Village President Resigns

Kewaskum Village President Robert Wagner submitted a letter of resignation on Wednesday, August 9, 2000, which became effective immediately.

The letter of resignation was addressed to the residents of Kewaskum, the Kewaskum Village Board and the Village Administrator. Wagner cited no reason for the resignation.

Wagner, whose term would have expired April 1, 2001, served for two years as a trustee from April, 1991, and then as Village President since April, 1993.

According to Village Administrator Dan Schmidt, the board will make a decision regarding Wagner's replacement at their next meeting, Monday, August 21.

Their options include appointing a Village President from within the current board members, or having one board member serve as President Pro Tem until the next election in April.

Correction...

The Kewaskum Statesman would like to extend their sincere apologies to the Thrune family of Kewaskum for an error in the heading printed in last week's issue regarding the Kewaskum High School vandalism.

Anthony Thrune has NOT been formally charged by Washington County District Attorney Todd Martens as was printed in the heading last week.

Kewaskum Police Chief Richard Knoebel sent the charges to the District Attorney, but they have not been acted upon.

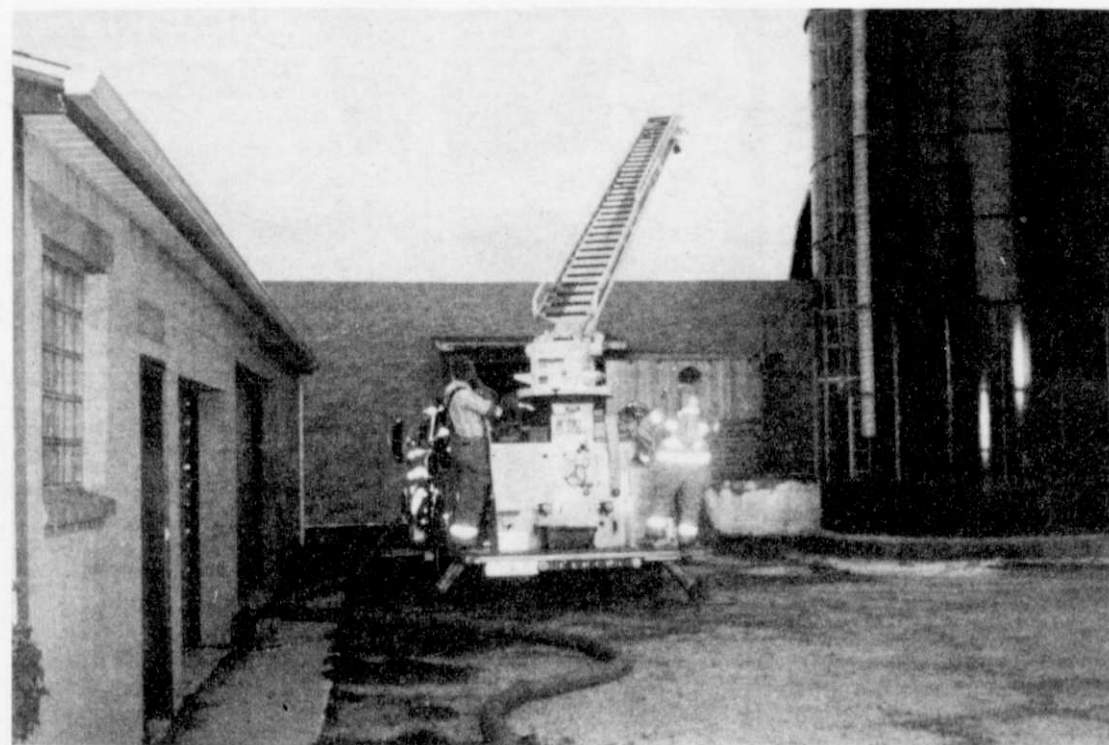

We are extremely sorry for any distress or inconvenience this may have caused the Thrune family.

Fire Averted at Enright Farm

Firemen from the Boltonville, Kewaskum and Fillmore fire departments were called out shortly after 7 p.m. on Thursday, August 10, to avert the possibility of a barn fire at the Kenneth Enright Farm located at 8958 Boltonville Road east of Kewaskum near Boltonville. Bruce Theusch and Brad Enright were helping to unload chopped straw on the farm when the load tipped back and ignited. They were not absolutely sure if some of the hot straw was accidentally loaded into the barn before it was noticed, so wisely decided to notify Boltonville Fire Chief Joe Enright. Chief Enright investigated and to be on the safe side alerted the three fire departments to the possibility of a barn fire, on the chance that some of the hot straw had managed to get into the barn. Shortly after, it was decided to call in the West Bend fire department who own a thermal imaging camera that detects heat if present. The camera was put to good use and no hot spots were detected. There was no damage other than the load of straw that was extinguished on the ground.

'Meet Me in St. Louis' At KHS

The Kewaskum High School Theater Department's fall production of "Meet Me in St. Louis" is the warm-hearted story of a happy family's life, as they anticipate the wonders of the 1904 World's Fair.

Many of the songs will be familiar to audiences: the title song, "Meet Me in St. Louis," the energetic, "Trolley Song," the quaint, "Under the Bamboo Tree," and the sentimental, "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas." Two rousing large-group dances are, "Skip to My Lou," and "The Banjo Song."

Female roles include the mother, the family's Irish maid, and four daughters: Rose (18-years-old), Esther (17), Agnes (12) and Tootie (6). The male dramatic parts are represented by the father, grandfather and two neighbor boys. Performance dates are scheduled for November 3rd and 4th.

Auditions for all roles including the chorus will be held in the choir room of Kewaskum High School on Tuesday, September 5, 2000, from 3 to 7 p.m. A prepared, short musical selection is recommended. If there are any questions, please contact Mr. Bertelsen at 626-2166, ext. 4571 after August 28.

Spancrete Placed for Second Story Of Holy Trinity School Addition

Work has been progressing nicely on the new addition to Holy Trinity School in Kewaskum. Last Friday, August 11, the huge spancrete for the second floor was laid down, as shown in the above photo. The spancrete was hoisted off numerous flatbeds by the large Dawes crane shown below. According to reports, the wall for the second floor has been started, the brick work has begun on the west wall and the electrical work is progressing on schedule. The new heating system for the entire school is being installed and it is hoped the existing building will be ready for occupancy in time for the opening of school in early September.

Help Protect Your Mouth When It's Vulnerable

(NAPS)—While many Americans understand the importance of good oral hygiene, nearly half occasionally skip brushing their teeth at night. What these people don't realize is that by not brushing at night, they're creating an environment in which germs and bacteria can flourish, causing plaque and germ buildup or possibly more serious problems like gum disease.

"Unfortunately, many people do not realize that brushing their teeth before going to bed is essential to maintaining good oral health," says New York dentist Jeffrey Golub-Evans, DDS.

Studies show that most consumers spend more time on oral hygiene in the morning instead of at night, not realizing that nighttime is a vulnerable time for the mouth. Saliva is the mouth's natural cleanser, and at night, saliva flow decreases. This leads to the buildup of unpleasant plaque and germs, or a condition known as "nighttime mouth."

"In addition to brushing regularly at night to help fight nighttime mouth, I suggest that patients use a toothpaste such as Arm & Hammer®

Brushing your teeth before bedtime provides oral protection that you mouth needs.

P.M., which was specifically created to fight the problem," says Dr. Golub-Evans.

"This toothpaste was created to provide a clear and meaningful consumer benefit, thus encouraging more people to brush at night," says Jim Daniels, Director of Personal Care Marketing at Church & Dwight, the manufacturer of Arm & Hammer® products.

Daniels also says that many users of the toothpaste report an improvement in the way their mouths feel.

Arm & Hammer® P.M. is available in drugstores and supermarkets for a suggested retail price of $2.99 for a 4.5 oz. tube.

Memories

How about this for a unique antique postcard! The above card was mailed from Hawaii to the Kewaskum "Gas House Gang" in 1940 from Gustav "Clark" Werner, who was stationed there during World War II. The name (Gas House Gang) as well as the address (Kewaskum) was drawn out in symbols as shown above.

The Kewaskum "Gas House Gang" originated during World War II. When a serviceman would come home on furlough from overseas, friends would meet at Tillie's Grand View Lunch Room to renew acquaintances, swap stories and enjoy the camaraderie. Their "annual meeting" was held on New Year's Day when election of officers was held. They were certainly a group who knew how to enjoy themselves. Some members of the "Gas House Gang" shown above at one of their "meetings" included, left to right: Fred Buss Jr., Ralph Marx, Albert "Dotzie" Hron, Wally Werner, Melvin Brandt and Louis Heisler Jr.

Letters to The Editor

To the Residents and Taxpayers of Washington County:

It is truly a shame that elected officials such as County Supervisors Strachota, Tennies, Kratz, Rademacher and the remaining sixteen who also voted against the Washington County Fair Park Indoor Horse Arena construction "claim" to be working for the residents of the county. When, in fact, their actions are costing its taxpayers thousands of dollars in study and consultant fees and millions of dollars in revenues.

The excuse that they (these supervisors) are trying to stay within the Fair Park's spending cap is a bunch of "hot air". Under the original county plan, the $1.6 million cost of the arena would have come from project funds. However, because there was a so-called "unexpected" additional cost for sewer and other site work, the monies allocated for the arena were used to cover those cost overruns. (Now whose fault was that, the horses?) How about the engineers and contractors?)

Now these supervisors are saying money can't be taken from the General Funds for the arena. This should never have been the case in the first place. Those "cost overruns" should have come from General Funds or those who engineered and constructed the project. And, the arena's money left in the project fund for its construction.

According to a newspaper article, after the board's recent meeting County Administrator Doug Johnson indicated the county hasn't put any money into the equestrian area yet. Apparently Supervisor Herb Tennes thinks that most or all of the construction money should come from the private sector so the county won't have to hold up its end of the bargain. It should just sit back and collect the profits. If that's his thinking, it is wrong and truly a shame. Area organizations, individuals and businesses have been very generous financially to the Fair Park to date and, I am quite sure will be in the future. However, let's not kick a gift horse in the mouth.

I understand a "very very" substantial donation has been offered to the county, however some supervisors did not like the terms of the donation. If the county won't or can't come up with money, I think they should be a little more liberal in their condition.

The supervisors have already wasted approximately $30,000 of the taxpayers' money in getting consultant's reports which they refuse to accept. These "ignored" studies show the indoor arena will generate thousands of dollars in additional revenues each year, helping to make the fair park virtually self-sustaining and the sooner it is built, the sooner that fact will become a reality.

This building actually should not be considered "just a horse arena." It will be able to host all types of shows and activities and, year round. With the addition of the indoor arena, it is projected the fair park could generate almost $4 million in annual revenues. After only its second year, the facility is expected to run in the "black."

Let's build that arena and make sure that "black" figure is even bigger and better next year and in all the years to come. It took us years to get a new Fair Grounds, now let's make it the best and most profitable facility in the state.

Call the supervisors voicing your support of the arena until they get tired of hearing their phones ring and maybe they will wake up and realize they are accountable to the people who elected them and pay their salaries.

Legislative Redistricting Stakes Are High

MADISON - Counting the state's 5.3 million people as required by the federal census is a challenge. "But it pales compared to the complex and highly controversial process of redrawing legislative districts to conform to these new census figures," says the Wisconsin Taxpayer Alliance (WTA).

In a recent report "The Coming Puzzle: Redistricting," the WTA - a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization dedicated to public policy research and citizen education - explains that redistricting is required by law to ensure each selected lawmaker represents about the same number of people.

Key events in the coming redistricting timetable are outlined in the WTA report. By April 2001, the U.S. Census Bureau will report to Wisconsin the populations of the state's 200,000 tabulation units. Then counties will solicit suggestions from municipalities and adopt tentative district plans for county boards. Municipalities will create or adjust ward boundaries to fit county plans. Counties will then adopt final supervisory district plans and submit them to the state. Each of these steps is to take up to 60 days.

New state legislators to be elected this November will be responsible for redrawing state and congressional district lines. They must complete this work by about April 2002 in order for new districts to be ready for the 2002 elections, the WTA notes. Legislative plans are subject to gubernatorial veto and are often challenged, and even redrawn, in state or federal court.

Wisconsin is one of 30 states where the legislature is responsible for redistricting without involvement of a commission. In Maryland, redistricting is the governor's responsibility. In 19 states, the job involves a redistricting board or commission.

Several major issues loom in redistricting, according to the WTA. One is population figures themselves. The legislature will have to decide whether to use raw Census data or an adjusted count that attempts to correct for difficulties in counting such groups as minorities, immigrants and the homeless.

A related issue is "one person - one vote." Districts are to be of roughly equal population, but are also to be compact and take into account representation of minorities.

Other key issues relate to party and incumbent power. The stakes are high in redistricting. As the WTA report notes: "Through 'gerrymandering,' incumbents can be weakened or defeated; communities and constituency groups can be split; parties can lose control of a legislative body."

Although state statutes require legislative districts to be compact and recognize communities of interest among voters, some small municipalities are divided between two or more state legislative or congressional districts. The WTA report describes two of the most unusual examples: the town of Milton in Rock county, where three state representatives and three state senators each represent a different portion of the town's 2,800 residents; and the city of Middleton (Dane County), which is in three assembly and two state senate districts.

When small municipalities are partitioned in redistricting, the WTA suggests several adverse effects are possible. First, representative government can be hindered when citizens are left confused as to who represents them. Second, when small communities or counties are needlessly divided, media coverage of public affairs can be hindered and public participation diminished. Third, in such situations, rapid and effective legislative response to citizen and community concerns may be adversely impacted. And, finally, when district boundaries defy public understanding, organized opposition to sitting lawmakers and, therefore, electoral competition are lessened.

For a free copy of the WTA report, "The Coming Puzzle: Redistricting," write the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, 335 W. Wilson St., Madison, WI 53073, or send an e-mail request to wtataxes@ititis.com.

Getting Into The Swim On Pool Safety

(NAPS)—Pool safety is no accident. It should begin before you dive in, say experts at BioGuard, a leading manufacturer of pool and spa care products.

Create a regular schedule of pool maintenance that includes sanitation, oxidation and algae protection.

Here are some pool safety tips you may want to dip into:

- Don't allow young children to swim unsupervised.
- Set and enforce strict pool rules: no running; only proper use of diving boards and slides.
- Keep a Shepherd's crook and life preserver by the pool at all times.

Police Reports

Police were dispatched to an alley next to a Fond du Lac Avenue residence on July 29 for a complaint of criminal damage to property.

The victim showed the officer his RCA Direct TV satellite dish. Unknown actors had partially broken off the satellite reception arm. He had called the department in regard to three suspicious adults running around in the back of the parking lot behind Wiseguys who he suspected damaged his dish.

The individuals have not yet been found, if anyone has information contact the Kewaskum Police Department at 6262-2323 or the Washington County WE-TIP Line at 1-800-232-0594.

On August 1, police were dispatched to Kirst Builders on Main Street for a vandalism complaint.

The victim stated that the business was shot at twice in the front window by a BB gun. The two holes were approximately one foot away from each other.

The victim advised that it was possible that it may have occurred before the prior night, but he didn't notice until that morning.

The individuals have not yet been found, if anyone has information contact the Kewaskum Police Department at 626-2323 or the Confidential Washington County WE-TIP Line at 1-800-232-0594.

On August 1, police were dispatched to a Roseland Drive residence for a complaint.

The victim stated that he was rather upset that people were gambling in the Community room of the Meadowcreek Apartments. He stated that everyday they sit and play sheephead for pennies and nickels. He stated that the people are constantly harassing him, and this is his way of harassing them back. He further stated that gambling is a violation of the law anyway, and something should be done about it.

The victim further advised that his car tires had been slashed implicating the people living at Meadowcreek, and nothing has been done about it. He stated that when he parked his car away from buildings, someone from the apartment called the police department, and he was told to move his car because it was leaking gas. He advised that they don't understand him.

The officer advised that he would investigate the specifics of the card game and told the victim that there was no way of proving that it was actually a resident of the apartments who had slashed his tires or called about the car leaking gas several blocks away.

This case is being investigated by the District Attorney, and the D.A. could not see anything in the law to cover a one cent or five cent card game. The D.A. advised that he would further investigate.

On August 1, police received a complaint from a resident.

The victim stated that when he checked his vehicle the morning of the 1st, he noticed that someone had keyed the trunk on his vehicle. He went on to say that when he walked around his vehicle he noticed some garbage laying on the ground near his front door.

When asked if he had any idea who might have done this, he said he wasn't sure, but there is a lot of traffic in the area.

The officer advised that he would watch the area. The individuals have not yet been found, if anyone has information contact the Kewaskum Police Department at 626-2323 or the Confidential Washington County WE-TIP Line at 1-800-232-0594.

Police were called to a break-in at an Edgewood Road residence.

The victim woke up to find a white male dressed in black inside of her residence. He was going through the bedrooms. She stated that the male party left her residence and headed towards North Avenue.

The officer located the suspect and asked him to stop. The officer advised him to take his hands out of his pockets and asked if he had any weapons. The suspect told the officer that he had a knife, but the tip was broken. The officer then asked him if he remembered entering a residence on Edgewood Road, and he stated that he did and he was trying to find an old friend's house.

The officer asked if the victim wanted to press trespassing charges and she replied that she did not. When the officer asked the victim what happened. She advised that he came in through the front door, which was left unlocked. He turned on lights, went downstairs, and went through the rooms. He then went upstairs and started entering bedrooms. She stated that she heard him attempt to pick the lock of her bedroom, entered the room. He woke up the victim, at which time he left the residence.

The suspect was cited with Disorderly Conduct. He was then taken to his residence by a Sheriff's Deputy.

If you now get food stamps or AFDC for your children, your children can get free meals. If your total household income is the same or less than the amounts on the Income Chart below, your children can get free meals or reduced price meals. A foster child may get free or reduced price meals regardless of your income. The reduced price is $2.00 for a five-day ticket for all students.

TO GET FREE OR REDUCED PRICE MEALS FOR YOUR CHILDREN, YOU MUST COMPLETE AN APPLICATION AND RETURN IT TO THE SCHOOL. WE CANNOT APPROVE AN APPLICATION THAT IS NOT COMPLETE.

INCOME CHART

Household Size	Annual	Month	Week
1	$15,448	$1,288	$ 298

Verification: Your eligibility may be checked at any time during the school year. School officials may ask you to send papers showing that your children should get free or reduced price meals.

Fair Hearing: You may talk to school officials if you do not agree with the school's decision on your application or the results of verification. You also may ask for a fair hearing. You may do this by calling or writing: Board President, 1450 School Street, P.O. Box 37, Kewaskum, WI 53040.

Reporting Changes: If your children get free or reduced price meals because of your income, you must tell the school if your household size decreases or your income increases by more than $50 per month or $600 per year. If your children get meals because they get food stamps or AFDC, you must tell the school when you are not getting AFDC or food stamps for them. You may then fill out another application giving income information.

Confidentiality: School officials use the information on the application only to decide if your children should get free or reduced price meals.

Reapplication: You may apply for meals anytime during the school year. If you are not eligible now but have a change, like a decrease in household income, an increase in household size, become unemployed or get food stamps or AFDC for your children, complete an application then.

In the operation of the child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, national origin, age or handicap. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the secretary of agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

We will let you know when your application is approved or denied.

Sincerely,
Wayne P. Graczyk
Superintendent

State Bar Launches New Web Site for Residents

Madison -- The State Bar of Wisconsin has launched a new consumer website, designed to help Wisconsin residents find a lawyer, get answers to legal questions, find out about consumer news, have access to State Bar consumer education materials and learn about law-related educational resources.

The website will offer five main categories:

- need a lawyer,
- answers to legal questions,
- consumer alerts,
- State Bar publications, videotapes and links to other government, community and internet resources, and

The new public website will be kept current, and will provide Wisconsin residents with phone numbers, other agency and organization website links, contact persons, and other vital information that can help them get through the legal system while sitting at their computer.

To check out the site, click on www.legalexplorer.com, and contact Tom Watson at the State Bar of Wisconsin, at (608) 250-6180, or Lori Phelps, at (608) 250-6047.

KHS Lady Golfers to Open Season Aug. 21

The start of the school year is just around the corner when the fall sports teams hit the practice fields and golf is one of the first to "get in the swing."

Seventeen girls, including senior letter winner Jody Wichtoski and junior letter winner and all-conference selections Niki Dreher (first team), Courtney Timblin (second team) and senior Stefanie Brettingen (second team) are joined by many promising individuals. Beth Degner, senior, saw limited action on varsity last year but should be making a contribution to the 2000 team.

Juniors Candi Heberer, Maggie Herriges, and Audrey Dickman will also help to make this season an exciting one. Rounding out the teams will be returning sophomores Jacqueline Chambers and Cassie Laatsch and freshman Lisa Beck, Erica Christie, Katie Kowalczyk, Cassandra Remmel, Samantha Schoofs, and Sara Taylor.

Most of the freshmen and sophomores will be contributing to the JV program for this year but Crystal Dreher and Sara Taylor are experienced golfers and will be challenging the upperclassmen for a varsity position.

Kewaskum is part of the Little Ten Conference for golf and will open its conference season at Watertown on August 21. The varsity girls got their first taste of tournament play this last Friday at Town and Country Golf Course in Sheboygan and learned that the team has some work to do to get their game where they want it to be.

The team definitely will miss the steady play of Amy Piwoni who graduated and will be playing golf at Marian College this fall. The contributions of Amber King, the other starter lost to graduation, will also be missed as the girls challenge for the conference title this year.

The Lady Indians finished third in the quadangular meet on Friday with a 408 behind Hartford's 385 and Sheboygan's combined North/South team's 396. Nicolet was last with a 455.

Courtney Timblin led the way for the Indians with a 41/50-91 which was the third best score of the 20 golfers. Hartford's Samantha Wolf was the meet medalist with a 40/47-87. Rounding out the counting scores for Kewaskum was Stefanie Brettingen's 53/50-103, Candi Heberer's 52/53-105 and Jody Wichtoski's 55/54-109.

The girls' next challenge will be on Tuesday at the Mukwonago Invite held at Rainbow Springs Golf Course.

Weekly Meeting of Separated, Divorced

The Washington County separated, divorced and widowed men and women support group meets every Friday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Holy Angels Church, 138 N. 8th Avenue in West Bend.

Their purpose is to provide a means to share ideas, concerns, support, fellowship and love from a Christian perspective. There are guest speakers, panel discussions, small group sharing and other activities.

The group is open to singles, widows and widowers. Many of the topics pertain to single parents and other individuals rebuilding their lives and relationships.

On August 18, the program, "Finances" will be presented by Ken Johnson of First Midwest Securities.

"Success" with Ted Bolser will be featured August 25.

Thelen's Construction Wins Thiemerdome Championship

The Thelen's Construction Crew team took home the 2000 championship trophy at the Thiemerdome this season.

The Amerahn team not only won the second place trophy, but also won the Social Event trophy, which in itself, is a major accomplishment.

The tension and pressure crackled through the air at the Thiemerdome as the dome championship loomed large on the horizon. Or perhaps that might just have been the humidity.

The Sipper Snippers quickly sneaked by the Amerahn team, 6-5, in a rain makeup game. (Goodness knows, we wouldn't want to have these boys get wet! The possibility of melting, or even worse, letting those old bones get even more rusty, is more than the mind can comprehend!) Besides, I truly don't think the Dome insurance covers grown men playing in the mud!

With the makeup game under their belts, the Sipper Snippers were ready to again take on Amerahn for the second round of play.

The first inning started (where else would you start, Richard, but the first inning?) with a walk and hits from Darrell Campbell, and John Lehnerz. Mike Miller followed up with four runs batted in for the Thiemer team.

Amerahn was a little slow to start with only one run in the third, but Thiemers countered by scoring another run. But in the fourth Amerahn warmed up to the challenge as they hit the gaps to score four quick runs and tie the Sipper Snippers at five all.

Thiemers had runners on the bases when the bat smacked with a hard hit ball up the middle. John Kleinke who has recently been brought up from the Amerahn farm club, grabbed the ball, threw it to Tom Rohlinger on third base who in turn threw to second for the out and then the ball was thrown to Ray Mauer on first for a triple play! Can you believe it folks?? A triple play at the Thiemerdome. It has to be a new record. I can never recall seeing a triple play at the dome prior to this. Not to minimize the excitement, but when two out of three runners have pulled "ham strings," it kinda takes away some of the magic. But nevertheless, it still goes down in the record books as a triple play, no matter how it was achieved!

The sparkle of the moment dulls a little when we have to share that the runner going to first was walking. We won't name any names but at least the gentleman was smart enough to realize that running to the base only would have aggravated the "pull" even more and seeing it was the last game of the season, no heroics were in order.

That's when the momentum changed, all began to go wrong and the Sipper Snippers began their Three Stooges imitation. (This came directly from the horses mouth... not even I could have come up with a comparison like that!) Missed balls, players running into each other, and assorted other mistakes transpired as the Amerahn team overtook the Sipper Snippers 14-5.

In the second game of the last night of league action, Commercial Plumbing came to play ball. But unfortunately for them, so did Thelens. The team had decided they must win this one for the gipper (Paul Seymour who was celebrating his 50th birthday and needed a Thelen win to make the party complete).

Both teams played some amazing defense but finally birthday boy Seymour (who also celebrated by going 2x3) got a clean hit with Randy Gumm and Mike Herrick on base to give the Thelens the go-ahead runs to stay ahead.

The Commercial group performed some fine acrobatics defensively to stop the Thelen attack, and it looked for a short time like Commercial might capture a lead. Especially when Jeff Panzer hit one over the birthday boy's head to score a three-run homer, but soon a double play from Fred Bandle at short to second baseman Scott Thelen to Ray Aycock swept Commercial's dream of victory right down the drain.

Thelen's aspirations of winning the 2000 Thiemerdome Championship were achieved as they won 6-5 over the Plumbers. What a birthday treat for Paul Seymour!

Not to be outdone, Amerahn took the second place trophy and won the 2000 Social Event trophy. That alone does not come easily!

Thus another season ends at the Thiemerdome... and folks, I hate to be the bearer of bad news... but rumors of the retirement from baseball of the dome owner have been running rampant. The only way to possibly hope for another season of Thiemerdome action is the hiring of a new umpire to replace Dane Dorn who served faithfully for many seasons, and if management changes their mind about being tired and too old for the aggravation.

But then again, folks, it's a long winter and maybe, just maybe, all you over the hill boys who love the game of baseball can talk Richard into another season. Effort deserves praise... for the love of the game, for the thrill of competition (even at YOUR age), give the Dome owners a pat on the back... remember, it's the only game in town right now, don't lose it! Even if it does mean sacrificing your life and limbs! (Not to mention begging Richard to come out of retirement!)

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that the average American eats 8.5 pounds of pickles a year.

Sleep Apnea Likely To Lead to Hypertension

Armed with the strongest evidence to date, researchers at the University of Wisconsin Medical School have established that sleep apnea - episodes of breathing pauses during sleep - is likely to be an important cause of hypertension. Results of their eight-year study involving more than 700 people appeared in the May 11 edition of the New England Journal of Medicine.

The UW researchers found that even mild to moderate levels of sleep apnea produced a substantial risk of hypertension. And the graver the sleep apnea, the greater the likelihood of developing hypertension, they observed.

The new data came from the Wisconsin Sleep Cohort Study (WSCS), an ongoing, population-based investigation of cardiopulmonary problems linked to sleep disorders. Funded by the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute (NHLBI), the WSCS is directed by Dr. Terry Young, UW Medical School professor of preventive medicine.

According to NHLBI Director Dr. Claude Lenfant, "This study dramatically enhances our understanding of the role of sleep apnea in hypertension and provides additional evidence that it may be an independent risk factor for hypertension. Once we have additional follow-up data from the large NHLBI Sleep Heart Health Study, we should be able to make a more reliable determination of the precise role of sleep apnea as a risk factor for cardiovascular disease."

Most previous studies of sleep apnea and hypertension have provided only a cross sectional, or a one-glimpse-in-time, look at the simultaneous occurrence of the two disorders, according to lead author Dr. Paul Peppard of the UW Medical School department of preventive medicine. Some studies have been based on participants' individual reports of snoring, but not on objectively assessed sleep apnea.

"Our findings indicate that sleep apnea might be an important factor in the development of hypertension over time," said Peppard.

In the study, 709 WSCS participants, all randomly selected state employees, were monitored in an overnight stay in a special sleep laboratory at University of Wisconsin Hospital and Clinics' General Clinical Research Center. Researchers measured the number of episodes of breathing pauses each participant had during sleep to determine the presence and severity of sleep apnea; 15 or more pauses indicated moderate to severe sleep apnea. Participant health was reassessed four years later and in some cases eight years later as well.

The Wisconsin team statistically accounted for other factors related to hypertension - age, gender, weight, menopause, smoking, alcohol use and education - but still found that sleep apnea played a significant and independent role in hypertension risk. People with mild to moderate sleep apnea were twice as likely to become hypertensive; people with moderate to severe sleep apnea were almost three times as likely to become hypertensive.

"These findings tell us that clinicians should take seriously any symptoms or signs of sleep apnea in their patients," said Peppard. "New public health programs may also be important in helping people make lifestyle changes that offer protection against sleep apnea and its consequences."

Earlier findings from the Wisconsin Sleep Cohort Study include: sleep apnea is much more common than previously thought (New England Journal of Medicine, April 27, 1993); smoking puts people at high risk for sleep apnea (Archives of Internal Medicine, October 10, 1994); doctors fail to recognize sleep apnea in women (Archives of Internal Medicine, December, 1996); people with undiagnosed sleep apnea may be at greater risk of automobile accidents (Sleep, August, 1997).

"We are now studying whether sleep apnea aggravates existing cardiovascular disease and whether modifying the severity of sleep apnea may reduce the risk of hypertension and other health problems," noted Young.

Enrollment Underway for Farm Management Courses

Registration for Moraine Park Technical College's Farm Business and Production Management courses is underway.

The courses emphasize all aspects of successful management and problem solving for today's farmer and other key management staff. Education is also a benefit to employees of off-farm agriculture related businesses. Instruction will take place both on the farm as well as in the classroom. It will focus on goal setting, business planning, record-keeping, crops, soil, credit management, insurance, financial planning and livestock nutrition.

Instructor Phil Rasmussen conducts 10-12 classroom sessions, one afternoon per week, which will begin after the corn harvest. Serving Washington and Dodge counties, classes are tentatively planned at Mayville, Waupun, Hustiford and a Washington county location to be selected at a later date.

Dr. Fred Pumper, an instructor at Moraine Park, will serve all of Fond du Lac, Greenlake and parts of neighboring counties.

Now is the time to enroll for classes. The cost is $227 for new students. Tuition assistance grants for continuing students are available

Former baseball players from the Kewaskum-West Bend area met in the year 2000 edition of the Old-Timers Game.

It proved once again that the phrase, baseball old-timers game, is a contradiction in terms. Listen to Barney Prost talk of having to get done shocking a ten-acre field of grain and doing chores before his dad would consent to his going to baseball practice in anticipation of a big game, and you realize you weren't the first one to feel that passion.

Watch Ray Mertzig lay down a perfect sacrifice bunt in the sixth inning to move runners to second and third, and you realize that you and your peers didn't invent the game of baseball.

Look at Tom Bartelt doing what he did for 25 seasons in high school, college and amateur baseball, and that is putting 100% of his ability and energy to work at the game, whether in the field (where he sparkled at third base), on the mound or at the plate.

Then there is 69-year-old Willie Mueller Sr., who turned in a sterling three inning effort on the mound. This followed a three inning stint in Saukville's Old-Timer's game the week before. Willie's catcher in that game was an 80-year-old man who still plays three times a week at his home in Arizona.

Every player in attendance has his own story of triumph and disappointments. Still, everyone mixed easily because no matter when they played, they played the same game.

Barney Prost's Moraine League Grand Champions of 1947 played on a field where the bases were 90' apart and the pitcher's mound was 60'6" from home plate.

Teams representing Kewaskum and West Bend play today in the Rock River and Tri-County Nite League and Land-O-Lakes Leagues at exactly those dimensions.

Teams organized and in uniform represented Kewaskum since before 1900. Very few activities or organizations can trace such a direct line of existence back so far.

Especially gratifying was the attendance of many of our more senior former stars. Among the meeting of the veteran baseball minds were Bud Korth, Bob Staehler, Barney Prost, Arnie Schladweiler, Dick Edwards, Jerry Stautz, Augie Bilgo and Roger Schleif.

The game itself saw two randomly selected squads of players from both Kewaskum and West Bend. Mertzig's Marauders outlasted Bartelt's Bombers by a 13-5 score in a game shortened to eight innings by rain.

Willie Mueller Sr. started for the home team and went three strong innings allowing two runs which would have been unearned had the scorekeeper been marking errors.

Bartelt's team answered with a single run in the bottom of the third to make the score 2-1. It stayed that way until the top of the fifth when Mertzigs plated three runs. The same hitters did the damage as in the third, with Steve Spoerl, Don Liebetrau, Rick Averill, Doug Gonring, Dave Donath and Andy Hoenecke each contributing.

Bartelts battled right back with three in the bottom of the inning to get within one run again at 5-4. Mark Schlosser, Bob Liebetrau, Ric Leitheiser and Mike Reidemann combined to tighten up the game again.

The top of the sixth saw Mertzigs forge ahead on the strength of a four-run rally. After Joe Enright and Russ Hetebrueg reached on singles, Ray Mertzig moved them to second and third with a perfect sacrifice bunt. After a flyout, Bill Kraemer, Spoerl, Don Liebetrau, Averill, Gonring and Donath all reached base to finish the scoring.

The bottom of the sixth saw Jerry Nigh lead off with a double. Bartelt and Schlosser hit safely to score Nigh, making it a 9-5 Mertzig lead.

The game's scoring was concluded in the top of the eighth when Mertzigs tacked on four runs. The key blow was a two-run homer by starting and winning pitcher, Bill Kraemer. Kraemer also hit the only homer in the last old-timers game held in 1997.

All in all, it was a good day to savor the pure joy of playing baseball. It is hoped everyone will be back the next time around and that the current players will be joined by many more of their former teammates.

Augie Bilgo, standing, Barney Prost, Clayton Stautz and Arnie Schladweiler keep track of the action at the Old-Timers Game from the bleachers.

Kewaskum A's Lose to Brownsville

Ryan Toshner of the Kewaskum A's, slides quickly back to first base, beating the tag of Ryan Koehler of Brownsville.

Brad Tagliapietra, Brownsville's #24, is shown in a foot race between second and third base, which he eventually lost. In the process of tagging him were Kewaskum's Curt Schroeder and behind him, D.P. Bruckert.

The Kewaskum A's were beaten by the Brownsville 49'ers on Sunday, August 13, by a score of 9-6 in the Rock River League.

The loss put the A's one game behind Brownsville for the fourth and final playoff in the Northern Division with just one week-end remaining.

The A's play at Slinger on Saturday, August 19, to continue a delayed game that was rained out two weeks ago. The score is 8-8 with nobody out in the top of the eighth. The A's then play Sunday, August 20 at home against the Hustisford Astros.

The A's need to win both games and hope that Brownsville loses to Oakfield this Sunday, which would be the only chance the A's would have to make the playoffs.

The A's were scheduled to play on Wednesday, August 16 in a non-league contest at Sheboygan.

The A's D.P. Bruckert makes the out on Brownsville's Josh Stoffel on second.

The A's pitcher, Bob Bothe, fires one over the plate.
