Washington County Mourns Loss of Sheriff Jack Theusch

Washington County Sheriff Jack Theusch

By Andrew Kuehl
EDITORIAL STAFF
Akuehl@kewaskumstatesman.com

Washington County suffered a huge loss Tuesday morning as Sheriff Jack Theusch was found dead in his Town of Farmington home.

Sheriff's deputies, Kewaskum Rescue Squad, Boltonville First Responders along with the West Bend Fire Department Intercept Unit responded to the scene and Kewaskum Rescue transported Theusch to St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend where he was later pronounced dead.

Sheriff Theusch started his distinguished law enforcement career as a patrolman with the Whitewater Police Department in 1970. In 1972 he was appointed Deputy Sheriff with the Washington County Sheriff's Department. He continued to serve with the sheriff's department for 31 years, during which time he was promoted several times through the ranks of the department.

In 1976 he was promoted to Juvenile Officer, and in 1980 he was promoted to the position of Detective-Investigator. In 1989 he was promoted to Operations Captain, second-in-command of the department. In 1996 after the retirement of Robert Schulties Sheriff Theusch was elected to the position of Sheriff in a successful race against Jim Grover. He ran three other successful campaigns in 1998, 2000 and 2002. He was in the first year of his current four-year term.

Sheriff Theusch's closeknit community of Farmington was very important to him. To the people of Northern Washington County Theusch was a friend and a sheriff. He served as Chairman for the Town of Farmington, and was currently chairman of the Planning Commission. He was also a member of the Boltonville Fire Department.

Harley Camping and Zoning Freeze on Farmington Agenda

By Lisa Lickel
STAFF WRITER
llickel@kewaskumstatesman.com

At the Town of Farmington monthly board meeting on election night regular agenda items included a hearing on a moratorium issue first presented to the Board last month and a decision on permitting a temporary campground on Highway M and Newark Drive.

Bob and Sheila Susen were granted permission to provide up to 700 RV sites on a twenty-acre parcel of the Wilkens farm during the 100th anniversary Harley reunion from August 27 through September 1, 2003. The pair promised 24 hour security, electricity, garbage removal, running water and showers. Sheila Susen looked into the proper state permits and licensing, as well as a conditional permit from the Town. Bob reported that he had spoken to all of the close neighbors, and they "did not have a problem." In fact, another close neighbor planned to host 32 bikers at his place. It was passed to allow the Susens to pursue the matter, with the conditions that no alcohol be provided on site, nor entertainment offered. "We're just giving them a place to sleep," said Sheila.

Supervisor Roell's agenda item of a moratorium on subdivisions in the Town merited a great deal of discussion. Karen Christianson of the O'Meara Law Office was invited to participate. Upon question from the audience regarding adopting a moratorium at this meeting, she stated that there were three steps needed to pass a resolution. They include review and recommendation by the Plan Commission, placement of a Class two notice of a public hearing on the revision to the ordinances and finally, adoption of the revision.

Offers of help came from an unusual quarter. Two self-identified guests from Waukesha, a land developer and a real estate agent with

First Weber, offered further discussion and a sample of Developer's Agreements, which includes the possibility of limiting the number of building permits in a given time period. There were no other agenda items addressed by the gentlemen. Developer's Agreements are adopted between the Town and the Developer, with specific agreements about landscaping, density, etc. The Agreements are enforceable by the Town, whereas the Neighborhood Covenants currently in place in newer subdivisions are not.

High school student Mike Wagner questioned the Board as to updated services possibly needed by the new neighborhoods in Fillmore, such as sewer and water, and perhaps even a constable.

Auburn Tables Recycling Center Roof, Approves Workshop for Officials

By Kim Survis
ksurvis@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Town of Auburn Board met on Monday, April 7th. Old business included a discussion regarding the possible installation of a roof over both of the recycling doors. This would allow residents to use the recycling facilities in poor weather.

An estimate from Campbellsport Building Supply totaled $2,315, however this estimate included tax, which the town would not have to pay, as well as building materials that the town would not need to purchase. There was a motion made and seconded to table the action until next month when an accurate estimate is available.

New business topics included a discussion on possible road repairs and bridgework for next year. On April 16, at 1:30pm the town officials will meet to inspect the roads that are in need of repair, and familiarize the new officials with all of the roads.

There was a motion made and seconded to purchase a post office box from the Campbellsport Post Office for $73.40 per year. This would include three keys.

The Town Clerk and Town Treasurer will be attending a five-day program, at the University of Green Bay campus, to develop computer skills and techniques. A motion was made and seconded to provide this schooling for Bonnie Berg and Shelby Sarauer at a cost of $385 per person plus lodging.

This motion passed despite opposition from Town Supervisor Joe Minz who disagreed with the lodging fee because he has attended many workshops for town officials and has never been paid for lodging.

The Town Chairman and Town Supervisors will also be attending a workshop designed for new and returning board members.

Finally, Camilla Butzke completed one of her final duties as Town Clerk, she swore in the newly elected town officials. Camilla has served as clerk on the Town Board for thirty-six years, and is retiring this year.

The Town of Auburn thanks you Camilla for all your work and dedication.

Towns Government Updates

Both townships reported a nice spring election turnout of over thirty percent. The Town of Farmington holds its annual meeting of Town Electors at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, April 8, 2003 and the Town of Kewaskum's Annual Meeting is held on Wednesday, April 9, 2003 at 8:00 p.m. Reports will follow next week.

Sunburst Ski Area Wrap

Despite the unusual lack of snow this past winter, Sunburst general manager Steve Voss reported that the snow recreation season at Sunburst in the Town of Kewaskum had a very good season. In fact, "no snow in city parks and country and no snowmobiling in the area encouraged more families to come here." Tubing and snow boarding have been popular additions. Steve reported that this season was at least as good as the past two. "We had cold weather, so we were able to make snow and keep it."

Summer plans include the Annual Father's Day Motorcycle Hill Climb and the newer Mountainbike races on September 6 & 7. "We're looking into making the area open for other events all summer," said Steve.

Sunburst management hopes to do some swapping with the Highway 45 upgrade to add to the ski hill's parking lot.

News From The Capitol

Wisconsin Senate Republican Leader

Other States in Same Fiscal Boat

Wisconsin is sharing a boat with thirty-five other states that are also facing budget deficits. According to the National Conference of State Legislators (NCSL), the fiscal year 2004 total budget gap for these states is $68.5 billion. These statistics do not include the eleven states that did not have the data available yet when the survey was conducted in January of 2003. Wisconsin's $3.2 billion deficit is serious, but we must put things in perspective by looking at other states such as California, which has a deficit of $26 billion. Things could be worse.

More importantly, this information shows that there are a number of factors that led to the state deficit above and beyond excessive spending. According to the same NCSL survey, a faltering national economy, declines in the stock market, contractions in the manufacturing and high-tech sectors and soaring health care costs have all had an impact on state budgets. The Governor and the Legislature in Wisconsin have committed to solving our budget crisis without increasing taxes. Every state is approaching the deficit in different ways, but many are relying on increases in taxes:

- * Income tax increase - California, Missouri, New Jersey
- * Excise tax increase (alcohol and tobacco) - Georgia, Montana, Nevada
- * Sales tax increase - Idaho, Montana
- * Cigarette tax increase - Idaho, Iowa, Kentucky, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, West Virginia

* Business tax increase - Kentucky, Nevada

Not all states are relying on tax increases to bail them out of their fiscal dilemmas. In Arizona, legislators are pushing a proposal that would limit spending. The budget that came out of Florida's Senate Appropriations Committee included cuts in health care, prisons and education. However, when the bill got to the Senate as a whole, the bill was altered to add on another $2 billion in spending. Other states are considering selling off their share of the tobacco settlement like Wisconsin did last year.

In looking at what options other states are exercising to fix their deficits, it is obvious that there is no silver bullet. Ideally, state government would be able to continue the level of services that have been provided without raising taxes or borrowing against future revenue.

For Wisconsin, this budget crisis is not going to be easy to fix. We must understand that there is going to have to be some belt tightening and sacrifices are going to have to be made at all levels of government. However, what is important is that we solve our fiscal crisis in a manner that puts us on solid financial footing for the future and allows our economy to grow and expand.

Father Kemmer

He was then a Priest at St. Nicholas in Random Lake and also at St. Matthew's in Campbellsport. Father Kemmer has now been "retired" at St. Kilian's for the past 17 years.

Although he is supposedly retired, Father Kemmer keeps busy with Mass every morning, visiting nursing homes and the sick, Bible study on Monday mornings, also with weddings, baptisms, and conferences. Father Kemmer is a great listener. "Whenever people have any troubles, they always bring it to me," Father Kemmer said.

When he is not at the church, Father Kemmer can be found up north. Fishing is a favorite hobby of his and he has gone hunting every year for as long as he has been able to go.

Through his years of experience, Father Kemmer has learned many things. One of the main things he has learned he said is "People are the same all over. Basically, all people are good." Although Father Kemmer is retired, he said he does not feel like he is. "I will continue [at St. Kilian's] as long as I am able to," said Father Kemmer. "I enjoy what I am doing, it's the only thing I know."

Town of Farmington

Chairman Jim Dieringer replied that each home paid for all services but recycling on its own, and there were no plans for a Town Constable with arresting powers.

Discussion on both sides of the moratorium issue resulted in the chairman thanking the audience for an "enlightening discussion. Before the meeting I was in favor of a moratorium. Now I question it. Concerns regarding collecting fees can be changed rapidly, and Developer's Agreements that include phasing building all would keep growth to a minimum."

In supporting Supervisor Roell's motion, outgoing Supervisor Guttman said "How many more subdivisions will pop up before we can get some of these agreements in place?" Plan Commissioner Susen noted that it has been six years since a land use plan was developed. It may no longer be appropriate to the times.

The motion, under the direction of Attorney Christianson, freezes current zoning ordinances while the consideration of new comprehensive planning is adopted. Upon further questioning, the attorney said that while the freeze prevents smaller land divisions, it does not allow rezoning to accommodate development or change from agricultural use to residential use, and vice versa. It does not stop the issuance of building permits for land already zoned residential. The Town's attorney will be directed to draw up an ordinance for the Town to adopt at a future meeting. "We want to be on the safe side," said Roell.

In other action, a picnic permit for the Fillmore Fire Department Fish Fry on April 11, 2003, was granted, and Plan Commissioners Jack Theusch, Dale Spaeth and Jim Dieringer were re-appointed.

Chairman Dieringer noted future meetings at the Town Hall: The Annual Meeting of Town Electors is to be held April 8 at 7:00 p.m. following an informational presentation by the DOT regarding the upgrading of Highway 144, and a meeting on April 21 at 7:30 p.m. by the DNR regarding purchase of preservation lands in the community.

"One Life to Lose" relates the story of Nathan Hale, another revolutionary war hero who was captured while spying on the British. His famous words have gone down in history... "I regret that I have but one life to lose for my country".

The hour long presentation is free and has two performances open to the public: Saturday, April 5 at 7:00 p.m. at Community Church in West bend and Friday, April 11 at Central Middle School in Hartford.

H.I.S. is a drama co-op composed of 30 home schooled students ages 9-18. This is their fifth year of performing in the community. The students and parents research the time period to give an accurate portrayal of the Colonial Era.

Weather Cooperates For Balloon Launch

The students filling their hot air balloons.

Mr. Drexler's Aerospace Technology class was finally able to launch the tissue paper hot air balloons that the students had constructed in class. The balloons were constructed back in January at the beginning of the students' study of human flight but because of the weather, the balloons had to be put in storage until now.

Ideal conditions would be a calm, sunny day. This day finally arrived recently and with much anticipated excitement the balloons were taken out of storage. A rod with a hook on the end was used to support the balloon above the heat source, which was a camp stove with a stove pipe setting over the burner, and with the help of the crew supporting the balloons, the balloons were inflated one at a time. The inflation took approximately two to three minutes and after the proper count down, the balloons were released. Then it was the responsibility of the recovery team to chase the balloons down.

All six balloons were successfully launched and recovered with all of the balloons making it up and over the school and one making it as far as the bank of the river one quarter mile away.

This project gave the students the opportunity to experience first hand what it takes to construct and fly a hot air balloon and relate to some of the trials and tribulations that man experienced in the early days of human flight.

The child development classes of Kewaskum High School will be conducting their second semester preschool starting Tuesday, May 13th. The preschool will meet Tuesday through Friday, May 13th through May 16th, May 20th through May 23rd and May 27th through May 30th. All classes will be from 10:05 to 11:40 in the morning at the high school.

The preschool is in its 26th year of operation under the direction of Mrs. Carol Martin and the juniors and seniors in the child development classes.

The children will have the opportunity to participate in story time, music, art and other creative activities during the 12-day session.

The preschool is free to the public but sign up will be on a first call basis.

Creatively Solved, Third Overall

On Saturday, March 15th, the Destination Imagination teams from Horicon Middle and Kewaskum Elementary schools traveled to Horicon to compete in the Kettle Moraine regional. Both teams chose the challenge Video Adventure, in which a technical device was created. For the solution, the team created a device that was required to overcome obstacles, obtain a reward and return to a portal, just as in a video game.

Up against some solid competition from both Germantown and West Bend, the division one KES team placed second in their instant challenge and central score, and third on their sidetrip, to walk away with a third place trophy overall. Team members were Ashley Thiemer, Missy Rodenkirch, Casie Krejcarek, Cecily Mellenthin and Nic Gerhartz, coached by Mr. Casetta.

The KMS team of Jill and Sarah Schmitt, Desiree and Destin Kuehl and Rachel Zimdars, coached by Mrs. Carrie Kuehl, scored first on their sidetrip and third on their central and instant challenge, to return home with an additional third place trophy for the Kewaskum School District.

President's Cup Presented to Smith and Hatch Insurance

Smith and Hatch Insurance Agency in Eden recently received the 2002 President's Cup Award from West Bend Mutual Insurance Company. The President's Cup Award is presented each year to the agency with the highest score in West Bend Mutual's agency management program, Partners in Excellence. The program measures five areas of agency performance including profitability and premium volume.

Beatrice Smith founded the agency in Eden in 1976. After working with Bea for more than 20 years, Bill Hatch became her partner in 2000. Today the agency has a dedicated staff which includes six licensed customer service agents to assist their growing client base. In 1999 they added a second location in Kewaskum which is managed by Dennis Butz and his staff.

"West Bend Mutual has developed a wonderful relationship with the staff of Smith and Hatch," said Kevin Steiner, West Bend Mutual's senior vice president - marketing. "It came as no surprise that they earned honors as our number one agency."

Approximately 450 independent agencies participated in the Partners in Excellence program. The agencies are located throughout Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Indiana.

West Bend Mutual has been serving Midwest policyholders since 1894. Since 1973, the company has been rated A+ (Superior) by A.M. Best, financial analysts of the insurance industry.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Although I missed at my bid for trustee, I'd like to thank The Statesman for its help in my campaign, and all my supporters for their impressive and encouraging show at the polls.

I enjoyed campaigning and might do it again, for I believe it's a worthwhile effort to keep integrity in government.

Thank you,
Craig Knops

Legion Launches 'Support Our Troops' Website

The American Legion, responding to increasing public interest, unveiled a new section of its Internet Website recently that answers the question, "How can I support our men and women in uniform?"

Visitors to www.legion.org simply click the "Support Our Troops" link to find an array of ways to reach out to U. S. service members and their families, prayer, volunteer opportunities, blood donations, and scholarship contributions.

The American Legion's Family Support Network is a key program providing crucial aid to spouses and children of military personnel. Through the Family Support Network, local Legion posts adopt military families by helping pay bills and providing childcare and other services.

Looking to the future, The American Legion September 11 Memorial Scholarship Fund is being funded to ensure the children of active duty servicemembers killed following September 11, 2001, including Operation Iraqi Freedom, will have an opportunity for higher education.

The Legion's "Support Our Troops" site is the place online to find out about these programs, as well as to purchase U.S. Flags, Blue Star Banners and yard signs to display support for our troops. Visitors also will find suggestions for how one's place of worship can support servicemembers and a message board where they can write a personal letter of thanks to men and women on the frontlines.

Volunteer opportunities and agencies collecting blood for the military are listed, along with links to other sites supporting our armed forces.

"It seems few truly understand how precious this type of support is to our men and women in uniform."

"The American Legion National Commander Ronald F. Conley said, "As veterans of past wars, we remember the letters, care packages and cards of encouragement that kept us going as we fought thousands of miles from home. Now is the time for every American, veteran or not, to play a role in boosting the spirits of those who defend our Constitution and our way of life -- even at the expense of theirs."

"May it never be said we are an ungrateful nation."

Legion Collecting Pop Tabs

The American Legion Auxiliary Post 384 of Kewaskum is collecting JUST the "pop tabs" from canned soda or canned goods.

Each year, from April to April, the Auxiliary collects the tabs which in turn are recycled in April and the monies from the pop tabs is given to the Second District of the American Legion. These monies are then donated to the Ronald McDonald House affiliated with Milwaukee's Childrens Hospital.

This year the deadline is April 15 to get your collected pop tabs to Chairperson Gwendolyn Dreher at 1107 Fond du Lac Avenue, Kewaskum, or they can be dropped off at the Kewaskum Legion building at 1538 Fond du Lac Avenue, Kewaskum.

Please help the Legion Auxiliary and snap off those pop tabs for the next year. Thanks for your help.

Dairyland Seed Introduces New Hybrid Alfalfa

The world's first hybrid alfalfa now has a companion. Dairyland Seed has announced the release of HybriForce™-420/Wet, a hybrid alfalfa that carries the unique branched-rooted trait.

HybriForce-420/Wet has the same branched-root trait of Dairyland Seed's popular Magnum V-Wet alfalfa, with the additional hybrid benefit of increased vigor and more resilient plants.

HybriForce-420/Wet is designed for poorly drained soils or fields subject to heaving. The secret behind HybriForce-420/Wet is the plant's ability to adjust to moisture stresses. Plant roots branch out, staying above the water level, and make HybriForce-420/Wet an excellent choice for producers with lowlying or poorly drained soils.

"Further advances with our patented msSUNSTRA hybrid alfalfa technology have helped our researchers develop this next new hybrid alfalfa product," says Tom Strachota, chief executive officer of Dairyland Seed. "This new technology will continue to bring hybrid alfalfa products with specific traits and growing characteristics."

Dairyland Seed researchers have taken the key characteristics of Magnum V-Wet alfalfa and incorporated those branched-root traits into HybriForce-420/Wet.

"Hybrid alfalfa technology along with a prolific branched-root system will allow HybriForce-420/Wet to persist and be productive in both wet and well-drained soils," says Mike Velde, alfalfa plant breeder at Dairyland Seed.

The root system of HybriForce-420/Wet hybrid alfalfa has been designed with a greater degree of the branched-root trait, which helps keep more of the root system above the water level and better anchors the plant in the ground when freezing and thawing occurs.

Strengths of HybriForce-420/Wet include its aggressive forage yield capabilities, high forage quality, distinctive rapid regrowth after harvest, solid persistence and excellent winter survival abilities.

HybriForce-420/Wet is rated highly resistant to Phytophthora Root Rot, bacterial wilt, Fusarium wilt, stem nematode, and northern root knot nematode. It is rated resistant to anthracnose (race 1), verticillium wilt, and Aphanomyces root rot (race 1).

State trial data as well as Dairyland Seed trial data have shown an average yield advantage of nine percent over conventional alfalfa varieties. "Trial data indicates that HybriForce-420/Wet will be a strong performer," Velde says.

Hybrid alfalfa, introduced by Dairyland Seed in 2001, ushered in a revolution in alfalfa. HybriForce™-400, the world's first hybrid alfalfa, continues to show increased vigor and stronger plants compared to non-hybrid alfalfa varieties.

More aggressive growth of the hybrid alfalfa stand means yields that are eight to 15 percent higher over the life of the stand. On-farm strip plot and side-by-side field trials have shown yield advantages of 15 percent to 20 percent.

"We believe that a significant reason for the increased yield is the increased vigor of the hybrid alfalfa plant. Our research has noted that the plant greens up faster, and shows more vigorous regrowth after cutting," says Dr. Paul Sun, vice president of research for Dairyland Seed. "HybriForce-420/Wet will perform equally as well as our first hybrid."

Dairyland Seed's HybriForce-420/Wet hybrid alfalfa will be marketed this year in limited quantities. It joins a growing list of seed innovations in alfalfa from Dairyland Seed. In addition to HybriForce-400, Magnum V alfalfa has established itself as one of the premier alfalfa products on the market. In state trials, Magnum V has consistently proven itself as one of the best yielding products on the market, finishing first or not significantly different than first in 84 percent of the state trials it has been entered in across the country.

"Our elite products are backed by more than 30 years of solid research," Strachota says. "Growers have always been able to count on Dairyland Seed for superior performing alfalfa varieties."

Dairyland Seed Co., Inc., is a family owned seed company with research programs in hybrid alfalfa, alfalfa, soybeans and hybrid corn. Its breeding programs, established in 1962, includes company breeding and nursery facilities in Clinton, Wisconsin, Gibson City, Illinois, Ogtterbein, Indiana, Gilbert, Iowa, and Sloughouse, California.

Dairyland Seed also owns and operates an alfalfa seed conditioning facility in Homedale, Idaho. For more information, visit Dairyland Seed on the web at www.dairylandseed.com.

KEWASKUM SPORTS

Outdoor Adventures with Mark Walters

There's No Place Like Home

At the age of two, Selina Walters is learning how to plant and grow trees.

Hello Friends

No matter how much we enjoy our jobs or other pastimes, for the majority of people that occupy this world, their favorite place is home. After this week, I will gradually return to the travel adventures of this outdoor column.

Tuesday, April 1
High 72, Low 37

I am sitting at a picnic table in my backyard with my two-year-old daughter, Selina. My three golden retrievers, Star, Pearl and Ice are lying at my feet.

We have heated our house with wood for the past two winters. My stepsons, Kevin, Travis and Joey, and I cut the wood. Our home is located in the sand country of Juneau County, about four miles outside of Necedah.

Long before Laurie and I meshed our lives, we were both gardeners. This will be the third summer we have owned this piece of property. Our first two gardens have made for pretty slim pickings on the yield side. The bottom line is that there are very few nutrients in the sand to produce a tomato, ear of corn or even a potato unless we use a large amount of fertilizer.

Last spring, I decided it was time to at least partially return to my farming roots and raise some calves. My plan was, and still is, to produce some beef for the family, build up the soil with manure and take the earnings from two or three calves to pay our property taxes. We purchased three 1-day-old calves last August and put Travis, age 11, in charge of them.

I am well aware that there will probably be no monetary profit when we sell the steers. But the quality of beef, work ethic Travis is learning, the free soil additives and no worries come tax time are a greater profit.

All through my childhood, my dad taught me how to admire and grow trees. I have carried on the tree-planting tradition I learned since I was Selina's age.

Ever since I bought my first home in Mellen in 1994, I have planted 75 to 100 trees each spring. Last year,

Kettle Moraine State Forest April Programs

Throughout the year a wide array of fun-filled educational programs are presented by the forest naturalists. The programs are held at the Ice Age Visitor Center, Mauthe Lake Recreation Area, Long Lake Recreation Area, or at other spots in the forest. There are programs for all interests and age levels. All the programs are free, but some forest locations do require a State Park System Vehicle Admission Sticker.

For more information about the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit, or the public programs, please contact the forest staff at the following locations: Department of Natural Resources, Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit, N1765 Hwy. G, Campbellsport WI, 53010, 262-626-2116 or Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center, located off of Hwy. 67 1/2 mile west of Dundee, 920-533-8322.

An Evening with Nature, Creating and Maintaining a Natural Backyard Landscape, Thursday, April 10, 7 to 8 p.m. Ice Age Visitor Center.

Presenter: Connie Ramthun, Owner, Kettle Moraine Natural Landscaping.

Connie and her husband have returned their yard to a more natural landscape by using native plants. Come learn how you can bring back native Wisconsin plant communities to your piece of land. Connie will cover how to prepare a site, plant or seed it, and how to maintain it for years of enjoyment. This program is most appropriate for adults and youth over the age of 10 years.

Get Connected! Family Program, Saturday, April

12, 9:30 to 11 a.m., Ice Age Visitor Center.

Through games and activities, we will untangle how we are connected into the web of nature. This program is best for families with children between the ages of five and 12 years.

Happy Earth Day! Storytime, Friday, April 18, 9:30 to 10:30 a.m., Ice Age Visitor Center.

Come celebrate Earth Day with stories, games, songs, and lots of fun! This hour of nature fun awaits three to six year olds with accompanying adults.

Sounds of Spring Night Hike, Friday, April 25, 7:30 to 9 p.m., Zillmer Trail Area, located off of Hwy. SS between Hwy. 67 and Hwy. G near New Prospect.

Nature awakens from its long winter slumber with a symphony of sound. Journey through the spring night woods to discover who are the members of the spring choir. This hike is most appropriate for adults and children over the age of six years.

Friends of the Kettle Moraine Earth Week Litter Pick Up, Saturday, April 26, 8:30 to 12 noon, Kettle Moraine Scenic Drive.

Help give the Kettle Moraine Scenic Drive a spring cleaning. Join others for a morning of camaraderie and litter pick up. Youth and other groups are encouraged to participate. Bring your own gloves. Garbage bags and snacks will be provided. Meet at the Forest Headquarters off of Hwy G to get your road assignment. To register groups, call 262-626-2116.

when my tree order for red pine, white oak, birch and hybrid poplar arrived, I planted all of them in my garden.

The area is fenced in, and I composted them heavily with leaves. I simply watered with the sprinkler. The survivorship and growth results were phenomenal.

No matter where I am, I always notice trees. They are as important to me as ducks on a pond, deer in a forest or fish in the lake. Each spring, Laurie and I treat ourselves to a couple of apple trees. They are my special babies. I learned the first year to fence them in on day one or the deer and rabbits will devour them.

In two weeks, we are going to try something new. We are going to purchase our own fryers. Chicken is the number one meal in the house. The quality and size of home raised birds is hard to beat.

There will come a time when our garden will produce surplus amounts of veggies. We will eagerly await every chicken dinner. Our steaks and burgers will be the best that money, knowledge and hard work can produce.

Producing my own food and harvesting from the lakes and forests is the life I have fantasized about my entire childhood.

In closing, I would like to say that my pup, Ice, is turning out to be a really cool dog.

Thanks for reading!

Schicker Breaks Pole Vault Record

KHS Girls' Track Take 6th At Oshkosh Invitational

By Jerry Gosa
SPORTS CORRESPONDENT

OSHKOSH - The Kewaskum High School girl's track and field team scored 30 points and finished sixth at the annual Oshkosh Invitational on Tuesday, April 1st.

Johnnajo Schicker had the best day of her career in the pole vault when she vaulted two feet better than her previous best. Schicker came into the event never clearing better than 7' 6" in the pole vault. "She just started bending the pole and I told her to just sit back and ride it and she did it," exclaimed KHS pole vaulting coach Nate Wesemen.

And rode it she did as Schicker cleared 9' 6" to win the event and establish a new KHS indoor record. The old mark of 8' was held by her teammate Jessi Graham who was unable to compete because of an injury.

Kewaskum had to wait until the last event of the evening to record their next best finish of the night. The 4 x 400m relay team of Lindsay Keller, Jenna Roecker, Breyan Donath, and Amanda Donath finished second in a hard fought battle for second place.

Keller did a great job staying with Two Rivers' first runner, but Two Rivers quickly showed why they are the defending state champions in this event. Kewaskum found themselves in third place when Amanda Donath received the baton. Donath immediately passed the Mayville runner on the first curve to put Kewaskum into second place on the last leg. The Mayville runner repeatedly challenged Donath on the last leg but to no avail.

The 4 x 200m relay team of Amanda Magnus, Jenna Roecker, Breyan Donath, and Amanda Donath finished fourth with a time of 1:56.96. Two Rivers also won the 4 x 200m relay with a time of 1:54.68.

Kewaskum also managed three seventh place finishes and an eighth place. Amanda Magnus, in her third event of the night, finished seventh in the 400m dash with time of 66.56 seconds. Fellow sophomore, Magnus placed seventh in the long jump with a personal best of 15' 2 2". Jenna Roecker finished seventh in the 55m high hurdles with a time of 9.91 seconds and Kayla McCormack placed eighth in the high jump by clearing 4' 8".

The 4 x 800m relay team of Danielle DeGroot, Kayla McCormack, Jenny Bischoff, and Rachel Shea finished 17th with a time of 11:56.43.

Other Kewaskum athletes competing, their place and time, distance or height were as follows:

Lindsay Keller finished 17th in the 400m with a time of 69.02 seconds.

Danielle DeGroot - 23rd in the 800m with a time of 2:54.75.

Rachel Shea - 25th in the 1600m run with a time of 6:46.58.

Amy Fehlhaber - 16th in the 3200m run with a time of 15:06.

Jenna Roecker - 20th in the triple jump with a distance of 28' 7 1/4".

Montana Schicker - 38th in the shot put with a distance of 25' 4".

Amanda Magnus and Rachel Dums each ran the 55m dash with time of 8.33 and 9.02 seconds, but did not qualify in the top eight for the finals.

The Oshkosh Invitational is the last indoor meet for Kewaskum this season because the State Indoor Track and Field Championships scheduled for Saturday, April 12th in Madison were canceled this year due to a conflict with the Wisconsin Badgers annual spring game.
