Annual Lions Chicken BBQ Here on Sunday

Prepare your senses for the titillating aroma of slowly grilled chicken on the open fire Sunday, July 8, as the Kewaskum Lions present their annual Chicken BBQ in Riverhill Park.

The best part about it, is the fact that they are going to prepare their delicious chicken feast with all the trimmings, so all we have to do is show up and savor the taste of the meal they cooked. And the price of the dinner is still only $6.50.

The Kewaskum Lions will be serving their delectable chicken dinners throughout the day beginning at 11 a.m. and going until 3 p.m. They will also be cooking hamburgers and cheeseburgers if chicken is not your favorite, and lots of ice cold refreshments and other treats will be on hand.

Carryouts will also be available.

There will be raffles and live music by "Dry Gulch" will be provided for your entertainment from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Kewaskum KEYS will once again be sponsoring the Kettle 20K and five mile runs held in conjunction yearly with the chicken BBQ. The race starts at 7:30 a.m. and registration will take place up to race time. Runners look forward to competing in this annual race because of the challenge of the Kettle 20 and the scenic beauty of the rolling Kettle Moraine terrain.

For more information on the race you are asked to contact Julann Zemlicka at 920-387-4600.

Whether you plan on entering the races, are there to cheer on the runners, or just attend to sample some of the best grilled chicken around, plan on spending a little time relaxing in Riverhill Park this Sunday, July 8.

Proceeds from this annual event are used by the Kewaskum Lions Club for local community projects and are donated to Camp Rosholt for the developmentally disabled.

DNR Rep Fields Questions from Town of Scott Board, Residents

By Bernadette Mondloch

Department of Natural Resources representatives were met with many questions from the people assembled at the Town of Scott monthly board meeting, questions which had been heard at a previous meeting held earlier this month in the Town of Sherman, and came from the same individuals.

Dale Katsma gave a short resume of what has been taking place since 1999 with work on the North Branch Milwaukee River Feasibility Study. Since that time the name of the project has been changed to Milwaukee River Wildlife and Farming Heritage Study. He explained that the DNR has no intention of building a large flowage and it is not the DNR's intention to put agricultural land out of production. It's intention is to help farmers and rural folks to preserve farm land.

One way to do this would be to purchase development rights. He also explained that purchase of land would only be done with, willing sellers, but not through condemnation. Land in low areas, usually wet lands would be purchased and on upland areas, development rights would be implemented.

During a question and answer portion of the meeting, Supervisor Ira Weber spoke of how things happened in the Kettle Moraine area years before. He said that when the DNR purchased the farm, the buildings were torn down. He did not want to see that happen in the Milwaukee River area. He also questioned the payment of taxes, what can the town expect in taxes when the buildings are gone and the only thing left to tax is the land.

Katsma explained the taxing process. He said that a "payment in lieu of taxes" is given to the municipality. The amount is based on the value which was paid for the property, or 100% of fair market value. This has been in effect since 1992.

Beverly Depies questioned the process of developing easements along streams. Katsma replied that development rights are part of a deed restriction which would not allow further development except for necessary farm buildings.

Kathy Stern from the Town of Fredonia, who has attended all area meetings held on the project, said, "If we were all prosperous farmers, we would not need the DNR to keep our farms undeveloped." She has been opposed to the project from the start.

During the regular meeting, Scott resident Francis Michaels, questioned the possibility of improving a pier and boat landing on Crooked Lake. There was some question about who owned the present landing which is in need of repairs, and the possibility of using Park and Open Space funding to do the work. The board is looking into the matter and will report at the July meeting.

The Glen Karas building permit was again an agenda item and it appears that issuance of a permit will soon become a reality. Karas moved a small house into the town over two years ago but has never completed the project.

Previous meetings stipulated improvements needed on the property and Karas was ordered to provide a performance bond before the board would issue a building permit.

Town of Scott

Karas has met the requirements except for the bond, but now the lending institution is asking that before it releases money to Karas it needs assurance that a building permit will be issued by the town.

Action was taken to provide the letter to the lending institution, after discussion with the town attorney on the need for the performance bond. If needed it will be required, if not it will be dropped. If all goes well it is expected that Karas will have his building permit, once the loan is obtained, and a renewed sanitary permit is in place. It is expected to be in about two weeks.

Building Permits issued:
John Klahn - home addition, Dan Fischer - house, Ross Winklbauer - shed, Norm Kruse - home addition, Shawn Staehler - home addition, Eugene LeJeune - pole shed, Donald Depies - electric, Irvin Haugen - addition.

UWWC Dean Praises State Senate Action on Higher Education

WEST BEND -- UWWC Dean Joel Rodney praised the Wisconsin State Senate for their passage of a state budget that includes increased investments in higher education.

"I am delighted by the Senate's vote," said Rodney. "This funding is critical if we are to be able to equip our new $7.2 million expansion project, so generously funded by Washington County, West Bend and private donors."

In action Wednesday, the Senate restored more than $60 million in funding to the Regent's 2001-03 budget request to the state and restored $40 million in facility maintenance and equipment funds that had been cut by the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee.

The budget next moves to the Assembly where legislators will make further modifications before it goes to a conference committee and then on to the governor to be signed into law. The UW's budget proposals would provide for increasing enrollments by more than 2600 students and, ultimately, would greatly increase the number of college graduates coming into Wisconsin's workforce. The proposal is aimed squarely at increasing Wisconsin's per capita income which now lags $1300 below the national per capita average.

"The Senate has demonstrated an understanding of how important these issues are to maintaining the quality of the UW System and its ability to meet the needs of Wisconsin's citizens," said William Messner, chancellor of the UW Colleges. "The state is the ultimate winner if the UW System can use its resources to promote the economic development of Wisconsin."

Lynn Theusch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greg Theusch of rural Kewaskum, and Sue Bohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bohn of Kewaskum, have been selected as Kiwanis students for the month of March.

The Kewaskum Village Board approved the hiring of another part-time patrolman as requested by Chief Donald Hlavaty at their April meeting. The annexation of land owned by Drs. Cesar and Aurora Sison, south of the village was approved unanimously. Also included in the annexation were several private homes along Highway 45, so that no "islands" of land belonging to the Town of Kewaskum will be created.

At a recent meeting of the Kewaskum Women's Club, Mrs. Ray (Agnes) Schaefer, Route 2, Kewaskum, was presented a Certificate of Achievement in Creative Homemaking, awarded by the Sixth District, Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs at its convention at Oshkosh, March 31.

Miss Marjorie Schoofs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Schoofs of Kewaskum has received the prestigious Dean's Honor Award from Lakeland College, Sheboygan. The scholarship is a four-year, $4,000 grant.

Two Capuchin priests who are native sons of Wisconsin have been assigned to a new mission territory in Honduras. They will serve the spiritual needs of 15,000 Miskito Indian people living in an area called Miskitia in Southeastern Honduras. The two priests are Father Donald Richardson, formerly of Milwaukee and Father Ralph Fellenz, formerly of the Town of Farmington, near Kewaskum. Father Fellenz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fellenz of Route 1, Kewaskum. He was born and raised on a farm near Kewaskum and graduated from St. Michael's School in 1956 and then attended St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee, from 1956 to 1961. He joined the Midwest Capuchins in 1961 and was ordained in 1968.

The birthday engagement of Linda Dreher to Michael Enright is being announced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Dreher of Kewaskum and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Enright, Route 1, Kewaskum.

For the first time ever in the history of Kewaskum High School, the Junior Prom is going to be held away from school at the Holiday Inn in West Bend, rather than the traditional way in the gym. The prom will be held Saturday, May 1. How did this come about? The prom committee surveyed other schools and the results were that proms held away from school were a success, while those held in the gyms were a failure. It is felt the prom, being held away, will have a better turnout. Court members are: Russ Herriges and Julie Stoffel; Dan Ruplinger and Carrie Kempf; Paul Brenholt and Roseann Czaja; Pat Braun and Nancy Schrauth; Kevin Darmody and Sue Survis;

Dan Hlavaty and Domestic Exchange Student Merrilee Enos; Mike Perkins and Ann Weddig; Ray Reindl and Sue Nigh; Leon Laatsch and Kathy Rohlinger; Bryan Holz and Linda Faber; Jim Donath and Mary Schoofs. Miniature couple is Paul Nigh and Jean Herriges.

Officers of the Kewaskum Board of Education will remain the same for another year. The elections, held at the regular meeting Monday returned Dr. Charles Ogi as president, Jim Oelhafen as clerk and Byron Gessner as treasurer. As a result of a new state regulation, the official name of the district will become School District of Kewaskum as of July 1.

Seven young people were confirmed into membership of Peace United Church of Christ by the Rev. R. G. Beck and participated in Holy Communion at the 10:15 a.m. worship service on Sunday, April 25. The confirmands were Gary Backhaus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenway Backhaus; Jeanne Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Becker; Scott Domasky, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Domasky; Peggy and Penny Gatzke, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gatzke; Brian Merwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Merwin, and Lizbeth Ogi, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Ogi.

Last Sunday, in the Rite of Confirmation held during a celebration of the Holy Eucharist at St. John Lutheran Church, New Fane, 13 boys and girls from this area made public affirmation of their baptismal vows, received the laying-on-of-hands and also their First Holy Communion. They are Bonnie Butzke, Chris Carlson, Sheila Gatzke, Tracy Gavin, Kim Heberer, Wendy Heberer, James Ninnemann, Michael Nonhof, Debbie Oestreich, David Panko, Sharon Panko, Vance Reif, and Rodney Schultz. The Rev. Arthur A. Haupt, pastor of the parish, presided.

PLAY TIME

by Ami

Last week I startled a mother Badger as she was in the midst of training her clutch of youngsters. It was great to observe them having the time of their lives wrestling one another and scurrying readily in and out the play holes mom and dad had dug for them. I recalled my college Biology teacher explaining to us how the Badger parents, away from their permanent headquarters, always chose an out of the way place to dig play holes for their youngsters. And play holes there were...with mom carefully watching for any intruder who might venture by!

The very moment she caught sight of me she somehow ordered the little ones to "make for the gaping holes." Which they did without argument. And I, froze in a stayed still position, hoping for them to return to their hillside play time. But to no avail. Mom had given orders for their safety and that was that.

My love for our County of Washington ever grows. Especially now in retirement when I can take to the hills and enjoy our vast variety of wild life. What a joy to observe the family life of a host of remarkably lovely furry animals. And what a privilege to be able to share some of those experiences with you and yours.

A Walk Through Time in the Kettle Moraine

By Laurie Ottery
Staff Writer/Photographer

The Kettle Moraine State Forest is located in southeast Wisconsin. The area is a great place to take a vacation or just to spend a day in the country. The forest is divided up into a southern and northern unit. State Highways 45 from Milwaukee or 23 out of Fond du Lac lead to the northern unit and State Highways 12, 59 and 67 all lead to the southern unit.

About 100,000 years ago, the Wisconsin Glacier crept into present day Wisconsin. At its peak it covered 2/3 of the state with six icy fingers or lobes. Over the years, the ice advanced and retreated with changing climate conditions. About 10,000 years ago, the sun and a warmer climate finally melted the glacier. What was left behind was a landscape softened in some areas and heaped up into rugged hills in others.

The glaciers advanced like huge bulldozers pushing rocks and other debris out in front creating moraines. Under the advancing and retreating glaciers other unique landform were created: kames, kettles, eskers, drumlins and outwash plains. As the glacier melted, this unusual, almost mythical landscape was revealed.

The cone shaped hills, called kames (some as high as 350 feet), came about as melt water flowed down to the ground through holes in the ice, depositing large heaps of cone shaped debris along the way. Dundee Mountain and White Kame, located near Dundee are world famous kame formations.

Streams flowing through tunnels at the base of the ice formed eskers, narrow ridges of sand and gravel. A good example is the Parnell Esker located at Butler Lake along the Ice Age National Scenic Trail.

Deposits of glacial debris, called moraines, are ridges of hills made up of sand, boulders and cobbles pushed by the advancing glacier. The Ice Age Center is located on top of the Green Bay Moraine and looks toward the Lake Michigan Moraine.

A block of ice that had been buried under the stony debris formed kettle-shaped depressions. Many of Wisconsin's lakes now occupy these formations. Excellent examples of this are the Greenbush Kettle and Mauthe Lake.

The Kettle Moraine Forest also contains flat areas of sand and gravel left behind by flooding melt water known as Outwash Plains. Just southeast of the Ice Age Center is the Jersey Flats, a great example of an outwash plain.

Today, the Northern Unit of the Kettle Moraine Forest, which I will refer to as the Kettles, is situated within the boundaries of three southeastern counties. The northern most point in Western Sheboygan County, the Forest follows the flow of its glacial ridges to the southwest, along the Sheboygan-Fond du Lac County line and ends in the northern townships of Washington County.

This area sits among almost 30,000 acres of State Forest. Many hiking trails lakes and campgrounds are great opportunities for visitors to explore. There are two family campgrounds in the Northern Unit, Long Lake and Mauthe Lake, with 337 available sites between them. They are 85% reservation, 15% first come first served basis. There are electric hook-ups, showers and water available at Mauthe Lake. Long Lake has flush toilets, showers and water located within each of the campground loops.

During the summer the forest weather offers great places to go swimming, horseback riding, biking, boating, camping, fishing and picnicking. Many of the hiking trails are transformed into beautiful cross-country skiing trails in the winter months; some of them groomed and lit by moonlight.

A popular pastime throughout the year is the Kettle Moraine Scenic Drive. The 115-mile drive follows the Kettle Moraine; an inter lobate moraine. This area was created when two lobes butted up against one another.

The route was developed and is maintained by the staff of the Kettle Moraine State Forest. Green acorn signs mark the way for sightseers to follow. The drive begins in Elkhart Lake. Along the way are many unmarked back roads that lead through the mystical creations that have been left behind. The scenic drive ends at Whitewater Lake, located at the southern tip of the Southern Unit.

One of the first stops is a state historical site, The Old Wade House, located in the village of Greenbush. The house completed in 1853 by Sylvanus Wade, became the most important stagecoach stop on the plank road running from Sheboygan to Fond du Lac. The historical complex includes a blacksmith shop, where horses were shod and stages repaired and Butternut House, the home of Wade's oldest daughter and son-in-law. The Wade House features an old country inn, restored with original period furnishings and a collection of carriages housed in a museum.

Following the beautiful route takes visitors to a great stop to see the Greenbush Kettle. The Kettle was created when an iceberg fell off the retreating glacier. It was buried by sand and gravel carried by the melt water. When the ice melted the land dropped leaving behind a large depression.

Continuing along the drive another stop is at the Parnell Tower. It is a 60-foot observation tower built atop an esker. The tower is about an eighth of a mile up the trail leading from the parking lot. The view is outstanding of the Kettle Moraine countryside. It is located on the highest point of the forest (1311 feet above sea level) and is 300 to 450 feet above the surrounding countryside.

Another awesome sight to see is the world famous Dundee Mountain, a large kame. It is a 250-foot pile of sand, pebbles and boulders (a conical shaped hill) that formed at the bottom of a hole in the retreating glacier. Glacial meltwater streams running along the glaciers surface washed the debris into the hole, where it accumulated.

To learn more about the history stop at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center, just outside of Dundee on Highway 67. The Ice Age Visitors Center is open on weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and weekends from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. including holidays (9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.). The Ice Age Visitors Center can be reached at 1-920-533-8322. The center is open year round.

While at the center pick up maps that detail the 133 miles, trails through the forest. They are also available at Mauthe Lake and Long Lake recreational areas. There are trails for off road biking, horseback riding, cross country skiing and snowmobiling. Each has a designated use and visitors are asked to please use the proper trails for their intended use.

The Greenbush Trail system, on Kettle Moraine Drive, is located two miles southwest of the village of Greenbush. It also offers a variety of challenges to both novice and expert cross-country skiers. Trail lengths include purple-5 miles, green-3.6 miles, red-2 miles and pink-.7 miles. The trail was developed in 1939 and mostly follows the old logging roads. Its terrain includes a varied mix of open, grassy meadows and hilly forested areas for which the Kettle Moraine area is popular. In the summer months these trails are popular off road biking trails.

Another popular hiking trail is the Ray Zillmer Trail system. It consists of 11 miles of trail, on Cty. SS, a half mile west of New Prospect. It is both an awesome cross-country skiing experience and a wilderness adventure. The 5.4 mile yellow loop is rough. The trail is through meadows, hilly hardwoods and evergreens, crosses a creek and turns east up a steep ridge. In the winter skiers usually pause at the top for the breathtaking view of the forest. The descent is rough and caution is advised. The trail follows along the edges of rougher terrain before heading to an open ridge and a scenic view to the east and west. Trail lengths include yellow-5.4 miles, red-3 miles, green- 1.8 miles and brown-1.2 miles. The shorter loops offer less strenuous hike or cross-country skiing.

If you are a horseback riding fan there are 40-miles of Kettle Moraine Bridle Trail. Stables in the area rent out horses. The trails are marked with orange markers. For those who want to camp with their trusty steeds, there is a horse camp in New Prospect.

State Park vehicle admission is $5 per day for Wisconsin residents and $7 a day for non-residents. Annual parking stickers (good at all Wisconsin State parks and forests for one calendar year) are $18 for residents and $25 for non-residents. A state trail pass is also required for those 16 and over who are biking or horseback riding. Those passes are $3 for the day or $10 per year.

The 12 lakes of the Kettles offer opportunities for both those who enjoy swimming and fishing. Almost all of the waters in the forest area offer good fishing. Both Long Lake and Mauthe Lake contain wall-eye, northern pike, large mouth bass and pan fish. Licenses are available at area sport shops, Mauthe Lake, forest headquarters or at the Ice Age Visitor Center.

The beaches at Mauthe Lake and Long Lake are open to the public. There are bathhouses at these beaches, but no life-guards are provided. Strict adult supervision is advised to stress safe swimming. The area offers year round opportunities to get out and enjoy the historical locations. In the summer temperatures range between 75 and 95 degrees. In the winter temperatures are perfect for skiing at 0 to 32 degrees.

You might see whitetail deer, hawks, turkey vultures, raccoon, squirrels, opossum and turtles. The plant life along the area trails is as unique as the area history. The landscape is rugged and many rare plants thrive in the sanctuary of the forest. Fields dance with wildflowers, but there are also fiery sumac maple, many oak and birch. In the fall the kettle comes alive with symphony of color as the leaves turn.

Take the short drive to enjoy the bounty of beauty in the Kettle Moraine area. Some of the land within the forest is under private ownership. Visitors are encouraged to explore but stay on the trails provided and in designated areas. The Kettle Moraine area is ready for your visit today.

July 20 is Purchase Deadline For Hunter's Choice Permits

MADISON - The July 20 deadline is approaching for people to purchase hunter's choice and bonus antlerless deer permits for the 2001 deer hunting season.

The permits authorize the harvest of antlerless deer in many non-Zone T deer management units throughout the state. Only one application per person is allowed.

Hunters should not apply for hunter's choice in Zone T units, except if hunting in a state park unit. Each archery and gun deer hunting license purchased will include one free Zone T antlerless permit that can be used in any Zone T unit.

Hunters have the option of filling antlerless permits during any open hunting season (archery, gun and muzzleloader). Bonus antlerless permits may only be filled in the unit for which they were originally issued.

The hunter's choice permit does not represent an extra deer -- it simply allows the holder of an unused gun deer tag the opportunity to harvest one deer of any sex or age during the gun or muzzleloader season.

In addition, a hunter holding a hunter's choice permit may tag an antlerless deer during the archery season with their gun deer kill tag in the deer management unit in which the hunter's choice tag is issued (archery deer hunting license also required). A hunter's choice permit may be used only in the unit for which it was issued.

People should apply using a 2001 Hunter's Choice and Bonus Antlerless Deer Hunting Permit Application. Applicants must purchase a $3 application sticker to place on the completed application.

Many deer management units also have bonus permits available that allow the harvest of only antlerless deer in addition to the regular gun deer. It is not necessary to apply for a hunter's choice permit to be eligible to receive bonus permits, although applicants can indicate a desire to receive both permits on the application. Bonus permits cost $12 for residents and $20 for non-residents. Hunters applying through the mail will not receive more than three bonus permits for non-metro units.

Free bonus antlerless permits are available to eligible resident farm owners. To qualify, a majority of the land on the farm must be used on a commercial basis to provide income. In deer management units with leftover bonus antlerless permits, eligible resident farm owners will receive one free bonus permit for each one they purchase.

If there are joint owners, names under a land contract, only one of the owners is eligible for a free bonus permit. Free bonus permits will be issued through the mail-in application and over-the-counter at DNR Service Centers.

Mississippi River Block Units - Mississippi River Block Units are 59D, 59M, 61, 74A and 74B. Hunters should note that units 59D, 59M and 61 are included in Zone T in 2001, so applications for hunter's choice permits in these units will not be accepted.

Metro Units - All Metro Units (59M, 60M, 64M and 76M) are included in Zone T in 2001. Check local firearms ordinances before hunting because many areas within the borders of the Metro Units do not allow firearm discharge.

HOW WILL SUCCESSFUL APPLICANTS BE NOTIFIED?

People who are selected to receive a hunter's choice permit will receive the permits in the mail. People who apply for and are eligible for one or more bonus permits will receive notification coupons in the mail. They may then purchase up to the number of bonus permits they are eligible for by returning the coupon to the specified address, by the specified date, along with the fee of $12 each for residents and $20 each for non-residents.

OVER-THE-COUNTER SALES OF LEFTOVER BONUS PERMITS

Bonus permits remaining after the initial mail-in selection may be issued over-the-counter on a first come, first served basis. Residents and nonresidents will have equal opportunity to purchase these permits. This sale is expected to begin in mid-September at all DNR license vendors, and continue until all permits are issued.

Bonus permits may be purchased at a rate of two per day until each unit is sold out.

Indians Steal Doubleheader From Sheboygan Falls

The Indians traveled to Sheboygan Falls on Monday, June 25 for an Eastern Wisconsin Conference doubleheader. The Indians took both wins leaving them at first in the EWC.

The first game started off slow with no runs being scored until the third inning. The first run was scored by Kewaskum when Chris Canter hit a single, stole second and was hit home by Jon Boedeker.

Sheboygan Falls scored their only run in the fifth inning leaving the teams tied at 1-1.

The final run of the game came in the seventh inning when Travis Kempf hit a single, stole second and came home on an error made by the Sheboygan Falls pitcher. Kewaskum won the game 2-1.

Bob Ogi pitched an outstanding game. He had nine strike-outs, two walks and allowed only five hits.

The second game of the series was much more lively.

The Indians scored nine runs in the first inning alone. By the end of the inning they were winning 9-0.

The Indians then slowed their scoring down with two runs in the third, one in the fourth and their final run came in the sixth inning.

Sheboygan Falls only scored three runs, one in the second and two in the third.

Travis Kempf pitched all six innings for the Indians. He struck-out 10, walked seven and allowed just two hits.

These wins put the Indians at 11-1 in the conference and 12-4 overall.

The highest recorded attendance at a regular-season NFL game was 102,368 for the San Francisco 49ers vs. the Los Angeles Rams at the L.A. Memorial Coliseum on November 10, 1957.

The final two Indian points didn't come until the sixth inning when Josh Parrent hit Justin Rhoads and Tony Fitts home.

Campbellsport started off slowly in the first two innings. They then went on to score six runs in the third inning putting them ahead 9-2. Their final two points came in the sixth inning.

The June meeting of the Wayne Crusaders 4-H Club was held at Wayne Elementary School on June 12. The meeting was called to order at 7 p.m.

We would like more team members for the Relay for Life. There are currently five members and there can be as many as 15. See Mrs. Banaszak if you are interested.

Educationals for animals must be completed by June 30. They should be sent to Jack Trzebiatowski at the fair office not to our club.

Preliminary 2001 Spring Turkey Harvest at 39,076

MADISON -- Hunters participating in Wisconsin's 2001 spring wild turkey season shot 39,076 birds, according to preliminary numbers compiled by Department of Natural Resources wildlife managers.

The number of birds harvested in 2001 represented a slight increase over the 2000 wild turkey harvest. Adult toms made up 80 percent of the harvest, which biologists say, is a reflection of great productivity two years ago.

Statewide hunter success rate was estimated at 26 percent, lower than 2000. The windy and rainy weather, which predominated the first two hunting periods, likely contributed to the lower success rates statewide.

The weather was not the only disappointing experience this spring season. This year six hunting incidents with seven injuries were reported, more than double that of 2000. Misidentification led to five of these injuries.

"There is no reason or excuse for not knowing exactly what you're shooting at," said Keith Warnke, DNR upland wildlife ecologist. "The requirement that all turkeys killed in spring be bearded leaves no room for error. You must clearly identify a beard before you shoot. These incidents are embarrassing to all hunters and I challenge turkey hunters to spread the word on the importance of education and safety."

A total of 150,570 permits were issued throughout the 41 turkey management units open for the 2001 season. Permit numbers are evenly distributed throughout the six time periods to provide a quality hunting experience.

Interference rates and hunter satisfaction data are gathered from annual hunter surveys sent out to 10,000 hunters after the spring season. These data are carefully reviewed when determining permit levels.

Laure Dei Participates in AQHA Horseback Riding Program

Laure L. Dei of Kewaskum, recently enrolled in the American Quarter Horse Association Horseback Riding Program. The program recognized and rewards AQHA Members for time spent with their American Quarter Horses in activities such as trail rides, shows, working cattle, pleasure driving and simply riding.

A unique aspect of the program is its simplicity. Current AQHA Members complete a program application and pay a one-time $25 enrollment fee. Each enrollee receives an official AQHA log sheet to record their hours driving or riding an American Quarter Horse. Participants need not own their own horse, but all official hours must be accrued with a registered American Quarter Horse.

The first award, a program recognition patch, is given after only 50 hours have been logged and verified. Patches and nine subsequent awards are presented at 100 to 5,000 hour levels and range from merchandise gift certificates from Drysdales Western Store to a Montana Silversmiths trophy belt buckle at the highest level.

Gilean Newman, AQHA Manager of Recreational Riding Programs, said "The Horseback Riding Program is a unique opportunity to earn rewards outside of traditional competition. In some cases the program rewards people who already spend many hours riding American Quarter Horses. For others, the Horseback Riding Program is an incentive to get out and ride."

Horseback riding provides good exercise. According to the U.S. Department of the Interior, more than 27 million people participate in horseback riding nationally.

AQHA actively encourages horseback riding as a relaxing and recreational activity that can be enjoyed alone or shared with family and friends. For more information about AQHA and its programs, visit www.aqha.com or call (806) 376-4811.

Benefits of Tourism In Washington County

Economic impact begins when a visitor to Washington County spends money in our county - no matter what the reason. But the benefits to Washington County go beyond the basic impact of these dollars spent here; the expenditures create a chain effect.

The effects or impacts of these expenditures are evident as the "direct" recipients of the expenditures in turn pay wages, earn income and pay taxes. Further, these direct recipients spend their income, thereby creating "indirect" impact such as more jobs, wages, salaries, proprietary income and tax revenues.

The dollars travelers spend flow to every part of the economy - ultimately benefiting virtually everyone. Tourist dollars are recirculated to local, state and national economies. They support the growth of related industries such as construction, agriculture and services. They generate tax revenues for roads, schools and city parks. They help support historic areas, museums and cultural and/or community events.

The Wisconsin Department of Tourism commissions a Tourism Economic Impact Study each year to evaluate the impact of tourism in the State of Wisconsin. The study, conducted by Davidson-Peterson Associates, Inc. provides data related to economic employment and tax revenues generated from tourism in Washington County. Tourists spent an estimated $9.9 billion in Wisconsin in 2000.

Local statistics for the economic impact of Washington County's tourism efforts indicated a sizable upward swing. In 2000 the local tourism industry employed 3,102 full-time equivalent residents who brought home more than 65 million dollars in income! That's over a 16% increase in income from 1999. Local revenue was awarded $6.8 million from the travel and tourism industry in 2000. Our total visitor spending increased by 15% to over $113 million. Now that's spending!

In 1783, Frenchmen Jean Piliatre de Rozier and the Marquis d'Arlandes piloted the first manned hot air balloon flight. They stayed aloft for 20 minutes and ascended to a height of 500 feet.
