School Board Approves Administrative Salaries

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

The Kewaskum Board of Education voted in favor of a 3.8% increase for the district's administrative salaries and benefits for certified administrative staff.

According to business manager Paul Reichert, "In determining administrative salaries, we are required to follow the rules developed by the Wisconsin Employment Relations Commission (WERC) and state statutes."

To do this three-step process has been identified. The first step is to determine the cost of a 3.8% increase in total compensation (salaries and fringe benefits).

Step two is to allocate a portion of the increase in total compensation to the cost of maintaining benefits at the same level as in the preceding year.

The third step is to allocate the rest of the 3.8% increase in total compensation to salaries.

For the 2001-2002 school year, the cost of the 3.8% increase in total compensation (salaries and benefits) for certified administrative staff is $30,751. Health and dental insurance rates increased by 22% and 6% respectively, using $13,696 of the increase in total compensation. This amounts to 44.5% of the increase in total compensation.

Increases in the cost of other benefits (social security, life and disability insurance) were offset by a decrease in the cost of state retirement contributions due to a decrease in the required contribution rate. The net cost of these four benefits decreased by $400.

The amount of dollars left to allocate to salaries is $17,455, or 56.8% of the increase in total compensation. This amounts to a 2.87% average increase in salaries.

Salaries of certified staff are as follows:

Superintendent of schools, Wayne Graczyk will receive $91,995. Graczyk has been with the district for two years.

Business manager Paul Reichert will receive $82,788. He has served the district for two years.

Curriculum coordinator Melinda De Coriolls will receive $42,783. She has served the district two years. De Coriolls has an 80% full time equivalent contract.

A new position this year, instructional technology liaison, Jane Lazarevic will earn $60,000. She will be in charge of training teachers on new software and purchasing software for students.

New KHS Principal, Donn Woolweber, will receive a total salary of $72,000. He has no extra duty.

KHS Assistant Principal, John Wolfenberg, will receive a total salary of $67,832. Wolfenberg serves as the At-Risk Coordinator where he receives $1,000, he also receives $5,000 for serving as the high school athletic coordinator. He has been employed by the district since 1996.

KMS Principal Ken Soerens, will receive a total salary of $74,076. Soerens receives $2,000 for serving as the middle school athletic director. He has been with the district since 1974.

KES Principal, Kieth Kriewaldt, will receive a total salary of $75,325. He receives $1,000 for serving as the gifted and talented coordinator. He has been with the district since 1995.

Pupil Services Director, Susan Skipper, will receive a total salary of $62,735. She has been with the district since 1998.

Police Department Seeks Donations for Defibrillators

At Monday's village board meeting Police Chief Richard Knoebel announced Village Administrator Dan Schmidt and himself recently attended a meeting of law enforcement officials and local businesses. They saw that a lot of county sheriff's and local police departments are putting automated external defibrillators (AED's) in their squad cars and businesses.

Knoebel reported that there is new grant offering $1,000 per defibrillator. He said he wants to put them in the two village squad cars. The cost of the defibrillators is $1,895.00 each, after the $1,000.00 grant is subtracted.

Knoebel said he would like to seek donations from local groups to fund this worthwhile project.

The AED's would be compatible with those used by the Kewaskum Fire Department rescue units.

They would be able to use the same hookups to connect to their advance equipment. The AED's are very easy to use and give the user verbal commands on the course of action to be taken and would require minimal training. Regal Ware attended this same meeting and is looking at also putting them in, according to Knoebel.

"This is clearly a lifesaving device," stated Knoebel. He continued, "We are on the road 24 hours a day and we can be at a victims disposal while the ambulance is on its way." According to information received at the seminar, the first ten minutes can be a very critical time for survival of the victim.

If any individual or service organization is interested in helping to fund this project please call the Kewaskum Police Department at 262-626-2323.

Youth Will Walk to Cure Diabetes

On Sunday, September 23, you are invited to join the "Dynamic Duo," Nick Groth and Cole Bubolz, shown above, at the Milwaukee County Zoo as they walk to find a cure for themselves and the millions of other people with diabetes.

This annual walk is organized by the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. Since its inception, JDRF has provided more than $410 million to diabetes research worldwide. They are proud to say that 85 cents of every dollar raised goes directly to research and research education.

Nick Groth will be starting fourth grade at St. Lucas Lutheran School in Kewaskum. He has had Type One Juvenile Diabetes for two years. His days consist of four to five blood tests a day, four shots of insulin a day and continuously counting carbohydrates.

Children adapt well to just about anything, but this has not been easy for Nick. Nick asks why he cannot be like the rest of the children his age that don't need tests and shots. In a lot of respect, he has had to grow up way too soon and for parents, that is not an easy thing to live with.

For parents of diabetics, it is hard not to think of the future and what it holds for these children. Please help find a cure!

Cole is a four-year-old boy from Waupun. Cole and Nick's family have been friends for years. It was a shock in March when Cole was also diagnosed with diabetes. His parents are taking it "one day at a time," as they learn more and more about taking care of Cole.

Type One Juvenile Diabetes does not discriminate. Anyone can develop Type One diabetes. This is why your help is needed.

If you would like to help in any way, please contact John and Debbie Groth at 262-626-4764 or email them at groth@quixnet.net.

They are looking for walkers, sponsors and any business or group who could help out. Parking and entry to the zoo are free for all walkers raising money for a cure. However, you do need to register before the walk.

You may contact the Groths for that information or you can pick up a walk registration form from the following Kewaskum businesses: Kohn's Citgo, Hair on Main, and Tuttle Creek Learning Center.

There will also be an aluminum can drive on Saturday, September 1, at the parking lot of Tuttle Creek Learning Center from 10 a.m. to noon. Please clean out your garage and bring your cans to the drive at Tuttle Creek for the Walk to Cure Diabetes.

Public Library Now Open Six Days a Week

By Andrew R. Kuehl
Staff Writer/Photographer

Village trustee Matt Heiser, who is also on the village's library board, announced at a recent village board meeting that the library was recently rated using the Wisconsin Public Library Standards (from the Department of Public Instruction) both according to municipal population and service population.

"Overall our rating was quite positive. One of the many rated aspects of our library service were the hours of operation and it was found to be little low," stated Heiser

In response, library director Steve Baker proposed a new schedule that would shave some of the slower hours but allow the library to open on Thursdays.

That new schedule has now taken effect. The hours are: Monday through Wednesday, the library will be open from 10 am to 7 pm; Thursday the library will be open from noon until 5 pm; Friday from 10 am to 5 pm and Saturday from 10 am to 1 pm.

For more information contact the library at 262-626-4312. Please watch the Statesman for more upcoming changes to the library.

Town of Scott Board Reviews Rules Governing Transfer Station

Members of the Town of Scott Board of Supervisors made a plea to the residents of the town to be more observant of the rules governing the Transfer Station.

Problems arise for both the board members who volunteer their time manning the station and to the unpaid citizen volunteers who assist them. As a means of funding the program, bags containing the Scott logo are sold and must be used for depositing garbage at the transfer station. At times when people show up with other types of garbage bags, they will be subject to a charge to be determined by the attendant in charge.

Another situation which is causing a problem is when the trailer furnished for placement of scrap metal, is used to deposit appliances, and other large items.

Residents are asked to take their refrigerators, air conditioners and other appliances which contain freon to an authorized business place and be expected to pay a fee. Other large items which do not fit into the bags also require a fee. The attendant will collect.

Another problem item is tires. Recently a pile of 13 tires, most of them on rims was discovered in a ditch along a town road. The transfer station will accept tires, but there is a charge for them. Be prepared to pay at the transfer station $2.00 and up depending upon the size of the tire, or to pay $250.00 plus court costs if found guilty of littering.

Depositing of garbage at the Transfer Station at times when it is not open will also be considered in violation of the litter law.

A request from the Michael Stewart family, W 7130 School Road to have the town abandon land which is part of the town's long range plan and has been designated as a possible extension of Jones Street from Western Avenue to School Street, has been denied.

The Stewarts were told that the request would need to be in writing. Despite the lack of the written request, the board saw fit to give it consideration but it was the consensus that the Long Range Plan should not be changed at this time even though there are no plans for developing that road at the present time. It appears that Stewart resides on a large lot and would like to sell part of the lot but would need the planned road to achieve a conforming lot. The Stewarts did not attend the meeting to explain their situation. The town's legal counsel will be contacting the Stewarts.

A zoning change was approved for Zoryan Abromovich to rezone 16.77 acres which would create two lots and be rezoned, one to A-5 and the other A-6.

The property is located in Section 1, south of the intersection of State Highway 28 and County Road W. Plans are to build a home near the large pond in that area.

A certified survey map presented by Abromovich was approved and a holding tank permit was approved for Ronald Aupperle.

The highway committee reported that the second cutting of all road ditches has been completed. The window on the New Holland tractor is being replaced this week.

Guard posts and a road sign which were damaged by a deer leaving Rezel's woods has been replaced. Supervisor Ike Kumrow reported that all that was left was a shattered sign covered with deer hide and footprints in the gravel.

Summer plans include centerlining and fog lining, shouldering on Forest View, along with replacing worn out street and road signs.

Kumrow predicts that the Boltonville Road bridge will need to be widened in 2003 at an estimated cost of $15,930.

Building Permits: Mike Miracola - reroof, Loren Hendrickson - reroof, Felicia Torrison-electric service, Dennis Scheiber-garage, Glen Karas-Move house, HVAC, Plumbing, Electrical, Ken Peters-reside, Robert Ruggero-Electrical, George Wendt - Re-roof, David Jung-Basement & Electrical.

There are more than 10 million bricks in the Empire State Building.

Holy Trinity Holding Used Book Sale

Parents of Holy Trinity school students will be holding a used book sale, open to all.

Last September Holy Trinity held a small children's only used book sale, with all books provided and bought by students. The students brought money to school to buy books of their choice. All books were priced at 50¢. The students were excited and had a lot of fun.

The sale was such a success, this year they would like to open up the sale to the community and have both adult and children books.

Anyone willing to donate books should drop them off at Holy Trinity school between the hours of 8:00 and 2:30 by Friday, September 14th.

The sale will be held on Friday, September 21st, from 1:00 to 5:00 and on Saturday, September 22nd, from 9:00 to noon at the school. All books will be priced at 50¢. There will be a special on books after 11:00 on Saturday - all the books you can fit into a grocery bag for $3.00.

All funds raised will go toward Holy Trinity's Reading is Fundamental program and the school library.

It is hoped to have a great turnout and make this a yearly event. If you need books picked-up or have any questions, please call Chris at 626-2977. Thank you for your support in this project.

A Wisconsin State Park vehicle admission sticker is required. In the event of inclement weather, the concert will be held at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Visitor Center is located off of Highway 67, 1/2 mile west of Dundee.

Randy Peterson is a family and children's entertainer from Green Bay. This award-winning recording artist currently performs over 200 concerts a year throughout Wisconsin. Performing with a guitar and a positive attitude, Randy puts children at ease and encourages them to join in.

Soon, you find the adults are having as much fun as the children. Kids are often made part of the show, joining Randy on stage to play instruments or adding their voices to a song. His catchy, original songs have a universal appeal that invite audience participation and spotlight a variety of musical styles, from folk to rock, reggae to polka. Also, an accomplished storyteller, Randy weaves poems and stories in with his music to create a truly versatile program.

For more information about this wonderful family concert, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The Center's phone number is (920) 533-8322.

Area Youth Enjoy Rain-Soaked JAKES Fishing Day

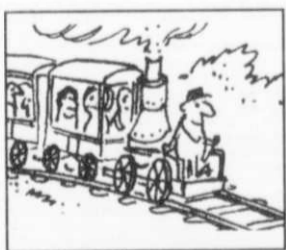

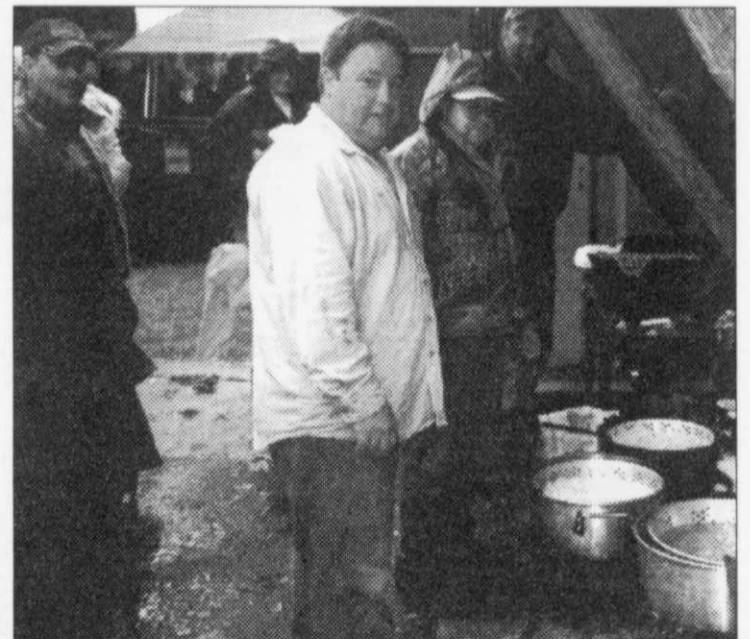

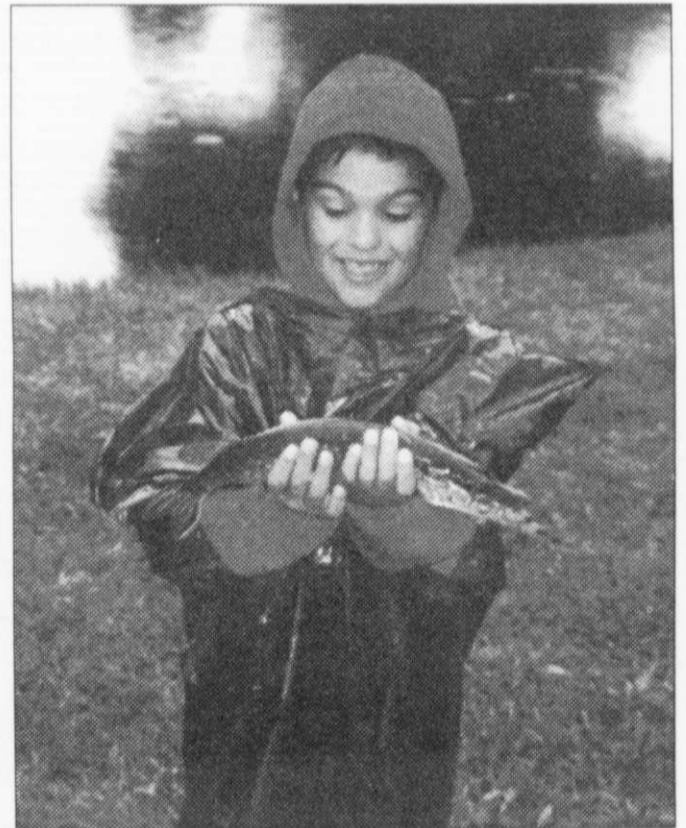

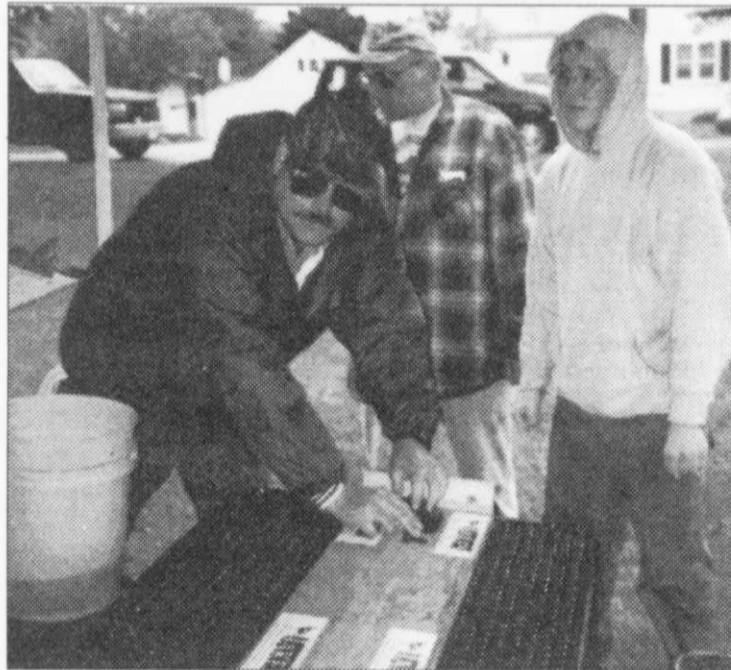

In spite of cool temperatures and rain most of the day, area youth enjoyed the Gateway Gobblers 10th Annual JAKES Free Fishing Day held in June along the Milwaukee River in Riverhill Park.

A large group of kids, 17 and under, and their parents, took advantage of the free fishing, lunch, and prizes for the biggest fish caught.

Area volunteers and members of the Gateway Gobblers would like to thank the following for their donations that make the free fishing day for the kids a reality.

Thanks to Wings Over Wisconsin, the New Fane Sportsman Club, the Kettle Moraine Sportsman Club, the Kewaskum Lions Club, the West Bend/Barton Sportsman Club, the Kewaskum Kiwanis Club, Bartoli's Produce, Kohn's Citgo, the 7 Up Bottling Company, Herriges Oil, Jim Schaub Home Improvement, Dale Giese, LR Trophy and Sportswear, the Village of Kewaskum, Menasha Display, Piggly Wiggly, Jeff Jaeger Insurance, Sysco Foods, Blower A.C. and those who donated cash.

All are looking forward to another JAKES Free Fishing Day next summer with the hope that sunny skies will prevail.

In 1825, an English locomotive builder named George Stephenson constructed the world's first public railroad. The line operated between the towns of Stockton and Darlington, a distance of about 20 miles.

Skater's Haven

Area skate enthusiasts have designed their own skater's haven in Riverhill Park. The project was led by area teens looking for a place to skate. The village put in the path and asphalt slab.

Martin Participates In Exercise Tandem Thrust

Navy Midshipman Lucas J. Martin, son of Louise A. and Larry J. Martin of 215 Forest Avenue, Kewaskum, recently participated in Exercise Tandem Thrust while assigned to the dock landing ship USS Germantown, forward deployed to Sasebo, Japan.

United States and Australian service members combined arms in Queensland, Australia to overtake Canadian forces during the two-week simulated emergency operation. More than 27,000 soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines faced both early-morning and late-night operations.

Sailors from Martin's ship spent more than 35 hours landing and launching helicopters and more than 40 hours launching various amphibious craft, including the light amphibious re-supply craft, and landing craft air cushion (LCAC).

USS Germantown supports amphibious operations using LCACs, which are specially-designed Hovercraft that travel above land and sea surfaces and deliver vehicles and equipment. Martin's ship also has conventional landing craft and helicopters embarked, and is equipped with medical facilities staffed by Navy doctors, dentists, nurses and corpsmen.

Martin is a 1999 graduate of St. Lawrence Seminary High School of Mount Calvary, Wisconsin.

MSTA's Tips for Parents: Easing Back-to-School Jitters

It's hard to believe that the summer is coming to an end and stores are already advertising back-to-school specials. Soon it will be time for you and your children to get into the school routine.

To help you and your children prepare for the transition, the Missouri State Teachers Association offers the following suggestions:

- * Talk about school in a positive way to encourage excitement in a new school year.

- * Check newspapers for a list of supplies your children will need for school. Properly mark your children's belongings so they (and others) can read it.

- * Have a "dress rehearsal" for the first day of school. Practice the best route to the bus stop, let your children know their teachers' names, and take them for a visit to the school to help make the building more familiar and find classrooms.

- * Let children take part in school preparations by having them help choose their supplies, allowing them to decide what to wear and reviewing their school schedule with them so they know what to expect on the first day.

- * Learn school rules regarding clothing, money, lunches, supplies and the like.

- * Children should go to school dressed in comfortable clothes and shoes appropriate for the weather.

- * School days seem very long to small children. Prepare your children for it and reassure them that you will be waiting at home after the school day is over.

- * Make sure your children know after-school procedures. Are they riding the bus home? Do they know their bus number and bus driver? Are you picking them up at school?

- * Encourage children to do their personal best at school. Let them know that mistakes are OK.

The Missouri State Teachers Association is the largest education organization in Missouri with 42,000 members. Since 1856, MSTA has been leading the way for Missouri's educators with services and benefits. MSTA is an independent teacher organization with no national affiliation - their focus is on education in Missouri.

Missouri has many dedicated, caring teachers who just want to do their jobs: educate students. For 140 years MSTA has worked to support them in their efforts. The members of MSTA have never forgotten that their students are our children. And that you are your child's first and most important teacher.

These tips are brought to you by the Missouri State Teachers Association because MSTA and its 42,000 members care about student success.

News From The Capitol

By Rep. Glenn Grothman

Time to End the Discrimination

As mentioned previously, the government of the state of Wisconsin is probably in the worst financial state it has been in twenty years. There is no better time to eliminate wasteful or offensive programs. I therefore have requested Governor McCallum to veto increases or eliminate wherever possible programs related to race. These programs not only cost money and unfairly discriminate against certain groups, but more importantly, encourage certain ethnic groups to view themselves as minorities first and Americans second.

A lot of these programs seem to be clustered in the education area. The legislature passed increases in minority-only scholarships for college students and increases in programs aimed at college bound minorities in high school. We already have incredibly generous financial aid for poorer students and any poorer people whose ancestors came from certain countries can apply for these. (These programs are flawed in that they discourage high school students from saving money for college but that's another column.)

Strangely, prevention programs, including anti-smoking and AIDS prevention programs are also being set up separately for "minorities." (I hate that word—we are all minorities in America. No religion is over 50% and no European country has close to 50% of its descendents in the majority.) The idea that minorities smoke for different reasons than the rest is itself racist.

Efforts were also made in this budget to provide for minority set-asides in government projects. While these failed, they have succeeded in the past where (such as Miller Park) preferences were given to minority or female contractors or employees.

As has been mentioned in the past, the university system has prided itself on taking ancestry into account when determining admission to college and universities. The secretiveness with which the university implements these programs and the difficulty I have had in getting statistics indicates the university knows it is doing something wrong.

There have also been rumors that state government engages in race-norming when it comes to hiring practices. This amounts to adding points to certain groups' civil service exams.

While all of the above is unfair, the long term problem this creates for our country is worse than the unfairness to individual applicants or bidders who are denied. In other countries, (in the Indian subcontinent and Africa) democracy has failed because people do not view themselves as primarily Indian or Nigerian. They view themselves first as members of a tribal or religious subgroup. Public policy discussions break down into an "us" versus "them" mentality. If individual people have less financial resources, the government will spend enormous sums of money on health care, childcare and equalizing educational opportunity. There is no reason we must continue to plant the seeds of division by making these programs race-based.

If Governor McCallum does not make a clear statement in this budget against race-based programs, I will introduce a constitutional amendment to prohibit these programs altogether.

Please let me know what you think on this issue. Contact me here in Madison—call 1-888-534-0059 or at any of the following.

Junqueira Takes First at Motorola 220

Motorola 220 winner, Bruno Junqueira. This was his first cart victory. Junqueira was the slowest cart pole winner in 20 years of competition at Elkhart Lake's Road America.

By Laurie Ottery
Statesman Correspondent

A weekend of racing confusion was filled with lots of what ifs, coulda's and shoulda's at Road America in Elkhart Lake. Unpredictable Wisconsin weather played havoc with the schedules and timing for races on Saturday and Sunday.

The Trans-Am race was halted after 17 laps on Saturday due to heavy rainfall. The red flag was waved on Lap 18 after several spinouts on the previous lap. Michael Lewis was declared the winner with his first career victory in the series at Road America, in the Johnson Controls 100.

Lewis and Johnny Miller were the only leaders who managed to stay on the track, without spinouts until Lewis spun on Lap 18 at Turn 12. Miller took the lead, but the flag had already waved and Lap 18 didn't count.

Deteriorating weather conditions and poor visibility made for a miserable race. After a 33-minute rain delay the race was called at 4:56 p.m. with Lewis the winner. Johnny Miller and Paul Gentilozzi were second and third, all driving Jaguars.

The Cart competition wasn't all that much different. It started out with a beautiful day of practice runs on Friday only to lead to rain hampered qualifying sessions. It had a similarity to the Who's on first? What's on second? I Don't Know is on third. The left fielder's name is Why and the pitcher Tomorrow. Maybe a few more I don't know and a tomorrow would have helped with both the weather conditions and the hassles of Sunday's race.

Road America has just over four miles of rolling hills and 14 turns to add excitement to any race. Add a little rain, well ok, a lot of rain, and the events go crazy.

"To go fast around here in the rain, you have to take your chances," said Kenny Brack, who won the pole. "Personally, I think it's better if it's dry because this track is very unpredictable. The lap is so long, and there's a lot of trees and leaves hanging over the track, giving different grip levels."

Two and a half-hours of shower ridden qualifying sessions resulted in a race for the top speeds. Seven drivers managed their best laps the final trip around. Brack led the way in a Team Rahal Ford-powered Lola. He covered the distance in two minutes 3.531 seconds for an average speed of 117.969. That is the slowest pole-sitter in 20 years of CART competition at Elkhart Lake.

The line-up for the Cart Motorola 220 was Brack, followed by Alex Tagliani (Players/Forsythe Racing) and Rookie Scott Dixon (PacWest Racing Group). Sunday morning the skies opened and added more rain to the soaked grounds. CART made the decision to go on with the race. A contract with ESPN to televise the race and record the catastrophes may have played into the decision for the start. Unfortunately, as the race unfolded and the disasters started their time allotment ran out and only a portion of the race was covered.

The morning press notes welcomed all to "iffy Elkhart Lake for race day. We were told that the 40% chance of rain was looking to be more like a 60% chance of dry weather as the blue skies started to peak through the cumulous clouds. The teams had both rain tires and slicks in their pits to handle either weather condition.

An inch of hard rain fell upon Road America in less than 30 minutes before the announcement was made that the race would be a wet start. The command for the start was delayed for another five minutes while officials try to stop the flow of water across the track in the area of Turn 11. By noon the command is delayed another five minutes and at 12:06 p.m. the "Gentlemen Start Your Engines!" is given.

By 12:15 the yellow flag is waved to start the 55-lap Motorola 220. The water problem has not improved and drivers are told to run side by side for two laps to help disperse the remaining water. On Lap two the jet blower is ordered to aid in the problem.

It took until Lap five before the green flag was waved and the racing actually began. Unfortunately, Rookie Max Wilson (Arciero/Blair Racing) makes contact with the rear of Bryan Herta (Forsythe Racing), climbs over the back of the car, gets airborne and nearly flips as both cars careen into the inside wall. Paul Tracy (Team KOOL Green) gets collected in the mess and all three are retired from the race, without injury.

The green flag came out again for Lap nine and Dixon bumps into Michael Andretti (Team Motorola) at Turn three. Andretti manages to correct the car, but drops from sixth to 17th in the race.

The yellow flag made another appearance for Lap 10 after Mauricio Gugelmin (PacWest Racing Group) spins out of control at Turn 11 in the water that continues to flow across the track. He slams into the inside wall and is retired from the race due to contact. On the very next lap Tora Takagi (Walker Racing) spins off course at the same spot, also making contact with the inside wall and is retired from competition.

On Lap 14, at 1:03 p.m., the red flag makes an appearance. The race is halted while CART officials and course workers try to tend to the river flowing across the track near Turn 11. CART officials had made the announcement of a wet start, meaning that all champ cars must start the race using rain tires. Gugelmin and Takagi were using slicks. The drivers claimed that there was so much water on the track that they couldn't see a thing.

The mass confusion continued. Corner workers have become public works people digging ditches, using sandbags and the jet blower to improve conditions and tempers were rising among many of the teams.

While in the pits, drivers exited their cars. Crews worked on the vehicles, changing tires, adding fuel and doing whatever most pit stops are used for. The ones who hadn't pitted basically got a free pit stop. Questions were raised about how fair that was to the drivers who had already pitted. Those drivers included Helio Castroneves (Marlboro Team Penske), Patrick Carpentier (Player's/Forsythe Racing), Michael Jourdain, Jr. (Herdez Bettenhausen) and Shinji Nakano (Fernandez Racing).

"I think we got screwed on the red flag," said Kenny Brack. "How can four guys, who didn't pit for slicks, get to change from rain tires to slicks while sitting in the pits on a red flag?"

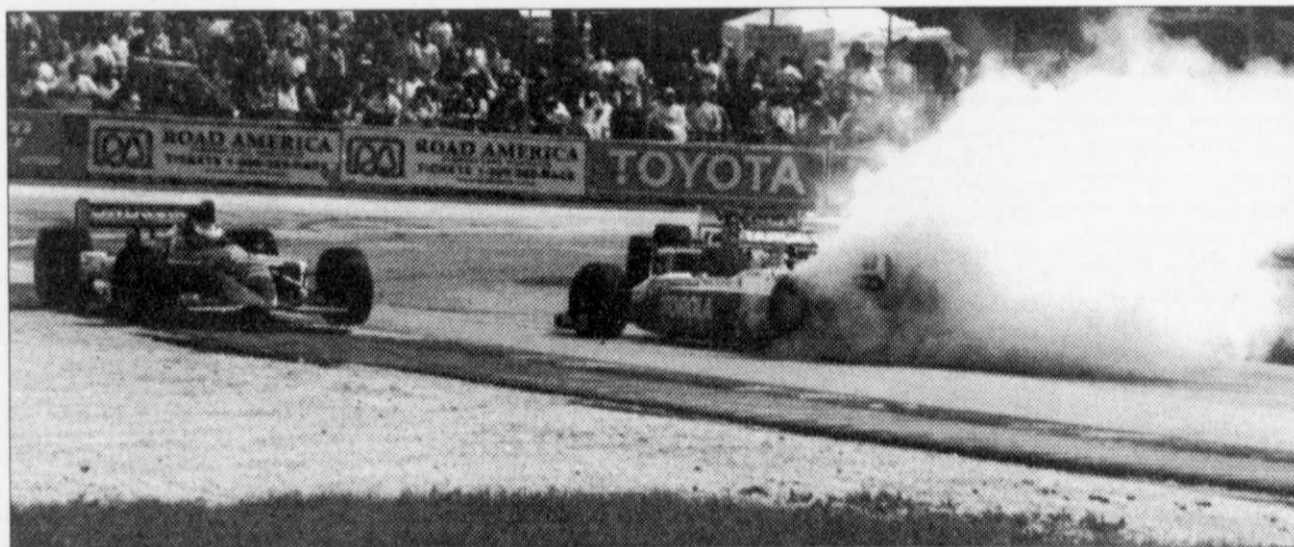

"The whole thing was ridiculous," said Gugelmin, the head of the driver's association, who termed the decision to start irresponsible. "Red-flagging the thing was the right decision, but that doesn't help me or any of the other guys who crashed in this mess."

Forty-seven minutes 52 seconds later the race continued but so did the craziness. It started on a yellow flag once again, but would resume green as the cars passed the flag stand for the second time. CART Race Control also made the decision to set a time limit of two hours, leaving only one hour 13 minutes and four seconds to go.

A terrible crash on Lap 21, Memo Gidley (Target Chip Ganassi Racing) occurred as he got off track, overcorrected and slammed into a concrete bridge. There was enough force to roll the car, crack the shell and leave a shower of debris before landing on its top. Gidley had lost consciousness, but was talking to safety workers before being transported to a local hospital. He escaped with what doctor's thought was soft tissue damage to both knees and is expected to race in the next event.

Andretti claims that his former teammate Christian Fittipaldi (Newman/Hass

Michael Andretti (Motorola) gets turned around on the track after being bumped by Christian Fittipaldi on Lap 35 of the Motorola 220. Fittipaldi's car retired due to a broken left front wheel and Andretti managed to get turned around and finished the race in second place behind Rookie Bruno Junqueira.

Chamber of Commerce 'Silent Auction' Fund-Raiser Begins

On the right-hand, lower corner of this page you will find the first coupon kicking off the Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce latest fund-raiser.

The fund-raiser will be a Silent Auction that will be featured in the Statesman only, on a bi-monthly or weekly basis depending on popularity and the amount of prizes donated.

The first prize up for bid will be a two-year subscription to the Kewaskum Statesman, valued at $46. To participate, just decide on what you would like to bid for the two-year subscription and fill out the coupon below. The deadline to submit your bid on the subscription will be September 15, 2001.

Following that date, the largest bid received will be chosen as the winner of the subscription. In the event two or more people bid the same winning amount, a random drawing will be held to determine the final winner.

Another silent auction on a different product or gift certificate will be held as soon as more prizes are donated.

Coupons containing the "Silent" bids can be mailed to Silent Auction, % The Kewaskum Statesman, P.O. Box 98, Kewaskum, WI 53040, or you can drop off your bid at the Statesman at 250 Main Street.

If you have submitted the winning bid, you may pick up your coupon prize at the Statesman or have the option of having the coupon mailed to you. You will then redeem that coupon at the business that has graciously donated the prize.

Businesses will be contacted for the donation of prizes to be "auctioned." If your business cares to contribute a prize, please contact Lana or Andrew at the Kewaskum Statesman (626-2626) or call Gwen at the Chamber of Commerce at 626-3336.

In return for your tax-deductible donation, you will receive FREE publicity as your product will be listed in the community newspaper. Also the product consumer will have the opportunity to stop in your place of business to use the coupon or product they have bid on and see first hand all you have to offer them.

Perhaps the winner will be a first-time consumer or perhaps it will be one who uses your product or business religiously. Donation of the prize still guarantees free publicity and the consumer will be visiting your place of business trying out your offer or services.

Please join in the bidding fun. The Silent Auction will be a WIN-WIN situation for all who choose to participate and get involved. All proceeds from this new Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce fund-raiser will benefit the Chamber community activities and Kewaskum's famous Kettle Kountry Kolors.

will be patronizing local business. The entire community can benefit if you choose to take advantage of the bidding. Fill out the coupon below today and send in your bid!

July 9, 1976

All is in readiness for this year's annual Kewaskum Firemen and Rescue Squad picnic to be held this Sunday, July 11, in the village park. Plans have been completed to make the event another outstanding one. An excellent parade at 12:30 sharp will highlight the picnic and get the festivities underway.

Jim Arthur of Arthur and Arthur of Fond du Lac discussed plans for the pond planned for the Kewaskum Kiwanis Park with village officials recently. Park committee chairman Dan Schmidt asked that specifications for the entire park be prepared so that approval for the pond can be obtained from the Dept. of Health and Social Services in Madison. About 150 people per day are expected to use the pond each day once it has been completed, although its maximum capacity will be slightly under 1100 swimmers. Sufficient shower and sanitary facilities will be provided as required by State Statutes, with provisions for more at a later date, if necessary. Other facilities to be included in the park are two basketball courts, six horseshoe pits, four tennis courts, and two softball diamonds. No provision was made for any hardball diamonds, because there is a much greater demand for softball facilities in the area. Lighting will be provided at no cost to users of the softball diamonds and the possibility of installing coin-operated lights at the tennis courts and horseshoe pits will be studied. Playground equipment will also be installed there, but the "modern type" made out of timbers or concrete will be used instead of the metal type that is in the present park. The officials present could not decide whether to install a floating diving board or a stationary one, so they instructed the architects to investigate both possibilities and report back.

BICENTENNIAL NEWS -- The Miller Brickyard submitted by James Andre was pictured. The Charles Miller brickyard was the second industry in the Village of Kewaskum. Miller built and lived in the house recently bought by the village from the Wallace Geidel estate. Judging from the early tax records of the Town of Kewaskum, the first brick was made about 1865. Charles Miller was no relation to the Charles Miller who had the drug store. The yard was first located between Highway 45 and the C & NW Railroad, just east of the present Sison Clinic (now Attorney Lynn Morrissey's offices). In 1886 the brick for the county jail, now the Historical Society, was made here. When the clay on the west side of the railroad tracks was all used the plant was moved to the east side next to the North Side Park. Jim Andre's uncles, Bill and John Kohn worked for Miller and told him they were paid part of their wages, $5.00 per week, on Saturday night and the balance when the brick was sold. When the yard closed about 1906, it was owned by William Miller, a son of the founder. Brick was also made in the Buss brickyard, now part of the late Carl Meilahn farm.

A daughter, Christa Marie, was born to Albert and Joan Fleischman, Route 3, Campbellsport, on June 30. They have one other son, Joel. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fleischman, Route 3, Campbellsport, are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gutjahr, Route 2, Kewaskum, are the maternal grandparents.

Although he is regularly asked to do so, God does not take sides in American politics.

ATTENTION PARENTS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

Everyone is urged to caution their children about crossing the street safely during school hours. With vision limited due to excess snow and buses not being able to stop quickly, children must use caution when crossing near buses or heavy traffic. Please help stop an accident BEFORE it happens! Always use the crosswalk.

Racing) basically ruined the race for him. He was on his way past him on Lap 36 for the lead when Fittipaldi sideswiped him. Fittipaldi also had an earlier incident with Bruno Junqueira (Target Chip Ganassi Racing).

"He flat out turned into me," said Andretti. "He couldn't have seen me, but I don't know how. Either Christian is driving wearing blinders or he can't see out of the side of the car or he is just angry at all of us."

The race did end in sunshine, well for some. When the checkered flag was waved Bruno Junqueira won his first CART victory, dedicating his race to teammate Gidley. He finished with a time of 2:48:20.453 with Andretti close behind at 2:48:23.140. Fernandez started the race in last place but finished in third with 2:48:30.462.

What if the weather would have been better? Things could have panned out differently. The race would have been less hassled schedules and ESPN might have been there for all 55 laps. The red flag pit stop may have not played into the top finishers either. By leading the most laps and finishing seventh to Brack's 14th, Castroneves moved into the points lead with 110 over Bracks 105. A weekend of racing confusion is over with teams, drivers and fans still shaking their heads.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It's that time of year again, when hope and help are extended to the million or so Americans, including members of my family, who are affected by neuromuscular disease.

For the 36th year, the Jerry Lewis MDA Labor Day Telethon will focus national attention on, and rally support for the battle against these muscle-wasting disorders. It will tell you how important the help of the Muscular Dystrophy Association is to many families in Southeastern Wisconsin.

My family lives every day with the effects of a neuromuscular disease, and it's heartening to know that pledges and donations made to the Telethon are helping to fund MDA's worldwide program of research seeking cures and treatments.

On the Telethon, you'll learn about MDA's unequalled program of services, through a national network of some 230 clinics, staffed by great teams of medical experts. MDA clinics at Children's Hospital and Froedert Hospital in Milwaukee, support groups, help with buying and repairing wheelchairs and leg braces, and vital information are made possible by the funds raised during Telethon. This past summer, two of my children spent a wonderful week at MDA Summer Camp in Kenosha County, thanks to the Telethon.

Please tune in to MDA's Telethon on Labor Day weekend and see what it's all about. The broadcast begins at 10:00 p.m. Sunday, September 2, on CBS 58, and continues through Monday at 7:00 p.m. I hope you'll do your part and make a pledge by calling 800-FIGHT-MD, or by visiting MDA's Web site at www.mdausa.org.

Sincerely,
James Chaloupka

Time to Think About Back-To-School Safety Tips

The school year will begin soon, and AAA Wisconsin reminds motorists to drive with extra care to help ensure the safety of children traveling to and from school.

AAA's annual School's Open - Drive Carefully campaign alerts motorists to the special risks to school-age children from motor vehicle fatalities -- the No. 1 cause of injury deaths nationwide for children ages 5 to 18. Many of these casualties happened at non-intersection locations, often caused by children running across the street while not paying attention to oncoming vehicles.

"Children are at risk because of their lack of experience in traffic situations and their limited physical and psychological development," said AAA spokesman Michael Bie.

To help avoid danger, AAA School Safety Patrol members will be using extra caution when guiding classmates across the street. Many schools in Wisconsin operate a AAA-sponsored school safety patrol, with student safety patrollers participating in the program.

This fall, AAA Wisconsin will distribute more than 70,000 pieces of safety material to police and school officials to help prevent traffic crashes involving children. Reducing the risks of children in traffic requires an all-out effort from schools, police, families and motorists.

"Every year we have new groups of children excited about their first day of school," Bie said. "In a hurry to get to school, children often dash across the street without looking, or looking without reacting to the danger of approaching vehicles."

At an average height of 3 feet-5 inches, and eye level of about 35-40 inches, children are at an extreme disadvantage. It is harder for them to see vehicles and for drivers to see them.

To help protect children, AAA urges motorists to follow these safety tips:

- Slow down in or near school and residential areas.
- Drive with your headlights on - even during the day - so children and other drivers can see you.

- Look for clues such as School Safety Patrols, bicycles, and playgrounds that indicate children could be in the area.

- Scan between parked cars and other objects where children could dart into the road.

- Practice extra caution in bad weather.

- Always stop for school buses that are loading or unloading students.

Your best protection to avoid a fatal mistake is to slow down. Every mile per hour you reduce your speed allows you greater reaction time. This could be the difference between life and death for a child who unexpectedly darts across a street.

Children must also pay careful attention to rules, signals, and signs. Safety tips for youngsters include:

- Look both ways and over your shoulder before crossing the street.

- Cross the road only where there are crosswalks or at corners designed for crossing.

- Obey the Adult School Crossing Guard and the AAA School Safety Patrol.

- Walk, never run, when crossing the street.

- Wait for the school bus in your assigned location, well off the roadway.

- Arrive on time at the bus stop or when walking your designated route.

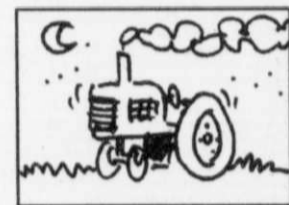

AAA Wisconsin is a not-for-profit membership organization offering travel, insurance, financial and auto-related services to more than 580,000 members statewide through 14 office locations.

70's Classes Dominate KHS Alumni Golf Scramble

Fouresomes representing the Kewaskum High School classes from the 1970's recorded the top four scores in the 2001 Alumni Golf Scramble on Friday, June 21 at Hon-E-Kor Golf and Country Club. Many other past or present School District students, staff members and administrators enjoyed a wonderful day of competition, sunshine and fine food. Warm weather and local sponsors combined to make the Second Annual Golf Fundraiser both pleasurable and profitable for all participants involved.

Members and coaches of the K.H.S. Boys Golf team organized and conducted this fundraiser which included a buffet style meal catered by Jodi Strobel at the American Legion Hall. Besides the golfers, there were many others who partook of the catered meal and attended the presentation of prizes and awards that followed. Most in attendance purchased tickets for an inhouse raffle and received prizes donated by area businesses and sponsors.

The day concluded with the presentation of awards for the participants and prizes for the hole events as well as the raffle. Prizes were selected by the winners of the special hole (flag) events and the raffle such as, Regal Ware pans, golf balls, golf gift certificates and clubs, dinners at Woody's Steakhouse, Wiseguys Pub and Kleinke's Amerahn, coolers, thermal mugs, four Brewer tickets with parking pass, shirts, hats, towels, etc. Unfortunately none of the golfers were able to win any of the hole-in-one contests that featured $5,000 cash and Pro Shop merchandise sponsored by Smith and Hatch Insurance, Dennis Butz Agency of Kewaskum.

Receiving engraved plaques and golf team shirts for collectively shooting a six under par, 64, representing the K.H.S. Class of 1973 were Jim Gaffke, Dennis Butz, Brian Larsen and Tom Piwoni. Three groups tied for second with scores of 67 on Hon-E-Kor's blue and white nines (par 70). Including the Class of 1975 featuring Tom, Shaun, Josh and Courtney Timblin, the Class of 1971 with Clark Eichstedt, Jim Dean and Scott Rohlinger as well as members of the Class of 1972 with Craig Carr, Steve Weddig, Glenn Eichstedt and staff member Dale Elliott. Winners of the Blind Bogey were Jack and Tim Westerman, Jim Hanrahan and Jerry Vetter from the class of 1976.

Members of the K.H.S. boys golf team and coaching staff extend their gratitude to all participants by distributing to each golfer a 5x7 portrait of their respective fouresomes taken and provided by Kevin Stautz of Hollywood's Studio Portraits. The boys golf team expresses their appreciation to all those sponsors who contributed to their successful outing. Special thanks to the staff and management at Hon-E-Kor Golf and Country Club and the American Legion for their very willing assistance. See you at next year's Alumni Scramble!

Sturgeon Hook-and-Line Season Opens Sept. 1

MADISON -- The 2001 hook-and-line lake sturgeon season opens Saturday, September 1, on Wisconsin waters open to hook-and-line sturgeon fishing, and runs until October 15, with a slightly longer season on the Menominee River. The season on that boundary water between Wisconsin and Michigan remains open until November 1.

The bag limit on all waters remains at one fish, and the minimum length is 50 inches statewide this year, including on the Menominee River and the Wisconsin River below the Dells dam.

Under a law effective in 1999, the minimum size lengths for sturgeon harvested from those two waters alternates between 50 and 70 inches. The size limit is 50 inches in odd-numbered years and 70 inches in even-numbered years.

"We expect fishing pressure to be up this year because of the alternate year switch to the 50-inch size limit," says Tim Larson, DNR fisheries biologist for Columbia and Sauk counties.

The rule is intended to allow anglers on the Wisconsin and Menominee Rivers the opportunity to fish for Wisconsin's largest and longest-lived fish species while protecting it from overharvest, he says.

Lake sturgeon are particularly vulnerable to overharvest because they are so late to mature. Female lake sturgeon do not spawn until they are 20 to 25 years old, and then only once every three to five years. Males start spawning during their teens.

Hook-and-line fishing for sturgeon takes place primarily on major inland rivers, such as the Chippewa, Flambeau and lower Wisconsin, and on Lake Wisconsin, which is an impoundment of the Wisconsin River in Sauk and Columbia counties.

Hook-and-line sturgeon fishing is specifically prohibited on other river systems, such as the Upper Wisconsin (above the Wisconsin Dells dam), and portions of the Fox, Wolf, St. Croix, Namekagon, as well as the Lake Winnebago system, where a sturgeon spearing season is held during February.

Anglers should check the current Guide to Hook and Line Fishing Regulations for waters that are specifically closed to sturgeon fishing, and for more rules intended to help protect populations of this ancient fish, which have been cruising Wisconsin waters for more than 100 million years.

Anglers interested in fishing for sturgeon must first obtain a free sturgeon tag from any DNR service center or outlet that sells DNR fishing licenses using the Automated License Issuance System (ALIS). Even anglers who are not required to possess a fishing license must have a sturgeon tag.

Anglers who catch and keep a legal-size sturgeon must stick their validated tag to a string and tie it around the fish tail. They also must register the sturgeon by 6 p.m. of the day after they catch it.

Such requirements give fish managers important information they need to help monitor lake sturgeon populations. Larson also encourages anglers to pick up a sturgeon fishing diary to help collect data on the fish they catch -- but can't legally keep -- under 50 inches.

"I'd also like to encourage anglers who harvest fish to donate the guts in plastic bags provided at the registration stations," Larson says. "This allows DNR to monitor the sex of the harvested fish."

Joe Kurz, DNR fisheries biologist for Chippewa, Clark and Eau Claire counties, also will be soliciting the collection of gut and fin samples from anglers harvesting a sturgeon. "These samples provided valuable information on the sex, maturation stage and age of sturgeon being harvested," he said. "In addition, I may once again request meat samples from harvested sturgeon which will be tested to determine the levels of environmental contaminants they contain."

Possession of an illegal or untagged sturgeon is a crime and may result in a fine of $3,000, a mandatory three-year revocation of all DNR licenses and possibly up to 90 days in jail. It is also illegal to catch a sturgeon for someone else to tag or possess the tag of another person.

Anyone who knows of illegal or untagged sturgeon being taken is asked to call the DNR Hotline at 1-800-847-9367 (1-800-TIP-WDNR) or contact the local conservation warden or sheriff's department. All information will be kept confidential.

Between 1996 and 1998, the Denver Broncos went undefeated (24-0) at their home stadium—the only team to do so for three consecutive seasons.

The Kewaskum girls tennis team opened conference play last Tuesday hosting Sheboygan Falls.

After playing some very competitive tennis, the lady Indians fell by the score of 3-4. "I was very impressed by the effort our team showed today," replied coach Kevin Hein. "They gave 100% and that's all I ask."

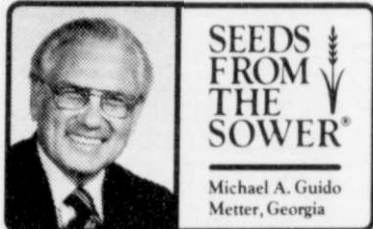

All the wins from Kewaskum came from doubles; #1 Katie Vogt and Courtney Schultz 6-2, 6-2. #2 Lauri Bausch and Mary Reindl 6-4, 6-3. #3 Sara Kurer and Margaret Reindl 6-0, 6-2.

"Our singles ran into some very talented players from the Falls," said coach Hein. "Their scores really don't reflect the matches they had." Singles included

#1 Amy F'ehlhaber 0-6, 0-6.
 #2 Kayla Sauer 1-6, 1-6. #3 Tiffany Trott 1-6, 0-6. #4 Michelle Backhaus 3-6, 0-6.

The JV team also played Tuesday and won their meet by the score of 5-2. "I was really impressed with how our team played today considering it was our first meet," said coach Ross.

Playing tough and picking up the wins for Kewaskum was #1 singles Jenna Degner 8-5 and #2 singles Jamie Imler 8-1. The doubles team for Kewaskum played equally well. Getting wins for Kewaskum was the #1 team of Stephanie Maul and Holly Fellenz 8-5, #2 team of Emily Ogi and Stacey Imler 8-6, and the #3 team of Amanda Schladweiler and Tanya Theisen 8-0.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

"Here's an order," barked a man to a young florist. "The ribbon must be wide. I want 'Rest In Peace' on both sides. If there's room, 'We'll Meet In Heaven.'"

Everyone was startled when the flowers arrived. The ribbon bore the inscription: "Rest In Peace On Both Sides. If There's Room, We'll Meet In Heaven."

Heaven's a restful place. The Bible says, "They shall rest from their toils and trials."

It's a roomy place. Our Lord said, "In My Father's House are many mansions."

But you must make a reservation. How? By receiving the Lord Jesus as your Savior. You will make it now, won't you?

Lady Indian Golfers Open Promising Season

The Kewaskum Indian girls golf team has been busy since August 6, preparing for what should be a very promising season for the veteran squad.

The Little Ten will be a close race this year with a strong Watertown and Hartford squad forcing the Lady Indians to bring their "A" game to every meet.

The first conference meet at Watertown on Monday, held at Watertown Country Club, was indeed such a challenge as the Indians grabbed first place in the conference by a one stroke advantage holding off Watertown's 201 and Hartford's 208.

Kewaskum posted a 200 with the best rounds shot by the Dreher girls, senior Niki with a 46, and sophomore Crystal with a 49. Senior Courtney Timblin caught some water on several holes but still managed to help the team with her 51 while the last counter was a 54 by senior Candi Heberer.

Fourth place in the meet went to Oconomowoc, followed by West Bend West, Beaver Dam and finally West Bend East.

The Indian golfers also traveled to Rainbow Springs to play in the Mukwonago Invitational last week and placed tenth out of 27 varsity teams from the southern part of Wisconsin. Courtney Timblin led the team with her 88 for the 18 hole tournament, followed by a 97 for Crystal Dreher.

Rounding out the squad this year will be seniors Audrey Dickmann, Amanda Gessner and Maggie Herriges; juniors Jac Chambers and Cassie Laatsch and sophomores Lisa Beck, Chris Behn, Katie Kowalczyk, Cassie Rimmel, Samantha Schoofs and Sara Taylor.
