Board Votes 4-2 to Approve Preliminary Plat, Rezoning Request of New Subdivision in Front of Packed House

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

The Kewaskum Village Board Monday evening approved the preliminary plat and the rezoning request of Whisping Willows Creek subdivision by a 4-2 margin during a three-hour marathon meeting. Trustees John Kenworthy and David Goeden cast the negative votes and Trustee Gary Gavin abstained from voting.

President Robert Wagner opened the Public Hearing being held on the request of Gary Gavin and Joel Fehlhaber, developers, for the rezoning of lots one through eight and lots 12 and 13 of Whisping Willows Creek subdivision from R-1 Single Family Residence District and the rezoning of Parcel Three from P-1 Park Land to R-4 Multi-Family Residence District.

Plan Commission Representative David Goeden announced the Plan Commission had sent back to the Village Board a favorable recommendation regarding the rezoning request but added he wondered if the rezoning requests should be handled separately rather than one single "package" request.

Co-Developer Gary Gavin explained, "This is a single-family development with ten lots being duplex. There will be full architectural control on the entire subdivision. All plans have to be approved by the building committee."

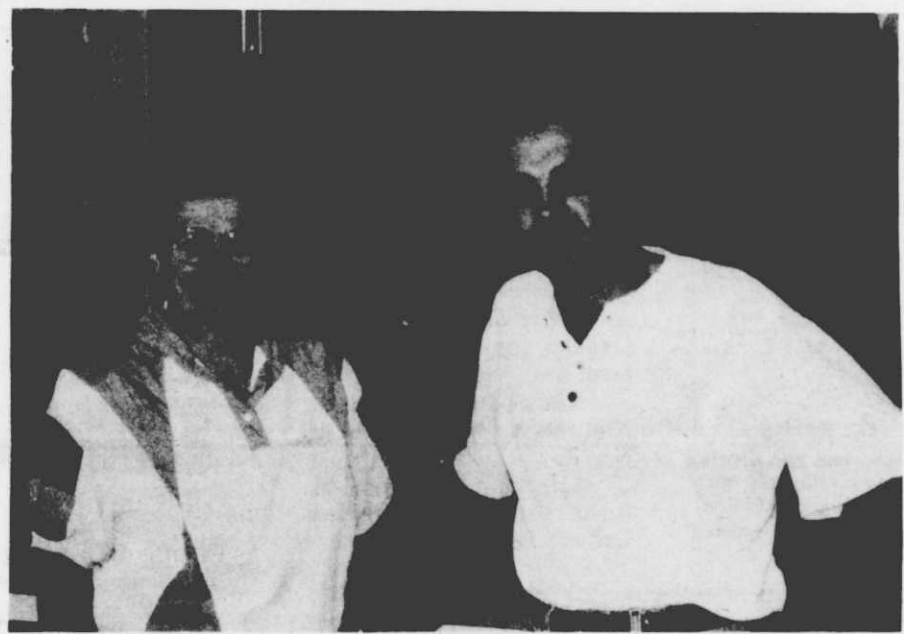

Gavin added lots will be restricted as far as square footage is concerned. Nothing will be built at the minimum of what is could be.

Gavin stated the subdivision will be similar to his Sunset Estates subdivision, adding, "The key to Sunset Estates was that we had architectural control and that quality houses were built. It's the wishes of the

Clinton Re-Elected; Village Liked Dole

Even though Kewaskum voters favored Bob Dole, the nation's voters overwhelmingly re-elected President Bill Clinton to another term in the Oval Office. President Clinton is the first Democrat to win consecutive terms in office since Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Residents formed long lines to vote in the evening here with about 65% of the village's voters, 1,201 to be exact, casting their ballots in Tuesday's Presidential election. According to Village Administrator Daniel Schmidt this figure does not break the record set in the last Presidential Election when 1,278 votes were cast.

Bob Dole secured 584 of the village's votes while Bill Clinton came in second with 455. Ross Perot came in third, straggling behind with surging number of 150 votes. There were also five votes cast for the Howard Phillips/Herbert Titus ticket and three for Ralph Nader.

In the District Nine Congressional Race, former Kewaskum School Superintendent Floyd Brenholt came in second with 356 votes in comparison to incumbent F. James Sensenbrenner, who secured 814 of the village's votes.

Mary Panzer, handily defeated her opponents vying for the District 20 State Senate Seat, securing 847 votes in comparison to 122 cast for Kevin Scheunemann and 70 for Barry Moder.

Representative to the Assembly, District 59, Glenn Grothman, Republican incumbent was unopposed, and received 933 votes in the Village.

All other county offices were also unopposed. County Clerk Marilyn Merten received 926 votes; Treasurer Fredric Seefeldt, 956; Sheriff's race primary winner Jack Theusch, 952; Coroner Marlene Yoost, 932; Clerk of Circuit Court Kristine Deiss, 918, and Register of Deeds Dorothy Gonnering, 926.

The state referendum regarding the eligibility of convicted persons for office received 766 yes votes and 279 votes.

It may not look like it just yet, but Buffy's Village Inn in Kewaskum has a new owner, and will receive official christening of it's new name in just a few weeks.

Zaim (Sammy) Selimoski took over Buffy's on October 28th, purchasing the business from Gladys (Buffy) Seefeldt, a familiar face to customers for the last ten years. Despite the change in ownership, Buffy fans can still expect to find her behind the counter and in the kitchen, serving up the same delicious home cooked meals that earned them mention in a book entitled, "Stuttgen's Book Cafe Wisconsin."

"I'll still be there baking all the homemade pies and desserts, and the home baked bread," she proclaims, "and helping out with the cooking and on, mostly on weekends."

Gladys originally purchased the restaurant from the Campbells ten years ago, wanting a business where she could be her own boss. She'd made a living before that making a wide variety of arts and crafts, including flower arrangements for weddings. That lasted 27 years, and when the restaurant went up for sale, Buffy felt it was just the kind of change in occupation she needed.

Her grandchildren actually named the place. "When my grandchildren were born, they had so many grandparents, that we each got different names," she explains. "I became Grandma Buffy, because of my poodle with the same name. I used it for the restaurant. I figured people would rather eat at Buffy's than Gladys's."

Although she was single when she purchased Campbell's, she later met and married Merlin Seefeldt, and together they planned on working to expand the business. Unfortunately, that never happened. After five years of marriage, Merlin passed away, and Buffy was left to once again run the place single-handed. "The business is really too much for one person," she maintains. "I want to spend more time with my sons and their families." Buffy has four sons, Rick, Terry, Scott and Mark and four grandchildren.

New owner Sammy

plans on keeping Buffy's original menu, which includes some recipes handed down through the years from the Campbells. He has some exciting additions of his own, including all you can eat dinners in the evening.

Hours will remain the same until the grand opening. "We held off with the grand opening for a few weeks because we didn't want to have to shut down during the change of ownership," Buffy explains. "Buffy's crew will be staying on, plus Sammy will be bringing in some of his own employees." Mr. Selimoski formerly ran Shabanis Restaurant in Waupun.

The new name, Begu's Family Restaurant, will be a part of the vocabulary of Kewaskum, offering extended hours in the future, along with their expanded menu.

"I want to thank all the help for their cooperation, and my faithful customers through the years," Buffy expresses. "I'm still there, working with the help I've had, and will still see the customers I've enjoyed getting to know. Their friendship will remain special to me."

Meilahns to keep the area in the middle in the natural state that it is right now, and that is the intent of us as developers. The area will never be disturbed and that's a covenant that the Meilahns have put on the property.

Gavin further explained, "Parcel number three, we are looking at zoning multi-family. Right now, it is our goal to not do anything for at least two or three years. At which time if anything was done it would probably become an elderly housing project... to fit in with the Meadow Creek Apartments... an elderly complex."

There were sixteen village residents in the audience who voiced opinions and expressed concerns, along with questions presented by board members throughout the public hearing. Due to the election and time constraints, we will try to conclude this article on the public hearing, along with other business conducted by the Board in next week's issue.

Finland has two official languages—Finnish and Swedish. Swedish is spoken by about seven percent of the people.

Area residents are members of the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse Class of 2000 - a freshman class that scored well above the state and national averages on a college entrance exam.

UW-La Crosse's freshman class of 1,735 ranks well above the nation's and Wisconsin's average composite scores on ACT college entrance exam. UW-L freshmen had an ACT average of 23.2, the university's highest rank ever. That compares to a 22.1 state average and a 20.9 national average. Twenty-one percent of the UW-L freshmen were in the top 10% of their high school classes, while 57% of the incoming students were in the top quarter of their classes.

UW-La Crosse, founded in 1909, is one of the 13 four-year comprehensive institutions in the University of Wisconsin System. UW-L has 9,048 students enrolled this fall in nearly 80 undergraduate and 18 graduate academic programs, many with special accreditation. It has been named one of the top 30 colleges and universities in the Midwest by U.S. News and World Report's College Guide.

Area residents enrolled as new freshmen at UW-La Crosse for the 1996 fall term are:

Chamber Members Discuss Festival, Other Business

A large turnout of Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce members were on hand at last month's meeting to discuss the Kettle Kountry Kolers Fun Festival while it was still fresh on the minds of those in attendance.

Members present included Sandi Amerling of Village Hair Stylists, Ruth Butler of Family Chiropractic Center, Mike and Judy Berger of Main Street Crafts, Shawn Roberts of My Little Friends Day Care (who is also by the way, providing a little extra day care of her own, along with husband Wade), Julia Desterhoff of Parkview General Store, John Meisser of Secretarial Office Service, Sharron Miller of Miller's Furniture, Lisa Stockhausen of Mapledale Manor, Jane Korth of Hon-E-Kor, Debbie Timblin of Timblin Property Management, Mike Kardos of Prime Time Pub, Gwen Dreher of Doctors Inn Bed and Breakfast, Tracy Schaub of Jim Schaub Home Improvement, Lee Kempf of L.K. Heating, Joyce Kral of Lasting Impressions Engraving, Lana Kuehl of the Kewaskum Statesman, and Jim Reuter representing the Kiwanis Club.

Everyone was in agreement that attendance figures soared due in part to the beautiful weather (finally!) and the fact that early in the season, Mike Holmgren saw that Kettle Kountry Kolers was scheduled for that weekend and decided to move his Packers to a Monday Night Game. (Great idea Mike... could you arrange it again for next year?) Organizers have already begun their prayer vigil for a carbon copy weatherwise next year.

A thorough discussion was held on the merits of Kettle Kountry Kolers and it was unanimous that this festival has a positive economic impact on area businesses and creates a general all-around good feeling among members of the community. Originally, one of the reasons this event was undertaken was that Chamber members wanted to give a "gift" back to the community for the loyal support shown to their businesses throughout the year by the residents.

Most members voiced they thought basically the festival was fairly well planned, however, all were in agreement the worst problem area that will need the most work on improving for next year would be traffic control, parking problems, and signage directing visitors to shuttle areas. These problems will be studied in-depth as plans get underway for next year.

Many expressed their gratitude for all the assistance offered by community members that do not necessarily belong to the Chamber. It was again stressed that anyone who would like to become involved in the planning and/or work for Kettle Kountry 1997 and can volunteer some of their time, please, please, get in contact with a committee member.

Though it may seem that becoming a member of a Kettle Kountry committee is a lifetime appointment, most committee people will assure you it is not... however, you will be surprised to find out it is extremely addictive.

Thanks were extended to the Desterhoffs and Bergers for manning the tourism booth at Kettle Kountry. The brochure rack that was on display was sold to a Kewaskum business and all are urged to invest in one before summer influx of tourism. It was agreed the tourism racks are very important to get information about YOUR business in front of the tourist. This is just an additional means of letting the tourist know your business exists, how to find it and to welcome them into your establishment. Anyone interested in purchasing a rack may contact Mike Berger or Gwen Dreher.

Thanks were also extended to Greg Eckl of Eckl's Main Street Inn for his donation of a hand sanitizing machine for all food vendors at Kettle Kountry to use.

A report on the tourism committee was given by co-chairman Joyce Kral. Joyce reminded everyone that Debbie Skinner of the Wisconsin Department of Tourism will be making her Tourism Assessment of the Northern Kettle Moraine on Thursday, November 7, at 7 p.m. at the Town of Kewaskum Community Center. Joyce urged all to attend this valuable session, as businesses do not seem to realize the impact the tourist dollars have in this area.

Joyce stated this assessment can give us direction on how to attract more tourism-related dollars to this area without commercializing the beautiful environment that surrounds us in the Kettle Moraine. But the key word in developing and utilizing this industry is INVOLVEMENT while it is still in its infancy in this area. If you turn your back on it, it too will eventually fall by the wayside and we will have missed the opportunity to grab the gold ring.

Another tourism committee member stated Ms. Skinner is a very important asset to the Wisconsin Department of Tourism. If they are willing to share her with us as many times as they have, they must consider this area to be very lucrative indeed.

Gwen Dreher reported on her attendance at a recent Village Board meeting regarding the permanent Calendar of Events sign the Chamber is interested in erecting. The Village Board agreed to share the costs involved in the structure but it was their general consensus, not to cheapen the structure by cutting corners. Trustee Gary Gavin stated he was pleased the Chamber had decided to undertake the idea, but thought it should be well done and attractive.

Gwen agreed and said she would get more in-depth information and bring it back to the board for their final approval.

Gwen was also thanked for the corn husk dolls she made and placed around the stop lights for Kettle Kountry Kolors. It is a goal to get the whole community involved in creating a festive atmosphere next year for the festival.

Jumping right into new business, the Christmas Parade has been scheduled for Sunday, December 8, at 5 p.m. Many businesses have expressed interest in sponsoring activities to be held in conjunction with the parade. More will be announced later.

Jane Korth, Debbie Timblin and Ruthie Butler agreed to contact parade participants and will also chair decorating the gazebo, the bridge, and coordinate the decorating of the trees along the business district. Lisa Stockhausen will take care of the goodie bags.

It was decided to continue the time-honored tradition of funding the parade through donations to the "tree light fund." However, instead of the large tree shape being erected in front of Bank Wisconsin, it was decided to use real trees to house all the lights in front of the gazebo. This is due largely to the fact it is very difficult to find volunteers to erect the huge tree form and place the lights on it in cold weather. It is hoped through the donations of community residents and businesses, two to three trees can be filled with the beautiful Christmas lights.

It was also decided not to erect the name boards this year as it was done in the past, again due to the cold weather. All donations will be listed in the Statesman and Lisa agreed to send out a gift card/thank you if you so desire. A coupon and more information can be found in The Statesman.

Due to the close proximity of the Thanksgiving holiday, it was decided to hold the November meeting on Wednesday, November 13 (one week earlier than the normal third week of the month) at the Legion Hall. A little different twist has been added in the form of a potluck supper being held at 6 p.m. followed by the general meeting around 7 p.m. All members and those considering becoming members are cordially invited. See you then.

Breast Feeding Support Group

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend is holding a breast-feeding support group meeting Monday, November 11 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. or Wednesday, November 13 from 1 to 3 p.m. in the hospital's New Life Center classroom. "Introducing Solids," will be this month's topic.

The free, informal support group addresses common concerns for those who are breast-feeding and those who are interested in learning about breast-feeding.

Busy Week for Wayne Elementary Students

The students and staff at Wayne Elementary were kept very busy last month. Recently the parents were invited to conferences with their children's teacher and the turnout was excellent.

A lot of parents came to school to find out what type of things the children are studying and what they can do at home to help. There was also a "Book Fair" held in the library and many students purchased books they will enjoy reading this fall and winter.

The students were busy with "Picture Day" on Tuesday, October 15. Also on October 15, the Wayne PTO distributed the Mr. Z's products the students sold. Thank you to all those who helped sponsor the fund drive.

Mrs. Ourada's fourth grade class took an educational Art Enrichment Field Trip to the Milwaukee Public Museum and the Marcus Center for the Performing Arts. The gifted and talented teacher, Curt Casetta, was also along on the trip.

The third graders collected leaves from the many beautiful trees in this part of the state. They brought them to school and identified the different trees they came from.

The students and staff at WES recently wore red ribbons in honor of "Rap Wisconsin in Red" week. These ribbons promote drug free schools and say, "Proud to Be Drug Free." Wayne Elementary is very proud to be a drug free school zone.

Christmas Parade Set for December 8

Yes, Virginia... there IS a Santa Claus and if Kettle Kountry Kolours is over, that must mean the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade is right around the corner.

That also means it is time to get your creative juices flowing to plan your entry in the "Welcome Santa" festivities. The annual Kewaskum Christmas parade has been scheduled for Sunday, December 8 at 5 p.m. and will follow the usual route.

Now is the time to start planning your participation. Your creativity could easily earn you $150 if your vision of sugarplums wins the first place prize. Additional prizes of $100, $75, $50 and $25 will also be awarded.

If you have your float or entry already worked out on paper or if you still have it in the planning stages in your own mind, please contact a member of the parade committee so they can line up your spot. Members of the committee include Jane Korth, Debbie Timblin and Ruthie Butler.

The Chamber of Commerce will not be contacting anyone this year for donations by have decided to leave it up to individuals and the businesses of the community to help lighten the load by sponsoring a tree light. More information on the parade details, corresponding festivities, decorations and the coupon for sponsoring a tree light will be published in next week's edition.

The gannet is a large white sea bird with black-tipped wings. It often helps fishermen because it follows schools of herrings and other fish and thus shows where the fish are. The gannet dives from the air and plunges under the water for the fish.

Roe - Sivula

Terry Lynn Roe and Jason John Sivula exchanged vows of holy matrimony on Saturday, June 22, 1996, during a 2 p.m. ceremony at Peace United Church of Christ in Kewaskum. Pastor James Bettin officiated.

Parents of the couple are James and Carol Roe, Matthew Sivula, and Beatrice Kowal.

The bride chose her friend, Tami Kamrath, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids in attendance were Melanie Roe, cousin of the bride, and friend Kim Lundberg.

Chad Sivula, the groom's brother, served as best man. Groomsman included friend Aaron Kloske, and Ed Kries, cousin of the groom.

The miniature bride and groom were Samantha Neubauer, the groom's cousin, and his friend Kyle Zenner. The bride's cousins, Valerie Johannes and Billy Niklasch, were chosen to be flower girl and ring bearer.

Ushering duties were shared by Dan Roe, cousin of the bride, and Bill Sivula, cousin of the groom.

A reception and dance followed the ceremony at Heidel's in Jackson.

The bride is an MPTC graduate, with an associate degree in Child Care. She is employed as a Child Care Teacher at QuadCare. The groom is employed as a painter at Dico. The couple reside in Theresa.

Watching Your Cholesterol

(NAPS)—Knowing your cholesterol level is elevated is the first step toward managing this life-threatening condition.

Now anyone can watch their cholesterol at home with an easy, accurate home cholesterol kit now available in stores and pharmacies.

Diet and exercise are important in controlling cholesterol. So is keeping track of cholesterol levels.

CholesTrak, manufactured by ChemTrak, a leading medical diagnostics company, is the only FDA-cleared home cholesterol test available.

It's easy to use and as accurate as any total cholesterol test given by a doctor or lab. Just prick your finger. Place one or two drops of blood into the well. Wait two minutes and pull the tab to begin the reaction. Wait 10 to 12 minutes for results. If your cholesterol level is over 200, see your doctor.

Not all cholesterol is bad, but the harmful kind can be deadly. Harmful cholesterol, which comes from the food we eat, builds up in the body and slows the flow through the arteries, contributing to increased risk of heart attack and strokes.

There's a lot you can do to control cholesterol. Diet and exercise are important, as is keeping track of cholesterol levels.

In a recent survey, 91% of CholesTrak users responded that this objective feedback motivates them to continue a healthier lifestyle.

Hello, Remember Me?

REMEMBER ME?

Some people call me Old Glory, others call me the Star Spangled Banner, but whatever they call me, I am your Flag of the United States of America.

I remember some time ago people lined up on both sides of the street to watch me as I led the parade, proudly waving in the breeze. When your daddy saw me coming he immediately removed his hat and placed it against his left shoulder so that his hand was directly over his heart . . . Remember?

And, I remember you. Standing there straight as a soldier. You didn't have a hat, but you were giving the right salute. Remember your little sister? Not to be outdone, she was saluting the same as you with her right hand over her heart . . . Remember?

What happened? I'm still the same old flag. Oh, I have a few more Stars than I used to. A lot more blood has been shed since those parades of long ago.

But now I don't feel as proud as I used to. When I come down your street, you just stand there with your hands in your pockets and I may get a small glance and then you look away. Then I see the children running around and shouting . . . they don't seem to know who I am . . . I saw one man take his hat off then look around. He didn't see anybody else with their hat off so he quickly put his back on.

Is it wrong to be patriotic anymore? Have you forgotten what I stand for and where I've been? . . . Anzio, Guadalcanal, Korea, Vietnam and the Persian Gulf. Take a look at the memorial Honor Rolls sometimes, of those who made the ultimate sacrifice to keep this Republic free . . . One Nation Under God. When you salute me, you are actually saluting them.

Well, it won't be long until I'll be coming down your street again. So, when you see me, stand straight, place your right hand over your heart . . . and I'll salute you, by waving back . . . and I'll know that . . .

YOU REMEMBER!

Jim Stern is Rotary Student Ambassador to Bydgoszcz, Poland

Jim Stern

Jim Stern of Fillmore (Town of Farmington) and a 1996 alumnus of Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School in Jackson, was chosen a Rotary Foreign Exchange Student Ambassador to Bydgoszcz, Poland for an 11 month term beginning August 13, 1996.

This program provides an extensive array of cultural opportunities not open to the normal tourist or student. He is sponsored in this exchange by the Waukesha Rotary Club.

While in Poland, Jim will reside with several host families in order to get the broadest exposure to the local culture possible. Currently, he is residing with a family that manages a four-star restaurant and hotel in Bydgoszcz. It's been quite an adjustment to life from the small town experience in which he was raised.

Upon his arrival in Poland, Jim attended a ten-day submersion camp along with the other American and Canadian Rotary student ambassadors appointed to that area. It really was a camp in the woods. They slept in refitted Soviet tents and had to walk a significant distance to the facilities.

During the ten days, the ambassadors received intensive training in the Polish language, culture and customs. In addition to basic Polish, Jim learned the Polish terms for skunk and raccoon and that they are only found in zoos in Poland.

As part of the exchange experience, Rotary student ambassadors attend school just like any Polish student their age. Classes are held in the mornings, with afternoons reserved for intensive study. European secondary education standards are very high. It is a privilege, not a right or a mandate, to attend school and students expend much time and energy to reach their maximum potential academically. Jim has found that even though he was an honors graduate of KML, Polish high school is a challenge to be met.

Rotary ambassadorship is not an all-work-and-no-play experience. Jim has had opportunities to attend an air show; spend some time at his current host family's cottage "up north;" see the local zoo; explore the downtown foreign language bookstore; spend time with former Rotary Polish ambassadors to the U.S.; channel surf satellite TV (it takes a half hour to go through all the channels to decide what you want to watch); attend the local Rotary Klub's meetings; travel outside the country, and more.

At the zoo, Jim found some goats wandering around. He's missed milking the goats at home twice a day, so much that he almost offered to volunteer milk in Poland. Just kidding! Oh yeah, the raccoon was sleeping and was not seen.

Jim's current most prized possession is a copy of Murphy's Law And All The Reasons Why Things Go Wrong found in the foreign language bookstore in Bydgoszcz. His FAXed letters home are spiced with quotes from this book and his commentary on them, such as... "No man's life, liberty, or property are safe while the legislature is in session," and "It is better to solve a problem with a crude approximation and know the truth  $\pm$  10% than to demand an exact solution and not know the truth at all," and "There is never time to do it right, but there is always time to do it over."

A number of opportunities to travel are available to student ambassadors. In October, Jim travelled to the Czech Republic and Vienna, Austria. Being a geography buff (he was the 1992 Wisconsin Geography Bee Champion), the visit to Stone City, a unique collection of huge rock formations with walking paths throughout, and karst caves in the Czech Republic were of special interest to him.

While in Prague, Jim located a Moser crystal shop where he purchased a piece for his grandparents, Bob and Virginia Moser of West Bend. Bob has been doing geneological research on the Moser family for a number of years and had alerted Jim to be on the lookout for Moser brand crystal and Moser brand wine. He hasn't found the wine yet.

Even though Jim is living in Poland, he takes his responsibility to vote for the candidate of his choice in the November 5 elections very seriously. Besides, it's the first chance he's had to vote since turning 18! He has requested an absentee voter's ballot. His fingers are crossed that the mail services in both countries will process his ballot efficiently and in time for his vote to count.

Being a Rotary student ambassador to Poland has been a great opportunity for Jim to sample experiences that would have been otherwise unavailable to him. And this is just the beginning of an eleven-month extravaganza!

Any American student, age 16-18 1/2 at date of departure, in the top half of their class academically, in good health, and willing to faithfully represent the United States of America to a foreign country can participate in this program. If you are interested, contact Jim's Mom, Darlene Stern, at 692-2586 for further details.

Anyone desiring to write Jim in Poland can contact him, for the time being, in care of Janusz Machaj, Lentosz Str. 5, 85-174 Bydgoszcz, Poland or FAX at 011-48-52-221-607.

Meet the School District Staff

Tim Leader
Farmington Elementary

Imagine a classroom in which seemingly anything is possible: sending "e-mail" to the President, chatting with astronauts aboard a space station, exchanging information with students from throughout the nation. Over the years, fifth graders in Tim Leader's class at Farmington Elementary have had the chance to do just that.

Because of Mr. Leader's extensive interest in, and aptitude for, everything technological -- from HAM radio to the Internet -- his students have participated in events of which other classes may merely dream.

In addition to President, and astronauts, and classrooms nationwide, Mr. Leader's students have followed an expedition to the Antarctic via the Internet, spent time in a live chat with Civil Rights pioneer Rosa Parks, and some have even begun learning the "Windows" application for computer.

"(Being able to use computers is) so important," Mr. Leader offered. "It's the future. It's a complete revolution in communication... like TV with a million channels... a chance to actually have your fingertips on the world."

Technology, however, isn't what keeps Mr. Leader in the classroom.

"The number one thing that keeps me teaching, is the kids," he explained. "I really love kids."

Mr. Leader has had the opportunity to share that enthusiasm for students in a variety of situations since his start with the District in 1965. He has taught upper elementary grades (including fifth grade the last several years at Farmington), as well as middle school grades. Mr. Leader even spent 13 years as Principal at Wayne Elementary, which he left because he missed working with students in the classroom.

As with all good teachers, Mr. Leader's teaching has had an impact on his students. In both 1990 and 1994, Mr. Leader was even recognized in "Who's Who Among America's Teachers," an award based on the nominations of top college students nationwide as to which teachers had made a difference in their lives.

Away from school, too, Mr. Leader is active in computers and HAM radio, the latter providing the opportunity to speak with radio operators from over 150 countries around the globe. Mr. Leader's expertise in HAM operation has earned him numerous certificates and allows him to assist via HAM radio in times of emergency government situations. Mr. Leader shares his Hartford area home with his humongous, black standard poodle, Max.

After thirty-some years in the District, Mr. Leader has no plans to stop teaching anytime soon. "When I feel I'm not making a difference, if I ever get to where I don't enjoy it, that will be when I finally walk away from teaching."

And, in a classroom in which anything else seems possible, that is, perhaps, the one thing that does not.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am responding to the Letter to the Editor concerning the term "Mother Nature" in reference to the Kettle Kountry Kolers article in the October 17 Kewaskum Statesman. This critical letter, appearing in the October 24 Statesman causes me to support most heartily Editor Kuehl's use of the Mother Nature figure of speech and her most civil Editor's Note reply to it in the same issue.

In so doing, I hereby supply my qualifications to Rev. and Mrs. Henning, authors of the critical letter. I am 65 years old, a resident of Kewaskum for over 10 years, a pro-life advocate, and in no way a feminist nor an upholder of false gods of the New Age Movement. I have worked as an active United Church of Christ member in four states as helper to my pastor and husband, Rev. James Bettin of Peace UCC Church, Kewaskum. I accept Christ as my only Savior, and I pray to Father, Son and Holy Spirit. I was baptized and confirmed as a Lutheran in Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

My profession as a high school English teacher at Sheboygan North High School during my husband's seminary years and my training in journalism caused me to read with extreme distaste the attack on "Mother Nature," a figure of speech. Since childhood I have heard, used, and understood the term (as most readers must have done) with no intended disrespect to the Lord. "Father Time" is another such figure of speech widely used with no intent to insult our God.

Indeed, the Holy Bible itself is rich in personification, simile, and metaphor, as any student of language realizes. Note: Hosea 10:9 (God speaking) "I will fall on them like a bear robbed of her cubs," or Matthew 23:37b (Jesus speaking) "How often would I have gathered you together as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, but you would not!" (So, does this make God a bear or a chicken -- No!)

Therefore, I commend Editor Kuehl on her article, I truly admire her reply to the criticism of it, and I thank her for the generous and open support she has always given to submitted coverage of religious news in The Statesman. Articles concerning mission activities of Peace UCC Church in Kewaskum have been featured concerning work in the name of Jesus for Habitat for Humanity, the program of hand-knitted and crocheted caps, mitts, and scarves for children in Inner City, Milwaukee Schools, or services advancing cooperative ventures among area Christian churches. Editor Kuehl goes beyond the duty of an editor in religious journalistic support.

Let us all get a life and do likewise! Mother Nature and Father Time do not offend me. Nor do I blame my Lord for tornadoes in Oakfield, Wisconsin, or fires in Yellowstone Park. To me, He is supreme!

Sincerely,
Betty A. Bettin

To The Editor,

We are coming down to the wire in this year's pledge drive for United Way of Washington County, and I have confidence Kewaskum will rise to the challenge of meeting its $34,200 goal. Although we are only at 56% today, our biggest contributor, Regal Ware employees, have just begun their campaign. In past years, their generous donations have put us "over the top" to meet our goal.

Several businesses held employee campaigns this year, allowing employees to learn the story of the United Way and the people it serves in Washington County. Businesses whose pledges are being counted toward this week's totals include: Bank Wisconsin Corporate and Employees, Dairyland Seed, Herriges Oil, Jaeger Sewing, Kettle Moraine Agency, Kettle Moraine Electric, Kewaskum Frozen Foods, Kuehl's Suds and Spirits, McKenna Law Office, Miller Funeral Home, Miller's Fine Furniture, Paul Auction Company, Quad Tool and Design Corporate and Employees, Sentry Foods Corporate and Employees, Timblin Property Management and Video Post.

In addition to businesses and employees, Kewaskum's retirees make a significant impact on the local goal, with 39 individuals pledging $1,430 for this year's campaign. Thank you to everyone who has pledged their help in continuing to serve the health and human service needs of so many county residents.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Hello Kewaskum Statesman readers and how is everyone doing today? This will be my last column written to you as your Postmaster as my disability retirement has been approved and is effective as of November 5, 1996. I am not going to say "goodbye" -- just "farewell for now" as so many of you hold near and dear places in my heart.

First of all, I would like to thank you for the opportunity to SERVE as YOUR Postmaster the last three plus years. It has been a truly rewarding experience and I shall never forget those days. I was the "new kid on the block" (being from out of town) but you treated me as "one of your own" and words are hard to find the feeling that gave me. I know that I implemented many changes in Your Post Office always keeping you in mind as the customer and these changes were readily accepted.

I do and will continue to truly miss the friendly visits and the constant support that you gave to me. To all the "kids of Kewaskum" -- please keep up the good work in the decorating that you have done in the past at Christmas. You know that two years in a row Your Post Office won the decorating contest. That would never have been possible without your input and making it truly a "winter wonderland." Remember, that in years to come; you will be able to bring your children into Your Post Office and point to the awards on the wall -- telling them that you were instrumental in achieving those awards. I am confident that the new Postmaster will continue to serve you and welcome your talent.

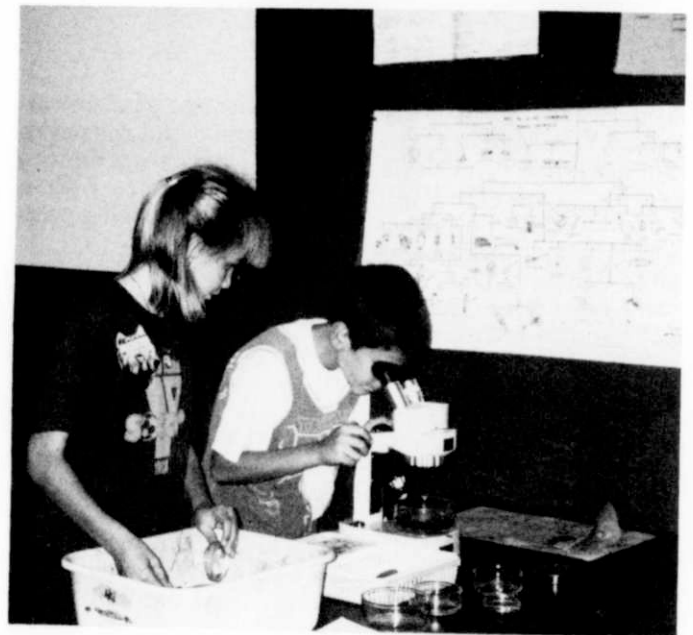

To my many friends -- short and tall, young and old who so many times made it a point to stop in and just say Hi and chat for awhile -- Thank You!!! You made my position worthwhile and gave me another reason to take pride in each and every endeavor that I pursued as your Postmaster. To all those that came in and gave me feedback about our operation and asked questions so that I could impart that

KES Halloween Week Activities

Third graders were up to their elbows in "pumpkin guts" on their way to counting the seeds.

Pumpkins and Disney characters were the norm for a monstrously enjoyable Halloween week at Kewaskum Elementary. Special stories and units dealing with Halloween, pumpkins, and the harvest enhanced the ghastly good fun. Among them, first graders--with the help of parent volunteers--carved pumpkins, and made vegetable soup; third graders dug into pumpkins to explore the relationship between pumpkin size, number of seeds, circumference, etc. Classroom parties and school-wide Halloween parade, showing off costumes from all the grades, finished the week of festivities.

Amanda Smolinski, a fifth grader, pays homage to "Alice in Wonderland" with her Ace of Spades costume.

On Halloween, Mickey and Minnie Mouse (KES teachers Harry Schneider and Diana Miller) stopped in to Kewaskum Elementary to say "Hi, gang!"

Know Warning Signs Of Carbon Monoxide

Carbon monoxide (CO) is a colorless, odorless, tasteless gas produced any time fossil fuel (fuel oil, charcoal, natural gas) burns without an adequate supply of oxygen.

Carbon monoxide can be produced when appliances and equipment in your home are not working properly. Left unchecked, CO can build up to a level that can cause illness and even death.

The symptoms of CO poisoning are like flu: headaches, dizziness, vomiting or nausea and tightness of the chest. Be suspicious if all members of your family share the same symptoms and they clear up outside of the house.

Other signs may include excessive and unusual moisture buildup on walls and windows, or dying house plants.

Avoid carbon monoxide by:

- * unplugging chimneys of leaves, bird nests and other debris;
- * replacing rusted-out vent pipes;
- * venting furnaces, space heaters, and water heaters to the outside;

* checking heating equipment each winter for soot, heat marks or rust; and,

* making sure all natural gas appliances have a good supply of combustion air.

If you suspect carbon monoxide in your house, open doors and windows to let in fresh air. If you think a natural gas appliance is the problem, call your local heating contractor or the gas company.

Business As Usual For Town of Scott

By Bernadette Mondloch

It was business as usual for Town of Scott officials at the October meeting. Land use, roads and recycling were the main topics of the evening.

Chairman Lester Benzschawel clarified a few facts concerning sludge spreading on agricultural lands. This was done in answer to questions which he has been confronted with from a handful of concerned citizens.

These citizens were puzzled about the difference of sludge as opposed to septic tank contents. The explanation they received was that while septic tank contents are considered raw sewerage, sludge is not. Sludge has already been treated. It is regulated and inspected by federal inspectors and before spreading, soils are tested with permits being issued by the DNR and soil conservation experts only to approved sites. The permits are so specific that in some instances, only a portion of a field is approved for sludge spreading.

The recycling center will begin winter hours in January, being open only every other Saturday. The dates are January 4 and 18, February 1 and 15, March 1, 15 and 29. In April the schedule returns to weekly operation. A volunteer system is in place for operation on the recycling site. The board is asking for additional volunteers to carry out the program. Anyone interested should contact Benzschawel or any of the town supervisors.

Brush clipping has begun along the town roads with chips being made available to any town resident who would like some. Anyone wanting wood chips delivered to their home should contact Clarence Janz or other town supervisors. They can also be picked up at the transfer station by appointment only. It will be necessary to provide your own means of loading, however, Janz will provide equipment for a fee.

Supervisor Dale Burke requested that a fog line be Painted on newly paved roads. He referred especially to Paradise Drive which is highly traveled. It was suggested that the town establish a policy of centerlining and fog lining on all town roads with consideration being given to the safety of the town's travelers as opposed to the cost factor involved.

The subject was turned over to the highway committee for action at budget preparation. The highway committee held a budget meeting on October 17 at 8 a.m.

Treasurer Marie Edler was given the old town computer for use in her office. She has agreed to take care of any needed repairs in exchange for ownership of the machine.

In the past, public hearings were scheduled at 7 p.m. with the board meeting following. In the future, when no hearing is scheduled, the board will begin its meeting at 7 p.m.

The Wisconsin Towns Association has requested a commitment from all towns in the state to assist with funding for the construction of a new office building to be located near Shawano. The Town of Scott has pledged $265 to be paid in 1997, an amount equal to the annual association dues.

A beer license was issued to the Beechwood Fire Department for a Brat Fry that was held on Sunday, November 3.

Kindergartners Make a Difference

Even kindergartners can make a difference!

Kindergarten students at Kewaskum Elementary proved just that recently as they pitched in and cleaned up the area around their school for "Make a Difference Day," a national "day of doing good."

Students picked up and bagged trash -- from candy wrappers to newspapers -- that had found its way onto the school grounds. The students enjoyed the excitement of the activity and the opportunity to "Make a Difference."

Posing with the trash they picked up are some proud members of Mrs. Stradtman's afternoon kindergarten: Amy Puestow, Andrea Noren, Sammy Laack, Kristin Fieber, Amanda Meyer, Jacob Dickmann, Dulce Harris, Stephanie Brookins, Erika Martin and Sean Olig (not facing camera).

The trash was also picked up by Mrs. Casper's morning and afternoon kindergarten class.

The Generation Now Passing Deserves Our Respect

They're not getting any younger, and there are fewer every day -- AMERICA'S WORLD WAR II generation. They may seem like any other group of old people, mostly retirees now, just old men and women on porches, in nursing homes, parents and grandparents -- but they're not.

When they were young, they saved the world. Remarkable how completely ordinary it seems. No other generation in world history can make that claim.

Not the Founders of the American Revolution, the ancient Greeks and Romans, nor the baby boomers -- not even the early Christians. Other generations had great struggles; other times had great challenges; but at best, here and there, were saviors of a town or a country, vanguards of unfulfilled promises, dreamers of visions.

AMERICA'S WORLD WAR II generation did not, as a group, achieve the heroism of an individual like Joan of Arc, nor is there any evidence that their "souls were touched by fire," as Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr. described the experience of the Civil War when he had grown old.

But isn't it fitting that victory in the most intense, deadly and important struggle in human history should seem sort of ordinary to those who won it and those who benefited?

AMERICA'S WORLD WAR II generation saved the world because it had to be done, and no one else was available to do it.

It isn't that America's Vietnam generation, for example, both the pro and con, couldn't or wouldn't have saved the world. They didn't get the chance.

It isn't that Russians, who actually broke the Wehrmacht, or the Chinese, who held Japan's best troops in a death grip, or British or French or any of the rest of the World's peoples, didn't win the war.

But they didn't save the world from an unspeakable global evil. That was the American's when, as Winston Churchill said the "new world came to the rescue of the old." But they weren't vast forces of history, or legendary warriors. They weren't even all combat soldiers, or Rosie the Riveters. They were ordinary people -- my Uncle Ed, and your mom and dad -- who lived in an extraordinary time. So they did what had to be done.

There was a fair amount of ballyhoo a couple of Decembers ago, at the 50th anniversary of Pearl Harbor, although it got sticky with tensions in the current U.S. -- Japan relationship.

There was a lot of half-century anniversaries of V-E and V-J Day, maybe some prayerful ceremonies honoring liberation of the death camps.

The Ex-Soviet republics might pause to remember that there was once a place called Stalingrad, and it was very important. There will be fewer alive then who actually did those things, though.

So what that 50 years ago today, or last week, or next year, a lot of people killed and died for famous victories?

This isn't about anniversaries, or the all World War II newsreel channel that every cable TV system seems to have. It is about the old guy you see on the street, with a little POPPY in his lapel, or the blue-haired woman who forgets things and who rides the bus.

Let's take a long last look at these people now, while we still have a chance.

No one has ever done anything like their achievement before and God willing, no one will ever have to do anything like it again.

Minutes of Village Plan Commission

Village of Kewaskum
Plan Commission
October 1, 1996
7:00 p.m.

The Plan Commission of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt called the meeting to order with President Robert H. Wagner being absent. Members present were David Goeden, Richard Schmidt, Theodore Meilahn, Charles Waala, Frank Beesten, Administrator Daniel Schmidt and Richard Zarling. A quorum was present. It was noted that Member John Stephani has resigned from the Commission.

On a motion by Richard Schmidt, seconded by Frank Beesten and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Commission appointed David Goeden as Chairman Pro-Tem.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and the Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Frank Beesten, seconded by Charles Waala and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Commission approved the minutes as printed for August 27, 1996.

The petition for annexation regarding the Meilahn land and sending a zoning classification to the Village Board was discussed. On a motion by Richard Schmidt, seconded by Charles Waala and carried by the majority voice vote, the Commission sent the annexation to the Village Board with a zoning classification of R-1 Single-Family Residence District. Member Theodore Meilahn abstained from voting.

Plan Commission Member David Goeden asked to have the density calculation in reference to wetlands, floodplain and conservancy areas. The sample as reviewed from SEWRPC called for a limit of 25% with another being at 80%. Several questions were raised. The Administrator was asked to check with Mr. Roland Tonn of SEWRPC and to report back to the Plan Commission. The Administrator reported back to the Commission on the questions as raised at the last meeting in reference to density. Mr. Roland Tonn of SEWRPC indicated the density issue does not apply to floodway, floodplain and urban floodplain. This is a federal type issue. The question of deleting water surface would be permitted if there were private water but not if public water. The reason is the public water is already exempt from the calculations. It was noted that the amendment to the zoning ordinance may be accomplished now or when the revision of the ordinance is done in 1997, following the land use plan. (No action was taken).

On a motion by Charles Waala, seconded by Frank Beesten and carried by the majority voice vote, the Commission suspended the rules to take up items D & E on the agenda. Member Theodore Meilahn abstained from voting.

Review of the plat for Whispering Willow Creek Subdivision took place with several points being covered as follows:

1) Request to divide said 36 acres into four parcels, with parcel one being the subdivision, parcel two being the creek/floodplain area or natural area, parcel three being the proposed multiple-family area and parcel four remaining Meilahn property.

2) That parcel one would have 43 lots of which lots 1-8, 12 and 13 are requested to be R-3 Two-Family Residence District lots and parcel 3 be rezoned from P-1 Park District to R-4 Multiple-Family District.

3) That the pedestrian way easement between lots 20 and 21 be 15 feet and that a pedestrian way easement be noted along the westerly portion of said parcel 3. Also that the Village utility easement in parcel 4 be expanded to include pedestrian way easement.

4) That the corner radiuses be rounded for safer travel.

5) That a screen/buffer or berm be placed within the rear 30 foot setback from CTH "H."

6) That vision corners be observed at either 15 or 50 feet as per the zoning ordinance.

7) That access be restricted to CTH "H."

8) That notes on the plat map be corrected to reflect noted changes.

On a motion by Frank Beesten, seconded by Charles Waala and carried by the majority voice vote, the Commission sent the plat to the Board with the noted changes with a favorable recommendation. It was noted the matter would be brought to the Board on November 4, 1996. Member Theodore Meilahn abstained from voting.

The request for rezoning the 10 so noted R-1 Single-Family Residence District lots to R-3 Two-Family Residence District lots was discussed and it was indicated none of the existing single family homes had an objection to this proposal. The noted parcel 3 area which is P-1 Park District be rezoned to R-4 Multiple-Family Residence District. On a motion by Richard Schmidt, seconded by Charles Waala and carried by the majority voice vote, the Commission sent the rezoning request to the Village Board for public hearing with a favorable recommendation. It was further noted that the zoning as requested is in conformance with the proposed land use plan. Member Theodore Meilahn abstained from voting.

Discussion took place on the developer's request of the Village Board to waive open space fees in lieu of donating parcel 2 or 6.4 acres of land. The area in question is in the floodplain area along the creek and the area where the trails are proposed to be placed by the Village. Several options were discussed, both pro & con. On a motion by Charles Waala, seconded by Frank Beesten and carried by the majority voice vote, the Commission moved to recommend that the Board waive said open space fees on the 43 lots in parcel 1 and parcel 3 plus future units placed on parcel 3. (Note the 10 duplex lots upon building permit issuance would still need to pay for the second units open space fee.) Trustee David Goeden voting "Nay."

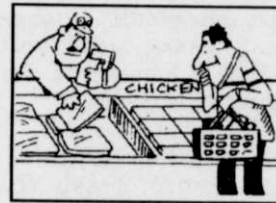

Mr. Rick Kania of SEWRPC was present for discussion on the Master Plan. Mr. Kania reviewed the ratios of lots to zoning classification as selected as goals for the Village by the Plan Commission.

It was noted that industrial land was just a few acres short, while commercial was a little above. The residential breakdown as proposed was to be 60% single-family, 10% two-family and 30% multiple-family. The actual breakdown came in at 76% single-family, 5.8% two-family and 18.2% multiple-family. The commission reviewed those areas that could have gone in another direction and did make recommended changes. After having completed this process Mr. Kania indicated the estimates regarding the ratios would be 67% single-family, 9% to 10% two-family and 24% to 25% multiple-family.

On a motion by Richard Schmidt, seconded by Frank Beesten and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Commission adjourned the meeting. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent."

Memories of Old Kewaskum

by Mary Wiesner

I remember in the late thirties when I was a youngster, going to "town," as we called it.

Sometimes mother, dad, and I stopped at the Rosenheimer Store, 1277 Fond du Lac Ave. For my years it was the favorite place to go. It is now an antique store, but at that time it was a department store equipped with everything, including a bank in the back room where my folks did their business, and later bought things in other parts of the store.

There were all kinds of dry goods, sewing needs, a shoe department and grocery store. Dresses and hats were sold up stairs, with fitting rooms and restrooms in the back. The clerks were well known and friendly. There was a machine shop out back. Farmers brought their tractors, farm tools, and machinery to be fixed or traded. Plows were sharpened. Cycle sections were sold, as well as other parts.

Those buildings have been well preserved, along with the red brick building or hardware shop. They also owned the Malt House and mill near the railroad tracks, I don't know the address.

Then we crossed Forest Ave. to Miller's Furniture Store to pay the electric bills. There were friendly faces to greet us and to show us around the furniture department. I always loved to look at the large grandfather clocks of every description and smaller clocks, although I knew we could never afford them. They also owned the Funeral Home at 215 Forest Ave. They had a fire some years back and since then they rebuilt it into what it is today.

On to the Corner Drug

Store, where we always got our prescriptions filled. There was a soda fountain and the public enjoyed the ice cream cones. Those days a cone cost a nickel. We saw free movies next door on the lot which now has a law office. Right behind was a lumber yard and many times a steam engine would come through, with smoke and steam and fire flying every which way. It was the C & W Railroad train with passenger cars going south toward West Bend and Milwaukee. I always got scared of the noise but my brother laughed about it. We enjoyed seeing Mickey Mouse and other cartoons. Westerns were thrilling with Tom Mix and his wonder horse, Tony.

We sometimes went to Marx Grocery right next to the tracks on Main Street. I never understood how they got all that merchandise into such a small place. In later years they built a larger store across the street. Before that, in the early fifties, I remember walking to the drug store for an ice cream soda. I don't think I've seen one made since. It was on my lunch break from high school that my cousin and I walked past the Regal Ware factory, the mills and the creamery, and around a train stopping for various reasons at the depot. I wasn't too thrilled about walking in front of the engine because I had seen movies which involved trains and I didn't like them. My cousin, of course, made nothing of it.

There was also the A. G. Koch Grocery Store and Machine Shop. We did a lot of business there. My dad bought a new tractor there and later on he bought the backhoe digger which helped him earn money through his retirement years.

Queen Catherine de Medici (1519-1589) decreed a waist measurement of 13 3/4 inches for ladies of the French court.

Road Condition Report Available 24 Hours a Day

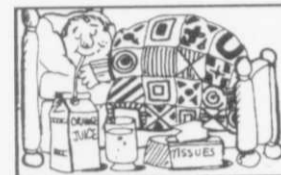

The Washington County Sheriff's Department reminds county residents that information on winter road conditions can be obtained by telephone 24 hours a day.

Persons with a touch tone phone can call the department at 335-4378 and push 'three' during the recorded greeting. The information is based on reports from sheriff's deputies in the field and is updated as needed. Regional information is included during major storms.

Persons without a touch tone phone are encouraged to listen to local radio stations, which cooperate with the department to broadcast road information at frequent intervals.

Using these services reduces the number of phone calls to department dispatchers, keeping both phone lines and personnel available for the emergency calls which escalate during snowfall.

The best medical advice for a cold is to go to bed, drink plenty of fluids and take it easy.

Joe Rettler is Member of Ripon College Football Team

Joseph Rettler

RIPON -- Joseph G. Rettler, the son of Tom and Sue Rettler of Kewaskum, is a member of the 1996 Ripon College Red Hawks football team.

Rettler, an undeclared major, is a first-year student at Ripon College.

The Red Hawks, under the direction of Head Coach Ron Ernst, currently stand at 6-1 overall and 3-0 in the North Division of the Midwest Conference (MWC). Ripon is the defending champion of the North Division, having lost the 1995 Midwest Conference Championship to Cornell College, 38-11.

This year, Ripon was selected by MWC coaches as the preseason favorite to win the North Division and host the 1996 MWC Championship game, according to Ernst. The Red Hawks return seven defensive starters and six offensive starters for a run at the conference crown.

"We're right where we want to be at this point in the season," said Ernst. "We knew the conference would be very balanced this year and we've positioned ourselves for post-season opportunities.

"These young men have been to the conference championship, but that's not good enough for them this year. They've worked extremely hard to get where they are today and I'm very proud of them all," he added.

Ripon College, founded in 1851, is a private, residential, liberal arts college with an enrollment of more than 700 students from 40 states and 12 foreign countries. Ripon is nationally recognized for its quality undergraduate education.
