BUSH MOTORCADE PASSES THROUGH KEWASKUM

For the first time in its 109 year existence Kewaskum got to play a small role in welcoming a US president as George W. Bush made a point of taking his motorcade through Kewaskum on his way to Fond du Lac Wednesday morning.

"The spirit of America right here in our county was phenomenal! I was so proud of our President," Jan Baldock, Chairman of the Washington County Republican Party.

Please see pages of this issue for a complete pictorial. The Statesman will feature an article on our website and in next week's edition on what it took to prepare for this visit.

President George W. Bush's Motorcade proceeds north to Fond du Lac off USH 45 to STH 28 on its departure from Kewaskum. Though the drive-thru of President Bush was kept hush-hush hundreds of village residents showed their support.

Katie Gensmer's body was found Wednesday, June 20 on the New-Fane Hiking Trail in the town of Auburn.

Brace has been held in the Fond du Lac County Jail, according to Fond du Lac County Sheriff's Department. He was held on a violation of his probation and DNR-related ordinances violations.

Grothman Will Challenge Panzer for Senate Seat

BY ANDREW KUEHL
 STATESMAN MANAGING EDITOR
 akuehl@kewaskumstatesman.com

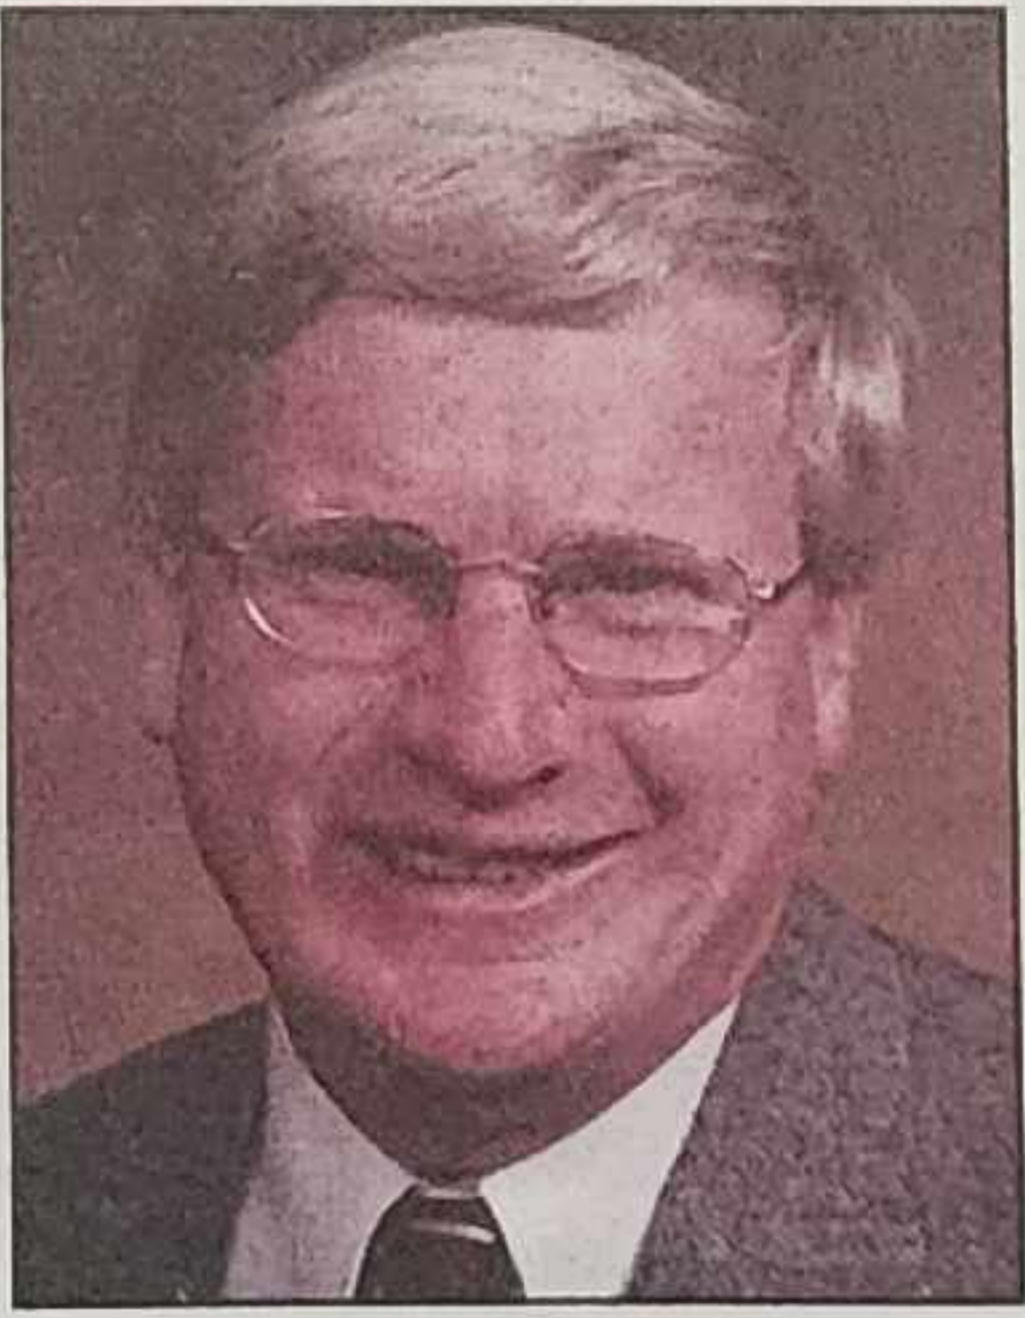

Senate Majority Leader, Mary Panzer will face Assemblyman Glenn Grothman, one of Washington County's most popular politicians in the fall election.

After receiving criticism from fellow republican senators in the state Grothman turned in his nomination papers with over 2,000 signatures. Candidates for the position need a total of 400.

Wednesday morning Grothman stated, "Some Senators were supportive, some were not. Most assemblymen were supportive."

Panzer has served in the Wisconsin Legislature since 1980. Grothman got his start in politics in 1993 when he acquired Panzer's assembly seat after moving up to the senate seat she could now lose.

Senator Panzer was elected Floor Leader in January 2000. In 2003, she became Major

Glenn Grothman

Leader. She is currently the longest serving woman in the Wisconsin Legislature.

"The support of people from all over the district has been overwhelmingly. Now is the time to bring the Republican Party back to its roots of pro-life, conservative family values and less government intrusion and lower taxes. And most importantly, it would be wonderful to represent the Kewaskum area again," said Grothman

Ogi to Celebrate 50 Years Of Veterinary Practice

For Dr. Charles Ogi, July marks 50 years of practicing veterinary medicine in Kewaskum. Most days one will find "Doc" still in the office of the Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic caring for his patients. Fifty years of practicing veterinary medicine has allowed Dr. Ogi the opportunity to do what he loves most, namely to visit with people and care for their pets and animals.

When asked what he has learned from 50 years of working with people and animals, Ogi responded, "Animals are a lot like people. They learn from their owners like children learn from their parents. You can see if they have been treated right or treated wrong."

Dr. Ogi graduated from Ohio State University in 1954. With his wife and children, he came to Kewaskum and began the veterinary practice out of their home. "Having the business in my home gave me the chance to be with my family," said Doc.

For many years Dr. Ogi's wife, Donna, was an integral part of his practice. "She was the bookkeeper and receptionist and took care of the family at the same time," said Ogi.

"Things were very different in those early years," said Ogi. "Most days began at the crack of dawn with large animal care and emergencies. I finished most days well after most people were tucked away in bed."

Today, the practice employs five doctors and 10 support staff. One of those doctors, Greg Ogi, the youngest son of Dr. Charles Ogi, now owns the practice. He concurred about the work ethic of his father.

"Dad kept an incredible schedule. I recall, as a child, finding him fast asleep in the bathtub following an emergency call, too tired to get out of the tub and into bed. Yet, he would be up and at it with vigor at the first ring of the telephone from someone needing medical care for his or her pet.

"My father has had a great influence on my life," said Dr. Greg. "He has a passion for his life's work and that is obvious to anyone who has had the opportunity to visit with him. I recall one long-time dairy client who told me that in 30 years of farming there was never a time when he called dad out for a sick cow or other emergency that dad didn't arrive whistling, singing or both. There was always a hearty greeting and a comment about what a great day it was even if it was raining or if the emergency came at two in the morning!"

Dr. Ogi's practice has changed through the years both in medical advances and the ratio of small to large animals that are cared for, as well as the level of care that can now be provided.

"When I began, my practice was about 80% large animal care and 20% small animal care. Now we see about 50 to 60% small animal," said the elder Ogi. "People consider their pets as family and want the best care possible for them. The dairy farms we work for have certainly decreased in number but increased in size with many now having 400 or 500 cows milking."

During this time, great strides have been seen in diagnostic procedures and equipment utilized for animal care as well as improvement in doctor hours.

"When dad came to town in 1954, he was the generation with all the new tools - antibiotics, sterile surgery and many medications used in human medicine. All these things he employed on his own. Now we have the benefit of taking x-rays, running complex lab work within minutes, or utilizing ultrasound and video endoscopy. We make use of veterinary technicians or assistants and can discuss cases with five doctors on staff, we really get a chance to enjoy time with our families, free from work. It also makes it easier to provide our clients with high quality 24-hour emergency care."

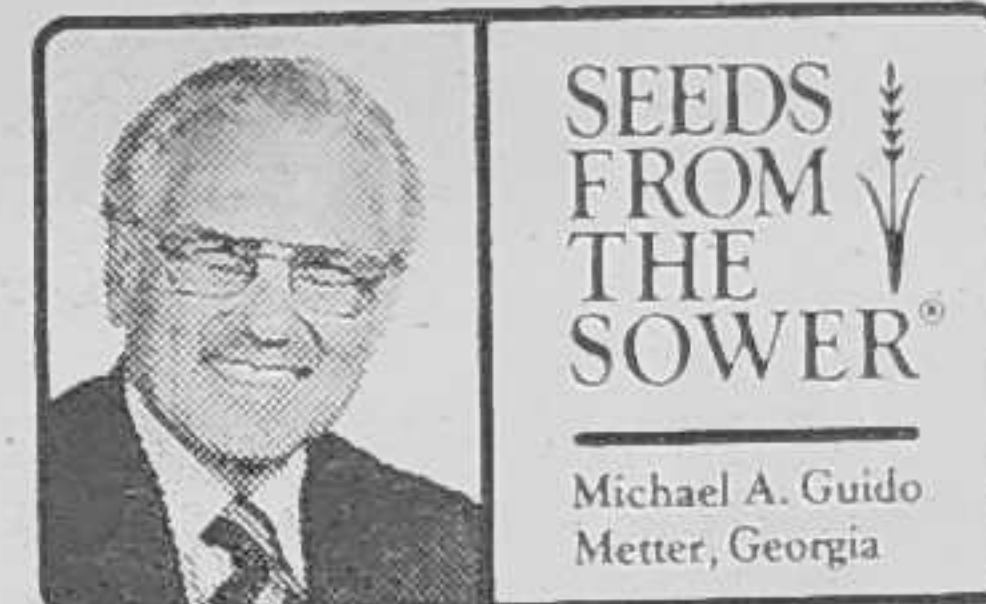

Though semi-retired, Doc Ogi has said he will never completely give up the practice of veterinary medicine, according to his son.

"Dad has a passion for his life's work and I genuinely believe he feels blessed to have had the chance to visit with people, care for their pets and make a living from it. He has taught me the value of having a passion and working at it and surrounding myself with other doctors and staff who feel the same way. Pet and animal owners in Kewaskum and the surrounding communities who have called dad their doctor all these years have been well served. I have been very lucky to work with him these past 22 years since my own graduation from veterinary school."

With any luck, that tradition of a Doctor Ogi caring for pets and animals in Kewaskum and surrounding communities may well continue for many years to come as three of Dr. Greg's children have expressed a strong interest in following in their grandpa's footsteps. That legacy probably pleases him as much as any other situation he has encountered all these years.

There will be an Open House at the Kewaskum Veterinary Clinic at 1040 Fond du Lac Avenue on Saturday, July 17, to congratulate Dr. Charles Ogi on this great milestone. The doctors and staff extend a welcome to all who wish to come and join in the festivities beginning at 12:30 p.m. Tours of the clinic and boarding facility will be given, food, beverages and door prizes will be provided. All are welcome.

Some businessmen were thrown together in a hotel lobby, and to their surprise they discovered that each one was a Christian.

"You can tell a Rotarian by his pin," said one, "and a policeman by his badge. Why don't Christians have a badge?"

"They have," answered my friend. "Our Lord said, 'By this shall all men know that you are My disciples, if you have love one to another.'"

Love is the Christian's badge. If love is absent, God is absent, for God is love.

A Christian doesn't love because of something on the outside, but because of something on the inside - God.

Receive the God of love, won't you? Then you'll have the love of God.

Boy Scout Camp for Kewaskum Troop 744

Kewaskum Boy Scout Troop 744

Eleven of our scouts from Kewaskum Troop 744 spent the week of June 20th at Bear Paw Camp in Oconto County. The week was spent having fun with 329 other scouts and each of us working on getting Merit Badges. We tented and the weather was clear most of the week with just one day of rain. Our mornings started with a wake up bell at 7 a.m. and the flag raising ceremony at 7:40. Then we went to breakfast and by 9 a.m. we went to merit badge activities. Many of us attended three activities a day. The flag was retired in a ceremony each day at 5:40 p.m. and then we had dinner. After that we went back to our campsite and spent the time with our troop, a planned campfire or camp activity.

Scouts from our troop who attended were Kevin Jacobi (Senior Patrol Leader), Miles Yenter, Clark and Tyler Stamm, James Blecha, Jonathan Walters, Ryan Petri, Kyle Jurss, Evan Schneider, Tyler Kirst and me, Nic Faber. Parents and leaders that attended the camp with us were Neil Jurss, Neal Walters, Ann Neumann (leader), Mary Faber, Mike Petri and Brian Kober (Scoutmaster).

One of the most memorable events of the week for me was the Order of the Arrow Ceremony. That is a special honor that only a few scouts achieve. Scouts and leaders can be nominated by their troops to be inducted into the Order of the Arrow. These are scouts and leaders who have shown dedication and commitment to scouting. Clark Stamm and Ann Neumann (leader) were both inducted into the Order in a special ceremony. As part of the ceremony they had to sleep one night in the woods with twenty-nine other inductees of the Order of the Arrow and spend the next day in service activities away from our troop. James Blecha, who was already a member of the Order volunteered to participate in the overnight campout and also spend the day in service. The ceremony began as all scouts and leaders were gathered in the "Field of Dreams" and we watched someone jump through a ring of fire. Then we followed the path for about a half a mile through the woods which led to the ceremony area where there were three large campfires and many scouts dressed in Indian outfits as they choose the new members. The ceremony was really impressive and something that I will always remember.

The badges that members of our troop worked on were: Kevin Jacobi - Small Boat Sailing, Woodcarving, Wilderness Survival.

Miles Yenter - Fishing,

Forestry, Camping
Nic Faber - Rifle, Fishing, Environmental Science

James Blecha - Astronomy, Environmental Science, Weather

Clark Stamm - Astronomy, Environmental Science, Mammal Study

Tyler Stamm - Astronomy, Small Boat Sailing, Basketry, Art

Jonathan Walters, Archery, Mammal Study, Sculpture.

Ryan Petri - Eagle Challenge, Archery, Fishing

Kyle Jurss - Eagle Challenge, Rifle, Fishing

Evan Schneider - Eagle Challenge, Woodcarving, Fishing.

The week was really filled with fun activities. If anyone wants more information on how to join a scout troop, you can contact our Scoutmaster Brian Kober at 626-2335.

Nic Faber, Troop Scribe

Who Will Be the Fairest of the Fair

Andrea Roth, your 2003 Washington County Fairest of the Fair will be giving up her crown and job as the ambassador of the Washington County Fair on Tuesday, July 20. The finals of the Fairest of the Fair judging will be held at 6 p.m., July 20 at the WTKM Polka Pavilion stage.

Six applicants will be competing to be the 2004 Fairest of the Fair. Judging for the contest will be taking place most of the day prior to the evening program with personal interview, group interviews and presentations of the radio commercials. The panel of judges will be making their decisions based on personality and attitude, maturity and professionalism, speaking ability, poise and appearance, involvement and activities and overall impressions.

The one year term as Fairest will begin after the announcement of the new Fairest. The fairest will be serving as spokesperson for the Fair as the official host at most of the events held during the fair. In January, 2005, she will represent Washington County at the Wisconsin Fairest of the Fair Competition. The person selected for that position will work at the Wisconsin State Fair in the summer of 2005 as the official host of the Fair.

This years applicants include:

Stephanie Lynn Mantz - Stephanie, the daughter of Wendy and Duane Mantz, is a 2004 graduate of Slinger High School. While attending school she has been active in Peers for Peers, Debate Team, Environmental Club, President and Ambassador for the 4-H Club, and a member of the Washington County Agriculture and Industrial Society. Stephanie has been involved in her youth group at church, worked at the Volunteer Center and the Head Start Program. She plans to attend UW-Milwaukee and work on a degree program in Architecture and eventually work as an architectural designer at an architecture firm. Being Fairest of the Fair means to Stephanie, "promoting the fair as much as possible and encouraging others to participate in it."

Samantha Pepprock - Hartford High School's, 2004 graduate, Samantha Pepprock is the daughter of Beth and Danny Pepprock of Richfield. She was active in drama, concert band, marching band, and was an early graduate of high school. Samantha has been active in the community Sunday Church, litter pick-up, babysitting, lawn cutting, Richfield Days, June Fest and Lions Activities. Being Fairest of the Fair, to Samantha, means that you are a well-rounded, involved citizen who lives a positive lifestyle. It's quite an accomplishment these days to not be wrapped up in all those negative, unhealthy habits of most teenagers. The Fairest is selfless and generous to other, maybe looking to make a difference in this world even if it is only by one person at a time.

AnnMarie Schowalter - AnnMarie, of Jackson, is a 2001 graduate of Kettle Moraine Lutheran High School and is the daughter of Charles and Margaret Schowalter. In high school she was on the forensics team and the biology club. She was very active in 4-H and was on the leaders board and served as Vice President. She has held many offices in 4-H and participated in numerous activities including Friends Helping Friends, Camp and Safety Day camp. Her involvement in the community has included delivering meals to homebound seniors, volunteering at The Family Center, served as an adult ambassador to 4-H, and taking sheep to various functions. "Being Fairest is something I always wanted to do from little on. I think the Fairest of the Fair is to promote the fair to the community." She is someone who has reaped the benefits of the fair. "I think this is the ultimate job. The fairest of the fair promotes good relationships between the community and the fair," she continued.

Ashley Schowalter - Ashley is the daughter of Ray and Cindy Schowalter of Jackson and graduated from Kettle Moraine High School. She was active in forensics, soccer, Echoes Too (Swing Choir), German Club and 4-H. She is a sophomore at Wisconsin Lutheran College and is involved with commuter activities foreign language events. I feel my duty is to welcome fair patrons and encourage the public to attend the Washington County Fair."

Courtney Lynn Timblin - Courtney is the daughter of Tom and Debbie Timblin of Kewaskum and a 2002 graduate of Kewaskum High School. While attending high school she was active in basketball, Future Business Leaders of America, Student Council, and on the golf team while earning the honor of being named on the Academic All State Golf Team. Record Number Crowd Attends C-Sport Truck Pull

The second annual Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce (CACC) truck pull drew record crowds for the second year. Over 1,500 people attended this event held after the July 4th parade and was part of the Campbellsport Fire Department parade and picnic.

Nine teams consisting of five people pulled over 48,000 lbs. of semi and material weighted on the back. The major sponsor this year was Perron Trucking who donated $500 for first place. Koffman Auto Body donated $250 for the first place team to donate to the charity of their choice.

This year's winner Twohig's Furniture and Flooring donated their $250 to the CACC July 4th Parade Fund. Perron's trucking took second place, and Campbellsport Building Supply took third.

Nick "Dough Boy" Kreif, spokesman for Twohig's team, indicated they fully expect to win next year too. "We are going to win next year too and make it a threepeat. There is no doubt about it. Bring it on." The confident Mr. Kreif indicated to start getting your team together now to see if you can beat them in 2005.

Next year promises to be bigger and better. Tom's Quality Millwork will be the major sponsor and a larger p.a. system will be implemented so the large crowd can hear the hip hop music and the d.j. team. Mark your calendar now for July 4, 2005 so you don't miss one of the largest free events in our area.

Rinzels Have Reason to Celebrate

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Now designated as a chapel, St. Matthias Catholic Church on County S, several miles north of Kewaskum, is only used for weddings, funerals and a few special occasions each year.

The recent Mass for the Rinzel Reunion certainly qualifies under the latter category. It's not every day a family can gather for a personal sesquicentennial ... it was 150 years ago that Wilhelm Rinzel left his wife in Germany to come to a land that was full of promise and opportunity.

Of course, having a Mass was easier for the Rinzels who could BTOP, Bring Their Own Priests, Father Jerome Rinzel, who is currently the pastor at St. Leonard's Church in Muskego and Fr. David Windsor (a cousin), who is the Admissions Director at St. Francis Seminary. The two men concelebrated the Mass at St. Matthias.

It was a special day for Fr. Jerry Rinzel, whose 66th birthday was the same day as the reunion.

"Our great-grandfather helped build that church (St. Matthias)," Don Rinzel, one of the organizers of the recating Wilhelm Rinzel left his wife Marie (Degner) in Germany when he came to the United States. She continued to work in Germany, saving $10 per year for four years until she had saved enough for her passage to America.

"She came over in 1858," Rinzel said, indicating the two set up their home at "Moon Lake," and started a family. Marie Rinzel had her first child at 31 and wound up with a family of 11, although two died early.

The fourth child, Hubert Rinzel, was my grandfather. He and his wife, Louisa, also had a large family.

"We had more than 100 Rinzels, their spouses and children," Don Rinzel said, indicating the day began with the Mass and then proceeded to a cottage on Forest Lake owned by Benny and Leona Rinzel, Don's parents.

"It was a pot luck. We had a real good time," Don Rinzel said. "We had people from all over the Country ... Maryland, Washington D.C. Manhattan."

Rinzel and his wife now live in the south, "But we still talk like Wisconsinites," Don Rinzel said.

Along with plenty of food and fun, there was reminiscing along with several prizes given out. The oldest attendee was Uncle Andy Rinzel, 85, the youngest and only remaining living child of Hubert and Louisa (Rauen) Rinzel. The youngest participant was Nicholas Ferges, just six weeks old and the great grandson of Hubert and Louisa, and grandson of Larry and Lynn Rinzel.

The prize for coming the farthest was shared by the Tim Fellenz family. They came all the way from San Jose, California.

Closer to home, there was the Fellenz family from Neenah, Kathleen Rinzel, a single retired teacher from St. Kilian, Maureen and Steve Hein from St. Kilian, Larry and Lynn Rinzel from St. Kilian, Joe and Cathy Rinzel who love life in the Town of Submitted photo union said last week, while traveling back to his home in Columbia, South Carolina.

Wilhelm Rinzel lived in Bengel, Germany, according to Don Rinzel, who said, "They wanted to escape the Kaiser, and they were looking for more land," so he booked a passage on a ship coming to the United States and went through Ellis Island in October of 1854.

From New York, he moved west to Chicago to work, and eventually he arrived in Wisconsin. He worked in Milwaukee and later found some land near Mauthe Lake.

"That used to be Moon Lake," Rinzel explained, indi-

Wayne with their children and Mary and King Riffel of West Bend.

"Mary Riffel is Fr. Jerry's sister," Don Rinzel said.

"Our celebration of 150 years of our family here in the good ol' USA was a wonderful event that clearly demonstrated, again, the importance of God, family and Country ... all exorably tied together by history and the desire to be free to worship as we want and to improve our lives for our children's sakes," Don Rinzel said. "We will probably do this every four or five years."

Rinzel noted several members of the old St. Matthias Church, Dennis Zefran and his wife Marilyn, Sandy and Dick Goslinowski and Grace Rosplock cleaned and readied the church for the Rinzel family.

"We are truly indebted to them for all their work," Don Rinzel said. "They were made honorary family members."

Kist Elected to Serve on The Rock River Coalition

Warren Topel, President of the Rock River Coalition announced that Roger Kist, the Executive Director of the Washington County Convention and Visitors Bureau has been elected to serve as a director on the Rock River Coalition. The Rock River basin includes parts of ten counties and has its headwaters in Washington and Fond du Lac Counties. Roger last served on the board 1998 to 1999 and has been a member of the RRC for the past seven years.

The Rock River Coalition holds several educational sessions, has received grants for monitoring the River and works toward a cleaner Rock River. The Rock River Coalition's mission is: "To educate and provide opportunities for people of diverse interests to work together to protect and improve the environmental, recreational, cultural and economic resources of the Rock River Basin."

This of course is one of the reasons we are pleased to have Roger as a director, stated Topel. The Rock River is a very important part of making these ten counties attractive to the tourism trade.

One of their next events is the day long "Odyssey of Nature" held on property just south of Fort Atkinson, 920-674-7297. Mark your calendars for September 18th for a bike ride from Hartford to Pike Lake State Park, a family fun ride with a picnic lunch.

Whats New in 2004 at the Fair

July 20-25, 2004 will mark the sixth Fair held at the new Washington County Fair Park. Over the years many new things have been added to the Fair. This year, fair patrons will once again see many additions, as well as the return of some of the past events.

The Fair has been extended another day with the opening on Tuesday, July 20 at 5 p.m. This will be "Washington County Appreciation Night" and there will be no admission charged. Food vendors will be in place and serving those tempting Fair treats. Also added is an adult Battle of the Bands to complement the youth Battle. This will be held in the Entertainment Tent beginning at 5 p.m. Also featured will be the crowning of the new 2004 Fairest of the Fair, taking place in the WTKM Pavilion at 6 p.m.

The Main Stage area will host the annual Tractor Pull beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Also, new this year is the carnival. Fair officials have signed a one-year contract with Rainbow Valley Rides and on Tuesday evening, they will featuring a special "Buddy Night," buy one ticket, your buddy rides free.

Other new attractions to the Fairgrounds this year include a mechanical bull ride, a family petting/zoo farm, including pony rides and a Kids Buck$ Game Show. The feature of this children's show is to randomly select members of the audience to participate in wild and crazy games. The final winner enters the Kid-buck$ chamber and grabs as many "Kidbuck$" as possible as they swirl about the chamber.

Pick 'n Save Care for Critters, presented by the Zoological Society of Milwaukee will be featured Friday and Saturday at 1:30 p.m. on the Pavilion Building Stage. Fairgoers will be entertained with such animals as owls, eagles, a falcon, a vulture, parrots and snakes.

The Rad Hatter hat making station is bound to be fun for the whole family. This is an area where hats are actually made out of recycled materials while participants decorate and add to each hat for a great Fair keepsake.

Back by popular demand is the Truck Pull. The event, featuring modified trucks, super stock trucks, stock trucks (gas and diesel) and smoker tractors will be held on Sunday afternoon beginning at 3p.m.

Several new food vendors have been added to the food court. As Mini Donuts will feature hot tasty mini donuts, fruit smoothies, nachos, giant pickles and more. Smokin' BBQ will be cooking up ribs wings, turkey drumsticks, sweet potatoes, and other BBQ specialties. Woody's Steak House will be available to tempt you with shrimp, chicken, and steak kabobs. Tony's Specialty will be bringing a part of Italy to the Fair by offering assorted varieties of pizza. Adding Chinese cuisine will be Wok N Roll, featuring egg rolls, crab rangoons, hot wings, chicken and shrimp fried rice and much more.

A Chain Saw Race will be featured on Saturday evening in the Farm Progress Arena. This was a very popular event at the old fairgrounds in Slinger and has been brought back to entertain fairgoers. Check it out to see who can cut logs in the fastest time to compete for prizes.

Also added this year will be a special Washington County tent. This tent will feature representatives from all county departments on hand to answer your questions and find out what is all available through your county government.

Plan to attend the 146th annual Washington County Fair, July 20-25 to see the many new improvements to the grounds as well as the new attractions featured. There is judging, musical entertainment as well as daily carnival specials for the entire family.

Little Folks Learn Important Lessons

Deputy Ron Rewertz of the Washington County Sheriff's Department recently spoke to the children of Little Folks Schoolhouse in Wayne. Submitted Photo

The Little Folks School House recently received their annual visit from Deputy Ron Rewertz of the Washington County Sheriff's Department. The visit was scheduled to coincide with a safety unit the children were working on.

Deputy Ron's presentation began with an introduction to the "tools of the trade." He introduced his radio, handcuffs, pepper spray, baton and revolver. He gave examples of how and when each piece might be used. He spoke in length regarding stranger awareness, fire safety and the importance of seatbelt use.

The children were also educated on the 911 system and how to use it along with the consequences for "fake" calls.

With summer among us, Deputy Ron also thought it was important to talk about bike and water safety. The children were very curious and asked many questions.

To conclude the lessons, the children were invited outside to investigate the deputy's squad car. He explained the different sirens and lights as he turned them on. Each child was given the opportunity to climb inside the car. Before saying his goodbyes, Deputy Ron left a little gift pack for each child.

The children who enjoyed this visit ranged from ages two to 10. The staff at Little Folks School House believe that a child is never too young to learn some of these lessons which at some point could prove to be very valuable. They need to learn right from wrong and what to do should they find themselves in certain situations. You just can't be too careful in today's world. The Little Folks, the teachers and the parents would like to thank Deputy Ron for another great and informative visit.

IN MEMORY

In memory of DARLENE ROHLINGER, who passed away six years ago, July 16, 1998:

Somewhere back of the sunset,
Where the loveliness never dies,
She lives in the land of glory,
Mid the blue and gold of skies.

Gone from us who loved her,
Into the Heaven of peace,
The home of our loving Savior
Where her soul is happily at ease.
Her life is a beautiful memory
Her absence a silent grief,
She sleeps in God's beautiful garden,
In the sunset of perfect peace.

Sadly missed by Husband, Sons & Grandchildren

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of EUGENE PESCH, who passed away eight years ago, July 19, 1996:

We think of you in silence,
And often say your name,
But all that's left to answer us,
Is your picture in a frame,
We often look at your picture
And your smile seems to say,
"Don't grieve for me, I'm only resting,
And you'll see me someday."

Deeply missed by your family

IN MEMORY

In memory of ROBERT "GABBY" GAVIN, who passed away nine years ago, July 20, 1995:

We wanted you to live forever,
But it was not meant to be.
Each day you became weaker,
and grew wings we couldn't see.

As your body began to fade,
your wings grew stronger still.

We prayed for more time with you,
But going home to God was his will.

We wanted you to stay with us,
Just a little while more.

But your wings now fully grown,
Gently took you to God's door.

We know our souls will meet again,
at heaven's pearly gate.

But for now memories comfort us,
Until that precious date.

Our time on earth isn't over,
For we've no wings to fly above.

So we'll continue life down here,
With the memory of your love.

*Forever missed, but never forgotten

The Circus in Winter

By: Cathy Day

C A T H Y D A Y

There is a theory that says a butterfly in Africa can create an air current that can cause a hurricane on the North American coast. Correct or not, the theory illustrates that a small act can have repercussions that far outpace the act itself. Isn't it strange to think that something you do today could affect people years from now? In the new novel "The Circus in Winter" by Cathy Day (c.2004, Harcourt), one man's grieving actions change the lives of people for generations.

Wallace Porter never thought he'd fall in love, until the day he laid eyes on the most beautiful girl he'd ever seen. Wallace married Irene in 1883, and moved her to Lima, Indiana, where they hoped to settle down and raise a family, but soon after their marriage, Irene sickened and died. In his grief, and not knowing exactly what to do, Porter bought a circus.

The circus, of course, came complete with acts, including Jennie Dixianna, the beautiful acrobat who performed the Spin of Death. Dixianna was conniving, she used people as she saw fit, and she loved to learn their secrets, even though Jennie carried a secret of her own.

There was Gordon, son of Pearly and Bascomb Bowles, both who worked the sideshow. Gordon grew up in the circus, and in the spring of 1901, was witness to the aftermath of a murder that he would remember all his life.

On that spring day, Caesar the elephant threw caretaker Hans Hofstadter in the river and held him underwater. After Caesar was killed in revenge, Elephant Jack, Hofstadter's assistant, said that the beast must have had a grudge to settle, but Gordon knew the truth: Elephant Jack had been tormenting Caesar, and the animal had had enough. Gordon never told his friend, Ollie Hofstadter the truth about how his father died, and Ollie became an old man, never knowing.

When Wallace Porter bought the circus, he didn't know that it would affect the lives of people for a hundred years. The buildings he built become the scene of tragedy for a young family. Around the town, secrets are kept, regrets remembered, and old grudges nursed. Former circus workers' lives become legend for those who come after them. And when Jennifer, Ollie's granddaughter, comes home to Lima for Ollie's funeral, she learns that there is comfort in a place where you're somehow connected to everyone in town.

Author Cathy Day has written a strong, beautiful, haunting novel of lives intertwined. Each of the people in this book has a story to tell, and although they all have secrets, nothing is covert in a small community, particularly one with a past as colorful as the one in Day's book. I loved the way Day uses words; sometimes very spare, and sometimes lush with meaning.

"The Circus in Winter" is one of the best books I've read so far this year. Pick up a copy. This is definitely a book you'll be recommending to friends.

Mary Meisser announced that the next Policy Committee Meeting is scheduled for June 28th. The Committee will continue to separate policy and procedure. Joy Weishan is the alternate community member. Gordie Dickman will be asked to attend the meeting on the 28th at 6 p.m. in the District Office.

District Administrator Graczyk gave a report on the National Convention he attended in San Francisco.

The Business and Finance Report was reviewed. Mr. Weare asked that Mr. Ellis give a report on the outside air ventilation system at the July 19th FTBG Committee Meeting.

A Volunteer Report was given by Kieth Kriewaldt.

Janet Molebash updated the Board of the Summer School program.

Officer Barry discussed his goals for the position of Police Liaison Officer.

Meisser/Weare motion to approve the following policies: #443.85-Internet Access; #446-Student Demonstrations; #443.7-Student Use of Beepers; #344.61-Home Based Education Transfers; #344.6-Home Based Education. All aye.

The discussion of forming a Community Committee to discuss referendum issues will be on the June 21st agenda.

Weare/Meisser motion to approve the Technology Report. Motion passed 4-0.

Weare/Meisser motion to approve a maternity leave request for Candi Block. All aye.

Wayne Graczyk referred the Board to a sample of the District Calendar which is presently being assembled in the District Office.

Meisser/Steiner motion to approve the WASB Membership Dues. Motion passed 4-0.

Meisser/Steiner motion to approve the following extra-curricular contracts: Alex Hill and John Berst for boys soccer, and Tiffany Zaring for junior class advisor. Motion failed due to a lack of the majority of the Board (determined to be 4 of 7) voting aye. (Please note that later it was determined that only an aye vote of the majority of those present was needed and therefore the motion did indeed pass. This will be noted in the June 21, 2004 Special Meeting Minutes.)

Meisser/Steiner motion to approve a contract for Lois Belanger as a Cognitive Disability Teacher at KHS. All aye.

Meisser/Steiner motion to approve a letter of resignation from Alison Berce. All aye.

Meisser/Steiner motion to adjourn. All aye. The meeting adjourned at 9:05 p.m.

A Board Worksession followed.

St. Croix River Trip

Hello Friends,

The St. Croix River begins at the St. Croix Flowage in Douglas County and flows south for about 165 miles where it empties into the Mississippi River at Prescott. Back in 1995 I did an ice trek of the entire St. Croix with my dogs Star and Pearl. The St. Croix, for the most part, is a wilderness river that has little human development. This past week, my wife Laurie and children Travis, Joey, and Selina and I canoed a 36-mile section of the river from Grantsburg to St. Croix Falls.

Thursday, July 1
High 83, Low 65

Today I made a new friend. Eric Flinn owns Eric's Bike and Canoe Rental in St. Croix Falls, (651) 270-1561. Eric transported my family and I to the Highway 70 bridge where we began our journey. Flinn is a native of Juneau, Alaska, who took a job in Minneapolis, got sick of the walls, and started an outdoor recreation business.

There were plenty of concerns for me regarding this trip the main one being safety. My wife Laurie would have to be captain of her own ship, with 12-year-old Travis as her crew. This would be a first for her, and I had high hopes she could handle it. My main goal for today was to get on the river, put on a couple of miles, and find a comfortable campsite. We reached that goal after an easy two-mile paddle when we came across an island with a channel running through it that provided safe swimming and beautiful scenery. Campfire wood was collected and we relaxed in a wilderness environment.

Friday, July 2
High 83, Low 54

Perhaps we should have brought fishing gear along. There is a monster fish that keeps surfacing about 40 yards out from camp. The water on this stretch of river runs from 1 to 5 feet deep and has a lot of boulders. Selina, Joey, and I made up the crew of our canoe. Selina is 3 and loves trips like this. For safety sake I keep her tethered to a six foot rope. Today was a challenge. A strong headwind our canoes upstream pushed anytime we quit paddling. My wife said that I told her this trip would be an easy float. Today was my 43rd birthday. We worked hard to paddle, and there were times Laurie had less than loving thoughts about her husband as she had to paddle very hard to put the 19 miles behind her. We all had to work hard. We made camp tonight on a sand strip near the Trader River that had a channel running through it. Mosquitoes were plentiful and enjoyed our blood. Selina said she was going to make her daddy a birthday cake and found several sticks and eagle feathers which she stuck in the sand in about two inches of water. The project took her quite a while and it was the best birthday cake I have ever had. Laurie cooked moose steak over an open fire and I celebrated my birthday in paradise. The entire night as we lay in our tents we could hear fish feeding on minnows five to 15 feet away. Next time I will bring the fishing gear.

Saturday, July 3
High 75, Low 50

What a change some experience and no head wind can make. I think my wife actually loves me again! My family is becoming a seasoned crew and we were on our last day. I suggested we hit the Mississippi and take her down to the Gulf of Mexico. Joey liked the idea, but perhaps another day. The stretch of river I mentioned was a real treat. It was safe paddling in an almost 100 percent wilderness environment. Today Laurie and Travis became a team in the canoe. I heard laughter, saw them work hard, and enjoy the day. We put 15 miles away and just as we finished loading up the truck at St. Croix Falls, it began to rain. I highly recommend this section of river for a canoe camping trip, or a smaller section for a day trip.

Larsen Needs Just One Shot on Par Three

Tom Larsen

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

There was a little more excitement than usual during the weekly Thursday afternoon golf competition at Hon-E-Kor Country Club on July 1st.

Providing the excitement, along with some free beverages later on, was Tom Larsen, a retired Kewaskum School District administrator.

Larsen scored a hole-in-one on the sixth hole of the Red Nine, which has been shortened since the June deluge of rain hit our fair state.

The hole currently measures 205-210 yards, and Larsen said he used a driver for his historic shot.

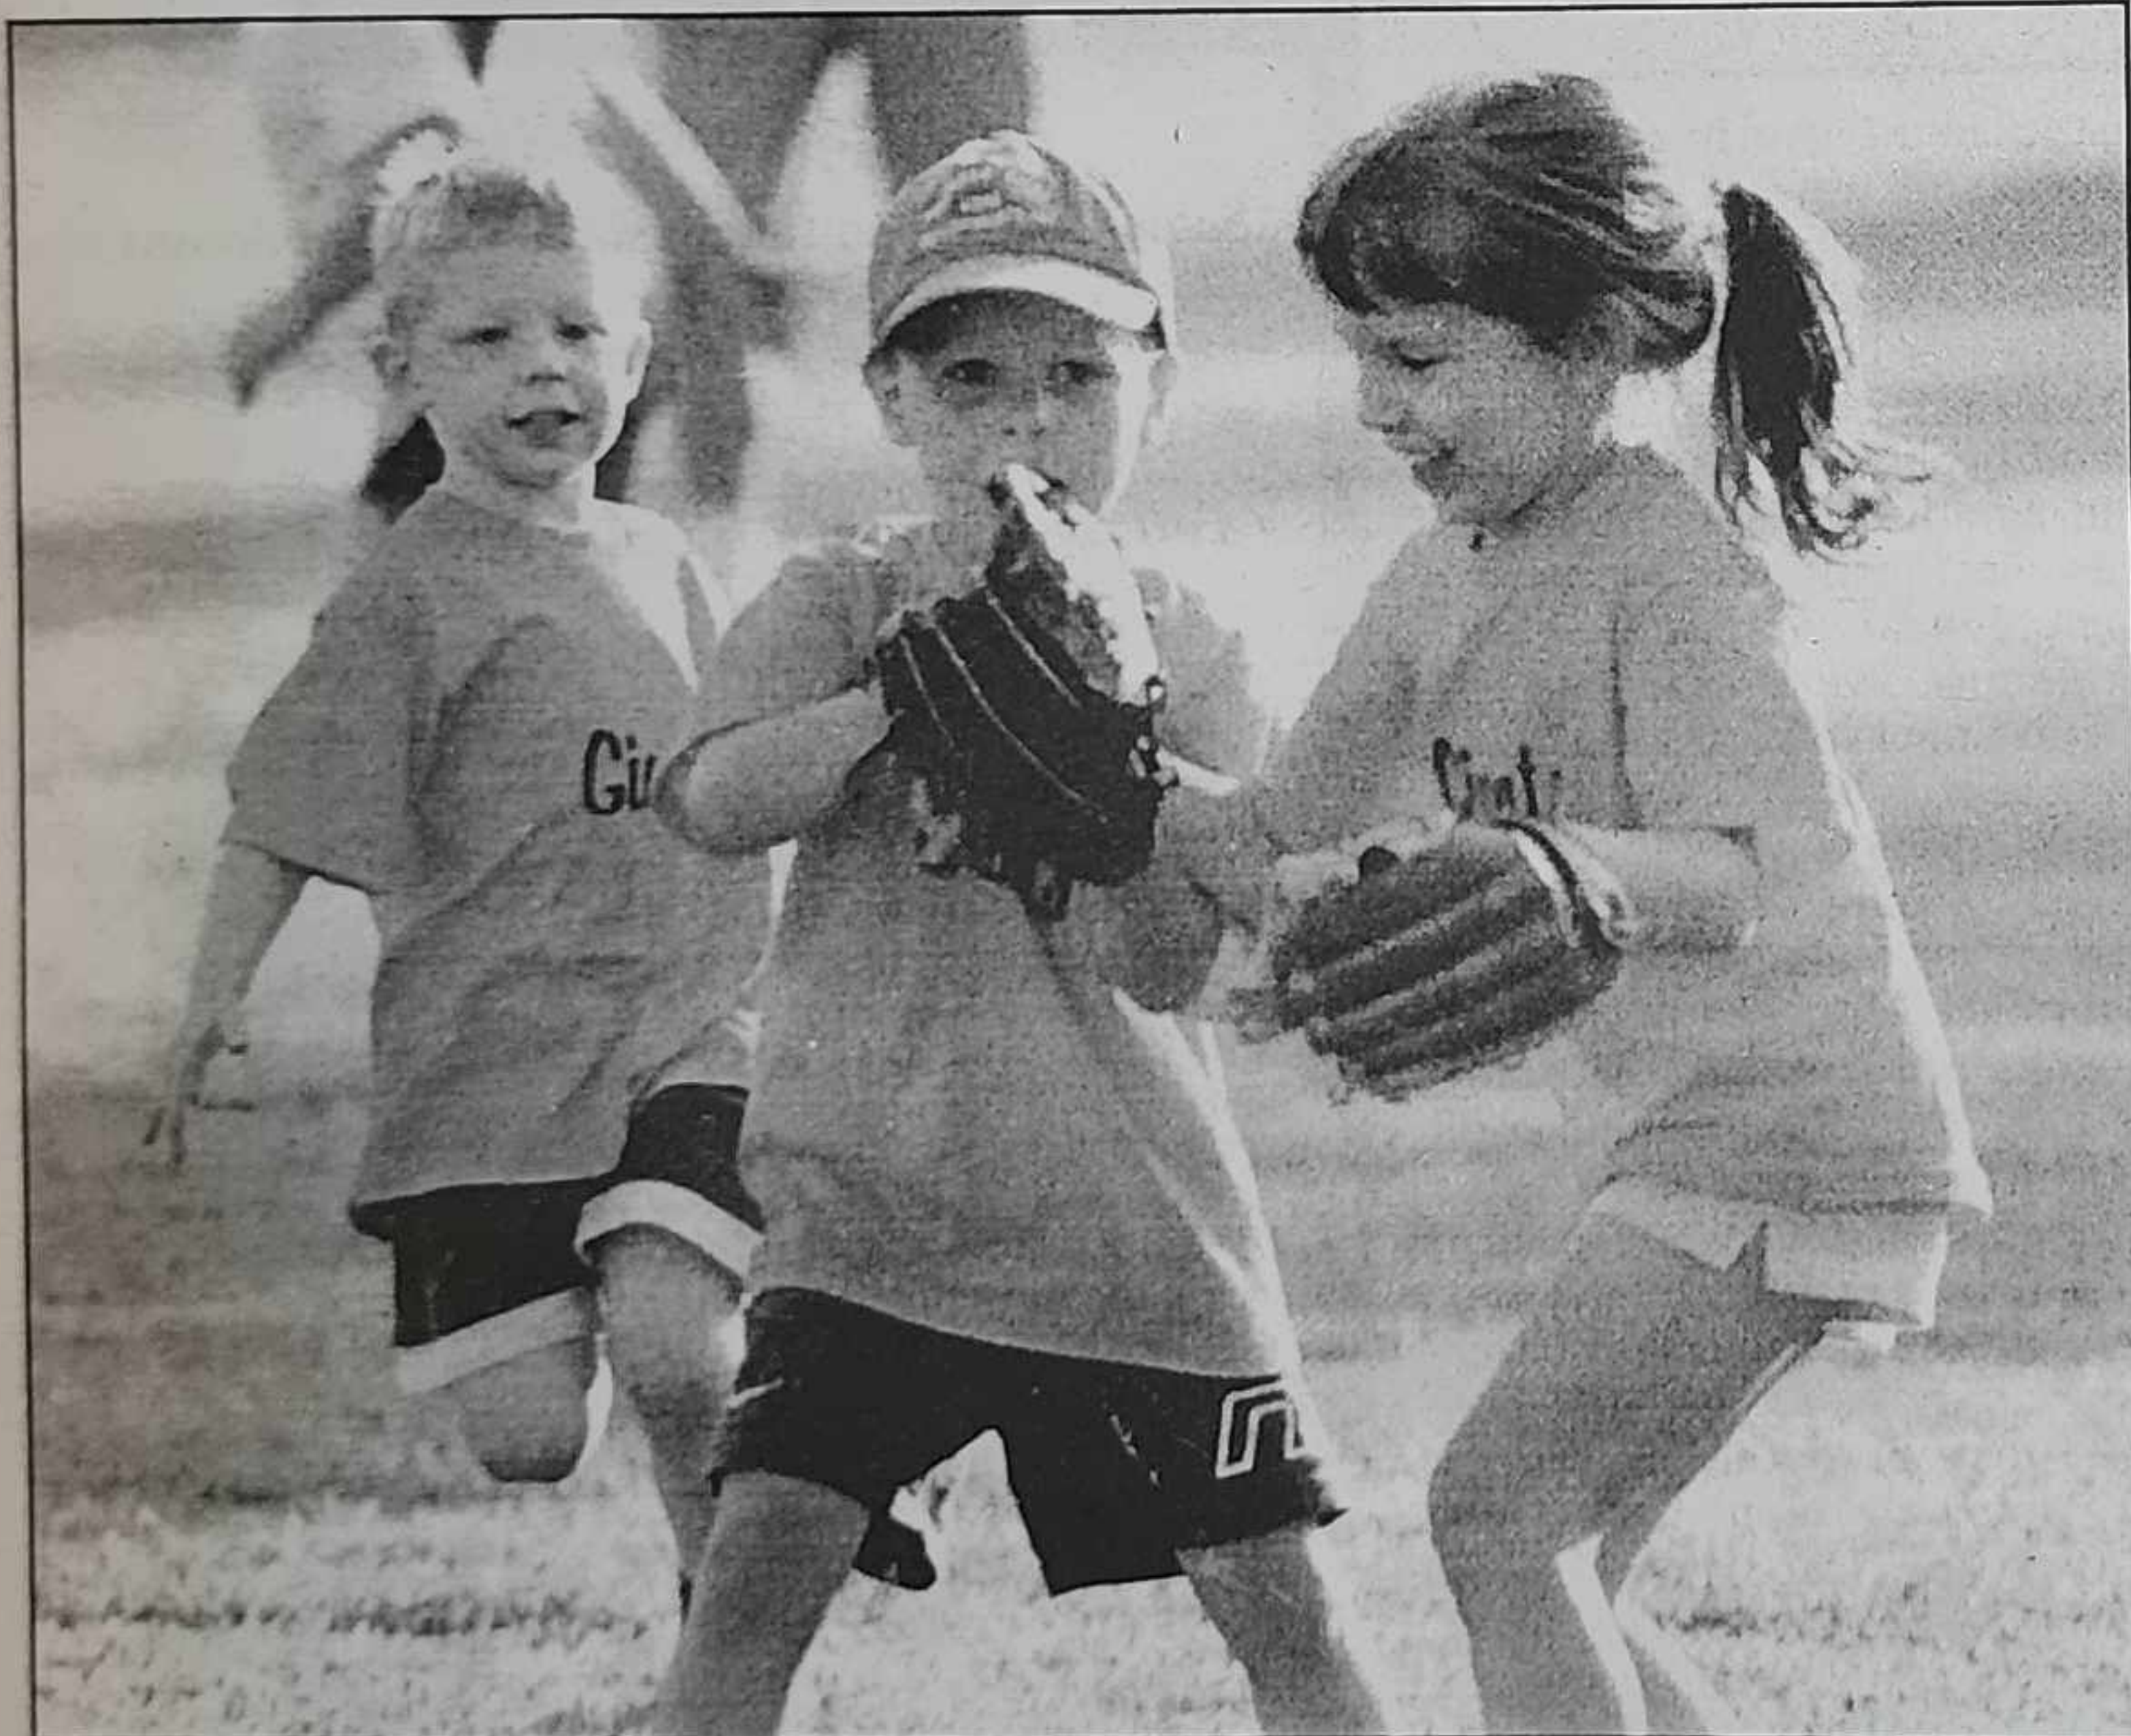

In Larsen's group were Ron Thelen, Jamie Jones and John McKay, but none of the four men saw the ball go into the cup.

"No, I hit it off the toe (of the club), in fact," Larsen said, indicating when he reached the green, he didn't see his ball and he didn't find one over the green. Then he recalled thinking to himself, "Don't tell me, it's in the hole." And it was!

"That's the second one (ace) I've had ... I had one last year on No. 4 Blue," Larsen said, indicating he treated all the regulars in the Thursday group following the round.

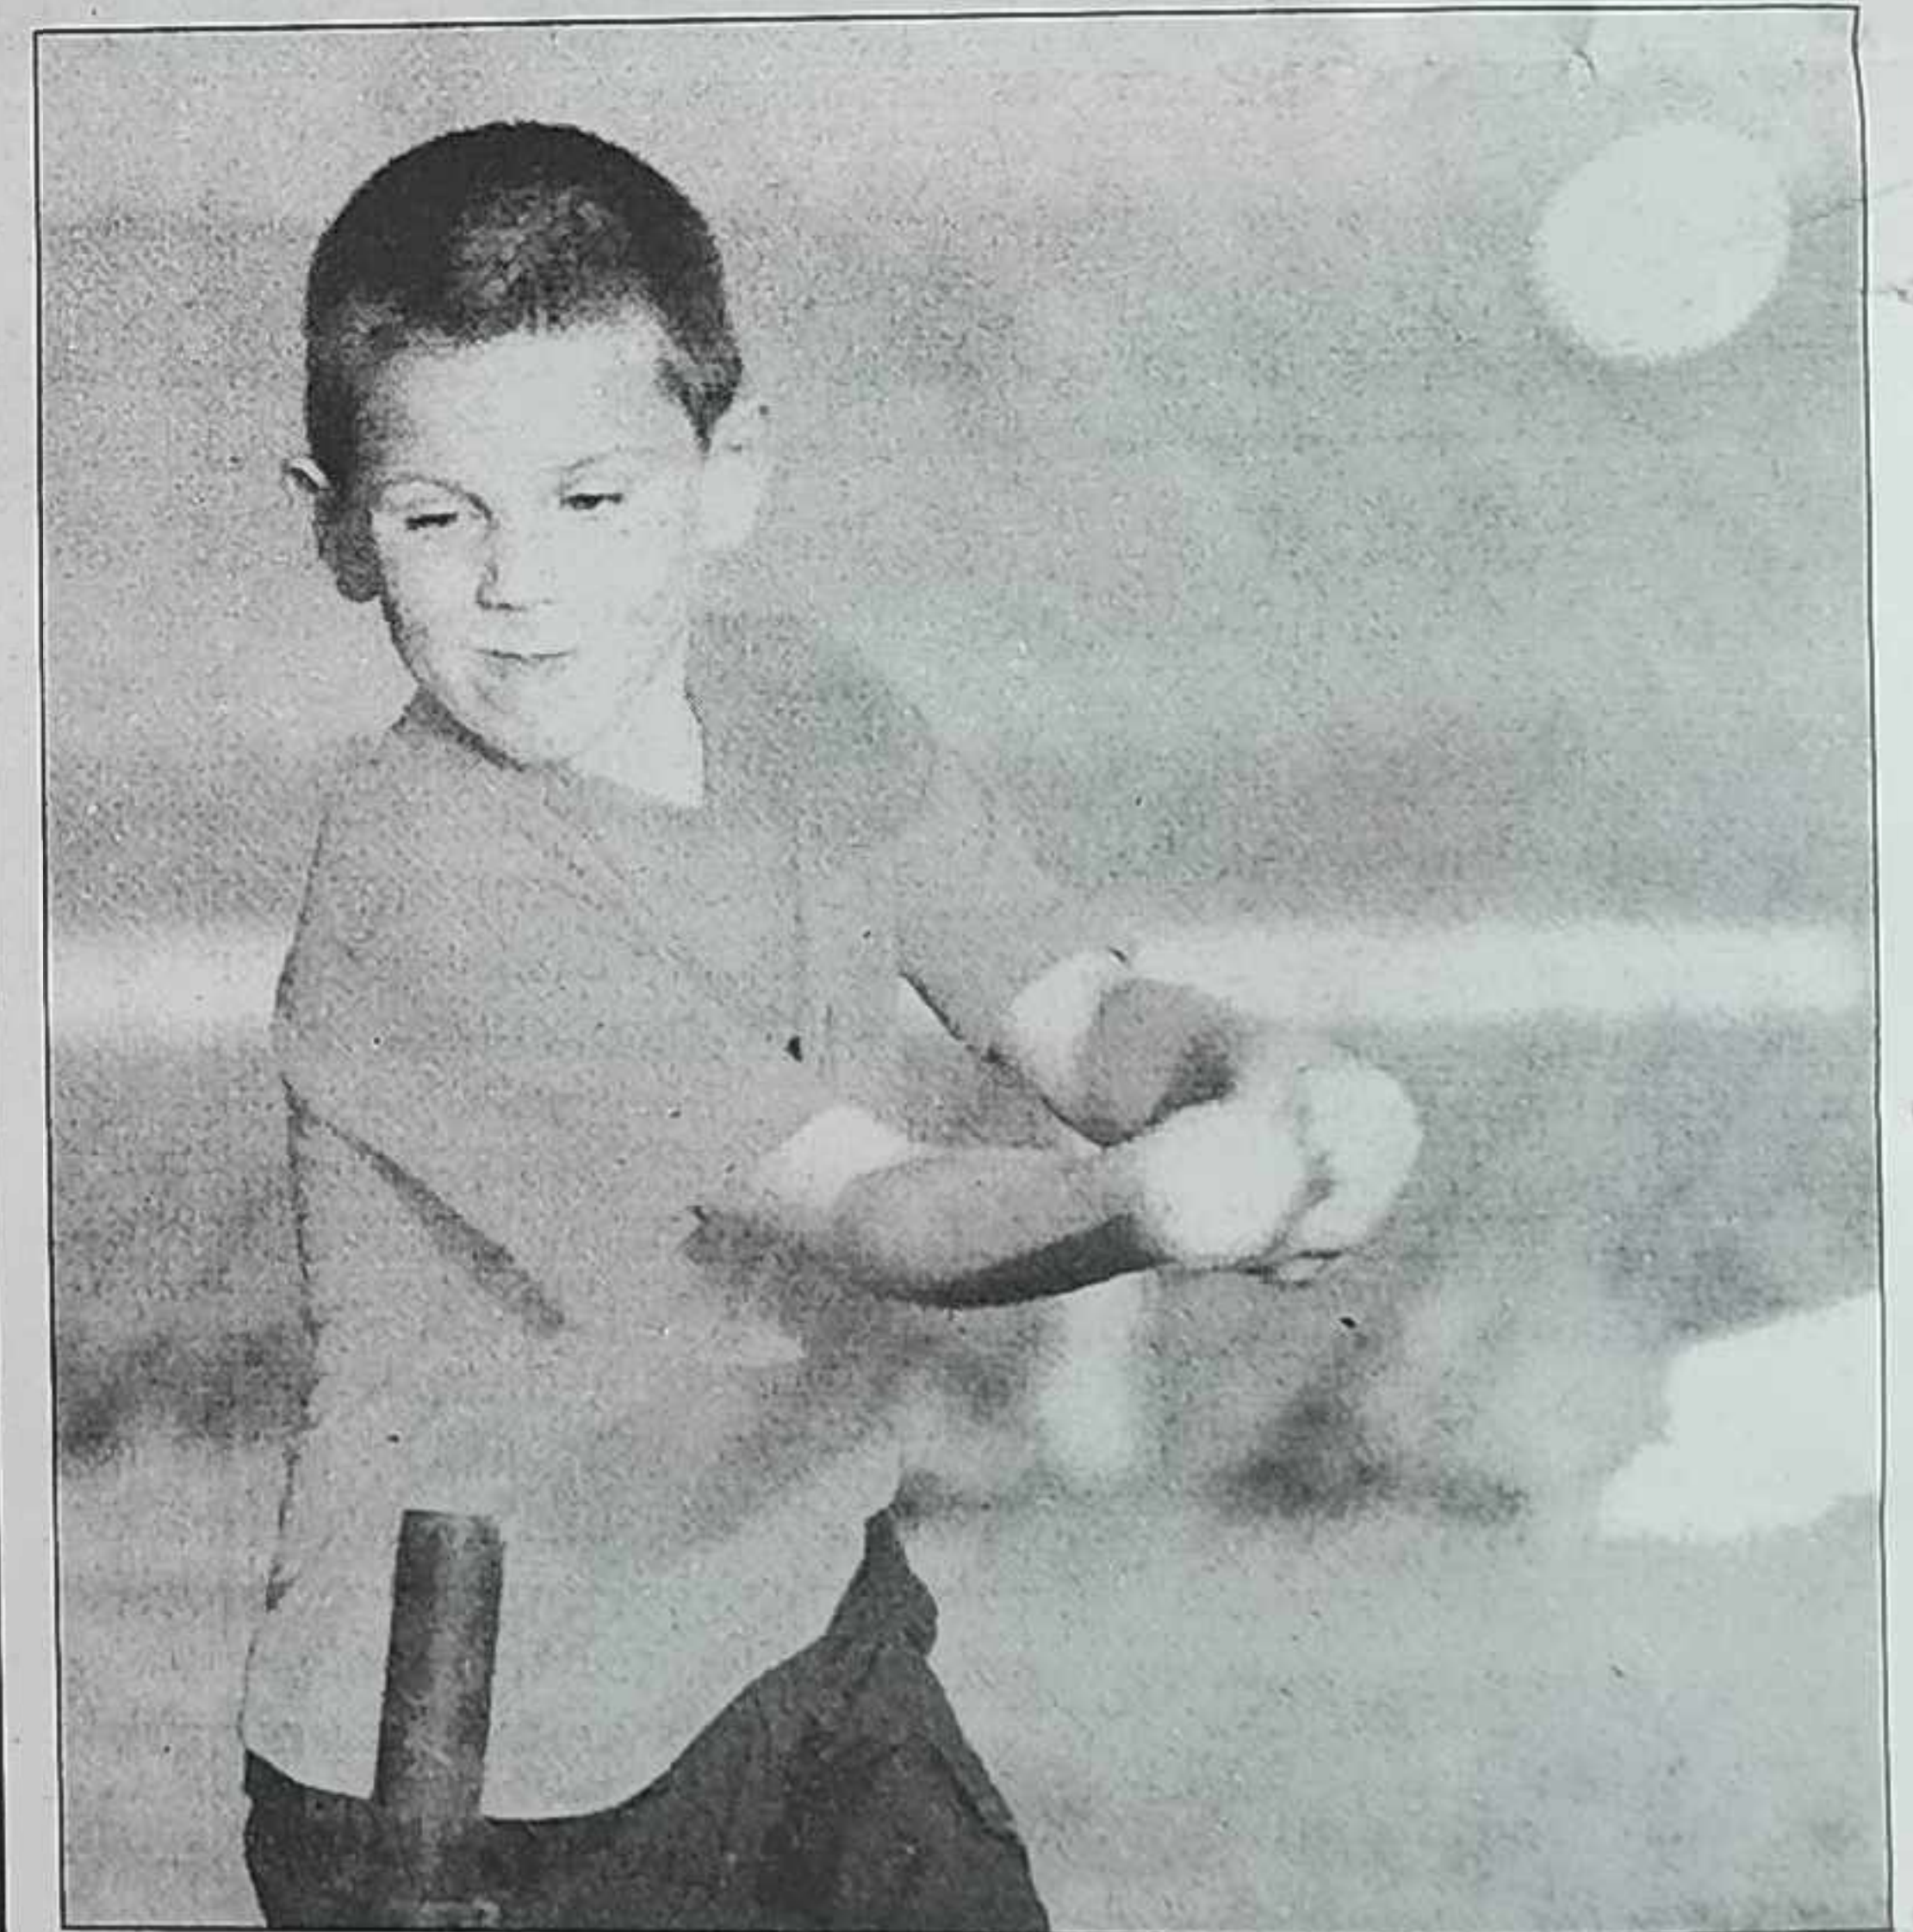

This was the first ace at Hon-E-Kor during the 2004 season, according to Pro Joe Harlow.

Athletics Nip Pardeeville to End Weekend on a High Note

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT

Pardeeville came along just at the right time for the Kewaskum Athletics home talent baseball team.

After losing games to Lannon (19-3) and Brownsville (9-5) on Thursday and Saturday, the A's traveled to Pardeeville on Sunday and came home with an 8-7 victory in a Rock River game that was tense right to the final out.

With the bases loaded and two outs and the score at 8-7, player/manager Jason Strobel decided to make a pitching change, bringing in Jim Ziegler to take over for starter Steve Ketter.

Ziegler closed the door on the hosts when he got the next man up to hit a liner to shortstop.

"When he hit it, I ... " Ziegler said, admitting he was a little worried the ball might get through the infield and Pardeeville would tie the game or win it.

But the A's prevailed, improving their RR record to 7-4.

Ketter had done well on the mound for the winners. He struck out 11, walked four and scattered 12 hits.

The Athletics certainly did their share of hitting, coming up with 17, and there was no question, there were plenty of offensive stars, starting with Jake Panzer, who was 3x5 with a pair of home runs.

"Jake had a solo shot in the seventh and a 2-run homer in the eighth," Ziegler, the team spokesperson, said Sunday evening, reporting the homers were "pretty good shots."

Keith Heberer was 4x5, and Strobel also had an excellent outing, with two hits, including a home run in the first inning and three RBI.

Matt Millonig had a hit that produced two runs, and Ziegler said, "Everybody had a hit today."

And the defense was "excellent," according to Ziegler, who said, "We only had one error."

Thursday night was a bit of a disaster, Ziegler said, indicating there were no real highlights in the Tri-County game against one of the perennial powers in amateur baseball in southeastern Wisconsin.

The A's did give a pretty good account of themselves during (West Bend) Elevator Day Saturday against Brownsville, which is currently leading the Rock River League standings.

Ziegler took the loss after pitching the complete game. He gave up 13 hits, struck out two and walked three. He said the game was tied at 5-5 in the fifth inning.

"They scored one in the sixth and three insurance runs in the ninth," Ziegler said, reporting Dornfeldt homered in the first inning with one man on.

Troy Cota got credit for the win. He went five innings, giving up five runs on nine hits while striking out three and walking just one. Former A's pitcher Ryan Hall came on in relief in the sixth and shut the hosts down the rest of the way.

For Kewaskum, Ty Schill went 2x4, Ketter was 2x5, Panzer was 2x4 with an RBI, and both Josh Parrent and Millonig had two hits and an RBI.

The only extra base hits in the game were Ketter's double in the third (he later scored) and Millonig's double in the seventh. Millonig was left stranded.

The A's, currently 10-10 overall, are at Pardeeville Friday night for a Tri-County game, then the Rock River hosts its annual all-star game on Saturday. The A's will be represented in the game by Ketter, who is the starting catcher, Strobel, one of the starting outfielders and Ziegler, who is a relief pitcher.

The game will be played Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in Hartford. Sunday, the A's return home to host Slinger in a Rock River game.

Indians Split with Roncalli

In order to finish at or above .500 in Eastern Wisconsin Conference play, the Kewaskum High baseball team needed to win both games of its double header against Manitowoc Roncalli last Thursday.

It fell one run short of accomplishing that goal. The Indians lost the opener 2-1 in a game featuring 3-hitters by both Josh Meyer of KHS and Mike Ripok of the Jets.

The second game was also fairly close until Dan Shea's 3-run double in the fifth inning helped toward a 7-5 KHS victory.

Kewaskum's lone run in the opener came in the fifth inning when it had all three of its hits. Nate Steiner got the rally going with a single that broke up Ripok's no-hitter bid. Shea followed with a single, and then Meyer helped his own cause with an RBI single.

That tied the score at 1-1. Kewaskum only had a few other base runners, according to coach Dave Donath, who said one of the Indians drew a walk in the second inning and another got hit by a pitch in the third, "but that was it."

The Jets scored a single run in the second inning on doubles by Don Nowak and Scott Bealy. They went ahead in the sixth when Meyer walked two in a row and then gave up an RBI single. The rally got going only after Meyer got the first two Jets to make outs.

In Game 2, the Indians scored two runs in the first, single runs in the second and third and three runs in the fifth.

"We had 11 hits," Donath said, reporting Tim Trott came through with two hits and an RBI, while Prom helped himself by going 2x4 with two RBI, and Ross Stockhausen went 2x4, with an RBI and a run scored.

Shea, a freshman, only had one hit but it turned out to be the game-winner.

Prom gave up nine hits, struck out one and walked just one.

With the split, the Indians are 8-11 in the EW and 9-14 overall. There are just two games left on the EW schedule. Tuesday the Indians played at Sheboygan Falls and tomorrow (Friday) they host Campbellsport.

Indians draw 2nd seed

Coaches from the six schools assigned to Pool A of the West Bend sectional met recently to determine seeds for the upcoming regional tournament.

There was not a single team with above a .500 record. Campbellsport was picked as No. 1, and Kewaskum, with its 9-14, drew second.

Thus the Indians get a bye in the first round and will open play Tuesday at home at 5:30 p.m. against the winner of the Oostburg vs. Cedar Grove/Belgium game.

The winner moves on to the sectional that will be held at Carl Kuss Memorial Field in West Bend on Friday, July 23rd. That game will be played at 11 a.m., according to Donath, who said the other semifinal game will be played at 2 p.m., with the championship game at 5:30 p.m.

Athletics Stumble in Last Three Games

A week ago, after wins over Juneau and Horicon, the Kewaskum Athletics home talent baseball team was in seventh heaven.

The As were brought back down to earth this week, however, after suffering a 7-3 loss to Monches, which eliminated them from the SWABA (Southeastern Wisconsin Amateur Baseball Association) Tournament, and then losing to the West Bend Barons 6-5 on Friday night and 9-3 to host Neosho on Saturday.

Player/manager Jason Strobel started Jake Panzer in Saturday's Rock River league game at Neosho, but after pitching one full inning and giving up three runs in the second, he complained of a sore arm, and Adam Sarauer was called on to take over the pitching chores.

Sarauer gave up a pair of runs in the fourth and four more in the eighth, while Archambeau was limiting the A's to single runs in the first, fourth and eighth frames.

Kewaskum had seven total hits, including two by Tony Fitts and a pair by Troy Schill, who also scored twice.

Schill and Fitts came up with back-to-back doubles for one of the A's runs. Fitts was thrown out trying to stretch his hit into a triple.

Strobel drove in another run when he hit into a double play with the bases loaded.

Loss to Barons was a heartbreaker

Kewaskum outhit the Barons eight to five but lost the game, which was played at Carl Kuss Memorial Field in West Bend, in the bottom of the ninth on a bases-loaded walk.

"We were up 5-3 at one point," Strobel said, indicating Steve Ketter started for the A's and, "Adam (Sarauer) came in relief in the eighth and took the loss."

Ketter had a great night at the plate, with three hits, including a two-run homer in the top of the third inning.

Noah Koch chipped in with two hits for the A's.

Neither team sparkled defensively. To the contrary, they both committed four errors.

Scoring chances go wasted

In Wednesday night's loss to Monches, "We had five errors, and we left 13 guys on base, too," Jim Ziegler said in relaying statistics on the contest.

Ziegler pitched the entire seven innings, giving up 10 hits and the seven runs, including three in the bottom of the first inning. Ziegler struck out six and walked just two.

Schill, Ketter and Sarauer were the offensive standouts. All three contributed two hits.

Despite the three losses, the A's are still over the .500 mark with their 9-8 record. In the Rock River, they are 6-3, and against Tri-County Nite League opponents, they are 2-4.

Kewaskum has a big week on tap. Tonight (Thursday) the A's are at Lannon, then on Saturday, they entertain Brownsville for the annual Elevator Day, which was started when Doug Gonring played for the Athletics.

"He's going to have a Pony League game at 11:30, and we play at 1:30," Strobel said, indicating customers of the West Bend Elevator have been invited to watch the game and enjoy some refreshments.

Brownsville is currently first in the Rock River, and the A's are currently fourth, so this is a big game for both teams. "We're battling for the last playoff spot," Strobel said.

Cougars Tip Indians by Two Runs

It wasn't just a battle of arch rivals Tuesday. Both the Kewaskum and Campbellsport High baseball teams are struggling to climb above the .500 mark in Eastern Wisconsin Conference action, and both are trying to build some momentum for the upcoming WIAA tournament series.

Campbellsport had the upper hand, using timely hitting, and an eight-strikeout effort by Nick Whitty to tip the host Indians 5-3. Kewaskum had won the first meeting between the two clubs.

With the win, the Cougars improved to 7-7 in the EW and 10-12 overall. Kewaskum drops to 7-9 in conference play and 8-11 overall.

"In the second, we catch the ball on the pickoff try and we get out of that. In the fifth, we catch the fly ball, and they don't score," Kewaskum Coach Dave Donath said about the would haves and could haves of the game.

The first one mentioned was when KHS pitcher Abe Foerster had designated hitter Ben Schumacker caught off second base, but the throw was a shade low and Dan Shea couldn't hang onto it to make the tag.

Right after that, CHS first baseman Noah Raether (the son of CHS Coach Jerry Raether) slapped a line drive single to right-center field, scoring Schumacker for a 1-0 lead.

The Indians came back in their half of the same inning, however, when Ross Stockhausen reached on an error and Nate Steiner drove him in with a fly ball that the center fielder lost sight of, with Steiner sprinting all the way to third for a triple.

Unfortunately for the Indians, the next man up grounded out so Steiner was left stranded.

Steiner came up with another triple in the fifth inning, but once again the Indians couldn't come up with a key hit. Whitty got the second out on a strikeout and the final out on a grounder to short.

The 1-1 tie was broken in the top of the fifth when Ty Schill led off a double. "Actually it was a ball that should have been caught," Donath said, noting his fielder lost the ball in dark clouds above the diamond. After third baseman Brandon Prom threw out Whitty, Cameron Salter came up with a clutch single for one run, and following a walk, Dustin Doyle's double scored Salter, and the Cougars were up 3-1.

The Cougars added a pair of runs in the sixth on a lead-off single by Brad Schneider, a bunt single by Schill that flew over reliever Matt Parent's head and a walk loaded the bases.

Parent forced in a run when he walked Salter, and the other run came home on a fielder's choice.

Kewaskum got one run back in the bottom of the sixth when Jon Olla singled, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Parent's RBI single.

The Indians drew closer in the seventh, when Steiner reached on an error, and went to second when pinch hitter Tim Trott worked Whitty for a walk. Then Josh Meyer came through with a clutch single.

Kewaskum still had two big outs, but Whitty got the next man to strike out and he got the final out on a fly ball to right.

"We had our chances. We had the winning run at the plate," Donath said. Foerster took the loss, giving up just five hits, while striking out two and walking eight. Donath said he pitched well, but "Those walks got him in trouble."

Brandon Prom had an outstanding game at third base for the Indians. One could even go so far as to say the Cougar's third inning was the "Brandon Prom inning," as he had a hand in making three outs.

First Prom stopped a shot down the line by Schill. Unfortunately, Stockhausen couldn't hang on to the throw at first so Schill was safe, but after a walk, Prom snared another smash toward third off the bat of Salter.

He tagged third for one out and threw perfectly to Stockhausen for the double play.

The inning ended when Prom gobbled up a grounder off the bat of Owen Gellings and threw him out.

"It was a great effort on his part. He did a real good job with the leather," Donath said about the excellent plays made by Prom, adding, "Their third baseman made some good plays ... Ty Schill, he made one or two."

Schill was recently moved to third, and, "He's been playing real well there," Raether said.

Campbellsport had finished second in the EW last season after winning four straight EW titles.
