Maul Unseats Weare on School Board

Voters Say No to Land Acquisition

Voters stated a resounding no to the referendum question asking if land should be acquired by the district for school purposes through a general obligation building bond.

The referendum went down, 1501 against, to 877 in favor of, with every voting township receiving more negative rather than positive votes.

Broken down, the Village of Kewaskum voters were 324 - no, 221 - yes; Town of Kewaskum voters were 232 - no, 101 - yes; Town of Barton voters were 49 - no, 27 - yes; Town of Farmington voters were 366 - no, 269 - yes; Town of Wayne voters were 217 - no, 162 - yes; Town of Auburn voters were 141 - no, 59 - yes; Town of Ashford had no voters on the referendum; Town of Mitchell voter was 1 - no, 0 - yes; and the Town of Scott voters were 171 - no, 38 - yes. The Town of Scott ratio against the referendum was well over 5-1.

When a sampling of voters were contacted and asked if and why they elected to vote no on the referendum, a variety of reasons were expressed. One person stated she wanted specifics on what school was going to be built on the land; another stated he would definitely be in favor of a new elementary school, but in lieu of the monies spent to upgrade the high school recently, he was not comfortable with the insinuation a new high school would be built on the land acquired.

A voter from the Beechwood area added he would not consider acquiring land for a new school until the Beechwood school issue was resolved. Another Village of Kewaskum voter said he could not agree to purchasing more land when the old football area behind the elementary school is lying vacant. (However, in checking, state law mandates a school cannot be erected on less than 60 acres.)

Other various reasons were given for the no votes, and it is now up to the board to hear these concerns, one by one, if necessary, address them accordingly, and move forward from there.

In another surprise upset, Lisa Maul, unseated incumbent Neal Weare for a Kewaskum School Board position. With three candidates, and only two seats available, Maul received the most votes, acquiring 1,423 compared to 1,358 for incumbent Jean Goeden, and 1,046 for Weare.

In another hotly contested area race in the Town of Auburn, Walter Ferber was elected as Town Board Chairperson over incumbent Harry Knoelke, 300-224. For Town Board Supervisor, incumbent Sam Gudex received the most votes with 334, however newcomer John Reigle defeated incumbent Kenneth Jandre, 285 to 273 for the other available seat. Town Clerk Camilla Butzke, unopposed, received 485 votes and Town Treasurer Sue Millonig, also running unopposed received 477.

In the Town of Farmington, incumbent James Dieringer defeated challenger Francis Mayer, 307-295 for the Town Chairman position. The two Town Board seats were won by newcomer Joe Enright who received the most votes at 350 and incumbent James Degnitz with 290. Dick Schneider lost a close bid for a board seat with 263 votes.

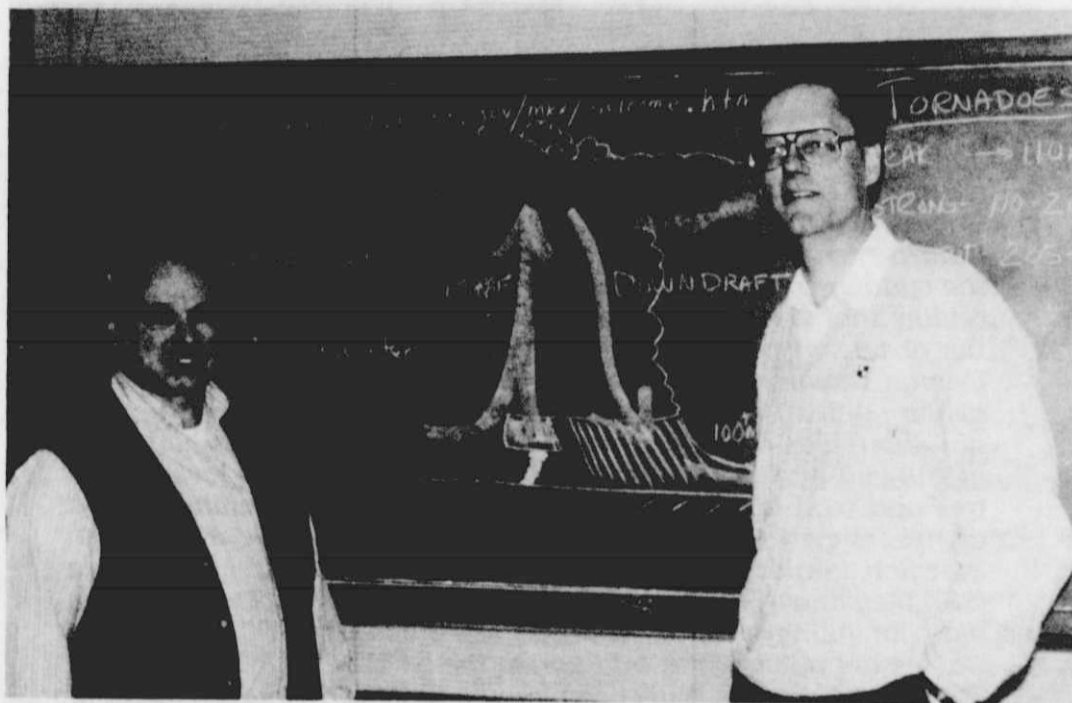

Two Town Board seats in the Town of Kewaskum were won by incumbent Michael Lettow with 202 votes and newcomer Scott Sager with 176 who ran a close race with another candidate, William Butzlaff who garnered a close 164 votes.

In the Town of Wayne, Leander Herriges defeated Jim Stoffel, 223-159, for the Town Chairman. Incumbent Mark Strobel chose not to seek re-election. With only two Town Board seats available, Donald Kurer received 194 votes and Leonard Peter, 180, over incumbent Mark Pamperin who received 168 votes and newcomer Chris Kuehn who garnered 142.

In two hot statewide contests, incumbent John Benson defeated challenger Linda Cross for the State School Superintendent position, by nearly 10%, and Justice Jon P. Wilcox was the overwhelming choice of voters over Walt Kelly.

Severe Weather/Tornado Spotting Seminar Held Here

Following the Severe Weather/Tornado Spotting Seminar, "Rusty" Kapela, right, Warning Coordination Meteorologist with the National Weather Service of Sullivan, Wisconsin, answered questions, along with Jim Pamperin, left, Washington County Director of Emergency Government.

On Thursday, March 20, the Kewaskum Police Department and Kewaskum Fire Department held a joint training session on severe weather/tornado spotting in the Kewaskum Fire Department's training room. There were two sessions held, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, with an excess of 50 people receiving the training.

Participants were told what signs to look for and what to report to the National Weather Service to assist them in dissemination of warnings in the event there is severe weather in the area. The seminar was given by Warning Coordination Meteorologist "Rusty" Kapela of the National Weather Service out of Sullivan, Wisconsin.

With the recent memories of the Oakfield tornado fresh in the minds of trainees, all listened intently to the information given and also got a chance to view actual footage of the Oakfield tornado that Kapela shared with the audience.

Kapela explained a tornado is defined as a violently rotating column of air extending from a thunderstorm to the ground. He added the most violent tornadoes are capable of tremendous destruction with wind speeds of 250 mph or more and damage paths can be in excess of one mile wide and 50 miles long.

Kapela stressed the funnel cloud does not have to be visible on the ground. The tornado may appear nearly transparent until dust and debris are picked up and very little, if any, rain is located in the vicinity of the tornado.

He further explained straight-line winds and the differences in tornado classification. An F0 tornado, with winds of 40-72 mph, shows only light damage; an F1 tornado has winds of 73-112 mph and moderate damage occurs; an F2 tornado has winds of 113-157 mph and considerable damage occurs; an F3 tornado with wind speeds of 158-205 mph incurs severe damage; an F4 tornado has winds of 207-260 mph and does devastating damage and an F5 wreaks incredible damage with wind speeds of 261-318 mph.

Kapela stated, after considerable investigation, he rated the Oakfield tornado as an F5. He also added that 35 to 40% of all tornado deaths occur to people who stay in their cars and stressed getting out of the car and seeking shelter elsewhere and if there is none available to lay down in a low ditch or ravine. He said Wisconsin averages about 22 tornadoes a year.

Chief Richard Knoebel of the Kewaskum Police Department, who also holds the title of Emergency Government Director, said, "The spotter's class is something that we try to do every three or four years to keep everyone sharp in the event severe weather is headed for our area." He went on to say, "This year we also had members of the Department of Public Works take the training because extra spotters are always an added benefit. We hope we never have to use our training, but it is always best to be prepared for it."

More information on Tornado Awareness Week (April 21-27) and a State-wide Tornado Safety Exercise being held on Thursday, April 24, will be forthcoming.

Beanie Babies Are Here!

Judy Johnson of Finishing Touches, N285 Hwy. S, just a little north of Kewaskum, poses with her latest shipment of Beanie Babies, 4,000 to be exact, which should last maybe ten days at the rate "crazed" Beanie Baby buyers have been snatching up the cuddly creatures. "I sold 400 the first day," Johnson relates, adding that she's had to develop a bit of a thick skin to deal with the obsessed collectors, the adults that is, not the kids. "One woman threatened to call the police because I wouldn't sell my display animal that was out of stock. I've been called a _____, and there was a scuffle between two women that each had hold of one end of a Beanie Baby." What has caused this loss of control, and mad hunt to find the often elusive stuffed animals? The answer is clever marketing by Ty Inc., the Oak Brook, Illinois firm that first introduced Beanie Babies in 1994. "They're affordable ($5), they're only available in specialty stores, and there's a long wait for filling orders," Judy points out. Currently, 77 Beanie Babies are available in addition to the 31 that have been retired. The retired animals have been known to fetch as much as $1,000 among the collectors. Go ahead... just keep flaunting those retired Beanie Babies of yours! We'll try to act more grownup... we promise!

March Kiwanis Students of the Month

Eileen Kohlwey

Brad Oelhafen

Kewaskum High School seniors Eileen Kohlwey and Brad Oelhafen have been selected as the March Kiwanis Students of the Month.

Eileen Kohlwey has been involved in a variety of school activities during her time at KHS. She has been a member of the football cheerleading squad for three years, and the gymnastics team and Student Council for four. Currently, she is also a member of Senior Sensations. Eileen is active, too, playing flute in the Symphonic Band, which recently travelled to participate in a Florida competition. Eileen has even been to Germany through the school's exchange program in the summer of 1995.

Away from school, Eileen has been busy as well. In addition to her job as a cashier at Pick 'N Save North in West Bend, Eileen also plays the piano and teaches baton twirling to elementary students in the area.

Her interest and ability in baton twirling extends to her membership in a twirling group, called Kewaskum Pride, which, this past summer, competed at the National Baton Competition at Notre Dame University. They plan to compete again this summer.

Next year, Eileen plans to attend UW-Milwaukee to major in business.

Brad Oelhafen has also kept busy during his time at KHS. Currently he's preparing for his Odyssey of the Mind team's return trip to the State Competition. He's been in OM and FFA for four years, was FFA President this year and Treasurer last year. He was King of the 1996 Prom Court, the MC of the Sadie Snowball Court, and has also been active in Freshman Orientation.

Brad's hobbies away from school include the local snowmobile club, fixing all things mechanical, and preparing his stock car for the Spectator 200, an annual race at Slinger Speedway (last year he finished 16th out of 100 cars).

Another favorite pastime is acting as uncle and godfather to his niece Kayla Ann, who turns one year in July.

Brad has also garnered a lot of experience in the field of agriculture. In addition to his FFA experience, Brad handles the majority of work on his family's 200+ acre beef and crop operation. He has been in 4-H for ten years, active in drama, woodworking, crops, foods, youth leadership projects, as well as exhibiting beef animals at the Washington County Fair for the last eight years.

Brad tentatively plans to attend Appleton's Fox Valley Technical College to pursue a degree in Agribusiness.

News Bowl USA Held At Wayne Elementary

Wayne Elementary's fifth grade made up the "News Bowl USA" team.

What do former Packer Desmond Howard and the U.S. Secretary of State have in common? They were both answers to questions during "News Bowl USA" held at Wayne Elementary School.

For the third year in a row, Wayne fifth graders in Mrs. Ourada's Social Studies class have prepared for, and participated in, "News Bowl USA."

"News Bowl USA" is a nationwide current events competition in which student teams answer questions about news topics in seven categories: Nation, World, People, Places, Politics, Arts and Entertainment, and Sports.

Questions and answers are secured on a computer disk which, when completed, is sent to the judges to be scored against teams from around the country.

To prepare for the big event, the fifth graders study and have classroom current events contests throughout the year.

"It's great to see how the kids cooperate, how they work together," said Mrs. Ourada. "You see leaders emerge, maybe those who know more about non-school subjects like sports or entertainment. And it's a lot of FUN!"

As an extra bonus, the Wayne PTO provided funds for the purchase of "News Bowl" T-shirts for the participants.

During the competition, students must agree upon an answer before it is entered into the computer. This year, students correctly answered 62% of the questions (well over the average from previous years).

In previous years, Wayne fifth graders have finished in the state's top ten. Results as to how they finish in relation to other schools will be determined in May, after nationwide scores are tabulated.

Now that this year's "News Bowl" is over, fourth graders will join the fifth graders in weekly current events contests, to give them a taste of the excitement they can expect next year when they will be the ones to participate in "News Bowl."

Jobs... Jobs... And Jobs

Over 1,000 job openings will be offered to job seekers at the Washington County Job Fair on April 9.

"This year's fair is much bigger and better than last year with nearly 100 employers participating," stated John Bieri from the Workforce Development Center.

Available positions include professional, skilled, entry level, and summer openings. Employers will be recruiting machinists, assemblers, construction workers -- electricians, plumbers, HVAC-CDL drivers, chef, meatcutter.

Office openings include financial office manager, administrative assistant, retail managers and clerks, and general office/accounting. There are also professional technical openings for computer and information systems analysts, insurance claims specialists, policy processing technicians, sales professionals, RN's and health professionals.

"This is just a sampling of what will be available," said Bieri. Summer jobs are offered in many of these areas as well.

All job seekers and career changers are strongly encouraged to attend. Resumes will be accepted or applications can be completed on site.

The Washington County Job Fair will be held from noon to 6 p.m. on April 9, at the Kettle Moraine Ice Rink, 2330 S. Main (Hwy. P), West Bend, Wisconsin. It is a project of the Washington County Workforce Development Center, The Threshold, Washington County Economic Development and Chambers of Commerce in West Bend, Hartford, and Germantown.

Nighs Invite Public to Informative Presentation

DAVID and BARBARA NIGH
Serving with The CoMission in RUSSIA

Dave and Barbara Nigh, former Kewaskum/West Bend residents invite the public to an informative presentation of their work in the public schools of Russia.

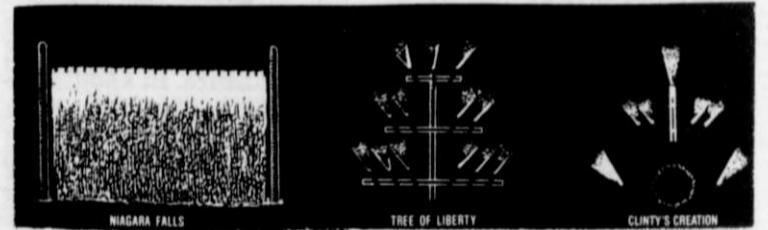

Prior to the Nigh's moving to Florida in 1992, Dave was a member of the Kewaskum Village Board from 1975-1987. He was also co-owner of Kewaskum Frozen Foods. Barbara was employed as a secretary for many years in Washington County, and most recently at USA Buttons in West Bend.

Dave and Barbara are serving with CoMission in Kaliningrad, Russia since July, 1996. The main thrust of their ministry is working with public school teachers, exposing and instructing them in Christian morals and ethics and how to incorporate that in the classroom.

Teaching styles are modeled after the teachings of Jesus Christ, the Master Teacher. Biblical principles are the foundations of life and consequently need to be taught. The response has been very positive and Bible studies have grown out of the interest expressed in the Bible.

Dave and Barbara will present pictures, music and items from Russia during their presentation which will take place at Community Church, 2005 S. Main St., West Bend, on Sunday, April 6, at 6 p.m. For more information call 338-0725.

Your contribution towards the 1997 July 3rd Fireworks (see coupon on Page 9) will mean more aerial bursts and ground displays similar to the ones shown above, can be purchased this year for everyone's enjoyment.

Meet the School District Staff

Librarian Kathy Roehrig

Where else would you expect to find a book lover like Elementary Schools Librarian Kathy Roehrig, but in a library?

"I always liked to read," she explained, "even when I was growing up."

That passion led her, in 1977, to the Kewaskum School District, where she became the librarian for Kewaskum, Wayne, and Farmington Elementary Schools.

"I've enjoyed seeing the changes in the media centers (libraries) over that time," she said. Such changes have included an exciting increase in the use of computers and technology.

"Using the computers, students have access to a lot of experiences they couldn't have had before."

Students utilize word processing, and also interactive, problem solving computer software (especially CD ROMS) like the Oregon Trail, which simulates hardships faced by pioneers as they travelled westward in the 1800's.

Not only has the learning experience been affected by technology, the actual library experience has changed, as well.

"Right now, we're in the process of computerizing our card catalogue," said Mrs. Roehrig. Although it's a long process (about another year before it's completed), Mrs. Roehrig says that it will work to speed up the processes of looking for and checking out books, help connect the school libraries and make ordering and inventory more efficient throughout the system.

Duties as librarian include everything from managing the library to teaching classes in library skills to students from all three Kewaskum District Elementary schools.

"I really like working with the elementary kids," Mrs. Roehrig said, "and I've enjoyed the real sense of community found here in the Kewaskum area."

Mrs. Roehrig didn't know, however, that she'd end up here. After growing up in Antigo, Wisconsin, as the daughter of the school superintendent, she received her teaching certification at UW-Milwaukee, followed by a Masters Degree from Viterbo College in LaCrosse.

"We settled in West Bend when my husband, George, got a job with the West Bend Fire Department (he now also sells real estate for Fran Wajer Realty)." During that time, they raised a family: their oldest, Paul, works in Mequon; their second son, J.J., lives in Sheboygan, while David is in seventh grade, and Emily is in fifth.

Currently, Mrs. Roehrig is excited about the prospect of replacing the too-tall and outdated bookshelves in the KES library.

"We're starting a fundraiser with terrific products from Mr. Z's," she exclaimed. "Hopefully, we'll be able to earn enough to have more appropriate shelving for our elementary students."

In her free time, away from school, Mrs. Roehrig likes to walk, golf and spend time with her family.

And, of course, she loves to read.

And, really, what else would you expect from a librarian?

Americans are becoming more health-conscious, and many are changing their lifestyles to get more out of life when they are young and to prevent the conditions and diseases that can reduce quality of life and threaten life at older ages. His informative presentation will be on preventive medicine, cholesterol, diet and exercise. A question and discussion time will follow.

Dr. Brown's presentation will compliment a health program established by the General Federation of Women's Club (GFWC) entitled "Color Me Healthy." The program is designed to give women an opportunity to educate themselves about their bodies and how they can enhance and protect their health.

Every Little Bit Counts

Topping out at 37,151 pennies, Farmington Elementary's student donations far exceeded expectations of project coordinators, Mrs. Hubbard, right, and Ms. Mundigler.

What's a penny worth? By itself, not much.

When Farmington Elementary students decided in January to start saving pennies to donate to charity -- a project dubbed, "Every Little Bit Counts," -- the staff figured that $50 to $75 (5000 to 7500 pennies) would be a worthy goal.

By the time the total figures were announced in March, students had collected -- believe it or not -- $371.51! In other words, penny donations exceeded 37,000 coins! And, for good measure, students donated boxes of food to a local food pantry.

"It was incredible," exclaimed school counselor and project co-ordinator Jody Mundigler, "the kids here really got into the spirit of giving."

The collection was a response to the faculty decision to involve the students in a community service project, one that would help promote spirit, pride and sacrifice.

"The student donations had to come through their own means," explained reading specialist (and the other project coordinator) Beth Hubbard, "so they'd really have an idea of what it means to give and to help out."

A gigantic version of a thermometer in the school's foyer kept a running tally as the penny totals rolled in, more and more each week. The project got off to a flying start the first week when students brought in an astounding 15,946 pennies.

Before announcing the final totals, students met in a school-wide assembly to discuss things charities do. They were also congratulated by the staff for a fabulous fund-raising effort.

When students return from Spring Break, they will receive brief descriptions of local charities, and then they will vote on where they want the donation to go.

"It was a remarkable job," said Ms. Mundigler. "The students, the staff, and the community can all be proud of what these kids have done."

Pennies, like people, can really do some incredible things when they're joined together.

Farmington students have shown that, and they've shown that, indeed, "Every Little Bit Counts."

The Red Cross was founded by Clara Barton, who served as a nurse in three wars and was known as the "angel of the battlefield."

John Greene Reminisces About 25 Years in the Restaurant Business

Greene's Hideaway, along Highway 57 near Random Lake, has taken up where Old Fort Silver and Greene's Fort Silver Inn left off, carrying on the tradition of fine dining. John Greene is celebrating his 25th year in the restaurant business.

Owner John Greene displays the photograph of his memorable luncheon with President Reagan.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

This year marks John Greene's 25th year in the restaurant business, and his reputation has followed him to three different locations, surviving, despite a tragic fire, and highlighted with the honor of serving the President of the United States.

In 1984 this former factory worker was named Outstanding Restaurateur of the Year by the Wisconsin Restaurant Association's Lake-to-Lake Chapter, who recognized Greene for his promotional abilities, and flair for fine food and service, a trademark that continues to draw customers from miles around.

It was in 1971 John decided he didn't want to spend the rest of his life working in a factory. He started looking around the area for a business opportunity and when a deal on a bar in Random Lake fell through, he found Old Fort Silver, a landmark rich in heritage, tucked into the little town of Silver Creek.

Old Fort Silver, built in 1860, was once a popular dance hall and tavern that drew German settlers along with their colorful dances. Polkas, the schottische, waltzes and square dancing were enjoyed for a 25 cent admission, along with nickel beers.

The Fort changed ownership through the years, and endured numerous expansions and remodeling with logs floated down from Upper Wisconsin on the Menominee River. Notched, trimmed and set into place, these massive timbers became the walls of Old Fort Silver, and lit with old time chandeliers, it was a picture of life in early Wisconsin.

After Greene purchased the building, he knew he needed to hire the best help he could find. "I didn't even know how to tend bar, I went into this whole thing cold," he recalls.

The first thing he did was hire a chef, until he came into work one morning and found the man passed out drunk in a car. "I figured about then I better learn how to cook." John hired a new chef, working right alongside him until he had learned how to create dishes his restaurant is still famous for. "I kept at it until I knew what I was doing, and I'm still doing it now -- I'm still in the kitchen," he proclaims.

In fact, John was taught by one of the best, chef Walter Buchel, who was semi-retired at the time. He worked with John for a year, teaching him the master's secrets, until Walter left Old Fort Silver to open Buchel's Colonial House in Port Washington.

Improvements were made that included a new bar downstairs, redecorating both downstairs dining areas, a new bar upstairs, a remodeled kitchen, and an addition to the north side. After 13 years of success at Old Fort Silver, two weeks before completion of the dining room addition, disaster struck the landmark, and a devastating fire destroyed what Greene had worked so hard to build up.

The Silver Creek Fire Department, along with aid from nine other departments, couldn't save the structure. After more than one hundred years, the demise of Old Fort Silver looked complete.

"I believe an electrical problem probably caused the fire, but it was never confirmed," Greene states, still touched by such a great loss. At the time, he considered rebuilding, but the Fort had been located too close to the road, and the septic system was under the parking lot. "How do you begin to rebuild a historic building?," he expressed.

That same year, Greene was contacted by the owner of another historic building

-- the Washington House in West Bend, who asked him if he would consider running the restaurant, with the possibility of purchasing the hotel, built in 1852.

Once again in business, the new Greene's Fort Silver Inn opened in November of '84, hailed by Milwaukee food critic Alex Thien as a great place to eat. It's location in the Washington House enhanced Greene's reputation, and drew a number of prominent people, including the President, Ronald Reagan.

The date is unforgettable to Greene, July 27, 1987, while Reagan was out campaigning for George Bush. "Three guys dressed in three piece suits came through the kitchen with my bar manager," John relates. "I was cooking at the time, and I thought what the heck is going on here. I just heard some important guy may be coming and figured it was the president of some big company."

A week later, Greene answered the phone, and a man on the other end of the line announced himself as the Secret Service from Washington D.C. "I thought it was one of my buddies playing a joke, so I said, 'OK Delbert, I gotta get going, quit screwing around.'" A bit flustered when he found out it was the real thing, John told the man on the phone, "I don't know if we can do that, we have Rotary Club every Monday!"

It took two weeks of preparation to arrange the President's luncheon. Eighty phone lines were installed, including two red phones to Washington. A garage was built around back with an enclosed ramp to the door, a check was done on all the hired help, everything that was in the path of where the President would walk was cleared out of the way, and his food was locked in a separate refrigerator; the Secret Service had the only key.

"I worked with three dietitians, and it was unbelievable fun once the tension wore off," Greene remembers. "They wanted a fresh chicken breast for the President. I told them I had fresh frozen, which was all they would find on a Sunday, but they wanted me to take them to a big grocery store, so I took them to Pick 'N Save. I ordered one breast, and one of the guys nudged me and whispered, 'Order two.' Why do we need two, I asked, and they said, in case we screw up the first one. That's when I knew these guys were OK," he laughs.

Greene's Fort Silver Inn

served President Reagan and 176 members of the community during the two hour visit. Mr. Reagan gave a speech that was broadcast into the streets of downtown West Bend. When it was over, Greene shook hands with the President and has the photograph to prove it. "It was pretty much the highlight of my career so far," he maintains.

John liked West Bend and his faithful clientele, but parking was a problem as his establishment continued to grow in popularity. He decided against purchasing the hotel, but has great memories of his six years in the Washington House. "If I wouldn't have moved to

QUICK! I NEED A BIGGER BASKET! So many eggs, she didn't know what to do.

AND THEY'RE OFF! As the starting gun sounded (just kidding... no guns anywhere... just a figure of speech), parents and children scattered among the carefully "hidden" eggs. Look down! Look down!

ON THE GROUND! BEHIND YOU! This child was so intent on picking up the egg hidden by the tree, he didn't see the one laying in the grass behind him. Bet the guy behind him spotted it, before he got a chance to turn around.

THANK YOU EASTER BUNNY! Following the egg hunt, children 'flocked' around Mr. Easter Bunny, shown above, and his Mrs.

A nice, fresh hint of spring greeted area children as they gathered at River Hill Park last Saturday, baskets tightly gripped in hand, for the annual Easter Egg Hunt.

The traditional "egg scramble," sponsored by the Kewaskum American Legion, Robert G. Romaine Post 384 and their Women's Auxiliary, began at 1 p.m.

Following the big hunt, courtesy of the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club, children were treated to a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Easter Bunny, who would soon be embarking on a worldwide tour of the homes of all the young, and young at heart.

Easter Bunny Visits Farmington

Hopping in just to say hi to students at Farmington Elementary was a famous, furry, seasonal visitor, fluffy tail and all!

Area Author's Book About Dogs to Benefit County Humane Society

Jim Borusky, a Kewaskum educator for over 30 years, has recently published a book of poetry about dogs. He is making a contribution to the Washington County Humane Society for each book sold.

The book, Terriers and Other Perfect Dogs, contains 30 rhymed poems and deals with dogs of many breeds, from Labrador retrievers to Beagles and Airedale Terriers. There are poems of mystery, adventure, and humor. Borusky says it is a family book about good dogs. Because of the variety, adults as well as children should enjoy the book.

Borusky has been published in two anthologies with nationwide distribution, by the Country Courier and The Wisconsin Country Register. One of his articles has appeared in The Department of Natural Resources magazine. He has also been published by the State of Alaska Humane Society and in Waggin' Tales, the Washington County Humane Society's newsletter.

Jim has spoken and read poetry to school groups and adult organizations in Washington County. Borusky encourages children to get involved in the writing process. "Writing is thinking," Borusky stated. "A good reader reads, but a good writer learns to read and think."

Terriers and Other Perfect Dogs sells for $5.95 and a donation will be made to the Washington County Humane Society for each book sold in Washington County. Books are available at the Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic and in West Bend at Tropical Fish and Pet and the Little Professor's Book Center.

Grand Opening of New Interpretive Center Gallery

The Washington County Historical Society, Inc. invites you to a Grand Opening Reception on Sunday, April 6, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Old Courthouse Square Museum, 320 South Fifth Avenue, West Bend, to celebrate the installation of their first exhibit to open after the five year renovation.

The new gallery will be the Norm Colby Interpretive Center, and it will feature interactive exhibits on early immigrant history, 19th century horse power, historic diaries, and pioneer fiber craft and weaving.

It will also be dedicated in a special ribbon cutting ceremony to the memory of Norm Colby, a long-time educator in West Bend, whose legacy to the West Bend Kiwanis Foundation provided funding for the project. The $10,000 received from the West Bend Kiwanis Foundation is a challenge grant to the Society and to other local service clubs throughout Washington County to provide matching funds through a combined effort. So far, an additional $2,000 has also been raised by a grant received from the Wisconsin Humanities Council, a state agency of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

In addition to the Interpretive Center, tours will be offered of the renovated Attorney's Room, Judge's Chamber and Circuit Courtroom which feature period-room displays from the 1889 original date of construction. A new antique clock will be installed in the Circuit Courtroom as part of the dedication ceremony.

The clock was purchased with funds raised by the Cookbook Committee that won a second place $500 cash award in 1996 from Country Living magazine for a recipe in the highly successful cookbook, The Flavors of Washington County.

The Cookbook Committee will also provide samples of selected treats from the cookbook as refreshments throughout the event.

Thull Earns 'Triple Double' And All-American Honors

Matt Thull, senior distance runner for the UW-Oshkosh Titans earned his third consecutive WSUC championship title in both the 3,000 and 5,000 meter runs at the WSUC Indoor Track and Field Championships held on February 28 to March 1 in Johnson Fieldhouse at UW-Stout in Menomonie.

Matt is the first Titan runner to achieve this "triple double." His time of 8:28 in the 3,000 meter run also earned him the WSUC record in the event.

Matt's time of 14:32 in the 5,000 meter run automatically qualified him for the NCAA Division III Track and Field Championships held at Kolf Sports Center at UW-Oshkosh on March 8. He finished fourth in this national event in a field of 14 runners, which earned him his seventh All-American title.

Last but certainly not least, only 560 Village of Kewaskum voters made their voices heard. With only three candidates running for three seats, newcomer Andrew Pesch received the most votes, 431, for a seat on the Kewaskum Village Board, followed by incumbents Harry Roecker with 319 and Gary Gavin with 296. Incumbent Village President Robert Wagner, running unopposed, received a resounding 434 votes as opposed to 12 votes cast for a variety of write-in candidates.

For School Board, Village voters followed the trend of the district, voting for Lisa Maul, 355; Jean Goeden, 320, and Neal Weare, 229. In the village, the referendum issue was a little closer, being defeated by 103 votes, 324 to 221.

Conservative Village voters did not follow the trend of the other state voters, however, as they voted 291 to 241 in favor of Cross over Benson for State Superintendent of Schools.

In the Supreme Court Justice race in the Village, Wilcox overwhelmingly defeated Kelly, 374 to 134.

Daryl Laatsch, who was unopposed for Municipal Judge received 391 votes.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOSEPH VOLZ

In loving memory of my husband, our dad, grandpa, son, and brother JOSEPH VOLZ, who passed away one year ago, April 6, 1996;

A heart of gold stopped beating
Working hands were put to rest
God broke our hearts to show us
That he only takes the best.
We can not bring the old days back
Your hands we can not touch
But we'll always have the memories
Of you, whom we love so much.

Our family chain was broken
And nothing seems the same
But as God calls us one by one
That chain will link again.
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you did not go alone
For part of us went with you
That day God called you home.

Only a cluster of memories
Sprayed with a million tears
Wishing God had shared you
For many more happy years.

Deeply missed by wife
Deanna, Children Catherine,
Wendy, Laurie, Susan,
Stephen, Douglas, Jennifer,
Michael, Timmothy, and their families.

Rejoice, Christ Lives

"Because He lives, I can face tomorrow

Because He lives, all fear is gone

Because I know, He holds the future,

And life is worth the living, just because He lives"

Because the Savior lives and has promised in John 14:3 "I will come again and receive you unto myself," the Christian can face the trials of life and even death with the sure hope of a glorious future. The Christian's death is not the end of life. Just as the Lord Jesus arose from the grave, conquering sin and death, so shall those who put their trust in Him be raised to everlasting life.

This time of the year, we can feel spring in the air, flowers begin to appear and trees burst with buds and new leaves. We see more birds on the bird feeder and they seem to sing louder. In general, all nature seems to shout "Jesus has risen from the dead and is alive today. His resurrection is God's personal invitation to our hope of eternal life. He promises in Romans 10:9 "If you confess with your mouth Jesus is Lord and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead you shall be saved."

KHS Science Class Tests Paper Airplanes

The Day of Reckoning: Under the scrutiny of Mr. Soller, Tim Albrecht prepares to test his airplane.

Michele Kujawski mentally maps out her plane's upcoming flight.

Kewaskum High School students were out of their seats recently, throwing paper airplanes across the room. With luck, they flew straight.

As part of Mr. Soller's Ninth Grade Physical Science classes, students got the chance to learn through designing and flying paper airplanes things like Berroulli's Principle and Newton's Laws of motions.

"The task is to design a paper airplane that can fly straight and level, climb and dive, and turn right and left," Mr. Soller explained. "(It) may sound easy, but it's a real challenge to make a paper airplane do all these things."

And that it was. Students testing their airplanes made series of adjustments on their craft, including folds, weights, extra wings, etc., attempting to get a bit closer to accomplishing the objectives.

Comments such as, "I think it needs more weight on the front," or "Move that flap a little bit more" could be heard as the students became involved with their planes and with science.

Extra credit was given for any students that designing and flying planes that could do inside and outside loops, or any plane that incorporated a wing with something called an airfoil.

One elaborate design by Chris Wall included a detailed loop around the plane nose, cuts in strategic places throughout the plane, and caches of assorted weights.

"It doesn't fly, though," he revealed, a bit dejectedly.

But the day was met with successes, as well.

Although not every plane did what its designers/flyers intended, students were actually living science, actually applying scientific principles to something they could relate to.

And that, perhaps, was the greatest success of all.

The next 5 handed will be Thursday, April 3rd and Wednesday, April 9th at 8:00 p.m. sharp. Cash prizes, lunch. Schmitt's Never Inn.

rib, with a complimentary Lazy Susan and hot hors d'oeuvres. "Some things we serve are a little out of the ordinary," he adds, mentioning beef Wellington, shrimp Wellington, Sicilian steak and of course, the President's choice, chicken Cordon Bleu.

A fabulous Sunday brunch is available from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., with dinner served from 4 to 9 p.m. Along with the regular menu, there's $7.95 specials, and a $5.95 family style chicken dinner with salad. The back room is also available for parties up to 30 people. The restaurant is open Wednesday through Sunday. Reservations are suggested by calling 994-9696.

Greene's Hideaway also hosts bus trips to the Casino in northern Wisconsin four times a year, with a relaxing meal served upon returning. Visitors heading for the restaurant along Highway 57 can look for the original totem pole displaying the sign, Old Fort Silver, a remembrance left over from the days before the fire. "I went back seven years later, and retrieved it from the original site," John says, and it stands as a reminder of the beginning of a dream now 25 years old, and still going strong.

West Bend, I would never have served lunch to the President," he states.

In 1990, the Random Lake Bank contacted Greene to ask him if he would be interested in a restaurant set along Highway 57 that had been closed down for about a year and a half. It was a great location, and in November of that year, Greene's Hideaway was born, and continues to keep him busy, and in the kitchen.

"One of the things that has kept me in business, is the loyal help I have," he maintains. Almost all of his key employees have been with him since the restaurant opened. "Judy (Schladweiler) Melius has been with me 24 years, Joyce Wetzel, my cook, 8 1/2 years, and there's Jenny, Pam, Bill, and Bob. It's very important to be able to rely on them, even though we get a little grouchy at times, but of course, all good chefs do," he teases. John's girlfriend, Diane Babicke, also helps out on weekends hosting.

Many memorable people have passed through the doors of his restaurants, including quite a few of the Brewers. "I remember a lot of them from Old Fort Silver," Greene relates, "like Gorman Thomas, Catfish Hunter, Rollie Fingers, Buck Rogers, and Don Money. They'd stop in to eat when they brought their hunting dogs up to this area for training."

Greene's Hideaway offers the same great food all year 'round, with a Friday night seafood buffet, and fish fries, along with their regular menu. The Saturday night specials include a tempting prime

IN MEMORY OF JOSEPH VOLZ

In loving memory of Grandpa Joe, who passed away one year ago, April 6, 1996:

How can I say what I feel on this day?
 God knows I miss you in every way.

Sometimes I wish we could sit and talk or just take a nice short walk.

I miss your Big Bear Hugs and catching little Bugs.

I wish we could sit and cast a fishing line out in the lake or have you help me blow out the candles on my birthday cake.

I miss your magic finger that always made me laugh and smile

I wish God could have left you here for a longer while.

I know that you're with me as I live out each day

For there are some things that cancer and death just can't take away...

Sadly missed and loved a lot by Joseph Fay.

KHS Chemistry Class Explores Chemical Properties

To dramatically demonstrate how temperature affects volume, Mr. Goska places an inflated balloon into a beaker of liquid nitrogen (a substance with a temperature of minus 196 degrees Celsius) during his third hour KHS Chemistry class. The balloon rapidly deflated and became brittle, but reinflated when brought to room temperature.

Junior Matt Felhaber dons the safety equipment to freeze a rubber band in liquid nitrogen. Moments later, the frozen rubber band crumbled into pieces.

The Patron License will be increasing from $100 to $110. The renewal application for the Patron License will include an Interim Receipt on the bottom of the application which should be removed and kept by the applicant until the regular license is received.

This Interim License will be honored for turkey hunting and also fishing until the regular license is received, which could take until May. The 1997-98 fishing licenses will also be honored after March 15, 1997.

Minutes of Village Plan Commission

Village of Kewaskum
Plan Commission
January 28, 1997
7:00 p.m.

The Plan Commission of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Robert H. Wagner called the meeting to order. Members present were David Goeden, Richard Schmidt, Theodore Meilahn, Frank Beesten, Richard Zarling, and Administrator Daniel Schmidt. A quorum was present. Member Charles Waala asked to be excused and was absent.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and the Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Frank Beesten, seconded by Richard Schmidt and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Commission approved the minutes as printed for December 10, 1996. The Commission reviewed the Certified Survey Map as submitted by Kurt Backhaus for a parcel on Highland Drive, Town of Kewaskum. Motion by Theodore Meilahn, seconded by Frank Beesten and unanimously carried by voice vote the Commission authorized the signing of said CSM. It was noted that the property would fall within the one mile extraterritorial boundary.

General discussion on the proposed layout for the balance of the Stoffel Farm adjacent to the West Bend Clinic property was held. It was noted by Mr. Larry H. Kassens that the proposed layout as sent out to the Commission would hopefully meet some of the Commissions concerns as noted in December. It would still maximize the use of said property. Dr. Sison is planning elderly and CBRF type facilities. The Commission was unanimous with their consensus that there were too many multi-family units and that the plan, as proposed, does not meet the proposed land use plan. It was noted that if only elderly type housing is provided, the impact is more acceptable. It was suggested by Rick Kania of SEWRPC that the ROW for Edgewood Road be 80 feet versus 66 feet without a boulevard.

Questions and other related points to be considered by the Commission are as follows: 1) Would the Commission allow the use of a temporary access? 2) Where does the Village and its Engineers want the sewer and water to be placed? 3) Would a parking variance be supported? 4) The flood boundary is needed before surveying and staking of the flood boundary and wetlands. 5) Zoning changes are needed through the public hearing process. 6) Would the Commission support land dedication in lieu of payment of fees? 7) What walkways are required as well as the status of Columbus Drive? 8) Some written confirmation of the DOT's agreement for use of the proposed temporary access should be provided. Mr. Kassens indicated he would take the comments back to work on the drawing and come back for further discussion at future meetings of the Commission.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt informed the Commission of the change in meeting dates for the land use informational meeting and public hearing. It was noted further work was needed on defining and redefining the flood boundaries to accurately represent the proper zoning. It is hopeful the process will be continued and to hold the meeting in April.

Mr. Rick Kania of SEWRPC was present for discussion on the Master Plan. Mr. Kania reviewed "The Land Use Plan and Street System Plan" and how some of the new flood boundary delineation affects certain areas. It was noted the balance of the text has been completed and would be sent to the

KMS Students Attend Enrichment/Exploration Day

Making a bug, petting a reptile, and learning about leadership were just some of the possibilities for 15 Kewaskum Middle School students chosen to partake in "Dodge County Exploration and Enrichment Day" held recently in Horicon.

The day, organized through area Gifted and Talented (G/T) Programs (including Kewaskum's), brought together students from ten districts to attend workshops and seminars emphasizing art, writing, leadership, science, various cultures and interpersonal skills.

"It's important to keep students excited about learning," said Kewaskum G/T Coordinator Mr. Casetta. "We want to make sure that students having particular interests and needs get a chance to develop them, and have fun doing it."

Session presenters ranged from Nancy Zeman, host of Public Television's "Sewing With Nancy," to Science man Sky Schultz (known as "Professor Oops"), to Native American Author Karen Hartman. One presenter, Andrew Alefsen, from "Live World" even brought in and discussed a variety of snakes and other reptiles.

"The students were great," said Mr. Casetta. "They were excited, attentive, and they got something out of the experience."

And when learning's fun, that's a pretty good experience.

As part of a Leadership Workshop, KMS's Trisha Holz works on a cooperative group activity with students from other schools.

Eighth grader Colleen Gosa creates a clay bug in an art workshop as KMS teacher and G/T liaison Mrs. Uhlman looks on.

KHS Girls Third At County Indoor

The Kewaskum girls' track team finished in third place with 77 points, just two points behind Germantown at the Bob Buel Washington County Indoor Track Championships held at West Bend on Wednesday, March 26.

The Hartford girls team took home the first place plaque by collecting 95 points based on victories in the 20 lap relay, 10 lap relay, and Mary Kay Pfeiffer's victories in the 50 yard dash and 213 yard dash along with seconds in three other events.

Highlights for the Kewaskum team included the 34 points scored by the hurdlers. Junior Carrie Wiesner took first place in the 50 yard high hurdles and in the process tied the meet record of 7.2 set by Rebecca Butt of West Bend West in 1989. Sophomore Jackie Michaels took third place in 8.2 in the same event.

Later junior Joanne Thull and senior Heather Downs, who both had earlier won their preliminaries races to advance to the finals, battled to a Kewaskum 1-2 finish in the 50 yard intermediate hurdles. Thull just nipped her teammate with a fine time of 7.9.

The two shot putters for Kewaskum, seniors Katie Yogerst and Rachel Nysse, both showed mid-season form and competitiveness by finishing second and third respectively. Katie threw a personal best of 35' 11" and Rachel Nysse threw 35' 1 1/2".

The six-lap relay team of Mackenzie Downs, Ann Bodden, Jackie Michaels and Carrie Wiesner took second place just 0.1 second behind West Bend West. Jackie Michaels did an excellent job filling in for veteran sprinter Jenny Jagielski, who left the meet because of illness.

Kewaskum was also without the services of their veteran distance runner, Marni Lynn, who was on family vacation. Sophomore Carol Neumann led the way for the Kewaskum distance runners by placing third in an event she had never run before, the two mile with a time of 13:21.9 and fourth in the 880 yard run in 2:45.8.

The four lap relay team of Mackenzie Downs, Jenny Fettig, Heather Downs and Ann Bodden placed fourth in 1:29.4.

The ten-lap relay team of Jamie Gaffke, Jessie Repovsch, Ann Bodden, and Michelle Broughton took fifth place with a time of 4:24.7.

Sarah Bausch took fifth place in the high jump with a height of 4'8" and Jill Wichtoski took sixth place in the long jump with a good early season result of 13'10" to finish out the scoring for the Kewaskum Indians.

Next week on Tuesday, April 8, the Kewaskum girls' track team travels to Oshkosh to participate in the Oshkosh Invitational.

KHS Boys 6th at County Indoor

The Kewaskum Boys' Track team finished sixth out of seven teams at the Bob Buel Washington County Indoor Track Championships held at West Bend on Wednesday, March 26th. Germantown scored 126 points to edge West Bend East's 118 1/4 points for the title.

Highlights for the Kewaskum boys' team included the second place by junior Matt Gundrum in the shot put. Gundrum threw a personal best of 47' 9 1/2", which was over 3 1/2 feet better than his previous best last year. Head coach, Jerry Gosa, reported that he was very pleased with Matt's effort. "I hope Matt can stay focused on school and his goals in track."

In high jump, juniors Matt Hammen and Sean Cotter both jumped well clearing 5' 10". Matt Hammen took second place and Sean Cotter took fourth place, both based on number of misses.

Troy Staehler took fourth place in the pole vault by clearing 10' and Brad Hermann was in a four way tie for sixth place at 9'.

Other places for Kewaskum include the 6 lap relay were the team of Dave Asmus, Brian Liegl, Chris Koth, and Kevin Martin took sixth place in 2:05.3.

Due to a lack of athletes and a couple of minor injuries, the KHS boys' team did not have any entries in the high or intermediate hurdles, 200m dash, 400m dash, 1600m run, and 3200 run. "It is very difficult to be as competitive as we would like to be with only six returning letter winners and such a small team. I have no complaints about the athletes that are out. They are working hard and will be better," commented coach Gosa.

Child's Income on Parent's Return

Some parents may choose to include a child's investment income on their return. That means the child does not have to file. But before choosing to do this, parents should figure their tax and the child's tax separately to see which way provides the lowest tax. For details, get Publication 929, Tax Rules for Children and Dependents, in English only.

Every cloud has a silver lining, but it is sometimes a little difficult to get it to the mint.

Awards Presented to KHS Gymnasts

The votes are in. The Kewaskum girls' gymnasts voted on awards to be given out to fellow teammates after a very rewarding season.

Nadalie Reindl ran away with the most valuable person award. Nadalie accomplished a lot this season, achieving two school records and a trip to state where she nabbed the gold medal for her floor exercise. Her score on the floor at state was a school record of 9.33 which beat her own school record. The other school record was during sectionals on the beam with an 8.7, which also beat her own record.

Kathy Deshotels was voted the most dedicated person, while Eileen Kohlwey was elected the most improved person. The most humorous award was given to JoAnne Thull. Seniors leaving the team this year are Becca Wolf, Nadalie Reindl, Kathy Deshotels and Eileen Kohlwey.

"The girls had a wonderful season," commented coach Wendy Fideler. To help promote their sport, a few of the girls from the team visited Farmington Elementary School during a girls intramural session.

Nadalie Reindl, Kathy

Deshotels and Eileen Kohlwey, along with their coach, showed the fourth and fifth graders some of the basic things they work on and told them what it was like being on the team, the dedication it takes and how to stretch and get their bodies ready for the sport.

After showing their stuff to a very attentive audience, the high school gymnasts helped spot the younger girls and gave them tips on their skills.

Farmington Elementary School girls intramurals extend a big thank you to Coach Fideler and the gymnasts.

Turkey Patterning Clinic Saturday

Gateway Gobblers, a chapter of the National Wild Turkey Federation, in conjunction with the West Bend-Barton Sportsman's Club, will hold its sixth annual Turkey Patterning Clinic on Saturday, April 5, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The clinic will help shot-gunners prepare for the upcoming Wisconsin spring wild turkey hunting season.

The clinic will be held on the WBBSC grounds, north of West Bend on Trapshot Lane.

Various brands and shot size shotgun shells will be available for purchasing individually for testing. In this way, the turkey hunter can try different loads to determine which brand shell and which shot size provide the best pattern for his or her shotgun.

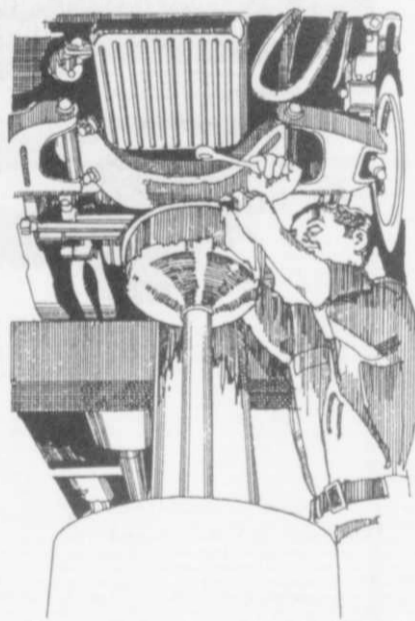

The ability to purchase single shells eliminates the need to buy a full box of shells only to find they will not pattern well.

To reach the WBBSC grounds, head north of West Bend on Hwy. 45 to Friendly Drive about one mile north of CTH. D, then turn left at Mill Tool and Die and follow to Trapshoot Lane. Call Phil at 338-8448 for further information.

We employ ASE certified factory trained technicians.

KHS Wrestling Awards Announced

By Sally Cochran

Kewaskum High School recently held their wrestling banquet which, along with a beautifully catered dinner, honored many top athletes from the team.

"All the kids worked very hard this year and deserve some recognition," explained Coach John Nell, "but this gives us a chance to recognize the cream of the crop and others who have committed to the sport."

Ten boys were awarded a letter. They are Mike

Kertscher, John Immel, Josh Dieringer, Troy Staehler, Joel Dzedzic, Adam Schliney, Eric Kopecky, Glen Schnabel, Mike Farchione and Bruce Gundrum.

Most Valuable Player award went to Joel Dzedzic while the Most Improved Player went to John Immel. Dzedzic also was honored for having the most pins, recording 22 pins for the season. Glen Schnabel had the most take-downs this season with 126. The Dedication Award went to Eric Kopecky. David Lettow was awarded the JV award.

Others honored at the banquet were the five seniors on the team -- Joel Dzedzic, Eric Kopecky, Glen Schnabel, Bruce Gundrum, and Andy Palmer; and captains of the team, Glen Schnabel and Bruce Gundrum.

"We had an excellent season. These are a good bunch of kids," raved Coach Nell.

I'm sure the kids would say the same about their coaches.

Coach John Nell presents the award for Most Takedowns (126) to Glen "J.R." Schnabel.
