Badger Replacement Overhead Door Opens

Mark Lieske of Badger Replacement Overhead Door

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Mark Lieske of Badger Replacement Overhead Door Co., Inc. in Kewaskum says it was time to officially open an office when business took off on a growth spurt. And it officially has.

In his new location at 1231 Fond du Lac Ave. since January 1st, Mark actually moved to Kewaskum June 9, 1997 and started out running the business from his residence.

Pulling up roots from Milwaukee, Mark originally began working for an overhead door company ten years ago, and eventually took over the business when the owner retired.

Offering sales, installation, and service throughout

Washington, Fond du Lac, and Dodge counties, Badger insures 24 hour emergency service for residential, industrial, and commercial customers. "Right now I do more residential than anything else," Jim states, adding Badger's advantage is local ownership.

Badger replacement handles the installation of new overhead doors, as well as replacing existing ones because of wear or damage. Fully bonded and insured, Mark stands behind his choice in using CHI doors, with future plans to include a line of Aluminum Shield. "It's a little more costly, but its also a little better quality with a greater R value," Lieske explains. They also deal in Lift Master openers, servicing any brand or make of door opener. Replacement parts are available, including springs rollers, and remotes. Old garage doors are removed and hauled away free of charge.

Mark recently attended the Home and Garden Show in West Bend, as a representative for his business and a member of the West Bend Area Builders Association.

Badger employs one installer and a salesperson to help meet the needs of the growing company.

Office hours can be made by appointment - he is basically on call all the time. Call 626-8813 for more information.

Mark and his wife recently moved to their new home in Campbellsport, and enjoy living in the Kettle Moraine area.

Board Decides to Determine Fate of Beechwood School

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

In a split vote, the Kewaskum School Board Monday night decided they, not the community, would determine the fate of Beechwood School.

The motion to approve a two-part referendum that would have taken place in June was defeated 4-3. Board President Jean Goeden, Mary Andera, Lisa Maul and Tom Timblin voted against it. In favor were John Schulte, Jon Downs, and Larry Fechter.

The binding referendum (part one) would have asked taxpayers to authorize the reopening of Beechwood School, including renovations and additions, not to exceed $600,000, and (part two) allow the district to exceed the revenue caps by $120,000 a year to fund annual operating costs of the school.

Out of about 40 audience members, five voiced their concerns to the board, including Facility Study Committee chairperson Amy Pamperin, who outlined her support for opening the school. "There's an adequate student population in the area (approximately 110-120), there's local support for the elementary that would ease overcrowding at Farmington and KES, reopening costs are less than $2,000 per student, which are reasonable costs. At a cost of $2 per hundred thousand of assessed value, I believe our electorate would support a recurring referendum for such an educationally and economically sound approach to educating our children," Pamperin said.

Tom Timblin, considering the outdated and overcrowded Kewaskum Elementary School, said the focus has gone away from KES and on to Beechwood, endangering, or at least delaying, the fate of the village school. "We are the elected officials, and I believe we should make the decision," he said, asking that the Beechwood proposal be put on the May 11th school board agenda.

School District Administrator Clark Pearson said the need (to address KES) is there, whether Beechwood is opened or not. Its direct affect would more likely be felt at Farmington, reducing the cost of additions at that school.

From a lengthy and passionate speech, Mary Andera announced she had changed her mind by listening to her heart, and no longer supported a voter's choice on the issue. Criticizing community attitudes she had previously thought the "Andy of Mayberry" district was free of, she expressed disgust that the Beechwood topic had become "so ugly and territorial on all sides, we've lost our focus." "And these people go to church on Sunday," she lamented. She added those who threatened to leave the district if Beechwood remained closed, could leave. She had had enough of gossip and rumors, and asked the focus to return to meeting the needs of all the students in the entire district.

In support of the referendum, Larry Fechter backed an electorate decision, saying it wasn't so much about opening Beechwood

Rep. Grothman Shares Update On Madison With Village Board

Rep. Glenn Grothman opened Monday evening's village board meeting, updating the board and Kewaskum residents on state government proceedings in Madison.

According to Grothman, the legislature that is now in session has not been very productive to this point. In part, because the assembly is run by the Republicans and the senate is run by the Democrats, there were alot of issues they did not have a "meeting of the minds" on.

Basically, three major issues, however, will be taken up in the next few weeks. The first issue they will be dealing with will be campaign financing reform. The primary feature in this issue Republicans will be looking to change is the money unions take from their members through what they call an "automatic check off."

Grothman stated, "what we're going to try to do is we're going to try to make it a negative check off so they have to ask their members for dues rather than take those dues automatically."

The second issue is they are going to be dealing with addresses the $310 million dollar surplus. According to Grothman, right now in the biennial budget that was passed last October, the state already increased general purpose spending, other than transportation, over 12% over the prior two years, at a time when inflation for that two year period was about 5%. He stated, "We already spent quite a bit."

Grothman said they went into that budget with $460 million dollars in the bank and came out the other end, $70 million dollars to late school payment, and in between "you're going to raise some taxes, and cut some taxes. The tax increases outweigh the tax decreases. So they do not have to as it was about allowing the district to spend the money to operate it annually. "We've been robbing Peter to pay Paul for years," he commented, and felt it was time the community had a monetary voice. Spending most of the time fielding the meeting, board president Jean Goeden added, "and nine times out of ten Peter is the maintenance department."

Administration reported that school enrollment projections would be down by 40 next school year, buying some time for the school board, which will continue their discussion at a May 4th workshop. Consideration will once again be given to selling Beechwood School if it is not used by the district.

We look forward to a delightful morning with grandparents!

Grothman

spend anymore money at all as far as I'm concerned."

Grothman commented there are people (in Madison) that want to pay down some debt and he doesn't mind that, however, he feels the problem with that is, "the type of people who want to pay down debt are the same type of people who want to spend the money to create that debt in the first place. They're going to say they're fiscally responsible. Really, they just don't want to cut taxes because they want more money to spend two years from now."

Grothman feels the major tax cut that has been proposed by the governor has certain flaws in it, specifically the education tax credit.

Grothman said, "I ran on the idea that we want to help parents who send their kids to private schools. There are a few serious flaws in the government's program, though, that I think have to be taken care of."

Grothman added, "What we have is, quite frankly, a lot of politicians who are so scared to death of being accused of helping the rich, they won't even help the middle class. That's the problem."

Another problem he pointed out whenever you give something back dollar for dollar you encourage cheating. Regarding tuition, he cited an example whereby you could hire a family member to teach piano and then put it on the tax return, and who would check it?

He stated he would rather restrict the credit to book fees and then private schools could charge more book fees and less tuition. He feels there would be less cheating and more people would benefit then from the governor's plan.

Grothman said the biggest problem he has with the governor's plan, however, is the huge marriage penalty associated with it.

BadgerCare, the W-2 Child Care Proposal, the education credit, and the earned income tax credit, all benefit single parents.

He stated, "What they did was they made these benefits too generous in the first place. The big problem with the FDC system was it kind of changed society by saying we'll set you up as a single parent."

Grothman feels all the new programs have the same problem and that is they are not helping everyone across the board.

Another issue coming up is the governor's truth in sentencing proposal, which will wind up putting people in prison a lot longer.

Grothman stated he will certainly vote for it, however, he is a little concerned regarding the shortage of information on what the additional costs will be.

He also explained a few other smaller bills that he will be looking into.

During a question and answer session, Trustee Gary Gavin asked the representative, "Why don't they just take the surplus and give property tax relief?"

Grothman stated one thing he would like to see is the state to get rid of the little state property tax. He feels that since the property tax is such a huge portion of funding for schools and local, why do they have a state property tax? He said right now so much of the money the state has been able to come up with has gone to increase school aids.

Grothman stated, "It would be nice someday if we could get rid of the personal property tax altogether somewhere down the line."

The class was confirmed during the Palm Sunday worship service. Rev. John Wichman led the students through the confirmation rite while Rev. Eric Kirkegaard read a scripture verse chosen for each confirmand.

Freedom of the press won its first victory in the American Colonies in 1735, when John Peter Zenger, editor of the New York Weekly Journal, was acquitted of criminal libel for attacking the British governor.

Memories

Getting back on Fond du Lac Avenue, we come to the last business on the east side of the street, the office of Dr. N.E. (Ed) Hausmann, located just north of the American Legion building. Just a tad bit before this writer's time, the name of Dr. Hausmann, though unfamiliar to me, is noted in Kewaskum Then and Now. Under dentists, the book mentions Dr. Karl Hausmann, a brother of Dr. N.E. Hausmann, was here from 1905 until April, 1928. There is also another photo of Dr. Ed Hausmann in the book, driving one of the first automobiles in Kewaskum, that we featured in the Memories column quite a while ago. Next we will begin our trek down the west side of Fond du Lac Avenue, beginning with the A.A. Perschbacher building. If anyone has information to share on this business, please submit it to the Statesman, or call 626-2626.

Diabetes Care—What's Ahead?

(NAPS)—Encouraging news for the 16 million people in the US who suffer from diabetes. Diabetes research has led to many advances in diabetes management and treatment of its complications.

- New forms of purified insulin, such as human insulin produced through genetic engineering.

- Better ways for doctors to monitor blood glucose levels and for people with diabetes to test their own blood glucose levels at home.

- Laser treatment for diabetic eye disease, reducing the risk of blindness.

- Better ways of managing diabetic pregnancies, improving chances of successful outcomes.

What's Ahead?

In the future it may be possible to administer insulin through nasal sprays or in the form of a pill or patch. Devices that can "read" blood glucose levels without having to prick a finger to get a blood sample are also being developed.

Researchers continue to search for the cause of diabetes and ways to prevent and cure the disorder. Scientists are looking for genes that may be involved in Noninsulin-dependent diabetes (NIDDM) and Insulin Dependent diabetes (IDDM). Some genetic markers for IDDM have been identified, and it is now possible to screen relatives of people with IDDM to see if they are at risk for diabetes.

Warning Signs

Though people of any age can get diabetes it is more common in older people. For a person with diabetes that has not yet progressed to diabetic foot disease, there are many warning signs which could point in that direction, and which should be called to the attention of the family physician or podiatrist.

They include:

- redness or other discoloration of the skin.

- change in the size or shape of the foot or ankle.

- pain in the legs, either at rest or while walking.

- open sores, with or without drainage, that are slow to heal.

- ingrown toenails.

- dry cracking and open fissures in the skin.

Persons with diabetes should visit a podiatric physician regularly for foot inspection, no less than once a year.

Kiwanis Students Chosen for March

Joanna Stevens and Josh Dieringer, both seniors at Kewaskum High School, have been named Kiwanis Students of the Month for March.

Many of Joanna's activities while at KHS have centered around her interest in the arts.

Joanna is a member of both the Concert and Swing Choirs, while also acting as co-editor of the KHS yearbook. At KHS, Joanna is also a member of the National Honor Society, as well as Treasurer of FLAGS. Additionally, she has worked with KHS vocal director Mr. Bertelsen through a school Fine Arts Seminar, featuring vocal music and performance.

Joanna takes voice lessons at UW-WC as well, even participating in area vocal competitions. She even made the semifinals of the Summerfest Talent Search, which culminated in a performance at the Milwaukee Art Museum.

During the last two school years, Joanna has been involved in the West Bend Community Theater's Spotlight Production, "West Side Story" this past year, and "Oklahoma" the year before.

Other community activities have found her working with VITOL at the Lac Lawrann Junior Naturalist Camp and Camp Helen Brockman for kids with diabetes.

Joanna works at Schwai's near Jackson, and also at Sunlight Plastics, doing general office work, and this summer, Joanna hopes to travel out west.

This fall, Joanna plans to attend UW-WC to start work on studying Fine Arts, with thoughts of possibly becoming a teacher in the field somewhere later down the line.

Josh Dieringer seems to know pretty much where he's going in his future. Grounded in a strong Christian faith, Josh plans on missionary work next year, with that or ministry as a possible career choice.

This past summer, Josh participated in an outreach to Hollywood, California, which included ministry on the streets and helping to feed the homeless. He also made a pilgrimage to Bosnia with his dad. This summer, he might travel to Mexico or North Carolina on another outreach.

While at KHS, Josh has been involved in Forensics Odyssey of the Mind, the school musical (he played the rabbi in "Fiddler on the Roof"), and FLAGS. He's also the vice-president of the student council, and has been a member of the soccer, cross-country, and wrestling teams at KHS. This year, in fact, he grabbed fourth place in the Sectional meet for wrestling.

Josh has also been employed at Tweber, where he assembles nature houses and butterfly nets. Even though it may seem far removed from his life's plan, he feels that, "everything I do contributes to my future career."

The trouble with what melts in your mouth is the way it bulges lower down.

Marian College Offers Evening Degree Programs in West Bend

FOND DU LAC -- Marian College's Adult Accelerated Program (MAAP) now offers evening degree programs in West Bend.

Starting this fall, students can earn a bachelor's degree in Business Administration or Operations Management at the Cedar Valley Center, 5349 Highway D in West Bend. Classes will meet one night a week for seven weeks, with six sessions being offered each year.

Marian also offers degree programs in Appleton, Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Milwaukee and Watertown.

"One of the reasons we decided to do this was because I have had numerous requests for us to offer something between Milwaukee and Fond du Lac," said Jackie Morgan, admissions counselor for MAAP.

The West Bend programs will offer residents of Washington, Dodge, Ozaukee and Sheboygan counties convenient access to higher education.

"Cedar Valley Center is very accessible, it is right off the highway," Morgan said, "and the setting is lovely. There is a walking path and lake nearby."

MAAP will host an information session at 5:30 p.m. on Monday, May 11, at Cedar Valley Center. Information sessions also will be held on Thursday, June 4; Tuesday, July 7; and Wednesday, August 5. For more information on these sessions, or to learn more about Marian's Adult Accelerated Program in West Bend, call 1-800-2-MARIAN, ext. 7651.

Announces Candidacy

Janice I. Gettelman

TOWN OF GERMANTOWN -- Janice I. Gettelman, Assistant to the Washington County Treasurer, has announced her candidacy for the office of County Treasurer on the Republican ticket.

Gettelman said she decided to seek the office because of the experience and knowledge she has gained as assistant to the county treasurer. "I have been given the opportunity over the last nine years to develop the managerial and technical skills necessary to be an effective county treasurer," Gettelman said.

Gettelman joined the treasurer's office in 1985 as an accounting assistant, was promoted to deputy treasurer in February, 1989 and had her position upgraded to assistant to the treasurer in 1991. Her position was further upgraded in 1997 to reflect her increased managerial responsibilities for the production of tax rolls and bills for Washington County.

The office of county treasurer opened up last week when incumbent, Fredric A. Seefeldt, announced that he would retire at the end of his current term of office.

Gettelman pointed out that in 1989, when the county decided to go in-house with a property tax collection system, she was given the responsibility to work with the data processing department on the development and testing of the necessary software.

Commenting further on her involvement, Gettelman said, "the original plan was to run side by side with our vendor for 1989 and then go on our own in 1990. Later in the season, the decision was made to go on our own for 1989 which we did with very good results. I attribute that success to the thorough testing which we in the treasurer's office pursued."

"In 1994, our office took the initiative and introduced a personal computer based tax receipting system to the local treasurers in Washington County. I was one of the original four users. My experience as a township treasurer was invaluable, not only in communicating its advantages but also in working with the vendor in improving and enhancing the software. In 1997, we had 15 local governments using the program with excellent results," Gettelman commented.

Gettelman was born and raised in the Town of Germantown, is a graduate of Washington High School and holds an Associate degree in business and data processing from Milwaukee Area Technical College.

She also serves as treasurer of the Town of Germantown, a post she has held since 1982. Previously, she served as clerk for the township, both elective positions.

Gettelman is a member of the Wisconsin Towns Association and the Republican Party of Washington County. She helped host the 1996 Old Settlers banquet of the Washington County Historical Society. She and her husband, Dennis, are members of St. Boniface parish, Germantown, and are the parents of five adult children.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor,

April 19-25, 1998 is known as Sexual Assault Awareness Week in Wisconsin. This is a week established to raise the awareness level of individuals in our community about sexual violence and tear down the wall of silence that surrounds this epidemic. The theme of Sexual Assault Awareness Week this year is "Challenging Attitudes, Changing Behaviors: Uniting Communities to end Sexual Violence."

Did you know?

* Rape is the most underreported crime in the United States.

* 15% of sexual assaults are committed against males. It is also estimated that as many as one in five to one in eight men have been sexually abused as children.

* 1,871 women will be raped today in this country. That is 78 per hour and 1.3 per minute.

* The majority of victims (87.4%) and offenders (72%) were Caucasian in Wisconsin in 1996.

* 92% of all sexual assaults in Wisconsin were perpetrated by someone known to the survivor (parent or other relative, family friend, date... etc.). Only eight percent were strangers.

Sexual assault does not discriminate by age, race, gender or economic status. Sexual assault is more about the need for power and control over someone than it is about sex. Sexual assault is forcing, coercing, or manipulating sexual activity on someone who does not want it or is not old enough to legally consent to it. Victims do not cause their assaults and are not to blame. Offenders are solely responsible for their actions.

To raise awareness levels of sexual assault it is important to talk about it with your family (male and female members alike,) and friends. You can read books and attend educational presentations if you are interested in finding out more information about sexual assault and the services available in Washington County. You can also volunteer for an organization that works to prevent sexual assault. If you are interested in more information about sexual assault, please contact Jen S. or Kelly at (414) 334-5598.

Sensenbrenner Announces Candidacy

MENOMONEE FALLS, WI - U.S. Representative Jim Sensenbrenner, Jr. (R-Menomonee Falls) recently announced he is a candidate for re-election to the U.S. House of Representatives in the 9th Congressional district of Wisconsin in the election to be held in November, 1998.

The District includes all of Washington and Ozaukee counties and parts of Waukesha, Jefferson, Sheboygan, Dodge and Fond du Lac counties.

"I'm extremely proud of my open-door policy with my constituents. Since elected to the House, I've worked hard to keep in touch, holding over three thousand office hours and town hall meetings throughout the 9th District. Constituents should have access. And, I've worked hard to keep communication constant and open, and to help citizens of the Ninth District when they have problems with federal agencies or simply want to make their views known on important issues," Sensenbrenner stated.

"I will run on my voting record which reflects my commitment to fiscal responsibility. I have been at the forefront of efforts to eliminate wasteful government spending and protect the interests of the taxpayer." Sensenbrenner has been cited regularly by the National Taxpayers Union as the most fiscally responsible House Member -- including each of the past three years. "Many politicians talk about balancing the federal budget, but I have a proven track record of standing up to special interests and fighting wasteful Congressional spending," said

Sensenbrenner.

Congressman Sensenbrenner, 54, serves as Chair of the Committee on Science; and serves on the Committee on the Judiciary and its Subcommittee on Courts and Intellectual Property.

A 1968 graduate of the University of Wisconsin law School, he also received a BA degree in Political Science from Stanford University in 1965. He served in the Wisconsin legislature from 1968 to 1978 before being elected to Congress. He was a practicing attorney until becoming a full-time legislator. Jim and his wife, Cheryl, reside in Menomonee Falls with their two sons, Jimmy and Bobby, and the two family Dalmatians.

Additional Support Shown for Washington County Fair Park

Another major donation has been received by Washington County Fair officials, according to Sandy Lang, Washington County Fair Manager.

The First National Bank of Hartford announced the donation of $75,000, to be pledged over a five year period, at their Board of Directors meeting recently. The donation will give the First National Bank naming rights to the overall dairy complex and its youth education area.

A donation of $10,000 was also received from the Orrin J. Peters Family.

Fibromyalgia Support Group to Meet

The Fibromyalgia Support Group sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend is meeting Monday, May 4 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the hospital's fourth floor east conference room. There is no charge.

Fibromyalgia is discomfort and pain surrounding the muscles. Some of its symptoms include inability to perform daily activities, sleeping disorders, and bowel disorders such as diarrhea or constipation. The support group is designed to educate and provide support for patients, friends and families affected by fibromyalgia.

For more information, contact St. Joseph's Community Hospital's Health Promotion Services Department at 334-8268.

Cold Water a Special Concern for Safe Boating

MADISON -- Mild temperatures and the itch to go fishing are luring many people onto Wisconsin waters, prompting state officials to caution boaters to be extra careful during the spring.

"People get lulled into this hypnotic stage of, 'it's 65-70 degrees outside -- it's perfect for boating,'" says Bill Engfer, boating law administrator for the Department of Natural Resources. "But cold temperatures, debris in the water, and unpredictable weather can be a formula for disaster, so boaters need to counter by being extra cautious and wearing a life preserver."

Anglers should be particularly careful because they are frequently moving around in their boat, increasing their chances of capsizing or falling into the water. Last year, more than half of the 29 people killed in boating accidents in Wisconsin were fishing and more than two-thirds of all the victims fell overboard or ended up in the water when their boat capsized or swamped.

One reason spring boating requires extra caution is that the water temperature is cold -- now in the 40 degree Fahrenheit range on lakes in southern Wisconsin and below freezing on some northern lakes -- and people run the risk of hypothermia if their boat or canoe tips or they go overboard, Engfer says.

Hypothermia occurs when the body loses heat faster than it can produce it; typically, the condition usually contributes to deaths by inhibiting the victims' ability to swim or stay afloat.

People lose body heat 25 times faster in cold water than in cold air, and hypothermia can occur in any water less than 70 degrees, which means large lakes and rivers pose a risk even in warm months, according to the U.S. Coast Guard.

Wearing a life jacket can help protect a boater from suffering hypothermia and drowning if an accident occurs. Boaters who end up in the water may have little time to put a life jacket on once they have plunged into the icy water, and life jackets allow a person to float without expending energy and provide insulation as well, Engfer says.

"Always wear your life jacket -- it's even more important in the spring and fall because if you fall in, the temperature of the water likely will take your breath away and you may become disoriented," he says. "If you're in 50 degree water for 50 minutes, you have a 50 percent better chance of survival if you wear a life jacket."

Boaters also need to be aware of weather conditions before they venture onto the water, and while they are on the water. Engfer suggests people take along a weather radio or regular radio or tune into their marine band's weather channel, and be aware of conditions around them. A steady increase in wind or thick dense clouds can be signs of approaching storms.

"If you see or hear a report that a storm is approaching, don't stay out on the water but come back in," Engfer says. "If you get caught out on the water in extremely bad water, instead of trying to make it back across to where you're docking, take your boat to shore, pull it out and wait out the storm. It's better to be a few minutes late than never to return."

Other safety tips for spring boating include:

* Tell somebody where you are going and when you expect to return.

* Dress appropriately for the weather, in layers that can be peeled off and put back on as the temperature dictates.

* Watch carefully for branches and other debris that may have been carried into the water by snowmelt or runoff and avoid anything that appears to be floating on the water.

* Be aware that river water levels will be higher and currents faster in spring, and boat within your capabilities.

* If you end up on the water, stay with your boat and try to pull yourself up on it since the air temperature is likely warmer than the water.

In single's play, Kewaskum's Josh Gaffke defeated Mike Zeininger, 6-1, 6-0, while Waupun's Andy Riel overtook Tim Breitag 6-4 and 6-4. Matt Fehlhaber won over B.J. Sieple of Waupun, 6-1, 6-0 and the Indians' Keith Novotny was the winner over Casey Smith, 6-1 and 6-0.

In doubles play Kewaskum's Josh Seymour and Paul Higgins defeated Waupun's Ben Beck and Chris Harmson, 6-2 and 6-3.

Iron Men/Women Wanted

The Washington County Sesquicentennial Committee is looking for a few strong men/women to form teams for the tug-o-war competition which will be held during the county's celebration of Wisconsin's one hundred fiftieth birthday on Wednesday, June 3, at Sandy Knoll Park in West Bend.

The tug-o-war competition with teams of six people will be held at approximately 6 p.m. as one of the adult games in "A Step Back in Time," an event for the whole family. Other games being featured for adults will include a pie eating contest, horse racing and square dancing.

There will be games of an earlier era for the children beginning at approximately 4:30 p.m. as well as wagon rides during the whole event. Also at approximately 4:30 the Wagons for Wisconsin wagon train will arrive at the park and will circle their wagons for an overnight stay. This will be a "once in a lifetime" chance to observe the way the early settlers traveled across America and lived from their wagons on the journey.

At 5 p.m. and during the supper hour there will be a costume show with the modeling of apparel worn during the last 150 years. After supper there will be a magic show and a short program honoring the winners of the games and for the stamp enthusiasts, a second day stamp ceremony with a special Washington County cancellation stamp available for anyone wishing to have an envelope so marked.

There will be music from 4:30 p.m. to close (approximately 9 p.m.). Featured will be the Native American music of Cedar Wind, Dixieland Jazz, the River City Irregulars and the Hartford City Band.

School Bus Crashes Down In Wisconsin

Congratulations go out to all Wisconsin school bus drivers. For the third year in a row, school bus crashes have gone down in Wisconsin.

Robert Christian, executive director of the Wisconsin School Bus Association, said, "From a high in 1994 of 1,126 crashes to 886 in 1997 is very, very good." A reduction from 1994 was 240 or over a 21% reduction in just three years. In 1996 there were 945 crashes compared to the 886 in 1997, giving a 6.2% reduction.

Of course, once again in 1997 there were no school bus occupants killed during the year.

The most crashes occurred on the ride home in the afternoon with a total of 351 crashes followed by the early morning runs with 339. The balance were on noon runs and extra curricular trips.

Five counties had no school bus crashes during calendar year 1997. Hats off to Ashland, Florence, Marquette, Pepin and Washburn. The following 12 counties had only one accident each during 1997: Adams, Bayfield, Buffalo, Burnett, Crawford, Jackson, Langlade, Menomonee, Shawano, Trempealeau, Vernon and Waushara.

The three largest counties stayed about even. Milwaukee County had 404 school bus crashes in 1997 compared to 407 in 1996. Dane County went up one to 31 crashes and Waukesha County went from 60 to 62 school bus crashes.

Seven counties had a large decrease in the number of school bus crashes during 1997 versus 1996. Manitowoc County had the largest decrease at 77% less crashes: Manitowoc County, 77% less; Fond du Lac County 58% less; Marathon County, 57% less; La Crosse County, 42% less; Waupaca County, 40% less; Brown County, 31% less; Winnebago County, 26% less.

Better training, better reporting methods and for the most part a little better weather in 1997 versus 1996. Christian pointed out that crashes on snow/slush/ice and rain were down a total of 117 crashes because of better weather. However, crashes were up on dry pavement by 81.

Crashes where the condition of the pavement was unknown were down 23. Hence school bus crashes were down by 59. If someone has a question on their particular county, please contact the Wisconsin School Bus Association. Christian wishes to commend all Wisconsin school bus drivers for their outstanding job during 1997.

Spenser Rodenkirch

School Bus Driver Recognition Week April 19-25

WHAT IS A SCHOOL BUS DRIVER?

A bus driver is a person who smiles in the morning and smiles in the evening and eats Roloids in between.

A bus driver gets there when nobody else can; he finds houses which don't exist and children with no names.

They dry tears, dispel fears, and find lost notebooks.

A school bus driver has eyes in the back of his/her head and hears every word that is said, even in sign language.

They separate the meek from the mighty - the timid from the bold, and give reassuring nods to anxious "mamas" standing at the end of their lanes.

A bus driver is the epitome of patience and perfection of skills; they also have a good understanding of human nature and Mother Nature.

A bus driver leaves before daylight and returns after dark (in the wintertime) and communes with the elements. He/she has a grudging friendship with the glaring sun, the beating rain and driving snow. They know all about dust and the geological formation of gravel.

They are immune to noise.

A bus driver's favorite words (besides "Good Morning" and "Good Night") are "Sit Down."

Their favorite color is yellow.

A bus driver's worst apprehension involves five-year-olds with motion sickness - especially in the winter when the windows are closed and the heater is on.

A bus driver knows all the school songs and pep cheers. Their vocabulary is always up-to-date.

To be a bus driver, a person must be able to memorize the number of the bus garage and the superintendent's number.

They can read maps.

Sometimes a bus driver gets tired -- but he/she seldom gets mad; and always, most faithfully, gets there.

Many people set their clocks by a bus driver's schedule; many mothers sit down for a second cup of coffee.

A bus driver sits at the helm of a six-to-seven-ton, $30,000 machine loaded with 65 units of the most precious cargo on God's earth -- our children.

Campbellsport 4-H Club Meeting News

The last meeting of the Campbellsport 4-H Club was held on Wednesday, March 11. The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m.

All members please check your agenda for important information you may have missed. If you were unable to attend the meeting, you'll receive the agenda at the next meeting.

After the club reports, we all worked on ordering the record book forms we need for our projects. Most families worked together, and then older members and adult leaders helped new members and younger members to figure out their needs.

This information was then given to the general leaders to look over for any mistakes, total for the club, and then forward to the county 4-H office. Our large club really needs a lot of forms!

The swim party is planned to be held at the Aquatic Center in Fond du Lac on Sunday, April 26, from 1 to 4 p.m. If you would like to bring a friend, you will need to pick up a permission slip for them. Kathy Mueller brought up the Timbler Rattlers Game. She needs to know by June how many people will be attending the Sunday, August 16 game at 5 p.m.

We also discussed the Dress-A-Calf Contest, and we decided to do it once more this year. Kent Joas volunteered a calf for the event. We'll learn more about this at the next meeting. Later we had a discussion on the 4-H petting zoo at the National Exchange Bank during June Dairy Month. Melissa Zimdahl said her family had taken animals there last year, and they are considering doing the same this year.

We also had as a guest speaker, Mrs. Denise Retzlaff, the Fond du Lac County 4-H agent. She talked about what 4-H is and what it means. She asked lots of questions and was a pleasure to have with us.

Finally, for show and tell, we had lots of people tell about their projects. Leah Mueller brought her blue ribbon ceramic bunnies; Tony Simpson had a blue ribbon birdhouse, and Katie Millonig showed her American Doll clothes, which also received a blue. Mary Flood brought her blue ribbon Little Angel, while Becky Millonig showed us her red ribbon cat. Jenny Theisen brought her blue ribbon picture, and Andy Theisen brought his blue ribbon dairy management project. Excellent work was done by all! We all hope you have as much success in the upcoming fair season. April birthdays need to remember to bring a fair project to share at the meeting. Also, it's not too early to start on this year's fair projects.

Remember to clip this article for your record book. If you have any questions about what went on, contact another current club member or an adult leader. The next meeting was scheduled for Wednesday, April 8 at 7:30 p.m.

Kewaskum Tuesday Night Horseshoe League

Horseshoe players are wanted for the upcoming Spring/Summer season. It's that time of the year again and horseshoe season is fast approaching.

Any man, woman, or child over the age of 11 can join the fun on the Tuesday night Mixed league at 6:30 PM in the Kiwanis Park.

If you are interested, call Rob Struebing 626-2018 or Rita Boegel 626-2559 1998 Horseshoe meeting - Schmitt's Never Inn - 7 p.m - April 28.

4C Helps Parents, Children Choose Summer Camps

For many children, summer camp is the place where lasting memories and important steps toward independence are made.

With all that is at stake, choosing the right summer camp can be a difficult decision. Parents want their child's experience at summer camp to be a positive one, one that allows them to make new friends, learn new skills, and have new adventures in a safe and nurturing environment, making the child want to return to summer camp for many years to come.

"Many parents are calling 4C's referral service to begin the search for summer camp," according to Anne Paradies, Resource and Referral Manager for 4C-Community Coordinated Child Care. "Our child care referral specialists are available to educate parents on the many different types of child care and to answer any questions you may have on how to look for a summer camp." 4C can refer you to specialty, resident, or day camps in Milwaukee, Waukesha, Washington and Ozaukee counties.

4C recommends that parents examine the following criteria when choosing a summer camp:

1. Stability: Look at the camp's past performance and its prospects for the future. Has it been under sustained leadership?

2. Staff: The staff reflects the interests and values of the director. Get to know them first. Are there enough staff? What is the turnover rate? Are these people good role models?

3. Goals and Values: Are these stated clearly in the camp's literature? Are they expressed and reflected by the staff and directors as well? The goals and values should be supported by the program and be in accordance with your family's.

4. Program Makeup of the Camp: The program should consist of age appropriate activities designed to foster positive attitudes and teach skills. The activities should be focused on the interests and abilities of the children, not the counselors.

5. Camp Facilities: The facilities should be adequate for the number of campers, in good repair and up to date. Examining the physical environment of the camp can tell a parent a great deal about its attitude and the quality of its programming.

6. Health and Safety: The best camps provide an atmosphere in which the campers feel safe, both psychologically and physically. The camp policies should be clearly stated and adhered to by the staff.

7. Food: One of the greatest concerns a child has about going to camp is what kind of food he or she will be eating. While parents should keep nutrition in mind when evaluating the camp's menu, they should also consider whether or not the camp is offering food their child will like. Parents should ask who plans the menu and what arrangements are made for children with special diets.

8. Parents Intuition: Parents should trust the feeling they have when visiting the camp and talking with the staff. Request names of other families who have sent their children to the camp and ask them about their experiences. Make sure that the camp "feels right" to both you and your child.

4C-Community Coordinated Child Care is a non-profit United Way member agency which helps parents find regulated child care options including family child care homes, group centers, in-home care agencies, school age care and summer camps. 4C also works to help parents and individuals become child care providers. If you are interested in additional information please call 4C's Child Care Referral KIDSLINE 562-2676.

Wiesner 4th, 7th in Hurdles KHS Girls Track 17th at Invitational

The Kewaskum girls track and field team finished tied for 17th place out of 30 teams at the Catholic Memorial Invitational held at Muskego on Saturday, April 18.

The CMH track was under repairs prompting the change in location. Kewaskum managed only four places in three different events in the meet.

Senior Carrie Wiesner

continued to shine in the hurdles with a fourth place finish in the 300m hurdles in 50.0 seconds and a seventh in the 100m high hurdles in a time of 17.7 seconds.

Senior teammate and hurdler, JoAnne Thull took 8th in the 100m hurdles in 17.9 seconds. The only other individual to place in the top eight for Kewaskum was Sara Dedert in the discus. Dedert threw the discus 90 feet, which was good for sixth place.

"Carrie did an excellent job in the 300m low hurdles. Placing fourth out of that many hurdlers and running 50.0 seconds this early in the season is a very good accomplishment. Hurdling should continue to be a strong area for us all season with Carrie, JoAnne and Jackie Michaels," remarked head girls coach Joe Kinney. "I was also pleased with how Sara Dedert did in the discus. She placed sixth and we are counting on her to score points for the team in the weight events," added Kinney.

Commenting about the caliber of the meet, Coach Kinney stated that, "We had a chance to see a lot of schools we don't usually compete against. A girl from D.C. Everest ran the 100m dash in 12.3 in the preliminaries and the CMH and Whitnall 3200m relay teams ran incredible times of 10:14 and 10:15 respectively. Definitely great competition."

Whitnall's girls track and field team captured the Waukesha Catholic Memorial Invitational title edging host Catholic Memorial, 79 points to 71 points.

"We didn't run our best times of the season but everyone ran hard. This meet was good exposure for us," concluded coach Kinney.

Next week, the Kewaskum boys and girls track and field teams travel to West Bend on Wednesday, April 29 to compete in the Washington County Outdoor Championships. Field events start at 4 p.m. and running events at 4:30 p.m. Friday both teams travel to Pewaukee to participate in their invitational.

Kewaskum Athletics Win Opener at Plymouth

The Kewaskum Athletics opened the 1998 season with a 13-5 victory in an exhibition game at Plymouth on Sunday. The A's wasted no time jumping on the Flames' starting pitcher as the first four batters rapped out base hits. Kevin Klahn led off the season with a double and promptly scored on a Mike Mueller double. Scott Donath and Terry Koth followed with singles before Plymouth was able to register an out.

Kewaskum added three runs in the second inning and one in the third to build a 6-0 lead. The Flames answered with three runs in the bottom of the third. With the Athletics ahead by an 8-3 count, Plymouth scored what was to be their last runs on a long homerun by the cleanup hitter. The score stayed at 8-5 until the top of the 8th inning when the A's blew the game open with a five run barrage. The rally was fueled by three walks and four hits. The big blow was a bases clearing triple by Mike Mueller to tally the final runs of the game.

Mueller led the hit parade for the Athletics going four for six with a pair of doubles and a triple, good for five runs batted in. Kevin Klahn, Scott Donath, Terry Koth, Ryan Hall and Derrick Brucker each collected two hits for Kewaskum.

The pitching chores were shared by four guys who figure to carry much of the load all season long. Shawn Schneider started and pitched three innings, allowing three runs. Dane Dorn followed and allowed two runs in two innings to pick up the win. Bob Bothe turned in the most impressive mound performance as he let only two hits to Plymouth batters to reach base on a walk and an error. He gave up no hits and struck out two in his three inning stint. Ryan Hall turned in a strong inning to close out the game. He struck out two, walked one and didn't allow a hit.

Kewaskum continues exhibition play this weekend with a pair of road games. The A's travel to St. Cloud on Saturday for a 1:00 p.m. contest. Sunday's opponent is Forest in a 1:30 p.m. game in Dotyville.

Timber Rattlesnakes Now Protected in Wisconsin

MADISON -- The timber rattlesnake officially was listed as a "Protected Wild Animal" in Wisconsin as of April 1, 1998. This designation offers protection to this snake species, which research has indicated is in decline, by making collecting, killing or possessing the rattler illegal except in a situation involving an immediate threat to people, pets or livestock.

Rattlesnakes have suffered from human persecution in Wisconsin and other states where it occurs since European settlement, explains Bob Hay, herpetologist with the Department of Natural Resources Bureau of Endangered Resources. Bounties were paid for several years in an attempt to eliminate this venomous snake. Not until recent years did scientists recognize that this valuable rodent feeder was in trouble and facing future endangerment.

"As with all creatures in nature, the loss of one can have consequences that are contrary to maintaining a healthy ecosystem," Hays says. "We cannot afford to assume that any species, plant or animal are here by accident. In fact, we should assume they are all here to perform valuable functions."

Hay suggests as an alternative to killing rattlesnakes that people should simply walk the other way when they encounter them.

"More people are bitten while attempting to kill rattlesnakes than any other cause other than purposefully handling them," he notes.

People can also discourage snakes from coming into yards by landscaping to eliminate places for their prey to live or where they can take shelter. Eliminating these preferred places will help insure that snakes that are removed will not be replaced by other timber rattlers.
