Insight. Inspiration.
According to Campbell-sport writer Rochelle (Serwe) Pennington, more and more people are searching for them lately.
Her feeling is reinforced by the fact that inspirational books like the Chicken Soup for the Soul series by Jack Canfield and Life's Little Instruction Book series by H. Jackson Brown have sold millions and millions of copies. Pennington has worked closely with these bestselling authors for the past five years as both a writer and a consultant providing quotation recommendations to enhance their books. Pennington's newly released book, Highlighted in Yellow, is co-authored with H. Jackson Brown.

In addition to her contributions to these inspirational series, Pennington has written stories, articles and dramas for numerous newspaper, magazine, playwright, and book publications. Other bestselling authors she has worked with include Alice Gray (Stories for the Heart) and Don Dible (author of over 40 books including the newly launched series Love is the Best Medicine).

This week, the Kewaskum Statesman will begin publishing Pennington's weekly newspaper column called Insights and Inspirations.

Pennington said her column invites readers to take a break from busy lives and reflect on the business of life.

"The column is fashioned after the highly successful columns of quotations in magazines like Reader's Digest," Pennington said. Unlike other collections of quotations, however, Insights and Inspirations will focus on a common new

Legion Receives War Memorial

World War II veteran and member of the American Legion, Elmer Hallen is shown proudly with the recent 105 mm Howitzer, he acquired from the U.S. Army Tank/Automotive and Armament Command. Hallen stated that the Legion members plan to sandblast and repaint the historic piece of equipment in time for Memorial Day 2002. The Howitzer was built in 1954 and used by the U.S. Army. Hallen originally made the request in September 1999. The memorial is on display in front of the Legion and is getting a few second glances from passersby.

theme each week. "Real life, kitchen table issues that we all deal with in the course of the week," she said.

Topics will include parenting, marriage, generosity, anger, forgiveness, to name just a few.

"It's basic information and helpful hints with quotations from lives that have spanned the ages."

Pennington said the column makes use of little gems of wisdom originating from a variety of sources. The items that she has collected transcend structured religious and philosophical beliefs. She hopes the column will be enjoyed by readers regardless of age, race, gender or faith.

"The Chicken Soup for the Soul books were really a turning point in my life," she said. "They put powerful information in very short pieces of literature and it is my hope to be able to reach people in the same way."

Grandparents buy one-quarter of all toys sold, according to The New York Times.

Kiwanis Club Seeking Old Cell Phones

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club is asking cell phone users to answer the call and turn in used cell phones they no longer need to help raise funds for the various community projects the club sponsors. Collection efforts will begin on November 12.

"The primary goal of our phone drive fundraiser is to collect wireless phones that consumers aren't using anymore," said the club's president Larry Ammel. "With more than 30 million used wireless phones lying idle in American homes and businesses, an individual can turn a used item into new funding that helps support our mission in a simple but effective way."

Any portable cellular or PCS phone is accepted, excluding bag phones of vehicle-installed models. The Kiwanis Club will also take the phone's battery or charger, if available. All donors should deactivate the wireless service of any donated phones before turning them in.

"We're very excited about this new fundraising opportunity," said Ammel. "Not only will it benefit our organization, but donated phones that can't be refurbished are properly recycled to benefit the environment as well."

The public may donate their used wireless phones by mailing them to

EDUCATION... IT'S EVERYONE'S BUSINESS

By Wayne P. Graczyk,
Kewaskum Superintendent of Schools
www.kewaskumschools.org

If you were anywhere near the high school last Friday night, you would have seen an obvious contrast presented to people attending the school play in Rose Hall, and those attending the play-off football game held in Kewaskum (game played on a "neutral site"). Having attended both, I had the opportunity to listen to people, to observe people, and to observe something we don't often think about, i.e., people visiting our community tend to buy things here and dine here. As a member of the Chamber of Commerce it is very clear that any function or activity held in the Kewaskum community results in a cash flow into the area, plus community pride in what I refer to as Kewaskum Pride. Activities always allows visitors to see and experience Kewaskum, primarily in a very positive way. As a result, whether it is Kettle Kountry Kolors, the Christmas Parade, or any other event, people travel to Kewaskum and the community benefits, both financially and for positive community relations.

I saw this happen Friday night. There are some who questioned the remodeling and revamping of the football/track complex at the high school. If they were present Friday night as over 2000 people attended the football game between St. Mary Springs and Palmyra-Eagle, I think you would have seen a great benefit of the complex. While some of those 2000 attending the game were residents, the vast majority came to Kewaskum because of the game. The result was business for local merchants in the form of gas and food purchases, etc., and also

Offering Childbirth Refresher Course

St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend is holding a childbirth refresher course Monday, November 19, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The class is designed for parents who have already experienced childbirth. Topics covered vary depending on the needs and interests of each individual class. They include a review of labor and coping techniques, breathing and relaxation, exercise, changes in hospital procedure and a tour of St. Joseph's Community Hospital's New Life Center.

The fee is $12. To register or for more information, please call the hospital's Class Connection Line at 262-306-7888.

extremely positive community exposure, things that we sometimes forget. Approximately 2000 people came to Kewaskum as a result of one thing: The new football/track complex. Since it now met WIAA requirements for a play-off site, Kewaskum was awarded this game and the influx of cash these 2000 people brought to our fine community. I know people were impressed with the facilities. In fact, I spoke with many, many people and they were impressed, some were in awe, with what Kewaskum had to offer, and I am quite certain, they will tell others. As a result, I am certain that Kewaskum will be in line for other games, and future WIAA track meets, in the years to come, all of which will result in a positive cash flow and community pride for our community businesses.

The contrast I spoke about earlier was when I moved from the newness of the football/track complex, and all the accompanying glowing compliments, to the less than ideal facilities found in Rose Hall, where our students were performing yet another fantastic high school play. The students and staff once again outdid themselves in presenting The Wizard of Oz to the community of Kewaskum, but they did it in a gym that was rigged to accommodate a drama presentation. While I can't say enough about the quality of the performance, I can say that I heard only less than glowing comments from those in attendance about the facilities our children had to perform in, and the seating those in attendance had to utilize.

Kewaskum is a fantastic community and we did an outstanding job of showcasing it to all of our visitors on Friday night. My wish is that someday in the not too distant future, Kewaskum might also have a drama facility that our students, and community, will be equally proud of.

KHS Pre-School Sign-Up Time

An old fashioned picture postcard commemorating Veterans Day.

Submitted by Isabelle Muckerhetde

A Father's Concern

By Dr. David F. Russell

On Sunday, Veterans Day, we do well to reflect on the war that has been set before us and on those who serve.

What follows is a story from a dear friend. His son is a soldier, who has been deployed in the war on terrorism. The words are especially poignant, because they speak for thousands of mothers and fathers and husbands and wives who are today anxiously waiting for word from their loved ones:

"It both ends and begins with a phone call.

"Hey Dad...Just got the word that we're moving out, pronto. Like we talked before, it'll be a while before I can call again. I love you. Don't worry about me. Put Mom on for a sec, will you?"

"It's the end of the waiting for military orders. The end of hope that they don't come. The end of uncertainty about deployment. He's going.

"The end is bad, but the beginning is worse. It's the beginning of long months of silence. Long nights of worry. Watch the news. Search the internet. Wait for the phone to ring...but it doesn't

"He might be in Turkmenistan, or Uzbekistan, or a dozen other countries I didn't know existed before September 11. I knew it might happen. After all, this is what he was trained for. He's a soldier. I know he's proud to do his duty. And I'm proud of him.

"I hug my wife and tell he's going to be okay, but we need something more to cling to. 'Lord give him strength. Lord protect him. 'Still, I have to focus. I have to keep on living, despite the hollow numbness in the pit of my stomach.

"My boy's gone to war.

"I've been there - but I've never been here. I've been the one to go to war, but not the one left behind... to wait... to worry... to wonder. I didn't want this for him.

"Only yesterday he was a little kid pleading for me to go outside and play ball. Today he's a man doing his duty, defending his nation.

"He's special to me, but really no different from thousands of others. Your sons and daughters, grandsons and granddaughters, friends and neighbors. They're all doing their duty, leaving their homes, leaving their families to fight an enemy who wears no uniforms, swears allegiance to no country, and recognizes no rules of war.

"America's troops may be gone for weeks, even months or years. Some may never come home, yet all will be with their family."

"Not blood relatives - not mom and dad - but with other young men and women with whom they serve in the military uniform of our country. Come what may, none will fail those with whom they serve.

"They are today's 'Private Ryans' and 'Band of Brothers.' Their platoons and air wings and ship's companies are their families, their brothers and sisters.

"Each has pledged his life and entrusted his safety to the other. All have forged a scared bond that will last a lifetime, a bond none can understand; except those who share it.

"We are praying as a family, because, in a very real sense, every Soldier, Sailor, Marine, Airman and Coast Guardsman is a part of our family. The American Legion family, and we love them all and we're proud of them.

"No words are sufficient to describe our national sense of resolve or our collective feeling of concern for those young ones who have gone into Harm's Way on our behalf. Instead let us pray to the God of us all that we gain victory and rejoice in the safe return of our family.

"Nonetheless, let us also pray that His will be done, and that He give us the strength to bear it - be it sorrow or rejoicing.

"God has blessed America with much bounty and many fine men and women through the years who have risked their lives - and given them - to preserve our liberty and our way of life.

"So today let this be our prayer, as in ages past, 'God Bless America.'"

Gerhartz Featured In Persimmon Hill

Oklahoma City -- An article on Daniel F. Gerhartz of Kewaskum is featured in the current issue of Persimmon Hill, the official publication of the National Cowboy and Western Heritage Museum in Oklahoma City.

"During the 2001 Prix de West Invitational Exhibition at the National Cowboy and Western Heritage Center, a painting titled The Dance won the prestigious Frederic Remington Painting Award for Daniel F. Gerhartz," the article states. "This artist is no newcomer to Prix de West awards. In 1993, 1994, and 1999, he won the Nona Jean Hulsey Rumsey Buyer's Choice Awards for his oil paintings.

"In this painting, the Mexican dancer, dressed in a vivid black and red costume, is set against a backdrop of ornately carved furnishings, drapery, and large vases of big white flowers. Using only a limited palette of oils, Gerhartz' art celebrates the timeless emotions of romance, family, and heritage through his landscapes, portraits, and still lifes."

Gerhartz is quoted as saying, "Movement, balance, and unity are the principles I keep in mind while working. I believe my purpose as an artist is to fully utilize my talents. I do this best when painting from life and allowing my reactions to the natural elements and personal feelings to play a part in the painting process."

Persimmon Hill is an award-winning magazine with an international circulation. The publication is dedicated to preserving the myths and legends of the American West, and is available through a $30 annual subscription or an annual $55 membership in the National Cowboy and Western Heritage Museum, 1700 NE 63rd St., Oklahoma City, OK 73111.

'Storytime' New Winter Program

Each week a new nature related topic in stories and activities will be explored. "Storytime" will be held in the Conservancy Niche located on the ground floor of the West Bend City Hall at 1115 S. Main Street, West Bend.

On Thursday, November 15, the topic will be Fall Colors. Thursday, November 22, brings Thanksgiving and therefore there will be no "Storytime," however, Thanksgiving will be explored on Thursday, November 29.

Other topics that will be covered include Bears on December 6, Native American stories on December 13, Squirrels on December 20 and Owls on December 27.

INSIGHTS & INSPIRATIONS

By Rochelle Pennington

Small Kindness - Large Impacts

Kindness. I came to fully understand its impact in only a few short minutes while taking what I have come to view as one of the more important examinations of my life.

The test was oral. The test giver, a radio announcer. The classroom was my car.

While traveling along on a Monday, in the morning, and in the rain, a voice, coming from the little speaker box next to my steering wheel, asked, "Can you name the last Nobel Peace Prize winner?" I knew I should remember, but the name escaped me.

When a person does a kind deed when he or she didn't have to, God looks down from heaven and smiles and says, "For this moment alone, it was worth creating the world." - The Talmud

Still trying to think, more questions were asked: "Can you name the last Pulitzer Prize winner?" Again, I couldn't. "Can you name athletes who received gold medals in the last Olympics? Or the last woman to be crowned Miss America?"

Or...or...or. No...no...no.

Music, literature, art, government officials, scientists - I was zero for zero and wondering how many listeners were answering these questions correctly. What a way to start one's day! And on a Monday. And in the rain.

But then it happened. A question was asked, and a response other than "no" could be given: "Can you name the last person who told you that they loved you?" My heart melted as I remembered, vividly and without hesitation, my children running for the bus that very morning, yelling behind them simultaneously, "Love you!"

Another question was asked, and again I had the answer: "Can you name the last person who hugged you?" Certainly and effortlessly.

Still others: "Can you name a person who showed

Three things in human life are important: The first is to be kind. The second is to be kind. And the third is to be kind. - Henry James you kindness recently?" Of course. "Can you name a person to whom you showed a kindness recently?" Again, of course, yes, of course. "Can you name someone whose smile makes a difference in your day? Or a teacher whose dedication made a difference in your life?" oh, who to choose, There are so many.

The announced continued to speak of the friends, neighbors, co-workers, and even strangers who touch our lives, and I continued to smile. He spoke of encouragement and of helpfulness, of generosity and of caring.

I felt like laughing out loud. What a way to start one's day! And on a Monday! And in the rain!

The announcer's lesson would fit in a nutshell: Kindness matters. It is longed for and lived for. And it is remembered.

When all is said and done, the mighty accomplishments and praiseworthy achievements of past and present will certainly leave their imprint on humanity, but our individual hearts will recognize, first and foremost, the simple deeds of love and kindness which have left their imprint on our humanity. Truly, to give love and receive love in the common moments of everyday life are foals as worthy as all others.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This past weekend I had the opportunity to once again work with the Kewaskum High School musical and it was a fantastic experience for me.

From the first night of tryouts in early September, through the weeks of preparation and at the last show, all I can say is, what a great group of students we have at the high school. The singing was excellent, the acting was as close to professional as possible, the dancing was great.

These students certainly deserved their curtain calls at the end of each performance. It's a shame however, that the school doesn't have any curtains to use for curtain calls. In fact, it's a terrible shame that the school doesn't even have a stage for these talented young adults to perform on.

For those people that attend these events, think about what a good facility would do to improve every performance. Imagine a facility that would allow you to hear everything from the stage without annoying sound feedback or sudden outbursts of noise.

Imagine having a comfortable seat to sit on, and not having to spend two hours or more in the bleachers or on the folding metal chairs on the floor. Imagine every seat in the house with as good of a view as the next one, being able to see and hear everything on stage.

Consider the actors and what they don't have: dressing rooms sure would be nice, an area to hang and secure their costumes would be great. How about an area to design and build props and scenery out of the way of the rehearsals? It would be great if they had room to get props and scene changes on and off the stage without having to lift heavy items up stairs in the dark.

This list could go on and on, but the one thing I must mention is this: How about the kids? What about the facilities that we have for these many talented young adults that work so very hard to produce great performances?

Over the years that I have been associated with the school, I have always been amazed at what our students have done in spite of the facility that we offer them. Wouldn't it be great to have a facility that would really show off the talents of our children? I would like to express my sincere congratulations to everyone involved in the production of "The Wizard of Oz" at Kewaskum High School. You are all wonderful young people who do a fantastic job with the facilities that you have to work with. Thanks for letting me be a part of the experience this year.

Larry Ammel

Dear Editor:

An article in the West Bend Daily News on 10/30/01 reports that the Kewaskum School Board has announced that the mill-rate on this district's property assessed value has been reduced by 7-1/2%. In the meantime my property's assessed value has increased by over 12-1/2%, this by my figures, means there is 5% more assessed value to my property to apply the mil-rate to. Therefore, in reality, according to my figures, there will be at least a 5% increase in my school taxes this year instead of a reduction. I will have to wait until December to find out.

I am assuming the Kewaskum School Board is publicizing this rate reduction in order to promote their anticipated referendum to build a school auditorium, etc. I certainly am not against these suggested improvements, but I don't think it is the right time for it. With the financial mess the state government has gotten us into, they are now threatening to either reduce or eliminate their 65% share of school costs, leaving us their expensive mandates. Also since the war on terrorism the federal government is no longer promoting increased financial aid for schools. All this suggests huge increases in property school taxes in the near future. I would advise extreme caution when considering this referendum's proposals and in no case would I consider a recurring referendum. It would be a good idea for the teachers and school boards in this county to use their influence in getting our county board to cut down their extravagant spending on fun and games so the overburdened taxpayer could afford things that are truly needed.

Thank you,
Lloyd A. Koch

Letter to the Editor,

We have reached the end of the men's soccer season. The following personnel should be recognized for their efforts in making this sport happen at Kewaskum High School.

Without the efforts of these personnel behind the scenes, the athletes would not be able to participate in soccer. The following personnel should be applauded for their efforts: Athletic Director Jason Piittmann, Assistant Principal John Wolfenber, Principal Donn Woolweber and their staff who supervise, coordinate, organize and develop future planning for all sports; secretary Karen Kissinger, who coordinates all the paper work, attendance, awards and budgets for all sports; office personnel who assisted us on so many occasions; coordinator of grounds, who with his crew, maintained our fields; the referee staff for their quality game conduct; President of the Booster Club, Mary Miller, who with her organization provided donations for Parents Night; the parents and family members of the athletes who supported their children by being at the games (which meant more than winning); the scorekeeper, John Wolfenber; all the athletes who worked hard on their goals for the season and never gave up in a tough building season; the team captains, Kurt Cochran, Andy Olla, Chris Baker, Justin Wessing, and Bradey Long, who led the team by providing examples of excellent play and assisted in the guidance of our teams, the synergy of the team where the whole team was greater than any one individual (great job, guys!); the Kewaskum Statesman, West Bend News and West Bend radio station for publishing game information.

Thank you all!

THANK YOU

The staff at Kewaskum Middle School would like to thank all of the mothers who contributed the delicious soup, breads, and desserts to the teachers' dinner on Parent-Teacher Conference night on October 15th. Marilyn Terlinden and the parent group "Mothers in Touch" have generously donated their time in organizing this dinner for many years now. It is so nice to be spoiled with the home-cooked meal. Whether it is the cheesy potato soup, the tortellini soup, or the homemade dill bread, to name only a few of the items on our menu, the meal was a welcome treat. We appreciate all of the prayers and support these mothers have given to the Kewaskum teachers, and we thank them for the scrumptious meal.

FFA Officers Attend Leadership Conference

On Monday October 1, the Kewaskum FFA officers, Tom Ramthun, Peter Marx, Melissa McKee, Lisa Beck, Matt Dwyer and Artie Klemme, attended the Section five leadership conferences in Verona. They attended workshops to help them become better leaders and officers. Also in attendance at the conference were the state FFA officers and one of the national FFA officers. The officers had a good time at the conference and are looking forward to using their knowledge to lead this year's FFA.

On Sunday, October 7, the Kewaskum FFA sent a group of 12 people for a leisurely morning of horseback riding at the Bar-N-Ranch. They started bright and early at 10 a.m. and took a one-hour trail ride and enjoyed the bright autumn colors.

Bridget Beck, who works there as well as being an FFA member, was the leader of the group. The kids who went took advantage of a great deal because the FFA paid $8 off the $18 riding cost.

This year's riders were Bridget Beck, Becca Baron, Tim Ramthun, Michelle Weber, Shannon Dwyer, Megan Hepner, Lisa Beck, Jon Lendved, Peter Marx, Debbie Ramthun, Tom Ramthun and Kim Krogman. This is just one of the fun activities the FFA has to offer that we encourage members to take advantage of.

Kewaskum FFA Takes Third In Trapshooting Competition

On Saturday, September 22, the Kewaskum FFA sent a team to go trapshooting in Berlin. The Berlin FFA invites different FFA chapters from around the state every year. This is the first year that Kewaskum has sent a team.

There were 24 teams from around the state that attended. Kewaskum's team consisted of Jamie Sabish, Eric Sabish, Erin Beck, Jon Ratzel and Dave Markeland. Mr. Dan Sabish was their chaperone. If you know them, congratulate them on a job well done! They received third place!

They left early Saturday morning and by the end of the day, they had each shot 50 shells. Out of 250 possible points, the team earned 190 and ended up tying with the Mayville FFA. A shoot-off for third place was held and Kewaskum scored a 108 to Mayville's 82.

POLICE REPORTS

On October 13, Kewaskum Police were dispatched by the Washington County Sheriff's Department to Main Street in reference to damage to a vehicle.

The complainant stated that she had parked her vehicle behind a Main Street residence and when she came back out she saw that her vehicle had been moved back approximately 15 feet from where she had parked.

The complainant also stated that when driving the vehicle, the alignment was off and the suspension was weird. The officer also noticed that the left rear tire was bent.

The suspect was contacted by the Kewaskum Police Department and he stated that he did pull the vehicle with his truck so he could get his girlfriend's car out of the garage to go to work. He stated that he had hooked up his truck to the rear axle and pulled the vehicle backwards.

The officer then recontacted the suspect who then stated that the officer had no proof of him causing the damage and the officer did not know his license plate number until he had met with him and he wished to make it known that he did not do the damage and he was never there.

The complaint was closed and cleared by arrest with a citation issued to the suspect for criminal damage to property.

On October 18, Kewaskum Police were dispatched to an Elm Street residence in reference to a stolen tool box.

The complainant stated approximately one week prior, he had noticed that his tool box had been taken out of his van that had been parked next to the apartment building.

He stated that he was unsure if all the doors had been locked at the time.

The tool box had been recovered and was in possession of the Kewaskum Police Department.

If anyone has information on any of the complaints, contact the Kewaskum Police Department at 626-2323 or the Washington County Chief's Tip Line at 1-800-232-0594. All calls are confidential.

Hunters Bag 44,459 Deer Over Four-Day Zone T Hunt

MADISON -- A preliminary tally of deer registration stations across the state indicated hunters harvested 44,449 deer during the 2001 Zone T Hunt held October 25-28. Hunters faced cold, windy weather and in some areas, rain and snow during the first two days of the hunt.

With 76 deer management units included in the 2001 Zone T hunt, wildlife officials expected a somewhat lower harvest than the 2000 hunt, which took place in 97 management units and totaled 66,417 antlerless deer. Last season's December Zone T hunt added an additional 15,661 antlerless deer.

The weather could hardly have been less conducive for hunting during the first two days of the Zone T season in south central Wisconsin, noted Alan Crossley, the Department of Natural Resources regional wildlife biologist. Cold temperatures, strong winds and intermittent rain made it tough to keep hunting and deer were hunkered down, not moving around much, he said.

Cumberland based conservation warden, T.J. Edwards, had much the same to say about Thursday's weather, noting at times visibility was limited to under 200 yards due to blowing snow.

"Hunter pressure was down from last year but there were also fewer Zone T units in this area this year," said Edwards. "The hunters I talked to were relaxed and not feeling any pressure to hunt hard or long. Many had sons and daughters along and in a number of cases, the dad had put the kid on a stand and was working to direct deer toward the young hunter."

Conservation warden, John Lacenski, worked in the field in Shawano County. "It was a very laid-back hunt. People I met seemed relaxed about it and hunter pressure was spotty. Some areas were busy and some were very lightly hunted. It was windy and there was a little bit of snow but the wind also knocked down most of the remaining leaves improving visibility."

Edwards noted that his office received far fewer calls about illegal buck shootings during the Zone T hunt compared to last year. "Hunters were doing a great job at carefully identifying their targets this year. I talked to several who passed up shots because the head of the animal was not clearly visible and they just weren't sure."

"The deer were sitting pretty tight, said Greg Kessler, DNR wildlife biologist out of Brule. "But so were some of the hunters after a short rush of shooting early Thursday morning. I registered several first-time kills for some youth hunters and they seemed pretty happy with the day, regardless of the conditions."

The numbers presented in this story are preliminary and will likely be adjusted before a final harvest report is issued following the close of the 2001-02 deer seasons.

Hunting, Fishing Licenses Can Be Purchased Online

MADISON -- Gov. Scott McCallum and Department of Natural Resources Secretary Darrell Bazzell have announced that DNR hunting and fishing licenses can now be purchased over the Internet. The new service became active on Tuesday, October 30.

"The ability to purchase hunting and fishing licenses online is one example of how Wisconsin's E-government initiative is making state services more accessible and convenient to our citizens and our visitors," said Governor McCallum.

"It took a lot of work and planning to get us to this point -- there are other states using the Internet to sell hunting and fishing licenses, but we're part of a very small number that allow the customer to actually print a valid license" said DNR Secretary Bazzell. "From this point forward, hunters and anglers will be able to purchase licenses from their home, business or through the services of a resort or campsite that offers Internet access."

"Both resident and non-resident customers can now buy licenses 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

Customers can access online license sales site <http://www.wildlifelicense.com/wi> through the DNR website <http://www.dnr.state.wi.us> or through the state's portal, <http://www.wisconsin.gov>, and then clicking on the licenses button.

Most DNR recreational license types will be available for purchase online. Some license types like fishing, small game, and turkey can even be printed at home for immediate use. Licenses that include a backtag, carcass tag or harvest report are not printable but will be mailed to the customer within seven days. Visa or MasterCard are accepted for payment and there is a $3 convenience fee for this service.

The site also has links to current hunting and fishing regulations and other useful information.

"DNR issues approximately 3.6 million recreational licenses to more than two million customers each year. We now offer outdoor enthusiasts three convenient ways to purchase licenses: using the Internet, by visiting any license agent location, or by telephone" (toll free at 1-877-945-4236), said Marilyn Davis, Director of the DNR Bureau of Customer Service and Licensing.

"When the weather is good and you want to get outside and enjoy what Wisconsin has to offer, the last thing you should have to worry about is how to get a license. We want to make it easy for people to get what they need and take to the waters and fields of the state," she said.

All purchase requirements and restrictions that apply to automated over-the-counter sales via the DNR's Automated License Issuance System (ALIS) are reflected in the design of the Internet sales site.

County Plat Books Available

The new Washington County plat books are now available in the office of the county clerk. The cost is $21 which includes sales tax.

The county clerk's office also sells Wisconsin's county-by-county road and recreation atlas at a cost of $29.95 plus tax.

Moraine Park Students Continue Online Business

The International Business Practice Firm (IBPF) at Moraine Park Technical College is working on the continuation of their virtual business, Gifts United; an online business that sells gift baskets.

The IBPF, one of the courses in Moraine Park's Marketing Program, is a simulated business that mirrors the real world. With the assistance of instructors, students maintain Gifts Unlimited, and now transact business with other student-run IBPF's via the Internet.

Students from the class recently visited Bank One of Fond du Lac to meet with Steve Michaels, assistant vice president. Michaels reviewed the business plan and budget, and gave recommendations, which are now being implemented.

The IBPF is part of the Mercer Network, which is coordinated by Mercer County Community College in Trenton, N.J. Currently, there are approximately 3000 practice firms worldwide with 15 in the United States. The network is primarily comprised of community colleges, but also involves some four-year institutions.

Indians JV Football Team Completes Successful Season

2001 Kewaskum

The 2001 Indians JV football team recently finished their season with an overall record of six wins and three losses.

Highlights for the year were an 18-0 shutout victory over perennial power Sheboygan Falls and a 20-14 victory on the road against Plymouth, which has always been a tough place to earn a victory. The only loss to a conference opponent was against Two Rivers.

Ryan Koepke took every snap at quarterback for the Indians this year and did a great job. Leading rushers were Justin Krueger, Tim Trott, and Ryan Delaurier. The top receivers were Dave Wicklund, Kyle Mueller,

The offensive line was anchored by center Peter Paulus, guards Eric Wagner and Brandon Gitter, and tackles Nate Feierheisen and Dan Beimborn.

The defense did a fine job in allowing an average of just over 10 points per game in the seven conference games. Top defensive players included defensive tackles Ryan Delaurier and Eric Wagner, ends Dave Wicklund and Dan Beimborn, and linebackers Justin Krueger, Tim Trott, Brandon Gitter, Josh Uelman and Kyle Mueller.

The secondary was usually manned by Brandon Collins, Mike Wagner and Cody Repovsch.

The JV Indians were coached by Dave Pesch (defense) and Dave Rockhill (offense). The coaching staff looks forward to these players contributing to a successful varsity program in the next two years.
