With the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the WTKM Hartford radio station, the Bill Thull family of St. Michaels was the center of the "Today" crew on January 16 and 17.

The "Today" show was very interested in the radio station's 50 year history of polka music. The only way Scott Lopas, the popular announcer of the station, could explain the popularity of the music was to show them.

At a jam session on Saturday, in the Ralph Thull kitchen, the TV cameras were rolling. On Sunday afternoon, the crew set up the cameras and took some action shots of the music by the Goodtime Dutchmen and the polka dancers at the Heat Wave Polka Fest held at Amerahn in Kewaskum.

The Thulls have maintained family tradition for three generations, plus. Bill and Cyrilla Thull are the patriarchs of the tradition of polka music. When Bill Thull was young, he started playing with local bands in the 30's. After the band leader died, Bill, his sister Anne, and her son, Robert Klesmith, started the Bill Thull Orchestra. In the early '70s, Bill's sons, Ralph on the drums and Mike on the saxophone joined the group.

With his children, Mike, Ralph, Eileen, Kathy and Denis, able to play more than one instrument, it became the sound of a big time band! Included were two or three trumpets, or two saxophones, two or three clarinets, plus the banjo, tuba, drums, keyboard and of course, the accordion!! It was "surround sound" at it's best!!

Today, the Bill Thull Orchestra only gives special performances for the radio programs and the Polka Masses, which they made popular in this area. But the tradition continues. Their daughter Eileen, who was the "rhythm and swinger" of the band, married Robert Kuether, the famous polka band leader from the Manitowoc area. She played a mean banjo and always gave the audience that special "life of the party" show during the polka medley.

Ralph, who was recently named the 2001 Orchestra Leader of the Year, continues the tradition. The Goodtime Dutchmen Orchestra was formed in the early 90's. And today, the band members include Ralph's children, Randy, Missy, Marcia and Russ, and the recruited talents of Ralph's nieces, Lynn (daughter of Mike) and Cindy (daughter of Eileen).

All these young people can play more than two instruments! They show off their polka style, changing instruments in the idle of a tune. Again we can get the big band surround sound!!

When the Goodtime Dutchmen first started, Ralph's daughter Michelle also was part of the band. If you ever had a chance to see the Goodtime Dutchmen in "action" in their early years, Michelle was the one who gave us the "boogie saxophone" style with all the shakes and rhythm of the beat! Just like her aunt Eileen did for her dad (Bill), so did Michelle for her dad (Ralph). Today, continuing the tradition is third generation, Michelle and her husband, Dan Jerabek, who have their own band called Kick. They play in the Oshkosh/Wautoma area.

The Thull family music-go-round continues. And today the fourth generation is out there learning how to dance to that traditional polka music. "Before long little Shaylee (Michelle's daughter) will have an instrument in her hands, swinging to the beat, just like her mom (Michelle)," said Grandma Cyrilla proudly.

The Bill Thull Orchestra plays upon request at local functions and on the Hartford Radio, WTKM. The Goodtime Dutchmen will be hosting the annual St. Patrick's Day Dance at Amerahn on Sunday, March 18, starting at 1 p.m.

They also book weddings and business dances all over the state of Wisconsin. They will also be performing at great dance halls in the states of Minnesota and Iowa. And this year, they will be down in Nashville to play for a 50th Anniversary of a couple who enjoy polka music, not western!!

On Sunday, May 6th, the Hartford Radio Station will officially be celebrating their 50th Anniversary at the Chandelier Ballroom in Hartford, starting at 4:00 p.m. The Goodtime Dutchmen also have CD's and tapes for you to enjoy. Follow the Thull family tradition and enjoy the polka music.

BES Fate to Be Decided At Meeting

The fate of Beechwood Elementary School shall be decided at a 7:00 pm February 12 school board meeting.

The Kewaskum School District's building and grounds committee met Monday evening to discuss the future of Beechwood Elementary School among other items.

Superintendent Graczyk noted that the administration was asked if procedures were being followed for the use of Beechwood Elementary School as they are in all buildings in the district. Specifically the use of custodians to open, close, building permits, etc. The response was no, because Mr. Graczyk thought there was some special arrangements made when it was closed in 1986. Board treasurer John Schulte, present in the audience, said that to save the district money a key was given to a former board member and she opened it for library use. Graczyk raised the question of liability.

The 5-year plan calls for a potential expenditure of about $125,000 to upgrade the building even with it's limited use. The question of asbestos tiles was raised and simply replacing them would fall under the advisement of an abatement program which gets very costly. Plus others are popping out from age and lack of consistent heat. The committee asked Schulte if it was feasible that the Town of Scott be willing to purchase the building and he felt probably not.

Heating the building was questioned by Graczyk since the boiler and furnace unit

News From The Capitol

By Rep. Glenn Grothman

Legislature Flunks First Test

The entire Legislature began to meet for the first time the last week in January. Due to lower than anticipated sales tax revenue, it would no longer be possible to throw money at any problem.

Our first test was Wednesday, January 31st. The BadgerCare program was seriously under-funded. BadgerCare is a state/federal partnership program designed to provide low cost health insurance for families with children. (A family of four can make over $40,000 and still be eligible, so the government's definition of low income is not that of most people.)

Every state has a program similar to BadgerCare, but typical of Wisconsin no program is as generous as BadgerCare.

The benefit package is similar to Medicaid-the benefits available to people on welfare. This is more generous than any in the private sector. Co-payments are never greater than 3% of one's income-also, more generous than the private sector. As set up, it discourages single parents from getting married---an issue I will discuss more in future weeks. Of course, such a generous program is being used more than anticipated. There is anecdotal evidence that companies are dropping their health insurance and encouraging their employees to go on BadgerCare. There have also been reports that government employees are encouraging this. The state estimated $56 million would be enough to fund the program for the first two years. Estimates now show we will be $13.5 million short. There are currently 73,000 people on the program rather than the 60,000 anticipated.

If a business was faced with this overrun they would either look to reduce the generous benefits, raise the co-payment, or freeze enrollment pending further review. Unfortunately, the state did none of these things. An additional $13.5 million was thrown at the program. I, of course, voted "no." Given the huge deficit projected in the next biennium, it is important for the Legislature to behave in a different fashion than today.

At a time when funding for schools is greater than ever, nursing home reimbursements are inadequate to attain decent funding levels, and state taxes are still some of the highest in the nation, the time to reign in this program is now. Unfortunately, general purpose spending on this program will be significantly greater the next budget than this budget because of action taken by the Legislature.

The State Department of Health and Family Services has made no suggestions as to how to reign in spending. This was the last bill signed into law by Governor Thompson before he left for Washington. Governor McCallum will be left to straighten out this fiscal mess.

LIBRARY LEDGER

By Steev Baker
Kewaskum Library Director

If you've been to the library lately (and I hope you all have), you'll notice some pink signs hanging on the fiction shelves. These signs are to notify patrons that we have begun the weeding process and our shelves may be a little topsy-turvy for the next few months.

With the new year, we have started to take a close look at our collection and stream-line it a bit to better fit the needs of the community. Like weeding a garden, weeding a library collection means pulling the bad to make room for the good. Consequently, we now have stacks of weeded books, most of which haven't been checked out in years, that are waiting to find good homes. Eventually, we will be weeding our entire collection. Although it is a long process the weeding, shifting, reshelving, and etc. it means that there will be more room for new materials.

If you have a suggestion for a new book, video, or magazine, please let us know! Every suggestion we get from the community helps to make your library better.

In a further effort to bring you the best in informational resources, we will be adding some new items to our collection. We have several new monthly magazines including Biography, American Artist, Ellery Queen, Country Woman and Games Magazine. We are constantly updating our current fiction selections with the newest bestsellers and we try to always have copies on hand of Oprah's picks.

Recently we had the opportunity to purchase a stack of new videos, so whether your taste is for thrillers, action, comedy, or classics, chances are we have a movie you'd like to see. All adult non-fiction videos are now available for 7-day check out. This includes our large collection of hunting and fishing videos! In the coming weeks we will be offering several CD-ROMS for check-out. These are educational tools for children that can be used on home computers. They can also be used on the computer in the children's section of the library.

The Kewaskum Book Discussion Group meets on February 27 at 9:30 a.m. in the Community Room. The group has been meeting for many years to discuss literature both modern and classic. It is open to anyone and all age groups are encouraged to attend. This month's book is Midwives by Chris Bohjalian. Copies of Discussion Group books are available at the library.

On Saturday we will be hosting a program for families starring an escape artist from southern Wisconsin. Floyd Baker has been escaping from handcuffs, straightjackets, and other things for over twenty years. This is a program you don't want to miss. The show starts at 6:00 p.m. this Saturday. This is in conjunction with Celebrate the Family week in Washington County. Mr. Baker, besides being an escape artist, is an ordained minister who has worked with children and families for many years. Contact the library for more information.

Beechwood

no longer allows for heating just the one room holding the library. Instead, the entire building has to be heated to heat a single room and bathrooms. Since the library is only open a couple of hours in the morning and a couple in evening, one day a week, he questioned the practicality of this arrangement with the tightness in the upcoming budget and with other needs in the district as outlined in the 5-year plan/projects list to be discussed at a future board meeting.

A parent in attendance expressed how she wouldn't like to see her tax dollars spent on a building not in use. Presently it costs taxpayers an estimated $12,000 annually to maintain it.

With all the issues confronting keeping Beechwood open, the committee moved to recommend to the full board to seal and secure Beechwood school and explore options of use and the sale or disposition of the property. It will be on the February 12 agenda.

Kewaskum Man Misses Initial Court Appearance in Attempted Murder Charge

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

A 25 year old Village of Kewaskum man who is being accused of beating his 25 year old ex-girlfriend of Eureka in the head with a clawhammer is facing charges of attempted first degree intentional homicide.

The criminal charge provided by the Winnebago County District Attorney's office states that on January 8, 2001, Scott R. Deichsel, 25, 139 Forest Avenue, Kewaskum, is alleged to have attempted to kill Shantel L. Quick, 25, at her Eureka home in Winnebago County.

The complaint further states that on that day, Deichsel, along with his wife, Corrina and their young son, traveled from Kewaskum to Quick's home to discuss a child support issue.

Deichsel's wife indicated that upon arriving at Quick's home he parked their vehicle next to a barn in close proximity to Quick's residence. She was told to wait in the car.

Deichsel arrived at Quick's home and was let in the home by her. Power had been cut off to the home, however Quick said it had been in working order when she awoke earlier in the morning.

The two began to talk. Deichsel asked Quick if her boyfriend was present and where the "girls" were. She stated that he was gone and the girls were sleeping. Deichsel then inquired if they were sound sleepers. He then asked her to drop the child support proceedings.

According to the complaint, no comments were made. As she went to the refrigerator to get something for her son, she recalled Deichsel grabbing her from behind by the neck and twisting it so hard that it made a "crack" noise. She also recalled Deichsel telling their son "I'm sorry, Bryce." She did not remember being hit but recalled being thrown up against the washer which is next to the refrigerator.

In testimony made by Corrina Deichsel, it was stated that after 25 minutes she became uncomfortable and decided to drive past Quick's home to see what was going on. Upon approaching the home, she was unable to see Deichsel and drove around for another five minutes before returning the car where he had originally parked it next to the barn. She found Deichsel waiting there.

Upon getting back into the vehicle, he stated, "She better be dead." He then told Corrina to drive away. On the drive back to Kewaskum she noticed Scott crying and looking at a claw hammer. At that time she stated Scott had admitted to hitting Quick several times with the hammer.

Once back into Kewaskum, Corrina was instructed to drive to the Rustic Timbers Apartment Complex where Scott placed a portion of his clothing and the hammer in a plastic bag and disposed of it in a dumpster there. The three then went to McDonalds for breakfast.

Reports from forensic pathologist Dr. Michael Chambliss stated Quick suffered from 14 marks on her head, bruising to her left cheek and eye area, a bruise on her upper inner right arm and a puncture wound to her right wrist. It was his opinion that a claw hammer was used to inflict the wounds on her head. It was decided that she had to be struck seven times for there to be 14 claw-type marks on her head.

On January 18 the Statesman reported that Quick had been transported from her home to Berlin Hospital and then airlifted to Theda Clark Medical Center in Neenah.

Upon arriving at the home authorities found Quick's breaker box in the "off" position, telephone lines cut and a large amount of blood was observed throughout the home.

Deichsel was to appear in Winnebago County Circuit Court for his initial appearance but according to District Attorney Joseph Paulus, Deichsel's lawyer was not present and the case was postponed until today (Thursday). Bail has been set at $100,000.

Letter to the Editor

To the Town of Scott Residents in the Beechwood Fire Department Fire District:

The Beechwood Fire Department has undergone an insurance evaluation through the Insurance Services Office Inc., out of Chicago, Illinois, the Public Fire Protection Division. This evaluation was an attempt by us to help you save money on your fire insurance coverage on your home. This effort has been ongoing for the past two years and has concluded with this letter being sent to me by their office:

We wish to congratulate Beechwood Fire Chief Mark Muench and the entire membership for the cooperation given to our representative during our recent evaluation. We have completed our evaluation of the fire insurance classification for the Beechwood Fire Department fire district and advise that the protection class has improved to Class 7.

Formerly Class 9 applied to the district. The new classification will result in a decrease in advisory property insurance calculations for many insured properties within the fire district. The new class will be effective April 1, 2001. The change will affect properties to a degree depending on the type of building construction, hazards of occupancy and other factors. Insurance policy holders should contact their agents or companies to determine the effect the change in classification might have on their policies.

Be advised that this rating will only affect the properties located in the Beechwood Fire Department Fire District in the Town of Scott.

Very Truly Yours,
Public Protection
Classification Dept.

There were a lot of people involved in making this all happen and I would like to thank some of them. First and foremost I must thank my officers who spent many meetings and long hours of calculating fire loads, organizing equipment and numerous other duties.

Second I must thank the members for their support and participation in this endeavor. There were many practices and nights away from home becoming proficient in the tasks we needed to perform. Also are the departments (Batavia, Silver Creek, Boltonville, Kewaskum, Cascade and Waldo) that hauled the water on the evening of the test. Last, but certainly not least, our women's auxiliary who put up with their husbands away from home a lot during this period and provided a fantastic meal for all who participated in the test at the end of the night.

Thank you one and all.

On a personal note, I know our department has become a better department by going through this testing and look forward to the future for promising things to come.

If any of you have any questions as to whose district you are in, (our district is Ward One of the township) feel free to talk to any member of our department or town board member and find out. Remember to contact your insurance agents about the change in classification beginning April 1, 2001.

Thank you,
Mark Muench, Chief
Beechwood Volunteer
Fire Department, Inc.

Underclassmen Testing at KHS

Attention parents and students, please be aware that KHS students will be involved in testing on the mornings of February 13th and 14th. Please note that if you are not involved in testing, you are not required to be in school until the beginning of the fifth period which begins at 11:03. The buses will run at the regular time, so if you are not testing and have no other ride, you are most certainly welcome to ride the bus at the normal time, but your first class will not begin until fifth period.

FRESHMEN will be taken the Terra Nova exams which will be similar to what they took as eighth graders. You will be tested in Reading/Language Arts, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies. We think that it is important to have you get accustomed to taking long, challenging exams as you will be the first class that will be required in order to earn your high school diploma. This year's test is intended to help you prepare for the sophomore testing that you will take next year.

SOPHOMORES will be taking the Knowledge and Concepts Exams as required by the State of Wisconsin. They will be tested in Reading/Language Arts, Mathematics, Science and Social Studies. As an incentive to do the very best that they can on the tests, the School Board has accepted my recommendation that they be allowed to exempt their final exams next spring in the areas where they achieve Proficient or Advanced standing. Please encourage your sophomore to give his/her best effort.

Juniors and seniors will not be required to be here until the beginning of the fifth period

Public School Open Enrollment Application Period is February 5 to 23

Parents who wish to choose the public school district their children will attend next year face an important application window of February 5 to February 23, 2001.

Under the full-time public school open enrollment program, parents must apply to the school district they wish their children to attend during the application period (2001-02 school year). Early and late applications are not accepted. Parents will be informed no later than April 6, 2001 whether their open enrollment applications have been approved or denied.

New features of the program this year include a limitation of applying to no more than three nonresident school districts for each child during the application period (2001-02 school year). This year parents may apply for their child(ren) to attend a 4-year-old kindergarten under open enrollment only if the resident school district also offers a 4-year-old kindergarten for which the child is eligible.

Transportation is the responsibility of the parent; however, some school districts may elect to provide some transportation. Parents with questions about transportation should call both the resident and nonresident school district offices to find out if any transportation will be provided. Reimbursement of transportation costs is available for low-income parents whose children are eligible for free or reduced-priced lunches under the federal school lunch program.

Parents are reminded that a postmark will not meet the requirement to submit applications before the 4 p.m. February 23 deadline. Inaccurate or incomplete application forms may result in denial of the application. While parents may request enrollment in a specific school or program in the nonresident school district, enrollment is subject to space and other limitations and is not guaranteed.

Most students who attended a nonresident school district under open enrollment last year are not required to reapply for the 2001-02 school year. However, if the student will be entering middle school, junior high school, or high school in the 2001-02 school year, parents should call the nonresident school district to find out if reapplication will be required.

Application forms may be obtained from any public school district, from the Department of Public Instruction, or from the DPI's open enrollment web site at <http://www.dpi.state.wi.us/dpi/dfm/sms/psctoc.html>.

Reiling Named CEO/President Of St. Joseph's Hospital

John G. Reiling

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend's board of directors announces that, effective February 1, John G. Reiling is the permanent president and CEO of the hospital. Reiling has been interim president and CEO since March 27, 2000.

Hired by St. Joseph's board of directors last spring, Reiling is a nationally known health care management consultant. Most recently, he was principal of the Health Care Services Group of Larson Allen, the Minneapolis firm hired by the hospital to provide assistance with strategic planning and to conduct the search for a chief executive. He has a master's degree in business administration from the University of St. Thomas and a master's degree in hospital and health care administration from the University of Minnesota, both in the Twin Cities. He is currently a candidate for a Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota.

Reiling said that he is pleased to be able to continue his efforts to help guide the hospital in a new, positive direction for the benefit of the community.

"Since coming to West Bend, I have been extremely encouraged by the high level of professionalism on the part of hospital employees, the excellent care physicians and employees provide to patients, and the conscientious efforts of a future-minded board of directors," said Reiling. "I've enjoyed working in this dynamic, growing, and friendly community, and I believe that it deserves the best health care facilities we can provide."

"Mr. Reiling's expertise and insight have served St. Joseph's and the greater community very well in the past ten months. We are very fortunate to be able to have him on board for the long term as we develop and accomplish our strategic plans for the future. His leadership on the local level and his understanding of the bigger picture of regional and national health care challenges will be most valuable," said St. Joseph's Chair Atty. Elaine A. Shanebrook.

Story Time At Beechwood

"Story Time Library" will be held Tuesdays, either from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. or 6:30 to 7:30 p.m., at the Beechwood Community Library in Beechwood School.

They will be following a Fine Arts Program of music and art. They will also have stories, songs, games, crafts, poems, finger plays, show and tell, and beginning sign language. Books are checked out and holidays are observed.

This program is for preschoolers through school-age students. Families are welcome to attend these sessions, as there will also be books for adults. This is a good way to meet people from the area.

Cedar Campuses Announces 'A New Time for Learning'

It seems that everyone these days is talking about the Internet and the World Wide Web, but many people are not very sure about what these terms really mean and how helpful the Internet can be in their own lives.

Through the Internet, we have a vast array of information at our fingertips. We can search for and transfer information on just about every subject imaginable. We can join discussion groups about our favorite hobbies, ask questions of experts and communicate quickly and inexpensively with friends and family worldwide.

The Internet and its many uses is the focus of "A New Time for Learning," a one-hour educational program, which is part of an educational outreach series, sponsored by Cedar Campuses. The "Overview of the Internet" is the first subject of nine monthly programs to be held from 2 to 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, February 22 at Cedar Ridge, 113 Cedar Ridge Drive, West Bend.

The Internet overview will provide you with an understanding of the mechanics and how to use the Internet as a resource. You will learn about the types of computers and the software needed to enter the world of the web.

Cedar Campuses invites interested community adults, aged 50 and older, to attend. Upcoming sessions include "Safety for the Older Consumers: A Home Safety Checklist" on March 22; "Caring for the Care Giver" on July 26 and "Avoiding Scam Artists" on September 27. People are invited to attend all or as many programs as they would like. Cost per session is $5 at the door, which includes a scrumptious dessert, coffee and program materials.

Pre-registration is requested by calling Larry Christopher, Cedar Campuses Education Coordinator at (262) 334-9487, ext. 223. Cedar Campuses is a regional leader in rehabilitation, education, older adult living and health care.

Polka-Mania Held at Amerahn

The Jerry Schneider Band and Brian's Mississippi Valley Dutchmen combined their talents for a jam session to the delight of the audience.

Dancers at the Amerahn last weekend made the most of the lively music at Heat Wave Polka Fest.

The sixth annual HEAT-WAVE Polka Fest was held at Amerahn last weekend. Hosts for this festive event was the Goodtime Dutchmen of St. Michaels, or better known as the Thull Family.

On Friday, the Top Notchmen of Chippewa Falls entertained more than 400 people who came to dance to their type of western/polka music. They alternated hourly with the Goodtime Dutchmen.

The former Michelle Thull, (daughter of Ralph Thull) and her husband Dan "kicked off" the full day of music on Saturday with their band called Kick. Starting at 11 a.m. the Kick Band and the Bill Thull Orchestra alternated. At 4 p.m. the Thull family presented a polka mass with Father Strupp officiating.

In the evening, Brian's Mississippi Valley Dutchmen from Cashton,

Wisconsin and the Jerry Schneider Band of Chilton took on the duties of supplying the music for over 600 people. The best part of the evening was when the two bands put their talents together and gave the audience a real treat with full big band music.

With the different styles of dancing, came the people from different states, and they showed off their loyalty to their favorites. Five states, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota and Illinois were all represented, besides the north-western part of the state of Wisconsin.

Ladies wearing colorful full skirts and men wearing matching shirts, was just one way to tell anyone, to just get out there on the dance floor and swing, swirl and two step! Amateurs stand back, the professionals were showing off their dance styles!

To top off the Heat Wave Polka Fest on Sunday, the Goodtime Dutchmen and the John Roehl Orchestra of Howards Grove alternated hourly and provided music until 6 p.m.

Over 1000 people attended the two-and-a-half day event and organizer Ralph Thull said Heat Wave Polka Fest for 2002 is already in place for the third week in January at the Amerahn Ballroom.

Ralph Thull, the band leader or the Goodtime Dutchman was voted as the 2001 Orchestra Leader of the Year by the Wisconsin Orchestra Leaders Association.

This writer hopes to see more Kewaskum-ites out on the dance floor next year...supporting our local talented residents who are very popular in the Midwest.

25 Years Ago

February 6, 1976

Seven northbound Chicago and North Western Railway freight cars derailed two miles north of Kewaskum in Fond du Lac County near County Trunk V at about 11:55 a.m. last Wednesday. Two hundred feet of train track was torn up when a truck-form broke off a box car. The accident forced the re-routing of three trains and required a train wrecker from Appleton and automotive wreckers from Butler to be sent up to clear the debris. Five of the cars were carrying paper and the other two were empty. A dollar damage estimate of the loss was not known. One car was said to be demolished while others suffered some damage.

Representatives of the Kewaskum Jaycees and Lions Club appeared before the Kewaskum Village Board on Monday to discuss plans for the purchase of new Christmas decorations. Speaking on behalf of the Lions Club, Homer Schaub discussed whether or not the board would be willing to pay for half of the cost of new Christmas decorations, with the Lions Club and other service organizations providing the remainder of the money. He reported to have spoken to several other community organizations, including the Kiwanis Club, and they seemed to be in favor of the idea. This proposal was accepted unanimously and was referred to a committee to determine what type of decorations will be needed.

Kiwanis Students for the Month of January are Diane Strack and Roy Peterson. Diane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Strack of Kewaskum and Roy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Peterson of rural West Bend.

Things went wrong at Grafton Friday night and resulted in the Kewaskum Indians losing their first conference game, 67-57. They are now 8-1 and the setback decreased their lead to two games over three teams tied for second place. The Indians ran into free throw trouble, foul trouble and injury trouble. They couldn't buy a free throw in the first half. Kewaskum's two big boys, scorers and rebounders, Jack Kern and Leon Laatsch, were both in early foul trouble. The 6-4 Kern sat out most of the third quarter with four fouls and Leon Laatsch fouled out with 4:42 left in the fourth quarter. Tom Rohlinger and Scott Tessar also had four fouls and their play was limited. And to top it off, Jim Bilgo suffered an ankle injury that put him out for the rest of the game. With 6-5 Tom Edwards already out with an injury, Bilgo's injury hurt all the more, thinning the ranks and casting a shadow on the team's future.

A daughter, Sharyl Ann, to Harvey and Kathie Ramthun, Kewaskum, on January 27, at St. Mary's Hospital, Milwaukee.

A daughter was also born to Dr. Dennis and Carol Connors, West Bend, February 3, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Milwaukee.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ELROY 'SAMMY' UELMEN, who passed away one year ago, 2-6-00.

Quietly I'm remembering you
In the silence of my heart.
Each thought of you a treasure
While we are now apart.

At times I'm filled with longing,
Your face I'd love to see.
To feel your warmth, to hear your voice,
To have you here with me.

But God has a plan; He created you
And numbered all your days.
May he hold you in his loving arms
And surround me with his grace.

With the hope of reunion in Heaven one day,
I entrust you to his care.
Cherished memories of you live on in my heart,
Your life is a gift we share.

Sadly missed by your wife and family.

Add Spark to Your Lovelife This Valentine's Day

Spark up your love life with these quick tips from Liya Lev Oertel, author of "52 Romantic Evenings".

1. Tell each other, "I love you" first thing in the morning and just before you fall asleep. You may get so used to hearing that as the last words of the day, you might not be able to fall asleep unless you hear them.

2. Leave notes for each other with loving (or sexy) messages. Choose frequently seen places, like the fridge or bathroom mirror, or unexpected places, like the briefcase, wallet, or sock drawer. Update the messages every week. A faded sticky note on the fridge might send the wrong message. Have a secret stash of funny, romantic cards. When your partner travels for work, smuggle an inscribed card into the suitcase.

3. If you have kids, arrange a weekly or monthly evening with a babysitter, grandparent, or friend - same time every time - and go out (or stay in), just the two of you. If only for a few hours, this standing date will be something you can put on your calendar so you can both look forward to it.

4. Make ordinary meals special. Light candles, even if you are sending out for pizza; pour something sparkling into wine glasses; place a flower in a bud vase; turn off the TV and play some romantic music. Those are all simple, inexpensive, and fast touches that will turn any dinner into a romantic occasion.

5. Have some sweet or funny pet names for each other, and use them. Just don't let those pet names become habitual. Be aware of what the names mean and why you use them. For example, don't call each other sweetie pie in the middle of a heated argument.

6. Take walks together and hold hands, even if you are also pushing a stroller.

7. Dust off all the silky little nothings you have accumulated but probably never wear, and wear them.

8. Create a Romance Collection Jar, and empty all your silver change and a dollar or two into it every evening. Once the jar is full, do something fun with it - a restaurant you want to try, a show you would like to see, and so on. Collecting the money builds anticipation, which is part of the experience. Make a list of restaurants, shows, movies, and so on, and hang the list next to the jar. Or, to make decision even easier, cut the list into strips and keep them in a container.

9. On little strips of paper write romantic things to do that require little or no preparation: dining out in a restaurant, taking a walk, going for a scenic drive, having a picnic, reading poetry to each other, taking a bubble bath, giving each other a massage, dancing in the living room or the backyard, stargazing, and anything else you think is romantic. Place the strips into a bowl, jar, box, or whatever, labeled Romance Helpers. When you feel like doing something romantic but don't know what, just pull out a romantic idea and make a plan of action.

10. Have some daily rituals to bring you together: an hour of watching a favorite program on TV while cuddling on the couch; a daily walk after dinner; eating dinner together every night; and so on. These rituals can involve the kids as well, as with dinner or a walk, for example. You might ask, how is that romantic? Having fun together is romantic, no matter what you might be doing. If you take people who love each other, confine them to a small space, and have them tickle and laugh together, you get closeness, enjoyment, and as an offshoot, romance.

Try An Uncommercialized Valentine's Day This Year

What makes Valentine's Day special - heart-shaped jewelry? Exorbitantly priced red roses? Crowded restaurants? Expensive, fancy boxes of chocolates? The answer is "none of the above." What makes this day special is caring, thoughtfulness, and a personal touch. We are all different, so how can a cookie-cutter Valentine's Day please everyone? Does she really like or wear anything heart-shaped? Is he allergic to chocolate? Would she much rather have a cactus than roses?

A day created to celebrate your love for each other is a wonderful thing. One day cannot replace a year's worth of caring and loving, but we should take advantage of Valentine's Day to reaffirm our feelings for each other and to take the time to express how much we value and appreciate that special person in our lives.

So take the spirit of Valentine's Day, shed the commercial trappings, and spend more time than money to create a day that is very personal for you and your Valentine. The gifts of your time, thoughtfulness, and imagination are the most valuable you can give, and they will be hugely appreciated.

Below you will find five suggestions for reclaiming Valentine's Day from the retailers and making it your own, from a book, "52 Romantic Evenings" (Meadowbrook Press). It includes an evening called "Be My Valentine," in addition to being stuffed with romantic suggestions that can be used on Valentine's Day and every other day of the year.

1. Make your own card. Depending on your talents and inclinations, the card can be a crayon-and-doily creation, or a collage of magazine cutouts, or a watercolor masterpiece. It can be tiny or huge. The key is to make it as personal to your relationship as possible. Use photographs of the two of you, illustrate pet names (kittens, jars of honey, stallions, and so on), include pictures of your dream house/car/vacation, attach ticket stubs from meaningful events or trips, and anything else that is personally relevant.

2. When choosing flowers, think about what your Valentine likes; perhaps it's tulips, carnations, Gerber daisies, or flowering cacti? Maybe a Bonsai tree would be particularly appropriate. Or decorate a few evergreen branches with red twinkle lights for a wonderfully romantic and unusual bouquet. According to the majority of women and florists asked, most women prefer creative alternatives to the standard red dozen, so be as creative as you like.

3. Go beyond a heart-shaped box of store-bought chocolates. Maybe your Valentine just doesn't like or is allergic to chocolate. No need to cancel Valentine's Day. Simply create an assortment of favorite cookies, berries, nuts, or other delectables, arranged in a pretty box or wrapped with colorful cellophane.

4. Create your own assortment of romantic and meaningful songs instead of buying a pre-packaged CD. For a little over ten dollars, you can make a custom CD of your special songs at such places as www.musicmaker.com and www.ktek.com. Or consider recording yourself - on tape, video, or CD - singing "your" song to your Valentine. The effort and sentiment will generously make up for whatever you may lack in talent and this recording will become a cherished memento.

5. Forgo the restaurants crowded with hundreds of Valentine couples and celebrate your love for each other in private. Offer a feast of take-out foods or homemade delicacies as a picnic on your living room floor, on a roof or balcony (where weather-appropriate), in a hotel room or an apartment/house borrowed from a friend for the evening. Light candles, decorate in red or in your Valentine's favorite color, make a tent out of sheets or blankets for extra fun and privacy, put something bubbly on ice, and dress the way you feel. In the right setting, any food can be romantic - from hamburgers to shrimp - as long as you leisurely feed the meal to each other, silverware optional.

Heart of Hearts

by Ami

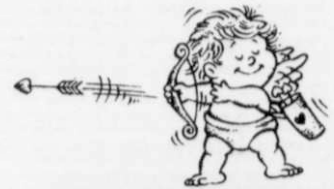

Valentine's Day, when we were children, had great meaning for most teachers saw to it that we planned to give our other classmates a special valentine. For some of us, we went out and bought valentines. Many others made their own right in the classroom. Our boy friends usually had fun making up comical verses for our home-made valentines. The day provided one and all with fun things to do, say and share! Especially the one we gave the teacher.

I always was amazed how my father usually gave our farm animals a special treat telling them that "this was Valentine's Day," a special time to show our love for others...be it a box of candy, fruit, or some kind of special shared offering. Even our farm dog was provided something really special

I, being the family naturalist, saw to it that a pack of corn cobs was placed in our woods for the deer and pheasants to enjoy. The task done, my heart always warmed to the experience of sharing with ALL OF MY FRIENDS; not just those who were human. Perhaps that is the real message of Valentine's Day? And if so, let us have a fun, sharing time all across our home communities.

Let our hearts swell with the understanding that thanking thru sharing can be a wonderful time each February on Valentine's Day.

DNR Outdoor Report

January 30, 2001

Rain fell throughout southern and central Wisconsin, but (by the above date) many state parks and forests had not had an opportunity to update trail conditions. Due to the heavy snow base on the ground, most of the state continues to have snow cover.

However, skiing and snowmobiling in the southern part of the state will likely be hard and icy until more snow arrives. Quite a few candlelight skis are scheduled at parks and forests over the next two weekends, and anyone planning on attending one in southern Wisconsin should call first for conditions.

Some southern counties are again reporting that they have closed snowmobile trails and others are reporting that snowmobile trails that are open are in poor condition. Northern Wisconsin received some snow, on top of up to six inches that fell in areas of the north last week. Snowmobile and cross-country conditions in the north continue to be reported from good to excellent.

Many parts of northern Wisconsin continue to report very slushy conditions on lakes and that any kind of vehicle traffic is difficult, with both snowmobiles and trucks getting bogged down in the slush. The rain that fell in southern Wisconsin made travel on lakes more difficult until the state received colder temperatures.

Ice fishing has continued to be good in most locations for northern pike and panfish, but has slowed in much of the north for walleyes, with the exception of some good action reported from Caldron Falls flowage in Marinette County. Some excellent perch fishing is being reported on Eagle River and St. Germain area waters.

In the south, ice fishing continues to be slow throughout the Mississippi River sloughs. Some bluegill action was being reported from Wisconsin River backwaters. Panfishing has generally remained fair to good on many other southern waters, with some very good bluegill action reported on Waukesha County waters, including Beaver, North and Oconomowoc lakes.

Lake Geneva has been good for perch, crappies and some northern pike. Fishing has picked up at the narrows of Lake Delavan for northern and perch during the day and walleyes and crappies at night.

Perch fishing has slowed on Lake Mendota, but remained good on other Madison area lakes, where some nice northern and walleyes were also reported. Crappies and perch were biting on Sauk County's Lake Redstone and Dutch Hollow Lake has been producing some crappies and bluegills, along with a few walleyes.

Along Lake Michigan, anglers have moved out three or four miles on Green Bay, but perch action continues to be reported as slow. In Port Washington, anglers near the power plant discharge have been catching a few brown trout. In Milwaukee, anglers working near the Summerfest grounds have been catching fair numbers of perch and brown trout.

Squirrels have been very active as their mating season is approaching, but the hunting season for squirrels and for raccoons closed Wednesday, January 31.

With the hard level of snow now covering the ground, coyote hunters have been having a lot of success. Rabbit hunters are enjoying the mild temperatures and an abundance of snowshoe hares have been reported in the Park Falls area.

There are many Bald Eagles remaining near open water areas along the Wisconsin and Mississippi River, and eagles are also being seen in inland areas near large farms and along flowing streams. Many rough-legged hawks are also being seen around the state. These large hawks prefer expansive, open areas to hunt their main prey of rodents. Their typical hunting style includes hovering in mid-air before diving on their prey.

Record Numbers of Permits Issued For Spring Turkey Hunting Season

MADISON - A record 150,403 permits were issued for the 2001 Wisconsin spring turkey season, an increase of almost 15% over the spring 2000 turkey season, according to permit application information compiled by the state Department of Natural Resources.

Of the total permits issued, 23,726 were second permits issued to successful applicants, an increase of 53 percent from last year's 15,505 second permits issued.

Successful applicants should be starting to receive permits at the end of January. Applicants who have not received a permit by February 12, can contact a local DNR Service Center for the status of their application.

"The interest in wild turkey hunting in Wisconsin continues to increase," said Keith Warnke, upland game ecologist with the DNR Bureau of Wildlife Management. "The popularity and challenge presented by this game bird are reflected in the fact that we received more than 139,500 permit applications. That is an increase of 3% over last year when 135,360 hunters applied for permits."

The 2001 spring turkey season's five-day hunting time periods will occur from April 11 to May 20. The season will be open in 41 turkey management zones plus 12 state park zones. Each management zone has its own permit levels ranging from a high of 15,000 to a low of 300. Six of the state parks hold hunts only for hunters with disabilities. Additional opportunities to turkey hunt on private lands will also be available to hunters with disabilities who have a class A or C permits.

Free Turkey Hunter Education Clinics will again be offered this year around the state. These free clinics are presented by volunteer instructors, and are sponsored by the Wisconsin DNR, local chapters of the National Wild Turkey Federation. These clinics will be held during February, March, and April. The clinics cover the basics of turkey hunting: hunting techniques, turkey calling, hunting safety and turkey biology.

The list of clinics will be sent to successful permit applicants with their spring turkey permits. The clinic list will also be available at DNR Service Centers and on the DNR website www.dnr.state.wi.us.

Over $21,000 Contributed To Big Brothers/Big Sisters

WEST BEND - Local individuals, businesses and organizations showed their support of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Washington County by contributing over $21,000 to the non-profit agency's annual capital campaign.

"We'd like to thank everyone in the community who gave to the campaign this year," said Ellen Evensen, Executive Director of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Washington County. "This fundraising effort is very important to our organization because the dollars raised go directly to fund the one-on-one mentoring matches that are the cornerstone of the Big Brother/Big Sister program."

Although the 2000 capital campaign raised a significant amount of money for the program, it did not reach the $30,000 goal. With more than fifty children waiting to be matched to a Big Brother or Big Sister, the shortfall will be felt. It costs the agency approximately $1,000 a year to support each match.

Contributions can still be made to the organization by contacting Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Washington County at (262) 334-7896.

Cold, Hard Facts: Wisconsin Winter's Tough on Livestock

MADISON - Wisconsin's staring Old Man Winter square in the face, and it's not pretty.

December's deep freeze and deeper snows are just the beginning, the National Weather Service says. The weather service predicts winter temperatures in Wisconsin averaging 6 to 8 degrees below normal, and at least three more severe cold spells like the one that gripped the state in mid-December. That means livestock need extra care, whether the animals are indoors, outdoors, or on the road.

"We don't need to tell most farmers and truckers to take extra precautions, but every year we find a few who just don't realize that animals are no better equipped to survive severe weather than humans are," says state humane officer Dr. Yvonne Bellay of the Division of Animal Health. "Animals can suffer from hypothermia, frostbite and other cold weather injuries, and harsh conditions weaken their immune systems and open the door to illness. Calves and swine are especially susceptible to cold."

"You need to think about extra nutrition, plenty of good bedding, and protection from winds and moisture," Bellay says. "And you need to have healthy animals going into winter. Look for early signs of disease and for parasites. Calves may be particularly susceptible to pneumonia as the temperature drops. Be particularly careful with animals that have been indoors and are now outdoors. If they're not acclimated, they'll suffer more winter ills."

Bellay offers further advice to keep animals comfortable and productive during the winter's worst:

Shelter - Wind chill carries body heat away from animals just as it does from humans. Generally, a 20-mph wind is about equal to a 30-degree drop in temperature. Make sure animals have a place to get out of the wind, even if it is just a windbreak or a three-sided shelter. Make sure shelters are not located where other buildings deflect wind and snow into the shelter.

Food - Animals burn extra calories to keep warm in severe cold. If they stay outdoors, they will need more food than usual - and good quality food. As a general rule, nutrient requirements increase about 1% for every degree that the temperature falls below 20 degrees F. Horses' nutrition requirements increase below 45 degrees F.

Water - Provide access to fresh water - not frozen streams or snow - daily. Stock tank heaters and frost-proof waterers will ensure that livestock get enough to drink.

Bedding - Plenty of dry bedding will insulate udders and legs from frostbite.

Moisture - Long hair or fleece insulates only when it is dry. Wet or muddy hair or fleece loses insulating ability and actually cools the animal as it dries.

Transportation - Even temperatures near freezing can be fatal to animals in a truck - especially calves and swine - when the wind can whistle in or rain can soak their coats. Cover openings in the vehicle box to cut wind chill and keep rain out, but allow some air to pass over the animals for ventilation. Provide a deep bed of dry straw for calves younger than four weeks or for any swine.

"It's not only the humane thing to do to keep livestock as warm and dry as you can, but it's also a way to keep your animals producing and protect your investment in them," Bellay says.

Good News From the Lab: No TB in Suspicious Whitetail

MADISON - Think negative.

That's not advice you hear too often, but it's just what agriculture and wildlife officials did for two months while they waited to hear whether a whitetail deer from Shawano County carried bovine tuberculosis. January 23 the laboratory results came back - negative - and there was an official sigh of relief.

Bovine TB is a contagious respiratory disease that attacks cattle as well as whitetail deer and other warm-blooded animals. An epidemic in northeastern Lower Michigan started in wild whitetails and spread to cattle and elk on farms.

A hunter legally shot the deer in Shawano County. When he brought the carcass to a Manitowoc County meat-processing plant, a butcher noticed lesions in the chest cavity.

The plant owner called a meat inspector from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection. Although the department does not normally inspect meat from wild animals, the lesions raised enough suspicion to merit taking samples. The inspector in turn notified a veterinarian from the department's Food Safety Division, who prepared the sample and shipped it to the National Veterinary Services Laboratory in Ames, Iowa. The deer carcass was destroyed.

The test for bovine TB requires laboratory culturing, or growing, the bacteria that cause the disease. This takes 4-12 weeks. If the bacteria do not grow in that time, the test is negative.

In 1996, the agriculture department and the Department of Natural Resources collected lymph nodes from deer shot in parts of the state where deer and cattle populations were dense and overlapping. In 1997, the two agencies collected and tested lymph nodes from deer killed in areas where farm elk herds had been infected with TB. All these tests came back negative. The DNR also collected tissue samples at nine registration stations during opening weekend of the regular gun season in November 2000, surveying for TB and other diseases.

"Those were all samples for routine surveillance, taken from animals that showed no symptoms of TB. This is the first time we've found lesions that looked as if they could be caused by tuberculosis, so we were more worried," said state veterinarian Dr. Clarence Siroky of the agriculture department's Animal Health Division. "There are other diseases that mimic tuberculosis and cause these lesions, but those diseases aren't particularly threatening to wildlife of domestic animals, so we don't test for all of them."

Bovine TB poses little human health threat. The real threat is an economic one to farmers if their herds become infected, and to the state's position in the national and world market for dairy cattle. The U.S. Department of Agriculture classifies Wisconsin TB-free, which means the state's cattle can be exported without the cost and inconvenience of testing. Should the state lose that TB-free status, markets could close to Wisconsin dairy cattle.

"We're stepping up our surveillance on farms and in cattle slaughter plants, and the DNR's been doing a good job with its routine surveillance of wild whitetail deer. But this incident shows one more checkpoint that we can use. I'd hope all the butchers processing deer are as alert as this one was," Siroky said.

KHS Boys Drop To 2-7 in EWC

The Kewaskum boys basketball team traveled to Roncalli for an Eastern Wisconsin Conference game on Thursday, January 25. The Indians lost the game 60-55, dropping them to 2-7 in the conference. The team is 4-9 overall.

MVPs for the night were Tony Fitts and Chris Canter who played great defense. "Canter and Fitts were assigned the duty of guarding Roncalli's high scoring guard Andy Jahnke and held him to only 11 points going into the third quarter," stated coach Dave Nordeng.

Travis Kempf put on a great show by scoring 20 points for the team. Kempf also had seven rebounds for the night.

Kevin Miller led the team in assists with seven and along with Charlie Sparks had eight rebounds each.

"Our strategy was to run a diamond (four-man zone) and one (man-to-man) defense against Roncalli to disrupt their offensive flow and take away Jahnke," coach Nordeng commented after the game. "Kewaskum held a 52-50 lead late in the game but were unable to finish it off thanks to some clutch free throws by the Jets."

KHS Girls Fall to Ozaukee

OZAUKEE - The Ozaukee High School girls basketball team used good passing and shooting to win a nonconference game over Kewaskum 61-42 on Tuesday night January 30th.

Ashlie Paulus of Ozaukee and Dani Nass of Kewaskum, both juniors, put on an offensive show in the first quarter as they scored 12 and nine points respectively for their teams. Heather Rieder of Kewaskum and Courtne Paulus of Ozaukee each also scored four points for their team in the first quarter which added up to a 16-13 Ozaukee lead.

Nass led all scorers with 17 points and Ashlie Paulus led Ozaukee with 16 points.

In the second quarter Ozaukee passed the ball very effectively on offense and seven different players scored a total of 16 points in the quarter for Ozaukee compared to just nine points for Kewaskum.

Ozaukee's motion offense resulted in some easy baskets as the Kewaskum defense on the weak side had trouble stopping the Ozaukee attack. Baskets by Rieder, Bridget Polzean, and Cassie Patterson did however, cut the Warrior lead to only five points 24-19, but then Ozaukee outscored Kewaskum 8-3 to increase their lead to 32-22 at the end of the first half.

Kewaskum again managed to just score nine points in the third quarter, while Trisha Trill picked up the scoring load for Ozaukee and scored seven of her 13 points in the third quarter to put Ozaukee ahead 44-31. Kewaskum's only points came on a three pointer by Rieder, a basket and two free throws by Colleen Gosa and a basket by Nass.

Even though Kewaskum struggled offensively, Kewaskum did a very good job controlling the boards as Kewaskum out rebounded Ozaukee 41-25. Gosa had a game high 16 rebounds, while Nass also collected 12 rebounds and blocked five shots.

Nass and Katie Klug each scored a basket at the start of the fourth quarter to cut the lead to 44-35, but Ozaukee responded by scoring 11 unanswered points to effectively put the game out of reach at 55-35.

A basket by Nass sandwiched between two free throws by Gosa made the score 55-39. A free throw by Emily Rinzel and a basket by Cassie Patterson in the waning moments resulted in Kewaskum's 42 points.

The loss dropped Kewaskum's record to 3-13 overall. The Indian's Eastern Wisconsin Conference record is 1-10.

Kewaskum made 17-46 shots from the floor for 37% and was hurt by 28 turnovers for the game. Nass connected on eight of 11 shots for 73%.

Kewaskum scoring: Nass 17, Rieder 9, Gosa 6, Patterson 4, Katie Klug 3, Polzean 2, Rinzel 1. Total 42.

Ozaukee scoring: A. Paulus 16, T. Thill 13, C. Paulus 10, Mayer 7, A. Thill 6, Bares 4, Schueller 3, Dieringer 1, Lubnow 1. Total 61.

Kewaskum rebounds: Gosa 16, Nass 12, Patterson 3, Rieder 2, Logan 2, Rinzel 1, Koth 1, Polzean 1.

Kewaskum blocks: Nass 5, Gosa 1.

Kewaskum steals: Gosa 2, Jenny Koth 2, Nass 1.

Kewaskum assists: Rieder 2, Rinzel 2, Gosa 1.

Raiders Overpower Lady Indians

KEWASKUM - The Plymouth girls basketball team used their superior athleticism and fine team work to overpower the Kewaskum Indians 49-34 in a conference game Thursday, February 1st.

Kewaskum did an outstanding job holding Plymouth's 6' 1" center, Tanya Guell, to no points in the first quarter. Kewaskum used a match up defense, three-quarter fronted the Plymouth star and had the Kewaskum guards sag whenever Plymouth attempted to get the ball down low to Guell.

Kewaskum jumped out to a quick 5-2 lead on a two point and three point basket by Heather Rieder. Kewaskum repeatedly stopped the Plymouth attack early in the first quarter, but failed to capitalize on their tough defense. Four turnovers and poor shooting by Kewaskum gave Plymouth ample opportunity to gain the lead and finished the first quarter on top 9-5.

Kewaskum was soon behind 11-5, but Bridget Polzean made a three point play (a two point basket and the awarded free throw) to cut the Plymouth lead to 11-8. Plymouth proceeded to then score eight unanswered points to go on top 19-9.

A basket by Dani Nass and four three throws by Colleen Gosa cut the deficit to 19-14. A basket by Emily Rinzel was countered by a basket by Guell and the score at the end of the first half was Plymouth 23 - Kewaskum 16.

Plymouth's half court trap in the second quarter caused Kewaskum problems as they stole the ball twice and easily converted each time. Kewaskum had six more turnovers in the second quarter.

Plymouth's Guell scored her second basket of the game to open the third quarter and Gosa responded with a jumper for two points to keep the margin at seven points 25-18. Two free throws by Guell and one each by teammates Maas and Hand stretched the Plymouth lead to 29-18, before Jenny Koth made a three pointer to make the score 29-21.

Plymouth scored once more to make the score 33-21 at the end of the third quarter. The scoring by Gosa and Koth were the only points scored by Kewaskum in the third quarter. The Plymouth defense held Heather Rieder scoreless in both the second and the third quarter.

A basket by Rieder and two baskets by Nass were not enough as the score ballooned to 47-27. Plymouth's power offense just wore down the Indians. Another basket by Nass, a free throw by Rinzel and baskets by Jenny Logan and Katie Klug concluded the scoring for Kewaskum.

Kewaskum shot 6-7 from the free throw line and Plymouth shot 10-14. Kewaskum out rebounded Plymouth 37-34. Gosa had a team high eight rebounds followed by seven by Nass and six by Rieder and Cassie Patterson.

The loss dropped Kewaskum's record to 3-14 overall. The Indian's Eastern Wisconsin Conference record is 1-11.

Kewaskum scoring: Nass 8, Rieder 7, Gosa 6, Rinzel 3, Polzean 3, Koth 3, Logan 2, Klug 2. Total 34.

Kewaskum rebounds: Gosa 8, Nass 7, Rieder 6, Patterson 6, Rinzel 4, Polzean 3, Koth 2, Klug 1. Total 37.

Kewaskum assists: Rinzel 3, Gosa 2, Polzean 2, Koth 2, Rieder 1, Koth 1.

Plymouth scoring: Guell 14, Maas 7, Kreibich 6, Krueger 6, Romito 6, Klemme 5, Perrone 2, Schuette 2, Hand 1. Total 49.

KHS Boys Win Over Plymouth

The Kewaskum boys basketball team traveled to Plymouth to play in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference game on Tuesday, January 30. The Indians overcame Plymouth 43-40.

"I told the kids that rebounding and turnovers would be to story of the game - we out rebounded them 43-27 and held our turnovers to 14," Coach Dave Nordeng stated.

Travis Kempf was the MVP of the game due to his 20 rebounds.

Charlie Sparks led the team in points with 16 and also had eight rebounds.

Chris Canter was the assist leader with three.

Tony Fitts led the team in steals with four.

"We went down 12-5 in the second quarter and battled back to tie the game at 30-30 late in the third quarter. With a 39-37 lead and about two minutes left in the game, Ted Wegner from Plymouth broke free for an open three pointer to give Plymouth a short lived 40-29 lead. Kewaskum then shot four out of five from the line with Canter two for two and Sparks two for two to steal the victory," said coach Nordeng.

The team is now 3-7 in the conference at 5-9 overall.

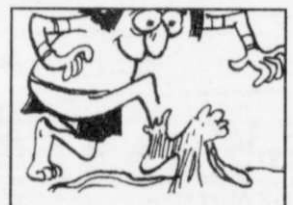

Indians Lose to Sheboygan Falls

On Friday, February 2, the KHS boys basketball team hosted the Sheboygan Falls Falcons in an EWC game. Kewaskum lost the game 56-49.

Charlie Sparks, who coach Dave Nordeng stated played another solid all-around game, was the MVP for the night. Sparks had an awesome game due to scoring 23 points for the team. He, along with fellow teammate Travis Kempf, led the team in assists with six each.

Coach Nordeng stated that there were three stretches that cost the Indians the game. 1) In the second quarter, the team didn't anticipate the Falcons netters well. 2) A cold spell shooting at the start of the third quarter. 3) Missing five FT's in the fourth quarter.

The Indians are now 3-8 in the conference and 5-10 overall.

The Mayan and other Latin American Indians made rubber shoes by dipping their feet in latex and letting it dry on them.
