Boltonville F.D. Takes Best of Show At Christmas Parade

Submitted By
 Gwen Dreher

Hearts were warmed by the patriotic Christmas theme in Kewaskum's Sixth Annual Christmas Parade as it marched through the streets of Kewaskum this past Sunday in perfect 40 degree weather. The parade was sponsored by the Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce.

Hundreds of holiday-spirited residents lined both sides of Main Street and Fond du Lac Avenue and assorted side streets to vie for the best view of the festivities. All were treated to another fabulous show with 38 units participating. That included the 20 floats.

The parade culminated in front of the Kewaskum Municipal Building where members of the local Aid Association for Lutherans Branch 26 hosted the traditional village tree lighting ceremony. The honor of lighting the grand tree went to KHS choir director David Bertleson.

Ceremonies were continued with the singing of Christmas carols by the KHS Swing Choir under the direction of David Bertleson. Hot chocolate and cookies were served by AAL members.

The winners of the parade float competition were also announced by Parade Chairman Kevin Stautz. The winners were:

First Prize, $150 - Boltonville Fire Department. They will be donating their winnings to the Families of Fallen Firefighters Fund.

Second Prize, $100 - Kettle Moraine Sport Riders.

Third Prize, $75 - Kewaskum 4-H Club.

Fourth Prize - Heberer Brothers Construction.

Fifth Prize - Tuttle Creek Learning Center.

Chamber members who "volunteered" to serve as parade judges included Jim Wright of Wright Insurance as chairman, Gerald Kiefer of Kiefer Law Office, Tony Jasen of Silbernagel and Jasen Financial, and Keith Kriewaldt principal of Kewaskum Elementary School. Special thanks to all.

Congratulations and mega-thanks to parade chairman Kevin Stautz of Hollywood Portrait Studio

Gwen Dreher Honored by Modern Woodmen

and his committee of "elves" for another outstanding effort. This was a huge undertaking at a hectic time of year when everyone already seems to be overextended.

Many thanks to Chamber members at the brat and hamburger stand who sold out! The fryers include Lee Kempf, Tim Miller, Ed Miller, Sharon Miller, Linda Theisen, Myron and Becky Strobel, Shirley Kempf and Christine Van Beek. It was a huge success selling 400 brats, 400 hamburgers and 50 hot dogs. They even ran out of buns! Thank you for your support.

A very special thank you to all who entered units in the parade. The Patriotic and Christmas spirit was terrific. The excitement, smiles and contagious holiday spirit proved that all should be awarded for creating a GREAT PARADE!

Gwen Dreher of Kewaskum was recognized for her outstanding service to the Kewaskum community on Wednesday, November 28, by Modern Woodmen of America Camp 2233.

Gwen Dreher was born in West Bend to Dr R.G. and Alma Edwards. She attended Kewaskum Elementary, KHS, UW - Madison and Gateway Technical College, Kenosha.

She was employed as an Interior Designer for 15 years. She then worked at the Kewaskum Post Office for 6 1/2 years and has been the coordinator for the Washington County Mealsite in Kewaskum for two years and continues to do so.

She married Jules Dreher on December 26, 1960 and had four children,

All the volunteer help is certainly appreciated by all who felt inspired with holiday spirit. Child Followed Home After School

Children Cautioned Not To Speak to Strangers

By Andrew R. Kuehl

The Kewaskum Police Department is asking parents to warn their children about the dangers of stepping into a stranger's automobile.

A 12 year old boy was followed home from Kewaskum High School Tuesday, November 27 at 8:24 p.m.

The vehicle was described by the boy as a white Cadillac with a Chevrolet symbol in the back window. He stated that on his way home from school the vehicle pulled up next to him and followed him at a walking pace, the boy then became frightened and ran home. Upon arriving home he noticed the vehicle driving up and down his street.

The Kewaskum Police were notified but were unable to locate the vehicle.

Police Chief Richard Knoebel urged parents to talk to their children and to have them call if a child is suspicious of any vehicle that they come in contact with. He further stated that if it's possible, the child should try and get the license plate of the vehicle but only if it does not endanger their safety.

If anyone has information about the vehicle described in this article they should contact the Kewaskum Police Department at (262) 626-2323 or the Washington County Chief's Tip Line at 1-800-232-0594. All calls are confidential.

Insights & Inspirations

Its the Most Wonderful Time of the Year

"Hey! Look at that nutty car!"

A woman I had never seen before was pointing to an older-model Buick sitting in the parking lot of the mall she was coming out of and I was heading into.

"Yup," I told her. "It would take a real kook to drive around in that thing."

From the hood of the Buick was fastened a big wreath and a big bow. A Christmas ornament hung from its rearview mirror, and seated in the front passenger seat was a life-sized, stuffed, happy-faced Grinch wearing a Santa Claus suit.

We had a good laugh, this stranger and I, and then she left, and I was kinda glad because that meant she wouldnt be around to see me load my packages into the trunk of that car when I finished shopping and drive back home.

Ok, ok, Ill admit it. I get a little crazy at Christmas. Like the time I talked the folks over at Spencer Gifts into selling me the six foot two inch display Grinch in their storefront window.

Or the time I was in high school and asked my manager at Kentucky Fried Chicken to "please, please, please" schedule all my December work hours around the TV Guide listing of holiday specials because I just had to be home to watch Frosty and Rudolph and Charlie Brown and a bunch of others. Think tantrum. (And, yes, I was in high school.) These were pre-VCR/video days so you only got one shot to see a special. If you missed it, you missed it until the following year. But that didnt happen because my boss back at KFC finagled my schedule. Thanks again, Mr. Knoeck.

There is just something I love about Christmas. And what is that?

What is Christmas? It is tenderness for the past, courage for the present, hope for the future. It is a fervent wish that every cup may overflow with blessings rich and eternal, and that every path may lead to peace.

-Agnes M. Pharo

Well, lets see....

Its bright red poinsettias and letters addressed to the North Pole. And gingerbread men and velvet dresses. Its nutcracker soldiers, mistletoe, and carolers. And its paper chains, tinsel, and Yule logs. Its driving around the neighborhood to look at lights, and its seeing a living nativity. Its standing in the middle of a fresh Christmas tree lot and breathing deeply.

What I love about Christmas is honey-basted ham and peanut brittle crunch and chocolate covered cherries and white pretzels and the cranberry punch we drink on Christmas Eve from those fancy little cups. I love hearing Bing Crosby croon "White Christmas" and the Mormon Tabernacle Choir sing "Silent Night." I love seeing children perform Christmas pageants in homemade costumes. And hanging sleigh bells on the knob of my front door. I love radio stations that play continuous holiday music in December and stairway bannisters laden with yards of fresh evergreen boughs. I love the pretty cards I find in my mailbox during the season and the colored envelopes they arrive in. And the stamps. I love how Tiny Tim says, "God bless us, everyone" at the end of Scrooge, and I even enjoy fruitcake. And egg nog and pistachio nuts and fudge and sugar plums and homemade cookies delivered in tin canisters. And writing with those candy cane pens filled with red ink and waiting to hear the tinkle of a bell so that I may wonder if an angel got its wings.

Christmas, to me, is believing, along with Virginia, that there really is a Santa Claus. Its gathering with old friends and toasting, over clink of glasses, to the health and happiness of all.

At Christmas, play and make good cheer, for Christmas comes but once a year.

-Thomas Tusser

There's just something about this season that makes my heart sing. Like it does on Christmas morning when I look into the eyes of a child who has spotted a teddy bear or a choo choo train or a rocking horsie or a red cowboy hat beneath the tree.

Christmas has come once again, and I will watch for elves peeking in through window panes because you just never know. And I will be reminded by George Bailey that it really is a wonderful life after all.

Soon, I will gather with those whom I love so much. I will open my arms and hold each of them longer and closer because many of them have been away. But now they have come home again. Because it is Christmas.

I love Christmas simply because I do, but mostly because the holy night is coming. We will bundle up on the sacred Eve and head to the stone chapel where my mother was baptized and her mother before her. Before entering, I will look into the night sky at the stars beneath the heavens, just as the wise men did so long ago, and I will wonder anew what they saw there once upon a midnight clear. Then the steeple bells will chime, and we will enter into this place where the old, old story will be read again by candlelight. I will close my eyes and ponder the words, and in those moments of holiness I will believe, as I do every year, that the "peace on earth" printed in those Christmas cards back home is possible. May it be so.

And this, to me, is Christmas.

Lightning Strikes in Village ACT Registration Deadline Jan. 4

The hole next to a tree on North Street is all that remains of a blast of lightning that struck mid-morning, Saturday, November 24. According to North Avenue resident, Dick Schmidt, the blast knocked pictures off the walls of his home and blew out his VCR. He also stated a resident in the back of his home had problems with their electric garage door opener. Sod and dirt from the blast could be found more than 75 feet away from the hole. The tree was unharmed.

A lovely, soft-spoken country girl. A hard working carpenter. A drafty stable, home to animals. An out of this world bevy of angels lighting up the evening sky...bringing sweet songs of rejoicing for the whole community to hear!

Three aged wise men following the mellow glow of a special star. A hearty group of shepherds tending their sheep on the rugged slopes of God's earthly creation. A silent, HOLY nite reminding all mankind that there was no room in the inn for the birth of the greatest gift ever to be bestowed upon all the peoples of the world.

The human birth of the Lord's only begotten Son, Jesus Christ; Saviour and Redeemer - the Good Shepherd making possible the forgiveness of sins. The promise of everlasting life after death. The friend of friends by day and nite. He who invites, but never forces. The guardian of our nature treasures, wild life and flowers, trees and shrubs.

VILLAGE OF KEWASKUM NEWS NOTES

"Snow and Ice Removal"

The snow and ice season has arrived bringing along some problems. To alleviate these problems or to clarify a few items, let us refer to the Municipal Code, Chapter 82.6, which covers "Snow and Ice Removal."

(a) SIDEWALKS TO BE KEPT CLEAR. The owner or occupant of any lot or lands within the village abutting upon a public street along the line of which a sidewalk shall have been constructed shall, whenever such sidewalk shall be encumbered with snow or ice, clear the same therefrom within 24 hours after cessation of each storm. If it is impossible or impractical to remove the ice therefrom, he shall treat the same with sand, cinders, ashes, salt or some other substance continuously until removed so that such sidewalk will not be slippery or dangerous to pedestrians. If any such owner or occupant fails to remove such snow or ice from such sidewalk or to treat such ice, the director of public works may do so; and the expense of such removal or treatment shall become a special tax or charge against the property to be collected in the manner specified in subsection (c). If the director of public works orders such removal of snow and ice, a minimum charge of $25.00 per occurrence shall be affixed as the expense of the removal or treatment. If the cost of removal or treatment exceeds the $25.00 minimum, the actual cost for such work shall be charged plus a ten percent handling charge.

(b) SNOW NOT TO BE DEPOSITED IN STREETS. No person shall cause to be deposited snow from his premises on the sidewalk abutting thereon onto any street in the village without a permit from the director of public works, who may require to be paid a fee sufficient to reimburse the village for the cost of removal of the snow. The expense of such removal or treatment shall become a special tax or charge against the property to be collected in the manner specified in subsection (c).

(c) Assessment of cost. After clearing or treating any such sidewalk as provided in this section, the director of public works shall file with the village clerk/treasurer a written report containing a description of such lot or tract charged and the amount of the expense chargeable to the same. The clerk/treasurer shall thereupon make out and mail to the owner of such lot or tract at his last known address an itemized statement of the cost; and, when paid, the amount so paid shall be credited to the village general fund. If the same is not paid within 30 days, it shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum from the date on which the work was completed. If any such bill shall remain unpaid on October 1 next following the clearing or treating of the sidewalk, the village clerk/treasurer shall insert such charge in the general tax roll of the village and the same proceedings shall be had thereafter for the collection of such taxes as in cases of other taxes extended upon such roll.

Boy Scouts Tour Madison

Saturday, November 10th, the Kewaskum Boy Scout Troop 744 drove to Madison to visit both the state capital and the UW Madison grounds.

The scouts learned how much effort was put into building the capital on their tour. The capital building is made of nearly all stone imported from eight other states and six other countries.

The troop learned about the different galleries in the capitol which have different purposes. The North Gallery has the North Hearing Room, and the East Gallery holds the State Supreme Court. In the South Gallery is the Senate Chambers and the West Gallery has the Assembly Chambers.

The scouts finished their day with a walking tour of the UW Campus grounds.

In three words I can sum up everything I've learned about life. It goes on.

Lamplighters to Shed Light On Christmas Past

Heritage House at Cedar Campuses, 5595 County Road Z in West Bend, will host the renowned Lamplighter Society living history group on Sunday, December 9 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Hailing from Cedarburg, the reenactors speak in the first person dialect of Civil War times and interact with visitors, bringing history to life. They depict lifestyle traditions through their dress and activities.

Family photos will be taken in a horse-drawn sleigh just outside the Heritage House, the lovely restored farmhouse on the Cedar Lake Campus of Cedar Campuses.

Share this holiday tradition with your family. For more information about this free event, call (262) 334-9487.

LIBRARY LEDGER

By Steev Baker
Kewaskum Library Director
www.kewaskum.lib.wi.us

A patron came back with Andrew Carrolls War Letters and slid the book toward me. I just can't read this now, not with everything thats going on, she said. But reading through the book now myself, I find the letters strangely comforting.

Carroll, also author of the collection Letters of a Nation, is the executive director of the American Poetry and Literacy Project and has been featured many times on National Public Radio reading letters he has collected. His War Letters, which was actually published in late July of this year, predates the tragedies of September but offers solemn evidence of the American spirit of patriotism, individuality, and the unique outlook on life during times of war that our democracy creates. From the Civil War to the Gulf War, Carroll binds together the thoughts of men, women, and children from many generations with surprising unity. A Civil War soldier writes, Surely the time has already arrived to take hold of the work before us with energy and determination. Over one hundred years later, a soldier in the Gulf War writes, We gathered around a radio. . .to hear President Bush's speech of his decision to go to war. . .No one clapped or cheered but the pride and determination showed. Im sure no one will forget those words. These two soldiers, divided as they were by decades of social and cultural change, show how Americans share similar perspectives no matter what their background simply by virtue of their being Americans.

But the book is not just a collection of letters from soldiers, there are also the thoughts of spies, diplomats, celebrities, protestors, nurses, and doctors. A female spy sends a scathing letter to the Secretary of State during the Civil War; a doctor aboard a battleship in the Philippines details the many horrific injuries of the wounded; John Steinbeck sends a letter of sorrow to a grieving widow. These diverse reports reveal the collection in another light-not just as a history of wars, but as a history of every day people. Left in are all spelling errors, grammar errors, politically incorrect statements; everything that makes each one of us unique. These many perspectives invite many different emotions from sadness to unexpected laughter to indignation. A collection like this does more to make history alive than all of the biographies and historical essays written by degreed scholars, no matter how well-intentioned. And as I read War Letters, even with a war in our headlines every day, I do feel a certain kind of comfort. Whether the letters conceive of war as being something just or as a hellish mistake, the writers are united in their belief in America as something wholly larger than themselves. No matter how cynical or jaded a generation becomes, they cannot deny that who they are depends on the many rights and freedoms we enjoy as Americans. What I find most comforting is that a book like War Letters can, through unconnected people and places and opposing viewpoints, define what it means to be an American in such a clear way. As one World War I soldier puts it, I'm not over here to die for my country. I came here to live for it and . . . make it possible for others to live in peace and happiness.

Class Offered to Help Children Prepare for Sibling

Children, ages three to 10, who will soon have a new baby brother or sister are invited to participate with their parents in the sibling class sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend. The class will be held Thursdays, December 6 or 13, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Designed for children between the ages of three and 10, the class will present information on basic anatomy, newborn abilities, and the child's role as a big brother or big sister. A video, a tour of the New Life Center, and fun hands-on activities will help the child prepare for the mother's stay in the hospital and the new baby's arrival.

The New Life Center suggests that the class be taken within a month of the mother's due date.

The fee is $10 per child, and $5 for each additional child from the same family. Pre-registration is needed. For more information, please call St. Joseph's Community Hospital's Class Connection Line at 306-7888.

We decided to help out a needy family for Thanksgiving and Christmas with canned goods and a gift certificate. In February, we will be going to the Bradley Center to see a Wave game.

Old age is like climbing a mountain. You climb from ledge to ledge. The higher you get, the more tired and breathless you become, but your views become more extensive.
—Ingmar Bergman

IN MEMORY

In memory of HAROLD STERN, who passed away 17 years ago, December 11, 1984:

We remember, we care.
Your name is whispered in our prayer.
A smile, a tear, a thought sincere,
How often we wish you were still here.
God looked around his garden,
and found an empty space.
He looked down upon his earth,
And then he saw your face.
He put his arms around you,
And lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful,
Because he only takes the best.

Love and prayers,
Shirl and Tom

Village Board Meeting Minutes

Regular Meeting
November 5, 2001
8:00 p.m.

The Village Board of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin, met in Regular Session in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

President John Kenworthy presided. All other Trustee Members were present. A quorum was present.

The meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and Pledge of Allegiance.

On a motion by Trustee Larry Ammel, seconded by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann and unanimously carried by voice vote, the minutes of the October 15, 2001 meeting were approved as printed.

Fire Chief Mark Groeschel and Administrator Daniel Schmidt reported that the Town of Barton joining the Kewaskum Fire Department for fire service appears to be moving forward. The City of West Bend has received notice that Town of Barton will be receiving fire service from Kewaskum and the out lying areas. The City is not pleased with the end result of the Townships action.

On a motion by Trustee Larry Ammel, seconded by Trustee Kevin Scheunemann and unanimously carried by voice vote, authorized the Police Chief to lease a new squad car for 2002. Chief of Police Richard L. Knoebel reported that the new officer was on his own as of November 6, 2001. Police Chief Richard Knoebel reported that the Packer card distribution is complete and went well. The Trick or Treat festivities took place with no problems with a good number of children.

Director of Public Works, Jerry Gilles reported as follows:

1) The Saturday yard waste hours concluded last Saturday, November 3, 2001.

2) The wood chipping is wrapped up for this year and the leaf collection will wrap up by the week of November 12, 2001.

3) Hydrant repair work was completed on the old hydrant in front of Regal Ware.

4) Some additional salt has been found at a higher cost than that of State pricing.

Administrator Daniel S. Schmidt reviewed the following with the Board:

1) Review of League and Taxpayer bulletins.

2) Review of the budget control sheets for the period ending 9-30-01.

3) Review of the building permit report for October 2001.

4) A thank you from the KEYS Scholarships Inc. was shared with the Board.

5) A discussion was held on the proposed St. Josephs Hospital Expansion; the pros and cons of building a completely new hospital and relocating the hospital and the possible expansion of the existing hospital at the present location. The unanimous consensus of the Board was to direct the Administrator to send the Hospital Board a letter informing them that the Village Board of Kewaskum would support the expansion and renovation of the existing hospital at its current location. Also that if said expansion would be promoted at a new location that considerations are given to the north side of the City of West Bend or Village of Kewaskum more centrally located to the targeted area of those to be served.

On a motion by Trustee Andy Pesch, seconded by Trustee Thomas Piwoni and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board approved the payment of bills as recommended by the Administrative Committee. The totals of all claims as recommended are as follows:

General	135,032.51
Sewer	55,619.93
V/A/P Ck. #19291 - #19414
Library Fund	900.88
Payroll	37,767.58
P/R Ck. #11036 - #11094
Water Fund	36,982.97
TOTAL	266,303.87

Trustee Andy Pesch, the Plan Commission Board Representative, reported a Plan Commission meeting was held October 23, 2001. It was noted the Commission reviewed a request of Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic to a request kennel license to allow for the boarding of healthy dogs and cats and the allowing of this through a conditional use permit. Mr. Rick Kania was present to discuss the zoning ordinance update. The meeting dates of November and December were adjusted to December 11, 2001 at 7:00 p.m.

Trustee Mathew Heiser, the Library Board Representative, informed the Board that Mr. Frank Beesten, the current Village representative on the County Library Board, has been asked to serve a new three year term. The Village is supportive of this appointment and appreciates Mr. Beestens commitment to the Library.

Administrator Daniel Schmidt explained what and how the budget proposal was prepared, reflecting the dollars indicated. The difference between revenue and expenditures was discussed and several alternatives how to reduce the separation was discussed. It was agreed by consensus that dollars be moved from the open space fund in the amount of $10,000 to help cover the $21,000 budgeted for a new piece of play ground equipment and related fall zone and a total of $29,644 would be moved to the revenue side of the budget from the designated fund for the following accounts: Municipal Building Annex ($2,000), Machinery & Equipment ($25,000), refuse ($856), recycling ($1,230) and celebrations ($524).

Following the placement of almost everything asked for, the difference between revenues and expenditures was $221,713 which would equal an increase of $1.61 or + 24.5%. Numerous cuts were implemented in the budget through to the Board reflecting an increase of $89,510 which will equal an increase of $.67 or + 9.89%. All departmental accounts in general have seen decreases with one exception, that being the Library budget. A review of those cuts and even the increase were reviewed and after a lot of discussion the Board did not feel any further adjustments should be made at this meeting.

The overall tax rate for the village and all other entities would equal an estimated gross rate of $25.301345 or an increase of .665853 or 2.7%. It was noted the County & State tax rate was still unknown but a 4% increase was used and that the tax credit information is not available to project the net tax rate. Several other alternatives were discussed as to additional cuts. It was noted by several Board Members that the budget is very tight with no extra funds and it was further noted that if further cuts were imposed it would compound the problem in future years as did tight budgets of the past. On a motion by Trustee Larry Ammel, seconded by Trustee Kevin Scheunemann and unanimously carried by voice vote the Board directed the administrator and staff to prepare the public hearing notice reflecting the above information. The Public Hearing is scheduled for November 26, 2001 at 7:00 p.m.

A review of the Debt Service Fund, Special Revenue Fund, Library Fund, Water Department and Water Pollution Control budgets took place with several adjustments. With the above noted action of the Board, the Board directed the information reviewed be included with the public hearing notice.

On a motion by Trustee Larry Ammel, seconded by Trustee Thomas Piwoni and unanimously carried by voice vote the Board approved an adjustment to the Village Board meeting schedule for December 10, 2001 to a start time of 8:30 p.m. Earlier action was taken on the meeting dates and the holiday schedules as provided for within the negotiated contracts.

On a motion by Trustee Mathew Heiser, seconded by Trustee Larry Ammel and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the signing of the Kewaskum School District - School Street easement as negotiated.

Action was taken on Resolution No.2001-27 A Resolution Supporting Municipal Telecommunications Initiatives and Opposing Assembly Bill 518 as attached hereto:

On a motion by Trustee Andy Pesch, seconded by Trustee Thomas Piwoni and unanimously carried by voice vote, the Board authorized the signing of the County-Wide Library Service Agreement Extension for 2002.

Motion by Trustee Robert Stoltzmann, seconded by Trustee Thomas Piwoni and carried by the majority roll call vote, to adjourn. Roll call vote was 7 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 0 "Absent."

More Than 150,000 Permits Available

Spring Turkey Application Deadline is December 10

MADISON -- Turkey hunters have until December 10 to apply for a permit for the 2002 Wisconsin spring turkey hunting season.

Preliminary permit levels for the spring season are 156,240 permits available in the 43 turkey management zones, and 261 permits available for the state parks that are open for spring turkey hunting, for a total of 156,501 permits available for the 2002 spring season.

That is an increase from 150,403 total permits issued for the 2001 spring season. Also, there are two new zones open for turkey hunting in 2002.

Turkey productivity has been down the past two years due to cold and wet weather during the nesting season, according to Nancy Frost, assistant upland wildlife ecologist with the state Department of Natural Resources.

"This year's brood surveys show preliminary number of poults per hen as 2.76, down from 2.97 poults per hen in 2000. The percent of jakes in the spring harvest has also gone down the past two years. This is probably due to the productivity the past two springs and selectivity for toms by hunters," Frost said.

"Hunters should not be alarmed by these numbers. We are still expecting a good hunting season, just not as great as the past couple of years. The population is still expanding its range and we expect good hunting success."

Winter weather can also affect the turkey population, Frost said. Deep, powdery snow is more of a problem than extremely cold weather because it limits the ability of turkeys to forage on the ground. "But, Wisconsin's turkeys are tough birds," she added. "They can remain in roosting areas for up to two weeks during especially severe weather."

Wisconsin's turkey range has many south-facing slopes or wind-swept fields that lose snow quickly and are available as foraging areas for turkeys. Frost said many people ask if they should feed the wild turkeys on their property during the winter.

"We recommend against artificial feeding. There are several risks involved with artificial feeding: turkeys can become tame and dependent on the food; artificial feeding concentrates turkeys and makes them vulnerable to predation; and artificial feeding sites increase the chances of potential disease transmission.

Mold, which grows on wet or damp grain can cause respiratory diseases in birds which can spread easily when birds are concentrated in one area. To keep Wisconsin's turkey population healthy, habitat management is the key, not artificial feeding."

The 2002 spring turkey season starts on April 10 and consists of six, five-day time periods that end on May 19. Any applications postmarked after the December 10 application deadline or filled out incorrectly will not be considered for the drawing.

Applications and the required $3 permit application sticker may be purchased at all Wisconsin DNR service centers, ALIS vendors or by calling toll free, 1-877-945-4236 (applicants must use VISA or Mastercard and there is a $3 handling fee).

TURKEY AND BEAR PERMITS APPLICATIONS NOW CAN BE DONE ON-LINE

Starting in 2002, hunters can apply for their spring and fall turkey permits as well as for their bear application permits (deadline January 18) on-line.

Currently licenses and the stamp privileges can be purchased on-line by visiting the DNR On Line Service Center (from the home page, click on the "Licenses, Permits and Registrations" button and follow the links; applicants must use VISA or Mastercard and there is a $3 handling fee).

Applicants who use the on-line process will receive immediate confirmation that their application was received for a specific time period and hunting zone. All applicants will be notified at a later date through the U.S. mail whether they were successful in the drawing for the time periods and zones for which they applied.

Hunters Take Nearly 300,000 Deer During Nine-Day Season

MADISON -- A preliminary call-in tally of registration stations across the state shows hunters taking 291,563 deer during the regular nine-day gun deer hunt that closed last Sunday.

While that figure is about 33 percent lower than the preliminary call-tally of more than 437,000 from Wisconsin's 2001 record season, it is only about 12 percent lower than the 10-year average of about 330,600. However, with the addition of the four-day October Zone T harvest, the total gun harvest for 2001 is two percent above the 10-year record.

Department of Natural Resources wildlife managers had expected a reduced harvest from 2000, when Wisconsin had a record deer herd estimated at 1.8 million animals, and hunters set an all-time national record harvest for all combined hunting seasons of more than 618,000 white-tailed deer.

The deer population was estimated at about 1.65 million going into the 2001 hunting seasons, more than 20 percent over goal -- from 97 last year to 76 this year. Additionally, last year hunters received two free antlerless deer permits that could be used in any Zone T unit, while this year, hunters received just one free antlerless tag for those units.

"The 2001 fall white-tailed deer population was eight percent below last year, but by far the biggest factor in the drop in harvest had to be the weather," said DNR Deer Ecologist Bill Mytton. "Last year we had near perfect hunting conditions throughout the entire season. This year, although it was very mild, hunting conditions were really pretty poor."

The mild weather did allow hunters to remain in the field for longer periods of time, but it also meant they had to take any deer they shot in to be processed right away, instead of being able to hang the deer and return to hunting, he said.

Also, because the weather was so mild, "deer were able to sit tight longer too. It wasn't as easy to get them to move, and if they did move, there was no snow statewide for hunters to track them," Mytton said.

"The double whammy on this year's nine-day hunt was that both weekends had extremely mild weather," he said. "The importance of these weekends is that this is when most hunters are in the woods."

"Generally, opening weekend accounts for more than half the harvest, so when hunting conditions didn't improve through the week, it was apparent that the numbers would be down for the entire season this year," Mytton said.

This reduced harvest was most significant in the antlerless kill and that is why deer biologists from around the state continue to stress the importance of the Zone T early and late hunts to buffer weather situations like we saw this year.

Hunters shot about 44,450 deer during an early Zone T hunt that was held in October, compared to nearly 66,500 in 2000. A special hunt for people shooting muzzleloader rifles -- one shot rifles for which the powder and shot is loaded through the end of the barrel -- ran through Sunday, December 2, and then there will be the second antlerless-only hunt in the designated Zone T units from December 6 through 9.

Special Awards Presented At Annual Gridiron Banquet

The Annual Gridiron Football Banquet was held at the Amerahn on Thursday, November 8. Players and parents celebrated the end of another successful season for the club.

Featured speaker included Tim Rohlinger, head varsity coach of the high school football program. The relationship between Gridiron and high school is strong; it really can be considered a partnership in sports for our local youth. And the efforts on both fronts are paying off as the high school team had playoff action for the past three years.

Eric Anderson served as the master of ceremonies at the banquet. Coaching staff from all grade levels (grades five through eight) were called to the stage to say a few words and introduce members of their teams.

Each player received a medal as introductions were made. Eighth graders received a special Gridiron shirt as they now move on to high school football next season.

Special awards were presented to the most valuable players for offense and defense at each grade level. Spirit awards were also presented. Those receiving special awards are as follows:

Fifth Grade: MVP Offense - Nathan Gumness; MVP Defense - Eric Shaske; Spirit Award - Brian Backhaus.

Sixth Grade: MVP Offense - Tommy Paulus; MVP Defense - Matt Ratzel; Spirit Award - Cory Watzig.

Seventh Grade: MVP Offense - Casey Scheel; MVP Defense - Cory Torrison; Spirit Award - Eric Ogi.

Eighth Grade - MVP Offense - Chad Piwoni; MVP Defense - Justin Cardarelle; Spirit Award - Jeff Thull.

Sign up for the club's sixth season will take place in spring. Watch for details in The Kewaskum Statesman.

Gun Deer Season is Fifth Safest on Record Despite Hunting-Related Fatalities

MADISON - Wisconsin's 2001 gun deer season ranks as the fifth safest on record, despite seven firearm-related deaths that were reported during the nine-day season that ended last Sunday.

Department of Natural Resources conservation wardens are investigating a total of 19 hunting-related firearm accidents that occurred during the season.

"The gradual decline of hunting-related incidents during the gun deer season is proof positive that hunting is safe and getting safer every year," said Tim Lawhern, hunter safety administrator with the DNR. "There's room for improvement but it's clear that more hunters are practicing safety in the field. Hunter education is working in Wisconsin."

The 19 incidents that took place during this year's hunt rank the 2001 gun deer season as the fifth safest on record. Ten accidents in 1997 make that year the safest, followed by 15 in 1996 and 17 in both 1993 and 1998.

While juveniles typically account for a third of all hunting-related incidents in Wisconsin, this year's accident figures show improvement among those hunters younger than 18. Reports show that juveniles were identified as the shooter in four firearm-related incidents, or just over 23 percent.

"What's disturbing," Lawhern said, "is that in three of those four cases, a 12- or 13-year-old was hunting without adult supervision as is required by state law. There's a reason that young hunters must be directly supervised by an adult while in the field. Many of these boys or girls lack the experience to automatically perform safely all the time. It takes a couple seasons for their actions to become more practiced and deliberate."

Several of this year's accident statistics fall in line with previous years. For example:

* Self-inflicted injuries accounted for 31.5 percent of incidents.

* Incidents involving members of the same hunting party accounted for 63.2 percent of the total.

* Forty-two percent of all accidents occurred during a deer drive.

* Group bagging was involved in 26.3 percent of firearm-related injury incidents.

* The average age of the shooter was just under 34 years. (17 incidents; the identities of two shooters remains under investigation).

What's unusual about this season is the number of fatal incidents. There were two fatal accidents in 2000. The last year with more fatalities was 1987, during which there were eight fatal accidents.

"The only explanation we can give with any certainty concerning this year's fatalities is that at some point, someone did not follow a basic rule of firearm safety," Lawhern said. "Other circumstances -- such as the warm weather or the lack of snow -- might have played a role, but those factors don't cause a person to pull a trigger. Firearm safety, whether it's in a hunting situation or otherwise, begins and ends with the person holding the firearm."

"The statistics of this season probably don't mean much to the families of those people involved in hunting accidents this year," Lawhern added. "We are truly saddened by these events and we'll continue to work to help make future seasons safer."
