New Fire Numbers to Be Installed in Town of Kewaskum

A representative from Lange Enterprises will begin installing new fire numbers on October 22, 2001.

Most signs will be placed to the right of the driveway. These signs are placed with the flag facing the road and are not to be tampered with, relocated, or affix another sign to the post. The signs are double side reflective green on white, Kewaskum school colors as suggested by a few residents.

These new signs enhance the safety of the residents should the need for emergency assistance be required. The signs also provide for a uniform numbering system and placement, as well as define the boundaries of the Town of Kewaskum from adjoining townships.

Old signs that contain the existing numbers that are on a pole will be removed. It is hoped you find the new signs attractive and easy to read. The project will take a few weeks to complete and verify the accuracy of the numbering system.

Kewaskum Bands Together

In light of the recent tragedy we as a nation endured on September 11, local band Guilt Trip and the entire Kewaskum community are holding a benefit on October 21 from noon until 6 p.m. at the Amerahn to help relief efforts in New York City. It is important to come together as a community and show our unity and pride in our nation.

The idea was conceived by Guilt Trip almost immediately after the attacks took place. "We were looking for a way to help out, and this seemed like the perfect way. We wanted to constructively aid our brothers in New York while at the same time providing the community with an opportunity to come out and have a good time," said Guilt Trip guitarist Jeremy Zima. He continued by saying that the entire town had been extremely supportive and helpful, giving donations of time, money and merchandise.

The family event will run noon till six at the Amerahn with four live bands playing all day. There will also be lots of door prizes and food for everyone.

Local bands Brassdrift The Broomcats, Liquid Crush and of course, everyone's favorite band, Guilt Trip have donated their time and talent for the event.

A bake sale is also being held by the FHA.

Tickets are on sale at virtually every business in Kewaskum, as well as West Bend, Fond du Lac and the surrounding areas. Tickets are $3 in advance, $4 at the door, with seniors and those under the age of four being free. Your ticket also enters you in all of the drawings for prizes, you need not be present to win.

ALL of the proceeds from the tickets, bake sale and food sales will go directly to the United Way 9-11 Relief Fund.

Town of Scott Discusses Town's Cemeteries

Prompted by a request for purchase of a burial plot from a family of a former Town of Scott Resident, the Town board has taken action to examine conditions of the town's three cemeteries. They are Winfield Cemetery on Cherry Hill Drive, Worden Cemetery on Tower Drive, and Union Cemetery on County D. Town records and Cemetery maps are faded and worn making them difficult to read.

After a long discussion and in an attempt to discourage further requests for burial sites, Supervisor Ira Weber moved to establish a charge of $500 per grave site. The motion failed.

Next he moved to discontinue all sales of grave sites at all of the town cemeteries except in the case of a burial for a pauper which would be allowed in the Winfield Cemetery where a special area has been designated for those cases. With a vote of 3 for, 2 against the motion passed. Prior to this, the last burial was in a town cemetery was in 1971.

During public input it was noted that a number of new residents who go to the recycling center have questions concerning names and phone numbers for Town officials, garage disposal regulations, meeting times etc., items which are familiar to long time residents but not available for newcomers. Clerk Billie Jo Richter said she would print a flyer which can be handed out at the recycling center.

Another public input item was presented by Dallas Wixom who related to a November 1996 document which proposed one fire department for the entire town as a plan for the future, along with a five year plan to budget for equipment replacement. Quoting from the document he said that $60,000 was spent for fire protection and $4,800 for first responders in 1996. He said that now five years later the town is still operating two departments and costs continue to escalate. Wixom's recommendation was, "Do something. Go for re-organization."

Last month the board increased the cost of applying for a zoning change, conditional use permit or a variance to $170 to cover meeting and advertising costs. Because there are times when a second meeting becomes necessary, the question was whether or not a second meeting held for the same request, would require another $170 payment. After considerable discussion it was decided that if the agenda contained new requests from other individuals, the cost would be waived. If the meeting was called only to take care of the original request with no other business at that meeting, the second meeting will require another $170.

Supervisor Irene Gnacinski has been reviewing proposals for the possible installation of an air exchange system which would improve the air quality within the Town Hall. She said she has experienced stagnant air and unpleasant odors when working within the building. Air Conditioning may also be a possibility if the proposals are accepted. No action

St. Martin's UCC to Celebrate 140th Anniversary on Sunday

On Sunday, October 21, St. Martin's United Church of Christ in Fillmore, Farmington Township, on Highway H, will be celebrating its 140th Anniversary. The public is invited to all events for the day.

The celebration will begin with a service of worship at 10 a.m. The guest speaker will be the Southeastern Wisconsin Association Minister, The Rev. Tom Bentz. He will be preaching on Matthew 13: 45-46, with the title, "The Pearl."

After worship, a pot luck meal will be shared. The church will provide ham and turkey sandwiches, beverages and dinnerware. All are asked to bring go-withs such as salads, side dishes or desserts.

Depending on the weather, there will be a number of activities such as dartball, volleyball or bocce ball. Cards, games for the children, making homemade ice with the church ice cream maker or just visiting.

The celebration will be concluded with a sing-along and hymnfest led by organist Pat Birenbaum and there will be a closing benediction by 3 p.m.

St. Martin's United Church of Christ was founded 140 years ago on September 21, 1861. It was then called St. Martin's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Rev. Vorberg was its first pastor. The cornerstone for the original building was laid in what is now St. Martin's Cemetery.

In 1891, a move was made to construct a larger building at its present site. This building was dedicated in December of 1891. The old stone church building was used for Sunday School and Confirmation instruction until it was razed in the 1930's.

St. Martin's is actually a merger of two congregations in Fillmore. The local German Reformed Church which had been located across the road from the St. Martin's Cemetery voted to merge with it on February 14, 1943, shortly after their two parent denominations had merged to become the German Evangelical and Reformed Church. When the German Evangelical and Reformed denomination merged with the Congregational Christian denomination to become the United Church of Christ, so did St. Martins.

St. Martin's has been a part of several yoked ministries, with St. Paul's Evangelical Church of Waubeka, with the Community Reformed Church of Waubeka, with St. John's UCC of Boltonville, part of the five star parish from 1976-1981, and presently with St. Paul's Community United Church of Christ in Waubeka since 1981 under the pastoral leadership of The Rev. David P. Jerger.

Scouting For Food

Approximately 12,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Venturers representing over 400 local Scouting units hung over 400,000 food bags on the door knobs of community households beginning the week of October 13th.

The food drive is part of the Bay-Lakes Council's 14th annual Scouting for Food program, which has collected over 9.8 million containers of food. Also participating are 83 food pantries who will be responsible for distributing food to local families who are in need of assistance.

Scouting for Food has impacted hundreds of thousands of families. It provides many food pantries with enough food for the entire year and others will receive enough food to get through the holiday season.

Serving as chair for the 2001 Scouting for Food Drive is Dave Vander Zanden, President of School Specialty in Appleton. Vander Zanden stated that feedback from the participating food pantries indicates a greater need for food this year than in previous years.

He asks that every household that receives a bag, fill it to capacity and put it out on their doorstep. Scouts will be returning October 20th between 8 and 11 a.m. to collect the filled food bags for distribution to the local pantries.

For more information on how you can help, contact the Bay Lakes Council at 1-800-372-6887.

Kumrows to Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Ivan and Janet Kumrow, known as Ike and his bike, and Jan, or to some as Blondie, of Random Lake are celebrating their 50th Wedding Anniversary on Sunday, November 4, 2001, at St. John's Lutheran Church Fellowship Hall in New Fane.

They were married on Sunday, November 4, 1951, during a 2 p.m. service at Immanuel Lutheran Church in the Town of Scott, by Rev. Tornow, where they are still members.

Their attendants were Jerome Kumrow (best man), Virginia (Garbisch) Edgar (maid of honor), Charles Garbisch, Joyce (Kumrow) Butler, Joan (Garbisch) Schlicht and Alice (Plautz) Glander.

Janet is the daughter of Malinda and the late Roy Garbisch, and was born in the Town of Scott. Ivan is the son of the late Gerhard and Leona Kumrow, and also was born in the Town of Scott within one-half mile of Janet.

Ten weeks after their wedding, Ivan was called to be stationed in Virginia, and served in the U.S. Army for two years. After returning home, he worked at Gehls and worked for his brother, Vernon, hauling milk. He later hauled milk for Beine Milk Transport for eight years.

They both worked for Kenro Plastics for many years. In 1965, Ivan started working for the U.S. Soil Conservation and also, later, as a mechanic for Berndt's Texaco Station, until he started his own business, known as Ike's Repair Shoppe.

In 1987 he retired from Soil Conservation and worked full-time in his Repair Shoppe. In 1992 he worked for the Sheboygan County Land Conservation Department, until retiring again in 1997. He is presently Town Supervisor for the Town of Scott, works part-time for the DNR, and still repairs cars. He also designs ponds on his own.

After graduating from Random Lake High School, Jan joined Ike in Virginia, until the arrival of their first daughter, Margie. About 1956, she worked for Kenro Plastics until 1966. She then started working for Regal Ware, Inc., until her retirement from there in 1994.

There she worked in the office, and as a receptionist. She later managed the Regal Outlet Store for many years. From 1998 to 2000, she worked for the West Bend Company Outlet Store, until she joined Tweber Company in 2000. She is presently working there and is still selling Avon after 26 years.

The couple has three daughters and one deceased son: Margie (Corby) Felsher of Sheboygan Falls; Carrie (John) Kuehl of Random Lake, and Penny (Daryl) Moldenhauer of Iron Ridge. The Kumrow's son, Joel, died in 1974.

They also have five grandchildren: Nicolette (fiance Bob Kearns) Moldenhauer, and Kyle, Desiree, Destin and Kierra Kuehl, and four step-grandchildren, Tracy Cohan, Corby Felsher, Allyson Felsher and Amber Kuehl, and three step-great-grandchildren, Alexandra Mays, Audrey Cohan and Drew Felsher.

MAGF Fall Open House On Oct. 28

A slide show and discussion on "Old Growth Forest" and a presentation on "Compiling the Flora of Fond du Lac County" are highlights of Mid America Geographic Foundation's annual Fall Open House being held on the UW-Fond du Lac campus Sunday, October 28, 2001, from 1 to 4 p.m. The attending will gather in Science Building Room 115 where refreshments are to be served. Lectures will be delivered across the hall in Science Building Room 112.

For the first time, Milwaukee arborist Jim Uhrinak will bring his popular and informative "Old Growth Forest" slide show to Fond du Lac for the enjoyment of area residents interested in the life cycle of forests.

Randal Maurer, a consulting ecologist who specializes in restoration ecology, is an Adjunct Professor in Electron Microscopy at Marian College of Fond du Lac. His presentation will describe methods used to compile a Fond du Lac county flora and its significance in understanding the natural history of Fond du Lac County.

The Mid America

Geographic Foundation is a non-profit tax-exempt organization established for the purpose of research on, education about, and preservation of environmental and heritage sites in and around east central and southern Wisconsin. MAGF is especially interested in promoting a scientific understanding of the petroglyphs, petroforms and significant landscape features found in the area.

To obtain a copy of MAGF's brochure outlining its mission, to become a member of the organization, or to make a tax-exempt donation in support of the group's work, write Mid-America Geographic Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 722, Fond du Lac, WI 54935.

Refreshments will be served during the October 28th Open House. Those attending will have the opportunity to show their artifacts informally and to share information and stories. The public is invited to attend and to view the artifacts MAGF will have on display and to bring artifacts of their own for identification. There is no charge for admission.

Kettle Moraine Symphony To Hold Concert Oct. 20

The Kettle Moraine Symphony opens its 34th season Saturday, October 20, at the Washington County Fair Park Pavilion with works by Mozart, Beethoven and Elgar.

Its season premiere will be repeated with a special debut performance October 21 in the Schauer Arts and Activities Center in Hartford.

The concert will open with the overture to "The Magic Flute," one of Mozart's best known works, which combines all that is best about this favorite composer's music.

Guest artist Anthony Padilla will perform with the orchestra in Beethoven's "Piano Concerto #4 in G Major." Padilla is an acclaimed concert pianist, having performed throughout the US and internationally. He has also won numerous awards and competition prizes and brings an exceptional level of artistry and brilliance to this challenging work.

The final number is the "Engima Variations" by Elgar, a series of more than a dozen short symbolic pieces that commemorate people in the composer's life. Known only by initials or code names, these pieces challenged music analysts for years in discovering whom they apply to.

Washington County Parks Are Still the Place to Recreate

As the days grow shorter and the cool weather begins to move in, Roger Kist, Manager of Park Operations would like to remind everyone that the Washington County Parks continue to be the place to recreate.

At five of the parks there are heated shelters that can accommodate groups up to 50 in size. Two have fireplaces for your enjoyment. The newest shelter is at Ackerman's Grove, with a beautiful view of the picturesque Little Cedar Lake.

When the snow flies, all the walking trails turn into cross-country ski trails. Washington County has several miles of snowmobile trails. For more information, please call their office at (262) 335-4445 or visit their web page at www.co.washington.wi.us and go to Department and Services. The auction of the original, autographed oil painting by the artist will be auctioned off at 7 p.m. Famed autographed prints will be available for purchase. Dave Hackett will be on-site to autograph unframed art, also available for purchase. Cost of large prints (32x20) are $50, and small prints (16x10) cost $25. Prudential Preferred Properties will provide wine and cheese throughout the evening.

Dave Hackett is a Wisconsin native and has created many watercolors and pen and inks, several of which have been reproduced as limited edition prints, calendars, postcards and notecards. He has won local, regional and national awards and his original watercolors and pen and inks are in many private collections.

According to Hackett, after starting with a list of 60 Washington County buildings, he had to narrow the choices to 20. He invested approximately 200 hours into the montage from start to finish. Some buildings included in the montage are: the Richfield Roller Mill, the Old County Jail, Holy Hill, the Stoffel Store in the Town of Addison and Schwartz Chandelier Ballroom in Hartford, among others.

The Washington County Historical Society strives to preserve Washington County's heritage by sponsoring a variety of annual programs, education workshops, social events, and concerts throughout the year. ## LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear School Board Members and Parents of KES students;

As some of you may remember, last year a group of concerned parents approached first the school, and then the school board with concerns about the large kindergarten classes. Classes were around 25 children per teacher with one aide to help between two classes periodically throughout the day.

We had requested an additional aide be hired so that each kindergarten class could have more consistent help during the day. We could tell that our children were not receiving the best education possible despite the teacher's best efforts. We were told that we were in a "blip" year and that class sizes would be considerably smaller this year. The money was available to hire an aide but the Principal told us that we could "make do for one year."

The School Board Members, with the exception of one, chose to ignore our pleas, and we were dismissed without further investigation on their part. We recently attended parent/teacher conferences and were upset to hear that on average our children are behind where they should be at this point, especially in reading. Now because the school and School Board failed us, and especially our children, the first grade teachers, the parents and the children need to work extra hard to catch up. For those children who may have learning challenges it may be impossible to catch up.

Our district takes great pride when our school scores high in the National Testing, how will they feel in a few years when they notice our scores slipping? We can assure you we won't be happy to be part of that statistic. What was the benefit of all day kindergarten when our children still came out behind??

To all you parents with children in kindergarten this year or even next year: Check your class sizes. Last year was supposed to be a fluke, but this year the classes are just as large. We are a growing community, and chances are the class sizes will continue to grow. Be aware, several parents chose to put their children in the private schools last year because of the concerns, and those children are showing the benefits.

We were also told that there used to be a group of teachers from kindergarten through third grade who were active in the planning of class sizes and education of our children, and the school worked with them in the best interest of the children. Since this group no longer exists the school is making the decisions themselves and yet has not followed through to see how their decisions are affecting the children.

No school board members or the principal have checked to see how last year's oversized classes have affected the children.

The current and future kindergarten children will continue to be affected by oversized classes. It is not too late to change their future. Please contact your school board members and let them know our children's education is important to us.

Wisconsin: Nation's Leader In Specialty Cheese Making

While Wisconsin has long been known as the nation's leading producer of cheeses such as Cheddar, pasteurized process cheese, Colby and Brick (a pair of Wisconsin originals, by the way), it also leads the nation in making finely crafted specialty cheeses.

Despite its relative maturity as a cheese-producing state, with roots that go back to the 1840s, Wisconsin maintained its position as the nation's leading producer of high volume cheeses, but has also become a powerhouse on the world stage in the production of specialty cheeses.

Making Feta cheese, for example, was rare among Wisconsin's artisan cheesemakers before 1990, but today the state leads the nation in Feta production. The same can be said of numerous other cheeses such as Gruyere, Gorgonzola, Raclette and specialty Monterey Jacks. Affinage, the art of aging cheeses to give flavor and added depth, has also flourished over the past decade producing unparalleled Asiago, Gouda, Parmesan, Cheddar and Provolone, among others. Wisconsin is the only state to produce the legendary Limburger, and leads the nation in the production of blue cheeses.

What some are calling the "Wisconsin cheese revolution" has manifested itself in several ways. Possibly the most measurable has been Wisconsin's domination of independent cheese competitions. Over the past decade, Wisconsin has won more awards at the U.S. Cheese Championships than all other states combined. And, at the World Cheese Championships, Wisconsin cheesemakers have garnered more awards that the combined efforts of all of Europe's cheesemakers.

How does this consistently high performance happen? It starts with the high quality of milk produced by Wisconsin's dairy farm families. But, industry observers understand that it's a cooperative effort between several entities within the state of Wisconsin, from the University of Wisconsin, cheesemaker groups, marketing organizations and others, which keeps the industry vital.

For example, Wisconsin is the only state with a Master Cheesemaker program. This program, initiated by the Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board and the Center for Dairy Research at the University of Wisconsin, takes the state's best and most experienced cheesemakers and helps them become even better. With more than two dozen Wisconsin Master Cheesemakers, the state's acknowledged leadership in the development of standards of excellence is being pushed even higher. Only Wisconsin Master Cheesemakers may place in the state's "Master Mark" on their products, signifying a product that's been made by the state's most experienced and highly trained cheesemakers.

Wisconsin counts some 350 varieties, types and styles of cheese in its statewide portfolio, and more are coming on every year as its cheesemakers refine new varieties and new make procedures. That has been the hallmark of Wisconsin cheesemaking for the past 160 years, and will continue to be as the industry enters the new millennium. Clearly, specialty cheese will be a key component of the industry's continued success.

IN MEMORY

In memory of CHRISTA FLEISCHMAN, who passed away one year ago, October 20, 2000.

IF TEARS COULD BUILD A STAIRWAY

If tears could build a stairway
And memories were a lane
We would walk right up to heaven
And bring you back again.

No farewell words were spoken

No time to say goodbye
You were gone before we knew it

And only God knows why.

Our hearts still ache in sadness

And secret tears still flow
What it meant to lose you
No one can ever know.

But now we know you want us

To remember all the happy times

Life still has much in store.

Since you'll never be forgotten

We pledge to you today
A hallowed place within our hearts

Is where you'll always stay.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of Shirlee Gaffke who passed away on October 21, 1997:

THE MANSION OF HEAVEN

The world, however beautiful, was never meant to be.

The place that we would call our home for all eternity.

And though we would not choose to leave, a loving God knows best,

And in His time, He lifts us to a place of peace and rest.

For He has built a mansion where His children will abide, free from pain and sorrow, forever at His side.

He said He'd never leave us to face our trials alone,

And though sometimes we fail Him, He never fails His own.

And even when our choices are less than He would ask,

He knows when human courage is unequal to the task.

We cannot judge what happens, though tears and questions start.

We only see what's visible... God sees into the heart.

And though there may be many things that we cannot explain,

We can be sure it breaks His heart to see His children's pain.

In loving arms, He bears us to a quiet place apart,

Where He mends the wounded spirit and heals the broken heart.

And though these ones we love so much have left our present sight and passed into a better world of majesty and light,

Someday we'll be together in our Father's home above,

Where we'll thank him for His mercy and praise Him for his love.

From Her Family

Lymphedema Support Group Welcomes Cellular Health Expert

West Bend -- Brian Schwager, founder of the Institute of Cellular Health and Fitness, will present "Lymphatic and Immune Systems: Our Greatest Defense Against Disease" at the next Lymphedema and Venous Edema Support Group meeting Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 7 p.m.

The group will meet in the Cedar Ridge 2nd Floor Dining Room, 113 Cedar Ridge Drive, West Bend. A well-known lecturer and writer on the link between fitness and cellular health, Schwager will discuss how preventing lymphatic stagnation with herbs, sound diet and specific exercises can boost immunity, promote health and fight aging.

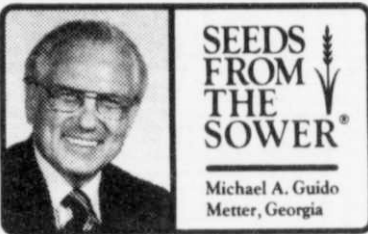

Lymphedema is a chronic swelling of an extremity or body part caused by an obstruction in the natural flow of lymphatic fluid in tissues. It may occur due to surgical removal of lymph nodes, a congenital (born with) defect of having too few or impaired lymphatic pathways or lymph nodes, or pathway destruction from trauma, surgery or radiation.

Not everyone with these risk factors will develop lymphedema. Of the 25 percent who do, symptoms may occur up to 15 years later. While there is no cure, lymphedema can be controlled through a combination of therapy techniques provided by specially trained physical or occupational therapists.

The meeting is free and open to the community and provides an opportunity for participants and caregivers to ask questions and share support, resources, challenges and successes in living with lymphedema or venous edema. The group is facilitated by lymphedema patient and cancer survivor Shirley Brown, and will include refreshments.

A not-for-profit organization, Cedar Haven provides free screenings by appointment for lymphedema and venous edema, as well as osteoporosis, urinary incontinence and work or sports injuries. The agency is a division of the Benevolent Corporation Cedar Campuses, a regional leader in rehabilitation, education, older adult living and health care. For more information, call Cedar Haven, (262) 306-2150.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
Michael A. Guido Metter, Georgia

About the only exercise some people get is jumping to conclusions.

"Why be good," they ask, "when bad people prosper and good people suffer?"

"Look at Job," they say. "He was good, and his friends were bad. He had the boils, they the benefits."

"Look at Joseph," they add. "He was good, and his master's wife was bad. She got importance, he imprisonment."

But the Bible says, "There's a reward for the righteous."

Job's boils became his blessings; and if Joseph hadn't been a prisoner, he wouldn't have become prime minister.

God takes the worst things that happen to His children and turns them into the best things. Yes, He rewards the righteous.

Breast Cancer Screenings Set In October

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend is offering breast cancer screenings at a special rate in October, Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

Participants will receive a mammogram and directions for conducting breast self-examinations.

The screenings will be held Monday through Friday, October 22 to 26, and October 29 to November 2, from noon to 4:30 p.m. in the hospital's imaging services (radiology) department. The cost is $65.

Early detection of breast cancer increases the chances for surviving breast cancer. Mammograms are special breast X-rays that are important in early detection because they can detect tumors that are too small to be detected by touch.

To get a mammogram, a woman must:

- * Be age 40 or older;
- * Have had no mammogram in the past year;
- * Have had no radiation treatment to the breast;
- * Not be pregnant or breastfeeding;
- * Have no known breast lumps.

Registration for the cancer screening began October 1, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. To register call the radiology department at 262-334-8344.

The screenings are being sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital and the American Cancer Society. St. Joseph's is Medicare, ACR and FDA certified.

Early Zone T Hunt Runs Oct. 25-28

MADISON -- Wisconsin's 2001 gun deer hunting season gets underway on Thursday, October 25 when the early antlerless-only Zone T deer hunting season opens across the state at one-half hour before sunrise. The Zone T hunt runs through October 28 and a late Zone T season will be held from December 6 through 9.

Archery season will remain open in Zone T units but is restricted to the harvest of antlerless deer. All hunters hunting in Zone T units, with the exception of waterfowl hunters, are required to follow blaze orange requirements when hunting during this time.

"Each archery and gun deer license sold includes a free antlerless permit," says Tom Hauge, director of Department of Natural Resources wildlife management program. "We hope hunters will take advantage of the extra hunting opportunity, during nice weather, and harvest an antlerless deer. The food pantry program is up and operating so even if the hunter can't use the deer we hope they'll consider donating it to the food pantry program. There's a list of participating meat processors on our website or one of our service centers can also supply a list."

Deer harvested with a firearm during this hunt must be registered by 5 p.m. on October 29. Antlerless deer tagged with an archery back tag must be harvested with a bow, antlerless deer tagged with a gun back tag must be harvested with a firearm. Free bonus antlerless permits issued upon purchase of either type of license (archery or gun) can be used with either license in a Zone T unit during the Zone T hunting season. Hunters who hunt with a gun MUST have a gun license, and hunters who hunt with a bow you MUST have an archery license.

"The majority of deer management units across the state are over population goals and we're seeing increased agricultural, ecological and vehicular damage as a result," says Bill Mytton, DNR deer and bear ecologist. "Seventy-six deer management units, 58 percent of our 132 units, are designated as Zone T this year."

"The number of Zone T units is down from last year's high of 97," says Hauge. "The combination of last year's Zone T hunt and record overall harvest has reduced the number of Zone T units for 2001 but our overall whitetail population is still higher than the prescribed limits. If hunters continue to help us by taking antlerless deer, it's our hope that we can get our whitetail populations closer to goal in more units."

Hunters harvested 82,099 deer during Zone T seasons in 2000. Wildlife officials expect that with fewer units in the Zone T season for 2001, this number will drop some.

The archery season is unaffected in non-Zone T units. Archers in non-Zone T units may harvest a buck with their regular archery kill tag during these times and are not required to wear blaze orange while hunting. However, since many non-Zone hunting units share a border with a Zone T unit, DNR recreation safety officials suggest wearing orange when moving into and out of the woods for increased safety.

State Park Units will not participate in Zone T season extensions. However, Zone T antlerless permits will be available for use in Zone T-designated parks. Hunting access to these properties is by limited draw only. Those interested in hunting these parks must have applied to hunt in those units through the Hunter's Choice/Bonus Antlerless Permit Application process by July 20 ($3 application sticker required). Special hours and area restrictions may apply within the parks; this information will be mailed to successful applicants.

Over the last decade, Wisconsin has seen several extensions to its traditional deer hunting seasons. As long as statewide populations hover in the 1.6 million range, as they do this year, wildlife managers say it's likely more Zone T seasons are ahead.

Kewaskum 4-H News

The 4-H'ers held their open house on October 4, 2001 at the Kewaskum Town Hall.

Lots of 4-H projects were available and 4-H members were available to talk with. During the meeting upcoming events were discussed such as the rummage and bake sale for the 9/11 disaster relief fund, farmers market on October 13, outing with Meadow Creek residents to Shalom Wildlife Sanctuary, face painting at Kettle Kountry Colors, Fright Fest, Club Halloween Party and the candy bar fund-raiser. Candy bars were available through 4-H members for $1.00 each.

The 4-H window display will be located at Coast to Coast Hardware on Fond du Lac Avenue. New officers will be installed at the next meeting. The county-wide youth lock-in will be held at Holy Angels School in West Bend on November 9.

The Achievement and Recognition Program for the 4-H members was held on October 14 at the fair park. Thanks to all the families who brought refreshments to this meeting. The next club meeting will be held on November 1, 2001, at 7 p.m. in the Kewaskum Town Hall.

Stay With Your Long Term Investment Plans

By Donna M. Vogt
Certified Financial Planner
Senior Investment Executive
- Raymond James Financial Service Inc.

What began as a shocking day continues as a shocking week. However, in memory of those who died, our objective should be to regroup and move forward to prove that no terrorist attacks will ever alter our resolve.

While it will take time for our lives to resume a more normal pattern, we must do everything possible to keep moving in that direction.

One aspect of our lives, our economic system, was a prime target on these attacks. We must now make every effort to put our economy back on track, which can only succeed if each of us overcomes our concerns and has the most positive mindset possible.

As markets reopen, investors are encouraged to take a cautious approach, particularly if they are considering selling securities in order to convert their assets to cash.

We strongly recommend that investors not sell positions once the markets reopen unless they had planned to sell those portions prior to the attacks. Maintaining the strength of our markets is one way to maintain the strength of our economy and to strike back at these terrorist acts.

The various exchanges will do everything possible to maintain orderly markets. However, there is a possibility that we could see lower openings and considerable volatility because of investor concerns.

We have survived past crises and I am sure we will survive this one. The key is not to panic.

Although past performance does not guarantee future results, the Dow Jones Industrial Average was at approximately 117 when Pearl Harbor was attacked, fell 20% to 93 by early May 1942 and then rallied to 145 by July 1943. In August 1962, at the time of the Cuban Missile Crisis, the Dow was at 615. It fell to 550 in October and then rose to 650 in December and 767 by December 1963.

And finally, in another national event that impacted the markets, when President Kennedy was assassinated the Dow fell nearly 20 points in 20 minutes before the exchanges shut down. When the markets reopened and Lyndon Johnson was sworn in as president, the Dow went from 712 to 825 by April 1964 and 891 by November 1964.

If these events show anything, they suggest that buying into these "panics" is usually the most logical strategy.

In a final point, I strongly recommend that you stay with your long-term investment plans and feel free to consult with me at 920-533-5055 or 800-513-5055, if you have any concerns.

Foremost Farms Honors Quality Milk Producers

BARABOO - Area dairy farmers were recently honored by Foremost Farms USA for producing quality milk during the calendar year 2000. Edward and Harvey Klumb of West Bend were honored with an Excellent Quality award for the production of quality milk during the cooperative's annual district meeting in September.

Every award recipient was an active member of the cooperative the entire quality award period. They received quality premiums on all milk shipped, and maintained an average somatic cell count (SCC) of 250,000 or less.

The milk tested negative for antibodies and added water and the standard place count (SPC) was 25,000 or below. The cooperative presented two levels of achievement for quality milk production to local producer-owners throughout Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin.

"Superior Quality" awards were presented to 44 producers whose milk averaged below 100,000 SCC. "Excellent Quality" awards were presented to 1,035 producers whose milk averaged between 101,000 and 250,000 SCC.

"Quality milk serves as our foundation for producing, marketing and delivering milk and finished dairy products which consistently meet the needs and expectations of our customers," says Dave Myers, Foremost Farms director of procurement. "For us, quality means meeting, and then going beyond, acceptable standards. Foremost Farms' commitment to quality from farm to final product helps build long-term relationships of trust and loyalty with our customers, and it helps build future economic returns for members."

Verizon Reminds Customers They Must Dial Ten Digits for Extended Area Codes

SUN PRAIRIE - Verizon is reminding consumers and businesses that a new way of dialing Extended Area Service (EAS) calls to numbers in other area codes began September 25.

Since April, customers have been able to dial EAS calls to different area codes using the new, 10-digit method or the old seven-digit method.

Beginning September 25, customers who dialed using the old seven-digit method heard a message reminding them that the call must be completed by dialing the area code and the seven-digit number. To complete the call, they need to redial using the 10-digit number.

Customers should also reprogram computers that are used for Internet access, fax machines, speed dialing and call forwarding services and other automatic dialing equipment. Businesses may want to check with their security providers or the supplier of their PBX business phone system to ensure those systems are correctly programmed.

Customers should continue to dial 1 plus the area code and phone number for long-distance calls.

New 10-Digit Dialing Routes

Calls from the Allenton exchange (262) 629 to West Bend (paging and cellular service only).

Calls from the Belgium exchange (262) 285 to Random Lake.

Calls from the Bristol exchange (262) 857 to Kenosha (paging and cellular service only).

Plymouth Shuts Out Indians, 6-0

The Kewaskum mens' varsity soccer team hosted Plymouth on Monday, October 8. The Kewaskum team played well against the powerful team.

The defense did a very good job countering the strong forwards of Plymouth. Kurt Cochran, Bradey Long and Bryan Boecht did a wonderful job keeping the offense at bay.

Justin Wessing, Adam Hickman, Aaron Olla and Chris Baker did a wonderful job at mid-field.

Tyler Hickman, Keith Boegel, Justin Brockman, Josh Timblin, Ryan Hankerson and Brad Franzen played a challenging game at forward, sending 11 shots on the surprised Plymouth team.

Indians Gain Share of First Place In EW By Shutting Out Panthers

The Kewaskum Indians shut out their opponents for the second straight week when they beat Plymouth Friday, 16-0.

The game was a defensive battle throughout the first half with the only points coming on a Matt Hartmann 35 yard field goal with no time left on the clock in the second quarter.

In the second half Kewaskum was able to put together a couple of nice scoring drives while stopping the Panthers defensively. With 11:12 to go in the fourth quarter, Tom Ogi scored from one yard out on a quarterback sneak. The kick by Hartmann was good and the Indians extended their lead to 10-0.

After stopping the Panthers a couple more times in the fourth, the Indians put together another strong drive with the key play coming on a 53-yard run up the middle by Chris Canter to the six-yard line. Two plays later Canter scored from three yards out.

Hartmann's kick failed and the score stood at 16-0.

The defense put up another excellent effort, holding the Panthers to just 173 yards of total offense. Kewaskum gained 317 yards of their own.

The Indians gained a share of first place when Campbellsport knocked off Sheboygan Falls, 7-6. The Indians can clinch a share of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title with a victory over New Holstein there on Thursday at 7 p.m.

A Gift That Lasts A Lifetime

Most parents look at their children and see young, healthy boys and girls with long lives ahead of them. They don't think children need life insurance protection. While it's true that life insurance provides a death benefit for insured children, it also offers the child a number of living benefits. It could be the best gift a parent gives a child.

A primary reason to purchase life insurance for a child is to protect the child's future insurability. That means the child is assured life insurance protection as an adult, even if he/she develops serious health problems. Health conditions can cause a person to be rated at a higher premium or even to lose his/her ability to buy more insurance. Losing insurability is not as common as being rated, but everyone runs the risk of it happening.

Life insurance for children can also make good financial sense. Due to increasing mortality and other factors, life insurance premiums increase each year with a person's age. By buying life insurance when your child is young and healthy, you can lock in a low premium rate (for permanent plans of life insurance). "Life insurance will never be as inexpensive as the day you are born," says local Modern Woodmen of America representative Jeff Jaeger.

Permanent plans of life insurance can be used as an additional way to accumulate money. The cash value that builds up in a permanent life insurance certificate accumulates on a tax-deferred basis. This can become a large sum of money over a period of time. Within certain limits, the child can borrow from that cash value later in life for emergencies, to buy a house, or to help pay for a college education.

"And with a Modern Woodmen certificate, the child becomes eligible for fraternal benefits of membership," says Jaeger. "He/she can participate in youth service clubs, compete in our college scholarship program and more."

Like certificates for adults children's life insurance certificates offer death benefit protection. Although parents don't like to think about it, accidents do happen. Some children become terminally ill. "If a child dies, the emotional stress of losing the child is burden enough. Not having life insurance can add additional financial stress," says Jaeger. Parents can use the life insurance's death benefit to pay funeral expenses, medical bills and other expenses that normally accompany death.

The amount of insurance a child needs depends on the income of the family and the probable needs and wants of the child later in life. "Every family situation is unique," Jaeger points out. "A trained life insurance representative can analyze your family's life insurance needs, and recommend products to best meet those needs."

To schedule a family consultation or for more information about Modern Woodmen products designed for children, contact Jaeger at 1-262-626-4139.

Modern Woodmen of America is a fraternal life insurance organization headquartered in Rock Island, Ill. The organization serves more than 750,000 members nationwide, offering financial products and services for families and service programs for communities.
