motorcycle she was driving and a full size pick up truck. The crash occurred at around 9:26 p.m. on Auburn Ashford Drive less than a half mile from CTH V. Brenda A. Harter was driving her Harley Davidson motorcycle when she allegedly attempted to pass a vehicle in front of her. While passing she collided with a truck driven by Scott S. Ebert, 29, of Kewaskum. The two vehicles crashed and Harter was thrown from the motorcycle.

Harter was taken to St. Agnes Hospital in Fond du Lac where she was pronounced dead.

Ebert was carrying an adult female passenger who required medical transport. She was taken to St. Joseph's Community Hospital where she was treated and released. Two child passengers were also involved in the crash.

Campbellsport fire and EMS responded to the scene along with Fond du Lac paramedics and West Bend Ambulance.

Harter's death is Fond du Lac County's ninth 2004 traffic fatality. A complete obituary for Brenda Harter can be found in this edition.

Have No Fear... Kewaskum's Fireworks Show Will Go on Here

BY NICOLE KUEHL
STATESMAN STAFF WRITER
nkuehl@kewaskumstatesman.com

The long sunny days of summer are quickly slipping away! Who could believe with the lack of 80 degree weather that the Fourth of July is just around the corner and with that comes the county's BEST fireworks display right here in little old Kewaskum.

Contrary to rumors that were recently flying around town, the fireworks will take place as normal in Riverhill Park on Saturday, July 3.

The Kewaskum Fire Department, as in years past, will be setting off the fireworks, including ground displays, starting at dusk in the park.

The park itself will open at 4 p.m. with the firemen frying mouth-watering seasoned patties, brats and fries. Liquid refreshments are also available.

Illusion will again take the stage in the beer garden from 8 until midnight.

All monies raised from food sales are used to purchase equipment and pay for training that could be used to save your life. Leave the cooler, snacks and food at home and support your firefighters!

The Kewaskum Kiwanis Club will also be stationed in the ice cream stand selling, soda, popcorn and glow novelties.

For the month of July The Statesman will donate $5 from every new subscription to the Village fireworks fund. More information can be found on an advertisement in this edition.

Please note our office will be closed Monday to observe the Independence Day holiday. We will re-open at 8 a.m. Tuesday, July 6.

Sesquicentennial a Hit in Boltonville

BY AMY SWANSON
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
aswanson@kewaskumstatesman.com

As Abraham Lincoln spoke from the steps of the Modern Woodmen Hall, Union and Confederate soldiers surrounded the crowd. With their rifles at their sides, they listened to Honest Abe tell his story, surrounded by a community celebrating its own.

Thousands of people took a step back in time last weekend to celebrate Boltonville's Sesquicentennial, which featured everything including, pancakes, polkas and prayers.

"Everything went very well," said Ann Enright who chaired the arrangement committee. "The comments we got were very positive...We had people from 13 states, plus several members of the Bolton family came from Virginia, Texas and California."

On Saturday, after a Mayoral Proclamation and a pancake breakfast, many people participated in the Dump Run/Walk to the old dumpsite on Paradise Drive. Surrounded by swimming pool and palm trees, members of the Steier family donned in Hawaiian shirts greeted participants. Everyone who "Found Paradise at the Dump Run" received a Hawaiian Lei.

The encampment on the banks of the Mill Pond had a steady stream of history seekers. Encampment members mingled through the crowd at the Firemen's Park in character and costume.

"The people filled the grounds both days," Enright said. "We had people spending hours looking through the genealogy display."

The children's tent was also a big success, Enright said. "We got so many thank you's from the parents." Activities included making butter, yarn dolls, spinning buttons and shelling corn, and guessing the gadgets.

The country music on Saturday was a big hit and Sunday's Celtic music was also popular.

Dean Schmidt's horse-drawn carriage rides throughout Boltonville went off without a hitch. The extra bit of history made the ride educational and enjoyable.

The walking tours also went well, Enright said. One popular tour spot was Tom's Old Country Mill, which is also 150 years old and the reason for Boltonville's existence. "Boltonville was founded because of Stony Creek," Enright said. "The town was built around that mill." She said Ben Wierman, was delighted to show his great grand kids the mill that great grandpa used to live in.

Norbert Dettmann's cemetery tours were also well attended. Dettmann is a member of one of the founding families of Boltonville. Enright said during each cemetery tour, Encampment members gave a gun salute to honor all of the veterans buried in the cemetery. According to Enright, there are several Civil War Veterans buried in the

COMMUNITY NEWS

Town of Scott June Meeting News

By BERNADETTE MONDLOCH
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT

Town of Scott residents will now have the opportunity of viewing the monthly meeting agenda as early as two days previous to the meeting.

State statutes require that postings be done no less than 24 hours in advance of the meeting. At its annual meeting in April, several citizens inquired of the possibility of having the agenda posted by Saturday at the recycling building. This would eliminate having to return on Sunday to look at the agenda.

The board has passed a resolution requiring that the agenda for the regular monthly meeting of the town supervisors be posted 72 hours (Saturday and Sunday included), prior to each meeting.

With the new posting time, the deadline for agenda items must also be changed. The clerk must be notified 96 hours prior to the Monday night board meeting. The board meets on the second Monday of the month, so agenda items must be at the clerk's office by 7 p.m. on the Thursday before. In order to comply with the law, items received after the 7 p.m. deadline will be delayed until the next months meeting.

A Town Board order to clean up the former Wisconsin Pallet Co. property in Batavia has been ignored. The property is filled with pallets and other debris and is considered a nuisance. A letter is being sent to Community Bank Officials, informing them that if it is not cleaned up within the next 90 days, the town will hire someone to do it and costs will be placed on the tax roll.

Paperwork for placement of a 250 ft. communication tower proposed to be placed on town property near the Scott Community Center has been placed on hold for the time being.

It would be erected on the southwest corner of the property abutting the area which has been set aside for the Batavia Fire Department building site. Jim Weinmann, representative for US Cellular met with the board on June 3rd and will be obtaining more information before final arrangements can be completed.

Purchase of a used crack filling machine for $3,500 from NR Asphalt, Highway 144, West Bend is being considered. Supervisor Ira Weber would like to be able to "try it out" for 10 days before making an offer to purchase.

This will be a July agenda item.

By a 4 to 1 vote, NR Asphalt has been awarded the contract to seal coat the Scott Community Center Parking Lot for $950, and the Town Hall property for $1,275. Supervisor Bruce Birenbaum was the no vote.

An increase for sludge spreading applications is being considered along with some possible changes in the sludge ordinance will be on the July agenda. Currently the hauler pays $75 per site, per year. A new rate may be determined by acreage.

Parties interested in cutting the grass on Scott Union Cemetery, County Road D should call Clerk Billie Jo Richter at 262-692-9792 or leave a message at the Town Hall, 994-4470.

The piers at Beechwood Lake have been repaired and all that is left is the clean-up of the shore land.

Road Committee reports 7 1/4 miles of crack filling has been completed, miscellaneous barricades had to be put up due to high water on the roadway and cutting of road ditches has begun.

Other Business:
Approved a zoning change for David & Lynn Ressel, W 8826 County Road SS for 30 acres with buildings, from A-1 to A-5, and 5 acres from A-1 to A-2. Plans are to build a house on the smaller parcel.

Approved a certified survey map for David & Lynn Ressel.

Request from Norman Preder . Camp Awana Road to rezone 5.4 acres of a 40 acre parcel from A-1 to A-2 was tabled, giving time to obtain more information

Modern Woodmen Donate Matching Fund Money

Local Modern Woodmen of America insurance agent, Jeff Jaeger, left, of Kewaskum, presented a check on behalf of the Woodmen's Matching Funds benefit in the amount of $5,680.01 to Barb Liegl, also of Kewaskum. The money, part of this year's Modern Woodmen's local matching funds efforts, were raised to help offset the cost of a portion of Barb's medical expenses. She is currently undergoing treatment as a cancer patient. The monies were raised by local Camp 2233, who sponsored raffles and a card party in April at Amerahn. Additional monies were raised through a luau sponsored by Angie D's K-Town Saloon; a variety of events at Bahr Time in Elmore, and through raffles and a Mardi Gras dance sponsored by the Friends of Kewaskum. Modern Woodmen matched all the monies raised up to $3,000.

Peace Church Quilters Make Unique Quilt

This past Lenten season, the Peace Church Quilters started working on a new quilt for the sanctuary. Pastor Eric Kirkegaard had the idea several years ago to have the quilters make this special wall hanging. It started out as just a large piece of yellow material draped over the altar. Then everyone who came to church, whether they were a member or a visitor was asked to have their hand traced on a piece of material. Over the next couple of weeks, they were able to see more and more hands on that piece of yellow material that finally formed a cross. On Easter Sunday it was finished and hung up so that the entire congregation could see. There are over 350 hand prints that make up the cross. Christ seeks to touch each of us personally and challenges each of us faithfully to be Christ's hands in the world. Together we are the body of Christ, a cross of hands, the church.

'Steps to Healthy Aging' Program to Begin in Kewaskum

In June 2002, President Geroge W. Bush launched the Healthier US Initiative to encourage Americans to be physically active, to eat nutritious diets, to get preventive screenings, and to make healthy choices. As part of this Initiative, Steps to Healthy Aging: Eating Better and Moving More was developed for Older Americans Act Nutrition Programs. In tune with the needs and tastes of local communities, Nutrition Programs offer older adults the opportunity to eat a healthy meal, socialize, and learn in a supportive and friendly environment. They are an ideal setting for Steps to Healthy Aging.

A group is being formed in Kewaskum for this program. The program will be based at Meadowcreek Apartments in conjunction with the Washington County Meal Site already there. People who are willing to make the 12 week commitment that will be beginning later this month are asked to call Dorothy Blumer at 262-626-4888 for more information.

Many Older Americans Act Nutrition Programs offer health screenings, nutrition education, and other health promotion and wellness programs. Eating Better and Moving More is designed to fit the interests and needs of older adults who want to maintain their quality of life and independence. It offers tips on eating better, promotes moving more through walking, and motivates through weekly progress checks and group encouragement.

This simple nutrition and walking program can help make life longer and more enjoyable. Even small changes in diet and physical activity make a difference at any age. The benefits of good nutrition and physical activity are well known. Our most costly illnesses, both financially and in terms of quality of life, are all strongly influenced by diet and activity. That is why the Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2000 emphasize fitness, healthy weight and good nutrition.

More than one third of men and more than half of women over age 75 do not meet minimal physical activity recommendations for health promotion and maintenance. With even moderate activity, strength, balance, flexibility and endurance can improve at any age. The Dietary Guidelines encourage at least 30 minutes of moderate physical activity most days of the week. Moderate physical activity is activity that causes light to moderate seating and may make your breathing a little harder. This includes activities like brisk walking or carrying a light load.

More than 60% of adults are obese or overweight. This American epidemic has serious health consequences in that our most serious chronic diseases (heart disease, cancer, stroke, lung disease, diabetes) are related to obesity. One in three older adults struggles to keep weight on. One in 10 Americans suffers from osteoporosis, another costly disease in terms of personal pain, disability and expense.

Diets of many older adults lack key nutrients. Some older adults are not getting enough calories and others are getting too many. Many don't know about sensible portion sizes. Less than a third of older adults meet the recommendation to eat five or more fruits and vegetables a day. Only 4% of women and 13% of men over 60 reach the daily recommendation for calcium. Fiber intake is half or less than the recommended 25 grams.

Older Americans, more than any other age group, want health information and are willing to make changes to maintain their health and independence yet, they often need a little extra help in improving self-care behaviors. Surveys show that older adults want to know how to eat well, exercise safely, stay motivated, and develop an exercise plan. Steps to Healthy Aging: Eating Better and Moving More provides just such information.

Knee High by the Fourth of July? Not This Year!

A tree most likely going back to when the area of First Street was still the Bilgo farm came crashing down Wednesday night as a storm pummeled the area. That tree was located at the Paul residence. The affects of the storm were felt most in Wayne, St. Kilian and Boltonville. Trees in Fillmore were uprooted.

"I want to thank the volunteers and sponsors and everyone that attended. It really brought the community together and celebrated our heritage. It was a very rewarding thing to do," Enright said.

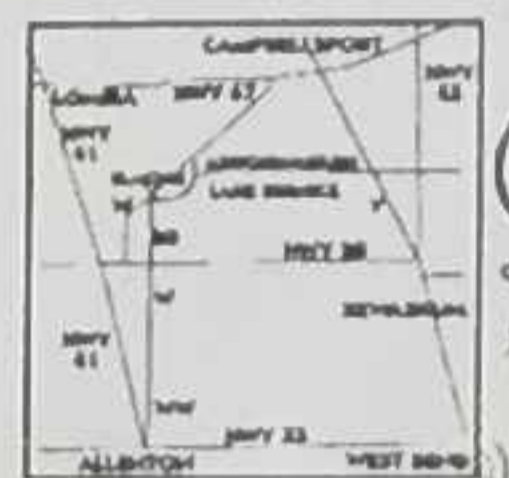

"For the younger generation it was to introduce them to their heritage, to spark an interest so that they will continue to value that heritage and keep it alive."

Charm Can be Found Most Everywhere in Spain

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

How will I possibly be able to condense 10 whirlwind days of fun and adventure into one story? What words would be best to describe Espana and its people?

It sounds like a couple of $1,00,000 questions, yet I jumped out of bed the day after arriving back home and thought, I've got it, Spain is charm. It is (en)chantment, and churches and, last, but certainly not least, churros.

So what made Spain seem so charming? We need go no farther than our first stop, Madrid, to answer that question, starting with several of the people we crossed paths with during our three day stay there.

One was Tonio, our waiter in the Plaza Mayor, and there was the little Spanish woman who volunteered her opinion on a good restaurant in the area, and Miguel, the waiter at that good restaurant, and finally the LSU professor I sat next to during the plane ride home from Madrid to New York City.

The Plaza Mayor was one of our favorite stops on the trip ... we felt drawn to go back there because of its charm. Just looking around at this mammoth edifice — I'm guessing it was 150 yards wide and at least 185 yards long with beautiful red brick walls covered on one side with murals and a huge statue — and thinking that over the centuries, authors, philosophers and artists spent time there, discussing their work or perhaps politics or maybe even the cost of Sangrias.

The art of conversation is a strong trait of the Spanish people, and we observed they appear to use their hands as much as their mouths in getting their points across. And the more excited they get, the faster they talk.

Tonio made our visit to one of the outdoor cafes in the Plaza a delightful experience. He had a winning smile and the ability to relax his customers and make them feel like family. Since Midge and I spoke very little Spanish, we just had to sit back and watch as he bantered with Carrie, the teacher who chaperoned the Hartford Union High group we were a part of. She would relay some of the things he would say, so we could all enjoy the cultural exchange.

When Tonio brought the bill the second night, Carrie started laughing when she looked and saw 1,200 Euros for the total. It was a joke, and after watching her reaction, he presented her the real bill, which was a lot less..

On our final visit, Tonio posed for a picture with our group ... the job description probably includes obliging tourists with smiles, and he asked that we send him a copy, which we intend to do.

Large umbrellas dot the Plaza during the daytime when the sun beats down on the brick flooring, but when nighttime comes, the umbrellas are taken down in favor of white torch lights that certainly add to the decor. Then comes the music, luring those who have finished work to sit down and enjoy a beverage and some of the delightful Spanish food.

I decided to sample a little of everything while I was in Spain and everything included squid, mussels and even an appetizer with octopus. Some were better than others, but at least I can say I gave them a try.

With Madrid serving as home to nearly 4 million people and several million visitors each year, restaurants are plentiful, so plentiful you are confused about which one to pick.

Our little group of five must have looked confused as we surveyed the streets for our initial dining experience. Enter, a sweet little woman walking slowly down the cobblestone street with a cane to steady herself. She approached us and said to try the Rodriguez a couple blocks away.

We took her advice and were not disappointed. The squash soup and Gazpacho were delightful, along with the fish, and oh yes, the desserts.

Luncheons turn into quite an experience in Spain. For eight Euros (the equivalent of about nine American dollars), you receive a choice from the salad/soup line of offerings and then there are from six to 25 entree selections.

A beverage and dessert are also included but oddly enough coffee is not always offered, nor is ice automatically provided with cola or the bottled water. We quickly got in the habit of asking for ice. Warm soda does nothing to quench one's thirst, especially after we had been walking through a museum or church for several hours.

At Rodriguez, Miguel was very helpful in explaining their specials of the day, and again Carrie was able to carry on a light conversation with him. We certainly missed her on our second trip there. When she and Samantha, one of the Hartford students, went shopping, Midge, Mike (tall Miguel), the other Hartford student, and I were left to fend on our own.

Miguel saw us come in and quickly found us a table, but then he asked why we were just tres (three) and not cinco (five) that day. He remembered ... another charming quality that didn't go unnoticed.

We had another excellent lunch there ... if I were a restaurant critic (and at one establishment, we joked about telling the owners I work for a large metropolitan newspaper), it certainly would have received four stars.

The airplane food, on the other hand, was just a two, but the return trip became a lot more enjoyable after I struck up a conversation with the woman next to me. She teaches 20th century Spanish literature and poetry at LSU.

When she asked how we enjoyed our trip, I remarked how impressed we were with how the Spanish people enjoy life. A native of Spain who has only lived in the U.S. for several years, she offered her own personal observation of people in the two countries. "Americans," she said, "live to work," while the Spanish "work to live."

It was a true and charming description.

Looking over this column, it appears I never reached the topics of (en)chantment, churches and churros, so it looks like another one is in order for next week, and hopefully with pictures, so you too can see the beauty we experienced in Spain.

'Keeping the Promise' Aid Reimburses Special Education Costs in 136 Districts

MADISON - State Superintendent Elizabeth Burmaster announced the payment of $2 million in federal funds to support 136 school districts in educating students with disabilities who have extraordinary needs.

The Kewaskum School District received this grant in the amount of $2,598.

"In our democratic society, we believe that all children are entitled to a quality education. However, some of our students have severe or multiple disabilities that require very specialized equipment and instruction that can cost three or more times the average expenses of educating a student," Burmaster explained. "The allocation of this discretionary federal money is a first step to help school districts that lack sufficient state or federal special education funding to serve their students. As a state and nation, we must keep our promise and provide funding to educate our children with disabilities."

Federal law requires a free appropriate education for every child and includes an authorized funding level to pay 40% of per pupil expenditures. To date, Congress has contributed as little as 6% in some years and never more than 18% of special education costs, falling far short of its promise to children with disabilities.

Last September, Burmaster announced the "Keeping the Promise" initiative, which allocates federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) discretionary funding to reimburse school districts as well as three cooperative educational service agencies (CESAs) and three county children with disabilities education board (CCDEBs), providing services to students from 27 other school districts. This new aid program is serving students from 136 school districts statewide. "Keeping the Promise" high-cost special education aid is outside state revenue caps.

"Children cannot wait for state and federal policymakers to solve funding issues related to special education," Burmaster said. "This initiative represents a reprioritization of federal discretionary funds to address a critical need. It extends immediate help to support all children by providing special financial assistance for students with disabilities who need extra services to achieve to their highest potential."

IN MEMORY

In memory of BEN WEST-ERMAN, who passed away one year ago on July 4, 2003:

(top portion written by Kris Heise)

A little white angel hangs in the tree,
Where you encountered your destiny.

That day we reeled with shock and pain,
Knowing we'd never hug you again.

But God knew better, He took you home,
From life's little battles you no longer groan.

We tend to believe your spirit stays near,
At peace up there, playful down here.

Always in our hearts we'll hold you tight,
In your Badger cap and your smile so bright.

A MILLION TIMES

You never said I'm leaving
You never said good-bye
You were gone before I knew it

And only God knew why
A million times we've needed you,
A million times we've cried.
If love alone could've saved you,
You never would have died.

In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still.
In our hearts you hold a place,
No one else will ever fill.

It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you didn't go alone.
Part of us went with you,
The day God took you home.

JV Team Wins EWC Boys Golf Title, KHS Varsity Finishes Third in EWC

By JUDY HARLOW
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Kewaskum High School boys golf teams accomplished their preseason goals this year by winning the Junior Varsity Conference Championship while the varsity finished in the top three in league competition. This was the third consecutive title by the K.H.S. JVs within the Eastern Wisconsin Conference.

The Indians were successful despite not being able to host a home match at Hon-E-Kor due to the rain and flooded course. Both teams competed in six regular season conference matches with the varsity participating in the conference tournament as well.

Of those six mini-tour events, the junior varsity twice took first place with one second, third and fourth place finish. Kewaskum accumulated 18 total team points, defeating the Plymouth JV's by one point. The perennial powerhouse Panthers dominated the E.W.C. at the varsity level throughout the season by taking first in all eight contests.

Kewaskum's finish was truly a team effort as fifteen (15) different team members contributed to the local linksters league lead and final placement. Four varsity letterwinners competed in all seven events, whereas eleven players helped K.H.S. to capture their third straight league title. Only Junior Jake Schweder played in all the junior varsity conference contests.

Players who posted not only their team low score but also were the junior varsity meet medalists were senior Brandon Gitter at The Bull, sophomore Jason Jahnke at Auburn Bluffs and freshmen Casey Scheel at Meadow Links. Only three varsity team members finished in the top five throughout league play: Chad Piwoni (38), Luke Koch (40) and Adam Lehnertz (40).

Several team members contributed to both teams during the season including seniors Brandon Gitter and Peter Paulus, sophomore Jason Jahnke and freshman Casey Scheel. The Indians lineup finally solidified when team captain senior Ryan Koepke moved into the number one slot and finished his season by recording nine hole scores of 41, 41, 42, & 38.

Much of the credit for the Jay Vee Teams continuing success goes to assistant coach, Mr. Scott Rohlinger. Scott has won four conference titles in a row including a junior varsity girls championship the one year he assisted the girls teams as well. Coach Rohlinger is a very capable, personable and thoughtful golf coach. Congratulations to Scott and all the members of the boys golf teams.

Kewaskum Loses to Plymouth After Two Wins

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

After winning two Eastern Wisconsin Conference games in a row with some pretty impressive hitting, the Kewaskum High baseball team was stonewalled by Plymouth on Thursday evening, losing a 6-1 decision while leaving quite a few base runners stranded.

A quick count indicated a total of seven Indians were left on base, but that definitely was not the case for the host Panthers, who successfully converted on almost every scoring opportunity they had.

"They (Panthers) had a couple home runs, but they did not leave many runners on ... just two," KHS Coach Dave Donath said about the contest, reporting Plymouth catcher Dusty Medred blasted a two-run homer in the first inning, and Thomas Johns added a leadoff solo shot in the fourth inning.

Kewaskum's lone tally came in the third inning, thanks to a double by freshman Dan Shea and a pair of ground outs, the last one by Brandon Prom.

"We ended the game with a crazy triple play," Donath said, reporting the seventh had started out very well with Tim Trott and Jason Meyer stroking back-to-back singles. Shea was up next and he hit a pop up in the infield, which the umpire signaled as an infield fly, meaning he was automatically out.

"Meyer thought he had to go," Donath said, so when he started running, Trott also took off and both were eventually tagged out.

The winning pitcher was Ryan Beebe, who gave up eight hits. Loser Brett Zimdars, now 2-2 in the EW, limited the Panthers to six hits, but two of them were the homers.

"He pitched good enough. We just didn't get enough runs for him," Donath said, reporting his leading hitters were Meyer, who went 3x4, and Jon Olla, who had two hits, including a double.

Indians ground the Jets

In Tuesday's home game vs. Manitowoc Roncalli, the Indians were wielding red-hot bats to the tune of a 10-3 victory.

Kewaskum wound up with 14 hits, according to Donath, who said Olla was the leader of the barrage, going 4x4 with two RBI and a triple. Matt Parrent was 2x2 with a pair of stolen bases, and both Nate Steiner and Trott chipped in with two hits.

Meyer picked up the win, going the distance, while giving up seven hits, striking out four and walking three.

KHS wins thriller

On Monday, June 22, the situation against host Campbellsport looked a little grim until the late innings when the Indians came though to post a 13-7 victory.

"That was pretty interesting," Donath said. "We were down 7-1 in the fourth," Donath said, reporting his team scored four times in the fifth and a single run in the sixth to climb to within one run at 7-6.

"Then we scored seven (in the seventh)," Donath went on, noting his Indians took full advantage of three hits they had, along with a catcher interference call and a pair of Cougar errors.

Shea came through with a single that drove in two runs, and Olla's clutch double was responsible for two more runs.

Kewaskum wound up with a hefty dozen hits, and Abe Foerster's three-inning stint on the mound was also instrumental in the win.

Prom went the first three innings and gave up six runs. Zimdars was called on in relief in the fourth and he gave up another run. Then Donath turned to Foerster (2-12), and "He shut them down the rest of the way."

Shea had an excellent outing, going 3x5 with a double and three RBI, while Prom was 2x3 with two RBI and Trott collected three hits in four trips to the plate for two RBI.

"At that point, Tim was hitting .500, so he must be right around there," Donath said.

Huskies are too tough

A week ago, the Indians hosted New Holstein for the second time this season and they didn't have the success they did earlier, losing an 8-5 decision.

"We ended up with eight hits, but they had 14 hits. Everybody in their lineup had a hit," Donath said, reporting Olla went 2x4 and Trott was 2x3.

KHS led 2-1 in the second but the Huskies scored three times in the third and never looked back.

Zimdars took the loss.

2004 KHS Boys Golf Team Awards Presented

On Sunday, June 27th, the 2004 Kewaskum High School boys golf team held their annual Awards Banquet at Woody's Steakhouse. All attendees enjoyed a family style meal prepared and served by the staff at Woody's. All those who partook of the delicious banquet dinner gave their collective appreciation and thanks for the fine food and superior service provided by Woody's staff, which includes assistant coach Scott Rohlinger.

To start the Awards Presentation, all family, friends and fans of members of the boys golf teams were greeted and welcomed by the coaching staff. Then Head Boys Coach Glenn Eichstedt introduced special guests and honorees who were invited on behalf of the team.

Certificates of Appreciation were presented to volunteer assistants Tom Theusch and James Westphal for their help and support throughout the season. Special recognition was given to the Girls Head Golf Coach, Mrs. Carol Martin for her inspiring messages and quotes. Athletic office personnel Jason Piittmann and Karen Kissinger were acknowledged for their assistance.

Prior to the distribution of awards, the coaches commented upon the quality and depth of the boys golf teams. Awards were presented to members of the reserves, junior varsity and varsity teams from freshmen through seniors. Initially, individual certificates, pins and medals were presented with the team plaques and trophies awarded to the recipients in attendance later on.

Each member of the varsity reserves received several certificates, recognition awards and a medal for winning the Indian Invite. Junior varsity team members were awarded with their Athletic Participation Awards, Numerals and Conference Championship Medals as well.

Varsity participants were distinguished by their acceptance of School Letters, Varsity Awards, Pins and Team Trophies which included seniors Ryan Koepke and Peter Paulus, juniors Luke Koch and Adam Lehnerz and sophomores Jason Jahnke and Chad Piwoni. Individual and match statistics were related as each letterwinner was presented their respective awards.

Finally, the highly acclaimed and voted upon team plaques were awarded to three following appropriate recipients:

Rookie-of-the-Year

Freshman Casey Scheel.
Most Improved Player - junior Adam Lehnerz.

Best Teammate - junior Jake Schweder.
2004 Team Captains - senior Ryan Koepke, junior Adam Lehnerz.

Most Valuable Player - sophomore Chad Piwoni

Head Coach Eichstedt read a national letter of recognition of assistant coach Scott Rohlinger for capturing his fourth consecutive Junior Varsity Conference Title as a means of introduction. Then J.V. Coach Rohlinger summarized the season as well as sharing his vision of future seasons. With four of the top five varsity team members possibly returning next year, the outlook for 2005 is very promising.

The Awards Ceremony concluded with coaching staff discussing the unusual season with cancellations, closed courses, changed venues and no home meet all due to weather conditions. The Awards Banquet culminated with the K.H.S. boys golf coaches extending their gratitude to the parents of their student-athletes.

Congratulations to all award recipients and their families.

Kiel Wins Third Straight Over Indians

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

There's no doubt about it. The Kiel High varsity baseball team certainly had Kewaskum's number this summer.

The Raiders won all three Eastern Wisconsin Conference meetings against the Indians, including a 6-4 decision on Friday in which Kewaskum out hit the hosts by a nine to six margin.

With the loss, Kewaskum falls to 6-6 in the EW and 7-8 overall.

"Five in the second on one hit," Kewaskum Coach Dave Donath groaned about the one inning that really was the decider in the contest.

The inning started with a leadoff walk, then starter and loser Abe Foerster (2-3) hit one of the Raiders, and his counterpart, Mike Zeis, doubled in both runners.

After getting a ground out for the first out, an error allowed Zeis to score, then Foerster gave up another free pass to first, and the second error in the inning allowed two more Raiders to dash home.

"They sent nine guys to the plate," Donath said, reporting Foerster gave up just one more run, that coming in the sixth inning. For the game, he struck out two, walked five and gave up six hits. Of the six runs, only three were earned.

Kewaskum drew to within two runs when it rallied for three runs in the top of the fourth. After one out, the Indians got three straight hits, singles by Jon Olla and Brandon Prom and a double that scored Olla. Prom scored on a fielder's choice by Garret Donath, and Parrent eventually scored on a single by Ross Stockhausen.

"We left the bases loaded in the fourth," Donath said, reporting the inning ended when Josh Meyer hit into a fielder's choice.

The Indians' total reached four when Dan Shea led off the fifth with a homer to deep center field. "It was quite a blast. It was hit hard," Donath said of the freshman Shea's first career home run.

In the last two games, losses to Kiel and Plymouth, Kewaskum has had more hits than its opponents but just not always at the right time.

"That's about it," Donath said, hoping this recent trend will disappear quickly so the Indians can finish the EW season on a high note.

After home games against Sheboygan Falls and Plymouth on Tuesday and Wednesday, the Indians are at New Holstein this evening (Thursday).

KHS Golfer Places In Summer Tourney

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Jason Jahnke, who will be a junior at Kewaskum High School this fall, took home a plaque after finishing in third place in a summer tournament held in Watertown on Friday, June 25th.

Jahnke, who played fourth or fifth man on the KHS boys golf team this spring, shot a 79 in the event, which was held at the new Windwood CC in Watertown.

There were 50 players in Jahnke's division for 16 to 18-year olds. The medalist fired a 4-over par 76, and the runner-up was one shot back.

Jahnke started out with a 40 on the front nine, and he came back with a 3-over-par 39 on the back.

The average dairy cow weighs about 1,400 pounds, which is approximately the same size as Alaska's record-breaking polar bear.
