Board Members Receive Lesson on School Finances

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

In the future, taxpayers may have to approve a referendum to raise revenue caps enough to cover the maintenance of any new school district buildings or additions.

That was just one of a number of financial discussions circling around the table during last week's school board facility work session. Although board members have yet to make any final decisions that would alleviate overcrowded public schools, they did get a lesson in school finances from district business manager George Allmann.

With several different building plans up for board review, through recommendations from a community based Facility Study Group, board member Jon Downs asked, "what will these (different plans) mean to the taxpayer in dollar amounts?"

According to Allmann, a 21 million dollar K-4 plan, which includes a new high school, would cost taxpayers around $207 more per year in taxes on a home valued at $100,000. A K-5 or K-6 plan with a new grade school and the remodeling of other district schools may cost up to 15 million dollars, or an increase of $102 per year on a $100,000 home. These were just a few broad based comparisons of tax increases based on building cost estimates, and a growing district property value of $522 million.

Allmann also pointed out that because the value of the district is so high, it decreases the amount of state aid Kewaskum schools would normally receive. Only 13 other school districts out of over 400 across the state are in the same predicament.

"Once you put up a building, how will you maintain it?", Allmann also brought up to the board during the work session. "Electric, heating, all the added costs fall under revenue caps."

With 1,858 students attending Kewaskum schools, revenue caps allow an increase of only $211 per student, or about $500,000 per year.

The board generally agreed on two things: Kewaskum Elementary School should not be renovated as a school, and the district still needs to purchase land for future building before prices go any higher.

Reopening Beechwood school remained a questionable alternative, although the worth of the school ($1.5 million replacement value) far exceeded its estimated $180,000 value. Some board members were against holding a reoccurring referendum to approve operating costs for the school since it would once again, exceed revenue caps.

John Schulte, who supports opening the neighborhood school, said it would cost around $1.92 each year in increased taxes on a $100,000 home. He also told the board members he felt the district would be ahead monetarily. "We shouldn't be selling the issue on a dollar basis, we should be selling it on its educational value."

Board member Larry Fechter, who is employed as Director of Building and Grounds for Southern Ozaukee School District and Supervisor of Maintenance for the city of West Bend, brought up maintenance issues that he felt needed immediate attention, such as the floor in the field house, along with numerous maintenance problems caused from years of neglect. "There are some big ticket items that need to be included in a referendum,"

he informed the board.

Other factors including facility plans brought up at the work session include:

*Farmington and Kewaskum Elementary schools are currently filled to capacity.

*Most upcoming student growth will occur at the high school level.

*Despite projections, enrollment will increase over a ten year period.

*It will cost more to open, remodel and staff Beechwood than adding on to Farmington or Wayne.

*Adding the option of all day kindergarten would create additional state revenue in the amount of $60,000.

*Every student that leaves the district (through open enrollment) means a loss of $4,200.

District Administrator Clark Pearson told board members that they need to come to the next work session, scheduled for March 2, prepared to decide on an educational model (K-4, K-5, K-6), where to put a new elementary school, if they should reopen Beechwood, purchase land, when to schedule a referendum, and what to do regarding a high school.

"I think it's our responsibility after 18 months to start coming together on this," Board member Tom Timblin echoed the sentiment.

Blood Drive Here March 4

On Wednesday, March 4, the Kewaskum Community Blood Drive will be held at the Kewaskum High School in the choir room from 1 to 6 p.m. Parking will be available in the front and back of school.

This is your opportunity to help others who might find themselves in need. More than 450 pints of blood are needed each day to meet the needs of patients in 29 southeastern Wisconsin hospitals. All this blood must come from volunteer donors. In recent years, the record number of volunteer donors for the Community Blood Drive is 76. Organizers are hoping to do as well or better on March 4.

Donors must be 17 years old or older, weigh at least 110 pounds, be free of symptoms of cold, sore throat, flu or allergies on the day you donate and not have had hepatitis.

All donors are asked to provide your social security number and must present some form of identification when making their blood donation. Acceptable forms of identification are a picture I.D., blood donor I.D. or identification with a signature.

The actual donation of a pint of blood takes approximately seven minutes. Plan 20 minutes prior to the donation to give medical history and to have your temperature taken and 10 to 15 minutes after the donation for some refreshments. The whole process takes about one hour.

You will feel special for having done something so important. You may help a total stranger or someone in our own community.

Reserve an hour on Wednesday, March 4. Those you help will be grateful you took the time to give such a precious gift.

FES Maps Out State History

Did you know that escape artist Harry Houdini once lived in Appleton? That Colby cheese really was first made in Colby, Wisconsin? Or that a ship named the Phoenix burned and sank in Lake Michigan off Sheboygan? Or that there really is a Wisconsin town named Dairyland?

Well, thanks to some research by Farmington art enrichment students, these and other state facts are highlighted in a colorful exhibit to mark Wisconsin's Sesquicentennial.

The exhibit, titled, "Wisconsin, Our Unique State," was created to be traveling exhibit for any area business or organization that would like to display it at some point during the year.

Students, designed, cut, painted, and sculpted to make the free-standing, nearly five foot high cut-out of the state, which is adorned with clay-like figures showcasing some of Wisconsin's natural and historical treasures.

A Canada goose rests beside the cattails before a sunset in the Horicon Marsh; a bright red circus wagon, punctuated with yellow wheels and trim marks Baraboo's Circus World Museum; you can almost hear the rumble of a Harley noting Milwaukee; meanwhile, a musky leaps from the water near Hayward's Fishing Hall of Fame, and nearby a mischievous black bear seeks out some honey, marking the world's black bear capital, Mellen, Wisconsin.

Also represented are historical events, from the Pestigo fire, to the tools of the lumberjacks to the Menominee nation's Spirit Rock.

"I really learned a lot about the history of the state," said fifth grader Whitney Pfeiffer.

Third grader Kate Michalek agreed, and added, "I didn't know there were so many things to see in Wisconsin."

"That's what we were hoping for," explained project coordinator/art instructor Mrs. Henke, "for them to gain a greater knowledge of the history of the state, and maybe instill some enthusiasm to someday visit these areas."

After research and discussion, students in the class determined which places and events they wanted to commemorate on the traveling exhibit.

"There's a tremendous blend of interesting places and events," said G/T and Enrichment coordinator Mr. Casetta. "They did a great job with the details in the figures, too."

Students creating the display included third graders Jacob Lawrence, Kate Michalek, and Kevin Jacobi; fourth graders Claire Michalek and Ryan Uttech, and fifth graders Chad Peplinski, Whitney Pfeiffer, Mike Gehl, Shannon Grager, Jessica Jung, Natasha Lawrence and Leanne Kison. Special thanks go to FES custodian Mr. Reif for all his hard work, too.

Any business wanting to display the free-standing exhibit for a time can call Curt Casetta at 626-8427, ext. 1316. The school will bring it to your business, set it up, and display it as long as you'd like.

It's a fascinating way to celebrate the state's 150th birthday.

And you just might learn something interesting, too.

Memories

A Stroll Off Main Street

Nearing the end of our detour off Main Street we arrive at the site of the A.G. Koch Elevator, which was located on the east side of the railroad tracks near the corner of Railroad Street and Second Street. The building was erected as an elevator by A.G. Koch around the turn of the century. Following Koch's death in 1913, it was remodeled into a feed mill and was then operated by Koch's sons, Arthur and Ervin Koch. Upon the death of Arthur and Ervin Koch, Arthur's sons, August and Harry ran the corporation which at that time, included a store and farm implement dealership on Main Street. In later years, the building also housed the F-S Feed Mill and was a favorite spot for youth attending the Kewaskum Jaycee's ever-popular Halloween Haunted House. The property was eventually purchased by the Village of Kewaskum and the landmark building was razed in June of 1984 to make room for approximately 25 parking places. NEXT STOP: The Kewaskum Depot. If anyone has historic information or a fond memory to contribute about the depot or upcoming businesses traveling west on the north side of Main Street, please send the information to the Kewaskum Statesman or call 626-2626. Through the efforts of Dr. Nolting, a new dentist will begin practicing shortly. Chairmen for the Retail, Tourism and Business Expansion and Community Betterment Committees have been appointed. The Tourism Committee is working on an area map. Although the Chamber has not had definite responses in its efforts to entice a clothing store and optometrist to open for business in the Kewaskum area, the prospects for an additional clothing outlet are good.

Ten local citizens turned out Monday night for the public hearing held by the Village of Kewaskum on what is known as "Amendment D" to the official map of Kewaskum. The amendment pertains to the proposed extension of Edgewood Road and one proposed access point each to Highway 45 and to Highway 28. There were no opinions for or against, from the spectators. The only comment called attention to the fact that a petition was filed last July by residents of the area adjacent to Edgewood Road which asked that the village refuse to issue building permits in the area unless an access road is provided. The petition noted that present streets would be inadequate to handle traffic. Village President C.N. Wiator said the petition is being considered. Charles Strand of Stone and Robinson, consulting engineers employed by the village, explained the proposed streets and the anticipated traffic patterns. He said he has discussed the proposed exits with the State Highway Commission and he has an indication from the commission that it would "look favorably" upon the proposed exits. The commission has specified, however, that the exit to Highway 45 should be located 850 feet south of its intersection with Highway 28; likewise the exit to Highway 28 should be located 850 feet west of the intersection of Highways 28 and 45.

The Kewaskum High School band will present a mid-winter concert on Sunday, February 25, at 8 p.m. in the Kewaskum High School auditorium. A highlight of the program will be a performance by James Baumhardt, bassoonist, of the Andante and Hungarian Rondo for Bassoon by Weber. Jim, a senior at KCHS, has been an outstanding musician throughout his years in Kewaskum.

kee Rufus King wrestler. Schmidt lost to Criss, 17-2. Criss went on to win the Sectional title in his class.

Lady Indians Split Two Before Gearing Up for WIAA Tourney

The Kewaskum girls varsity basketball team is starting to play its' best basketball of the year just in time for the state tournament.

The team played twice in the last week, losing 60-46 to Plymouth in a game which was closer than the final score would indicate, and trouncing Sheboygan Falls by a score of 66-42.

The Lady Indians traveled to Plymouth on Tuesday, February 17, to take on the Panthers and conference leading scorer Tiffany Melis. Determined to stop Melis from repeating the damage she inflicted in their first meeting, in which she scored 30 points, head coach Anne Sonnabend decided to play them in a box and one zone.

Rotating fresh legs defensively seemed to frustrate Melis in the first quarter, as she was unable to put any points on the board. KHS on the other hand moved the ball well and ended the quarter leading 12-8.

Plymouth showed poise in the second period, taking advantage of early foul trouble by the team's leading scorer, Sarah Schwinn, and working hard to get Melis the ball. The result was a 16-7 advantage in the quarter by the Panthers and a 24-19 Indian deficit at halftime.

The third quarter was all Sarah Schwinn for the Indians as she scored all eight points the team was able to generate. Plymouth in turn, started to stretch the lead, outscoring KHS 16-8 in the period to go up 40-27 at the end of three.

The Lady Indians were not about to go away quietly. With Jenny Kraft leading the way with eight points, including two of her three three-pointers, KHS cut the Panther lead to seven.

Forced to foul with time running out, Kewaskum put their faith in Plymouth failing at the line. Unfortunately, they converted down the stretch to withstand the Indian rally.

Sarah Schwinn led the Indians with 17 points, followed by Jenny Kraft with 14.

On Friday, February 20, Kewaskum played host to Sheboygan Falls. The evening began with the team honoring their lone senior, Carrie Wiesner, for her three year varsity career.

The Lady Indians defense was intense from the opening tip. Utilizing a 1-2-1-1 full court trap, the team forced the Falcons repeatedly to turn the ball over. KHS gathered up 12 steals in the first quarter which they were able to turn into numerous layups. Amy Piwoni's six points off of the turnovers led the Indians, who sprinted out to a 23-10 lead at the end of one.

The girls defensive pressure broke the game open in the second quarter, holding Falls to only six points, while scoring another 23 themselves. Jenny Kraft's two three-pointers, along with Sarah Schwinn's seven rebounds led the team in the quarter.

Piwoni and Schwinn led the Indians with 11 first half points each, with Kraft adding 10. With the score 46-16 and the game well in hand, every player received extended playing time.

Leading the scoring for the Indians was Sarah Schwinn with 19 points and 17 rebounds. Kraft added 14 points, and Piwoni, 13 points and eight assists. Helping out with rebounding was ReNae Hills and Erin Theusch with seven and five respectively. Wiesner finished her last home game with five points, four steals, three rebounds, two blocked shots and zero turnovers.

The Indians opened WIAA tournament play on Tuesday, February 24, at Mayville, versus the Cardinals in a Division II match-up.

Ambulatory Surgery Center Addition Approved for West Bend Clinic

West Bend Clinic, now part of Advanced Healthcare, S.C., has received physician-owner approval to build a 15,000 square foot addition at the Clinic on Paradise Drive to house surgery suites for one-day surgery services.

The freestanding surgery center concept has been discussed in the West Bend health care and business community in recent years as a way to manage rising health care costs. Outpatient surgery has become widely used across the country to provide medical care in a patient-friendly environment with lower overhead and associated expenses compared to traditional hospital surgical care.

For most procedures, there is an all-inclusive, clearly identified facility charge with no hidden fees. Patients have a better understanding of costs for the procedure before surgery. In ambulatory surgery centers, the patient paperwork is typically minimized for easy registration and efficient discharge.

Nationwide, most insurance companies and employers favor outpatient surgery. Some tailor reimbursement schedules as an incentive to use outpatient centers. A survey of companies in the Fortune 500 ranked the trend toward outpatient services first in cost containment efforts.

The number of procedures performed in ambulatory surgical centers has increased dramatically in recent years and today nearly 5 million surgeries are performed in the more than 2,400 surgery centers nationwide. Consumer demand, as well as encouragement by government and other third party payors, is responsible for the utilization and growth of the surgery centers. More than 50 percent of all surgeries in the United States are now safely performed on an outpatient basis. Surgery Centers have been found to be more convenient and comfortable for patients and procedures cost less. Procedures performed on an outpatient basis can cost approximately 30 to 60 percent less than the same procedure in an inpatient hospital setting.

Ambulatory surgery (also called one-day, same-day or out-patient surgery) usually takes two hours or less, involves minimal blood loss, a short recovery time and requires only oral medications to control postoperative pain. The majority of procedures performed in ambulatory surgery centers fall into the following categories: ophthalmology, gynecology, ear/nose/throat, orthopaedic, podiatry, general and plastic surgery. Common same-day surgeries include cataract removal, dilation & curettage (D&C), laparoscopy, tonsillectomy, repair of broken bones, cyst removal, hernia repair and a wide range of cosmetic procedures.

West Bend Clinic became a division of Advanced Healthcare, S.C. on January 1, 1998. There are now 30 physicians on staff providing care at three locations in West Bend and the surrounding communities of Jackson and Kewaskum. It is projected that West Bend Clinic physicians and surgeons will perform approximately 2,000 surgical procedures and 900 endoscopic procedures at the new center in the first year.

Advanced Healthcare, S.C. has become one of the largest multi-specialty group practices with more than 200 physicians providing patient care at 16 sites in Milwaukee, Ozaukee, Waukesha and Washington Counties. Advanced Healthcare will have annual revenues in excess of 120 million dollars, and over 900,000 patient visits annually.

School-To-Work Week Starts March 1

School district and business members of the Washington County School-To-Work Partnership will take part in the first ever, statewide School-To-Work Week celebration March 1 through 7.

The focus of the week's activities is to demonstrate how School-To-Work educational initiatives - such as Youth Apprenticeships, Job Shadowing projects, Career Mentoring programs, Tech Prep classroom work and Work-Based learning Co-ops - connect the classroom with high-skilled careers and transform workplaces into centers of technical learning.

As part of the celebration, Jan Shane, Executive Director of the Washington County School-To-Work Partnership; Randy Wiskirchen, Vice President of Sales and New Business Development for Serigraph Inc., West Bend, and Partnership President; representatives of the organization's school district School-To-Work Coordinators, other Partnership Board members, and students involved in Work-Based training, along with their parents, will take part in recognition ceremonies Monday, March 2, at the new Monona Community and Convention Center in Madison. Representatives of all 31 School-To-Work Partnerships in the state will attend the event, sponsored by the state's Department of workforce Development.

We hope this state-wide week of events will help illustrate the importance of quality School-To-Work initiatives to the development of our children," Shane said. "We are fortunate that the businesses and the school districts in Washington County have been among the pioneers of these programs for the past six years. They realize that the industries in the county, in Wisconsin and in the United States depend on a highly-skilled work force, technicians who can understand and program computer-controlled production machines, and understand the need for precise manufacturing standards and high levels of quality.

"To compete in today's world economy, our industries need workers who can work as part of a team, who can make accurate calculations and who can clearly communicate ideas and work requirements. That's what School-To-Work is all about, preparing our students to choose productive careers and prepare them for the demands of a high-skills workplace."

Local School-To-Work events are being planned. For more information call Jan Shane, (414) 338-6004.

The Washington County School-to-Work Partnership develops and assists local educational programs that help students make a successful transition into a high-skills work force. Members include school districts in Germantown, Hartford, Kewaskum, Slinger and West Bend, as well as parents, local employers, labor organizations, post-secondary educational institutions and community leaders.

New Residents for KES Library

The Kewaskum Elementary School library will soon be home to popular book character figures like Clifford, the big red dog, Paddington Bear, the Three Little Pigs, and others. Here, fifth grader Dan West uses a steady hand while painting a cutout figure of a Mercer Mayer book character. Students in the Art Enrichment class transferred the book character designs to oak sheets, cut them out and painted them. The whole project took about eight class periods.

Preparing Teens for the Year 2000 Parents Awareness Night Planned

PARENTS - Mark your calendars for Tuesday, March 10, at 7:00 p.m.

The KMS PTO invites all parents of Kewaskum and Campbellsport students and the public in general to an informational and entertaining evening with Everett Darren, singer/songwriter and youth motivational speaker from Ohio.

Mr. Darren has traveled the U.S. and England for more than ten years, encouraging youth to avoid the pitfalls in life that come through poor choices.

Mr. Darren will be speaking to Kewaskum and Campbellsport students on Wednesday and Thursday of that week.

In speaking to parents, Everett explores the youth subculture of the 90's and how it affects our kids' outlook on the future.

PREPARING TEENS FOR THE YEAR 2000 AND BEYOND is the theme for this evening and is designed to provide parents with tools to raise optimistic teens who are aware that the choices they make today shapes the world they will live in tomorrow.

Free Child Care will be provided on site. For more information, contact Marilyn Terlinden 334-7243.

IN MEMORY

Two years ago, February 25, 1996, they walked away. In loving memory of RUBEN OPPERMANN, ED and SHIRLEY ZASTROW.

Somewhere over the rainbows of promise
Past the clouds of trouble and fear
To the bright blue and gold of the hope in the future
Into heaven and God's loving care
Gone from us who love them dearly
Although time has passed our memories are still clear as a bell
We silently grieve each in our own way
We still feel your touch and know you are here smiling on us
And keeping us in your special care.

*Sadly missed by
Pat, Buddy, Doug and Nicole
And all those who have had their lives touched by these special people*

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of MARIE GLOEDE who passed away February 28, 1988:

It's truly unbelievable
That it's been 10 long years
For it seems like only yesterday
That we wiped each others tears.

We know you're always with us
We feel your presence near
But still we miss your loving smile
Your kind words we hold so dear.

We feel you watching over us
It helps to ease our pain
And makes our lives a little easier
Knowing we'll soon be with you again.

*Sadly missed by:
Her husband, daughter and grandchildren*

Campbellsport 4-H Club February Meeting

The Campbellsport 4-H Club's February meeting was held on the 11th at 7:30 P.M. The January meeting was cancelled because of inclement weather, therefore we had a "double" meeting to cover both the January and February material.

Traci Schanen agreed to head the "Sunshine Committee" and asked for older members to volunteer to help her out with it. Later she talked about the Fond du Lac County 4-H Music Festival that occurred on November 17th. Our club's talented members did a Hee-Haw theme and finished in a well-deserved first place. Mrs. Schanen also showed a video of the performance and the 2 1/2 foot high trophy. Our club has also won the Music Festival in 1993, 1996, and 1997.

A thank-you letter was received by the club from Betsy Wagner. She thanked us for allowing her to speak at the club's Achievement Night Program held in November. Betsy was a former Campbellsport 4-H Club member, and she is now the current Fond du Lac County Fairest of the Fair.

Our club had a number of activities in recent months. Mrs. Simon congratulated all the members who went Christmas caroling in December. We also went roller-skating in West Bend in January. Jeff Simon, Margo Strassman, and Brittany Schmidt talked about the fun they had roller-skating at this club event.

Matt Millonig read a thank you note from the Campbellsport Library for the donation we made to the building fund. Maggie Sasing did a good job handling this project and collecting the money the past few months.

Show-and-tell at the meeting was very interesting. Maggie Sasing's self-determined project of three poems won her a blue ribbon and a special honor award at the fair. Noah Sasing showed off his styrofoam egg which he received a red ribbon on. Jenny Serwe showed us her blue ribbon ceramic eagle, Mandy Loff told of her red ribbon pig, and Matt Millonig told the club about his red ribbon rocket. Justin Mueller impressed the club with his

Later in the meeting, the club held a re-election of our secretary, since Stephanie Acheson has moved to Neenah. Angie Kiefer was elected our new secretary, Leah Simpson was the other candidate. Both girls were very qualified.

Lisa Simon, Melissa Del Ponte, and Justin Mueller told the club about their 4-H Family Learning day experiences. Justin said his craft class was fun, but a little "bloody" due to a few minor injuries.

In final club business, Mrs. Millonig reviewed our phone tree. We will need to have it updated for our next meeting due to a number of membership changes. The club welcomed four new members (Laura Zorn, Jeremy Morgan, Derek Gudex, and Blake Abeck) and their families. And lastly, Mrs. Pufall reminded the Arts and Crafts members of the importance to call her, if you are or aren't coming to her meetings.

The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, March 12th. Please remember that it is not on Wednesday, but on Thursday, due to a school conflict. Michelle Kiefer made the motion to adjourn, and Courtney Pufall seconded it, so President Jenny Theisen, ended our February meeting.

*Respectfully submitted by,
Sarah Theisen

KES Art Makes Good Impression

George Washington is depicted in his younger years on this old postcard, telling his father he was the one who chopped down the cherry tree. From the looks of it the famous story left out the fact he was caught red-handed, with the ax in his hands!

submitted by Isabelle Muckerhetde

Transformed from drab to dreamlike, a corner of the Kewaskum Elementary School first floor corridor is now "Claude Monet's Garden," a remarkable tribute to the impressionist painter, famous for his scenes using wonderfully blended daubs of paint. The hallway, decorated by the grade 3/4 art class, now hosts an actual footbridge and a corrugated paper stream with lily pads and burlap-covered stones, amidst wisps of colored tissue paper gently streaming from the ceiling. The walls are soft sprays of yellows and greens, with reproductions of the artist's works, and paintings of the class in the painter's distinctive style.

This year's poster contest theme is Sesquicentennial. Prizes will be awarded for the best Sesquicentennial Posters.

Our club has also decided that we would like to do something for the Buy a Brick Program. There will be a meeting March 3 to find out more on what the Buy a Brick Program is about. There will also be a Bowlathon this February 14th. The 4-Hers demonstrated their arts and crafts that they had made throughout the year. At the end a speaker came and he gave a report about the Sesquicentennial. Our next meeting will be March 12th.

Indians Mauled By Cougars, But Nearly Upend Plymouth

Last Tuesday evening the Kewaskum boys' basketball team traveled to Campbellsport to face the Cougars in a non-conference game.

Barring any major changes, Campbellsport will be added to the Eastern Wisconsin Conference from the Flyway Conference and Chilton will drop out, entering a smaller conference to the north, in the not-too-distant future.

This chain of events, hopefully, will rekindle a great rivalry that KHS has been lacking in recent years due to the geographic location and extensive travel times to the other participants in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

Coach Tom Timblin's squad was to be at full strength as his three remaining suspended athletes returned to the team. Unfortunately their layoff was evident as the Cougars pounced on the Indians early to take a 10-2 lead.

Andy Christophersen, playing his best game of the year, led the Indians with 10 points in the first half as KHS fell behind 34-23. The Indians frigid outside shooting continued in the second half as KHS could muster only three of 16 shots from beyond the three point line for the game. They also made only six of 16 free throws in the second half.

Christophersen continued to be a thorn in the Cougar's paw, however, as he finished the contest as the game's high scorer with 19 points. The Cougar's stingy defense kept KHS at bay the rest of the way as the Indians could get no closer than the 65-51 final score.

Timblin said after the game, "Andy (Christophersen) and John (Warnecke) played hard on both ends of the court. Our point guards, who average almost 20 points combined for only two points. Our chemistry wasn't quite right. It almost seemed like it was the beginning of the season tonight."

In a rare Saturday afternoon contest, the undefeated Plymouth Panthers (13-0) invaded the Kewaskum Fieldhouse with their huge front court that stand 6'8", 6'8" and 6'7".

The Indians' brain trust decided to throw a curveball at the Panthers by slowing the game down and not letting the Plymouth athletes run the court.

"We went in our four corner slowdown, so we could dictate the tempo. We were very disciplined today," Coach Tom Timblin reported.

Jeremy Harrison started the game out for Plymouth with a thunderous two-handed dunk that shook the building, but not the Indians' confidence.

Patience was the order of the day as the quicker KHS squad held its own against their much taller opponents. The Indians started to gain momentum as an old friend started to appear (their shooting touch!).

With the Indians down 27-28 and two minutes left before halftime, they took the air out of the ball with crisp passes and worked the clock down to five seconds. David Gerhartz then launched a three pointer that had eyes. The Indians took that momentum and had a two-point lead into the intermission, 30-28.

Gerhartz netted 12 points with two three-pointers and Billy Cook also added two threes in the first half.

The third quarter continued to run close as the lead changed hands numerous times. John Warnecke had the hot hand, scoring four baskets. The Indians just couldn't get over the hump at the end and capture the lead, even though Josh Gaffke lit up the scoreboard with three straight threes and Gerhartz added two more.

At the final buzzer, Plymouth had survived 65-61 to preserve their perfect season.

"Plymouth has been blowing everybody away by 25 and 35 points. Today we played with poise and maturity," said Coach Timblin about the roller coaster season.

Timblin added, "David (Gerhartz) led us with 20 points, Chris Koth had four steals, and John (Warnecke) had 12 points, eight boards and three assists. We were 9 of 15 (60%) from long range. I don't know if a team can play any better than that and still come up on the short end. We just want to finish the season strong at this point."

Kewaskum is now 5-13 overall and 3-10 in Eastern Wisconsin action. They finish conference play at Sheboygan Falls on Friday night. Next Tuesday, the Indians host Mayville in the first game of the WIAA state tournament.

KEWASKUM - Ch. Koth 3, Gaffke 9, Cook 6, Christophersen 7, Gerhartz 20, Strobel 2, Timblin 2, Warnecke 12. FT's 4-7.
PLYMOUTH - Giebler 12, Keyes 16, Streblow 15, Iserloth 4, Harrison 7, Merstien 11. FT's 8-13.

The Indians' Andy Christophersen jumps for a shot, gaining two points, but the Indians still fell prey to the Cougars last Tuesday.

Holy Trinity Boys End Season With Great Effort, But Fall Short

The Holy Trinity seventh and eighth grade boys basketball teams hosted Campbellsport on Friday, February 20. They came out intent on winning their last home game of the season, but it was not to be as they fell to Campbellsport by a score of 43-40.

The Wildcats came out strong and played tough defense the entire game. They led at the half by a score of 23-21. The lead changed hands many times throughout the second half, with no team taking control. Holy Trinity shot a phenomenal 54% from the floor. Unfortunately, they only were able to get 23 shots in the entire game.

Leading the scoring charge was Josh Repovsch with 20 points. Nick Thorn was next with eight points and ten rebounds. John Neumann put in six points, Bryan Kraft added four and Josh Timblin contributed a pair of free throws. The Wildcats ended up at 4-6 in conference play.

On Saturday, February 21, the Wildcats were at St. Kilian of Hartford for a very early 8 a.m. game. This was the second game in the tournament for the boys. They lost to a very tall and physical team from Central Middle School of Hartford the week before by a score of 58-37.

This time the Wildcats took on the team from Neosho. Once again they lost another very close game. The final score was 49-45. The two teams battled back and forth, but fell behind near the end of the half by 10 points. The team fought back and even took a four point lead in the fourth quarter, but it wasn't enough.

Holy Trinity was led by Josh Repovsch with 20 points and three steals. Bryan Kraft was next with 15 points, three steals and three assists. Nick Thorn added six points and nine rebounds. Josh Timblin and Adam Laatsch chipped in with a three-pointer and one free throw respectively. Also playing well defensively for the Wildcats was Adam Gitter with four rebounds and two steals.
