Open House Draws Attention to Facility Problems at KES

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Patched and prodded with additions, Kewaskum's red brick elementary school was the topic of discussion for residents who braved the blowing snow last Wednesday to see for themselves what they'd already heard about the 73 year old building: They can't afford not to do something about it, but the million dollar question is what? (Make that several million).

The district's Facilities Planning Committee joined forces with members of the school board and administration to candidly discuss three proposed long range building options with the community during an Open House that offered tours of the school and a chance to get questions answered.

The hoped for outcome is informed taxpayers whose input in the planning stages could hasten decision making and support future building referendums.

Approximately 40 residents showed up, voicing concerns about the elementary school that included safety hazards, energy efficiency, environmental and traffic issues, handicapped accessibility, and the question of whether to build a new school on the old site or a new location.

Options could include saving the newest portion of the building for administrative offices (which are now located in a trailer adjacent to the school), tear down the rest and use the remaining land for parking or sports.

The present elementary school, built in 1924 as a high school, has a long history of reconstruction as it continued to expand to serve a growing district. In 1949 it received a shop addition that is now the cafeteria; in 1950 a single story five classroom building was added as an elementary school; 1966 saw the inclusion of a two-story building to expand the facility to K-8; in 1975 the Zarling Commons was added (now the library and classrooms) and the facility was phased down to K-6, and in 1986, the sixth grade was moved to Kewaskum Middle School and the elementary school became a K-5 facility.

Although the seven acre site and building reportedly have the capacity to house 430 students, school board president Jean Goeden told Open House attendants that 375 students already crowd the classrooms and hallways, and the multi-leveled structure does not conform to present disability mandates.

Projected student enrollment figures indicate a 2% increase per year, for an estimated 442 students at KES by the year 2008, but area growth could exceed those figures if Washington County's growth continues to comparatively rank number one in the state.

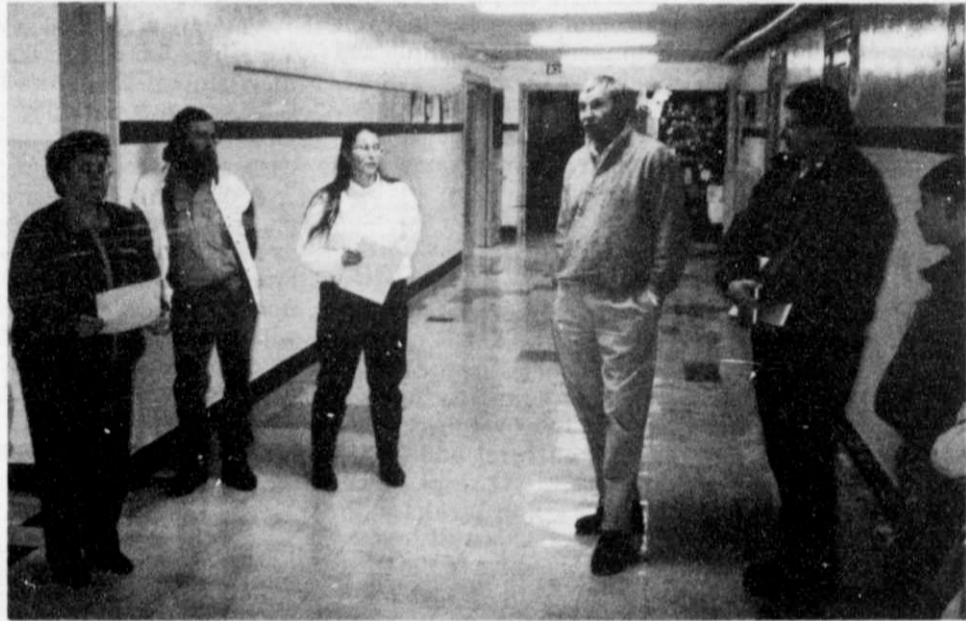

Committee members broke into groups to represent the three recommended facilities building programs and promote both their advantages and their drawbacks. Each proposed building program assumes options within themselves, making it difficult for the consensus of the school board to back one or the other at this time; the exception being the dire need for a new, reopened, or expanded elementary school.

K-4 MODEL - ($23,600,000) - Build new KHS for 1,000 students with 500 seat auditorium on acquired land; move KES to remodeled KMS; remodel Wayne, Farmington and Beechwood, reopen Beechwood.

K-5 MODEL - ($14,000,000) - Build new KES on present site for 500 students, remodel KMS and KHS to link both schools and add IMC, lobby, gymnasium, stage (four classrooms and one office for KMS); fill land near river east of school for athletic fields and parking; remodel WES, FES, BES, reopen Beechwood. If KES is built on new site, land filling would not be required.

K-6 MODEL - ($13,285,000) - Build new K-6 elementary school for 500 students; remodel high school with gymnasium, lobby, locker rooms, storage; fill land near river east of school for athletic fields and parking; remodel WES, FES, and BES. Reopen Beechwood. If KES is built on a new site, land filling would not be required.

All figures are cost estimates at this time. Business manager George Allmann previously stated that it would cost up to $100,000 for Cravillion Architects to research and present accurate estimates and hard figures for any of the building plans.

Each plan includes bringing Beechwood School back into the picture, with estimated building repair costs, start up purchases, added staff and operation costs of around $345,646.00.

This past Monday the school board met in special session to review public response to the Open House and discuss future facilities planning in more depth. As yet, no decisions have been made. Currently, a school board survey is being formulated to send to all facilities committee members in order to gather further input on an individual basis.

GFWC Pledged to Increase Literacy of Nation's Youth Woman's Club Announces Kick-Off of 'Libraries 2000'

Gwendolyn Dreher, president of the GWWC Kewaskum Woman's Club, announced recently that club members are kicking off Libraries 2000, the General Federation of Women's Clubs' (GFWC) campaign to fulfill its commitment to the Presidents' Summit for America's Future. In support of the goals of the Summit, which was held in Philadelphia, PA. last April, GFWC pledged to increase the literacy of our nation's youth with a goal of contributing at least $12.5 million worth of books and materials to public libraries and public school libraries by the year 2000.

"Our club is planning a variety of activities to collect books, computers and other learning and instructional materials as well as cash donations to help meet the goal," Mrs. Dreher said.

Mrs. Dreher explained that GFWC has a history of support for libraries and literacy over the past 107 years. Federated clubs helped establish 75 percent of U.S. public libraries.

When President Clinton and former Presidents Bush, Reagan, Carter and Ford convened the Presidents' Summit, they issued a call to action on the part of citizens and organizations to "turn the tide for America's youth by the turn of the century." Chaired by General Colin Powell, the summit's goal is to mobilize volunteers from all sectors to ensure that all America's youth have access to the fundamental resources that can help them lead fulfilling and productive lives.

GFWC is a Washington, D.C. based international organization of 6,500 community-based volunteer women's clubs, with over one million members worldwide in 20 countries. The Kewaskum Woman's Club has been a member of the Federation since 1917 and is known for contributing two high school scholarships ($250 & $500 respectively) each year, the Kewaskum Kettle Country Sweet Shoppe each October, Village Beautification Awards Presentation, and donations to various service organizations in the county as well as the Village of Kewaskum.

WB Savings Bank Collects 750 Items For Food Pantry

In the month of December, West Bend Savings Bank locations collected over 750 non-perishable food items for area full shelf food pantries. All donated items were then distributed to each branch locations' local food pantry.

As part of the collection of food items, West Bend Savings Bank offered their customers who donated the opportunity to register to win a color television.

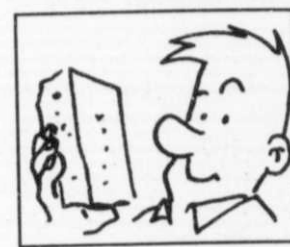

Ms. Diane Lapota of West Bend was drawn from the over 1,200 people who participated. A special thank you to all West Bend Savings Bank customers who donated food items. It is their generosity and thoughtfulness that makes Washington County such a great place to live.

Letter to The Editor

January 15, 1998

Letter to the Editor:

I want to take this opportunity to thank all of the Kewaskum School District residents who took the time and braved the weather to attend the Open House at Kewaskum Elementary School last night.

As a member of the Community Facility Study Group, I want all district residents to be as informed as possible about the condition of our buildings and of the plans being reviewed by the school board. Last night was an opportunity for the residents to see for themselves exactly what condition KES is in. School Board and Study Group members were also available to answer questions and to receive the opinions and views of the residents.

Another Open House is being planned for people who were unable to attend last night's meeting.

NOW is the time to be talking to School Board members and Study Group members, because plans are in the developmental stage and your input is valuable. We want this to be a district project that we can all be proud of. To accomplish that goal we have been working to keep the newspapers informed of our activities and have kept meetings open to the public. Now we need the district residents to become active participants.

NOW is the time to get informed, to ask your questions, to put in your "two-cents worth," NOT a few days before a referendum. Please get informed and call School Board and Study Group members. WE NEED YOU!!

Thanks again to all who attended the Open House.

Summer Exchange Hosts Needed

Host families are needed for a summer cultural exchange program in which black children from rural and small towns in Mississippi spend two and a half weeks with Wisconsin families. This yearly exchange began in 1968 and is organized by Project Self-Help & Awareness (P.S.A.), a non-profit, non-denominational organization.

Prejudice against Blacks and other minorities is all around us. Even if you, as a parent, are a model of tolerance, your children see and hear it on television, from neighbors, relatives and friends. P.S.A.'s exchange program allows your children the opportunity to see with their own eyes that Black children play, laugh and cry at the same things we do, and that the color of one's skin has nothing to do with being a good person inside.

The Mississippi children, ages 6-16, come from an economic cross-section, although most come from economically disadvantaged homes. Wisconsin families are allowed to choose the ages and sex of the child. The cost to Wisconsin families is $35 per child to help cover transportation from Mississippi to Fond du Lac and insurance during their stay. The dates of this summer's exchange are June 7-25, June 14-July 2, June 28-July 16, July 12-30 and July 19-August 6.

Each year, over one hundred children return to Northeastern Wisconsin as the exchange is a chance for them to live in an environment more free of prejudice and poverty. Many Mississippi children hope to come to Wisconsin this summer, but have no family to host them. You and your family, or someone you know, may be able to make that wish a reality. There are also opportunities for volunteer bus drivers and adults to chaperone the buses. Interested families can obtain an information packet by calling Cindy Puffall at 533-4949 or Diane Lipman at 338-0968.

Jeep Breaks Through Thin Ice at Crooked Lake

Business was booming at Kelly's Beach Bar at Crooked Lake on Sunday, January 18, as nearly 100 people turned out to watch the dive rescue crew of Dive and Ice Service, Oshkosh, retrieve Al Gremminger's Jeep Wrangler from the murky ice water. Al and a few friends were told there was between 9 to 12 inches of ice on the lake and decided to do a little ice fishing. To his dismay, he discovered in all actuality, there was only four inches where he parked the Jeep. Extremely lucky to have gotten out of the vehicle as he felt the back tires go under, Al watched the Jeep sink into about 20 feet of water. The dive rescue company was called in and started the process of getting the vehicle out around 8:30 a.m. and found it, sitting on its back window, buried in about five feet of muck. The above photo shows the Jeep being pulled out along very long tracks the dive rescue crew puts into the water to guide the vehicle out. The below photo shows the water-logged Jeep as it is successfully retrieved and pulled out almost all the way on solid ice again around 11 a.m. One small consolation was they did find one lone blue gill flapping around in the back seat, but that was an awful expensive way to catch fish, don't you think Al? All joking aside, fortunately this story did not have a tragic ending, but others may not be quite as lucky. Please... ice fishermen and snowmobilers... be careful and double check to be sure there's enough ice where you choose to play.

Treasurer Reports County Property Tax Collection Down

WEST BEND -- Fredric A. Seefeldt, Washington County Treasurer, reported Monday that December property tax collections by local treasurers were down compared to one year ago.

As of December 31, 1997, 45% of the County tax levy of $25,157,984 was collected. This compares to 50% of the County tax levy collected last year at the same time. Seefeldt attributed the drop to the fact that many taxpayers had large refunds coming from their tax escrow checks last year and therefore paid early.

"The large refunds were triggered by lower school taxes. Tax escrow accounts are based on the previous year's taxes, so for 1997 the accounts were adjusted accordingly," said Seefeldt.

According to Janice Gettelman, Deputy Treasurer, the Towns of Trenton and Richfield were virtually tied for highest percentage of collection at 52.93% and 52.73% respectively. Mrs. Gettelman observed that the trend is for taxpayers to pay their property taxes in full, many by year-end. "Most new homeowners have their property taxes escrowed along with their mortgage payments. The lenders like to see the taxes paid in full so they are spared the expense of monitoring tax balances," Mrs. Gettelman commented.

Seefeldt reported that the County's share of the December collection was $11.4 million. In addition, local treasurers also made payments to local school districts, vocational districts, special districts and the state.

Students Named for December Kiwanis Honor

Brad Hermann and Sarah Bausch

Kewaskum High School seniors Sarah Bausch and Brad Hermann were selected December's "Kiwanis Students of the Month."

Sarah's time at KHS has been full. This year alone, Sarah's in her second year of the KEY Club, National Honor Society, Peers 4 Peers, and is a D.A.R.E. role model for elementary students. She's in her third year of Round Table and Student Council, in which she has been an officer all three years.

Sarah has also been a member of FHA, Math Team, Lit Club, and she even participated in the chorus of this year's musical, "Fiddler on the Roof." Additionally, as a member of the Forensics squad, Sarah traveled to State twice, earning a gold this past year.

Her involvement at KHS has also included athletics. She has been in track every year (participating in high jump and the 400), tennis for the last two, and volleyball and basketball during her first years at KHS.

Outside of KHS, Sarah is involved in various church activities, and has a job doing payroll, bookkeeping, and other business duties for Acro Metal Stamping of Milwaukee. She is also just starting as a tutor, teaching Spanish to a young girl.

Sarah's Spanish was undoubtedly tested during the summer of 1996, when she visited Spain in the "Hermanos de Espana" program. Last summer, Sarah was a representative for Badger Girls State.

As for the future, although she isn't quite decided as to what she will study specifically, Sarah will likely be attending Texas A & M University or UW-Madison.

Brad has been busy, as well, during his KHS career. He has been involved in Future Business Leaders of America, Swing Choir, Honors Choir, Peers 4 Peers, and he played Perchik in the delightful KHS musical, "Fiddler on the Roof" this past fall. He has also been active in Student Round Table, and this year serves as the Senior Class Vice-President on the Student Council.

Athletics has also kept Brad active. Earlier at KHS, he participated in basketball and football. Currently, Brad completed his second year of soccer, and is looking forward to his fourth year of pole vaulting in track and field. Brad's pole vaulting has advanced him to Sectionals competition, and has earned him two KHS honors: The Brad Jackson Award (for pole vaulting) and last season's Most Improved Vault.

Brad spends some time away from KHS being involved at his church, Community Church in West Bend. There, he is active in the youth group, co-leads a bible study group, and takes part in outreaches throughout the state and country (last summer took him on an outreach to Hollywood, California). Brad has even played softball for the church team.

Brad also spends time at his job at Pick 'n Save North.

At the present time, Brad plans to attend UW-WC next fall, when he will determine his specific field of study.

Middle School Student Wins Art Award

Sarah Kurer

"A Working People" is the mixed-media collage by Kewaskum Middle School seventh grader Sarah Kurer that captured ninth place in the statewide 1997-98 Student Art Awards, sponsored by the Wisconsin Association of School Boards (WASB) and the Wisconsin Art Education Association, for grades 7-12. As a result of her recognition, Sarah will receive a certificate and a $50 savings bond.

Sarah's piece, done in markers, pictures, and a pastel chalk, shows "people working through time," an evolution from a small cave-man to a much larger scientist. Her piece came following a presentation by local historian, Lisa Lickel, who spoke to seventh graders about the research done for Farmington township's 150th birthday.

The contest theme itself, in fact, was tied into the Wisconsin Sesquicentennial. Each of the entered artworks was required to be a "two-dimensional work of art in color, depicting some aspect of (the) community that highlights its unique historical and/or contemporary character."

KMS Art Instructor Ms. Molenda submitted several from the seventh grade class that seemed to best fit contest guidelines.

In addition to Sarah's collage, entries by two other KMS seventh graders, Bill Thelen and Breyan Donath, were also to be displayed during the WASB State Education Convention at

Local 'Cheeseheads' Attend Tampa Bay Game

Bob and Sandra (Bremser) Krueger of Safety Harbor, Florida were visited by their Kewaskum area family members in December. The highlight of the trip for everyone was tailgating and attending the Green Bay Packer-Tampa Bay Buccaneer game on December 7, which, of course, the Packers won! According to Sandra, "Cheeseheads are not very well liked in the Tampa Bay area anymore, so tickets may be harder to get for next season!" Shown at the game, front row, left to right: Jean (Bremser) Althaus, Stacey Althaus, Trevor Althaus, Mitchell Keller, and Lindsay Keller. Back row: Carl Althaus, Bob Krueger, Sandra (Bremser) Krueger, Diane (Bremser) Keller, Char Keller and Bruce Keller.

She will be recognized at WSAW's Annual Awards Banquet scheduled for February 14, 1998 at the Country Inn Hotel and Conference Center in Waukesha.

Every Wisconsin public and private high school is invited annually to select one senior female student-athlete for the Award of Excellence. Recipients must meet the high standard of a minimum 3.0 cumulative GPA and a varsity letter in at least one sport.

Carrie has lettered in basketball, volleyball and track while maintaining a 3.3 GPA. She is the daughter of Allen and Debbie Wiesner.

WSAW staged its first Annual Awards Banquet in February of 1991. To date, nearly 1,000 female student-athletes from all over Wisconsin have been honored and recognized as recipients of the WSAW Award of Excellence. # Have You Hugged Your Trail Boss Lately?

by Mike Carr

One of the most amazing things about snowmobiling is how much of its success is due to the efforts of volunteers. Without their past efforts, and their continuing work, we would not enjoy the many riding opportunities we have today. Our renowned trail network in Wisconsin - probably the best in the nation - would not exist. We'd still be riding in road ditches and on lakes for the most part, instead of on safe, well-marked cross-country trails.

Those visionaries who founded snowmobile clubs in the late 1960s and early 1970s, and then began to establish trails, have earned our lasting gratitude. Too many of us tend to take this wonderful statewide trail network for granted, and forget how it came to be. Do you realize how fortunate we are to have so many routes to ride, and different ways we can cross our state?

Many of those pioneers have passed from the snowmobile scene, but there are still a good number of them around, and they deserve our heartfelt thanks and appreciation. We have many thousands of miles of state-funded and club trails to ride on every year, and they are the reason those trails exist.

Snowmobile trails are not static, however -- most of them have to be re-created upon the landscape every new season, and that's not easy, either. Most established routes have to be marked and cleared open with brush cutters and chain saws. As a courtesy, landowners must be contracted to obtain their permission to route the trail across their property once again.

The focal point of these efforts each fall and winter is the trail boss. He is the one who makes the phone calls, drives all over the territory, orders the signs, gets the lumber, contacts the landowners, and generally brings it all together. Along the way, he has to deal with all sorts of obstacles: a lack of volunteers to assist in the work, new buildings going up on established trail routes, land that has changed hands (and which now may be closed to snowmobiling), helpers who are slow in reporting their time and expenses for state reimbursement, and dozens of other headaches. And that's just in the pre-season! When the snow comes, there's a whole new set of concerns: landowner complaints of renegade riders, fences or gates needing attention, signs blown away or stolen, flooded trails, or any other assortment of disasters, natural or man-made. No matter the problem, the trail boss has to deal with it and fix it, often on short notice. It's yeoman work -- and I don't need to tell you what these selfless individuals get paid for all their many hours of effort. They do it for you and me, and for their love of the sport.

These people, and the volunteers who assist them (including the groomer operators, many of whom are trail coordinators themselves), are the backbone of snowmobiling today. They make it happen, and they deserve the thanks of every single snowmobiler who rides on a marked trail anywhere in this state, or elsewhere.

Go ahead, jump on your sled and ride anywhere you like. We have the trail network that allows you to do that. But never, ever forget that a lot of work has gone into every mile you enjoy, and someone has been responsible for creating and maintaining that route for your enjoyment.

Those people, God bless them, are overworked and under appreciated. We owe them a lot, because we love riding so much, and they make it possible. The next time you see your club's trail boss, you don't need to give him a hug, but a pat on the back and a heartfelt "thank you" would tell him that you recognize his hours of work, and his dedication. And if you're not among the volunteers who help prepare and mark the trails, it's about time you got with the program and answered the call the next time volunteers are needed. That's another tangible way you can help your trail boss, and something that will be appreciated and welcomed. By helping out, you can take the same sort of pride in your club's trail system as he does, because you'll see what is involved in making it possible.

My hat is off in recognition of every trail coordinator in this state, and yours should be, too. Don't forget to say "thanks, and well done" the next time you have the chance!

Enough ripping on Mrs. Martin, she put alot of time into preschool. Thanks Mrs. Martin, you made preschool fun and a learning experience for everyone. We'll remember it forever! By Andrew R. Kuehl

The Kewaskum High School's Child Development Class taught by Mrs. Carol Martin held their first semester Preschool December 9th thru January 9th.

Child Development is an elective offered to high school juniors and seniors. The first half (quarter) of the course deals with preparing to have a child, carrying the child, the birth process, and how to care for the newborn. During the second half (quarter) the class holds their own preschool. Many weeks of preparation lead up to approximately twelve days of preschool.

"Preschool provides an opportunity for community parents to send their four and five year olds to a free preschool that will give them a small taste of what school will be like. It provides the juniors and seniors first-hand experience practicing what they learn in the formal classroom," said Martin.

"I thought it was very fun, and a good experience for the children," said student, Sara Ramel. The parents drop the kids off at the high school and the children participate in numerous activities such as playtime, circle-time, story-time, music/fingerplay and art.

Carol Martin started teaching in Kewaskum in 1977, in the foods and consumer education department. Carol, her husband Bob, who teaches at Lakeshore Technical College, daughter Kimberly, a freshman at the university of Minneapolis and daughter Katie, a sophomore at West Bend East all reside in the City of West Bend.

She says "Many of my present high schoolers were in preschool as three, four and five year olds."

She attributes most of her success with the program to the "cooperation of community resources" especially her former student Shawn Roberts, former owner of My Little Friends Day Care Center. "For many years Shawn has generously shared her time as she speaks to the high school classes about successful ideas that are age-appropriate for the four to five year olds."

Last year Carol, along with several students presented a program at the state school board convention on operating a preschool as part of the Child Development class.

"I truly enjoy the students in the Kewaskum district. They are generally hard-working and respectful. I also like the subjects I teach because they are so relevant to life. (Child Development, Human Relations, Money and Parenting Skill MAPS and Co-op)"

Carol recalls a story where one high schooler came back from the weekend after meeting one of her preschool charges in the beauty salon. The preschooler insisted they sit in the waiting area and sing preschool songs. "Must have been quite the entertainment for the other customers!" she said, smiling.

This semester's preschool student teachers were: Seniors-Sara Rodenkirch, Jill Wichtoski, Bruce Fellenz, Andrew Kuehl (everyone's favorite), Sara Ramel, Nick Brettingen, Trisha Coulter, Jackie Kelling and

The Preschoolers were: Colin Gliniecki, Katelyn Spang, Keziah (Kizzie) Olla, Caleb Olla, Blade Ramthun, Mitchell Cochran, Tanner Schaub, Louis Tuszynski, Erika Heberer, Joey Herriges, Ryan Elbe, Erin Stonecipher, Katelyn Herriges, Sarah Reis, Abigail Amerling, and Morgan Beisbier.

"Preschool was fun. All the kids got involved. It was a good experience for the students and

New Board Members and Officers Elected at County Historial Museum

Last November, the Washington County Historical Society elected three new members to its board of directors.

Shawn Graff of Slinger, James D. Reigle of Kewaskum and Mary Schleif of West Bend, along with incumbent Marlene Reinders (originally of Allenton and now living on Big Cedar Lake) were all elected to a three year term which began January 1, 1998.

Shawn Graff's ties to the Society have been well established during his four year employment with Washington County as the chief consultant for the Old Courthouse renovation into the new museum. His fundraising talents, as well as his vast knowledge of professional museum practices make him uniquely qualified for his new role as a board member.

Jim Reigle, the former CEO and president of Regal Ware, Inc., adds a tried-and-true business savvy and a personal interest in history. As a member of the Society's development committee, he is also keenly aware of the financial challenges that must be faced.

A retired McLane Grade School teacher, Mary Schleif has already been a great help in setting up the Society's new Historical Enrichment Learning Programs (HELP) to outreach to local schools. As a volunteer who regularly works at the Society, she also acts as an advocate to the Board to voice any concerns the volunteers may have.

Along with the new board members, Marlene Reinders was re-elected to her second, three-year term. In addition, she was elected president of the board, replacing Robert A. Meyer, who had served as the Society's president since 1995. Of Meyer and other past presidents, Reinders notes, "I'm going to have a challenge, (trying) to fill those shoes."

However, judging from her past experience as the Society's treasurer and as the chairman for the Society's phenomenal cookbook, The Flavors of Washington County, she will not have too many problems taking on a leadership role.

Joining Reinders as officers are: Jim Sears, West Bend, vice-president; Beverly Schroeder, Hartford/Township of Erin, secretary; and Carl Kirchner, West Bend, treasurer.

In addition to Robert Meyer, who will complete his term as a board member and committee chairman, other board members include Carol Beverly, West Bend, Melvin Kluever, West Bend, Rolanda Lehn, Newburg, and Bonnie Motl, West Bend. Leaving at the end of 1997 were Kris Calenberg, Joan M. Pick and Helen Rilling, all who had served maximum term limits according to the Society's governing By-Laws.

The Society's Executive Director, David Tanner, commented, "I'm extremely pleased with the outcome of this past year's elections. We have a strong, dedicated and knowledgeable Board which is willing to put a good deal of effort into this organization. Couple this with the enthusiasm and talents of our current staff and corps of volunteers, and you have a winning combination."

The Board will hold its Second Annual Board Retreat in late January. Tanner stated, "the retreat acts as both an orientation to new (board) members, and also helps the whole group to focus on our objectives."

Long-range planning and current budget review are topics up for discussion.

To find out more about the Society, visit the Old Courthouse Square Museum, 320 S. 5th Avenue, West Bend, during the museum's new hours: Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays from 1 to 4 p.m., or call 335-4678.

WisDOT Announces Lowest Traffic Fatality Rate on Record

Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Secretary, Charles H. Thompson announced recently that Wisconsin experienced the lowest traffic fatality rate in the history of the state during 1997.

"Wisconsin continues to be one of the nation's leaders in traffic safety," said Secretary Thompson. "More vehicles are traveling more roads than ever before in this state, and as new traffic safety issues merge, it is imperative that Wisconsin continue its relentless effort in providing the safest and most efficient transportation system possible," Secretary Thompson added.

The fatality rate factors in the increasing number of miles traveled by all motorists every year and the number of deaths that were a result of traffic crashes.

1997 recorded a six percent decline in the number of fatalities from 1996, with a two percent increase in the number of vehicle miles of travel. Last year the traffic fatality rate dropped from 1.44 per 100 million vehicle miles traveled in 1996 to a record breaking 1.34 per 100 million miles traveled during 1997.

WisDOT's Bureau of Transportation Safety Director, David Manning, attributed safer roads, better emergency medical services, improved vehicle safety features, successful anti-drinking and-driving efforts, increased public awareness of transportation safety and partnerships with public and private sector groups for the reduced fatality rate.

"Last year's experience certainly indicates that Wisconsin is moving in the right direction when it comes to transportation safety. It is our hope we will be able to continue this trend for many years to come," said Manning.

Manning added during the first 10 months of 1997, the state saw declines in areas such as an 8% decrease in the number of alcohol related crashes and a 7.4% decrease in motorcyclist injuries and deaths. Other notable decreases during 1997 include speed related crashes (2.5%), speed related fatalities (5.3%), bicyclist injuries and fatalities (2.1%) and pedestrian injuries and deaths (1.3%). Preliminary numbers indicate Wisconsin recorded 631 fatal traffic crashes accounting for 721 fatalities last year.

Spotty Snow, Thin Ice Pose Hazards for Snowmobilers

MADISON -- With snow cover spotty across Wisconsin and ice treacherous on many lakes and rivers, recreation safety experts are cautioning snowmobilers to know the conditions of lakes and trails before starting their ride.

"You've got to know before you go," says Tom Thoresen, chief of recreation safety for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. "Next week is International Snowmobile Safety Week and the best way for snowmobilers to participate is by riding with - in their capabilities and with in the limits of the conditions around them."

This year's snowmobile safety week, Jan. 18-24, finds Wisconsin with uneven snow cover that has put some of the state's 20,000 miles of snowmobile trails on public and private lands off limits. In addition, the early unseasonably warm temperatures and recent cold have left many lakes and rivers unpredictable with some having only a thin coating of ice, now dusted in many cases with a deceptive dusting of snow.

"Snowmobilers need to be particularly careful that they check with local sports stores or local authorities to learn about ice conditions," Thoresen said. "And once they're on ice, they need to make sure they stay alert and don't ride near weak ice or into open water."

In late December, a 36-year old Seymour man died when the snowmobile he was driving hit open water on Shawano Lake. Later that same day, a 21-year-old Brillion man drove a snowmobile into open water on the same lake, but was able to pull himself onto the ice, where he was found by rescuers.

Thoresen said snowmobilers, given the trail conditions, also need to be sure to follow the rules of the road and to use their signals to alert other snowmobilers to their intentions to turn or stop. "With the lack of snow pushing more snowmobilers onto the same trails, people need to be courteous and cautious on the trails, and slow down when they are on unfamiliar terrain."

The lack of snow has had one positive result: the state has had fewer fatalities and injuries thus far than last season, Thoresen said. Through Jan. 12, four people died in snowmobile accidents and 18 others received injuries that required a doctor's treatment. By the same date last season, 17 people had died in snowmobiling accidents in Wisconsin.

Thoresen also credited the lower accident totals to the media's willingness to share safety tips and reminders. "We've gotten a lot of good help from the press in spreading the word - now we just need the snow," he said.

HT Boys A Team Loses Close Game To Campbellsport

The Wildcats of Holy Trinity were on the short end of the score, losing to St. Matt's of Campbellsport by a score of 45-39 on Friday, January 16.

After falling behind 19-13 at the end of the first half, the boys were forced to play catch up in the second half. Using a full court zone press to increase pressure on the ball, the boys created enough turnovers to take the lead, 22-21. However, this was short-lived as St. Matt's went on a 14-0 run to break the game open.

The Wildcats would not go away without a fight as they were able to score 17 points in the fourth quarter but unfortunately it was not enough.

Those scoring for Holy Trinity were Josh Repovsch with 18 points, including two three-pointers. Next up was Bryan Kraft with nine, Anthony Laatsch scored five, with one three-pointer and Nick Thorn, five and he added ten rebounds. Rounding out the scoring was Josh Timblin with two.

The Wildcats have a week off and then travel to Lomira on Friday, January 30.

KHS Girls Bow to Slinger Before Defeating Falcons

The Lady Indians had a tough time against the perennial Parkland power Slinger Owls in non-conference action on Tuesday, January 13, at Slinger losing by a score of 50-33.

Kewaskum started five sophomores for what is believed to be the first time in school history due to the thumb injury incurred by lone senior Carrie Wiesner in practice on Monday the 12th.

The KHS squad fell behind quickly in the first quarter, 11-0, before sophomore guard Laura Schwinn's basket broke the ice. After a free throw by her twin sister, Sarah, made the score 13-3, sophomore guard Jenny Kraft nailed a long three-pointer as the buzzer sounded to finish the quarter at 13-6.

Slinger extended their lead in the second quarter eventually increasing it to 21 points. The only scoring for Kewaskum coming from two baskets and a free throw by Sarah Schwinn and a basket by Kraft. This resulted in a half-time score of 32-13 and the girls going to the locker room searching for an answer.

The scoring woes continued in the third quarter with just two baskets made, one by each Schwinn twin. Slinger, however, had no such problems, and in the process increased their lead to 44-17 at the end of three.

The fourth quarter gave both coaches opportunities to give their respective benches extended playing time. Sarah Schwinn made the most of the situation by scoring 12 of her game high 20 points. Junior guard Jackie Michaels hustled and showed her potential by scoring her first varsity points in her career and playing good solid defense.

On Friday the 16th, the girls traveled to Sheboygan Falls to resume Eastern Wisconsin Conference action against the host Falcons. This time the results were much better as the Lady Indians cruised to an impressive 51-35 victory, and in doing so, ended a four game losing streak.

Falls opened the game by winning the tip and scoring the first points of the contest, but their lead was short lived and it would be the only one they would have. Using a 1-2-1-1 press almost exclusively from the onset, KHS rattled the home team and their freshman point guard into numerous turnovers. Unfortunately for the Lady Indians two starters, point guard Amy Piwoni and forward Sarah Schwinn got in early foul trouble with the aggressive play. The end result was an 11-10 first quarter Indian lead with five girls in the scoring column led by Lauren Steinhardt's two baskets.

Kewaskum broke out in the second quarter with its defense again setting the tone. Holding the host team to only one basket and eight total points for the quarter, the Lady Indians countered by scoring 20 points of their own. Leading the charge for the girls were senior Carrie Wiesner, returning from an injury, and Jenny Kraft with six apiece, and Piwoni's four. The halftime attitude in the locker room was much brighter than the previous four games due to a 31-18 advantage.

Determined to show a killer instinct, the defense came out even more intense after the break. The smothering press created opportunities for steals and the girls responded by picking off ten. Sarah Schwinn returning after her foul trouble, scored seven points after being shut out in the first half. The lead was extended to 17 points by the end of the third quarter with a score of 43-26.

In the fourth quarter the Indians and Falcons played each other fairly even with Falls outscoring KHS by one. The Lady Indians had a balanced attack with nine players scoring led by Piwoni's 11 points and four assists. Three players each had nine, with Wiesner adding seven rebounds and five steals, Kraft contributing seven rebounds and four steals and Sarah Schwinn pulling down six rebounds.

Kewaskum's record currently stands at 3-4 in Eastern Wisconsin play and 3-8 overall. Their next games will be against non-conference foe Campbell-sport on Tuesday and Parent's Night on Thursday, January 22, against Kiel, both are home contests.

The girls JV team also won against Falls, defeating them by a score of 47-13. Leading the way for the Indians was Katie Kopecky with 12 points and five rebounds, and freshman Heather Rieder with 10 points and five rebounds. The JV record currently stands at 3-4 in conference and 5-6 overall.

Indians Lose One, But Win Thriller

After a three-week holiday layoff, the Kewaskum High School boys' basketball team resumed the second half of their schedule with a road game at Plymouth last Tuesday night. This contest shaped up early with a David against Goliath scenario.

The undefeated Panther's front line of Iserloth, Harrison and Meerstien stand 6'8", 6'8" and 6'7". Coach Tom Timblin's fear that his team would come out flat and rusty after the long Christmas break was realized as Plymouth blocked 10 Indian shots and doubled the Indians rebounding total in the first half.

The Panthers scored early and often as they took a 53-24 lead into halftime against the intimidated Indians.

Kewaskum regrouped during the intermission and actually outscored Plymouth in the second half, 38-36, but the Indians dug too deep a hole in the first half to recover. The score stood at Plymouth 89, Kewaskum 62, as the final buzzer sounded ending the game.

David Gerhartz scored 10 points in the second half and led the Indians with 15 for the game. Paul Wiedmeyer rejoined the team and netted 13 points and Shaun Timblin added 10 off the bench.

"We shot 28% for the game, including an anemic 3-23 (13%) from the three point line. We were also rebounded 43-26. With those numbers, we'd have a tough time beating the Little Sisters of the Poor," quipped Coach Timblin.

Timblin added, "It's a long season, and you're going to have a game like that every now and then, when you run into a buzzsaw. They (Plymouth) have a fine team, and now we have to regain our confidence, our shooting touch, and move on."

On Friday night the Indians hosted Sheboygan Falls in a game that pitted the two most up tempo offensive teams in the conference against one another. This was to be a nip and tuck game for four quarters with the lead changing hands at least 12 times.

As usual, the Indians were dwarfed by their opponents as the Falcons front line consisted of Servant, Kalk and Tenhaken at 6'6", 6'4" and 6'4". But this game was not to be a repeat of the spanking the Indians received at the hands of Plymouth three nights earlier.

The home team had a sparkle in their eye as they came out focused on blocking out and rebounding against their taller foes. Paul Wiedmeyer scored 12 points in the first half as the Indians trailed 31-30 at the intermission.

Kewaskum continued to apply full court pressure in the second half as this one was dominated more by defense than offense. With 1:05 to go in the fourth quarter, Wiedmeyer made two free throws to give the Indians a 59-57 lead.

The Falcons answered with a bucket to tie, and Billy Cook then made three of four free throws on two consecutive possessions to give the home team a 62-59 lead. And then things got wild!

With three seconds left on the clock, Shaun Timblin fouled Sam Dentz as he attempted a game tying three pointer. He was awarded three free throws. He missed the first two attempts, and on his third try, he obviously purposely tried to miss in an attempt to secure the rebound to try another three pointer to tie the game.

He missed the rim and the Indians were awarded the ball with three seconds still remaining. The Indians tried a full court inbounds pass. Timblin and Cook went up for it along with two Falcon's players. Just like a Brett Favre bomb down the middle, all four players collided together and fell down with no one touching the ball as it went out of bounds, with no fouls being called.

Sheboygan Falls was correctly awarded the ball back under their own basket with no time elapsing on the clock because the ball was never touched in play. Thus, three seconds STILL remained. The Falcons inbounded and their three-pointer bounced off the rim as the buzzer sounded.

"That was the longest three seconds I've ever seen," a relieved Coach Tom Timblin said. "John Warnecke, Andy Christophersen and Paul Wiedmeyer dominated the boards against their taller opponents with sheer desire tonight, and that was the key," stated Timblin.

The coach added, "Paul played his second strong game in a row, scoring 21 points tonight. We're a better team with him in there. We didn't shoot real well again, but a win is a win. We did it on the defensive end."

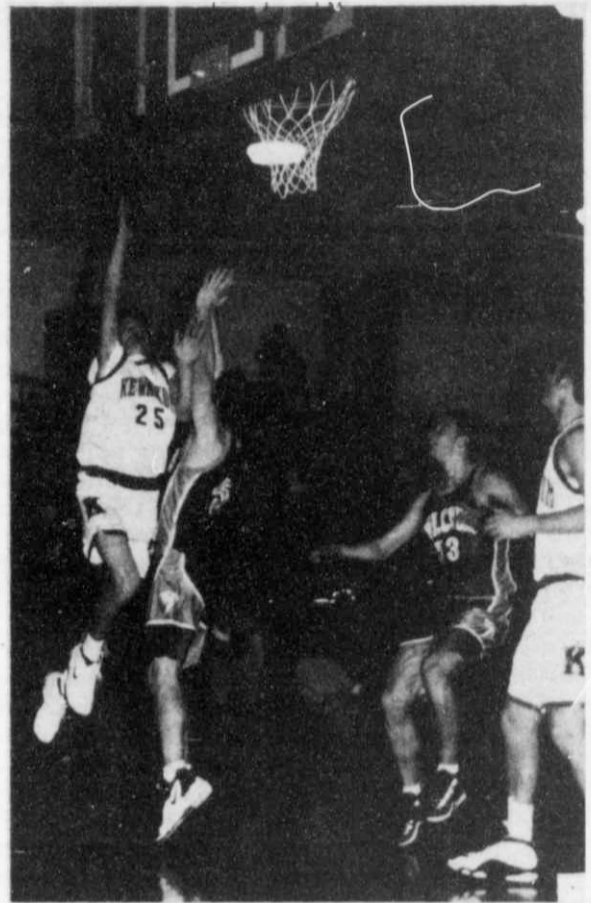

The Indians improved their record to 2-4 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and are 4-5 overall. Their next game is at Kiel on Friday night.
