provide scholarships for graduates of Kewaskum High School.

Much of the money raised during the event came from pledges that elementary students raised for various prizes.

Competition was keen for the top two prizes, two Trek mountain bikes provided by Pedal Moraine. The top two individuals to turn in pledge money were Jason Jahnke and Lindsey Lewandowski, both of Kewaskum.

The success of the KEYS 5 K Run/Walk is made possible by the support shown by many corporate and local businesses. For the third year in a row, West Bend Savings Bank anchored the event and provided valuable financial assistance.

Gruber Tool and Die provided sponsorship for the second year in a row and a new sponsor West Bend Clinic joined ranks to be a major sponsor of the event. Miller's Fine Furniture, Lynn's Recycling, Kondex and Acro Metal Stamping sponsored for the third year in a row.

Heberer Brothers Construction, Russ Darrow Group, and Ray's Shoes were first time sponsors. Without the help of these corporate and local business sponsorships, the event would not be such a tremendous success.

Beechwood Cheese, L.K. Heating and Air Conditioning and LR Trophy and Sportswear provided medals to the top three places in the eight male and female age groups.

The KEYS Scholarship organization thanks all the runners, walkers, and especially the volunteers who worked at the event.

Listed below are the top three finishers in each age group and their respective times.

T Zone Hunt Opens Oct. 24

A first for the area will begin on October 24. That will be the start of an early gun season for antlerless deer only, in the Zone T deer management units.

By now most of you who plan to participate in this four day gun hunt that will close on October 27, have a pretty good understanding of the rules that apply to the hunt. There are though, a few things that I feel are worth repeating.

The blaze orange requirement is for all hunters during this hunt. This will include small game hunters, bow deer hunters, turkey hunters, and of course, the deer gun hunters. Waterfowl hunters are not required to wear the blaze orange while hunting for ducks and geese, even during this four day gun hunt.

Remember, that if you plan on hunting in a T Zone during the four day hunt, you could easily run across waterfowl hunters dressed in camouflage.

Remember also that there will be alot more small game hunters in the field during the month of October. Many more than in the regular deer gun season in November. There will be alot more pheasant hunters, goose and duck hunters than you would ever see in November.

In addition, considering the warm weather we have been experiencing lately, I would also expect alot of non-hunters will be out enjoying the outdoors. The leaves and standing corn will also limit visibility, so be very careful out there.

A very high number of hunters are expected to take part in this Zone T hunt, both in October and also during the regular deer gun season in November. This does present a safety concern, so be aware of the people around you and be sure of your target and beyond, BEFORE you shoot! If you have any questions, feel free to contact me.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

All dogs and cats are not to run at large or cause damage to other people's property. As per Chapter 12.02 of the Kewaskum Municipal Code and State Statutes Chapter 174.02. The owner or keeper of any dog or cat licensed or unlicensed, shall not permit the same to cause damage (leave body waste) on others property. These matters are also redefined in both Chapter 9, Peace and Order and Chapter 10, Public Nuisances of the Kewaskum Municipal Code.

The "Park Rules and Regulations" prohibits all dogs and cats from entering any park. The Village would have no objection to a properly restrained animal, that is accompanied by the owner as long as no body waste is left behind. Children and adults use the parks for all types of activities and should not have to contend with unsanitary conditions.

Your cooperation and consideration of others would be greatly appreciated. The same rules apply for railroad right of ways, boulevards and the like.

Indians Edged Out in Final Minutes

When two teams of similar talent are playing a football game which has playoff implications, it usually figures to be a good game, and it was as the New Holstein Huskies came to town to play the Kewaskum Indians.

Both teams had 2-2 conference records and were 3-4 overall. The Huskies came to town with the league's second leading offense and one of the league's top rushers in Ryan Ciche. Kewaskum meanwhile was playing without its leading rusher Eric Kopecky.

New Holstein took the opening kickoff and after a first down because of a facemask penalty, turned the ball over to the Indians when Ryan Rammer intercepted a Geoff Lefebvre pass at the Indian 45.

After a quick first down, the Indians converted linebacker Nate Judnic fumbled after a seven yard pickup to give the Huskies a first down at midfield. The Huskies this time took advantage of the turnover as Ryan Ciche scored from the three to give the Huskies a 7-0 lead.

After a short drive by the Indians, the Huskies again took over, with Ciche and Josh Sippel taking turns carrying the ball as Sippel took it in from the one to increase the lead to 14-0.

With less than two minutes left in the half, the Indians started to open it up. Using a mixture of passes and runs, they marched 66 yards in about a minute, as Kevin Martin hit Dan Jeserig on a five-yard slant pass to put the Indians on the board with 28 seconds left in the half. Sean Cotter's kick brought the score to 14-7.

The Indians then caught New Holstein by surprise as they pulled off a perfect onside kick to take possession at the New Holstein 45 yard line. After two incomplete passes, the Indians came up with another surprise as quarterback Kevin Martin threw the ball to flanker Dan Jeserig near the sideline. (Because it was a backward pass, it is considered a lateral.)

Jeserig then threw a perfect pass to wide open Jason Barrett at the five yard line for what looked like an easy touchdown. But Barrett was not able to handle the pass, and dropped the ball, so the Indians went into the locker room at half, trailing 14-7.

The Indians took the second half kickoff and marched 60 yards down the field, behind some huge holes from the offensive line and some hard running by running backs Jim Kopecky, Tim Vetter and Nate Judnic.

When the backs weren't carrying the ball, Dan Jeserig was hauling in passes including a four-yarder for the Indians second score to make it 14-13 (the run for two points was not good).

The Huskies came back with their own scoring drive aided by a very questionable pass interference call against the Indians. Josh Sippel caught a fourth down, five yard pass in the endzone for a 21-13 Huskie lead.

The Indians wouldn't quit however, as they responded with a long drive in the fourth quarter highlighted by Kevin Martin's three-yard touchdown run. Martin then ran the ball in for the two-point conversion to make it 21-21 with just five minutes left in the game.

The Huskies then used all but 16 seconds of the four minutes left in the game to score the winning touchdown as Ciche took the ball in from the two on a fourth down play to clinch the win, as the game ended with the final score of Huskies 27, Indians 21.

Kewaskum has 300 yards of total offense compared to 248 for the Huskies. Dan Jeserig had a great game catching eight passes for 77 yards and two touchdowns. Kevin Martin also played very well completing 14 of 24 passes (at least five passes were dropped by receivers) for two touchdowns with no interceptions. He scored a touchdown, ran in a two-point conversion, and rushed six times for 48 yards.

Jim Kopecky did most of the rushing, carrying the ball 16 times for 80 yards and catching one pass for 21 yards.

On the defensive side, Sean Cotter had one of his best performances at defensive end while Brian Prom and Ryan Rammer also played very well. Sophomore Dan Sabish was moved up to the Varsity level this week due to some personnel changes on defense and played about 3/4 of the game at offensive left tackle. Coach Perry Koth felt he played well for a sophomore and basically held his own.

The loss drops the Indians to a 2-3 conference record and 3-5 overall. They travel to Kiel on Wednesday, October 23 for a must win game. If the Indians win, they will be in a pool of other teams who finished with a .500 conference record. From the pool the WIAA will select teams to fill the tournament spots which are not yet filled. If the Indians lose, they cannot qualify for the State Playoffs.
