Village Board Sets Trick or Treat Date, Time

By Andrew R. Kuehl Staff Writer/Photographer

The Kewaskum Village Board met last Monday and opened their meeting by addressing a public hearing for application of an a "B" Combination class Fermalted Beverage and Intoxicating Liquor License for Ken Bonlender and Tom Piwoni doing business as K-Town Saloon.

Assistant Fire Chief Mark Herriges gave his report for August. Herriges informed the board of a new committee to look into the purchase of a new ambulance. "We have funds available, so in the near future we will be ordering one" said Herriges

He also explained the fire department has decided to discontinue the annual summer parade and picnic in 1999. "The profit margin is getting so small- it's not worth it any more," Herriges said.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel gave the board his report. He told the board officers started distributing Packer cards over Labor Day. They will continue distribution until the second week in October.

Director of Public Works, Jerry Gillies gave his bimonthly report.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt informed the board of one operator's license.

Schmidt also told the board that the Village's cable television provider (Marcus Cable) was purchased by Vulcan Cable out of Washington state. He informed them that this would all be discussed in detail at another meeting in October.

In his last item, he told the board they will be voting on an ordinance regarding the implementation of the room tax effective January 1, 1999.

Under protection and public #### safety Chief Knoebel gave the board information on the new squad car purchase

He informed board members of a new lease-purchase plan.

He continued his presentation by talking about putting a camera system in the car.

"What that is, is a system that when the lights go on, it records all the activity. It protects you against lawsuits and gives the officer some control over what's happening, you don't have people saying 'the officer did this to me.', you have it all on tape. A laser upgrade would be included with that," Knoebel explained. The current laser unit could be traded in.

The lease would be for two years. At the lease expiration, the vehicle could be purchased for $1 and resold for around $7,000. The projected lease plan has a savings of $982.

The board reviewed the preliminary 1999 budget related to committee accounts.

The recycling report for 1998/1999 was reviewed and discussed.

Schmidt informed everyone that the sewer project should be completed by the end of the week, with the exception of the asphalt and placement of play-

Under new business the board acted on a resolution requesting financial aid to operate a recycling program.

Death of Hunter Found in Kettle Moraine an Accident

dead in the Kettle Moraine State Forest has been ruled a hunting accident.

An investigation by the Department of Natural Resources Warden Doug Bilgo and the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department has found that the shooting was a hunting accident.

Ge Lor, of Sheboygan, age 33, was struck in the head by a .22 caliber bullet while hunting himself for squirrels in the Kettle Moraine State Forest, south of Highway SS and west of Highway G.

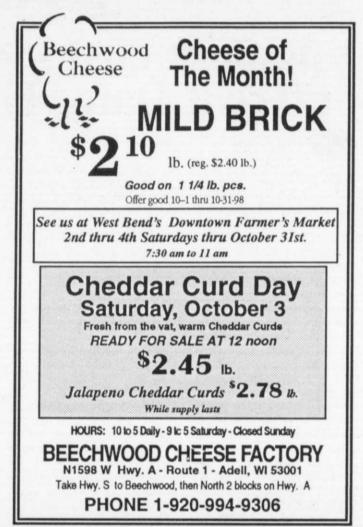

The accident occurred when another hunter, also from Sheboygan, fired one shot at a squirrel on the side of a tree. The hunter missed the squirrel, but the bullet traveled another 91 feet beyond the squirrel, striking the victim. The shooter did not know that he had hit the victim.

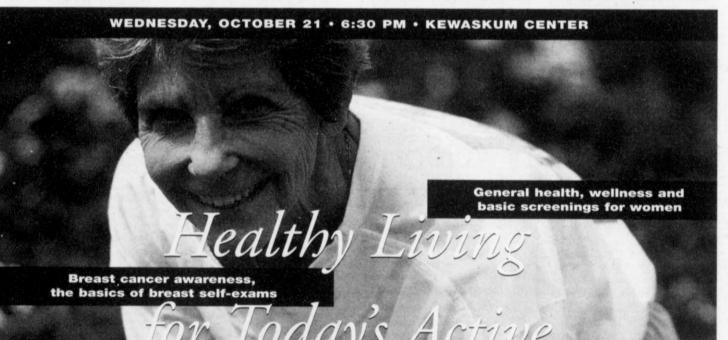

The investigation showed that the shooter could not have seen the victim who was dressed in clothing that blended in well with the surrounding woods.

This is a very rare type of accident that we read about happening other places in the state but rarely this close to home. It is a strong

A gunshot victim found reminder to wear at least some "Blaze Orange," when doing any type of hunting where a hunter is moving through a wooded area.

Blaze orange could have made a difference in this accident and hopefully we can all learn something from this trajedy.

U.S. Sugar Program (NAPS)-In spite of all the Washington talk about cutting government waste, Congress has voted to retain the U.S. sugar program, which costs American consumers $1.4 billion a year in higher food prices.

RIDICULOUS

BUT TRUE!

Congress Retains Costly

This program was held at Recognition Program.

Under the program, the government sets U.S. sugar prices above world market prices for the benefit of only a few large sugar growers. As a result, Americans pay almost double the price for sugar that consumers in other major sugar producing countries pay, leading to higher prices on items such as baked goods, soft drinks and confections. If Congress had voted to end the program, sugar prices likely would have dropped as much as 25 percent.

According to the Government Accounting Office, 33

sugar farmers have received more than $1 million each in government subsidies, with one Florida family receiving $65 million in one year alone.

Despite tough talk about cutting waste, Congress' vote to keep the sugar program shows that the sugar growers cartel still flexes real political muscle. Only through courageous votes by members of Congress can this cartel's grip on the American people be broken. How did your Senators and Congressman vote? Call 1-202-225-3121 to find out.

Boltonville Area Fire Rating Lowered

To the Residents of the Town of Farmington Serviced by the Boltonville Fire Department:

It gives great pleasure to announce ISO (Insurance Service Offices) has lowered the Town's ratio from nine to seven. A lot of effort and cooperation was put forth by Fire Chief Joe Enright and many other people of the community to get this rating down. The lower the rating, the lower the fire insurance rates should be. Although there are many factors that go into establishing insurance rates, the Town Class rating is a vital one. Since so many factors are involved, some residents may experience more savings than others.

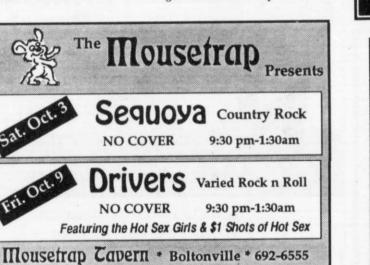

The new classification became effective June 1, 1998. A good suggestion would be for everyone to notify their insurance agents of the new class rating so as to take advantage of it as soon as possible.

Industries looking to expand do look at the fire rating of the community. The lower the rating, the more eager industries look at the community to locate. Existing industries may even consider expanding. Only good things will happen to the community as a result of the efforts of many.

Much gratitude and thanks go out to all who helped this to happen.

KMS Students Write Home Town Poems

To wrap up the 1997/98 school year, in their English class, eighth graders at Kewaskum Middle School studied a unit on Wisconsin writers. At the beginning of the unit, the students read a "Walking poem called Milwaukee" by Harold Witt. In response, the students worked at various times through out the unit, writing their own poems about taking a walk in their home towns. The following are some of the poems written by the eighth graders.

"What I See"

by Elizabeth Rammer

I walk out my front door, look left,

- And see my ten foot basketball hoop ripped by my brother trying to slam dunk.
- I look right, and I see inside my scented woods, a winding pathway,
- The pathway broadens as it gets deeper.
- It leads you to a gravel road who knows where you could end up if you fall off track.
- I here the wonderfully chirping robins,

Whistling at the sun, not having a worry in the world.

They purple lilac bushes stand left of me. The fill the air with their sweet-smelling aroma, swing back and forth.

Straight ahead I see those blood red raspberry bushes That my mother has been

- growing for about ten years. Those spikey pine trees to the
- right are about one hundred years old.

Through the path and into the woods are the beautiful wildflowers

Blossoming in the warm air -good to look at but don't pick.

Then, ending my walk, I travel out of the woods, onto the road

And I look straight ahead. I see the empty field of where those lazy horses use to roam.

- When I was seven, they would be down there every morning,

Stopping to write with Wayne first grader Lindsey Weiss, is the new Wayne Elementary School reading specialist, Anne Wheiland.

The swift feeds only on flying insects. The bird's extremely wide mouth enables it to catch insects in the air.

Grothman Calls for Petroleum Fund Changes

Every legislator in Madison has had the same heartbreaking experience in the last year or so - a constituent calls, and tells the story of mortgaging his home, business, and life savings to clean up an old leaking fuel tank on his property. The cleanup cost him hundreds of thousands of dollars because the DNR said the dirt had to be so clean "you could eat it." Now, the Commerce Department says that the PECFA program won't pay the cost because the clean up was "too ambitious."

The PECFA program, known officially as the Petroleum Environmental Cleanup Fund Act, provides cleanup grants to citizens whose properties have been contaminated by leaking heating oil and gasoline tanks. The fund is derived from a tax of 3 cents per gallon on petroleum products at the terminal. And it's in serious trouble - close to bankruptcy, due to the extremism of field pesonnel at the state Department of Natural Resources.

While the Commerce Department is responsible for paying out PECFA grant money to applicants, the DNR sets the standards which contaminated land must meet when it is cleaned up. Two weeks ago, my legislative committee held a public hearing on the PECFA program. Experts from the public and private sectors testified that Wisconsin DNR is behind the times, enforcing cleanup standards so extreme that even the federal Environmental Protection Agency thinks they're way too harsh. And what's worse, the DNR representative himself admitted that some of his field personnel are enforcing rules that are even stringent, just because they feel like it!

Most of the states in the country, including environmentally conscious states like Minnesota, are using a cleanup program called Risk-Based Corrective Action," or RBCA. What this means is that those states require less-expensive cleanups at sites where fuel is contained in clay or is degrading into harmless materials on its own. It is estimated that the vast majority of contaminated sites in Wisconsin could be cleaned up for just a few thousand dollars (or less) if we used a RBCA standard.

But, as you might have guessed, we don't. Our DNR apparently knows better than the rest of the country. We make property owners clean up every inch of contaminant so it would be safe to eat! This may make sense in places where the fuel is likely to foul drinking water, but expert environmental scientists say it is entirely unnecessary when the fuel is captured in clay. Because petroleum, unlike most pollutants, decays naturally, most spills will clean themselves up for free, without posing any threat to the environment or to human or animal health. Even the EPA has endorsed this "leave it alone" method of cleanup, known as natural attenuation.

All this overkill by the DNR has come at a stunning price for everyone who buys petroleum products in Wisconsin. So far, the PECFA program has paid for the cleanup of about 3,000 sites, which have now been closed out (certified as clean). The cost to do so has been $145 million. Another 3,000 sites have received partial payments, but remain open, having failed to meet the DNR extremist cleanup standards. The cost for those sites stands at almost $407 million for the moment. Wisconsinites have spent a total of $552 million on these cleanups - a cost of $225 for every living person in the state. We have spent more than twice per person what any other state has spent on cleanups, and it's not over yet. These figures represent less than half of the sites eligible for PECFA funding. No one knows what those will cost yet, although one can bet that the price tag will be staggering, unless we can get the DNR under control and institute a RBCA standard in our state.

My committee took a bold and bipartisan action a few weeks ago - we required the DNR and the Commerce Department to make public the real standards they are using to run the PECFA program. And we're not done yet. I have publicly called upon DNR Secretary George Meyer to reign in his bureaucrats and to institute the RBCA standards in Wisconsin in 30 days - or resign. The PECFA fund is already $250 million in debt, and it goes another $7 million in the hole each month! An amount almost equal to our entire budget surplus has already been wasted because of the extremism of George Meyer and his DNR. The time has come to act, and I am acting to ensure that we protect both the environment and the taxpayers!

United Way At 35 Percent

The United Way fund drive continues going "hog wild" along the campaign trail in the ten communities served. As of September 25, the campaign is at the 35.3 percent mark, with $376,035 in gifts and pledges counted towards the countywide goal of $1,065,000.

"One reason for our success each year is our crew of volunteer Loaned Executives -- 10 this year," said Barbara Hurula, Executive Director. "These men and women are 'on loan' from area businesses to United Way one to two days per week from mid-August through November, and do numerous employee presentations, helping spread the message of United way around the County."

Campaign Chairman Ray Lipman commented, "The combined efforts of the Loaned Executives help in a key area for our fundraising effort: soliciting employee pledges through payroll deduction and gifts. We are extremely grateful to the business community for providing these employees."

Hurula continued, "The Loaned Executives, who are volunteers, go through a three day training on United Way and visit many of the agencies our organization represents. We hone their presentation and public speaking skills, and increase their knowledge of what is happening in the Washington County community -- so it's a win-win for the business community as well," she said.

"We've had the Loaned Executive Program in place for the past 11 years, and it's success is measured by the number of businesses who see a value in having one or two individuals participate every year -- and the advancement of these volunteers within their own companies is due in part to their leadership and involvement with United Way," stated Hurula.

EWSCA Stock Car Drivers Reunite

By Verla Reichl

"Introducing Buck Carman of Sheboygan Falls, who raced in the Sportsman Division and was the winner of four Eastern Wisconsin championships, track records and fast times!" recently exclaimed Roger Mueller, announcer for the Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Races at the Sheboygan County Fairgrounds, Plymouth.

The crowd cheered, applause sounded and Carman waved to his fans.

"I'd also like to introduce Ken 'The Mighty Mouse' Markwardt of Sheboygan and track champion in the modified division and dominator of the Plymouth track for most of the 1960s!" continued an excited Mueller.

The crowd went wild! The applause thundered into the sky, feet were clambering on the bleachers, arms and hats were being waved into the air.

It was "Ol' Timers' Night" at the Plymouth stock car races, but there was nothing old about the energy, nor was there a lack of enthusiasm from the fans.

Markwardt and Carman were only two of the retired drivers who came to share a night of memories. Jeanne Goeden of Kewaskum, wife of modified driver Willie Goeden, had organized the event in the hope of starting a tradition and giving the new generation of fans an opportunity to meet the people they have heard about. worn by fans and drivers, but now brought out of storage for special events.

"Do you remember that night!" That was the night my shoulder hurt, but we still raced!" was one of the reminiscences. "I remember the night I passed you and almost lost it in turn four!" was also overheard.

The Eastern Wisconsin Stock Car Association was sanctioned in 1960. The first promoters, racers and fans stumbled along the way as they made decisions on how things were to be handled.

In July of 1960, the club decided to divide up the money at the end of the year and kept only enough to start and races the following season. Officers were selected, and, in September, the club established a policy with a point system for payoffs. That was the beginning of an ongoing love affair with Plymouth, its race car drivers and fans.

The first and only division in 1960 was for the modified cars. A young Ken Markwardt would make a name for himself and would dominate the Plymouth raceway for most of the 1960s. He would become known as Ken "The Mighty Mouse" Markwardt and displayed the mascot on his cars and continues to use the logo in his business today. The early modified cars appeared much different from the cars of the 1990s. They didn't have the familiar "wing" nor did they display countless advertising for interested sponsors. We built our own cars in a garage. We didn't have sponsors, but it wasn't as expensive as it is now. There's a lot of money in the sport now," Markwardt said. Markwardt raced from 1959-1974. He was not only track champions at Plymouth, but received major recognition at the 141 Speedway in Frances Creek and at the track in Chilton. In 1966 he carried 52 checkered flags, and had three clean sweeps; he had another four clean sweeps in 1965.

"Racing is hard work," Markwardt said, adding, "You have to always be thinking. It takes a lot of motivation, strategy and thinking. The key is to outthink the other guy. You have to maneuver and outthink your opponent. You find their weaknesses and make them your strengths to win."

In the early days, drivers raced at least three to four times a week. Markwardt feels that's what made him sharp and kept him in shape.

It's difficult for drivers of today to keep in that tradition. A lot of tracks have since closed, and the tracks which continue to operate are spread out over a larger radius.

"One of the focus areas were the friendships. Racing gave us ongoing friendships. At the time, we were just doing it. But the longtime relationships, that's what it's all about. It's a great feeling to know that people remember you 20 years later! Racing gets into your blood and you still want to be a part of it," he continued.

The spectator or sportsman division got their start during the 1961 racing season, with no points awarded. They initially only received prizes, such as jackets, oil, patches or other tor in being a winning driver is that you must be comfortable and have confidence in the car. You must be aggressive, patient and smooth and be able to take advantage of another driver's mistake," Carman said.

He exclaimed, "As a personal satisfaction, win or lose, I just wanted the car to work! I just wanted to make the car work the best it could because we didn't use any new parts, only used ones. The first season cost me only $230."

Carman saw the sportsman division as an area where the fans could identify with the competing cars. He also liked that division because he was familiar with the cars of that era.

Carman continued, "Racing will continue to be a strong spectator and competitor sport, as long as the cost is kept in check. There is enough variety and competitiveness to attract a wide range of spectators, including families."

In 1967 the quarter-mile oval track was slightly lengthened and new clay was added. That track would stay until 1984 when it was moved 50 feet to the east and was lengthened from a quarter mile to onethird mile long.

The hobby stock division was added to the program in 1970. The drivers first ran for trophies, and, in 1971 they too went under the point system. The Plymouth track attracts both racers and fans from the surrounding counties. They come from all areas and all occupations, but they have only one thing in common -- the challenge and desire to race. 'Racing is fascinating," Markwardt said. "To take a car, set it up, make it go and win! It's an emotional uplift to hear the crowd appreciate you for your labors and accomplishments.' Racing never really gets out of one's system. The drivers, the fans, the pit crews all become a family, a small community. They are there to compete; yet, if someone needs help, whether it's mechanical or emotional, they know there are people to lean on.

You know it's racing season when, weddings are planned around Saturday nights, when the race car gets waxed more often than the kitchen floors, when you invite the neighbors over on Saturdays -- only if it rains. Or, celebrations take place at the race track.

Membership has grown steadily over the years. In 1960, the membership was less than 100 and grew to more than 1,100 in 1989. There are more than 100 drivers who compete weekly in the three divisions.

In 1997, something new and different was added. The modified division is now the super modified. The sportsman division has become the limited late model, and the hobby stock is super stock.

The entire sport has solid footing. Board members from the early years are still involved, early racers have sons who are now entertaining the crowds, just as they did. There are new track champions and many names that are becoming familiar to the fans.

The stands are still filled with wives, girlfriends and children, all cheering for their favorite drivers. They bring relatives and soon they have addicted another group of family or friends.

So, when the green flag is lowered, and the race begins, be prepared for the sound heard around the Plymouth raceway. That roar will continue until the checkered flags wave at the end of the season, which runs from May - September.

"Racing will remain alive and well, as long as there are people that enjoy the sound and smell of cars in close competition," Carman said.

That sentiment was verified at the "Ol Timers Reunion." The cheers, the waves, the exuberance that rang out when the legend drivers were introduced was sometimes deafening. The glowing smiles and shining lights in their eyes brought

The event started about 4 p.m. on a Saturday with a picnic-type meal donated by the Sheboygan County Fair Association and aided through local sponsors.

It didn't take long for drivers and their families to congregate with old pictures, scrapbooks and stories. Approximately 30 drivers from the 1960s to the early '70s came to participate in the reunion.

The amount of memorabilia displayed was almost breathtaking. There were stacks of scrapbooks with photos and newspaper clippings. There were racing Tshirts and sweatshirts displayed that had once been merchandise.

The sportsman class was officially formed in 1963. Until then, there were few rules and the situation was getting out of hand. A rules committee was set up, and that division would soon have a cast of competitors with their own stars.

One of the first "stars" and aggressive competitors for the sportsman class was Bucky Carman of Sheboygan Falls.

Car No. 85 and later No. 1, due to Carman's maneuvering, would be a strong contender from 1965 until 1984. His career brought him four Eastern Wisconsin championships, . track records, fast times and numerous race wins. In 1970 he had 12 clean sweeps and 16 feature wins. "The most important facback memories of their glory days to both drivers and fans.

The days have passed by, but the stories and warm recognition will continue as long as there is racing in Plymouth.

"This is what makes racing!" exclaimed "The Mighty Mouse," with a wave. "It's the fans!"

"It's wonderful to come back after 30 years and see all of you return to see us!" shouted Carman, as the crowd wildly cheered.

Thiemerdome Revisited

We had to put the good 'ole Thiemerdome articles on hiatus for a few weeks, due to a lack of space and time constraints, however, we couldn't possibly have left all the dome fans in the lurch, wondering just how the season ended.

Regular season ticket holders all know who won the league and finished up in first place, but many of our readers who are contemplating buying a season pass, do not know who's the "king of the dome." So, during the next few weeks we will try to catch up with the action, due to popular demand (from at least three people who possibly care).

We take up where we left off, presumably near the end of regular action with only one week remaining. (Well... sort of, but if I explained it all now, you will never reach the crescendo of excitement over how it all ends).

In the first game on August 19th, we watched the good defense of Commercial Plumbing, as well as on the Kuehl's team. (Which in all reality means, they got lucky and caught a few!)

Commercial held a two run lead until the fifth inning when you guessed it, the Commercial cheerleaders hit the sidelines led by Kathy "Sexy" Stern, who had stayed up all night the evening before the game, sewing new skimpy costumes for her cohorts. It must have worked because the Commercial team rose to a five-run rally. (You should see just how fast those players make it around the bases, now!)

Not to be denied, Kuehl's helped the cause, with throwing errors and just not being able to move off the ball as quickly as they have in the past. (And we all know what "speed demons" Kurt Schmidt and Jeff Ramel are!)

Kuehl's remembered to bring the cooler, but it seems like they left their bats at home for this game. (I mean, really Richard, where do you think their priorities are? Anyone can play baseball ... but it takes a real man to just show up every week at the Thiemerdome!) But, 'tis better to make a long story short in this case, as Commercial humiliated the Kuehl boys, 9 to ZIP. (And due to the fact the Kuehl boys are the ONLY team that shares their beer with me, I better keep my mouth shut! I'm not stupid!) In the Amerahn vs. Thiemers game, it seemed almost as if the Sippers had a chance with John Kleinke pitching. It became apparent regular pitcher Art "Ace" Buss would not be able to cross the road to pitch with the traffic backed up all around the dome. The fans just went ballistic trying to get into the dome in apprehension of the last big game of the season.

that one of the Sippers was going to try and break their Thiemerdome record of homers hit in one season. Alas, no one hit that one homer to break the record of none hit last year. At least there are a few goals for the Sippers to strive for next year!)

John "Sac" Sekeres hit a three run homer when there was a missed communication in the outfield (in polite terms that means they dropped it.... shouldn't that go into the scorebook as an error, not a homer?) But, Thiemers came back for more punishment by scoring two runs to narrow the gap.

According to the team manager, however, the Sippers must have caught Kuehl's syndrome, for the Sippers also displayed numerous errors and neglected bats.

Amerahn scored a couple runs every inning, adding insult to injury. Larry "The Mouse" Sabish was able to scurry home after hitting a three run shot to right. Richard moved in to catch the ball with John Thexton covering the play but, as John put it, "I guess I didn't start fast enough, Richard." (Ever consider starting the day before??)

Rick "Insured" Jaeger ended the inning with a great line shot grab over second and caught the runner off of second to make a double play! (A double play? By these guys? OK... who broke their leg? A double play from these guys is truly the price of admission alone!)

The game was delayed for a short time while rescue personnel on hand had to minister to Bryan "Mailman" Olson who was playing first base and got one on the nose. (Bryan... you really have to stop tripping the runners when they go around the bases... they get real upset when you do that!) The nosebleed was stopped by a "wannabe" heart surgeon who was luckily in the crowd. (Like the commercial goes ... he never studied heart surgery ... but he did stay once at a Holiday Inn!)

Commercial is waiting to see if Amerahn will win against Kuehls in the upcoming game. (Kathy is feverishly designing matching socks!) It's a big game for Kuehls too. (We might have to increase the coolers to two, and the Sportscreme to six). If Kuehls defeat Amerahn, they tie Amerahn for second and a playoff berth. If they leave their bats at home again, Amerahn wins and they then play against Commercial. It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out who Commercial will be cheering for. The only two losses they had this year came at the hands of Amerahn. (Thoroughly confused ... that's all right, everyone else is too!)

On a lighter note, the management and the fans (especially the ladies) at the dome would like to sincerely thank Steve and Kathy for the new toilet seat in the ladies auxiliary bathroom. (Now... if only someone would be willing to dig the hole deeper!).

Still in the rocker the elderly woman,

- Continues the story of The Three little Bears;
- She reads to her grandson with all her feelings.

By now the elderly woman knows her cozy cottage

Just is not working to get her grandson to sleep.

She adds more logs to the fire . place

And sets down The Three Little Bears

As she gets distraught feelings.

- Out from the living room with feelings
- Comes the distraught old woman

To look for something comfortable beside the fire place;

But now her grandson is not asleep,

And she develops new feelings Not that it's about her cottage-

So she gets back out The Three Little Bears;

And sits back next to the fireplace;

She doesn't find anything in the cottage,

But that's ok, because her grandson's now asleep,

So now she no longer needs The Three Little Bears.

As she sits back down, the old woman

Puts her grandson on the couch to sleep

And packs away The Three Little Bears,

Then she has some warm feel ings,

And is glad that her cottage Has such a nice fireplace.

But now her grandson is not asleep,

And she develops new feelings-

Not that it's about her cottage-So she gets back out The

Wisconsin Waterfowl Season Opens Saturday, October 3

MADISON -- The 1998 Wisconsin duck season opens statewide at noon on Saturday, October 3, and hunters can anticipate a duck season very similar to last year, according to the state's top waterfowl specialist.

Duck hunters should look forward to an average season this year," says Jon Bergquist, waterfowl and wetland ecologist with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. "Even though duck numbers in the prairies of the Dakotas and Canada are excellent, most of the ducks that hunters see and harvest in Wisconsin will be those produced in Wisconsin, and our production was about average, which is similar to last year.

The duck season runs through sunset on December 2. Bag limits for the duck season include a daily bag limit of six ducks, which may not include more than: four mallards, of which only one may be a hen; one pintail; one black duck; one canvasback; two wood ducks; and two redheads. The possession limit is double the daily bag limit. Hunting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. Check the current Wisconsin Migratory Bird Regulations for hunting hour zones.

The northern exterior zone Canada goose season also opens at noon on October 3. The October 3 opener is the earliest possible opening date under guidelines approved by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. It closes at sunset October 23. The southern exterior zone Canada goose season opens one-half hour before sunrise on October 24 and closes at sunset on November 13.

Hunters should check the Canada goose zone and subzone boundaries shown in the 1998 Wisconsin Migratory Game Bird Regulations pamphlet. Shooting hours will be one-half hour before sunrise to sunset, except on October 3, when hunting for all waterfowl starts at noon. Other specific subzone season dates for Canada geese are: Mississippi River subzone October 17 to December 25; Rock Prairie subzone November 14 to December 6, and Brown County subzone November 30 to December 20. Burnett County and New Auburn subzones are closed.

Bergquist says the Canada goose season in the exterior zones will close early if the harvest quota in a zone is reached before the scheduled season-closing date.

Given the fact that the quota was reduced this year, exterior zone goose hunters should anticipate an early closing. We were offered the maximum days possible in the exterior zone, provided we monitor the harvest and close the season early if the quota is achieved," Bergquist said.

The daily bag limit will be one and exterior zones

Indians Mauled by Tigers, 42-7

When a football team is on the road, it is the opposing team's homecoming, and you're playing a team that averages 430 yards rushing and 42 points a game, you know you need to play mistake free football in order to have a chance at winning.

That was the situation the Kewaskum High School football team found themselves in when they traveled to Chilton to take on the Tigers in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference game last Friday. Unfortunately for the Indians, they did not play mistake free football and the Tigers won easily, 42 - 7

The Indians committed four turnovers (three fumbles and one interception) in the game which stalled several drives early in the game. Early in the first quarter, after an exchange of possessions, the Indians David Lettow fumbled, giving the Tigers possession on the Indian 22 yard line. Three plays later, Chilton quarterback David Meyer ran the ball in from the four yard line for a quick 7-0 lead.

The Indians took the kickoff and picked up a couple of first downs on the ground before senior Clint Herrick fumbled on third down, forcing the Indians to punt. The Tigers wasted no time getting their second score as running back Tim Roehrig took a handoff on the first play and raced 61 yards for another score (14-0).

In the second quarter Meyer scored on a one yard run when Jason Strobel fumbled after breaking a tackle to pick up a first down. Chilton scored on Roehrig's 50 yard run, bringing the tally to 28-0 with 3:22 left in the half.

The Indians finally caught a break of its own as they recovered a fumble on the Chilton 25 and on the first play, Josh Gaffke found junior David Lettow on a short pass across the middle and Lettow took it in for the score. Koth's kick made it 28-7 with 1:36 left in the half.

The Indian defense stiffened and forced the Tigers touchdown and one interception.

We dug ourselves a big hole in the first half with the three turnovers," said Coach Perry Koth about the turnovers. The Indians were able to run the ball effectively in the first quarter (13 carries for 52 yards), but being down by 28 points in the first half, they were forced to pass in an effort to catch up.

The Indians were led in receiving by junior Curt Koth who had three catches for 75 yards while senior John Warnecke had two for 38 yards. Rushing was evenly divided with Strobel, six rushes for 33 yards, leading the way. For Chilton, Roehrig had 211 yards on 14 carries.

For the game, Kewaskum had 256 yards of total offense while Chilton finished with 330 yards. With Chilton's win, they are now alone in first place in the EW conference because Plymouth beat Manitowoc

Indian Freshmen Defeat Chilton

The Kewaskum freshmen football team stayed undefeated with a 31-6 win over the Chilton Tigers.

The Indians' offense started out strong by scoring on their first four possessions while the defense shut down the Tigers for a 25-0 halftime lead. Both teams scored touchdowns on returns in the second half to complete the scoring.

Leading the rushing attack for Kewaskum were Justin Rhoads with 11 carries for 158 yards and Chris Canter with eight carries for 85 yards. Rhoads and Canter also led the Indians with two touchdowns each. Kewaskum also scored on a 25 yard pass from Tommy Ogi to Tony Fitts.

The Indian defense continued its strong play as defensive ends Luke Kehres and Nick Thorn shut down Chilton's option offense. Kewaskum's record is now 3-0 as the Indians previously knocked out Kiel, 16-8, and Sheboygan Falls, 40-0.
