Fredonia Teen Charged With Stealing Car in Village

By Andrew Kuehl
 Staff Writer/Photographer

A 17 year-old Fredonia boy has been charged with operating a motor vehicle without owner's consent in Washington County Circuit Court.

Nathan J. Feiereisen will be back in court August 28 for his connection to taking a 1998 Chevrolet Cavalier from an open garage on Highland Ave in the village.

A resident on that street noticed three teens with flash lights looking through vehicles in the 700 block of Highland Avenue this past Sunday shortly before three a.m. He called police but by that time two teens took off with the car. The third teen hid in some bushes at the scene.

Washington County Sheriff's deputies assisted the lone Kewaskum officer and eventually located the vehicle.

According to the criminal complaint issued by the district attorney the three teens conspired to steal things out of unlocked cars.

Police chief Richard Knoebel attributes the arrest to the watchful eyes of Kewaskum's citizens. He further stated that without that call officers could still be searching for the suspect and the vehicle.

Eden, Kohlsville and Kewaskum assisted Campbellsport, in drenching the two story dwelling that was unoccupied. According to the Fond du Lac County Sheriffs Department the fire remains under investigation. The department has deemed the structure a total loss and damages are set around $130,000. Firemen and deputies remained on the scene until 7 a.m. The property is owned by Stephen Haasch.

had to swerve his truck to avoid missing her. After she got away he took off.

He now faces three charges, attempted forceful abduction of a child, attempted false imprisonment and attempted kidnapping.

Monday morning Fond du Lac County District Attorney Thomas Storm asked the court to set a $200,000 cash bail due to the fact that 12 years ago Maertz had an incident involving a minor. He also asked that Maertz have no contact with the victim.

With his wife becoming very emotional Maertz's attorney, public defender Laurel Munger asked that bail be set at $10,000 cash and agreed to the no contact order.

After hearing the pleas of each attorney Judge Dale English quickly set bail at $300,000 cash, ordered no contact with the victim or any female under the age of 18.

Maertz got up, looked at his wife shrugged his shoulders and left the courtroom unemotional and without incident.

A preliminary hearing is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. next Thursday. If convicted Maertz faces over 62 years in prison.

Addison Man Killed in Farm Accident

Piggy Refuses to Kiss Humans If More Votes Aren't Cast Soon!

Piggy is extremely disgruntled, wallowing in self-pity, and pinking in his beer because the pig-kissing voters have turned their back on him.

As a matter of fact he has hinted that maybe, just maybe, he won't participate. He states he isn't just your common, trashy pig who goes around kissing anyone and everyone. He's very particular with his lips and if we don't care enough to vote for the very best, he may have to go out on strike.

Imagine that... our own little piggy out on strike... right alongside the baseball players. Better stop any comparisons right there before I get in trouble again. Baseball players want what? More money? When does more end? Piggy only wants more votes. What is this world coming to?

However, we must realize, our unselfish little pink friend is donating all the money back to Kettle Kountry Kolors... how can you say no to such pig-lanthropy?

I'm not even going to begin to get into the baseball strike, but I know there is justice in piggy holding out for more votes if this event is to become successful. I do want all our readers to understand, though, Piggy is not greedy... the money is truly not a factor... he states it's his love of the pig-kissing game.

That, and the fact that his ego is suffering dreadfully. He's beginning to take all of this very personally and he feels if you don't vote, you're doing it because you don't like him. You gotta help me restore this pig's self-esteem. I've tried reassuring him that people are a little busy with back-to-school and all that, and I'm sure we will have a resurgence of voting before the semi-semi-finals end a week from Saturday, but he is such a fragile pig. I can't stand it when his little chin hangs on his chest.

Please drop those votes and dollars in the little orange "barrels" located in Kewaskum businesses. You can find them at the Statesman, Kuehl's Suds and Spirits, Amoco, Silver Platter, Kewaskum Mobil, St. Francis Bank, Herriges Oil, Woody's Steakhouse,

Grand Larsony, K-Town Saloon, Coffee Corner, Wiseguys, J.O.'s Restaurant, Hair on Main, Kohn's Citgo, and Piggly Wiggly, just to name a few (I know I missed some, will catch up with those next week... providing we still have a pig to kiss!)

And for those of you who still wish to vote completely anonymous, you may clip the coupon below and mail it with your vote to Kiss-the-Pig Headquarters. % P.O. Box 98, Kewaskum, WI 53040.

Those candidates who received votes this week were Kathy Rohlinger, Karie Martin, Aggie Fleischman, Carole Timblin, Jill Yancy, Jeanne Marchant, Dave Donath, Ron Jon from Woody's, Bob Buddenhagen, Brian Larson, Roy Garbisch and Bob Bonenfant.

And remember, a week from Saturday, August 31, five male and five female candidates will be eliminated. You decide who stays and who goes!

Fund-Raiser For Child With Brain Injury

A benefit brat fry will raise funds to assist the family of a youngster following a near-drowning accident.

The brat and hamburger fry will be held in Dundee at Dins' Mini Mart on Saturday, Aug. 24, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The brat fry is for Viktor Hardenburger, age nine, who was adopted from Ulan Ude, Buryatia, Russia last year. His adopted parents are Clay and Lisa (Narges) Hardenburger of rural Waucousta.

Viktor attended Waucousta Lutheran Grade School, began his summer playing baseball for Long Lake and had joined his biological sister, Masha, age 6, and sister, Anastasia, age 4.

The family was attending an adoption reunion on June 21 when he sustained a brain injury as a result of lack of oxygen, following the near drowning.

Viktor spent five weeks at Children's Hospital of Milwaukee before returning to his family at home, where he requires full assistance. The family remains hopeful that therapy will help to regain some of his basic functions.

The first orchestra in America was founded in Boston in 1810.

Campbellsport Building Supply Opens Custom Cabinetry

Shown above is the Custom Cabinetry showroom at Campbellsport Building Supply. CBS will be holding a Grand Opening on Tuesday August 27, from 3 to 7 p.m. Product demonstrations and manufacturers representatives will be on hand to answer all your cabinetry and fall building questions.

Homeowners and area contractors are looking for quality custom cabinets and knowledgeable people that will stand behind that product. If they visit Campbellsport Building Supply (CBS), they can see how CBS's newest division Custom Cabinetry can be a part of their next home.

Kris Ballard, manager of Custom Cabinetry, is excited to help you design your next project no matter if it's replacing an existing kitchen or supplying all the cabinetry in a new home. Recently Kris attended a day long seminar on the latest in cabinetry designs in Chicago. She also just got back from the National Kitchen and Bath Association Conference also held in Chicago.

"Our goal was to create a store within a store. Homeowners, especially women, may feel intimidated in a lumberyard setting. We wanted a comfortable personal place to plan their project. While at the same time, we need to offer plans that work structurally, have a good sense of building knowledge, and offer over the top service for our contractors. With Custom Cabinetry and Campbellsport Building Supply we have met that goal," explains Kris.

Custom Cabinetry's large display area, located inside CBS's showroom, has helped customers visualize their plans. They offer three lines of cabinets, Merillat, Great Northern and Timber Lake brands which include seven species of wood and over thirty door styles. Granite, Solid Surface and laminate countertops are also on display. "It's hard to show everything, but we try."

Their Grand Opening will be held Tuesday, August

27 from 3 to 7 p.m. Product demonstrations and manufacturers reps will be on hand to answer all your cabinetry and fall building questions. You are invited to come for dinner. A pig roast, with all donations going to the Pat and Marilyn O'Brien Ag Scholarship Fund, will be served. And for those with a taste for the high life, wine and fine Beechwood cheese will be available. 92.5 WBWI will be airing a live radio broadcast from 4 to 6 p.m.

Custom Cabinetry and Campbellsport Building Supply are located on Main Street in Campbellsport serving area contractors and homeowners with quality building materials. They specialize in blueprints and home design. Visit their website www.furnishanddeign.com or call 920-533-4412 for more information. Or stop in their store Monday thru Friday, 6:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday, 7 a.m. to 12 p.m. For design services appointments are recommended.

There are some requirements that they will be happy to go over and all necessities are supplied.

As I See It

By Rochelle Pennington

Teachers and Students Leave Lasting Impressions on One Another

"Professor Tyree's philosophy class is right down the hall."

The above words were spoken by the character of Indiana Jones in the 1980's blockbuster movie, The Last Crusade. They blended into the story line inconspicuously. But interestingly, and unbeknownst to viewers, these words were not included in the original screen play, but rather, were "plugged in" by Harrison Ford who starred as the adventurous Indiana Jones. Harrison wanted to pay tribute to one of his teachers, a real life Professor William Tyree who taught young "Harry" Ford at Ripon College here in Wisconsin where he attended school from 1960-1964.

Teachers. They influence us in many ways, leaving lasting impressions on our lives.

And students influence their teachers. One such teacher who has had many impressions left on her life by those who shared her classroom over the years is Shirley Nennig. I met her in a local bookstore about a year ago and in this short time now consider her among my dearest friends. This is for many reasons, not the least of which is her dedication to students with educational and social challenges. What amazes me most about Shirley is that she is more ready to share stories of what she has learned from these students who she has committed herself to reaching than what she has taught them. To hear her speak, and to look in her eyes when she does so, is to become very much aware that she desires to make a difference in every life entrusted to her, like the life of a young fellow she tutored and later wrote about in a story titled "Love Labyrinth" shared below. She writes:

Working as a teacher, I was privileged to have developed a unique tutorial program for at-risk, High School students considered emotionally disturbed. It was my job to prepare them to complete some sort of educational equivalency program. A challenge I just knew felt right, for this treasure is a worthy one.

Most students I taught had as much inner turmoil as that from outside sources. For some, they chose to keep their life in chaos while having a loving, supportive home life. For those parents I send a shield of valor.

Others were given little model for success. The lives of these students were barbaric in some cases, something out of the middle ages. By the time they got to school, if they made it, they may have bailed a parent out of jail for intoxication or even more severe, forced to run drugs for a parent, profit. Some knew hunger so strong we cannot fathom its depths. Still others had no money to wash their dirty laundry or groom properly. Is it any wonder they had trouble making school a priority? Growing up for these youngsters came fast and furious and with many burdens.

Attendance at school was poor even though receiving special education services. Environment and mental health reeked double havoc on these young lives. The lives of these children so different from their peers made them an oddity out of their own control. They are children. Our children. A treasure buried beneath the castle of doom.

My program was a last ditch effort to get them to believe in themselves enough to earn a high school equivalency degree. There was hope in each student. It was masked so deep, but there was always a flicker if I looked hard enough.

Darren, a 15-year-old attractive youth with a talent for guitar, made his way into my life one year. After all attempts were made to keep him at the High School, his behavior and attendance excruciatingly poor, he agreed to attend my program.

He came in tempting me to knock the many chips that had befallen his shoulders over the years, chips that some found offensive, but I saw as a mark of his difficult environment.

I'd meander through his complex labyrinth, knocking chip after chip while tossing academics his direction, but more importantly bombarding with positive praise. We continued this game playing for months. At times, I wondered if I had enough optimistic weapons to conclude the battle. He was indeed a master. What would it take?

It seemed to me that students such as my pal spent a great deal of time slaying the elements to defend themselves from feeling much of anything. Suits of armor were worn to block the blows, a shield of sorts erected to deflect further the internal strife. These defense systems were firmly in place even when involved in affirmative measures.

The risk that caused me the most concern for Darren was not his academic soundness, but that he was at risk of not knowing love for himself. This drove me to carry on. He must know that one person in his life finds him worthy.

I continued knocking chips. One victorious day, exhausted by my fortitude, frustrated, or just plain curious, my pal looked at me and asked me profoundly, "Why do you care?"

Stunned, my eyes began to tear. I pinched myself to hide the sting in a manner that he must have used so many times in his battered life and responded the only way I knew how.

"Why Darren, because you were born. There does not need to be any other reason."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

We were thrilled to find out that the Kewaskum School Board is considering naming its new outdoor athletic facility after Ernie "Doc" Mitchell. It is a great honor and very gratifying for him. It acknowledges that the Kewaskum Community has not forgotten Ernie's 45 years of dedication to their school system and as Athletic Director and Coach.

The many trophies in the case from winning teams he has coached over the years are not the only testament to his legacy. All of the great stories from his former students, athletic team members, fellow coaches and colleagues are the true testament to a man who has touched many and leaves an impact and legacy many of us can only dream of. Our greatest hope is that this will happen soon, so Ernie can enjoy this wonderful tribute.

The Mitchell Family

To the Editor:

August 26th to September 1 is the first National Multiple Myeloma Awareness Week. What is Multiple Myeloma? It is a form of cancer in the blood.

We have a family friend who has been diagnosed with Multiple Myeloma. Seven years ago, in the winter of 1995, he had a lot of pain in the upper part of his right leg. (A rod was placed in his leg when he was hit by a stock car at the Plymouth Racetrack in 1988).

He went to see an orthopedist, who took X-rays and found a huge tumor on that hip. It took over four months to find out and diagnose Richard Witt with Multiple Myeloma. At the time he did not fit the criteria for the disease.

Richard had been on some experimental drugs. He started a drug called Thalidomide and after six months had to stop taking the drug because his kidney failed in March of 2001 and there were other neuropathy problems.

Today, Richard is on a new drug, Zometa, which is the treatment of hypercalcemia of malignancy. This drug has been approved by the FDA.

In spring of this year, former Democratic Vice President candidate, Geraldine Ferraro, was diagnosed with Multiple Myeloma. The doctors at that time had given her seven years to live a "normal" life. She continues to fight for cancer research and has played a key role in the US House of Representatives passage of the Hematological Cancer Act. The act will continue the research which is so desperately needed to help find a cure for this type of cancer and any other forms of cancer.

Our friend, Richard Witt, has to go for kidney dialysis three times a week, and it takes a lot out of him. Although he can't work on a regular basis due to the strong medications he is taking, Richard continues to beat the odds.

He is active in his love for winged-spring car racing, where he continues his "job" as the "starter" or flagman for the International Racing Association (IRA). The IRA is an organization which travels and supports the World of Outlaw circuit, besides their own schedule.

With the many highs and lows in dealing with this form of cancer, his wife of 15 years, Lynda, continues to "stand by her man" and promote interest in Richard's fight with Multiple Myeloma. They continue to learn more about this form of cancer every day. During the week of August 26 through September 1, keep Richard and Lynda in your prayers and anyone else who is dealing with this disease.

If you would like more information concerning Multiple Myeloma, call 203-972-1250 or write to: The Multiple Myeloma Research Foundation, 3 Forest Street, New Canaan, CT 06840, or email: themmrf@themmrf.com.

Ninety-three percent (93%) of all funds raised are used in the research division of the foundation.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Willie and Jeanne Goeden and families

Safe Design For New Hospital Featured in UM Publication

WEST BEND - An innovative process by St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend, a member of SynergyHealth, to build patient safety into the design of its new hospital is highlighted in a recent publication by the University of Minnesota.

"Designing a Safe Hospital" is the first in a publication series by the Center for the Study of Healthcare Management, part of the Department of Healthcare Management at UM's Carlson School of Management.

The publication details St. Joseph's innovative approach to the hospital design process, based on the belief that improving the design of the hospital facility will not only increase patient safety directly but also promote a safety-oriented organizational culture.

It also documents 10 facility design principles developed by local and national leaders in patient safety, quality improvement, and human factors who participated in a spring conference sponsored by St. Joseph's Community Hospital held in Milwaukee. Those principles, now being incorporated into the design process for the new hospital include:

- * Designing FMEA (Failure Modes and Effect Analysis) at each design stage to anticipate, identify and avoid failures in the operation of a new system while still on the drawing board.

- * Standardize location of equipment, supplies, room layout, and care processes.

- * Involve patients and families in the design process.

- * Use an established checklist for current/future design.

- * Bringing critical information for decision-making close to the patient.

- * Reduce noise.
- * Use adaptive systems that will allow function in the future.

- * Articulate a set of principles by which everything is measured.

- * Begin equipment planning on Day One.

- * Begin mockups on Day One.

Groundbreaking for the 80-bed, 166,500 square foot facility is set for October. The hospital will open in May 2005 at the new site of a 143-acre parcel at the northwest corner of Highway 45 and PV just south of West Bend.

The Center for the Study of Healthcare Management was established in 1999 and facilitates the conduct of high quality research on healthcare management issues, coordinates local and national collaboration with researchers, and shares results on important issues concerning health care management.

For a copy of "Designing a Safe Hospital," contact Lori Millonzi at St. Joseph's Community Hospital of West Bend at 262-334-8391 or visit the Carlson School online at www.csom.umn.edu.

More information on St. Joseph's Community Hospital can be found on the SynergyHealth website at www.synergyhealth.org.

DAYS GONE BY

25 Years Ago

July 15, 1977

Dark, threatening skies and tornado warnings for Washington County on radio and television stations sent many area residents scurrying for shelter last Wednesday night. The storm missed this area, however, and went around to the south. There were unconfirmed reports of tornadoes south of Kewaskum and there was another report of a tornado in the Sunburst area near Kewaskum, heading toward the village.

Kumiko Onuma, 16, of Tsuchiura, Ibaraki, Japan, is Kewaskum High School's American Field Service student for the coming school term. She will be spending her year in the AFS program with the Robert Ryan family of Route 1, Kewaskum.

Roy Esser, Kewaskum, was awarded a gold wristwatch by Ray Hoeft, National Farm Book Company, for having completed 25 years of service to vocational agriculture in Wisconsin at the annual summer conference held at Madison.

Six Kewaskum High School students attended Badger Boys State from June 19-25 at Ripon College and Badger Girls State from June 12-18 at the UW-Madison Campus. The boys that went were: David Bade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bade; David Schoofs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Schoofs, and Dan Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Léwis Schmidt. The girls who attended were Mary Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ryan; Mary Ciha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Ciha, and Ann Strancke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strancke.

A daughter, Sarah Jean, was born to Gregory and Elaine Schiek, Campbellsport, June 28. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Alyce Muckerheide of West Bend. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Schiek of Kewaskum and great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Schacht of West Bend.

A daughter, Tricia Ann, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Pat Reilly, Campbellsport, on June 30.

A daughter was also born to Adolph and Karen Cebula, Kewaskum, on July 10.

A son was born to John and Marcia Theusch, Kewaskum, on July 6.

Little Folks School House Teams Up With Sheriff's Department

With all of the recent abductions and attempted abductions taking place, the teachers at the Little Folks School House wanted to "train" their children in safety. They devoted an entire unit teaching about stranger danger.

Deputy Rewertz from the Washington County Sheriff's Department came out to visit and talked to the little folks about the harm that can come to children when they become too trusting.

He spoke in length about who should and shouldn't be trusted. Deputy Rewertz instructed all of the children that if someone attempts to abduct them, they are to run as fast as they can. If they are grabbed by a stranger, it is O.K. to scream and hit, kick and bite. The group then played the "what if" game.

The children were educated in 911 dialing and taught how it is to be used only for emergencies. The Deputy explained how the calls are handled and what the consequences are for "fake calls." He also explained all about the different types of law violations - scaled down to a child's understanding, of course.

The Little Folks School

House staff has spent time teaching about Good Touch / Bad Touch, Gun Safety, Fire & Water Safety, Bike Safety and the importance of seat belts. Deputy Rewertz also talked in some depth about these topics. The group also discussed drugs and alcohol.

The lesson concluded with the children being allowed to take turns sitting in the squad car and hearing the sirens.

The teachers and parents of Little Folks School House would like to thank The Washington County Sheriff's Department and Deputy Rewertz for another great and informative visit.

Small Business Training Certificate Begins Sept. 7

Moraine Park Technical College's Small Business Training Certificate, beginning Sept. 7, isn't just for the start-up business owner.

"Although the one-year certificate is designed for people interested in exploring the components of small business start-up and operation, it offers something for both new and existing entrepreneurs" said Pat Olson, Moraine Park's dean of Business.

"Participants receive hands-on training in the areas of business planning, financing, marketing, customer service, financial management, and business communications," added Olson. "They receive good exposure to a variety of areas."

"Each class offers real-life equations, examples and opportunities to network with other entrepreneurs," said Kathy McArthur, instructor for the certificate. "Students are also exposed to several guest speakers including bankers, attorneys and accountants."

The Small Business Certificate is comprised of five, two-credit courses that are taken in sequence. They are: Organizing Your Small Business, Financial Management, Marketing, Customer Service and Writing a Business Plan. The courses are shared with Fox Valley Technical College, Northeast Wisconsin Technical College, and Lake Shore Technical College.

All classes are held on Saturday mornings from 8:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. and run for six weeks. The first class, Organizing Your Small Business, starts Sept. 7. Funding Approved for Statewide AMBER System to Issue Alerts for Abducted Children

A new system designed to alert the public when a child abduction has been reported will be in operation statewide later this year following approval of a funding authorization request by the state Department of Administration (DOA).

DOA Secretary George Lightbourn explained that the department has authorized the expenditure of $65,000 by the Department of Justice (DOJ) for equipment and other program expenses. Restitution received by DOJ from judgments awarded against three telecommunication firms will be used for this purpose.

"Recent reports of child abductions in other states demonstrate the value of this concept," Lightbourn added. "This is a much-needed system for Wisconsin that could make a life-saving difference when time is of the essence."

The program, called AMBER Alert, would mandate that law enforcement agencies send an Emergency Alert System message to state radio and TV stations - using the same technology now used to warn of floods, fire and other disaster - when officials learn a child has been abducted and is in danger.

Under federal law, stations would decide whether the emergency message - and its telltale three high-pitched tones - would interrupt programming. Radio stations could interrupt programming and TV stations could either scroll information or interrupt programming. Alerts would describe the child, suspect, vehicle or other clues that could enlist the public's help in recovering the child.

AMBER stands for America's Missing: Broadcast Emergency Response and is also named for Amber Hagerman, a nine-year-old Arlington, Texas, girl kidnapped while riding her bicycle in 1996 and found dead four days later.

for reduced price meals or free meals or free milk if the household income falls at or below the level shown above, and they may reapply at that time.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a household has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for free or reduced price meals, the household should complete an application for a family of one or contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the free and reduced price meal and free milk policy, Director of Food Services, 262-626-2166, ext. 4118 will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent or guardian is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he/she may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If the parent/guardian wishes to make a formal appeal, he/she may make a request either orally, or in writing to: Gordon Dickman, Board President, 499 Braatz Dr., WI 53040, 262-626-3363.

If a hearing is needed to appeal the decision, the policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

If a household member becomes unemployed, or if the household size changes, the family should contact the school. Such changes may make the household eligible

The information provided by the household on the application is confidential. Public Law 103-448 does authorize the release of student free and reduced price school meal eligibility status to persons directly connected with the administration and enforcement of federal or state educational programs.

In the operation of the child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, sex, national origin, age, or disability. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to USDA, Director, Office of Civil Rights, Room 326-W, Whitten Building, 1400 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC, 20250-9410.

Any questions regarding the application should be directed to the determining official.

Schauer Center Announces KMCC Auditions, New Choir Director, New Youth Choir

The Kettle Moraine Children's Choir (KMCC), a program of the Schauer Center's Community School of the Arts, has set its official audition date for Fall 2002. Auditions will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 3, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the Ruth A. Knoll Theater of the Schauer Arts and Activities Center.

Students ages 8-14 (unchanged voices only) are encouraged to audition. All students, regardless of past participation or involvement in the KMCC, are required to audition. No preparation is necessary for audition.

The KMCC generally rehearses Sunday evenings from 5 pm - 7 pm. Rehearsals begin Sunday, Sept. 8.

The Schauer Center is also pleased to announce the selection of Ms. Denna Gibeau of West Bend as the new director of the KMCC. Ms. Gibeau brings a vast set of credentials and extensive experience in the music education field and also serves as the founding director of the West Bend Children's Choir, beginning its first season this fall.

Also beginning this fall, Ms. Gibeau will launch a new beginners children's choir at the Schauer Center. The new group, for children ages 5-7, will be called the "Kettle Moraine Bluebirds." No audition is necessary to register a child for this program.

Rehearsals begin for this group on Sunday, Sept. 8, and will generally be held every Sunday from 4 to 4:45 p.m. The "Bluebirds" fall session will culminate with performances in a pair of public holiday concerts. For more information on "Bluebirds," please call the Center at 262-670-0560.

The Kettle Moraine Children's Choir was introduced in Fall 2001 as an ensemble offering through the Center's newly established Community School of the Arts. HUHS choral music director Stephanie Virchow served as KMCC's founding director, leading the ensemble through its first year of existence.

The mission of the KMCC is to create a community of young musicians, enriching their lives and the lives of their families and community through the study of diverse choral music.

Thirty-two children performed for more than 400 audience members at the choir's debut concert in December 2001. Spring of 2002 saw a slight increase in KMCC membership, up to 37 students, who performed in the choir's first annual spring concert in May 2002.

The KMCC is designed to provide a rich and rewarding experience for each child. The repertoire will be varied and drawn from the masters, but also from all cultures, including classical, popular, folk, and patriotic music.

Auditions, tuition, and registration fees apply to all of those who plan to participate in the KMCC's fall 2002 session. The session will culminate with a pair of public holiday concerts featuring the KMCC as guest performers with the Kettle Moraine Symphony.

In addition to the regular Sunday evening rehearsals, three additional rehearsals on Thurs., Dec. 5 (evening), Sat., Dec. 7 (afternoon) and Thurs. Dec. 12 (evening) will be required to prepare for the final public performances. Concert dates are Saturday, Dec. 7, 7:30 p.m., at the Cedarburg Performing Arts Center and Friday, Dec. 13, 7:30 p.m. at the Schauer Center.

A complete schedule of KMCC activities will be available at auditions. The fall tuition fee for KMCC has been reduced to $115 plus a $10 registration fee. This tuition fee includes two free tickets per student to a choice of one concert.

For more information on KMCC or to receive a Community School of the Arts Fall 2002 brochure, call 262-670-0560.

Family Concert With Randy Peterson

Join in Saturday, August 31, at 7 p.m. for an evening of family fun and music with Randy Peterson. The concert will be held outdoors at the Mauthe Lake Recreation Area Picnic Shelter of the Northern Kettle Moraine State Forest.

To find Mauthe Lake from Hwy. 45, turn northeast onto Hwy. 67. Take Hwy. 67 to Hwy. SS, then turn east or right. Follow Hwy. SS through New Prospect to Hwy. GGG. Turn right onto Hwy. GGG which will take you to Mauthe Lake.

A Wisconsin State Park vehicle admission sticker is required. In the event of inclement weather, the concert will be held at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Visitor Center is located off of Hwy. 67, half mile west of Dundee.

Randy is a family and children's entertainer from Green Bay. This award-winning recording artist currently performs over 200 concerts a year throughout Wisconsin.

Performing with a guitar and a positive attitude, Randy puts children at ease and encourages them to join in. Soon, you find the adults are having as much fun as the children. Kids are often made part of the show, joining Randy on stage to play instruments or adding their voices to a song.

His catchy, original songs have a universal appeal that invite audience participation and spotlight a variety of musical styles - from folk to rock, reggae to polka. Also an accomplished storyteller, Randy weaves poems and stories in with his music to create a truly versatile program.

For more information about this terrific family concert, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center's phone number is (920) 533-8322.

1979 Rules

Hello friends,

The year is 1979. The rock groups Queen, Van Halen, Styx and Aerosmith are blasting across the airwaves. The drinking age is 18 and you can legally smoke cigarettes at 16. Most high schools have designated smoking areas, and a lot of senior classmen are sharing a brew with their teachers.

Patti Shaw and Laurie Dykstra were two good looking girls in my class that were really a lot of fun to hang around with.

Twenty-two years later, I married Laurie. A year ago, we had a reunion with Patti and her husband Jeff Rouse at their vacation getaway.

Friday, August 9
High 82, Low 59

"Roscoe's Dinghy" is a 25-foot StarCraft Chieftain. Is the boat Jeff and Patti rig up for fishing salmon on Lake Michigan. I have said this before, and I will say it again: Of all the outdoor sports I partake in, none earn more respect from me in regard to preparation, than that of a Great Lakes salmon fisherman.

Money, knowledge and guts are all a prerequisite to rigging a boat for either of Wisconsin's big ponds.

The alarm went off long before the sun hit the eastern horizon. Seventeen-month-old Selina Walters, my daughter, easily woke up, and we soon were headed down the Ahnapee River. Jeff put out four downriggers with a fly-dodger combination and three rods rigged with Dipsy Divers and spoons. We were trolling in water that ranged from 70 to 140 feet deep, and we listened to other fishermen telling their stories on the marine radio.

I might add that like last year, all four of us were entered in the Shanty Days fishing tournament.

In most cases, for this style of fishing, people take turns when a pole is tripped. Last year, I caught a 24-pound chinook and Laurie caught a 16-pounder, so it was Jeff and Patti's turn.

Selina was getting a bit cranky three hours into our journey, so I decided to take her down below for a snooze. This type of action often creates good luck, and today was no exception.

I had just gotten comfortable when a rod tripped. Jeff landed an 8-pound chinook on a fly-dodger combination. We were all celebrating the catch when another downrigger released.

Patti began to do battle with a good-sized fish. Five minutes later, I netted a 20-pound King and we were on a roll. Unfortunately, about this time, Laurie began feeling quite ill and over the next hour, lost a lot of weight. Just before noon we called it quits and I helped Jeff bring in the lines. I had just released a downrigger set at 60 feet and was slowly reeling the dodger-fly in when a good fish smacked it. A few minutes and a lot of laughs later, Jeff netted a 13-pound king chinook.

Saturday, August 10
High 84, Low 60

All three of the ladies in this group are real troopers. This morning, our crew of five was up at 4:15 a.m. and cleared the harbor long before sunrise.

Today, it was Laurie's turn to catch the first fish. Despite obvious stomach ailments, she landed a 13-pound salmon and then headed down below for a long and merciful nap.

We spent much of the afternoon and evening taking in the sites at Algoma's festival, eating good food and relaxing.

The next morning, the alarm went off a half hour earlier than the day before, which signaled the beginning of the last day of our celebration.

Barry Rog of New Brighton, Minn., won the salmon division of the Shanty Days fishing tournament. He landed a chinook just shy of 26 pounds.

Patience is a must!

KHS Girls Golf Team Begins 2002 Season

After losing six seniors to graduation, the Kewaskum High School girls golf team is expecting to face a challenging year while the team members face each other for the starting roles.

The 16 girls began practice on August 12th with returning seniors Jac Chambers and Cassie Laatsch and juniors Lisa Beck, Christine Behn, Crystal Dreher, Katie Kowalczyk, Cassandra Rimmel, Samantha Schoofs and Sara Taylor.

The newcomers this year include senior Johnnajo Schicker, sophomore Maggie Dickmann and freshmen Amanda Bunkelman, Ashley Cochran, Kate Korth, Nicole Rimmel and Megan Schultz.

The season forecast looks bright with returning first team all-conference Crystal Dreher and Sara Taylor, who saw some varsity action last season. The remainder of the squad played on the Lady Indian JV squad last year or are new to the game.

Carol Martin is returning as the varsity coach and is assisted by Scott Rohlinger and Glen Eichstedt, who both also coach the KHS boys team in the spring season. Rohlinger and Eichstedt will be sharing the JV duties.

KHS Lady Linksters Second of Four

After four days of practice, the Kewaskum girls golf team hosted a quad at Hon-E-Kor on Friday, August 16. Visiting were the teams from Sheboygan (North and South high schools combined team), West Bend West and Hartford.

Sheboygan won the 18 hole event with a team total of 376 with medalist Kallie Tiboris carding a 41 on the red and a 43 on the white for an 84. Sarah Swanson shot a 92 and teammate Meredith Forsterling a 97. The other counting score for Sheboygan was a 103 by Heidi Larson. The Sheboygan team qualified for the WIAA State Golf Tournament and has all of their players back again this year.

Kewaskum was led by junior Crystal Dreher with nines of 48 and 51 for the Lady Indians best score of a 99. Sara Taylor shot a 110, Cassie Rimmel a 115 and Katie Kowalczyk a 121 for the Indians. The girls team total was a 445. Cassie Laatsch was the fifth golfer for the Indian squad that day.

West Bend West was golfing without their number one golfer, Clair Peplinski, who was out with an injury. The best round for the West squad was Libby Hauser's 110. The Spartans team total was a 472. Hartford, who was the biggest challenger to the Indians last season, had a team total of 477.

August 20th the girls traveled to Rainbow Springs for a tournament and on August 22nd they will challenge the Two Rivers squad to a dual meet at Fox Hills National.

The conference season begins at West Bend Country Club on Monday, August 26th when all seven of the Little Ten Schools will compete in a meet hosted by West Bend West.

The first 18-hole golf course in the United States opened in Chicago in 1895.

Gridiron Club Awards First Scholarship

The Kewaskum Gridiron Youth Football Club recently chose the recipient of the first-ever Gridiron Club Coaches Scholarship.

This scholarship was made available to college or technical school bound, former Gridiron players, who participated in the Gridiron program all their eligible years, and then went on to participate in Kewaskum High School football for all four years.

Funding for this scholarship was provided by donations from Gridiron coaches, and matched by the Gridiron Club to equal $1,000.

The Kewaskum High School graduating class of 2002 included members of the first eighth grade Gridiron football team in 1997, the year the Gridiron Club was organized.

At their June 5th meeting, the Gridiron Club's Board of Directors chose Justin Rhoads as the recipient of this $1,000 scholarship. Among his many athletic accomplishments at Kewaskum High School, Justin was chosen as first team All Conference linebacker, and first team All County linebacker in his senior year.

In addition to being a gifted athlete, Justin showed tremendous leadership, hardwork, and dedication not only on the football field, the wrestling mat, and the baseball diamond, but in the classroom as well, where he tutored classmates in math.

Justin will be attending UW Whitewater, where he will be majoring in education. He hopes to become a math teacher in the future. Justin is the son of Paul and Cindy Rhoads of rural Kewaskum.

By Kyle Darmody
Student Reporter

On Tuesday August 13th the Kewaskum Varsity Football team strapped up the helmets for the first time this season, a season filled with very high hopes. In order to achieve the two goals head coach Tim Rohlinger has for the year, the boys are going to have to pick up a lot of wins against a very tough schedule. "Well it's a tough schedule there's no doubt about it," Rohlinger said. "Hartford (the Indians first game) should really show us where we're at."

Besides Hartford in week one the Indians' conference schedule is also looking very tough. "Well Campbellsport has a bunch of returning starters," Rohlinger said, "and Falls is always known for having a tough program."

Falls and Campbellsport were both partial owners of the Conference championship last year, along with Kewaskum. But heading into the week one battle with Hartford, the Indians have to feel good about their chances as they bring back a lot of starters from last year's team.

On offense, the Indians are looking good as they bring back Corey Darmody (honorable mention center), Mike Donath, and, Keith Schmidt on the offensive line, while also bringing back quarterback Travis Kempf.

On special teams, the Indians bring back last year's all conference and all county kicker Matt Hartmann for one more year.

On the defensive side of the ball the Indians' line will once again be solid, as they bring back Corey Darmody a first team all conference defensive end, and Mike Donath, a second team all conference defensive tackle.

The linebacking core, despite the loss of three of their starters (Justin Rhoads, Travis cochenet and Lucas Kehres) do manage to bring back Troy Koeferl, an honorable mention inside linebacker.

In the defensive backs area, the Indians will have no returning starters, but Coach Rohlinger expects underclassmen to fill in well in those spots as in all the vacant spots left by last year's seniors.

As well as winning the conference, another goal on everyone's mind is to get past the first round in the playoffs. The three years Coach Rohlinger has been head coach, he has yet to achieve that feat.

The Indians open up their regular season at home against Hartford on August 30th, but for all you football junkies that can't wait that long, Kewaskum is hosting a four team scrimmage on Friday, August 23rd at 6 p.m.

Knowledge of human nature is the beginning and the end of a political education.
—Henry Brooks Adams

Indian Football Season Starts With Scrimmage

The Kewaskum Indian varsity and JV's open the 2002 season with a scrimmage in Kewaskum on Friday, August 23rd at 6:00 pm. Joining Kewaskum in the scrimmage are West Bend East, West Bend West and Slinger. The varsity teams will scrimmage on the game field while the JV's will play on the practice field.

There is no entry fee and the gates will open at 5:00. Once again, the Kewaskum Booster Club will be serving delicious brats and burgers in the concession stand. Come on out and support the Indians as they defend their conference title!!
