Board Discusses School Start Day; Knife Incident Reported

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

The Kewaskum Board of Education met Monday evening to discuss a full agenda.

The board started off by approving the payroll and accounts payable report in the amount of $1,346,284.54.

Past board president Jean Goeden addressed the board in regards to a knife incident at KES in a fifth grade phy-ed class. Goeden asked the board if any of the board members were aware of the incident. Nothing was said.

District superintendent Wayne Graczyk said in a phone interview that the knife in question was a 1 1/2" device. The device was confiscated after the building principal was notified. No one was injured. The student received a one day in-school suspension. The Kewaskum School's police liaison officer Troy Ellis was contacted and according to Graczyk, Ellis said what was used could not be considered a dangerous weapon. Upon interviewing students Graczyk said none of the students were threatened.

"The incident was dealt with quickly" said Keith Kriewaldt, KES principal.

Business Manager Paul Reichert addressed the board with a building update. He stated that he wanted to publicly commend Rex Bindrich, the construction foreman of C.D. Smith for all his efforts in allowing the district to hold the well attended walk-through of the school on Sunday.

He went on to say that construction of the administration building should commence this week. Landscaping of sidewalks and curb/gutter is already starting at KES. Everything is running on time as planned.

Under new business the board voted to give the town of Scott the school bell and flag pole from Beechwood Elementary.

The Kewaskum Auxiliary Personnel (KAP) contract was ratified by the board after two years of negotiations.

Board member Lisa Maul again opposed the idea of KHS students furthering their education at area colleges on the school district's dime. Students are allowed to take courses at UW-Washington County or Moraine Park Technical College if those courses are not available at KHS.

Maul and other board members agreed that this year's list looked better than those in the past as far as courses the students were taking. The motion passed with everyone but Maul voting in favor of the requests.

District residents, students and businesses will have a chance to voice their opinion on when school will start and end. A survey is being mailed to all district residents, some businesses and students. State law now says school is to start after Labor Day.

The survey presents four options. If students start after Labor Day public perception is that students will have to go to school until mid June. This could be avoided by the teachers waiving a portion of their contract that states they are given a week for Easter vacation.

The board agreed to waive the last snow make-up day so students will end their school year on June 7.

The board selected two appraisers for BES. Three bids came in. The board chose Quality Appraisal who bid $1,800 and Commercial Appraisal Services who bid $2,000.

They approved a teaching contract for Kevin Hein who will be replacing Dave Stradtman who is retiring at the end of the year.

Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

The Kewaskum American Legion, Robert G. Romaine Post 3844, and the Women's Auxiliary will hold its annual Easter Egg Hunt for Children in River Hill Park at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 14.

All area children are invited to participate in this annual scramble for colored eggs. This year as in the past, Mr. and Mrs. Easter Bunny will stop by to visit with the kiddies, courtesy of the Kewaskum Junior Women's Club.

Children age five and under will "hunt" eggs on the west side of the river and those ages six through ten will do their hunting on the east side of the river. The limit is six eggs per basket.

Chocolate Easter eggs being given to all the little egg "hunters" were donated by Gil and Chris Delario.

In case of inclement weather, Legion members will hand out eggs at Legion Hall, 1538 Fond du Lac Ave., in the Village.

KMS Student Ties for First At Statewide Competition

On Saturday, April 7, Kewaskum Middle School eighth grader Samantha Hedlund competed in a statewide German Speaking Contest at Ripon College in Ripon.

The contest was sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of German and was open to all Wisconsin middle and high school students enrolled in German. Samantha became eligible for the state competition when she earned 39.5 out of 40 points to place second at the Regional Competition held in March at Rufus King High School in Milwaukee.

Other Kewaskum eighth graders to compete at the regional level were: Natasha Klein, Kim Krogman, Leah Sabel and Leslie Schultz.

Students competing in the speaking contest had to present a memorized poem where they earned points for pronunciation, intonation, physical presence, and fluency.

They also had to speak for one to two minutes in German on a topic randomly selected from a group of cards. Students were then given three - five minutes preparation time before appearing in front of a judge or judges who graded them on language skills, speaking skills, and physical presence.

On Saturday, Samantha again earned 39.5 points in these above two categories thus tying for first place at the Middle School level with Ann Yuan from Wisconsin Hills MS in Brookfield.

Samantha's German teacher is Karen Diemer McLaughlin.

Tornado and Severe Weather Awareness Week April 16-20

Governor Scott McCallum has proclaimed April 16-20, 2001 as Tornado and Severe Weather Awareness Week in Wisconsin.

The campaign is to remind people of the dangers associated with tornadoes, thunderstorms, flooding and hail and to encourage citizens to take protective safety measures.

Severe weather season is right around the corner. Last year, 18 reported tornadoes touched down in Wisconsin. The severe weather season started early with a rare March 8, 2000 tornado that hit Milwaukee.

To encourage citizens to be prepared for severe weather, Wisconsin Emergency Management (WEM) and the National Weather Service (NWS) are once again promoting Wisconsin's Tornado and Severe Weather Awareness Week.

Washington County will again participate in the Statewide Tornado Safety Exercise in cooperation with the National Weather Service and Wisconsin Division of Emergency Management. It will be held Thursday, April 19, beginning with a "test" watch about 1:15 p.m. and ending with a "test" warning about 1:45 p.m. There will be no "all clear" message.

The National Weather Service will also do an evening "test" warning about 6:55 p.m. however Washington County Warning Center will not participate. This is the first time the state has conducted an evening statewide test.

The additional drill is to encourage families to take a few minutes and discuss what they would do and where they would go to safety in the event severe weather hits while they are home.

Many schools and businesses participate in the annual daytime drill. Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction and WEM have also distributed tornado and severe weather information to schools.

Getting Ready To Head Down Under

By Paul Becht

A couple weeks ago, the Kewaskum Statesman reported that I was asked to represent the state of Wisconsin in the 13th Annual Down Under Bowl held in Australia.

Last weekend I attended a meeting with the coaches and players in Wisconsin Rapids. I was surprised at the number of players there were from all over the state. It was later understood that Wisconsin had enough young men to send two teams to Australia. I will practice with my new teammates from June 12th through the 15th in Prairie du Chien. This will be our only mini-camp before we leave for Australia.

The team leaves Milwaukee June 18th. We will spend eight days in Australia and play two football games. Our first game is against Arkansas on June 21st and we will play either Pennsylvania or Hawaii on June 26th. We will then spend three days in Hawaii relaxing and will be back in Wisconsin on June 30th.

I want to thank everyone for their generous donations. With a little more than three weeks left until the May 1st deadline, I have raised almost half of the money needed for the trip. Wiseguys has donated a couple of fish fries and we have one more certificate to raffle off. The drawing will be held April 27th. Each ticket can be purchased at Amoco of Kewaskum for $2 and will also go into a larger raffle for a free trip for two to Australia to watch our Wisconsin team win.

Registration, Screening for Four-Year-Old Kindergarten

The Kewaskum School District will be offering a four-year-old kindergarten beginning in the fall of 2001. This four-year-old kindergarten will be four half days per week, Monday through Thursday. There will be a morning and an afternoon class.

The district annually screens children living in the district who are four years old. Areas of screening include speech/language, vision, hearing and readiness skills.

This year they will be offering required immunizations at the screening by the county nurse. You must bring your child's current immunization record in order to receive required immunizations. You also need to bring your child's birth certificate and social security number for registration. Your child's screening results will be mailed to you.

Though this screening is voluntary, parents are urged to have their children who will be four on or before September 1, 2001 participate.

In conjunction with this annual four-year-old screening, the district is required to provide screening for those preschool children ages three (on or before September 1, 2001) through five for whom there is reasonable cause to believe a disability exists.

Please call 626-8427 extension 8001 to schedule an appointment for the four-year-old screening, or to schedule an appointment for a three, four or five-year-old suspected of having a disability.

Screening and registration (for the four-year-old kindergarten) will be conducted April 26, 27 and 28 at the Kewaskum Elementary School.

New Spring Class at St. Joseph Convent

"The Night Sky: Ancient and Modern Views" is a course designed for the novice and amateur alike.

Participants will look at the roots of ancient and modern astronomy, where and how the stars and constellations got their names, Eurasian and Native American sky myths and modern images of deep space.

Slide-illustrated programs, star charts and maps will be used. Some outdoor viewing is planned. You are invited to bring your own binoculars. Herman Bender is the instructor for the class sessions.

For further information or to register please call the Continuing Education and Events Office at 533-8351, extension 130.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

For ten weeks in January, February and March, we again had sign language classes in our home.

We'd like to thank the 40 people who returned every week for these classes. We'd also like to thank Misty Luedtke who was in charge of teaching the young children. Misty is currently in the Interpreter Training Program in Appleton. And, Marty Vorpahl who taught the older children and adults. Marty not only taught us signs but shared what it's like to be deaf. He gave us a glimpse of the deaf world and deaf culture. Marty has become somewhat of a mentor to our family and deaf son.

There is no way I could have taught all these people, ages 5-70 alone. Misty and Marty's help was invaluable. We not only learned but had a great time doing it.

Thanks again to all. We are fortunate to be surrounded by such great people.

Sincerely,
Dick and Gina Wilson

Perkins Skis Birkebeiner

In the March 1 story submitted to the Statesman about area residents who participated in the American Birkebeiner, one name (that we now know of) was omitted. It was brought to our attention lifelong Kewaskum resident, Marv Perkins, shown above at the finish line, was also a participant in the 23K Kortelopet. Marv ran the race, for the first time, in 3:11:22. The "American Birkebeiner" (not Hayward Birkebeiner) always starts at Cable and ends at Hayward. The short race of 25 kilometers starts at Cable and ends at Cable's Telemark Lodge.

Pennies for Puppyland

With arms full of pets, KES fourth graders, from left, Ashley Gonia, Amanda Schneider, and Melissa Prunty present the $123.59 check earned through the KES grades four and five service project to Puppyland Humane Society manager Marilyn Smith.

Fourth and fifth graders at Kewaskum Elementary School earned money for local animal shelters through their "Pennies for Pets" service project, in which students secured pledges based on the number of pages they read.

Puppyland, a non-kill shelter, houses dogs, cats, birds, bunnies, and even the occasional iguana. The following is an account by fourth grader Ashley Gonia.

OUR VISIT TO PUPPYLAND By Ashley Gonia KES Grade Four

On January 10, 2001, Melissa Prunty, Amanda Schneider and I went to Puppyland Humane Society where we presented them with a check for $123.59.

When we went to Puppyland, we saw a cat that got frostbite on its ears. Unfortunately they are probably going to fall off. At Puppyland they have a lot of pets and they also adopt animals out to families. One example is Julia, who was being adopted on January 11, 2001.

This was money from the fourth and fifth grade "Pennies for Pets" service project. All of the classes earned more than $400. We also gave $300 to the Washington County Humane Society.

Correction

In regards to a photo and caption we ran in last week's edition about a donation made by the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club to the Kewaskum Fire Department. We incorrectly stated that the donation was $1,500. The correct amount donated was $7,500.

Accept our apologies for any inconvenience this caused.

Roncalli Honors Senior Students

MANITOWOC - Jamie Hardtke and Mark Kuether do the best they can to exemplify the mission of Roncalli High School.

The school administration recently selected these two seniors as Students of the Month for "moving the mission forward," which states "Roncalli High School is a Christian learning community educating the whole person in the Catholic tradition, emphasizing academic and spiritual growth."

Kuether is the son of Eileen (Thull) and Bob Kuether of Manitowoc. He is also the grandson of Cyrilla and Bill Thull of Kewaskum.

Kuether believes in the idea of a well-rounded education. He stated, "The moral compass gives you a direction in life. The Christian community helps emphasize spiritual growth."

Kuether is also the kind of person who is active behind the scenes, too. He recently completed a research project on the school's history. The 11-page document discusses facets of the school, including staff, students, athletics and fine arts.

"So people will know more about the school," he said. "It's nice to have."

Kuether also felt his school needed an alma mater, so he composed one. He stated, "It gives people more spirit and pride in their school. Everyone can come together with a song like this. It's something everyone can believe in. I hope it will encourage more participation from students when it is performed."

Besides spiritual accomplishments at Roncalli, Kuether is involved in mixed choir, band, musicals and track.

The Victory Or Easter

Submitted by:
Don Kurer

Easter is good news. In the Holy Bible, First Corinthians 15:51-58, the apostle Paul reveals an amazing truth: for the christian death is not the end of life but the threshold of immortality! Just as the Lord Jesus Christ arose from the grave, thereby conquering sin and death, so shall those who have put their trust in Him be raised to everlasting life.

Because the Savior lives and has promised, "I will come again, and receive you unto myself" (John 14:3), the christian can face the trials of life and even death with the sure hope of a glorious future in heaven.

The day is coming when the Lord Jesus shall descend from heaven with a shout of victory. At his call those christians who already have died will rise from the grave to meet Him. Those who are still alive will ascend with them in triumphant procession to be with their Lord forever (I Thessalonians 4:13-18).

Each spring God renews His promise of life. The tree's burst with fresh, new buds and leaves. The birds return with joyful sound. Nature seems to shout "Jesus Christ has risen from the dead and He is alive today. His resurrection is God's personal invitation of eternal life. "If you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you shall be saved, Romans 10:9.

Donkeys kill more people annually than plane crashes.

African Dance Troupe To Perform at UWWC

WEST BEND - Bonita Berrios says that, when you watch the famous Ko Thi African dance troupe perform, it's like a wild ride back into history. "When you see the dances, you're seeing what our ancestors saw in their village centuries ago," she said.

The dancers of the famed Milwaukee-based company will take West Bend audiences on the "trip through time" in a rare performance at the University of Wisconsin-Washington County. The performance is set for 7:30 p.m., April 20, in the university theater. UWWC is located at 400 University Drive, West Bend. The performance is open to the public.

Tickets are priced at $6 for students and seniors, and $8 for members of the general public.

Ko Thi spokesperson Berrios said audience usually get immediate and intense contact with the troupe's dances, which stem mostly from African and Caribbean folk and tribal dances. "A dance space is one of the most intimate performance spaces," she explained. "Afterwards, people come up and tell us 'I can really feel the dance and the emotion. I can really identify with it.'"

In addition to the frenetic movement onstage, she adds, each dance reaches out to the audience by telling stories straight out of African myth and history. "Each dance tells a story," she said, "and they're stories that all people can connect with. They're about joy, about sadness, about our connections with each other."

Lately, the Ko Thi troupe has experimented by working with ethnic dance troupes from other nations.

A few years ago, for instance, the troupe danced onstage with members of the Trinity Irish Dance company. Last year, Ko Thi danced onstage with members of the Minneapolis-based Ragamala dance troupe, which dances the slower, sensuous dances of India.

In those performances, she explains, Ko Thi members perform one of their intense, uninhibited African dances as the opening act. That dance is then followed by the Indian dancers, who weave their bodies slowly in intricate poses and patterns. Lastly, she says, the two troupes perform together.

"One group speeded up their dances, while the other group slowed theirs down," Berrios says. "The way they wove around each other was beautiful."

Berrios says that, while many nations have folk dances, African dance - especially - reaches out to a wide variety of audiences. The difference, she says, is the drumming.

Berrios explained that the frantic rhythms beat out by the African drummers who accompany the troupe on tour, echo and re-echo inside audience members' bodies. "Long after the performance is over," she said, "you can still feel the drums inside you."

To make reservations for the Ko Thi Dancers, please call (262) 335-5208.

Musikgarten to be Held at Kewaskum Public Library

Babies laugh. Babies cry. Babies giggle. Babies coo. What do babies most love to do? Play! They love to play with a parent. Play is one of the important activities of Musikgarten for Babies, a music and movement class that will be offered in a four-week program at the Kewaskum Public Library in May.

Music for babies? Yes! All babies are born with an aptitude for music, but research has shown that if that potential is not nurtured, it diminishes. The Musikgarten curriculum seeks to provide a setting that nurtures and encourages musical learning and is developmentally appropriate for babies. Singing, bouncing, rocking, dancing and other traveling activities get the babies moving to music. Rhymes, chants and body awareness games provide building blocks for later speech and musical development.

Babies experience music in the safe and loving arms of a parent or caregiver who is interacting with them in a very natural way. Why not consider joining other parents and babies as they sing, dance and have FUN making music?

This free introduction to Musikgarten is designed for babies up to 15 months, together with a caregiver and will last approximately 30 minutes. Lisa Clark, an elementary school teacher and certified Musikgarten instructor will lead the class. She currently co-teaches a Musikgarten class in a Little Ones group at St. Lucas Lutheran School. She will be available at the library on April 17, 2001 from 1 to 1:30 p.m. to answer any questions that you may have. The class will be held on Tuesdays from 1 to 1:30 p.m. beginning May 1st. Sign up at the library or contact Lisa Clark at 626-4540. Class size is limited.

LIBRARY LEDGER

By Steev Baker
Kewaskum Library Director
www.mwfls.org/kewaskum_lib.htm

April is National Poetry Month. A relatively new celebratory period, National Poetry Month was started by the National Academy of Poets in 1996. Since then, they annually give away free poetry books, posters, and have decorated VW bugs with magnetic poetry and traveled across the U.S. This year, they are petitioning the U.S. postal service to print a new stamp in honor of a poet.

I've been writing poetry for nearly ten years and I find that it gets more difficult with each day that I'm not doing it. It becomes hard work, like training for a marathon, and it makes you sweat. You can get out of shape easily. On a bad day, I can sit at my computer for an hour and end up with only a page of words. It takes a reader five minutes or so to read what I spent sixty minutes of my life writing.

So is this what National Poetry Month does? Celebrates the poet as a worker? Does it seek to legitimize poetry, not as an art form, but as a job admittedly not nine-to-five that someone has to do? I don't know, but I do know that National Poetry Month drags poetry out of the cellar for a few days and lets it run around in the sunshine. That's what poetry really needs, anyway, not to be accepted as important but to just be recognized as living.

People usually don't spend much time with poetry. It fades in and out of the background of life like a Christmas card, a hyper-sentimentalized bookmark, quotes taken out of context. Even in school, most kids don't get beyond Whitman or the odd Shakespeare sonnet.

My brother-in-law, who is 12, was over at our house in Saturday and discovered the magnetic poetry on our refrigerator. You know the stuff: carefully chosen poetic words, thinly sliced and magnetized so they stick to appliances like stray shreds of carrot-peelings. It's a silly thing, a toy, really, but it does get the creative juices flowing. Somehow its appealing to be presented with this scattered puzzle of words that can be visually strung together into lines of verse. In fact, my brother-in-law, who would much rather watch a football game than read anything, found himself creating little phrases rich with imagery. I was amazed at the stuff he was putting together. That's great, I encouraged, you can do the same thing with real words, too. He looked at me and shrugged, then sauntered back to the living room to play video games. But for a brief, shining moment, he realized that poetry was something possible for him to do.

In honor of this spirit of discovery and word-play, the Kewaskum Public Library is hosting a poetry reading on Tuesday, April 25 at 6 p.m. All ages are invited, families are encouraged to attend. You can read a poem you wrote, a favorite poem you know, or just introduce us to a new poet.

If you are interested in reading something specific, give me a call here at the library and let me know what you want to read.

Wrong Number

The Kewaskum Statesman announced last week that we began a new feature called "Random Acts of Kindness." However, we mistakenly transposed the number for submitting articles via the fax machine. The number should have been 626-1382.

Either Kewaskum did not have any good samaritans last week (easy to explain considering how close we are to tax time) or no one had the time to write down and send us current good deeds, because everyone is too busy trying to figure out their taxes.

But please don't forget to write us about anyone you observe committing those random acts of kindness. We really would like to give credit where credit is due. Only you can help us keep this feature alive.

Justis Clayton

The students from Mrs. Gosa and Mrs. West's Social Studies classes at Kewaskum Middle School created pop-up books as a culmination to their study of Europe.

Each student picked one country in Europe and created a book of information using slide pop-up, cut fold pop-up, and a split pop-up.

The kids then visited Kewaskum Elementary School to read their books during Library Hour. The students had a great time reading and having the little KES students try out their books. Thanks to Mrs. Roehrig for letting the seventh graders come over.

St. Joseph's Board Authorizes Formation of Health System

At its March 26, 2001 board of directors meeting, the board at St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend approved a set of resolutions that call for the formation of a new health care system which includes newly formed clinic and foundation corporations along with the hospital. Each entity will have its own board of directors. The hospital board's action is contingent upon completing successful negotiations with Advanced Health Care related to the separation of the physicians who practice at the West Bend Clinic from Advanced Health Care related to the separation of the physicians who practice at the West Bend Clinic from Advanced Health Care.

Gregory Blommel, MD, a physician who practices with the West Bend Clinic said, "We now have community leaders and physicians engaged in a common vision for a strong, community directed health care delivery system. Together, we will strive to increase specialty services in our area. Community and business leaders must understand that with the proposed governance the community not only retains control of the hospital, it gains control of the clinic."

The hospital's board of directors decided to take action at Monday's meeting because of the considerable amount of work and time required to build the clinic infrastructure and receive IRS approval. Even with Monday's approval, the earliest the clinic will be operational under the new health system is fall of 2001. The action taken Monday followed months of discussion between the West Bend Clinic doctors and the hospital over the proposed collaboration.

The health system's board of directors will link the hospital, clinic and foundation, but will have only limited reserve powers over the organizations. The health system, clinic, and foundation will be structured as not-for-profit organizations under IRS guidelines, and the hospital board will remain the same size.

The new community-driven health system board will consist of 13 voting members, eight community members and five physicians. The chief executive officer of the health system will be a non-voting member. Hospital CEO, John Reiling, reiterated statements made at public forums, "The IRS requires community control in any not-for-profit health system, meaning that physicians may be no more than 49% of the board. The health system will not transfer any funds until IRS approvals are received."

Those eight community members who will serve on the health system board are all current members of the hospital board. They include: Tom Bast, retired president of M&I First National Bank; John Duwell, senior vice president at West Bend Mutual Insurance Company; Andy Gumm, manager at Wisconsin Electric Power Company; Mark Hauser, a CPA with Kieckhafer, Dietzler, Hauser, LLP; Dan Johnson, of Johnson School Bus Service, Inc.; Mark Nielsen, recently retired CEO of Wesbar Corporation; Elaine Shanebrook, an attorney with Shanebrook and Fitzgerald Law Office, LLP and Sharon Ziegler, an active community member.

The names of the physician members who may serve on this board will not be released until after the negotiations with Advanced Healthcare have been successfully concluded.

Shanebrook observes that, "These individuals are well respected business and civic leaders. They represent a cross section of our business community including manufacturing, financial and professional business sectors. They will be strong community advocates for the new health system."

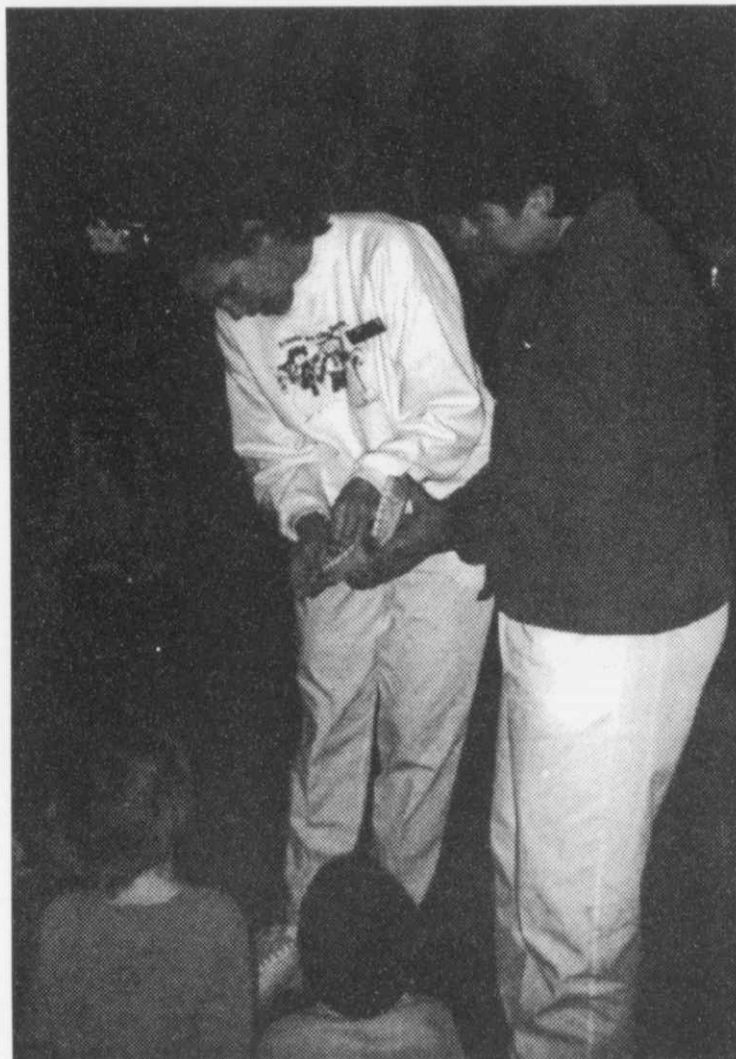

She also acknowledged that some members of KMEGH had criticized the process for nominating members to the health system board and the 8-5 complaint between community and physician members. Responding to the issue of the board composition, Shanebrook said, "The new clinic will have revenues nearly equal to the hospital, and West Bend Clinic physicians represent 70% of the admissions to the hospital. We are forming a partnership with the physicians at the West Bend Clinic and we want the structure to reflect that partnership. This system of governance and the community/physician mix on the board is consistent with similar health systems that have been formed recently."

Shanebrook affirmed that a nominating process was endorsed by the hospital board of directors, which would involve joint participation of community members and physician members. "The goal of that process will be to recruit high-quality individuals who will continue to represent a cross section of the community and who are distinguished in their business or community service work."

In direct response to a recent KMEGH ad, Shanebrook added, "The voices of the eight community members will be strong. It is inappropriate to imply that physicians will exert an anti-community sentiment, especially just after they have agreed to give up control of themselves and place themselves in the hands of a community directed system."

Little Folks School House Promotes Healthy Teeth

Pat and Jessica demonstrate how to floss correctly.

The children of Little Folks School House recently received a visit from two of Dr. Steve Van Ess's dental hygienists.

Pat and Jessica made the trip out to the child care center in Wayne to help teach the children about good dental habits. It was only fitting, as it was National Dental Health Month and the little folks were learning about their teeth as part of their curriculum.

Pat and Jessica talked about brushing and flossing. They also talked about snacking and the different types of food which are good for teeth and food which might not be so good.

They played a game of flossing with the children and watched a video titled, "Dudley's Visit to the Dentist." Before leaving, the hygienists left a toothbrush behind for each child.

The staff of the Little Folks School House help the children to brush their teeth every day after eating breakfast and lunch. Healthy dental habits is something that is talked about all year long.

Volunteers Needed for United Way

"How do your programs impact clients?" "What are the true needs of your agency?" "How are your Board volunteers involved in strategic planning for your agency?" "How do you address funding shortfalls?"

These are just some of the questions community volunteers will be asking member agencies of the United Way of Washington County as part of its 2002 Fund Distribution process in May and June.

Efforts to recruit these volunteers are underway. Chaired by United Way Board Vice President Patricia Hrobsky, this year's process is similar to those of past years, with increasing attention on the results agencies are achieving with United Way funds. United Way's emphasis has changed from just looking at units/numbers served to include program outcomes. Outcomes are the impact, behavior change or increased knowledge which program participants experience.

"This is where the rubber meets road," said Hrobsky of the process. "Many people are unaware that the Fund Distribution process is led by volunteers, who make funding decisions. Hard-earned dollars, contributed by individuals, corporations and employee groups are invested in our member agencies. The agencies' collective needs will help set the 2001 county-wide Campaign Goal, from which the 2002 funding will come."

More than 40 volunteers will be involved in this year's process, including United Way Board members and other community volunteers. United Way is in the process of recruiting people to serve in this capacity. Past participants have been contacted, but additional people are needed, too.

The time commitment includes a training session the morning of May 10th in West Bend, and the review of three or four agency applications over a five-week period. Each agency review is a face-to-face meeting that lasts about two hours, for a total time commitment of eight to ten hours during May and June. Funding recommendations are then forwarded to the United Way Board of Directors for their final deliberation and approval in late July.

Currently, the agencies are completing their Funding Applications for 2002. "The process is rewarding for the community volunteers and the agencies," said Hrobsky. "Each year, we involve different people in the funding cycle, who see firsthand what agencies are doing, and the impact United Way donations have," she said.

Executive Director Barbara Hurula commented, "Volunteers lead the process of raising and distributing United Way donations here in Washington County, reinforcing the notion that we have local control on where the dollars are directed - and there is accountability for the funds. The service performed by the Fund Distribution volunteers is vital and has wide-ranging impact. Our process is an effective and efficient way for people to have input on how United Way contributions will be invested in the community in the coming year," Hurula said.

If you are interested in serving on a Fund Distribution panel, or want more information on the process, call Hurula at United Way at 338-3821.

Hide Colored Eggs Carefully

MADISON - Clean hands, clean hiding places, uncracked shells, and refrigeration are the keys to safe Easter eggs, according to food experts with the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection.

The centuries-old tradition of celebrating spring with colored eggs ranges from the extraordinary "pysanki" eggs from the Ukraine to the Easter Bunny brought to America by German settlers in the 1700s. And despite the advent of the plastic variety, decorating and hiding real eggs remains a memorable rite of childhood in Wisconsin.

"Egg shells are actually very porous, so be careful where you hide your eggs," said Laura Murphy, DATCP food scientist. "Avoid areas where the eggs might come in contact with dirt, pets, wild animals, birds, reptiles, insects or lawn chemicals."

Other guidelines include inspecting eggs before purchase to make sure they are not dirty or cracked; storing eggs in the refrigerator except when preparing; then putting the colored eggs back in the refrigerator as soon as possible.

"The rule of thumb is not to leave the eggs unrefrigerated for more than two hours," said Murphy. "If you want to leave them out as decorations, it's best not to eat them."

For those who look forward to turning the colored beauties into egg salad, here's another tip: buy eggs one week in advance and refrigerate them. Eggs can be "too fresh" to peel easily.

For those who prefer to decorate empty eggshells, Murphy offers this procedure:

- ◆ First wash the egg using water warmer than the egg. For extra safety, rinse the egg in a mild solution of water and chlorine bleach.
- ◆ Use a sterilized long needle or skewer to prick a small hole in the small end of the egg and a large hole in the large egg.

- ◆ Use the needle to break the yolk and loosen the egg from the shell membrane.
- ◆ Shake the egg, large end down and empty into a clean container. Use the bulb of a baster to push air into the egg if necessary.
- ◆ The raw egg mixture may be used immediately or frozen and used later in baked dishes or casseroles.
- ◆ Rinse the empty shell under cool running water and stand it on end to drain and dry.

Obituary

YVONNE JONES

Yvonne (Simonet) Jones, 75, of Green Bay, passed away on Monday, April 9, 2001 at a nursing home there.

Yvonne was born on October 19, 1925 in Green Bay, the daughter of the late Clement and Evelyn (Doherty) Simonet. On January 24, 1947, she married Clayton (Kay) Jones. Clayton preceded her in death on February 25, 1993.

During her life she volunteered through programs in her parish, as a member of Service League and as a Girl Scout leader, as well as Meals on Wheels. She enjoyed playing bridge and duplicate bridge. Yvonne has lived her life as a giving person to her family, friends and all she met.

Yvonne is survived by one daughter and son-in-law, Denise and Tom Schoen, two sons and one daughter-in-law, Father Mark Jones, and Michael and Debbie Jones; four grandchildren, Jason and Kevin Schoen and Elizabeth and Matthew Jones; three sisters-in-law, Jackie White, Kathleen (Kitty) Jones, and Joyce Simonet, numerous nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by one sister and brother-in-law, Dorothy and Cy Wolfertz; one brother, Warren Simonet, and two brothers-in-law, Robert Jones and Norbert White.

Friends called from 4 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, April 10, 2001, at Schauer and Schumacher Funeral Home, 340 S. Monroe Avenue, Green Bay. A parish wake service was held at 7:30 p.m. at the funeral home.

Visitation continued after 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, April 11, 2001, at Saint Willebrord Catholic Church, 209 S. Adams Street, Green Bay.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held at 10:30 a.m. at the church with Yvonne's son, Father Mark Jones officiating and the Rev. Kenneth J. De Groot O. Praem and attending priests concelebrating.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to Unity Hospice and the American Cancer Society.

The family would like to thank the many people who have helped care for Yvonne: Dr. Lacey, Mary Ellen and the staff at the Beaumont Clinic, the nurses at Saint Vincent Hospital, especially the nurses and staff of ninth floor oncology, IMCU, the staff of pain management of Saint Vincent and Bellin Hospitals, the staff of Home Instead, Unity Hospice and Santa Maria Nursing Home.

The family also thanks relatives, friends and the neighbors of Yvonne who have given much love and support during her illness. True and caring neighbors are still present today.

When Yvonne's illness progressed, she used her time to pray for others in need. Comfort is now taken in the prayers she offers in eternal life. It is with faith that the gift of eternal life for Yvonne Jones was celebrated.

THANK YOU

A little thank you note to those who sent get well cards or who made telephone calls while I was at St. Joseph's Hospital and at home. A Special thank you to Rev. Robinson for his visits, also to Mary Kiefer, LaVern Geidel, Betty and Loran Backhaus for taking care of Frosty and to the nurses and doc who took care of me, while I was in the hospital.

Thanks to all again

Living With Grief

On Wednesday, April 18, the UW - Extension Family Living Program will join more than 2,000 organizations across the United States and Canada as a local host for the Hospice Foundation of America's Eighth Annual Living With Grief Teleconference. "Caregiving and Loss: Family Needs, Professional Responses," a live-via-satellite video teleconference, will examine ways that professionals can better understand and respond to the needs of family caregivers. This satellite conference will be held in Room 1113B of the Public Agency Center, 333 E. Washington Street in West Bend from 12:15 to 3:30 p.m. The $10 registration fee covers registration and all materials. Deadline for registration is April 16. You are welcome to bring a sack lunch.

"It is estimated that there are more than 25 million family caregivers in this country providing 80% of home care services. In many cases this valuable work is unrecognized," commented Jack D. Gordon, Chairman of the Hospice Foundation of America. "Caregiving is especially challenging for those coping with terminal illness and facing end-of-life decisions. It's important for healthcare professionals to understand the unique needs of family caregivers and assist them in ways that will provide support and understanding."

This program will offer insight and practical suggestions for those assisting family caregivers as they respond to the challenges of caregiving, make critical end-of-life decisions, and cope with their grief. The program will be moderated by Cokie Roberts of ABC News and will feature a distinguished panel of experts, with a special message from former First Lady Rosalynn Carter.

The teleconference is produced by Hospice Foundation of America, a non-profit organization that works to educate healthcare professionals and the families they serve in issues relating to terminal illness, grief and bereavement. The program is sponsored in part by a grant from the Foundation for End of Life Care, Project on Death in America of the Open Society Institute, and in cooperation with the Association for Death Education and Counseling and The Compassionate Friends. The annual broadcast reaches an estimated live audience of 150,000 people nationwide.

Ms. Roberts will moderate the two-and-one-half hour panel discussion. The panel will include Kenneth J. Doka, PhD, Lutheran minister and professor of gerontology at the College of New Rochelle; Bernice Catherine Harper, MSW, Medical Care Advisor of the Health Care Financing Administration; Carol Levine, MA, Director of the Families and Health Care Project of the United Hospital Fund; Susan Reinhard, RN, PhD, Executive Director of the Center for Medicare Education, Institute for the Future of Aging Services; and Myrl Weinberg, CAE, President of the National Health Council.

For registration information, call the UW - Extension office at 262-335-4479.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

DISPOSING OF LATEX AND OIL-BASED PAINT

GENERAL INFORMATION

Paint stays in good condition for a long time; oil-based paint for up to 15 years and latex paint for 10 years. As a general rule, paint that mixes smoothly when stirred can still be used. If latex paint has been frozen, brush it on a newspaper. If there are no lumps, it hasn't been damaged and can be used.

Disposal of leftover paint through a household hazardous waste program is expensive.

The best thing to do with usable paint is to use it up! If you can't use your leftover paint, give it to someone who can. Give your paint to:

- * friends and neighbors
- * recreation departments
- * park departments
- * theater groups
- * housing assistance organizations

Latex Paint and Mercury

Some latex paint contains mercury, a toxic metal. New federal regulations prohibit the use of mercury in interior latex paint manufactured after August 20, 1990. Be sure to use proper ventilation when applying paint indoors. Use outdoor paints for outdoor use only!

Disposal: When you can't use it up

Proper disposal depends on whether the paint is latex or oil-based. Oil-based paint contains solvents, container labels state "combustible," and the instructions on the can recommend cleanup with mineral spirits or other solvents. Latex paint contains water and the instructions recommend cleanup with water.

Disposal: Oil-Based Paint

The fumes from oil-based paint are a health and fire hazard. Large amounts of oil-based paint should not be disposed of at home.

Disposal: Latex and Small Amounts of Oil-Based Paint

Dry out latex paint and small quantities of oil-based paint according to the following directions:

Step One: Find an outside work area away from children, pets and rain. Locked screen porches and storage sheds work well. Because oil-based paint contains solvents and some latex paint contains mercury, it's important to dry out paint outdoors in a safe place.

Step Two: Dry it out! Choose one of the drying methods described later on in this notice. Paint will take between several days and several months to dry - it depends on the type and quantity of paint that you have.

Step Three: Throw the dried paint, cans and other materials in the trash. Leave the lids off the paint cans so trash collectors will see the paint is dry and accept them.

PAINT DRYING TECHNIQUES

For small amounts (Oil-based and Latex):

Remove the lid and let the paint dry in the can. Stir the paint occasionally to speed drying. Or, brush paint in layers on newspaper or cardboard.

For larger amounts of latex:

Pour one-inch layers of paint into a cardboard box lined with plastic. Allow paint to dry one layer at a time-time layers will speed up the drying process. Or, mix paint with cat litter, sawdust or sand in a cardboard box lined with plastic and let it dry.

For latex paint that has separated:

Pour the clear liquid on top into a cardboard box lined with plastic. Mix the liquid with an equal amount of cat litter or other absorbent material and let it dry. Let the leftover paint in the bottom of the can dry out, using one of the above techniques.

Village Board Plan Commission Meeting Minutes

Village of Kewaskum
Plan Commission
February 27, 2001
7:00 p.m.

The Plan Commission of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and pledge of Allegiance.

Chairman John Kenworthy called the meeting to order. Members present were Leeann Butschlick, Andy Pesch, Richard Schmidt, Andrew Kuehl, Theodore Meilahn and Frank Beesten. A quorum was present. In attendance was Kevin Scheunemann and Norman Gruber. Mr. Rick Kania from SEWRPC was in attendance to discuss the proposed Zoning Ordinance.

On a motion by Richard Schmidt, seconded by Frank Beesten and unanimously carried by voice vote the Plan Commission approved the minutes as printed for January 23, 2001.

Chairman John Kenworthy asked Administrator Daniel Schmidt to review with the Board the status of what has occurred with the Ordinance No. 2000-03 (regarding the topic of parking and storage of recreational vehicles and equipment). It was noted that the topic was brought to the Plan Commission and that a consensus was not reached at the January meeting.

The Plan Commission revisited the topic hoping to reach a consensus. Suggestions as to how to improve/amend said ordinance took place as follows: 1) Leave as adopted. 2) Entirely ban front yard parking or storage. 3) Place a maximum length on vehicle/equipment. 4) Place maximum height limit on vehicle/equipment. 5) Change set back side yard requirement. (Define front yard measuring point.) Numerous suggestions were made.

On a motion by Leeann Butschlick, seconded by Theodore Meilahn and carried by the majority roll call vote the Plan Commission recommended an amendment to the ordinance 6.4 by adding an 8' height limitation. Frank Beesten and Richard Schmidt voting Nay. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 2 "Nay" 0 "Absent"

On a motion by Andrew Kuehl, seconded by Leeann Butschlick and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Plan Commission recommended increasing the loading and unloading time frame to 36 hours. It was noted that does not in any way change the 24 hour street parking limitation.

On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Frank Beesten and carried by the majority roll call vote the Plan Commission moved to suspend the rules to discuss and possibly act on a replat amendment for Whispering Willow Creek. Roll call was 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent".

It was noted that the Village was in the process of purchasing a lot, drilling a well and constructing a pump house on what is known as lot 14 in Whispering Willow Creek. Because of the subdivision not being 5 years old a replat is required rather than a CSM. Action was taken on Resolution N. 2001-08 A Resolution In Support Of The Replat Of Lot 14 Of Whispering Willow Creek as attached hereto: This Resolution, with a favorable recommendation, is to be forwarded to the Village Board for similar action.

Mr. Rick Kania was present from SEWRPC to review a variety of points from previously discussed sections of the proposed Zoning Ordinance; the finishing touches in reference to Section 5.14 energy conversion uses and Section 6.00 Signs. Several questions were asked by the Commission Members of Mr. Kania. Mr. Kania noted that if anyone has a question they should bring it up as soon as possible.

On a motion by Andrew Kuehl, seconded by Richard Schmidt and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Commission adjourned the meeting. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent".

A RESOLUTION REGARDING LOW SPEED VEHICLES REFERENCING ASSEMBLY BILL 58 AND SENATE BILL 29

DNR Outdoor Report

April 3, 2001

Mother Nature played an April Fool's joke on parts of the state earlier on during this past week, dumping as much as six inches of wet heavy snow in central and northern Wisconsin.

Vilas County continues to report 15 to 18 inches of snow on the ground. Cross-country skiers have continued to use trails in the Northern Highland American Legion and Brule River state forest, but those trails are no longer being maintained and are expected to deteriorate rapidly over the next week. Snowmobile trails are now closed statewide.

Lakes and rivers continue to open up, with the Flambeau River now open through the Flambeau River State Forest south of Park Falls. At this writing (April 3), up to two feet of ice remained on northern lakes, but most areas are reporting lakes are slush covered and that ice is becoming honeycombed and weak, and beginning to open up along shorelines.

Some southern lakes are open and others are opening, with the Madison area Lakes Monona, Wingra, and Kegonsa about half open water and expected to be ice free.

A few hardy anglers continued to work northern lakes, but in general have reported action from fair to good. Crappie action has been steady in some locations but slowed in others. Fishing picked up just before the snow fell on Monday, with anglers on one Clark County lake reportedly filling their bag limit in about an hour of early morning fishing.

Walleye and sauger fishing has slowed on the Mississippi River, but a few four to five pound walleye were taken indicating the walleye run may be beginning and that fishing could improve over the next couple of weeks.

Walleyes were biting on the open water stretches of the Wisconsin River, most notably below the DuBay Dam and the Nekossa Dam, but most were undersized males. Increasing numbers of walleye were being caught on the Fox River in Brown County, and the dam off Voyager Park in De Pere.

Along Lake Michigan, there were some signs that the steelhead run is picking up on southeastern tributaries. Water levels were up and steelhead reportedly were moving upstream on the Sheboygan River, Sauk Creek, and the Milwaukee River, where they were seen jumping the falls at Kletzsch Park.

Root River fishing started picking up downstream of the weir despite dropping river levels. The water temperature was about 43 degrees on Sunday. The Root River Steelhead Facility has started processing fish, with 27 steelhead spawned and 131 released upstream last week.

Lake Michigan trollers have started plying the waters, with boats out of the Sheboygan, Port Washington, Racine and Kenosha harbors all reporting some success with brown trout. Good numbers of perch and some browns were reported at the Summerfest grounds in the Milwaukee harbor. The Lake Michigan smelt run should start within the next few weeks as water temperatures reach the low 40s.

Maple sap continues to run and good weather for sugaring is expected to continue. The maple syrup season began late but conditions lately have been excellent, with 40 degree days and overnight lows in the 20s. Most collectors have started boiling some batches, but a few sunny days would help things along.

About a thousand tundra swans were rafted in open areas of the Mississippi this last weekend near Trempealeau. Bluebirds were seen back in the state last week. Woodcock have returned and can be seen around dusk displaying their peenting and mating flight.

Bald eagles are now laying or incubating eggs. Red-shouldered and red-tailed hawks are actively nesting and they have been seen along with rough-legged hawks, northern harriers and kestrels.

A newly born spotted fawn was reported last week in far northern Wisconsin. And now is the time to begin listening for the call of wood frogs, the first frog species to call in the spring in Wisconsin.

Girls Soccer Team Defeats Sheboygan Falls

The Kewaskum girls varsity soccer team visited the Sheboygan Falls girls soccer team on Tuesday, April 3, and came home the winner by a 1-0 score.

The Falls team was a very good passing team, taking the ball up and down the field well. Kewaskum used good lane passing to counter Fall's play. The game was played at mid-field with each team turning the other away.

Great play by goal keeper Maggie Herriges kept a determined Falls team away. Jamie Imler scored on a center pass from Lisa Boden, sending a screaming shot across their goal.

The varsity team played very well, especially Tanya Theisen at stopper. Tanya stopped many invasions by Sheboygan Falls. The goal was Imler's first of the season and it is expected to see more as the season progresses. The team is all on track of their development for the season.

entered in the tournament. Taverns participating in the tournament included Trips in Pipe, Pete's Fisherman's Inn in Brothertown, Tommy's in Johnsbury, Nut-house in Marytown, and B & S Inn in Mt. Calvary.
