Christa Fleischman Dies in Car Crash

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

Town of Byron-- A 24 year old Campbellsport woman tragically lost her life as a result of a two vehicle accident just after 8 a.m. Friday morning.

Authorities say Christa M. Fleischman was driving southbound, alone, on USH 41, south of CTH Y when her vehicle allegedly left the roadway on the east side and crossed the median striking a van driving northbound head-on.

The driver of the van was Thomas O. Haberman, 61 of Milwaukee. He was also driving alone.

According to a report issued by the Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department Fleischman was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident.

The sheriff's department is still investigating the details of the accident.

Information on Haberman's condition was unavailable.

A complete obituary for Christa Fleischman can be found on page 14.

State of the District- 'Good, Very Good'

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

Few residents of the Kewaskum School District showed up at the annual meeting held by the district September 25.

John Schulte was nominated by Neal Weare to be the chairperson of the meeting. Irene Gnacinski seconded the motion.

District Administrator Wayne Graczyk gave the state of the district address and told the audience "the state of the district is good...In fact, very good. But we can never be satisfied." He also told everyone that "we need to build on our strengths"

Some of the accomplishments he listed were:

- Remodeled FES and WES.
- New KES being built.

• Senior scholarship program will give $111,000 in scholarships this year with $52,000 from the KEYS program.

• Mrs. Shirley Rose of KES was a Herb Kohl fellowship award winner.

• Middle school has initiated a new honor level discipline program which recognizes the positive students/positive behavior first while still addressing the less positive.

• An art program that continues to be among the best in the state with art work again displayed at the state school board convention held in Milwaukee.

• The elementary curriculum will emphasize a new social studies program. The middle school will have a new health and developmental guidance program. The high school will have a new agriculture component, new advanced English course and more rigorous and higher expectations in many redesigned courses.

• A new math improvement committee working with an outside consultant to analyze our current math curriculum and instructional methods.

• GRANTS: The district has received a $45,000 grant for developmental guidance and peer mediation at the elementary level and a comprehensive health and parental involvement program. The middle school has received a $58,000 grant to enhance our successful youth apprenticeship program.

• TEST SCORES/RESULTS: Grade three- Among the highest in the county/state. Grades four-eight- Scores for knowledge and concepts test generally above the state average in reading, language arts and social studies. Math and science will be an emphasis to improve this year, new materials and teaching methods will be implemented.

Graczyk concluded, "If you look for the worst, guess what you'll see? Right, the worst! Our emphasis this coming year is doing our best by building on our strengths."

The District's technology director, Greg Kwaterski informed everyone of updates and what he has accomplished, he listed:

• All schools are connected through email and internet service. All memos and bulletins to teachers and staff are sent thus saving time and money to the district.

• All school computers have 100 MB speed and are operating on windows 95.

• New computers and networking has been completed at Farmington and Wayne.

• New computers have been installed in the art and science departments at KHS.

• CAD lab in high school tech department.

Business manager, Paul Reichert gave a review of the proposed 2000-01 budget.

He started off by stating that there was a $220,474 surplus in the 1999-2000 budget. He went on to say that the fund balance was increased to $2,010,679. The fund balance is used to demonstrate financial stability; avoid or minimize short term borrowing; avoid or minimize short term interest expense; obtain and maintain a bond rating and accumulate sufficient funds to make designated purchases.

He continued, "The largest increase in the 2000-01 budget is for additional staffing $261,285.

Residents asked about open enrollment and how this is affecting the district. Reichert informed the audience that the district will receive $129,000 for accepting students into the Kewaskum School District however, the district will pay $263,000 for students leaving the district for the 2000-01 school year.

The tax levy of the school district is made up of the general fund tax levy and the debt service tax levy. The combined tax levy for 2000-01 is $7,107,377. The combined tax levy for 2000-01 is $207,000 more than last year's, an increase of 3.0%

The tax rate for the district is made up of the general fund tax rate and the tax rate for debt service. The combined rate is $10.56, the same rate it has been since 1996-97.

The debt service tax levy will be used to meet an existing obligation of $1,161,021 and $543,638 for defeasance of debt issued in 1994.

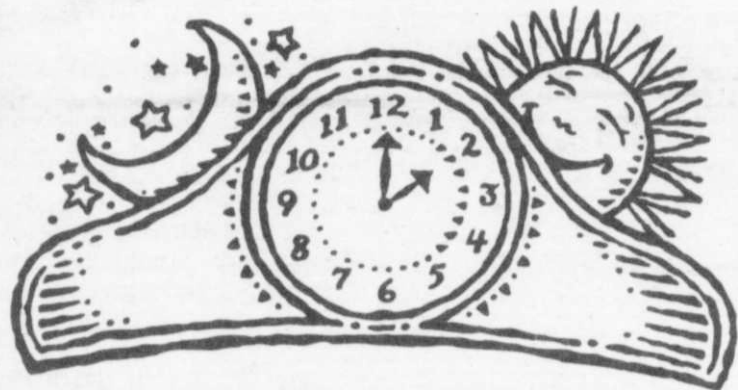

A number of standard resolutions were approved, one in which school board members got a $100 raise. Board members were getting $1600, they now receive $1700.

Christmas Parade to Be Held Dec. 3

The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce will again be sponsoring their annual Christmas Parade this year on Sunday, December 3 at 5 p.m.

The parade committee will be meeting at Hollywood's Portrait Studio on Thursday at 6 p.m. Anyone wishing to help out planning and setting up the parade should attend.

Campbellsport Man Killed in Fiery Crash

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

TOWN OF AUBURN-- An early morning single vehicle accident took the life of a 26 year old Campbellsport man. The accident occurred at 1 a.m. Sunday morning.

Brian C. Nyberg was driving northbound on Pine Lane, less than a half mile north of Auburn-Ashford Drive off of State Highway 45.

The mishap occurred when the truck he was driving allegedly crossed the centerline, veered off the roadway, and struck a tree on the driver's side which caused the truck to spin sideways. The truck then rolled over and came to rest on the passenger's side against a tree. Upon coming to rest the engine compartment of the truck caught fire and burned with the occupant still inside the vehicle.

Kewaskum Fire Department and Rescue Squad responded.

Nyberg was pronounced dead at the scene.

A complete obituary can be found on page 14.

Kuehl Appointed to Village Plan Commission

Village President John Kenworthy asked the Kewaskum Village Board to approve the appointment of Andrew Kuehl to the Village Plan Commission at last Monday evening's meeting.

The board unanimously approved the appointment.

He will fill the seat of Michael Kimble who resigned last month to accept a job out of state.

Andrew Kuehl

Kuehl may also be appointed to the Economic Development Advisory Committee if the committee accepts his letter of intent.

In a letter to Kenworthy Kuehl states "It would be an honor to fill the vacant seat left by Michael Kimble on the Village of Kewaskum Plan Commission."

He went on to say "I have a genuine love for this village and wish to see it grow into the next century."

Kuehl previously served on the Village Board but resigned in January when it was alleged he voted in spite of a possible conflict of interest during a November, 1999 meeting.

Class of 1971 To Hold Reunion

Just 30 short years ago, some Kewaskum High School students were all together enjoying high school life. If you were one of those students, wouldn't you like to relive those memories and share some time together with your fellow classmates?

Mark your calendars for Saturday, August 11, 2001, and meet with the great class of 1971 at Hon-E-Kor Country Club to have some fun as they go back in time to share their memories. Reminder postcards will be mailed with more details and you should be receiving yours before January 1.

If you have moved in the last five years and think that the committee won't be able to find you, please email or call someone listed below.

There are thoughts of a golf outing or other activities and your suggestions and ideas are welcome. If you'd like to plan any of those activities with a committee member, let them hear from you.

Committee members may be contacted at the following: Nancy (Backhaus) Gurnee (gurnee@bpis.com), 920-733-8731; Morrie Belger (belger@hnet.net), 262-626-8069; Debbie (Dettmann) Benzschawel (gratemate@gratemate.com) 920-528-8047; Cathy (Miller) Weinreich (gog@nconnect.net), 262-692-2327; June (Scannell) Kochen, 920-235-7121; Mary Theisen-Faber (kmfaber@nconnect.net) 262-334-2499.

New Faces at KES

Best Students Name Best Local Teachers

A select group of America's teachers are being honored by their toughest critics... their former students, in the sixth edition of "Who's Who Among America's Teachers, 2000."

All of the approximately 114,000 teachers being honored were selected by their former students who themselves are currently listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students®, or The National Dean's List®, publications which recognize 5% of our nation's high school and college students respectively.

The students were re-requested to nominate the one teacher from their entire academic career who "made a difference in their lives" by helping to shape their values, inspiring interest in a particular subject and/or challenging them to strive for excellence.

Many of the students commented about the enthusiasm and knowledge their teachers demonstrated in the classroom, and many praised their teachers for their ability to relate to youngsters on a personal as well as a professional level.

One student wrote about her teacher, saying, "she made education something pleasurable, instead of a dreadful ordeal by letting me spread my wings and showing me the best way to fly."

Kewaskum educators honored in Who's Who Among America's Teachers, 2000 include: Timothy John Rohlinger, Kewaskum High School; William C. Heckel, Retired Mathematics Teacher, and Clark Arnold Pearson, Retired Superintendent.

World Community Day Service to Be Held Nov. 3

The World Community Day Service will be held Friday, November 3, 2000, at St. Paul's United Church of Christ, 495 St. Augustine Rd, Colgate.

A bag lunch at 12 noon with beverage and dessert will be served by the host church. A business meeting will follow. The program, titled, "Standing Up With Those in Need," will be presented by the host church.

People are asked to bring items for the Friends of Abused Families of West Bend. They are in need of cleaning products, such as Windex, toilet cleaners, etc. They can also use paper products, Kleenex, toweling and snacks for the children, such as pretzels, etc.

'Meet Me in St. Louis' at KHS Nov. 3, 4

Seniors Aileen Chambers and Jay Pamperin play Katie, and Grandpa Prophater.

Two of the other cast members, Virginia Feind (Rose Smith) and Josh Stangl (Lon Smith) stopped for a photo dressed for homecoming week's "Olympics Day."

"Clang, Clang, Clang, Went the Trolley" is just one of the delightful lines from this year's Kewaskum High School musical, "Meet Me In St. Louis," the wonderful story of family life in the early 1900's, coming to Rose Hall on November 3 and 4.

In addition to the fine music and talented KHS students on and behind the stage, the play has something else going for it: seventh grader Marie Terlinden and Wayne Elementary third grader Karla Stoffel play the younger sisters in the Smith family.

"It's been a lot of fun getting together," said Marie about working with the high schoolers.

Her older sister in the play, KHS junior Bethany

Hermann, added that the cast is "almost like a family."

"This play has more of a family feel to it than the ones we've done the last few years," said KHS choral music instructor Dave Bertelsen. "We thought it would be fun to have younger members of the community be part of it."

Tickets for the November 3 and 4 7:30 p.m. shows are available through cast members and Kewaskum High School. A special senior citizens performance of the musical is scheduled for the afternoon of Thursday, November 2.

Memories

A Halloween greeting submitted by Isabelle Muckerheide.

LIBRARY LEDGER

By Steev Baker
Kewaskum Library Director

Everything is pumpkin-colored and fat at the end of October. Everyone is a goblin, hiding candy-corn smiles behind rosy cheeks. Leaves like beetles scurry across the sidewalks, chasing us with the gray clouds, blowing us with the wind toward Halloween.

My Dad, who I'm sure will become a regular in this column, is full of contradictions on Halloween. He is, among other things, an ordained minister, a magician, a clown, a puppeteer, and the source of my love for this time of year. When during the rest of the year he forbade us to go to school dances, roller-skating parties, or the local movie theater, on Halloween he transformed our garage into a haunted maze complete with glowing ghosts, bloody vampires, and howling werewolves.

Like most families had a stash of Christmas decorations somewhere, we had Halloween. My Dad had a collection of latex rubber masks and boxes of cobwebs, glow-in-the-dark-paint, and other assorted creepy treasures that my brother and I would sneak into the upstairs closet to get a look at in anticipation of the coming holiday.

I can still smell the curious but distinctly sweet smell of the latex masks as we rediscovered them every year. To hold their shape, they were stuffed with rolled-up newspaper and unpacking a box was like discovering your luggage has been mixed-up with a head-hunters. When we moved the packing paper, the familiar faces stared up at us blankly, their eye-cavities pale with faded printers-ink.

Box after box of the distorted heads we liberated for their one night of freedom the wolfman, his face scarcely visible beneath mounds of shaggy fur, the mummy in his yellowed wrappings, the mad scientist with the shockingly pink grin. We tried them all on for size, trading our smooth, eager faces for the grotesque lives of the infamous haunts we loved so much.

The change was immediate without the masks, we were frightened children, separated from the moon and the night by those lingering, irrational fears of the darkness that kids share. But when the masks were on, no shadows were deep enough for us! No night sounds were secret enough! We would fly to the windows, leering at the silent world outside, safe in our haunted house because it was haunted by us.

As we grew older, my Dad stopped creating his yearly spook-house. My brother and I picked up where he left off as architects of Halloween. We decorated our screened-in front porch and every year lured trick-or-treaters into a graveyard, a dilapidated mansion, a mysterious forest.

For inspiration, we started to listen to Halloween sound-effects records during the summer. We watched old super-eight reels of the classic Universal Studios monster movies. We studied Dads Halloween notebooks, taking inventory of our supplies of plastic spiders and chattering skulls. But most importantly, we discovered that through our local library we could get a year-round dose of frights in the form of stories told by fellow Halloween-people.

Edgar Allen Poe told us about the beating of a dead mans heart. Charlotte Perkins Gilman showed us what lurked behind the wallpaper. H.P. Lovecraft whispered secrets of decaying buildings and lonely shorelines. Ray Bradbury, M.R. James, Stephen King, Algernon Blackwoodall gave us stories that quickened our hearts and burdened our minds for the coming of autumn, the turning of the leaves, and the low moaning wind that brings Halloween.

Its been a few years now since I've wrapped myself in night and slinked through town for tricks-or-treats, but I still keep a look out for Halloween stories all year round. This Halloween, come to the library and share your costumes with us, and we'll have a treat to share with you!

Holy Trinity Welcomes New Teachers

Karen Meyer

Holy Trinity Catholic School in Kewaskum welcomed two new teachers to their staff this school-year. Principal June Gauvin stated she is excited to announce the additions to her staff.

Karen Meyer graduated from Marian College of Fond du Lac in May of 1984 with a degree in Elementary Education and Early Childhood Education.

Since graduating, she has taught all grades from pre-school through eighth, with her favorite being the younger grades.

When offered the opportunity to teach first grade at Holy Trinity she was delighted and very excited. She had previously substituted and had very positive recollections. She welcomed the chance to work with the students and families of the school.

She states, "The staff has been very helpful and friendly. I look forward to a very rewarding year working with the families and staff as we grow in our faith together."

Elizabeth Kryst lived in Illinois until 1989 when a company transfer brought her and her husband to Wisconsin.

Her first teaching job was in 1973 and she worked until 1980 when she "semi-retired" to raise the first of her six children.

She mainly worked with children who had learning disabilities and behavior disorders. She now teaches language arts.

Elizabeth started teaching again as a substitute in the mid to late nineties and worked in many districts, including Kewaskum.

This past year she taught language arts and other sixth grade classes at Consolidated Catholic School in Lomira.

She states, "I am pleased and blessed to be part of the faculty at Holy Trinity School. The staff is wonderful and the students delightful."

Elizabeth and her husband are living in West Bend and are member of St. Francis Cabrini Church. They have six children, two of which are in college, three in high school and one in middle school.

Free Christian Concert at West Bend Nov. 3

Lighthouse Ministries, Inc., a nondenominational ministry, which has been putting on concerts for the past 13 years, invites the public to a free Christian concert with a coffeehouse atmosphere on Friday, November 3rd from 7 to 10 p.m.

Guests will include "Simple Grace" from Martell, Nebraska. "Simple Grace" features the 10 member Jim Hitch family. Their music varies from Gospel bluegrass, country, folk and traditional hymns. Their performance includes guitars, fiddle, banjo, mandolin, piano, flute, and harmonicas in an inspirational and uplifting program. Their ministry focuses on God's faithfulness as reflected in his family, and His amazing unfathomable "Simple Grace."

Also recording artist, Jim Mahalick, from Lockport Ill, will bring some good old Southern Gospel music to the Lighthouse stage. His first recording "People Need the Lord," was recorded at the famous Bill Gaither studio. The amazing thing about Jim is his passionate love to share the Gospel at the young age of 19. Come and be inspired; you won't be disappointed.

Pizza, popcorn and soda is available. Door prizes will be given away. Lighthouse meets at Silverbrook School, 120 N. Silverbrook, West Bend. Enter and park in rear of school. For more information call (262) 338-0205 or (262)677-2952.

Handmade candles and soaps will be offered for sale by Rosanne Griesbach of Appleton at the November 18th Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club annual art and craft show, "A Kettle County Christmas" at the Kewaskum Middle School.

by Louise Martin

Members of the GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club cordially invite area residents to their 18th annual fine art and craft show entitled, "A Kettle County Christmas." The show will be held on Saturday, November 18, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Kewaskum Middle School, 1676 Reigle Drive and will feature many unique, skilled artists and craftspeople from across central and southeastern Wisconsin.

Club members are actively working to once again make this an outstanding event for artists and craftpeople, club members and the viewing public. Juniors will again offer Cookies-In-A-Jar available in four different recipes, a great gift suggestions for bus drivers, teachers, babysitters, mail personnel, etc. The ever-popular quilt raffle this year features a beautiful Star of Bethlehem design quilt in deep rich colors of hunter green, cranberry and blue on a cream colored background. Tickets are $1 each or six for $5. A free quilt raffle ticket will be offered on the day of the show with a $1 per adult admission fee.

A luncheon and refreshments will be served in the cafeteria area of the Middle School offered by Kewaskum High School Booster Club members. The menu will consist of hot cheesy broccoli soup, ham sandwiches, hamburgers, brats, hot dogs, hot pretzels, nachos, chips, popcorn, a large variety of desserts, coffee, soda and bottled water.

The Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club is in its 34th year of chartering with the largest volunteer woman's organization in the world, the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Areas of donations and service projects include the arts, conservation, education, home life, international affairs and public affairs.

Plan to join us for our annual fund-raising show on Saturday, November 18th at the Kewaskum Middle School!

Unique Craft Show at Amerahn

Terry Mowery

Get a head start on your Christmas shopping by attending the "Unique Craft Show," on Sunday, November 5, 2000 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Amerahn Hall, Hwy. 45 North of Kewaskum.

Crafters from all over the state of Wisconsin and quite a few from this area will be on hand to give fall in the Kettle Moraine a proper sendoff. Enjoy the beautiful colors and unique crafts all at the same time.

Terry Mowery of West Bend, (shown above) will be available to help you fill up those corners that are empty with his wood shelves, welcome signs, cupboards, garbage cans, and more. The list is way too long to write down, so you'll just have to stop in at the craft fair and check it all out.

New to the show this fall is Kristine Buchner and Heidi Higgins of Campbellsport. These two crafters couldn't decide what to make so they made a little bit of everything, from Christmas to Fall, to country items and the Packers. Stop by their booth and try not to buy something... you can't do it!

Mary Steffen of Appleton will be making another appearance at the fair, showing all of her beautiful doll clothes. If any young ladies have a doll that simply has to have a new outfit, from an American Doll to a well-loved best friend, this is the place to stop.

If you are in need of some new fall or Christmas decorations, Michelle Piechowski of Jackson, Mary Boede of Fond du Lac, Carol Wolf of Hartford, Arlene Landess of Kewaskum, Barb Wescher of West Bend, and Lonie Hall of Campbellsport are just a few of the booths you will want to stop at.

There are just too many crafters to list, so you will just have to stop in and check them all out. Pick up a crafter map as you register for a free door prize, to help you locate the items you want.

Before you leave the craft fair, don't forget to stop in at the Kettle Country Twirlers Bake Sale and sample a fall treat. They will be featuring everything from Christmas cookies to cinnamon rolls, homemade bread and caramel apple sundaes.

There will be no admission fee charge and free door prize drawings will be held every 1/2 hour. There will also be hourly updates on the Green and Gold and lots of good food. What more could you ask for? Join the fun at the "Unique Craft Show" on November 5.

United Way Update: 62.4%

The United Way of Washington County keeps moving in a positive direction. As of October 20th, the campaign is at 62 percent of its goal, with $686,703 in gifts and pledges counted toward the county-wide goal of $1,100,000.

"We are continuing our progress, and are thankful to our volunteers and donors for their efforts to bring us this far," said Charlie Hillman, serving as 2000 Campaign Chair with his wife, Gaytha. "We realize that there is still much work to do to complete the campaign," he said.

Thirteen of the 26 campaign divisions are already at or above the 62 percent mark. These are: Accountants and Business Services, Attorneys, Clergy, Professional Specialties, Washington County Employees, Commercial, Retail, Special Gifts, Transportation, Allenton, Newburg and Key Firms.

"Most of our regular donors have been contacted and have responded in a generous manner," said Gaytha. "Now, our volunteers are challenged to reach out to new businesses and those who have not given in the past, and ask for their support," she said.

One out of four residents in the County will use a United Way - funded service sometime in their life. Thus, the United Way effort touches thousands of people each year here in Washington County.

Gaytha continued, "If you think of your family, your neighborhood, your co-workers - someone you know has already benefitted or will benefit from United Way's support of programs and services...and that funding comes from individuals and business donations in the community." Employee group campaigns continue, and donor mailings to retirees have been sent and are being returned with gifts and pledges.

United Way was honored earlier this week when they were nominated for the Outstanding Organization of the Year Award at the annual meeting of the West Bend Area Chamber of Commerce. "To be nominated was a pleasant surprise," said Executive Director, Barbara Hurula. "This organization's success and spotlight shine directly on our volunteers, our member agencies, our donors, and the staff. We are appreciative of the recognition," she said. "United Way has been in Washington County for the past 64 years. With the leadership of our Board of Directors, we are changing with the times and adapting to donor and agency needs," she stated.

She noted that most of the other businesses and organizations nominated for the Chamber of Commerce Awards in the different categories have United Way links in them - through volunteers and/or financial support. She also noted that most of these organizations highlighted their involvement with United Way as a herald of their business and success and presence in the community.

Charlie Hillman concluded, "We extend our genuine thanks to everyone who has given to the 2000 Campaign so far, and encourage those who haven't done so yet to give." Donors can contact the United Way office directly at 262-338-3821, or give on-line through the web-site at www.hnet.net/~united-way.

Immunization Clinics Offered

All recommended immunizations are available to children and adults of Washington County at the immunization clinics offered by the Washington County Health Department. The November clinics are:

November 14, 3 to 5 p.m. - Germantown Senior Center, W162 N11960 Park Avenue, Germantown.

November 21, 3 to 5 p.m. - Hartford City Hall, Community Room, 109 N. Main Street, Hartford.

November 28, 9 to 11 a.m. and 3 to 5 p.m. - Public Agency Center, Lower Level, Room 1145 at 333 E. Washington Street and Indiana Avenue, West Bend.

Parents must bring their records of each child's past immunizations to clinics. Immunizations will not be given without a record card.

For further information, call 335-4462 or 342-2929.

UWWC Receives $1.1 Million Gift

West Bend - Dr. Joel Rodney, dean and campus executive officer of the University of Wisconsin - Washington County, today announced the receipt of a gift to the campus totaling more than $1.1 Million. The gift was given on behalf of the estate of the late Curtis A. and Adele S. Collins.

Rodney said that the gift, the largest ever in the college's 30-year history, will be used to establish a collaborative Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree program to be offered by UWWC and the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, in accordance with the Collins family's wishes.

Paul Collins, son of Curtis and Adele Collins, said the gift "...represents a meaningful way of saying 'Thank you' to the nurse who so helped my mother over the decades."

Curtis A. Collins was the former President of the First National Bank of West Bend, now the M&I First National Bank, and Adele Collins was an active figure in the community until illness restricted her mobility about 20 years ago. During her lengthy illness, Collins was often heard to compliment the nurses who took over her care.

Rodney said the new nursing program, which will be unique among the state's 13 two-year campuses, will be the first to utilize the new $4.8 Million Science and Laboratory wing, which is scheduled to begin construction soon and is expected to open by Fall, 2002. The wing is part of a $7.8 Million construction and remodeling program recently approved by the West Bend City Council and the Washington County Board of Supervisors.

Rodney added that the new nursing program would meet local needs. "This generous gift will enable UWM and UWWC to leverage state funds to meet a very real community need," he said. "We will be able to provide UWWC faculty and staff with state-of-the-art education in nursing practices, hire additional teachers as needed, and provide significant amounts of scholarship assistance to students in the program."

Sally Lundeen, UWM's interim Dean of Nursing, said the new program will address a shortage of trained nursing staff in the area. "The development of this program will contribute much-needed resources to help meet the growing shortage of professional nurses in the West Bend area, and all of Wisconsin," she said, adding. "The collaboration between UWM and UWWC is unique."

Cooperation in the new program will extend beyond the two UW campuses, however. Nursing students will spend the clinical portion of their studies at St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend and other West Bend medical facilities, through special arrangements with the two university campuses.

Dr. John Fink, St. Joseph's Community Hospital Chief of Staff, said the nursing program addresses the community's needs for more nurses. He said the establishment of the B.S. program also will address future needs, as well. "This is a long-term solution, rather than a quick fix," he said. "The real winner is the community."

The new B.S. degree program will enroll its first students in fall, 2002, and will add to the growing list of Bachelor's degrees now being offered at UWWC. In addition to the current Bachelor of Arts in Organizational Administration, the campus will also begin a Bachelor of Science in Information Resources and a Bachelor of Arts in Communications.

Also planned are Bachelor's degrees in Global Studies and Engineering.

For more information, please contact William Breyfogle, UWWC Director of University Relations at (262) 335-5233.

HALLOWEEN HINTS

Cavity Fighting Tips

(NAPS)—Even with all the excitement surrounding costumes and candy, many trick-or-treaters don't have to welcome scary and unwanted guests—cavities!

One night of candy corn and caramel apples can leave a sticky film of bacteria on the teeth. If not brushed away, the film hardens into plaque and can lead to tooth decay and gum disease. According to the American Dental Association, "the best way to remove decay-causing plaque is by brushing and cleaning between your teeth every day." Tired trick-or-treaters must remember to brush before bed.

To make the task more appealing, parents can involve kids in selecting a toothbrush they like. Many kids approach brushing with renewed enthusiasm when their toothbrush features a favorite television or cartoon character. Just in time for Halloween, REACH® introduces three new toothbrushes featuring their favorite canine crime fighter, Scooby-Doo.

"The key to successful oral hygiene for kids is to make brushing a positive experience," said Nimit Bansal, the Assistant Product Director at REACH®. "If kids are excited about their choice of toothbrush, they will be actively involved in fighting cavities on Halloween and all year-round." The Scooby-Doo youth-sized toothbrushes feature a new, age-appropriate head, a unique, angled neck and a power tip to help clean between teeth, behind front teeth and hard-to-reach back teeth.

Brushing Basics

DO: Choose a toothbrush you love. Since you're going to be using your toothbrush at least twice a day, make sure you love the brush.

Brushing up with Scooby-Doo!

DO: Brush for at least two minutes. The act of brushing is what loosens plaque from the teeth.

DO: Move the brush gently back and forth in short strokes. The correct brushing technique will help you remove more plaque, which will result in healthier, cleaner teeth.

DO: Find a toothbrush that fits your mouth. The correct head size allows you to reach all areas of your mouth easily, so that you can brush between teeth, behind front teeth and hard-to-reach back teeth.

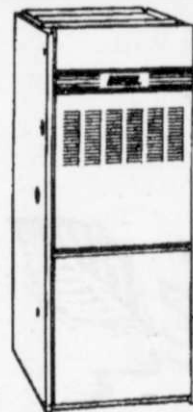

DO: Brush your braces. For teens and kids with braces, remember to brush the whole tooth and gum line, as if you didn't have a mouth full of metal.

With the new REACH® Scooby Doo toothbrush in hand, trick-or-treaters can fight cavities with fun. Kids who follow these brushing basics can be more sure the only toothless grin they will encounter is a jack-o-lantern's!

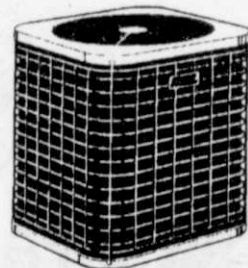

The highest official temperature in the world, 135 degrees Fahrenheit (58 degrees Celsius), was recorded at Al Aziziyah, Libya in September 1922.

Announce Cast For UWWC Play

West Bend -- Theatre-on-the-Hill of the University of Wisconsin Washington County will be presenting as their fall production, the hilarious farce, Moon Over Buffalo, on November 3, 4, 10, and 11, 2000 at the University Theatre. Written by Ken Ludwig, the author of another successful farce of the 1990's, Lend Me a Tenor and the musical, Crazy For You, Moon Over Buffalo was presented on Broadway starring Carol Burnett. The play centers on a down-at-the-heels theatrical touring company in 1953 in Buffalo ("like Scranton without the charm"), fighting their own internal squabbles, and the coming of television.

This company is headed by a once famous thespian couple, the Hays, whose marriage on the disastrous day of the play's events threatens to come apart faster than the fortunes of the company. The uproarious comings-and-goings, involving multiple mistaken identities, spiked coffee, a visiting Hollywood film director scouting the Hays, and scenes from Cyrano de Bergerac and Private Lives, the plays which are being presented by the Hays's Repertory Company, lead to an evening of chaotic comedy.

George and Charlotte Hay are being portrayed by T.J. Little of Milwaukee and Donna Gawel-Miller of Kewaskum. Their daughter Rosalind, who is trying to break away from the theatre and live in the "real world" is played by Sara Butz of West Bend. Paul, former boyfriend and company stage manager is played by Adam McAleavey of Rubicon. Howard, Rosalind's fiance, a TV weatherman, is portrayed by David Eddy of South Milwaukee. Rounding out the cast are Frances Klumb of Mequon playing Ethel, Charlotte's deaf mother and company wardrobe mistress, Paul Labonte of Jackson as Richard, the Hay's lawyer and agent who is conniving to steal Charlotte from George, and Christina Meier of Hartford who plays Eileen, the company ingenue who has been secretly having an affair with George.

Moon Over Buffalo is being directed and designed by Professor of Theatre Arts, Brad Ford. Performances are at 7:30 p.m. and admission prices are $8.00 for adults and $6.00 for senior citizens and children under 18. The play contains mild profanity and adult situations. For reservations call (262) 335-5208.

A lease to the Kewaskum Historical Society for the former village garage on Parkview Drive was unanimously approved by the Kewaskum Village Board at Monday's meeting. The amount of the lease will be $1.00 per year for 10 years with all utilities being paid by the society. The building will be converted into a museum this winter, with some items to be displayed already donated. Historical Society President Dan Schmidt was to sign the lease with representatives of the village on Wednesday.

On Sunday, October 26, at the 8 a.m. Mass at Holy Trinity Church, a class of 51 Communicants will receive their First Holy Communion. Father John T. Budde will be the celebrant at the Mass. The First Communicants are as follows: Stephanie Amerling, Jodi Averill, Ellen Beisbier, Timothy Bingen, Christine Bodden, Bret Borland, Kathleen Christie, Jane Christie, Shelly Dreher, Janice Giese, Michelle Gindt, Laurie Grahl, Randall Gremminger, Devona Gruber, Richard Heller, Steven Herriges, Joel Junk, Daniel Kaehne, Michael Kirst, Jonathan Klahn, Brenda Kober, Kimberly Kode, John Kreuser, William Lehmann, Kenneth Miller, Mary Murre, Tracy Perkins, Constance Rahlf, Otto Ramthun, Timothy Rohlinger, Kristie Sarauer, Joseph Schmitt, Debra Schoofs, Brian Spartz, Carl Steiner, Michele Stoffel, Ronald Theusch, William Volm, Lori Bunkelman, Tammy Theusch, Ross Schekirke, Terry Romaine, Theresa Nycz, Michelle Nigh, Tim Dettman, Randy Roehrs, Kolleen Scott, Todd Schmidt, Annette Borgman, Ethan Miklas, Lori Schlosser, and Chad Schultz. Flower girl will be Jill Rimmel and flower boy will be William Nigh.

Trick or Treat night in the Village of Kewaskum will be Thursday, October 30, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Growing stronger each week with a fine running game and a front line that has been blowing opponents out of the game, the Kewaskum Indians stunned previously unbeaten conference leading Grafton in their homecoming game there Saturday afternoon, 14-0, before a large crowd from both towns, to gain a tie for first place with the Blackhawks. It was the Indians' seventh win of the season and fourth in a row in the Scenic and the first conference loss for Grafton. Both teams are now 4-1 and share the lead with two games to go. The Kewaskum defense played another stellar game in blanketing the Blackhawks. Tom Rohlinger had two solo tackles and 13 assists. John Sekeres had 3 and 10, Dave Menzel had 4 (three behind the line of scrimmage) and 8, and nose guard Gary Gavin was in on 13 tackles. Ray Reindl gained 120 yards rushing for top offensive honors, while Menzel and Dennis Bremser each topped 50.

Kewaskum's high-flying Indians, who are sailing along with an overall 7-1 record and who are tied for first place in the Scenic Moraine Conference with Grafton (4-1) were rated 13th in the state among Class B schools in this week's Associated Press poll. Kewaskum is also rated first in Washington County in the West Bend News poll, ahead of Hartford, West Bend East, Germantown, West Bend West and Slinger.

A get-together of the Kewaskum High School girls golf team, parents and Coach Katie Koch was held recently. Miss Koch mentioned highlights of the season, including third place in the Scenic Moraine Conference, a low nine-hole round of 52 by soph Chris Nigh and Amy Schmidt's making the all-conference team with a 53 average. Eight letter winners were honored, including seniors Amy Schmidt, Sue Bohn, Pam Scannell and Bev Ehnert and underclassmen Chris Nigh, Yvonne Schacht, Mary Ciha and Denise Dean.

(EDITOR'S NOTE --- Back to the Future. Coach Katie Koch, now known as Katherine Koch-Laveen, was mentioned in last week's edition of the Kewaskum Statesman, October 19, 2000, for being named Minnesota's Teacher of the Year 2000. She is a chemistry teacher who has been teaching at Apple Valley High School in the southern Twin Cities since 1976.)

A daughter, Jessica Marie, was born to Bernard and Sonia Muckerheide of Kewaskum on October 14. A daughter was also born to Larry and Cheryl Ammel, Route 2, Campbellsport, on October 21. A daughter, Sandra Jeanne, was born to Dwaine and Nancy Schuster, West Bend, on October 20. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Peterson, Route 2, Kewaskum, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Allan Schuster, Route 1, Allenton.

A son was born to William and Cheryl Gehl of Kewaskum on October 21.

Friends of Abused Families Names Baumann Transitional Living Case Manager

Friends of Abused Families, is pleased to welcome Ann Baumann as the Transitional Living Case Manager. Her educational background is from Alverno College in Milwaukee and she has extensive experience in property management.

The Transitional Living Program was developed out of a need to provide affordable housing services to victims of domestic violence. The average waiting time in Washington County for rental assistance is approximately six months. Therefore, many times victims are financially tied to their perpetrator and without financial assistance, their attempt to find a safe place to live for themselves and their children leaves them no choice but to return to an abusive home.

On July 1, 2000, Friends began a partnership with the American Red Cross Supportive Housing Services in Washington County, and the Youth and Family Project to begin a Continuum of Care housing project. Through this partnership Friends was able to expand their transitional housing units to six.

The transitional program is an extension of the services provided while in the shelter program. It provides ongoing supportive services for an 18-month program period. These services include but are not limited to budget counseling, goal setting and achievement, parenting skills, tenant responsibilities, credit counseling and job retention. Attending weekly support group for women and children in addition to weekly home visits on a one-to-one basis for both the women and children are part of the program guidelines.

The program focuses on successful outcomes. The ultimate goal is to help women and their children gain and enhance independent living skills in a violence-free environment.

For more information on any of the programs, please contact them at 262-334-5598.

Fresh Fruit Tips From Reddi-wip®

Bananas:

Available year-round and should be stored at room temperature. Bananas' starch turns to sugar as they ripen, making a fully ripe banana taste sweet. At peak ripeness skin is all yellow with brown/black flecks.

Raspberries:

Available year-round, raspberries should be stored unwashed in the refrigerator. Buy raspberries that are medium to bright red and free of surface moisture, which accelerates decay. Raspberries are members of the rose family.

Blueberries:

Available from May to September, blueberries should be stored in the refrigerator at 31-32°F. Blueberries are one of three berries native to North America. Blueberries can be frozen in a single layer on a tray, unwashed, then transferred into freezer containers and stored for up to two years.

FFA Members 'Taking Care of Business'

On Friday, October 13, Kewaskum High School held their annual Homecoming Parade. For the parade, the Kewaskum FFA featured their members' horse project. Five horses were ridden in front of a proud group of members with a wheelbarrow and a shovel, who were just "taking care of business." With five horses, the clean up crew stayed busy throughout the parade, they seemed to have a good time. The FFA members' participation in the parade shows in a

Letters to the Editor

Letter to The Editor:

Thank you Kohlsville Fire Department. It is great to see the Fire Department involved in the community and our school.

Our boys enjoyed entering the Kohlsville Fire Department coloring contest, and will remember winning the ride home on the fire engine for the rest of their lives. They were excited to meet the Chief and the other firefighters.

Keep up the good work, and you will always have our support.

Thanks,
The Wegners

Dear Editor,

I'm sure I don't have to tell anyone that gasoline and heating fuels have risen dramatically over the past few months. Gasoline that was selling for as low as a dollar a gallon a year ago, is now selling for roughly $1.60 while heating fuels are projected to rise by approximately 40% this winter. Crude oil prices have risen from $10 a barrel eight years ago to roughly $35 a barrel today. The reason for the rise in prices is simple -- the Clinton/Gore energy policy is taking effect.

For the past 7-1/2 years,

Clinton/Gore have been systematically closing potential oil producing areas in this country to exploration and drilling. Domestic production of oil has fallen 10% in the last seven years. As a result, we no longer have the domestic production capability to help stabilize international prices.

We are wasting natural gas to produce electricity that we should be producing with abundant and clean burning low sulfur hard coal. We have more coal than the Mid East has oil, yet our use of this valuable resource is proportionately decreasing because it is virtually impossible to build coal fired plants because of ridiculous regulations passed by extreme liberals like Clinton/Gore.

For too long, self serving democrats like Clinton/Gore have used scare tactics and propaganda to relentlessly demonize oil and utility companies for political gain. The end result is our energy infrastructure has been emaciated and weakened to a dangerous level that will take years to fix. Clinton released 30 million barrels of oil from the strategic reserve a few weeks ago in an obvious and blatant attempt to delay the effects of the Clinton/Gore energy policy until after the election in an effort to help Gore. Thirty million barrels is not going to erase 7-1/2 years of failed energy policy -- and after the strategic reserve is gone, then what? Empty rhetoric is not going to make this problem disappear. Meanwhile, George Bush has proposed real solutions to the problems and is ridiculed and demonized for his efforts.

The next time you pay $1.60 for gas or $1.40 for heating fuel, remember Clinton/Gore. Next summer when the electric company warns of blackouts during the hottest weather of the year, remember Clinton/Gore. Our dependence on foreign oil is worse than ever. This country cannot afford four more years of the Clinton/Gore "do nothing" energy policy, yet Gore has vehemently stated that he would continue on the same path as Clinton. We need permanent solutions to the problem, not politically motivated stopgap measures or pandering to extreme environmental alarmists (which results in fiascos like reformulated gas -- which has been proven to not work). Remember, you get what you vote for -- THINK BEFORE YOU VOTE.

Sincerely,
Douglas Rinzel

CHRISTA MARIE FLEISCHMAN

Christa Marie Fleischman, age 24, of Campbellsport, passed away on Friday, October 20, 2000, from injuries received in an automobile accident.

She was born on June 30, 1976, in West Bend, the loving daughter of Albert and Joan (Gutjahr) Fleischman and was a 1994 graduate of Kewaskum High School.

Christa was a member of Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum and was a CYE teacher. She was employed as the general manager of the Wisconsin Athletic Club in Greenfield. Her favorite past-times were walking, jogging and spending time with her friends.

Survivors include her fiancé, Brian Moser, of Fond du Lac; her parents, Albert and Joan Fleischman of Campbellsport; a brother, Joel (Pam) Fleischman of Campbellsport, and a sister, Laura Fleischman (special friend, Brian Zurn of Eden) at home; her paternal grandmother, Bernice Fleischman of St. Kilian, many aunts, uncles, cousins, other relatives and many friends.

She was preceded in death by her paternal grandfather, Frank Fleischman; her maternal grandparents, Glen and Arlene Gutjahr and her uncle, Michael.

Christa will be deeply missed by her family and friends.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, October 24, 2000, at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum. Father Mark Jones officiated and burial followed in the parish cemetery.

Friends called after 3 p.m. on Monday, October 23, at Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Kewaskum.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum is serving the family.

BRIAN C. NYBERG

Brian C. Nyberg, 26, of the town of Auburn, formerly of the town of Trenton, died Sunday, Oct. 22, 2000, at the scene of an automobile accident in the town of Auburn.

He was born March 16, 1974, in West Allis to Kenneth and LeeAnnette (nee Puerling) Nyberg, and at an early age moved with his family to the town of Trenton.

Brian graduated from Holy Angels Elementary School in West Bend and was a 1992 graduate of Catholic Memorial High School in Waukesha.

He received an associate degree (with high honors) in die design from Moraine Park Technical College, after which he was employed by The West Bend

Co. for the past seven and a half years.

Brian was a total outdoorsman, loving bow hunting and his favorite, fishing. He was a talented wood carver, had a great sense of humor and was a charismatic caring person.

While employed at The West Bend Co., Brian was a member of the Support Group and also a member of the Hazmat Team.

Survivors include his parents, Ken and Lee of the town of Trenton; a brother, John (Bridget) in Georgia; his fiancée of six years, Christine Shilling, whom he was to marry in September 2001; two great aunts, Yvonne Froehlich of the town of Trenton and Mildred McBride of Phillips; cousins; other relatives and many friends.

Preceding him in death were his maternal grandmother, maternal great-grandparents, paternal grandparents and paternal great-grandparents.

Funeral services will be held Thursday, Oct. 26, with a Mass of Christian Burial at 10 a.m. at Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Newburg (meet at the church).

Fr. Dan Chowning, O.C.C., will preside, and burial will follow in Holy Trinity Cemetery, Newburg.

Visitation at the Schmidt Funeral Home, West Bend, was Wednesday from 4 p.m. until the 8 p.m. prayer vigil.

Memorials are appreciated.

LAWRENCE E. WILSON

Lawrence E. Wilson, 72, of rural Kewaskum died Wednesday, Oct. 18, 2000, at the Samaritan Health Center, West Bend.

He was born May 10, 1928, in Milwaukee, to the late Harold and Mildred (nee Lambeck) Wilson, and married Lavilla Vollmer on May 29, 1954 at St. Michael's Catholic Church, St. Michaels.

He served in the U.S. Navy and was the owner of Thiensville TV for many years until retiring in 1994.

He was an active member of St. Michael's Catholic Church where he taught religious education, was a member of the Boltonville Volunteer Fire Dept. and was an avid fisherman.

Survivors include his wife; eight children, Kenneth (Robin) of St. Croix, Minn., Douglas (Karen) of West Bend, Russell (Katie) of La Crosse, Clifford (Kathy) of Brookfield, Laurel (Gary)

Drent of West Allis, Barbara (Mark) Maynard of Miami, Fla., Wendy (Zlatdo) Stojadinovic of Colgate and Paul (Chris) Murphy of Brentwood, Calif.; 10 grandchildren, Craig, Scott, Geoffry, Thomas, Jim, David, Jamie, Kelly, Melissa and Michael; two sisters, Colleen (Jochim) Gruban of Germany and Nancy Hansen of Vermont; a brother, Harold (Carol) of Indiana; other relatives and friends.

Preceding him in death were a sister, Amy Brooks; a brother, David; and a brother-in-law Edward Hansen.

Funeral services were held Sunday, October 22 at 1 p.m. at the Myrhum-Patten Funeral Home, West Bend. Rev. Robert Artmann of St. Michael's Catholic Church, officiated, and burial followed in St. Michael's Cemetery.

Visitation at the funeral home was on Sunday from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Memorials to the National Parkinson Foundation are appreciated.

Area Athletes Compete in American Natural Challenge Obstacle Course

From left, Grant Ketterhagen of Hubertus, Peter Reis of Kewaskum, Chad Rochwite of Washburn, WI. formerly of Campbellsport, Michael O'Hearn of Los Angeles, CA., Brad Riekkoff of Kewaskum and Paul Reis of Kewaskum.

Five area athletes competed in the First Annual American Natural Challenge Obstacle Course at St. Norbert College on Saturday, October 7, 2000.

The local team of Peter and Paul Reis, Brad Riekkoff, all of Kewaskum Grant Ketterhagen of Hubertus and Chad Rochwite, formerly of Campbellsport, took first place and received the "SYNERGY" award, a lapis globe from Rummele's Jewelers, presented by Deanna Favre. The "SYNERGY" award is like the Stanley Cup, the team keeps it for the year and the following year they will present it to the new winners which could be their own team again. Each team member also received an autographed football signed by Brett and Deanna Favre.

The event extravaganza featured a NPC Sanctioned Body Building show, a health and fitness fair, wellness seminars and the Team Obstacle Course Challenge presentation by Deanna Favre.

The team that raised the highest donation above $250 will be honorary dinner guests of the Favres. The money will be going directly to the Brett Favre foundation for disadvantaged and disabled children of Green Bay and Wisconsin Promoter of the show Jacqueline Larsen, a National ranked body builder, co-owner of Fitnessology, Inc. in Green Bay. They offer massage therapy, re-hab and are on the cutting edge of fitness.

The guest of honor was Michael O'Hearn who has graced the cover of numerous sports and fitness magazines, Gladiator and hold countless titles including National Universe. Originally from Seattle, he now resides in Los Angeles where he is filming the television show "Battle Dome Warrior" which airs locally on UPN Sunday evenings.

The 2001 date is set for October 6. Area fitness clubs will have posters about the event. Join in and raise money for disabled children.

Safety Tips for Trick or Treaters

Drawstrings on new Halloween costumes seem to have disappeared, curtailing a hazard for children, according to investigators with the Bureau of Consumer Protection.

However investigators have found resale shop costumes with drawstrings.

"Parents should examine resale and hand-me-down costumes and remove drawstrings," says Bill Oemichen, administrator of Trade and Consumer Protection. "Starting this year, drawstrings in the neck area on children's clothing are banned in Wisconsin."

Parents are reminded that costumes should be short enough to prevent tripping and falling. Masks should fit securely and have eyeholes large enough for full vision. Children should wear well-fitting, sturdy shoes. High heels are not a good idea for safe walking.

Make sure costumes - including masks, beards and wigs - are labeled "fire resistant," and be careful of open flames such as candles and jack-o-lanterns. To minimize the risk of contact with candles and other fire sources, avoid costumes made with flimsy materials and outfits with big, baggy sleeves or billowing skirts.

Children are safest in light-colored outfits clearly visible to motorists. Costumes can be made even safer by adding reflective tape available in bike shops or hardware stores, according to Oemichen.

"Sharp objects such as toy swords, knives and pitchforks may cause injury," says Oemichen. "The best accessory is a flashlight."

Be certain that hats, masks and wigs don't obstruct vision. "Using face paint on children, instead of masks, is one option," says Oemichen.

Young children should have adult supervision and all children should be reminded to stay on sidewalks and not run out from between parked cars.

And children should be told not to eat any treats before coming home. Parents should carefully examine all treats for signs of tampering and discard anything not sealed in its original packaging.

For consumer advice and to report unsafe products, contact DATCP's toll free hotline: (800) 422-7128.

The Hundred Years War between England and France actually lasted 116 years.

Halloween Hike Set At Riveredge

Newburg, WI -- Hike the woods and prairie in the dark (!) at Riveredge Nature Center on Friday, October 27 and Saturday, October 28. The 15th annual Halloween Hike at Riveredge celebrates the season with the theme, "TALL TALES." Groups of 20 leave every eight minutes for an hour-long trek, starting at 6:30 p.m. and ending at 9:00 p.m. Pre-registration is required to take part in this fund raiser for environmental science education at Riveredge. The fee for the hike is $6 per person. Call Riveredge at 262-375-2715 or 262-675-6888 to reserve your spot.

Guides lead participants along dark, enticing trails where they will meet "speaking spooks" who talk about myths, legends, and misconceptions about the natural world. (No flashlights allowed!) This educational and safe alternative for Halloween celebrations provides fun, good laughs, and eerie experiences as well as insight into the natural world. Popcorn and apple cider at the end of the hike are included in the fee. Hikers can also buy caramel apples and other Halloween "ghoulies."

Participants should dress for the weather and arrive at least 15 minutes before their reserved time. One adult is required per five children under 16 years old. An indoor alternative is planned if the weather is unsafe. Call now to make reservations!

Nursing Career Expo Oct. 30

If you're looking to start a career in nursing, are looking to change careers or are interested in healthcare but unsure what direction to take, plan on attending the Nursing Career Expo on Monday, Oct. 30 at Moraine Park Technical College's West Bend Campus.

The expo, which is free and open to the public, runs from 2 to 4 p.m. A variety of healthcare agencies from southeastern Wisconsin will be on the campus, located at 2151 North Main Street, to discuss employment opportunities. Persons attending will have an opportunity to talk with agencies about the field of nursing including the current job outlook and how to start a nursing career. There will also be four-year nursing colleges on campus for persons interested in continuing their nursing education.

The Nursing Career Expo is sponsored by students of Moraine Park's Associate Degree Nursing program and Student Nurse's Association.

For more information call 262-335-5738.

New Cth. K Bridge to Reopen Nov. 1

The new bridge carrying CTH K over the Wisconsin Central Railroad west of US 41 will be reopened to traffic on November 1, 2000. The 151-foot long reinforced concrete slab bridge replaces a wood timber structure that was constructed by the railroad.

Work on removing the old bridge and constructing the replacement structure was started on July 10 of this year. The work was done by Lunda Construction Company under a contract with the Wisconsin Department of Transportation.

The $600,000 project was funded with a combination of federal motor vehicle tax dollars, Washington County Highway funds, and a contribution from the Wisconsin Central Railroad. The new bridge will be owned and maintained by the Washington County Highway Department.

Our children grow up faster than we're ready for then to.

County Residents to Be Contacted About Economic Development Issues

By mail or phone, Staff from the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, Center for Urban Initiatives and Research may be contacting you as they canvas the county to hear from citizens and businesses about economic development issues confronting Washington County. The outreach efforts used by UWM will include surveys mailed to local businesses and local officials, phone surveys of residents, focus groups and other methods of gathering public opinion.

Andy Gumm of Wisconsin Electric chairs the County Economic Development Advisory Committee. That committee has been working to update the County's economic development program to make it more responsive to the community's current needs. He stated that: "This survey will provide the first County-wide statistically valid survey information for the County Board to consider as it determines a future direction for the County's economic development efforts."

Doug Johnson, Administrative Coordinator for the County said, "County government is working to develop a program that will address the needs of the businesses and citizens." In recent years, workforce issues have been a top priority of Washington County Economic Development, including for the H.O.M.E. program to expand workforce housing and the Washington County Commuter Express. At this time, a study is underway to update the program for 2001 and beyond.

It will be very helpful for local elected officials to have the benefit of the responses from those who are contracted.

Convention and Visitors Bureau Kicks Off Community Campaign

Many individuals and business representatives have been actively involved with the tourism efforts in the county. The Washington County Convention and Visitors Bureau is now promoting a new membership campaign to collectively pool the resources of area businesses and community supporters who were not involved before.

"We feel confident to provide a worthwhile benefit to those who become involved with our efforts," stated Becky Rogers, bureau director. An extensive list of membership benefits has been compiled, "with many more to come," Rogers added. There are a number of other ways for an area business to get involved with tourism locally. Within the CVB structure there are several committees, filled by local business representatives with an interest in continuing forward with tourism efforts. "They will make the plans and decisions regarding future activity," Rogers commented.

The new membership campaign welcomes both individuals and any sector of the business community to become a member. The dues range from $50 to $200, dependent upon the selected business category. To supplement the efforts of the local Chamber of Commerce, there is even a discount built into the dues structure for those who are already Chamber members. Rogers stated, "We recognize the source of community support and pride that already exists in Washington County. It is not our intention to re-direct that support, only to enhance the benefits of partnership with this program."

Even CVB membership has its benefits. Industry networking opportunities, preferential referral, visitors guide advertising discounts, representation in other organization throughout Wisconsin and even peace of mind are just a few of the benefits listed in their informational brochures. "Tourism is its own benefit. Investing in the tourism industry will provide a very positive return as more people visit, recreate, shop and stay in Washington County," Rogers stated. "CVB membership is not a donation, it is an investment."

It is the initial goal of the campaign to collect resources that will allow the bureau to maintain the service and programs it has already established. The second phase is to look at the potential growth and desire of the tourism industry in Washington County, develop new services and programs to meet those desires and establish the necessary resources to do so successfully.

The bureau has been working to compile county-wide information about various segments of the community that is frequently asked about by the potential tourist. "Not only will this assist us with our efforts to organize such information, but will enable us to convincingly package the area's businesses and attractions," Rogers continued to explain that the bureau is searching for businesses or groups to sponsor a variety of these publications. Proceeding to serve as the centralized information source for the tourism industry also requires the collection of that information. "It sounds simple, but is quite an undertaking. We are using sources within the County, local Chambers of Commerce, the Department of Workforce Development and even the yellow pages to leave no stone unturned," Rogers admitted.

The Convention and Visitors Bureau has evolved from a volunteer-run association over the past year and has now organized itself as the official Destination Marketing Organization (DMO) for the entire Washington County area. Input and effort from several communities, all within the county, brought the development of the bureau to its current level. "Now we are ready to pool additional resources of the communities and move forward," stated Rogers.

"It took us a short time to get our 'feet wet' and to get further organized, but with the obvious potential for attracting visitors to the area, the time is upon us," Rogers added. Rogers began as the bureau's first executive director in March. The bureau is developing strength in its programming efforts by establishing an assertive plan. Many of these items included in this action plan are the result of a recent assessment conducted with the assistance of the Wisconsin Department of Tourism. The plan has been put to a two-year time line, in an effort to accomplish additional goals set by the bureau's board of directors, which are: Beth Gorman, Hartford Savings Bank, Hartford; Nancy Herro, Washington County Fair Park, West Bend; Mary Horst, WBKV/WBWI Radio, West Bend; Kathy Keane, Moraine Symphony Orchestra, West Bend; Mark Lohmann, Lohmann's Steak House, Germantown; Betty Sydow, Holly Hill Cafe, Holy Hill; Christa Scherzer, German Glass and Gift Imports, Germantown; and Brian Wogemese, Hawthorn Inn and Suites, Jackson.

The monkey wrench is named after its inventor—Charles Moncke, a London blacksmith.

Agricultural Issues Noticeably Absent From Presidential Politics

AMES, Iowa (October 18, 2000) -Those who produce food for America's table finally heard a word about agriculture in the final presidential debate. But just one question and four minutes were devoted to a major sector of the U.S. economy, one that contributes 25 percent of the Gross Domestic Product, or approximately $2 trillion.

"It seems farmers and ranchers are a forgotten people in today's political landscape," said National Farmers Organization President, Paul Olson. "Agriculture is one of America's largest economic sectors, but has been noticeably absent in presidential campaign dialogue during a year when many farm commodity prices are at 20 year lows."

Prices dairy farmers are paid to produce milk currently hover at 1978 levels, and grain prices are at lows not seen in many years. And those low prices are hitting just when fuel and general farm operating costs are on the rise, and costly investment in ag technology is increasingly required for farmers to cash flow their operations. Technology that, in some cases has not been entirely proven as safe to consumers or the environment.

"Agriculture enormously impacts consumers, both domestically and globally," underscored Paul. "Because each and every one of us is effected by how our food is produced, when politicians ignore agriculture, they are effectively neglecting everyone."

The issue grows in importance when consumers consider that every dollar of farm income generates an additional $9 throughout the economy, and each ag producer creates an additional 10 off-farm jobs each year.

"There is no question that this country needs to make changes in its farm bill," said Olson. "With key commodities at severely low price levels, we must put into place a better safety net to keep farmers in business. We simply cannot continue to produce for returns far below our production costs."

The national organization of farmers and ranchers believes that how and by whom food is produced will become a major world issue in the future. One that bears more attention than the current presidential campaign year has afforded.

The journey of a thousand miles starts with a single step.

Regular Meeting
September 11, 2000

The meeting was called to order at 7:00 p.m. by President Downs.

Board Members present: Jon Downs, Lisa Maul, Andy Degnitz, John Schulte, Gordie Dickman.

Board Members absent: Mary Meisser

Following a moment of silence, Treasurer Schulte led the pledge of allegiance.

Superintendent Graczyk verified that the meeting had been posted properly.

Degnitz/Maul motion to approve the minutes from the August 21, 2000, Regular Meeting. Motion Passed.

Schulte/Dickman to approve the payroll and accounts payable in the amount of $955,695.25. Motion passed.

Request by Mr. Graczyk to move item 13d to follow Correspondence/Communications. Schulte/Dickman motion to approve agenda. Motion carried.

Mr. Gosa spoke on behalf of the track team and parents. He thanked the Board and the Building & Grounds Committee for being open to seeking solutions to the track complex situation.

Mr. Graczyk shared a thank-you note from Mrs. Robinson for flowers sent during her surgery. He also shared an invitation the School District of Sheboygan Falls to attend their new elementary school Open House on October 8 at 4:00 p.m.

The family of Jeff Sabish presented a check to the district in the amount of $4,275 in his memory. The money is to be placed in a special fund designated to the KHS for weight training equipment. They also requested a plaque be placed in the weight room in memory of Jeff Sabish. Dickman/Degnitz motion to accept the plaque as a memorial to Jeff Sabish. Motion passed.

Mr. Schulte gave a summary report on behalf of the Policy Committee Meeting. He mentioned the development of a policy for grade advancement for grades 4 & 8 and a high school graduation policy. Both will continue to be addressed at the next policy committee meeting scheduled for Monday, October 23, at 6:00 p.m. in the district office.

Mr. Reichert updated the Board on the status of WES, FES, and KES. All are proceeding nicely. Tiles cannot be laid for another 2-3 weeks due to the moisture factor in the cement. Mr. Reichert praised C.D. Smith for their efforts during Labor Day weekend in helping to insure that both FES and WES would be available for occupancy on time. Mr. Graczyk stressed that with a reputable contractor such as C.D. Smith, and an equally reputable floor installation vendor, we are following their advice in waiting to install the tile floor. Mr. Downs concurred with this conservative approach.

Mr. Downs indicated that two residents had submitted letters of intent for the board vacancy. The two individuals were Neal Weare and Mark Steinhardt. They will be interviewed by the full board on October 4 at a Special Board meeting. It will begin at 6:00 p.m. and be held in the District office. This meeting will be held in open session. Mr. Graczyk will call each candidate and determine who is interviewed first. He will also call WASB to determine the correct manner to conduct the interviews and subsequent voting procedure. Mr. Downs called attention to a set of questions from WASB to be used in the interviews. If any board member has other questions and would like to rephrase those presented they are to call either him or the district office, preferably the district office.

The principals gave opening school reports to the board. Mr. Botting and Mr. Kriewaldt gave special recognition to C.D. Smith, Paul Reichert, their dedicated staff who in some cases gave up their Labor Day weekend to work in classrooms, and Dale Wedde's staff for the tremendous effort to get the buildings ready for the first day of school. It was specially noted and a "round of applause" was asked to recognize parents for their support. Mr. Downs reiterated this and expressed his thanks to the parents on behalf of the School Board.

Mr. Ganka reported that the high school was looking sharp. He passed out a Day Tracker Planner which every student also received. He reported 6 new teachers were on staff and that the students were doing well, especially in the heat.

The high school track complex was discussed. The Board reviewed the motion recommended by the Building & Grounds Committee and discussed the funding procedure for all 4 phases. Maul/Degnitz motion to use Fund Balance for track modifications and for preliminary grading, seeding and cement work for concession stand/restrooms in an amount not to exceed $140,000, and to commit as financially feasible to fund phases 2, 3, & 4 and to make every effort to complete the project by the end of fall, 2001. Motion passed.

Degnitz/Dickman motion to approve the .5 instructional contract for Rebecca Olson at KES. Motion passed.

Dickman/Degnitz motion to approve the Annual Meeting agenda scheduled for Monday, September 25, 2000. Motion passed.

Schulte/Degnitz motion to adjourn. Motion passed.

UW System Budget to Have Local Economic Impact

WEST BEND - Joel Rodney, Campus Executive Officer and Dean at UW-Washington County responded enthusiastically to the budget passed today by the University of Wisconsin System Board of Regents for its focus on increased economic growth through workforce development.

According to Rodney, the 2001-03 biennial budget contains several key items that will help UW-WC continue to provide students with an outstanding education and help Wisconsin maintain its competitiveness in the global economy.

"I am gratified that the Board of Regents continues to demonstrate its support for the UW Colleges. We serve a unique role in the state, providing needed access to a University of Wisconsin degree. This budget provides the resources for us to continue to serve the needs of our community," said Rodney.

One component of the budget is a $2,000,000 initiative that will allow the UW Colleges and its Washington County campus to extend its educational services to the area's adult population. For example, this initiative will provide resources to increase the amount of courses offered at convenient times and to expand the hours of service in labs and libraries.

"This budget request addresses the challenge of having a more educated workforce," said Rodney. "It will enable us to increase our services to the adult student market, and increase adult access in keeping with student demand and state economic development needs. This request would provide us with resources to implement services that are tailored specifically to adults' needs."

Other items that Rodney was pleased to see included in the budget were related to additional funding for libraries, advising, and information technology.

The budget now goes to the Department of Administration for consideration as part of the Governor's budget, which is generally submitted to the legislature in February. Normally, the states biennial budget is approved and signed prior to the start of new biennium on July 1, 2001.

"Thanks to Governor Thompson and legislative leaders, the last state budget was the best in a decade for the UW System," said Rodney. "That trend needs to continue. I am pleased to see the emphasis that is being placed on developing partnerships between the university, business and government to help Wisconsin improve its economic potential."

The most common name for a town in the United States is Fairview.

Final Meetings Concerning County Waterbody Classification Project

The Washington County Code Revision Working Group, in conjunction with the Planning and Parks Department, UW Extension, County Attorney, SEWRPC and Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources has scheduled a final series of five informational/input meetings for the general public. The meetings will be held at four different locations throughout the County during November, 2000. The locations and times are noted below:

West Bend Town Hall, 6355 Cty Hwy Z, West Bend, 1 to 4 p.m. and 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Monday, November 13, 2000.

Farmington Town Hall, 9422 State Hwy 144, Kewaskum, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 14, 2000.

Richfield Town Hall, 4128 Hubertus Road, Hubertus, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Wednesday, November 15, 2000.

Hartford Town Hall, 3360 Cty Hwy K, Hartford, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., Thursday, November 16, 2000.

The meetings are for everyone interested in and concerned about potential zoning changes related to lakes, rivers, streams, watercourse and ponds.

• Citizen input from previous meetings has been placed into final draft recommendations; please provide your feedback on these proposals.

• See how the newly developed classification criteria and zoning proposals will impact local waterbodies.

• Please plan to attend one of the public information/input meetings scheduled prior to attending the public hearing scheduled for December 12, 2000 at 6:30 p.m. at the West Bend High School Auditorium.

There will be formal presentations from several individuals associated with the project, as well as interactive exercises to gather insight and concerns from those in attendance. The Work Group has recently completed their review concerning possible draft zoning text proposals that will be the focus of this series of meetings and will apply to all the waterbodies within Washington County's jurisdiction.

Indians Knock Cougars Out of Regionals

By Nicole Rawley
Statesman Staff

The lady Indians played their first round of regionals on October 17, against Campbellsport in the Indian Fieldhouse.

The Indians came out winning the five game match 9-15, 15-0, 13-15, 15-3 and 16-14.

Coach Dave Rizzardi stated, "This match could have gone either way. We played outstanding at times, Campbellsport played outstanding at times. The game scores show that both teams were up and down. The final game saw us down 13-5 before we kicked it in gear. Jacki Broecker and Lynn Wiesner provided some excellent serving to get us back in the game, before Emmy Foerster finished the game with a service ace. Junior Jenni Logan came into the game and provided a spark in the middle when we needed it. Kathryn Schneider and Sarah Williams did a great job setting and Sarah added 17 kill points to keep us in the match."

The ladies that played all had wonderful nights. Here are their stats:

Jacki Broecker, 20 attempts, two aces and two points.

Sarah Williams, 18 attempts, 12 spike-kills, four tips, 17 points and 20 assists.

Cassandra Steffen had four spike-kills, two blocks and scored six points.

Kathryn Scheider led the team in attempts and assists with 21 and 29. She also had four aces, four points.

Jenni Logan had one tip, two blocks and three points.

Heather Rieder had 13 attempted serves including one ace, five spike-kills, six points and one assist.

Lynn Wiesner had an awesome night by leading the team in attempts with 27, aces with six, and by scoring 20 points. She also had 11 spikes and two assists.

Cassie Patterson had one spike, and scored five points. She also led the team in blocks with three.

Emmy Foerster had 15 assists, 10 spikes, two blocks, scored 15 points and had one assist.

Other members of the team are: Nicole Herrmann, Kelli Dorn, Krystal Gavin and Sherry Maul.

KHS Wins Second Round Over Ripon

On Friday, October 20, the Kewaskum ladies volleyball team played Ripon in their second round of regionals. The Indians won 15-3, 15-12 and 15-10 in the Indian fieldhouse.

Sarah Williams had an outstanding night. She led the team with 11 points, two saves and three aces.

Kathryn Schneider led the team in assists with a total of 10.

"Ripon came in seeded one slot higher than us in the regional, but we took it to them early and often. All three games came down to the end, but our girls showed tremendous poise under pressure to take the match in three games. Our entire team did a fantastic job serving, keeping Ripon under pressure all match," stated coach Dave Rizzardi.

Waupun Ousts Kewaskum in Regional Final

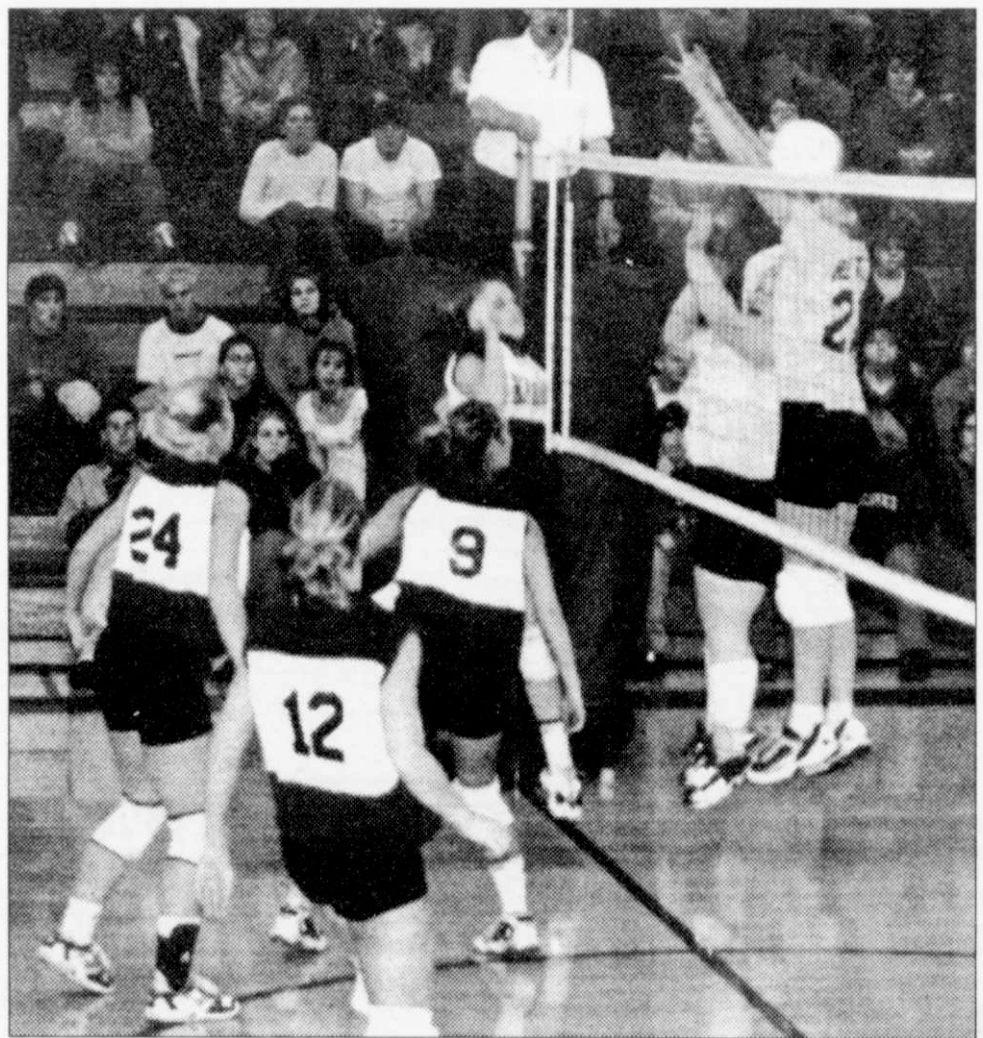

The Lady Indians played Waupun in the regional final match on Saturday, October 21 at Campbellsport High School. Kewaskum lost to the defending state champs 11-15, 4-15 and 2-15.

Kathryn Schneider led the team in aces and assists with two and 15.

Emmy Foerster led the team in points with nine.

"Our girls gave everything in the first game, playing Waupun even into our fourth rotation," stated Coach Dave Rizzardi. "Waupun's diversity and intensity eventually was too much to overcome. From there Waupun could sense the kill and our focus began to drift. They are a tough team to keep down with a lot of tradition in recent years. It wound up being a quick ending to our terrific season."

Giving gives more satisfaction than receiving.

Now is the Time for Hunters To Be Sighting-In Firearms

MADISON - As people begin making preparations for the upcoming special Zone T deer hunts or the regular deer hunting season, they should also make sure their firearms are ready, according to state hunting safety specialists.

"People should sight in their firearms every year before hunting season," says Tim Lawhern, Department of Natural Resources hunter education administrator. "Sighting-in a firearm allows hunters to go afield with the confidence that their firearms are shooting where they are pointed. This could save them from missing that once-in-a-live-time game animal."

Lawhern says it is best if hunters practice with their firearms throughout the year to make sure they are right on target, but if they are not able to, there are many sporting clubs and target ranges that offer firearm sight-in sessions this time of year at little or no cost. People with Internet access can find a link to the National Shooting Sports Foundation from the DNR web site that lists target ranges in Wisconsin. From the DNR home page, click on environmental protection and then Law Enforcement buttons to find the link.

"Someone who has done their homework and prepared properly will likely be able to zero in a firearm in six rounds or less," Lawhern says. "Many hunters are able to do it in three rounds. Of course, they are usually the ones who have been practicing throughout the year."

Lawhern offers these tips to save both time and money when sighting in firearms:

- ◆ Have a gunsmith check firearms for loose screws or bolts. In many cases, simply tightening the action screws or scope mounting screws will solve the question of why a gun is not shooting properly. Also having them bore-sight a firearm will put it on the paper at 25 yards and will save ammunition and money.

- ◆ Learn good breath control. The best shooters know that their body is under the least stress when they have taken a normal breath and have let it all out just to the point of relaxation. At that moment, and for a few seconds more, bodily functions, such as a heartbeat, don't drastically affect sight picture. When the sights are settled on the target, begin the trigger squeeze. Continue that constant pressure to the rear and the firearm will go off when the sights are where they belong. Concentrate on following the bullet to its target even after the shot. This will help develop good follow-through. This also helps determine whether or not the shooter is flinching.

- ◆ Wear appropriate clothing for sighting-in sessions. This may mean something with a bit more padding for a magnum caliber firearm.

- ◆ Use the same ammunition for sighting in as will be used in hunting. It won't do much good to use one kind of ammunition for sighting in and then another for hunting. They won't shoot to the same point of impact.

- ◆ Shoot first shots at 25 yards from a shooting bench. Get the bullets to hit exactly dead center. This will put the firearm on target for shots taken at 100 yards and the shooter can then decide if more elevation should be built into the sights for targets at the 100 yard range.

- ◆ Use a solid rest like sandbags or blankets. The object is to sight in the firearm, not the shooter's body. Work on the shooting positions at other practice sessions.

- ◆ To adjust sights, move the rear sight in the direction the bullet is intended to hit. If the first shot is two inches to the left of center, move the rear sight to the right. Fore telescopic sites remember that adjustments take twice as many "clicks" at 50 yards as they do at 100 yards.

Indians Stage Comeback to Secure Second Place in EW

The Kewaskum Indians traveled to Plymouth in hopes of clinching an outright claim of second place in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

The host Panthers jumped out to a quick start, recovering a fumble on the very first play from scrimmage and scoring three plays later on a nine-yard run by Chris Baldock.

The Indians responded with a 58 yard touchdown drive capped by an 11 yard touchdown pass from Tom Ogi to Chris Canter. Charlie Sparks added the extra point to tie the score, at 7-7.

Plymouth dominated the rest of the first quarter with Baldock scoring the second and third of his four touchdowns, scoring from 36 and 10 yards to lead 21-7.

The second quarter belonged to Kewaskum as the defense shutout the Panthers and the offense drew within seven points before halftime on a 16 yard pass from Tom Ogi to Charlie Sparks with Sparks adding the extra point. Halftime score was 21-14 in favor of Plymouth.

The Indians continued to control the game through the third quarter. Tom Ogi scored from one yard out to make the score 21-20. Later in the period, Charlie Sparks took a pass in the right flat and scampered 38 yards to give Kewaskum the lead, 26-21.

Early in the fourth quarter, Plymouth re-secured the lead with another Baldock touchdown from five yards out. The two-point conversion failed and the Panthers led 27-26.

The large crowd of Indian fans that ventured to Plymouth was in for an exciting finish. The Indians drove deep in to Plymouth territory before a penalty forced them into a third and 33 from the 38 yard line. Tom Ogi completed a long pass to Chris Canter to get the ball down within inches of the first down.

On fourth and inches, Justin Rhoads squeezed out one yard to keep the drive alive. Two plays later, Rhoads scored from three yards to give Kewaskum the lead at 32-27.

Plymouth wasn't done yet as they marched into Indian territory and faced a fourth and one from the 30 yard line. Kevin Schneider, Bob Ogi and Travis Cochet met the Baldock in the backfield and stuffed the play.

The Panthers would have one last chance, but cornerback Chris Canter intercepted the pass and the Indians ran out the clock to capture sole possession of second place in the conference with a 6-1 record, 8-1 overall.

The team and their coaches would like to extend a big thank you to all the parents and spectators who followed the Indians and contributed to this very exciting and successful season.

The Indians traveled to Chilton on Tuesday, October 24, to take on the Tigers in a first round playoff game.

Basketball Clinic, Open Gym Offered

On Sunday evenings during the months of November and December, there will be open gym for adults and students following a basketball clinic for sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys.

The clinic will be conducted by David Nordeng, Kewaskum High School varsity boys' basketball coach, and will run from 5:30 until 7 p.m. The open gym will run from 7 to 9 p.m.

The clinic is open to all boys whether attending public or private school. Fundamentals of shooting, cutting and screening, passing and dribbling, one-on-one moves, and defense and rebounding will be stressed.

If interested, there are information sheets available at each school or just come to the first clinic on November 5 before 5:30 p.m.

The cost will be $15 and a t-shirt and free admission to one boys' basketball game is included in the cost. Any questions can be directed to David Nordeng at 626-8427, extension 4256.

The supreme quality for leadership is unquestionably integrity. Without it, no real success is possible, no matter whether it is on a section gang, a football field, in an army, or in an office.
—Dwight D. Eisenhower
