Northern Kettle Moraine Tourism Assessment Held

A variety of interested business people from throughout the Northern Kettle Moraine Area attended a Tourism Assessment presented by Debbie Skinner, Representative of the Wisconsin Department of Tourism last Thursday evening at the Town of Kewaskum Community Center.

The Assessment was the culmination of a series of productive meetings and work sessions, some with Ms. Skinner, held throughout the summer months since the inception of the Tourism Council on May 5.

Those in attendance included Mike and Julia Desterhoft (Parkview General Store), Mike and Judy Berger (Main Street Crafts), Rick Welch (Hickory Meadows Boarding Stables), Karl and Marilyn Terlinden (Terlinden Roofing), Ron and Karen Ellefson (Country Ridge Inn Bed and Breakfast), Sharron Miller (Miller's Furniture), Gwen Dreher (Doctors Inn Bed and Breakfast), Bob and Joyce Wagner (Kewaskum

Village President and First Lady), Bill Geidel (Sentry Foods), Bob Beisbier (Kewaskum Frozen Foods), Laurel Vail (Headquarters Saddle and Gifts), Gary Gavin (Kewaskum Trustee), Bud Schmidt (Schmidt Acres), Roger Uttech (Country Heir Farm Riding Stables), Leon Schultz (Barn Ranch Stables), Joyce Kral (Lasting Impressions Engraving), John Meisser (President Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce), Lana and Dennis Kuehl (Kewaskum Statesman and

Audience at Public Hearing On Rezoning Subdivision Concerned About Traffic Flow

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

As reported last week, the Kewaskum Village Board at their November 4th meeting, approved the preliminary plat and rezoning request of Whispering Willows Creek subdivision by a 4-3 margin.

Opening comments by co-developer Gary Gavin were also given last week. Following those comments, the lengthy public hearing was opened up to the audience for their comments, questions and concerns.

A homeowner located near parcel three of the proposed subdivision, asked Gavin what the possible number of units they were looking at for the parcel three portion. Gavin stated he hadn't checked out the potential.

Administrator Dan Schmidt added according to acreage and the portion of land located on floodplain, he thought the parcel could hold possibly 37 units.

Another neighbor, Dennis Anderson, questioned Gavin about the existing snowmobile trail now running through the property. Gavin explained it was the Meilahn's wishes the trail stay as it is. Gavin added eventually, the trail might change somewhat, but the access would always be there.

A member of the audience, Augie Bilgo, asked, "On Brooklane Drive, heading south, you said that was going to stay the way it is and then head up toward Reigle. Aren't you going through floodplain there too?"

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt explained SEWRPC had looked at it and there's less floodway to go through going in that direction and that is why it was recommended.

Bilgo stressed, "Why can't we ever get a road across that creek? We were denied access the other time and now SEWRPC is telling us again, you can't go that way, but you can go the other way."

Schmidt said the DNR is

Christmas Parade Dec. 8

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce has been busy as elves the past few weeks, formulating plans to insure this year's Christmas parade being held Sunday, December 8, at 5 p.m. will be the best ever held here.

The cold weather we have been enduring lately isn't good for too much, other than to lure you into the concept of a pre-Christmas mood. We're sure the excitement of that first Currier and Ives picture-perfect, freshly fallen (measurable) snow can't be far off and hopefully, that too, will bring visions of sugar plum fairies into your head (not tracking deer or thinking snow-blowers... where's your spirit!?)

Goodness, don't we ever go to great lengths to entice you to participate in the annual Christmas parade? Now that the background stage had been set and you are ready to start humming Christmas carols, has that old familiar Christmas spirit started to seep back into your brain?

If you were raised here in Kewaskum, you have to remember the days when jolly old Santa came ho-ho-ing into town on that huge red fire truck on a Saturday afternoon in December. Then you rushed to the Kewaskum theatre to stand in line to get your free goodie bag from Santa and sat for what seemed like hours absorbing all the cartoons and the special feature movie. Remember???

We have jogged your memory bank. Even if you weren't raised around here, in those days every community did something special for the children of the community during the holiday season. Well that is what the Chamber of Commerce is striving to do here this holiday, as in the past.

But we need the participation of the entire community to help make a memory for our children to take along to adulthood. Plan now to enter something into the Christmas parade. One smile on a child's face is all the reward you'll need to make up for the few hours work you'll need to decorate a parade entry. It's well worth it. And the prize money isn't anything to sneeze at in case you need a little extra incentive. Prizes of $150, $100, $75, $50 and

Bonenfant to Honor His Bet With Ruben

"It's been a long time coming, but it's something I felt I had to do."

Those are the words of WBKV morning man and program director Bob Bonenfant as he gets ready to fulfill a promise he made to former Kewaskum resident, friend and No. 1 Dallas Cowboy fan, the late Ruben "Running Bear" Oppermann.

Oppermann passed away in a car accident last year outside Kewaskum. He was a frequent caller to Bonenfant's morning show on WBKV and the two often made friendly wagers on the Packer-Cowboy games.

"Ruben was a Packer-backer too, but when it came to the Cowboys, there was no other team. I owed him a couple lunches, so the last time the two teams played, I told Ruben that if Green Bay won I was free and clear... if they lost I would dress up like a Cowboy cheerleader in public."

"Well, I'm going to pay up," Bonenfant added, "and I'm sure Running Bear will be looking down at me, smiling that huge grin of his, and still rooting for a Dallas win."

Bonenfant will be sitting in front of the Video Post, 355 Main Street, in Kewaskum, from 4 to 4:30 p.m., Monday, November 18, prior to the Cowboy-Packer Monday Night football matchup.

He's asking area folks to stop by with canned goods and non-perishable food items which he'll donate to the Food Pantry in Ruben's name.

"Anyone who knew Ruben will never forget him. This is just something fun and good we can do with him in mind," concluded Bonenfant.

Tourism Assessment

Kuehl's Suds and Spirits), Lisa Stockhausen (Maple Dale Manor), Elmer and Aggie Kittel (Bar-N Ranch Hat Bar), Shelby Hron and Carol Hafemann (Twin H Bar and Hall), and Lynn and Chip Beckford (Old Cascade Store).

Joyce Kral, co-chairman of the Northern Kettle Moraine Tourism Council, gave a brief synopsis of how this Tourism Council came to be and introduced Debbie Skinner to the audience.

Debbie opened her comments by explaining how the Wisconsin Department of Tourism works to provide technical assistance to Chambers, Tourism Councils and Visitor and Convention Bureaus on a consultant basis. She stated, "Tourism is real important to the State of Wisconsin. It's one of the three top industries."

Debbie explained some of the ways the Department promotes the State of Wisconsin. She further explained, "This Tourism Assessment has been one of our most successful projects. What the Tourism Assessment is all about is to bring some community leaders together. I come in as a facilitator. I'm not here telling you what to do or what not to do. I'm here to listen, pull your information together, recommend certain things, tell you about what's going on in cities surrounding you, and get you to focus on who you are and what you have. I want to tell you, you've got a lot up here."

Debbie stated she began working with the Kettle Moraine Tourism Team in May and throughout three subsequent meetings held during the summer. At the first meeting an inventory of about 126 items was established. With the inventory all the valuable information about this area was collected. Tourism assets were listed and identification was made of missing components needed to support and strengthen the tourism industry in the Kettle Moraine.

The second session concentrated on marketing and the image the Northern Kettle Moraine wanted to project to the tourist.

During the third meeting, development strategies were discussed and categorized into short-term and long-term goals. With the Tourism Assessment booklet, she stated, "This is who you are. This is the Kettle Moraine Tourism Council Northern Unit. These are all your programs, your assets, your marketing plan. You've got a plan of action for the next three years."

She reiterated that it was hoped people would become excited and want to become involved to accomplish some of the basic goals.

Debbie acknowledged the people who served on the Tourism Council Team. They were Co-Chairmen Joyce Kral and Dan Nauman (Big Horn Forge); Gwen Dreher; Judy and Mike Berger; Lana Kuehl; Julia and Mike Desterhofs; Leon Schultz; Dan Schmidt (Kewaskum Village Administrator); Jerry Leiterman (Assistant Superintendent of the Kettle Moraine State Forest Northern Unit) and John Meisser.

Debbie stressed, "In 1995, it was estimated the tourist spent 6.1 billion dollars in the State of Wisconsin. It's a lot of money and the top three categories were eating, shopping and recreation. You've got a good chunk of that right here in this area."

The economic impact of tourism in Fond du Lac and Washington Counties can be seen in some amazing statistics. In 1995 visitor expenditures totaled over 89 million dollars in Fond du Lac County and over 65 million in Washington County.

Tourism does create jobs. In Fond du Lac County, tourism generated 2,392 full time jobs and 1,765 were created in Washington County.

In addition, the promotion of tourism adds valuable tax dollars to state and local coffers. For this reason alone, taxpayers should want to see the tourism industry expanded.

Ms. Skinner then proceeded to detail the three work sessions that were held. Due to time and space constraints, we would like to address some of the positive items more specifically in another upcoming article. Debbie stated, "The Kettle Moraine State Forest is one of the most beautiful places in the world."

During our day-to-day routine we have a tendency to become oblivious to all the beauty that surrounds us in this area and we begin to take it all for granted. Hence the reason for a followup article... to remind us, through someone else's eyes, to appreciate this jewel that God and nature has created right in our own backyards... the place we call home... the Northern Kettle Moraine.

stricter on that than SEWRPC.

Bilgo added, "It's funny in Kewaskum here, the DNR is so strict. What are they going to do when they come with the four lane highway through the swamp? Isn't that part of SEWRPC too? They're going to make another lane of road there and take the swamp and dig it out and throw the ground all over and here we want maybe 300 feet of roadway."

Bilgo stressed he had nothing against the subdivision but he was concerned about the traffic flow. Bilgo stated, "The majority of it is going to come on Milan Drive whether you like it or not."

Gavin said, "If I lived on lot 23 or 25, I'd go out Dream Catcher. I don't think it's fair to say that it's all going to go to Milan."

Bilgo added, "You've got 43 lots there, so you're talking at least two cars per unit; 90 cars or more. I just think if you're going to make decisions you should make them long range decisions. If you don't want to dedicate a lot, at least keep a lot open on a corner, that someday, things might change that we could get a street through there. You have one access from Roseland Drive. Everybody has to cross that creek on 45. Pretty soon we'll be up on Highland, two miles west of Kewaskum to get around Kewaskum."

Gavin stressed, "The whole Little Canada has got to cross one bridge on Highway 28."

Bilgo retaliated by saying, "That's a different situation than 45. You can drive out on 28 anytime. You try to get out on 45 anytime. There's a big difference. What I'm saying, these kids have to come that way. They've got to cross the river. They have to come from that subdivision. They're going to either cut through by Dairy Queen or by Connor. Those kids are not going to walk up to Highway H and then come around that way. And the nature trail is not a trail for kids to take to school."

More discussion followed with David Goeden then bringing out to view the layout of the SEWRPC Land Use Plan, in which they show where they feel is the most strategic places to locate development, roadways, etc.

A resident living adjacent to the proposed subdivision, concerned about additional traffic on Milan Drive, asked why there wasn't another road leading out to Highway H.

It was stated the county wants limited access to major trunk highways. The county only allows a certain amount of accesses per foot.

Another member of the audience asked, "In other words, they couldn't come straight across on Memorial Drive?"

Village Administrator

Dan Schmidt answered, "No. They don't advocate that type of design. They don't want as many accesses to either county trunks, your major collector streets and especially like U.S. 45. That's why they limit all accesses." Schmidt added that County H is considered a major collector street.

Trustee Goeden added, "If the Land Use Plan ever looked at Pleasantwood, Memorial and Bel Ric nowadays, they'd say there's too many exits going out onto County H and we've got to eliminate some of them."

Again, a neighbor stated he felt all the traffic would end up on Milan Drive. Administrator Schmidt added he felt it would be a whole lot easier to take Whisper Lane to Dream Catcher and then out onto H, for that is where the natural traffic flow is.

When asked if one section of road could be eliminated and have just one way in and one way out of the subdivision, Schmidt answered, "I don't think you'd want to do it because you'd be creating another deadend. And there's utility easements going across all of that now."

Augie Bilgo added, "This SEWRPC is all limbo. SEWRPC can tell you what they want. This is still the Village of Kewaskum that should control the Village. Seeing that (the extension of Brooklane Drive) is undetermined at this time, why can't that one lot be left open and if the Village has to buy it, I as a taxpayer would be in favor. We'd pay Gary Gavin for the lot, so if the street at some point in time, can be put through there, that the land is there. When you get a $200,000 home on that lot you're never going to go that way anymore."

Bilgo added, "I don't live there, but I cannot see, there were 28 deadends in the Village of Kewaskum when I worked there and we aren't creating less, we're making more. If you plow snow or pick up garbage, you're paying for that. When that garbage truck has to drive in a street and back to get around, it's costing the taxpayers money."

Gavin reiterated there were no deadends in the subdivision.

Bilgo stated Brooklane was a deadend, proposed to go through at sometime, but it isn't.

Schmidt answered Brooklane was still proposed to go through, but was proposed to go to the west, southwest.

Bilgo reiterated he felt it might be 20 years before Edgewood would be developed, and stressed, "I'm just asking you to restrict one lot. That's not going to make or break you or Mr. Fehlhaber. In the future, if it ever goes the other way, the road, you can sell the lot. I'm sure it's not going to be worth less."

Goeden added "the worst part of that, Augie, is the lot would probably be the least cost of the whole project," adding it would be very costly to run a road through the creek and having to build a bridge, etc.

Schmidt reminded the audience that the public hearing was being held in regards to the rezoning. So there is the possibility of addressing the issues brought up again during the final plat approval and the developers agreement. He said, "it doesn't really have anything to do with the development at this point in time."

Bilgo asked if the road at the village limits was ever going to go through from H to 28.

Schmidt added that land is dedicated roadway from H to 28. (The first road west of town).

Bilgo asked how come they could put that right through the swamp.

Schmidt answered, "That's a state highway project and they have to mitigate the wetlands. That's what they're doing on Highway 45." He added, "It's on the 2010 Plan and it's got a low priority. It's been on the plan ever since 1966. It's proposed to be a county trunk. It's on the county plan and the southeast Wisconsin plan and the full state plan."

Trustee Stoltzmann added Edgewood Road would probably go through before the other proposed county trunk.

More road discussion followed and President Wagner asked, "Basically what I'm hearing from most everybody here is that they want to see a road going north." A member of the audience stated, "That would help."

President Wagner then asked Ted Meilahn, owner of the parcel of property, his opinion. Ted stated, "I think the way to handle that traffic on the west side of town is extend Edgewood. You don't have to build a bridge. You don't have to argue with anybody about wetlands and whether they're right or wrong. Get Edgewood out and then you serve the west part of town."

Trustee Goeden again asked if the rezoning should be addressed separately.

Administrator Schmidt reiterated, "We have one request. It is my understanding that's the conditions of the purchase of the land, as far as how the zoning goes."

The road was again brought up and Administrator Schmidt again stated the roadway does not involve the rezoning request, which was why the public hearing had been called. Anything else could be referenced to in the final plat and the developers agreement.

Gavin stated, "There is a plan for what you're asking, it's just not happening today," adding, "The Spoerl property is for sale. (The Village should) buy the Spoerl property and put Edgewood through. That would be the answer right there."

Bilgo agreed, saying, "That isn't the worst idea, but I hear the price is more than people want to pay."

Co-developer Joel Fehlhaber, seated in the audience, asked if the developers were not subdividing, and the land would stay the same, how would the roads be developed then? The problem would still exist. He added, now that someone wanted to develop the land, he felt the village was looking to hit them with a "quick fix" to the traffic flow problems.

Eventually, the motion to approve the rezoning request was made by Trustee Harry Roecker and seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, with Trustees Roecker, Stoltzmann, and Dums and President Wagner voting yes and Trustees Goeden and Kenworthy voting no. Trustee Gavin abstained from voting.

Natural Gas Offered To the Town of Scott

Natural gas will soon be installed in the Town of Scott.

Wisconsin Gas, a WICOR company, has received approval from the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin to offer natural gas to resident and businesses in the Town of Scott. Construction is planned to begin early April, 1997 and be completed by the end of August, 1997.

Representatives from Wisconsin Gas will be visiting homes and businesses throughout the Town of Scott beginning in November to answer questions and take applications for service.

Pipe Line Construction

Natural gas will be piped from the village of Adell to the Town of Scott along County A to Cherry Hill Road, west to Upland Springs Floral at the intersection of Cherry Hill and Trout Spring Roads, following Trout Spring Road from County A to County S, and from Cherry Hill Road on Highway 28 south through Batavia, west on County A. Piping will then extend north through Beechwood to County SS. A short portion of Highway S, both east and west of Beechwood, and South on County HH will also receive gas service.

Gas Service Benefits

In addition to receiving a natural gas supply, the Town of Scott will also get to enjoy the following benefits that Wisconsin Gas has to offer:

1. There is no charge to connect the pipeline to any building if it is not more than 60 feet from the property line to the front of the building or 120 feet for commercial customers. If it is more than 60 feet or 120 feet respectively, there is a per foot charge.

2. Wisconsin Gas offers the Connection Express program to property owners who are currently using LP-fueled appliances. Wisconsin Gas will offer a highly-competitive price to convert their appliances to natural gas. Also available is installation of interior piping for LP or oil customers converting to natural gas.

3. Wisconsin Gas, in conjunction with Fannie Mae, the Federal National Mortgage Association, can provide low-interest financing for new customers interested in purchasing high efficiency heating units, insulation, and other items making their homes more energy efficient. There are no fees, no points, no down payments and the loans are unsecured.

4. Any landscaping temporarily affected by gas installation will be professionally restored. This may include grading, placing top soil and seeding.

Kristine Heise, along with her husband, Mark, are owners of Beechwood Cheese Factory, Inc., a licensed manufacturer of natural and specialty cheeses. "I am looking forward to the savings over oil and not having to be dependent on a weekly delivery of fuel oil. I am also pleased that natural gas is environmentally friendly," explained Heise.

Natural gas is more energy-efficient than other fuels and, as the Town of Scott residents and businesses will discover, natural gas simply saves more money.

Wisconsin Gas, a subsidiary of WICOR, is the largest natural gas distributor in the state, serving more than 500,000 customers in 503 communities.

7th, 8th Grade Football Soon to Become Reality

Tackle football for seventh and eighth graders in the Kewaskum area is about to become a reality. The idea has been tossed around for years, but now the first steps have been taken to get a team on the field for the 1997 season.

While this program will be independent and self-sustaining, the Kewaskum School District has pledged its support. Along with a financial contribution, the district has offered its use of facilities. The school will help in attempts to obtain insurance at a reasonable cost.

All of this only amounts to a good start. Any project of this kind requires a great deal of work and time. Because organization is in its earliest stages, anyone who is interested in the success of a tackle football program is urged to step forward. Whether you want to be part of the decision-making process or want to help with the actual implementation of the program when the time comes, it is important that you step forward.

It is important that parents of prospective players make that interest known, whether or not they are able to help in the running of the program. Even though the season is nine months off, much needs to be done. Equipment must be purchased. Schedules need to be set. Fund-raising needs to be done. All of this requires that organizers know the level of interest.

There will be an organizational meeting for the seventh and eighth grade tackle football program on Tuesday, November 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Kewaskum Legion Hall. To express interest or for any questions, please contact Dave Donath (626-2916 or 626-4342) or Ron Theusch (626-8385).

Family and Consumer Education Class at KHS

Kewaskum High School students are learning how to survive. At one time, that might have meant building fires, creating shelter, foraging for food in the wild. Now, however, "Single Living," a course at KHS, focuses on skills a bit more relevant to surviving in the 1990's such as sewing, ironing, nutrition and others.

"Single Living" students have the chance to learn by doing, according to KHS Family and Consumer Education (FACE) instructor Mary Koch. In the class, participants not only get to see things such as clothing care/repair or proper food preparation, they actually gain valuable experience completing such tasks. The goal is to help students become more confident and self-sufficient with the life skills they will use in years to come.

Student Heather Weis, for example, is applying some of the skills learned towards a possible career in the field of food services. As a "Food Seminar" student at KHS, Heather selects topics of study -- making garnishes, preparing yeast breads, etc. -- based on her interests in food preparation. Along with this program, Heather also has, through the FACE department, a co-op position doing food prep at the Cedar Bay Restaurant.

By participating in programs such as "Single Living," students take hold of their immediate future. And, in regards to "survival skills," students can make sure they know what they are doing when the time comes to really do it.

Friends of the Kettle Moraine to Sponsor Evening Presentation

On Tuesday, November 19, the Friends of the Kettle Moraine will sponsor a special presentation as part of its annual meeting. Bill Volkert, DNR Naturalist at Horicon Marsh will provide a slide program and discussion on his travels and work in southern Siberia for the cooperative management of Lake Baikal.

Since 1991, Bill has made four trips to the region to initiate the project and develop an international program to protect one of the greatest freshwater lakes on earth. Through presentation of his slides, he will share his impressions of the region, discuss its people and their culture, and the uniqueness of Lake Baikal.

In July and August of 1991, Bill first visited Siberia, by invitation of the USSR Academy of Sciences. There he toured Lake Baikal and met with the scientists working on research and management of the lake. This initial contact eventually led to the development of an international cooperative project. Due to his personal experiences in the region, Bill was selected to serve on the first DNR delegation to visit the area in June of 1993.

This delegation worked with the State Committee for Ecology and Natural Resources (Goscomecologia) to investigate opportunities for cooperative management of natural resources and environmental quality. The group drafted a work plan identifying various fields in which we could offer assistance and expertise. This was followed by a reciprocal visit by a Russian delegation which visited Wisconsin in October and November of 1993. The entire effort culminated in the signing of a five year cooperative international agreement between Wisconsin DNR and Goscomecologia.

Bill returned for a third time to the region in July and August of 1993, traveling with his wife Connie, to get a deeper understanding of the area's wildlife, ecology and human culture. During prior travels he had spent so much time in meetings, dinners, and official discussions that he only got to see the land on short excursions. It was very tempting to explore the region and its resources in a more intimate fashion and this trip provided him the opportunity to see the land on his own terms.

Wisconsin DNR has hosted several visits by Russian scientists over the past three years. The goal has been to develop an insight into our resource management programs and train them in air and water quality monitoring programs, computer-based mapping systems, and forest management and fire prevention.

This past summer Bill returned for his fourth visit at the invitation of the Russian government. Due to his involvement and the success of the cooperative project, he was offered the chance to visit at their expense and work on projects of his choice to further the international agreement. During his month-long

Meet the School District Staff

Joe Kinney
KHS Teacher

Activity - participation - responsibility... Kewaskum high school social studies teacher Joe Kinney promotes these ideals in his classroom, as well as in his life.

"I want students to be involved, to gain confidence in their own abilities," Mr. Kinney explained. "When they leave here, they should know they can do anything. And even if they don't get everything they want from it, at least they'll know they gave it their best shot."

Mr. Kinney is in his second full year at KHS, and participation has certainly been a hallmark of his stay. This year he teaches freshman History (World Studies), Current Affairs and Psychology, and has worked with students in gymnasiums, track, football and student council. He was even one of the teacher volunteers that painted the gym over the summer.

Recently, Mr. Kinney got his students involved in the Presidential elections, as well.

"My Current Affairs class campaigned for the election, along with Mr. Rockhill's class," he shared enthusiastically. "They made signs, had debates. We had fun with it."

Students even manned school election booths on election day in the school-wide Presidential voting.

"It was useful because we also did a lot of observing what was happening in the actual campaigns. Students said they really knew what was going on. That definitely made it worth it."

In other classes, Mr. Kinney has also given students the responsibility to learn and participate. In psychology, for example, students are provided with a college-type experience, with lectures and a heavy emphasis on independent study. There is a possibility that the KHS Psych course may someday earn credit for students at Moraine Park Technical College.

Mr. Kinney's emphasis on activity and participation extends beyond the school walls, too.

"Most students probably think teachers are old, boring people," Mr. Kinney joked. "I like them to know that we have lives (outside of school), too."

Outside of school, Mr. Kinney stays busy with hobbies decidedly not old and boring, such as computers, riding motorcycle, and "paintballing" (which essentially combines elements of battle and tag, using air rifles to fire balls of paint at the "enemy"). He smiled and added, "we teachers don't just sit around."

Mr. Kinney attended high school in Brookfield (a Milwaukee suburb), and college at UW-Oshkosh, but now calls Kewaskum home. His girlfriend, Jenny Volkman, coaches cheerleading at KHS, and is a staff development coordinator in elderly health care.

Just as activity and participation are goals for himself and his students, so is responsibility.

"Teaching history is just a part of it. I have to teach students about becoming good citizens, becoming good people, and believing in themselves."

With Mr. Kinney around, one gets the feeling that they will.

Cooked mushrooms are higher in nutrients than are raw mushrooms.

Sno-Cougars Celebrate 25th Anniversary

The photograph is of Ray Sippel (left), Fond du Lac County Snowmobile Assoc., Representative to the AWSC, giving 25 year certificate from the AWSC to Sno-Cougar President, Gary Seefeldt, (right).

The Campbellsport Sno-Cougars held a twenty-fifth anniversary dinner on Oct. 12th, at Hon-E-Kor in Kewaskum.

The club President, Gary Seefeldt, welcomed all the guests and introduced the first speaker, John Karoses, the very first president of the club in 1971, who told how the club got organized and all the hard work and good times they had back then, getting the club started.

John introduced Carole-Marchant-Ferber, the first and only woman president the club has had to date. She talked about being one of the younger club members and the fun they had during those first years. Carole introduced Dave Smith, Vice President of the Association of Wisconsin Snowmobile Clubs, (AWSC). Dave told about all the work and dedication it has taken to get the snowmobile organization to where it is now and about all the future problems facing snowmobiling as a major tourist attraction in the state of Wisconsin.

Without all the dedication and hard work of some very tireless people, all the things now enjoyed in the sport of snowmobiling, would not be possible. Members of the club gave a heartfelt thanks to all that have given of their time and effort to make this sport what it is today and will be tomorrow.

Steve Ditter, President of the Fond du Lac County Snowmobile Asso., and club member, talked about how the club, being one of the biggest in Fond du Lac County, has been helpful to some of the other clubs in the area. The Sno-Cougars club grooms trails for three neighboring clubs and helps by belonging and supporting the Fond du Lac county Snowmobile Association.

Jim Drehmel, a past officer, board of director, and trail coordinator, talked about all the grooming equipment the club has had through the years, and how the club progressed through the years in the marking and maintenance of many miles of trails. Ray Sippel, a board of director, and club representative to the Fond du Lac County Snowmobile Assoc. and Fond du Lac County's representative to the AWSC, presented Campbellsport club president, Gary Seefeldt, with a certificate from the AWSC for twenty-five years of dedication to the sport of snowmobiling.

All attending were served a very good meal and treated to beverages and music after the program concluded. They were joined in their celebration by some of the members of the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs, a neighboring club that has helped them through the years, and when needed, the Sno-Cougars have helped them in return. This is what has made the sport of snowmobiling what it has become today, Clubs helping clubs to make things better for all snowmobilers.

The officers for the 1996-97 season are as follows, President-Gary Seefeldt, Vice President-Jim Kiesner Jr., Secretary-Wanda Marchant, Treasurer-Delores Prochnow. Board of Directors, Doug Schwinn, Dan Schwinn, Ray Sippel, Ron Baumhardt and John Schwartz. Club Reporter and Photographer - Pauline Drehmel.

Members hope this will be a good and safe year for all fellow snowmobile enthusiasts. Remember, the trails ridden today will be there tomorrow, if ridden with common sense and respect for others property and the people that have spent countless hours out there making and marking safe trails for all to ride sensibly.

stay, he worked on seven different projects, including implementing a republic-wide forest fire education program, modeled after our Smokey-Bear program, consulted on resource management at the national park and three different protected areas that he visited, and identified projects for a multi-million dollar World Bank grant being made available for the protection of Lake Baikal.

Lake Baikal is one of the most unique and outstanding natural resources in the world. It is the deepest, oldest and largest lake by volume in the world. Although the lake is smaller than Lakes Superior, Huron or Michigan in surface area, it is more than four times deeper than Lake Superior, at 5,365 feet (Superior is 1,332 feet deep). It holds more water than all five Great Lakes combined -- 22% of all the freshwater in the world is in Lake Baikal! The lake is at least 25 million years old, compared to 20,000 years for our Great Lakes, and due to its extreme depth and age, more than 65% of all plant and animal life in this lake is found nowhere else on earth.

This program is open to the general public. Please join the Friends of the Kettle Moraine when Bill Volkert takes us via his slides for a tour of Siberia and Lake Baikal; the Sacred Sea of Siberia. The program will be conducted at the Ice Age Visitor Center, located near Dundee on Highway 67.

For more information, please contact the Kettle Moraine State Forest at (414) 626-2116 or the Ice Age Center at 533-8322.

Wayne Crusaders 4-H

The Wayne Crusaders have been in existence for nearly 50 years, meeting in the Town of Wayne at various locations over the years. Presently they meet the second Tuesday of each month at St. Johns United Church of Christ just on the southern edge of the township. The club offers both a Cloverbud program for five through eight year olds, and the regular club for nine to eighteen year olds. The club graduated four ten year members recently and brought 13 Cloverbud members into the fold at the September meeting.

The Wayne Crusaders have been very involved in many local, county, district and state areas. They participate annually in the West Bend Farmer's Market, selling their crafts and produce, West Bend Germanfest, doing face painting and balloon animals, and in the Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Kolers, offering many tasty, mouth-watering treats for sale. The diversity of the individuals who lead this club, make for many interesting activities for youth of all ages. Presently about 30 leaders carry the responsibilities of teaching and supporting youth in many project areas. The club is the largest in Washington County, supporting 70 plus youth.

The highlight of the club year is the annual Washington County Fair, where the youth exhibit their projects, promote 4-H, work in the 4-H food stand, plus do an outstanding job of promoting their club, as a whole. The club has come to be respected in the county for their creativity, reliability and attitude.

Whether it is in poultry, hogs, rabbits, cats, beef, dogs, horses, calves, dairy, foods, clothing, photography, crafts, plants, child development, woodworking, naturespace, aerospace, adventures, shooting sports, demonstrations, public speaking, posters, music, drama, or FUN you will find the Wayne Crusaders being represented and proud to be a part of Washington County 4-H.

Kewaskum 4-H'ers

Four-H is an organization to be enjoyed by the entire family.

The Kewaskum 4-H'ers is a local club, currently with 28 members ranging in age from five to 18, and 12 adult leaders. Meetings are held the first Thursday of every month at 7 p.m. in the Kewaskum Municipal Building. Members are elected to officer positions and are responsible for conducting the business meetings and planning events for the year.

During the past year, members and their families enjoyed several events, including a Halloween Party, Christmas Party, Admirals Game, Bowl-A-Thon, and Milwaukee Brewers Game, to name a few. Club members raised funds to finance these events through various fundraising activities. Last year members sold candy bars and pizza crusts, sponsored a brat fry at Sentry Foods, and assisted in hosting the Downtown Farmer's Market in West Bend.

Club members participate in community activities such as the Adopt-A-Highway program to help keep our highways free of litter. Members enjoy their annual visit to Maple Dale Manor to share Christmas cheer with the residents.

The highlight of the year is the Washington County Fair. A lot of work goes into preparing not only all your projects to exhibit at the fair, but also preparing the fairgrounds and participating in the many activities throughout the fair. Fair is a lot of fun, and through face-to-face judging of your project exhibits, it's a learning experience too.

Four-H offers many opportunities for youth, including the opportunity to visit or host youth from other states and other countries. There are many County programs to participate in as members, youth leaders, and adult leaders, and many County awards to work towards.

Four-H is a great all-around experience and new members are always welcome. If you're interested in more information about the club, feel free to attend an upcoming meeting, or contact the general leader at 626-8071.

Motorists Pay 'Deerly' This Time of Year; Tips to Avoid Vehicle-Deer Collisions

A little extra caution this fall could help motorists prevent major mishaps, according to AAA Wisconsin.

Vehicle-deer collisions are the second most common type of traffic crash in Wisconsin, and while vehicle-deer crashes are reported in each of Wisconsin's 72 counties throughout the year, the number of crashes peaks during October and November. A secondary peak occurs in May and June.

Breeding and feeding practices find deer on the move during these months, and the addition of hunters on the roadways during the fall increases traffic.

In 1995, Wisconsin recorded 23,922 car vehicle crashes; of those, 23,222 resulted in property damage only, 693 resulted in injuries to motorists, and seven resulted in fatalities.

Last year, the top five counties in the number of vehicle-deer crashes reported were Dane with 1,325; Marathon with 1,267; Columbia with 851; Waukesha with 848, and Waupaca with 769.

AAA advises motorists to always wear safety belts, avoid alcohol when driving, and practice the following safety tips to avoid vehicle-deer crashes:

* Deliberately look for deer. Scan the roadside, and down the roadway as well.

* Use extra caution when driving in the hours before dawn and just after dusk. Those are the most likely times to find deer moving from area to area. If you see a deer, slow down, be prepared to stop, honk the horn, and assume other deer are nearby.

* Should a deer dart into the road just in front of you, do not take unsafe evasive action, such as swerving. It is usually safer to strike the deer than another object, such as a tree or other vehicle.

* Be alert for the reflection of headlights in the eyes of deer. The headlights may "freeze" the deer. Flash your headlights on and off well in advance to encourage the deer to move from the road area.

* Should you strike a deer, report it to local or county police and your insurance company. Motorists can keep the deer they have struck, but the deer must be tagged.

AAA Wisconsin, affiliated with the American Automobile Association (AAA), is a not-for-profit motor club offering travel, insurance, financial and auto-related services to more than 504,000 members statewide through 13 office locations.

1996 Bear Season Has Record Harvest

MADISON -- Wisconsin hunters killed a record number of bears during the 1996 hunting season with a preliminary harvest of 2,205, according to Bill Mytton, deer and bear ecologist with the Department of Natural Resources.

"Much of the north had good acorn and berry crops this fall. As a result, hunting was very good up north for the first week, but then hunting activity seemed to slow down as the bears began feeding heavily on fallen acorns," Mytton said. "In general, though, hunters had another excellent season."

The increase in harvest was expected, Mytton said, because the DNR increased the number of bear permits available by nearly 50% over 1995. The increase was based on a revised black bear population estimate that was developed from an improved population model, as well as increased black bear monitoring in Wisconsin. A record 4,570 harvest permits were issued for the 1996 season.

The 1996 season also was the final year of a three-year temporary sub-zone in several northwestern counties.

"We split the old Zone A so we could better control the distribution of hunters. Our goal was to shift hunting pressure to areas of high nuisance and damage complaints," Mytton said. "Similarly, establishing this temporary subzone allowed us to shift hunters away from heavily hunted areas where there were concerns of overharvest."

The zone change proved successful, Mytton added, and hunters voted to make this a permanent change starting with the 1997 season.

Mytton said the 1997 fall black bear population in Wisconsin is expected to number about 14,000 animals.

"Our statewide population is in excellent shape, and we're seeing more bear in areas not considered to be traditional habitats," he said.

With over 35,000 hunters currently in the permit pool, hunters can expect to wait five to eight years before receiving a harvest permit. The 1997 application deadline is January 17, 1997.

To Compete in NCAA Division III National CC Championships

Matt Thull, left, and Cheri Lichtensteiger, former Campbellsport High School distance runners, continue to do well at the college level. On Saturday, November 9, they both competed at Rock Island Illinois in the NCAA Division III Regional Cross Country Meet held at Highland Springs golf course.

Matt led his fellow UW Oshkosh Titans to the regional championship with an individual third place finish with a time of 24:28 on the 8,000 meter men's course in a field of 25 teams.

Cheri led her Carroll College teammates with a time of 17:57 to place second individually in the 5,000 meter women's course. The Carroll College women finished fifth in a field of 25 teams.

Both Matt and Cheri will compete on the same course in Rock Island this Saturday, November 16, at the NCAA Division III National Cross Country Championship Meet. Good luck Matt and Cheri!

Matt is the son of Craig and Lois Thull of Campbellsport and Cheri is the daughter of Bonnie Lichtensteiger and Steve Lichtensteiger, both of Campbellsport.

Wisconsin Hunters Gear Up for 1996 Gun Deer Hunt

MADISON -- Expectations remain high for a successful 1996 nine-day gun deer hunting season that opens Saturday, November 23, and runs through Sunday, December 1, according to Bill Mytton, deer and bear ecologist for the Department of Natural Resources.

"With the hunting season falling late this year, Wisconsin hunters can expect to see a similar deer season to that of 1993," Mytton said.

The late season means the rut -- or deer mating season -- will have concluded in much of the north, so deer movement and activity will have decreased during the day. And with the severity of the 1995-96 winter, populations of deer, especially yearlings and spike bucks, are down in the north.

"A good dry summer and early fall will make access for hunters very good in the central forest portions of the state," Mytton said. "Barring early and deep snows or heavy rains, success should be good."

Hunting should be very good in the farmland areas across the state where good numbers of deer are available. Because the season is late, the corn harvest should be completed in many areas and standing corn should be at a minimum, making it easier to locate deer.

Hunters who will hunt in any of the 19 Zone T deer management units will still have to shoot a doe first to be eligible to harvest a buck. They also must register Zone T deer in the unit where the deer was shot or in an adjacent unit.

The 25,000 hunters who harvested a doe in the early four-day season and who had their backtags validated can harvest either a doe or a buck in the Zone T units. All other hunters in Zone T are still required to earn-a-buck by harvesting an antlerless deer first.

Hunters harvested almost 400,000 deer in 1995, including 171,891 bucks. Even with the late season, total harvest should be almost as high because of an expected increase in the antlerless harvest. But the buck harvest will most likely be lower because of the late season and the effects of last winter, Mytton said.

"Safety is always a concern during the hunt," Mytton said. "The four-day special hunt in October was very safe, as was last year's gun hunt. We hope that carries over to this season."

Hunters are reminded that the trespass law has been changed and landowners do not have to post their properties. Hunters must have permission to hunt private lands and also must know where they are in the woods. Old and faded blaze orange should be replaced. Wearing solid blaze orange is preferred.

Even after the nine-day hunt is completed, unused tags can still be filled during the seven-day muzzle-loader season that opens Monday, December 2, and runs through Sunday, December 8.
