Administrators, Facilities Planning Group, Present Three Building Plan Options at School Board Work Session

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

The January 9th school board work session brought administrators and the facilities planning group before the board to pitch three different building plans developed to meet the needs of an ever-growing district, with hopes that at least they could be pointed into some direction.

Offered three different options with interchangeable components, it became clear that this kind of board decision must be given careful consideration, based on a mutual overall elementary approach - K through 4th, K through 5th, or K through 6th. This in itself produced differing opinions from board members, as they listened to administrators voice their opinions on which grades worked best at the elementary and middle school levels.

"Clearly this is a difficult endeavor," District Superintendent Charles Johnson told those in attendance that evening. "It is a monunental effort."

Grade school principal Kieth Kriewaldt once again emphasized the importance of keeping children within the community schools as long as possible. "In the K-4 model, you really do lose those role models in your fifth and six graders," he pointed out, "and those transitional years into the middle school setting."

He favored the K-6 model, which allows for more parental impact. "The majority of your parents interact at the grade school level. If you move down to a K-4, you're going to lose a lot of these parents."

KMS Principal Clark Pearson stated that although his staff favors remaining K-5, he believes that any of the three plans could work, and the children would get a good education. "The building itself and the grade arrangement is not going to have as great an effect on the education as the staff you have in it." He also voiced his support for the continuation of community schools.

Larry Wilson emphasized that his concern as the high school principal was one of space, which is more specialized at this level. "The high school is very much a community building. So I think anything we look at for a high school building, we want to keep in mind it's also a public facility that we want the community to use," he maintained.

His preference leaned toward the K-4 concept, with the building of a new high school, or the K-6 model, with appropriately used space.

From a buildings and grounds standpoint, Director Chad Kyle told the group his operations would be effected through increased expenditures and increasing and shifting staff, with each model having it's own unique impact on management, considering construction, parking and traffic.

"The K-4 model operationally makes the most sense, but it also costs the most. In my mind, this plan takes KHS and the future of the high school much further than 25 years. The K-6 model meets both the operations and community growth with only one obstacle I can see - parking and traffic control, but it's something we can work with. It's the most feasible," he stated

K-4 Model With New High School - Construction of a new high school on new site. Move grade 5 to middle school (5-8) and move middle school to present high school site. Move KES to present middle school. Add additions to outlying schools to meet K-4 projections (Beechwood, Wayne and Farmington). Total cost = $23.7 million.

K-5 Model With New Middle School - Construct new middle school on new site. Construct new KES on new site. Add additions to outlying schools. Have KHS absorb current KMS. Total cost = $20.7 million or $24.7 million with HS upgrades.

K-6 Model With New KHS - District transitions to K-6 elementary in 1997-98. Construct new KHS on new site. Upgrade KHS/KMS with connecting gym/auditorium/IMC. Redesign Rose Hall, 700 area, with other upgrades. Remodel outlying elementary schools. Land purchases sufficient to meet new MS needs in 2010. Total cost = $16.7 million.

Business manager/curriculum coordinator George Allmann presented the board with a summary of financing options, based on an average mill rate, and assuming a 6% bond rate, over 20 years, (without an increase in equalized value), the figures are as follows: K-6 = $1.96 per thousand of equalized value; K-5 = $2.45 per thousand; K-4 = $3.07 per thousand.

Allmann said that the district was facing a safety problem within the village, with traffic congestion around the village schools continually on the rise, and the facility plans were set up to meet the needs of the district for up to 25 years, based on a 4% growth rate, although a 10% rate is more likely expected. "We don't want to be in the position that Slinger is in, where the growth has exceeded SEWRPC's expectations, and they're in the position they have to build before they even planned for it," he pointed out.

Decreasing class sizes, which is one of the district's key goals, would be achieved with the reopening of Beechwood school. Current yearly costs just to maintain the vacant school run around $10,656. Reopening and operational costs are estimated at $499,598, but would reduce costs at Farmington and KES.

Board members were divided in their choice of plans, but united in their desire to purchase land now, with the site yet to be determined. Village Administrator Daniel Schmidt went over the speculative available parcels of land, explaining that many of the desired areas were either too small or located in flood plains.

Kewaskum Town Chairman Dave Dorn was in the audience and told the board not to let themselves get locked into something in their eagerness to buy. "There's a lot of property you haven't even looked at," he stated.

Board member Tom Timblin promoted the K-4 plan with the new high school, declaring that he felt the returned community surveys only reflected 20-25% of the population, and too much weight was being put on it. "I think it's flawed," he stated, adding that he believes only a minority of taxpayers support the community schools

Charges Dismissed Against Neal Weare

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Charges against former Kewaskum school board president Neal Weare were dismissed by Washington County Judge Richard T. Becker on Dec. 23. The charges alleged Weare violated state open meeting laws while serving as board president.

The civil complaint was filed last January for Ruth Schmitt, who served as a member of the school board at the time, by District Attorney David Resheske, and contained statements charging Weare with not giving proper public notice for a special school board meeting called on Nov. 3, 1995, to approve requesting a provisional license for new interim superintendent Dr. Charles Johnson. State law requires two hour prior notification, and some area media claims indicated they did not receive sufficient

The stipulation signed by the circuit court judge was agreed upon by the District Attorney and both parties, and indicates that "further review of the documentary evidence demonstrates that notification to the required news media was made at least two hours prior to the scheduled meeting of November 3, 1995.

The appearance to the contrary was due to a 48 minute error in the clock in the fax machine at the Kewaskum School District.

Schmitt said after the dismissal, "although there is cause to pursue this case, neither the district attorney nor I were interested in pursuing it because of the costs involved, especially to the district."

A number of actions in question were listed on the original complaint, including alleged improper procedures followed in the hiring of Dr. Johnson; a claim Weare notified all other school board members by phone, except Schmitt, in reference to Johnson's contract, and that items were added to the Nov. 3 agenda without sufficient notice.

Weare, a present board member, said the allegations were untrue. "I don't feel vindicated -- I feel relief that it's over. All along, I contended I wasn't wrong. Resheske said there are other issues that are arguable, but as far as I'm concerned, there were no other issues."

The district attorney had told news sources there were questions that were arguable on both sides, including whether Weare had "just cause" to call a special school board meeting without 24 hour notification.

"I see that as immaterial," Weare stated. "If it was a violation, I think they should have continued. I was prepared to continue with it."

Schmitt said she never meant it to be vindictive, and that her motives were clear from the beginning. "I feel I accomplished what I set out to do, make the Kewaskum school board aware that their agendas must be made known to the public on time. All I meant to happen was to have documentation that the Kewaskum School Board needs to follow state open meeting laws, and they now have the knowledge to do Jubilant Packer fans gathered to watch and celebrate the Packer's victory over the Carolina Panthers Sunday at 'Rookies' Sports Bar & Grill. Packer memorabilia decorated the walls and Packer apparel decorated the backs of fans, young and old alike, who just can't seem to get enough of the "thrill of victory!" that is 30 years overdue. concept.

Board president Jean Goeden also liked the idea of a new high school, but not housing 7th and 8th grade alone in the middle school. Member John Schulte felt 7th, 8th and 9th graders should make up the middle school.

"I'd like to see the money situation answered first before that (the Beechwood upgrade)," board member Larry Fechter related, and gave his vote to the K-6 plan, and to community schools.

Member Jon Downs agreed land was the priority, no matter wich plan was chosen. Board member Mary Andera wanted the district to make sure they weren't building a "cadillac facility." "What are we willing to spend dollar wise, cost per student?," she asked. "I have some thoughts on not always providing luxuries for kids."

Facilities planning group member Vernon Jung put great weight on the survey results, the reopening of Beechwood school, and preparing any future schools for the possibility of a year 'round school system.

Another board work session will be scheduled before their February meeting, in hopes that some kind of consensus can be reached after all the options are weighed. According to Dr. Johnson's tentative time line for the future, taxpayers may be facing some decision making of their own, with a possible referendum in September.

FES Holds D.A.R.E. Graduation

It's only January, but it was graduation day for fifth graders at Farmington Elementary School.

Before an overflow crowd in the Farmington gymnasium, fifth graders received certificates signifying their completion of the months-long D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) program sponsored by the Sheriff's Department of Washington County, and local community organizations and businesses.

D.A.R.E. brings students information and strategies designed to help them make the smart choice of staying away from alcohol and other drugs, as well as violence. To do so, the program utilizes a number of methods, such as role playing to help students recognize and react to situations they may someday face regarding peer pressure, encouragement from high school role models about productive, enjoyable alternatives to alcohol/tobacco/drug use, and videos and other activities.

The program at FES was taught this year by Washington County Sheriff's Deputy Brian Bausch.

The graduation program itself consisted of student skits, essays written and read by fifth graders Dave Keeley and Juliet Tofte, and a group song about making positive choices and staying away from alcohol and other drugs.

Also included were comments from School District officials and local luminaries -- including current County Sheriff Jack Theusch, retired Sheriff Robert Schulteis, Washington County Supervisor Dan Rodenkirch, and local State Representative Glenn Grothman.

For exemplary work in the D.A.R.E. program, medallions were awarded to fifth graders Melissa McKee and Juliet Tofte, while D.A.R.E. bears for positive attitude went to Kenny Payne and Matt Herriges.

Following the graduation, refreshments were provided by the Farmington PTO.

Throughout the ceremony, speakers emphasized that leading a positive, drug-free life is all about making the right choices.

And, by completing their D.A.R.E. studies, a school's worth of fifth graders has already made one of them.

"Be Smart ... Don't Do Drugs" was the message of fifth grader Juliet Tofte's essay she read at the Farmington Elementary School's recent D.A.R.E. graduation.

Washington County Sheriff Jack Theusch offered his encouragement, and his congratulations to the recent D.A.R.E. graduates at Farmington Elementary School.

TOMORROW'S BOOK REPORT CO-AUTHORED BY KEN BAGINSKI, LINE MECHANIC.

By splicing a 7600-volt line in sub-zero temperatures, Ken Baginski did something quite remarkable. He restored power to a remote transformer. And by doing so, allowed a fourteen year-old girl's computer power supply to remain uninterrupted. An act of professional dedication that would, ultimately, enable her to finish tomorrow's book report. On time. The people at Wisconsin Electric work twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week Wisconsin Electric to ensure you have the energy for all your everyday needs. Including a B+ in American Lit.

Meet the School District Staff

Grace Wright

"Here comes Mother

First Steps teacher Grace Wright often hears that from good-natured colleagues as she leads her class through the halls of Kewaskum Elementary.

"And with 10 four-yearolds close behind me in a straight line, that's kind of what we look like," Mrs. Wright joked.

"I love it."

The First Steps program -- in which Mrs. Wright has acted as founder, teacher and proponent since its beginning in 1991 -- is a program in which four-yearolds can develop appropriate skills before their entry into kindergarten (the program currently accomodates four classes of ten students each). As part of the District's kindergarten screening program, four-year-olds are screened to determine which children may benefit most from an early intervention program such as First Steps.

Kindergarten and first grade have drastically changed in what we expect kids to know and be able to do," Mrs. Wright explained. "First Steps can provide an extra boost for the kids needing one, to help them get ready for kindergarten."

The program has received tremendous reviews from parents and educators alike -- in fact, it will even be one of the programs featured at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards later this month.

"We've still got a ways to go with getting the word out about the program," Mrs. Wright said. "We have to make sure that parents volunteer to bring their children in for screening at age four, and then understand and accept the program when offered to them.'

Although instrumental in developing the screening and the curriculum for the First Steps program, Mrs. Wright enjoys the teaching part immensely, as well. The enthusiasm and the ability of kids to learn at this age is WONDERFUL, she shared. "They are flexible, and so willing to participate that it's just a lot of children of her own: Austin, age 21, working at an internship at a Madison radio station, and Monica, age 18, who is headed for college. Her "mutt" Lexy lives with her at the family home in West Bend.

Away from school, Mrs. Wright is an avid reader and a knitter. During the upcoming Springtime break, she and her daughter are planning a trip to France to visit a family friend. Shortly thereafter, she will receive her Masters degree in Education.

In the meantime, she'll still lead the First Steps program, she'll still lead her students through the hall in a straight line, and she'll still hear, "Here comes Mother Duck.

And she'll still love it.

(Madison)... Wisconsin Assembly Speaker-Elect Ben Brancel recently announced the reappointment of State Representative Glenn Grothman (R-West Bend) as Assembly Chairman of the Joint Committee for Review of Administrative Rules (JCRAR).

"Glenn has a well-deserved reputation for being able to wade through the state's often cloudy administrative rules," Brancel said. "Wisconsin will once again be well-served by his doggedness and eye for detail."

"I am very excited about being able to continue leading the JCRAR Committee," said Grothman. "The Committee and I will continue to simplify, streamline and reform Wisconsin's Administrative rules."

The JCRAR Committee is one of the first of its kind in the country, and it has served as a model widely copied by other states. It is one of only fourteen committees created by state statute, and consists of five State Representatives and five State Senators.

Grothman, an attorney by trade who begins his second term as Assembly JCRAR Chair in January, may suspend or order emergency rules, review proposed rules when standing committees object to them, and suspend rules that have already been put into effect.

As Assembly Speaker, Brancel will appoint the members of all Assembly Committees. Further announcements on committee appointments, as well as possible changes to committee structure, will be made Wessing Elected to Board Farm Equip. Assoc.

(Atlanta, Georgia.. Nov. 6, 1996) More than 640 shortline manufacturers, suppliers and their spouses, met at the Marriott Marquis, Atlanta, Georgia, Nov. 3-6, 1996, to participate in the Farm Equipment Manufacturers Association's Annual Fall Convention. Members of the North American Equipment Dealers Association, Farm Equipment wholesalers Association and Agricultural and Industrial Manufacturers Representatives Association also gathered in Atlanta for their conventions, and oneon-one business appointments with attending shortline manufacturers.

Newly elected to serve a three year term on the Board of Directors is M. Scott Veldman, Micro-Trak Systems, Inc., Eagle Lake, Minnesota and Wessing, Kondex Corporation, Lomira. Elected to a one year term on the Board of Directors is Kevin Oliver, Mid-West Company, Burr Ridge, Illinois. Oliver succeeds Jim Ryder, President, Ryder Agency, Sales Inc., Brookfield.

The convention theme was "Strategies for the Future" and featured keynote speaker Mark Sanborn. Also appearing on the program were Dr. Ronald D. Knutson, Director of the Agricultural and Food Policy Center at Texas A & M University; Willie Vogt, Publisher. Farm Equipment Magazine; Frederick Rich Prohammer, Arthur Andersen; Jim Stanley, National Seminars Group, and a panel composed of Charles Tamp, Jr., Ted Macy and Thayer Pendleton of Agris Corporation. Dr. Will Miller, former host of NBC's The Other Side and a frequent on-air spokesman on Nickelodeon's Why we Watch series spoke at the group's joint Industry Luncheon.

The Farm Equipment Manufacturers Association is an International not-for-profit trade organization representing over 350 manufacturers of specialized farm quipment and over 300 industry supplier companies. Founded in 1950, FEMA is headquartered at 1000 Executive Parkway, Suite 100, St. Louis, Missouri.

million to the 28 Drug Enforcement Task Forces that operate throughout Wisconsin. These units represent nearly 300 local governmental units in the state.

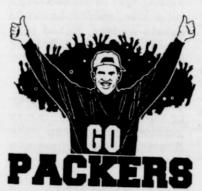

"The Task Forces have been a tremendous force in our efforts to reduce illegal drug distribution and use," Governor Thompson said. The hard work of the dedicated law enforcement officers who have joined together to form these multi-jurisdictional projects has produced a significant, positive impact on drug arrests and the availability of drugs on our streets."

The Task Forces made 4,799 arrests in 1995 alone, according to statistics from the Office of Justice Assistance. The task forces are responsible for approximately half of the arrests for the sale and distribution of drugs in the state.

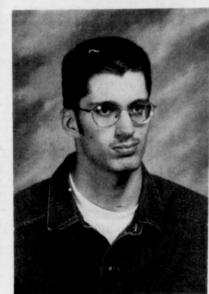

"I am proud of the efforts of the task forces and I continue to be impressed by the task forces' focus on the most serious drug offenders, which is borne out in their arrest statistics," Governor Thompson said.

This is the eighth year of funding for the programs, which are formed on the cooperation and collaboration of local law enforcement agencies. The funds are available to the state through the federal Edward Byrne State and Local Law Enforcement Assistance Program.

Reysen Listed in 30th Who's Who Edition

Nathan Reysen

A junior at Ozaukee High School, Nathan Reysen has been chosen for the second consecutive year to be included in the upcoming edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Reysen's biography will appear in the 30th annual edition of the publication.

Only 5% of students from the nation's 22,000 high schools are nominated each year.

Reysen is now eligible to compete for one of 150 scholarships, and may also use the publication's college referral service. According to officials from the publication, 98% of the colleges in the country use that referral service to recruit students for admissions.

Reysen is active on the forensics team at Ozaukee High School, competing twice in the state competition.

He is listed on the school's honor roll and is a member of student Council and the Warcry newspaper staff.

He is a member of the school's football and basketball teams and has coached youth basketball at the Sheboygan County YMCA.

He is the son of John and Jo Ann Reysen, 320 Fredonia Ave., Fredonia, and the grandson of Mrs. Lois Bunkelman of Kewaskum and Mrs. Laura Reysen of Beechwood.

Annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale Begins

Girl Scouts have been selling Girl Scout cookies for 61 years.

Selling Girl Scout cookies began in the early 1920's when the Girl Scouts and their mothers used to bake cookies at home. Today, the bake sale is the world's largest, with proceeds from the cookie sale going to help pay for travel and camp scholarships for girls from low-income families, barrier-free campsites, special program projects and events, training for Girl Scout volunteers, and to provide essential services to troops, groups and individual Girl Scouts. There are two bakeries who supply cookies to Girl Scout Coun-

This may be the start of New Year's diets for many Americans, but it's also the kickoff week for "The World's Largest Bake Sale." Girl Scouts in the Manitou Girl Scout Council will be selling Girl Scout cookies January 16 through February 2. Cookies will sell for $2.50 per package.

And for chocolate lovers there's something new coming out of the oven this year. Le Chip is a chocolate chip hazelnut cookie made with oatmeal and a rich chocolate bottom coat.

If you're worried about your New Year's diet resolution, don't worry. Chalet Cremes sandwich cookie now has 30% less fat! In addition, there is "Snaps," a low-fat, iced oatmeal 'n raisin cookie.

There's a cookie just for you. But if you are the more traditional type, the Girl Scouts are still offering their all-time favorites. According to Girl Scouts' research, the top selling Girl Scout cookie is -- Thin Mints, which account for about one-fourth of all cookies sold. To purchase cookies, contact Lois at 626-

All of the program resources, training materials, and communication support a troop receives comes through the council structure. Through voluntary participation in the cookie sale local troops earn proceeds from the cookie sale and girls in the troop decide how these proceeds will be spent.

In the past, girls have chosen to use the proceeds on troop overnight, field trips, badges and patches. They have donated to other worthwhile organizations, and provided food for food pantries.

Besides being the number one fund-raiser for local Girl Scouts, cookie sales also teach young girls important skills in teamwork, managing money, setting goals and leadership.

Through the generosity of the public, Girl Scouting is able to continue for the more than 5,400 girls in the Manitou Girl Scout Council. The council serves girls and adult volunteers in the seven counties of Manitowoc, Sheboygan, Calumet, Ozaukee, Fond du Lac, Dodge and Washington. The council is funded by contributions to the United Way and Community Chest, the annual giving campaign, individual contributors and the annual cookie sale.

Packers Introduce First-Ever Logo for Lambeau Field

GREEN BAY - The Green Bay Packers made a major announcement as they unveiled the first-ever logo for historic Lambeau Field. The logo is a symbol of the history, events and people that make Lambeau Field such a unique place.

"Lambeau Field is more than a place," explained Bob Harlan, President of the Green Bay Packers. "To the people who come here, it's an experience. It is like no other place in all of sport. The tradition is palpable. This logo combines those feelings of past glory with great hopes for the Henke & Associates, Inc., a Cedarburg-based advertising, marketing and design agency, was commissioned to design the logo for the Packers. The logo will be utilized by some of the Packer marketing partners, including the 7UP Bottlers of Wisconsin who supply the Official Soft Drink Line of Lambeau field, which consists of 7UP, RC Cola, Diet Rite Cola, Dr. Pepper and KICK Citrus Soda.

"Incorporating Lambeau Field's rich history while looking forward with one clean, distinguished visual was quite a challenge," said Jack Henke, President of Henke & Associates. "Literally hundreds of iterations were done and reviewed before we arrived at the design all parties agreed was the perfect look. The challenge was to balance the tradition with the future, and this logo does just that.'

Village Board Meeting Minutes

Regular Meeting December 9, 1996 8:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Regular Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Robert Wagner presided. Trustee Gary Gavin asked to be excused and was absent. All Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Harry Roecker, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of the November 25, 1996 meeting were approved as printed.

President Robert Wagner opened the sealed bids received for the sale of the 1979 Chevrolet pick-up as follows:

Cedar Grove Collision $175
Don's Auto Detailing $500
Coulterman Roofing $350
Daniel Arndt $400

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee Warren Dums and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board turned the bids over to the Director of Public Works.

Assistant Fire Chief Mark Herriges presented the November 1996 monthly report:

Fire calls - 7, Year to date - 32; Jaws of life - 4, Year to date - 25; Rescue calls - 21.

It was also noted that at the Annual Fire Department meeting the election of officers was held and everyone was re-elected with one exception. Treasurer Ronald Amerling wished to step down and Larry Martin was elected to that position. Two changes were brought forward for the By-Laws. The first is the changing of the monthly meeting day and time to the First Sunday at 7:00 p.m. The second is to expand the language to assist in getting more membership. Both changes will come before the Board at the January 6, 1997 meeting.

Chief of Police Richard L. Knoebel reported work on the computer did not allow him to bring the monthly report in and that it will come to the Board at the January 6, 1997 meeting.

Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles reported work on the water utility as follows:

 The water utility pumps an average of 16,000,000 gallons of water each month.

 During the month of November well #3 pumped 4,800,000 gallons.

 Well #3 is now producing an estimated 320 gallons per minute.

The utility has approximately 900 accounts currently.

5) A total of 172 of those meters were either new and/or replacement in 1996. (44 new and 128 replacement and calibration) 6) It was noted due to the new legislation the Village will be part of Diggers Hot Line starting in 1997. The cost to contract for such service is proposed to be $4.00 per resident, equalling an estimated $12,000 per year, plus the need for the Village to provide liability insurance. It was further noted this amount would cover the cost of one employee performing the locating 2+ hours each day for the entire year.

Trustee David Goeden again asked about the street lights on Edgewood Road south of Braatz on the west side. Director Jerry Gilles will check with Wisconsin Electric Company.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed the following with the Board:

 Review of building permit report for November 1996.

Review of the budget control sheet for November 1996.

Review of Taxpayer bulletin.

Review of correspondence.

a) Thank you letter from the Kewaskum Youth Scholarship, Inc. regarding the Fire Department, Jim Schaub and the Department of Public Works assisting with the tailgate fund raiser.

b) Review of the letter from the Town of Kewaskum regarding Item #11 of the contract and the reporting of the fires to the Town in a timely manner.

On a motion by Trustee David Goeden, seconded by Trustee John Kenworthy and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the payment of bills as recommended by the Administrative Committee. The total of all claims as recommended are as fol-

Board Representative for the Library Board, Trustee John Kenworthy reported that the Library Open House went well.

Trustee David Goeden reported on the responses he received regarding the Trick or Treat hours etc. (eight responses were received)

1) Was Trick or Treat fun? 4

yes, 2 no, 2 no response

2) Was it safe? 5 yes, 3 no 3) What are the good points? Children were good, orderly, seeing the costumes, politeness, parents and adults supervising the children and being able to see lighted decorations - etc.

-4) What are the bad points? Too late, too many nonresident, too old of children, too long of hours and interfered with dinner

5) Was it better held after the Packer game? 3 yes, 2 no, 3 no response. Comments: Fathers could spend time with kids, not to be held on Sunday for it is a day for family and religion. Have it the same time as other communities/West Bend, couldn't see costumes after dark, and 2 to 4 would be better.

KEWASKUM STATESMAN

6) Did it interfere with dinner? Yes - are Packers more important than children; No; No - recognized few parents from our area; No; Yes - we eat at five; No - few people have specific dinner time.

7) Comments and recommendations for next year. Have hours from 2 to 4, have hours before dark, largest percentage came before dark, have community party for children 12 and younger, have it the same day & time as other communities. Have it 5 to 8 and encourage parent's participation; if vandalism punish; it is always safe in Kewaskum. We enjoy watching the kids; one hour is long enough; keep hours 4 to 6; thanks to President Wagner for his ideas making Halloween more fun.

Trustee David Goeden thanked the eight people who responded to his survey.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reported tax bills were mailed out on December 6, 1996 and that people appear to be pleased with the decrease.

On a motion by Trustee Harry Roecker, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the names of poll workers submitted by the Republican Party as follows: Darlene Tessar, Clayton Stautz, Gayle Van Ess, Eileen Petri, Wayland Tessar, Ruth Behnke, Ralph Koth, and Dawn Petri.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee John Kenworthy and carried by voice vote, the Board approved the names of poll workers submitted by the Democratic Party as follows: Jeane Gilboy, Audrey McKenna, Marie Wietor, Patricia Herriges, Elizabeth Hallen.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt informed that a poll workers meeting will be scheduled in January, 1997.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt informed the Board that the Board of Canvassers is to be Janet Knops and Gerda Hlavaty as well as himself serving as Clerk. On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee John Kenworthy and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the Board of Canvassers as noted.

Action was taken on Resolution No. 96-28 a Resolution Establishing Election Inspection Schedule as attached hereto:

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee

Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the signing of the Contract for Services of the Kewaskum Fire Department with the Town of Kewaskum as signed and returned.

Action was taken on Resolution No. 96-29 a Resolution Regarding the Balancing of Accounts for 1996 Concerning Overdrafts and Remaining Balances as attached hereto:

On a motion by Trustee Warren Dums, seconded by Trustee David Goeden and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the rejection of the "Notice of Claim of Injury."

On a motion by Trustee David Goeden, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the snowmobile route for the 96/97 season.

On a motion by Trustee Warren Dums, seconded by Trustee John Kenworthy and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the selling of the 1979 pick-up to the high bidder, Don's Auto Detailing for $500, as recommended by the Director of Public Works.

Administrator Daniel S.

Schmidt reviewed with the Board the fire rating process and how rates are established. It was noted the last time the village was rated was in 1987/88. This would mean we would not be resurveyed until 2002. The Village's current rate is 5 which is very good. It was noted the Fire Department has three new pieces of equipment since the last review, but it further noted the possibility exists that the rate could go up versus down if we requested such a review. The consensus of the Board was to have the Fire Department discuss the matter because the review does take a lot of time and effort from them as well as the Water Utility and Office.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee Warren Dums and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn to closed session under Chapter 19.85(1) (c) of the statutes to consider employment, compensation and performance of public employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction. Roll call vote was 6 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 1 "Absent."

Bear Permit Application Deadline is January 17

MADISON -- While the chances for a bear hunter to receive a kill permit for the 1997 bear hunting season continue to improve, state wildlife officials estimate it may take hunters between three and eight years to successfully draw one -- and only then if they remember to apply each year.

There will be an estimated 4,690 kill permits issued for the 1997 season. The application deadline for a kill permit is January 17. Applications are available at DNR offices and must be mailed into the DNR licensing section in Madison for hunters to gain preference points for the permit draw-

Bear permits are issued under a preference system, meaning each time a hunter applies for but does not receive a permit, he receives a preference point for the next year's drawing. However, to obtain and maintain a preference, hunters must apply for the permit each consecutive year, and they must apply through the mail. The purchase of a bear pursuit license over the counter from a DNR office will not establish preference points for hunters.

The 1997 bear hunting season will run September 13 through October 3 for hunters with dogs, and from September 13 through October 10 for hunters who hunt in the non-dog bear hunting zone. The season for hunters who hunt over bait in the zone where dog hunting is allowed, will be from September 20 through October 10.

Wisconsin's bear population continues to be very healthy statewide," says Bill Mytton, deer and bear ecologist for the Department of Natural Resources. The DNR estimates the statewide bear population will be at about 14,000 next Hunters harvested a record 2,303 bear during the 1996 season. The record was expected as the DNR significantly increased the number of permits available because an improved model for estimating the state's black bear population and increased black bear monitoring showed the black bear population was higher than previously estimated.

However, Mytton says, the increase in available permits has been offset by an increase in applications from hunters. "We're expecting there will be in excess of 40,000 applications for next year, so hunters will still have a wait to receive a kill permit," he says.

Hunters should remember that the temporary subzone in several northwestern counties has been made permanent. The split of the Zone A hunting zone into two zones has allowed the DNR to better control the distribution of hunters and shift hunting pressure to areas of high nuisance and damage complaints.

Permit levels for the different bear management zones are: Zone A - 1,750; Zone A1 - 1,640; Zone B -720, and Zone C - 580.

Mytton reminds hunters who either shot a bear last season, or who shoot one this year, to look for ear tags on the bear, and if the bear has them, to send them into the DNR.

Blessings for The New Year

by AMi

One fact about our state of Wisconsin is the wide variety of weather it provides all of us year in and year out! Through-out my earthly years I have been amazed over and over again with the ups and downs of the many days and months that one absolutely cannot predict what the morrow will bring ... weatherwise, that is.

Sometimes, when I'm in the midst of one of my many tramps thru the moraine hills and dales on below zero days, I wonder just how those cheerie little wintering-over birds keep from freezing to death! Somehow, they survive plus dart about as if the deep freeze temperature has little affect in slowing them down.

And the cotton-tail rabbits. Surely they shiver and shake with the cold as do you and me when we fail to dress properly. And then comes to mind the too often taken for granted blessings so generously shared with all of us and nature itself. Indeed, it is not easy to meet every hardship adventure happenstanced our way. But somehow, some way... like those tiny birds of the forest, we usually make it through what incredibly seemed an impossibility.

I am reminded of the many muskrats dwelling in our Moraine kettles. How they prepare for those cold, dormant days winter...food from the cattails and soft, lush grasses lining their abodes forming warm, cozy bedding. And what of the deer who sometimes have to eat their meals by rearing up so that they might taste of the windblown leaves still clinging to the oak or beechnut trees? And who has not enjoyed the farmyard visit of the ring-necked pheasants yearning for those morsels of corn or wheat that the chicken flock somehow missed eating?

Indeed, as the blessings of yesteryear touched our lives and the lives of all of God's creations, let us notice the 1997 help provided to make our days and nights just a little easier, brighter ad happier! After all, we Wisconsinites are ever provided with the greatest of varieties year in and year out. And we are a hearty lot.

The future isn't any more uncertain than the present.

KHS Gymnasts Reach Goal Twice

By Sally Cochran

The KHS girls gymnasts had two meets last week, both in which they reached a team goal they had set. The goal was to score at least 100 points in a meet.

Monday they traveled to Markesan where the Kewaskum team had 100.4 points and Markesan finished with a score of 109.45. Thursday they went to Hartford and competed against Hartford and Franklin High Schools. At that meet the girls scored 102.35.

Nadalie Reindl had a successful night despite an injury suffered in a previous meet. She scored an 8.6 which gave her a first on the floor exercise. Nadalie's score of 8.0 placed her in a tie on the beam. Because of her injury she did not compete in the bars or the vault competition.

Also placing Monday night was Kathy Deshotels, who received second on both the bars with a 7.5 and in the all-around with a score of 6.3. Senior Eileen Kohlwey placed third with a 6.25 on the beam, and Steffanie Carlson, a freshman, had a 4.88 in the all-around which gave her third place.

The KHS gymnasts will match against Markesan at a home meet on January 20. "We know what we need to work on now," Coach Wendy Fideler said. "Markesan is in our sectional and we will have to beat them to go on to state competition."

Fideler commented that it will be good to meet them again before that. "The teams are very closely

JV Wrestlers Host Falls

By Sally Cochran

On Tuesday, January 7, Sheboygan Falls traveled into Kewaskum to wrestle the Indians in front of a huge parents crowd. The JV team had a whopping 19 matches!

"The JV teams are allowed to wrestle as many matches as they wish, as this gives the kids more practice," according to Coach Kevin Chambers.

The matches are shorter than usual so they can fit more in. "All the kids got matches," Chambers said. More mat time can only result in more improvement.

Four boys won their matches that night. Pat Bohn and Dan Sabish both pinned their opponents. Chris Spears and Josh Seymour won by decision. Seymour's match went into overtime in which he scored a takedown to win the match 4-2.

Tonight (Thursday) the team takes on Kiel at home and then next week they travel to Germantown and New Holstein on Tuesday and Thursday nights. matched, and with Nadalie back in full force from her injury, we should have a really good meet."

Thursday night's meet in Hartford the girls did not find as close competition. Hartford finished with a score of 134.2 and Franklin had 129.2 with Kewaskum trailing with 102.35. "These teams are not at our level," explained Coach Fideler. Both teams are Class "A" schools and find youth programs and year-round gymnastics much more accessible than in the Kewaskum area. "The girls definitely learned a lot and found this meet to be a big eye-opener," Fideler said.

Nadalie was the sole place winner at the competition, again despite her earlier injury. Nadalie got an 8.2 on the balance beam placing her in fourth.

The girls have been following a pretty busy schedule the last couple of weeks. Finally this week, they will have a few days to rest andwork on some trouble spots and make use of some of the ideas they gathered in previous meets. Tonight (Thursday) you can attend and watch as they compete against Beaver Dam in their first home meet.

Girls BB Plays Good Defense

By Sally Cochran

On Friday night the Kewaskum girls basketball team hosted Kiel. Although Kiel came out ahead at the end of the game, 47-27, "It really wasn't indicative of how the girls played," Coach Dave Rizzardi said.

They were only down by six points at the half and only eight points at the end of the third quarter. "We were outscored in the fourth quarter," Rizzardi explained. Possibly the loss of energy and too many turnovers were to blame, he thought. "The girls played excellent defense," Rizzardi concluded.

Point leaders for this game were Missy Thull, scoring seven points and Carrie Wiesner and Erin Krueger, who both scored six points. Tiffany Laubach had the most rebounds, nabbing six of them, and Katie Yogerst was close behind with four.

"This game had good playing by many of the girls and also better scoring," Coach Rizzardi said. Tuesday the girls hosted Oostburg in a non-conference matchup and then Friday they host Sheboygan Falls who, along with KHS, has no conference wins. Come root the girls on to their first victory!

HT Boys 'A' Team Walks Over St. Matthews

The long Christmas vacation didn't seem to hamper the hot playing previously established by the Holy Trinity boys "A" team before the holidays.

The Wildcats easily overpowered St. Matt's in Campbellsport on Friday, Jan. 10, by the score of 64 to 35. The Wildcats half court press was very impressive as well as disabling to their foes. Holy Trinity was able to capitalize on numerous turnovers, 19 by Wildcat steals Rebounding was also significant with the Wildcats boasting of 33 rebounds. The Wildcats never quit. Coach Timblin received as much enthusiasm and quality play from his bench as he did from his starters.

Those scoring for the Wildcats were: Mitch Strobel with 18 points, Luke Piwoni with 11 points, Jon Boedeker with eight points, Josh Repovsch with eight points, Paul Mertz with six points, Anthony Laatsch with four points, Ty Wietor with three points, Mark Schrauth with two points, Jacob Stoffel with two points, Nick Thorn with one point and Bryan Kraft with one point.

Holy Trinity will host St. Mary's of Eden on Friday, Jan. 17 at the Kewaskum Middle School.
