Merry Christmas to all.

Merry Christmas to All... And to All a Good Night!

Tiny Jesse Werbelow, son of Dan and Kelly Werbelow of West Bend, thoroughly enjoyed his first "Breakfast with Santa" on December 4, in spite of the fact that a short nap was required and Santa's lap was the perfect place to nod off.

The annual "Breakfast with Santa" is hosted by the Kewaskum High School FHA Club in the school's Commons. Jesse and his family had a great time and state they are looking forward to attending the event next year... providing Jesse takes a nap first!

The festivities are truly the opportunity for many "Kodak moments" but this one surely has to top them all! All proceeds from the event go to the scholarship fund.

KEYS Concert Thank You

The KEYS Concert of Christmas music was held on Monday, December 6, at Kewaskum High School before a sellout crowd. The variety of music provided by The Moraine Chorus, Bound for Heaven and the Kewaskum High School Swing Choir delighted all in attendance. There was "something" for all musical tastes.

KEYS would like to thank all of the musicians of all the groups for volunteering their time and musical talents for the benefit of KEYS. Without you, this enjoyable evening would never happen. Thank you also to all who attended. Plan on attending in 2000.

KEYS is a non-profit scholarship organization specifically formed to provide scholarships to Kewaskum High School seniors.

KMS Christmas Concert Dec. 21

On Tuesday, December 21, the Kewaskum Middle School music department will present its Christmas concert. It will be held in Rose Hall at the high school beginning at 7 p.m.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grade choirs and bands will perform as well as the jazz band. It is open to all who wish to attend. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

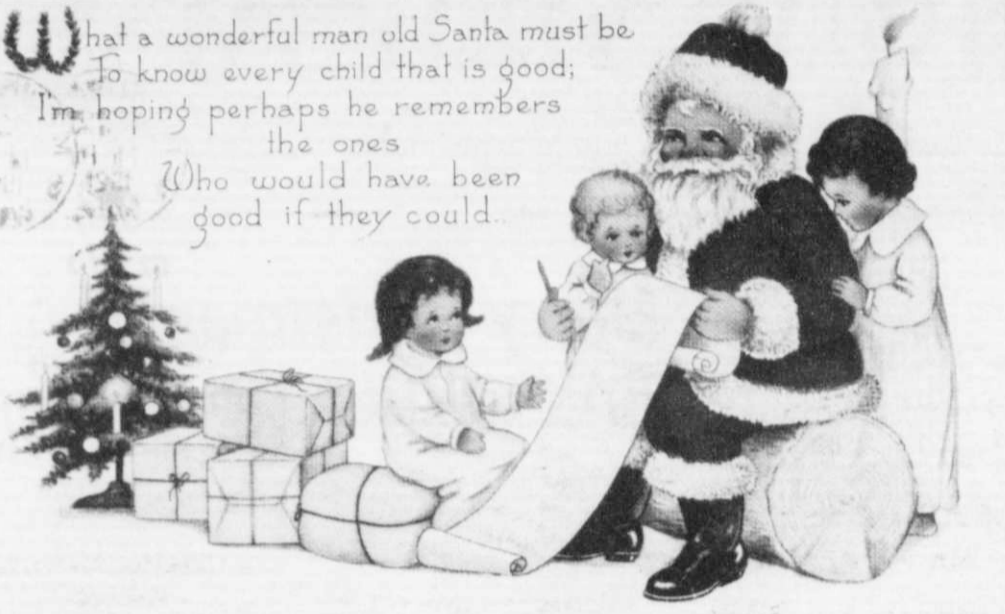

Sunburst Ski Area Open

Sunburst Ski Area, just south of Kewaskum, opened on Tuesday, November 30, at 4 p.m. Despite the warm temperatures, Sunburst received 12" of new snow from a man-made blizzard and a little additional help recently from the weather. With snow-making equipment, 16 snow cannons have been pumping snow to cover Exhibition, the intermediate run. The run will be serviced by a double chairlift. Sunburst Ski Area was the first in the state to open for skiing this year. Lift tickets are $12 per person. Sunburst also offers ski and snowboarding lessons for all ages. Further information on skiing can be obtained by contacting Sunburst at 262-626-8404.

Holiday Memories...

What a wonderful man old Santa must be
To know every child that is good;
I'm hoping perhaps he remembers
the ones
Who would have been good if they could.

The above "penny postcard" from Isabelle Muckerheide's collection, was designed especially for this time of year when the little ones seem to have such a hard time trying to be good... well at least they try... but as they old saying goes... it's so hard to be good!

Merry Christmas

EDUCATION... It's Everyone's Business

Wayne P. Graczyk

We tend to use certain phrases time and again without much thought. Have you ever wondered where they came from? For example, where did "Balk," "Beat Around the Bush," "Build a Fire Under Someone," "Start the Ball Rolling," "Chips Are Down," "Step On It," or "To Toe the Mark" come from?

This article is actually about asking people to consider running for a school board seat next spring. As a means of getting there, I will begin with explaining where the above phrases or words derived from, then continue my article and plea for your candidacy.

"To Beat Around the Bush" was derived from noblemen and gentry who went in for the sport of boar hunting. They were glad that others did the dangerous work. Young males were used to fan out through the woods and swamps making noise in order to beat animals toward the hunters. The razor sharp teeth of a big boar were lethal weapons. Unarmed beaters stayed out of dense clumps of undergrowth where a boar might be hiding choosing instead to beat around the bush instead of going through it. That strategy came to label any evasive technique.

To "Build a Fire Under Someone" actually came from attempting to get a stubborn mule to move. When a mule got ornery and stubborn, they'd spread all four legs apart and refused to move. Cotton Belt farmers adopted a desperate course of action when everything else failed. They'd build a small fire under the mule's belly in hopes that once in action, the animal could be guided and kept moving. So a person is well within limits to threaten to build a fire under a person they hope to stir into movement.

"Chips Are Down" is derived from the poker table. When the final bets of a hand have been made, all the chips are down on the table. No more can be added and none may be picked up until a winner is declared. We use this phrase when an inescapable moment of decision is at hand.

"Balk" didn't come from baseball as I had thought. Throughout much of northern Europe, early farmers used unplowed strips as dividers between fields. Ridges of this sort served to separate the crops of one farmer from another. From a word linked with the idea of missing or avoiding, the ribbon of earth avoided by the plow was known as a balk. One farmer could not cross another's balk without permission and when plowing his own field he had to stop at the balk. The word became associated with other kinds of avoidance and refusal and by the 16th century a person who protested an order was said to balk at instructions.

To "Step On It" came from the engineering changes that enabled motorists to pick up speed rapidly before World War I. Some models still used hand throttles to regulate the flow of fuel but most employed the relatively new 'foot speed' which came to be known as the accelerator. As a result, step on it came about when planning to speed up action of any sort.

"Toe the Mark" comes from Britain. Unlike their American cousins, entrants in a proper British foot race of the last century were required to come up to scratch. Instead, the official solemnly announced, "Gentlemen, toe your marks!" Every contestant wanted to be as far forward as possible at the moment the race began. It took practice and careful attention to toe the mark without going past it. Hence, the term came to be used on both sides of the Atlantic to mean meeting a standard or abiding by a rule.

And, finally, to "Start the Ball Rolling," also came from England. Croquet was one of England's favorite games during the 19th century. One insurmountable liability of the game led to its fall from favor: There was no way to organize a game so that each player has an equal chance to win. Given the first shot, an expert can often reach the goal before anyone else has had a chance to start. Because of this factor it was all-important to be the first player so a coin was tossed to see who would begin. Since then a person who took charge of any beginning borrowed from the game of Croquet and said he or she would "start the ball rolling."

With the school board elections scheduled for the spring of 2000, I didn't want to beat around the bush in my attempt to build a fire under someone to run for office here in Kewaskum.

I personally believe good elections are those with a minimum of two candidates for each opening. With two openings in spring, that would mean at least four people running. Where are they. Where are YOU? Why do you balk? Why haven't you picked up Declaration of Candidacy papers?

The chips are down and I think now is the best time for four or five residents to toe the mark and make next year's election a high profile, interesting race. I'm using this space in the Statesman in an effort to entice more good people to run. In other words, I'm reaching out to you, to start the ball rolling, to step on it. Once again, I'm asking community members to make a stand! It isn't always easy. It isn't always fun. But when it comes from the heart, it can be very beneficial to our children, and to yourself.

This is more than a notice. It is a plea for good people from the district to step forward, to be counted, to make yet another stand! Kewaskum has a great school district and it needs an equally great school board to represent the people, parents and children. Two positions will be on the ballot. As I already said, larger numbers offer more options and positions for the electorate to choose from. I would love to see a primary because it would mean we have more than four people running for the two seats. Before saying, "No, I just don't have the time" or "I'm too busy," I would like to share something with you. My mother-in-law, who just turned 91 years of age, just published her third book, all since retiring at age 70! Won't you consider running, please?

School Board Declaration of Candidacy papers can be picked up at the district office, 1450 School Street, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. If you took the time to read this entire article, if you are reading this very sentence, it means you're active in the community and that makes YOU an excellent candidate to run for a seat on the Kewaskum School Board. The deadline for picking up and filing your papers is Tuesday, January 4, 2000, at 5 p.m.

Santa Visits Ho-Ho-Homer

Santa arrived in Kewaskum a little early on a quick "pit stop" to check his list (twice) and have his picture taken with area children at West Bend Savings Bank last Wednesday. Of course, Santa isn't used to this warm Wisconsin weather and had to take a breather with his old pal, Homer, outside, where they were "caught on camera!" Rest assured, Santa has long-since returned to the North Pole to load up his sleigh for his return to Kewaskum on Christmas Eve. Better watch out... better not pout... Homer... (and Tim, too!)

Memorial Chess Tournament Returns Dec. 18

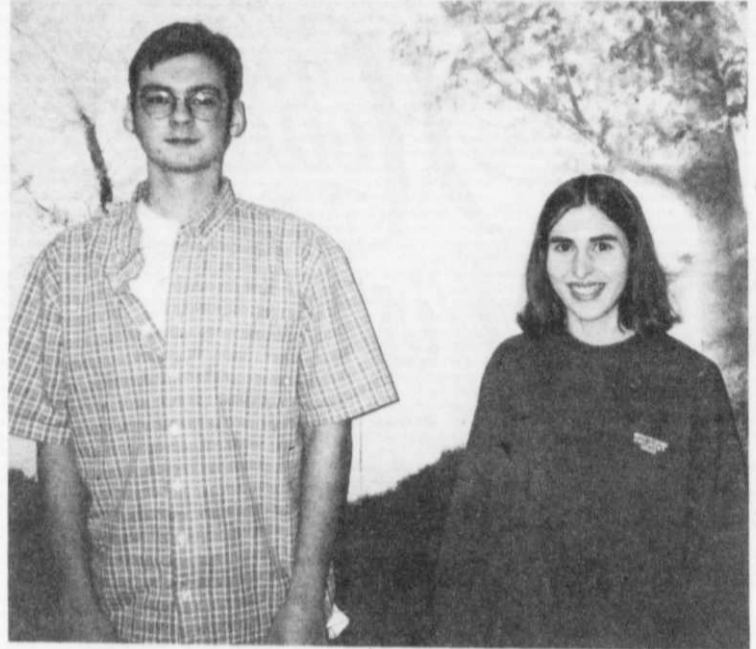

The third annual Joe Feider Memorial Chess Tournament will be held on Saturday, December 18, at the Lakeview Community Library in Random Lake, and the public is welcome to participate.

Organizer Edward "Doc" Ferber says that registration will take place at 9 a.m., followed by rounds at 9:30 and 11 a.m., as well as 12:30, 2:30 and 4 p.m. Each participant is guaranteed five games. The tournament is open to everyone and there are no age limits. For more information concerning the tournament, call Ferber at 920-994-9996.

The tournament bears the name of Joseph P. Feider II, who was an active member of the Random Lake High School Chess Club when Ferber, now a retired teacher, served as the advisor. Feider, 20, died in an automobile accident that occurred on June 3, 1979.

Ferber has organized a chess club that meets the first and third Monday evening of each month at the Lakeview Community Library, located at 112 Butler Street, in Random Lake. All ages are welcome, and free lessons are available for anyone who wants to learn.

Kiwanis Students Of the Month

Kurt Snyder and Jennifer Wolf

Kewaskum High School seniors Jennifer Wolf and Kurt Snyder were named September's Kiwanis Students of the Month.

At KHS, Jennifer has been involved in Student Council, FBLA, FHA, FLAGS, Peers-4-Peers, and the HOPE Club. She was also involved in fast pitch and spent four years on the tennis squad.

Jennifer even started a Bible camp for kids at her church. She teaches both high school and pre-school CCD and currently has a job at Montessori Children's House in West Bend.

Jennifer plans to attend Marian College in Fond du Lac to eventually become an English teacher at the secondary school level.

Kurt Snyder's future plans include attending Milwaukee School of Engineering to study mechanical engineering.

Until then, Kurt stays busy helping out at Campbellsport Evangelical Lutheran Church and working at his part-time job at the Piggly Wiggly in West Bend.

Kurt has participated in golf at KHS, and has been named to the KHS honor roll every year.

Congratulations to Jennifer and Kurt for their accomplishments.

Entertainers born on Christmas Day include singers Jimmy Buffett, Amy Grant, Barbara Mandrell and Tony Martin and actor Gary Sandy.

The first Christmas tree was probably of German origin, created by Boniface, an English missionary to Germany. He created the Christ tree to replace the pagan custom of a sacred tree dedicated to the Norse god Odin.

KEWASKUM -- Is your school or church group looking for an exciting way to beat the winter blahs? Why not introduce your students to the exciting sport of down hill skiing?

If your group does not want to commit to three weeks of lessons, but still want to experience the thrill of skiing, bring your students out for a one-day group outing. This still includes everything you need to start skiing, but can be done in a longer one-day session, any evening of the week or on weekends.

Further information on Learn to Ski packages or group outings can be obtained by contacting Sunburst Ski Area at phone number (262) 626-8404.

Santa's Helpers

Residents of Maple Dale Manor in Kewaskum volunteered on Thursday, December 2, to help Santa and his elves stuff the "goody bags" that were passed out to all the children at the annual Christmas Parade held on December 5. Helpers included Catherine Gau, Bertha Harter, Margaret Gehl, Gertrude Reysen, Marie Volm, Geri Brace, Al Bauer, June Kneifl, Sophie Celnar, Helen Felix, Evelyn Gerner, Ruthella Kramer, Minerva Martin, Gertrude Hendriksen, Eleanor Dornacker and A. Ray Becker. Many thanks to those who assisted with this tedious task. Santa couldn't do it without all your help!

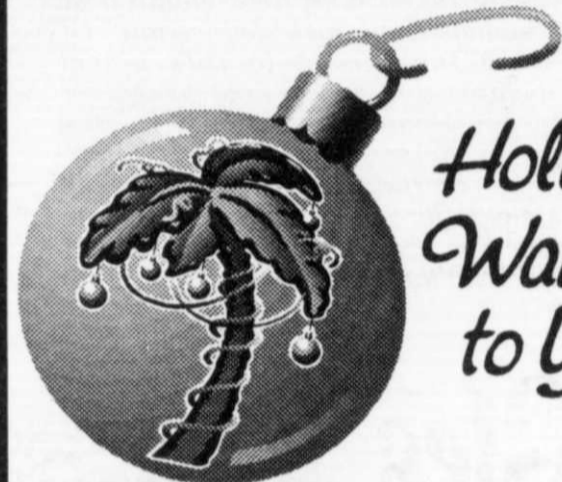

Merry Christmas Togetherness

One of the happiest decisions that the whole family can make during the year is what Christmas tree to choose. This family decision is based upon a lot of loving considerations.

The tree is chosen and set up; the traditional light, angel, or star is placed at the top. Now the lights are strung and the family steps back to take a look and get into a playful argument as to the fact that there are too many blue lights close together on one side, or not enough baubles at the bottom.

Some like to hang the icicles strand by strand while others toss them by the handfuls.

Keep a merry heart during the holiday season. Good humor can clear up Christmas quarrels that often start because everyone is tired. Happy family togetherness!

Keep Children Safe During the Holidays

Holidays can be a joyous time for children and adults alike. But, while elaborate decorations, entertaining and other festivities can make wonderful traditions, they also can distract parents from taking usual child safety precautions.

Safety experts at Children's Hospital of Wisconsin want to caution holiday visitors that not all homes are "child proof." Take extra care to make sure children do not have access to poisons and other hazards. Be alert to potential dangers and take the following steps to keep your children safe:

Keep guests' medicines and other poisons away from children.

Guests, especially grandparents, often carry medicine bottles in their purses or suitcases where curious children might find them.

Although many drugs come with child-resistant caps, some people keep their medicines in easy-to-open containers. Even if drugs have child-safety caps, children still may be able to open them.

Parents should make sure overnight guests keep their medicine bottles on a high shelf or in a drawer that is inaccessible to children. Preferably, they should be in a guest room where the door is closed and children cannot enter.

Other poisoning threats include plants such as Christmas cactus, ivy, holly and mistletoe berries; baking ingredients such as vanilla and almond extract; alcoholic drinks such as eggnog; and colored wrapping paper, which can expose children to lead if chewed.

People who suspect a child has ingested a poisonous substance should call the Children's Hospital Poison Center at (800) 815-8855 or 911.

Avoid choking hazards.

Seasonal decorations also can pose a choking hazard for younger children.

Many Christmas tree ornaments have parts that can be broken off and swallowed. Metal ornament hooks should be avoided. Use short string hangers instead.

Children and pets also can get entangled in extension cords and strings of lights. Wrap and tie unused portions of cords and keep them out of reach.

When wrapping gifts for young children, avoid using ribbons or small decorations. Be careful when giving children holiday treats, such as popcorn, nuts and candy canes which can cause younger children to choke.

Watch for fire hazards.

Avoid using candles in decorations or displays. If you do use them, keep candles away from children and combustible materials, such as curtains. Never leave a candle burning unattended or leave matches or lighters where children can reach them.

Fix frayed wires, loose connections or broken sockets on tree lights and extension cords. Look for a fresh tree if buying a natural tree and keep the stand filled with water.

Keep fire extinguishers in your home and know how to use them.

Do not sleep next to an infant if you have been drinking.

Sharing a bed with an infant is cozy and convenient for those caring for newborns who wake up and need to be fed often. It also may be necessary when staying at a relative's home where space is limited. However, take caution when sleeping with a baby and avoid it if you have been drinking. Alcohol and other drugs impair your awareness and ability to react, increasing your baby's risk of suffocation.

Children's Hospital experts recommend infants sleep on their backs on a firm mattress without a comforter or pillow. Make sure the crib mattress fits snugly in the crib and crib slats are no wider than 2-3/8" apart. Keep curtains, window-blind cords and other choking hazards out of a child's reach.

Buy age-appropriate toys for children.

Buy toys appropriate for the child's age and do not allow young children to play with toys meant for older children. Toy manufacturer's recommendations can help, but also examine toys closely yourself.

Before buying a toy, ask yourself these questions:

Is the toy well-designed? Is it safe? Are there sharp edges, loose strings or parts that can be swallowed? Does the toy make a shrill noise that might be too loud for a child's ears?

Experts at Children's Hospital offer the following suggestions for age-appropriate toys:

Infants up to age one enjoy colors, sounds, movement and texture. Suitable toys include cradle gyms, music boxes or animals, mobiles, balls, rattles, dolls, squeeze toys, floating bath toys, pots and pans and soft and washable animals.

Think big when choosing toys for children ages one to two. They often take things apart and put the pieces in their mouths. The best toys for this age group are cloth or plastic books with large, colorful illustrations, stocking toys, sturdy dolls, kiddie cars, toy telephones, musical toys, nesting blocks and push and pull toys.

Preschoolers, ages two to five, enjoy imitating adult activities. Look for toys such as miniature hammers and benches, housekeeping toys, large stringing beads, building blocks, books, blackboards and chalk, crayons, finger paints and clay.

Children, ages five to nine, have active imaginations. Help stimulate their creativity and refine their dexterity with sewing sets, doctor or nurse kits, puppets, tea party sets, balls, bicycles, crafts, electric trains, paper dolls, table games, computer games and work benches.

From ages 10 to 14 computers, hobby collectibles, microscopes, books and table and board games are popular.

Children's Hospital of Wisconsin, founded in 1894, is one of the leading centers for pediatric medicine in the United States. Private, independent and not-for-profit, it serves Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula, providing for the medical needs of children, regardless of race, color, creed or ability to pay.

Children in Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg believe Saint Nicholas arrives on the eve of December 6 by boat from Spain, rides a white horse through the streets, and leaves gifts in shoes left by the fireplace.

Merry Christmas

May the coming holiday season bring joy to the world and happiness to your door. We couldn't have asked for nicer customers!

Making Your Household Y2K Ready

SIXTH IN A SERIES OF EIGHT ARTICLES

Generally, most officials are optimistic about any problems that may be caused by Y2K. Most suggest preparing for Y2K in the same manner that you would for a Wisconsin winter storm.

In spite of these generally optimistic viewpoints, the Y2K challenge make it prudent for Wisconsin families to treat the matter seriously. We know that ice storms can interrupt electric power and make a drive to the grocery store hazardous for hours or sometimes days.

Therefore, use these tips to make sure your household is ready for any emergency.

- ✓ Keep paper copies of important financial records. Although excess cash withdrawals are not recommended (your cash is safer in the bank than in your house), plan to have enough cash to get you through a long weekend.

- ✓ Families with special medical needs should review plans with their health care provider. Keep an extra week of medications on hand. Check on the operation of special medical equipment for your home.

- ✓ If schools and day care facilities are not able to open, make sure you have alternative child care plans. And remember the needs of elderly and disabled relatives, friends and neighbors. Check on them often.

- ✓ Have enough food and water available for three to five days. Keeping food safe during power outages will be the topic of next week's article.

- ✓ Be sure to know the locations of emergency shelters or have available emergency telephone numbers to call in case of an emergency.

- ✓ Other supplies to have on hand include:

- * Battery powered radio
- * Standard (non-cordless) phone and/or CB radio.
- * Blankets and sleeping bags.
- * NOAA Weather Radio and batteries.

- * Non-food products: toilet paper, tissue, plates, cups, plastic utensils, matches, aluminum foil (to avoid dish washing by lining pots and pans), plastic garbage bags with ties, towellettes, soap, liquid detergent, and disinfectants.

- * Plastic buckets with tight lids (to serve as temporary sanitation facilities).

- * First aid kit and manual.

- * Special items for infants (diapers, wipes, formula), elderly or disabled family members.

- * Extra set of eyeglasses.
- * Games and entertainment for children.

- * Non-electric can opener.

- * Personal hygiene products.

- * Pet needs: food, chew toys, bedding, pet carrying case or crate, and litter.

- * Fire extinguisher (5 pound A-B-C type)

- * Adjustable wrench (to turn off gas and water lines)

- * Extra set of car keys

(This list is not inclusive. You may want to consider other items that you may need.)

Next week watch for Y2K information "The Power is Off -- Is the Food Safe?"

Letter to The Editor CHRISTMAS MIRACLE NEEDED

I thank everyone in Kewaskum and West Bend for their loving and wonderful support when I moved here. You made me feel right at home. Now I need your help. I need you to help me cause a Christmas Miracle. I need the townspeople and everyone you know to pull together in prayer and support.

My 23-year-old daughter, Jesseca is pregnant with a tiny baby boy and her uterus has collapsed and her water broke which threw her into premature labor. She is eight weeks early. There is a big threat to the life of her and my grandchild. The doctors are doing everything they can medically. Now it's up to the Lord and us.

Jesseca is an easily stressed young girl, which only makes matters worse. I just spent a month in Texas with her because of other problems before this occurred. My funds were exhausted and having children in school here in Kewaskum, I had to return home, so I can't be there to give Jess the support and love of her mother that she needs right now.

Jess is going to have to spend this holiday in the hospital away from her other children and family so this has added stress to her. She has been sent far from home to Fort Worth, Texas Harris Hospital where the baby and her can get the best medical care money can buy. But, that doesn't help a young mother's spirit and fear for her baby's life. As well as my spirit and fear for my daughter and grandson's life.

The baby is tiny and the doctors are trying to hold labor off as long as possible for his lungs are not yet formed. I ask that everyone here as well as your friends and families band together in prayer with me and mine. Let's see if we can work a Christmas Miracle here.

Anyone wanting to send cards or letters of encouragement to Jesseca and her family it will be greatly appreciated and may do so addressed to me, Teresa Piercey at P.O. Box 641, West Bend, WI 53095-0641 and I will see that they are forwarded on to my daughter. It will give Jess and the baby a much better chance of making it if she sees the love that there is in this world.

I thank you for helping me with this Christmas Miracle for my family.

Sincerely!

Teresa Piercey

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ROGER KUEHL, who passed away seven years ago, December 17, 1992:

We will never forget the day,
When you left us and went away.
We will never forget your smile,
It will last for a long, long while.
We will never forget the cheer,
That you brought us daily every year.
Deep in our hearts, your memory is kept,
And we will cherish that and never forget.

Sadly missed by his family

IN MEMORY

In memory of Kimberly Dreher, who passed away one year ago, December 17, 1998:

They say memories are golden,
Well, maybe that is true,
But we never wanted memories
We only wanted you.

If we had one lifetime wish
One dream that could come true,
We'd pray to God so hard
For yesterday and you.

If teardrops were a stairway
And heartaches make a lane,
We'd walk a path to Heaven
And bring you back again.

A thousand times we needed you.

A thousand times we cried.
If our love could have saved you,
You never would have died.

Forever loved and missed by Bruce, Brooke, Adam and friends.

Farmington Swampbusters 4-H Club News

At our last 4-H meeting, November 11, 1999, at the Farmington Town Hall, we had invited new club members. We played an introducing game to meet all of the new members.

Then we discussed the future Christmas party's date, place, time and where. Then, we determined on a setup committee and a cleanup committee.

There was a Halloween report. We decided the Halloween party was very successful.

After the meeting we had an awards ceremony. Congratulations to all of the members that received awards.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of VERA OPPERMAN who passed away one year ago, December 18, 1988:

Though her smile is gone
And her hands we cannot touch,
Still we have so many memories
Of one we loved so much;

Her memory is our keepsake
With which we'll never part,
God has her in His keeping
We have her in our hearts.

Sadly missed by her husband Henry and family.

THINK OF US AS PERSONAL TRAINERS
(FOR YOUR HOUSE)

Before spending the time and money on your next home improvement project, make sure your house spends some time with a personal fitness trainer — a HouseWorks™ contractor. By using the simple, low-cost HouseWorks inspection, your house can be more comfortable, more energy efficient, and safer.

A HouseWorks contractor has been trained to treat your house as a whole system. They know how air flow downstairs affects comfort upstairs, how heating and cooling systems affect drafts, and where drafts are best stopped.

A thorough home inspection conducted by a HouseWorks contractor will benefit your house in these four main home improvement areas:

- heating & cooling projects
- remodeling: additions, renovations, general projects, and installing or adding insulation
- a general home efficiency check-up
- problems that are symptoms of poor air flow: high energy bills, drafts, hot and/or cold rooms, hard-to-heat areas, exterior ice build-up, fog or condensation on windows

The basic HouseWorks inspection includes: a blower door test to measure the amount and location of air leaking into or out of your home; an insulation test; a carbon monoxide test; a gas-fired equipment test; and a chimney draft test. Other energy-saving services are also available.

WES Salutes KEYS Participants

At a Wayne Elementary School rally to celebrate the tremendous turnout shown by the students, staff and family members for the KEYS Scholarship Run/Walk, top student finishers were saluted. Those WES students finishing in the top three in their age divisions are, front, from right: Steven Kudek, Michelle Christianson, Rachel Ogi, and Sarah Williams. Back, from right: Eric Ogi, Jennie Wicklund, Ashley Corey and Dustin Weiss.

As added incentive for participating in the KEYS Scholarship Run/Walk, student names were entered in a drawing for an array of prizes. Here, first grader Mitchell Heberer tries to decide which prize to choose from a table that started with everything from a boom box to Packer books.

PARTY PLANNING POINTS

If you don't have a special centerpiece in mind, or just don't have room for one on your table, set the kids to folding brightly colored napkins in triangle shapes to stand up in the glasses.

Colorful, permanent press sheets can become lovely holiday tablecloths.

If you think you can't have a large crowd because of not enough matching tableware, the patterns can be mixed to have a festive look. Or plan a buffet meal where each goes his own way, not paying particular attention as to whether his utensils happen to match someone else's or not.

It's the comfortable, happy atmosphere you have at your party that will cause others to have a great time, rather than the finery you could exhibit.

Happy partying!

Make Your Holiday Celebrations Sparkle ... With Flowers

The holidays are a time for personal celebrations and traditions shared with family and friends. Flowers have long played a special role in the holiday festivities and are as personal and individual as the people doing the celebrating.

Most people cannot imagine Christmas without poinsettias, evergreen garlands and vivid holiday blooms, or a New Year's party without an explosion of flowers to ring in the new year. Of course, of all the flowers on the market, the one most closely associated with Christmas is the poinsettia.

According to the Society of American Florists (SAF), poinsettias are native to Mexico, where they grow wild. The first American ambassador to Mexico, Joel Robert Poinsett, sent the first poinsettias home to South Carolina in 1825. Though red seems to be the color of choice for this popular plant, the poinsettia comes in a variety of color choices: colors like white, pink, peach, yellow, as well as speckled and marble varieties have expanded its uses as the perfect holiday gift for enhancing the home or office décor.

To keep your poinsettia looking the best it can be throughout the holiday season, SAF offers these tips:

- Keep it away from hot or cold drafts (the tops of televisions and radiators).
- Keep the soil moist but not soggy.
- Place the plant in a room with enough natural light.
- When selecting a poinsettia plant, choose one with small, tightly clustered buds in the center. Look for crisp, bright, undamaged foliage. Avoid choosing a plant that is displayed in a drafty area.

FLORAL DECORATING IDEAS

- Greet guests at the door with a wreath holding a personal tree ornament for each of them to take home.
- Use fresh flowers on the tree in water vials. You also can use dried or treated flowers — they are just as beautiful.
- Place scented candles with fresh blossoms in each powder room.
- Place garland on the mantel with fresh flowers and candles scattered among the greenery to beautifully grace the room.
- Float candles and flowers in treasured crystal or silver bowls to create a fabulous effect.
- As guests leave, have a vase of loose flowers by the door. Invite them to take one home as a gift. SX997795

Village Board Meeting Minutes

Village of Kewaskum
Public Hearing Meeting
November 22, 1999
7:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Regular Special Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President Robert Wagner presided. Trustee Andy Pesch and Trustee Warren Dums asked to be excused and was absent. Trustee Andrew Kuehl indicated he would be a few minutes late and arrived at 7:10 p.m. All other Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of the November 15, 1999 were approved as printed.

The public hearing was held on the proposed budget for 2000 as noticed in the November 4, & November 11, 1999 Kewaskum Statesman. It was noted two reporters were present. A review of both the revenues and expenditures were gone over by the Administrator with questions being asked and answered. The budget as proposed and heard, would equal a general budget increase of .51% or $9,156. The tax levy as discussed would equal an increase of $27,774 or 3.7% partially caused from the real growth within the Village and a decrease in state shared revenue of $19,447 or -5.0%. The Village tax rate also reflects an increase of 21.0¢ or 3.5% per $1,000 assessed value. The Village's rate as proposed would equal $6.205 per $1,000 assessed value. Several other vital tax facts were reviewed in conjunction with the proposed budget. On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board closed the public hearing. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

The public hearing was held on the proposed Library Fund, Debt Service Fund and Special Revenue Fund budgets for 2000. A review of the funds revealed no major changes on the accounts. On a motion by Trustee Andrew Kuehl, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board closed the public hearing. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

The public hearing was held on the proposed Water Department budget for 2000. The Board reviewed the budget and it was noted the utility was meeting the PSC's requirement in reference to a rate of return. No rate adjustment is needed at this time and the utility is in fair financial condition. On a motion by Trustee John Kenworthy, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board closed the public hearing. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

The public hearing was held on the proposed Water Pollution Control Department budget for 2000. The Board reviewed the budget and noted that the engineering work for Main Street and Riverview Drive will start in 2000. The expenses associated with this project are to be capitalized and not part of the utilities operating budgets. It was noted that the revenues and expenditures did not balance and is suggested that a review of the financial status of the Department be completed after the second quarter of 2000. On a motion by Trustee John Kenworthy, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Board closed the public hearing. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

The Fire Chief Mark Groeschel was not present.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel did not have anything to report.

Director of Public Works, Jerry Gilles did not have anything to report.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed the following with the Board:

1) Review of Taxpayer and League bulletins.

1) Review EDAC meeting scheduled for November 29, 1999.

2) Review Journal Sentinel article on the Village.

3) Review of correspondence.

The Board reviewed the proposed budget for 2000 as heard at the public hearing and reviewed the taxpayer informational memo, including Holiday Municipal Building hours as earlier approved. On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the General Budget as proposed for 2000. On a motion by Trustee Andrew Kuehl, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the format and content for the taxpayers memo was approved. President Robert Wagner, along with the entire Board, thanked the Administrator and all Department Heads and employees for continuing to work hard on maintaining a sound and reasonable budget.

On a motion by Trustee John Kenworthy, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the Library Fund, Debt Service Fund and Special Revenue Fund Budgets as heard at public hearing for 2000.

Action was taken on Resolution No. 99-41 a resolution setting the 1999 tax rate as attached hereto:

On a motion by Trustee Andrew Kuehl, seconded by Trustee Harry Roecker and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the Water Department budget for 2000 as heard at public hearing.

On a motion by Trustee Harry Roecker, seconded by Trustee Andrew Kuehl and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the Water Pollution Control Department budget for 2000 as heard at public hearing.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee

John Kenworthy and carried by majority by voice vote the Board authorized the signing of the 2000 Fire Service Contracts with the Town of Kewaskum.

On a motion by Trustee Harry Roecker, seconded by Trustee Andrew Kuehl and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn to closed session under chapter 19.85(1)(c) of the Statutes to discuss employee performance data and evaluation for Village Employees over which the governmental body has jurisdiction. Farmland Use Value Public Hearing Jan. 7

A public hearing has been scheduled on the administrative rules for assessing farmland only on its agricultural value, rather than its potential worth for residential, commercial or industrial development.

The public hearing is scheduled for Friday, January 7, from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the State Capitol's fourth floor G.A.R. hearing room, Madison.

Revenue Secretary Cate Zeuske promulgated an emergency rule on November 30, the day that milk prices plummeted to their lowest level since 1978. That action means that farmland next year will be assessed fully on its agricultural value instead of on 70% of its speculative value for non-farm uses, because 2000 had been scheduled as the third year of a projected 10-year phase-in.

"While Washington dithers, Wisconsin is taking decisive action to help our farmers," Secretary Zeuske said. She noted that dairy price reform efforts in the nation's capital have been for naught. Grain prices are depressed and hog prices have barely recovered from last year's historic low.

If the administrative rules implementing farmland use value had not been enacted by January 1, "farmers will have to wait until the year 2001 for full relief," the Secretary said.

The emergency rule was announced pursuant to action taken October 18 by the statutory Farmland Advisory Council. Section 70.32 (2r) of State Statutes clearly states that farmland use value will be phased in until December 31, 2008 or until the Farmland Advisory Council makes its recommendation.

In addition, on October 25, the presidents of 12 farm organizations petitioned the Department under section 227.12 of the state statutes to fully assess land on its agricultural value in year 2000. Those organizations are: the Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, National Farmers Organization, Agribusiness Council, Agri-Service Association, Cattlemen's Association, Corn Growers, Federation of Cooperatives, Pork Producers, Potato and Vegetable Growers, Soybean Association, Cranberry Growers.

The farm coalition said, "While the overall impact to other property owners is relatively minor, elimination of the phase-in by the Department would have a major positive impact on a farm economy that is feeling the effects of record low prices for most of the commodities produced by Wisconsin farmers."

"Isn't it time we did something to help farmers while there are still farmers to be helped?" Secretary Zeuske asked. "Assessing farmland for its agricultural use rather than its potential development is legal and it is the right thing to do."

"This is not a tax break for farmers so much a correction of past inequities," Secretary Zeuske said.

Wisconsin Agriculture Secretary Ben Brancel has called farm property taxes "their biggest cost of production."

Agricultural land represents only 2.8% of the state's total equalized value. Forty-nine of the 50 states have some form of agricultural use value assessment. (Michigan is the exception.) For example, agricultural land comprises only one-half of one percent of the total property value of the metropolitan area of Milwaukee, Waukesha, Racine and Kenosha Counties.

What's more, the shift in school aid is estimated at only $18 million out of over $4 billion in total.

Farmers will continue to pay on the full market value of their homes and farmsteads.

Hunters Shoot More Than 382,000 Deer During Regular Gun Season

MADISON -- Hunters shot an estimated 382,914 deer during the recently completed nine-day gun deer hunt, the third highest on record, according to preliminary reports compiled from Department of Natural Resources registration stations across the state.

The total compares to a harvest of 325,010 in 1998 and record harvests of about 398,000 in 1995 and 389,000 in 1996.

The hunt opened with a record two-day harvest of 184,339 on November 20-21 in unseasonably warm, dry weather conditions and a second highest ever state deer population estimated at 1.6 million. Early, dry conditions, which caused forestry officials to issue an outdoor fire ban over much of the state, gave way on the fourth day of the hunt to rain, and, in the far northern counties, snow.

Reports of hunter crowding varied from county to county but with the exception of the mid-week snowfall, access was excellent throughout the hunt.

"Hunters came real close to hitting our preseason goal of 400,000," said Tom Hauge, director of DNR Bureau of Wildlife Management. "Given the conditions -- lack of snow and warm weather -- I think this is a pretty good harvest."

Hunters still have opportunities for harvesting deer. The late archery season opened December 4 and runs through December 31. As of November 30, 116,297 bonus permits were still available in addition to unlimited permits in the Zone-T units and large numbers of metro unit permits.

Hunter safety officials reported a total of 30 gunshot accidents including two fatalities. The total number of accidents was up from 17 in 1998 and equaled 1998 in the number of fatalities.

"Each reported accident has its own set of circumstances," said Tim Lawhern, DNR hunter education administrator, "and it's difficult to point to a single reason for the increase. Given the number of hunters this year (690,068) our accident rate was 4.3 accidents per 100,000 hunters. That's still below the national average of about 7 per 100,000. Lack of snow may have been a contributor, because hunters were not as visible against the background and warmer weather may have kept more hunters in the field longer."

Chief Warden Tom Harelson reported that violations appeared to be down over previous years, also likely due to the warm weather.

"Warm, dry weather kept people on their tree stands longer and generally out of trouble. In rainy, cold weather our wardens typically see more safety violations such as people keeping loaded firearms in their cars and hunting from roads."

A record 690,068 licenses were sold, surpassing the old record of 684,944 set in 1995. The new automated license issuing system (ALIS) performed flawlessly in the days leading up to the hunt including 45,000 transactions on the Friday before the hunt. State residents accounted for 653,520 licenses with non-resident sales reaching 36,548.

Mike Gappa, wildlife biologist for the DNR's West Central region, said a lot of factors came together at the same time to produce that region's 23% increase over 1998.

"The most important factors," Gappa said, "were a large herd, dry weather providing easy access to wetlands and swamps, few crops still in the fields which reduces escape and hiding cover for deer, mild temperatures and hunting during the rut which means that bucks were moving naturally without being too concerned about their surroundings."

"Hunters in the DNR Northern Region found good conditions pretty much throughout the nine-day hunt," said Dave Evenson, DNR Northern Region wildlife biologist. "Tuesday morning brought rain and snow to the west half of the region, and much of that part of the region was hunting on at least patchy snow for the remainder of the season. Winds were moderate, temperatures moderate, and life for a hunter was pretty good. We also caught the end of the rut."

The health of deer brought into registration stations was excellent. Many hunters brought in one-and-a-half-year old deer with six and eight point racks. Eight and ten point racks were not uncommon.

Wildlife health experts were also in the field taking tissue samples for later lab analysis, keeping an eye out for infectious diseases such as chronic wasting disease and tuberculosis.

"The season in a couple of words? Nice weather... really too nice for effective deer hunting," said Tom Bahti, DNR Northeast Region wildlife biologist. "We saw exceptional antler growth, particularly in the mid-north. Deer were extremely hard to move during the last half of the season... you almost needed a cattle prod. They were in the thickest, most evil spots they could find... cattail bogs, willow marshes and tag alder thickets."

"The weather was mild throughout all nine days," said DNR Southeast Region wildlife biologist, Tami Ryan. "Pleasant hunting conditions allowed hunters to remain in the field for longer periods of time. However, the mild weather likely reduced deer activity somewhat and may be partially attributed to the southeast regions decreased harvest. In addition, lack of snow cover didn't help hunters in either viewing or tracking deer. Nonetheless, the deer harvest in some of the counties in the region did increase in comparison to the 1998 harvest." Those included Sheboygan (one percent), Kenosha (six percent), Waukesha (17 percent), and Walworth (five percent).

"Over the next few months we'll spend a lot of time analyzing the harvest numbers region by region and out of that process will come plans for the year 2000 hunt," says Hauge. "It appears that we'll still have a sizable deer herd next year and hunters can expect a season structure similar to this year."

Regional totals are as follows:

Sew Many Ways To Celebrate The Holidays

(NAPS)—A stitch in time can help you stitch together a beautiful holiday season—whether your celebrations include Christmas (December 25), Hanukkah (December 23) or Kwanzaa (December 26).

Sewing, a means for celebration for different cultures throughout the centuries, is a wonderful way to enhance personal holiday traditions—even if you're a novice sewer.

The Sewing Fashion Council offers the following tips to make the season sparkle.

- Sew a sensational look for yourself or someone special. Stylish looks for this season may be achieved using patterns with Chinese styling or luxurious satin brocade. Or you can use transparent fabrics to make softly feminine creations.

- Transform your home into a comfort zone by stitching easy pillows, bed and sofa throws. In fact, sewing can be a great way to take a breather and reduce stress. According to a recent clinical study, sewing may actually de-stress you by lowering your heart rate and blood pressure.

- Engage children's minds in esteem-building projects that flex their skills and imagination while they're home for the holidays. Help them sew an easy project like a pillow or a knapsack.

- Children can create holiday decorations for the tree by tracing cookie cutters on felt. Stuff and close with blanket stitches; use buttons or fabric paint for features.

- Show how much you care by giving sewing-related gifts. Start someone sewing by giving a gift certificate for sewing lessons at a local sewing store. Gift wrap a miniature tree decorated with basic sewing notions. Include a gift subscription to your favorite sewing magazine.

- Show co-workers how much you value their fellowship by sewing simple cushions to support their backs in office chairs.

- Fabric glues and paints, no-sew kits, decorative buttons and festive trimmings can give your holiday clothing a festive touch or help you make last-minute gifts. Ready-made scarves, gloves and berets can be individualized by sewing on appliques, faux fur, buttons, trim or fringe.

Lady Indians Drop Second EW Game

The Lady Indians lost their second straight Eastern Wisconsin Conference game of the season on Thursday, December 9, at New Holstein by a score of 65-44.

First half turnovers and rebounding became a problem again as the Indians gave up the basketball 21 times. The Huskies, in turn, were able to penetrate the Indian defense and were unselfish enough to find their open teammate under the basket for easy points. Kewaskum fell behind at halftime by a score of 36-17.

The Indians came out of the locker room fired up to start the third quarter. Their full court pressure defense started a 13-2 run which reduced the deficit to 38-30, when New Holstein took a time out with 3:04 left in the quarter. Kewaskum's run failed to dampen the Huskies confidence as they returned to the floor and proceeded to outscore the Lady Indians by a 6-4 margin to finish the quarter.

The adjustments the Huskies made switched the momentum to their favor in the fourth period. Using a notable size advantage they wore down the Indians inside as they proceeded to advance to the free-throw line, and outscored Kewaskum, 21-10, for the quarter.

Dani Nass had a nice effort for the Indians as she posted a double-double with 12 points and 12 rebounds. Sarah Schwinn was next with 11 points and Jenny Kraft added nine.

The Indians travel to Two Rivers on Thursday, December 16, to face the EWC's defending champion.

Indians Lose To Cougars

The Kewaskum Indians varsity basketball team ran into a very experienced Campbellsport Cougar team.

After starting out scoring six quick points, the Indians suffered a scoring drought for several minutes while the Cougars build a 17-6 first quarter lead.

The Indians rebounded well, played tough defense, and showed great hustle, but were unable to mount any scoring runs against the Cougar defense.

Leading the Indians with 10 points and six rebounds was Jesse Boegel with Aaron Seiser contributing five rebounds.

Congratulations to the whole team on out-rebounding the Cougars, 26-24 and on forcing 15 turnovers.

Indians JV Team Defeats Port, 58-53

The Kewaskum High School junior varsity boys basketball team improved their record to 3-0 by beating the Port Washington Pirates in a game at the KHS Fieldhouse on December 7.

The Indians had their best offensive start of the season thus far as they scored 10 points in the opening quarter. However, the defense allowed 12 by Port. Full court trapping fired up the Indians as they took a 29-26 lead into the locker room at the half.

The second half remained a close battle as Port kept the game close through the third quarter and early into the fourth. Clutch free throw shooting by Kewaskum clinched the victory with a final tally of 58-53.

Josh Repovsch burned the nets for 22 points, shooting four-for-seven from behind the three-point arc. Chris Canter added 10 and Nathan Fechter added nine points, respectively.

Tom Ogi grabbed eight rebounds to take team honors on the glass. Canter was the leading thief with two steals while the 6'5" Fechter blocked four shots. Tony Fitts dished out five assists and Canter handed out four.

The Indians started Eastern Wisconsin Conference play on December 10 when they visited rival Campbellsport.

Christmas Tree Test

When you are selecting your special, live Christmas tree, if needles fall off as you tap the tree trunk against the ground, it's too dry.

After finding just the right tree for your family, saw about two inches off the bottom of the trunk, at a slant. Now it will have more surface to absorb water. Place the tree in a water-filled bucket, making sure to check it daily since the house heat easily evaporates water faster than you think.

Enjoy your fragrant, living evergreen this Christmas.

Rettler Named First Team All-MWC

Joe Rettler

RIPON -- Ripon College football player Joe Rettler, son of Thomas and Susan Rettler of Kewaskum, was recently named to the All-Midwest Conference (MWC) First Team for his play during the 1999 season. Rettler, a senior, is a physical education major at Ripon.

Rettler, a wide receiver, was second in the MWC in total yards (1058) and yards per catch (18.9) while finishing third in the league with 11 touchdown receptions. A first-team selection his sophomore year and second-team pick his junior year, Rettler led the Red Hawks in receiving with 61 catches for 1186 yards. Rettler broke the school record for career receiving yards by totaling 3,100 in his four years at Ripon.
