Open House at Butler Financial Tuesday

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Butler Financial is extending an invitation to the community to attend their Open House scheduled for Tuesday, October 28, from 3 to 7 p.m.

Located at 1551 Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum, the family owned and operated business purchased the historical cream city brick building on October 31, 1996 from Dan and Cheryl Kerlin, and spent the next five months completely renovating the interior into workable office space. Donna and John Butler hired R & R Home Services to design and complete the project, and the result is a comfortable mingling of a home with a professional attitude.

The interior of the 140 year old structure was completely gutted down to the brick walls, and improvements included all new plumbing, heating and electric, an addition on the west side of the building, new garage, parking area, wheelchair ramp and second exit to meet all accessibility codes, exterior painting and landscaping. "We kept all the walls and worked the floor plan from there," Donna points out. "By doing this we felt we would retain the uniqueness of the building."

The interior layout contains a foyer and reception area, three offices, a kitchenette, and a large conference room set off with French doors. The Butlers have succeeded in creating a welcoming atmosphere, combining natural oak trim and doors with bright textured walls and brass accents, gray carpeting, softer lighting, comfortable furniture, and rich cherry wood work centers.

The previous owners of the duplex lived upstairs, and now their son, Randy, occupies the space. "Randy was responsible for finding this place for us, since he had been looking for a place to buy," Donna explains, while Butler Financial was searching for a new location in West Bend at the same time. The combination of home and business proved successful, and the Butlers are pleased to be a part of the Kewaskum community.

Economic Development Meeting Held

Jeff Butler, of Butler Financial Services in Kewaskum, was unanimously elected chairman of the Economic Development Advisory Committee, at a meeting held Monday, October 13 in the Municipal Building.

This was the second meeting of the Committee which consists of Village President Robert Wagner, Butler, Jim Reigle, Joyce Kral, Lana Kuehl, Vernon Jung Jr., and Michael Kimble. Daniel Schmidt serves as administrator of the committee.

The purpose of the Economic Development Advisory Committee is to advise the Village Board on matters of economic development, implementing economic development activities that will assist in improving the economic climate in the village, and developing, maintaining, and/or renovating the village industrial and commercial areas.

The members of the committee decided at this meeting to conceive of a type of vision/mission statement as an incentive to envision future goals towards the development and growth of the economic community.

Guest speaker Dan Wilson of the University of Wisconsin Extension addressed the committee, listing options that are available to them in developing this "vision" and ways to "sample" the views of the community's population on which ideas should take priority.

These ideas will be addressed further at the next meeting of the committee Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. At that meeting, committee members have been asked to bring along their specific ideas on what they believe to be the most important issues facing this committee.

Legion to Hold Flag Disposal

The Robert G. Romaine American Legion Post 384 of Kewaskum will be holding a flag disposal service on Saturday, November 15, at 12 noon.

The public is invited to attend the ceremony, and bring in their worn, faded or torn flags for proper disposal.

Barb Wenzlaff Celebrates 25 Years as Town Clerk

Barb Wenzlaff, Town of Kewaskum Clerk

By Louise Martin

In 1972, then Town of Kewaskum Clerk, Alfred Seefeldt, was retiring. At his encouragement, Barb Wenzlaff became a candidate for town clerk. Now 25 years later, Barb still holds the position. She was recently recognized by fellow board members for her dedication and proficient manner in which she has managed her duties during those years.

The position of town clerk in the early years permitted Barb to work out of her home and allowed her to be at home with her family. From those early years when many town board meetings were held in her home, the Town of Kewaskum has changed and grown.

The responsibilities and requirements of the position have increased with that growth and change. The position now requires approximately 30 hours per week with one full day spent at the town hall.

Barb views herself as an "in-between person" with town residents and the town board. Sometimes situations can be uncomfortable. Depending on the situation, sometimes there is anger. Some people think she makes town decisions while in actuality, she is just carrying out resolutions or directions of the town board.

The most substantial change she has seen in her time as town clerk was when the town began administering the zoning, previously under county control. The preliminary

Kewaskum Frozen Foods Honored by Ozaukee 4-H

Bob Beisbier of Kewaskum Frozen Foods was honored as the 1997 Friend of 4-H by the Ozaukee County 4-H Leaders Association at their annual recognition banquet held October 16.

Kewaskum Frozen Foods, a long-time supporter of the Ozaukee County 4-H program, was recognized as the 1997 Friend of 4-H by the Ozaukee County 4-H Leaders Association at the group's annual recognition banquet on October 16.

Bob Beisbier, owner of Kewaskum Frozen Foods, along with his employees, were recognized for the contributions they make to the Ozaukee County 4-H livestock project, both in educational programming and in support of the annual 4-H Livestock Sale at County Fair.

They have hosted the 4-H Carcass Contest each August since 1994. In addition to handling their regular slaughtering and processing duties in the busy days following the County Fair, employees have been most accommodating in working with the individuals measuring and evaluating the beef, sheep and swine carcasses during this two-day event.

Additionally, Bob and his staff have assisted in the evening carcass evaluation program, attended by dozens of 4-H members and their families. Following the program, Kewaskum Frozen Foods provides a nice meal for all who attend.

The firm has also been a long-time supporter of the 4-H Livestock Sale, held at County Fair. They also support the Wisconsin 4-H Foundation through their contributions to the meat products auction at the Wisconsin State Fair each year.

Recipients of the annual Friend of 4-H Award are nominated and selected by the Ozaukee County 4-H Leaders Association. The award honors individuals, groups or businesses that have made long-term contributions to the Ozaukee 4-H program, and are committed to the philosophy of 4-H youth development.

work between municipalities to establish the town zoning was quite involved and time consuming.

Part of the result of this work was the creation of a five member plan commission, which recently went to seven members, and the establishment of a Board of Appeals.

Even though the town budget is small, the town believes in keeping up with the times and purchased its first computer in 1986. Elections are a big responsibility for Barb, who coordinates the helpers, training and ballot checking. Computerized voting in 1994 was a good modernizing move.

Barb is a member of the Wisconsin Clerks Association which provides meetings and conventions for training on various clerk duties. She also has frequent contact with the Wisconsin Towns Association located in Shawano which is a lobbying group for townships and villages.

This association has an attorney on staff who often provides legal guidance to questions or problems that arise for townships. Additionally, the association notifies municipalities when important legislation will be voted on and encourages a call to their legislators to support or not support a particular bill.

Since the completion of the Town Hall on Kettle Moraine Drive, public attendance and participation has increased. Barb perceives this as an encouraging sign resulting in better communication between the town residents and board.

The job of Town Clerk brings a wide variety of experiences. Each day is different from the previous one. The duties of the job are varied as well, some of which include recordkeeping the minutes of all meetings, employee payroll and tax records, bookkeeping, preparing documentation for recycling grants and reports, posting and publication of all meetings and zoning changes, notification of neighbor property owners on zoning or conditional use changes and communication with town board members.

Barb looks forward to those experiences and to continued serving and

A Stroll Up Main Street

Continuing our "Stroll Up Main Street" on the north side of the street, heading west, we come to the Al Wietor Barber Shop (at the time the photo was taken over 50 years ago). Prior to Wietor's ownership, the barber shop was operated by Fritz Witzig for many years. Homer Schaub, who ran a barber shop in the building which is now Main Street Tattoo, also worked for Al Wietor for a time. Wietor sold the building to Mrs. Meta Koch and she rented the shop to Grover Brandt, who ran the barber shop for a number of years. The building was eventually sold to Mrs. Emma Lubitz and converted into living quarters. Other owners after Mrs. Lubitz included Dan and Phyllis Schmidt, Ken and Sandy Bonlender, Tom and Diane Piwoni and Gary and Linda Gavin. The Gavins recently sold the building to Richard and Faith Mauk who have opened Stone Forest Antiques in the location as shown in the photo below. If anyone has information to contribute about the upcoming businesses on the north side of Main Street, please send the information to the Kewaskum Statesman.

here," John relates, after working out of an office building in the center of West Bend for the past 14 years. "Our clients enjoy coming to Kewaskum; it's a smaller town, it's easier to get around, and it's a great location along Highway 45."

Butler Financial was established by the couple in 1975, as a business specializing in investments and retirement planning for both individuals and businesses. Both of their sons joined the firm, Randy in 1989, and Jeff in 1991.

Since 1977, John, a CLU ChFC, has specialized in estate planning, having worked closely with attorneys, CPAs and trust officers in this financial field. Randy holds a CFP degree and Jeff, a CFS, and both of them will be receiving their certification within the next few months. Their strength is retirement planning, meeting the needs of individuals and businesses. Donna Butler oversees all business operations, manages the office, and maintains the accounting for Butler Financial.

"Our business specialty, or what we do the most of, are IRA rollovers," John states. "We also work with TSB (Trust Estate Banks). There's one in Lomira and Theresa, and we handle all their security, life insurance, and annuity sales." The financial firm has three general agents in Wisconsin through Equitable of Iowa, and 50 brokers around the state, doing business through USG Company.

"We are looking forward to meeting more people within the community, and hope they will take the opportunity to stop by our Open House on Tuesday," Donna expressed. "The people of Kewaskum have been very friendly and welcoming to us, and we all agree we made the right move at the right time."

Courtesy costs nothing but it buys everything.

Woman's Awareness Group to Meet Oct. 28

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 28 at 7 p.m. in the Community Room, 204 First Street in Kewaskum.

The topic this month is "Cooking Elegance Made Easy." Pam Brown, executive chef of Main Street Cafe in Hartford, will present cooking tips for busy working women.

Any and all are invited. Come enjoy the fun. Remember, this is open and free to anyone. If you have any questions, call Jean Kopecky at 626-2734.

Rev. and Mrs. Hodge Celebrate 65th Anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Hodge

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas B. Hodge of Kewaskum celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary with a family dinner on September 13. A celebration in their honor was also held at Calvary Assembly of God on September 7.

Thomas and the former Jean Lutey were married September 5, 1932, at the Mitchell Methodist Church in Negaunee, Michigan.

They are the parents of three children, Shirley (Douglas) Bloom and James (Jeanette) Hodge of West Bend, and Thomas (Joyce) Hodge of Liberty, Texas.

They are also the proud grandparents of eight grandchildren and great-grandparents of 19 great-grandchildren.

Unique Craft Show At Amerahn Nov. 2

On November 2, get in your car and point it in the direction of Amerahn Hall in Kewaskum to attend the "Unique Craft Show." As you're strolling through the Craft Show, ride into Booth #21, for a little Southwest flavor. Inside you will find Dan (pictured above) and Paulette Bothe with their wide array of Dreamcatchers, Mandellas and an excellent selection of Southwest jewelry. Booth #10 and 11 is a hometown favorite. In this booth you will find frying pans, saw blades, painted wood items, and Arlene Landess of Kewaskum. Stop in and check out all the unique crafts, including booth #33 and 34. Inside there will be Robert and Sue Zehren. Once you stop, you will be thinking back to those outdoor thoughts, for their specialty is outdoor decorations. If they don't have it, stop and talk to Robert and he will most likely be able to help you.

Reentry Transition Program to Begin

If you're looking for more than a job, thinking about changing careers, or are considering taking the plunge and returning to school, why not enroll in Moraine Park Technical College's Reentry Transition program at the West Bend campus?

This 72-hour, self-development program begins Monday, Oct. 27, and involves confidence building, career exploration, decision making, job-seeking skills, resume writing and ongoing support from qualified staff. The Reentry program is free to persons meeting the eligibility requirements and participants may also receive dependent care and mileage reimbursements.

To register for the Reentry Transition program or for more information, call Barb Schall at (414)335-5770, or stop by Moraine Park's West Bend campus at 2151 North Main Street.

For 1997-98, Federal Carl Perkin's Act Funds of approximately $120,000 support Moraine Park's Reentry Transition program. This is about 39% of the total program cost.

Home Visit for Flu, Pneumonia Vaccine Available

Washington County Community Health Nursing Service announces an additional service available to Washington County residents who are unable to attend flu and pneumonia clinics because of age and/or disability.

Those individuals who are unable to attend a scheduled community clinic may call the Nursing Service to arrange for a home visit. A nurse will schedule an appointment and come to your home to administer the flu and/or pneumonia vaccine. There will be a charge of $5 for the home visit. In addition to a charge of $7 for flu vaccine and $10 for pneumonia vaccine.

To arrange for a home visit or obtain further information, call the Washington County Community Health Nursing Service at: Office, 335-4462; Hartford, 644-5204 or metro, 342-2929.

P.O.P.S. Student Of the Month

Megan Ramthun

Megan Ramthun, daughter of Harvey and Kathy Ramthun, Kewaskum, has been selected as the POPS Student of the Month for September.

In the Service

Marine Cpl. Eric J. Burmeister, son of Donna J. Held of Main Street, Kewaskum, recently received a Meritorious Mast.

Burmeister was cited for outstanding service while assigned with Marine Wing Support Squadron 373, 3rd Marine Aircraft Wing, Marine Corps Air Station El Toro, Santa Ana, California.

Burmeister was awarded a Meritorious Mast by his commanding officer as official recognition for superior individual performance. The award was issued in the form of a bulletin published throughout the command, and a copy was entered in Burmeister's permanent service records.

The 1994 graduate of Slinger High School, joined the Marine Corps in July 1994.

Campus Notes

OSHKOSH -- Dina Heckel has been named as a community adviser for Clemans Hall, one of 11 residence halls at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh.

Heckel is the daughter of William and Nancy Heckel of Kewaskum. She is majoring in marketing.

Campus Notes

CHICAGO -- Tracy Ruplinger, daughter of Donald and Barbara Ruplinger of Kewaskum, is a recipient of a Scholl Distinguished Scholar Award for her outstanding academic performance at Scholl College of Podiatric Medicine.

Ruplinger, a member of the Class of 2001, is one of 100 Scholl students who shared more than $265,000 in scholarship money for the 1997-98 academic year.

A native of West Bend, Wisconsin, she earned a B.S. degree in biology from the University of Wisconsin in May, 1997.

At Scholl College, Ruplinger is involved in numerous activities, including the Sports Medicine Club, Recycle Club, Surgery Club and the American Association of Woman Podiatrists.

Founded in Chicago in 1912, Scholl is one of only seven colleges of podiatric medicine in the nation. It offers a four-year post-graduate program leading to the degree of Doctor of Podiatric Medicine. Scholl College has trained more podiatric physicians than any other institution.

As one of her nominating teachers stated, "As a varsity cheerleader this season, she has served as an excellent role model to fellow cheerleaders and to fellow students. Megan shows great maturity in her approach to her studies, her job outside of school and her peers. She works very hard to promote school spirit and presses her peers to become connected to their school in positive ways."

POPS, the Power of Positive Students, is an international program that was started at KHS six years ago by the Student Council and has seen growth through the staff and students at KHS over the years.

The trouble with the dictionary is that you have to know how a word is spelled before you can look it up to see how it is spelled.

HALLOWEEN HINTS

Keeping The "Wheee" In Halloween

(NAPS)—Halloween often haunts parents, whether it is the threat of unexpected tricks on the trail or too many treats gobbled by their goblin. For parents with the All Hallow's Eve boooooos, Paula Elbirt, M.D., mother of two and associate clinical professor of pediatrics at The Mount Sinai Medical Center, has a pumpkin patch-full of recommendations for parents to keep the wheee in Halloween and safeguard little hobgoblins from things that go bump and otherwise in the night.

"The first thing parents should do is choose a flame-retardant or flame-resistant costume that fits their child properly," notes Dr. Elbirt. "If it's too long, children may get caught on branches or other obstacles. Place reflective strips on the costume to alert drivers to trick-or-treaters who may be crossing the street." Dr. Elbirt also suggests that parents use washable face paints in place of potentially vision-obstructing masks. If your child chooses a mask, make sure that eyeholes are large enough to see clearly in all directions without any obstacles to their vision. Nose and mouth openings must also be large enough to allow the child to breathe and speak easily.

To exercise control over what and how many sweets your children eat, it is essential to instruct them to wait until they get home to eat anything. That way, you can make sure all candy wrappers are intact and ration out the sweets over a period of time. "It's a good idea to give your children a snack beforehand so they won't get hungry and be tempted to sample all of the trick-or-treat goodies," offers Dr. Elbirt. "Or take along treats they can eat on the way—sweets, fruit, cheese, or juice in boxes, to handle the inevitable hunger and thirst. If your little gremlins gobble too many treats, make sure you have a children's antacid, such as Children's Mylanta®, on hand to tame those tummy troubles."

Chances are you will want to join your children on the trick-or-treat trail and share in all the fun and excitement. It's wise to map out a specific route, going to the homes of people you already know. That way, you and your kids are dealing with familiar faces. You might want to take along a flashlight to lead the way. Just in case your older children wander off the pre-arranged route or simply lose track of time, be sure they have pocket change so they can call home to check in or request a pickup. Finally, remind all trick-or-treaters to stay on the sidewalks rather than the streets and to cross only at the corners, obeying traffic lights and looking both ways at the stop signs.

For more Halloween safety tips, check out Dr. Elbirt's website at <http://www.drpaula.com>.

WB Christmas Parade Registration Due November 4

The registration deadline for the 12th Annual West Bend Christmas Parade is Tuesday, November 4.

The parade will be held Sunday, November 30 beginning at 5 p.m. with Monday, December 1, at 5 p.m. as the weather date.

Entries must pertain to the holiday season and the theme, "Christmas Dreams" in particular. Lights and music are required on floats.

No Santas, only helpers are allowed. For the safety of the children, NO candy or gifts may be handed out or thrown from the units during the parade.

Business competition is for plaques and a traveling trophy. Non-profit competition is in two categories: Adult and youth. No more than one unit in each category per organization will be accepted.

Each non-profit category will have a first, second, third, fourth and fifth-place winner and will be awarded $150, $125, $100, $75 and $50 respectively. For more information, contact the West Bend Area Chamber of Commerce at 338-2666.

The largest fish is the whale shark, which at 15 short tons weighs twice as much as an African elephant.

Museum to Host Historic Halloween Hysteria Party

The Washington County Historical Society invites you and your family to spend Halloween night at the Old Courthouse Square Museum, 340 S. Fifth Avenue, West Bend, when they host their first "Historic Halloween Hysteria" party.

The frighteningly fun festivities last from 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday, October 31, and include fortune telling, bobbing for apples, making corn-husk dolls, and a spooky tour of the Old Jailhouse, which is currently closed for renovation.

Be sure to attend in costume so you can enter the "best costume" contest, and bring your pre-carved pumpkin for the "best Jack-O-Lantern" contest. Caramel apples and other refreshments will be available.

Activities are recommended for children ages five to 12, but all are welcome to come for the spooky tour and treats. This is a FREE event, although donations are always welcome, but you must call in advance to register yourself or family. The deadline to make a registration is Monday, October 27. For more information, call the Society at 335-4678.

Tips Offered to Keep Halloween Fun and Safe

MILWAUKEE -- Halloween can be both fun and safe if parents follow basic safety guidelines.

To help keep children safe, Children's Hospital of Wisconsin recommends the following guidelines:

General Halloween Tips

* Encourage your children to attend community or home Halloween parties.

* Use discretion when deciding which Halloween events to attend. For example, children under five years of age should not be taken to haunted houses. If your child becomes frightened while attending an event or trick or treating, stop the activity, reassure the child and return home. There is always next year.

* Accompany young children who go trick or treating. Older children should trick or treat in groups and only go to the homes of people their parents know. Children should never trick or treat in neighborhoods other than their own.

* Remind children never to enter the home or apartment of a stranger.

* All trick or treating should be done on the day and times established by your community.

* Tell your children not to eat any treats before returning home. Parents should carefully examine all treats, disposing of any that are not sealed or appear to have been tampered with in any way. If there is any doubt, throw it away. Do not give hard candy to very small children, who may choke on it.

Costume Tips

* Costumes, wigs, beards and other special apparel you purchase should be labeled: FLAME RESISTANT. This label indicates the item will resist burning and should extinguish quickly if it comes into contact with fire.

* Consider using facial paints and cosmetics in place of masks. If a mask is used, make certain the eye and nose openings do not restrict vision or breathing. The mask should be free of sharp edges and have an elastic band securely attached to it. Children should wear the mask on top of their heads in between trick or treat stops.

* Costumes should reflect characters or objects that are fun from a child's perspective.

Tips for Pedestrians and Motorists

* Parents should make certain trick or treaters cross streets at corners and wait on the curb, not in the street, until it is safe to cross. Trick or treaters should obey all traffic lights and stay on sidewalks as they go from house to house.

* Motorists should be on the alert for trick or treaters in their communities.

* People receiving trick or treaters should make certain walks and steps are clear of obstacles.

Children's Hospital is a private, independent, not-for-profit pediatric medical center. The hospital serves all children in Wisconsin and Michigan's Upper Peninsula who need its specialized services without regard to race, creed, color or ability to pay.

Farming on Display at KES

Dozens of cows, tractors, and even barns filled the Kewaskum Elementary School gym recently, as former KES students Jeremy McEwen and Mike Lawrenz brought in their miniature farm collections for the students to enjoy.

Stretched out over 32 feet of plywood, the collection represented "the farm of the future," with numerous buildings, fields, workers, farm equipment, and livestock, all in miniature.

As students came in two classes at a time, Jeremy and Mike described the items and how they are actually used in farming. They also shared their experiences as farm workers.

Jeremy and Mike, both currently working in the dairy farming industry, have been amassing their farm items as a hobby for about a dozen years ("since we were about five or six years old"). Setting up the extensive display, including placing trees, signs, and even spreading soil for the fields, takes about four hours. Jeremy explains that, with planned additional items and plywood, future displays may take perhaps twice as long to arrange.

"Lots of people have interest in seeing these kinds of things," Jeremy pointed out, "and I really like doing it."

The collections have also appeared at Early

Farm Days and other sites around the Kewaskum area. Any area schools with an interest in having the display visit should contact Jeremy McEwen at 692-6356.

Debbie Butzlaff is New Member of American Angus Association

Debbie Butzlaff, Kewaskum, is a new member of the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association, with over 31,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on over 12 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Association. Most of these registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

920 Area Code Required on Calls Beginning October 25

GREEN BAY -- Ready, set, go... it's now 920! Beginning Saturday, October 25, all long-distance calls to GTE customers in the new Wisconsin area code must include 920. On and after the 25th, callers who use 414 will reach a recording that reminds them of the change.

Since July 26, callers could use either 414 or 920 when placing long-distance calls to the new 920 area code. This was part of an optional calling period allowing customers to change dialing habits and reprogram communications equipment such as speed-dialers, computer modems, faxes, and the like. After October 25, those calls will require the new area code.

920 was added to meet exploding consumer demands for advanced communications services. Without a new area code, GTE and other telecommunications companies would have run out of phone numbers by year-end.

"This gives Wisconsin more number combinations and allows consumers to take advantage of increasing communications offerings," according to Jim Blanchard, general manager-customer operations, GTE Wisconsin.

The new area code does not change rates, local calling areas or seven-digit phone numbers.

To make a local call, customers should dial the seven digit telephone number. To place an Extended Community Calling (ECC) call, customers need to dial "1 + the area code + seven digits" when the area code is different than their own. A description of local and ECC calling areas is included in all GTE telephone directories.

Fire Prevention Week at Little Folks School House

Firefighter Aaron Martin of the Kohlsville Fire Department explains to teacher Patsy Panzer and The Little Folks all about the fire engine's compartments.

Renee Schrauth takes her turn trying on the fireman's helmet.

On October 9, three volunteer firefighters from the Kohlsville Fire Department visited The Little Folks School House.

The children were very attentive as fireman Tim Herman explained all about fire safety. They were told of the dangers of playing with matches and lighters and what to do in the case of a fire. The three firefighters watched as the children practiced crawling on the floor while pretending that thick smoke filled the air. They also practiced the "stop, drop and roll" rule for if their clothing ever were to catch fire.

Fireman Aaron Martin assisted fireman Jamie Christison with getting into his gear. He dressed all-out from pants and coat to mask and tank. Each piece of gear was explained. Fireman Jamie let each child take a turn trying on his helmet.

The visit came to an end only after an exciting tour of the fire engine. The little folks were able to climb in, out and on the shiny red truck which was a real treat.

The staff of the Little Folks School House would like to thank the Kohlsville Fire Department along with Aaron Martin, Tim Herman and Jamie Christison, who came out and did a wonderful job with the children.

The Schmidt Funeral Home, West Bend, served the family.

PRAYER OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN

(Never known to fail). Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven. Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my Mother. Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (Make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish and it will be granted to you.

Weekly Meeting of Separated, Divorced

The Washington County separated and divorced support group for men and women meets weekly every Friday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Resurrection Parish (formerly Sacred Heart Church) in Allenton.

Their purpose is to provide a means to share ideas, concerns, support, fellowship and love from a Christian perspective. There are guest speakers, panel discussions, small group sharing and other activities.

The group is open to singles, widows and widowers. Many of the topics pertain to single parents and other individuals rebuilding their lives and relationships.

"Cinderella Doesn't Live Here Anymore," with Stephanie Monahan of Glass Slipper Communications will be featured at the October 24 meeting.

A dance will be held at Holy Angels School in West Bend from 8 to midnight on Saturday, October 25.

The topic for the October 31 meeting will be "Update on New Taxes Law and Financial Services," with Margo Ulrich, FIC District Representative for Lutheran Brotherhood.

Letter to The Editor

To the Citizens of the Kewaskum School District:

The Community Facilities Study Group was formed several months ago with the objective of providing recommendations to the School Board regarding a plan for school facilities for the district for the next 10-15 years.

According to the best enrollment projections available, our student population is growing. Kewaskum Elementary and Farmington Elementary are already at or near capacity. The Township of Farmington especially is experiencing a great deal of growth.

However, the members of this committee would like the citizens to understand that the decisions they are about to make will not be based on enrollment projections alone; to do so would be irresponsible. There are other issues involved.

Our elementary school buildings have not had any major renovations or additions in the past 25 years. In order to more fully understand why we need more space, we need to consider how the student populations and education itself has changed since the last renovations were completed.

In 1975, the federal government enacted what has become known as Public Law 94-142 (The Education for All Handicapped Children Act). Most of us are probably aware of the physical modifications that are mandated by this law to make school buildings handicapped accessible. In the district, the cost of compliance is several hundred thousand dollars. The implications of this law, however, extend well beyond these changes. PL 94-142 and other mandates since have caused an increase in specialized and support services provided by schools. Schools need more space in order to provide for the needs of exceptional children -- those whose mental, communication, social-emotional or physical characteristics require adaptations in the regular program in order for them to learn best. Approximately 10% of any given student population is made up of students who have disabilities significant enough to qualify them as exceptional. PL 99-457 requires school districts to provide early intervention programs for preschoolers who are handicapped or developmentally delayed. Simply put, our schools have more support staff and specialists, as well as more specialized educational programs, than they did 25 years ago. These programs require space.

The addition of computers to the classroom also has an impact on available classroom space. Many of our older classrooms, especially at KES, are already smaller than the optimum size. The addition of computers significantly decreases the work area in a classroom. Architects now recommend an increase of 10% in the square foot area of a standard classroom, even those built only ten years ago.

Finally, there have been changes in teaching philosophies and methods that warrant changes in the classroom design of some of the older buildings. Teachers are serving very diverse student populations in their regular classrooms. They find that the best way to address the differences between the abilities of their students is to use small group or individual activities. Some teachers simply do not have the space to create the kind of learning environment that they know would be the most beneficial to their students. Office space and storage space is also important for schools, and at FES in particular presents a growing problem. We cannot continue to expect children to be tutored in busy hallways, house support personnel in renovated closets, and shrink our libraries to accommodate classrooms. There simply is no space left to change.

Facilities planning for the next 15 years cannot be based on enrollment projections alone. Decisions made without careful consideration of the changing needs of the student population, technology, and the needs of teachers and staff would be short-sighted. The Community Facilities Study Group has examined these issues in addition to the best possible enrollment projections available. Since this group was formed with the intention of representing the citizens of the district, your input is always appreciated. The time and date of our next meeting is published in local newspapers.

Sincerely,

Laurie Brock

"Coats for Families"
Coat Drive
%Dr. Decker,
President
General Clinic
West Bend, WI

Dear Publisher,

My wife and I started a coat drive project this year. We have the support and involvement of the Washington County Social Services Department, the "Clothes Clinic," The Daily News, WBKV and WBWI radio stations, Paradise Mall management and the Volunteer Center.

All of the above are involved in the planning process. We also have the support of several other businesses in town donating printing costs, designing and providing bins for coat drop off and offering of space for the bins to be placed during the collection phase of the coat drive.

Pick 'n Save north and south, the Hockey Rink, the two Clothes Clinic dry cleaning sites, Skate Country in Barton and the General Clinic will be drop off sites. The "Coats for Families" coat drive collection phase runs from October 24 to November 2. They will be cleaned by the Clothes Clinic and taken to the old Penney's store at the Paradise Mall for sorting and storage. On November 8, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., we will distribute the coats to anyone desiring coats; adults and children. There is no screening process involved. NO QUESTIONS ASKED - NO NEED FOR COAT VOUCHERS, ETC.

Paradise Mall management will allow us to store remaining coats so we can have them available for distribution through community service agencies the rest of the winter. Big Brothers/Big Sisters, the Harvest House at St. James Episcopal Church and St. Vincent de Pauls will be able to have some remaining coats on hand for distribution after November 8. We are working on identifying a few more locations that would be willing to distribute coats after November 8.

We will have "coat pick up slips" available to various community service organizations and the Social Services office. These organizations can give the pick up slips to their clients who can take them to one of the sites holding coats for distribution. Individuals and families can choose from the available coats at that site. THESE SLIPS ARE FOR USE AFTER November 8 - THEY ARE NOT NEEDED FOR THE 8th AT ALL!

Social Services personnel feel the need for a coat drive is great and that many families can benefit from this effort. We are asking everyone in the community to be aware of the need for coats. We want to concentrate on children's coats a bit more than adult coats, but we need all sizes. We also are collecting mittens, scarves and stocking caps since these will be needed in the winter weather too.

We would like churches, schools and service agencies to identify families and individuals that may benefit from the distribution of these clothing items and to make the people that need coats aware of the distribution information. They can come to the Penney's store on November 8 or friends or representatives from their church or agency can pick up the items for them.

Collecting the coats is not the main point of the drive; serving the community is. We want to help as many people as we can by optimizing the distribution process. We would appreciate your help in our efforts.

Please feel free to contact us at the General Clinic 338-5363 if you have any questions. The Social Services Department can also give you assistance and information on how to help us out. Their phone number is 335-4610.

Python Visits KES

An 11 foot python is draped around the body of Taylor York as he speaks to Kewaskum Elementary School second graders recently in connection with a reading unit on pets. Mr. York and his daughter, Wendi, also brought a hedgehog, white mice, a dog, and a milk snake, courtesy of Marine Land Pets in Milwaukee.

The information number available for people to call for updates is 335-6037, ext. 587. The number will be listed in public service announcements on the radio and in the newspaper. The radio and the newspaper information will also be updated as we proceed in our effort.

Getting this drive up and running has been a lot of fun. It is exciting and very rewarding for all of us involved. The enthusiastic assistance we have gotten from everyone we have called on has made this project a reality. We want this to be a yearly event that truly serves its purpose of providing winter clothing for those that can use a little boost in their lives. We look forward to improving year to year on our goal of getting coats to those that can use them.

From all of us involved, thanks for your assistance. It is appreciated.

OSHKOSH -- Twenty-seven new scholarships have been awarded to incoming freshmen at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. The awards commemorate the university's 125th anniversary in 1996.

The $500 and $1,000 scholarships, funded by the UW-Oshkosh Foundation, were awarded based on scholastic record, leadership skills, extracurricular activities and ACT score. Out-of-state students received $1,000 scholarships to help offset their higher tuition costs.

Marni Lynn of Kewaskum was the recipient of one of the 125th Anniversary Scholarships.

Tips Help Teen Drivers Avoid Highway Danger

(NAPS)—Car crashes are the leading cause of death among teenagers in America today. Teens, who make up only seven percent of the driving population, account for nearly 25 percent of all traffic accidents. However, new findings indicate that up to 80 percent of these accidents could be avoided with better vision skills.

Gauge Visual Acuity
Many drivers are not aware that poor vision could be a source of danger on the road. Here's a simple test to gauge visual acuity:

While driving at 60 mph, begin counting as soon as you can clearly read an overhead freeway sign. If you have 20/20 vision, you should pass directly under the sign by the time you count to 9. If you pass beneath the sign sooner, you should consider visiting your eye doctor.

Be Dynamic
Since the human eye is not designed to process information at 60+ mph, experts agree that practice is needed to improve a driver's ability to clearly see moving objects:

See how quickly you can read signs or license plates by glancing to the side for a split second, then re-focusing straight ahead. Over time, your brain will become accustomed to processing visual information more quickly.

Focus on the Periphery
Peripheral vision is one of the most critical skills drivers use, and can be practiced with a simple drill:

While looking straight ahead, see how many cars you can simultaneously count on either side of you. Then, as your awareness improves, try to use just your peripheral vision to predict when cars approaching from the rear will pass.

Check Your Equipment
For those who require vision correction on the road, studies indicate that contact lenses may be a safer choice than eyeglasses. Drivers who wear contacts have nearly 40 percent better peripheral vision than their counterparts in spectacles. Here's a handy suggestion:

Keep a few spare pairs of high-quality daily disposable contact lenses, like 1-Day Acuvue, stowed in your car's glove compartment. It's a cost-effective way to ensure that you always have a fresh, sterile pair of lenses on-hand. For a free brochure about contact lens options, call 1-888-USE 1 DAY.

Look Down the Road
Unlike experienced drivers, teens tend to focus their attention close to the front of the car. Drivers who look farther down the road tend to spot potential dangers much quicker—an important difference considering that up to 50 percent of all accidents can be avoided with just a half-second longer to react:

At highway speeds, pick out a fixed object in the horizon and count the seconds until you reach it. If you pass the object before you count to 30, you probably aren't looking far enough down the road. At 60 mph, experts recommend looking one-third of a mile down freeway.

SAY YES TO ANTI-LOCK BRAKING SYSTEMS (ABS)

Studies show that the average driver could benefit from anti-lock brakes in a panic situation more than 12 times per 100,000 miles driven.

By preventing lockup, ABS keeps wheels rolling, providing the ability to steer and brake safely. Squeeze braking can provide the same results, but most drivers are not able to use this technique effectively in emergency situations and may lose control.

St. Lucas Soccer Team Ends Season

The St. Lucas Sixers soccer team ended their season with a 5-5-4 overall record. Recent action saw them in action at the Kettle Moraine Lutheran Tournament along with 12 other teams.

The Sixers defense led by sweepers, Erik Kasabuske, was outstanding. Kasabuske, along with fullbacks Chris Baker, Tim Howell, Bryan Becht, and goalie Jeremy Zima allowed just one goal in their three games.

In the first game against Salem Lutheran, Milwaukee, the Sixers scored in the first half on a goal by Lee Schacht and assist by Doug Ramthun. However, in the second half the defense had its only lapse of the tournament and allowed a break-away goal to knot the score at 1-1. The game ended in a tie and the Sixers lost the shoot out 2-0.

The second game proved to be quite easy as the Sixers scored four goals against a combined team of Pilgrim Lutheran and Crown of Life, by Lee Schacht, Bryan Becht, Erik Kasabuske, and Justin Ramthun. With the Sixers ahead, offensive pressure was kept the whole second half by Bobby Stoll, Jeremy Zima, Bryan Becht and David Gust. The defense didn't allow a single shot on goal.

The third game proved to be tougher than the second. Although the Sixers had beaten St. John's, Newburg 3-2 in league play, they couldn't come up with a score in this game. The first half ended in a 0-0 stalemate with neither team having an advantage.

The second half found the Sixers with the wind and the momentum. With intense pressure from half-backs Braedy Long, Justin Ramthun, and Philip and Andrew Marquardt, most of the second half was played on the Sixers offensive end. However, none of the shots found their mark and the game ended 0-0. The shoot-out again found the Sixers coming out on the short end, 2-0.

The first mechanical drill was designed about 1495, historians say, by Leonardo Da Vinci.

October and November Are Top Months for Car-Deer Collisions

MADISON -- October and November are deadly months for motorists and deer in Wisconsin: the two are colliding in increasing numbers on Wisconsin's roads, state conservation officials say.

In 1996, three people were killed and 805 injured in car crashes involving deer, state statistics show. That's the second worst year for fatalities and injuries in the 19 years Wisconsin's kept records.

From July 1, 1996, to June 30, 1997, 44,210 deer were killed in Wisconsin in collisions with vehicles, according to John Daniel, a Department of Natural Resources conservation warden responsible for tracking vehicle/deer collisions for the agency. That is about 12,000 more than a decade ago.

"The biggest factor fueling the increase in car-deer crashes is that we're driving 800 million more miles per year every year on rural highways in Wisconsin so our chances of hitting a deer are greater," he said.

The DNR manages the state deer population in part to curtail car-deer collisions by reducing deer numbers in high population areas, but the ever-increasing volume of traffic offsets that work. Wisconsin's deer herd is estimated at 1.17 million in 1997, down from 1.5 million a year ago.

Daniels noted that a Michigan study showed that the increase in vehicle miles traveled was two-and-a-half times more likely to influence the number of car-deer crashes in that state than changes in deer herd size.

In Wisconsin, Waupaca

County recorded the highest number of car-deer crashes: 1,864. Dane County was the second highest with 1,775, and Columbia County the third with 1,588.

Conservation officials said car-deer crashes increase in October and early November because that is the deer mating season -- or the rut -- and the deer are frequently moving around.

"Bucks are chasing deer and they throw caution to the wind for procreation," said Pat Harkins, DNR conservation warden training director.

Also, deer increasingly move towards roads at this time because vegetation in the woods is dying and the deer can find green, mowed grass on the roadside, he said.

Harkins advises that drivers take these steps to help prevent car-deer collisions:

*Watch the roadsides carefully for movement and be particularly alert in the early morning and evening when deer are moving around to feeding spots.

*Look for more deer to follow when one appears on a roadside.

*Drive more slowly, especially when road signs indicate a deer crossing.

*Become familiar with the car braking system, particularly anti-lock brakes.

*Reduce speed, tap the brakes to warn other drivers or sound the car horn when a deer is visible on the roadside.

You have to put off some tasks a dozen times before they will completely slip your mind.

Sixth Graders Need Your Help!

Starting the week of October 20, all sixth grade students will be able to participate in evening intramurals. It gives them a chance to relax in a peer environment for fun.

The first sport being offered is coed volleyball. This will be an evening activity held one night a week. Your child will need a ride to and from practice. The only problem is, they need a few people to run the program.

Parents are welcome to stay, and are encouraged to help. You do not need to be experienced. Drills will be provided for you. It will be up to the volunteers as to what night and time the program will be held.

If you or someone you know (18 years or older) is interested, please call Kristine Dreher at the Kewaskum Middle School. Without parental support, the program will not be available to the students. Please... give these students a chance.

Area Residents Shoot Bears

When most families go on vacation or an outing, they bring back home plastic souvenirs and pretty postcards. Not so with the Randy and Wendi Dreher family! They recently went on a small family outing and brought home a 300 pound black bear. And to top it off, the bear was shot by our favorite Mary Kay lady herself, Wendi Dreher! This is the second bear Wendi has felled in her brief bear hunting career. Permits are received on a lottery system, approximately every seven years or so, and Wendi now has a 2-2 perfect record. Each time she received a permit, she has filled her tag. The bear hunt took place in the Nicolet Forest in Forest County in northern Wisconsin and Wendi credits husband Randy and his crew for a fantastic hunt. (Randy actually crawled into the bear's "den" to try and lure the stubborn fellow out!) Shown above following the hunt, left to right, are Wendi, Danielle, Megan, Logan and Randy Dreher. You make our "field trips" look pretty mundane, Wendi! This is one family outing the Dreher family should have etched in their memory bank for a long, long time!

Musical at KHS

The Music Department at Kewaskum High School has been busy working on the fall musical. Tryouts were held the second week of school and the students have been rehearsing each week since.

The musical this year is "Fiddler on the Roof," and it will be presented on Friday, November 7, and Saturday, November 8, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Rose Hall. Tickets will go on sale from 5:45 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Monday, October 27, in the music area.

Tickets will then be available during the school day until the night of the performances. The cost of the reserved tickets are $5 and $4 each, with bleacher seating available for $2. Seats are reserved for you so that you do not have to stand in line to get in. A special performance for the Senior Citizens in the area will be presented on Thursday, November 6, beginning at 4 p.m.

The students at Kewaskum hope to see you at one or more of the performances, as a full house makes for a better performance. If you have any questions or wish to reserve tickets over the phone after October 27, please call Larry Ammel at 626-2166, ext. 4570, Monday through Friday.

Kewaskum Eighth Grade Girls Track Team Second at Conference Championships

1997 Kewaskum Middle School Girls Eighth Grade Track Team

1997 Moraine Conference Seventh Grade Girls
Track and Field Conference Champions

The Kewaskum eighth grade girls track team took a hard fought second place at the Moraine Conference Track and Field Championships at Pewaukee on Tuesday, October 7.

Pewaukee, who earlier in the season had barely beaten the Indians to give them their only loss of the season, won the team championship with a score of 90.2 points. Kewaskum tallied 87.4 points for second and Hartford Central Middle School totaled 82 points for third.

Badger Middle School of West Bend, new to the conference this year, took fourth place with 72 points, Slinger finished fifth with 56.4, Kennedy Middle School of Germantown was sixth with 54, Waupun seventh with 32 and Silverbrook Middle School of West Bend, also new to the conference this year, finished with 30 points.

"We knew that it would be a real tough meet with potentially three or four teams capable of winning the conference title. Obviously, Pewaukee was one of the teams we knew was very good. Badger Middle School was another, but we unfortunately did not have a meet against Hartford Central Middle School this year because of the new schedule," commented Kewaskum Middle School eighth grade coach Jerry Gosa. "Plus the home track advantage proved to be very helpful to Pewaukee," reported Coach Gosa.

Placing for the Kewaskum eighth grade girls at the conference meet were the following individuals, their place, event, time or distance:

Nicole Herrmann - first place and Conference Champion in the shot put for the second year in a row with a toss of 29'10-1/2" and member of the fourth place 400m relay team. Earlier in the season, Herrmann broke the school record a couple of times and then set a new school record with a toss of 30'1/2". Katie Yogerst held the old record in the shot put with a distance of 29'2" set in 1992.

Lauren Schultz - First place and Conference Champion in the 400m run for the second year in a row with a personal best time of 1:07.05 and member of the second place 1600m relay.

Kelli Dorn - First place and Conference Champion in the discus with a throw of 76'3", third place in the 100m dash with a time of 14.7, and member of the fourth place 400m relay team. Dorn broke the KMS school record in the discus with a throw of 92'6" earlier in the season. Janel Hubacek held the record in the discus with a distance of 89'5" set in 1995.

Liz Rammer - second place in the 800m run with a personal best time by over nine seconds, setting a new school record with a time of 2:42.2. Three athletes were all timed in 2:42.2 with Rammer being picked for second place. Rammer's time broke the Kewaskum Middle School record of 2:42.6 set by Marni Lynn in 1992. Lynn went on to become a distance star runner, setting numerous KHS school records. Rammer also took a second as a member of the 800m relay team and placed seventh in the long jump with a distance of 13'1-3/4".

Elizabeth Werdermann - third place in the discus with a personal best throw of 72'10".

Maria Cannestra - second place 800m relay team.

Bethany Hermann - second place 1600 relay team

Emily Shulka took fourth in the long jump with a personal best jump of 13'4-1/2" and was a member of the fourth place 400m relay team.

Nicole Fischer - second place 800m relay team.

Erica Kudek - second place 1600m relay team.

Jennie Link and Jolene Clark of Kewaskum tied for sixth place with three other athletes in the high jump at 4'4".

Niki Dreher - sixth place in the shot put with a toss of 23'10-1/2", second place as a member of the 800m relay team and fourth place as a member of the 400m relay.

Jennifer Mowery - seventh in the 800m run with a personal best time by over six seconds in 2:52.4.

Becky Friedel - eighth place in the 400m run with a time of 1:14.9 and member of the second place 1600m relay team.

Katie Vogt - eighth place in the 200m dash with a personal best time of 31.5.

Kewaskum relay teams placing at the conference meet were the following relays, members and times:

The 800m (4x200m) relay team of Liz Rammer, Maria Cannestra, Niki Dreher and Nicole Fischer took second place in 2:04.8.

The 1600m (4x400m) relay team of Bethany Hermann, Becky Friedel, Erica Kudek and Lauren Schultz placed second with their season's best time of 4:52.9.

The 400m (4x100m) relay team of Emily Shulka, Nicole Herrmann, Niki Dreher and Kelli Dorn took fourth with their best time of the season in 59.0.

Also participating for Kewaskum in the conference track meet were Erin Backhaus and Courtney Schultz in the 1600m run. Courtney Schultz finished in ninth place with a personal best time of 6:42.3 and Backhaus was forced out of the race due to injury.

"I'm extremely proud of these young ladies. They gave 100% effort all season long. I know they are disappointed, but they sure can be proud of what they have accomplished the last two years in track at Kewaskum Middle School," concluded Coach Gosa.

The Kewaskum eighth graders won the conference championship as seventh graders, were conference relay champions both as seventh and eighth graders, had a dual meet record of 8-2 and finished this year as runners-up at the conference championships.

"Congratulations on a great season! Plan on going out for track at the high school in the spring of 1999," encouraged Coach Gosa. Considering that last year's eighth graders were conference champs, this year's eighth graders were runners-up, and the seventh graders were conference champs this year, if all of these young ladies continue running track they could really have some great teams at the high school level.

The Kewaskum Middle School girls track coaches, Jerry Gosa and Jeff Grotenhuis wish all the athletes success in the classroom and in sports for the rest of the school year. The coaches would also like to thank all the parents, teachers, Mr. Soerens, the KMS principal, and all the people who worked the home track meets this season, for their support of the girls and the girls' track program.

The J.V. volleyball team ended their 1997 season undefeated.

The J.V. girls played very well on Tuesday, Oct. 7, in action against New Holstein, the team won all three of the matches played. The scores were: 15-13, 16-14, 15-2. These were one of the first close matches the girls have played.

Sarah Williams was named MVP of the game. Williams led the team as high scorer ending with a total of eleven points she also served nine aces.

Sara Disler was the team's high assist leader with eight assists. Lynn Wiesner was the save leader.

"We lost our lead a couple of times but regained our composure to defeat the Huskies," said coach Holfeltz.

The girls played a double header against Two Rivers on Thursday, Oct. 9, and again Kewaskum was victorious in both matches. Scores were: 15-4, 15-10, 15-2 and 15-1, 15-3, 15-2.

Sara Disler was the MVP of the matches, scoring 15 points for the team, 12 assists and eight aces.

Williams scored 11 points and Sarah Schwinn had 10. L. Schwinn had eight assists. Williams led as the ace leader with nine.

"Disler led the team in all three areas. She did an outstanding job," said Coach Mary Holfeltz.

Williams served a perfect game, 34-34.

On Tuesday, Oct. 14, the girls creamed Chilton 15-3, 15-9 and 15-8.

L. Schwinn was MVP of the game, scoring nine points, with seven assists and five aces. In serving, she went 18-18.

Heather Radtke scored eight points. Disler had eight assists and was the save leader with three.

"Schwinn played a great match for the Indians. The team continues to play extremely well," said Holfeltz.

Thursday, Oct. 16, the Indians defeated Plymouth, 2-1, 15-6, and 9-15.

L. Schwinn was MVP of the match, scoring six points, five assists, one save and four aces. In serving, she went 14-14.

Disler had five assists. Wiesner had one save.

"She (L. Schwinn) has really developed into an excellent all-around player. The team played a great last match to go undefeated for the season," said the coach.

The team's strength was serving. Their year-end team average was 89%.

Holfeltz said, "The kids played well together and complemented each other's play. Each member was strong in a different area. Therefore we had great success."

The girls took first in the conference with a record of 14-0.

Stats for the year are as

JV Volleyball Girls Believe in Themselves

By Scarlett M. Spagna

Believing in themselves, their skills, and their abilities to be a successful team player has made every member of the KHS girls' JV volleyball team a promising asset to their overall success.

Coach Mary Holfeltz explained that serving has been an important strength. "We have Sara Disler and Sarah Schwinn as very hard, consistent servers. Sarah Williams has the highest serve percentage with 34 for 34 attempts," she stated.

Passing, however, has been their biggest weakness, but it has improved as the year goes on.

"If someone spikes hard at you, you must read the server as to where it's going to go," Coach Holfeltz observed.

The positive attitudes of the players led the team to achieve a 12-0 conference record.

"It also helps that they get along well. Most players are friends off the court. The sophomores accept the freshmen to work in with their age group," said Coach Holfeltz.

A unique aspect of the team is that all of the players hold respectable talent. It is quite rare for the majority of the team to be somewhat equal in skill ability.

"Usually, only three to five players on the team would be good, and the other players would be just average," commented Coach Holfeltz.

Overall, Coach Mary Holfeltz feels that, "Volleyball is a great sport to work on teamwork. It's a fun, enjoyable game. I am impressed by the level of play. This is my 12th year coaching here. The girls have worked harder in the off-season and some have joined volleyball clubs or camps. This makes the game faster than what it had been five or six years ago."

The players and positions for the JV team are as follows: Sarah Schwinn and Jenny Kraft, outside hitters; Sara Disler and Laura Schwinn, setter-hitters; Sara Dreher and Laura Bauman, back row specialists; Lauren Steinhardt, Heather Radtke, Katie Kopecky, and Janel Hubacek, middle hitters/blockers; and Sarah Williams and Lynn Wiesner, all-arounds.

Both team captains agree that their team has gone far because of their perseverance and motivation.

Captain Lauren Steinhardt stated, "I think we

Indians Lose Offensive Battle to Plymouth

Those weren't shooting stars you saw in the sky last Friday night, those were footballs filling the air as the Kewaskum Indians played their last home game of the season before a Parents' Night crowd.

If you like offense in a football game, you didn't want to miss this game, as the Indians and visiting Plymouth Panthers combined for over 1,000 yards of total offense (Kewaskum 512, Plymouth 491) including 30 first downs for Kewaskum. If it wasn't the big outburst of offense that was most memorable, then it was the fourth quarter comeback by the Indians that was.

Behind 35-14 in the fourth quarter, the Indians rallied to score four touchdowns and take a 42-41 lead with just two minutes left in the game. Just like last week, however, the Indians were not able to stop the Panthers as they scored the final touchdown to win 47-42. It was the second week in a row that the Indians had taken the lead at the end of the game only to lose in the last minute.

Josh Gaffke, Ryan Rammer and Tim Vetter had outstanding games. Gaffke completed 25-39 passes for 327 yards, four touchdowns, and three interceptions.

Rammer caught 16 passes for 215 yards and three touchdowns. Tim Vetter rushed 20 times for 180 yards and two touchdowns, including a 70 yard run on a second down and 26 on the Indians own eight yard line. Vetter and Rammer combined for 395 yards offensively and five touchdowns.

"They didn't have anyone who could match up with Ryan (Ramer). He's got good football speed and great hands. If he gets his hands on it, it's his," said Coach Perry Koth about Rammer's performance. Koth also added, "With all the throwing we were doing, the defensive backs could not come up and support the run as hard, and that allowed Tim to get through the linebackers with some room to run. Tim was breaking tackles all night. He really ran tough."

Kewaskum took the opening drive in for a touchdown with Tim Vetter running it in from the three. Chris Koth's kick made it 7-0. The first quarter ended 7-0.

Plymouth scored twice in the second quarter as Nic Giebler scored on runs of five yards and one yard for a 13-7 Plymouth lead. Kewaskum came back to tie it up 14-14 on a 25 yard Gaffke to Rammer touchdown pass and Koth's kick. The Panthers scored late in the quarter on a 15 yard scoring pass to Brad Rortvedt for a halftime lead of 21-14.

The third quarter belonged to Plymouth, as they scored 14 unanswered points on a 15 yard pass and a 32 yard run. The third quarter ended with Plymouth ahead, 35-14.

The fourth quarter was an offensive explosion as 48 points (six touchdowns) were scored by the two teams. Kewaskum's first drive started with Vetter's 70 yard run from the Indians own five yard line after a holding penalty set them back, making it second and 26.

The inside trap play saw Vetter make one man miss him at the line of scrimmage, then he broke the tackle of the linebacker, broke the tackle of the safety and he then romped up the sideline before being dragged down 70 yards later.

"Tim had a blocker ahead of him just before he got tackled but the blocker missed the block or it would have been a 95 yard touchdown run for him," Koth said about the run. "It was a great effort by Tim."

Two plays later, Rammer hauled in a 15 yard pass reception for the touchdown. The snap was mishandled and Jason Strobel threw an incomplete pass on the extra point attempt, resulting in a 35-20 Plymouth lead.

Kewaskum struck again as Rammer hauled in another Gaffke pass for a 28 yard score. The Indians were successful on the two-point conversion as Tim Vetter made a diving one-handed catch of a Gaffke pass making it 35-28. "It was one of the best catches I've seen in the 19 years I've been coaching," Koth said of Vetter's one-handed grab.

Matt Gundrum set up the next score as he recovered a Panther fumble at the Indian 25 yard line. Gundrum has recovered a fumble in each of the last six games. After a 15 yard run was nullified by a holding penalty, Rammer hauled in a 25 yard pass to the two yard line. This time it was Vetter's turn to score, as he took it in from the two with Koth's kick knotting the score at 35-35.

The Panther's next possession was a short one as sophomore Chris Koth intercepted a pass and returned it ten yards to the Indians 48 yard line. A clipping penalty however, moved the Indians back and for the only time in the fourth quarter, Kewaskum had to punt.

On the second play from scrimmage, Panther quarterback Tim Keyes hit Giebler and when the defender fell down, he took it 58 yards for the score and a 41-35 Plymouth lead. The kick was wide however, giving the Panthers only a six point lead.

The Indians, however, were on an offensive roll and came right back with a long drive that started with a 25 yard catch by Rammer on third and ten, followed by a ten yard scamper by Jim Kopecky and a 20 yard reception by Rammer. Another 18 yard Rammer reception put the Indians on the eight yard line.

With just over two minutes left in the game, Plymouth called a timeout to regroup. The Panthers put three defenders on Rammer but the play was called to senior Troy Staehler, who made a nice catch as he was falling out of bounds for the touchdown. Koth's kick gave the Indians the lead with under two minutes left in the game.

The Panthers came back to strike once more as Nick Giebler scored his fifth touchdown of the game, giving Plymouth the win. Kewaskum did threaten to score once more after pass completions to Rammer of 15 and 20 yards and one to Vetter for 25 yards before the clock ran out.

The loss gives the Indians a 2-4 conference mark and 2-6 overall. Kewaskum will travel to New Holstein (5-1) for its last game of the season on Friday.

LAST WEEK'S RESULTS: Kewaskum 42, Plymouth 47; New Holstein 23, Roncalli 12; Sheboygan Falls 32, Chilton 6; Kiel 48, Two Rivers 0.

Gridiron Club Ends Season

The Kewaskum Gridiron Club played their last regular season games this past Saturday.

The eighth grade A team came up with a win against the Menomonee Falls Panthers, 22-16. The seventh grade B team also won by a score of 14-6 against the Panthers. The sixth grade C team struggled and lost to the Panthers, 32-6.

All teams ended regular season play with four and three records. Everyone should be proud of the young boys and their coaches. This was their first year in a full contact football league and they did great!

Playoffs are scheduled for this next weekend, October 25, at the Kewaskum High School football field starting at 9 a.m.

Raffle tickets will be on sale for the autographed Reggie White helmet. There will also be sweatshirts and t-shirts for sale. Hope to see you there and again congratulations to the boys on a great season.

It takes about ten years to get used to how old you are.

really work as a team and we help put in our best efforts to make us successful. We work really hard at practice, but it's still a lot of fun."

Sara Disler, the other captain, commented, "We all work together. We really communicate well on and off the court. We try our best and always go full force. We go in to win, but we always have fun."
