EDAC Submits First Annual Progress Report to Village Board

Kewaskum's Economic Development Advisory Committee, following their first year of service to the community, recently submitted their First Annual Progress Report to the Kewaskum Village Board.

Even though the Committee kept the Board advised of all their actions monthly, they felt it would be a good idea to list their accomplishments the past year as a matter of record.

In March of 1997 the Kewaskum Village Board by Ordinance established the creation of the Economic Development Advisory Committee. In May of 1997 the Committee was originally formed, elected a Chairperson and started the task the Village Board had assigned to them.

The members of the committee are Jeff Butler, who was elected chairperson, Joyce Kral, James Reigle, Lana Kuehl, Vernon Jung Jr., Robert Wagner and Michael Kimble.

The Committee asked Dan Wilson of the Washington County University Extension Office to assist them on how to proceed with their plans. Wilson met with the Committee several times to help determine the direction they wanted to take.

To date, the Committee has met an average of once a month since its establishment, however, there has been a short hiatus this summer, due to prior commitments by members.

It was determined to proceed with a community wide survey, which was prepared by members of the Committee, using several other community surveys as guides and with the assistance of Dan Wilson.

The survey was mailed out to 908 Kewaskum utility customers in January of 1998 and returned in February and March of 1998. The final response rate was 56.1% and this was well above the average expected for a single mailing with no followup.

The survey results were very positive in reference to the community and the direction the committee is going. These results had been previously shared with the Board and local civic organizations by members of the EDAC. The EDAC shared the survey results by pairing up and having two committee members meet with each community organization, and at the time also asked for input.

When EDAC members appeared before community groups, they inquired if members of the organizations would be willing to participate in the "Planning Kewaskum's Future Workshop." The response and feedback were very positive and the committee proceeded in putting together the criteria for a "visioning workshop," again with the able assistance of Dan Wilson.

The workshop was scheduled for November 7, 1998 and 37 area residents were initiated to participate for the day-long visioning workshop. There were 34 enthusiastic area residents that participated, chaired by members of the EDAC. Together they established eight Action Plans which included:

Action Plan 1 - To create a plan for controlled and balanced growth.

Action Plan 2 - To improve school and facilities.

Action Plan 3 - Expand, promote, and strengthen existing and new retail businesses.

Action Plan 4 - Improve transportation to and within the community.

Action Plan 5 - Develop recreational facilities.

Action Plan 6 - Establish guidelines for residential/business/industrial areas (style and review).

Action Plan 7 - Improve entrances to Kewaskum.

Action Plan 8 - To establish Kewaskum as the Gateway to the Kettle Moraine.

A report was drafted and letters were sent out thanking all the participants and an invitation was extended asking the participants to help in working on one or all of the action plans. The committee has held several meetings since November, addressing some of the action plans.

Action Plan 2, to improve school and school facilities was reviewed. Copies of the Planning Kewaskum's Future Workshop Report were sent to the School District Superintendent early this year to aid them in their plans addressing the needs of the District. The EDAC offered any assistance that might be needed.

The Economic Development Advisory Committee last year, also started to work on Action Plan 7, to improve entrances to Kewaskum. This was accomplished by supporting both the Village Board's efforts and the Town of Kewaskum's efforts to clean up the south "town island" area located within the village.

To date, this has been improved a great deal since the survey was first reviewed. The EDAC has also been supportive, as has the Village Board, in the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club's endeavor to place new welcome signs at the entrances to the village.

Several EDAC meetings have been devoted to Action Plan 4, to improve transportation to and within the community. Letters of support have been sent to the Department of Transportation, area legislators, and Washington County, regarding alternative reliever traffic routes.

Discussion has also been held regarding an "in-community bypass," and the abandonment of the railroad right-of-way. The progress of the downtown community parking lot has also been discussed several times and supported.

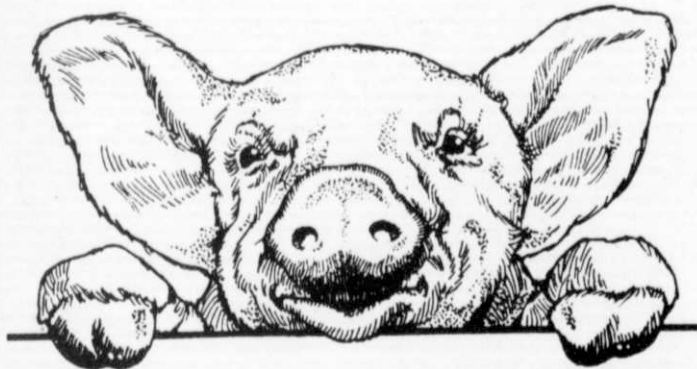

The Economic Development Advisory Committee consists of citizens of the Village whose purpose is to advise the Village Board on matters of economic development, implementing economic development activities that will assist on improving economic conditions in the village, developing and maintaining the village industrial and commercial base and to assist on specific matters assigned to it by the Village Board.

As an advisory committee, it is felt that they have accomplished a lot, discovering a substantial basis for common ground among concerned citizens and the Village Board. If you have any concerns or ideas you would like to see implemented, please don't hesitate to contact any of the EDAC members listed in the beginning of the article.

Members of the committee hope they have achieved the building of a consensus for the Village and the surrounding Kettle Moraine Area, implementing structure for improving and strengthening the community and this will continue to be their goal for the future.

Nominations Close Saturday at Midnight

The Race is On To Kiss a Pig!

Allright pig-kissing nomination voters! You're doing much better. The nominations are rolling in now, and the competition is getting fierce!

But you still will have until midnight on July 31 to vote for your favorite candidates, so don't stop now! We have over 30 nominations so there will be a contest for the semi-semi-finalists after all.

As you well know by now, the list of well-deserving candidates will be narrowed down to 30 semi-semi-finalists when the nominations close at Midnight on July 31. So don't give up the battle now... there are still alot of people's names missing on the list. I can't vote for everyone, people, you have to help me out here. I can think of at least 30 more candidates whose names have not yet been submitted. But there's not much time left so you really, really have to act now, because you may not have the opportunity to act out these aggressions for a very long time. (I'm getting too old for this pressure).

Here's this week's list of new nominees and additional votes for those that were already in the running:

JERRY 'SOUPY' CAMPBELL
KERI MORENZIEN
DAVE 'BAGGS' GRUBER
JEANNIE AMERLING
JIM EISCH
JODY FEUCHT
KELLY KNOEBEL
MARK GROESCHEL
BOB BONENFANT
EARL KLEINKE
JOHN KLEINKE
KEN BONLENDER

TOM PIWONI
LARRY MARTIN
MICHAEL BECK
MIKE YAHR
PAUL BECHT
JOHN THORN
CRAIG GRUBER
BETTY BAKKEN
SCOTT TIMM
RICHARD THIEMER
CRYSTAL KUEHL
DEREK DORN
DUSTIN KUEHL

Fellow pig kissing candidates, unite! There's only a few days left for retaliation and revenge. I think you can pretty well figure out which of your better "friends" have nominated you. (I am not talking... voting is anonymous and it will stay that way... it makes for a much more interesting contest!) But come on, you don't have to be a rocket scientist to figure out some of these voters. Get 'em back. Turn the tables and vote for them. Even if they didn't vote for you... who really cares? The more candidates there are, the more fun I can have with this.

Have Nomination Forms... Will Travel, will be on the road these next few days with a great big pile of forms and plenty of change for those twenties you want to cash in. We know those ball players at the Thiemerdome have wanted to vote but have just not been able to fit it into their busy schedules. So I'll take the

Vehicles Entered at Rustic Timbers Apartment Complex

Several un-locked vehicles were broken into this past weekend at the Rustic Timbers Apartment complex.

All the vehicles were unlocked. Some of the vehicles had things missing from them. Individual reports can be found on another page of this weeks Statesman.

Sipper Snippers Win First Game of Season

Play at the Thiemerdome resumed after the long Fourth of July holiday break and the ensuing days of game rainouts. But the wait was well worth it as a beautiful baseball evening finally broke through for the delighted ball players.

The night began with the Hitching Post Wannabes playing the Champion Defenders, Amerahn. Dave "Smudley" Schmidt pounded out a homerun in honor of his birthday (another year older) which led off a 2-0 start over the Post.

The Post was all poised to strike back until their star pitcher, Steve "Ouch" Herrick pulled his hip out running to first base to end the inning and Steve's game not to mention his walking ability. (Richard, are you prepared to offer these players Workmen's Comp for all their efforts? They might need it! Running just shouldn't be an option for guys this age. Perhaps instead of running, a new rule should be applied to "just take giant steps." Sure would save the wear and tear on those rusty bones.)

Nevertheless, Steve's brother, Mike took the mound for Steve, and with deft skill, kept Amerahn's hitting under control.

The Post, wanting to always "win one for the gipper" (or gimpy, whichever the case may be) were not to be denied as Paul "Sneaky" Seymour hit a single and Gene Wolf hit one over Dan "Rabbit" Rose's head for a triple. Ron "Smiley" Nuoffer then hit a pop fly to sacrifice Wolfy home to tie the game at 2-2.

Amerahn was able to hold the Post with two double plays to show they didn't win past championships just because of their looks. (That was a direct quote from you-know-who!) But in the bottom of the fifth, the Wannabes must of had an Angel in Left Field (new Disney movie???) because Larry "The Mouse" never makes mistakes but he did this time as he lost a line shot from Mike "Guido" Stalar.

Then Dennis "Can-Do" Kuechler, Mike Herrick and

Scott "Electro Man" Thelen all hit singles which was followed up by Dave "I Can Do It" Vogt hitting a double to help the Wannabes "Post" four more runs to take a 6-2 lead. The Wannabes were finally smiling.

Amerahn had ducks on base in scoring position with two out but Dennis Kuechler caught an outstanding line shot to rob the Amerahners.

Earl's Boys, not wanting to be dethroned again, held their ducks on the pond still threatening. A ball was well hit to third where Mike Stalar jumped on it and threw it to Scott "Electro Man" Thelen on second who delivered it to Ron "Smiley" Nuoffer on first to end the game and give the Wannabes a huge victory. Now wasn't that confusing? I'm still trying to figure out how cute little yellow ducks could be threatening. (Trying to write a new Michelin commercial Richard? Don't do it, I get tense just thinking about those little duckies trying to cross the road.)

So much for ducks, the Wannabes and Earl's Boys.

Commercial Plumbing came to play ball in the second game, thinking they had a breeze of a game on their hands. After all, they were scheduled to play the Sipper Snippers. Just send in one player to show up, pitch the ball a few times, catch the ball a few times and that would be it, right? Wrong! The Sipper Snippers also came to play ball (it's about time, guys!)

Scoreless until the third inning when Larry "Hammerin'" Martin gained a hit, Ronnie "RT" Theusch made a hit and Richard "Are You Kidding Me?" Thieme even got one down the left field line where Roger "Dodger" Schneider couldn't get at it.

The Sipper Snippers must have been storing these hits up for awhile as they scored two runs and took the lead. That is until the sixth inning when Commercial's Al "Crazy Legs" Bastian fired a hard line shot to Mark "Doodles" Strobel who just couldn't get the glove around the ball quite right.

Then to make matters worse, someone turned on the (Commercial) cheerleaders (Wow... things have gotten a little racey since I've been out there!), as head cheerleader Kathy Stern got into the chanting portion of the game.

The pressure was on the players now and a hit from Kevin "Squirrely" Darmody drove the fans wild. Bobby "D.J." Bonenfant got Virgil Budde to hit to him to throw one out. (I'm getting confused again) Then Roger "Dodger" hit one in the gap and bring Kevin and Al home.

Steve "Da Boss" Stern then hit a hard ground ball up second which Paul Lehnerz caught, tagged second, and then threw to John "Fuzzy" Lehnerz on first to end the attack. (That was an attack??)

Thieme's got up in the bottom of the sixth with

Richard "2 for 2" Thiemer (man, that's gotta be a record!) getting a hit to right. Rick "Mr. Insurance" (probably his own best client if he's playing with Richard!) Jaeger hit the gap, but Richard lost a couple of steps (that's just a fancy way of saying he tripped over his own feet) and was forced out on second.

Paul Lehner hit one with Mike "Physical" Miller hitting one over in right center to score two more runs and give the Sipper Snippers the lead at 4-2.

The pressure was on for Commercial and now they answered the threat with Tom "Ageless" Fischer hitting one over Mikey's head in left and Mikey had to watch out for Lori Thiemer's tomato plants while he fished the ball out of the garden. (All areas of the Thiemerdome are put to economical use. If you want to purchase tomatoes, come to the next few games.)

It was a good thing Tom had to stop to catch his breath on second or the Sipper's threat might have been all over. This play brought out the Commercial cheerleader section who had been pretty quiet up to this point. The chanting began, more intensely than before, but Bobby the DJ came up with a strikeout. But then a hit from Cal Steinert scored Tom. A pop fly and a hard hit to Butzie on third ended the game with Thiemer's Sipper Snippers finally winning their first game, 4-3.

A person could really elaborate on this first victory, but heck, I just don't have the heart to do it. When you have to work as hard as these guys do for a run or two, I just can't let the air out of their balloons this week. But next week... be prepared!

Hallens Attend Izaak Walton League Convention

Elmer and Betty Hallen of Kewaskum attended the National Convention of the Izaak Walton League in Williamsburg, Virginia, July 12-16.

Elmer is an officer and a member of the Endowment Board of the League which gives grants and loans to worthy environmental projects each year.

At the convention, the Izaak Walton League of America passed resolutions that include support for campaign finance reform, a moratorium on factory farms, and a phase out of all two-cycle gasoline engines above two horsepower.

The League is a citizen-based organization whose conservation policies are set by its members each year at the group's national convention. The process begins at the local level, where resolutions are developed by members. Those passed by one of the organization's 21 state divisions are forwarded to the national convention for review by resource committees and are then voted on by delegates sent from League chapters. More than 370 delegates convened at this year's 77th national annual convention.

The campaign finance reform resolution was presented by the League's Minnesota and South Dakota divisions, who are concerned that nonprofit organizations like the League are losing the ability to participate effectively in the legislative process.

"Reform of campaign spending laws is a major conservation issue and much more," said William West, IWLA national president. "The public's voice in the conservation policy making process is being drowned out by special interests buying access to elected officials through campaign contributions and 'soft money' expenditures."

The Iowa Division offered a resolution calling for a moratorium on factory farms, which are a major source of polluted runoff into lakes and streams, and a major source of fish kills.

"This moratorium is imperative so that states can curb the rampant growth of these operations until their impacts on water and air quality and land use patterns can be determined," said Roy Overton, chairman of the League's Environmental Health and Air Committee.

A resolution calling for the phase-out of the highly polluting two-cycle engine, used in personal watercraft, marine outboard engines, snowmobiles, all-terrain vehicles and dirt bikes, was offered by the Maryland Division. Essentially unchanged in design for more than 50 years, the inefficient two-cycle engine is one of the worst-polluting internal combustion engines. Between 25 and 30 percent of the fuel used in two-cycle engines is discharged unburned into the water.

"We urge all two-cycle engine manufacturers to end the production and sale of two-cycle engines of two horsepower and above, and replace them with cleaner burning four-cycle engines that are now available," said Charles Wiles, national treasurer and Maryland national director.

Other policy approved by the delegates at the convention addressed urban sprawl, estate taxes, funding for state fish and wildlife agencies, highway billboards, Upper Mississippi River management, and the preservation of gray wolves in Yellowstone National Park.

The Izaak Walton League of America is a national conservation organization with 50,000 members and supporters, 21 state divisions and more than 300 local chapters. Founded in 1922, the League is named for the 17th century conservationist and author of "The Compleat Angler."

WELS Biennial Convention to Unveil Plans for Synod's 150th Anniversary

MILWAUKEE, Wis. -- Approximately 500 voting and advisory delegates from the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod (WELS) will be meeting from July 26 - 30 at Martin Luther College in New Ulm, Minn., for the church's 55th Biennial Convention.

As one of the orders of business at the Biennial Convention, delegates will be learning firsthand about the synod's plans for celebrating its 150th anniversary and the 2000th anniversary of Christ's birth. The theme for this noteworthy celebration, which will be kicked off at the convention and culminate over a two-year period of time, is "Forward in Christ."

According to Gary Baumler, director of communications for WELS, "This is a noteworthy milestone for our synod, and we want all of our members to become involved in this celebration of praise and thanks. We are also hoping that this celebration will serve as an excellent opportunity to spread the good news about Christ in the world."

"In addition to learning about special synodwide anniversary celebrations, convention delegates will be treated to a sneak preview of two 30-second television commercials that have been produced to note our anniversary and to reach out to the lost in our nation with God's Word. Both spots will run throughout the country in the spring of 2000, leading up to Easter. The national advertising campaign will also incorporate radio and outdoor advertisements, again with the hope of getting more people into God's word more often through worship and Bible study."

Other items to be discussed include whether to have Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary, Mequon, Wis., pursue accreditation and whether to approve a plan for Martin Luther College teacher graduates to receive automatic state licensure in Minn.

WELS, characterized as theologically conservative, is the third largest Lutheran church body in America. With national offices today at 2929 N. Mayfair Rd., Milwaukee, Wis., WELS began in 1850 when three German pastors met in Milwaukee. Today, it has grown to 1,239 congregations in North America. It has 411,295 baptized members, which includes 315,355 communicants, served by 1,224 pastors.

The synod operates four ministerial education schools: Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary, Mequon, Wis.; Martin Luther College, New Ulm, Minn.; Luther Preparatory School, Watertown, Wis., and Michigan Lutheran Seminary, Saginaw, Mich. WELS congregations support 366 Lutheran elementary schools, 289 early childhood education programs, and 22 area Lutheran high schools served by 2,726 specially trained teachers.

WELS has opened 70 new home missions in the past three years. At any given time, between 180 to 200 congregations look to Home Missions for some level of support.

In world missions, WELS supports 69 missionaries and 22 teachers doing work in 36 different languages in 26 countries on 5 continents. Sixty-four national pastors, 10 vicars, and 235 evangelists and assistant pastors work alongside their missionaries serving 522 congregations and 72 preaching stations.

For more information on WELS, contact their headquarters at (414) 256-3888 or visit their website at www.wels.net.

WELS is represented in Kewaskum by St. Lucas Ev. Lutheran Church. Pastor Edwin Fredrich will serve as a delegate to this convention. Pastor Fredrich has also been assigned to the Home Mission Committee and will be one of the presenters conducting a Bible Class on Home Missions at the convention.

Be sun-wise
Top 10 sun-safety tips

To protect children and adults, the American Academy of Dermatology recommends the following:

- Try to stay out of the sun between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., when the sun's rays are the strongest.
- Use a broad-spectrum sunscreen that protects against UVA and UVB rays and has a Sun Protection Factor of 15 or greater, even on cloudy days.
- Reapply sunscreen every two hours when outdoors, especially if you're swimming or sweating.
- Wear protective, tightly woven clothing. Dark colors give more protection.
- Wear a 4-inch-wide broad-brimmed hat and sunglasses with UV protective lenses even when walking short distances.
- Stay in the shade whenever possible.
- Avoid reflective surfaces, which can reflect up to 85 percent of the sun's damaging rays.
- Protect children by keeping them out of the sun, especially between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Apply sunscreens, beginning at six months of age.
- Avoid sunlamps, tanning beds and tanning parlors.
- Listen to the UV Index reports. Take special care when exposure levels are 5 - 10+.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of EUGENE ZEHREN, who passed away ten years ago, July 30, 1989:

It's truly unbelievable
That it's been 10 long years
For it seems like only yesterday
That we wiped each others tears.
We know you're always with us
We feel your presence near
But still we miss your loving smile

Your kind words we hold so dear.
We feel you watching over us
It helps to ease our pain
And makes our lives a little easier
Knowing we'll soon be with you again.

Sadly missed by Rita and family

H.R. 22, the Postal Modernization Act of 1999 . . . Why the Postal Modernization Act of 1999 is Needed

Milwaukee, WI -- Some of the competitors of the Postal Service have embarked on a strategy which takes their misinformation campaign about the Postal Service outside the Congressional confines to state capitals around the United States.

While most agree that reform of our nation's postal laws is needed, identifying and implementing the right changes presents a difficult challenge. The Postal service is working towards postal reform with John McHugh, Chairman of the Subcommittee on the Postal Service, in concert with other members of the postal community.

The Postal Modernization Act of 1999 (H.R. 22) addresses many of the issues essential to positive reform, such as:

- Preservation of universal service and the modernization of the rate-making process;
- For the first time ever, the Postal Service will be legally required to hold its price changes for a First-Class stamp at or below the rate of inflation;
- The proposed Private Law Corporation would operate separately from the Postal Service and, more importantly, generate its own revenue. It must stand on its own -- without support from the Postal Service and the revenue generated from stamp sales;
- The Postal Regulatory Commission, the independent federal agency that would oversee our pricing, also will have increased powers under the bill.

Recent history proves we can deliver inflation-based rates. Our last two price changes have been well below the rate of inflation. The increase in January, the first in four years, averaged just 2.9 percent. By contrast, United Parcel Service has raised its prices by more than that amount every single year.

Service is the best it's

Announce Group Therapy Program

The Wisconsin Community Mental Health Counseling Center, located in West Bend at 120 North Main Street, Suite 250, is pleased to announce a 12-week group therapy program for individuals who are concerned about their drinking.

This group will be facilitated by Jerry L. Olson, CADC III, and is applicable to individuals who need to complete a driver safety program as a result of driving while intoxicated.

ever been at the Postal Service. Our committee is to continue making service improvements that will keep our performance high for the American people.

Whether or not H.R. 22 passes, the Postal Service has absolutely no intention of wantonly raising its rates. Our highly vocal customers, stiff market place competition, technological innovation, and the U.S. Congress will make sure of that.

When the full committee considers the bill, it will contain modified language in six areas:

- Negotiated Service Agreement provisions that could provide mailers with discounts and premium services have been clarified.
- In the equal markup provisions for competitive products, international transportation costs have been explicitly excluded. The Postal Regulatory Commission also has been urged to consider unique or disproportionate operating costs, such as the Priority Mail Processing Centers.
- Non-competitive products and services will be priced at inflation-based levels with business and marketplace flexibility.
- Provisions on the annual remittance of the competitive Products Fund to the Postal Service Fund have been clarified.
- The Competitive Products Fund has been granted a five-year transition period with access to market-rate credit from the Federal Financing Bank.
- The Federal Tort Claims Act will reflect the Postal Service's integrated operations structures.

The Postal Service continues to work with the Subcommittee, the full oversight Committee, and the rest of the postal community to develop fair, meaningful reform that provides greater competitive freedom, protects the public interest, and preserves the historic mandate of this national treasure.

Sign Up for Hunter Education Courses

MADISON -- Now is the time to sign up for hunter education courses to beat the fall rush, Wisconsin hunter safety officials say.

"The best times of the year to take a hunter education course are August and early September and in the spring," says Tim Lawhern, Department of Natural Resources hunter education administrator. "As the gun-deer season approaches, courses are more difficult to get into because demand is higher and some of our volunteer instructors have already conducted their courses and are themselves out hunting."

Wisconsin law requires anybody who was born on or after January 1, 1973, to pass a hunter education course and present his or her certificate to buy a license to hunt. Lawhern encourages hunters of all ages to take the course to reinforce safe hunting practices and to get the certificate they need to hunt in other states that require a hunter education certificate to buy a license. In addition, first-time graduates get a break on some license fees: certificates issued to 1999 graduates are valid for hunting small game until March 31, 2000. All first-time 1999 graduates also receive the privilege of shooting an antlerless deer with a regular deer license in units specified by the department.

A corps of more than 4,000 volunteer instructors teach the basic hunter education course, which features a DNR-certified curriculum that covers the history of hunting and firearms, firearm safety, hunter responsibility, wildlife conservation and management and wildlife identification. Game care, introduction to bow hunting and other specialty hunting, survival and first aid, and water safety, are other topics covered in the curriculum. Students must pass a written test and practical test by demonstrating safe firearm handling skills to pass the course and get certified.

Hunter education courses have helped to significantly cut the number of people injured or killed in hunting accidents in Wisconsin. In 1966, the year before hunter education courses started, 44 of every 100,000 hunters were injured in accidents, compared to a rate of 4 per 100,000 in recent years.

For information about class dates and locations, contact your local DNR service center, or learn about the classes by checking the DNR hunting education section of the law enforcement pages of the DNR website: <http://www.dnr.state.wi.us>.

JV Team Finishes Season on a High Note

The Kewaskum Junior Varsity finished up their season by defeating Chilton 11-1 in five innings and Kiel, 10-0, in five innings.

The Chilton game was a suspended game from earlier in the season with the Indians leading 3-0 in the bottom of the second with runners on first and second. The Indians did not waste much time as they scored three runs in the second, four in the third inning, and another in the fourth.

Leading the way defensively for the Indians was Josh Krahn and Tony Fith who each had two hits apiece, along with Noah Koch who had three hits.

Josh Krahn held the Tigers in check by avenging an earlier loss to them in June. He had eight strikeouts in five innings and even struck out the side in the fifth. He gave up two hits and two walks.

The Indians finished up the season by defeating Kiel, 10-0. Adam Hubacek was the hitting and pitching star of the final game of the season. He went three for four with a double and a triple, plus pitched a complete game, giving up no runs on two hits, striking out five and walking three.

Other hitting stars for the Indians were Justin Rhodes who had three hits, Tony Fith who had four hits and Jon Boedeker who had two hits.

The Indians Conference Record included: Indians 23, at Manitowoc 0, in five innings; Indians 10, Random Lake 5; Indians 11, at Plymouth 8; Indians 11, Two Rivers 0 in five innings; Indians 8, at Campbellsport 7; Indians 3 at Chilton 4; Indians 15, at Kiel 3, in five innings; Indians 12, at New Holstein 18; Indians 14, Manitowoc 9; Indians 18, at Random Lake 3, in five innings; Indians vs. Plymouth, suspended; Indians 15, at Two Rivers 1, in five innings; Indians 11, Chilton 1, in five innings; Indians 4, Campbellsport 10; Indians 1, New Holstein 3; Indians 10, Kiel 0, in five innings.

The Indians finished up the conference season going 11-4. Since there are no official standings on the Junior Varsity, it is difficult to determine where your position is in the conference standings. The only way to discover where you stand against the other teams is by talking to other coaches.

Unofficially, the Indians finished no lower than second as first place is undetermined. But the young Indians have a bright looking future with a lot of talent.

Slinger Owls End Season for Indians

The Indians played their second round State WIAA Tournament baseball game against the Owls in Slinger on Tuesday, July 20.

The story of the game was Slinger's southpaw pitcher, Eric Risch, who shut out the Indians for a 2-0 win. Risch was fresh off a shutout against Random Lake on Friday, July 16.

"Eric has pitched 14 scoreless innings. He keeps the ball over the plate and the defense behind him makes the plays. He only walked one, and at the high school level, that's what it takes to win," commented Indian Coach Mark Heise.

Indian pitcher Bobby Ogi also pitched a great game going the distance, and giving up only five hits against Risch's six. He threw six strikeouts, but walked four, leading to the Kewaskum loss.

Slinger scored one run in the third inning. Brad Fassbender singled to right with one out and then stole second. He scored on a Nick Brahm single to left. The second run crossed in the fourth. Ogi walked Rish to lead off the inning. Courtesy runner Dave Owens ran for Risch, stealing second, then scoring later on in infield error.

The Indians threatened in the top of the seventh when Andy Luedtke led off with a single to left. Ogi followed with a double to right to put runners at second and third with no outs. A ground ball to third, a pop up to second, and a ground ball to second ended the game and the Indian's season.

Andy Luedtke led Kewaskum's hitting, going 2x3. Ogi had a double and John Immel, Billy Cook and Adam Donath all singled.

Slinger advanced to the Cedarburg Sectional, along with West Bend East, Kettle Moraine Lutheran and Port Washington.

Hunters Need to Get Permission if They Want to Hunt Private Lands

MADISON -- Planning your hunt is the key to a safe, successful outing in the field, and a critical part is figuring out where you want to hunt and seeking permission if you hope to hunt private land, Wisconsin hunter safety officials say.

"Summer's half gone and the hunting season's just around the corner. 'Where am I going to go hunting?' is one of the most important questions you need to be asking yourself now," says Tim Lawhern, Department of Natural Resources hunter education administrator. "If you want to hunt private land, you need to be seeking permission now if you haven't already done so."

In Wisconsin, the state owns more than 450,000 acre and leases about 17,000 more acres, of lands open to public hunting. State and federal forests provide two million acres, and county forests another two million acres, that are open to hunting and fishing. In addition, property owners who participate in the damage and abatement and the Forest Tax Law programs must allow access to their lands, adding more public access.

People who want to hunt private lands need to have landowner permission to avoid trespassing, and need to behave courteously and considerably to be invited back the next year and to reflect favorably upon their sport. "It really boils down to hunter etiquette," Lawhern says.

He advises that when hunters contact the landowner to seek permission, that they be sure to introduce themselves by telling where they're from, what they wish to hunt, and show them your hunter education certificate if you have one.

"Regardless of whether the landowner's answer to you is yes or no, your response should simply be the same -- thank you," Lawhern says.

He also suggests that hunters offer to help the landowner on his or her land before the hunting season, whether it's with daily chores, haying, or some other need. "You might be surprised how far your willingness to shovel manure for a whole day will get you," he says.

After the hunt, Lawhern says, hunters should share their game with the landowner, and remember the landowner outside the hunting season. "Give them a Christmas card, a small gift, a thank you card," he said. "Landowners always appreciate being remembered outside the hunting season."

Never ruin an apology with an excuse.

Strobel Selected First Team All Conference

Eastern Wisconsin Conference coaches met on Sunday, July 18, to make their All Conference selections.

Jason Strobel's aggressiveness at the plate, plus an errorless year as the Indians' centerfielder, impressed the nine other EWC coaches as they voted for him as one of the First Team All Conference players. The Junior's conference stats were 18 games played, 59 at bats, 19 runs scored plus 21 hits for a .356 average.

The Indians' second baseman, senior Eric Wenninger, achieved Second Team status. He also played in 18 games. His statistics as second baseman were impressive, with 30 putouts, 28 assists, and only two errors. That works out to a .967 fielding average. (The middle infielders turned eight double plays this year). Wenninger hit .333, going 16x48 with an on base percentage of .500 (28x56).

Coach Heise felt his sophomore pitcher, Bobby Ogi, was handed a raw deal. Ogi won five conference games, plus had a five-inning no hitter against Sheboygan Falls. He pitched 54-1/3 innings, struck out 45 and had a 2.71 ERA, but was only given an Honorable Mention.

"I don't think Bobby should've been First Team, but he was definitely a Second Teamer," stated Coach Mark Heise. (Chilton pitcher Brad Hemaier was a Second Team selection, winning only two games, against Kiel and Roncalli).

Catcher Andy Luedtke received Honorable Mention. He caught and threw out 18 of 39 runners attempting to steal for a 46%. John Immel also received Honorable Mention for his effort as a pitcher and lead off hitter. Immel's conference record was 4-4 with a 2.54 ERA. He went 16x57 for a 281 batting average.

Eric Wenninger, John Immel and Andy Luedtke will participate in the Third Annual Eastern Wisconsin Conference/Central Lakeshore Conference Senior Classic which will be held in New Holstein on Saturday, July 31, at 1 p.m. Twenty-one seniors will be on the EWC roster to participate in the nine inning game.

New Holstein and Campbellsport dominated the All Conference selections. They each placed five players on the First and Second teams. Jim Ziegler, Travis Ebert, and Steve Ketter were First Team selections for Campbellsport, with Jake Flood and Clint Beck earning Second Team spots.
