Open House Sunday at West Bend Clinic's New Kewaskum Facility

The staff of the West Bend Clinic's Kewaskum Office welcomes you to their Open House on Sunday, December 8, from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Left to right: Receptionists Wendy Guenther and Debbie Backhaus, Dr. Cesar Sison, Nurse Sharon Burtard, who is Dr. Sison's nurse, Dr. David Brown, Lab Technician Dori Springstroh, Xray Technician Tracy Smajek, and Nurse Diane Klesmith, who is Dr. Brown's nurse.

The West Bend Clinic invites the public to tour its' new Kewaskum facilities this Sunday, December 8, at an Open House aimed at introducing the community to its staff and expanded services.

Doctors Cesar Sison and David Brown, West Bend Clinic's professional staff, will be on hand to meet and greet the Kewaskum community members from 2 to 4:30 p.m., before the annual Christmas Parade.

Stop by the Open House and tour the new clinic at 1701 Fond du Lac Avenue, which includes a 5,600 square foot, two level building, accommodations for four physicians, expandable to eight physicians should the need arise, with 12 examining rooms, two nurses stations, office, staff and administrative space, xray, lab and blood work rooms, and large reception areas designed to accommodate children.

Refreshments will be served.

Pat Peterson to Host Open House Benefit For Moraine Symphony Orchestra Wednesday

Get the point...that is, the bloom 'n' point, a benefit for Moraine Symphony.

A not-so-secret santa is opening her holiday home in Kewaskum on Wednesday, Dec. 11, from 1-6 p.m. and the public is invited. The bloom 'n' point of this first-ever event is to raise money for this impressive community orchestra, one of Wisconsin's fastest growing.

(Just a few days before the open house, Moraine Symphony, conducted by Music Director Bud Asch, will perform its Christmas concert at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 8, at Immanuel UCC, West Bend. Tickets for the concert and the bloom 'n' point benefit are available at the door).

A special needlepoint of viewing for open house visitors is the 9'x12' needle-point rug created by the hostess, Mrs. (L.N.) Pat Peterson of 328 Forest Ave., Kewaskum. Mrs. Peterson, who had for years volunteered for a certain symphony south of here, decided "the time was right to do something for our own orchestra."

The perfect timing for Moraine Symphony might have something to do with the recent completion of a needlepoint project that evolved into a four-year passion for this friend of the symphony.

Mrs. Peterson relates the story of seeing a magazine photo of the needlepoint rug in the White House done by then first lady Barbara Bush. "I can do that, too," she remembers telling herself. She began collecting pictures of flowers from countries she and her husband visited, often to see former AFS students who had lived in Kewaskum.

Area artist May Bierman painted the flowers on the square mesh patterns. And when Mrs. Peterson completed the stitchery over four years later, Sue Secord provided the finishing touches to the rug by assembling the separate pieces.

The hostess and her friends-of-symphony helpers are making sure that the halls will be decked with Christmas glitter and that there'll be something for the sweet tooth.

Maestro Bud Asch will greet the crowd, along with international AFS students currently going to school in Kewaskum. Open house visitors will also have a chance to win fabulous door prizes; a floral arrangement by

Christmas Parade Sunday

They've made all their lists and they've checked them all twice and all is in readiness for jolly old Santa Claus who will be making his annual appearance to check if the children are being naughty or nice during Sunday's annual Christmas Parade at 5 p.m.

The theme for this year's parade will be "Christmas in the Kettle," and the time left to prepare your entry is growing dangerously short. It is hoped the entire community will strive to make this year's parade a most memorable one for all.

The Chamber is urging all businesses, community organizations, church groups and families to become involved in the success of the parade. With support from the entire community, the parade can continue to be a source of inspiration to all involved, as well as the spectators. Prizes of $150, $100, $75, $50 and $25 will be awarded for the first five places chosen as the best by the judges.

This year, the Chamber and Kewaskum High School will again take part in the annual Food Sharing Program to be held in conjunction with the parade. All residents are encouraged to bring non-perishable food items to the parade where Santa's elves will gladly assist in picking them up, or there are drop-off boxes set up at Hon-E-Kor, Miller's Fine Furniture, My Little Friends Day Care Center, the Kewaskum Statesman, Kuehl's Suds and Spirits and Eccentrics by Kimetha for your convenience. Let's be sure we remember the true meaning of Christmas by donating our small share to help everyone in the area have a happy holiday season by sharing a little of what we can afford to give.

Once again, the Chamber is arranging to have Fond du Lac Avenue and Main Street adorned with Christmas Trees in which area community groups and schools have donated their time to decorate. Youth from Kewaskum Elementary and Middle Schools, Holy Trinity, St. Lucas, Farmington and Wayne Elementary schools, My Little Friends Day Care, and the Allenton and Kewaskum 4-H, and the Kewaskum Girl and Boy Scout Troops will all be involved in the tree decorating, which will add a beautiful festive touch along the parade route.

A new twist has been added this year as all decorating participants will be competing for a chance to win first through third place, working with the theme, "Christmas in the Kettle." The trees will be judged the evening of the parade and winners will be announced in the paper.

The West Bend Clinic's new facility in Kewaskum will be featuring an Open House from 2 to 4:30 p.m. on Sunday, prior to the Parade. Many businesses will also be featuring special celebrations, encouraging you to spend the day in Kewaskum's Winter Wonderland. Why travel somewhere else to finish

Board Okays Rezoning For Butler Financial Group

By Lana Harbeck Kuehl

In addition to passing the 1997 budget, the Kewaskum Village Board also faced a lengthy agenda at last Monday's meeting.

The Board opened the meeting by unanimously approving the rezoning request of Butler Financial Group for the property located at 1551 Fond du Lac Avenue, Kewaskum. They had asked to rezone the property from R-3 Two-Family Residence District to B-1 Limited Retail and Service District. The property is located on the southwest corner of the intersection of Fond du Lac Avenue and Knights Avenue.

David Goeden reported the Plan Commission had given the rezoning a favorable recommendation after addressing a few issues regarding lot setback and a "vision corner."

Trustee Robert Stoltzmann asked what the plans were for the building. Village Administrator Daniel Schmidt stated, "The downstairs of the building will be converted into general office area. Basically, they're gutting the downstairs and making it handicapped accessible and it's going to be an insurance financial type office building. The layout is designed that at some point in time, it really could convert back into housing."

Schmidt added the Butler's son, who is also a member of the business, would be residing upstairs.

Following the November report by Assistant Fire Chief Mark Herriges, Trustee Gary Gavin related he felt the village residents should not have to subsidize the cost of transporting non-residents by village ambulance. Gavin stated, "If it's $50 a call or whatever it is, that's what these people should be charged. At least so it's break even, instead of the village subsidizing it."

Herriges agreed, saying, "I don't think there should be any problem with that at all. I did mention that at one of the last meetings, when we tried to sit down with all the townships. That's what they agreed upon, so it that's what it's going to be, we can up it."

Herriges added he wasn't exactly sure what they were at right now, to which Trustee Stoltzmann stated, "We're at $35 now."

Trustee Gavin added, "You should make it enough to try and recoup from this year. You're not going to get it all back, but at least set it above 10% of what you're projecting the fees will be."

Herriges further explained, "I'm not even sure if Medicare covers the non-resident. That's where you run into problems, when Medicare will only pay X amount of dollars, no matter what it is."

Administrator Schmidt added, "You have to sign a statement that you're willing to accept the assignment. So whatever they decide to give you, that's what you end up getting on all Medicare patients."

Village President Robert Wagner asked, "What do you do, bill the patient for the balance?" Schmidt stated, "No, you can't. Once you sign the assignment, you're just out."

Herriges added, "It's probably close to $100 a run that we lose on them (Medicare patients)."

Following further discussion on the increased usage of the rescue squad and the decrease in rescue squad personnel, it was thought some transports would either have to be contracted out, or the village would have to seriously consider looking at full time people, to which Herriges stated, "We all know what that costs."

Herriges added, "This weekend (opening of deer hunting) was a real rough weekend. We spent all weekend with about 10 people in town. We did have one fire call, which was not our fire. We had two people come back from deer hunting, so we had 11 people sign in that showed up. We didn't have enough people to run two rescue squads over the weekend. We had several car accidents. We had to have Campbellsport come in and transport one patient for us, because we were only able to run one squad."

Police Chief Richard Knoebel gave his October monthly report, adding the D.A.R.E. program would be commencing in January and the department had received their "Tiger Paw" high-speed chase stopper. It is hoped the "Tiger Paw" would be in use within a few weeks. Discussion on the merits of the "Tiger Paw" was held with Chief Knoebel stating he felt it was an extremely useful tool to cut down on accidents, injuries and liability during a high-speed chase. It is also hoped to have a demonstration on this new piece of equipment in the near future.

During his report, Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles stated during the recent light snowfall, there were many residents who did not clear off their sidewalks. Letters were sent to these residents to make them aware of village requirements on clearing walkways.

Purchase of Tree Lights Funds Christmas Parade

Are you aware that the annual Christmas Parade is funded solely by the generous businesses and residents who purchase the lights that adorn the Christmas trees located adjacent to the visitors' gazebo near the firehouse where the parade begins?

This annual fund-raiser was initiated by the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce to help underwrite the enormous cost of the parade and the "goodie" bags Santa hands out to all the children.

It was hoped all who enjoyed the parade and wanted to see it maintained on a yearly basis would continue to purchase one or more tree lights.

Businesses (or private individuals) are being asked to purchase the red lights at a cost of $25 per light (or more if you so generously desire). The green lights are being sold to residents (and non-residents) at a cost of $10 (or more) per light.

And, of course, the white lights are the memorial lights and can be purchased for $10 per light in memory of those who will not be sharing the holiday season with their families this year.

Purchase a light for your neighbor or in the name of a friend, co-worker or someone who has done you a recent favor. If you like, we'll send out a gift card and as in previous years, a list of all who have purchased a light will be printed in an upcoming issue of the Kewaskum Statesman, free of charge.

Take the time now to fill out the light coupon on page eight of this issue and mail it with your donation to the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, %Lisa Stockhausen, Treasurer, 1906 Elm Tree Drive, Kewaskum, WI 53040, or drop off your donation at the Kewaskum Statesman at 250 Main Street in Kewaskum. ## Band Christmas Trees on Sale

The members of the Kewaskum High School Bands are once again selling trees for your Christmas delight. The musical tree lot is located in the parking lot of the Kewaskum Mall by the Booster Club van.

Trees available will include Scotch Pine, White Pine, Balsam and Frazer. Prices will remain approximately the same as last year. The band will also be selling the Christmas wreaths.

Selling hours will be 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. The lot will close at 4 p.m. on Sunday, December 8, due to the Christmas parade.

Profits made through this fund raiser will go to the students selling trees for their trip to Orlando, Florida, in March of 1997.

up that Christmas list when there is so much being offered right here.

And to make a good thing even better, the Kewaskum Village AFS-CME Union Local 3024 and the Northern Kettle Moraine Tourist Council will both be serving food on the street just prior to the parade. The Village Union is having a hot dog fry, complete with hot refreshments to keep you toasty while you wait for the man in the red suit. They'll be setting up shop at the Village community parking lot, where the former Sentry building was located.

The Northern Kettle Moraine Tourist Council will be sponsoring a brat fry in front of the Kewaskum Statesman and will be serving up brats and hot refreshments.

So plan on spending Sunday in the community we all love... shop the friendly merchants... stop in and view the beautiful new facilities of the West Bend Clinic... all these are a wonderful way to visit with your friends and neighbors and relax for one last time before the holiday madness begins.

If you need more information on the parade don't hesitate to call on the hard-working committee which consists of Ruthie Butler (626-8396), Debbie Timblin (626-8400), or Jane Korth (626-2520). And if you happen to run into them on Sunday... be sure to give them the pat on the back they deserve for the fantastic job they did in organizing the parade and all the decorations.

Chamber go out and purchase a few extra sets of lights and together we can all bask in the warm glow of giving back to the community an extra special Christmas parade on Sunday.

With your support, the trees can illuminate the crisp evening sky as Kewaskum begins their celebration of the holiday season with the annual Christmas parade on Sunday, December 8, at 5 p.m.

Five Generations

In loving memory of ROBERT FELTEN, who passed away Dec. 8, 1992, four years ago.

The years may wipe out many things, but this they'll wipeout never,
The memory of those happy days which we have spent together.
Missed is the touch of your friendly hand, gone is your kindness beyond recall,
Gone to a world where peace and love are given and gained by all.
Only a memory of bygone days, and a sigh for face unseen,
A constant feeling that God alone knows best what should have been.
Call it not death it is life beyond. The waters are crossed, home won,
The ransomed spirit is on the shore where they weep and suffer no more.
There is a link death cannot sever, love and remembrance last forever.
The battle's fought, the victory won, and thou art crowned at last.
While you are far away let God hold you in His arms and hug you Though your memories are not far away, we will hold your memories deep in our hearts always.

Rainbows Program to Be Offered Here in January

The Youth and Family Project is pleased to announce that beginning in January, they will be offering a Rainbows Program in the Kewaskum area. Rainbows is a 14 week, peer support program for children, ages preschool through 13 years of age, who are living in single parent families, step-families or families that are going through painful transitions.

Rainbows is a non-profit program that offers support for children who suffered the loss of a parent either through death or divorce. Death and divorce appear to be grown-up problems, but it does have a profound effect on the children that it touches. Because of a child's age and short life experience, children often find it extremely difficult to verbalize those feelings.

Rainbows will be a wonderful opportunity for him/her to share with a special someone what is happening in their lives. Presently, Rainbows will begin in January and will

Meet the School District Staff

Counselor Cheryl Taylor

Perhaps because of her ancestors' history as a circus family, Cheryl Taylor has managed to juggle a variety of responsibilities while the Elementary School Counselor for the School District of Kewaskum.

"There are four main components in elementary school counseling," said Ms. Taylor, "individual counseling, small group counseling (social skills, study skills, etc.), the classroom guidance course, and acting as resource person, working with situations that may arise in classrooms from day to day (teasing, not following directions, discrimination, etc.)."

Ms. Taylor has been working with students as Elementary Counselor in the Kewaskum schools for eight years now.

"We need to watch out for our children," Ms. Taylor said, "make sure that they are our number one priority. They are our future, and our present."

To help with that future, Ms. Taylor helped begin a Just Say No Club about eight years ago. The club is a group of students that promote positive community involvement and drug-use prevention. The club has even earned money (through sucker sales), allowing contributions to numerous organizations throughout the area.

"The Just Say No Club is a chance for kids to contribute to, and feel needed by, the community. If the kids feel they can make a worthwhile contribution to those around them, they may be less likely to enter drug circles," she stated.

Ms. Taylor is also excited about a parents' library started just this year. Parents are able to request materials on "just about any topic imaginable." The response has been tremendous. "All parents are welcomed to call, or drop me a note for a request," Ms. Taylor mentioned.

Although Ms. Taylor looks toward the future, she recently has begun looking into the past, too.

"Lately, I've been digging into my family roots," she noted, "and I've found that one side of my family was a world-renowned equestrian (horse riding) troupe in the circus, called the "Great Lowandes." Her family's tradition in the circus dates back to 1805, and is commemorated in a poster and a plaque at the Circus World Museum in Baraboo, Wisconsin. "It's been a lot of fun doing the research," she added.

In the present, Ms. Taylor lives with her husband, Jorgen Hansen, whom she met in Botswana (Africa) while she was in the U.S. Peace Corps, and he was in the Danish equivalent, and a lovely daughter Lena, age two, in Port Washington.

"Nothing is more precious than our children. We have to always keep in mind that kids are number one."

In a world that is often a three-ring circus, that ideal is worth holding on to.

Parent Visitation Days Held At Elementary Schools

In Mrs. Dehler's second grade classroom at Farmington Elementary School, parents participated in small group lessons.

Parents got the opportunity to sit in on their children's education recently at the elementary schools as part of the School District of Kewaskum's Parent Visitation Day.

Although parents are welcomed throughout the year, Visitation Day was chosen to coincide with "American Education Week," a nationwide focus on education.

The special day aspired to present parents and guardians with a slice of the actual school day, to help them better understand the learning experience occurring in the classroom. Parent participation was high and the day was called -- by parents and teachers alike, a success.

Kewaskum School District Has Innovative Early Intervention in Reading Program

First grader Tyler Cochenet finds a willing listener in Kewaskum Elementary School custodian Jacqué Follstad as part of the Early Intervention in Reading Program being utilized by the Kewaskum School District.

Children develop at different rates, whether learning to walk, throw a baseball, or even read.

An innovative program in the School District of Kewaskum's elementary schools is designed to help with the latter. Early Intervention in Reading (EIR), used in addition to the regular reading program, provides strategies and practice to ensure that minor developmental reading difficulties in the early grades don't turn into large-scale reading problems later down the line.

"EIR is used to provide an extra boost in reading for the students that are reading at a different developmental pace," said Marirose Lucey, Reading Specialist for the Wayne and Kewaskum Elementary Schools. "We've had some very positive response."

Farmington Elementary Reading Specialist Beth Hubbard agrees. She thinks a key to the program's success is that the teachers are involved, as well.

During the summer, District teachers from kindergarten, first and second grades, began a series of ongoing in-services to learn more about the EIR program. Currently, teachers in first and second grade use some form of EIR.

One of the program's main appeals is the way it is utilized. Teachers and the reading specialist work with the students, allowing the student the chance to remain in tune with the classroom reading activities and expectations. It also allows the teachers the chance to work together with one another to present a more effective program.

Another very positive aspect of the program, is that it can involve everyone within the school community.

"Once students read their stories," Mrs. Lucey explained, "we have them keep rereading it to everyone they can."

First grade teacher Marilyn Kasten explains, "It's important for them to read, so I have them go out to read to whomever is available for a few minutes."

Although that list includes school aides, parent volunteers, school secretaries, even the principal. One of the first graders' favorite listeners is KES custodian, Jacqué Follstad.

"We get along with each other. I like to joke with them," Mr. Follstad said. "I was up by the first grade working one day, and one of the kids just came out and asked if they could read to me. That was that."

Such opportunity exists for other community members, too.

"We can always use volunteers from the community," stated Mrs. Lucey. "The kids always need someone to read to."

In fact, any interested community members are encouraged to contact the elementary schools to volunteer for the EIR program. Utilizing teachers, other staff, and community members is proving to be just the reading boost that some students can use.

Best Students Name Best Teachers for Who's Who

A select group of America's teachers are being honored by their toughest critics... their former students, in the fourth edition of Who's Who Among America's Teachers, 1996.

All of the 120,000 teachers being honored were selected by their former students who themselves are currently listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students, or The National Dean's List, publications which recognize 5% of our nation's high school and college students respectively.

Paul Krouse, publisher of Who's Who Among America's Teachers, said, "there is no greater honor teachers can receive than to be recognized by former students for their excellence and dedication. In this publication, we clearly have the best teachers in America selected by the best students."

The students were requested to nominate teachers who, "made a difference in their lives" by helping to shape their values, inspiring interest in a particular subject and/or challenging them to strive for excellence. Many of the students commented about the enthusiasm and knowledge their teachers demonstrated in the classroom, and many praised their teachers for their ability to relate to youngsters on a personal as well as a professional level.

One student wrote about her teacher, saying, "she made education something pleasurable, instead of a dreadful ordeal, by letting me spread my wings and showing me the best way to fly."

Local educators honored in Who's Who Among America's Teachers, 1996 include: George Burkhardt Allmann, Kewaskum School District; David Bruce Bertelsen, Kewaskum High School; Joseph Paul Harlow, Kewaskum High School; Judith Lavarda Jacak, Kewaskum High School; Perry Lee Koth, Kewaskum High School; John Michael Nell, Kewaskum Middle School; Barbara Hoeft Olsen, Kewaskum High School; Christine M. In the Service

Army Pvt. Michael C. Groskopf has entered basic military training at Fort Benning, Columbus, Georgia.

During the eight weeks of training, the soldiers will study the Army mission and will receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, Army history and traditions, and special training in human relations.

Groskopf is the son of David C. and Dorthy J. Groskopf of 1815 State Road 28, Kewaskum.

He is a 1996 graduate of Kewaskum High School.

Campus Notes

A Kewaskum student had a leading role in a one-act play that opened the theatre season at UW-Stevens Point.

Chad Harlow, 1015 Hillside Drive, Kewaskum, the son of Joseph and Judith Harlow, had the role of Brindsley in "Black Comedy." The play "On Tidy Endings" was also performed each evening.

"On Tidy Endings" by Harvey Fierstein is a sensitive play about human relationships, while "Black Comedy" by Peter Shaffer is just "romping good fun," according to Bob Baruch, professor of theatre at UWSP who directed the plays. Performances were held October 4 through 6, and 10 through 12 in the Jenkins Theatre of the Fine Arts Center.

The title of "Black Comedy" comes from the turn of plot when a fuse blows and the stage became dark to the characters, but illuminated for the audience. The resulting miscommunications and mishaps provided the entertainment. As the play opened, Brindsley (Harlow), a sculptor, and his fiancée hope to sell works to a millionaire. During the course of the play, several characters, including Brindsley's ex-girlfriend arrived on the darkened scene.

Harlow, a senior theatre and dance major at UWSP, is a graduate of Kewaskum High School. He has had roles in several UWSP productions, including, "I Hate Hamlet," "Danstage '95," "Assassins," "The Taming of the Shrew," and "Weird Romance." He has also performed in productions at the St. Croix Valley Theatre, including, "Lend Me a Tenor," "Annie," and "The Fantasticks."

Native American Speaker At Farmington Elementary

Monica Stillwater

By Robin Thelen of
Mrs. Radey's Fourth Grade

On November 22, the fourth grade classes at Farmington Elementary School had a Native American speaker by the name of Monica Stillwater. She came to talk about what it was like being a Native American. Mrs. Radey's class is doing a report on Native Americans.

Monica Stillwater told a story about when she was a young child. She also shared some of the things that she had made, such as dream catchers and jewelry. She also talked about how she had made the crafts. She even gave Mrs. Radey a handmade baby crib. Others also received things from her, including a yellow ribbon.

Monica Stillwater showed clothing, too. She wore her Native American clothes that were handmade out of real deerskin.

The fourth graders enjoyed having her come in and thank her very, very much.

When people say they don't want anything given to them, it is usually a sign that they want something given to them.

Letters to the Editor

An Open Letter To the Statesman:

On Friday, October 25th, my family's beloved dog of 12 years was hit by a car and died. The person that hit him, my father and I believe, did it deliberately. Barnee's injuries lead us to believe that he was dragged.

Why do people do things like this? What possesses a person to hurt an animal? I can understand if he was in the middle of the road and you couldn't stop. Why didn't you stop after you killed him? His collar (which is missing) had my parent's address and phone number on it. You could have left a note. Barnee was probably sitting by the driveway waiting for his mom and dad to come home. When they did he was already dead. You could have taken him to a vet to see if he could be saved. There is a vet less than two miles down the road.

If you thought that just Barnee's life would be affected, you were very wrong. You affected about six lives. My parents, who raised him from a puppy, found him dead on the road. My mother is still very upset; he was part of our family, her oldest "son." It's like losing a child. Part of you is gone, having died too soon. The only blessing for my mother is now she won't have to make the decision to put him to sleep, because he was killed by someone who doesn't care about life.

My father was the one who fed him everyday. He was the one who had to take him off the road before someone would hit him again. The lives of my sisters and I were affected too. He was the first dog we the loss of Barnee.

I hope the person who hit the dog on Highway H on Friday the 25th, can sleep with what they did. I hope that every time you hear a dog bark, howl, or even just look at you, that you remember the dog that you killed! I hope that every time you see a beagle that it reminds you of what you did. I wouldn't watch Snoopy, if I were you, because it will remind you of the beagle that you killed. If you can find it in your soul it would be nice of you to return the collar and/or tell my family why you killed one of man's best friends.

Rest in peace Barnee.

TREAT of TREATS

by A.Mi

I was surprised when my friend called the other day inquiring of me if I knew the name of the trees now sporting their every fall color fling...that marvelous bronze-gold. "Tamarack or American black larch," I told him.

I went on to explain that many people think that the tamarack is a member of the evergreen family because their spring-summer coat of needles is a lovely shade of green. Adding, that they are the last of the trees in fall to change color before dropping their needles or leaves. Because they like and need a goodly supply of water, one usually finds them near bogs or in wetland areas. However, I have been successful in having these unusual beauties even thrive on our Moraine hill-sides.

Their needles are soft as goose down; lovely to touch and their small velvety maroon blossoms, when dried seed pods, look a lot like miniature cones of the evergreen tree.

I invited my friend to join me for a short stroll through my favorite tamarack bog. As my aged neighboring farmer always reminded me...I shared with him: "These are the trees the early settlers used for barn logs and rafters," and as I have discovered, even today, they are choice when hand-hewn for fireplace mantles and the like.

We both drank in the bronze beauty of these trees as the settling sun caused them to appear as shimmering jewels of nature. And then, to our pleasure and surprise, a young badger suddenly appeared right in front of us! What a delight to see this teenager so close up.

Once again I was mesmerized by the very special TREATS which the Lord's creation offers to all of us...if we but take the time to appreciate that which is freely available to one and all.

Opening Weekend Deer Registrations Hit 168,120

MADISON -- Opening weekend deer registrations for the 1996 nine-day Wisconsin gun deer season topped 168,000, making it the third highest total for Wisconsin. The season opened amid a patchwork of weather situations statewide ranging from ideal to wet and foggy.

Hunters registered a total of 168,120 deer during the opening two days. Add the 25,107 deer registered during a special, four-day Zone T hunt in October and hunters have registered 193,227 deer so far during the 1996 gun season.

"Distribution of the harvest is good statewide," said Bill Mytton, deer and bear ecologist for the Department of Natural Resources. "In the north where the harsh winter last year had a negative effect on the herd, the registrations are down. But in those areas of the state targeted for a higher kill, the numbers are looking real good."

Even with the severe winter that gripped the state last year and overwinter losses to the deer herd, the buck registration total hit 73,896. That is second only to the 1995 record pace of 96,242. The antlerless registration of 94,224 was the highest two-day total. The high kill reflects the large number of antlerless and bonus permits available in many areas of the state, especially in Zone T units.

"Snow cover throughout much of the state made hunting visibility and tracking very good for the hunters," Tom Hauge, Bureau of Wildlife Management Director, said.

Sauk County boasted the highest early buck registrations with 3,175, followed by Waupaca 2,499, Clark 2,436, Marinette 2,336, Monroe 2,308, Marathon 2,294, and Columbia 2,238. Waupaca County topped the antlerless registrations with 3,589 followed by Sauk 3,520, Trempea-leau 3,498, Columbia 3,298, Marinette 3,229, Vernon 3,087, Jackson 2,900, Iowa 2,863, Clark 2,758, Marathon 2,574 and Monroe 2,526.

There were only seven gun related accidents recorded during the opening weekend and no shooting fatalities. That compares to 17 for opening weekend last year and the single fatality for the whole season.

"Usually accidents occur later in the season," Tim Lawhern, DNR hunter safety program administrator, said.

The accident reports show a high rate of self-inflicted wounds, Lawhern stated. Several accidents were related to violations involving loaded guns in or on vehicles. There were a total of 32 hunting accidents for the season last year.

these hunters were on the state properties. Hunters that were doing drives had better success than those just sitting. The hunters doing the drives commented on how the deer had to be stepped on before they would move.

The vast majority of the hunters contacted expressed strong opposition to the T Zone and especially the expansion of the T Zone in 1997, which could include unit 69A.

It was the safest hunting season ever with only one fatal hunting accident and 14 other non-fatal accidents statewide. This is very good news for all hunters!

Statewide it is predicted that the harvest will be down from 1995. Final registration totals should be out within the next couple of weeks. One reminder, the muzzle loader season is open through Sunday, Dec. 8th, so the blaze orange requirement is still in effect for all hunting except goose hunting.

1996 Deer Season Summary

The 1996 deer gun season ended on Sunday and the big question was, where are all the deer? Maybe there was not as many deer as thought.

The total registration for Dins and Mauthe Lake was at 990, compared to 984 in 1995. Almost the same, even with 12,075 Hunter's Choice Permits available compared to 5275 in 1995. The bottom line is there were not as many deer taken as was predicted going into the season.

Why the lower harvest? Several things came into play. The opening day snow which began at about 5:30 am limited the deer movements. Most were bedded down and unless pushed they remained there. The snow caused many hunters to leave their stands early because they were set and many did not return in the afternoon. After the opening weekend the registration at Dins was down 112 compared to 1995, a 20% drop, which is difficult to make up with a lot of hunters not hunting after the opening weekend.

Many hunters also reported not seeing as many deer as last year. Most of
