Reflections of Kewaskum's Kettle Kountry Kolors

The serenity of the Milwaukee River reflects a perfect image of a Buckslinger encampment during Kewaskum's Kettle Kountry Kolors festival in River Hill Park last weekend. Due to an abundance of Kewaskum Homecoming (also held last weekend) photos, the Statesman will feature Kettle Kountry photos, including more Buckslingers, the wrestling matches, the KEYS run, and much more, along with all the winners, in next week's issue. In doing this, we feel we will be able to do photographic "justice" to both Homecoming (featured this week on pages 10 and 11), and Kettle Kountry Kolors, which will be featured next week.

Semi-Fire on STH 28

The Kewaskum Fire Department responded to the scene of a semi-trailer on fire last Wednesday at STH 28 just north of the village. The semi is owned by Flash Freight Lime and Sand of Green Lake, and was hauling garbage. The driver of the semi was Larry Brethouwer of Oostburg. The driver was uninjured. After the fire was extinguished the trailer was emptied unto the roadway. The Washington County Highway Department responded with a back-hoe and three dumptrucks to haul away the rubbish as the trailer was totaled.

State to Mandate Future High School Graduation Exams

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Mandated high school graduation exams will be here in the very near future, school board members were told at Monday night's board meeting, and the current eighth grade will be the lucky recipients of the first exam.

High school principal Larry Wilson related his recent experience attending a DPI (Department of Public Instruction) informational meeting, where topics included discussion of the upcoming high school graduation exam, required for graduates of the year 2003.

"Our eighth graders now will be the first class to take the mandated graduation exam," Wilson told board members. Calling it a "high stakes," tightly controlled state test, students will be able to begin taking the test in tenth grade. "They'll receive a pamphlet in November or December (8th graders) describing what the test entails" Wilson related. Students will be given the opportunity to take the exam over and over again until they get it right, at least up to six times.

Each copy will be serial numbered, and each test will vary slightly from the one taken previously. Divided into four sections that require three hours each to complete, Wilson said the twelve hour state exam will be administered over a four day period at KHS.

The DPI, armed with a committee comprised of school administrators, teachers, business leaders and community members, has set a goal toward making the graduation exam a valid test, relevant to the demands of today's work force and current with recently developed state standards for school curriculum. Costs to the taxpayers are estimated to be $10 million dollars to develop the first test only.

"It's like walking across a minefield," Wilson said of the test's future impact on the district over the next few years. Parents have the right to have their child "opt out" of the state test, but they will still be required to take an alternate test developed by each individual school district that approximates the state exam.

"We'll be busy aligning our curriculum, not just to state standards, but now to state graduation requirements," Wilson said.

School District Technology Facing Year 2000

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Is the school district's technology ready to meet the year 2000? It will be, district administrator Clark Pearson told the school board members at their monthly meeting. "We'll have things covered when that year comes," he maintained.

The community will have the opportunity to hear the potential problems and solutions to the Y2K (Year 2000 for computers) at an upcoming school district Finance-Transportation-Buildings and Grounds Committee meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 21 at 6:30 in the high school commons.

Business manager George Allmann and district technology coordinator Greg Kwaterski will be reviewing the technology revamping the district is facing, with the committee.

According to Allmann, computer programs in use in administration at the middle school and high school level are equipped to handle the change over to the new century. "The program in use in the library is questionable, and there's a major problem at the elementary level," he told the board. Rewiring all three elementary schools may be a part of the technology update.

"It's not going to be a happy story to hear," Allmann finalized, "but we're in the same boat as everyone else. Costs for the technology update are still being formulated.

Any work that needs to be done for the Y2K alignment, will be scheduled to take place next summer.

Regal Ware Executives Cooking Chili World's Largest FryPan Will Make An Appearance at Walmart Grand Opening

KEWASKUM -- How big is the world's largest frypan? You can see for yourself on Friday at the grand opening of the Walmart Store in West Bend.

Executives from Regal Ware, including President and CEO Jeff Reigle, will be at Walmart cooking chili in the 54-inch giant frypan, the world's largest. The event will be held Friday from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. in the Walmart parking lot and is in conjunction with the store's grand opening celebration.

"Because Walmart is one of our best customers, we wanted to help them celebrate their grand opening and welcome them to the neighborhood," Reigle said.

About 100 pounds of chili will be made in the frypan, enough to feed approximately 300 people. The recipe for such a large batch of chili includes, among other things, 30 pounds of ground beef, 30 pounds of beans and 30 pounds of canned tomatoes.

Regal will also be giving away special product rebates and door prizes.

Regal Ware, Inc. is a major manufacturer and marketer of cookware and kitchen electrics with headquarters in Kewaskum.

Third Graders Score Above Average in State Reading Test

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

School district third graders scored 15% above the state average in the 1998 Wisconsin Reading Comprehension Test, business manager and curriculum coordinator George Allmann told members of the Kewaskum school board this week.

The test itself is an assessment of primary level reading, and is comprised of 103 questions, quizzing students on story and reading comprehension, prior knowledge and reading strategies. With a perfect score of 63 points, students scoring 60 or above were ranked advanced.

Allmann reported student numbers participating in the test; Kewaskum Elementary 49, Farmington 44, and Wayne 23. Divided into four categories students were rated minimal, basic, proficient, and advanced. 80.1% of Kewaskum's third graders scored proficient or advanced, compared to the state average of 64.8%.

Assessment results are as follows: KES: Basic - 4 Students, Proficient - 24, Advanced - 21. Wayne: Basic - 1 student, Proficient - 19, Advanced - 3. Farmington: Basic - 6 student, Proficient - 25, Advanced - 13. None rated in the minimal category. Fifteen special education third graders were not required to take the test.

The Reading Comprehension test was given in the spring to students across the state, using a different scoring system this year than they had in previous years. Results were released this month.

Allmann reminded the board that state assessment tests, already in place at the fourth and eighth grade levels, require students be retained if they score at the basic level.

Now fourth graders, students that took the reading test in third grade and rated basic in comprehension, will be provided intervention and help from their fourth grade teachers, Allmann said. "We work toward improving their score by working with them on an individual basis."

Pleased with rating above state averages in reading, Allmann told the board, "I think we're doing well as a district, and our students are learning."

Classic Arts, Crafts Show Nov. 1

Marilyn Steitzer of Oneida - first time for this area - Fabric appliance covers.

With FREE ADMISSION...DOOR PRIZES announced every half hour, and the Packer/Fortyniners football game not starting until 3:30 p.m....what better way to spend a Sunday afternoon, and come to the Classic Arts & Crafts Fall Show on November 1st at the KC Hall just north of West Bend on Hwy. 45 & D. (follow the signs).

Wendi Dreher, coordinator has again surpassed last years' show, with new talented crafters with different ideas and craft articles. The crafters may be new, but the quality of the workmanship and the attractive displays continue throughout the years, to make this the "classic" of craft shows.

This year, Wendi has new crafters from Big Bend, Oneida and Porterfield, along with the traditional and local talented crafters from West Bend, Beaver Dam, Sussex, Campbellsport and Manitowoc.

Kewaskum has it's own talent....Arlene Landress. "One-of-a-kind...exclusive...original...are only a few words to explain the beautifully hand painted metal articles, such as fry pans and saws. The country scenes are gorgeous and the wild animals come to life in all her work. This is a must see display. Arlene's talent with a brush is outstanding.

Mike Berger, also of Kewaskum, also has a talent. Mike can come up with the most creative ideas with some pieces of rustic wood. Last year his booth won the award for the Best Display. When you walk in to the KC Hall, you will immediately see Mike's booth. It is so inviting and full of that rustic theme.

Campbellsport is represented by Kathie George whose name is synonymous in the field of ceramics. Kathie has expertise in working with ceramics and dried flowers. Her craft items will give any corner or shelf in your home that "touch of class."

A special treat at a craft show is the always popular sweat shirt fad. This year Wendi has acquired the talents of Marilyn Stevens from Porterfield, Wisconsin. Marilyn's quality of workmanship and technique of appliqued sweatshirts has her traveling all over the state of Wisconsin. Wendi is pleased to present Marilyn Stevens as a juried crafter.

Jo Ann Hall from Campbellsport will have the Children's Craft Corner for kids of all ages. For a small fee, the kids can "make & take" a variety of craft items. The children will be entertained while the parents/grandparents are looking for a new Christmas decoration or a gift for someone special.

The Classic concession stand will have a variety of sandwiches. (Bring this article and receive 50 cents off any sandwich of your choice.) After church special, coffee and a donut will be offered for the early bird.

Join Wendi Dreher, her staff and the talented crafters on Sunday, November 1, at the KC Hall, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. Now is the time to get in the Christmas Spirit.

Badger Road Complete in The Town of Kewaskum

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

The Town of Kewaskum opened their September meeting by opening bids for a DNR road project on 3.4 miles of Kettle Moraine Road in the town.

The DNR will be contributing $60,000 for the project.

The board received only one bid, which came from Scott Construction of Lake Delton.

The whole project came in at a little over $100,000 or $33,000 per mile.

Supervisor, Mike Lettow asked if it could be bid again in spring.

Chairperson, Scott Sager said, it could be tabled for now and be bid again in spring. The DNR monies would also be available at that time.

The board voted to reject the bids and re-bid in the spring of 1999.

The board then moved into a meeting of the Plan Commission. They opened with an appearance by Joan Strobel regarding a land division of 77.02 acres in section seven.

Strobel informed the plan commission she was representing William Volm.

Their proposed land division called for dividing the 77.02 acre single parcel into two 35 acre parcels.

The proposal was denied due to the fact it did not meet zoning standards.

The board went back into town business where they opened bids for miscellaneous equipment.

Don Vogt offered $77 for a Murry lawn tractor. The bid was approved.

Roman Laubenstein offered $260 for a trailer. The bid was also approved.

Barb Wenzlaff bid five dollars for old computer equipment, the bid was approved.

The board approved a picnic license for St. Michael's Catholic Church for their annual fall festival.

Discussion took place on creating a no parking zone on north Mill Road. It was unanimously approved.

Jacob Schmidt was appointed chairperson of the Board of Appeals.

A dog complaint was brought to the board and will again be discussed at the next meeting.

Breast Cancer Screenings At St. Joseph's Hospital

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend is offering breast cancer screenings at a special rate in October, Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Participants will receive a mammogram and directions for conducting breast self-examinations.

The screenings will be held Monday through Friday, October 26-30 from noon to 4 p.m. in the hospital's radiology department. The cost is $55.

Early detection of breast cancer increases the chances for surviving breast cancer. Mammograms are special breast X-rays that are important in early detection because they can detect tumors that are too small to be detected by touch.

To get a mammogram, a woman must:

- * Be age 35 or older.
- * Have had no mammogram in the past year.
- * Have had no radiation treatment to the breast.
- * Not be pregnant or breast-feeding.
- * Have no known breast lumps.

Registrations for the cancer screening will be taken the weeks of October 12-16 and October 19-23 from 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. by calling the radiology department at 334-8343 or 334-8581.

The screenings are being sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital and the American Cancer Society. St. Joseph's is Medicare, ACR and FDA certified.

Commercial Deer, Elk Farmers Ass'n. Attend First Governor's International Buyers Breakfast

Diana Susen of Meadow Creek Elk Farms, Kewaskum, and Mike Monson from Wisconsin Venison represented the Wisconsin Commercial Deer and Elk Farmers Association in attending the first-ever Governor's International Buyers Breakfast at the World Dairy Expo in Madison on October 2, 1998.

The breakfast, sponsored by the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection, provided an opportunity for international buyers to be introduced to the Wisconsin agribusiness.

Governor Tommy Thompson and DATCP Secretary Ben Brancel, along with more than 200 international visitors, attended the invitation only event held at the Dane County Exposition Center. The governor told the group of international buyers that "we are very proud of our AG industry and we want you to be part of it." Wisconsin ranks first in the nation in exports of cheese and other dairy products.

The Wisconsin Commercial Deer and Elk Farmers Association (WCDEFA), represents farmers engaged in the raising of Fallow Deer, Red Deer and Elk. Organized in 1992, the current membership numbers more than 300 farms that are regulated by the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

The primary products produced by the WCDEFA members are venison for the meat industry and velvet antler, used as a nutraceutical. With the increased consumer demand in health products, the high nutritional value of both venison and velvet antler is attributing to the success of this exploding diversified industry in Wisconsin.

Noted for its production of exceptional quality of farm-based products, Wisconsin is leading the way with this new era of agriculture with the addition of deer and elk farming.

Wisconsin Venison is a supplier of fallow and red deer venison that is farm raised and processed in Wisconsin. Wisconsin Venison products are all state or USDA inspected, vacuum packed, and flash frozen or refrigerated for freshness. The meat is naturally low in fat, low in cholesterol and low in calories. The meat sold by Wisconsin Venison is from deer raised in Wisconsin on farms free of chemicals, antibiotics or growth hormones and is sold largely at "white tablecloth" restaurants.

Meadow Creek Elk Farms is a distributor of velvet antler capsules, a 100% natural health food supplement. Used as a main ingredient in Traditional Chinese Medicine, velvet antler is becoming increasingly popular as a health supplement in North America.

The velvet antler capsules, processed from elk antler raised in Wisconsin is available at several locations in Washington County, including Main Street Crafts in Kewaskum. For more information on venison or velvet antler, please call Diana at 692-9529.

Gone Fishin'

While feeding the brook trout, students marveled as the water seemed to bubble with fish.

The sign on the door of Mrs. Miller's classroom at Kewaskum Elementary School was one not usually seen in school: Gone Fishin'. But that's where they were recently on an absolutely beautiful autumn day.

Mrs. Miller, along with parent volunteer Mrs. Debra Langenfeld, took her class to visit Cedar Springs Trout Farm where students fed the rainbow trout, and later each caught a fish.

The trip was the culminating activity of a Wisconsin native fish unit developed by Mrs. Miller during a course she took this summer through UW-River Falls ("Agri-Science for Teachers, K-12").

"The kids really need hands-on experiences, so what could be better than this?" said Mrs. Miller about the trip.

Students earlier had engaged in interactive and educational "fishing" experiences in the classroom as well. For example, they "mounted" pictures of fish they had drawn, and practiced fishing for magnetized math facts in the classroom using a pole and a magnet for bait.

They also learned how fish are related to many facets of agriculture and commerce as well as identifying and investigating fish that are commonly found in Wisconsin waters. Students even had a "fish-tasting" lesson and an earlier trip to the nearby Kettle Moraine Springs Fish Hatchery.

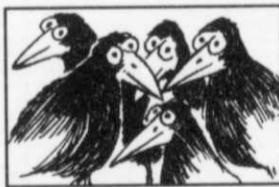

According to Mrs. Miller, "It was a lot of fun, and an enriching experience for everyone!"

Showing off the trout he caught at Cedar Springs Trout Farm are William Wendtland and Mrs. Miller.

Some believe farmers will have poor harvests if it rains during the first three days of march.

Kewaskum Juniors Attend State Junior Conference

The General Federation of Women's Club's Wisconsin Junior club women held their 47th annual fall conference on October 9 and 10 at the Janesville Best Western.

Lisa Reuther and Louise Martin from the GFWC/WFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club were among the 75 club women from throughout Wisconsin who attended.

Keynote speakers were Merry Pantaleo and Besty Thompson, whose topic of forming a successful Community Action Team on the behalf of "Stand for Children" was most informative.

State Director of Junior clubs, Lynn Krueger, presided at the conference and shared her perspective "Junior Voices Create Links that Last." She urged GFWC/WFWC Junior Clubs to participate fully in the state project of enhancing public relations while continuing efforts in advocating community programs that enhance the lives of women and children.

State President, Sandra Pecha, was also in attendance and spoke to attendees on the importance of the international federation and club identity. Deb Brossard, State Chairman for the Junior Special Project "Advocates for Children" presented various programs specifically for children that state clubs can pursue. Department workshops were featured to assist clubs in pursuing various projects in their communities. The 1997 JOY (Junior of the Year) nominees were honored as well.

GFWC is one of the world's largest women's service organizations. It has more than 6,500 clubs and approximately 250,000 members active in communities across the United States with additional clubs and affiliates throughout the world.

The GFWC/ WFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club is in its 31st year of community volunteer service. Women interested in receiving information may call Donna at 533-4929, Lisa at 626-8348 or Louise at 626-4291.

The president with the most children was John Tyler. He had 15.

A girl came home from school yelling, "Mom, I've been voted the prettiest girl in the class."

She came home happier the second day. "Mom," she cried, "I've been voted the most popular girl in the class."

But she came home very sad the third day. "What's the matter?" asked the mother.

"I've been voted the most stuck-up," she answered.

The higher you're placed, the more humbly you should walk. Not only is man against the proud, but so is God. The Bible says, "God opposes the proud, but He gives grace to the humble."

You must choose between humility or humiliation. Stay humble, or you'll stumble.

Congress Continues to Attack Wisconsin Dairy Farmers

Wisconsin dairy farmers took another blow from Congress as the House and Senate agriculture committees agreed to delay implementation of reforms to the federal milk marketing order system.

"I'm not sure what it will take to get congress away from wanting the government to continue pricing fluid milk under a system that makes very little economic sense for all dairy farmers, not just those in Wisconsin," said Dan Poulson, president of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation.

"At every turn the concerns of Wisconsin dairy farmers have been pushed aside by this regional entrenchment on dairy pricing. No other commodity produced in this country has this type of pricing system that rewards production based on location," Poulson said.

The House and Senate conference committee on the agricultural appropriations bill agreed to a six-month delay in implementing reforms the U.S. Department of Agriculture will make to the federal milk marketing order system. The conference committee also agreed to extending the life of the Northeast dairy compact beyond Congress' initial intent. The ag appropriations bill also contains money for farm disaster assistance.

"No one can fault the effort of Wisconsin's congressional delegation in trying to break this mind set that dairy farmers need the government at every turn to get a profitable price for their milk," Poulson said. "Wisconsin continues to be out numbered by other regions of the country that want to maintain the status quo of government pricing which has failed to yield increased returns to dairy farmers."

The Wisconsin Farm Bureau was one of several organizations that formed the Upper Midwest Dairy Coalition to collectively lobby for changes in the federal dairy program.

A Birthday Memorial To ROBERT FELTEN On October 14

You were a special kind of person who brightened any minute of the day, because of all the thoughtfulness and kindness you put in it. You were a special kind of person who added so much joy to living. No longer in our lives to share, but in our hearts you're always there. Silent thoughts, tears unseen, wishing your absence was only a dream. As time goes on we miss you more our hearts are sore, but no one can fill your vacant place.

BIRTHDAY TRIBUTE

In memory of WALLACE MARTIN, who would of had a Birthday, Oct. 14.

There was a man who lived on this earth.
He lives in Heaven now.
He went about his earthly tasks,
And seldom did he frown.
He did not wish for riches,
Nor ask for wordly fame.
In fact there were many people,
Who didn't even know his name.
He had a special feeling,
And that very special glow.
That only a child of God,
Can ever really know
He showed us by example.
How this life should be.
Then one day he quietly left,
This earth, his friends and family,
We're thankful for the memories,
And the good times that we had.
This man was very special,
Because he was our husband,
dad and grandpa.
*Happy Birthday Wallace,
dad and grandpa.*

We miss you

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of SHIRLEE A. GAFFKE, who was called to Heaven on October 21, 1997:

LIFE'S CLOCK

The clock of life is wound, but once,
And no man has the power
To tell just where
The hands will stop
At late or early hour.
To lose one's wealth is sad indeed;
To lose one's health is more;
To lose one's soul is such a loss
As no man can restore.
The present only is our own
Live, love, toil with a will - Place no faith in "tomorrow" - for
The clock may then be still.

*We love and miss ya!
Your family*

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of MICHAEL STERN, who passed away fifteen years ago, October 18, 1983:

Fifteen years have passed and gone
Since the one we loved so well
Was taken from his home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we placed upon his grave
May wither and decay
But the love for "Mike"
Who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.

*Forever loved and missed by

KMS Students Write Home Town Poems

To wrap up the 1997/98 school year, in their English class, eighth graders at Kewaskum Middle School studied a unit on Wisconsin writers. At the beginning of the unit, the students read a poem called "Walking Milwaukee" by Harold Witt. In response, the students worked at various times through out the unit, writing their own poems about taking a walk in their home towns. The following is one of the poems written by the eighth graders.

"A WALK THROUGH FARMINGTON"

by Beth Herman

While walking through my hometown of Farmington, Wisconsin,
I saw a rotted barn with paint chips falling,
A peaceful field flowing in a chorus.
Nor ask for wordly fame.
In fact there were many people,
Who didn't even know his name.
He had a special feeling,
And that very special glow.
That only a child of God,
Can ever really know
He showed us by example.
How this life should be.
Then one day he quietly left,
This earth, his friends and family,
We're thankful for the memories,
And the good times that we had.
This man was very special,
Because he was our husband,
dad and grandpa.
*Happy Birthday Wallace,

JUST A MEMORY?

It saddens me to hear there may not be an other Kewaskum Legion Fireman Picnic! For forty years or more, it has been a tradition for my family and me. Parents, aunts and uncles, nieces, nephews and friends would gather at my home for an early lunch, so they could get to view the parade in time. Several birthdays in July were also celebrated at the same occasion.

Those who were children then, are married now, and have children of their own. They eagerly gathered the goodies thrown out along the parade route. The steps of Holy Trinity was a popular spot from which to view the parade.

When my husband was able, he proudly carried the American flag with other units to lead the parade. Who can forget the pride when the Kewaskum High School band passed by in full uniform, or the beautiful floats sponsored by Regal Ware?

It was fun dishing out hamburgers on a Saturday night and watching the waterfights.

Again I say, thanks for the memories.

Your Local Library... Take a Look

We are happy to announce our new story-time for ages three and up: The Half-Pint Bookworms.

The Bookworms will meet at the library on Wednesdays at 11:30 a.m., starting on October 21. Please come and meet our new children's program leader, Jill Wenger. We will read stories, do fingerplays and have a good time!

The two books that we are discussing this month at the library are both science fiction. "Community, Identity, Stability" is the motto of Aldous Huxley's utopian World State in his book, Brave New World.

Here, everyone consumes daily grams of soma, to fight depression, babies are born in laboratories, and the most popular form of entertainment is a "Feelie," a movie that stimulates the senses of sight, hearing and touch.

Though there is no violence and everyone is provided for, Bernard Marx feels something is missing and senses his relationship with a young woman has the potential to be much more than the confines of their existence allow.

Huxley foreshadowed many of the practices and gadgets we take for granted today -- let's hope the sterility and absence of individuality he predicted aren't yet to come. This will be discussed on Tuesday, October 27th at 9:30 a.m.

Our own award-winning Wisconsin author, Clifford D. Simak, also wrote science fiction. His collection of short stories, Over the River and Through the Woods, is taken from the second half of his career, a time when his stories had fully matured and he was at the top of his form.

His work, gentle and often pastoral, stresses the midwestern values of individualism, compassion and hard work. Yet something unusual always lurks just below the surface, waiting to make its presence felt. We will share these stories on Wednesday, October 21, at 1 p.m.

The library is now open on Saturday mornings from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m., as well as our regular schedule of Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The following is a list of videos that the library has purchased in September. If you see something that you like, apply for your free library card and borrow up to four at a time. You always can have them for at least two days, and there is no charge.

New videos for September include: Getting Energized; Natural Disasters; Make the Connection; Jane Fonda's Workout with Weights; Touch for Dogs; The Fantastic Rainy Day Video; The Not-So-Great Moments in Sports; Dr. Patrick Cohn's Make Your Most Confident Stroke; Secrets of Hunting Wild Turkey; Air Force One; Arthur's New Puppy; and Baby Boom.

Stone Creek Farms' Calf Wins Honors

Wiese and Sons of Manning, Iowa swept the bull honors in the Iowa State Fair Polled Hereford Cattle Show recently and two other breeders split the top honors for the breed's females.

Wiese and Sons, which earlier had shown the Grand Champion Bull in the Fair's Hereford Show, repeated the distinction in the Polled Hereford Show exhibiting a two-year-old bull for the Grand Champion Banner. The entry was also named Iowa Champion Bull.

Wiese carted off more honors when yet another two-year-old entry was named the show's Reserve Champion Bull.

Stone Creek Farms of Kewaskum exhibited a senior heifer calf to win the show's Grand Champion Female honors. Another Stone Creek entry, an early junior yearling heifer, was named the Reserve Champion Female.

Woodland View Farms of Ankeny, Iowa led the show's Iowa Champion Female, a late junior yearling heifer.

Outlook Good for Pheasant Season Opener on Saturday

MADISON -- A mild winter combined with good reproduction for wild pheasants and increased stocking of game-farm raised birds means hunters should find good hunting opportunities when the pheasant season opens statewide on Saturday, October 17.

Crowing surveys conducted this spring found similar numbers of crowing roosters to last year where habitat was good and decreases in areas where the habitat was insufficient, according to Keith Warnke, upland game ecologist for the Department of Natural Resources.

"The good news is that summer brood observations indicate that pheasant productivity this year was the best it has been in several years," Warnke said. "Good productivity should have a strong positive impact on pheasant hunting this fall."

Because of the mild winter, pheasant survival was good through to the spring nesting season in most areas of the state. Nesting productivity varied around the state as some areas had prolonged wet, cool spring, while other areas were mild and dry, but the general trend was an increase in the number of pheasant broods observed, according to Warnke. The number of young pheasants in the average brood increased as well.

"More broods and higher brood size should mean that pheasant hunters will see more pheasants this year than in several previous seasons. However, wild pheasants in Wisconsin occur primarily, on private lands and the key is to hunt good habitat. It will be important for hunters to identify areas with high quality habitat and concentrate hunting efforts in that area," Warnke said.

Approximately 70 public hunting grounds will again be stocked with game farm pheasants to provide hunter opportunity. The number of pheasants released by DNR on public hunting grounds will increase to at least 50,000 this year as the result of increased production at the Poynette game farm.

The pheasant season runs through December 31, and the daily bag limit is one bird per day for the opening weekend and then two birds per day throughout the season.

Hunters should check the pheasant hunting regulations and the general hunting regulations to see which counties are in a special Pheasant Management Zone. A pheasant stamp is required to hunt within the Pheasant Management Zone.

In addition, hunting on properties within the zone are subject to one or both of the following rules: a 2 p.m. closure of hunting hours from October 19 through November 3; and a hen/rooster hunting permit and tags. Check the 1998 Wisconsin Public Hunting Grounds with Special Pheasant Hunting Regulations pamphlet available from DNR Service Centers for more information.

The Kewaskum girls volleyball team accepted a disappointing loss that placed them third in the EWC.

On Thursday the girls traveled to Two Rivers to challenge the first place Purple Raiders, unfortunately they were too much for the Indians and the girls suffered two losses. The first game 15-10, 15-13 and 3-15 and the second, 15-12, 15-11 and 5-15.

"We played very cautious volleyball, not wanting to go the extra to put the ball down or make a save. That resulted in us surrendering many opportunities to take control of either match," said coach Dave Rizzardi.

Sarah Williams was the high scorer for both matches, with 15 points for the evening. She has the third most number of points scored for the Indians this season with 74.

Laura Schwinn was the assist leader; in the first match she supplied nine assists for the team. Becky Repovsch led in the second match with six.

Repovsch has provided the most assists for her team with 109 assists this season.

Sara Disler was the ace leader in the first game with six. In the second match Williams and Sarah Schwinn led the team in aces with five each.

"The losses move us to an 8-4 record, with one week left of conference play," said Rizzardi.

The Indians hosted Chilton Tuesday and gave themselves an attitude adjuster with a victory after their disappointment to Two Rivers.

L. Schwinn led in scoring, with 12 points for the evening.

Repovsch was crowned assist leader. She had 14 assists.

"(It's) good to get back on a win to 9-4 in conference. (The) girls need to continue regaining the mid-season form we were at," said, coach Dave Rizzardi.

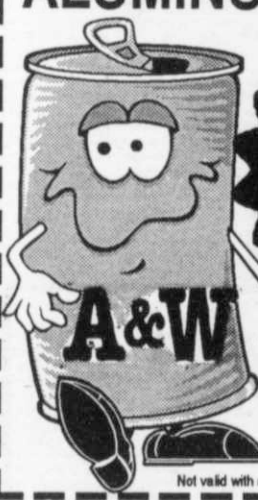

The Indians are now third in the conference with Plymouth taking their number two spot.

Tonight the Indians will try to coax a win from Plymouth on the road.

Indians Lose Homecoming Game, 14-13

Play action during the Indians vs. Two Rivers Homecoming game last Friday at KHS. The Indians lost to the Raiders, 14-13.

Two weeks ago, the Kewaskum Indians played the top ranked defense in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and moved the ball for nearly 300 yards of total offense. Last week they played Two Rivers with the worst rated defense and struggled to move the ball.

It was Kewaskum's homecoming and both Two Rivers and Kewaskum were looking for their first EWC victory.

The Indians punted on their first drive and the Raiders moved down the field via the pass for a couple of first downs before junior Mike Farchione picked off a pass with no return to stop the drive. It was the first interception of the year for the young Indians but it was not going to be the last.

The Raiders second possession of the game was also stopped by junior Chris Koth's interception and 18 yard return. After picking up a couple of first downs the Indians had to settle for a 39 yard field goal attempt, but the try was blocked, leaving the first quarter scoreless.

The Raiders started the second quarter with an 85 yard drive to the Kewaskum 10, where a 27 yard field goal attempt was no good. The Indians picked up one first down before they were forced to punt, but a bad snap by the center was not handled by punter Chris Koth, who picked it up and was tackled for a 20 yard loss. The Raiders then scored on an 18 yard pass to take a 7-0 lead into half-time.

Josh Gaffke, who has now passed for 1,017 yards this season, had a slow start completing only two of 10 passes for 12 yards in the first half. The Indians' offense only had the ball for six plays in the second quarter.

The Indians came out in the second half with a little more fire under their belts. The KHS defense was called for a face mask on a third and 25 play to give the Raiders a first down but then Jason Strobel picked off a pass and raced 48 yards down the far sideline to give the Indians good field position. An Indian mistake (holding penalty) put the offense in a third and 20 from the 25 yard line.

Once again, it was Strobel making a big play as he took a shovel pass up the middle, cut to his right and raced 25 yards to the five-yard-line and a first down. Three plays later, Clint Herrick took it in from the five for a 7-7 tie, following Koth's kick through the uprights.

Following the kickoff, the Raiders were stopped once again on an interception, as Chris Koth picked this one off at the Indian 20 yard line and ran with it for 63 yards to the Raider 27 yard line. It looked like the Indians were about to bust the game wide open when suddenly Chad Ely stepped in front of Dave Lettow and stole Gaffke's screen pass and ran it 83 yards to the end zone for another Raider score. The Raiders took a 14-7 lead as the third quarter ended.

In the fourth quarter the ball was exchanged several times but as the clock wound down it was another interception that set up the dramatic finish to the game. It was the Indians fifth interception of the game after not having a single steal during the entire season up to this point.

Junior Adam Beck intercepted a pass and returned it eight yards to mid-field with three minutes left in the game. On first down, Clint Herrick hauled in a Gaffke pass for a 21 yard gain and then on the next play, ran it 12 yards for another first down. Jason Strobel then caught a 13 yard pass to the nine yard line. After Lettow picked up six yards on two carries, he caught a three yard pass from Gaffke for the score.

With 54 seconds left, the Indians decided to go for the two pointer and the win.

Jason Strobel followed Lettow and Farchione up the middle but was stopped inches short, to leave the score at 14-13 in the Raiders favor.

An onside kick by the Indians was recovered by the Raiders, who knelt three times to run out the clock.

The loss leaves the Indians at 0-5 in the EW Conference and 1-6 overall. Head Coach Perry Koth had this to say in reference to the game, "Sometimes Homecoming gets the kids fired up for the game and sometimes it is such a distraction that they come out flat. Unfortunately, it was the latter in the first half. We were flat out there and did not execute at all on offense. We played much better in the second half, but we just couldn't get it done."

The Indians now travel to Plymouth who beat undefeated Chilton, 45-35, creating a very tight race in the EWC.

Last Week's EWC Results: Plymouth 45, Chilton 35; New Holstein 35, Sheboygan Falls 0; Two Rivers 14, Kewaskum 13.
