Holy Trinity Welcomes Father Mark Jones

Father Mark Jones and "Ginger"

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Rollerblading with Ginger the boxer is one of Rev. Mark Jones' favorite hobbies. He's a Packer Fan, and says he has to be because he grew up there. He considers himself a summer person and chose the move from an urban to a rural community because he likes wide open spaces, nature, and the parishes he now serves.

Jones began his ministry at Holy Trinity in Kewaskum, St. Bridget's in Wayne, and St. Matthias in the Town of Auburn on February 17th of this year. "It was an easy choice to come here," he relates. "I told the Archdiocese I'd be willing to go to a variety of ministries, but a small, rural community was one of my choices."

The new priest was welcomed by members of the congregations at an Installation Mass by Bishop Sklba of the Archdiocese, followed by a reception on Sunday, March 22 at the 9:00 a.m. Mass.

Father Robert Berghammer left Holy Trinity in 1990 to serve a parish in Leroy. Father Tom Venne served the parishes from June 1990 to November 1991 and left to serve as Vicar of Priests of the Archdiocese in Milwaukee. Father John Brophy then served the parishes for six years from November 1991 to June 1997, and is currently administrator of Philip Neri of Milwaukee. Father Tom Walker replaced Father Brophy for a short time when he became ill. The temporary administrator was Father Jerry Repenshek.

Parishioners have felt the void and lack of intimacy that comes from a priest that stays long enough to know the town, it's people and extended families in the congregation. "At least six to twelve years, that's how long assignments are," Father Mark points out. At 40, his youthful enthusiasm and down to earth flavor for life finds him visiting the Holy Trinity playground at recess, Ginger eagerly greeting kids with wet, sloppy licks and a stub trying to wag like a tail.

Jones attended St. Norbert College for three years, then transferred and graduated from Cardinal Stritch in 1982, with a degree in Special Education. While in college he joined a Franciscan order, participating in the Franciscan Formation

Incumbents Re-Elected

Only 16.4%, or 264 of Kewaskum's 1,608 registered voters showed up at the polls on Tuesday and they indicated a preference for incumbents in the school and village board races.

In the Village Trustee race, all the incumbents were re-elected to the board with John D. Kenworthy receiving the most votes at 192. Second was Robert Stoltzmann with 180 and Warren Dums secured 171. Challenger Robert A. Kilbourne received 117.

Village residents showed a preference to school board incumbents with Mary P. Andera receiving the most votes at 193 and John Schulte winning the other seat with 170. Former school board member and past president Neal Weare received 97 votes.

In the village Harry G. Snyder, unopposed in the Court of Appeals Judge District Two, received 188 votes, and Annette K. Ziegler, lone candidate in the Circuit Court Judge Branch One, acquired 193 votes.

Kewaskum area resident Daniel W. Stoffel, also running opposed for Supervisor, District 10, received 214 votes.

In the Kewaskum School

District voting, Schulte and Andera were the favorites with Schulte receiving a total of 565 votes while Andera had 526. Weare secured 323.

A breakdown of the district voting was: Washington County, Andera - 435, Schulte - 398, Weare - 219; Fond du Lac County, Andera - 41, Schulte - 35 and Weare - 14; Sheboygan County, Schulte - 132, Weare - 90 and Andera - 50.

A further breakdown of district voting shows: Town of Kewaskum: Schulte - 79, Andera - 73, Weare - 28; Town of Barton: Schulte - 19, Andera - 17, Weare - 6; Town of Farmington: Andera - 79, Schulte - 70, Weare 45; Town of Wayne: Andera - 73, Schulte - 60, Weare - 43; Town of Auburn - Andera - 41, Schulte - 35, Weare - 14; Town of Scott: Schulte - 132, Weare - 90, Andera - 50. There were no votes cast in the Town of Ashford or the Town of Mitchell.

In the District Nine Supervisory race, incumbent Mary Sauer handily defeated challenger Frank Scharrer by nearly a 70% margin, and Daniel J. Rodenkirch ran unopposed in Supervisor District 11.

Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

The Kewaskum American Legion, Robert G. Romaine Post 384, and the Women's Auxiliary will hold its annual Easter Egg Hunt for Children in River Hill Park at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 11.

All area children are invited to participate in this annual scramble for colored eggs. This year as in the past, Mr. and Mrs. Easter Bunny will stop by to visit with the kiddies, courtesy of the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club.

Children age five and under will "hunt" eggs on the west side of the river and those ages six through ten will do their hunting on the east side of the river. The limit is six eggs per basket.

This year, Easter egg hunters will have a chance to find specially marked eggs that can be turned in for cash prizes!

In case of inclement weather, Legion members will hand out eggs at Legion Hall, 1538 Fond du Lac Ave., in the village.

Father Mark Jones

Program, dedicated to community service, helping the poor, and working to spread the gospel. Graduate studies were begun at Catholic Theological Union in Chicago, until Mark's love of teaching led him to take time off from the order to return to Green Bay and substitute teach for special needs children. After two years of teaching second grade full time at Holy Family Catholic School, Father Mark returned to his studies in Chicago to complete a Masters program.

"Prior to completing my DVD (Master of Divinity) in 1990, I left the Franciscan order, and joined the Archdiocese in Milwaukee," Jones explains. Working as an intern seminarian and transitional deacon for St. Roberts in Shorewood, Father Mark remained there for two years, and was ordained to the priesthood on May 22nd, 1992. After a three year term at St. Roman's on Milwaukee's south side, and two years at St. Dominic's in Brookfield, he traveled to Kewaskum to begin a new life serving three rural parishes.

He brings with him a variety of experiences, and says so far he has enjoyed all areas of ministry. "I've been in the inner city...a south side Chicago school, I've tutored in the city schools of Milwaukee. Most of my background is really working with people in the inner city. I've got a whole different perspective of what city life is," Jones reflects. "There's only a very small minority involved in the violence we see on T.V. The spirit within these people and their ability to form family - like communities within bigger communities is inspirational. Although all the cement gets to you after a while!"

His first and most challenging goal will be trying to blend three parish communities into one strong faith community. As of the last weekend in June, through orders from the Archdiocese, both St. Matthias and St. Bridget's will be closing their doors, and their congregations will be asked to merge with other larger churches. "We hope they'll all choose to come to Holy Trinity," Father Mark expresses. "We know some may be closer to Campbellsport or Random Lake, and it's up to them what parish they would like to join, but they are all welcome here." Although the two smaller churches will be officially closed, they will still be available to former members of their congregation for weddings, funerals, and designated special occasions.

The controversy over closing several smaller Catholic churches throughout the state has left some Catholics outraged, feeling helpless and pressured from what they feel is a larger, emotionless bureaucracy. "I'm here to try to meet the needs of the people in these areas," Father Mark stresses. "I'm here to really be a minister, through good times and bad."

Since his move into the cream city brick rectory next to Holy Trinity, his presence has been felt with the addition of Ginger and all her dog toys strewn across the office floor, a canary singing from somewhere upstairs, sports equipment (he's also a biker and a hiker), and his enthusiastic hello as he bursts open the heavy ornate doors with a contrasting air of brightness. He keeps in close contact with his Green Bay family, his Mom Evan (his father Clayton passed away in 1993), his sister Denise and her two children, and one brother Michael, who lives in Texas with his wife and two children.

"I'm happy to be here. I live here now, and I call it my home."

Holy Trinity Students See, Hear and Learn About Raptors

Barbara Harvey

What birds are Raptors? What do they do?

Barbara Harvey along with five, live, permanently disabled birds came to visit, to show their beauty, and to demonstrate ways in which they can be recognized.

Barbara gave the Holy Trinity students an idea about how "Me Too" a small Eastern Screech Owl, "Bubo" the Great Horned Owl, "Lord Falco" the American Kestrel (Sparrow Hawk as they used to be called), "Beauty" the Broad winged Hawk, and "Big Red" the Red Tailed Hawk help people.

Barbara Harvey began with the "boring part," as she called it and which Allison Kowalczyk liked best. She described where these birds live and what they like to eat, how they were injured, how they were injured, how she takes care of them and how the birds help take care of orphaned birds.

Third Graders (not easily impressed, mind you), were greatly impressed with all of the new things Barbara taught them.

"Bird Lady," as she is often called because she has studied, rehabilitates, and cares for permanently disabled birds who can no longer care for themselves in the wild. She does this without cost to any government agency because of her enjoyment of the birds and teaching.

Katie Schoofs thinks she is really kind, both to care for an to share the birds with us at Holy Trinity.

When she demonstrated how owls hear well because of their ear placement, Rachel Tuszynski, Lauden Belongia, and Nicole Hesprich were surprised at how much better they could hear just by cupping their hands behind their ears.

Bryanne Timblin enjoyed learning that owls can turn their heads almost all the way around because they have fourteen bones in their necks.

Lauden also found it interesting that owls move their heads in triangles to better focus on their prey. This is called triangulation.

Many, including Ryan Wade, Dan Shea, and Bryanne were impressed by learning that females are larger because she needs to remain on the eggs and scare away other predators. The male is smaller and swifter so that he can catch food for the young birds.

Most were also impressed by how they helped farmers. They are "all" natural rodent destroyers who prey on mice and other small animals which eat grain crops. That's a real benefit to people!

Karissa Dums and Emily Boden especially liked "Me Too" because she seemed so small and so cute. Karissa loved Barbara's "Indian clothes." Elsie Schoofs showed no favoritism - she liked all of the birds.

Steve Volm liked the Great Horned Owl because of her great size when she spread her wings.

Bryan Theisen summed up our new attitudes about Raptors...

Hunting is fine as long as the hunter just takes what he needs and doesn't waste. A good reason not to kill birds is that they really help man by eating rodents.

Lindsay Krautkramer missed seeing the actual birds but learned everything from all the other students by putting together their notes.

Barbara and the birds thank the students for inviting them to Holy Trinity and presented Holy Trinity with some beautifully illustrated books which are very descriptive of the birds.

Thank you, Barbara Harvey, "Lord Falco," "Bubo," "Beauty," "Big Red" and "Me Too" for the new things we learned while having a lot of fun.

Memories

A Stroll Up Fond du Lac Avenue

Continuing north on Fond du Lac Avenue, on the east side of the street, the next building we come upon was, according to Tiny and Roger Reindl, the Val Peters Harness Shop, shown above, which later became the Lester "Pessy" Dreher Tavern, shown below, around 1930. After Dreher, the tavern business was owned and operated by Robert McKee, Edna McKee, Walter Buczek and then Norbie Serwe. Kemp's later bought the property and the building was torn down.

There will be two seatings available with the first one scheduled from 11 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and the second will be from 1 to 2:15 p.m.

tion with payment to Wendi Dreher, P.O. Box 209, Kewaskum, WI 53040. Please be sure to state the seating you prefer and the number of persons in your party. If your boss forgets to send you, make your own reservations and ask for just a little extra time for lunch. You'll be glad you did.

The right cloth is important when you dust and polish furniture. Old diapers, terry toweling, cotton knitwear or flannel cloths are good choices. Cheesecloth is not recommended unless it has been laundered several times. Oiled or treated dust cloths should never be on a waxed surface because oil softens the wax and the surface can become sticky. Avoid coarse fabric material fabrics, old clothing that may have buttons, snaps or trimming to scratch the finish, and synthetic fabrics which will not absorb moisture.

County Taxpayers Receive Almost $3.5 Million in Lottery Tax Credits

WEST BEND-- Fredric A. Seefeldt, Washington County Treasurer, reported this week that Washington County taxpayers received almost $3.5 million in lottery tax credits on their 1997 tax bills.

Local treasurers will be disbursing the funds on a proportional basis to the county, school districts, vocational colleges, special districts and their own treasuries on or before April 15. The State of Wisconsin issued checks totaling $3,488,808 to local treasurers on March 23.

"In a change, prompted by an earlier lawsuit, each tax bill received a lottery credit this year. The amount of the lottery credit was determined by calculating the school tax on $6800 of estimated fair market value. Lottery credits ranged from a high of $91.84 in the Friess Lake school district to a low of $60.23 in the West Bend school district," Seefeldt explained.

"Tax collections were up as of January 31 this year compared to the same time last year," Seefeldt reported. The treasurer had reported earlier that tax collections at year end were down compared to last year.

Janice Gettelman, assistant to the treasurer, stated that the county collected 74.68% of its levy by January 31 this year compared to 73.96% last year. "We had to wait until we received the lottery credit figures in order to make an accurate comparison between the two years," Gettelman commented.

Late Filing May Put Nonresidents' Tax Deductions at Risk

Nonresident aliens and foreign corporations in the United States must file their tax returns by the due date to avoid late penalties and interest. However, if their returns are still not filed within certain time limits after the due date, they risk losing certain tax deductions and credits.

Foreign corporations required to file a Form 1120F, "U.S. Income Tax Return of a Foreign Corporation," for the first time either this year or last year must file within 18 months after the due date of their current Form 1120F to avoid losing tax deductions or credits.

Foreign corporations not filing for the first time either this year or last year have an additional time factor to consider. They must file their returns by the earlier of 18 months after the current year tax due date, or by the date the IRS notifies them that their return has not been filed, or the credits and deductions may not be claimed.

Nonresident alien individuals who must file Form 1040NR, "U.S. Nonresident Alien Income Tax Return," have the same basic criteria except they have only 16 months to file their return before losing tax deductions or credits.

Additional information is available by writing to the IRS, Assistant Commissioner (International), Attention: CP:IN:D:CS, 950 L'Enfant Plaza South, S.W., Washington, DC 20024, USA.

Miss Wisconsin Visits Holy Trinity School

Nicole Locy, Miss Wisconsin, visited Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum, where, as shown above, she joined the students for lunch and a presentation on March 13. The theme of her program is "Building Self-Esteem Through Crisis." Her message is that each of us will face many crises in our lives. When we reach a crisis, there is no question that a change will happen. However, we do have a choice as to how we will handle this change.

Community Planning Awards Presented

The Aldwin Seefeldt Community Planning Award recognizing municipalities and individuals who have achieved innovation and effectiveness in growth management and planning was awarded at the annual Washington County Zoning and Planning workshop held on March 28.

The Village and Township of Jackson were recognized with an award for their cooperative efforts in developing a boundary agreement. The boundary agreement sets the point to which the village will grow between now and the year 2015 allowing both communities to plan and develop accordingly. "The village and town had more than twenty meetings to discuss various points and reach agreement. It was a long and arduous process but we feel it is a model for other communities" said Donna Spaeth, Village of Jackson president upon receiving the award. Gordon Hoffman, representing the Town of Jackson agreed it was a long process but offers a win-win for both municipalities.

A second award was presented this year to Perry Lindquist of the Washington County Land Conversation Office for his role protecting our County's surface water and his efforts in working with communities on water quality improvement. The nomination for his award noted his Department's educational efforts including newsletters, stormwater drain stenciling programs in urban areas, a successful program of selling grasses, trees, and shrubs and his extensive work on the Milwaukee River Watershed.

The Community Planning Award was introduced introduced in 1995 to honor the memory of Attorney Aldwin Seefeldt and his work with local communities on planning and zoning, quality development and intergovernmental cooperation. The award is given annually to a municipality or individual that demonstrates leadership, creativity, innovativeness, and effectiveness in growth management, planning and intergovernmental cooperation.

Members of the Kewaskum 4-H'ers visited with residents of Meadowcreek Apartments in February. Together they made cut-out cookies, shown above, and played dominos, below. The Kewaskum 4-H'ers are making plans to visit with their new friends again to build a lasting friendship.

KHS Tech Ed Department Receives Donations

David Stradtman, left, accepts the DoAll Blade Welder from Steve Nelson of Derco Aerospace, Inc., which is located in Milwaukee.

Several industries have recently been very good to Kewaskum High School.

The Technology Education Department has received four very generous donations. Derco Aerospace Inc., of Milwaukee, presented the school with a blade welder. This machine is used to weld band saw blades for the woods and metals labs. One of the night class participants is an electrician and he volunteered to wire the machine for use.

Another donation came from Larry Dietz, of Tecumseh Products Company, Inc. He arranged for the donation of 20 Tecumseh small engines.

Briggs and Stratton Corp. also made a donation of 22 small engines. Jim Cobb and Tom McNabb were responsible for this generous gift. The engines will be used in a class where students learn the principals of the internal combustion engine.

The fourth donation came from another night class participant. He and his family have made arrangements to present the Tech. Ed. area with a cordless finish nailer. Generosity like this is sometimes difficult to find and is very much appreciated.

The gesture by these companies and individuals shows that they are dedicated to assisting in the education of our youth. Thanks to all.

County Golf Course Offering Picture ID

The Washington County Golf Course located one mile north of Hartford, just east of Highway 83 on Clover Road, have opened their new season, on April 1.

The course is offering a picture ID to be on file at the golf course to receive the discounted rate (resident rate). This is a new program for 1998 and it is anticipated that it will help everyone when it comes to verifying their residential status.

In 1997, the staff had a difficult time determining residential status of customers who lived in cities on the county borders. Another reason for the switch is to accommodate players who have a residence in Washington County but are not year round residents. Players will not have to worry about remembering their ID as it will be in the golf course computer system.

Washington County will be using a digital camera to take the pictures and then load the pictures into the computer. When a player checks in for their tee time, their picture will come up on the screen. The Washington County Golf Course has been advised by their software provider, Guaran Tee Times, that it will be one of the first golf courses in the nation using this technology.

The cost for the ID picture for one year will be $5.00 for adult residents of Washington County and $3.00 for seniors and juniors (seniors - 62 and older, juniors - 17 and under). Non-county residents can purchase an ID card for $175.00 for the year. The ID picture will allow the bearer to receive a discounted rate (resident rate) every time they play.

The Washington County Golf Course has been busy over the winter. Thanks to a very generous donation, the planting of 174 mature trees has begun. To date, 52 trees have been planted making a major impact on the look of some fairways.

As previously announced, Washington County Golf Course will ban metal spikes from the facility beginning June 1, 1998, to improve playing conditions and to protect the new equipment and clubhouse furnishings. This is a move that is sweeping the nation. Customers are encouraged to change their spikes before arriving at the golf course, but, staff will be available to convert metal spike shoes to non-metal spikes at the golf shop for a small charge.

Maintaining championship playing conditions is the number one priority for the Washington County Golf Course this season. Heights of the cuts will be lowered on all greens, tees and fairways this spring. Players can expect faster, smoother greens and excellent lies on the fairways.

The Washington County Golf Course staff feels all these changes will result in a more enjoyable round of golf for all players and are looking forward to an excellent year.

The Washington County Golf Course is a championship 18 hole facility designed by the renowned golf course architect Arthur Hills. A short game practice area, target green driving range and three hole practice course are available, along with a modern golf clubhouse. Please call for further information from Hartford area, 670-6616; from West Bend area, 335-6870; from Milwaukee Metro, (414) 342-2929, ext. 6870.

Spelling Contest Winners At Holy Trinity School

The winners of the spelling contest for Grades 5-8 at Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum were Becky Herriges, left, grade six, first place, and Alex Herriges, grade five, second place.

25 Years Ago

April 6, 1973

Approximately half of the eligible voters in the village turned out to cast their ballots in Tuesday's election. A total of 560 votes were cast. Charles Miller was elected to succeed Cyril N. Wietor, who was not a candidate for re-election. Miller, who was unopposed, polled the most votes of any candidate. He received 465 out of the 560 votes cast. In a five-way race for village trustee, voters chose incumbent Alfred Kral, Daniel Schmidt and Roger Strack. In a four-way race for the two positions on the board of education of the Kewaskum School District, Byron Gessner and Gerald Secor won three-year terms.

In the Town of Kewaskum newcomer Mervin Thompson was elected chairman, defeating Carl A. Meilahn by a vote of 195 to 142. Elected supervisors were Jerome Herriges, incumbent, with 217 votes, and newcomer, James Andre with 180 votes over David Dorn, 111, and Edwin A. Seefeldt, 96. Tips For a Successful Easter Egg Hunt

(DM)—As you begin to plan your Easter celebration with family and friends, incorporate these helpful tips provided by Tootsie Roll Industries, Inc., into your festivities. Why Tootsie Roll and Easter? Because Tootsie Roll has made sweet treats and Easter favorites since 1896. Here are the tips:

1. Before Easter baskets were introduced, children used their caps and bonnets to collect eggs. Have children bring their favorite hat or baseball cap to the Easter egg hunt to use while collecting their hidden treasures.

2. To help your egg hunt look and feel more like the Easter holiday, decorate your surroundings. In Germany, people in the past hollowed out eggs, dyed them and then used the eggs to decorate shrubs and trees. This Easter, do what the Germans did and decorate the bushes and trees around your house (if held inside, decorate flowers and plants) with creatively colored eggs in honor of this festive occasion.

3. The Easter Bunny was introduced in the United States during the 1700's and has become a familiar icon representing the Easter holiday. This year, host a contest to see who can draw the best Easter Bunny for the 1990's. The prize for the winner could be an oversized Easter basket filled with a variety of sweet treats.

4. Choosing Easter candy for your egg hunt can be expensive as well as time consuming because of the wide selection of items in stores. Tootsie Roll Industries has relied on the same recipes since 1896 to produce their Easter treats which have remained favorites among children and adults for years. This Easter, fill your colored hunting eggs with goodies such as Tootsie Rolls, Tootsie Pops, Junior Mints and Charleston Chew. Each of these inexpensive products come in special packaging designed for Easter.

5. Go beyond the norm of using just food-grade dyes, stickers and stencils to decorate your Easter eggs. Do like the Austrians did years ago and boil your eggs with ferns and tiny plants to create unique shapes and patterns on the eggs.

6. As we enter into a healthier day and age, consider using low-fat candy for your Easter egg hunt such as Tootsie Rolls (1 gram of fat) and Tootsie Pops (0 grams of fat). Low-fat treats are a healthy alternative to chocolate bunnies and peanut butter filled eggs.

7. To reach out into your community, have your children create special Easter baskets for them to deliver to senior citizens you know in your neighborhood. Passing these treats along will help children experience the Easter spirit.

Remember that these suggestions can be used for an Easter egg hunt either inside or outside your home, and can involve people of all ages. After the Easter festivities are over, ask your children to tell you what they enjoyed most about the Easter egg hunt activities. Hearing their feedback will help you start planning for next year's events.

Say Cheese... And Ice Cream!

Third grade students at Kewaskum Elementary School savor the sweet taste of success, enjoying the ice cream they made during a visit from Washington County Agricultural Ambassador Barbara Schulz Kluever.

Jade Thelen looks on as KES third grade classmate Casey Scheel rolls the bucket during the ice cream making process as part of a visiting Washington County agricultural program. Students in grades K-3 made ice cream, while fourth and fifth graders learned about (and sampled!) cheese.

Learning was on the menu recently at Kewaskum Elementary School, along with homemade ice cream and a variety of cheeses.

Washington County Agricultural Ambassador Barbara Schulz Kluever stopped in to present programs explaining how some state favorites are made.

Fourth and fifth graders learned about cheese making and were able to taste some samples. Those students, third grade and younger, made and ate their own ice cream.

The following explains the process students followed to make their ice cream.

Making Ice Cream

By Allison Kimble
Third Grade

The Agricultural Ambassador of Washington County, Barbara Schulz Kluever, came to KES to do an ice cream program with our third grade class.

We sat in three circles and made ice cream step by step.

There were two containers per group, a large one and a small one.

The small one already had some cream in it, but we added two more pints, and put in vanilla and sugar.

Next, we put the cover on and duct-taped it down. Then we put the small container in the big container and surrounded it with salt. After that we added ice cubes and taped the lid on the big container, too.

We rolled the container across our circles for about 20 minutes, which helped the ingredients in the small container mix and freeze into ice cream.

Finally, we got to eat it. It was good!

Alfalfa Patent Issued

WEST BEND -- The U.S. Patent Office recently issued an alfalfa patent for Sequential Maturity™ Alfalfa to inventor, Dr. Paul Sun and Dairyland Seed Company, Inc.

Company officials state that this patent recognizes an important productivity breakthrough thanks to this technological advance by the plant breeding research group at Dairyland.

"This new technology represents a true productive advance for today's alfalfa grower," stated Dairyland CEO Tom Strachota. "Thanks to this technology, farmers for the first time can select alfalfas with maturities just like they select corn varieties."

Strachota notes that farmers have been telling Dairyland for the last ten years that they annually lose one-quarter to one-third of their hay due to poor quality. By using alfalfas with different maturities, farmers can improve the volume of high-quality forage that they harvest off the same number of acres.

Alfalfa consultants and university experts also see value in this technology. "Varied maturity alfalfa represents real progress to the serious alfalfa grower," stated Midwest Alfalfa Consultant Art Dilley. "With approximately 40% of the yield taken from the first harvest, use of an early maturity or a late maturity alfalfa puts the farmer in a much better position to harvest high-quality forage from his entire first cut."

Dr. Neal Martin of the University of Minnesota also sees value in this technology. "There is real potential with varied maturity alfalfa varieties to harvest more high-quality forage."

Currently Dairyland markets two alfalfas that are derived through this technology. The earlier maturity (Forecast 1000) alfalfa can provide farmers an earlier forage harvest which can be important in springs when forage supplies are short. In addition, Forecast 1000 provides the opportunity for an extra harvest off that same acreage in a long growing season.

Alternatively, Forecast 3000, a late maturity alfalfa, is an ideal fit for three-cut harvest systems which have recently received University extension endorsements as the best suited system for the Midwest. Strachota indicated that the release of these alfalfas is based on over a decade of research and that both yield and persistence of the products was thoroughly proven in university and on-farm trials before the products were released. As a result, the company currently is enjoying record sales of these products.

Strachota also noted, "These alfalfas are priced competitively with other premium alfalfas in the marketplace and are lower priced than many of the potato leafhopper resistant alfalfas that currently are being marketed."

Dairyland Seed's dealer network is located throughout the upper Midwest. In addition, Dairyland has established a network of distributors and licensees throughout North America, while also having a presence in certain international markets. For additional information about these patented alfalfa products, contact Dairyland Seed at 1-800-236-0163.

A sprinkle of mint can make cooked carrots seem more special.

"Attention all personnel. Due to the recent merger, we will now be known as 'Death and Taxes Incorporated.'"

Green-Up Time

by AMI

How welcome is the change from the white of winter to the very much ALIVE GREEN of spring, summer & fall! The brilliance of the Creator once again astounds one...for the many shades of green ever are acceptable to the eye and a joy to the spirit.

Like the softness of the pussy willow and the almost magical beauty of the sprightly crocus...heralding the end of dormancy for another season and catching humankind up in the pulse of giving birth to renewed growth and exciting vigor.

The just returned mallards quickly find appropriate nesting places and a host of birds begin their annual construction of homesites for their oncoming broods. Are you a bit like me? Almost always deliciously caught up in the surge of springtime planting...trees, flowers, vegetables. Somehow or other this old world of ours takes on new and renewed beginnings. Let's put an evergreen over there; and how about a paper birch down by the turn of the creek; the meadow could stand a few daisies as could our backyard.

And before we know it good old Mother Nature has seduced us into the richness of sowing, cultivating and helping her to decorate the earth with living plant friends...so appreciated by nature lovers and a host of birds, bees plus members of the wild life family! To be sure, spring has a very special meaning for men, women and their children. Should it fail to make its presence felt just one time would be catastrophic for all of mankind.

Once again, let us turn our attention to the forest as it quietly puts on its summers gown; and find delight in its embracing a wonderful variety of colorful wild flowers plus provides shelter to the nesting birds and chattering chipmunks. Indeed, the Lord doth provides for us all. Even as He has taught us to provide for our families and friends.

If you're going to worry don't pray! If you're going to pray, don't worry!

Soccer Conditioning Program Will Feature Wave's Robbe Pearson

Professional soccer player Robbe Pearson of the Milwaukee Wave will help players and coaches kick off the soccer season in a special program sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend on Monday, April 20. "Kick Off the Soccer Season" will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the hospital's fourth floor east conference room.

Pearson will demonstrate the workouts and stretching that players need to play their best and avoid injury. He will discuss proper equipment and nutrition.

"The big thing is stretching before and after play. If you get onto the field without stretching, you could pull a muscle, and you wouldn't get peak performance," said Pearson.

Pearson has played professional soccer as a defender/midfielder since 1995 and was with the Milwaukee Rampage before joining the Wave's reserve team. A graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, he played varsity soccer for West Point, winning several awards. He was team captain his senior year and also served as graduate assistant coach for the academy's NCAA Division One soccer team.

Pearson is a 1989 graduate of Cedarburg High School where he played varsity soccer and tennis and was named most outstanding male athlete in his class. Today he works for Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance as an intermediary.

The "Kick Off the Soccer Season" program is for all adolescent to adult soccer players, parents of soccer players and coaches. There is a $5 fee for the program and registration is requested by April 13. For more information, call the hospital's Class Connection line at 306-7888.

'Qualified Economic Offer' Needed for Property Tax Relief

Lately, the news has been dominated by Racine school-teachers who have brazenly lied and called in sick during contract negotiations with the Racine school board. While the press has focused on Racine, 40% of school districts haven't settled contracts this year.

Some union leaders are blaming the Governor and State Legislature. Since the state is picking up two-thirds of school costs state-wide (varying from district to district) we have had to limit the amount each district can spend on a per-pupil basis. Districts are allowed to increase spending by $206 per student per year, with additional amounts being given for districts with declining enrollments, low expenditures in the first place, districts who pass referendums, low achieving districts that need additional teachers, and special computer grants. The question arises: Have Governor Thompson and Republicans in Madison given the schools enough money to educate our children?

Interestingly, the American Legislative Exchange Council, a non-partisan Washington-based foundation, has recently compiled educational statistics for all fifty states comparing the 1984-1985 with the 1995-1996 school year. Governor Thompson was first elected in 1986. In 1985, Wisconsin spent $3,460 per pupil. This placed us as the 17th highest spending state in the nation. In school year 1996, we spent $6,621 per pupil, moving up eight places to ninth in the nation. Even after adjusting for inflation this was a 31% increase. Remember, all other goods combined - housing, food, utilities, transportation, and entertainment did not increase at all. Our student-to-teacher ratio dropped from 16.3 to 15.5 and our student-to-staff (support personnel) ratio dropped from 24.4 to 1 to 15.8 to 1. This is from 39th in the country to 19th in the country.

Average Wisconsin teacher salaries remained at 14th highest in the nation. This is despite the fact that Wisconsin citizens in general make less than the national average. As a percent of average income, Wisconsin teachers are 6th highest in the country. This does not count fringe benefits. Wisconsin's public employees have traditionally received higher fringe benefits than public employees in other states.

State statistics indicate that Wisconsin's generous spending has continued. In 1997, per pupil spending went up another 5.6% while inflation was only 2.7%. We anticipate this year a 3.6% increase while inflation is only at 1.7% increase.

This study also compared expenditures with results. As has been reported in the past, free-spending does not necessarily mean good schools. None of the seven highest spending states on a per-pupil basis were considered to be in the top ten in results. Half of the top ten were in the bottom half of expenditures. Utah, which spent the second least in the country was still in the top ten in results.

A few years ago, the Legislature instituted the QEO, or Qualified Economic Offer. This allows school districts to cap public school teachers at a combined 3.8% annual increase in salary and fringe benefits. This has been compared to contracts negotiated with state employees which have been at 1.7%, 2.3% and 3.1% over the last three years. To a large extent state employees have received smaller increases because so much money has been given to the schools.

ures one must remember that they are state-wide averages and they vary from district to district. However, the taxpayers are doing more than their share. Future improvement must come from spending the dollars wisely. Not by removing caps from the school district.

Rock River League Expands

At its franchise deadline meeting on Tuesday night, March 10, the Rock River Baseball League accepted as members, the Madison Big 10 Pub and the Lake Mills Grays.

This expansion from 22 to 24 teams marks the most teams to play in the Rock River League since its inception in 1930.

The league decided to divide into four divisions of six teams each with the top two teams from each division reaching the double elimination grand championship playoffs in August.

The new league alignment is as follows:

SOUTHEASTERN - Madison Show Box, Watertown Cardinals, Ashippun Mudcats, Clyman Cannons, Hartford Hawks, Neosho Rockets.

SOUTHWESTERN - Helenville Rebels, Lake Mills Grays, Deergrove Angels, Johnson Creek Pioneers, Madison Laurel Tavern, Lebanon A's.

NORTHEASTERN - Horicon Honkers, Slinger Stingers, Kewaskum A's, Madison Big Ten Pub, Hustisford Astros, Rubicon Red Sox.

NORTHWESTERN - Oakfield Oaks, Pardeeville Braves, Waupun Bulldogs, Berlin Reds, Oshkosh Merchants, Brownsville 49ers.

The expansion also means that the league will go from 10 games per week to 12. With this expansion a definite need for umpires has arisen. If interested please call Gregg Kuehl at 920-349-3512.

KHS Boys Track Sixth At County Indoor

The Kewaskum boys track and field team placed sixth at the Washington County Indoor on Wednesday, March 25th. The Germantown boys' track team won the Bob Buel Washington County Indoor for the fourth time in a row with 123.5 points just edging West Bend East's 119 points. West Bend West took third with 88.5, Hartford fourth with 66 points, and Slinger finished fifth with 42 points. Kewaskum scored 17 points and Kettle Moraine Lutheran tallied 10 points.

Seniors Matt Hammen and Brad Hermann provided the highlights for the Kewaskum boys team. Hammen finished second in the high jump and tied his personal best with a jump of 6' 2". The winning height was 6' 4" by Andy VanBrocklin of Hartford. In the pole vault, Brad Hermann placed third when he equaled his personal best set at Sectionals last year with a vault of 11' 6". The winning height was 12' 6".

"The pole vault and the high jump are two areas where we should do well all year. With seniors like Matt Hammen in the high jump and Brad Hermann and Troy Staehler in the pole vault these veterans provide the team with experience and placing ability," commented head coach Jerry Gosa.

Matt Gundrum placed fifth in the shot put with a put of 46' 1" and the 6 Lap relay team of freshmen Paul Mertz, Josh Parrent, Charlie Sparks and senior Matt Hammen place sixth.

The Kewaskum boys' track team will definitely be hurt all season by its lack of depth. With only 30 individuals out and seven lettermen returning, the team will be hard pressed to win many meets. "Fielding a varsity team and JV team will be a challenge. The good thing is that most of our athletes are working hard. It also looks like our freshmen hold promise for the future. I told them at the beginning of the season, that I operate under the simple premise that if they are real athletes they should be willing to work hard because they want to become better athletes," concluded coach Gosa.

SHEEPSHEAD WINNERS

5 handed winner's on Thursday, April 2nd were: Andy Bonlender, 70-4--66, 21-3--18; Frank Krueger, 64-12--52, 20-8--12; Bob Nagel, 50-9--41, 18-6--12; Elton Ludwig, 52-12--40, 18-5--13; Marge Bonlender, 48-10--38, 22-7--15.

The next 5 handed will be Thursday, April 16th and Wednesday, April 22nd at 8:00 p.m. sharp. Cash prizes, lunch. Schmitt's Never Inn.

Hammen Fourth, Staehler, Hermann Sixth at Oshkosh

Three senior members of the Kewaskum boys track and field team had individual success at the Oshkosh Invitational on Friday, March 27, 1998. Matt Hammen equaled his personal best in the high jump by clearing 6' 2" for the second time in a week. "Matt has been jumping real well and two of his attempts at 6' 4" were extremely close. He was over the bar, but just knocked it off. Matt was disappointed not to equal or break the KHS record of 6' 4" held by Travis Jacak. It is still very early in the season, I think it is just a question of time before he goes 6' 4", commented head boys coach Jerry Gosa.

Both Brad Hermann and Troy Staehler cleared 11' 0" and tied for sixth place in the pole vault. The 11' effort by Troy Staehler was a personal best. "The vaulters have been putting in a lot of extra time and hopefully we will see their time and effort translate into new personal best heights and high placings in meets later in the season," reported coach Gosa.

Over fifty teams competed at the Kolf Sports Center at the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. Conference rival New Holstein won the Division II portion of the meet with 51 points and Princeton edged Marshall 76-75 for the Division III portion of the Meet. Thirty-four Division II and nineteen Division III scored points in the meet. Kewaskum tied with conference foe Sheboygan Falls for twentieth place with nine points, one point behind Kiel.

Other members of the Kewaskum boys team that participated but did not place in the top six were the following athletes and their events. Senior Aaron Nelson ran 5:45 in the 1600m run and 12:28 in the 3200m run. The 800m relay team of Chris Koth, Josh Parrent, Paul Mertz and Charlie Sparks ran well and finished in 1:48.8. Charlie Sparks and Chris Koth also ran in the 55m preliminary and were timed in 7:37 and 7:54 respectively and did not make the finals. Likewise, Matt Gundrum in the shot put 41', Sean Cotter in the high jump 5' 8", and Josh Rieder and Darrell Woebeking in the 400m dash also did not place.

SOFT WATER INC. - Located at 1344 White Rock Ave., Waukesha, Soft Water Inc. has provided quality service since 1946. It specializes in automatic water conditioners and drinking water systems.

Soft Water Inc.

"What makes your company different than the other water conditioning companies in the market?"

This is a question posed to business people all the time. Jim Olson answered it.

"The answer that always comes to my mind is customer relations. I don't think we have ever lost a customer because we wouldn't or couldn't solve their problem. However, we get phone calls all the time from people saying, 'I am having no luck with the company I am with. What can you do for me?' We then go out and solve the problem and usually at a better price than the customer was paying before."

Soft Water Inc. has a loyal and dedicated staff that knows the past and future success depends on how well each customer is treated.

Whether the solution is a 20 cent piece of hose or a system for an apartment complex, Soft Water Inc. is prompt and efficient.

"We are now the largest locally-owned and operated water conditioning business in Waukesha county. We have thousands of satisfied customers solving hardness, iron staining and odor problems every day. We realize a satisfied customer is our best salesperson."

Customer Service Manager Steve Mackie said, "Our goal is to solve each problem with the right equipment. That means providing the equipment the customer needs precisely."

Call Soft Water Inc. at 547-3866 or 567-3204 and see for yourself why it has earned a reputation for honesty and dependability.

Does your water heater have you in hot water?

Water heating is the second largest energy user in your home, so how you choose to heat it is a very important decision.

Whether you are building a new home or renovating an existing one, some heating alternatives can produce hot water faster and reap large savings in your energy bills.

Propane can be a more cost-effective method for many homeowners. According to the U.S. Department of Energy, the average annual operating cost for electric water heaters is about 45 percent higher than for those fueled by propane. That means has units heat almost two gallons of water for the same cost it takes to heat one gallon with electricity. It also means you could be paying $200 to $300 more each year to run your electric water heater.

Propane also produces hot water faster and more efficiently than its electric counterpart. "A 30-gallon propane water heater recovers up to 55 gallons an hour while a 52-gallon electric tank is needed to produce the same amount in the same time," says a spokesperson for propane use. "If you have two adults and two children using the shower every morning, you know how important that is."

Gas units can also be easier to maintain since they don't rely upon electric heating elements that often must be replaced more than once over the life of the appliance.

The two most common types of propane water heaters are storage and instantaneous systems. Storage systems, which are found in most homes, hold heated water in thermostatically controlled tanks. Instantaneous units need no tanks because they only heat water as it flows toward an open faucet. Tankless units can be wall-mounted and are ideal for homes with limited space.

One of the newer propane gas technologies is the "combo system," a single unit that both heats a home and supplies hot water.

In a cost-efficient combo system, water brought to the desired temperature is pumped through a heating coil that heats air blown over it by a fan. Water runs to the water heater to meet household needs while the fan circulates warm air to the house. Units are 94 percent energy efficient.

Give roofs extra protection against leaks

Every winter, the damage done to roofs can be a costly reminder of nature's fury. In some cases, leaks caused by the harmful effects of high winds, ice and snow cost homeowners thousands of dollars in repairs.

Properly installed waterproofing shingle underlay could make a difference.

Waterproofing shingle underlay is an advanced version of standard shingle underlay, or roofing felt. It is typically made using polymer-modified (rubberized) asphalt. The asphalt makes it waterproof; the polymers make it elastic and sticky. Waterproofing shingle underlay comes in rolled sheets and is applied atop the bare roof deck, under the shingles. (Application by a professional roofing contractor is recommended.)

Waterproofing shingle underlay creates a waterproof barrier beneath the shingle system, so that pooled water or wind-driven rain or snow can't penetrate the roof deck via nail holes or open seams in the roofing felt.

Waterproofing shingle underlay helps protect against four basic types of water infiltration:

1. standing water trapped on the roof at the eaves by "ice dams" - ice that forms at the edge of the roof, blocking drainage;
2. rain or snow that is driven by high winds up low-sloped roofs and beneath shingles;
3. rain or snow that penetrates areas of the roof that may be susceptible to leaking, such as in valleys or at roof openings (around chimneys, skylights, and the like);

4. rain or snow that penetrates areas left exposed when shingles are blown off the roof in high winds (until the missing shingles can be replaced.)

There are several waterproofing shingle underlay products on the market. Which homeowners should consider using waterproofing shingle underlay? Consider this: Though ice dams are associated with regions of heavy snowfall, water infiltration can be a problem anywhere wind-driven rain is forced beneath shingles, or where shingle blow-off leaves the deck exposed.

When to use waterproofing shingle underlay depends on the specific needs and budget considerations of the homeowner and, to a lesser extent, the level of sophistication of the builder or roofing contractor. Whether the project involves new construction or reroofing, a knowledgeable builder or roofing contractor should be able to offer several options that include the use of waterproofing shingle underlay.

As effective as waterproofing is, homeowners should be aware that no one element of a roofing system ensures leak-free performance. A number of factors are involved, including the quality of the shingles and decking, and the skill and professionalism of the installer. Still, waterproofing shingle underlay offers a reassuring measure of added protection against the potential damaging effects of pooled or wind-driven water.

Tile 'N' More Has NO CLASS!

Many people like to take a hands on approach to home decorating and remodeling. By doing it themselves they enjoy great cost savings and the feeling of accomplishment from their own efforts.

Some feel they must take classes to learn how to do a project. Often they have to alter their schedules to fit class sessions into their lives.

Once in a class, many find the information too broad or general to help them complete their own job with ease and confidence.

At Tile 'N' More we show our customers the proper way to install the ceramic tile, hardwood, vinyl or new laminate floors into the areas that matter to you - your rooms in your house. No extra instructions that don't apply to what you are doing - no confusion.

- We lend ceramic cutting tools to you at no cost.
- We make custom cuts - for free.
- We also offer professional installation.

The choice is yours - attend a class - or come to Tile 'N' More and put the class where it belongs - in your home!

MAURICE'S LAWN AND LANDSCAPE - Located at W204 N6891 Woodward Ct. in Menomonee Falls, Maurice's Lawn and Landscape can help you improve the exterior of your home. From chemicals that treat weeds to accessories to help you get the look you want, Maurice's can offer it all with friendly service.

Maurice's Lawn & Landscape

When you're looking for professional landscaping assistance with a project, look for someone with years of experience and an eye for design.

Roger Maurice, owner of Maurice's Lawn and Landscaping in Menomonee Falls, has more than 25 years of experience in landscaping and horticulture.

Maurice has degrees in landscape architecture and horticulture, and a master's degree in turf management from Iowa State University. He moved his business from Marshalltown, Iowa to Menomonee Falls in 1987.

Maurice's philosophy begins with the client interview. "I ask the client to think in terms of adjectives. Their adjectives assist me in producing a design," he said.

The client interview is then combined with a site survey, which allows Maurice to come up with the theme of the property.

"Current trends include a broader expectation of seasonal color. Spring and summer are no longer enough. People are looking for a design that will provide some color year-round," he said.

"We're also using more ornamental grasses and perennials."

Maurice employs approximately 10 people, depending on the season, and specializes in coordinating entries and patios through skillful use of brick.

Another design application is nightscaping or lightscaping. Placement of exterior lighting amid the plant designs can provide clients with greater security, as well as a sophisticated atmosphere.

Maurice feels he excels in creative designs and that good designs can actually save money. Maurice offers designs that can be budgeted for up to four years.

CAREFREE HOMES - Carefree Homes, Inc., will focus all its energy on walking you through the home-building process. The builders at Carefree Homes make it easier on you through all the steps involved in developing a new home - and they will help you plan for the future with affordable housing.

Carefree Homes, Inc.

Thinking of building a new home this year, but you're not real confident in the home-building process? Let Carefree Homes, Inc. walk you through all the steps to building a new home.

Carefree Homes, Inc., 143 W. Wisconsin Ave. in Pewaukee, focuses all its energy on home building and new home construction.

"We do a lot of hand holding and walking first time home building customers through the process of building a new home," say Ted and Dennis Janka, owners of Carefree Homes, Inc.

"Most of our customers tell us that the process wasn't anything like what they had been told by friends who may have found the process too stressful and unsatisfying," they said. "Our customers work directly with us, the builders, not a middleman. This avoids communication problems which are very common in building a new home."

Ted's and Dennis' father was a general contractor, so they grew up in the business and know it inside and out.

Carefree Homes, Inc. has been an advocate of affordable housing. While they aren't strangers to building larger custom homes, they have made a point to develop and build more modest and affordable homes when zoning and restrictions would allow.

To learn more about what Carefree Homes, Inc. can do for your home-owning future, call 691-1988.

"We educate our customers on what to expect then deliver a little more."

OLD LYNNDALE FARMS – Specializing in antiques, collectibles and decorating accessories, Old Lynndale Farms promises to be a unique and memorable shopping experience.

Old Lynndale Farms

Would you like to know a place where you can always find the proper piece to complete a decorating scheme or the perfect gift for a friend? A place where shopping is entertaining and customer service is always first? Where history and memories of the past blend with the latest in home decorating furnishings and accessories? The shops at Old Lynndale Farms are where you can find all of these and so much more.

The renovated barns at N47 W28270 Lynndale Rd are stocked with antiques, folk art, and furniture, gifts and cards that are unique and fairly priced.

Owners Ken and Pat Leverage specialize in primitive furniture and accessories for today's country homes and promise a variety of merchandise to make shopping a pleasure. Customers can lose themselves while exploring the two barns and the newly opened white farmhouse.

Turn of the century and primitive antiques along with collectibles from years gone by fill the second floor of one barn. Decorating accessories and gifts for all occasions fill the other floor.

"Giving the customer selection and variety at the best price is one of our main goals," Pat Leverage said, while pointing out a variety of collectors items such as Yankee Candles, Boyd's Bears, Village Candles and Ty's Beanie Babies.

Another attraction of Old Lynndale Farms is the craft mall, which fills the other barn. Handcrafted folk art and crafts from local crafters and from around the country make the shopping experience even more unique. The craft mall fills the needs of customers looking for handcrafted items from local crafters and also the needs of crafters who need a retail environment to market their merchandise.

The newest addition to Old Lynndale Farms is the Farmhouse Shop. Everyone is welcome as guests of Old Lynndale Farms and the Leverage family. Primitive and upholstered furniture along with decorating accessories, including lights, rugs, quilts, textiles, prints and more, greet you with a warm invitation to stay and enjoy.

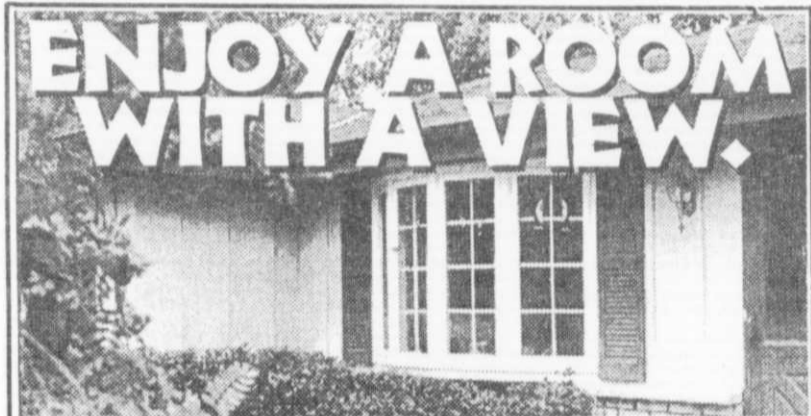

The Leverage family has 15 years of experience selecting and selling items and folk art. They brought their expertise to the Lake Country five years ago.

"We began this business with the goal of serving the customer by providing the most inviting shopping experience, from the products we sell to the employees we staff. Every day we strive to do nothing less than to meet this goal," Ken Leverage said.

Old Lynndale Farms is open Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; and Sunday from noon to 4 p.m. For more information, call 369-0350.

The Ultimate Getaway Can Be Right In Your Home

Let the professionals help you renovate your favorite place!

W.W. BROWN - Lake Country residents have been buying nursery stock and bedding plants from W.W. Brown Nursery in the Town of Merton since 1901. When you need plants that will work in this climate, you can count on their experience to help you.

W.W. Brown Nursery

W.W. Brown Nursery in Merton has been in business since 1901, making it one of the oldest nurseries in southeastern Wisconsin. The business is family-owned and operated by Warren and Isabel Brown and their son, Randy.

The nursery has a complete assortment of plants, evergreens, shade trees, perennials, fruit plants, rosebushes, ground covers, raspberries and mulches.

The Browns specialize in variety and have the experience to help you with your planting.

New plants are constantly being added to the display at Brown's and people are invited to look over and pick out plants.

People are becoming more conscious of the environment these days and realize that planting more trees and flowers will help provide the oxygen for clean air. To ease their workload and eliminate grass clippings, people are considering ground covers to give them less maintenance.

Stop at the nursery and bring in your requests or problems you may be having with your planting and the helpful crew will answer your questions.

The Browns have the Wisconsin Landscape Federation colored 32-page brochure, an excellent guide to Wisconsin plants showing where plants grow best. The newest perennial guide is also available.

Planting and planning services are available. The nursery is located at N67 W28835 Hwy EF in Hartland (just a half mile west of Merton) and is open seven days a week from April through October. The phone number is 367-2400.

NATURAL OPTIONS - Barb Nelson can help improve your emotional and physical balance with her OTT-Lite light therapy. The natural lighting can aid in overcoming many physical and emotional conditions. For more information about how natural lighting can benefit your home or office, call 367-8034.

Natural Options

In an age of natural healing, Natural Options is another tool in the process of health consciousness.

Natural Options specializes in OTT-Lite Technology, or the healing power of natural lighting. Barb Nelson is owner and founder of Natural Options. She is a former teacher, a wife, a mother of six and a natural health consultant.

"I specialize in educating the public as to the health benefits of full-spectrum indoor lighting in the home, the work place, schools and health care facilities," Nelson said. "OTT-Lites aren't available in stores here in Wisconsin, so I am very happy to be introducing OTT-Lites to health conscious people here, where it is really needed - especially with our long, dreary winters."

Full spectrum lighting, according to Nelson, helps balance the human hormone system and makes people feel good - just like on a sunny day.

Nelson says studies have shown that natural lighting is extremely beneficial over fluorescent lighting and light therapy can be helpful in overcoming many emotional and physical conditions.

To order OTT-Lite products or for more information about Natural Options and what it can do, call 367-8034 between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Bark River Tree and Landscape, Inc.

Bark River Tree and Landscape Maintenance has quietly become one of the largest suppliers of forestry products in western Waukesha County.

Owner Mike Doering said it has reached that pinnacle by his firm having the ability to identify and fill the public's needs.

Doering began cutting firewood almost 18 years ago. Firewood remains a strong part of Bark River's overall sales.

Firewood led to wood byproducts - wood chips, mulch, enviro-mulch - tree trimming, pruning, stump removal and land clearing.

Bark River employs eight people, two of whom are certified arborists. Certified arborists offer the customer knowledge of trees and a crew of certified arborists can make a huge difference in the outcome of a project.

Bark River offers three colors of enviro-mulch, a dyed, shredded wood product which lasts longer than conventional wood chips. The colors permit new design options.

Bark River prides itself on its prompt free delivery - same day if necessary.

Bark River also offers complete lawn maintenance service, mowing, fertilizer, weed control and aeration for both residential and commercial properties.

Bark River is a member of the International Society of Arboriculture and the Wisconsin Arborists Association.

For your next forestry product or professional service, call Mike at Bark River, 646-3735 in Dousman.
