Martin is Dedicated to The Challenge of the CIA

By Sharon Callaway Roznik

George Martin grew up in a small town in the days when small towns were small enough for everyone to know everybody else. That was Kewaskum in the 1960s.

"Living in the same house all your life. Playing football in the hayfields. Rites of passage with boyhood friends like swimming and fishing at the river. Jumping off both sides of the dam even though you weren't supposed to. Casting red and white 'daredevil' lures with a flair, meaning you were somebody then. Picnics at Firemen's Park and watching "Doc" Edwards test the water to see if the beach was safe."

His 1968 Kewaskum High graduating class boasted the highest numbers in the history of the school at that time... 155 students.

Throughout his life, Martin has carried these memories with him along with the quality of life they conveyed. "That phrase, you know the one. 'It takes a whole village to raise a child?'" he asks. "That's what Kewaskum did. It raised me."

Relocated in northern Virginia, Martin has been an integral part of the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) for the past 23 years, changing fields and careers from within, and growing with an organization that once again offered that familiar sense of community.

Seeing so many changes occur in his job throughout the years, George has developed a flexible and continuous learning approach, tracing back to the energetic days of youth spent joining everything he could.

"Everything I did and was taught in Kewaskum, the teachers who influenced me, these are all positives in my mind," Martin relates after a recent visit home to enjoy his 30th class reunion.

During his school years, George was active in football, basketball, golf, forensics, and played trombone in the marching band. Ranking fourth in his class, he went on to Carroll College with the intent of tackling a double math/physics major.

Definitely a leap for a small town kid to go away to a private school, Martin took one semester of calculus and six weeks of physics and decided no way in the world did he want to do this. "I got interested in geography instead."

Two Kewaskum School District Administrators have announced their plans for retirement.

District Superintendent, Clark Pearson along with Business Manager and Curriculum Coordinator George Allmann have announced they will be retiring in June of this year.

Pearson who has served the district for 27 years has stated he is retiring due to his age and his passion for travel and recreational sports.

"I plan on staying here in Kewaskum, doing some traveling, mainly up north and enjoying some golfing and hunting," stated Pearson.

Pearson came to the district in 1972 as principal at KHS.

He then decided to get back into the classroom, teaching math and coaching football in 1984. In 1996 he moved to KMS serving as principal there for a year and then becoming superintendent in 1997.

Allmann who has served the district for over 30 years says he will be moving to Sante Fe, New Mexico working in Real Estate Development.

Fire Department Looks Into Ambulance Purchase

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

The Kewaskum Village Board met Monday, Jan. 4 and handled usual business.

Fire Chief Mark Groeschel was present and gave his report. He also indicated the telesquirt which had its tank replaced is back in service. The total cost was $8,625. He further stated the new tank has a lifetime warranty.

Groeschel also informed the board that his department has formed a committee to look into purchasing a new ambulance to replace the 1979 Chevrolet. They have one picked out from Foster Coach where the last one was purchased. The total cost of the new ambulance is $89,556. Groeschel said the money is already available for this purchase.

A safety concern was brought up by President Robert Wagner as he noticed many fire hydrants were not cleared of snow. Groeschel indicated that if residents are unable to clear the snow they should let the fire department know.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel told the board that the new squad car is in and his department is working on it and it should be on patrol in a week.

Director of Public Works, Jerry Gilles gave his bi-monthly report. Discussion also took place on the spring clean-up program.

Trustee Robert Stolzmann commended the Department of Public Works for the excellent job of cleaning up a watermain break on Braatz Drive.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt informed the board of one operator's license for Pat Schmitt.

Under unfinished business, the board had discussion on the proposed downtown parking lot.

There was also discussion on the Wisconsin Rail Service being discontinued from West Bend north to Eden.

President Wagner made an appointment to the Plan Commission to replace Charles Waala. LeAnn Butschlick will be finishing Waala's term.

Concert, Chili Supper at Peace Church Sunday

The "Bound for Heaven" Gospel Quartet and Band will hold a benefit concert for the Peace United Church of Christ Scholarship Fund. A free will offering will be taken.

The concert will be held at 4 p.m. on Sunday, January 17, at 4 p.m. at the Peace Church located on Main Street across from Holy Trinity Church.

Following the concert, there will be a Chili Supper served in Fellowship Hall. The cost for the Chili Supper will be $3.00 per person. Included will be cheese, crackers, beverage and dessert.

All profits from the Chili Supper will also be donated to the Scholarship Fund. Reservations can be made by calling the church office at 626-4011. Reservations are not a must, but would be appreciated.

Although it was the late '60s, his most militant campus experience involved challenging a rule that wouldn't allow alcohol on campus. "They closed school for one day. Things were talked over. That's about it."

From there Martin went on to Michigan State University for his Masters in Geography and to work as a teaching assistant, still active in sports and involved in a special remote sensing project for NASA using aerial infrared photography.

"One day a guy from the CIA came to speak to the students. It was during the Vietnam era and hecklers were interrupting the meeting," Martin recalls. "I was interested, so some of us met with him one on one and learned about summer graduate fellowships."

Beginning in 1974, the year Nixon resigned, George initiated his career in the CIA analyzing the geography of the Soviet Union. "People at that time were worried about missiles, and the threat to national security. It was a denied area, so we used other means to acquire geographical information."

The summer's end brought George back to Kewaskum to write his master's thesis on "The Historical Evolution of Cemeteries of Waukesha County," spend time with his parents, Marvin and Minerva Martin, and work at Kewaskum Frozen Foods to earn some money. The next year he was back in Washington when a job opened up that meant his career could begin full force.

Martin specialized in geography his first seven years with the CIA, eventually branching out into analysis and training. According to George, there are three kinds of people working within the organization. 1) Those who collect information about other people, 2) Those who collect information using other techniques, and 3) Those that compile the information received on a certain issue.

"I learned the Russian language to read newspapers and documents. I've written papers on intelligence analysis. Sometimes we have to write for policy makers, give them the information they need. It's like putting together a jigsaw puzzle -- analysis is trying to figure out what's going on using all the information received."

After two years training analysts, George once again shifted gears and focused on administration, the budget, logistics and support people. "This was during the Afghan War in the mid 80's. There was a lot of policy issues, what support we should be giving. A difficult part of the job is maintaining complete objectivity when doing analysis. I remember a lot of writing and editing of reports for weekly and monthly publications."

Leadership training, Martin's next job title, covered all aspects of personnel across the board, encompassing leaders, mid level seniors, and chiefs. "The psychology of leadership can be applied to any life work or other organization. It's the fundamental thing we focus on here," Martin points out.

Just last year, reorganization within the CIA created a new arena for Martin's capabilities, "Consulting Products and Services." The new business area involves anything that has to do with improving performance in the work place. "What do you want to have happen by the end of the year; how or what is success; how can we accomplish our goals; these are the means we're working toward," George maintains.

In each of his changing roles, keeping up with the times includes knowing technology, human resources, system developments, and business knowledge. "It's all very vast and broad. The environment is changing and we learn to adapt, and in this type of job you need to have an innate love of learning."

Martin believes that sometimes the value of the CIA and its work means things don't happen. "For example, there were no terrorist incidents during the Gulf War. The fact that it didn't happen means to me that our intelligence was working very well. We were making the investment to make sure nothing happens."

"When I came into the CIA, we knew who the enemy was. Now things are different. Terrorists, biological and chemical warfare, the counter narcotics business, all these factors become more and more important. It's a whole different ball game now. We're wrestling with different stuff, with diffused threats to national security. The challenge is there."

One thing that hasn't changed, Martin points out, is the quality of people he has the opportunity to work with every day. "The dedication these people have to the country, to the larger community, is amazing. I'm honored to work with them each day."

Married to Fran, an ex CIA employee of 19 years, who retired when their third child was born, the Martins enjoy their life in fast paced Virginia, living among diplomats, executives and high ranking military officers. "It's different here for our children, two-sided," George relates. "On the one hand the opportunities are so great for those that want it, on the other, I've witnessed burn-out in kids with private lessons and being pushed into being the best in everything. Our kids are involved at the level they want to be."

Their family includes John, age 15, Nicholas, age 14, Elizabeth, age 11, and Emily, age 10. In their spare time, they love to travel, with the four kids researching historic places they can visit during vacations, and enjoy their church youth group, the Lutheran Pioneers.

George is active as a soccer referee, and in getting all the kids to where they have to be.

As for the old neighborhood, visits back to Kewaskum mean spending time with Minerva, now a proud grandmother; noticing the town changing a little bit as the years pass, but not so that it's unrecognizable; and knowing that you can pick up where you left off with friends and it's as if you never left. George knows that about Kewaskum. He took it with him when he left, and spends a part of each day building it back up in a new place. At least the spirit of it, anyway.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES Snow and Ice Removal

The snow and ice season has arrived bringing along some problems. To alleviate the problem or to clarify a few items, let us refer to the Municipal Code, Chapter 82.6, which covers "Snow and Ice Removal."

(a) SIDEWALKS TO BE KEPT CLEAR. The owner or occupant of any lot or lands within the village abutting upon a public street along the line of which a sidewalk shall have been constructed shall, whenever such sidewalk shall be encumbered with snow or ice, clear the same there from within 24 hours after cessation of each storm. If it is impossible or impractical to remove the ice therefrom, he shall treat the same with sand, cinders, ashes, salt or some other substance continuously until removed so that such sidewalk will not be slippery or dangerous to pedestrians. If any such owner or occupant fails to remove such snow or ice from such sidewalk or to treat such ice, the director of public works may do so; and the expense of such removal or treatment shall become a special tax or charge against the property to be collected in the manner specified in subsection (c). If the director of public works orders such removal of snow and ice, a minimum charge of $25.00 per occurrence shall be affixed as the expense of the removal or treatment. If the cost of removal or treatment exceeds the $25.00 minimum, the actual cost for such work shall be charged plus a ten percent handling charge.

(b) SNOW NOT TO BE DEPOSITED IN STREETS. No person shall cause to be deposited snow from his premises on the sidewalk abutting thereon onto any street in the Village without a permit from the Director of Public Works, who may require to be paid a fee sufficient to reimburse the Village for the cost of removal of the snow. The expense of such removal or treatment shall become a special tax or charge against the property to be collected in the manner specified in subsection (c).

(c) ASSESSMENT OF COST. After clearing or treating any such sidewalk as provided in this section, the director of public works shall file with the village clerk/treasurer a written report containing a description of such lot or tract charged and the amount of the expense chargeable to the same. The clerk/treasurer shall thereupon make out and mail to the owner of such lot or tract at his last known address an itemized statement of the cost; and, when paid, the amount so paid shall be credited to the village general fund. If the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If any such bill shall remain unpaid on October 1 next following the clearing or treating of the sidewalk, the village/clerk treasurer shall insert such charge in the general tax roll of the village and the same proceedings shall be had thereafter for the collection of such taxes as in cases of other taxes extended upon such roll.

ADOPT A HYDRANT

For the Snow Season of 1999

Help your community in reference to emergency government and protection by adopting one of the Village of Kewaskum's 130 plus hydrants for this snow season. The hydrants are for everyone's protection and an important part of the community's fire protection plan. Several communities already rely on the citizenry to shovel out the hydrants. This proves to be a cost savings for everyone and improves the snow removal process. Industries and businesses are encouraged to adopt their adjacent hydrants also.

Help your community by helping yourselves!

United Way Says Thank You

United Way of Washington County agencies, volunteers and donors have something to cheer about: raising $1,065,350 in the 1998 United Way campaign.

According to Ray Lipman, Chairman of the 1998 volunteer effort, the fund drive is officially "over the top" with a finish of $1,065,350. That is $350 over the goal of $1,065,000, and $32,800 more than the strong finish of 1997. "I am so very proud of the hundreds of volunteers and thousands of donors who put their hearts into the campaign, and really personified the 'United Way -- Helping Every Day' campaign theme," said Lipman.

United Way reported $1,028,500 in early December. "The generosity and 'keep at it spirit' of donors and volunteers is so very humbling and heart-warming," said Barbara Hurula, Executive Director of the United Way.

"Once again, the businesses and individual donors in Washington County came through and showed that our community is truly committed to meeting needs and ensuring necessary services for friends, neighbors and co-workers. United Way helps residents right here in Washington County throughout the year," she stated.

In addition to finishing the campaign at 3.1% over the previous year's total, this is the highest amount of money ever raised by United Way in the organization's 62-year history.

"When you first begin a campaign, you are optimistic that you'll reach your goal," said Lipman. "Along the way we faced challenges, but we were also reminded of people's generosity, and that we can help those who really need help," he said.

Board President Dan Johnson commented, "On behalf of the United Way Board of Directors and the United Way agencies, I would like to compliment the hard work and ongoing efforts of all our campaign volunteers who kept working to bring help and hope to our community. These volunteers saw first-hand what the needs were; they rolled up their sleeves and kept working until the job was finished. I'd like to congratulate Ray Lipman and the Division Leaders, Loaned Executives and Division Volunteers. We couldn't have done it without the countless hours all of them put into this important effort," he said.

Hurula also complimented the efforts of the volunteers. "Words like 'caring' and 'sharing' are action words that come to life with the United Way campaign in Washington County each year. The majority of our donors help people they will never see or meet personally," she said. "The efficiency of United Way helps assure that dollars go where they are most needed."

"The good news is that the 24 member Agencies will receive promised funding that was allocated earlier in 1998, and was based on us reaching our goal," commented Lipman. "And Washington County as a whole benefits from these services."

Well done, and a heartfelt thanks to Washington County!

Local Reporters to Receive WASB Media Awards

MADISON -- Five reporters from daily and weekly newspapers will be honored for exceptional reporting on Wisconsin's public schools during the annual convention of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards, Wisconsin Association of School District Administrators and Wisconsin Association of School Business Officials.

They are the first-place winners in the 1998 WASB Media Awards contest and will be presented with engraved brass school bells by WASB President Nancy Donovan on January 21 in the Midwest Express Center, Milwaukee.

The winners are Kathy Walsh Nufer of The Post-Crescent (Appleton), Julie Buckles of The Daily Press (Ashland), Vaughn R. Larson of The Review (Plymouth), Steve Van Dien of the Brown Deer Herald and Sandy Schurter of the Germantown Banner Press.

The judges also selected 14 second- and third-place winners, who will receive special certificates that commend their achievement.

Included among these winners, receiving a second place in the Best News Article in a Small Weekly Newspaper category, is Sharon Callaway Roznik of the Kewaskum Statesman for her articles, "Open House Draws Attention to Facility Problems at KES" and "Kewaskum School District Students Raise Their Achievement Test Scores."

Curt Casetta of the Kewaskum Statesman received a third place in the Best Feature Article in a Small Weekly Newspaper category, for his articles, "KHS School-to-Work Works" and "FES Maps Out State History."

"I congratulate these reporters on their awards and commend them for the important contribution they have made to education," WASB Executive Director Ken Cole said. "By keeping members of the community informed about what's going on in their schools, reporters help build support for education. That support is key to creating successful schools."

The WASB has sponsored the writing contest since 1965. This year, 81 entries were received from across the state, and winners were selected in news and feature categories -- representing small and large daily and weekly newspapers. The articles had to have been published between October 1997 and October

The entries covered myriad topics and addressed some of today's most important educational issues, including academic standards and testing, special needs students, technology, parental involvement, science education and school facilities.

Four judges, chosen for their familiarity with educational issues and professional journalism, read and scored the entries. Each entry was judged according to how well it met the following criteria: significance, originality and creativity, positive tone, thoroughness and ease of understanding by the average reader.

'KICK' Receives State Award At Polka Hall of Fame

"KICK," a young group of musicians led by Danny Jerabek of Slinger, was honored at the 1998 Wisconsin Polka Hall of Fame in November.

"KICK" was recognized for their musical talent by being presented with the Horizon Award and was named the "Best New/Young Band." Many other artists were also awarded for their accomplishments at the ceremony held in Milwaukee.

"KICK" was formed in December of 1997 with intentions to bring back "Live" entertainment, appealing to all age groups and occasions. Most of the members of "KICK" grew up listening to "old tyme" polkas, which were unique from the majority of kids their age.

"KICK" recognized the potential of the polka beat and put their own style to it -- creating a new sound. So far this group has spent their first year together performing throughout the states and gathering a supportive following.

"KICK" performs a "melting pot" of styles -- featuring many ethnic polkas, hits from the 60's to the 90's, rock, country, and swing. The band also recorded some original compositions.

"KICK" consists of five dedicated members that perform every weekend throughout the states. Jay Yungwirth of Appleton is featured on keyboard and German vocals. Danny Jerabek plays the button accordion, as well as guitar, trumpet, clarinet and vocals. Danny also does most of the arranging for the band.

Dave Jerabek, Danny's younger brother, plays bass guitar, tuba on the ethnic songs, and also contributes to the vocals. Danny and Dave were previously part of their dad's band from Ripon, along with Jay.

Michelle (Thull) Jerabek, Danny's wife, assists the "KICK" sound with the sax, guitar and vocals. She also grew up with a family polka background from Kewaskum.

Mark Powers of Wausau completes the group's style with vocals and a high-powered beat on the drums.

"KICK" has future plans to bring back fun. LIVE dance music to the schools, colleges, weddings, and many other occasions. For additional information (CDs or tapes, schedules or comments) check out the "KICK" website at www.kick.bigw.org or email: dmjerabek@juno.com or call 414-644-0089 and ask for Dan.

Tour Ancient Greece, Modern Resorts with UWWC Professors

WEST BEND -- University of Wisconsin-Washington County history professor Michael Thorn is offering to take area history buffs on an extended "field trip" to Greece and the Greek Isles.

"Greece and its islands were the birthplace of western civilization," Thorn said. "You can learn much about our own civilization, just by walking the ground where ancient Greek philosophers once taught."

Thorn and fellow professor Pat Roby, of UWWC's English Department, will conduct a ten-day tour of Greece and some of its neighboring islands, set to depart from UWWC May 27, 1999. Thorn and Roby will conduct an information meeting for those interested at noon, Saturday, January 16, in the Fireside Lounge at UWWC. The college is located at 400 University Drive, West Bend.

Thorn said that tour participants would have ample opportunity to explore historic sites in Greece.

He explained that the tour would begin with a flight from Chicago to Athens, where participants will spend two days exploring antiquities with an expert local tour guide. The tour will climb the Acropolis and explore the Parthenon, said by many to be one of the world's most beautiful buildings. Following that, group members will be offered a day-trip to nearby Delphi, home of the fabled Oracle of Delphi and the Temple of Apollo.

Tour group members next will board ship for a relaxing four-day cruise through the azure Aegean Sea waters, calling at islands like Rhodes and Crete. Finally, on returning to Athens, the group will journey to Cape Sounion, site of the Great Temple of Poseidon and some breathtaking views of the Aegean Coast.

Thorn said that tour group members needn't fear an exhausting schedule. "Members can expect to have plenty of free time to explore on their own, swim, go shopping, or just sit in the sun," he said.

Costs for the tour now are set at $1,956 for members under 25, and $2,391 for those over 25, and includes all airfares and customs fees, steamship fares with three meals per day, sightseeing tours, and four nights in superior hotels with breakfast and dinner included.

For more information about the tour or the informational meeting, please contact Roby or Thorn at (920) 528-7308 or (608) 831-0515 respectively.

Traffic Crashes Claim 708; Death Rate Lowest on Record

Traffic crashes in Wisconsin during December claimed the lives of 74 people, bringing the number of people killed on the state's roads and highways during 1998 to 708, according to preliminary figures from the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT).

For the year, that's down 13 from the 721 who were killed during 1997 and down 18 from the most recent five-year average. The safest post World War II year on Wisconsin Roads was in 1992 when 645 people were killed.

In December 1997, crashes claimed 76 lives. The safest December was recorded in 1983 when 40 people lost their lives. The deadliest December was in 1960 when crashes claimed 124 lives.

"We're encouraged by the reduction in traffic fatalities last year and can credit safer cars, safer roads, and improved emergency medical services," said WisDOT Secretary Charles Thompson. "We know more lives could have been saved if people had been wearing their safety belts, and we are continuing to develop programs that get that message out."

According to the preliminary data, 390 drivers, 179 passengers, 63 pedestrians, 58 motorcycle drivers, seven motorcycle passengers and 11 bicyclists were killed in traffic crashes in Wisconsin last year. That compares to the 410 drivers, 181 passengers, 62 pedestrians, 54 motorcycle drivers, nine motorcycle passengers and five bicyclists who were killed in crashes during 1997.

The 708 fatalities, combined with an estimated three percent jump in the number of miles traveled by motorists last year, has resulted in a record low traffic death rate of 1.28, far surpassing 1997's record low rate of 1.34. The rate is the number of fatalities for every 100 million vehicle miles traveled. WisDOT is estimating that motorists drove some 55.3 billion miles in Wisconsin last year, up from the 53.7 billion miles driven during 1997.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor,

RE: Clarification of Facts From Teschendorf Letter

Recently you published a letter from Mr. Richard Teschendorf referencing the three failed school referendums and the possibility of building a FREE elementary school based on interest savings.

I believe some clarification of the facts is in order so that the electors in the District receive the correct information.

Mr. Teschendorf states that the State picks up 66% of each school budget and the taxpayers 33%. This is not correct. Each district receives State aid to support the schools. According to the Annual Report of the Public Policy Forum, Kewaskum Schools received 58% State aid for the 1997-98 school year, 38% from taxpayers and 5% from other sources. The Erin District in comparison received 36% State aid, 60% from local taxpayers and 4% from other sources. In fact, not one district in Washington County received 66% State aid in 1997-98.

Mr. Teschendorf also assumes that on a 50/50 split, the State would contribute half to a building construction program based again on State aid. This again is incorrect. Kewaskum is a negative tertiary aid district. For every dollar we spend for long term debt, we lose State aid. For example, if the District were to borrow $12,000,000 for 20 years -- it would lose an estimated $2,805,366.00 in State aid over the life of the loan. This would have to be made up by local taxpayers.

Mr. Teschendorf also assumes that the District will continue to see increased equalized growth as it has in the past. There is no question that there will be some growth - the percentage can only be determined by the actual sales of property in the District. I believe we will not see the 7, 8 and 9% increases as we did in the past because the average home buyer has reached a limit as to what he or she can afford to pay. As a result the equalized increases will fall more in the 3 to 5% range. In addition, since Kewaskum is a largely rural district, farm land is now assessed on a use basis not potential use basis. This has and will result in a lower level of assessment for farm land, especially in the Towns of Scott, Auburn and Wayne. The end result being that urban or residential property owners will assume more of the school costs based on value.

Mr. Teschendorf is correct when he states that the State did give property tax relief. This occurred in the 1996-97 school year. The Kewaskum mill rate in 1994-95 was $15.77 per thousand of equalized value. In 1995-96 it dropped to $14.42 and for the past three years it has been $10.56 per thousand. The District returned to taxpayers all but $1.00 of the State aid increase in 1996-97. This dollar was used for debt defeasance or the buying down of the District's long term debt obligations. This was again done in 1997-1998 and 1998-99. The total reduction without interest now exceeds $1,500,000.00 and will result in the long term debt being paid off as much as six years earlier.

In closing, it is true some of the costs of building a new elementary school and remodeling others could be born by using the money the District defeases each year. However, the District will not get a new elementary school FREE because of the way aid is structured to local districts from the State.

Sincerely yours,
George G. Allmann

To Larry Martin and the Town of Scott Board,

If anyone in the Town of Scott or the Board itself would like to see a copy of the NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING 1999 PROPOSED BUDGET that was handed out at the November 17, 1998 meeting which states the 1997 Proposed Tax Levy for the Town at 0.00331 and the 1998 levy at 0.003461 please call me or stop at my home. I will gladly show any interested party this "misinformation" as Mr. Martin calls it.

As for the remaining items mentioned in Mr. Martin's letter to the Statesman on January 8, 1999 I will respond to each at a later date.

Once again Kewaskum High School's Child Development Class taught by Mrs. Carol Martin held their annual preschool December 8th thru January 8th.

Child Development is a Foods and Consumer Education (FACE) elective offered to high school juniors and seniors. The first half (quarter) of the course deals with preparing to have a child, carrying the child, the birth process, and how to care for the newborn. During the second half (quarter) the class holds their own preschool. Many weeks of preparation lead up to approximately twelve days of preschool.

"Preschool provides an opportunity for community parents to send their three, four and five year olds to a free preschool that will give them a small taste of what school will be like. It provides the juniors and seniors first-hand experience practicing what they learn in the formal classroom," said Martin.

"Preschool was a good learning experience for us (the students) and it prepared the kids for the classroom setting," said student, Angie Thull.

The parents drop the kids off at the high school and the children participate in numerous activities such as playtime, circle-time, story-time, music/fingerplay and art.

Martin started teaching in Kewaskum in 1977, in the FACE department.

She says "It's kind of ironic, many of my present high schoolers were in preschool as three, four and five year olds."

The program has been very successful in all its years of operation. Martin attributes most of her success to the "cooperation of community resources" especially her former student Shawn Roberts, former owner of My Little Friends Day Care Center. "For many years Shawn

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ARLENE HERRIGES, who passed away one year ago, Dec 18, 1997:

Life goes on and a year has gone by,
But precious memories never die,
After the end of one sad year,
Our hearts ache with sadness and God only knows-
How much we miss the one we loved so dear.
Living on, in this world of sorrow and strife
Until we will meet again in heaven
To live "together forever" in THAT happy life.

Sadly missed by her husband Ray and family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of LESLIE ENGELMANN, who passed away two years ago, Jan. 15, 1997:

Though his smile is gone forever
And his hand we can not touch
We have so many memories
Of the one we loved so much
His memory is our keepsake
With which we never part
God has him in his keeping
We have him in our heart

Sadly missed by his wife and family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of DOROTHY KAEHNE who passed away one year ago on January 12, 1998:

A year ago we said goodbye to you "Ma."

It's been hard because you were our friend, confidant, and you made each of us feel special.

So now we cherish the memories and miss you, but we know you are watching over us and smiling with our Heavenly Father.

Village Board Meeting Minutes

Regular Meeting
December 7, 1998
8:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Regular Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Robert Wagner presided. All other Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of the November 23, 1998 meeting were approved as printed.

A public hearing was held on the request of LB Entrepreneurs, for the rezoning of the parcel located north of CTH "H" (37.83 acres including roadways) from B-2 General Business District to R-1 Single-Family Residence District. The property is known by tax key number V4-0182-00Z. (The property previously known as the Spoerl farm, just south of the KKCP). President Robert Wagner stated that this was a rezoning hearing only and that there appeared to be only 2 or 3 options available to the Board.

1) Leave zoning as is, that being B-2, allowing for any number of businesses to be located there. A list of those businesses was available for review. 2) Change the zoning to R-1, the highest class of single-family residence district. 3) Possibly hold off for implementation of a new higher single-family residential district, if one is moved forward. This option may lead to some legal discussion and is not recommended by legal counsel or SEWRPC. It was noted the matter has been reviewed by the Plan Commission and sent to the Board with a favorable recommendation. Thirteen people were in attendance regarding the matter. Attorney Karen Christanson spoke on behalf of LB Entrepreneurs requesting the rezoning.

1) Mr. Kelly Scannell spoke in favor of the potential rezoning indicating the points as raised at a previous meeting lacked validity.

2) Mr. Eric Anderson asked what the time frame for the completion of the development would be. The developers indicated the projection was for five years.

3) President Robert Wagner indicated he had talked to Mrs. Judy Harlow and she had indicated the Village should try and maintain growth. Several topics including how that could be managed was discussed with her.

4) Mr. James Reigle indicated it is more important to plan growth. It was indicated that for over 36 years when he built his home, the community was aware that the road known as Edgewood Road would connect CTH "H" to CTH "28". He indicated the developers are local and have done a good job on previous projects. We should be concerned about their rights to develop within the limits of the Village ordinances and state laws.

5) Dr. Charles Ogi agreed with Mr. Reigle's comments and stated he thought the proposal was good for the area.

6) Trustee John Kenworthy indicated the Board only had two options:

- 1) Leave zoning B-2
- 2) Change zoning to R-1

He asked the Director of Public Works Jerry Gilles if the Village's infrastructure could support the development. The response was, yes it can. Trustee Kenworthy further noted the Board should be aware of any development on the School District, but acknowledged that is really was not relevant to the Village. He indicated he favored residential growth in this area over business.

7) President Robert Wagner reminded the group that the road was not an issue for it would be constructed under either zoning.

8) President Robert Wagner said he had a conversation with Mr. David Goeden and promised that he would mention holding off on the zoning until the possibility of having an alternative single-family zoning in place. The matter of timing and the legal issues were shared with per President Wagner.

9) Trustee Andy Pesch indicated the road has always been planned to go from H to 28 and is needed. It was further stated it is a shame the full street with the boulevard can't be constructed at the same time as the west traffic land. Mr. Reigle said the matter is open for discussion.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee Warren Dums and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board closed the public hearing. Roll call vote was 6 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent" 1 "Abstention." Trustee Gary Gavin abstained.

Doing Battle With Winter: Making Winter Roads Safer

Making roads safer is the object of tests that are continuing in Brown and Walworth counties this winter. As part of a project funded by the Wisconsin Department of Transportation and the Federal Highway Administration, two anti-icing techniques are being studied to see if they can be helpful in limiting formation of ice and snow on highways.

In Brown County, the county highway department will continue an experiment begun last winter by applying a mixture of fine-grade and regular-grade road salt on a test section of I-43 at Green Bay this winter. Fine-graded salt is crushed to pieces that range in size from as small as table salt up to no more than three-eighths-inch across. Normal road salt can be up to one-half inch in diameter.

"During tests last year using just fine-graded salt, we found that while it reacted more quickly with moisture at times when ice was expected to form, it didn't keep working as long as we would have liked, necessitating additional applications," said David Vieth, director of the Wisconsin Department of Transportation's Bureau of Highway Operations. "By mixing the fine-graded salt with regular road salt, we hope to get the best of both worlds -- fast acting and longer lasting."

Vieth said if the new mix proves successful, the option of using it will be offered to other county highway departments across the state.

In Walworth County, a test of an anti-icing device that is designed to eliminate the common problem of black ice on bridges will be continued this winter and next winter. Black ice is a phenomenon in which a thin sheen of ice forms on pavement, making the pavement look dry when it is actually glare ice.

The anti-icing device has been mounted directly to one of two parallel bridge decks on I-43 near Delavan. The device, activated when ice conditions are forecast, automatically sprays the bridges with de-icing chemicals to prevent the formation of ice.

A video camera has been mounted on the bridge to observe the device's effectiveness. By placing the device at this bridge location, a side-by-side evaluation can be made of how it works compared to the traditional deicing efforts used on the adjacent bridge deck. The test, which began last year, was inconclusive, due to the mild nature of the winter of 1997-98.

An automatic weather monitoring station and pavement temperature sensor have also been installed at that site to better monitor pavement conditions at that location. The systems have been linked together to allow the anti-icing sprayer to activate automatically, whenever the pavement temperature at the bridge nears freezing and conditions are favorable for the formation of ice.

Previously, it was activated by remote control from the Walworth County Highway Department or the Wisconsin Department of Transportation's district office in Waukesha.

"We're hoping that by seeing how well these anti-icing techniques work, how cost-effective they are, and how efficiently they improve traveler safety, we'll be able to determine if they could be useful technologies in other parts of the state," Vieth said.

Regardless of the effectiveness of these new techniques, Vieth emphasizes that the most important element of winter road safety is the driver. "Motorists must adjust their driving to meet rapidly changing conditions and use good judgment when traveling in winter," Vieth added.

NOTICE TO ALL WASHINGTON COUNTY DOG OWNERS

Pursuant to Section 174.052, Wisconsin Statutes, notice is hereby given to all owners of dogs in Washington County that dog licenses and rabies vaccinations are required.

Vaccination by a licensed veterinarian against rabies is required of all dogs (Section 95.21(2)) within 30 days after the dog reaches 4 months of age and revaccinated within one year after the initial vaccination. The owner of a dog shall have the dog revaccinated against rabies by a veterinarian when the certificate expires or within three (3) years of previous vaccination. The certificate of rabies vaccination must be presented to the collecting official before a dog license may be issued.

All dogs five (5) months of age or older require a license. The minimum license fee for neutered males or spayed females is $3.00, upon presentation of evidence attesting to the same, and $8.00 for the unneutered male or unspayed female dog or one-half of these amounts if the dog became five (5) months of age after July 1 of the license year. The governing body of any town, village or city may raise the minimum dog license tax. Any person who keeps or operates a kennel may apply for a kennel license. The fee is $35.00 for twelve (12) dogs or less and an additional $3.00 for each dog in excess of twelve (12).

Dog licenses can be obtained from your local town, village or city treasurer or designee during the course of any given year. Dog owners should notify their treasurer if their dog is given away or has died, so that you will not be considered delinquent. An affidavit of death is available.

PENALTY

Every owner of a dog 5 months of age or older who fails to obtain a license by April 1 will be assessed a late fee of $5.00.

Meetings on Regional Land Use Plan Scheduled in Area

Three public meetings have been scheduled around Washington County during January to discuss a 2020 land use plan for the Southeastern Wisconsin Region.

The Washington County Park and Planning Commission in cooperation with the Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission is hosting these meetings, designed to present key plan recommendations and obtain citizen comments. The County Park and Planning Commission is considering a plan for possible recommendation to the Washington County Board of Supervisors for adoption.

Details related to the public meetings are as follows: information meetings will be held January 14, at 7 p.m. in the Kewaskum Municipal Building, 204 First Street, and January 21, at 7 p.m. at the Washington County Golf Course, 6439 Clover Road, just east of Hwy. 83, north of Hartford. A Public Hearing will be held January 27, at 3 p.m. at the Washington County Public Agency Center, Room 1113A, 333 E. Washington Street, West Bend.

The year 2020 regional land use plan incorporates the basic principles and concepts of previously adopted plans for Southeastern Wisconsin targeting the years 1990, 2000, and 2010.

Each generation of the plan has looked about 20 years into the future. The new plan continues to promote a compact, centralized regional settlement pattern. Urban development is thus recommended to occur within, and along the periphery of, existing urban centers like Germantown, Hartford, Jackson, Kewaskum, Slinger, and West Bend.

New urban development would be accommodated in areas which are physically suitable for such development and which may be readily served by basic urban services. These services typically include sanitary sewer, water supply, and where available, public transit services. The plan also seeks to preserve the environmentally sensitive lands and the most productive farmlands in Washington County and the Region.

Like previous regional plans, the new plan is advisory in nature. Plan implementation will depend largely upon the willingness of county and local governments to use land use controls to shape development patterns in the regional interest.

In recent years, Washington County has experienced extensive rural residential development -- the spillover of development from urban areas into more rural areas. This trend has prompted concern on the part of both local officials and citizens.

In 1996, it led to the creation of a countywide Growth Management Task Force, a number of whose recommendations hinge on implementation of the regional land use plan.

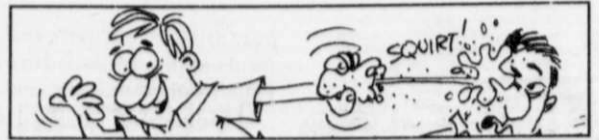

For the future, it is expected that good planning and plan implementation will increase in importance. Washington County, for example, has been the Region's most rapidly growing county on the basis of percent change in population. The year 2020 plan projects that this trend will continue. Some 33,500 persons are envisioned to be added to the County's population between 1990 and 2020, an increase of 35.2%.

Carefully planning for changes sure to come and guiding the expected growth are at the heart of the year 2020 regional land use plan.

For more information please contact: Southeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission at 414-547-6721; Washington County Land Use and Park Department at 414-335-4445, or Washington County UW-Extension at 414-335-4480.

What Should Go Into a Financial Plan

Many people know they need a financial plan to help them set goals in these complex and unsure financial times. But what is a financial plan, and what should go into one?

Think of a financial plan as a road map you would use to lay out your vacation trip. A financial plan marks where you are now, where you want to go and what you want to do along the way, the best route to get there, and how fast you want to get there.

What goes into a plan will depend on what you want to plan to accomplish. A focused plan hones in on a single area, such as funding a college education or an insurance needs analysis. You might want two or three focused plans bundled together. Or you may want a comprehensive plan that covers the broad spectrum of your finances.

Let's assume you want a comprehensive plan -- whether it's one you construct yourself or one that you develop with a professional advisor. A good plan -- even just a focused plan -- starts with the complete and accurate gathering of facts about your financial life. If you don't know exactly where you are on your financial map, you won't be able to chart a route to your destinations.

Most Certified Planner professionals will start with a fact-gathering questionnaire. They want a clear picture of your income sources and expenses, amount and types of investments, debts and assets, insurance, retirement accounts, tax situations, estate planning, and family status (married, children, etc.). They want to know your general attitude toward money, financial fears, level of financial knowledge risk tolerance and value systems. These facts should be summarized in the plan.

The plan should articulate personal goals that require financial strategies. These will come from the questionnaire or in conversations with the planner, or what you've written out yourself. Do you want to start or buy your own business, buy a home, fund a wedding, reduce taxes, put children through college or retire? Be specific. Do you want to retire early (how early), take a normal retirement or phase into retirement? How important is each goal? These goals are the destinations on your road map. They affect the route and how fast you want to travel.

Once your financial data is clarified, and your goals identified, a good plan develops and recommends specific strategies and objectives to meet your needs. This is the route on the map. It might be an investment plan, estate planning tools and some tax strategies. These recommendations should be customized for your needs, resources and abilities. The plan might say you need to accumulate X dollars for retirement and recommend a route that fits your tolerance. It gives you objectives along the way to mark your progress ("On day three of our trip, we want to be here").

A plan needs to balance your various goals and financial resources. You may need to consider alternative strategies (a route) for the same goal. You may not reach your destination as soon as you'd hoped. A particular goal may not appear realistic and may need to be modified. You may have to trade off some goals for other, more attainable goals.

The plan should include resources for emergencies -- the financial equivalent of a spare tire, extra belts and hoses, flares and a flashlight. What if you lose your job or become disabled? These financial setbacks -- delays and detours on our trip -- can ruin a well-laid-out plan. Resources might include an emergency fund and the right amount of disability and life insurance, medical insurance and perhaps long-term care insurance. The plan might recommend, for example, buying more life insurance before starting an investment plan.

Ultimately, a good financial plan should be clear, realistic, doable and inspiration. It's less about numbers than what those numbers can do for you. It also needs to be monitored and flexible. Life has a way of changing the best of plans. If one stretch of the route or a goal becomes unrealistic, the plan should be capable of altering it.

Indulgent Hot Chocolate Delights

(NAPS)—It can be surprisingly easy to enjoy an everyday indulgence and satisfy cravings for rich chocolate flavor.

A delicious, hot, chocolatey drink to delight the senses can be made in minutes with flavorful syrups that you probably already have in the refrigerator.

Just heat the milk and stir in Hershey's Chocolate or Strawberry Syrup. By adding extra ingredients, it's possible to make a different treat each day.

Here are a few ideas to savor. More recipes can be found at www.hersheys.com on the Internet.

Rich Hot Chocolate: For a quick spur of the moment Hot Chocolate, stir 2 to 3 tablespoons Hershey's Syrup into 1 cup hot milk. Top with marshmallows or stir in marshmallow creme, if desired. For a special occasion, stir in a drop of almond, orange or raspberry extract.

Chocolatey Mochaccino: In a large mug or cup, stir together equal amounts of hot milk and strong hot coffee and 2 to 3 tablespoons Hershey Syrup. Sweeten to taste. Top with steamed milk or whipped cream and a sprinkling of ground cinnamon.

Brandied Hot Chocolate: In a large mug or cup, stir together 2 to 3 tablespoons Hershey's Syrup, 1 cup hot milk and 1 tablespoon brandy or 1/8 teaspoon brandy extract. Serve with whipped cream, if desired.

Hot Strawberry Soother: In a large mug or cup, stir together 1 cup hot milk and 2 to 3 tablespoons Hershey's Strawberry Syrup. Top with whipped cream, if desired.

Smooth Mocha Coffee: Combine 1 cup hot coffee and 2 to 3 tablespoons Hershey's Syrup or Hershey's Special Dark Syrup. Serve with whipped cream and a sprinkling of ground cinnamon, if desired.

Lady Indians Lose Second And Third Games in a Row

The Kewaskum Lady Indians lost both games they played in the last week, first to a tough Slinger team, and then to the Jets from Manitowoc-Roncalli. The girls were pumped and ready to go when the Owls from Slinger stepped onto the fieldhouse floor. Unfortunately, Slinger was just too tough, and Kewaskum lost, 58-48.

It was a very exciting game, with the Lady Indians making a couple attempts at comebacks. Jenny Kraft started off the game by drilling a three-pointer (one of two she had on the game).

Rena Hills and Kraft got into foul trouble early, so other players had to step up and play. Lauren Steinhart did an excellent job of defending Crystal Gassner, and Amy Piwoni did a fine job of pushing the ball for the Indians.

Sarah Schwinn led the Indians with 20 points, and also flirted with a triple-double, getting nine rebounds and nine steals. Kraft helped her out on the scoring end with 12 points.

Laura Schwinn had five steals. Janine Emmer led four Owls who scored in double-digits with 18. Gassner had 12, and Cassi Suebert and Mary Castillo both chipped in with 11.

On to Roncalli they went. Shots weren't falling. Laura Schwinn got in early foul trouble, and they just didn't show the excitement and enthusiasm that they did against Slinger. The girls came out incredibly flat. They only scored nine points in the first half (five in the first and four in the second).

At the beginning of the second half the ladies started to show some life and were ready to go. They had just dug too deep of a hole and were unable to climb out. Poor free-throw shooting was the nail in the coffin. Kewaskum shot only 20% from the line (4x14). The result was a loss to a team who was 1-3 in conference. Kewaskum is now 3-2.

S. Schwinn once again led Kewaskum with 12 points and nine boards. Kraft pitched in with seven points, four assists, and five steals. L. Schwinn had five points. Piwoni made a three-point shot at the buzzer which brought a smile to everyone's face. Dani Nass had four rebounds. Kam Krall led Roncalli with 14 points. The final was 50-39, Roncalli.

Kewaskum's next game is January 12 at Plymouth. They also play Sheboygan Falls on January 14 at home.

Slow Start Dooms Frosh Boys

Failure to get off to a fast start seems to be a recurring problem for the Kewaskum High School freshmen boys basketball team. On Friday, versus Manitowoc Roncalli, the Jets jumped off to a 35-12 halftime lead and never looked back, on the way to a 59-41 Eastern Wisconsin Conference victory.

Poor shooting from the field and free-throw line plagued the young Indians as Roncalli held KHS to only four points in the second quarter.

The team came out with more intensity in the second half. More efficient ball movement created better scoring opportunities, as KHS outscored their opponent, 29-24, but by that time, the outcome had already been determined.

Bryan Kraft led the Indians with 12 points, five rebounds, three assists and three steals. Luke Kehres was next with 10 points. Nick Thorn had seven points and contributed five rebounds also. Other scorers for Kewaskum were Tony Fitts with four; Josh Repovsch with two, Chris Baker with two and Josh Harris with two.

Kewaskum hosts Plymouth on Thursday, January 14. The freshmen and JV start at 6 p.m., followed by the varsity at 7:30 p.m.

Indian Boys Lose Close Games to Port and Roncalli

The Kewaskum boys varsity basketball team traveled to Port Washington to challenge their non-conference foe, the Pirates.

Kewaskum was down 13-14 at the end of the first quarter as Andy Christophersen netted two three-pointers early. The second frame saw the Pirates getting hot and singeing the nets for 22 points, taking a 36-27 halftime lead.

They were led by their 6'5" center, Justin Orvis, who had been hurt all season, this being his first game back. Aaron Seiser netted six points in the second quarter for the Indians.

Port continued its hot shooting and took a commanding 15 point lead midway through the third quarter. The Indians then went on a 15-4 scoring run to cut the Port advantage down to four with 2:30 left in the contest.

Christophersen and John Warnecke led the charge as they combined for 26 second half points. Kewaskum was then forced to start fouling. Port answered the call as they netted 12 fourth quarter free throws to hold off the Indians, 69-62.

"We had a real nice run to cut it to four, but couldn't get over the hump," Coach Tom Timblin reported. He added, "We outscored them in the second half, but once again dug too deep of a hole. We spend all our energy coming back."

Kewaskum was led by Christophersen who had a season high 26 points, eight rebounds and three steals. Warnecke also chipped in 14 points and added nine boards. "They made 21 free throws to our six. That's tough to overcome," Coach Timblin stated, adding, "We were happy for Todd Wright who made two three-pointers."

On Friday night, Manitowoc Roncalli came to town with a 7-1 record, including a 3-0 Eastern Wisconsin Conference mark.

The Jets eventually escaped with a 72-66 win, but their glossy state ranking was in jeopardy until the very end of the game. Kewaskum inserted a new offense this week to shake things up. It seemed to be just what the doctor ordered, as they shot 49% from the field, a season high thus far.

The Indians got out of the blocks early, scoring 18 first quarter points to take a one point lead at the quarter. Josh Gaffke, John Warnecke and Shaun Timblin added six, six and four points early. Gaffke stayed hot in the second quarter as Kewaskum batted Roncalli's full court press with the Indians ending up down two at the half.

A fine third quarter effort propelled the Indians to a 52-51 lead as Aaron Seiser scored all six of his points and played great defense. Roncalli's deep bench started to assert itself in the fourth quarter as the tiring home team endured numerous unforced turnovers.

Billy Cook tried to rally Kewaskum with five quick points, but free throws again put the final nail in the Indian's casket as the Jets converted 12 of 14 compared to Kewaskum's two of five in the fourth quarter effort.

The game wasn't decided until the final thirty seconds, but the Jets hung on.

"This was our best overall game of the season. It's heartbreaking for the kids to be losing all these games at the end," stated Coach Timblin. "I need to get our key people more rest in the first half. Our bench needs to respond. Josh had the hot hand, and Andy held the conference's second leading scorer in check and had seven assists. John led us with 19 and again battled till the end."

Kewaskum's record dropped to a disappointing 0-8 overall and 0-4 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference. League leading Plymouth comes to town on Thursday night. Freshmen and JV's play at 6 p.m. with the varsity following at 7:30 p.m. The Indians then travel to Random Lake on Saturday afternoon with the freshmen and JVs at 1 p.m. and the varsity at 2:30 p.m.
