Largest Village Road Project Underway

The largest road project the village has ever seen has commenced. Shown here, a crew works on Main Street Tuesday morning in preparation for work on Riverview Drive. The Statesman will feature updates in upcoming editions

By AMY SWANSON
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
aswanson@kewaskumstatesman.com

The wait is over. After three years of planning, improvements for Riverview Drive will forge ahead starting May 15.

According to Dan Schmidt, Village Administrator, the project will be completed in two phases with a total cost of around $1.8 million. The county will pick up the tab for $400,000 of Phase Two construction.

Schmidt said contracts have been awarded to Wauwatosa for the mainline water and sewer and Advance Construction for Riverview Drive.

Phase one, scheduled to begin May 15, will take place from south Riverview Drive north to Main Street, going through the park to create a new water loop with new storm sewer and water lines. Phase one is expected to be complete before August.

"This won't eliminate the need for lift stations," Schmidt said, however, it will reduce the size and capacity of the existing lift stations, which are old and in poor condition.

The second phase, which also starts May 15, is a joint project with the Village and Washington County to create new road, water and sewer mains north to the County Line.

Schmidt said Phase Two construction will take out the curbing in the road and install laterals and asphalt. Work on Phase Two is expected to be complete by September 15.

KMS Teacher Chosen for Greenland Expedition

By SHERI BALDIKOWSKI

sbaldikowski@kewaskumstatesman.com

Nikki Airaudi, an eighth grade science teacher at the Kewaskum Middle School, has left her classroom to travel to Greenland to study the environment, weather, and other scientific phenomenon.

Nikki, who resides in West Bend, left April seventeenth from Milwaukee to fly to New York. In New York she was to catch a National Guard C130 aircraft which will land in Kangerlussauq (a large town of 600). She will spend two days there and then catch another C130 to Summit Camp where she will be for two weeks until her return on May 7th. The Statesman will report on details of the trip in a future edition.

Summit Camp is located at the peak of the Greenland ice cap, where the temperature at this time of year is approximately -50 degrees Fahrenheit. It is situated atop 3,200 M of ice and is nearly 400 km from the nearest point of land.

Nikki will be part of the ARCUS (Arctic Research Consortium of the United States) group. ARCUS is a non-profit corporation consisting of institutions organized for educational, professional, or scientific purposes. To achieve its mission, ARCUS frequently provides support to workshops to facilitate discussion of important arctic research initiatives, produces workshop reports to publicize researcher recommendations for arctic science priorities, and assists the arctic research community with other publications and information distribution needs.

She was selected through the new ARCUS education program called TREC (Teachers and Researchers Exploring and Collaborating) TREC is a combined network of teachers, researchers, students, and communities engaged in studying, teaching and learning about the Arctic.

TREC teachers have the opportunity to participate in Arctic research, work closely with scientists, and bring cutting-edge science to their own classrooms and the world through the internet.

The project Nikki will be involved with is to check the chemistry of the snow to see the correlation of the pollutants in the snow to its affect on the atmosphere. Also, to see if they can determine what the atmosphere was Herriges remarked how Stoltzmann took care of mechanical problems for the department. "He did a lot of stuff nobody else wanted to do."

Stoltzmann was "real active," according to Herriges, who said, "even the social aspect of it. For the picnics, he was always the guy driving the truck through the parades."

Beechwood Fire Department Auxiliary Celebrates 30 Years

Marge Krahn, left, and Virginia Benzschawel, right, with their plaques for their years of service to the Beechwood Fire Department Auxiliary.

For 30 years the Beechwood Auxiliary has provided many community activities, and through fundraising have helped the Fire Department purchase equipment that is not included in their budget. A few events held each year by the Auxiliary are the Easter Egg Hunt, Annual Firemen's Picnic Sweet Shop and games, and the 'Famous' Santa Brunch and Bake Sale. They also help with the Firemen's Smelt Fry, and Brat Fry (you didn't think men made those good desserts, did you?). The Auxiliary was organized in 1974, led by Virginia (Ginny) Benzschawel, and Marge (Margie) Krahn, and a total of 25 charter members whose goal was to assist at the picnic, fund-raising, and providing food to the firemen after major fires. The Auxiliary would like to extend a special Thank You to Ginny and Margie for 30 years of dedication, and service to the Auxiliary, Fire Department and the Community. Join the Auxiliary and the Firemen at their annual picnic the weekend of June 12th and 13th. Come and visit their sweet shop for their special anniversary dessert - "Homemade" Strawberry Schaum Torte.

Timothy Strigenz, M.D., 1995 graduate of Kewaskum High School and 1999 graduate of Creighton University in Omaha, Nebraska, will be completing his surgical internship at Oregon Health Science University (OHSU) in June of 2004.

Tim is a 2003 graduate of the school of medicine at OHSU. He will continue with his training in Orthopedic Surgery at Penn St. University Medical Center where he will graduate in June of 2008,

Campus Notes

More than 135 undergraduate students of the College of Fine Arts and Communication at the University of Wisconsin - Stevens Point received the Dean's Distinguished Achievement Award for completing the fall semester, with a GPA over 3.75.

Jill McKee of Kewaskum, majoring in communication received this award.

To speak kindly does not hurt the tongue.

Spring Time is Bike Time

The Kewaskum Police Department would like to take this time to remind everyone about bicycle safety and laws pertaining to them.

Wis. S346.03 (9), Rules of the Road, states: "Subject to the special provisions applicable to bicycles, every person riding a bicycle upon a roadway is granted all the rights and is subject to all the duties which this chapter grants or applies to the operator of a vehicle..." In short, this means that all laws pertaining to motor vehicles apply to bicycles, including, but not limited to; Riding on the right side of the road, abiding by all traffic signs and signals, riding single file, etc. NOTE: In the event a child needs ride on the sidewalk due to safety reasons, they should be aware that pedestrians have the right of way and ride only in single file.

Also, Village of Kewaskum ordinances require that all bicycles operated on the streets of Kewaskum to have a current license affixed to them. The cost of these licenses, which are non-expiring, is $5. They can be obtained at the Municipal Building between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

A few safety tips to everyone operating a bicycle are: Keep your bike in good working order, wear bright colored clothing to make it easier for motorists to spot you, put a safety flag on your bike, ride single file, be aware of the area you are riding in and be ready to take evasive action if an obstacle appears and make sure the bike is the right size for the person riding it.

If we all follow these rules and safety tips we should have a safe bicycle season.

rades." Herriges said Stoltzmann was the chief from 1990-93, "after Donny (Ehnert) hung it up." On a more personal note, Herriges said Stoltzmann stopped in nearly every morning to visit at Herriges Oil on Fond du Lac Avenue. "He wasn't a coffee drinker, but he would come in, read the paper and chew the fat, and then he would leave for work" at the West Bend Elevator. Members of the Kewaskum Sno-Chiefs snowmobile group held a brat fry for Stoltzmann last weekend at the West Bend Elevator. "We just thought this year we would do it for Bob," club treasurer Bev Rohlinger said, reporting the Thrivent Financial For Lutherans organization was going to match funds, up to $3,000. The proceeds were going to pay for his medical expenses. When asked about the success of the event, Rohlinger said, "We did very well." Last Saturday's benefit was "a great demonstration we are a family," Village President Matt Heiser said, explaining because Kewaskum is a small community, it is like a family, which reaches out when members need help. When he first became a member of the Village Board, Heiser said Stoltzmann was "one of my mentors as I learned about public service." "He devoted his life outside of family and work to the community. We all benefited from that," Heiser said. "This is a big loss to the community."

Bright Smiles and Happy Hearts

Dentist Paul Tyberg with Bridget Tucci (also from West Bend but living at Esperanza Viva) and a child from the youth home Esperanza Viva.

Once or twice a year a group of dentists and assistants from Washington County pack up some supplies and take a four hour flight to Puebla, Mexico to provide needed dental care to roughly 90 children and their neighbors at Esperanza Viva Youth Home. Dentists Larry Porter and Paul Tyberg were recently joined by area residents on a trip to help the children at the Youth Home have brighter, healthier smiles.

Joining the dentists on a recent trip were Dennis Olla and his daughter Rebecca Olla, Joel Fehlhaber, and Karen and Bill Dusheck. The Olla's are seasoned veterans when it comes to providing care in Mexico. Rebecca grew up in southern Mexico when her father was providing mission services in Oaxaca. Dennis has strong connections to the Youth Home in Puebla from his mission years working side by side with Jerry McNally, the Founder of Esperanza Viva Youth Home and Living Hope Int'l.

This was Fehlhaber's second trip to Esperanza Viva and the first trip for the Dusheck's.

"Larry Porter and Paul Tyberg really enjoy helping these children. It is a lot of hard work but the children are appreciative and need the care," said Dennis Olla. "Most of the kids are pretty accustomed to dental visits, thanks to Larry and Paul. Yet, every year, including this year, there are a few children who have never had dental care and their experience is a bit more profound."

Larry Porter and his father have been providing care to the children of Esperanza Viva Youth Home for many years. Larry invited Paul Tyberg to join him a few years ago and the team has recently received interest from other dentists to help provide care.

Living Hope International is a West Bend based not-for-profit organization that serves the needs of abandoned street children in Mexico through its sister organization Esperanza Viva in Puebla, Mexico. Teens and adults from SE Wisconsin, throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico travel to Puebla several times per year to assist with direct care, education and medical services at the Youth Home in Puebla. Living Hope Int'l is also served by volunteers at DTour and the Filling Station Café on South Main Street in West Bend.

Modern Woodmen Offers Free Programs for Local Kids

As summer and the end of the traditional school year approach, kids across America will spend more time outside. Modern Woodmen of America, a national provider of fraternal financial services and programs, offers two free programs to help kids become more aware of their surroundings and stay safe during these summer months and throughout the entire year.

Modern Woodmen's Ecology Awareness Program helps kids gain an understanding of the part people play in the environment. The program leads young people to make informed ecological choices, while learning a fun, common sense approach to preserving our environment.

The organization's Safety and Life Skills Program helps kids learn a safer, smarter way of living, and prepare for the dangers and stresses that confront them. Topics covered include stranger danger, Internet safety, fire safety and bullying.

Both programs, which have recently been enhanced to help meet national education standards, teach kids through fun, interactive exercises. Each child receives several free, take-home souvenirs to reinforce learning. The programs are two of six free Youth Educational Programs Modern Woodmen offers to schools, homeschoolers and youth groups nationwide. The programs benefit nearly one million kids this year.

"Modern Woodmen's Youth Educational Programs are comprehensive programs that teach kids skills they can use throughout life," says local Modern Woodmen representative Jeff Jaeger. "Teachers don't always have the time or budget to develop new programs these days. The Ecology Awareness and Safety and Life Skills Programs are educational, fun for the kids, easy to implement and completely free."

Teachers, principals, youth leaders or homeschoolers can contact Jaeger at 262-626-4139 for more information or to order the programs for their schools or organizations.

Founded in 1883 as a fraternal benefit society, today Modern Woodmen of America offers financial services and fraternal member benefits to individuals and families throughout the United States.

Poppy Days May 21 & 22

The Memorial Poppy of the American Legion and auxiliary is a visible expression of gratitude to those who fought to keep "democracy in action."

The American Legion Post 384 and American Legion Auxiliary Unit 384 volunteers will be out on the streets of Kewaskum distributing the familiar red, handcrafted poppies honoring America's veterans on May 21 and 22.

The memorial poppy is never sold, but given in exchange for a contribution which is used to help the veterans and their families.

Can you do less than contribute and proudly wear a poppy this year?

Wenzlaff One of 100 Kohl Award Recipients

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

No one had to twist her arm to go into the field of education. Julie Wenzlaff knew she wanted to be a teacher since her first taste of working with young people as a 16-year old Kewaskum High School student.

"It was my first job," Wenzlaff said, recalling how she taught baton twirling to young girls. "I was hooked."

Wenzlaff's skills and experience have expanded greatly since then, to the point where she was one of 100 teachers in the state to receive a Kohl Fellowship this year.

Nominated by her principal at Farmington Elementary School, Wenzlaff cleared the first hurdle toward the honor when she was selected as one of the top teachers in CESA (Cooperative Educational Service Agency) 6. Her application and essay next earned her a berth in the finals of the competition, and then Wenzlaff, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, was notified she was one of the state winners.

A ceremony and luncheon to honor all the winning Kohl Foundation teachers, high school students and Initiative Program students was recently held in Mauston, and State Senator Herb Kohl, who initiated the program and funds it, was in attendance.

As a winner, Wenzlaff will be awarded a $1,000 check to do with as she pleases, and $1,000 will be given to the Farmington School for whatever project Wenzlaff and Molebash agree on.

The awards were established by Kohl in 1990, according to Wenzlaff, who said he has personally donated $4.8 million to the program.

Originally Wenzlaff was a substitute teacher in the Kewaskum School District, then she took limited term assignments at Kewaskum Elementary School before moving to Farmington where she was a fifth grade teacher for the past six years before being assigned to a fourth grade class this year.

Making the switch was a challenge, Wenzlaff said, but nothing she couldn't handle. "It was kind of fun this year, taking the students along to fifth grade level ... I know where they need to be (when they go into fifth grade)."

Wenzlaff credits her parents, Norbert and Louella Dettmann, with instilling the importance of education in her life. "My parents have always been real advocates of education. It's a big part of our lives," she said, and she has tried to carry their zest for learning into her career.

"I try to show my enthusiasm and excitement in the classroom. It's very important to show the students that you care," Wenzlaff said. "I can see my positive energy runs off on my students."

To stimulate her students, Wenzlaff respects the fact students make mistakes, and she tries to make them understand they learn from these mistakes.

"I try to provide plenty of consistent encouragement and praise," she said, but beyond that, she also wants them to take responsibility. "I try to make my students accountable for their own progress."

Wenzlaff's husband Mark is involved in the insurance field. The couple has two children, Lindsay, a seventh grader at Holy Angels Catholic School in West Bend, and Jaymes, a first grader there.

Because of the time involved with her daily responsibilities in the classroom and at home, Wenzlaff has chosen not to work on her master's degree at this point, but that doesn't mean she is not continuing her education.

"It's essential to stay on top of the cutting edge of education," she said, indicating she continues to take educational classes. "I take a lot of Still, Wenzlaff's greatest joy is just being in the classroom. She said her strength in teaching stems directly from the fact "I love to be there with the students."

KES principal Janet Molebash has high praise for Wenzlaff, saying, "She's very dedicated. She's in teaching because she loves kids. Basically she puts her heart and soul into the job."

Molebash went on that Wenzlaff is "very motivated and good at motivating students" and says many times after school Wenzlaff will be in her classroom, sometimes to five o'clock, tutoring students on her own time.

"We're very proud to have her," Molebash said, indicating Wenzlaff also puts in a great deal of time working on committees at the school, such as the Sunshine Committee and the Mission and Vision Committee.

Steven L. Hesselgrave has joined the United States Army under the Delayed Entry Program. The program gives young men and women the opportunity to delay entering active duty for up to one year.

The enlistment gives the new soldier the option to learn a new skill, travel and become eligible to receive as much as $50,000 toward a college education. After completion of basic military training, soldiers receive advanced individual training in their career job specialty prior to being assigned to their first permanent duty station.

The recruit qualifies for a $14,000 enlistment bonus.

Hesselgrave, a 2002 graduate of Kewaskum High School, will report to Fort Sill, Lawton, Okla., for active duty on May 18, 2004.

He is the son of Mary Hitt of County Air Drive, Campbellsport, and Jack Hesselgrave of Valleyview Drive, Kewaskum.

Madison Savoyards to Perform At KM Symphony Pops Concert

The Kettle Moraine Symphony brings its best show of the 2003-2004 season to the state in its annual Pops Concert May 14 at the Schauer Arts and Activities Center in Hartford and May 15 at the Washington County Fair Park. Both performances are at 7:30 p.m.

This year the Pops Concert will showcase the tunes and lyrics of Gilbert and Sullivan in an expanded program featuring the Madison Savoyard, Wisconsin's only G&S performing troupe and one of the oldest in the nation.

The Savoyards began when Madison West High School students performed Iolanthe in the summer of 1963. Since then, not a summer has gone by without a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta being given by this troupe. In the course of 41 years, all 13 operettas in the Gilbert and Sullivan canon have been performed, including several productions of the well-known H.M.S. Pinafore, Pirates of Penzance and The Mikado.

Each summer Madison Savoyards presents a complete production with full-scale orchestra, imaginative sets and period costumes. The casts range in age from elementary school through senior citizens, including many UW-Madison School of Music students singing leading roles. The productions take place on the UW-Madison campus in Old Music Hall, which is the venue for the University Opera.

The program will include: from "H.M.S. Pinafore": Overture, We Sail The Ocean Blue, I'm Called Little Buttercup, Refrain Audacious Tar, When I Was A Lad; from "The Pirates of Penzance": Overture, When Frederic Was A Little Lad, Oh Is There Not One?, Poor Wandering One, When The Foeman Bares His Steel; from "The Yeomen Of The Guard": Overture, When Our Gallant Norman Foes, I Have A Song To Sing; from "Iolanthe": When All Night Long, Love

Unrequited; from "Ruddigore": Cheerily Carols The Lark, If Somebody There Chance To Be, From the Briney Sea and Hornpipe and from "The Mikado": Overture, A Wandering Minstrel, Three Little Maids A More Humane Mikado, The Sun Whose Rays, The Flowers That Bloom In Spring, Finale to Act II.

The KMS Pops Concert offers an expanded program of great listening enjoyment, along with special showcase features. The Fair Park venue will be set up with tables and extra decorative touches for a memorable concert experience.

The Kettle Moraine Symphony is the area's only symphony orchestra for over 35 years, growing artistically and performing great music for audiences in West Bend and surrounding communities. Seating 60 of the area's finest musicians, its concerts inspire and enrich the arts in Washington County, and special efforts showcase Wisconsin talent and encourage young people in their musical interests.

Reserved seat tickets for the May 14 performance are only $15 and can be ordered directly from the Schauer Center box office by calling 262-670-0560.

Schauer Center to Wrap up 2003-2004 Season with Harmonious Wail

The Schauer Arts & Activities Center will wrap up its current 2003-2004 Season Series with a musical concert Friday, May 7th, by Harmonious Wail, the Madison-based group that has turned its prowess for music labeled as "gypsy swing" into a national and international reputation as a forerunner for blending the "swing" music of the 1940s and '50s big bands, with eclectic acoustical sounds and stellar vocals.

"Imagine Manhattan Transfer with a mandolin," wrote David McCarty of Acoustical Guitar magazine.

And when the late great violinist, Stephan Grappelli saw the group perform at Germany's annual Zelt Musik Festival, he remarked enthusiastically, "They're playing my music!"

Founded in 1987, Harmonious Wail features an area native as its lead singer, Maggie Delaney-Pothoff, a graduate from Hartford Union High School. A captivating performer, Delaney-Pothoff is also known for her manual percussive use of cardboard boxes to accompany various songs, as well as her "scatting" bebop vocals. Harmonious Wail also features an acoustical style that has its inspiration in the roots of music by Django Reinhardt, Grappeilli, a touch of bluegrass, and eastern European Gypsy music.

Harmonious Wail returns to the Schauer stage as a quartet, with members Sims Delaney-Pothoff on mandolin, Guy Fiorentini on guitars, and Andy Mertens on bass. Sims studied for seven years with Jethro Burns, a legendary jazz mandolin artist.

Immediately following the Friday evening performance, an AfterGlow reception will be held at the Schauer Center in its second floor art gallery. Persons attending the concert will get to meet and mingle with members of Harmonious Wail after the show.

The performance is sponsored by area businesses including: Dairy Queen Brazier, Westside Auto Center, Hartford Music Center, Kruger Studio, Cousin's Subs of Hartford & Jackson, and St. Francis Bank, a division of MidAmerican Savings, fsb.

Tickets are available through the Schauer Center Box Office (tel. 262.670.0560), located at 147 North Rural Street. The box office is open from 11:30 AM to 5:30 PM, Monday through Friday.

I should like to spend the whole of my life in traveling aboard, if I could anywhere borrow another life to spend afterwards at home.

The KEYS organization wishes to thank the alumni, businesses, organizations, and community members for their generous donations, which make these scholarships possible. KEYS would also like to thank all the 2003 KEYS 5 K Run/Walk sponsors, runners, and walkers for making the 10th annual KEYS 5 K Run/Walk a huge success.

All money contributed to KEYS is used directly for scholarships. The work by the members of KEYS, Inc. is done strictly on a volunteer basis. KEYS, Inc. is a non-profit organization established to accept contributions to provide additional scholarships for Kewaskum High School graduates.

KEYS officials hope that the alumni, businesses, organizations, and community members feel pride in this accomplishment. Even with this kind of success, KEYS realizes that additional funds must be raised to provide for even more scholarship help. If KEYS is to continue to grow, donations are necessary from the whole community. Past, present and new donors are asked to please contribute to KEYS.

If anyone is interested in making a contribution to KEYS, please do so by making a check payable to KEYS, Inc. and sending your donation to KEYS, Inc., P.O. Box 124, Kewaskum, WI 53040. Individuals in need of more information about KEYS or are interested in starting a scholarship administered by KEYS, can contact Jerry Gosa at Kewaskum High School at 626-8427 ext 4156. Food for Thought

Hoop it up for Mother's Day

My Mother's Day present two years ago was a basketball hoop. I was about eight-months pregnant with our third child at the time, so I was a bit suspicious of the gift, which my husband claims was from our two boys, then seven and four years old.

I thought I was sending a pretty clear message to everyone: Big. Diamonds. Expensive. My husband tried to convince me that a basketball hoop has all of those things. It's big, it's a diamond pattern in the net and he assured me that it was very expensive. They also gave me a basketball.

This year, however, I haven't had much time to drop to explain them, or the energy to explain them. I'm not sure this is a good idea, but I am leaving Mother's Day in the hands of my husband. Most likely, he will pull something together at about 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Brunch would be fun. But then I am reminded of how much fun it is to take our three children, nine, six and 21 months out in public. The competition of who sits where is fierce. The whining over why there aren't grilled cheese sandwiches on the buffet is also an issue. And, the game of squirting all of the coffee creamers and throwing cups and food is not as much fun at a restaurant as it is at home.

On the upside, when brunch is over, we can just walk away. However, we can never return to that restaurant until our kids are over 18 years old. I guess it's a toss up. We also thought of having both of our families over for a cook out. I am domestically challenged and even my parents eat before they come over for dinner. I own two cookbooks and rely heavily on people offering to bring something. I'm not sure how fair it is to ask my mother on Mother's Day to bring the main course, my mother-in-law to bring the side dishes and my sister to bring dessert. I will make the ice.

But I'm sure my husband will take care of most of the work. He enjoys entertaining as long as people stay within his blocked off time period. If people stay past the allotted time, we will not be able make ice because it will be cold enough at the party.

Mother's Day is also a day for me to honor my mother. She does it all and she is always right. I've been a mother for nine years and I'm hoping soon that I will too grow eyes in the back of my head. My mom is not only my mom; she is my mentor and my friend. We share many Lucy and Ethel moments together, which adds adventure to our advocacy. We've become so close that I can tell when she is rolling her eyes at me when we are on the phone. She also has excellent rates for babysitting and offers invaluable love.

It's hard to imagine that a woman who was never a mother herself started Mother's Day. Anna Jarvis held a ceremony in 1907 at Andrews Methodist Episcopal Church in Grafton, West Virginia to honor her mother who had died two years before.

Jarvis' mother was working to establish Mother's Friendship Days to deal with the aftermath of the Civil War. Anna Jarvis continued the campaign to create a national holiday to honor mothers by writing to ministers, businessmen and politicians.

Because of Jarvis' efforts, West Virginia became the first state to recognize Mother's Day. The nation followed in 1914 when President Wilson declared the second Sunday in May to be Mother's Day. Anna Jarvis used white carnations as a symbol for mothers, representing sweetness and purity. Today, white carnations are used to honor mothers who have passed away, while red carnations honor those mothers who are still living.

I'm sure Jarvis would support adding expensive jewelry as a symbol to honor moms.

Jewelry would help me play basketball better. Maybe even hoop earrings!

Get Mom a Gift She's Sure to Treasure this Mother's Day

(ARA) - She has been there through all the smiles and tears and given you heartfelt memories that will last a lifetime. Your mother is one of the most important people in your life, and her special day is coming up. So how will you say thanks this Mother's Day?

"Moms aren't hoping for material things, but a gift that will keep memories of how special they are to their families alive forever," says Meg Peters, a certified professional framer and owner of Finer Frames in Meridian, Idaho. Peters has been in the framing business for more than a decade and says while she's busy all year round, things really pick up in the weeks leading up to Mother's Day.

"People who come to my shop for a Mother's Day gift realize that more than anything else, moms want something personalized. I've had husbands, kids and grandkids come in with cartons full of photos, looking for advice on how they can make the perfect present," she says.

Among the ideas she offers: making mattes that incorporate a child's early artwork with photographs from the time period; combining hand and footprints of young babies with photos of their early months; and making collages of moms and their kids having a good time together, perhaps during a family vacation.

"Photographs are magical. They capture a moment in time and bring it back to life over and over again," says Peters. "Some images you capture are too special to be stored away in a photo album. You should get them framed so mom and other members of the family can enjoy the memories on a daily basis. I have pictures of my own daughter (8-year-old Emily) all over the house and absolutely love them."

While family photos focusing on kids make great gifts for mothers, Peters says grandmothers really appreciate gifts that bring family history to life. She has made a lot of mattes that incorporate doilies or crochet needles with photos of grandma when she was a kid.

"If you go to all the trouble to get a special matte made and framed, you want it to last," says Linda McAleer, regional distribution manager for TruVue, a manufacturer of quality glazing products. McAleer travels the country spreading the word about the importance of using preservation quality acid-free mat board and Tru Vue's Museum Glass, a specially formulated glass that helps protect framed pieces from UV damage. "Over time, the sun's rays simply shining on an image can cause it to fade away if it's not protected."

"I advise my customers to use Tru Vue Museum Glass on all framing projects they want to last," says Peters.

No farewell words were spoken
No time to say goodbye
You were gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.
Our hearts still ache in sadness
And secret tears still flow
What it meant to lose you
No one can ever know.
Your memory is our keep-sake
With which we'll never part
God has you in His keeping
We have you in our hearts.

The Art of Mending

By: Elizabeth Berg

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR OF OPEN HOUSE

ELIZABETH BERG

Think about the last time you got together with your family. Did you notice that after everybody got done eating, and the leftovers were put away, somebody started telling stories that began with "Remember when....?" Most of the stories were about things that happened when you were growing up, things that might not have been funny then but are pretty funny now. Did you notice that sometimes the memories are different, depending on who's telling the tale? "The Art of Mending" by Elizabeth Berg (c.2004, Random House) is about family memories and family secrets.

Laura Meyer Bartone grew up in the 1960's, the eldest of three children. There had always been sibling rivalry amongst Laura and her brother and sister, but Caroline, Laura's sister, took much of it to heart. Caroline had been a sensitive child with a dark mood and a somber demeanor, thin-skinned and too-eager to please, and Laura remembers with more than a little guilt that she had tormented Caroline when they were kids. But competition between sisters is perfectly normal, right?

The night before Laura and her family make their annual pilgrimage to Laura's childhood home and to the Minnesota State Fair, Caroline calls to ask her sister to arrange a meeting between the siblings. She needs to talk to them, she tells Laura. To get their opinions. To see if they remember what happened 40 years ago. To see if they noticed anything. To find out what they knew back then.

As the siblings gather at their parents' home, there is restlessness mixed with anticipation. Caroline insists that she needs private time with her brother and sister, but when a tragedy occurs on the second day at their parents' home, Caroline takes Laura aside and tells her of something so awful, so unbelievable, that Laura has a hard time accepting Caroline's accusations. When memories start to surface and recollections of childhood begin making sense, Laura feels that, as the eldest, she needs to sort out the truth about Caroline's perhaps-not-so-wild story. When she learns what happened years ago, she is shocked. When she sees what happens now, she learns even more about her family.

I've read several of author Elizabeth Berg's novels and I have to say that this is one of her best. Berg's main character, Laura, seems just like someone you know from down the street. She has a nice husband, two older children, a good life, and some memories that seem, in the back of her mind, to be missing pieces that would explain much of why her family is the way it is. Laura's experiences as a child in the 1960's will be familiar to you, too, no matter where you grew up.

If you've ever sat listening to family stories, wondering why you all have different recollections of the same event, pick up this book. "The Art of Mending" is a quick read, but the story will stick with you for a long time.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

I believe it is time for the citizens of Washington County to hear the "rest of the story" regarding the water and sewer issues at Fair Park. We, the County and the Village of Jackson, have been negotiating these "problems" for the past five years, almost eight years, if we count the selection process between West Bend and Jackson. Little progress has been made except for the selection of the Village of Jackson, which was done because they lobbied and presented a favorable case. This included less cost, adequate pressure, appropriate quality of water, and border agreements with the Town among other considerations.

The Village has subsequently put numerous "road blocks" in the way of completing the package. They were dissatisfied with the engineering firm, even though it was the same firm they selected to engineer to perform modifications to their system. They did not like the inspection process so the County separately contracted for an independent inspection on behalf of the Village. During the construction process, many changes were made at the request of the Village. After agreement by the County to remedy the "punch list," they presented another punch list, and again the County addressed the newly presented punchlist.

The ownership issue of the mains on Fair Park property has been a major sticking point. The system (both sewer and water) was designed as a public system and approved by the Department of Natural Resources as a public system. The design was intended so that the Village would own the mains for both water and sewer. Later, the Village reneged and said they would not accept the system, even though they were maintaining the system, taking water samples, and accessing the meter and pressure pits on the Fair Park property. In fact, the meter pits and pressure tank vault are under the Village's lock and key. They claimed they had no authority because they did not have an easement. Granted the easement came to them late, but after they received it, they passed a resolution that they would accept no easement from the County. Later they not only expressed verbally the ownership of the water mains would be accepted with conditions that the laterals be segregated and metering redone to isolate the mains from the laterals, but have also put that in their written counter proposal. However, another "road block" was presented when they indicated they would not accept the sewer mains. When the Village was presented with its previously issued public statement that included the acceptance of the sewer mains, the Village backpedaled and sheepishly confirmed the public statement. In this process, they also tried to get out of the verbal agreement because some "encroachments" to the sewer and water mains, even though the County stipulated that the County would bear the cost of any necessary removal of the encroachments.

The County, last October, advanced an easement request by St. Joseph's Hospital to the County Board allowing the Hospital to connect to water and sewer on Fair Park along the South perimeter and on the West Side to cross Highway 45. Again, the Village was not in favor and resurrected an old plan as presented to Hospital at one of the first meetings of the Hospital and the County. That was to hook up the water on the West Side of Fair Park eliminating a long run on the South Side and a portion of the West Side. Reviewing this and with a large commitment of dollars from the Hospital, the County agreed this was the best approach and took action favoring this plan. At that time, Mr. Beaver made the comment that any claim for fees would go away, the systems, both water and sewer would be taken over by the Village. Mr. Beaver also publicly stated that he did not think there would be any problem reaching an agreement with the County to proceed with this plan. Here comes the next "road block," "we are assessing an impact fee of $108,500 to the County under this plan." The County has asked the Village on numerous occasions for the Village's authority to impose impact fees on the County property located in the Town of Polk. The Village has provided no response. This was probably another attempt to delay the Hospital project. After all, Mr. Beaver has stated previously, "If Aurora is promoting a site down here, don't we want to protect that site down here?" "The extent of the Village's support for Aurora is illustrated by the Village condemning property and making people give up their home to provide land for Aurora is in the name of public good. Let it be known that the Village worked hard to get SJC Hospital to move to Jackson, instead of the Town of Polk. Is this payback?"

In the final proposal, the County has agreed to the Village's counterproposal, except the impact fee. However, not wanting to delay or be in the same category of putting up roadblocks, the County has agreed to settle the impact fee with binding arbitration. If the Village is so confident, why won't they agree to the counter proposal it presented to the County? Are they afraid of the outcome or are they afraid there are no other delays they can conjure up and there may be some finality to all the issues they have created.

The County has done all in its power to work with the Village, but to no avail. Each time we agree, the Village adds another requirement. In order to negotiate, both sides must have a desire, the will and commitment to a solution. In this case, the Village has shown none of those qualities.

Letter to the Editor:

Gov. Jim Doyle proclaimed May 5th as State Employee Recognition Day. I ask you to join me in recognizing and thanking Department of Natural Resources employees for all they do and to assure our high quality of life in Wisconsin.

If you drink a glass of water today - thank the partnership of water utilities, well drillers, public sanitarians and DNR staff for your confidence that it was clean and healthy to drink.

If your family enjoyed one of Wisconsin's 49 state parks or nine state forests, thank a DNR employee for maintaining and enhancing these recreation areas.

If your student got information for a school report from the DNR website, thank a DNR employee - the DNR EEK! environmental education web site for kids will receive more than two million visits this year.

If you're one of the 10,000 landowners who received help with a waterfront or wetland restoration project, thank a DNR employee.

If you are one of 80,000 wood lot owners who received help in managing your property for wood production, wildlife, aesthetics, water quality and other sustainable benefits, thank a DNR forester.

If you heard a wild turkey gobble this spring, thank a DNR employee for pulling off the most successful wildlife re-introduction program in agency history.

If you are one of the state's 690,000 hunters who enjoyed more than five million acres of public land or you are one of nearly 2,000 landowners who received technical help restoring wildlife habitat on your land, thank a DNR employee.

If you are among the 818,000 students in Wisconsin who took a hunter safety course from North America's largest crop of volunteer recreational safety instructors, thank the instructors and the DNR, and thanks to you for reducing hunting accidents by more than 90% since safety courses started in 1967.

If you live in a community where one of 11,000 cleanups of contaminated property is now increasing property values and adding jobs, thank a DNR employee.

If you are among the 3.5 million license holders who can now buy recreational licenses 24/7 online, by phone or in person at DNR service centers, or 1,500 convenient outlets, thank a DNR employee.

It's easy to take our quality of life for granted in Wisconsin, but rest assured, there are many talented and dedicated DNR employees working hard to make sure that quality is there for you and your children. Please join me in recognizing their important work.

Secretary, DNR*

One of the fastest growing sections in the local library is the shelf space devoted to "large print" books.

It really is not surprising when you consider that about 15 million Americans have some form of vision impairment, and millions of other Americans with aging eyes may have trouble reading small print.

That is why Social Security has taken steps to make reading "small print" easier for visitors to our website.

Here's how.

The letter size in reading material is measured in "points." Most text in American newspapers is nine point type, and most books are set in 10-12 point type. But the minimum size for large print materials is 14 point type, and most large-print materials are available in 16 to 18 point type.

Folks who visit our website at www.socialsecurity.gov can easily change the text size on their computer to make the information easier to read. This is done through the "Web Eyes" plug-in, which is available free on the socialsecurity.gov homepage. Web Eyes can increase text size from 10 to 144 points, in two-point increments.

Social Security provides Web Eyes as a courtesy to our website visitors. It is available for download at http://www.socialsecurity.gov/textsize-inst.htm. Anyone who downloads Web Eyes will have unlimited use of it while visiting the Social Security website. When they leave our website, the text enlargement will continue for five minutes and then automatically return to the settings on the user's browser.

The technical people want you to know that to successfully download Web Eyes, users must have an Internet connection, at least four megabytes of free space available on the hard drive, and Microsoft Internet Explorer web browser version 5.5 or higher.

Indians Go 1-2 in EWC Softball Action

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Against Eastern Wisconsin Conference opponents last week, the Kewaskum High girls fast-pitch softball team would plug one leak in the dam only to see another one spring up somewhere else.

In between a 17-0 loss to Manitowoc Roncalli and an 11-0 drubbing at the hands of Plymouth (April 29), the Indians did manage to post their first EW win, however. It was a 9-4 decision over Roncalli behind a good pitching effort by April Lettow and some sparkling defense.

Lettow, a sophomore who was called on to see her first varsity pitching effort in the nightcap of the April 27 doubleheader, allowed just four hits and six walks while striking out a pair in six innings.

"They supported her ... there were no errors. They played flawless," KHS Coach Jeff Gosse said about the Indians' defense in the second game against the Jets.

Kewaskum also hit better than it had been in the past couple of weeks. "We had three girls with two hits each," Gosse said, reporting Beth Boedeker, Laura Schladweiler and Tiffany Hedlund all had two singles.

Schladweiler prevented the Indians from getting no-hits in the first game. Her single in the fourth inning broke up Jamie Beyer's bid for the no-hitter.

"She (Beyer) only struck out two, so we were hitting the ball, but we were hitting it right at somebody," Gosse said, reporting losing pitcher Rachel Breese pitched well enough but got no support.

The score was 1-0 going into the fifth when the roof caved in on the Indians.

Boedeker provided a major highlight by stealing six bases in the two games against the Jets.

Panthers are too tough

In the game against Plymouth, the Indians reverted to anemic hitting, touching winner Lindsey Grahn for just one single by Boedeker in the bottom of the third inning.

"We got her on first base and that was it," Gosse said, reporting none of his players got to second base.

"They had a good pitcher, the coach's daughter," Gosse said, referring to Grahn, who struck out six and walked just one Indian.

And the defense was very suspect. "We had five errors in the outfield and four in the infield. The outfield errors are inexcusable," Gosse said, reporting several of them were balls that rolled through his fielders' legs.

Once again Breese took the loss, and the Panthers seemed to have no trouble hitting her. They had an even dozen hits.

By going 1-2, the Indians are now 1-4 in EW action and 1-8 overall.

KHS Tennis Team Picks Up First Wins

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

There were plenty of anxious moments, but in the end, the Kewaskum High tennis team prevailed to win its first match of the year, a 4-3 decision over St. Mary's Springs.

"We were losing 3-1, and our last three (players) to finish won," KHS Coach Dan Ross said about the April 26th effort, which included a pair of wins in singles matches and two in doubles.

The junior pair of Adam Ziebell and Craig Johann had won 6-2, 6-2 at No. 3 doubles. Still the Ledgers had the upper hand in all the other matches, so the outlook wasn't too bright until Nic Luther finally polished off Steven Deitle in three sets, 4-6, 6-0, 6-1 and sophomore Mitch Paulus came flying through with a convincing 6-2, 6-0 victory over Ben Schneider.

Also playing a pressure-packed match were Kyle Lickel and Abe Foerster, who teamed up at No. 1 doubles to top their opponents 6-2, 6-7 (5-7) and 6-2.

The Indians couldn't keep the ball rolling on April 27, however, as they were overwhelmed by host Plymouth 7-0.

"Plymouth is leading the conference right now," Ross said. "Neither of their top two singles players has been taken to a third set ... very strong players."

The most games any of the Kewaskum players managed to win was three, and that came in Paulus' 1-6, 3-6 loss to senior Matt Pennell.

"We had pretty solid doubles play again, but we just weren't able to pull it out," Ross said, referring to the effort by Lickel and Foerster which ended up going to a third set with the Panthers coming out on top 4-6.

Darkness started setting in during the match played by Johann and Ziebell, so they played a 10-game set for the third set.

"Their inexperience hurt them," Ross said. "They pressed a bit," losing 7-10 after splitting the first two sets, 6-7 (5-7) 7-6 (7-3).

With the split, Kewaskum is 0-2 in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play and 1-4 overall.

Best Ball Tournament at Hon-E-Kor May 15-16

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Ready or not, the annual Hon-E-Kor Best Ball Tournament is right around the corner.

Dave Denis, the originator of the event, says he already has at least a dozen teams entered in the two-day, 36-hole competition that will take place Saturday and Sunday, May 15-16. (For the women, the tournament is limited to 18 holes on May 15th).

"We're going to end up with 60 teams, I am sure," Denis said, indicating last year drew a good field of 63 teams, with Craig Anderson of West Bend and Hartford's Bruce Henning teaming up to win the championship title.

It was the start of a great season for Anderson, a teacher and coach at West Bend West High School, who wound up also capturing the Hon-E-Kor men's title and the Kettle Moraine Amateur crown for a clean sweep of 2003 events.

"I haven't talked with Craig, but I'm sure he's going to play," Denis said.

When asked how many years the tournament has been running, Denis said,

"This will be the 20th ... Isn't that something?"

The tournament will be played on the Blue and White Nines at Hon-E-Kor, and the cost is $80 per team, plus greens fees for those who are not members. Non-member teams wind up paying a total of $140 for the two days, and there will also be a "Skins Game" competition both days, according to Denis, who said there will be at least three flights of competition and the Skins Game is also flighted.

"I think in the past, it's about $3,000 in prizes out of the pro shop," Denis said.

"We will have flag events both days," Denis said, adding, "Bob Fish is going to put up the use of a van for a weekend." The man coming closest to the pin on White No. 7 on Sunday wins the use of the van.

Denis will be assisted by Pro Joe Harlow in lining up the tee times. Other members of the Tuesday Night Men's League, including Dick Wietor, Joe Volesky, Bill Wuebben, Mike Pfeiffer and Ray Roskopf, have again offered their services to help the tournament run smoothly.

Applications for the tournament are available at Hon-E-Kor. The deadline for entering is May 11th.

Kertscher Racing Into New Season

Mike Kertscher

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The first IRA (Interstate Racing Association) program went very well for Mike Kertscher, and the Kewaskum native can't wait until the 2004 season is in full swing.

"So far, we've had just one race, but we're figuring to do a whole lot more," Kertscher said from Fond du Lac last week. At a time when most people are settling in to figure out the plot of their favorite television show, Kertscher and the members of his Osborn and Sons Trucking Company pit crew are going over his race car with a fine-tooth comb.

"There's always something to do (on the car)," Kertscher said from the race car shop, which becomes his second home from April through October.

The No. 80K looked good in the season opener at the Dodge County Fairgrounds on April 17th. "We won our heat and finished seventh in the feature," Kertscher said, reporting he piloted his high-powered sprint car all the way up to second place until "I looped it" with five laps and had to go to the back of the pack.

The same no-quit spirit Kertscher showed when he was a wrestler at Kewaskum High School was evident as the final laps clicked away and he had battled back up to seventh.

Kertscher said he was satisfied with the night's efforts, but, "We can do a lot better though."

Getting better has been one of Kertscher's major goals since he first jumped into a race car several years ago.

In his first full season on the IRA circuit last summer, Kertscher won Rookie of the Year honors and received a nomination for the national Rookie of the Year, too.

When asked about his biggest win, Kertscher said it was definitely the King of Wisconsin Challenge at the Wilmot track with a field of 60 cars.

"It was probably our best year ever," the 24-year-old pilot said, but now that he is no longer a rookie, excuses of being inexperienced have flown out the window about as fast as it takes a driver to peel the tear-offs from his helmet.

Kertscher will have two Maxim race cars this summer but plans to save the newest model for the Knoxville Nationals which take place in Iowa in mid-August and is definitely the premier race for sprint cars each year.

The cars were built in Springfield, Ill., according to Kertscher, who said he uses Hoosier Tires and is powered by Wesmar Motors, which come out of Oklahoma.

Jeff Robinson of Kenosha and Vince Schneider of Newburg are Kertscher's main crew members, along with Crystal Savatski. Kertscher calls them "the three amigos."

The IRA isn't the only circuit Kertscher will run in this summer. He has also landed a ride in a Midget car for the season.

"We're going to be running 12 shows at Sun Prairie," he said, reporting the call came from Fattfro Motor Sports in Marango, Ill., after he turned in a good showing in the "Chili Race" in Oklahoma last fall in a huge indoor facility that draws several NASCAR drivers like Ken Schrader and Tony Stewart.

"I just kinda got hooked from there," Kertscher said. The next step came when Fattfro officials called with an invitation to be their driver, and the deal to drive at Sun Prairie was too good to pass up. The car will be set up by a crew provided by Fattfro.

The first Midget Race is set for Sunday, May 23rd, according to Kertscher, whose skills have also put him in a position to try his hand at US-AC racing in October. "It's pretty prestigious," Kertscher said of this non-winged circuit, where 70 percent of the participants are full time drivers and several, such as Kasey Kahne and Ryan Newman have used it as a springboard to get full time rides in NASCAR.

To keep track of Kertscher's progress this season, you may visit his web site at www.mikekertscher.com.

Steering problems sides

Kertscher at DC

After posting the second-fastest lap time of 16 and .98 seconds (16.98) and finishing second in the heat race, Kertscher's luck went sour in IRA action at the Dodge County Fair Park on Saturday, May 1st.

"Our car was good (in the heat race)," Kertscher said, reporting he powered the 80K car from sixth to second, right behind another well known Kewaskum driver, Don Goeden.

Kertscher was looking at placing among the leaders in the feature, but he said a steering problem ended his night. "Our power steering broke ... that was the end of it," he said. "We didn't get too many laps in."

While IRA racers are off over Mother's Day weekend, Kertscher and his crew are heading to Knoxville, Iowa where they will run in a show Saturday night.

Goeden, who is piloting No. 9G in selected shows this summer, lost a wing in hot-lapping, and after borrowing a spare, had a pretty good night. In addition to winning a heat, he wound up finishing sixth in the 30-lap main.

KHS Track Teams Win Both Ends of Pewaukee Invite

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Call it a sneak preview. Members of the Kewaskum High track teams got a look at some of the competition they may face in the upcoming Division 2 sectional meet, and they certainly must have enjoyed the show at the annual Alzheimer Invitational held on April 30.

The KHS boys, behind two individual first places and another two in relays, won the competition with 141.5 points, 11 more than Elkhorn, while the Lady Indians successfully defended their title by the slimmest of margins, nudging Elkhorn, 138.8 to 138.7, with host Pewaukee next at 135.

Have the Indians ever won both titles in the same year? "Yes. This is the third time. They both won in 2001 and 2002. This is also the girls' fourth win in a row at this meet," Coach Jerry Gosa said, pleased with the efforts recorded on the cold and rainy afternoon.

Once again, junior Eric Nass led the Indians charge, winning the triple jump in 39 feet (39-0), the 400-meter dash in 52 and .30 seconds (52.30) and anchoring the 4x400 relay (Garett Donath, Nick Bartley, Zack VanWormer) to a win in 3:35.31. Using the "at-large" entry format, teams were allowed to insert four athletes in extra events, and Gosa decided because Nass has been doing so well in the 4x400 relay, he would put him in the open 400.

"It worked," Gosa said, referring to the 1-2-3 finish by his runners in that event. Following Nass were VanWormer (52.95) and Donath (54.22), so the Indians scored 24 points in the 400.

The other KHS win came in the 4x800 relay, with Josh Meyer, Matt Parrent, Bob Gibson and Justis Clayton combining for an 8:57.98.

The Indians had eight second places including: Josh Uelmen, second in the 100, 11.62; Mike Wagner, 110 meter high hurdles, 16.97 and 300 hurdles, 44.11; Scott Rhoads, pole vault, 11-6; high jump, Luke Herriges, 5-10; 800, Bartley, 2:04; and 1,600, Meyer, 4:45.6.

"One of the guys who ran really well was Bob Gibson," Gosa said, reporting he cut over 15 seconds off his previous best for a 10:44.9 clocking (third place) in the 3,200. "For a freshman, we're happy with his progress."

Also praised were the team's lone seniors, Wagner and Uelmen. Both Wagner's hurdle times were season-bests.

The girls had eight first places, and Amanda Donath accounted for three of them. Chipping .84 of a second off her time in the Washington County Meet, Donath clicked off a 27.34 to win the 200, after already having captured top honors in the 400 (1:01.49). Donath also anchored the 4x400 relay to a first place in 4:17.77. With Rachel Dums back in the race, the Indians cut six seconds off their County time.

The other two runners were Paige Thelen and Amanda Magnus, another standout for the Indians.

Magnus accounted for a win in the long jump, and her effort of 16-3 is very impressive, according to Gosa, who said, "We're getting there."

Dums, who has been hampered by a strain in the quadriceps did a nice job winning the 300 hurdles in 50.18. "She performed admirably," Gosa said.

KHS's other individual win came from Katie Patterson in the pole vault, 8-6.

The foursome of Jessie Butler, Kayla McCormack, Magnus and Lindsey Keller got a fight from Elkhorn but won the 4x200 relay in 1:54.13, while the other sprint relay, the 4x100 (Butler, Patterson, Magnus and Dums) also topped the eight-team field with their time of 54.26.

The Indians also got a second place from Butler in the 100 (13.68).

KHS Soccer Team Thumped By New Holstein

BY JUDY HARLOW

While Plymouth appears to be the class of the girls' soccer competition in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, a couple other teams, including New Holstein, are closing in on the Panthers.

The Kewaskum girls had a tough match with the Huskies last week, giving up four goals in the first half and another three in the second for a 7-0 loss.

"Leah Sabel played an exceptional defensive game, as well as Christine Behm," KHS Coach Marie Lippe said, reporting her goalie, Cora Werdemann, stopped a total of 18 shots.

With the loss, the Indians are 1-7 in the EW and 2-12 overall.

Nass Blasts Record at County Track Meet

Eric Nass is hop, step and soaring through the air in the Washington County Track Meet in West Bend. Nass set a KHS record of 42' 3 1/2" in the event..

Eric Nass looked as if he was defying gravity during the triple jump competition at the annual Washington County Track and Field Invitational meet on April 28 in West Bend.

The Kewaskum High junior just kept jumping higher and longer until he nailed a leap of 42 feet, 3.5 inches (42-31/2) in the finals to put his name in the school's record book.

"He broke the record by two feet," KHS coach Jerry Gosa beamed about his latest star. Mike Steinhardt held the old mark of 40-41/2.

Jumping coach Jason Meinen was thrilled with the way Nass performed. "He is making the event his own," Meinen said. "He can do a lot of damage in this event the rest of the season."

Nass was one of two Indians to win titles in the competition. The other was sophomore Nick Bartley, who continues his assault on the record in the 800-meter run. Bartley overtook West Bend East's Ben Anderson and was able to hold him off to the finish line, 2 minutes, 2 and .5 seconds (2:02.5) to 2:02.8.

"The two duked it full sprint to the finish line," Gosa said, indicating the space between the two was probably a foot at best.

The school record is currently 2:02.0 and is held by Chris Donath.

rently 2:02.0 and is held by Chris Donath.

The team competition was won by Germantown, which had also come out on top in the County indoor test back in March. The Warhawks piled up 191 points to easily outdistance Slinger, which was second in 116. Next came Hartford at 103, East with 98, Kewaskum in the fifth spot with 75, followed by West Bend West, 58; Kettle Moraine Lutheran, 49; and Living Word, 2.

After the two firsts, the Indians picked up a runner-up spot in the concluding 4x400 relay, with Garrett Donath, Bartley, Zach VanWormer and Nass taking turns with the baton toward a time of 3:32.6. "That's their best time of the year," Gosa said, fully expecting this foursome to qualify for the Division 2 state meet if they keep working hard. Gosa said the Indians were in fourth place when Bartley took the baton, and he came back to overtake two other teams for second place.

VanWormer and Donath had already run one 400, going fifth and sixth in the open event with respective times of 53.2 and 53.7.

The Indians also did well in the 4x200 sprint relay, with Nate Steiner, Nass, Ross Stockhausen and Josh Uelmen clocked in a season-best 1:36.6 for third place.

The high jump was a good event for Kewaskum, with Luke Herriges (5-8) and Adam Schlosser (5-6) placing fourth and seventh. "They were a little disappointed," Gosa said, noting Herriges has already gone 6-0 and had hoped to clear that height in this competition.

Other top-six finishes included: 4x800 relay, fourth in 8:53.3; Mike Wagner, sixth in the 100 high hurdles (17.54); Josh Meyer, sixth in the 1,600 (4:53.9); and Donath, sixth in the 200 (24.45).

Scott Rhoads cleared a season-best 11-6 in the pole vault but had to settle for seventh place because there are so many good vaulters this spring. The winner of the event was Tommy Krieger of Germantown, who cleared 13-6.

GIRLS ARE FAR BACK IN 7TH
Amanda Donath posted the lone KHS victory in the girls' portion of the meet, and the Indians had to settle for seventh place with 55 points.

Hartford was out front with 149, followed by Germantown, 111; West Bend West, 103; West Bend East, 99; Slinger, 90; Kettle Moraine Lutheran, 83; and Living Word, 0.

"She (Amanda) comes very focused and ready to run," Gosa said about Donath, who came from behind to win the 400 in 1:00.8, her best time of the season. Third with 100 meters to go, Donath turned on the jets and won going away.

Donath also wound up fourth in the 200 (28.17).

The high jump and long jump proved to be good events for KHS. In the long jump, Amanda Magnus went 16-2, her all-time best, to place second, just four inches

KHS Golfers Win Tourney, Place Third in EWC Meet

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Kewaskum High golfers came home with their first trophy of the year on April 28th, after winning the annual Oak/Lion Invitational at the Camelot Country Club.

With Luke Koch and Josh Lehnerz both carding 86s, the Indians came in with a 357 total for its low four players, topping the six-team field in Division 1 by eight shots.

Scores were a little higher than normal as the winds proved to be an additional test for the 23 teams, which were assigned to four divisions by enrollment.

Koch started out with a 44 on the front nine, then improved by two shots on the back for his 86, which placed him second overall among the 30 Division 1 players. Lehnerz was Mr. Consistency on this day with 43s on both sides.

The other KHS counters were Chad Piwoni, who fired nines of 47-44 for a 91, and Ryan Koepke, who put together a pair of 47s for a 94.

Peter Paulus' 103 was thrown out.

Quite ironically, the Indians' 357 total was only the fifth best of the day, as St. Mary's Springs of Fond du Lac, the winners of the Division 3 title, came in with a 338 total, and Pardeeville was second at 346. North Fond du Lac cap-out of first place.

In the high jump, Kayla McCormack cleared 4-8 to also finish as the runner-up.

The Indians also placed third in the 4x100 relay. Jessie Butler, Katie Patterson, Magnus and Rachel Dums posted a season-best 54.5.

Unfortunately Dums re-injured her leg and was unable to compete in her specialty, the 300 hurdles.

Other top-six finishes came in the following: pole vault, Katie Patterson, 5th (8-0); 4x200 relay, 4th (1:57.3); 4x400 relay, 4th in 4:23.5.

secured top honors in Division 2 with a 344, and Waupun Christian was the champion of Division 4 at 347.

PLYMOUTH, KIEL LEAD THE WAY
The Indians had to settle for fourth place in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference mini-tour meet on the short Auburn Bluffs Golf Course in Campbellsport on April 29th.

Once again, Plymouth and Kiel finished first and second with respective scores of 167 and 170. Campbellsport slipped ahead of the Indians by two shots, 173-175 in the battle for third.

The medalists for the meet were Plymouth's Dave Serketich and Matt Ninnemert, who carded 3-over-par 39s.

"We're still in third place overall," KHS Coach Glenn Eichstedt said about the standings after two matches, noting his team blew a good opportunity to challenge the two leaders who, he said, "typically don't play very well there."

Ryan Koepke led the way for Kewaskum with a 42, and Luke Koch was a shot back at 43, followed by Adam Lehnerz and Chad Piwoni, with scores of 44 and 46. Eichstedt said he decided to try Casey Scheel in the starting lineup, and the young freshman soared to a 51, while Jason Jahnke, who moved down to the JVs, had a 40. "Certainly had we used his (Jahnke's) score, we would have tied for second," Eichstedt said.
