Village Survey Results Shared

by Lana Harbeck Kuehl

Members of the Economic Development Advisory Committee eagerly listened Monday to the results of the recent Village of Kewaskum survey coordinated and compiled by Dan Wilson, UWEX Community Resource Development Educator.

BACKGROUND

The Economic Development Advisory Committee, consisting of Jeff Butler, Chairman, Vernon Jung, Michael Kimble, Joyce Kral, Lana Kuehl, James Reigle, Robert Wagner and Daniel Schmidt, Advisory, first contacted Dan Wilson in the fall of 1997. They were looking for assistance in obtaining information, via citizen input, on the future direction of Kewaskum. After several meetings, they decided on compiling a community survey.

The EDAC, guided by Dan Wilson, reviewed sample community surveys, identified the issues they wished to address and following much discussion and modification, developed the final draft of the survey which was mailed in January.

The Committee determined that surveying all recipients of water bills would give them a good sampling and widest coverage. To obtain a good gender mix of respondents, the Committee decided to ask the adult in the household with the most recent birth date to reply to the survey.

The completed surveys were returned to the Kewaskum Municipal Building and were then delivered UNOPENED to the Washington County UWEX Office.

At the meeting, Wilson opened his comments with the fact 908 surveys were mailed to which the village received 510 responses or 56.1%. He stated he was pleased with the response, adding for a one-time mailing, the response was "extremely good" because "the higher the response, the more representative it is of the community."

KEY FINDINGS

General Satisfaction:

On a whole, the village of Kewaskum is valued as a small community. 95.3% of the respondents are satisfied or completely satisfied with the Village as a place to live.

What the respondents seemed to like most about Kewaskum was its small community atmosphere (78.8%), the safety and feeling of security (72.1%), the quietness of the community (60.6%), the friendly people (60.4%), the location (58.4%), and the parks and natural areas (50%).

The majority of the respondents were satisfied or very satisfied with Village services and 62% like the appearance and image of Kewaskum. A very favorable 85.9% rate Kewaskum's park system as good or excellent.

Slow Growth:

Concerns exist among those who answered questions regarding the rate of growth in the Village.

A slower growth rate than Kewaskum's present population growth (about 3.4% per year) is favored by 44.9% of the respondents. 37.9% favored the present growth rate and 12% would prefer no growth at all. Only 5.2% of those responding suggested a faster growth rate.

60.3% of the respondents would like to see the Village somewhat larger in 10 years, while 30.9% would favor the Village staying around the same size.

Natural Areas:

The protection of the natural areas in and surrounding the village was strongly supported. An astonishing 81.6% of the people who responded feel the protection of the woodlands, wetlands and open spaces in and around Kewaskum is important. 64.1% of them feel the best use of land along the Milwaukee River is to leave it in its natural state with only 32.6% suggesting to use it as a recreational trail.

Housing:

Those who filled out the survey seemed to favor moderately priced, single family housing and this was supported by 78.6% who encouraged new housing development. 56.6% would like to see housing in the $100,000 to $129,000 range and 51.8% noted housing should be in the $130,000 to $159,000 range. Support for the $160,000 to $189,000 range decreased to 30.9% while housing more than $190,000 dropped to only 15.3%. The theory that single family housing development should not be encouraged at all was supported by 21.3% of those who responded.

54.1% support Kewaskum's present 10,000 square foot minimum lot size while 31.8% would like the lot size increased.

Surprisingly, 52.5% felt duplexes should be concentrated in defined areas of the village and 78.2% felt similarly about multi-family housing. A large percentage, 72.2%, felt mixed uses (single-family, multi-family, commercial, light industrial) should be kept separate in future developments.

Business and Industry:

The development of business and industry was strongly favored.

An amazing 81.2% of the respondents supported encouraging business and industrial development with 44.9% favoring development of an industrial and business park.

Promoting several business areas was favored by 77% of those responding with 63.2% supporting locating businesses along Highway 45 south, 43.9% along Highway 45 north, and 43.3% supporting downtown development.

Annexation of land for both residential and commercial/industrial growth is backed by 59.1% while only 13.8% favored annexation for commercial/industrial growth and a mere 7.2% supporting annexation for residential growth only.

A whopping 75.9% of the respondents felt tourism development should definitely be promoted.

Another large number, 80.8%, favored appearance and design guidelines for new multi-family, commercial and industrial development in Kewaskum. Many (65.5%) also indicated an alternative route for Highway 45 through Kewaskum should be explored.

Shopping:

West Bend, Kewaskum, Fond du Lac and Milwaukee were the popular choices for respondents to do their shopping.

72.4% chose West Bend as the first choice for where they do the majority of their shopping for goods and services with 18.7% selected it for their second choice.

Favorably, 21.1% cited Kewaskum as the first choice for their shopping with an amazing 35.1% saying Kewaskum was their second choice for shopping.

Fond du Lac and Milwaukee were also mentioned as communities where the respondents sometimes shopped.

Spring Election Tuesday

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Voters from Kewaskum will be faced with some tough choices at the polls April 7th. Seats on both the school and village boards are being challenged, as candidates take a stand on issues facing a small, but growing community.

Responsible for an 11.5 million dollar budget and faced with the task of deciding on major building projects, three school board candidates are vying for two three-year seats on the board.

Incumbents John Schulte and Mary Andera, both experienced board members, hope to get the chance to see "Facilities Planning" through the initial "drawing board" stages, and into possible construction of new buildings and/or additions.

Andera has served one term to date, beginning in 1995. An advocate for the taxpayer, religious expression in public schools, and standardized testing of all grade levels, she says she put her name on the ballot because supporters wanted her to run again. She is strongly opposed to re-opening Beechwood School if it takes a recurring referendum.

John Schulte, up for re-election for his fourth term on the board, says there are still things that need to be done within the school district, and his experience would be an asset to the board. His concerns include choosing a new superintendent within the next three years, developing standards and assessments for the school district, and re-opening Beechwood School to keep community schools in the district. "It's what the majority of the taxpayers want," Schulte emphasized, backed by survey results.

Neal Weare, past board member for 12 years, and board president for six of those, hopes to be re-seated after a term off the board. He has spoken out recently regarding Facilities Planning and the need for the board to come to some decisions after two years of talking about it. He made the choice to run again because he cares about education, and would like to see Kewaskum be a leader in creating their own standards and assessments, reflecting what the local community wants. Weare also served on a state committee for standards and assessments.

Although all three candidates may have differing opinions on how best to alleviate Kewaskum's overcrowded schools, they all agree that the near future holds building referendums, discussion of land purchasing and a new elementary school at the same location or a new site yet to be determined.

Kewaskum's land use plan, rezoning and annexation, and population growth are words that concern four Kewaskum residents jostling for one of the three trustee seats on the village board.

Incumbents Warren Dums, John Kenworthy and Robert Stoltzmann are being challenged by one lone newcomer, Robert Kilbourne. Both Dums and

KHS to Host National Program 'Making College Count' on Tuesday

Milwaukee, Wisconsin - Making College Count, a national training and advisory group that helps students succeed in college in order to maximize their opportunities at graduation, announced today the Making College Count In-School Presentation Program.

The In-School Presentation Program is based upon content from the company's best-selling and highly acclaimed college guidance book, Making College Count: A Real World Look At How To Succeed In and After College. The book has been formally endorsed by the National Association For College Admission Counseling (NACAC), the nation's premier college counseling organization.

The In-School Presentation Program will be launched this spring to 50,000 college-bound students at approximately 250 schools in six states. The program is designed to help students begin thinking about why they are going to college and what they need to accomplish while there in order to maximize their opportunities at graduation. The program also speaks to transitional issues such as time management and study skills. "Only about 73% of freshmen make it to sophomore year," says Making College Count founder Patrick S. O'Brien. "Couple that with the fact that only about 53% of students entering college today will graduate within five years and you can see there is a serious problem."

The Making College Count In-School Presentation Program is made possible through corporate partnerships with some of the nation's premier companies including Microsoft Corporation, General Motors' Chevrolet Division, Apple Computer, Sprint and KeyBank taking part. "These partners made it possible for us to bring the Making College Count message to college-bound students at no-cost," says O'Brien. "Our goal for the 1998-1999 school year will be 500,000 students at approximately 2500 high schools nationwide."

The Making College Count

In-School Presentation Program is provided at no cost to the student or high school and is approximately one class period in length. Key content from the presentation can also be viewed via live video on the Internet at www.makingcollegecount.com.

The Web site offers a wide variety of tools and resources for college and college-bound students. Schools interested in the In-School Presentation Program are urged to contact Ms. Kris McCoy at (920) 661-4006 for more information. Presentations will be limited to approximately 50 per state.

Making College Count also conducts on-campus college success seminars and speaking engagements. Content from the company's book, Making College Count is syndicated weekly through Tribune Media Services to 500 college and high-school newspapers nationwide. The book may be purchased nationally through major booksellers, direct from the company at 1-800-547-7950 or on the company's Website at www.makingcollegecount.com. Making College Count has offices in Milwaukee, Cincinnati and Green Bay.

This presentation will take place at Kewaskum High School on April 7th at 8:30.

A Stroll Up Fond du Lac Avenue

We've changed directions this week and have begun our trip north on Fond du Lac Avenue, on the east side of the street. The first building we encounter has been renovated to accommodate the Tom Bartelt Insurance Agency with apartments located upstairs. According to "Tiny" and Roger Reindl, the first recollection of the red brick building is that of the Farmers and Merchants Bank. "Kewaskum Then and Now" states the bank was organized on June 4, 1916 with Christ Schaeffer, president; L.D. Guth, vice-president, and Elwyn Romaine, cashier. It opened for business on February 8, 1917 in the building located on Fond du Lac Avenue. "Tiny" and Roger also stated the building was home to the Kewaskum Mutual Fire Insurance Company at one time with dentist Dr. Leo Brauchle having offices upstairs. "Kewaskum Then and Now" adds Dr. Brauchle began his practice in 1923 which lasted 27 years before he retired on August 19, 1950.

Easter Egg Hunt April 11

The Kewaskum American Legion, Robert G. Romaine Post 384, and the Women's Auxiliary will hold its annual Easter Egg Hunt for Children in River Hill Park at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 11.

All area children are invited to participate in this annual scramble for colored eggs. This year as in the past, Mr. and Mrs. Easter Bunny will stop by to visit with the kiddies, courtesy of the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club.

Children age five and under will "hunt" eggs on the west side of the river and those ages six through ten will do their hunting on the east side of the river. The limit is six eggs per basket.

This year, Easter egg hunters will have a chance to find specially marked eggs that can be turned in for cash prizes!

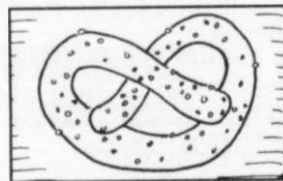

In case of inclement weather, Legion members and Mr. and Mrs. Bunny will be on hand along the west bank to hand out eggs and candy to the kiddies.

stantially representative of those eligible to fill out the survey with 42.1% of those being female and 57.2% male. Respondents under the age of 35 returned fewer surveys than their representative percentage of the general population while those over 35 returned more.

The above facts were reviewed by members of the committee on Monday. They voted to meet again on Monday, April 13, to review individual comments made in the survey and to decide on which direction the survey will lead them.

KES Fifth Graders Hold 'States Fair'

By Fifth Grader, Katie Patterson

On Friday, March 6, the Kewaskum Elementary School fifth graders hosted a United States "States Fair" for parents, friends and classmates. (The "States Fair" included exhibits about the fifty states, as researched by the fifth graders).

Each student had a partner, and they were given a state to write about. They had to write a report, make two creative projects, and a visual display.

The report required at least one page of the following things: industries, natural resources, physical features, capital city and facts, climate, state symbols, and interesting facts about their states. Students also had to draw their state flag.

Some of the creative projects included a creative game, a salt map, a quiz about famous people that lived in their states and a word puzzle.

The students had two weeks at home and at school to finish their reports. Each of the students worked very hard on their states.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Residents of the Kewaskum School District,

I've come to the final and, what I consider to be, the most important concern for not only the Kewaskum School District, but also for public education in general. The issue: moral values.

Over and over I have heard teachers and administrators stress the importance of parents and the community working together with the school to reinforce what the schools are trying to teach. The cry of cooperation between home, the community and school dominates most discussions about how to help our children succeed in school.

I believe that equally as important -- or perhaps even more important -- is the cooperation of the school with parents and the community by reinforcing the moral values that are the basis of our society. I believe that by relegating the teaching of moral values to "the religious leaders and the parents" as was stated recently, we send the dangerous message to our children that these values are only "sometime" moral values and that they are not necessarily required in school. Once our children receive that inconsistent message, society in general is at risk.

We, as a school district, must cooperate with the home and community by insisting on and encouraging the moral values that govern our American society. These values are all contained in the Ten Commandments (oh, oh). Though we can't hang the actual Ten Commandments in our schools (due to the new secular thinking of our government), I believe that we need to write a code of values reflecting the universal values contained in them.

This code, prominently displayed, would be a constant reminder of the behavior expected by the school, the home and the community. No one faith is promoted in these values. Who can object to a code that stresses honesty, respect, responsibility, encouraging students to practice their faith (whichever one it is), etc.? How will such a code violate any child's rights?

It has been argued that public schools already have such values or are free to enforce these values now. Perhaps. Let's take a closer look. Recently, President Clinton stated that he was going to ask Congress to allocate over $17 million to help make schools safer. Also, Congress has agreed to spend $10 million to study school safety. Why? And these questions come to mind: How many of our schools have police officers stationed on the premises? What for? How many of our schools have their students walk through metal detectors before going to classes? Why? How accustomed have we become to hearing about outrageous juvenile crime? I guess we need to make our own assessment of how well public education is doing in this area. One can argue that the problem is that these values are not being taught at home. Maybe. But isn't that the same reason our public schools assumed the responsibility for teaching sex education?

An additional question would be how to answer a child in our public schools who asks, "But why do I have to be good?" "Why can't I take someone else's things?" "Why do I have to tell the truth?" Just follow these questions through the trail of approved secular answers and, after enough "whys," one is eventually reduced to saying, "Because it's the rule!" We need to keep in mind that not all societies have had the idea of individual rights and responsibilities. America does. Western civilization does. Why? Where did it come from?

Would I like to see the biblical version of the Ten Commandments in each classroom? Absolutely. Do I think we can legally do so? No. Would I like to formulate an "acceptable" version? Sure -- with extensive community input (including the ACLU!)

After the recent article in the paper, someone called me a radical. (My kids laughed.) A radical. My goodness, how our country has changed. I am merely a person concerned about the future of our country -- a country founded on that biblical code of values. I am only seeking cooperation between the school, home and community that reinforces these core values as "all the time" values, not "sometime" values.

Why the Ten Commandments frighten some groups is a mystery to me. Keep in mind that we imprison people when they violate some of these Commandments. Somehow we, as Americans, have swallowed the notion that the phrase "separation of church and state" is in our Constitution and must be upheld at all costs. No such phrase exists in our Constitution. In fact, as I understand it, the only legal document in which "separation of church and state" does exist is in the former Soviet Union constitution. Think about it.

A question for all of us to consider: If every man, woman and child in our country willingly adhered to the Ten Commandments, would our country be better or worse than it is today? Food for thought.

"Almighty God, Who has given us this good land for our heritage; we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable ministry, sound learning and pure manners."

Opera Comes to Kewaskum

Hansel breaks the witch's spell, turning the KES gingerbread children including, from left, Duke Harris, Rita Cannestra and Felicia Lucero back to real boys and girls.

Hansel and Gretel rub their eyes after a visit from the Sandman, played by Kewaskum Elementary School third grader Chris Swosinski.

Students from the Kewaskum Elementary Schools joined forces with the professional opera company, "Opera for the Young," to present performances of "Hansel and Gretel" to their classmates at the community schools.

Students from Wayne, Farmington, and Kewaskum participated as angels, a sandman, the dew fairy and even as children that had been turned into gingerbread cookies. The professional opera performers sang as Hansel and Gretel, their parents, and the evil witch. Students from WES and FES performed at FES for students from both schools, while KES students performed in front of a KES audience.

Students chosen to participate in the performance attended practices outside regular class time to perfect their parts. KES/FES music director Gary Gerhartz and WES's Mrs. Christie worked with the students, while KES/FES art instructor Mrs. Henke worked with other students to create some of the costumes and scenery.

Based on the well-known fairy tale from the Brothers Grimm about a witch that captures two lost children (only to be pushed into her own oven when she tries to bake them), the opera uses the music composed in 1892 by composer Engelbert Humperdinck. The story itself was altered to portray the parents as loving (not as parents plotting to lose their children), but it retained most of the familiar elements, such as the house made of candy, and the resourcefulness of the children outsmarting the witch.

Students in the WES/FES performance were WES students Amanda Bakken, Nicole Sabish, Abram Foerster, and Nathan Steiner, and FES students Ian Meyer, Tyler Hickman, Adam Ziebell, Justin Mueller, Ashley Sajdowitz, Natasha Lawrence, Jenny Bischoff, Brianna Bastian, Susan Schultz, Josh Bryant, Ellen Borchardt as the Dew Fairy, and Lee Schmidt as the Sandman.

The KES cast included Duke Harris, Jacob Dickmann, Felicia Lucero, Cory Rutherford, Ryan Wunsch, Barb Williams, Jack Breese, Keith Scannell, Dan Hoerig, Maggie Dickmann, Theresa Trott, Rita Cannestra, Cassie Clausing, Natasha Klein, David Ermisch, as well as Jessica Bath as the Dew Fairy and Chris Swosinski as the Sandman.

Opera for the Young cast members were Cynthia Mallard (Hansel), Karen Bishop (Gretel), Richard Knapp (Father), Diane Garton Edie (Mother and Witch) and pianist Lynn Kompass.

Local Students to Perform In Lakeland Concert April 2

The Lakeland College Choirs will perform in concert on Thursday, April 2, at 11 p.m. in the college's Bradley Fine Arts Building. The concert will top-off the choir's four state spring tour.

On this year's tour the choir performed in six cities in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin, offering a program of sacred and secular music.

This year's homecoming concert will include a wide variety of music. Of special note is the opening organ solo played by the choirs' accompanist, Marlene Wondergem. This is the first time the college's recently acquired Rodgers organ will be played for a performance.

Lakeland's all-women's Frauenchor will offer a variety of music including two pieces from the mid-1800s. These are "Laudate Pueri Dominum" by Felix Mendelssohn and Stephen Foster's "Beautiful Dreamer." Ann Miller of Kiel, a sophomore majoring in fine arts administration, will be the featured soloist in their performance of "The Log Driver's Waltz," by Wade Hemsworth.

The 35-member concert choir will also present a wide variety of musical styles, beginning with Wolfgang Mozart's "Sancta Maria" and ending with a selection of American spirituals.

The men of the concert choir will be featured in "Prayer of the Children" by Kurt Bestor and in "Down among the Dead Men" as arranged by Ralph Vaughn Williams.

Debra Sawyer, a psychology major from Sheboygan, will serve as student conductor for the traditional Swedish song, "Children of the Heavenly Father."

Three featured soloists in the spirituals are: freshmen Christopher Barth from Brillion singing the baritone solo in "I Got a Robe;" senior Jeffrey Halsey of New Holstein who is majoring in elementary and middle school education, singing the tenor solo in "Great Day" and junior Rebecca Roehrborn of Howards Grove who is majoring in choral music education, singing the mezzo-soprano solo in "Wade in the Water."

The mixed voice concert choir is conducted by Lakeland's assistant professor of choral music, Janet L. Herrick. The choir is accompanied by Wondergem, an adjunct instructor of music education at Lakeland.

Tickets for the Thursday evening performance are available at the Bradley Fine Arts Building box office prior to the 8 p.m. performance. Cost is $5 for adults and $2 for students.

Other students who will perform include: from Adell - soprano Jennifer Beimborn, a senior majoring in general music education from Kewaskum - soprano Anne Mertz, a junior majoring in general music education; from Fredonia - alto Delinah Waning, a freshman, and from Random Lake - alto Erin Hagel, a freshman.

FFA Rabies Clinic April 8

It is that time of year again when dog and cat owners should begin to think about having their pets vaccinated against rabies.

Rabies, an acute disease caused by a virus, is a highly contagious pestilence that affects all warm-blooded animals including man. The most common form of contamination is by means of a bite from animal to animal containing the virus bearing saliva. The virus may be transmitted also by fresh wound contact.

The incubation period is variable, but signs of the disease may become visible within 15-20 days. There are three phases the disease divides into. The first sign is loss of appetite and change in behavior. The second phase, known as the paralytic form, occurs when paralyzation and salivary excretion begin. The third phase is the furious form, when the animal becomes very irrational and viciously aggressive. Animals rarely live more than ten days after the onset of these signs. Death usually results through progressive paralysis of the central nervous system.

Wisconsin is one of the leading states in rabies and rabies related cases, a statistic the state could do without. The Kewaskum FFA is concerned about this welfare related problem. To help cease this disease, animals should be vaccinated against rabies.

The Kewaskum FFA is conducting their annual rabies clinic on Wednesday, April 8, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the High School's Agriculture Shop. Cost of the vaccination per animal is $12. The doctors from the Kewaskum/Allenton Veterinary Clinic will be administering the shots. All proceeds from the rabies clinic will go to the Ogi Scholarship fund.

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF
SPRING ELECTION
APRIL 7, 1998

OFFICE OF THE WASHINGTON COUNTY CLERK
TO THE ELECTORS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given of a spring election to be held in Washington County, on April 7, 1998, at which the officers named below shall be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office, each in its proper column, in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO ELECTORS

Upon entering the polling place, an elector shall give his or her name and address before being permitted to vote. Where ballots are distributed to electors, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the elector shall retire alone to a voting booth and cast his or her ballot except that an elector who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the elector's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the elector of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

At the spring election, where lever machines are used, the elector shall depress the lever at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the elector shall write in the name of the candidate of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote.

Where marksense voting is used, the elector shall darken the oval next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for whom he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the elector shall write in the name of the candidate of his or her choice in the space provided and darken the oval at the left of the write-in line provided.

The vote should not be cast in any other manner. If the elector spoils a ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one elector. If the ballot has not been initialed by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the elector shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place. Not more than five minutes' time shall be allowed inside a voting booth. Unofficial ballots or a memorandum to assist the elector in casting his or her vote may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone so as to reveal how the ballot is marked.

After an official marksense ballot is marked, it shall be inserted in the ballot sleeve provided so the marks do not show. After casting his or her vote, the elector shall leave the booth, insert the ballot in the voting device, and shall leave the polling place promptly.

An elector may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the elector declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the elector's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the elector.

Be 'Egg-stra' Careful With Easter Eggs

MADISON-- Children love to color Easter eggs and to put them in beautiful baskets, and an egg hunt is a favorite springtime tradition. But food safety experts at the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection warn that eating those carefully decorated eggs can make your children sick.

"If eggs are out of the refrigerator for more than two hours, don't eat them," says food safety specialist Mike Barnett. "Bacteria can multiply in unrefrigerated eggs, even if the eggs are hard-boiled or decorated, and children are particularly vulnerable to these bacterial infections."

For a safe egg hunt, Barnett advises parents to avoid hiding eggs where they can come into contact with pets, wild animals, birds, or lawn chemicals. Decorated eggs with cracked shells should not be eaten, he says, and hard-boiled eggs should be cut in half to check for doneness.

"It's also important to follow our Easter egg safety tips when coloring eggs," says Barnett, "because salmonella-causing bacteria can be present on the outside as well as the inside of raw eggs. Remember that the very young, the elderly, pregnant women, and persons with chronic illness are particularly vulnerable to salmonella infections."

Egg handling and cooking safety tips:

* Begin with clean hands and utensils.

* To thoroughly cook hard-boiled eggs: Place a single layer of eggs in a pan filled with cool tap water. Place on stove with high heat until water comes to a full, rapid boil. Remove from heat, cover the pan and let stand for 20 minutes.

* Pour hot water off and run a slow, steady stream of cool tap water directly into the pan. Immediately refrigerate eggs.

* Do not store cooked eggs in an egg carton that has previously contained raw eggs.

Germantown retained its crown in the Scenic Moraine Conference indoor track meet held at Hartland Arrowhead Friday, edging Grafton by 4-1/2 points. Kewaskum placed fourth. Kewaskum took one first place by two miler Randy Backhaus. The two milers had to run 32 laps around the gym. Backhaus' time was 20 seconds faster than the previous field house record. Other bright spots for Kewaskum were Jeff Ketter's second in the mile and Scott Rammer's long jump second. Fifty boys, including 20 freshmen, turned out for the Indians track squad this spring. They include nine lettermen, three of whom made it to the sectional in 1972 before they were eliminated. Lettermen and events include Ketter, mile; Ken Wilson, 880; Jack Tessar, high jump; Gary Marx, weights and sprints; Mike Nigh, pole vault; Rammer, sprints and relays; Dale Prost, 440; Gary Fickler, high jump, and Backhaus, two mile. Backhaus, Ketter and Rammer all reached the sectional where Backhaus missed a bid to the state meet by just a few strides.

WOOD CHIPPING SERVICES RESUMED

The Department of Public Works has resumed wood chipping services on Mondays. Service will continue each week through late fall for those living in the Village of Kewaskum.

Please follow the following requirements:

1. Place large (butt) end toward the street, at the curb.

Note: Yard waste, garden plant waste, corn stalks, sun flower stalk, leaves, grass and materials that will rot down in a compost pile can be brought to the DPW yard and placed in the yard compost bin. Hours are 7:00 AM to 3:30 PM Monday - Friday.

MADISON UPDATE: In Defense of Reggie White

By Rep. Glenn Grothman

Under the First Amendment all Americans are guaranteed the right of free speech. Unfortunately, in our society it is quickly becoming true that as a practical matter some speech is not at all "free." It can be quite costly. The latest person to learn this lesson was Green Bay Packer All-Star Defensive End Reggie White, who spoke to the Wisconsin Assembly on March 25.

Reggie White's speech lasted for about an hour and covered a wide range of topics. He talked about prejudice and poverty. He talked about fathers caring for their children. He gave tongue-and-cheek examples about racial differences. He spent sixty seconds talking about homosexuality -- a very expensive sixty seconds. He said homosexuality is a choice and he said it is wrong.

The papers said the Legislature was "shocked." As usual, you can't trust the papers. In fact, at the end of his speech, the Assembly gave him a standing ovation. But a few legislators were shocked. Some hypocrites shook his hand, asked for his autograph, and then when they were safely out of his reach, blasted his comments.

These comments were not out of the mainstream. The vast majority of Americans belong to churches which believe in his comments with regard to homosexuality. Distinguished scientists disagree as to whether this is a choice or not. Several professors have done extensive studies showing that this behavior is a choice, sometimes affected by family background, that can be changed. There are organizations of former homosexuals who are devoted to helping people to choose otherwise. In any event, his comments are probably what over 75% of Americans are thinking.

CBS, which should have a little respect for freedom of speech, announced that they could not hire Reggie White as a broadcaster because of his views. He wouldn't even be doing the news -- just commenting on football. One wonders -- would someone who expressed these opinions be hired as a cameraman? Would they be allowed to sweep the floor? Meanwhile, people like Dick Morris, are hired by networks to give their opinions and it seems almost mandatory that Hollywood celebrities participate in social events the message of which is the very opposite of Reggie Whites. One wonders, there are rumors that conservatives are at a disadvantage in obtaining jobs in the powerful and influential entertainment industry.

There are also rumors that other large corporations like Campbell's Soup and Ford Motor Company may stop associating with Reggie White -- perhaps Christianity is too controversial for them as well. When looking at how far political correctness has come in the last 20 years, it is scary to think what it will be like in the next 20 years.

I and several other legislators have forwarded letters to Reggie White thanking him for his remarks and apologizing for the thin-skinned behavior of some of our colleagues.

I want to hear your views on these and other issues. Please feel free to call me at home, 338-8061. You can also reach me in Madison at the following locations:

In a Wayne Elementary School reading class production, fifth graders Shelly Carlson and Nate Durn play the parents of Pecos Bill, the Paul Bunyan of the West. In tall tale legend, Pecos Bill is said to have ridden tornadoes like a bucking bronco, invented the lasso (out of a rattlesnake) and carved the Grand Canyon.

Look Out for Lead

The Environmental Subcommittee of the Healthy Washington County 2001 project along with Washington County Community Health Nursing Service, is urging Washington County residents to "Look Out for Lead." Lead poisoning may lead to learning and behavioral problems, high blood pressure, hearing loss, anemia, mental retardation, convulsions, paralysis, kidney failure, coma, and death.

Lead can be found in old paint, old varnish, water pipes, lead solder, brass or bronze pipe fittings, contaminated soil, plastic blinds, poorly glazed pottery, foreign canned foods, dust from renovation, drapery weights, dust or fumes from hobbies such as stained glass or target practice, fishing weights, battery casings, old toys, old furniture, hobby paint, and can even be brought home from work.

Children under six years of age are at the greatest risk of getting lead poisoning because they put everything in their mouths and they absorb lead more easily than adults do. Children have become lead poisoned during renovation of their homes, playing near windows coated with lead paint or varnish, and by playing in contaminated soil. Dust from deteriorating lead paint is the biggest cause of childhood lead poisoning.

Lead is harmful to pregnant women and their unborn babies and can also effect a man's reproductive health. Studies have shown that lead poisoning can increase the risk of premature birth, low birth weight, and miscarriage. Lead can also effect an unborn baby's brain and nervous system. Lead poisoning in men may lead to fewer and abnormal sperm.

Lead in the blood can cause damage at any level and at any age. Unfortunately, by the time signs and symptoms show up, these levels are usually very high. Signs and symptoms of high levels may include clumsiness, weakness, and loss of recently learned skills. Other symptoms can include stomachache, irritability, fatigue, frequent vomiting, constipation, headache, sleep disorders and poor appetite. These symptoms may also indicate other health conditions.

The law requires that information on lead based paint be disclosed prior to the lease or sale of any home/apartment built prior to 1978. Owners/landlords must supply the buyer/renter with the pamphlet "Protect Your Family from Lead Paint in Your Home" and include warning language in a statement signed by all parties.

Because children under the age of six are more susceptible to lead poisoning, programs to prevent lead poisoning are directed toward that age group. Children can be screened for lead poisoning at a physician's office or at the health department. Screening is recommended if the answer is "yes" to any of the following questions.

Does your child...

1. Live in or regularly visit a house with peeling or chipping paint built before 1960?
2. Live in or regularly visit a house built before 1960 with recent, ongoing, or planned renovation or remodeling?
3. Have a brother, sister, or playmate being followed or treated for lead poisoning?
4. Live with an adult whose job or hobby involves exposure to lead?
5. Live near a lead smelter, battery recycling plant, or industry likely to release lead?

It is easier to prevent lead poisoning than to treat it. By looking for sources of lead in your environment, you can prevent lead poisoning. If you have further questions about lead poisoning, it's treatment and prevention, please phone Washington County Community Health Nursing Service at 335-4462 (local), 342-2929 (metro) or 644-5204 (Hartford).

Losing weight is no problem; the trick is to lose it so that it doesn't find its way back.

Muddied Waters - An Update on Wastewater Dump at State Park

By Richard Edwards

For approximately two years, the DNR has been working on an upgrade of the State Park's sewage treatment facility. Two public meetings were held and local folks in attendance voiced their interest and concerns. Satisfactory answers were never received.

What a shock and surprise when in mid-November a local hiker discovered that soon after the park closed in mid-September, without public notice, 1.2 million gallons of wastewater from two existing sewage settling ponds had been pumped into a small wetland in the park. The water was still standing hip deep and overflowing through two culverts into a dry creek bed which ran into Long Lake.

Town Supervisor Bill Bialk, along with several local citizens, viewed the situation and began an investigation. This produced numerous conversations and several meetings with park officials and the DNR engineers, hydrologists and officials who had authorized the dumping. A newsletter update on the project from Jerry Leiterman, the park superintendent, did little to subdue public distrust and anger, although Leiterman did at this time order the pumping and hauling of 423,000 gallons of water from the wetland.

All this finally led to a February 26th meeting in Madison which was chaired by State Senator Carol Roessler. The State was represented by Mr. Leiterman and DNR engineer Chuck Burney while Long Lake and the Town of Osceola were represented by Town Supervisor Bill Bialk, Town Chairman Bill Benson, the Water Sports Club by Vice President Dave Murphy and the Long Lake Fishing Club by myself.

Allowing that there was plenty of blame to go around, Jerry Leiterman accepted the responsibility for the serious error in technical judgement by the DNR engineers and planners and for the lack of public notice. Unfortunately, these mistakes have fueled the fires of public distrust in the DNR, in general. Acknowledging that flowage into the lake had been halted, that little permanent damage would result and that nothing more could be done to clean up the area, Senator Roessler and the gentlemen from the Town of Osceola concluded that further investigation would be unproductive.

Construction of the new wastewater disposal system for the park has already begun. It is expected to be operational by the late summer of 1999. Because the community representatives continued to express concerns regarding the project, Senator Roessler directed the DNR engineer to take those concerns back to their drawing boards. They are to provide guarantees that problems of a similar nature will not arise in the future. They will hold another public informational meeting before the new disposal system is put into full time use.

Almost 15 years ago when the Long Lake Fishing Club was started, club officers recognized the DNR as the state's primary regulatory agency. To help protect and maintain the lake and area in the most beneficial manner the club decided to pursue a course of cooperation with the agency. Fish stocking, rock reefs, fish cribs, lake surveys and numerous other projects have been accomplished with the help state grants and the valued assistance and expertise of DNR field managers and technicians.

It is truly a shame that after all this time, the working partnership between club volunteers and those dedicated public employees has been jeopardized by a single careless action.

Spring Turkey Season in State Will Open April 15

MADISON -- The first hunting period of the 1998 Wisconsin spring turkey season opens April 15, and state wildlife officials predict another excellent hunting season.

A record 100,678 permits were issued to winners drawn from 110,000 applicants (also a record) for the spring season, according to Keith Warnke, upland ecologist for the Department of Natural Resources.

"Around 24% of the hunters who received permits during the past couple of springs have been successful in shooting a turkey, and that is a fairly high success rate," Warnke said. "We're expecting hunters should experience a similar success rate this spring, but as always the weather can be a significant factor in hunter success."

Winter severity has been very mild up until a few weeks ago, when snow and cold gripped the southwestern portion of the state, which includes some of the best turkey range.

"A few weeks ago, turkeys were already gobbling and displaying in the fields and woods and several hunters called to ask whether the spring breeding period would take place earlier than normal," Warnke said, "but I think these past two weeks have put things back into perspective," Warnke added recently.

The spring season is held in six five-day periods. Hunters must apply for a specific period as well as for a specific turkey management zone. Landowners, who are given preference in the drawing, received 15,584 permits, and 8,889 lucky hunters received two permits. Applicants willing to accept permits in later time periods had the best chance of receiving first and second permits.

The highest number of permits was issued in zones 3 and 23, with 7,800 and 6,900 respectively. The highest number of second permits was issued in zones 2, 4, 5 and 11.

County Planning Celebration Of State's Sesquicentennial

The Washington County Committee planning the celebration of Wisconsin's Sesquicentennial is in the process of finalizing "A Step Back in Time" to be held at Sandy Knoll County Park on Wednesday, June 3, 1998 from 3 p.m. to dusk.

The county celebration will feature many of the activities held during a community get-together 150 years ago and promises to be a family event. The date coincides with the travel of the Wagons for Wisconsin through Washington County and as part of the entertainment on June 3, there will be an encampment of the wagon train which will be open to the public to view. There will be educational demonstrations and exhibits ongoing throughout the event in the wagon area.

There will be wagon rides, games for the children as might have been played in 1848 and games of the era for adults. Plans now call for sack, wheelbarrow and relay races, pennies in the hay and hoop rolls for the children. Adults can take part in tugs-of-war, pie eating contest, square dancing and horse racing. There will be a box lunch auction and other food available, as well as music throughout the event.

A program during the dinner hour and after will feature awards to the winners of the games, a second day stamp ceremony, music of the day, a costume show and competition and ending with a medicine show. The committee is encouraging people to come dressed in the costume of the day and take part in the costume competition if they desire.

More information on how to make or buy clothing can be obtained from the county representative, Wanda Roevers, at 644-5728.

This celebration may be a once in a lifetime chance to experience this "step back in time" to a way of life from the middle of the nineteenth century. The planners hope to include as many people as possible in the county celebration.

As plans progress, there will be more information on signing up to participate in the various activities. Any questions can be referred to the county representative.

Turkey Hunters Need to Follow Special Safety Tips

MADISON -- Hunters preparing for the coming spring wild turkey season can help ensure they return home safely by being aware of, and taking steps to reduce the risks turkey hunting poses, state hunter education officials say.

Turkey hunting has unique safety concerns because hunters wear camouflaged clothing to blend into the landscape, set up realistic decoys and use calls that might attract other hunters as well as old gobblers, says Tim Lawhern, hunter education administrator for the Department of Natural Resources.

"As with every kind of hunting, turkey hunters need to follow basic safety guidelines: treat every firearm as if it is loaded; always point the muzzle in a safe direction; and be sure of your target and what's beyond it," Lawhern says. "But turkey hunters also need to take special measures because of the way they dress and use of decoys put them at greater risk of being harmed by another hunter."

The spring turkey hunting season opens April 15 and runs through May 24. More than 92,000 hunters are expected to take part. DNR statistics show that 80% of the accidents reported during turkey hunting season involve hunters mistaking other hunters for game. That pattern held true in 1997, when seven accidents occurred during the spring and fall wild turkey seasons, compared to the typical rate of one accident per year.

"A pattern is beginning to form regarding why these incidents take place," says Lawhern. "Too many people involved in shooting another hunter during the spring turkey season say they did not see a beard on the turkey before they took the shot. In the spring the only legal turkey is a male or bearded turkey. "So, if a hunter does not see a beard on the turkey, it is a don't shoot situation."

Lawhern encourages hunters to wear some blaze orange, such as a cap or a pair of gloves. They can remove it when they get to their hunting spot. "We could reduce turkey hunting accidents by 50% if we could get people to do just this."

Lawhern cautions hunters against wearing bandannas, hats or gloves or any other piece of red, white or blue clothing because it can be mistaken by another hunter for the colors found on a wild turkey's head. He also recommends not carrying an item with those colors, including soda cans.

Hunters should choose a hunting spot that allows them to rest their back against a tree or some other object at least as wide as their shoulders, he adds, because doing so will provide both protection from any errant shots fired in their direction and from the extremely good vision of the turkey.

"If you're hunting with a partner, be absolutely certain of that person's location at all times," Lawhern says. "If you see other hunters, get their attention by yelling at them instead of waving your hands; movement alone sometimes causes some people to shoot first."

Lawhern recommends hunters take extra precautions when using calls and decoys such as:

* Use gobble-calls only to locate a tom turkey and not to attract one.

* Keep hands and head camouflaged when calling

* Never stalk or sneak up on a turkey and don't attempt to approach closer than 100 yards to a gobbler;

* Select a calling site with your back against a tree that is broader than your shoulders;

* Select a calling site from which you can see at least 40 yards in all directions;

* Never jump and turn suddenly because you hear a turkey close behind you;

* Never carry or move an uncovered decoy;

* Never assume that what you hear or what answers a call is a turkey.

We learn from experience that men never learn anything from experience.

Kewaskum Girls Fourth at Washington County Meet

The Kewaskum girls track and field team finished fourth at the annual Washington County Indoor Track and Field meet on Wednesday, March 25, at West Bend.

Hartford took home the title by scoring 112 points, edging West Bend West by six points. Slinger took third with 92 points, followed by Kewaskum's 89 points only two points ahead of West Bend East. Germantown and Kettle Moraine Lutheran finished sixth and seventh respectively with 55 and 40 points.

The Kewaskum hurdlers made a strong showing with senior Carrie Wiesner winning the 50 yard high hurdles in 8.0 and junior teammate Jackie Michaels, taking third place in 8.5. In the 50 yard lows senior JoAnne Thull took second in 8.1 and freshman Emmy Foerster finished fourth in 8.4.

The Kewaskum distance runners were led by junior Carol Neumann, who took a first in the mile in 6:04.5. Neumann, who ran with KHS distance star Marni Lynn the last two years, will now have the opportunity to emerge as the new KHS distance star.

In the 880 yard run, Neumann took third in 2:42.9. Some new distance runners provided some extra scoring for the Lady Indians. Freshman Emily Rinzel surprised the KHS coaches with a third place in the two mile with a time of 14:04.2. Sophomore Laura Schwinn, new to track this year, placed fourth in the mile in 6:09.4. Freshman Colleen Gosa took seventh in the 880 yard run in 2:50.7.

"We had great performances from Carrie Wiesner in the 50 yard high hurdles and Carol Neumann in the mile. We are especially looking at these two veterans to provide consistency and leadership for our team this season. We also had strong performances from seniors JoAnne Thull and Sara Dedert," commented second year head girls coach Joe Kinney.

"One of the brightest spots of the meet was the performance of the freshmen on the team. Emily Rinzel came out and took third place in the two mile, which is an outstanding accomplishment for a freshman in this tough event and at a big meet," Kinney stated.

He added, "Emmy Foerster placed fourth in the low hurdles which was great for her first full stick of hurdles this season. Lynn Wiesner volunteered to sub for an injured runner in the 200 dash and took eighth. She also ran a leg of the six-lap relay that placed third. Heather Rieder placed fourth in the long jump and also ran well in the 440 yard dash. Colleen Gosa ran well in the half mile."

"In general, I'm very pleased with the freshmen this season. They are very eager to win spots on the varsity squad," reported Coach Kinney.

In the shot put senior Sara Dedert placed second with a personal best throw of 32'2 1/2". The Kewaskum girls will definitely miss the 1-2 punch of departed seniors Katie Yogerst and Rachel Nysse.

The Kewaskum six-lap relay team of Jackie Michaels, Vanessa Current, Lynn Wiesner, and Carrie Wiesner took third place with a time of 2:20.5. Hartford won the event with a time of 2:15.8. Freshman Lynn Wiesner took eighth in the 213 yard dash in 30.7.

The four-lap relay team of Jenny Fettig, Emmy Foerster, Jessie Repovsch and JoAnne Thull took fifth place with a time of 1:30.8. Hartford also won this relay with a time of 1:27.5.

Freshman Heather Rieder took fourth in the long jump with a jump of 14' 10 3/4" and Jill Wichtoski took seventh with 14' 3/4".

The 20 lap relay team of Emma Chambers, Crystal Heberer, Jenny Immel and Lauren Steinhardt took sixth in 11:05.5 and the 10 lap relay team of Brook Zanow, Anna Waehler, Jessica Ropovsch, and Heather Rieder finished seventh in 4:33.4.

The Kewaskum girls travel to Oshkosh on Tuesday, April 7, to compete in the Oshkosh Invitational.

Girl Power Mentoring

Big Brothers Big Sisters of Washington County, in collaboration with the Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse of Washington County, have started a mentoring program called Girl Power.

Girl Power focuses on matching girls, ages 6-15, who are "at risk" for alcohol or other drug problems. The girl receives individual attention from a woman mentor to reduce risk of becoming involved with alcohol or other drugs. The positive female role model is at least 18 years old and is willing to make a commitment for a minimum of one year. The mentor spends a few hours every other week with an eligible girl to share experiences and have fun.

The girls are referred to the program by parents, social workers, coaches, clergy, or any concerned person. The girls participation is voluntary and her parent(s) must be supportive of her involvement. The mentor has to go through a screening process developed by Big Brothers Big Sisters and the Council to assure a proper match.

For more information on how to become a woman mentor or to call about eligibility for a girl between the ages of 6-15, please call Big Brothers Big Sisters at 334-7896.
