Northwinds Supper Club, Banquet Hall Opens Near Eden

Bob and Katie Guelig

The Northwinds Supper Club and Banquet Hall located just north of Eden.

By Laurie Ottery
Staff Writer/Photographer

A dream that has evolved and grown is being realized for Bob and Katie Guelig of Eden. They have opened the Northwinds Supper Club & Banquet Hall, located six miles south of Fond du Lac on Highway 45.

"In high school I already was thinking about owning my own type of eating place," said Bob. "I worked for Michels Pipeline for over ten years doing construction. I got a lot of ideas, while on the road, of what type of building structure I liked and menu selections."

That dream is realized in the supper club, which features an antique farm machinery theme. The 10,000-foot building sits on 15 acres, with lots of windows to the beautiful view, of the woods behind it. The front faces a pond, across the road, where geese like to visit in the fall and the snowmobile trail runs right through the property.

There is a spacious bar room adjacent to the dining room that comfortably seats 88 people. The rest rooms are centrally located. A waitress area puts all the needs of the customers at an easily accessible location. The large kitchen is state of the art with a walk in cooler/freezer, dry goods storage, separate banquet preparation area and a dishwash station.

The carpeted banquet room seats 320 and can easily handle 425 people buffet style. A spacious dance floor is set off to one side. There is a separate large bar to service events held in the hall. A custom made buffet bar matches the interior.

"We put a lot of thought into every decision that was made," said Katie. "Northwinds is a small business where customer service and a pleasant atmosphere are the driving factor in what we have created. Our goal is to have employees who enjoy their jobs and customers who want to come back to eat again."

Katie researched the restaurant industry; gets trade magazines and is a three-year member of the Restaurant Association. She has been working with SYSCO Foods of Wisconsin for the past five years on plans and ideas.

"Bob and I have always enjoyed going out to eat," said Katie. "We used our own experiences to put together what we liked. Bob's vision has become something we wanted to do together. I grew up here and Bob grew up in the St. Cloud area. We like the small town community feeling."

Northwinds boasts a relaxed atmosphere. It is warm and inviting. Customers feel comfortable to stop in after work for a sandwich or be dressed up to celebrate an anniversary.

The menu is filled with variety and nightly specials that will continually change. Meals

Larry Ammel Chosen To Serve Out Former Trustee Kuehl's Term

The Village Board of Kewaskum met Monday evening and opened their meeting with a public hearing.

The public hearing was held for the application of a class "B" Fermented Beverage License by Servet Maksutoski of the Kewaskum Kafe for a period commencing February 7, 2000 and ending June 30, 2000.

With no complaints and a favorable recommendation from Police chief Richard Knoebel the hearing was closed.

Later in the meeting the license was approved unanimously.

The board received two bids for the new four wheel drive mower with 72" front mount mower deck.

Franknett of Fond du Lac offered the package at $13,799 with a trade in of $1,400.

Serwe Implement of Campbellsport offered the package for $9,995 with a trade in of $200.

The board reviewed a letter of interest for the vacant trustee seat from Larry Ammel. Ammel replaces Andrew Kuehl who resigned on January 4, 2000. Kuehl stated in a letter at that time that "recent occurrences demand that I resign my position as Trustee for the Village of Kewaskum."

Kuehl was accused of voting in a conflict of interest at a November 1 meeting by Village president Robert Wagner.

All charges were dropped at a ethics board committee meeting after his resignation.

"I know Larry will do well, he is very much respected in Kewaskum. I could not have hoped for a better position to fill my vacancy," said Kuehl.

Ammel retired after 26 years as Band Director of Kewaskum High School last year.

Meeting Place Changed For DOT Info Speaker

All residents, especially those who commute to the Milwaukee area, and anyone else with interest, are encouraged to attend.

The meeting, sponsored by the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce, will be held at the St. Francis Bank meeting room. Please use the parking lot entrance as the front door will remain locked.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. with an election of Chamber of Commerce officers. At 7:15 Dan Katz of will be served with a cold hors d'oeuvres plate brought to the table. There are sandwiches, steaks, a children's menu and a section for the light appetite. The dining room will be strictly non-smoking, but smokers are welcome at the bar.

Katie went to school for Interior Design and used her talents to help design and decorate Northwinds. Bob did all of the grading and excavating work and together they completed the landscaping.

The General Contractor and designer is James A. Jones Company from Waldo, WI. Both Katie and Bob were able to combine their own ideas, together with Jim's and his crew, making changes along the way.

"We had a great working relationship with our contractor," said Katie. "During construction we sometimes would have insight to something we thought might look better, or work better. Being there and seeing the progress we could see things that we hadn't visualized in the plans. They would make the changes. The end result is a supper club with a detailed unique interior."

The Guelig's also own the Outpost Bar and Grill in Eden. They have experience with running a business and knowing how to accomplish goals for success. The supper club has 15-20 people working to meet the needs of the customers. Chef Steve Fox brings 24 years of experience in the food industry. He has worked in Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Milwaukee.

Northwinds will accept reservations for weddings, banquets, parties, meetings and large groups. They are open seven days a week from 4 p.m. to 10 p.m. They will accept prearranged luncheons by reservation.

Bob and Katie have three children, 15-year-old Andrea, three-year-old Russell, and eleven-month old Paul. They spend what free time they have doing things as a family. Katie manages to occasionally make time to go antique shopping. Many of her finds decorate Northwinds.

The Guelig family welcome customers to come and enjoy the atmosphere of Northwinds Supper Club at 321 Fond du Lac Avenue, Eden. The qualified staff is prepared to make an enjoyable experience out of whatever event is celebrated. Dreams really do come true with a lot of hard work.

Summer Exchange Hosts Needed

Host families are needed for a summer cultural exchange program in which black children from rural and small towns in Mississippi spend about two weeks with Wisconsin families.

This yearly exchange began in 1968 and is organized by Project Self-Help and Awareness (P.S.A.), a non-profit, non-denominational organization.

Prejudice against blacks and other minorities is all around us. Even if you, as a parent, are a model of tolerance, your children see and hear it on television, from neighbors, relatives and friends.

P.S.A.'s exchange program allows your children the opportunity to see with their own eyes that black children play, laugh and cry at the same things we do, and that the color of one's skin has nothing to do with being a good person inside.

The Mississippi children, ages 6-16, come from an economic cross-section, although most come from economically disadvantaged homes. Wisconsin families are allowed to choose the ages and sex of the child. The cost to Wisconsin families is $35 per child to help cover transportation from Mississippi to Fond du Lac and insurance during their stay. The dates of this summer's exchange are June 4-22, June 11-29, June 25-July 13, July 9-24 and July 16-28.

Each year, over 100 children return to Northeastern Wisconsin as the exchange is a chance for them to live in an environment more free of prejudice and poverty. Many Mississippi children hope to come to Wisconsin this summer, but have no family to host them. You and your family, or someone you know, may be able to make that wish a reality. There are also opportunities for volunteer bus drivers and adults to chaperone the buses. Interested families can obtain an information packet by calling Ann Neumann at 262-626-2936 or neumann@kmoraine.com.

To avoid any scuttlebutt, I'd like to re-emphasize that the schematic drawings that have appeared in recent editions of the Statesman for KES and WES remain subject to change as we move toward finalizing the blueprints.

However, changes I speak of are not meant to imply major changes, simply alterations to possible room sizes, moving a wall, etc. Since KES and WES plans have already been published, you can find the Farmington Elementary design in this edition. While the plans are nearly finalized, adjustments, as mentioned, could still be made.

People say that if you want inside information, listen attentively to the scuttlebutt that goes around any office or community. Much of it is, of course, meaningless or erroneous, but by mining this vein of talk you may come up with an occasional gem.

Scuttlebutt is usually half rumor and half gossip. The reason for this is because it was first heard when British sailors gathered around a large butt, or cask, of water. For no known reason, such a container was nearly always placed close to a vessel's scuttle, or hatch with a movable cover.

Crewmembers who went for a drink of water liked to exchange the latest rumors with their mates, so talk under a scuttle that sheltered a butt became scuttlebutt. Hopefully as you read this information I share will be accepted as more than scuttlebutt. My intention is to share with you the most current information available, yet do so with your understanding that the architect continues to make minor adjustments and modifications to the plans of all three elementary buildings.

Feingold to Hold Listening Sessions in Area

U.S. Senator Russ Feingold will hold Listening Sessions in Washington and Ozaukee Counties on Thursday, February 17. Senator Feingold has pledged to hold Listening Sessions in all of Wisconsin's 72 counties each year of his six-year term. These will be Feingold's 21st and 22nd sessions of 2000, and 525th and 526th since 1993.

His Washington County Listening Session will be held at 9:15 a.m. in Room 1020 on the Lower Level of the Washington County Courthouse, 432 East Washington Street, West Bend. The meeting will last up to an hour.

His Ozaukee County Listening Session will be held at 11:15 a.m. in the Lower Level Village Board Room, at the Grafton Village Hall, 1971 Washington Street, Grafton. The meeting will last up to an hour.

"I am looking forward to meeting with constituents in Washington and Ozaukee Counties," Senator Feingold said. "By holding these sessions I hear firsthand the issues, such as campaign finance reform and the federal deficit, that are important to the people of Wisconsin and it allows me to better represent their interests in Washington."

Chocolates Fit For The Millennium

(NAPS)—"Life is like a box of chocolate," said Forrest Gump and when it comes to Valentine's Day, chocolate becomes the stuff of life for many people. In fact, giving candy and chocolate to a loved one for Valentine's day is a centuries-old tradition and has shown through the years that delectable treats can be just the delicious way to find a "sweet spot" in the heart of one's true love.

Since 1902, the New England Confection Company (NECCO) has been bringing sweet treats to lovers all over the world with their Sweetheart Conversation Hearts®, whose cute, affectionate messages quickly made them a perennial Valentine's Day favorite, and their NECCO Sweets Fancy Boxed Chocolates.

This year, NECCO got fit for the millennium with the introduction of their first all-chocolate Sweetheart Conversation Heart. The Chocolate Sweethearts are imprinted with the same beloved sayings as the original small-size Sweethearts. And, at only four calories per heart, they're the perfect treat for the calorie-conscious chocolate lover. Some of this year's new sayings include: "Amore," "Got Love," "2000 Kisses" and "Romeo."

NECCO's chocolates, like their line of Candy Cupboard Select Masterpieces, are also making a splash in today's health-oriented culture. Chocolate boosts levels of the brain chemical serotonin, which promotes feelings of calm and contentment and the fats in chocolate release endorphins, which energize us and elevate moods. Plus, chocolate contains a small amount of caffeine for a little lift with each bite.

"We're in the business of making holidays like Valentine's as sweet of a celebration as the sweethearts that celebrate them. We try to see that our products reflect the times and that they appeal to a variety of audiences," says Walter Marshall, NECCO's King of Hearts.

Both the Chocolate Sweetheart Conversation Hearts and Candy Cupboard Select Masterpieces boxes are available at local retailers. To learn more, visit the web site at www.necco.com.

Tooth Fairy Hotline Answers Common Tooth Questions

Have you ever wondered who the tooth fairy is? Throughout the month of February, in recognition of National Children's Dental Health Month, children in Wisconsin will have an opportunity to contact this childhood favorite by calling the Tooth Fairy Hotline, 414-799-3300, to hear a recorded message from the Tooth Fairy herself.

Otherwise known as dental hygienist Beth Clemence, from Hales Corners, the tooth fairy offers girls and boys who call the hotline tips on proper dental care and tooth-friendly snack ideas. Clemence has been performing as the Tooth Fairy for approximately 15 years.

"Thousands of children call the Tooth Fairy Hotline every year," said Nanci Dabareiner, executive director of the Greater Milwaukee Dental Association (GMDA), the largest component of the Wisconsin Dental Association (WDA). "The children have a lot of fun with it, while at the same time, they get great tips on caring for their teeth."

The WDA encourages parents and children to call the Tooth Fairy Hotline in observation of National Children's Dental Health Month. The hotline is established every year by the Alliance of the GMDA, a volunteer organization that supports the association's initiatives.

Clemence's husband, Dr. Keith Clemence, a Hales Corners dentist, currently serves on the WDA's Board of Trustees.

The WDA, established in 1870, is the state's largest organization representing dentistry. Headquartered in Milwaukee, the association has more than 2,800 members statewide.

Fluoride - Nature's Cavity Fighter

Milwaukee -- According to the Wisconsin Dental Association, fluoride is one of the most effective agents for preventing tooth decay. Children, who from birth drink water containing fluoride, on average have up to 50 percent fewer cavities. But with bottled water becoming more and more popular, is your child getting enough fluoride to help prevent cavities?

There is a growing concern among some public health officials about the increased reliance on the use of bottled water and the potential impact that this might have on increasing cavities, especially in younger children. Parents, dentists, and other health care providers should consider the consequences of children drinking water with inadequate levels of fluoride.

Bottled drinking water sampling and analysis test results from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection indicate that most types of bottled water lack sufficient fluoride, unlike many of the community water systems in Wisconsin. The concern, therefore, is that higher cavity rates may result from the use of bottled water. Some water filtration systems also create the same problem because the filtration process reduces fluoride content. Unless an individual uses enough other sources of fluoride, there is an increased risk of cavities. You can obtain information about the fluoride level in bottled water from the bottled water manufacturers.

To provide optimal levels of fluoride, public water fluoridation is being done more and more. According to a report from the Centers for Disease Control, as a 1993, more than 70% of all U.S. cities with populations of more than 100,000 were fluoridating water. Studies also show that water fluoridation can reduce the amount of cavities children get in their baby teeth by as much as 60%, and in permanent adult teeth by nearly 35%.

If you live in a community where the public water is not fluoridated or if your child drinks bottled water, discuss other options for fluoride with your child's dentist and consider the possible need for dietary fluoride supplements, fluoride mouthrinses, or more intense professional supervision.

The Wisconsin Dental Association asks parents to remember, however, that fluoride alone will not prevent tooth decay. It is important that your child brushes and flosses at least twice a day to remove plaque, the harmful film of bacteria that forms on teeth. They also need to eat a balanced diet and limit snacks. This advice goes for parents, as well!

For further information about fluorides and bottled water, contact the Department of Health and Family Services at 608/266/5152.

The WDA, established in 1870, is the state's largest organization representing dentistry. The association is headquartered in Milwaukee and has over 2,800 members statewide.

County Humane Society Offers Rabies, Microchip, Massage Clinic

The Washington County Humane Society will again offer its Rabies Vaccination clinic from 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m., Saturday, February 12. Dr. Gwen Lombard and Dr. Jane Mittlestadt of Hartford Animal Clinic and Dr. Dale Schneider of Parkdale Pet Care will be the attending veterinarians. WCHS will also be offering pet owners the opportunity to have their pets microchipped, and to get a massage for their pets or themselves.

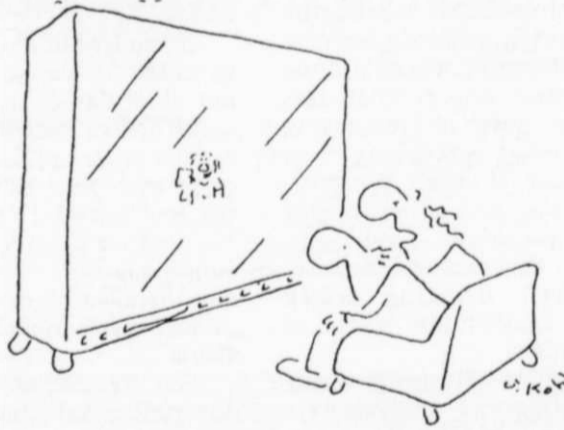

The State of Wisconsin requires that all dogs be licensed by April 1 of each year and some municipalities require that cats be licensed as well. Because a current rabies vaccination is needed for a license, WCHS is offering the community a low-cost and convenient way to help pet owners meet this deadline while also insuring the health and protection of their pets. Dogs over 5 months of age are required to have a rabies vaccination. Cats are not required by law to be vaccinated unless their municipality requires licensing, however, statistics show that rabid cats have outnumbered rabid dogs in 8 out of the past 10 years. (Wisconsin Veterinary Medical Association) With this in mind, WCHS highly recommends that all cats be given the rabies serum. The vaccination is good for three years on both dogs and cats. Animals under one year must be revaccinated within one year.

In addition to the rabies shot, WCHS will also offer the AVID Microchip to cats and dogs for easy permanent identification. A simple and safe injection will provide a pet with a tiny computer chip, coded with a personal identification number. Placed under the pet's skin, it will provide a life time of protection for your pet should they become lost. WCHS routinely scans lost animals that come into the shelter, and owners can register with the National Registry if they so choose. Brenda Birno, a massage therapist from Massage Associates will be on hand to provide a free massage for you or your pet.

The cost for the rabies shot is $12.00 per animal. The cost for microchipping will be $20.00. No appointment is necessary, but animals will be vaccinated on a "first come, first serve" basis. For further information please contact the shelter at 677-4388.

A barn, approximately 40 x 100 feet, on the Arnold Schmidt farm, located three-quarters of a mile west of Kewaskum on Highway 28, was seriously damaged during an early morning fire Monday. Kewaskum firemen answered the alarm shortly before 6:30 a.m. and more than 30 men responded to the call, along with all of their trucks and equipment. Shortly after arriving the Kewaskum department placed a mutual aid call to the Kohlsville department. When the firemen arrived flames were shooting across the whole barn. Kewaskum Fire Chief Armin Oppermann said he believed the fire started at the south end of the barn, but the cause of the blaze could not be determined. All of the livestock, about 20 cows and a few calves, were removed from the barn with the assistance of neighbors and spectators. Much of the farm machinery was also inside the barn. It was removed but damaged. The barn also contained oats, straw and hay. Firemen hauled 40 tanker loads of water from the village and poured 80,000 gallons of water on the fire. Chief Oppermann estimated that three-quarters of the barn was saved. Firemen did a remarkable job in containing the fire, saving the attached milk house and other nearby buildings and keeping damage to the barn floor and basement to a minimum.

The 1975 salary schedule for municipal employees was ratified by village board members during their monthly meeting Monday night. The schedule reflects increases for all full-time employees that average out to an 8% across the board pay hike. Board members also agreed to salary increases for members of the Kewaskum Police Association in a one-year contract. It raises the starting salary to $759 from $690; to $880 instead of $800 for the second year; to $918 instead of $835 for the third year; to $962 from $875 for the fourth year; and to $1,006.50 from $915 for the fifth year. Part-time police pay remains at $3.75 per hour.

Kewaskum's high scoring machine ran up 86 points to last place Pewaukee's 53 to waltz to an easy victory there Friday. The win was the third straight for the Indians and moved them into a tie for third place with Hartland. Kewaskum showed good balance in scoring in double figures and five others making less than 10. Scott Koth scored 17 points, Mike Koepke 15, Randy Koepke 13, Don Gruber and Jack Kern, 11 apiece.

School Bus Driver Appreciation Week

Governor Thompson has proclaimed the week of February 13 - 19, 2000 as "School Bus Driver Appreciation Week." Each year the drivers from the Kewaskum Terminal of Johnson School Bus try to provide a safe bus ride for their students, from their home to school and back.

Collectively they travel over 520,000 miles, drive in five counties, and service 13 different school buildings for the Kewaskum School district during a typical school year. Their job is not always easy as it is very hard to get 60 passengers to all be in a good mood and agree with everything all at the same time.

Weather is another large factor. As we know, Wisconsin weather changes very quickly, sometimes without much warning. The drivers do catch all the new "flu and cold viruses" that appear, know all the new slang words the students use, and try to anticipate every move before the students try them out. All this is done while keeping their buses going safely down the road.

So at this time, we would like to thank all the drivers for all the "unsaid, little things" they do every day. And if you get a chance, just take a minute to say Thank You to your child's driver:

Advanced Healthcare Physician Honored With Society Award

Tobias Enright, M.D., an Allergy and Immunology physician with Advanced Healthcare S.C., is the recipient of an Outstanding Service Award from the Medical Society of Milwaukee County.

The award, bestowed during the Annual Meeting, Installation of Officers and Awards Ceremony of the Medical Society of Milwaukee County on January 20, was given "in recognition of Dr. Enright's leadership in developing the community-wide asthma guidelines for the Community Collaboration on Healthcare Quality."

The Community Collaboration on Healthcare Quality was formed about three years ago with the help of the Medical Society of Milwaukee County. Membership includes major health insurance companies and community groups.

Their purpose is to improve the health care of the area by working together on major health issues. Dr. Enright chaired a work force that developed a standard guideline for asthma for the entire medical community of the greater Milwaukee area. The guidelines were distributed for use to all primary care physicians (about 2000) in the Milwaukee area in May 1998.

Dr. Enright currently practices at Advanced Healthcare's Menomonee Falls, Northwest, West Bend and Mayfair Road Centers.

Advanced Healthcare, S.C., was formed in 1998 through a merger of Falls Medical Group, Milwaukee Medical Clinic and West Bend Clinic. It is the largest physician owned, multi-specialty group practice in Southeastern Wisconsin, with nearly 300 physicians providing care at 16 clinic locations and two ambulatory surgery centers in Washington, Ozaukee, Milwaukee and Waukesha Counties.

A BUS DRIVER'S PRAYER

Written by Norma Tank 1979

Dear Lord:

In all the things we hold most dear,
Please help us drivers this coming year,

To be a little less impatient
With those we deem too slow,

A little less arrogant
Because of all we think and know,

A little more forgiving
And be swifter to be kind,

Just a little bit more eager
To be sweeter all the time.

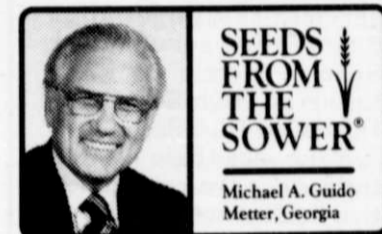

To make the right decisions
In those burdens which we bear,

And guide us straight upon the road
To get them safely there.

But most of all there's one thing more
We drivers all do share,

And that is your sweet blessings
On the children in our care.

With love and humility,

The problems were weighing heavily on little Julia. She decided to consult her mother.

"If I get married," she asked, "will I have a husband like Daddy?"

"Yes, dear," answered her mother.

"And if I don't get married, will I be an old maid like Aunt Suzie?"

"Yes, dear."

"Wow!" cried the girl, "I'm in an awful fix!"

Adults are forever asking, "How can we convince boys and girls of the right way to live?" That's easy. Let the adults live right. When we demonstrate the right way to live, we'll draw them into right living.

That's why the Bible says, "Set an example in speech, in life, in love, in faith, and in purity."

You cannot antagonize and influence at the same time.

Comprehensive Rehabilitation Center to Open in West Bend

A new Aurora Rehabilitation Center will open in Paradise Plaza Shopping Center in West Bend in February. It will be a comprehensive, multi-disciplinary rehabilitation facility and an affiliate of Aurora Health Care Sports Medicine Institute.

The new center is an expanded version, and will replace the rehabilitation center that was instituted at the General Clinic two years ago. According to Anne Hosinski, Rehabilitation Manager for Aurora Washington County, the volume of patients at the General Clinic's Rehab Center has necessitated the expansion. The new, off-site facility will help accommodate the "tremendous increases in our program," Hosinski says. The new facility will occupy 4,200 square feet of the shopping center facing Highway 45. "We will continue our quality, medically-based program, but the new site will allow us to meet patients' needs that we couldn't in the limited space at the General Clinic," she added.

Rehabilitation services in the new facility will meet similar staffing and equipment standards as a Sports Medicine Institute according to Deb Buntrock Yahr, Regional Coordinator of Sports Medicine Institute. Last year a new team of six orthopedic specialists began serving Washington County at Hartford Memorial Hospital and Aurora Medical Group clinic sites in West Bend, Jackson, Slinger and Hartford. These physicians, along with the doctors and administrators of the General Clinic, support the new Center. Explains Hosinski, "These physicians are accustomed to the high caliber of rehabilitation of a Sports Medicine Institute. They look forward to referring patients to this SMI affiliate for their rehabilitation." The main reason for opening the new rehabilitation center is to help patients and better serve the community. "We can keep people close to their homes and be able to meet patient needs," she says. "It's quality care without the travel."

In addition to physicians, the rehabilitation team will include an on-site staff of physical therapists, some with special sports training, certified athletic trainers, and physical therapist assistants. Aurora Health Care established its Sports Medicine Institute 16 years ago. They are now located throughout the metro Milwaukee area. "We cater to people of all ages who are more fitness minded and want to achieve higher goals," Yahr says.

For example, physical therapy for a knee injury traditionally includes work on range of motion, strength and ability to walk adequately. A sports medicine approach would provide this as well as focus on speed, agility and higher level exertion to meet specific fitness goals like returning to golf, a walking program, a competitive or recreational sport, or the physical demands of home and work.

The Center will have a variety of specialized therapists. Physical therapists are trained to provide care for patients with any kind of rehabilitative needs. They can see patients who may have suffered a stroke, a musculoskeletal sprain or strain, arthritis or many other diagnoses. "Physical therapists treat a variety of problems," explains Hosinski. "Sports medicine is one piece of what physical therapists can do," she adds.

A certified athletic trainer is another member of the team of rehab professionals that specializes in care for the athlete. According to Yahr, athletic trainers focus on the prevention and treatment of sports injuries. Currently a full time athletic trainer at the General Clinic supplies athletic training to both West Bend high schools. Two additional athletic trainers provide services to Slinger High School, Kewaskum High School, Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School and Hustisford High School.

Yahr sees these athletic trainers as the communication link between a student-athlete, his or her parents and a physician. "Athletic trainers work with athletes, coaches and parents to help access the best care," she says. The new Rehabilitation Center will offer the same Free Injury Evaluation Program that has been in place at the General Clinic. People can schedule the half-hour evaluation by calling 338-5378. The evaluation is a free community service.

In addition to physical therapy and athletic training the new Rehabilitation Center will also offer speech therapy, occupational therapy, occupational rehabilitation, massage therapy and fitness programming. A large workout area will include treadmills, stair climbers, elliptical trainers, weight stations, stationary bikes and rehabilitation aids for upper and lower body conditioning.

Patients seen at the Rehabilitation Center will also enjoy the ease and confidentiality of computerized medical records. Hosinski points out that because of the sophisticated, computerized medical records system, communication "will be quite easy" between the different Aurora Washington County sites and the new Rehabilitation Center. From a patient's perspective, she says, the new Rehabilitation Center will be a convenient quality source of rehabilitation services.

Today, well lived, makes yesterday a dream of happiness and tomorrow a vision of hope.

Give It Back Before They Spend It

By Rep. Glenn Grothman

The Legislature is now entering its spring floor period. Easily, the most important issue facing state government is what to do about an estimated $364 million of unexpected sales and income tax collections. The first thing people ask when told about this money is how can so much unexpected tax collections occur.

Unlike at a school board, county board, or village board, where the government knows exactly how much property is in the district and therefore can guess almost exactly what a property tax levy will collect, the state gets most of its money from income and sales taxes. The state must rely on guesses by economists as to collections. Every six months or so the economists make new guesses based on actual sales and income tax receipts.

In the two year budget passed last November, based on figures developed last July, our economists guessed the state would have available $21.9 billion over a two year period. In January, based on a strong economy with more income and sales taxes than expected, it was estimated that the state would receive an additional $364 million.

Immediately, the usual spending constituencies lined up to expand government. They want more money for smoking prevention, preschool, medical care for children, medical care for the elderly, more money for the cities, more money for the Department of Natural Resources, the Department of Agriculture and counselors for the prisons.

However, just last November we passed a budget with an adjusted increase in spending at 11.7% over two years. (Inflation was under 5%) We anticipate spending over $11 billion in tax year 2001 when we didn't even hit $5 billion until 1987. How could we justify spending more?

For this reason, I immediately advocated and voted for a proposal to cut state sales and income taxes by $371 million in the return you will file in April 2001 by reinstating a property tax credit of up to $350 per taxpayer. While I did receive an award from the Americans for Tax Reform in November for trying to keep the credit for your April 2000 tax return, it would be administratively expensive to put it on this year's return since forms have been printed and some people already have filed their taxes.

The State Assembly has passed this tax cut, but the Governor and leader of the State Senate have publicly said they don't want the tax cut to be as large. In part, they say that if the economy goes into a recession we would have to raise taxes in the future.

Of course, they also would like new spending. However, if we don't want a budget increasing state spending by over 11% two years from now we had better pass these tax cuts now. Otherwise the spenders will win out again. We should also remember that a new $10 million a year spending program takes a life of its own and will become a $10 million a year forever. While the press will be focusing on a Packer sales tax for Brown County what becomes of the new $364 million will be far more important to our part of the state.

FAMILY HEALTH

Facts From Council On Family Health

Fathers Helpful When A Child Gets Sick

(NAPS)—A surprising number of American fathers are taking care of the kids when they're sick, according to a national omnibus survey commissioned by the Council on Family Health.

Thirty-five percent of dads surveyed say they've missed at least one day of work in the past year to care for their children ages 12 and under when they have colds, flu or other illnesses. In fact, 69 percent say they've also taken one or more of their children to the doctor's office, and 81 percent say they're very likely to administer medicines to their children. With today's fathers now playing a more active role in their children's health care, it's essential for "Dad, M.D." to remember to read the medicine label before administering medicines.

"As more and more medicines become available without a prescription, it's important to know how to administer them to your children as well as yourself," advises Arthur Hull Hayes Jr., M.D., Chairman of the Council on Family Health. "Dosing schedules and the amounts of medicines are usually different for children than adults, based on their weight and age. Al-

A recent survey commissioned by the Council on Family Health found:

- 35% of dads miss work to take care of their sick children
- 69% of dads take their children to the doctor's office
- 81% of dads administer medicines to their children ways read the label carefully before administering the medication. If you're not sure or are confused about the amount to give or how often to give the medicine, check with your doctor or pharmacist."

The non-profit Council on Family Health has educated consumers about the proper use of prescription and non-prescription medicines since 1966. For more information about children's dosing and reading the medicine label, consumers can send a business-size, self-addressed, stamped envelope to "Dad, M.D.," Council on Family Health, 225 Park Avenue South, New York, NY 10003.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of DAVID O'BRIEN, who passed away two years ago, February 7, 1998:

It's been two years since God took you away.

We miss you more and more each day.

Others may think the wound has healed,

But little do they know, the sorrow lies within our hearts, concealed.

We loved you so and always will.

There's a place in our hearts no one else can fill.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,

Silent is the voice we loved to hear.

It's sad, but true, and we wonder why,

The best are always the first to die.

So now we wait for that great day, pray dear God, not far away,

When together again we can always be,

In heaven with God, through eternity.

*Loved and missed,
By sister, Kelly,
and family*

IN MEMORIAM

*Deeply missed by the

IN MEMORY

In memory of the February 2nd Birthday of BOB BECKER. His laughter is missed by all but especially by his family.

In one of the stars you shall be living
In one of the stars you shall be laughing
And so it will be as if all the stars were laughing
When we look at the sky at night.

Soybean, Corn Seed Supply Remains Strong

WEST BEND - Adequate, but tightening, supplies of Dairyland Seed elite soybean and corn seed products are still available, according to Steve Strachota, president of Dairyland Seed. "We're seeing reduced inventory of some of our most popular corn hybrids and soybean varieties, but we still have seed supplies of many products available for our customers," Strachota says.

Dairyland Seed responded to a sixth straight year of record sales by aggressively producing soybeans and corn for the 2000 planting season.

An adequate supply of Dairyland Seed's elite soybeans remains -- in conventional, STS or Roundup Ready varieties. "Our conventional soybean products have performed well in trials, so we have increased production of those varieties," Strachota said.

"I believe our STS varieties are at record sales levels for any company in the industry," Strachota said. Dairyland Seed's STS varieties are very popular throughout the Midwest, offering producers a non-GMO (genetically modified) herbicide tolerant soybean with outstanding yields. "Dairyland Seed Roundup varieties remain popular because they continue to record outstanding results in university and on-farm trials."

Corn hybrid products are available in conventional, Bt and Roundup Ready hybrids. Dairyland Seed also has several natural corn-borer tolerant hybrids. "We focus on producing the highest-yielding hybrids for our customers," Strachota says. "Our family is committed to providing today's farmer with corn and soybeans that deliver consistent, top-end yields," Strachota said. "It's elite products that the market demands, so we will continue to provide conventional, Roundup Ready and STS the market requests."

Dairyland Seed was the first seed company in the world to release herbicide tolerant soybeans. "And we have set the standard for herbicide tolerant soybean yields by being the first company to offer varieties that surpassed the 70 bushel mark, the 80 bushel mark and the 90 bushel mark in university trials," Strachota said.

Some of the most popular hybrids and varieties are in short supply, said Dave Boettcher, production manager at Dairyland Seed. "We encourage producers to get their orders in as soon as possible. If a particular hybrid or variety is in short supply, our sales force can offer alternatives that still deliver top-end yields."

Dairyland Seed, headquartered in West Bend, is the industry's only family-held seed company with plant breeding programs in soybeans, hybrid corn and alfalfa. For more information, contact Dairyland Seed at 1-800-236-0163.

It was noted by Trustee Andy Pesch that the Plan Commission reviewed the request and sent it to the Board for public hearing with a favorable recommendation. Attorney Gerald Kiefer and Engineer Ken Ward were present to answer general questions regarding the proposed lease which has not been completed as of this date. Park & Recreation Chairman Trustee John Kenworthy reported on the Committee meeting held earlier this evening as follows:

1) Details were worked out regarding the use of the ball diamonds by the Kewaskum School District. It was noted the School District would handle their own preparation of the diamonds. It was further noted that the School District does not have plans to rebuild either the softball or hardball diamond at the present.

2) The proposals were reviewed for portable toilet service for the parks for the 2000 season. Three proposals were received as follows:

CENSUS 2000: Get Counted

By Congressman
Jim Sensenbrenner

Census 2000 is approaching quickly. Called the largest peacetime mobilization in American history, the 2000 census begins in just under two months and requires the dedication of approximately 860,000 Census workers to reach and count the roughly 275 million people who reside in the United States.

The Constitutionally-mandated nationwide count is set to kick off in mid-March. That is when households and businesses in Wisconsin and across the country will begin receiving their Census 2000 questionnaires. Completing and returning these questionnaires is essential. On the national level, census data will help determine what percentage of Congressional seats and federal funds are apportioned to each state. On the state and local levels, community leaders will use census data for everything from constructing schools and building roads to providing health care services to those who need them.

As we enter the new century, each Wisconsin resident's willingness to participate in the census is vital. Wisconsin's federal funding could decrease following Census 2000 due to the Census Bureau's use for the first time this year of a risky scheme known as statistical sampling to engineer data for allegedly undercounted populations. Those populations are traditionally thought to reside in large urban areas in more populous states.

Further, as Congressional seats are apportioned following the census, states with growing populations like California and New York stand to gain seats in Congress while states with small, stable populations such as Wisconsin, stand to lose seats. The more Wisconsin residents respond, the better our chance of maintaining our state's fair share of federal funding and our nine current seats in the House of Representtatives.

Census questionnaires are highly confidential and names and personal information cannot be passed on to other government agencies or used for any purpose other than enumeration. There is no personal risk involved. By returning census questionnaires, Wisconsin residents get counted. And by getting counted, every Wisconsin citizen can contribute to the welfare of our state.

Sturgeon Spearing Season Opens Feb. 12 on Lake Winnebago System

OSHKOSH - The sturgeon spearing season on the Winnebago chain of lakes opens February 12 under a new permanent rule intended to provide greater protection to the system's lake sturgeon population, one of the largest populations of this ancient fish in the world.

The season will be held with a cap on the harvest of sturgeon speared from all the lakes in the system, similar to the harvest cap system that was in place for the 1999 spearing season through emergency rule. The state Natural Resources Board last year approved making the harvest caps permanent.

The harvest caps are set at 400 adult females, 400 juvenile females and 2,150 males. The day that the harvest reaches or exceeds 80% of any one of the three harvest cap figures, Department of Natural Resources officials will announce that the spearing will close at the end of the next spearing day. All fish harvested, regardless of which lake they are speared from, count against the cap. Successful spearmen are required to register their sturgeon by 6 p.m. the same day they spear their fish.

In addition to Lake Winnebago, spearing will also be open this year on the system's three Upriver Lakes: Butte des Morts, Winneconne and Poygan.

Since 1971 sturgeon spearing has been allowed on the Upriver Lakes for two days every fifth year, which would have put a season in 2001. However, the two-day season was moved up one year to 2000 to allow biologists to collect harvest and population data critical to safe management of the fishery, explains Ron Bruch, DNR fisheries biologist at Oshkosh.

While the season on the Upriver Lakes will only run for two days, February 12 and 13, the Lake Winnebago season could run for up to 16 days, although it will likely be considerably shorter due to anticipated high initial harvest rates.

The 2000 season will be the 69th consecutive season on Lake Winnebago since the first season was held in the winter of 1931-32, and the 17th season held on the Upriver Lakes since the first season was held there in 1952.

"Right now the ice on the lakes is not real good, although that will likely improve somewhat before the season opens," Bruch said. "And preliminary reports indicate the water is very clear once again this year, which, along with the addition of the Upriver Lakes season, will lead to a high harvest rate right out of the gate."

The 1999 spearing season, held just on Lake Winnebago, closed after just three days when spearmen reached the harvest cap set under the emergency rule. Spearmen harvested a total of 1,484 sturgeon in 1999.

"Our primary concern is maintaining the harvest at or below allowable levels, which our harvest cap system is designed to do," added Bruch.

The minimum size limit for all lakes this year is 36 inches. Spearmen are advised to be sure of the size of their fish before they throw their spear. Also spearmen are reminded that it is illegal to use another person's sturgeon spearing tag. DNR Law Enforcement officials will be heavily patrolling all lakes every day of the season. If anyone witnesses any illegal activities they are asked to contact their local game warden or call 1-800-TIP-WDNR (1-800-847-9367).

Record Setting 30-Point Buck On Display at W.B. Place

HARTFORD -- The public is invited to view Wisconsin's first recorded 30-point buck of the 1999 deer hunting season, bagged by Mike Peirick of Ashippun, Wisconsin.

The 30-point buck, mounted by W.B. Place's resident taxidermist Kory Kamps of Kamps Taxidermy, will be on display at W.B. Place during regular business hours through Wednesday, February 23.

Hours are weekdays 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Saturdays 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays, noon to 4 p.m.

In November, Kory Kamps was selected by Peirick to mount the 4-1/2 year old buck, which made the Boone & Crockett Club of Montana's all-time, non-typical record book with a measurement of 195-3/8". To qualify for this prestigious record book, the mount could not be less than 195 inches and each tine and horn needed to measure at least one inch in length.

Nearly 132,000 Permits Issued For Spring Turkey Hunt

MADISON -- Nearly 132,000 spring wild turkey hunting permits for the 2000 season are being distributed to Wisconsin hunters, an increase of about 15% from the spring 1999 season, according to state wildlife officials. Permits were mailed the end of January. The spring season consists of six five-day periods running from April 12 through May 21 this year.

"Once again, due to the incredible success story of the wild turkey in Wisconsin, both the number of applicants and the number of permits available increased again this year," said Keith Warnke, upland game ecologist for the Department of Natural Resources. The department received more than 135,000 permit applications for the spring season, up about 5% from the spring 1999 season when 129,002 hunters applied for permits.

"With the success of the turkey, the gap between the number of applications we're receiving and the number of permits we can offer is smaller this spring," said Warnke. "That, of course, is only for this spring and could change in the future with poor weather during the 2000 hatching season or a hard 2000-2001 winter. This is the closest the number of spring permits and number of applications has been that I can remember in recent years."

"Spring hunter success rates ranged from a high of 37% to a low of 17% in 1999," Warnke said. "The long term average success rate is about 25% from which we would predict a harvest this spring of about 33,000 birds."

There will be 53 turkey management zones (including state parks) open for the spring 2000 season. Permit numbers vary according to the management zone ranging from a high of 9,000 to a low of 150. Hunters with disabilities will have hunting opportunities in six state park zones during the first three time periods. In addition, a new disabled hunting opportunity was made available to class A or C permit holders on private lands for the spring 2000 season.

Turkey Hunter Education Clinics will be offered again this year around the state. These free clinics are presented by volunteer instructors and are sponsored by the Wisconsin DNR, local chapters of the National Wild Turkey Federation and the National Wild Turkey Federation.

The clinics will be held during February, March and April throughout the state. Clinics will cover the basics of turkey hunting including hunting techniques, turkey calling, hunting safety, and turkey biology. In 1999, over 2,500 people attended the 45 clinics statewide.

ics statewide.

A list of clinics was sent with spring turkey permits to successful permit applicants. The clinic list is also available at DNR service centers or by calling Darcy Kind at (608) 267-7473.

Lady Indians Stun Roncalli

The Kewaskum Lady Indians upset the Eastern Wisconsin Conference's second place team on Friday, February 4, at Manitowoc by a score of 60-54. One week earlier, they came within one point of beating New Holstein.

New Holstein and Manitowoc Roncalli were tied for second place in the EWC at the time, but the Jets defeated the Huskies this past week to take sole possession of second.

Kewaskum came out ready to play. The Jets took an early two-point lead, but it was their only lead of the entire game. The Indians countered with a basket and kept rolling. They led by eight points at the end of the first quarter and held on to that eight-point lead at half-time.

The Indians remained fired up for the second half. They led by as many as 13 points during the third quarter. The Jets continued to claw their way back into the game. They got to within three points in the fourth quarter when Bridget Polzean hit a big three-point basket to give the Indians a six-point cushion. Roncalli was forced to foul and Kewaskum remained calm at the free throw line to take the win.

Three players hit in double figures for Kewaskum. Jenny Kraft led the Indians with 17 points. She also added five rebounds and three steals. Heather Rieder was right behind with 16 points, seven rebounds and four assists. Dani Nass contributed 10 points and seven rebounds. Sarah Schwinn had six points and seven rebounds and Laura Schwinn added five points and four assists. Bridget Polzean and Lauren Steinhardt rounded out the scoring with three points each. Steinhardt also had five rebounds.

Kewaskum will be at Plymouth Saturday, February 12, for a conference matchup. The JV's will start at 1 p.m., followed by the varsity at 2:30.

It's time the ladies treat themselves to a day especially designed for them. A day of fitness, food and fun with friends. Sunburst Ski Area of Kewaskum will open their ski hill for ladies only on Thursday, February 24, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Women can take ski lessons that day without being intimidated by the men, and then relax over lunch. Blue Sky students will be providing massages to sooth those aching muscles. Factory reps will be present to show what's hot in skis and equipment this season and offer free demos for perspective buyers.

Lift tickets are $16, rentals are $16, lessons run from $10-$25 and lunch is ala carte.

Further information on Ladies Day can be obtained by contacting Sunburst Ski Area at (262) 626-8404.
