has a surprise performance from the Gown Gallery, just in time for proms, weddings and special spring parties.

Ed Miller and Steve Miller will again represent Miller's Furniture in the men's fashion line. Shawn Roberts will represent the Weight Watchers Program of Kewaskum in this show and Jenny and Janet Heberer will represent Heberer Brothers Construction of Kewaskum.

This is only the beginning of a truly enjoyable afternoon. The fashions are always a joy to see, the ever-popular raffles will be there just waiting for you to win, and the vast array of food will be a treat to tempt you. And... all with a glass of champagne for that special elegant touch!

Don't miss this special event on Wednesday, April 21, as Wendi and her committee take you from your work to a few hours of fun and relaxation. As in the past, Wendi will be the emcee, and those of you who have attended previously, know that it's always a joy to hear her add her "professional" touch to the fashions and models.

Call Wendi with your reservations today. The seating is limited this year and all seats will be issued on a first come, first serve basis for the dining and the hour. With your help, this event has always been a success and this year will be no exception. The Chamber takes great pride in presenting this unique and popular show.

Reading Goes Prime Time

As part of its annual celebration of reading, Kewaskum Elementary School invited readers in grades three, four and five to receive pledges for pages they could read in one night at the school, during "Prime Time Reading." Here, KES librarian Mrs. Roehrig accepts the $169.40 raised by the students to buy books for the KES library. Representing the Prime Time Readers are, from left, Nathan Kenworthy, fifth grade; Anna Rick, fourth grade and Michael Gutjahr, third grade. While the older grades earned their pledges, students in the lower grades participated in "Bedtime Books," in which students and the guest readers dressed in their PJs and read some books.

A Walk Down Fond du Lac Avenue

On our last stop on the west side of the street on Fond du Lac Avenue, heading south, we come to the building that is now home to Dick's (Laubach) Welding, situated in-between Rain Dance Car Wash and Doctors Inn Bed and Breakfast. The building as shown in the above photo was a Texaco Station and later changed to a DX station in 1940 when it was run by Buck Bartelt. At one point in time, the building was occupied by Lee Honeck Supply and also Wally's (Cudnohoske) Bike Shop. The site has a long history, but unfortunately it was prior to this writer's birth. Anyone who can remember the history more extensively, please give the Statesman a call.

The Scenic Moraine All-Conference basketball team selected was headlined by two unanimous choices, Lud Wurtz of Mayville and Marc Hantke of Germantown. Kewaskum can take a bow for Mike Koepke, their junior 6-2 center who battled the big guys for the second year in a row and many times came out the better player. Koepke, who was on the second team in his sophomore year, repeats as a junior and still has another year to go. In some games, Mike had 20 or more rebounds and ended 19th in scoring with a 10 point average. The honorable mention list included Don Gruber of Kewaskum.

The first Scenic Moraine All-Conference girls' basketball team was selected last week. Second place (tie) Kewaskum fared well by having girls named on both the first and second teams. Picked on the first team by the coaches were: Vivian Schacht of Kewaskum, Sue Konrath of Slinger, Joyce Stuetgen of Germantown, Jane Martin of Mayville and Lorraine Tetzlaff of Hartland. Also on the second team from the area was Diane Strack, a sophomore from Kewaskum.

Grothman Appointed To Serve on Committee

MADISON -- State Representative Glenn Grothman (R-West Bend) was recently appointed as the newest member of the Assembly's Committee on Children and Families.

Grothman was chosen by Assembly Speaker Scott Jensen (R-Waukesha) on Wednesday to replace Representative David Ward (R-Fort Atkinson) who is now serving on the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee.

"It's important to get someone like Glenn Grothman on this committee," Assembly Speaker Scott Jensen stated. "This is an active committee and it's vital we have someone with legal experience to keep an eye on the ultra-liberals who believe the only solution is more bureaucrats and more spending without any accountability to the taxpayers."

"I'm thrilled to have Representative Grothman on board. There is a shortage of conservatives on this committee and we need someone with a common sense perspective," Representative Bonnie Ladwig (R-Caledonia), Chair of the Assembly Children and Families Committee, stated.

Grothman's appointment to the Assembly Children and Families Committee marks membership to his ninth committee.

100,000 Pages and Counting

Students from Mrs. Rankin's grade fourth/fifth class at KES gather in the school library to celebrate reaching their goal of reading 100,000 total pages so far this year.

A Classroom Of Readers

By Zack Parish and Amanda Calliari, of Mrs. Rankin's Class

In August, right after school started, Mrs. Rankin's fourth/fifth grade students at Kewaskum Elementary School, set a goal to read 75,000 pages before the end of the school year. We asked Mr. Kriewaldt if he would treat to Dairy Queen if we ever reached our goal and he agreed. He also wished us good luck.

We were really pleased when we exceeded our goal on February 19, by reading 87,805 pages. We knew we could read much more than this so we revised our goal. We set our new goal of reading 100,000 pages by the end of March.

We reached our goal with four days to spare! We chose the end of March as our goal date because we think books are worth a pot of gold.

The top two readers in Mrs. Rankin's class are Danielle Dreher and Nathan Behring. Both read about 1,100 pages a week. When we added up our classes total, everybody except Nate and Danielle were surprised when they told Mrs. Rankin the total number of pages that they read that week.

Looking very cool in his shades and summer clothes, first grader Sam Bergdorf takes aim on making a basket during one of the games at Wayne Elementary School's "Beach Day." Teachers and parent volunteers ran the games as students spent an hour having summertime fun.

Group Available For Teen Moms

Being a teen parent is filled with daily demands and new responsibilities. It is a challenge to balance school, work and parenting.

With these things in mind the Family Center of Washington County provides an opportunity for teenage moms to get together with other teen moms and share concerns, frustrations and successes.

Occasionally the group will have a guest speaker on a topic of interest such as: positive parenting, healthy relationships, or child care issues. The Teen Moms group is a place to gain self confidence and support and discuss challenges with other moms who are in similar situations -- all while enjoying the company of other teen moms and eating free pizza!

This group meets the third Thursday of each month from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Free child care is available for children, age birth to five while the mothers are meeting. If you are a teen parent, or know of a teen parent that would benefit from this free group, call the Family Center at 338-9461.

The preschool is in its 22nd year of operation and is under the direction of Mrs. Carol Martin and the juniors and seniors in the Child Development class.

The children will have the opportunity to participate in storytime, music, art and other creative activities during the 12 day session.

Celebrate Reading At Lakeview Library

On Tuesday, April 13, the Lakeview Community Library, in Random Lake, invites area residents in celebrating reading aloud in a "Night of a Thousand Stars!" from 4 to 8 p.m.

People of all ages will be treated to hearing books read aloud by residents of the community -- teachers, high school athletes, parents, business people and several mystery readers. Visitors are also invited to come to the event dressed as their favorite literary character. There will be door prizes, bookmarks and refreshments.

This evening is part of the library's National Library Week celebration! Area residents are encouraged to "Read! Learn! Connect!" when they visit the library. Visitors can either apply for a library card or use their LCL card and register for a variety of door prizes, including a subscription for the Sounder.

For more information concerning this event or to become a "mystery reader," call the Lakeview Community Library.

Encore Performance For Farmington OM

Following their second place finish in regional competition, Farmington Elementary School's Odyssey of the Mind team performed for the entire FES student body. The team-created skit, required to be based on a Shakespeare play, was a takeoff of "Macbeth," and titled "McRoach." The team-created costumes (including masks not pictured here) earned the special "OMer Award," given for exceptional creativity. Holding the "OMers" are grasshopper Mitch Paulus, left, and "McRoach" Alex Waranius. Standing from left to right, are the three witch spiders Marissa Dehler, Jackie McKee, and Bekki Heberer, and team member Danielle Yanke. Ryan Uttech (not pictured) played the grasshopper role during the regional meet.

Letter to The Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the Town of Scott residents who donated $876.00 to the American Heart Association's 1999 fund raising campaign during February and March.

These contributions have been forwarded to the Milwaukee office and will support research, education and community programs to fight heart disease and stroke, the No. 1 killer in Sheboygan County and in every county in Wisconsin.

I am proud to have been one of nearly 20,000 American Heart Association volunteers in 2,000 Wisconsin communities working to raise more than $370,000 this year in neighbor to neighbor campaigns.

Any late contributions can be mailed to me: Marge Krahn, W8444 Cty. S, Adell, WI 53001, and I will forward them to Milwaukee.

Brownies, Daisy Scouts Visit Humane Society

On February 23, Brownie Girl Scout Troop #6222 and Daisy Girl Scout Troop #278 from Wayne Elementary School and their families toured the Washington County Humane Society. The girls learned about the special care the animals need once they arrive at the humane society and what steps to follow when adopting a pet. They also learned very important things about helping to control the pet population. Each girl helped out the humane society by donating a much needed item for the shelter. The girls had a great time visiting with all the animals and felt great that there was a way they could help out. The Brownie Girl Scouts earned their Animals Try-It. There was also a special visit during a meeting by Dr. Greg Ogi who taught the girls how to treat their animals to prevent disease. What a great time they all had with this Try-It! Treating Cataracts In Older Americans (NAPS)—Older Americans can reduce their risk of cataracts, a condition that is one of the leading causes of blindness among people over age 65.

Doctors generally recommend surgery as the most effective treatment for cataracts.

Cataracts occur when the eye's lens—which is normally clear—becomes cloudy or opaque. This generally occurs as part of the aging process, but cataracts can be a result of heredity, injury or disease.

Changing prescription eyewear or using dilating drops may provide temporary relief from cataracts, but once vision becomes severely impaired, doctors generally recommend surgery.

"Today, cataract surgery is considered so routine and successful that it is done as soon as visual impairment becomes a problem," said Dr. Wendell Wong, an ophthalmologist and member of the Better Vision Institute (BVI). "It is a safe procedure for older patients with heart or lung problems."

According to Dr. Wong, individuals can lower their risk of cataracts by reducing exposure to direct sunlight, decreasing or stopping smoking, and eating a balanced diet.

For more information about cataracts, call BVI at 1-800-424-8422 or visit their Web site at www.vision.site.org.

Reading is Magic Show at Holy Trinity

Holy Trinity School Principal Mrs. June Gauvin is shown above being sawed in half. Later she was asked if it hurt when the saw went through her.

On March 5, the students at Holy Trinity Catholic School in Kewaskum were treated to "The Magic of Bob Bohm," as part of their RIF (Reading Is Fundamental) program.

Following the theme that books are like magic by taking you anywhere you want to go, the show combined amazing magic and fun along with the Strait Jacket Escape. A favorite feature of the program was "Sawing-A-Principal-In-Half" trick. The afternoon ended with students selecting a new book and enjoying a treat.

stuffed into a Hindu basket and Stuart shoving swords in through the top and sides. Each show is different depending upon how much space they are given to perform in. Stuart teaches a magic trick to the audience during every show, unlike the masked magician on television, later revealed to be a Las Vegas lounge magician named Valentino. Stuart doesn't want to break the magician's code of ethics and reveal how his tricks are done, because it only hurts the viewers and takes the fun and allure away from magic.

Stuart's philosophy on magic is that "it is all about personality and the prospect of having fun." He thinks, "the really great magicians have spontaneous and vibrant personalities, which helps the audience get caught up in the mood of the magic show and the wonder of magic."

Stuart and Lori believe that audience participation is a fun concept in their show, however, unlike many magicians, they don't believe in making fun of their "guests on stage." "Magic is about that split second moment where everything happens so fast that by the time the trick is over, people are left wondering where their eyes deceived them and when the magic took place, and not about making fun of people." Stuart and Lori's bright, tight fitting costumes help add a little glamour to their performance and also help with the ease of the tricks. Because Stuart and Lori's costumes are fitted, there is no fabric to get in the way. Their costume only aids in their performance.

In Stuart and Lori's show, tricks have sometimes gone wrong. The talent in tricks is that the audience never knows when the trick has gone bad. "Talent is being able to cover up when something goes wrong and as they say in Hollywood," says Stuart, "the show must go on."

Fortunately the pair rarely has magic tricks that go wrong anymore, but if they do go wrong, they always have a backup plan.

This magic show is for people of all ages. If you have never been to a magic show, Stuart and Lori perform a very special and unique show. The show is only playing one day, April 14th at 12 and 7 p.m.

For further information, please contact William Breyfogle, UWWC Director of University Relations at (414) 335-5233, or Student Government advisor Debbie Butschlick at 335-5238.

Shazam! Magic Show to Appear at UWWC April 14

WEST BEND -- Abracadabra, alacazam and then poof! A big cloud of smoke appears and disperses and a white rabbit, or something of that nature, appears in place of the smoke. The magic takes place so quickly, that we don't have time to think about how or when the magic took place.

Stuart and Lori, a married team of magicians who have toured college campuses across the country, will be coming to the University of Wisconsin Washington County for two magical performances. On April 14th, Stuart and Lori will be performing at noon in the UWWC cafeteria, and for those of you, who can't catch the day performance, there will be a show at 7 p.m. in the UWWC theatre. The magical price has vanished, so both shows are free and open to the public.

Stuart and Lori got their start in magic when they were both in the 11th grade. "We performed local shows in Michigan where we live and had a lot of fun doing it. After high school, we both went off to different colleges and completed two years of college," Stuart said.

"Then we were offered jobs by Ario Professional Studios located in Chicago, to tour college campuses across the country and perform our magic. We accepted the offer and toured U.S. campuses for nine years performing about 120 shows per year, but we have now settled down to an easier schedule and perform shows mainly in the Midwest states and average about 30 shows per year."

A typical magic show for them consists of Lori being

"To Those I Loved and Those Who Loved Me"

Author Unknown

When I am gone, release me,
let me go -
I have so many things to see and do.
You mustn't tie yourself to me
with tears,
Be thankful for our beautiful years.
I gave to you my love.
You can only guess
How much you gave to me in happiness
I thank you for the love each of you have shown
But now it's time I traveled alone.
So grieve a while for me, if grieve you must.
Then let your grief be comforted
by trust.
It's only for a time that we must part Bless the memories within your heart.
I won't be far away, for life goes on
So if you need me, call and I will come.
Though you can't see or touch
me,
I'll be near
And if you listen with your heart, you'll hear
All my love around you soft and clear.
And then, when you must come this way alone,
I'll greet you with a smile, and say --
"WELCOME HOME!!"

Deeply missed by wife, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our beloved husband, dad, & grandpa, JOHN STEGER who passed away one year ago, April 9, 1998:

God saw that he was getting tired and a cure was not to be, so he put his arms around him and whispered "come with me." With tearful eyes we watched him suffer and saw him fade away. Although we loved him deeply, we could not make him stay. A golden heart stopped beating, hard working hands to rest. God broke our hearts to prove to us he only takes the best.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by wife, children, and grandchildren.

Kewaskum 4-H Club News

The meeting of the Kewaskum 4-Hers was called to order by Vice President Stephanie Briggs on Thursday, April 1, 1999, at 7 p.m. at the Kewaskum Municipal Building.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Carissa Bartelt and Jason Jahnke led the 4-H Pledge. For roll call, each member brought a donation for the Family Center of Washington County. Heather Hackbarth gave the Secretary's Report. Amanda Jesowshek gave the Treasurer's Report. Youth Ambassador Jason Jahnke introduced new member Andrea Norem and announced that club member Emily Huf will team up with Andrea and work with her.

Adam Jung reported on the club tour of the Old Courthouse Museum. Jason Jahnke, Justin Weindorf, Carissa Bartelt and Graeme Zanow reported on the countywide youth lock-in held in Newburg. The Tutas, Zanow and Weindorf families will work on setting up a spring get-together with our friends at Meadowcreek Apartments. Final details were made for the brat fry to be held at Sentry Foods on Saturday, April 3.

Members were reminded to sign up for the upcoming 4-H Bowl-A-Thon, the Younger Member Experience sponsored by the Southeast District 4-H Leaders Association and the Wisconsin Lake Schooner Education Association, 4-H Summer Camp, and Wild Wacky Weekday Summer Camp.

Members decided to celebrate Earth Day on Saturday, April 17, by participating in the Adopt-A-Highway Program. Members will meet at 10 a.m. at Goeden's in St. Michaels and pick up trash along Highway 28.

The Bartelt family will organize a family camping/hiking event for early June. Stephanie Briggs, Amanda Jesowshek and Sandra Schaefer were congratulated for being selected to attend the State Conference in Madison this June.

Upcoming project meetings were announced. Club members Mark Martin, Brooke Zanow and Jacqueline Chambers were wished a Happy Birthday.

Cloverbuds showed the paper bag bunnies they made during the business meeting.

Demonstrations were given by Stephanie Briggs, Carissa Bartelt, Nick Bartelt and Mark Martin.

Posters relating to "Citizenship," which is the 4-H theme for the year, were judged with the winners in each category going on to be judged at the county level.

The meeting was adjourned. Refreshments were served by the Bartelt, Martin and Imler families.

Tremendous Tossers Thrill Throng

Category A jugglers (one ball) were, from left, kindergartners Kyle Wesenberg, Joey Stoffel, T.J. Schlice, and first graders Alex Roeske, Tyler Hoerig and Alan Weisinger.

Jugglers competing in Category B (two balls) were second graders Cameron Hornburg, Dakota Trujillo and Lauren Hughes, and third graders Ryan Wunsch, Ben Butler and Adam Simonson.

Competing in the three ball juggling (Category C) were fourth graders Casey Scheel, Jack Breese, and Matt Parrent, and fifth graders Ryan Brothen, Shane Barrett-Sunday and Frankie Cole.

In a spectacular worthy of Ringling Brothers, student jugglers at Kewaskum Elementary School wowed and delighted their classmates during a schoolwide juggling exhibition and competition, part of the circus theme KES has adopted for the year: The Greatest School on Earth.

Earlier in the year, students in every classroom were provided materials to make juggling balls (a total of 4500 balloons filled with 500 pounds of wheat) and then were given a short introduction to juggling. Each grade conducted classroom "juggle offs" to determine which students would compete in the all-school assembly.

Before the competition, jugglers warmed up in the KES gym to the strains of calliope music. To add to the circus-like atmosphere, schoolmates filing to watch the festivities were given a bag of popcorn to enjoy.

During a demonstration part of the program, it was made obvious that students had been practicing as they displayed such skills as bouncing a ball off their heads while juggling, juggling under a leg or behind the back, juggling two in one hand, and more. Kindergartners and first graders (Category A) were required to juggle one ball, second and third graders (Category B), two balls, and Category C's fourth and fifth graders juggled three.

First graders Tyler Hoerig and Alex Roeske finished one-two in Category A, while third and fourth place were captured by kindergartners Joey Stoffel and Kyle Wesenberg. T.J. Schlice (K) and Alan Weisinger (grade one) also competed.

Category B finishers were third grader Ben Butler, first place, third grader Ryan Wunsch, second place, and second grader Cameron Hornburg took third. Dakota Trujillo (grade two) and Adam Simonson (grade three) also represented their grades.

Casey Scheel (fourth grade) captured the Category C title, followed by fifth graders Nate Kenworthy and Frankie Cole. Fourth graders Jack Breese and Matt Parrent, along with fifth graders Ryan Brothen and Shane Barrett-Sunday, competed as well.

This year's circus theme was chosen by KES staff members to promote fun at school, but also to promote principles of the circus such as sharing and getting along. Other activities over the course of the year included clown shows, cotton candy and a schoolwide trip to see the circus in downtown Milwaukee.

Fourth grader Casey Scheel was all concentration as he warmed up for the competition by juggling three balls. He ended up taking first place.

Private Well Owners Urged to Test Water

Yearly health checkups, visits to the dentist and regular oil changes are all activities people do to take care of what's important to them. Private well owners should undertake one more important activity that is too often ignored -- annual well water testing.

The Washington County Health Department is advising private well owners to have their water tested for coliform bacteria. If there are infants under six months of age or women of childbearing age drinking the well water, then private well water should also be tested for nitrate.

Safe, clean water is one of the most vital resources Wisconsin citizens have for drinking, cooking, bathing and cleaning. Municipalities regularly test the drinking water supplies to ensure they are safe. But with private wells, it's the owner's responsibility. Wisconsin has between 750,000 and one million private wells, but most are not tested for coliform bacteria and other contaminants on the recommended annual basis. Many of these contaminants can cause sickness in people who drink, bathe or cook with the water.

"Testing well water is one of the simplest things private well owners can do to take care of the health and well-being of themselves and their loved ones," said Margaret Anderson, Environmental Health Specialists with the Washington County Health Department. "We may be urging well water testing during Public Health Week, but the testing is definitely something that can be done anytime of the year. Just choose an annual event to link the testing to, such as a birthday, planting flowers in the spring or the beginning of daylight savings time."

The two tests recommended are for coliform bacteria and nitrate. Coliform bacteria are microorganisms that can be found in human and animal waste, in soil, on vegetation and in surface water runoff. While rarely causing sickness themselves, coliform bacteria are used as an indicator. Their presence in the well water indicates that other bacteria, viruses and parasites that can cause sickness, may also be present.

If there are infants under the age of six months and women of childbearing age drinking the well water, then a test for nitrate also should be done. Nitrate can cause a serious health condition in infants called "blue baby syndrome," which has symptoms similar to suffocation. Research has also shown a connection between high nitrate levels in water and birth defects and miscarriages in pregnant women.

For more information on how to have private well water tested, contact the Washington County Health Department at 414-335-4706 or look in the Yellow Pages for a laboratory which does private well water testing.

Turkey Hunters Need to Follow Special Safety Tips

A trend in turkey hunting is developing and it's one that Conservation Wardens would just as soon not see: an increased number of hunting accidents.

Turkey hunting has unique safety concerns because hunters wear camouflaged clothing to blend into the landscape, set up realistic decoys and use calls that might attract other hunters as well as old gobblers, Warden Doug Bilgo says.

As with every kind of hunting, turkey hunters need to follow basic safety guidelines: treat every firearm as if it were loaded; always point the muzzle in a safe direction; and be sure of your target and what's beyond it, Bilgo says.

There were several hunting accidents during the 1998 spring season that resulted from people not following the plans discussed with their hunting partners, says Tim Lawhern, Wisconsin hunter education administrator. In most of those situations, one hunter decided to deviate from the plan and stalk sounds he thought was coming from a turkey. Instead, the hunter was mistakenly stalking his hunting partners.

"If you're hunting with a partner, be absolutely certain of that person's location at all times," Lawhern says. "If you see other hunters, get their attention by yelling at them instead of waving your hands; movement alone sometimes causes some people to shoot first. Turkey hunters must plan their hunt, then hunt their plan; no exceptions."

Turkey hunters also need to take special measures because of the way they dress and because many use decoys. Lawhern encourages hunters to wear some blaze orange, such as a cap or a pair of gloves. They can remove it when they get to their hunting spot.

He cautions hunters against wearing bandanas, hats or gloves or any other piece of red, white or blue clothing because it can be mistaken by another hunter for the colors found on a wild turkey's head. He also recommends not carrying an item with those colors, including soda cans.

The spring turkey hunting season opens April 14 and runs through May 23. In the spring the only legal turkey is a male or bearded turkey.

Hunters should choose a hunting spot that allows them to rest their back against a tree or some other object at least as wide as their shoulders, Bilgo says. Doing so will provide both protection from any errant shots fired in their direction and from the extremely good vision of the turkey.

Bilgo recommends hunters take extra precautions when using calls and decoys:

- * use gobble-calls only to locate a tom turkey and not to attract one;

- * keep hands and head camouflaged when calling;

- * never stalk or sneak up on a turkey and don't attempt to approach closer than 100 yards to a gobbler;

- * select a calling site with your back against a tree that is broader than your shoulders;

- * select a calling site from which you can see at least 40 yards in all directions;

- * never jump and turn suddenly because you hear a turkey close behind you;

- * never carry or move an uncovered decoy;

- * never assume that what you hear or what answers a call is a turkey.

Dog Behavior Workshop at Humane Society

Why does my human get upset when I beg at the table? Why does my human get annoyed when I dig holes? Why does my human coo and whimper when I'm frightened, hurt or worried?

These are just a few of the questions a dog might ask about the "strange" behaviors of the humans it lives with. Want to know the answers? Come to the University of Dogology Dog Behavior Workshop, Saturday, April 10th, at the Washington County Humane Society from 2 to 4 p.m.

Despite the thousands of years of history that dogs and humans share, misunderstanding is still the rule. Learn how to understand you dog's unique language and culture to promote a more harmonious and rewarding relationship.

Your presenter is Clauden E. Mc Auliffe, M.Ed., an applied animal behaviorist who specializes in the problem behaviors of pet dogs. A member of the Animal Behavior Society and Association of Pet Dog Trainers, Ms. Mc Auliffe offers a non-confrontational approach to training and behavior modification.

Whether you have the perfect pet, want answers to some of your dog's behavior problems, or are just curious about the canine clan, you'll enjoy this lively and participative two-hour workshop. Attendance is especially encouraged if you're thinking about adopting a dog into your family.

The workshop is free, but please call the Washington County Humane Society at 414-677-4388 to register.

Statewide Hearings Include West Bend Location

Spring Fish and Wildlife Rules Hearings April 12

MADISON -- Citizens across the state will have the opportunity to discuss and vote on a wide variety of proposed hunting and fishing rule changes during the 1999 Department of Natural Resources Spring Fish and Wildlife Rules Hearings that will be held in every county of the state on April 12.

The annual hearings are held simultaneously in each of the state's 72 counties in conjunction with the Wisconsin Conservation Congress' county meetings. All hearings will be held Monday, April 12, beginning at 7 p.m. and are open to the public.

In Washington County, the hearing will be held in Room 201, the Big Lecture Hall at UW-Washington County Campus, 400 University Drive, West Bend.

Included in the proposed rule changes are: re-authorizing the early catch-and-release trout season making it a permanent rule and allowing use and possession of barbed hooks during the early season; reducing the bag limit and closing of most waters to shovelnose sturgeon fishing; a variety of fisheries bag and size limit changes; permanent authority to close the Lake Winnebago sturgeon spearfishing season as soon as 80% of allowable harvest is reached; and earlier opening dates for the fall turkey and black bear seasons.

"Questions identified as having statewide significance will be addressed first and then local rule changes will be discussed in the counties affected or in any county where someone in attendance brings it up for discussion and comment," explained Al Phelan, who coordinates the meetings for the DNR.

"Spring hearings are one of our most important tools for measuring public thought on these issues. The results have great bearings on which issues move on to the Natural Resources Board and then to the Legislature for final action," Phelan said.

"We don't expect that extending the fall turkey hunt from 28 to 30 days will have any adverse effect on Wisconsin's Turkey population," said Keith Warnke, upland wildlife ecologist. "What it will do is give hunters some additional hunting opportunity over a weekend."

"Bear damage, especially to corn crops in northwestern Wisconsin, is a serious problem in August and continues into September," says Laine Stowell, head of the wildlife damage program at the DNR. "Opening the black bear season earlier in September will not affect the total harvest of bears. The total kill is limited annually by the number of permits issued. This is determined by where the current population is in relation to the established population goals for black bears."

Important fiscal questions are also on the agenda in the form of advisories dealing with reauthorization of stewardship and the use of state general purpose tax revenues for fish and wildlife management activities as well as a question asking if Pittmann-Robertson fund dollars should continue to be used to support the timber wolf recovery program.

Among the statewide questions up for discussion and vote is changing the gray wolf, or timber wolf, from endangered to threatened status in Wisconsin. The most current wolf count estimates the statewide population at 180 animals. A state recovery plan initiated in 1989 set a goal for reclassifying the wolf from state endangered to threatened once the population remains at 80 or more for three consecutive years. A similar reclassification effort is underway at the federal level for Wisconsin.

"The return of the gray wolf to the Wisconsin landscape ranks as one of the great successes in state wildlife management," said Adrian Wydeven, DNR wolf expert. "Now that they're back in significant numbers. The department and its partners need to move forward with the long-range management plan we've been developing over the past two years."

Included in the hearings are a number of advisory questions. At the request of Natural Resources Board member, Herb Behnke, hearing attendees will be asked to vote on restrictions or modifications to road hunting of ruffed grouse, currently legal but thought to be unfair by some.

Another DNR question asks if citizens favor a statewide ban on shining wildlife from public roadways between September 1 and December 31. The shining question was on the 1998 hearing agenda and was approved by a 55% margin. This year's question seeks to reaffirm that vote.

The Wisconsin Conservation Congress placed several questions on the hearing agenda including asking if there is support for adding another 50 conservation wardens to the state force and encouraging legislation that would allow Wisconsin to participate in a National Law Enforcement Telecommunications System database that notifies participating states of people whose license privileges have been suspended.

Other questions will ask for opinion on: establishing a mourning dove season; allowing use of telescopic sights on muzzle-loading rifles; prohibiting the sale of catfish; a limited hunt of sand hill cranes; a nine-day either sex season for Mississippi River Block deer management units; and establishment of an inseason harvest monitoring system for bobcat, otter and fisher to prevent over harvest.

The Badger Army Ammunition Plant is on the agenda in the form of an advisory question asking if the Department of Natural Resources should use all means available to acquire the plant for use as a state natural area.

At its January meeting, the Natural Resources Board decided to remove a proposed question from the agenda that asked about extending legal gun deer hunting hours. A printing error left this item in the contents of the Spring Rules Hearing Booklet but it is off the agenda while department staff research the issue further.

"If you've ever wondered how we end up with the regulations that you see in the hunting or fishing regulation pamphlets you read each year, you should come to this meeting," said Tom Hauge, director of wildlife management for the DNR. "Public comments at these hearings are very important in determining if proposals will advance first to the Natural Resource Board for adoption and then to the legislature for approval before eventually becoming a regulation you'll read in future pamphlets."

Spring Turkey Season Set to Open April 14

MADISON -- The first hunting period of the 1999 Wisconsin spring turkey season opens April 14 and state wildlife officials predict another excellent hunting season.

A record 111,892 permits were issued to more than 128,000 applicants (also a record), according to Keith Warnke, upland ecologist for the Department of Natural Resources.

"Over the past few years, spring turkey hunters have averaged around a 24% success rate at shooting a turkey," Warnke said. "The 1998 spring season was especially good with the overall success rate at 28% and first period hunters averaging 39%. We expect that hunters will experience a similar success rate this spring, but as always, the weather can be a significant factor in hunter success."

Winter severity has been very mild and wildlife managers report sighting large flocks in farm fields. Overall, they say the flock is in excellent shape and should provide an excellent spring hunt.

"Turkey hunting opportunities are getting better all the time," said Warnke. "The birds are expanding their range into new areas we thought were marginal at the time they were reintroduced. We're trying to speed up expansion by relocating birds into areas beyond their current range. Over winter, DNR biologists trapped and relocated 204 birds to release sites at the northern edge of the current range."

"Turkeys are already gobbling and displaying in the fields and woods and several hunters have called to ask whether the spring breeding period would take place earlier than normal. The start of the breeding season always varies somewhat but early period hunters should see plenty of activity."

The spring season is held in six five-day periods with the first period beginning on April 14 and the last on May 19. Hunters may notice a mistake on their carcass tags which says that they must register their birds by 2 p.m. of the day they shoot it. This is incorrect. Hunters have until 5 p.m. of the day after they shoot a bird to register it. Hunters must apply for a specific period as well as for a specific turkey management zone.

Landowners who are given preference in the permit drawing, received 17,555 permits and 7,565 lucky hunters received two permits. Applicants willing to accept permits in later time periods have the best chance of receiving first and second permits. The highest number of permits was issued in zones 3 and 23, with 8,100 and 7,800, respectively. The highest number of second permits was issued in zone 11 (1,033).

The fall season will run from October 11 to November 7. Deadline for applications for the fall hunt is August 10.

KHS Boys Track Season Preview

The Kewaskum High School boys' track and field team recently completed a grueling week with four track meets in five days.

The team consists of only 30 members, plus with members of the track team on the school's band and choir trip to Virginia the same week, the Kewaskum boys team had difficulty competing in the Washington County Indoor and the Oshkosh Invitational the week of March 23.

Traditionally the Eastern Wisconsin Conference is very competitive and Kewaskum will be hard pressed to be as competitive as they would like to be in team scoring. Kewaskum lacks depth overall in many areas.

However, there is depth and experience in pole vaulting. Returning is junior Chris Koth, who qualified for sectionals last year with a height of 11'6". "The race is on as to who will be the first one to clear 12' in a meet. Hopefully, both will eventually go 12'6" or higher before the season is over," commented Head Coach Jerry Gosa.

Junior pole vaulter Joel Hermann is also nipping at their heels. In addition, sophomore Brian Wall and senior Danny Wall provide depth. Two freshmen, Chris Canter and Tom Ogi have both cleared 9' during the first week of competition.

In the field events, Kewaskum had two seniors graduate who scored points consistently during the season. Matt Hammen, who won the conference title and placed third last season in the Division Two high jump competition at state. The other graduated senior, Matt Gundrum, placed first in the discus at the conference meet last season and also threw the shot put.

Sophomore Charlie Sparks finished second to Gundrum in the conference meet last season with a throw of 135'2" and will have to provide scoring for Kewaskum in the discus. Both the high jump and shot put will be areas of concern until underclassmen improve.

Sophomore letter Paul Mertz, will continue high jumping and sprinting for the Indians.

The addition of some talented freshmen and two junior newcomers have given coach Gosa reason for hope in the sprinting corp. At the Bob Buel Washington County Indoor Track and Field meet, the team of freshman Chris Canter, juniors Jim Thelen and Jason Strobel and sophomore Charlie Sparks provided the only Kewaskum highlight of the meet with their second place finish in the six lap relay.

Two days later at the Oshkosh Invitational the same group finished 12th out of 44 teams in the 800m relay with a time of 1:41.7. "It has been quite a few years since we had more than just one or two real sprinters. I can't remember Kewaskum placing with a spring relay team at the Washington County Indoor in the last seven or eight years," reported Coach Gosa.

In addition, freshman Tom Ogi, Tony Keely, and sophomore Mertz will provide competition for spots on the varsity 400m relay team this season. Looking towards next year, the increase in the number of sprinters will also be very helpful with the addition of the 800m relay as a new regular event in boys track.

Senior letter winners Matt Belger and Scott Mueller bring experience and excellent work ethic to the distance group of runners.

Belger runs the 800, 1600 and 3200m runs and Mueller the open 800m and a leg of the 3200m relay.

"We do not have a lot of depth in the distance events. With the 3200m relay, and the 800m, 1600m, and 3200m run we just do not have enough runners. Freshman Brian Kraft competed on the KHS cross country team last fall and has been working hard and will definitely be a welcome addition.

In the long jump and triple jump, senior Josh Rieder will provide needed experience and hopefully will be able to help teach the fundamentals to the underclassmen. Canter has just started long jumping this season and has the potential to help the team in this area.

Freshman Luke Kehres has run the fastest 400m of everyone on the team after the first four meets of the season. Coach Gosa complimented Kehres by saying, "He is working very hard and really wants to improve. I know he is a little disappointed that he is not running faster, but I told him that it is just a matter of time and hard work training."

In the two hurdle events, 110m high hurdlers and 300m low hurdlers, the Kewaskum team should probably put an advertisement in the newspaper titled, "Wanted Boy Hurdlers." Presently the team has no hurdlers.

"I don't expect us to win everything with such few numbers. But I do expect people to work hard and improve. The addition of just a few quality athletes really improves the overall competitiveness of a track team. It is nice to see Strobel and Thelen out for track as well as the athleticism some of the freshmen bring to the team. It takes a couple of years for male ninth and tenth grade athletes to mature and develop the strength and techniques to compete against the established teams of our conference," concluded Coach Gosa about his team.

When asked about who he expected to be at the top of the conference, Gosa said, "New Holstein won the conference title last year, and from what we saw of New Holstein in competition against them at the indoor triangular and at the Oshkosh Invitational, I would pick them to win conference again this year with Chilton, and Two Rivers close behind.

The Indians next meet will be the first outdoor meet of the season at Kiel on Tuesday, April 13.

Track is coached on a coed basis at Kewaskum. Coach Gosa is the head boys coach and coaches the distance runners and helps volunteers Rick Robinson coach the pole vaulters. Joe Kinney is the girls' head coach and coaches the sprinters and the relays.

Ellen Kuphal is the hurdle coach, Dave Rizzardi coaches the throwing events and two last year graduates and former KHS track athletes, Jill Wichtoski and Jessie Repovsch were newly hired as assistant coaches. Wichtoski will coach the long jump and triple jump, and Repovsch the high jump.

Members of the Kewaskum High School track team are:

Seniors - Matt Belger, Bruce Groholski, David Kletti, Scott Mueller, Josh Rieder, Dan Wall, Chris Weninger and Chad Will.

Juniors - Joel Hermann, Chris Koth, Jason Strobel, Jim Thelen and Justin Weninger.

Sophomores - Troy Kerdroske, Paul Mertz, Josh Parrent, Charlie Sparks, Brian Wall and Darrell Woebeking

KHS Boys' Track Team Sixth at County Indoor

On Wednesday, March 24, the Kewaskum boys' and girls' track teams faced their biggest challenge of the young season at the Bob Buel Washington County Indoor Track and Field Meet at the West Bend High Schools.

This challenge was made up of two factors: the immense talent of the Washington County Division I schools and the absence of the band and choir trip athletes which depleted the Kewaskum teams. In the boys division, West Bend East boys' track team showed the rest of the county's high schools that they were definitely the best when they overpowered the rest of the competition.

West Bend East won 10 of the 15 events and took second in two events as they racked up 149 points to win the county crown. West Bend West finished second with 124 points and Slinger finished a close third with 121 points. Germantown finished fourth with 77 points, Hartford fifth with 76 points, Kewaskum sixth with 21 points and Kettle Moraine Lutheran seventh with seven points.

The highlight for Kewaskum was the second place finish of the six lap relay team of Chris Canter, Jim Thelen, Jason Strobel and Charlie Sparks with a time of one minute, 57.8 seconds (1:57.8). Canter is a freshman, Sparks a sophomore, and both Thelen and Strobel are juniors and new to the track team this year.

"Charlie Sparks, who was running the anchor leg, could have settled in for third place, but really went after the fourth runner from West Bend West and put Kewaskum ahead of West for the the second place," reported Coach Jerry Gosa. "It has been a long time since we had a group of boy sprinters to work with."

Kewaskum was hurt to a degree by the absence of some upperclassmen athletes who were on the high school band and choir trip to Virginia. Kewaskum, without their two best pole vaulters and some of their distance runners, did not enter a team in the 20 lap relay or any individuals in the pole vault or two mile run. If we take these factors and add them to the fact that Kewaskum does not have any hurdlers, Kewaskum obviously was hurting in the scoring department.

Kewaskum's 10 lap relay team of Darrell Woebeking, Josh Rieder, Brian Kraft, and Luke Kehres finished sixth. Sophomore Paul Mertz finished sixth in the high jump with a jump of 5'6" and Jim Thelen also finished sixth in the 213 yard dash in 25.6 seconds. In the 55 yard dash, Jason Strobel and Charlie Sparks finished seventh and eighth respectively in 6.1 and 6.1+ seconds.

When asked to comment about the Kewaskum team, Coach Gosa replied, "I was pleased with the effort tonight. We knew we were not at full strength and that even if we were, it was going to be difficult to compete with Division I schools and successful programs like Division II Slinger. The six lap relay team ran well and some underclassmen like Chris Canter and Luke Kehres showed that they are competitors. The effort displayed is very important," concluded Coach Gosa.

Always do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest.

KHS Boys' Track Team Crushed in Triangular

The Kewaskum High School boys track team had an opportunity to compete against one of the power houses in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Monday night March 22.

Host New Holstein, totaled 92.5 points to 30.5 points for Kiel and 16 points for Kewaskum. New Holstein won 12 of 13 events, while Kiel's Jason Brockway won the 400m dash.

Kewaskum scored three second places with Charlie

Sparks' 7.1 seconds in the 60 yard dash, Josh Parrent's 11'6" in the pole vault, and Jason Strobel's 27.3 seconds in the 200m dash. Teammate Jim Thelen was also timed at 27.3 seconds in the 200m dash for third place. Both Strobel and Thelen are juniors and are newcomers to the KHS track team and are welcome additions.

Sophomore Paul Mertz took third in the high jump with a jump of 5'6" and freshman Tom Ogi took fourth at 5'4". Senior Matt Belger took third in the 1600m run in 5:22.3. Sophomore Sparks also took a third in the shot put with a put of 39'8". Sophomore Brian Wall took fourth place in the pole vault with a jump of 10'6".

The 1600m relay team of Darrell Woebbeking, Josh Rieder, Joel Hermann, and Luke Kehres took second with a time of 4:15.0.

Josh Parrent did extremely well considering he was out the last two weeks with mononucleosis. His height of 11'6" equals his best outdoors last year as a freshman. He looked great on the runway -- very determined and focused," commented coach Jerry Gosa.

Freshman Luke Kehres turned in the fastest Kewaskum time in the 400m dash and also had the fastest split on the 1600m relay. In the pole vault, Chris Canter and Tom Ogi cleared 9' and 8'6" respectively. "Canter, Ogi and Kehres did very well," complimented Coach Gosa.

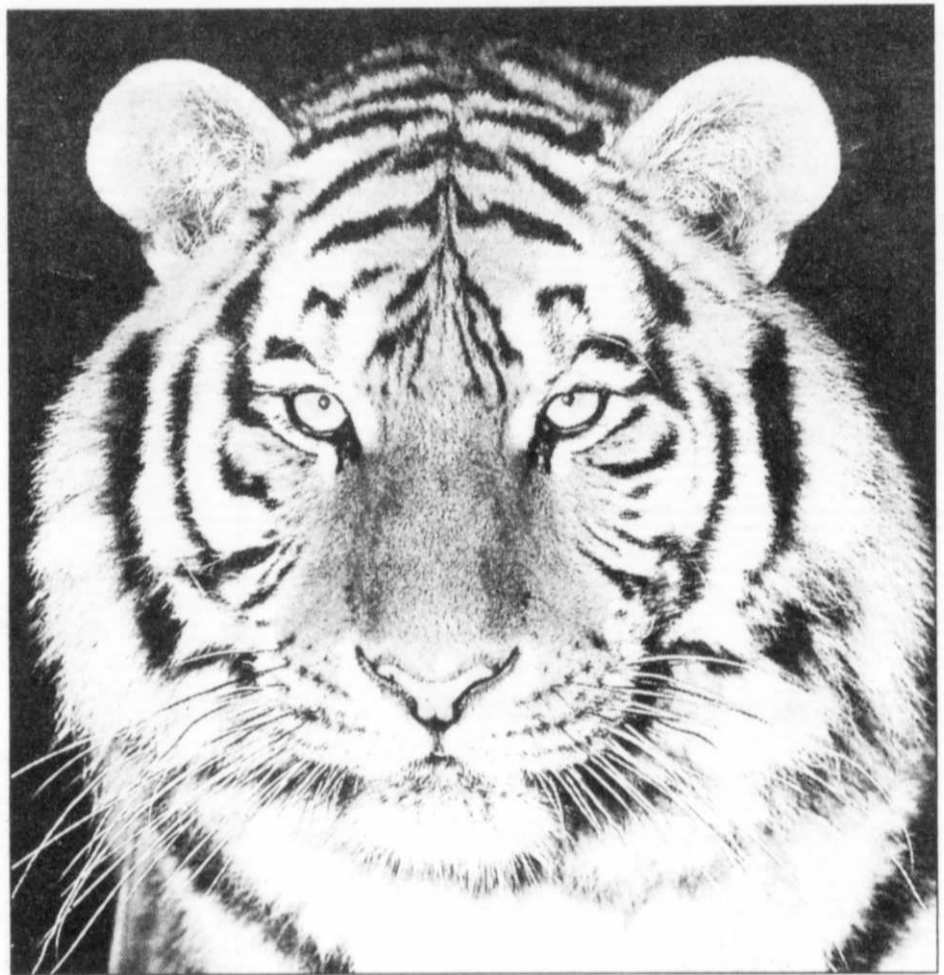

"New Holstein is extremely tough competition. I liked the effort put forth by our team. With the addition of the freshmen and juniors, Strobel and Thelen, we actually have some depth in the sprint area. We won't kid ourselves, however, we have a lot of hard work ahead of us, but we look forward to the challenge," concluded Coach Gosa.
