County H May Become Town Road in Town of Wayne

By Andrew R. Kuehl Staff Writer/Photographer

The Town of Wayne Town Board met Wednesday, October 21 and discussed monthly agenda items.

The board started off with hearing a presentation by Brian Brainwaite, Real Property Lister for Washington County.

After the presentation the members of the Washington County Highway commission addressed the board on the fact that CTH H no longer qualifys to be a county trunk.

The reason being, law states that all county roads are to connect to two state or two county highways or both on either end of the strip of road. Highway H does not do that.

The commission then asked the board to take-over H as a town road from CTH W to STH 41.

Town supervisor, Don Kurer asked if the road meets all safety standards set by the John Kohl of the commission said it is now in better shape than it was.

Town Chairman Leander Herriges said he was afraid of the fact that if an emergency vehicle needs to get through, there may not be enough shoulder space to pull off on Kohl argued that they just didn't have the funds to put in a wider shoulder.

Herriges said "You got a lot of dollars for that fairgrounds. In my opinion you only needed half of that! There you got money to blow, but when it comes down to roads you don't have any! Something you use every day you can't fix decent, something you use three-four weeks of the year, there you blow it."

Kurer reminded Herriges that was a totally different department, and they (the highway commission) have nothing to do with the fair.

Town Clerk Orville Kern also expressed a concern for the length of the shoulder.

The commission agreed to fix the road if something were to happen over winter.

Herriges said he would just a soon wait for two winters and look at it in 2000.

The item was tabled until a

America Recycles Day November 15

MADISON -- Wisconsin will join more than 45 states and U.S. Territories on November 15 in celebrating the second annual America Recycles Day.

Schools, businesses, municipalities and nonprofit groups will organize an estimated 5,000 showcase events nationwide to encourage American citizens to increase their recycling efforts. Wisconsin residents can support America Recycles Day by organizing and/or attending special recycling events in their communities.

Events planned so far in Wisconsin include:

* a 30th anniversary party for the city of Madison's curbside recycling program (contact George Drechman at 608-267-

* an all-day collection drive sponsored by Goodwill Industries and Edgewood campus in Madison (contact Tom Quinn at 608-251-

* a computer roundup for the Wisconsin Department of Corrections computer refurbishing program (contact George Dreckman at 608-267-2626);

* an open house at Coming Around Again, a retail and gift shop in Sayner, Wisconsin, that sells products made from recycled materials (call 715-542-2645).

Wisconsinites can also get involved in America Recycles Day by voluntarily pledging to step up their own efforts to recycle and buy recycled. Those who fill out and turn in a pledge card are automatically entered in a random drawing for prizes, including the national grand prize, "American Dream House," a brand new home made with recycled materials. For more information or to enter the contest, Wisconsin residents can contact Kathy Oppegard, 608-264-6053, or visit the official website at http://www.americarecycles day.org.

The first America Recycles Day was celebrated November 15, 1997, with more than 3,00 events in 42 states and three U.S. Territories. Nearly 5,000 Wisconsin recyclers turned in pledge cards, and state organizers weighed in with more than 75 events. Events included a university dance for which the only admission fee was a recyclable item, a "pumpkin recycling" drive by a 4-H group who fed old pumpkins to deer at a local deer park, and a "file purging" contest among university faculty.

Many of this year's events will focus on encouraging consumers to complete the recycling equation by purchasing products made with recycled materials. This year's theme is: "If you're not buying recyled, you're not really recycling.'

"It's important for people to realize that putting recyclables out on the curb or recycling office paper is only part of the recycling loop; we only complete that loop when we buy recycledcontent products," says Kathy Oppegard, coordinator for Wisconsin's America Recycles Day festivities for the Department of Natural Resources.

America Recycles Day is organized by a public-private partnership. Official sponsors include the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the U.S. Postal Service, BFI, The Home Depot, the Remanufacturing Industries Council International, The 100% Recycled Paperboard Alliance, Steel Recycling Institute and Union Camp Corporation.

Readers Asked to Share Favorite Holiday Recipes

As you bring back delicious memories of Christmases past by baking tasty treats and homemade traditions for family and friends, why not share your favorite holiday recipes with other Statesman readers.

You remember, the wonderful flavors and smells of grandma's kitchen during Christmastime...chocolate, gingerbread, and cinnamon. One step into the aromatic room could help anyone forget about the stress of the hectic holiday season.

This year, the Kewaskum Statesman would like to join in the spirit of the "ultimate baking and cooking" season by asking all their readers to send in a copy of their special holiday recipe for publication in upcoming issues, including our Christmas issue being mailed to our readers December 16.

Share your family's favorite holiday foods with the community to help make the season bright and delicious! We will print your name under your (or grandma's) recipe to identify the holiday treats you make for your family.

Whether it is cookies, breads, candy, stuffing, punch, stollen or a main dish, without these treats, perhaps your Christmas just wouldn't be the same. So take a little of that precious holiday time to jot down those recipes (and if you like, the reason the recipes are so much a part of your holiday celebration). Send them to The Kewaskum Statesman Holiday Recipes, P.O. Box 98, Kewaskum, WI 53040.

You may send them as soon as you like for as soon as we receive them and depending on the number we receive, we can begin to fill the upcoming issues with the favorite holiday recipes of your family and your neighbors that you might like to try this year.

Please include your name, address and phone number, as all recipe contributors will be entered in a special drawing for a very unique holiday prize. And...by all means, if you feel it would be absolutely necessary for the Statesman to sample any of these treats...feel free to stop in!

KMS Students Write Home Town Poems

To wrap up the 1997/98 school year, in their English class, eighth graders at Kewaskum Middle School studied a unit on Wisconsin writers. At the beginning of the unit, the students read a poem called "Walking Milwaukee" by Harold Witt. In repsonse, the students worked at various times through out the unit, writing their own poems about taking a walk in their home towns. The following are some of the poems written by the eighth graders.

A Walk Down Main Street

by Jesse Williams

After coming down the deck, I turn right to see our dark driveway

That leads straight ahead.

I turn right down the cracked sidewalk and see the old church glooming overhead.

Now, on both sides of the street, I see old houses shining dim lights

With bushes rustling in the wind. Crossing the rusty railroad that is waiting for a train,

I see empty parking lots dark with the night. As I go down Main Street

Which is speckled with parked cars,
I see dandelions fluttering with fury. When I turn around,

I see Kewaskum asleep at night.

Now is the Time For Hunters To Sight-In Their Firearms

GREEN BAY - Whether or not a deer hunter will be successful bringing home venison can be measured in inches. The vital area of a deer is small, and at a range of fifty yards or more, it seems very small.

Deer hunters spend days in the annual ritual of getting clothes, gear, and food ready for the deer season. And an annual trip to a shooting range to sight-in the deer hunting firearm should be an important part of that "getting ready for the hunt" ritual, according to John Lacenski, recreational safety specialist for the Department of Natural Resources in Green Bay.

"Hunters who sight-in their rifles or shotguns carefully will increase their chances of success during the season," Lacenski said. "Just as important, a properly sighted-in rifle is safer."

Lacenski says deer hunters should remember these fundamentals when sighting-in a firearm:

* Sighting-in is the process of firing the rifle or shotgun under controlled conditions, and then adjusting the sights so they line up with where the bullets or slugs are striking.

* Sighting-in is best done on an established shooting range, using a bench rest and measured target distances. Most gun clubs around the state have "sight-in days" on weekends before the gun deer season. Take advantage of their facilities and knowledge.

* Don't wait until the last minute. And remember, on Friday, November 20, the day before the gun season opens, all shooting must be done on established shooting ranges. It's not legal to sight-in out behind the cabin on the day before opening day.

Need a brush-up on your sight-in technique? Lacenski offers these step-by-step pointers:

* Clean the firearm's bore before you start.

* Get a sight-in target ruled with one-inch squares.

* Use exactly the same ammunition you'll hunt with.

* If you have a new rifle and/or a new scope, have the scope bore-sighted by the dealer. Bore-sighting is not a substitute for sighting-in with ammunition, but it will get you in the ballpark.

* Determine and carefully measure off your sight-in distance. Rifles are typically sighted-in at 100 yards, shotguns at 50.

* Shoot from a bench rest or table. Rest the gun's foreend on something firm but not hard, like a sandbag.

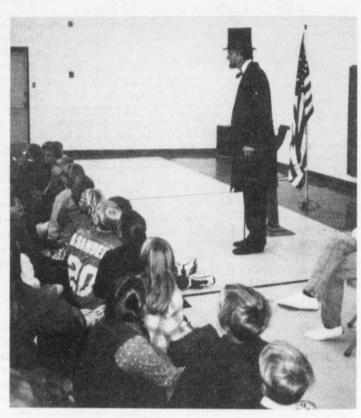

* Sighting on one of the target's aiming points, carefully and slowly squeeze off three shots.

* Find the rough center of the resulting group of holes in the target. If the group is nicely centered on your aiming point, you're all set. If not, measure the distance from the approximate center of the group to your aiming point. For example, the center of the group might be four inches left and two inches low.

* Typically, the "clicks" on scope sight adjustments will move the sights either one-half inch or one-quarter inch at one hundred yards. Move open or "iron" sights in the direction you want the impact point to move on the target. For example, if the gun is shooting low, raise the rear sight.

* Sighting on a fresh aiming point, fire another careful three-shot group and determine its center. Continue this process until your third or fourth group surrounds the center of the target. Now your sight or scope is lined up as precisely as possible with the impact area of the bullets or

Scouting for Food Reports Record Year

The Bay-Lakes Council of Boy Scouts of America's recently completed Scouting for Food Good Turn drive has reported another record breaking year.

According to Larry Weyers, President and CEO of Wisconsin Public Service and this year's food drive chairman, over 12,000 Scouts collected approximately 977,056 containers of non-perishable food.

This represents a 9.2% increase over last year and brings the total amount of food collected to just under nine million containers in the past 11 years. "It was just a tremendous effort, said Weyers, who has just completed his third and final year as chairman. We had more individual units participating this year as well as more requests from the local food pantries. With the cooperation of Mother Nature (excellent weather), and a multitude of volunteer help, we were able to collect a significant amount more food and therefore, meet the requests of the participating pantries.

The Scouting for Food campaign continues to be the single largest one day food collection program in the state, and although the Scouts did not reach the one million container goal, they have done an outstanding job providing food for many hungry families in their local communities. It gives them a sense of community spirit and pride in knowing they made a difference in the lives of their neighbors.

The Bay-Lakes Council thanks all of the food pantries, the many, many volunteers as well as the Scouts and their leaders who rallied around the campaign

Challenge Grant Received by Lakeview Library

Warren and Virginia Brockmeier of LaGrange, Illinois have offered a challenge grant of $10,000 to the Friends of the Lakeview Community Library in Random Lake.

The purpose of this grant is to enable "the Lakeview Community Library to proceed with installation of comprehensive computerization of its collection, checkout system... and other functions."

Mr. and Mrs. Brockmeier will match every dollar of new money received by the Friends through July 4, 1999 up to the maximum of $10,000.

An automated card catalog and checkout system project will allow better access to the library's collection. Reserving and checking out library materials will be easier for library clients.

Automation also speeds the time-consuming job of stamping and sorting book cards. The automation project for the Lakeview Community Library is tentatively set for completion in late fall 1999.

Tax deductible donations may be made to the Friends of the Library, P.O. Box 326, Random Lake, WI 53075.

Each child received their pumpkin to take home and the first three places in each age category received cash prizes, compliments of Mary Kay Cosmetics-Wendi Dreher (coordinator of the contest), Hon-E-Kor Country Club and Catholic Knights Representative Kathi Ramthun.

This year's popular new feature of Kettle Kountry Kolors will become an annual festival event.

Share Your Christmas Memories with Our Readers

Of all the holiday traditions, perhaps the one with the most personal meaning to us is the gathering of family together, and sharing those special memories of Christmases Past.

The significance of story-telling passed through generations, from great-grandparents to their growing families, seems to be lacking in a society racing ahead to keep pace with the latest technology. There is no greater gift than taking the time to listen to a loved one, be it a relative or cherished friend, as they tell a story that unlocks our hearts to the magic of the season.

Do you have special memories you would like to share with our readers in the Kewaskum Statesman's Christmas edition? Whether it was caroling by sleigh, decorating the tree with homemade ornaments, the first Christmas in a new country, or listening for the reindeers' prancing steps across the roof, these memories of holidays gone by enrich our lives and make us who we are.

We invite you to write down your favorite, most fun, most meaningful, or most traditional holiday remembrance, and send it in to The Kewaskum Statesman Holiday Memories, P.O. Box 98, Kewaskum, WI 53040.

Please limit your stories to approximately a page and a half so we have room enough to share everyone's contribution, and include your name, address and telephone number.

Memories of Christmas in Kewaskum in the good old days are especially welcomed, and we can reminisce together, recalling with fondness that great sledding hill that carried kids out onto the pond, or the church lit with candles, packed tight on Christmas Eve with rosy faces and everyone dressed in their finest outfits.

We look forward to your stories, so take the time to jot them down today and stop in or mail them in for our upcoming publication, and share the spirit of the season. It's catching, just try it.

Letters to The Editor

Kewaskum Statesman:

Thank God the fantasy proposal advanced by a majority of school board members and the educational community was soundly defeated. They just don't get the message that we want quality education at a competitive price.

For starters, they need look no farther than the neighboring parochial schools which provide a superior education at less cost. Buildings and computers do not measurably contribute to education.

Any political body incapable of resolving a simple, straight-forward issue as a Beechwood school in an unbiased fashion demands criticism.

I would suggest the board members responsible for the waste of time and taxpayer money resign and allow problem solvers unencumbered by local educators and biased data or opinions resolve any real or imagined issues facing the district.

Ralph M. Eisenmann

Dear Editor,

This is the letter I sent the high school. I hope you will print it.

Dear Sir:

I am writing to inform you of my disgust at the selection of GREASE for your school production.

I do not want to detract from the excellent talent displayed by the students, but wasn't there a selection which would have been better suited to display that talent?

GREASE was a production that glorified sex, alcohol, smoking, gang membership and disregard for the law among others. The story line was, be as bad as you can and you'll be accepted as one of the crowd. Is this what we want to teach our young people? It certainly was not entertainment.

I want to congratulate the students on their talents, but am dismayed they saw fit to use it with such a production.

Sincerely,

Teresa Peterson

Thank you, Doris Thorn and family

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of LEO ZEHREN, who passed away five years ago, Nov. 14, 1993:

You are not forgotten, Or will you ever be.

We miss you so, our hearts are sore.
As time goes by, we miss you more. Your loving smile, your gentle

No one will ever fill your vacant place.
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a tear is shed
while others are asleep.

Sadly missed by the family.

Prayer to the Holy Spirit

Prayer through application to the Holy Spirit. Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evils against me and that in all instances of my life you arewith me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things as you confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even and in spite of all material illusion. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine.

The person must say this prayer for three consecutive days. After three days, the favor requested will be granted, even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE

O Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need. To you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance.

Help me in my present urgent petition, in return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. Say three Our Fathers, three hail Marys and three Glorias. St. Jude pray for us and all who invoke your name.

This Novena must be said for 9 consecutive days, and publication must be promised.

Thank you St. Jude, for all favors from you.

Administrative Committee Chairman Trustee Stoltzmann reported on the Special Revenue fund as proposed for 1999.

Chairman of the Public Works, Trustee Gary Gavin, turned the discussion over to Administrator Daniel Schmidt and director of Public Works Jerry Gilles who reviewed the 1999 DPW budget proposals both general and capital outlay. It was noted the operations and maintenance portion of the budget reflected an increase of $12,970 or +3.9% and that the outlay portion reflected a decrease of $29,996 or -12.2%. The water and water pollution control departmental budgets were both reviewed and are in fair shape with no increase projected for 1999, however a review of the WPC should be conducted after the first six months of 1999.

After a review of the Urban Forestry Grant Application the Board agreed to ask for $6,000. On a motion by Trustee Warren Dums, seconded by Trustee John Kenworthy and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the signing of the Urban Forestry Grant Application for

Chairman of the Park and Recreation Committee, John Kenworthy reported on the related budgetary items for the Park &

Recreation Department. The committee reported that the topic of flooring would be looked at closer in 1999. The suggestions and recommendations were reviewed and it was noted that the items indicated should be included on the proposed budget for 1999.

Plan Commission, Board representative Warren Dums informed the Board that a Commission meeting is scheduled for October 27, 1998 at 7:00 p.m. and that Rick Kania was present regarding the Zoning Ordinance.

Library The Representative Trustee John Kenworthy reported that the Board will be adjusting their meeting schedule to the Wednesday prior to the third Monday of the month to eliminate any other meeting conflicts. It was noted that the Village's share of the operating expense and capital expense should not exceed 6.0% increase. The budget does not have to be lowered, but the difference should be taken from the fund balance account.

Mid-Moraine Municipal Association, Legislative Committee Member Robert Stoltzmann reported that no more meetings would be held until 1999.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt reported that the Sewer project is proceeding and if all goes well the project should be completed including the asphalt work within about a week.

Action was taken on Resolution No. 98-28 A Resolution Filing and Applying for An Urban Forestry Grant and Naming the Authorized Official as attached Administrator Daniel Schmidt reported a variety of budgetary figures and tax facts to the Board regarding the proposed 1999 budget. It was noted the proposed budget is up by $44,350 or 2.5% on the expenditure side and on the revenue side down $74,040 or 4.2%. Several alternatives were reviewed with the Board as to how to adjust the budget to eliminate the $118,390 difference. The Board advised the Administrator to use the lower tax rate increase of an estimated 4.4%. On a motion by Trustee Andy Pesch, seconded by Trustee Warren Dums and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board changed the 1999 Budget Public Hearing date and time to November 23,1998 at 7:00 p.m. to have more time to review and have more information.

On a motion by Trustee Warren Dums, seconded by Trustee Andy Pesch and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the 1999 contract with Aquatic Biologist Inc. Fond du Lac,

WI for swim pool maintenance. The costs are the same as the last six

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by John Kenworthy and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the 1999 Assessor Contract with Bowmar Appraisal Inc., Appleton, WI at a cost of $4,900. This was noted to be up by $100 over the contract of 1998.

On a motion by Trustee Warren Dums, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and carried by majority roll call vote, the Board acknowledged the concurrence with SEWRPC's recommendation regarding development of lot 27 of Willow Creek Whispering Subdivision (V4-0191-146) The conditions would allow for the orderly development of said lot, allow minimal grading, construction of driveways, access roads and parking lots. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 1 "Absent," 1 (Trustee Gary "Abstaining"

President Robert Wagner informed the board that the CEME Group will be meeting with the Legislators on October 30, 1998.

Motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee Andy Pesch and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn to closed session under chapter 19.85 (1) (c) of the Statutes to discuss employee performance data and evaluation for Village Employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction. Roll call vote was 6 "Aye," 0 "Nay," 1 "Absent."

Hunters Responsible for Knowing Trespass Laws

Hunters who want to hunt on private lands need to make sure they have permission from the landowner before the season and should make sure they understand Wisconsin's trespass law, DNR Warden Doug Bilgo says.

Under Wisconsin law, people cannot -- with a few exemptions -- enter or remain on any private land unless they have the express or implied permission of the landowner or occupant. Previously, hunters were required to get permission only before entering any agricultural land, fenced land, or land posted "no trespassing." Now, notice of "no trespassing" is not required for land that's fenced, cultivated, undeveloped or occupied by a barn or other agricultural structure, and it is trespass for a person to enter or remain on such lands without permission.

The penalty for violating the trespass statute is a civil, not criminal, forfeiture with a maximum fine of $1,000. A person who receives a trespass citation may choose not to contest the citation, in which case he or she forfeits the deposit of $203.

Hunters still scrambling to find land to hunt might find that landowners are more willing to allow access to their property during the middle of the week, instead of during the weekend opener, Warden Bilgs says.

Warden Bilgo also advises hunters who already have sought and received permission from a private landowner to get in touch with the landowner again, particularly if permission was granted months or even a year ago.

It's a good idea to reaffirm that with the landowner so there's no mistake about it, Bilgo says. It's also important for safety reasons to learn whether there will be other hunters on the same property.

Hunters are also advised to follow these provisions of the trespass law:

* Written permission is not required but is a good idea to clarify the issue for individuals and law enforcement officers.

* A person may go up to a private residence to talk with a landowner or occupant or to ask for permission to enter private lands. However, a person must leave such premises if requested to do so by the owner or occupant.

* Hunters are responsible for knowing property boundaries and should obtain a plat book if they are unfamiliar with the land ownership where they hunt. Notice to prevent access is required only on private lands adjacent to public lands and private inholdings within public lands. Ignorance of property boundaries does not exempt a person from prosecution under the law.

* Taking a short-cut back to a road across private land, chasing dogs across private land, or following wounded game onto private land without first getting permission violates trespass

* A person may only enter private lands only for those activities for which permission was specifically granted. For example, a hunter who receives permission to deer hunt cannot return later to hunt small game unless the hunter also obtained permission for those specific activities.

SOME LANDS IN WILDLIFE DAMAGE AND FOREST TAX PROGRAMS OPEN TO HUNTING

Private lands enrolled in wildlife damage and forest tax programs offer additional hunting opportunities, but hunters need to know the rules to avoid violating trespass laws and to be respectful and considerate of the landowners.

WILDLIFE DAMAGE AND ABATEMENT CLAIM PROGRAM

Farmers enrolled in this program to prevent damage to agricultural crops and to compensate them for their losses must allow public access to hunting on their land. Money to pay for claims and measures to stop the damage comes from a surcharge on hunting licenses and from sales of bonus antlerless deer permits. In 1997, the state paid 1,070 damage claims for farmers and compensated them $2.3 million.

* Hunters gain access to land enrolled in the program by calling a day before they want to hunt, or by showing up to the farmer's land and requesting access. Farmers whose lands are enrolled in the program as a result of deer damage are required to allow access for a minimum of two hunters on every 40 acres of "deer habitat" (not for every 40 acres of land) on their lands.

* Farmers are provided logbooks that the hunter must fill out so the farmer can track hunter visits. If the farmer decides to limit access to two hunters per 40 acres, if one hunter leaves and another hunter shows up requesting permission, the farmer must allow access. The farmer can deny access to another hunter only if two or more hunters (per every 40 acres of deer habitat) are actually present on the property at the

* Hunters can get a list of farmers enrolled in the damage and abatement claim program by calling the county damage specialist in the county they want to hunt. Such specialists usually are found in the county land conservation department.

FOREST TAX LAWS

Early property tax policy in Wisconsin required woodland owners to pay higher taxes on their lands, a financial burden that led many landowners to overcut their timber to pay their tax obligation. The harm overcutting caused prompted state authorities to enact forest tax laws that promote timber growing by allowing lower tax rates on those lands.

About 25,000 landowners own more than 2.5 million acres enrolled in the three existing forest tax laws: Forest Crop Law, Woodland Tax Law and Managed Forest Law.

Lands under the Forest Crop Law are open to the public for hunting and fishing, but some lands under the Managed Forest Law are not open to hunting and fishing because the landowner can choose to enroll the land as open or closed to the public. Landowners who close their land to the public pay higher property taxes and are responsible for posting closed lands.

Although hunters need not ask permission to go onto Forest Croplands or open Managed Forest Lands, please respect landowners:

* Do not litter or damage the property.

* If the landowner has identified access lanes, stay on the lanes and be sure to close gates. The landowner does not have to grant access to vehicles.

* As a courtesy to the landowner, you may wish to let the landowner know if you will be on the property, especially if the landowner lives near the site.

To get a list of landowners enrolled under either tax law, call the DNR at (608) 266-2621 for a printout of the county you wish to hunt in. The cost is 10 cents a page. Or, use the order form found on the forestry pages of the DNR website: http://www.dnr.state.wi.us

KHS Senior Mike Kertscher is Mini Sprint 1998 Rookie of the Year

ON TOP OF THE WORLD! Kewaskum High School senior Mike Kertscher raced to the top this past mini-sprint season as Chilton's Rookie of the Year and as a WIMSA title champion.

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

Kewaskum High School senior Mike Kertscher knows what it's like to have a winning season, although he doesn't have any magic formula for his success. "I don't think about it as much as I just go out and do it," he modestly asserts.

Eastern Wisconsin Conference wrestling champion in 1997, Wisconsin Mini Sprint Association's Rookie of the Year for the 1998 season, Kertscher aims high, dangling the future in front of himself like a carrot and a rabbit. Fans follow him warm summer weekends as he tears up the tracks at Chilton, Wilmot and Beaver Dam, racing #38, a 900 pound, 100cc red, white and blue mini sprint car.

Car and driver are setting records, with only a year of mini sprint racing under Mike's belt. At the close of this year's 18 week season, the 17 year old had earned 522 points, capturing championship mini sprint titles in both the WIMSA series and CCRA (Calumet County Racing Association).

Rookie Kertscher also went down in history as the youngest track champion in Chilton's history. "I'd say most of the guys I race are probably in their mid-30's," Mike estimates, though he doesn't feel that young when he's out on the quarter mile clay oval with 18 other power machines.

Ever since he was a little kid, Mike says he was into the feel of control in his hands. "I first raced those little radio controlled cars, and eventually started racing Go-Karts at Elkhart Lake."

He won 13 features in two years, and in 1996 he was named track champion of the point season in the Briggs Junior Division for Karting Kettle Road Course. The next year, Kertscher claimed the runner-up title in the Briggs Medium Point Series, second in point standings.

"That's when I won the driving school lessons in Plymouth," Kertscher points out of the fate that led him to Randy Sippel of Sippel Racin' and his "Rent-Ride Program."

Sippel, who builds race car frames, runs a driving school and holds seminars, offered to take Kertscher under his wing when he saw his potential. Mike began helping out at the shop, trying out the minisprint cars one night a week, putting them through their laps and taking in the speedway scene through osmosis. "I'd work with Randy all week long. He rents out three of his own race cars. We'd go to the track and I'd be part of the crew," Mike relates.

Piloting Sippel's minisprint up to 90 m.p.h. on straightaways, Mike merely breezes over his few bumps and bruises as par for the course. "This past season, I lost my steering when a guy hit my tire. I didn't realize it at first, and I just hit the wall."

Uninjured, he claims the sport is safe and feels comfortable leading his following of family and friends to watch him earn the ranking of "one of the hottest drivers around."

So hot in fact, Kertscher has his own office at Kewas-kum High School, out of which he's sold more than 300 racing T-shirts and drummed up a fan-club whose screaming section can be heard most nights he's driving the Sippel owned #38. "I have a booth at Chilton too, and the earnings from what I sell go toward racing."

Included in his growing list of sponsors are local businesses, Nell's Driving School, Goeden's Auto Body, Video Post, Tan-Talizer Tanning Studio and Hollywood Portrait Studio.

On the go every weekend, and keeping up his 3.3 grade point average, caught up with Kertscher last month, earning him a five day hospital stay for mono. "I just thought it was the flu," he brushes it off, and says now that the seasons over, he'll be focusing on his wrestling career, which is no less illustrious than his mini sprint hobby.

The wrestling season starts November 16th, and captain of the team Kertscher, has been in the sport since seventh grade. "I made it to the sectionals last year, and I hope to do it again. The conditioning and training, it helps in both sports," he maintains, anxious to start work with Coach Nell, one of his racing sponsors and a guidance counselor at Kewaskum Middle School.

The driving force behind his many successes are Jerry and Suzie, faithful fans and the parents who taught a young Mike to cheer in the stands at Sheboygan County Fairgrounds. "My Dad worked on a pit crew for Bernie Jensen at Plymouth. Mom and I used to watch from the stands. As a kid, I lived for those Saturday nights."

Today, Jerry often comes in the pit to help his son out, while Suzie remains in the stands with friends Steve and Theresa Hurd. "Biting her nails!" Mike quips.

He's already tried racing the big 360 sprint cars, so it won't be long. The future's already in place. "By the year 2000, hopefully I'll own one," Mike assures, adding his plans also include attending college somewhere nearby so he can continue his racing career. "It would be nice to do both."

Kopecky Leads Springs To WISAA State CC Title

FOND DU LAC - St. Mary Springs High School freshman Jenny Kopecky of Kewaskum capped off her introductory cross country season as the WISAA Division Two State runnerup, leading her team to their fourth consecutive state title and their 44th team win in a row.

The last time the Ledger cross country team has lost was a second place finish to Chippewa Falls McDonnell at the 1994 state meet.

The WISSA state meet was held on Saturday, October 31 at the NCAA national cross country course, at UW-Parkside in Kenosha. Senior Jackie Michaud of Chippewa Falls flew over the 4000 meter course in 14:47 coasting to an easy state title.

Michaud led the race after the 1/2 mile mark and never slowed her pace according to Kopecky. The rest of the pack was led by Kopecky and it wasn't until the last 1/4 mile that she (Kopecky) needed her big kick to hold off the challenge of Marshfield's Luisa Bryce.

Kopecky took second with a time of 15:57 edging out Bryce who finished with 15:58. The next closest challenger was junior Heather Johnson of Springs who took fourth, 15 seconds behind Bryce with a time of

Beth Kusek, the other freshman for Springs, crossed the finish line in sixth place with a time of 16:19 followed by Springs senior Amy Walters at

"Jenny (Kopecky) is the fastest freshman I have ever had," Coach Bob Baker said. With the loss of Springs lead runner senior Amy Walters early in the season to a foot injury, Kopecky quickly stepped up to the challenge, finishing first for her team four out of her last five races. Jenny's worst finish this season was at the Manitowoc Roncalli meet where she took fourth overall and second in her division.
