Internet Access Available Soon at Library

Kewaskum Library Director Steve Baker, right deomnstrates to Librarian Jill Wenger how to "surf" on the library's new computer, The computer is one of two that is available for residents to gain internet access on.

After deciding something needed to be done to bring more residents into the Kewaskum Public Library the library board voted to bring two new computers into the library for residents to use to go onto the inter-

The library now boasts two computers in the front of the building. Residents should be able to use the computers by the end of the week says library director Steve Baker.

"As technology advances, the internet has in many ways supplanted the traditional role of libraries as the great repositories of information. In Kewaskum, and throughout all of Washington County really, we are experiencing this transition first-hand as we see fewer patrons using libraries as their sole source of reference material. Instead, people are turning to the web. And why not? It is a great tool! In a matter of seconds you can easily access a seemingly infinite source of data. When I was first beginning to do research for my book, "The Hand Behind the Mouse: The Ub Iwerks Story" I was able to access sources and information regarding the early days of animation that I would never have been able to access through a traditional library, even through interlibrary loan. I would have been able to check out Leonard Maltin's fantastic animation book, "Of Mice and Magic" through a library, but on the web, I was able to make contact and become acquaintances with Mr. Maltin himself!" said Village President John Kenworthy who is also on the library board.

Kenworthy added. "Patrons can use the two internet computers to do research, check out consumer information, visit fun sites or even to check their own email accounts."

The Kewaskum Library's biggest challenge for the past few years has been the demographic mix of it's patrons. Over a third of all the people who check out books from the library are from outside the county. This sounds like a good thing and it is, but while the library certainly would never want to restrict access to the library for anyone, because of this patron mix, the monies provided by Washington County are significantly diminished.

A great deal of funding comes from Washington County and it is watched with growing dismay as each year's financial support shrinks away. To combat this, library director, Steve Baker and his staff are actively pursuing a lot of exciting programs and events in an effort to draw more traffic to the library as a meeting-place, research facility and hub of the community.

Another one of the challenges that has been faced over the years is limited amount of space for books in the library. Employees are constantly weeding out older, underutilized books and replacing them with new ones. Unfortunately, even with these new books, the holdings are limited by the amount of space on the ed, the Library Board is beginning to look at the need for expanding not only our services but the physical size of our library.

A couple of years ago, the Regal Ware Outlet building was purchased with the intent of possible using that land for the construction of a new library. Now maybe the time to begin investigating how library facilities are going to be modernized to make them ready for the 21st Century and beyond. The internet is an excellent first step toward this end, but other avenues need to be looked at as well.

DVR Clients in County Taken Off Waiting List

Department of Workforce Developmental Secretary Jennifer Reinert announced today 44 people with the most significant disabilities previously on a waiting list, in Washington, Ozaukee and Waukesha counties, will now receive Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR) services. The $500,000 in emergency funding, recently received from the Joint Finance Committee, plus an additional $1.8 million in federal matching funds will be used to provide employment services to more than 1,000 Wisconsin citizens with disabilities.

"The department has been working diligently to restore services to all potential DVR consumers in Wisconsin," said DWD Secretary Jennifer Reinert. "This is a first step, and we will not rest until services can be restored to all people with disabilities who need

Those people being moved off the waiting list are those with the most significant disabilities.

"These are people who want to join the workforce and be independent. DVR staff can make that happen," said Tom Dixon, DVR Administrator. "We are delighted we're able to assist more consumers to go to work.'

In the last five years, DVR has proven that it "pays for itself" many times over. In Wisconsin, DVR consumers have contributed more than $800 million through their taxes and earnings. That, combined with the reduction in public assistance to people who are now working and federal incentive payments made to Wisconsin for the program, have meant an overall costsavings to the state of Wisconsin system of $622 million. The department, in the next coming months, will be issuing a report that details additional recommendations of the DVR Strategic reform Task Force on how to continue to implement DVR services.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

When will they ever learn? Now the mayor of Green Bay is suggesting that counties in the state create a 1/10 of 1% "temporary" sales tax so that naming rights for Lambeau Field will not be sold. First there is no such thing as a temporary sales tax in Wisconsin. The state sales tax and all the county sales taxes were originally presented as temporary. This state has a perfect 100% record of failing to discontinue them.

Recently the governor hired an advisory panel to study ways to lower property and other state taxes. One of their first suggestions was that user fees be used for services. Too bad he didn't think of that when he led the state legislators in creating a sales tax in five counties to pay for the Brewer facility, or our county legislators to think of it to pay for the over elaborate county fair facility and golf course. I'm constantly being assured by my county representative that both of these projects are a complete financial success, yet recently it was revealed in a Milwaukee paper that approximately 87% of Washington County's property tax increase was used for recreational entertainment. This in an area loaded with national and state forests, beaches, boating facilities, bridle, snowmobile and hiking trails and picnic areas.

I would like to suggest that politicians in this state and county think twice before creating more taxes for unnecessary programs and let the taxpayer decide how to spend their own money on what they enjoy doing for their own recreation and entertainment. It seems that money is no object for the governor when it comes to paying for the infra-structure (parking lot) at Lambeau Field or paying for the Brewer stadium yet no money is available when it comes to education, schools and medical assistance for the elderly or other essential programs. These small increases in taxes seem negligible when presented as temporary, but when they are added up and become permanent they are considerable.

We are now inheriting a new governor and this would be a good time to let him know how we want our money used so that he gets off on the right foot.

Thank you,

Lloyd A. Koch

Incumbents Gregor Nigh, Raynor Herriges and Elmer Yoost will be challenged by Robert Danielsen for the three Kewaskum Village Board posts that will become vacant this spring. At the close of nominations Tuesday, Danielsen, who has a position at Valley Bank, and is President of the Kewaskum Jaycees, was the only newcomer to enter the race, never having sought public office before. Incumbent Yoost is completing four terms on the board and is retired, living on Werner Drive, while Nigh, who owns and operates Kewaskum Frozen Foods on Forest Avenue, and Herriges, who owns and operates Herriges Oil Co. on Fond du Lac Avenue, are completing three terms. Terms on the board are for two years and will begin following the spring elections in April.

Three property owners having land adjoining the proposed Sison annexation discussed possible annexation of their property at the Kewaskum Village Board meeting on Monday night. Only one serious question was raised, as Dennis Giese wondered whether or not he will be permitted to keep a pony and game birds which he presently raises. Board President Charles Miller replied that this was in violation of village ordinances, but since the land was on two survey maps, part of it could be zoned farmland, when it was annexed so that the animals wouldn't have to be removed. All of the people present expressed a desire to be annexed, with three still undecided, so the Sison petition was held over until the first meeting in February. When the land is annexed, a medical clinic will be constructed on that site.

What sort of Bicentennial project could possibly be done in sub-zero January weather? The answer can be seen at 1085 Fond du Lac Avenue, on the south side of the Village. The structure, depicting a '76 Bennington superimposed on the stripes, is made entirely of winter's unique slick and cold creation, ice! The display, built by Dan Meilahn, measures about seven feet high and twelve feet long. A level base of small sheets of ice from a nearby stream supports the structure which weighs over 1,250 pounds and consists of over 150 gallons of water by volume. The necessary ice blocks were made by first coloring a measured amount of water with clothing dye and food coloring in some 209 gallons and 195 half-gallon milk cartons. Nature then solidified the solution into shining chunks which were extracted from the cartons and arranged row by row into the overall design. That infamous material known as slush acted as mortar to fuse the blocks together upon freezing. The flag pole was made from ice sections frozen in round plastic containers and then piled and slushed vertically. Water allowed to freeze in a balloon created the crowning round shape. Weather had to be necessarily terrible to accomplish the project. The temperature had to hover around zero for a period of several days to insure thorough freezing of the blocks and moderately rapid setting up of the slush. An ample amount of clean snow was required to produce the slush.

Grandmother Ratzel, Grandson Jon, Both Enrolled at UWWC

WEST BEND - Louis Ratzel, 65, of West Bend, says she was more than a little hesitant when she considered coming to the University of Wisconsin - Washington County, after more than 40 years away from a university classroom.

"My first day here, I was petrified," she admits, laughing. "For one thing, I knew nothing about computers. I went up to the student working in the computer lab, and asked her, 'OK, how do you turn this thing on?' The girl said, 'It is on.' I said, 'Well what do I do next, then?"

Ratzel, now a sophomore, said she attended the State Teacher's College (now UW-Oshkosh) back in 1954, but left after a short term there. She adds she always thought about returning, but was stymied at the thoughts of a daily commute to Milwaukee to study.

Then she heard about UWWC's innovative Bachelor of Arts in Organizational Administration program, in which professors from both UWWC and UW-Milwaukee give students a chance to obtain a four-year degree, without having to leave West Bend. "That sounded like something I wanted to do," she said.

But the thought of being surrounded by 19-year-olds also gave her pause, she said. But that didn't last.

"Everyone here has been so friendly and helpful," Ratzel says. She adds that chatting with her fellow students does often highlight the difference between herself and other students.

"A lot of times, we end up disagreeing on things," she says. "They're all so young, they haven't had much of a life yet. But I've been there, done that."

Her grandson Jonathan Ratzel, 20, of Kewaskum, a freshman, says having his grandmom on-campus is actually pretty neat.

"Often, it's real helpful having her here," he said, explaining that they can either team up on studies or help each other with rides and the like. He says he didn't choose UWWC just because his grandmother was a student here, though.

"I wasn't too sure about college," he admits. "This seemed like a good place to get a start. The classes are all pretty small, and the professors are all helpful." He plans to take pre-veterinary

The two busy students say they really don't have much time to study or "hang out" together on campus however. "We don't have any classes together," Louis said, "so we don't always get to see each other on campus.

"So when I need to see him, I just send him an Email"

Although she was once shy of computer technology, Louis says the high-tech devices have become part of her lifestyle. "I bought my own computer for my home some time ago," she says, then laughingly adds, "Last night, I was up until 2 a.m., playing computer games on the Internet."

Schedule Dairy Price Risk Management Program

A Dairy Price Risk Management program is scheduled for February 1, 8, and 15th from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. at the Washington County Public Agency Center, 333 E. Washington St., West Bend. The three afternoon sessions will focus on how to reduce the risks of price changes and survive in a volatile milk price market.

Milk prices have been volatile during the past years. Producers are finding it more difficult to remain profitable with the rise and then fall of milk prices. Producers are at the mercy and risk of the market, unless a marketing plan is developed and implemented.

Milk prices are depressingly low now. However, improved opportunities will return as price cycles continue. Producers can benefit by being ready to take advantage of opportunities when they occur?

This program is different than any other marketing programs producers may have attended. It will focus on the development of a Dairy Price Risk Management and Marketing Plan for the participant's farm. Many producers have learned about forward contracts, futures, and options as tools to forward price milk. However, most producers are not using these tools because they do not feel comfortable making a decision to take any action.

A marketing plan based on your personal and business goals, and your cost of production identifies a strategy to use the tools available to manage price risk.

This Workshop is organized to provide the development of the marketing plan in the first two sessions. The optional third session is for participants that would like more information on marketing strategies.

Registration for the program is $35 per farm unit. This includes one set of educational materials, resources, and worksheets. Registration will be limited to a maximum of 15 farms. Advanced registration is requested by January 29th. Information about the program and registration is available from the Washington County UW-Extension Office at 262-335-

United Way Sets Record; Raises $1,152,030

United Way of Washington County agencies, volunteers and donors have something to cheer about: raising $1,152,030 in the United Way campaign.

According to Charlie and Gaytha Hillman, Chairpersons of the 2000 volunteer effort, the fund drive is officially "over the top" finishing $52,000 over the goal of $1,100,000. "We are so very proud of the hundreds of volunteers who put their hearts into the campaign, and really personified the 'Give Help, Give Hope' campaign theme," said Charlie Hillman.

"The giving spirit of donors and volunteers is so very hear-warming and humbling," said Gaytha. "Once again, the businesses and individual donors in Washington County came through and showed that they are truly committed to meeting needs and ensuring necessary services friends, neighbors and coworkers. United Way helps thousands of residents right here in Washington County," she stated.

In addition to finishing the campaign at 5.9% over the previous year's total, this is the highest amount of money ever raised by United Way in the organizations 64-year history.

"When you first begin a campaign, you are optimistic that you'll reach your goal," said Charlie. "Along the way we faced challenges, but we were also reminded of people's generosity, and that we can help those who really need help. Going over the top is great news for the thousands of people in 25 agencies who will benefit in the coming year," she said.

Executive Director Barbara Hurula commented, "On behalf of the United Way member agencies, I would like to compliment the hard work and ongoing efforts of all our campaign volunteers who kept working to bring help and hope to our community. These volunteers saw first-hand what the needs were; they worked until the goal was met - and then kept going. I'd like to congratulate the Hillmans and the Division Leaders, Loaned Executives and Division Volunteers. We couldn't have done it without the countless hours all of them put in," she said.

Hurula continued, "The majority of our donors help people they will never see or meet personally. The efficiency and uniqueness of United Way's distribution system helps assure that dollars go where they are most needed," she said. Funds raised will support 61 programs of 25 member agencies in the coming year.

These agencies are:
American Heart Association, American Red Cross Northern Region, American Red Cross - West Bend Chapter, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Washington County, Boy Scouts - Bay Lakes Council, Boy Scouts - Potawatomi Area Council.

Boys and Girls Club, Catholic Charities, Child's Place, Citizen Advocacy of Washington County, Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse, Family Center of Washington County, Friends of Abused Families, Full Shelf Food Pantry, Girls Scouts - Great Blue Heron Council, Girl Scouts -Manitou Council, Hartford Area Blood Donors, Kettle Moraine Support Services.

Lutheran Social Services, Nova Services,
Salvation Army, Senior Citizens Activities, The Threshold, Volunteer Center of Washington County, and
The Youth and Family
Project.

The Hillmans concluded, "This success is a great tribute to the Washington County community's belief that United Way is theregiving Help and giving Hope. Thanks, everyone!"

DNR Outdoor Report

January 17, 2001

Warm weather turned snowmobile and cross-country ski trails soft and soggy last week, and resulted in some southern Wisconsin counties closing snowmobile trails.

Although cold temperatures returned this week, snowmobile trails closed likely will not reopen until after the state receives additional snowfall. Call ahead to check if snowmobile trails are open or check the Department of Tourism World Wide Web site.

Despite the warm-up, state parks and forests are generally continuing to report that cross country ski trails remain in fair to good and even excellent condition. The drop in temperature should help conditions prior to this past weekend. The Northern Highland-American Legion, Brule River and Flambeau River state forests all reported good to excellent conditions.

The warm temperatures continued to make travel on lakes and rivers throughout the state, but especially in the south, very treacherous. Many wardens continue to caution people to not drive any vehicles on lakes in southern Wisconsin.

The warm weather did allow snow to melt on many lakes, and if temperatures now remain below freezing for an extended period, the slush and water that has formed on the top of many lakes may start to freeze and finally improve access on lakes.

In the north, the warmup last week seemed to slow walleye fishing on many lakes, except in the Eagle River area where it was still reported as good. Fishing for panfish and northern pike has generally remained good throughout the north.

Some very good crappie fishing was reported on Taylor County lakes and good perch and bluegill action was reported in the Vilas and Oneida county areas. The best northern action has been on large shiners and on smelt fished in shallow water on tip-ups.

Ice fishing action on Green Bay has been spotty, with a few people setting up their shacks for perch. Some fishing success has been near creek and stream inlets, where the occasional northern pike has been taken.

In the south ice travel is becoming difficult and hazardous on many lakes. Some walleye activity was reported on Beaver Dam Lake. Anglers were catching a few brown trout through the ice on Devils Lake. Some good perchaction was reported on Beaver and Moose Lakes in Waukesha County. Northern Pike action has been steady on Pine Lake. Walleye action has been good on Whitwater, Pewaukee and Pine Lakes.

There is open water in areas along the Mississippi River and ice fishing has been spotty, though a fair number of good-sized bluegills were reported from lakes near Cassville.

In the southeast, the inner harbor area of the Menomonee River has given up good numbers of browns and a few northerns and walleyes. A few browns have been caught by anglers at Jones Island, and Oak Creek has opened up with the warm weather, but anglers have not reported success.

Anglers in Racine harbor have caught a few browns and northerns on shiners fished off the bottom, but fishing overall has been slow. The Root River is open from the dam to Quarry Park and some holes were beginning to form in the ice downstream of Quarry Park and some holes were beginning to form in the ice downstream of Quarry Park, but the majority of the river is still frozen. The Pike River is still frozen over from Highway A to the mouth.

Redbellied, hairy, downy and the larger pileated woodpeckers have been active in southeastern Wisconsin. Great horned owls are staking out breeding territory with both males and females now being heard calling back and forth.

Many eagles are now being seen below the open water areas of both the Wisconsin and Mississippi Rivers. Cassville, along the Mississippi River, holds eagle watching events each Saturday throughout January. Contact the local chambers of commerce or check the DNR's World Wide Web site for more information.

Effective immediately, the Campbellsport Public Library has approved a "Weather Closure Policy." This policy simply states that the Campbellsport Public Library will follow the lead of the Campbellsport School District and close the Library when the schools are closed for bad weather.

In the case of evening closures due to the bad weather, the decision will be made by the Library Director and a minimum of one member of the Library Board.

When the library is closed for these reasons, all items due on that day will be extended for an additional day. Any events happening at the library during these times will be canceled or postponed.

4-H Club News

submitted by: Jacob Schroeder

The January 2001 4-H meeting started at 6:30 with the pledges. Alex Awve led the American Pledge, and Sara McCulloch led the 4-H pledge.

Next to come was Old Business. The McCulloch and Fehring families gave a report on buying tons of clothes and toys for a needy family. The items went to a mother and her two children. "The bags were like this big," said one of the Fehring boys making a huge circle with his arms!

New Business was next. During the New Business, the Badger Boosters discussed an ice cream giveaway at the Fair Park. A Celebrate Families activity will be going on there. When the activities are done, 4-Hers will give away the ice creams to the families. That will probably be in the late afternoon.

After New Business came Demonstrations. Brent Peterson gave a demonstration by playing a game called "The Petersons Popsicle Pickup Sticks." Basically, you have to pick up the sticks without touching any other ones. Finally the meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

Need to Contact Your Legislator? 2001 Directory Is Available from WTA

MADISON - How can I contact my state legislators to express my opinion on a pending bill or to get their help with a government problem? What municipalities are included in my senate and assembly districts? Who represents my in congress? Answers to these and other questions are in the "2001 Wisconsin Legislative and Congressional Directory" recently released by the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance (WTA).

The directory lists all members of the new state legislature, plus other state officials

Wisconsin's congressional delegation. The eight-page guide contains individual maps of the state's 33 senate districts and their underlying assembly districts. It also gives each legislator's Madison mailing address and e-mail, home address and party affiliation.

The Directory is published by the WTA to encourage citizen participation in government.

The WTA, a nonpartisan, government-research and citizen-education organization, noted that the publication also provides detail to aid citizens who municipalities lie in more than one congressional or assembly district. In addition, mailing addresses are provided for Wisconsin's congressional delegation and for state constitutional officers.

To obtain a copy, send $1.25 to the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance, 335 Wilson Street. West Madison, WI 53703-3694. For information on the substantial discounts available for bulk purchases, contact the WTA at (608) 255-4581 or at wtataxes@itis.com. Purchasers of 100 or more copies can also arrange to have their orders imprinted.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

One day a man stood on a bridge gazing down into the water. Suddenly a canoeist overturned. He came up gasping. The man just looked on.

Down he went again! When he came up, the man asked, "If you don't come up the next time, may I have your canoe?"

Isn't that just like us?

We look at others, but we don't lift a finger to help them. We want something from others, but we withhold service to them. We party while others perish.

Not our Lord. He didn't "come to be served but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many." Let's live like the Lord.

When thinking of stock car racing, one would think of racing the oval tracks, such as the ones in NASCAR racing. Or maybe the circle tracks here in Wisconsin, the Milwaukee Mile, Wisconsin International Speedway and the dirt tracks of Plymouth and Hales Corners.

But these is nothing more exciting than going to the circle track at Slinger on Sunday nights and watching the last event of the evening...the Figure 8s.

These drivers don't do drag racing...they don't do the asphalt circle track. These few drivers take the challenge other drivers wouldn't even attempt to try, drive the figure 8 course. They take to the Slinger Track, off turn one on to the flat of the inside of the track where there is a large paved X in the middle of the entire track. They are given the green flag!

They cross the middle of the X and it is helter skelter to the third turn of the banked track. As the pack of cars make the fourth turn and come back to the paved X, each one trying to pass the next car ... to the second turn, and come back to the start-finish line in turn one. This is one lap!

All this for fun and the thrill of being on the track! The drivers all receive points for their positions, with the winner taking home a trophy and the most points for the night. At the end of the season the one with the most points is the Slinger Champion of the Figure 8 Division.

At the banquet on Saturday, February 3, 2001, the champion will receive a beautiful trophy and the long awaited check. The Figure 8 Champ is Mark Ritger of St. Cloud.

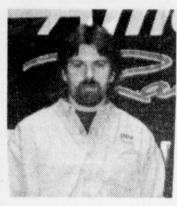

Mark started attending the races at Slinger Speedway with his dad, Herb Ritger, in 1968 when the track was still dirt. Back then, one could attend stock car events every night. Names like Etchie Biertzer, Billy Johnson, Bill Goeden, Fuzzy Fassbinder and the one and only, Miles the Mouse Melius, were the "top-dogs" in the modified division.

Mark and his dad attended the Cedarburg and Hales Corners tracks and enjoyed sitting with Faye Hendricks and her family. Faye's husband Jim put his driving talents behind the wheel of a stock car in the sportsman division at all the tracks.

This was just the start of a "disease" called "Racing Fever" for Mark. When Mark was old enough, he worked at various tracks as a pit steward or selling performance parts. He bought an old Eastern Wisconsin Sportsman car in 1981 from Steve Wiedmeyer of West Bend.

Mark and his dad revamped that car for the Figure 8 rules...all for $150! Throughout his early years Mark finished in the top five of the point standings in that division at the Slinger Super Speedway.

In 1990 he finished fifth in the points at Slinger and tried his skills at Wisconsin International Raceway at Kaukauna where he finished 11th in the points. In 1991 he tried his luck in the Slinger Stinger Division at Slinger, but his heart and first love was in the Figure 8s. Or at least, thats what he said. But that year, 1991, he lost his heart and found his first and last love, Candy, and married her! Candy may be is wife, but she is also his one and only pit crew!

Candy will receive the award for the Crew of the Year 2000 at the Slinger Banquet. This is the fourth year she has won this award. Candy caught that racing fever from Mark! The two of them have been a team to reckon with in the Figure 8 division at the Slinger Speedway. With Mark's skill on the track and Candy's dedication to helping her husband, they have won five Figure 8 Champ-

Mark's sponsors also continue to support him on the track. Bob's Auto Repair of West Bend, Goeden's Auto Body of St. Michaels, Triangle Auto Salvage of Sheboygan, Russ Darrow Honda of Mequon and Ritger Auction Service of Allenton are very proud to have their names on his Figure 8 car. Mark's car, the 1x will be on display at the Slinger Banquet, along with the other Champions.

The banquet will be held at the Washington County Fair Park, located at 3000 Hwy PV near West Bend. The festivities will begin with a dinner at 7:30 p.m., with the Award ceremony and music to follow. Veteran racer, Lowell Bennett, will be honored as the 2000 Slinger Speedway Late Model Champ. This is his second trip to the stage. Local driver Dennis Prunty will take back-toback top honors in the Midwest Modified Division. His brother Dale Prunty finished in the top five of the Modified division. One Sunday night, during qualifying, the engine blew in Dennis' #1 Modified. Dennis was going for his second straight Championship in the Modified Division. Dale gave his brother his #17 modified to finish the night, so Dennis could stay on top. Dale would certainly get an award for sportsmanship...and brotherly love!

Bill Shavlick, Champion of the Slinger Stinger division will also have his car on display. There will be cash and trophies given to the top drivers with special surprise awards announced that evening.

If you would like to attend this fun night, the tickets are $19 each. Call (414) 358-1525, Lanae

Weyer, Slinger PR Director, for tickets and reservations. The deadline is January 31,

Nass Scores 17 for KHS in Losing Effort Against Two Rivers

TWO RIVERS -- The Kewaskum girls' varsity basketball team traveled to Two Rivers on Saturday, Jan. 20, to take on the undefeated Raiders of Two Rivers. The Lady Raiders sit on top the FWC and are ranked number four in the state Division 2.

Kewaskum had been upended 63-28 by Two Rivers in their first encounter back December 8.

Kewaskum led in the early going as Emily Rinzel nailed a three pointer, and teammates Dani Nass and Colleen Gosa each made a basket to give Kewaskum a 7-1 lead. Kewaskum managed to avoid any turnovers until 4:04 in the first quarter, and then committed six turners during the rest of the first quarter.

Two Rivers quickly converted on a couple of turnovers and then proceeded to go on a 19-2 run and a 20-9 advantage. A basket by Gosa made the score at the end of the first quarter 22-

Dani Nass scored all of Kewaskum's five points in the second quarter as Two Rivers scored 10 points to take a 32-16 half-time lead. Two Rivers started the third quarter scoring nine unanswered points to take a 41-16 lead.

Kewaskum fought back by outscoring Two Rivers 13-5 to make the score 46-29 at the end of the third quar-

Three-pointers Bridget Polzean and Jenny Koth helped spark the Indians. A basket by Emily Rinzel along with two baskets by Nass and a free throw by Heather Rieder Kewaskum only outscored 14-13 in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter outscored Rivers Kewaskum 13-11 as both teams traded baskets. A basket by Gosa at just under three minutes in the game made the score 54-39 and a free throw by Maggie Herriges completed the Kewaskum scoring.

This loss put the lady Indian's record to 3-11 overall, and 1-9 in conference. Their next game is Friday, January 26, at home against Manitowoc Roncalli.

Heather Rieder's offensive ability attracted plenty of attention by the Two Rivers defense and limited Rieder to just one basket in nine attempts. Nass led all Kewaskum scorers with a career high 17 points and 10 rebounds.

"We're getting better. Last time Two Rivers beat us 63-28. Our attitude has been awesome," replied Kewaskum coach Anne Sonnabend after the game. "Nass had probably her best game of the year. We have been trying to get her to take the ball to the hole. Rieder has been our leading scorer with a 14.8 average. This is the first game where someone else has stepped up and picked up the scoring," replied Coach Sonnabend.

When asked about the Two Rivers team that has won 40 straight Eastern Conference Wisconsin games, Coach Sonnabend

Indians Overcome Huskies, 56-43

The Kewaskum boys team was finally able to gain their second Eastern Wisconsin Conference victory against New Holstein on Tuesday, January 16. Kewaskum won the game

"We are slowly but surely getting healthy for the second time playing conference teams," stated Coach Dave Nordeng.

Coach Nordeng nominated the Kewaskum defense as the MVP of the game.

"Kewaskum established their defense early, taking away the inside game of New Holstein and limiting their leading scorer to six points. After three quarters, New Holstein had only scored 28 points," stated coach Nordeng.

The high scorer for the night was J.P. Repovsch with 19 points. Charlie Sparks, who coach Nordeng stated played his second solid game in a row, followed closely with 16 points.

Brian Cotter led the team in assists with eight and, along with teammate Kevin Miller, had three steals Kevin Miller also led the team in rebounds with 12 and close behind was Travis Kempf with 10.

The Indians hold a conference record of 2-5, and an overall record of 4-7.

The teams next two games are Thursday, January 25 at Roncalli (freshmen - 4:30, JV - 6 p.m. and Varsity - 7:30), and at Plymouth on Tuesday, January 30, at 7:30 p.m. (freshmen and JV at 6).

Between 1970 and 1999, the San Francisco 49ers won 16 division titles.

Varsity Girls Lose Close Game to Cedar Grove

CEDAR GROVE -- It could be said that the Indians missed a shot at the end that would have won the game, or a close call at the end went against Kewaskum, but the fact that Kewaskum missed 10 consecutive free throws in the second half, contributed largely to Kewaskum not picking up a much needed victory.

Five different Kewaskum players had trouble finding the range as each of the five missed both their free throw attempts. Kewaskum shotone for 12 from the line for the game.

Trailing 35-26 at the end of the third quarter, Kewaskum's Heather Rieder scored 10 of her game high 19 points by connecting on two three-pointers, sandwiched between two buckets, to bring Kewaskum within three points at 43-40 at the two minute mark of the fourth quarter.

At 1:51 Emily Rinzel connected on a three-pointer to tie the game at 43. After Cedar Grove missed, Colleen Gosa came down with the defensive rebound with 1:18 left in the game, but Kewaskum was unable to convert at the other end.

Kewaskum got the ball back again without the Rockets scoring and called time out at 49.6 seconds. Rieder dribbled into the lane in an attempt to get off a shot, but Cedar Grove was ready for her. Rieder had trouble handling the ball, but Dani Nass recovered the ball and took a shot that just missed.

Cedar Grove called time out with 29.1 seconds left and worked the clock down to 3.3 seconds when Nass got called for the foul. Martha Callahan made the first free throw to make the score 44-43, but then missed, and Gosa grabbed the rebound and immediatetime called could Kewaskum attempt a desperation bomb with only 1.3 seconds left.

Kewaskum had led 7-2 in the first quarter as Cedar Grove turned the ball over four or five times in the early stages of the game. Three baskets by Rieder and one by Gosa, and then a basket by Nass at the end of the quarter, put Kewaskum down by only one point 12-11.

In the second quarter, back to back baskets by Nass and Gosa put Kewaskum ahead by four points, 20-16. Cedar Grove then scored nine unanswered points and Kewaskum went into the locker room down 25-20.

Kewaskum battled back early in the third quarter on baskets by Rieder and Emily Rinzel and found themselves behind only by one at 25-24. Cedar Grove responded by outscoring Kewaskum 10-2 for the rest of the third quarter.

Rieder had probably one of her best games of the season as she connected on eight of 14 shots from the floor, including two for two from three point range. Colleen Gosa led all rebounders with eight boards and teammate Dani Nass added five rebounds in addition to her eight points.

Kewaskum had 15 turnovers in the first half, eight in the third quarter and four in the fourth quarter for a total of 27 turnovers.

KEWASKUM: Rieder 19, Nass 8, Rinzel 7, Jenny Koth 5, Gosa 4. Total 43.

CEDAR GROVE: Callahan 11, Clark 8, Voskuil 6, Watry 6, Demianiuk 4, JoEllen Obbink 4, Jamie Obbink 3, Mentink 2. Total 44.

Rebounds for Kewaskum: Gosa 8, Rieder 6, Nass 5, Rinzel 4, Polzean 3, Katie Klug 3.
