Par 3 Course Slated for Second Phase of Family's Project Driving Range, Mini Golf on Hold In Town of Kewaskum

BY AMY SWANSON
 STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
 aswanson@kewaskumstatesman.com

Plans to develop an 8-acre driving range, miniature golf and batting cages were put on hold Monday night at the Town of Kewaskum Plan Commission Meeting.

Andy and Nancy Roenke, along with Roger and Ann Neumann petitioned the Town Board to rezone 39.2 acres of their family farm from EA (Exclusive Agricultural) to P1, Park District. The property is located at 4265 CTH. H in the Town of Kewaskum.

Nancy Roenke presented the idea to a standing-room only crowd at the Town Hall. "This is my family farm and I want to keep it intact," Roenke said. "The business would also serve as a buffer between the Town and Village. Roenke also said the business would prevent the land being sold to develop "little houses."

"This is something Andy and I didn't take lightly...it's not going to be gaudy or an eyesore...it will be aesthetically pleasing."

Roenke said the existing home would be renovated to blend in with the business and possibly serve as an office. The barn would be used to house a concession stand. "There's going to be green space, plants, all around to fit with the landscape of what we are trying to preserve," Roenke said.

A par 3 golf course is being considered for the second phase of the development. "This land means a lot to me," she said.

Andy Roenke estimated the maximum number of patrons per day during business operations could reach 150. "That puts you in a fairly good sized business," said Plan Commission member, John Duren.

"We are willing to do anything on our end to make it work," Andy said.

Plan Commission chairman, Mike Lettow said, "The real issue is, is this what we want to see in the Town of Kewaskum. He asked the trustees to make several considerations before making a decision. "Will this enhance the community...will it place an undue burden on our community...will it cause traffic and safety problems...will it preserve existing natural resources...will the remaining acres remain agricultural."

"You are setting a precedence. Why allow a rezone for this and then comes the next individual. What are you going to base your criteria on so there is not a rippling effect in the Town?" said Lettow.

"I think it would be a nice thing for the Town. I think a lot of people would use it. There is not a lot of stuff for people to do in the Town. I think it's a nice thing," said Plan Commission member, William S. Butzlaff.

A few bikers from all over the country came to Kewaskum to spend the night Tuesday. The back of Kewaskum High School resembled Long Lake Campground but business owners and residents alike welcomed the group of 400 who took part in the annual Northwoods Bike Tour.

The bikers were coming from a night spent in Waupun and enjoyed a beautiful day coming into Kewaskum. The tour originated in Baraboo.

Starting at 9 a.m. pedalers arrived and took advantage of Kewaskum's small town hospitality. Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce provided shuttle bus service for the group who visited area restaurants and businesses.

For those wanting to stick close to the range, The Kewaskum Booster Club provided a spaghetti dinner.

After a short bikers meeting the crew took part in a pie-eating contest and relaxed at the high school where massages and insternet service was provided.

This is the sixth year of the tour. The bikers departed Kewaskum on Wednesday morning for Sheboygan.

Search For Fredonia Man Hampered by Weather

BY ANDREW KUEHL

Steven Woelfel

The family of a Fredonia man caught a ray of hope as they were informed that the pickup truck of Steven Woelfel, 37, had been located in a parking lot of a Kewaskum apartment complex.

Kewaskum Police Officer, Kevin Kohn located a pickup truck in the Golfview Apartment complex adjacent to Hon-E-Kor Golf and Country Club on Sunday, June 20, 2004. Woelfel has been missing since June seventh.

According to a report from the Washington County Sheriff's Department Woelfel has suffered from depression for some time. No evidence of foul play exists at this time, but has not been ruled out.

Following Kohn's find on Sunday the Washington County Sheriff's Department in conjunction with the Kewaskum Police Department and the Great Lakes Search and Rescue Canine Inc., conducted a search of a wooded area bordering the west edge of Hon-E-Kor Golf and Country Club.

On Monday morning a search that deployed the Washington County Dive team and Kewaskum Fire and EMS on the Hon-E-Kor grounds ended due to bad weather without a trace of Woelfel.

Washington County Sheriff, Brian Rahn indicated Tuesday that they will finish executing a search east of the golf course in the Kettle Moraine State Forest once the area dries out.

Anyone who may have seen Woelfel is asked to contact the Ozaukee County Sheriff's Department at 262-377-7172.

This weekend, June 26th and 27th, Boltonville will celebrate the 150th anniversary of its founding. The theme is "Welcome Home" and an invitation to attend is extended to everyone. Festivities for the event have been in the planning for two years. Commemorative books, calendars, clothing and pins will be available as souvenirs. A special event scheduled is a self-guided walking tour of historic sites in the village. A few of the properties included in the tour are described in this article.

Bolton/Kesting House - Built by George Bolton of Diesterhaupt (a local brick factory) brick, the home features a widow's walk. Jacob Kraetsch was the next owner followed by August and Ida Degner when they retired to town from the farm. Granddaughter, June Degner Krem-pasky and husband, Ron, lived here before it was sold to Carl Jr. and Gloria Fickler. Ellen and Bill Kesting purchased the home in 1980 and have done extensive restoration.

Woodman Hall - Built in 1888 by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, a fraternal Organization. It is a two-story Diesterhaupt brick structure. It was used for meetings and fund raising events. The building was sold in 1900 to the Woodmen. In 1906, a frame dance hall was added with a maple dance floor. By 1965 membership had dwindled and it was sold to member, Wilmer Wendel. He in turn sold it to his son, Allen and his wife, Bernice who use it for storage and as an antique outlet.

Gruhle/Enright House - This turn of the 19th century home was built in 1904 by Morgenroth Store - Charles Morgenroth built and operated a blacksmith shop here in 1879. His son, Ed, was a veterinarian and used the building as an animal hospital and vet office until moving to Kewaskum in 1911. During the depression, Melvin Newman operated a grocery store in the building. Lucille, John and son, Russ Kohl owned and added living quarters onto the store building during the early 1940's. Ervin and Dorothy Degner bought it in 1950. The family operated the grocery and merchandise store until 1981. They building has been vacant and is currently owned

Buy a Brat, Help Zachary

Zachary Dietenberger

By AMY SWANSON
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
aswanson@kewaskumstatesman.com

In an instant Jim and Sarah Dietenberger's life was forever changed when their two and a half-year-old son, Zachary was accidentally struck by a lawn mower.

On Saturday, June 26, your change will help support this family's future. To help Zachary Dietenberger and his family, Mike's Country Meats will host a Brat Fry starting at 9 a.m.

"We're trying to help the family as best we can," said Pam Bohn, a close friend who has helped organize the fund-raiser with the Dietenberger's friends, Rick Zarda. "Jim was a volunteer on the fire department and they were really active in the community, they loved each and every part of it." Bohn said.

The Dietenberger's just moved to the Town of Trenton to accommodate their growing family. Zachary will become a big brother in a few weeks.

"They really have their hands full," Bohn said. In addition to Zachary's rising medical costs, neither of his parents have been able to work because Zachary cannot walk and needs constant assistance.

"This fund-raiser is for a really good cause," Bohn said.

On Wednesday, May 19, 2004, two and a half-year-old Zachary was playing near his garage when he caught a glimpse of his dad riding a new riding lawn mower. Zachary couldn't wait to play with his dad and he left the garage and ran after the lawn mower. Along the way, Zachary tripped, lost his balance and fell down. His dad never saw him as he backed up the lawn mower.

Zachary was rushed to St. Joseph's Community Hospital in West Bend where Flight or Life immediately transported him to Children's Hospital in Milwaukee. As a result of the accident, Zachary lost his left foot. He has undergone five surgeries including a skin graft. Life has been very challenging.

"He's (Zachary) doing okay," Bohn said, "...He's really coming along. He's starting to play with his toys and getting in there."

All the proceeds from the Brat Fry will go directly to the Dietenberger family. Donations can also be made at Z's Wheel and Tire Shop, 1707 Schmidt Road in West Bend.

Where Is Your Home?

I suppose there could be many answers to this question - Where is your home? Some give the town/city they were raised in, others maybe where they live at present, and still others may answer with the phrase - "a home is where the heart is." For me I would have to answer - I have found a home in Kewaskum.

I remember as a student in the seminary visiting Kewaskum and thinking - "this would be a nice place to be some day." I never realized that 6 1/2 years ago I would be moving to my new assignment at Holy Trinity Church, Kewaskum. A bit fearful but knowing all would work out if the Holy Spirit was really calling me to Kewaskum. Although I was excited and nervous about my new assignment, I never expected to be so warmly welcomed and made to feel so at home. I remember talking to my mother - who was terminally ill with cancer - about the beautiful countryside, what was going on in my parish and how wonderful the community of Kewaskum was and is. I would tell her about the services between our churches and how our differences didn't prevent us from celebrating our similarities. I would speak of the warmth of this community and the great potential found in the youth of Kewaskum.

My hope and prayer is that this community realizes it's future and strength lies in the love of neighbor. And, that all may be welcomed as I was. In this community's welcome and love - I have found a home.

I would like to THANK all of you for letting me be a part of your community for the last 6 1/2 years and for being able to have the experience of calling Kewaskum - My Home.

Sincerely,
Fr. Mark Jones

RECYCLING TIPS

DISPOSING OF LATEX AND OIL-BASED PAINT

GENERAL INFORMATION

Paint stays in good condition for a long time; Oil-based paint for up to 15 years and latex paint for 10 years. As a general rule, paint that mixes smoothly when stirred can still be used. If latex paint has been frozen, brush it on a newspaper. If there are no lumps, it hasn't been damaged and can be used.

Disposal of leftover paint through a household hazardous waste program is expensive.

The best thing to do with usable paint is to use it up! If you can't use your leftover paint, give it to someone who can. Give your paint to:

- * friends and neighbors
- * recreation departments
- * park departments
- * theater groups
- * housing assistance organizations

Latex Paint and Mercury

Some latex paint contains mercury, a toxic metal. New federal regulations prohibit the use of mercury in interior latex paint manufactured after August 20, 1990. Be sure to use proper ventilation when applying paint indoors. Use outdoor paints for outdoor use only!

Disposal: When you can't use it up

Proper disposal depends on whether the paint is latex or oil-based. Oil-based paint contains solvents, container labels state "combustible," and the instructions on the can recommend cleanup with mineral spirits or other solvents. Latex paint contains water and the instructions recommend cleanup with water.

Disposal: Oil-Based Paint

The fumes from oil-based paint are a health and fire hazard. Large amounts of oil-based paint should not be disposed of at home.

Disposal: Latex and Small Amounts of Oil-Based Paint

Dry out latex paint and small quantities of oil-based paint according to the following directions:

Step 1 Find an outside work area away from children, pets and rain. Locked screen porches and storage sheds work well. Because oil-based paint contains solvents and some latex paint contains mercury, it's important to dry out paint outdoors in a safe place.

Step 2 Dry it out! Choose one of the drying methods described later on in this notice. Paint will take between several days and several months to dry - it depends on the type and quantity of paint that you have.

Step 3 Throw the dried paint, cans and other materials in the trash. Leave the lids off paint cans so trash collectors will see the paint is dry and accept them.

PAINT DRYING TECHNIQUES

For Small amounts (Oil-based and Latex):

Remove the lid and let the paint dry in the can. Stir the paint occasionally to speed drying. Or, brush paint in layers on newspaper or cardboard.

For larger amounts of latex:

Pour one-inch layers of paint into a cardboard box lined with plastic. Allow paint to dry one layer at a time - thin layers will speed up the drying process. Or, mix paint with cat litter, sawdust or sand in a cardboard box lined with plastic and let it dry.

For latex paint that has separated:

Pour the clear liquid on top into a cardboard box lined with plastic. Mix the liquid with an equal amount of cat litter or other absorbent and let it dry. Let the leftover paint in the bottom of the can dry out, using one of the above techniques.

Thank You and God Bless You
Father Mark!
Your Friendship and Kindness will never be forgotten!

Campbellsport Fire Department To Celebrate 100th Anniversary

From the World's Largest Brat to miniature fire fighters, the Campbellsport Fire Department's (CFD) 100th birthday bash has it all at Campbellsport Fireman's Park at the west end of Main Street. Festivities will be held Friday, July 2 through Sunday evening when the fireworks wrap up the three-day celebration at 9:30 p.m.

At noon on Saturday, July 3, teams of kids as young as five years of age will battle each other in miniature yellow coats similar to CFD fire turnout gear. The goal is to move the mini barrel and win. All participants will walk away with a special commemorative t-shirt imprinted with a picture of the big CFD ladder truck.

But, if you want to talk big, you need to stick around to see the World's Largest Brat when it is grilled at 6 p.m. Saturday. The brat will be complete with a bun and all the fixings. The CACC plans to sell portions of the brat. Those lucky enough to help eat the brat will receive a free t-shirt imprinted, Campbellsport - Home of the World's Largest Brat. The brat will be measured for inclusion in the Guinness Book of World Records. This is one time that size really matters. Those involved will only say that the goal is to beat the record of around 34 1/2 feet and bring the record to Wisconsin, where the biggest and best brats are made. The same quality regular-sized brats as well as burgers, will be available at the CFD food stand on the grounds.

The July 4 noon parade will travel Main Street, from the Campbellsport Fire House to Fireman's Park. Of course, the VFW color guard and Campbellsport High School band will lead the parade of bands, dignitaries, floats, horses and more.

As if those events weren't enough, the days and nights will be filled with music of all types. From the Friday night fish fry, car show, fire department water fights, a Beard-A-Thon to games, rides, homemade schaum tortes with ice cream and strawberries (while they last), ice cream, soda, beer, and other refreshments, this is a small town celebration that has everything. The three-day 100th anniversary will conclude with a giant fireworks display at 9:30 p.m. on Sunday.

The CFD was started on March 14, 1904, by a handful of local citizens who later purchased some used fire-fighting equipment and hose. The present department boasts more than 50 trained on-call firefighters, Emergency Medical Technicians, two ambulances, a fleet of fire trucks, and a new firehouse built in 1993.

The following is the calendar of events for the three-day celebration. Other than the parade on July 4th, all events will take place at Fireman's Park at the end of West Main Street.

Vareity Show Graces Stage at Hartford's Schauer Arts Center

Vareity may also be the spice of life, but it will also grace the stage at the Schauer Arts Center on Saturday, June 26th as the area's first Schauer of Stars Variety Show makes its debut.

Appearances by performers from the region who claim such credits as an Honorable Mention in a Billboard Magazine song contest, to an NPR Radio appearance, to performing with the Waukesha Symphony, to being an incredibly talented group of percussionists from a West Bend high school, the evening promises to present a bevy of rising stars and talent.

Hosted by the Schauer Center, the event will be overseen on-stage by master of ceremonies, Parker Drew, a Wisconsin celebrity best known for hosting the Wisconsin Lottery's Money Game and Supercash drawings on television, and as an announcer for WLTX-FM in Milwaukee. Drew began his performing career with classical music training at the age of six, and has appeared in over sixty plays and musiicals. His numerous tours as an actor and musician have encompassed the United States and Europe, including performances at Carnegie Hall and the Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland. Drew appeared regionally in Mark Twain Revisited where he played America's favorite famous author.

A total of 25 acts from throughout the Kettle Moraine area will perform beginning at 7 pm at the Schauer Center. "This is truly a regional variety show," commented Lisa Luthi, a member of the volunteer committee that planned the event. "We have talent from Oconomowoc, Kewaskum, Beaver Dam, Jackson, Hubertus, West Bend, Neosho, Slinger, Hartford and more. From a science teacher's hidden talents, to a baton twirler that will knock your socks off, to a performance using Britany Spears' music to 'Dizzy Fingers,' the Schauer of Stars has something for everyone." Other planning committee members for the event included Ruth Knoll, Fred Wittenberger, and Thomas Robbins.

Food for Thought

Fathers are Fabulous

I always look forward to Father's Day. It's kind of like an extra birthday celebration for my Dad and also my husband. It's a day I make that extra effort to go out of my way to show my kids how much I appreciate Dads. I force myself to let him get up at 6 a.m. with the kids so he can spend the quality time with them that I always get to do. I let him make breakfast so it's special and just the way he likes it. I also take all of Saturday ALONE picking out a present for both my husband and my Dad - I don't want to make a rushed decision.

This year, we spent Father's Day along the shores of Lake Michigan in Kenosha. My sister and her perfect family of six - one short because of camp in Lake Geneva - met my dysFUNCTIONal family of five - my kids don't camp, they hotel - along with the parents. We met for a pizza picnic. Mom and Dad's favorite place for pizza is Villa De Carlos. They are pizza connoisseurs. I'm guessing they eat pizza five times a week, maybe once at home and four times in the car on the road, "That way you don't have to tip," Dad says.

When we first arrived with our forced smiles, the wind was brisk off the lake - almost as cool as my sister was at first. Mom brought her winter coat. It was picturesque. The kids were playing in the park. People were walking up and down the shore with their pets, and food was on its way! Mom set the table, shooed away the sea gulls and pulled out her vase of fresh silk flowers. The woman is always prepared.

As we sat down to eat, the wind shifted and it was warm and pleasant. My perfect sister's family brought their bikes, which my Dad saw as a great opportunity to show off his athleticism. He cleared the boardwalk as he wiggled the bicycle down the path. Small children ran out of his way as my Mom searched for the insurance cards and tried to remember directions to the nearest hospital. He amazed us all. He didn't fall or hit anyone or anything. But, that's how my Dad is.

To me, he is a superhero. Not because he can leap tall buildings in a single bound - he's too short for that - but because he doesn't let things get in his way. He has taught me perseverance. He's taught me patience. He's taught me persistence. When I look at all of the things my Dad has accomplished I am extremely proud that I am his daughter. He has a quick wit and a strange sense of adventure, which seems to follow him wherever he goes. Our family vacations were straight out of National Lampoon. My dad could easily be Clark Griswald.

Dad always puts other people first - except if there is food involved. He does have his priorities. Here are a couple of his favorites.

CORNISH PASTIES (6 servings)

Ingredients:

4 c Flour
 1 pinch Salt
 1 c Lard
 1 c Cold water (approximately)

Filling:

8 oz cubed beef stew meat
 2 md Potatoes peeled & diced
 1 lg Finely chopped onion

Pastry:

Salt and pepper to taste
 Approximately 2 teaspoon cornstarch

PASTRY:

Combine flour and salt in a large bowl and cut in lard until mixture resembles fine bread crumbs. Add water slowly, a little at a time, until mixture binds into a soft dough. Wrap dough in plastic wrap and refrigerate at least an hour, a day or two is even better. There will be pastry left over which can be frozen, or make a pie while the oven is on for the pasties.

FILLING:

Mix together half the beef, half the onion, and one potato for each filling. Season to taste with salt and pepper and sprinkle mixture with 1 teaspoon of the cornstarch. When ready to make pasties, remove pastry from the refrigerator and prepare filling. Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Roll out pastry as for pie crust and cut out two large circles 10 inches in diameter. Place filling in center. Brush edges of pastry with water and fold one half of circle over to meet the other, creating a half-moon shape. Press edges of pastry together lightly. Turn edges over about half an inch and crimp so it won't open during baking. Make two half-inch slits near the top of each pastry and place on a piece of baking parchment on a baking sheet. Brush the pasties with milk and bake 15-20 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees for about another 45 minutes, or until pasties are golden brown.

HAMBURGER GRAVY

Pepper
 3 md Onions, chopped
 1 lb Ground chuck
 1 1/2 c Water + 2 Tb
 1 Beef bouillion cube
 Pepper

Instructions: Brown the hamburger and onions together over medium heat, keeping the meat chopped as finely as possible, until meat is cooked, and onion translucent. Drain off the excess grease from the meat, try to leave about a tablespoon or two in the skillet. Sprinkle two tablespoons of water over the meat mixture, and stir it in well over low to medium heat. Add approximately one cup and a half of water, and stir to blend. (You might want to toss a bouillion cube) Simmer, stirring, until the "gravy" thickens... Taste and a dash of salt. Serve over potatoes.

WATER MEMORIES!! The last time the Milwaukee River flooded River Hill Park as seriously as last week was in the spring of 1989. According to then Public Works Director Augie Bilgo there was 6" of water over dam. Water also completely flooded the pumphouse and washed out a walk-way from the dam up to the firehouse. Shown above is Alan Kuehl and Jim Noren "fishing" out debris. According to a VERY reliable source the above "fishing" expedition has been Kuehl's most successful expedition to date!

Gutted

By: Lawrence LaRose

They say the American Dream is to own your own home. I think that needs an amendment: the American Dream is to own a home that's finished. Problem is, anybody who's ever owned a home knows that it's never finished. There's always another shrub to plant, another room that needs painting, or another wall to knock out. There's always a project that lies beyond the current project, as you'll learn when you read "Gutted: Down to the Studs in My House, My Marriage, My Entire Life" by Lawrence LaRose (c.2004, Bloomsbury), the remodeling story of one couple's house, marriage and life together.

It all started with a dumpster... and a real dump. Tired of renting a teensy apartment, Lawrence LaRose and his new wife Susan decided they wanted to start their lives together in their very own home. As it goes with many neophytes to home-buying, their sights weren't exactly set in line with their budget, a fact that they quickly learned. The only home they could really afford to buy was a do-it-yourselfer's dream in a small-town-with-in-a-big-town area of Sag Harbor, New York.

And then LaRose lost his job. To say that the home was a "fixer-upper" is like calling an outhouse the Taj Mahal. Bad paneling everywhere. Curling linoleum left over from the 1950's. Dark rooms that were poorly laid-out. Closets with yellowing shower curtains instead of doors. The house needed gutting, which is exactly what the LaRoses did. They tore the entire house apart, right down to the studs. But what do two apartment-living office workers know about rebuilding a house? Enough to get by for awhile, it turns out. Enough to know that you can hire people to do things you can't do, and that you need to preserve your sense of humor, especially around your spouse. Enough to know that you grab all the experience you can, wherever you can grab it, which is why LaRose took a job as a construction worker. He bluffed his way into on-the-job training, learning how to put up walls, trim windows, and use a Sawzall, while constructing mansions and monkey houses. Eventually, of course, the house was finished, but not without the help of friends, contractors, and a little surprise that makes the project's timeliness even more important.

If you've ever done a do-it-yourself project - especially one in tandem with your significant other - then you will recognize yourself within these pages. While "Gutted" is a funny book, there are so many truths in the story LaRose tells, from the incredible frustration in fighting bureaucratic codes and rules, to the regretful sniping that two very tired married people can inflict upon one another while in the midst of a project that seems like it's never going to end.

Pick up a copy of "Gutted", preferable before you get the Buying or Remodeling Bug. It's not going to change your mind one bit, but it will at least give you a couple laughs while you're waiting for the contractor.

Free Skin Cancer Screenings

WEST BEND - Skin cancer is the most common of all cancers, and the incidence rate continues to rise. Routine screening is very important for the early diagnosis and treatment of skin cancer. When detected in the early stages, skin cancer is highly curable.

The West Bend Clinic, a member of SynergyHealth will offer free skin cancer screening checks on Thursday, June 24 and Thursday, July 8, from 5:30 - 8:00 p.m. Gary Rosenmeier, MD, Dermatologist and Ronald Washak, DO, Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeon, will conduct the skin checks. Advance registration is required. To register call 262-334-9218.

Skin cancer is categorized into two types, melanoma and non-melanoma. While melanoma is the less common of the two, it is far more dangerous, and accounts for nearly 80% of skin cancer deaths. According to American Cancer Society estimates, approximately 55,100 new cases of melanoma will be diagnosed this year, with 7600 deaths.

Protection from the sun, at all ages, is important to reduce your risk of cancer. Prevention techniques include wearing sunscreen and protective clothing when outdoors, avoiding peak sun exposure, and protecting sun-exposed areas of the body, such as the face, ears, neck, lips, and hands.

Medical representatives from the West Bend Clinic will be available to answer questions and to provide free educational material. Refreshments will be served.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

Once again the 4-H Silent Auction will take place during the Washington County Fair. The Washington County 4-H Leaders Association helps the youth through the annual Silent Auction. The money all goes to the Leaders Association to help with 4-H training, sessions, trips, scholarships, and camperships.

Friends and supporters of 4-H donate articles such as: antiques, plants, crafts, certificates, tools, tickets, and baskets filled with items for gardens, kitchens, workshops, etc. This is NOT a rummage sale; all items are of fine quality.

Please bring donated items for the Silent Auction to the air-conditioned pavilion from Monday afternoon through the rest of the days of the fair. The items have a bidding sheet near them and all folks attending the fair are encouraged to raise bids. On Sunday afternoon a hidden alarm clock goes off, bidding stops, and the committee helps organize the high bids, totals the amount for each top bidder and announcement is made over the loudspeaker that folks can now

"pick up and pay." The hope is that items will be paid for and taken home. It will save us doing much phoning and top bidders won't have to drive to the 4-H office in West Bend to pick up their items.

So we'll see you at the fair! Bid high and bid often! Our thanks to all of you who donate items and to all who bid!

Gratefully,
Marge Slaughter
Chair of the Silent Auction

Energy Efficient Lighting Project Equivalent to Removing 4,272 Cars from Road
Regal Ware Announces Environmentally And Economically Friendly Project

WEST BEND - Regal Ware, a manufacturer of high quality stainless house wares for direct sales and commercial markets, announced the completion of an energy-efficient lighting project in its 553,000 square foot manufacturing facility in West Bend. Regal Ware expects to save over 1.5 kilowatts hours (kWh) annually and over 30 million kWh over the sustainable lifetime of the lighting fixtures. This reduction will take enough power off the electrical grid to provide enough electricity to power 219 homes or a bedroom community of over 876 people, according to the EPA formula.

The environmental impact of Regal Ware's energy-efficient lighting project will decrease air pollution and environmental damage over the lifetime of Orion's fixture, the Illuminator, by 22,620 tons of carbon dioxide, 6,169 tons of carbon, 83 tons of sulfur dioxide, 193 tons of nitrous oxides, and three pounds of mercury. This is the equivalent of saving 2.74 million gallons of gas or planting 5,534 acres of trees.

The lighting project was managed by Ener-Save of West Bend and supplied by Orion Energy Systems of Plymouth, Wisconsin. The payback on the project is under two years with an annual savings of $110,000 not including the substantial savings of lower maintenance costs going forward.

"We have been able to provide huge cost savings for Regal Ware. The new lighting has changed the entire workplace environment in their plant," said Neal Verfuert, President of Orion Energy Systems.

"Regal Ware is a shining example of what a Wisconsin company can do to remain competitive. They have combined operations here in West Bend to improve manufacturing efficiencies and now they have cut their large lighting bill in half. We are proud to help a state company like Regal Ware with their on-going efforts to control costs, improve productivity and stay competitive."

As an emerging Wisconsin company, Orion Energy Systems has received the prestigious Spirit of Ecology Award at the 32nd Annual Governor's New Product Award Program for the Illuminator. More recently, Orion received the Wisconsin Manufacturer of the Year Grand Award winner for the Emerging Growth category by the Wisconsin Manufacturers and Commerce and the Wisconsin Business Friend of the Environment Award.

"We have now doubled our light levels for our employees in the workplace while using half the energy," stated Mike Keller, Electrical Engineer of Regal Ware. "After a year to study and test various new energy efficient lighting technology, we chose Orion's Illuminator for our facility in West Bend. Being a Wisconsin company like ourselves, we felt Orion would be able to provide the kind of service and product delivery we needed to make this project a success. This energy efficient lighting project is a beautiful thing.

We were able to save a large amount of money, significantly improve the lighting for our employees, and at the same time have a very positive impact on West Bend and Wisconsin's environment."

St. Francis Bank to Provide Home, Loan Advice, Services

In an effort to make it more convenient for area residents to secure home loans, two veteran lending officers will be available during normal business hours at three St. Francis Bank branches.

Jay Sciacchitano of Germantown, who has been with St. Francis Bank for nearly 11 years, will be on hand at the bank's Menomonee Falls and Thiensville branches to assist customers who are seeking loans for single and small multiple family homes.

Steve Voss of Glendale, a six-year St. Francis Bank lending department veteran, is now headquartered at the bank's branch in Germantown.

"We all lead busy lives these days," said Sciacchitano. "By decentralizing our loan officers and making a special effort to serve the local community, it will be easier for area residents to seek information about, and qualify for, loans related to their homes."

Schiachitano, a West Bend High School graduate, holds a Bachelor of Business degree in finance and economics from the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire. After launching his career as a loan officer for a finance company in Greenfield, he joined St. Francis Bank in 1993 and has served as both a consumer and a mortgage loan officer, most recently working out of the bank's New Berlin mortgage center.

Voss, formerly of Milwaukee's north shore area, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Spanish. Shortly after he joined St. Francis Bank as a portfolio manager at the bank's Elmbrook mortgage center, he became a loan officer.

Appointments are available by calling the Menomonee Falls branch, N88 W16586 Appleton Avenue, at (262) 650-6303, the Thiensville branch, 153 N. Main Street, at (262) 787-8200 or the Germantown branch, N112 W18741 Mequon, at (262) 502-2501.

St. Francis Bank is a division of MidAmerica Bank, fsb. The parent company of MidAmerica Bank, MAF Bancorp, has $9 billion in assets with a network of 67 retail banking, home lending, business banking, and investment offices in Chicago and Milwaukee and their surrounding suburbs.

Entering a New Phase Of Economic Recovery

MADISON - After a two-year ordeal with a "jobless recovery," Wisconsin is seeing growth in employment, Michael L. Morgan, Wisconsin Revenue Secretary, announced recently. In the Department of Revenue's latest Wisconsin Economic Outlook quarterly report (available at www.dor.state.wi.us), Morgan notes that Wisconsin employment is expected to grow slightly faster than the national average, at 1.2 percent this year and 2.0 percent in 2005. After experiencing a decline of 87,000 manufacturing jobs since 2000, manufacturing employment increased by 1,500 jobs in the first quarter of 2004. This is the first quarterly increase since the first quarter of 2000.

Manufacturing employment is forecast to increase by 21,000 by the end of 2006. Over the same period, private service sector employment will increase by 111,000.

The acceleration in employment will also be accompanied by faster income growth. Personal income in Wisconsin is expected to increase 5.0% in 2004, 4.8% in 2005 and 5.5% in 2006. Wisconsin's per capita income, a broad measure of economic well-being, will remain below the U.S. average, but will grow marginally faster than U.S. per capita income.

State tax collections are also up for FY 2004. State General Purpose Revenue (GPR) taxes, collected by the Department of Revenue during the first ten months of FY 2004, increased 4.4% from the comparable period of FY 2003, from $7.542 billion to $7.872 billion. Based on collections through April, it appears that GPR tax collections for this fiscal year will be reasonably close to the amount estimated by the Legislative Fiscal Bureau in February.

During the first ten months of FY 2004, individual income tax collections increased 2.8% relative to the same period a year ago from $3,878 million to $3,988 million. Collections from the 5% general sales and use tax for the first ten months of FY 2004 increased 4.2% from $2,747 million to $2,862 million. Due to an increase in business profits and successful collection activities, corporate collections increased 25.2% from $409.1 million a year ago to $512.0 million.

Deadline to Apply for Hunter's Choice Permit is July 20

Hunter's Choice Permit Applications Now Available

MADISON -- Deer hunters can now apply for a Hunter's Choice Permit in select deer management units for the 2004 deer gun season. Bonus antlerless permits will not be offered through the Hunter's Choice application process this year, but will be available over counter beginning August 21.

Hunter's choice permits allow the holder of an unused regular gun deer license carcass tag the opportunity to harvest one deer of any sex or age during the gun or muzzle-loader season. It is not an extra deer tag. A Hunter's Choice Permit may only be used in the unit for which it is issued. Hunters should not apply for a Hunter's Choice Permit in any Zone T, Earn-a-Buck or chronic wasting disease (CWD) deer management unit (see below).

Hunters should refer to the new 2004 Wisconsin Hunter's Choice Information brochure (Adobe® Acrobat® Reader® is needed to view and print this portable document format (PDF) file. To download Adobe Acrobat for free, please see the DNR Download Page) that includes a map and list of the units that are open for Hunter's Choice Permits this year, as well as other valuable information and instructions on applying. This brochure is also available at all license sales locations throughout the state. The deadline to apply for Hunter's Choice Permits is July 20.

A $3 application fee is required in order to apply for a Hunter's Choice Permit, Conservation Patron License holders are exempt from the $3 fee.

"The easiest and most convenient way to apply for Hunter's Choice Permits is online through the DNR Web site," said Brad Koele, assistant deer ecologist with the DNR Bureau of Wildlife Management. "The DNR Online Licensing Center on the Web site offers customers the ability to submit their application choices and immediately receive a printable confirmation that the application was received. Customers can also pay the $3 application fee through the Web site."

For those customers who prefer, completed paper applications can be submitted through the mail. These application forms are available at all hunting license sales locations throughout the state.

Zone T and Earn-a-Buck Units

All hunters will receive one free Zone T Antlerless Deer Permit with the purchase of each deer-related license, for a maximum of two free tags, if a hunter purchases both a gun deer and an archery license or a Conservation Patron's License.

Zone T antlerless permits may be used in any Zone T or Earn-a-Buck (EAB) unit during any open deer season in that unit. Hunters who wish to acquire more antlerless tags for use in Zone T or EAB units may purchase Bonus Antlerless Permits at any license sales location beginning at noon on Saturday, August 21 ($12 each for residents and $20 each for non-residents).

Hunters in EAB units are required to tag an antlerless deer before they can legally tag an antlered buck. Upon registration of an antlerless deer, the registration station will issue the hunter a "Buck Authorization" sticker. This sticker does not represent an extra tag, but allows the hunter to harvest an antlered buck with their regular gun or archery license carcass tag in any earn-a-buck unit (sticker must be attached to the hunter's regular gun or archery license carcass immediately upon harvest and validation of carcass tag.)

CWD Units

Hunters intending to hunt deer in the CWD Eradication Zone or the Herd Reduction Zone should not apply for a Hunter's Choice Permit. These units will have an earn-a-buck season structure, which requires a hunter to first tag an antlerless deer before they can legally tag an antlered buck. See the 2004 Wisconsin Deer Hunting Regulations, available in August, for details on the season structure and tagging options in CWD units.

Over-the-Counter Sales of Leftover Bonus Permits

Beginning this year, bonus permits will not be offered through the Hunter's Choice application process. All bonus permits will be available at any license sales location or online at: dnr.wi.gov beginning at 12 noon on Saturday, August 21. Resident and non-resident hunters who have already purchased a gun deer or archery license will have equal opportunity to purchase these permits. Bonus permits may be purchased at the rate of 2 per day per customer until each unit is sold out ($12 each for residents and $20 each for non-residents).

Bonus Antlerless Permits issued for Regular Season DMU's may only be used in the unit for which they are issued. Bonus Permits for Zone T and EAB units may be used in any Zone T or EAB unit.

Kewaskum Athletes Receive Honors at State's Special Olympics

MADISON - No matter what their game, athletes from Kewaskum in Washington County were busy winning medals in the weekend's featured sports of swimming, soccer, track and powerlifting at the Special Olympics Wisconsin 2004 State Summer Games in Stevens Point June 11-12.

Congratulations to the following athletes: Brian Hanrahan of Kewaskum, swimming, 4x100 free relay, bronze medal; swimming 100m backstroke, fifth place ribbon, swimming, 100m freestyle, fifth place ribbon and Jeff K. Puestow, Kewaskum, swimming, 25m freestyle, silver medal, swimming 50m freestyle, gold medal, swimming, 4x50 free relay, fifth place ribbon.

More than 2,000 athletes from around the state qualified for the state games according to their recent performance at the local and regional or district tournaments. Athletes competed at the state level in track and field, soccer, swimming, and power lifting. It was a week-end of fun at the University of Wisconsin - Stevens Point as more than 1,000 law enforcement participants took part in the Law Enforcement Torch Run. Participants escorted the lighted torch from all corners of Wisconsin to converge in Stevens Point. While the weather didn't cooperate for the Opening Ceremonies celebration, where the torch would have been lit and video appearances from the Green Bay Packers' Tony Fisher and Governor Jim Doyle would have been shown, the athletes did enjoy a dance on the UW-SP campus to kick off the event.

When taking a break from competition, athletes had access to Victory Village, which included arts and crafts, stage performances, treats from Special Olympics Wisconsin partners, and free health care screenings on eyes and teeth done by volunteer dentists and eye doctors from across the state.

The athletes got "Down on the Farm" for the Closing Ceremonies on June 11, as teams dressed in "barn clothes" and had a "hoe-down" to celebrate another Summer Games coming to an end.

Thanks to ShopKo and Kwik Trip who are year-round Premier Partners of Special Olympics Wisconsin. Special Olympics Wisconsin holds five state tournaments per year and provides year-round sports training and competition opportunities for citizens with cognitive disabilities. For more information about Special Olympics Wisconsin, contact the Program Office at 800-552-1324 or visit www.specialolympicswisconsin.org.

Overdone by the Sun

Doctors orders, a hat and, most importantly, sunscreen to help prevent skin cancer.

Hello Friends,

This week's column isn't a lot of fun to write about and probably won't be much fun to read, but I feel this true story has to be written.

Last January my sister, Lynn Schuster, who lives in Poynette, was diagnosed and treated for basal cell carcinoma (skin cancer). Basal cell carcinoma is the most common form of skin cancer, and can be easily cured with early detection.

Lynn did have to go through the unpleasant experience of having the cancer surgically removed from her forehead, which at first left some pretty nasty scars that thankfully have almost healed.

After Lynn's experience, I had to admit that I was a bit scared about my own situation. For the last couple of years, I have had a red spot on each of my temples that occasionally change color, sometimes become scaly, and even bleed at times.

In the back of my mind, I have always had this fear of the unknown when it comes to skin cancer, figuring I was doomed. I was concerned because of all of the early childhood sunburns I received, my white skin and a career that puts me in the sun to earn a paycheck.

This past February, I made an appointment at the Necedah Clinic to have myself checked over. Physician's Assistant Kathy Kidd did not like the looks of either spot on my temples and another spot on my forehead.

Kathy, along with Registered Nurse Katie Olson, performed a simple removal procedure by numbing each area and then cutting each spot out. Each sample was sent to a laboratory and tested and, I found out the results in about a week.

Two of my samples were negative, and the third tested positive for basal cell carcinoma. Another procedure was completed, and the results showed a complete removal of the cancer cells.

Remember this: wear a hat and sunscreen, protect children, and complete periodic inspections of your body. What you should be looking for are moles or dark spots that are changing color or shape.

In late April, I was sitting in a boat fishing with a couple of guys I barely knew, and we started trading skin cancer stories.

The fellow in the middle of the boat had an ugly story and the scalp to prove it. My new friend had just had his sixth procedure for skin cancer for the same spot. (I hope Kathy got all of mine.)

My unnamed friend blamed physicians too nice to cut deep enough, and each time a small amount of skin cancer was left, which is about the same as rust on a car. This fisherman had just gone through a procedure where his scalp was removed and his skull was scraped. (Wear sunscreen and a hat.)

Fisherman No. 2 starts telling us in a very concerned way that his wife has had over 200 spots removed, and doctors just found melanoma in two other spots on her body. Meanwhile, I'm thinking that I am doomed but praying luck is on my side.

Melanoma is the deadliest form of skin cancer, with 32,000 cases detected each year and 6,800 deaths in America.

Remember this: It is in almost any literature you read that skin cancer is easily curable with early detection.

On May 13, I called my brother Tom, who lives in Louisiana, to wish him a happy birthday. Tom was a bit concerned, as he was going in for the removal of a spot on his collar bone the next day.

That spot resulted in 19 stitches and turned out to be squamous cell carcinoma, the second most common skin cancer.

Like in so many other stories I have been told, Tom's physician told him his cancer was more than likely caused by sunburns in his youth.

I could go on and on but don't have the space to do it. The bottom line is: Use your head, protect yourself and your children. Skin cancer is preventable and curable.

For literally millions of Americans, their best friend while in the sun is a wide-brimmed hat and sunscreen.

It can happen to you!
