District Administrator Charles Johnson Resigns

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Dr. Charles Johnson

Kewaskum school board president Jean Goeden announced late Monday evening the resignation of district administrator Dr. Charles Johnson.

The unexpected announcement was made public after a special closed session meeting between the board and Johnson, which left Goeden and the rest "a little lost." She stated she was first made aware of Johnson's intent some time Monday morning and notified other board members in an effort to take quick action.

"We now have work to do because it's the beginning of the school year," she told reporters. "We've been in this position before, and we're going to move on."

Effective August 28, Johnson will leave his role as Superintendent to become the new Executive Vice President of the Free Congress Foundation, headquartered in Washington D.C., a conservative organization focused on public policy and national values. Headed by former Milwaukee Sentinel reporter Paul Weyrich, the foundation runs a cable channel, NET (National Empowerment Television).

The decision was equally sudden and overwhelming to Johnson, who said Tuesday morning that although it was difficult for him, key factors in leading him to accept the new position was support from his family and previous experience in Washington.

Johnson has a multifaceted background which includes 18 years of military service in the Marine Corp, earning the rank of major, and a medal and commendation for his heroic actions in Lebanon.

He also taught high school chemistry, math, and biology at a Minnesota high school, human resources management at Marion College in Fond du Lac, and worked for Sunnicht and Associates in Appleton as an investment advisor.

With a doctorate in administration, including policy analysis and education from Northwestern University, Johnson felt a call to Washington would give him a chance to combine his experience, and he leaves Kewaskum with regret and high regard for the community and the people he has had the opportunity to work with.

In a prepared speech Goeden read after the board reconvened into open session, she stated, "on behalf of the board, we may be saddened and disappointed, however, if he feels he must return to Washington, we wish him well."

Johnson was hired as acting superintendent in October of 1995, amidst a flurry of controversy that arose over his lack of DPI certification and experience, as well as the school board's

Lions Chicken BBQ, Kettle 20 Run Sunday

Summer is slowly drawing to a close with school opening in a short, short two weeks, but there's still time to pack in a few of the remaining favorite warm weather social events.

Topping the list for the weekend is the annual Kewaskum Lions Club Chicken Barbecue and Kettle 20 foot race scheduled for this Sunday in River Hill Park.

The Lions will be serving their delicious grilled chicken while runners from throughout the state of Wisconsin vie for the coveted first place finish in the 20 kilometer (12.4 mile) foot race event. Other runs include a 3.5 and a 5 mile race and will feature various men's and women's divisions.

The race is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. in the park. Registration begins at 7:30 a.m. and runs through the time of the race. Registrations have also been taken in advance.

Divisions for the Kettle 20 include six men's age groups: 1-17, 18-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59, and age 60 and over. The five women's age groups are 1-17, 18-29, 30-39, 40 and over and 50 plus.

Top male and female competitors will receive a trophy, followed by medals for second and third place, with ribbons being awarded for fourth and fifth. The two smaller races will also offer awards to the top place winners.

The entry fee for all racing events is $9 with a T-shirt, and $7 without on the day of the race. For more information on the race please contact Dale Squier at 626-2731. Squier was expecting around 175 to 200 runners to register.

Runners enjoy coming back to compete in this annual race because of the challenge of the Kettle 20 and the scenic beauty of the rolling Kettle Moraine terrain.

All runners also have the advantage of purchasing their chicken dinners for a special price of $4.00 each, but they must order their tickets before the race begins.

There will be six water stops along the route, located every two miles. Showers will be made available at the Kewaskum Middle School.

The Lions Club will be serving their delectable dinners throughout the day, beginning at 11 a.m. and running until 4 p.m. The cost is $7.00 with all the trimmings for 1/2 chicken. Carryouts will be available from 11 a.m. until closing.

The Lions plan on serving 700 chicken dinners so there's plenty for everyone. Beer, soda, hamburgers, ice cream and desserts will also be available at the park.

Whether you will be there to cheer on the runners, competing in the race, or just attending to sample some of the best grilled chicken in the area, plan on spending a little time in River Hill park and enjoy the toe-tapping country western sound of Dry Gulch. They will be playing

$5,639,354 Total Tax Levy Approved

School District Taxpayers Vote in Favor of Additional Debt Reduction

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Taxpayers of the Kewaskum School District voted 23-8 to allow the district for the second year in a row to reduce long term debt by levying additional moneys, as long as it permits stabilizing the mill rate at $10.56 per $1000 of equalized tax valuation, the same as last year.

Although exact figures will not be available until fall, district business manager George Allmann told those in attendance at the Annual Meeting and Budget Hearing that the amount should come in around 50 cents per thousand, a reduction from the past year, when $1 per thousand was levied to reduce the school district's loan payments.

District Administrator Dr. Charles Johnson told the electorate that the mill rate before the 50 cent levy has been estimated at $10.08, based on the assumption of a 7% increase in equalized value. Mr. Allmann accredited part of the decrease in mill rate to a $130,000 state aid hike, bringing this year's state aid total to $6,810,000, reflecting a 2% increase. Other factors will include student numbers and the exact equalized value.

Board member Tom Timblin, chairman of the school district's finance committee, stated that in the future state aid will most likely decrease, and if the mill rate is locked in at $10.56, taxes will be stabilized for three years.

"If we do down to the high nines or low tens (mill rate) there's a chance in the next couple years our taxes will go up. It's a win-win situation, and this is the recommendation from the finance committee."

As an example, a $110,000 house would see a school tax of $1,109, down from $1,162 in 1996, by $53.

Reducing the district's long term debt will save the taxpayers approximately $1,268,019 over the term of debt defeasement. An application of 50 cents per thousand would generate $280,000, and these funds would in turn buy U.S. Treasury Bonds reaching maturity in 2006. According to the school district, the money must be put in bonds, to be paid on the loan at a future date, since the loans are in generation obligation bonds, and cannot be paid off any earlier than 2006.

"In the meantime, it accrues interest," Dr. Johnson explained, "and can then be used against long term debt as well. So yes, it's paying off a year of debt way in the future, but in the meantime it's growing interest for the district and reducing long term debt year by year. Last year the board felt it was prudent to bite the bullet, if you will, for future generations, saving hundreds of thousands of dollars long term, maybe not just for us right here, but for people four or five years from now."

"The board doesn't have to bring this to the meeting," Dr. Johnson emphasized. "They have the authority to deliberate and decide on this," meaning the extra debt levy could be done without voter approval. Originally, the loan to fund the 1994 middle and high school building project was scheduled to be retired in 2008, but two years of levying debt reduction moneys from the taxpayers has also moved the schedule ahead by two years, and according to Allmann, thereby saving the school district over a million dollars in the long run.

At the July 28th meeting, the electors also approved a total tax levy of $5,639,354, up $117,763 from last year, reflecting a 2.2% increase. This figure is based on the 7% increase in equalized value. According to the Annual Meeting and Budget Report, the estimated equalized value of the school district is $559,396,645. The total school district revenue budget for the 1997-98 school year is $12,492,514, increasing $264,364 from last year, or 2.16%.

As Allmann explained the expenditures of the proposed budget, up 5.5% this school year, he pointed out that the biggest increase could be seen in staff additions and increase in instruction.

At the onset of the Annual Meeting, Dr. Johnson reviewed some of the highlights from the past year,

Kewaskum Frozen Foods Wins National, State Honors

Kewaskum Frozen Foods won national recognition for their winning entries in the American Cured Meat Championships held in Reno, Nevada, in conjunction with the 58th Convention of the American Association of Meat Processors.

ters/Wieners. Entries were judged on the basis of aroma, flavor, eye appeal, shape and texture.

The American Cured Meat Championships, held each year as part of the American Convention of Meat Processors, annually draws hundreds of entries from the entire United States and Canada. This year there were 485 entries in 23 product categories.

Kewaskum Frozen Foods is a member of the American Association of Meat Processors, the nation's largest trade organization representing small businessmen in the meat/food related industry.

They also attended the State Convention at the Holiday Inn in Madison this past spring where they received three more awards: Reserved Grand Champion, Coarse Cut Ring Bologna; Reserve Champion Fine Cut Ring Bologna, and Reserve Champion Skinless Wieners.

This year there were 855 entries in 31 product categories entered from meat markets throughout the state.

hiring practices. At the time, the lack of community input in the board's decision was criticized, and caused diversion between school board members.

Despite statewide media attention, the majority of the board stood behind Johnson, including past board president Neal Weare. He was granted a one year provisional license by the DPI, and went on to complete the required courses at UW-Madison and Oshkosh at the district's expense, to qualify for a Superintendent's license, which he received this past spring.

In 1996, after a formal search was initiated with community participation, Johnson was hired as permanent superintendent, and given a two year contract, effective until June 30, 1998.

"I think we've come a long way in two years," Goeden told reporters. "We've had him only a short time, and the things he's done for the district, we just have to continue in that direction." She credited Johnson for initiating a chain of command and taking responsibility for all decisions made within the district.

Goeden stated that the board will be working with the school district's attorney, Mike Spector, regarding contract penalties, official acceptance of the resignation, and the replacement process before the next school board meeting, scheduled for August 11.

which he considered a "year of growth." These included a brand new administrative team, a student academic assessment program, the completion of the first year of a three year curriculum revision, strategic planning implementation, development of a facilities study group committee, the first draft of Academic Standards in the core disciplines, and continual maintenance improvements.

District voters also approved an increase in school board member compensation for daily lost wages when they attend educational seminars, state conventions, and other district related programs, from $50 to up to $125 per day. The increase passed 17-14.

Approximately 31 electors participated in the annual event. Board member Jon Downs was voted in as acting chairman, and appointed Jeannie Jacak as annual secretary, and Clark Pearson and Marcia Theusch as tellers. Per request from school board president Jean Goeden, next year's Annual Meeting and Budget Hearing will begin one hour earlier, at 7 p.m.

Tuttle Creek Learning Center, Inc. Purchases My Little Friends Day Care

New owner of My Little Friends Daycare (Now Tuttle Creek Learning Center) Audra Beyer (left) with Shawn Roberts, who turned over the business to Audra on Monday.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Beginning this week, My Little Friends Day Care in Kewaskum has a new name and a new owner.

Audra Beyer of West Bend has renamed her new business, "Tuttle Creek Learning Center, Inc.," and officially took over this past Monday, ending Shawn Robert's 15 years of vigilance over many of Kewaskum's little ones, as owner/operator of the day care.

Roberts opened My Little Friends in 1982, with six children enrolled in the full day program. At that time, she was licensed for 14, increasing her enrollment to 40 when she added on to the center in 1988.

"I made this decision because I want to spend more quality time with my children" (Cole, age five, and Maura, 10 months), Shawn remarked. "I'll be keeping up my license to teach daycare, whether I work for Audra or somewhere else."

She credits her husband Wade, for being a strong supporter through the years, although he is ready and willing to hand over his volunteer maintenance position to Audra's husband, Michael.

"I want to thank all the parents and the community I've worked with through the years, meeting families, aunts, uncles, and grandparents," says Shawn. "I wish Audra the best of luck. I know the quality will be here."

Originally from Kenosha, Audra earned an Associate's Degree in Early Childhood from Gateway Technical College in Racine. She brings with her eight years of experience working in daycare, and looks forward to acquainting herself with the community.

"It's always been a dream of mine to own my own center," she relates. "I know it's going to be a very fun challenge, and it was my goal when I entered college." Audra presently lives in West Bend with her family, husband Michael, and two children, Hillary, age five, and Gracie, four.

Tuttle Creek Learning Center will continue to operate as it has previously; the only change will be in hours, opening at 6 a.m. instead of 6:30. Shelly Marx has joined on as Audra's assistant, the two having worked together in a daycare unit in West Bend.

"Eventually I'd like to add on so we could offer infant care," Audra points out. They now provide service for children ages two through seven, five days a week, in full and part-time positions. Currently, Tuttle

Creek has a few full time openings for children, as well as employment opportunities. Contact Audra at 626-4155 for more information.

A Stroll Down Main Street...

The second segment of our weekly "Stroll Down Main Street" (traveling east on the south side of the street), finally takes us across the railroad tracks to the site of the first Kewaskum Village Hall. According to "Kewaskum -- Then and Now," prior to 1902, the village had no storage space for its fire equipment, or an official village hall to conduct village board meetings. On February 3, 1902, the board passed a resolution to erect a village hall at a cost of $6,000. In November, the plan was approved at a referendum by a vote of 78 to 7. The building was in use from the time of its completion until the present municipal building was completed in 1950. The old village hall contained the police department, fire department, offices, village hall, jail, and later the library was located on the second floor. The librarian was Elsie Schleif. The building currently houses "Eccentrics by Kimetha," and the living quarters upstairs is occupied by building owner David Ramthun. The building was also owned by the Edward Czaja family. Previous tenants included the Henry Timblin Trucking office and prior to that Paul Blumer ran a shoe store called Paul's Shoe Corner in that location.

Panels to Be Sewn For AIDS Quilt

WEST BEND - Quilters, experienced and novices alike, will dedicate one day a month from now through February 1998 to create panels to include in the national Names Project AIDS Memorial Quilt.

A portion of the Quilt will be brought to West Bend in March 1998. Each three by six foot panel, the size of a grave, represents someone who has died of AIDS. The quilt panels become memorials to those who have died of the disease and helps personalize the loved one of the person who created it.

The ultimate goal of the quilt is to bring about education and put a tangible face to the numbers and statistics we hear about: they are real people. The West Bend AIDS Quilt Display committee is hoping to bring as many as 70 panels to the University of Wisconsin-Washington County Campus in West Bend for the March 1998 display.

Experience is not necessary to work on the project. Seasoned quilters will help beginners. Sewing machines and people willing to help with panel designs will also be provided. Creating a panel can be a very emotional experience; and counselors will be available at all quilting sessions for those who may need or wish to avail themselves of those services.

Quilters are asked to bring material, 100% cotton. Finished size of each panel is three by six feet. Quilt panel-making places and dates for the next several months are: Saturday, August 16, from 1 to 3 p.m. at St. Frances Cabrini Church, 1025 S. 7th Ave., West Bend; Thursday, September 18, from 7 to 9 p.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church, 140 N. 7th Ave., West Bend, and on Saturday, October 18, from 1 to 3 p.m. at St. Frances Cabrini Church, 1025 S. 7th Ave., West Bend.

NEWS OF HEALTH

Snacking—Intelligent Ideas

(NAPS)—Before you start munching on a snack, think about what's in the food you've chosen. If it's loaded with sugar, think again. Your teeth will thank you.

Damaging acids form in your mouth every time you eat a sugary snack and the acids continue to affect your teeth for at least 20 minutes before they are neutralized and can't do any harm.

So, the more times you eat sugary snacks during the day, the more often you feed bacteria the fuel they need to cause tooth decay. Starchy snacks can also break down into sugars once they're in your mouth.

Here are some smart-snacking tips from the National Institute of Dental Research:

- If you eat sweets, it's best to eat them as dessert after a main meal instead of several times a day between meals.

- Whenever you eat sweets—in any meal or snack—brush your teeth well with a fluoride toothpaste afterward.

- If you snack after school, before bedtime or other times during the day, choose something without a lot of sugar or fat. There are lots of tasty, filling snacks that are less harmful to your teeth—and the rest of your body.

- Smart snacking choices include fresh fruits and raw vegetables; grains in the form of bagels, unsweetened cereal, unbuttered popcorn, tortilla chips and pretzels; low or non-fat milk and dairy products; low-fat meat; nuts and seeds; and combination foods such as pizza and tacos.

- Although these smart

snacking foods are less likely to promote tooth decay, they may contain sugars. Check the label. New food labels identify sugars and fats on the Nutrition Facts panel on the package.

- Keep in mind that brown sugar, honey, molasses and syrups also react with bacteria to produce acids, just as refined table sugar does. These foods are also potentially damaging. Even some fresh fruits eaten in excess can produce decay, so brush after every snack and meal.

Thiemerdome Prepares for World Serious-Less

In spite of the absence of local media coverage (or maybe because of the absence of local media coverage), the "Over 40 Boys" showed some real stamina (something not usually found in ANYONE over 40) in their second last game of the season last week.

Due to a "command" appearance at the weekly Little League game (motherhood calls), this reporter was not able to catch the play by play at the Thiemerdome last week, but head cheerleader Ms. Cheryl reported the competition was INTENSE as the end of the summer softball season and the Thiemerdome World Serious-less rapidly approaches.

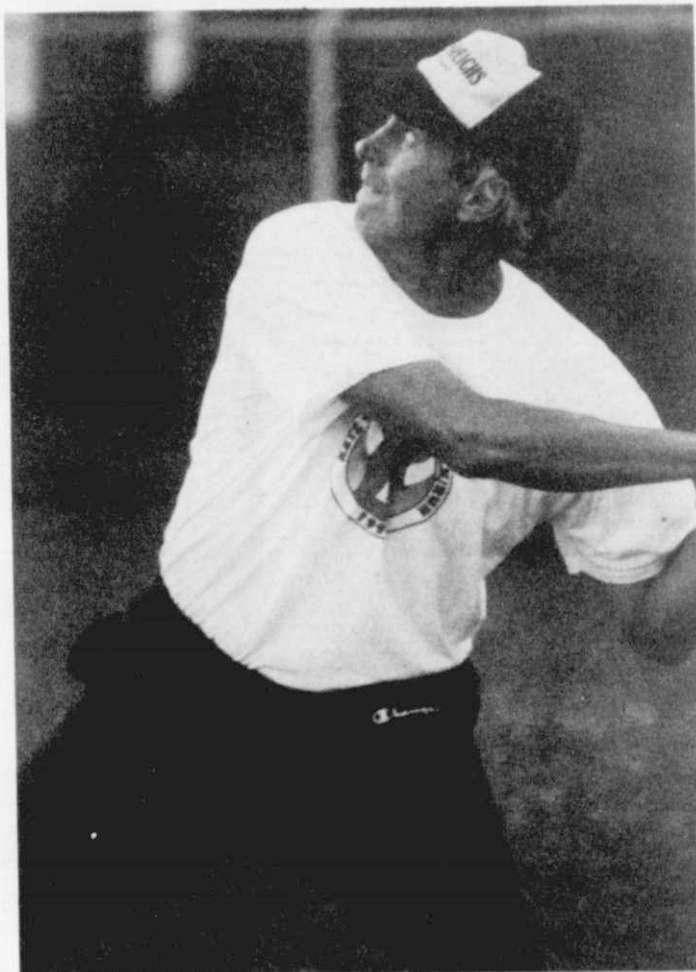

Rumors have been circulating that the Thiemerdome World Serious-Less has been scheduled for Saturday, September 6. (Do you think by that time you can have all your players healthy, Richard, or are you waiting until Little League is over so that you can disguise some of those players and bribe them to play on your team??)

I guess we know who will have the beer concession for the World Serious-less, but bids are being taken for the brat distributorship. And of course, spots are being sold for tailgate parties... talk to the head concessionaire Richard. First come, first served for the tailgate parties. (Unless you belong to the media... then you have a fire lane.)

Being the absent media person last week, I guess I cannot make any smart cracks about the gymnastics of the games, so I'll turn you over to the head statistician... yeah... you guessed it... our very own Richard!

The Thiemerdome had plenty of excitement with the Sip and Snippers squaring off against Amerahn, who had not up to this point lost any games. It only seemed right they should lose one game, especially in the absence of their ace arm, pitcher Art the Buss. Relief pitcher was also on the sidelines with a pulled leg muscle. (Darn... I missed all the use of the 911 hotline!)

However, Amerahn, called up Ray "Sneaky" Maurer who took over the pitching duties. It was a tight game until the bottom of the third. Even so, an error and two hits put Amerahn on top again, 2-0. As usual, Scotty "Sure Hands" Thelen walked

The Sip and Snippers added another newcomer, Mike Miller, who prepares to slam another one out of the park. (He didn't do it but he was prepared to do it.)

away, with a few more hits under his belt. (People under 40 don't wear belts). And to add insult to injury, Vern "Big Boy" Ludwig made some outstanding catches in right field. Of course, the two double plays didn't help the Sip and Snippers scoring possibilities, either.

Larry "Hammerin" Martin did sacrifice to send Roger "Dodger" Schneider home. (That Larry is such a nice guy... he's always making sacrifices for the other guy!)

In the top of the seventh, though, Mike "Physical" Miller got a hit along with Rick "Quick" Leider, and the outcome of the game looked shaky as the Sip and Snippers threatened, but as fate would have it, Dave "Smudley" (where do they come up with these names??) Schmidt picked up a key smash hit from Roger "Dodger" and made another double play to end the game taking the wind out (I'm not touching that one with a ten foot pole) of the Sip and Snippers who ended up clipped, 3-1.

Commercial Plumbing and Kuehl's Suds and Spirits stayed tie until the fourth inning when Kuehl's went on a hitting streak. Even Greg "Schnibby" Gutjahr, who finally "cured" that pulled muscle tried to sneak a single into a double. But a fantastic one-armed, one-legged catch by Tom Fischer ending in a double play concluded the seventh inning. Al "Moochie" Kuehl and the Suds boys were real relaxed finally not having to play "catch-up" ball, but then Commercial started to rally. Even "Kid" Virgil got on track with a key hit to help the cause. But, where, or where, is his sidekick John "The Plumber" Klahn. He must still be in Branson absorbing country western music. Marlene... please send him back to Wisconsin... the team needs his leadership.

Commercial still threatened when Steve "Wiener" Stern, who made a dramatic catch the inning before (darn... more gymnastics!) hit into a double play to end the game, 8 to 5, with Kuehl's Sudsers finally coming back on track.

NOTE FROM RICHARD: The media's space was open throughout the game... (what... no one stole the sign??) and the guys had their hair all combed for picture night... but no Lana. But according to the Richard, all is forgiven because they realize we're grooming Little Leaguer Dustin (last year) to be an "Over 40 Boy" someday so he can play as well as Uncle Moch. However, Richard adds, Dustin probably has a brighter career on the horizon. (Don't quit your day job, Moch!)

Don't forget to call Richard and reserve your spot for the World Serious-less!

Kewaskum School District Residents:

Serving within the Kewaskum District for the past two years has been an honor, a joy and a real blessing. We sincerely thank the Board of Education and the Community leaders who brought us to Kewaskum and stood by in support of the education changes initiated. My wife and I deeply regret having to make a decision to leave. However, I believe God has called us in this new direction. I will say this: if I do little or harm in the coming years I will not hide from my responsibility or accountability, but if on the other hand we contribute in some way, if we succeed, we will refer to Kewaskum as the source of that contribution; the community who believed in us and gave us the chance. We remain grateful always.

Letter to the Editor:

After 15 years in the Day Care business, Shawn (McElhatton) Roberts is selling her business and raising her children. We want to take this time to thank her for the many years she has helped countless families with day care when they were working. When we dropped our son off at her day care, we always knew he would be well fed, loved and cared for like her own and kept stimulated through daily projects. It was nice knowing he was in such good hands. Thank you for being a positive influence in our son's life also. We really appreciate the care you gave. It was over eight years ago, but we still remember and thank you.

To the Citizens of the Kewaskum School District,

The Community Facilities Planning Group has been exploring all possibilities for using buildings and land that the district already owns to meet the needs of rising enrollments. Is it possible to accommodate the number of future students without purchasing new land?

Currently, FES is located on 20 acres, WES has 10 acres, and BES is on seven acres. These schools can be expanded to accommodate more students at the elementary level. The schools located within the village do not have the advantage of extra land surrounding the schools. KES is located on seven acres, and all space is being used. Much of the land around the KMS and KHS is not suitable for building, and space for athletic fields must also be considered.

According to the best projections, KHS will reach capacity in seven to 10 years. The middle school, although recently remodeled, will be the first to reach capacity. One option that will be considered is the possibility of moving the sixth grade to the elementary schools. The middle school building could house the seventh and eighth grades for 14-19 years without further additions.

If expansion occurs at KMS or KHS, choices for building are limited. The land directly north of KMS and some to the east of the back parking lot can only be used for athletic fields or parking. The only land suitable for building is located at the new football field or between the two schools.

Accommodating the needs for playing fields will be a challenge. The question of whether the football field might become dual-purpose, and also serve as a baseball field, was raised. The field is too small for this, and would create a safety hazard. The committee has also been checking into the practicalities of making an arrangement to share facilities with the Kiwanis Community Park.

The group has toured most of the schools in order to evaluate the buildings and needs for space first-hand. They will soon be meeting with Johnson Bus to discuss transportation concerns.

The Community Facilities Planning Group is intended to represent the voice of the community in school district's plans for the next 15 years. Please feel free to contact any member of the group with your questions, comments or concerns, and know that your input is appreciated. Notices of meeting locations and dates will be published in local newspapers.

*Ohayo gozaimas,
(Polite way to say Hello
in the morning.)*

The weather has been great so far, very warm in the Tokyo area and cooler in the mountains. Typhoon hit Japan on Friday, July 25th. It was in the southern area below Kyoto. There was much wind and rain but no one was injured. According to local people this storm was not very severe.

The youth from Wisconsin and the rest of the delegates from the United States are having a great time. Some of the attractions they have been seeing are: Japanese schools, Buddhist temple, fireworks, LABO Camp similar to 4-H Camp and Tokyo Disneyland. Using chopsticks to eat has been a challenge to some of the youth as well as ourselves.

Everyone has had the chance to try many different foods and found out they are very delicious. LABO parties have been a big hit with the youth. Here they meet Japanese youth from age two to 20. These meetings are where Japanese youth get together to practice English both by doing activities, games and singing songs. Many new friends are being made by our 4-H'ers. Welcome parties are popular and potluck dinners are served. Some of the best dishes are made such as noodles, vegetable and tuna pizza, tropical fruit, rice cookies and crackers with tea, orange juice, apple juice and Coca Cola to drink.

The cultural experience has been great and youth are able to see how other people around the world work, live, eat and have fun. Family units are very close knit in Japan and watch out for one another. Many times as many as three generations live in one house. Daily chores like wash, dishes, feeding animals and house cleaning are shared by all family members.

School is just getting finished for many Japanese youth. They get only one month of summer vacation and get work from school to do during that time. Exercise and eating healthy are top priorities in their lives. School work is very important because they must take a test to get into High School as well as University.

Sunday, July 27th we attended a Welcome Party in the city of Chino where we are staying. This city is a sister city to Longmont, Colorado and eight youth and two chaperones from Colorado were doing an exchange and visiting many places throughout Japan. The Japan International committee had drum presentation by youth and songs played on Koto-Japanese harp and bamboo flute-Shakuhachi. Mayor from Chino was present and we had the opportunity to meet and speak to him. Again the food and drink was plentiful and hosts were friendly. Fresh watermelon was delicious!

If weather clears we will go to Shinto Temple and see flying squirrels and by the end of the week use more modes of transportation to move onto another host family in Northern Japan whom we hosted their daughter Satoko for

Farm Family Brownies

In 1895, Norwegian Nels Volden bought 40 tree-covered acres in western Wisconsin. Today, just three names appear on the deed, all descendants of Nels. The Volden Brothers Partnership—Dan, Carl and their families—owns registered Holsteins on a 450-acre farm. The family still honors Nels' conservation ethic: 200 acres are still wood-covered, and in 1986 the farm was named the Outstanding Wisconsin Conservation Farm.

- 1/2 cup cocoa
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup butter
- 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 large eggs, slightly beaten
- 1/2 cup buttermilk
- 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

Preheat oven to 350°F. Lightly butter a 9" x 13" baking pan.

In a small saucepan, add cocoa, water and butter. Cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, just until butter melts and cocoa dissolves. Remove from heat.

In a large mixing bowl, combine flour, sugar, baking soda and salt. Stir in cocoa mixture and mix until smooth. Mix in eggs, buttermilk and vanilla. Pour batter into prepared baking pan. Bake for 30-35 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean and brownies pull away from side of pan. Do not overbake. Cool completely. Spread with Chocolate Nut Frosting and cut into squares.

IN MEMORY

In memory of MERLIN J. DREHER, who passed away 10 years ago, August 3rd.

We don't think of him as gone away, his journeys' just begun.

Life holds so many facets this earth is only one.

We think of him as resting from the sorrow and the tears in a place of warmth and comfort where there are no days or years.

We think of him as living in the hearts of those he touched.

For nothing loved is ever lost, and he was loved so much.

It's been ten long and painful years Dad, since you walked among us

Time passes slowly, we miss you deeply
But, we can feel how much you love us.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ISADORE STAHL, who passed away seven years ago, August 4, 1990:

Where has the time really gone?

Only you can answer that
You look down on us and laugh

We're all racing around
While you sit up there all sound.

Your life is full of peace
While we try to fill our lease of life on earth.

Where has the time really gone?

In the quiet times we remember

All the good you brought to us
We can't forget that grin
Even though we lost you to the wind.

Our hearts are heavy, our thoughts are strong.
Of our dear Grampa up in the sky.

The time will come,
When we will see you again.
When will that time really come?

Only God knows
Until then, dear God

Pets Are Waiting to Be Adopted at Puppyland

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Six eight-week-old blue heeler/lab puppies alternately wrestle and lounge in a shaded pen. Three mama cats nurse their babies inside the cool of a building filled with animal crates, various pet supplies, and a 150 pound dog of questionable ancestry named Bandit, who is just one of a variety of dogs who range in age from six months to nine years, waiting to be adopted at Puppyland Humane Society.

Summer is a busy time for the shelter, located at 3456 Hwy. D, in West Bend. Over 30 cats are presently housed at Puppyland, some needing medical attention. A large 10x10 foot outdoor cat enclosure is filled with kittens, toys and Igloos, while a second story serves as a hospital for those who need the extra care.

The work never ends, and if you ask Marilyn and Richard Smith why they are doing this, they'll tell you quite honestly they don't know. "We certainly didn't intend to get so involved," Marilyn confirms, as she greets visitors, answers the phone, and tends to the animals seven days a week, with help from many local volunteers.

The couple, both in their late sixties, manage the "All-Volunteer-Non-Kill Shelter," because they don't believe an animal should die just because they are homeless or because the mainstream Humane Society is full or a certain time period has elapsed. "So many people tell us we're doing a good job, and that keeps us going," Smith explains.

Puppyland was the original Washington County Humane Society, opened in 1949 by Joe and Renetta Koelsch, who first began collecting stray or unwanted animals in their home around 1934. It remained in trust after their passing, and through the years managed to stay open under the care of a variety of people, including John Vorpahl and his family, who live next door to the shelter.

A nephew to the Koelsch's, he serves on the shelter's Board of Directors, and was looking for a caretaker after Puppyland stood vacant during a three-year shutdown. It was at that point in time the Smiths entered the picture.

Marilyn, a former teacher's aide at West Bend's McLane School for 28 years, and Richard, past president of the West Bend Credit Union (now Glacier Hills Credit Union), can't remember a time when kids, dogs and assorted animals haven't been a part of their life together. Richard is also past treasurer of the Washington County Humane Society in Slinger.

"That's really where we became involved in the needs of animals," Marilyn recalls, and although they both pictured retirement differently, their commitment to Puppyland is reflected in a record total placement of all animals brought to the shelter.

"Eventually we find a home for every life brought to us, even if they are with us two or three years," Marilyn points out, and that includes the cats. Stories circulate of Rosie, the blind dog, who found a home with a family; and Lady, a black lab rescued after eating marsh hay and wood chips just to survive, who now lives with an elderly man in Kewaskum.

There are also the victims of steel-jaw leg hold traps, a device already banned in five states. Whether pets are surrendered by a family who can no longer care for them, or rescued as strays, they are all treated with kindness and concern for their welfare.

Commitment means proper food, housing, health checks, inoculations, medicine, exercise, grooming, and regular attention. The shelter credits Dr. Buchard of Woodview Veterinary Clinic for support, medical advice, and much work at little cost.

Puppyland exists through the work of volunteers, which includes many teens who help out during the summer months.

Donations, fund raisers and collections of We-Care receipts from Pick and Save keep the shelter open. Presently, they are trying to raise funds for a much needed septic system, and promote their work through educational programs in schools and dog training classes held at the shelter.

Two large aluminum building house the animals as well as supplies, and Marilyn adds that although they aren't the greatest, little by little, improvements are being done with help from supporters. "We do the best with what we've got. We may look old and shabby, but we make do for the animals," she asserts.

When the Smiths aren't at the shelter, they enjoy spending time with their family, which includes three sons, six grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. Marilyn still volunteers her time at McLane School, where she reads to kindergartners and Richard trains bus drivers for Johnson Bus.

Currently available for adoption are a beautiful two-year-old German Shepherd, a four-year-old chocolate colored Cocker, a German Shorthair Pointer, a nine-year-old Yellow Lab, six-month-old Sheltie mix, a year-old Keeshond, a pitbull mix, Scrappy, a six-year-old neutered mixed breed, and big Bandit, along with cats and kittens of all ages. Prospective owners are allowed to take the pets home on a trial basis.

Puppyland is open daily from 10 a.m. to noon, and 3:30 to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday from 10 to noon only, although Marilyn says she is usually there the entire day, accompanied by the Smith's own five dogs.

"I know there's far too many animals, far too many," Marilyn reflects. "Our goal is not to build a new and beautiful shelter. Our goal is to stop the need for any humane society. We'd like to be put out of business due to the lack of need for such a facility. Before you get a pet, think about everything that is involved... time, needs, money, space. Then make sure that pet becomes a good citizen."

Saturday is Application Deadline For Fall Turkey Hunting Season

MADISON -- Turkey hunters set another harvest record during the spring hunting season in Wisconsin this year, reflecting the continued growth of the state's wild turkey population and the increasing popularity of turkey hunting.

Hunters registered 20,427 turkeys this past spring compared to 18,000 in 1996, says Bill VanderZouwen, chief of wildlife and landscape ecology for the Department of Natural Resources.

"The spring turkey harvest has increased each year since the first spring turkey season was held in 1983, which indicates how successful the turkey reintroduction program has been in Wisconsin," VanderZouwen said. "Popularity of the sport has also increased, with more than 100,000 hunters applying for the 92,340 permits that were available this spring."

Wisconsin reintroduced wild turkeys to the state in 1976. Wisconsin's original wild turkey population was wiped out in the early 1880's, due primarily to unregulated hunting and diseases from domestic poultry.

The overall hunter success rate for the Spring 1997 season was 22% for all permit holders, including hunters who received permits but who, for one reason or another, did not participate in the hunt, VanderZouwen said.

"This was a similar success rate to last year and above the recent average, despite two summers of below normal turkey reproduction," he said. "The harvests and hunter success rates indicate to us that the turkey population is still growing, particularly outside of the core southwest area where the population appears to have stabilized."

Turkey hunter success was 34% in period A, 29% in period B, 19% in period C, 21% in period D, 14% in period E, and 14% in period F. Turkey hunting zones with highest success rates included 17 (28%); 18 and 23 (27%); 7, 30 and 33 (26%); and 19 (25%). Zones with harvests exceeding 900 turkeys included zones 2, 3, 4, 7, 18, 22 and 23.

Based on these harvest results and the fact that DNR biologists believe there was good turkey reproduction this spring, VanderZouwen said he expects permit levels for the spring of 1998 will likely exceed 100,000 for the first time. That number could change, however, based on 1997 fall season results, he added.

The application deadline for the 1997 fall turkey season is August 10. There will be 32,200 permits available for the fall season, which will be conducted in one continuous season from October 13 through November 9. Last year, more than 57,000 hunters applied for the 31,625 available permits for the fall season.

The DNR's turkey advisory committee is currently considering a proposal to extend hunting hours for the spring season. Currently the spring season closes at noon each day.

"People attending the April fish and wildlife rules hearings overwhelmingly expressed support for all-day spring turkey hunting," Vanderzouwen said. "Experiences in other states, including Iowa, show there are no adverse effects from all-day spring turkey hunting."

If the state Natural Resources Board develops a proposal to extend spring hunting hours, the public will be invited to vote on the proposal at next spring's fish and wildlife hearings; any changes would first become effective in 1999, VanderZouwen said.

Hansen Wins At Slinger

SLINGER -- Scott Hansen (Concord, NC) won the first two scheduled 50 lap late model features during Round 3 of the Surge Triple Crown Series presented by Clark on Sunday night, August 3, at the Slinger Super Speedway.

The visiting driver from North Carolina waged a tremendous battle the entire race with Jamie Wallace (Pell Lake) as the two raced door to door for much of the first feature.

Hansen, who started in the third position, finally pulled in front of polesitter Wallace, working lap 46 and would take the checkered flag by less than a car length, as Conrad Morgan (Wales) moved up to make it a three car battle over the remaining four circuits.

Hansen would use the high groove of the track to hold off Wallace after Wallace had used the high of the two lanes to hold the lead early in the race. Wallace pulled under the leader on a number of occasions but was unable to make the pass stick and would finish ahead of the hardcharging Morgan.

Morgan, who held the lead coming into the championship round of the three race Surge Series, started in the 13th spot and would end his night third.

Rounding out the top five was Lowell Bennett (Nee-nah) and David Prunty (Lomira). The victorious Hansen explained that he had to use the outside lane because his engine lost a cylinder late in the race and it was the only way to keep the rpm's up to hold off a determined Wallace. Hansen also claimed the Bumper to Bumper Half-Way Challenge by leading on lap 25.

The night would come to a screeching halt after the first feature as the sky opened up, and rain forced the cancellation of the remaining action.

Morgan would gain enough points on the strength of his third place finish to claim the overall title of the Surge Triple Crown Series presented by Clark, with a total of 285 points.

Wallace, who earned 257 points, squeezed out second place in the overall standings by one point over Hansen, with Brad Mueller (Random Lake) and Bennett rounding out the top five with 235 and 213 points, respectively.

Tony Strupp (West Bend) won the Parts Plus Trophy Dash and Mueller was fast qualifier with a lap of 11,595 seconds on the "World's Fastest 1/4 Mile."

In the limited action for the Midwest Modified Division, fast qualifier for the evening was Tim Bell (Wadsworth, IL) with a lap of 12,227 seconds. Jeff Holtz (Franklin) won the Modified dash and Brian Holtz (Franklin) won the Modified heat.

Slinger Stinger Street Stock action saw Paul Wagner (West Bend) set fast time with a lap of 13.482 seconds and Tod Branneis (West Allis), Roger Schmid (Oconomowoc) and Randy Gindt (Allenton) and each won their respective heat races.

A's Playoff

The Kewaskum A's had a big weekend that swept them into the playoffs in one league and kept their hopes alive in another.

The Athletics travelled to West Bend on Friday night where they hung a 16-12 defeat on the Benders. The victory ran Kewaskum's Tri-County Nite League record to 7-3, good for a four-way tie for third place. After a series of tie-breakers were administered, the A's landed the fourth and final playoff spot.

The Athletics were scheduled to play the Slinger Stingers in the opening playoff game at Hustisford on Wednesday night. Should they be victorious, the A's will travel to Rubicon on Saturday, August 9, for the second playoff game.

In the playoff berth clinching game, Dane Dorn went the distance on the mound for Kewaskum. Dorn walked four to run his record to 5-2. Offensively, Ryan Hall, Dave Donath, Tim Gundrum and Bob Bothe each had two hits. Doug Gonring crushed a two-run homer. The biggest bat of all, however, was swung by Curt Schroeder. He went five for five with five RBIs.

Saturday and Sunday found the A's on the road for a pair of Rock River League contests. Their first victory was the Oakfield Oaks. Kewaskum outscored the Oaks by an 11-7 score.

The hit parade was led by player/manager Dave Donath. Donath continued a month-long hot streak by blasting a homerun among his three hits. He drove in five runs on the day. Ryan Hall and Kevin Klahn each collected three hits with Hall crossing the plate four times. Doug Gonring and Terry Koth added two hits each. Hall, Gonring and Bob Bothe all hit homers to end any Oakfield hopes of victory.

Tim Gundrum started on the mound, going four innings and allowing seven runs on seven hits. Bob Bothe turned in a sterling relief effort to pick up the win. Bothe pitched the final five frames, allowing no runs, six hits, two walks and striking out one.

The Athletics concluded their highly successful weekend by handing the Berlin Reds an 11-5 setback. Matt Schneider earned seven strong innings to earn the victory. He struck out seven, while walking no one. Dan Jeserig mopped up the final two innings in relief.

Doug Gonring led the offensive charge. He was four for six, homering for the third consecutive day. Gonring also drove in four. Kevin Klahn, Scott Donath, Bob Bothe and Matt Sternig each contributed two hits to the cause.

The wins ran Kewaskum's Rock River League

Northern Division record to 8-8 and kept their playoff hopes alive. Makeups of a couple of rainouts, along with the Tri-County playoffs will make for a very busy weekend for the A's. Friday night they travel to Oshkosh for a Rock tilt. The Horicon Honkers come to town on Sunday for a double header, with the second game being a makeup of an earlier postponement at Horicon.

Remember the Old Timers Reunion/Game on August 16 at the Kiwanis Park in Kewaskum.

Bob Bothe heads home after hitting the game, 7-7 in the sixth inning.

KHS Seniors Shine at First Baseball Classic

The first annual Senior Classic baseball game between the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and the Central Lakeshore Conference turned out to be all that the coaches hoped it would be. On Saturday, August 2, at Carl Loebe Field in Plymouth, 22 seniors from the EWC, the home team, squared off against 17 seniors from the CLC.

A crowd of over 200 people were treated to a nine-inning game packed full of exciting plays. For five and one half innings, batters rose and fell, keeping a 0-0 battle alive.

In the top of the fourth, Ryan Tresp, a Sheboygan Falls second baseman, made a diving stop and threw out the baserunner for the third out and the threatening runner from third lost hope of scoring. In the top of the seventh, with CLC runners on first and second, and two outs, a base hit to right was fielded by Plymouth's Jake Montaba. Jake tapped the third out with an amazing throw, shooting the runner down at homeplate.

The five seniors from Kewaskum proved to be the major factor in the 4-1 EWC win. After the battery of Ken Immel and Ryan Toshner (pitcher/catcher) of Campbellsport held the CLC scoreless for the first three innings, Coach Roger Jones inserted the Kewaskum batter of Dan Jeserig and Bruce Gundrum to handle the fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

At the same time, Kevin Martin was put in to cover left field. Jeserig pitched the three innings, allowing no runs and only one hit. He struck out five of the 11 batters he faced.

In the top of the fifth inning, after a CLC batter reached first on a throwing error by the second baseman, the very next pitcher saw catcher Bruce Gundrum gun the runner out as he tried to steal second.

With a score still at 0-0, the bottom of the sixth exploded for Kewaskum and the EWC.

With Plymouth's Ethan Nordyk on third, poised to score, Indian Dan Jeserig came to the plate. Smashing a ground ball into the hole between third and short for a base hit, Danny drove in the first run of the game.

The next batter was Bruce Gundrum. After Jeserig moved to second on a wild pitch, Bruce scored Dan with a long base hit to centerfield. A following walk and wild pitch put Bruce at third. Now batter Kevin Martin stood at the plate. Losing pitcher Josh Need of Oostburg, threw another wild pitch allowing Bruce to charge across the field for the next run. Martin finished his at bat with a walk.

In the inning, the EWC scored three times allocating 3 RBI's to Kewaskum players, and two runs scored by Kewaskum players. Jeserig also became the pitcher of record and got the win.

The Indians Mike Danielson and Josh Christophersen played the seventh, eighth and ninth innings for the EWC. Mike played first base and Josh replaced teammate Kevin Martin in left field. In his only at bat, Mike centered a long ball over the centerfielder's head to claim second base. He ended up scoring the fourth and final EWC run. Hampered by a work injury to the hand reopened in batting practice, Josh's lone at bat was not productive.

All totaled, the Indians produced three of the four RBI's, scored three of the four runs and provided the winning pitcher. Campbellsport's Erik Muench pitched the seventh and eighth for the EWC giving up the only CLC run. Dave Wulff of Sheboygan Falls pitched the ninth and was credited with the save.
