Board Still Faced with Task of Alleviating Overcrowding Issues

With the failure of the school district referendum to purchase land behind them, members of the Kewaskum school board are still faced with the task of convincing the public something needs to be done to alleviate overcrowded classrooms, address traffic safety issues, and decide what should be done with the vacant Beechwood school.

At Monday night's school board meeting, members wrestled with a new facility timeline developed by administration to meet certain goals by certain dates, resulting in a November 4th referendum. The timeline indicates the referendum could include a new facility plan, and/or reopening Beechwood, and/or purchase land.

Although board members did agree to an April 23rd work session to start the ball rolling, the majority overwhelmingly indicated they would not be pressed to rush into selecting one facility model approach (K-4, K-5, K-6, or K-8 at the elementary level), to meet a deadline.

District administrator Dr. Charles Johnson had hoped for a decision on selection at that time, with an announcement of the model on April 28th, followed by the development of a study committee to review the Beechwood status, and the long range plan ready for review and approval at the school board's annual meeting, set for July 28th. "We need to have some kind of milestones here if we're going to have hope to achieve that goal, which was stated in Strategic Planning," he indicated. "It is an aggressive timeline, point blank."

Board member Larry Fechter stated that he felt the question of reopening Beechwood and the long range issue would be answered at a future date in a referendum, and wanted the option of moving a referendum up to April, 1998, depending on the progress made by the board and study committee. "What if we don't have consensus in November?," he asked. "I want that option."

Fellow board member Mary Andera agreed, adding that she felt community members should be involved in the actual selection of a model, with the study group formed and ready to join in the work sessions with the board. "I don't see the rush at all. This is way too fast, and I think people in this community need more time to listen and be involved in it."

"My main concern right now is I don't want to get into a situation where we've got 30, 40 kids in a classroom," board member Jon Downs expressed, "because we haven't done anything. Do we have some other options in case it (a referendum) doesn't pass?," he asked, Fechter said that they could be addressing that potential problem as soon as next year.

After reviewing the timeline board president Jean Goeden said the models will be discussed at the April 23 board work session, which is open to the public and they would take it from there. In the meantime, a committee will be formed to address facility plans, and any community members interested in being a part of the decision making process should contact one of the school board members.

Models Announced for Appreciation Luncheon

The final preparations are being made for the Seventh Annual Appreciation Luncheon and Fashion Show being held on Wednesday, April 23, at the Hon-E-Kor Country Club in Kewaskum. The event, sponsored by the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, is being coordinated by Wendi Dreher of Kewaskum.

The event continues to interest people from all facets. The invitation is extended to ALL who want to take an hour out of their busy schedule to relax while attending this entertaining luncheon.

Men are also encouraged to come and enjoy the festivities with their employees, wife or daughters. This would also make an ideal Mother's Day gift, so plan ahead and contact Wendi at 626-2428 for those last minute reservations.

Citizens Group Forming To Study School Facilities

A Citizens Committee is in the process of being formed in order to discuss the future of the School District of Kewaskum and facilities planning to address the needs of an ever growing district.

The membership of the committee will be made up of citizens and teachers of the district to form a group of around 20. Two citizens will be chosen to co-chair the group, and administrative staff will be available to answer questions about the various models, for informational purposes.

Any resident of the school district interested in serving on this committee should call one of the Kewaskum School Board members.

Kewaskum welcomes Shellie Anderson of Milwaukee as the village's new librarian, who officially began her new position on April 9th, replacing Nancy Bauer, who left to serve as children's librarian at West Bend's Public Library.

Anderson was previously employed as the Reference Assistant for North Shore Library in Glendale for the past year and a half. She received a bachelor's degree from Carroll College, majoring in math, and graduated this past December from UW-Milwaukee, with a Master's in Library Science. This program was one out of only 50 taught in universities throughout the country that earn approval from the American Library Association.

In-between her two college degrees, Shellie served as manager for Life Uniform in Brookfield for seven years, until she decided on a career change that would allow her to pursue her love for research, and meeting new people, which she finds an important

Welcome to April in Wisconsin

Ever heard of the song "April in Paris?" Can't compare to the new song written on Saturday called "April in Wisconsin!" You know the old saying... if you don't like the weather here, just stick around a day or two... it will change. As seen above, near white-out conditions were obvious Saturday as the Powers That Be (no letters, please) dumped nearly nine inches of heavy wet snow on us. Not to worry... it was almost gone by Monday evening... does that mean more is coming, or will Spring fool us again and come to stay this time?

Religious Expression Policy Sent Back to Committee for Fine Tuning

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Religion and religious expression in school is not a topic the Kewaskum school board is afraid to discuss, and after failing to pass the board's policy committee for recommendation of approval, board member John Schulte asked the board for input on the proposed policy 323.4 outlining and endorsing those areas of religion and religious expression that are permitted under current case law within public schools.

"Whether you have strong beliefs or not, that's not what this is about. This is what we do within our system. This is a guideline for our administration," Schulte told the board, adding that the policy was needed because of multiple infractions occurring throughout the years.

As an example, Schulte stated that the courts have ruled that if a student majority vote indicated they wanted a prayer during their graduation ceremony, they have to be given that freedom to uphold their tradition, which has been written into the policy. The policy also addressed other areas of concern, including the observance of religious holidays, the incorporation of religious themes as part of school sponsored activities and programs, the use of religious symbols (as part of a religious holiday) as a teaching aid, the inclusion of religious literature, music, art, and drama in the curriculum, student's freedom of expression, including private prayer, distribution of literature, and student initiated clubs.

District Administrator Dr. Charles Johnson backed the proposed policy, stating he believes it is needed to fulfill the district's mission statement, "to create a learning environment, reflective of the community, where students want to learn, teachers want to teach, and that parents will support." "This is not a factory," he maintained. "We're about the development of body, mind, and spirit, to some degree, of these children." The policy would serve as a guideline for faculty as to what is permitted and what isn't permitted.

Board member Jon Down, who voted down the policy at the committee level, said he did so for a number of reasons. "I think it brings up some things that could create more trouble than it takes care of," he remarked. "I have no doubt that this is with the best intentions, but for me personally to support this, there'd be a lot less of it." Schulte contended that the main reason for bringing this policy about was the misunderstandings that are out there and the lack of knowledge, and it was only to be used as an educational tool.

For future discussion, board member Larry Fechter asked the administration to supply information regarding what types of religious information were now a part of district curriculum, and the opinion of the district's legal counsel on exposure to a policy such as this on the district's books. "In a situation like this, you have to understand that if we do put this on our policy books, we better be ready to defend it, and that costs dollars, potentially," he stated. "We need to be very clear on this, because it's a hot button issue with the media and we're going to be scrutinized," Tom Timblin emphasized during the discussion. "I believe this board has the courage to take on this issue. We're not that far apart

(in opinions) but I believe some changes need to be made."

The policy committee, Dr. Johnson, and Mr. Schulte were commended by board member Neal Weare for taking the initiative to put the document together in the first place. "Unfortunately, I won't be here to help support it," he told the board, as he steps down from his seat next month for new board member Lisa Maul. "But if I had the opportunity I'll tell you right now, I would support it."

Board president Jean Goeden told Weare that it isn't that the board is not in support of the policy, but more discussion is needed to adjust the fine points, and it will be sent back to the committee for further work. Mary Andera asked the board to keep one thing in mind before the policy comes back for potential approval. "We'll never let fear be the basis of surrendering rights that we already have. This is our freedom, and because we're afraid something bad might happen, we're willing to give up that right. Freedom comes with risks, and we might be challenged."

Having a birthday party for your youngster? Experts say the best rule of thumb is to invite only a limited number of guests—at a rate of no more than 1 plus the child's birthday. That is two guests for a one year-old; three for a three year-old; four for a four year-old, and so on.

Cannisters Available For Fireworks Donations

For those of you who missed the deadline to donate to the annual Kewaskum Fireworks celebration on July 3, the above cannisters will be located in various businesses in the Kewaskum area for you to drop in those pennies, nickels and dimes that would otherwise just tear a hole in your pocket. (Best to get rid of that small change because everyone is just too busy to repair that hole in your pocket). The cannisters will also be located in strategic buildings (the beer garden and hamburger stand) at the fireworks, for those of you who enjoy the show and wish to contribute to next year's extravaganza. The deadline to contribute to this year's fireworks was April 15th, but due to the limited response we had to our plea for more funds for more fireworks, we twisted the Village Administrator's arm and we can still accept donations until April 20. The fireworks will then be ordered and if you haven't decided to contribute to the fun and sparkle by that time, you'll just have to pray for rain and wait until next year. Thank you... Thank you... Thank you... to those generous, community-minded people who have already donated. An official thank you listing their names will be published in the very near future. So if you would like to see your name printed with the rest of the contributors, clip the coupon (last time you will see it this year) on page 10 and send it in before Sunday. PLEASE???

Participants are asked to bring a pillow and a newborn-size doll.

The fee is $5 per couple. To register or for more information, please call St. Joseph's Community Hospital's New Life Center at 334-8361.

asset in a small town.

"I enjoy helping people find information, and I've always found small town life very appealing," Anderson stated, adding that she grew up in Waukesha and wanted to remain within the vicinity of Southeastern Wisconsin. "The library board was very positive about Kewaskum's library, and that was also a factor in my decision (to accept the position)," she related.

Her new role as head librarian comes with the challenge of completing the automation process, with a backlog of books needing barcodes for computerized service. "Eventually, we will be able to offer automated checkout," she explained, which will enhance the use of the library and bring it up to the speed and efficiency of other larger libraries in the area.

Another big project on Shellie's list is planning the annual summer library program for area youth, evolving around this year's theme, "Zap Into the Past," focusing on history and historical figures found in books.

Shellie is looking forward to meeting members of the community, and would like to remind everyone to visit their public library and take advantage of the wide variety of reading material available. Copy machines are also accessible for public use (25c per copy) and fax machines ($2.50 to send and $1.50 to receive).

Winter library hours are Monday and Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Fridays 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Saturdays, 9 a.m. to noon.

Summer hours will be announced next month.

Ostomy Support Group to Meet

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend is sponsoring a support group for people affected by an ostomy, a surgically-created opening that aides bodily function. The support group is meeting Thursday, April 24, at 7 p.m. in the hospital's conference room A.

The group meets on the fourth Thursday of each month and provides support and information. Facilitators are Carrie Kuehl, Donna Heisdorf and Marge Lloyd, R.N. Topics vary and occasionally guest speakers are invited. There is no charge.

For more information, please contact Donna Heisdorf at 334-7079 or Mary Theisen-Faber, education manager at St. Joseph's, at 334-8267.

Deanna Joyce Wagner, daughter of David and Kathleen Wagner of Kewaskum has recently graduated from the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee with a bachelor of science degree in Nursing. She also attended the University of Oslo in Norway studying International Nursing. Deanna is also a 1992 graduate of Kewaskum High School.

Deanna has served as Treasurer of the UWM's Nursing Student's Association. She was named to the Dean's List and graduated with Cum Laude honors.

Deanna has accepted a position as a Registered Nurse on the Intermediate Intensive Care Unit at Columbia Hospital, Milwaukee.

Trouble Sleeping? Get the Facts On Sleep Apnea

Dr. George Hambrook, a neurologist, will discuss the "A's to ZZZZZs" about sleep apnea in a program sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend on Wednesday, April 23, from 7 to 8 p.m. in the hospital's fourth floor east conference room.

Loud snoring and chronic daytime drowsiness are symptoms of sleep apnea, a disorder that causes people to stop breathing for a short period of time while they're asleep. Dr. Hambrook's presentation will educate participants about the disorder and how to get a good night's sleep.

There is no fee but registration is requested by April 16.

For more information or to register, call the hospital's health promotion services department at 334-8268.

KES Fifth Graders Hold 'States Fair'

On Friday, March 14, the "States' Fair" took place. It included information about different states and was hosted by all fifth graders at Kewaskum Elementary School in the cafeteria.

All fifth graders made a report, a visual display, and two creative projects of a state. The report consisted of several sections: industries, physical features, natural resources, capital city, interesting facts, etc.

The fifth graders could pick any two creative projects they wanted. Some of them even made more than two creative projects!

Fifth graders also created a State Circuit Board in Science class that had questions and answers about each student's state. Students answered questions by touching a wire lead from the question to an answer. If it was the right answer, a light bulb lit up. Before States' Fair, fifth grade students participated in this activity during their free time.

The State circuit board also ran during the States' Fair. The younger visitors read each question and tried to figure out the correct answer. Two fifth graders were there to help.

The state reports and creative projects were inquired about by many other students. The States' Fair project also inspired students to learn about their states.

Career Options Focus of Moraine Park Open House

Career opportunities and the pathways available to reach individual career goals will be the focus of Moraine Park Technical College's West Bend Campus Open House on Sunday, April 20 from 12 noon - 4 p.m.

Mo Josten, West Bend campus and community partner said the decision to call the open house "Career Options for Your Future" stemmed from today's changing workplace and the challenges people encounter when trying to change or enhance their careers. "There are so many ways to reach career goals and this is an opportunity for people to explore those options," said Josten.

The public will be able to attend eight different 20-minute workshops. The workshops will focus on specific careers or career-areas, helping people realize what options are available and best meet their needs. For persons uncertain of what career path they want to take, the Career Lab will be open to help people explore the numerous careers available in today's work force. "Today's students need to be more flexible and so do we," said Josten. "The open house will also make people aware of the different options Moraine Park now has available for taking courses --there are certificates, accelerated degrees, night courses. We're becoming more flexible to meet their needs."

The 12 workshops highlighting programs at the West Bend campus include: Industrial Screen Printing, Tool and Die Making, Career

Exploration, Chiropractic Technician, Electronic Office, Marketing, Accounting, Construction Apprentice, Health Information Technician, Nursing, Medical Transcription and Office/Computer careers. Each 20-minute session will be offered at various times throughout the afternoon and will focus on career options, job opportunities and career goals. Many workshops will also include hands-on opportunities and demonstrations.

Free child care for children three years of age and older will be provided, as well as refreshments.

For more information or exact times of workshops, call the West Bend Campus at (414) 334-3413.

Adult CPR Class Offered

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend is offering an adult CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) class Tuesday, April 29 from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the hospital's fourth floor classroom.

Participants will learn how to prevent a heart attack and what to do when one occurs. They will also find out what to do for an adult who is choking and earn American Heart Association recognition in one-person CPR.

The fee is $20, and the registration deadline is April 22. For more information, contact the hospital's health promotion services department at 334-8268.

Statewide Tornado Awareness Planned

Wisconsin lies on the northern fringe of the historical path of tornado destruction, aptly named "Tornado Alley." Many Wisconsin communities and people have felt the strength of a tornado--one of nature's most violent phenomena. No one can stop a tornado, but understanding how they are formed, when they occur, and what you can do to protect yourself, can help save lives.

Governor Tommy G. Thompson has proclaimed April 21 through April 27, 1997 as "Tornado Awareness Week." A number of activities are planned to inform all citizens of the dangers involved--and safety precautions necessary--in the event of a tornado. On Thursday, April 24th, a simulated tornado drill will be conducted statewide. Schools, office buildings, industries, factories, nursing homes, elder care facilities and hospitals are encouraged to take part.

Wisconsin's tornado activity occurs mainly during the period of April through September. The months of June and July have had the highest historical tornado frequency. However, tornadoes have occurred in every month in Wisconsin with the exception of February.

Tornadoes are the most devastating local storms that occur in the world. The National Weather Service has documented 1109 tornadoes in Wisconsin since 1844, causing 511 deaths and more than 2900 injuries. Wisconsin has averaged about 22 tornadoes per year over the past 30 years.

In 1996, the National Weather Service confirmed 21 tornadoes in the State, with the worst being the Oakfield tornado in Fond du Lac County. The tornado indirectly caused one death. In 1995 the state reported only seven documented tornadoes, which was significantly lower than the 35 tornadoes in 1994 and 37 tornadoes in 1993. Although tornadoes caused no fatalities in 1995, there were four tornado-related deaths in 1994.

Tornadoes usually develop from strong thunderstorms. Seen as an appendage to a thunderstorm cloud, a tornado funnel is initially composed of nothing more than condensed water vapor and is itself a cloud. When the circulating wind in the funnel reaches the ground, it picks up dust and debris which eventually darkens the entire funnel. The winds in a tornado turn counter-clockwise with speeds that can reach 300 miles an hour.

Generally tornadoes occur in the spring in the late afternoon on a hot day. But remember, tornadoes can happen any time. Often a series of tornadoes is formed from the same thunderstorm, and there have been instances when a single thundercloud has spawned two or more funnels simultaneously. As the parent thunderstorm moves along, tornadoes may form, travel along the ground, and dissipate or lift, followed shortly by other tornado touchdowns.

On the average, tornado paths are only a quarter of a mile wide and seldom more than 15 miles long. Most tornadoes move from the southwest to northeast at about 30 miles an hour. It's the longer-lived tornadoes, usually moving at more than 40 miles per hour, that are responsible for most tornado-related deaths. While most tornado damage is caused by the violent winds, most injuries and deaths result from flying debris.

EASY TO RECOGNIZE. You will have no trouble recognizing an actual tornado. It is a funnel-shaped cloud extending down from the base of a thunder cloud. As it touches earth, it writhes and twists throwing up debris in all directions. It is usually accompanied by hail, violent thunderstorms, and wind. Its noise is so loud it can blot out the sound of crashing buildings and falling trees.

When the skies look threatening, listen to the radio. A TORNADO WATCH means the atmospheric conditions are favorable for the development of tornadoes. A TORNADO WARNING means an actual tornado has been sighted or detected on radar in your area. Warnings are usually accompanied by a description of the speed and direction of travel of the tornado, and what communities are in its path. Learn the warning signals used in your community.

When a WATCH is issued, listen to broadcast advisories, and be ready to take cover. It is wise to collect a battery-powered light and radio and have family members within earshot under WATCH conditions. Also, take your car keys; should a tornado hit your area, your car still may be operable--but your keys could be lost in the rubble.

While there is no guaranteed safe place during a tornado, there are some locations that are better than others.

IN THE HOME

One basic rule to follow wherever you are is to AVOID WINDOWS. An exploding window can injure or kill. Don't take the time to open windows before a tornado strikes--take cover immediately. The safest place in the home is in the interior part of the basement, preferably under something sturdy.

If the house has no basement, or there isn't time to get there, the next best location is in the innermost hallway or a closet on the lowest floor. An interior bathroom also is a good place to go as long as it contains no windows. Getting under something sturdy, like a workbench or heavy table, gives added protection. If possible, cover your body with a blanket, sleeping bag or rug, and protect your head with anything available.

IN MOBILE HOMES

Do not stay in a mobile home when a tornado threatens. A tornado can destroy even the most securely anchored mobile home off its foundation. If you live in a mobile home community and there is no shelter, make arrangements with friends or relatives to stay with them dur-

TORNADO AWARENESS WEEK IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

According to James H. Pamperin, Director of Emergency Government, Washington County will again participate in the Statewide Tornado Safety Exercise in cooperation with the National Weather Service and Wisconsin Division of Emergency Management. It will be held on Thursday, April 24, beginning at about 1:15 p.m. and ending about 2 p.m.

All local jurisdictions, agencies and organizations are urged to participate in this drill to the extent deemed appropriate.

ing the threatening weather. In the event of a sudden TORNADO WARNING, leave your mobile home immediately and take shelter in a ditch or depression. Be alert for flash floods that often accompany tornados. Don't drive your car away or get under the mobile home for protection.

ON THE ROAD

Never try to out run a tornado in your car. If you see a tornado, get out of your car and look for shelter. If there is no substantial shelter nearby, get away from the car, lie flat in a ditch or depression away from trees, and cover your head with your arms. Be alert for flash floods that often accompany tornados.

WHEN OUTDOORS

If you are trapped outside and there is no basement or building nearby, get as far below ground level as possible. Take shelter in a ditch, ravine, or any low spot away from trees. Be alert for flash floods that often accompany tornados. The best chance of survival is to get away from the winds; don't stand up to watch the tornado's progress.

IN LONG-SPAN BUILDINGS

Buildings like sports arenas, shopping centers, grocery stores, and gymnasiums are extremely dangerous in a tornado because the roof is generally supported solely by the outside walls. If there's time, get into the restroom on a lower floor. In larger buildings, restrooms are usually made of concrete block. Stairwells also make good shelters. If you don't have time to get anywhere safe, at least stay away from windows and large panes of glass. Try to get under something sturdy and cover your head with your arms. Never seek shelter in cars in parking lots.

IN SCHOOLS, NURSING HOMES, OFFICE BUILDINGS

These buildings also can be dangerous. Not only is there a large concentration of people in a relatively small space, but these buildings usually have large amounts of glass on the outside walls. Go to the basement if possible or to inner hallways. Stay away from cafeterias, gyms, and glass windows and walls. Make yourself as small a target as possible by crouching down.

AFTER THE STORM

If a tornado should hit, remain calm. Most tornados are short-lived, lasting only four to five minutes. After the storm, inspect your property, including automobiles, for damage. Check immediately for electrical problems and gas leaks and report to utilities or the fire department if damage is imminent.

Stay out of damaged buildings until you are sure they are safe and will not collapse.

If you have extensive damage, contact your insurance company immediately. In the meantime, secure your property from further damage or theft. Heavy rains often follow a tornado. Take inventory of the damage to speed your insurance settlement.

Use only approved or chlorinated supplies of drinking water.

Check food supplies. Food may contain particles of glass or other debris. Discard canned goods with broken seams.

Notify your relatives of your safety. Local authorities may waste time trying to locate you if you don't send word. Make your calls brief; don't tie up the phone lines if they are needed for emergency calls.

Cooperate in the general clean-up of debris. You are responsible for cleaning debris from your own property. During repairs and clean-up, wear shoes and gloves. Glass, including fiberglass insulation, can injure unprotected hands and feet.

If you have not suffered damage, be a good neighbor and help those who need it. Local authorities usually are on the scene quickly to help you after a tornado disaster, and information will be broadcast on where you can get food, clothing, medical care, and temporary shelter in your community.

WHAT IF YOU ARE A VICTIM?

Do your best to protect yourself, your family and your neighbors from further damage. Make sure authorities are notified that you are a tornado

UWWC Lecture Series Continues

The Famous Wisconsin lecture series at the University of Wisconsin Washington County continues with "The Heart of John Muir's World," by writer Millie Stanley, on Thursday, April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 259.

Millie Stanley has lived in Marquette County, Wisconsin for over 25 years, so her roots are in the area where John Muir spent his youth. Her recently published book, The Heart of John Muir's World, shows the importance of family influences in Muir's personal life and as a touchstone in his wilderness adventures and preservation efforts. The lecture will include a slide show.

Stanley will describe Muir's youthful experiences on two pioneer Marquette County farms, and how that countryside impacted his later career.

This lecture is free and open to the public.

Civic Oration Contest Held At Wayne Elementary School

Fifth graders Aaron Breit, left, and Vanessa Dehling were the winners of the Civic Oration Contest held at Wayne Elementary School recently.

Describe an American invention, and tell how it's made life easier or better for Americans.

Fifth graders at Wayne Elementary School did just that recently, participating in the "Modern Woodmen of America's Civic Oration Contest."

Aaron Breit captured first place at Wayne with a speech describing not only the automobile, but how it has improved the face of the country's economy, as well. Vanessa Dehling was the runner-up in the Wayne contest with her speech about the sewing machine. Each will receive a trophy and a gold award pin.

The Wayne fifth grade orators were among the more than 85,000 students nationwide that take part in the contest each year. All participants will receive a certificate denoting their fine effort and hard work.

The annual contest, sponsored nationwide by Modern Woodmen of America Life Insurance, is promoted to provide students with the opportunity and incentive to develop and exercise oratorical skills.

Sheriff's Dept. Urges Caution To Residents About Solicitations

Recently, the Sheriff's Department has received complaints of an organization identifying themselves as West Lucky Star Incorporated of Surrey, British Columbia, Canada, who contacted a local resident and told him that he has a chance to win a very large lottery and gave him an 800 number to call. The resident called that number and it was explained that he now has a chance of winning $25,000. In order to register for that chance, the organization requested the citizen to give his credit card number to them. When the citizen advised he did not have credit cards, the organization asked for a certified check in the amount of $99. This fee was to administer a chance for the citizen to win millions of dollars.

It is not advisable at anytime to pay anyone money in order to win a prize, nor is it ever advisable to give anyone a credit card number. Organizations continue to make many dollars off of unsuspecting victims who believe that the organization they are dealing with is legitimate.

The Washington County Sheriff's Department cautions you to be absolutely certain who you are speaking to and to which organizations your donations may be going.

Recently, we have also had several complaints of solicitations on behalf of the local firefighters. If you get such a call, you might want to check with the fire department in your area to determine whether or not they are involved in any fund-raising activities.

Always be vigilant of someone you do not know when they try to solicit anything of value from you.

Sentry Bags a Work of Art

Shoppers at Kewaskum's Sentry Food Store may be taking home some original art with their food purchases.

To celebrate Youth Art Month, Kewaskum's Sentry Food Store will be using grocery bags decorated with a variety of art created by students of the Kewaskum Public Schools.

As in the past several years, the Kewaskum Sentry donated a large number of grocery bags for the student decorations. The art was added courtesy of students at Farmington Elementary School, Kewaskum Elementary School, Wayne Elementary School and Kewaskum Middle School, while the "Celebrate Youth Art Month" message on each bag was silk-screened at KMS.

"We're happy to be a part of it," said Sentry Food Store manager Mike Geidel. "Our customers really like the bags, too."

Each bag also contains a flyer with information about the upcoming student Art Show (the 17th annual!) at KMS in May. Titled, "Reflections of Our Learning," the show will feature artwork by students from FES, KES, WES, and KMS, and is open to the public. The show itself is May 8, with viewing at 6:30 p.m. and the awards presentation at 7 p.m.

Artwork will be on display for the public's view in the KMS hallways, too, anytime the week of May 5-8 during the regular school day.

The Sentry grocery bags and the Art Show are just two more district celebrations of art, which recently included numerous student awards and displays of student art at Kewaskum's Post Office, as well as at Bank Wisconsin and West Bend Savings Bank.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of my dear wife, our mother, and grandmother LAURA GATZKE, when the Lord called her to his heavenly home five years ago, April 13, 1992:

Our hearts still ache with sadness.
Secret tears still fall.
What it meant to lose you,
Only God will know.
When days and nights are lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
we seem to hear you whisper
Cheer up and carry on.
Each time we see your picture,
You seem to smile and say
"Don't cry, I am only sleeping,
We will meet again some day."

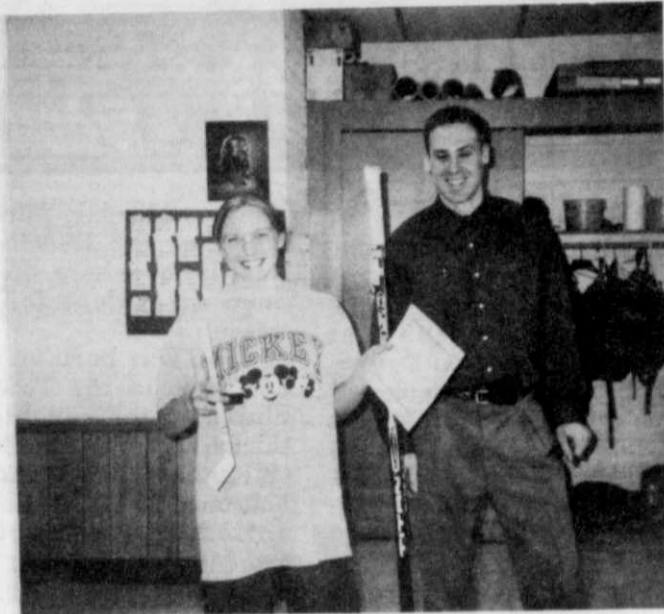

Deeply missed by her husband Norbert, children and grandchildren.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of LESTER J. SCHNEIDER, who passed away, five years ago, April 18, 1992:

Somewhere back of the sunset
Where the loveliness never dies
He lives in the land of glory
Mid the blue and gold of skies.
Gone from us who loved him
Into the Heaven of peace
The home of our loving Saviour
Where his soul is happily at ease.
His life is a beautiful memory
His absence a silent grief.
He sleeps in God's beautiful garden
In the sunset of perfect peace.

Sadly missed by his family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ARMIN OPPERMANN, who passed away April 19, 1975:
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day

But never will the one we loved
From memory pass away.

Sadly missed by Ginny and family.

KHS Girls Third at Oshkosh Invitational

The Kewaskum High School Girl's track team finished in third place with 32 points at the 40 team Oshkosh Invitational on Tuesday April 8th. Perennial power Mayville out ran all the competition scoring 66 points and Kimberly scored 37 points to finish in second.

Senior Marni Lynn of Kewaskum scored 18 points to led the Kewaskum team in her first meet of the season after missing the Bob Buel Indoor Championships held in West Bend in March due to family vacation. Lynn, who had won the 1600m run last year at Oshkosh, defended her title winning the 1600m run in 5:32.68. (Last year Lynn and New Holstein's Sheila Kubat battled the whole race with Lynn nipping Kubat in 5:27.91 to set the KHS indoor record.) A half hour later, Lynn came back and placed second in the 800 with a time of 23:29.63 just 0.46 seconds out of first. "Marni has started the season just like last year. Her pre-season running, swimming, and weight training has got her in good shape for the season," commented Jerry Gosa, the KHS distance coach.

Last year Lynn qualified for the Division 2 State Track and Field Meet for the third year in a row and placed sixth with a career best and school record 5:10.51 in the 1600m run.

Teammate, sophomore Carol Neumann, also picked up where she left off last year by running a career indoor best time of 2:35.95 in the 800m run to place eighth. Neumann and Lynn double up to give the Kewaskum team an excellent depth at the 1600m and 800m runs.

Shot putters, senior Rachel Nysse and Katie Yogerst, finished third and fifth respectively to add nine points to the team total. Nysse threw 35' 0" and Yogerst was exactly one foot behind this time at 34' 0" opposite their finish at the County Indoor. Last year Katie Yogerst placed second in the discus at the State Meet at LaCrosse with a school record 128' 9" and Rachel Nysse placed fifth in the shot put with a throw of 36' 9". The competition between these teammates will help both improve and provide excellent depth at these two events.

Junior, Carrie Wiesner, felt she didn't run well, but still placed seventh in the 55m high hurdles with a time of 9.68. Her teammate, junior Joanne Thull, actually felt worse, especially after falling when leading her preliminary heat. At the State Meet last year Wiesner placed sixth in the 300m hurdles in 47.62 and eight in the 100m high hurdles in 17.21. Along with Wiesner and Thull, senior Heather Downs and sophomore Jackie Michaels give the team exceptional depth at the hurdles.

The 800m relay team of juniors Mackenzie Downs and Carrie Wiesner, and seniors Ann Bodden and Jenny Jagielski, placed eight out of almost 40 teams with a time of 1:59.01. Jagielski, still not at 100%, finished with the ninth best time in the 55m dash preliminaries with a 7.97, and did not advance to the finals. At the State meet last year, Jagielski placed second in the 100m dash in 13.2 and third in the 200m dash in 27.03.

Senior, Jamie Gaffke, ran the 400m dash in 1:09.65 but did not place. Likewise, junior Sarah Bausch 4'6" high jump, senior Kathy Deshotels triple jump 28' 3 1/2", Emma Chambers 3200m run 14:49, and junior Jill Wichtoski long jump, did not place in the top eight over 40 competitors. The 1600m relay team of Jamie Gaffke, freshman Michelle Broughton, Joanne Thull and Jessica Repovsch finished in 4:54.4 and also did not place. The 3200m relay team of Emma Chambers, Jenny Immel, Lauren Steinhardt, and Carol Neumann also did not place. When asked how he thought the team did, first year girls head coach, Joe Kinney responded, "we did good."

Monday, April 14th, Kewaskum hosts Sheboygan Falls, Two Rivers, and Port Washington in a coed varsity and JV meet. Tuesday Hartford travels to Kewaskum for coed JV meet. On Thursday, April 17, Kewaskum travels to Plymouth for coed varsity and JV track meet. Kewaskum ends the week on Saturday at Concordia College for the Red Knight Invitational. Field events start at 10:00 a.m. and track events start at 11:00 a.m.

EWSCA NEWS

(PLYMOUTH, WI) The Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Association is set to kick off its 38th season of racing at the Sheboygan County Fair Park third-mile clay oval in Plymouth on Saturday night, May 3rd.

Over 100 drivers are expected to compete in three newly named divisions of competition. The former EWSCA Modified cars will be known as the Winged Super Modifieds beginning this season. In addition, the new Limited Late Model division has grown out of the original Sportsman class and the hobby Stocks will now be called Super Stocks.

The name changes in each division are a result of significant modifications and upgrades to the cars over the last several years.

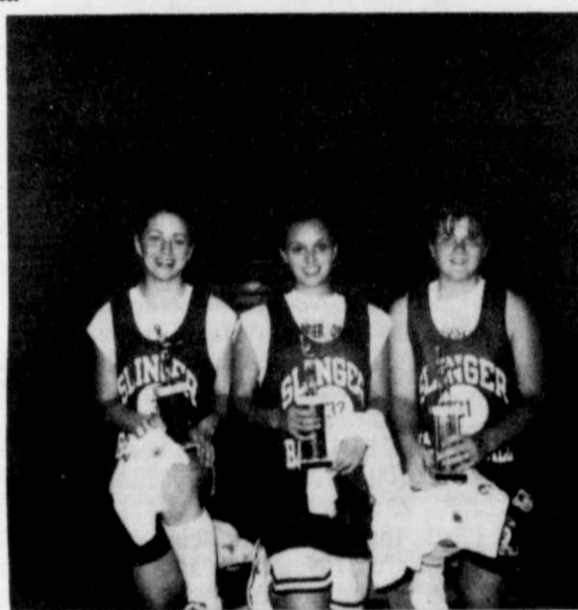

Special events on the 1997 schedule include the 13th annual Etchie Biertzer Memorial Race on May 24th, the Mid-Season Championships on June 28th, the third annual Pat Rand Memorial Race of Champions on July 5th, a special Labor Day racing program during the Sheboygan County Fair on Monday, September 1st and the End - of - Season Championships on Sept. 6th.

Two special autograph nights are also scheduled after the racing programs on July 26th and August 16th.

The annual EWSCA pre-season car show and brat fry is slated for Sunday, April 27 at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds. The event begins at 10 a.m. and runs until 6 p.m.

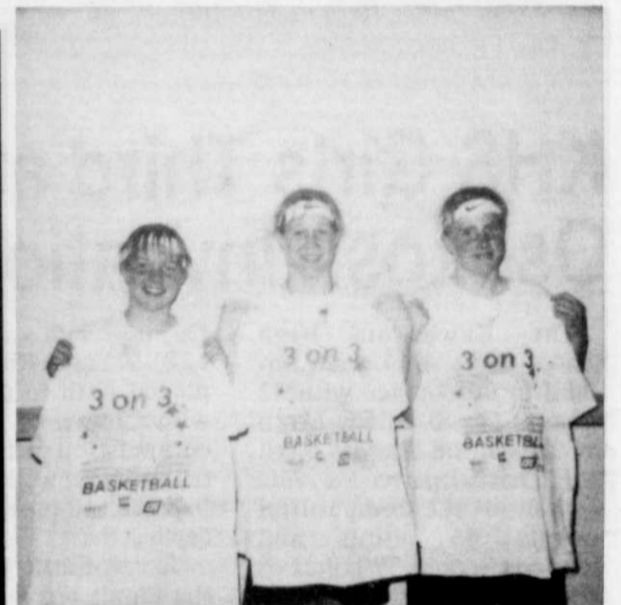

Regular Saturday night admission prices are $8 for adults 15 and over and $3 for youths 7-14. Children under 7 are admitted free. Time trials start each Saturday evening at 6 p.m. with racing to follow at 7 p.m. Gates open before every weekly racing program at 5 p.m.
