By Judy Harlow STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

FOND DU LAC - Showing little emotion during his initial appearance Thursday morning in Circuit Court here, David J. Brace was charged with first degree intentional homicide and possession of a firearm by a felon.

Brace has admitted to killing Katie Gensmer, 18, in the early morning hours of June 30th in an area on the New Fane Hiking Trail, which is located off of County Line Road in the Town of Auburn.

The body was discovered around 8 a.m. on June 30th by an area man, who was hiking on the trail with his dog.

Judge Dale L. English set bail at $750,000 and stipulated that Brace, 20, who is from West Bend, have no contact with the victim's family and that he be prohibited from having a weapon in his possession.

"I think both of these conditions would be appropriate," Judge English said during the brief hearing.

Brace, who was arrested July 1 at a campsite at Mauthe Lake with a handgun in his possession, indicated to detectives on July 2, he killed Gensmer because she had a brief sexual relationship with his cousin, Chris Rose, who was concerned his girlfriend, referred to as Sarah, who lived in the same apartment com -

Village of Kewaskum Man Facing Multiple Charges of Retail Theft

By Nicole Kuehl STATESMAN STAFF nkuchl@kewaskumstatesman.com

Thirty-nine year old Richard Hofer of Kewaskum met with the District Attorney Monday on charges he allegedly stole over $1500 worth of merchandise from the West Bend Shopko and Wal-Mart stores with his children.

According to West Bend police, Hofer went shopping with two children last Friday evening. They went to Wal-Mart and he allegedly told the kids to each pick out a bike. They then left the store without paying for the bikes. The store's greeter stated that she approached Hofer and asked him to see the receipt for the bikes. He stated that his son had it and he would go and get it from him. The greeter stated she would hold onto the bike until he came back with the receipt. Hofer then grabbed the bike out of the greeter's hands and rode it to his vehicle. They then left the lot.

According to the District Attorney's report, Hofer and the children, ages 5, 6, 8 and 13, went to Shopko in West Bend on Sunday. Hofer then told the children to pick out school clothes. The children picked out two carts full of clothes and left the store without paying for the items.

Hofer then took the kids home and went back to Shopko for another shopping trip after lunch. When they left the store the second time, the security alarm sounded and Hofer was confronted outside of the store.

One of the children stated in the report that Hofer told them to tell him if they saw a magnet on the clothes and he would take them off. Another child stated that when they went shopping with mom she paid and when they went shopping with dad he didn't.

According to the report, police tried to contact Hofer to discuss the matter of the stolen bikes. Two of the bikes were later found abandoned in front of the Wal-Mart store.

Upon searching Hofer's residence, police found two other bikes and the items that had been taken from Shopko.

Hofer was taken into custody by a West Bend officer at his Kewaskum residence. The complaint stated that Hofer was very argumentative with the arresting offi-

Candy Tree to Open in Downtown Kewaskum

By Judy Harlow STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

All those who love to indulge in candy might want to circle the date October 1st on the opening of the Candy Tree on Main Street in downtown Kewaskum.

The owners are Chris and Steve Jung, who recently purchased the building at 230 Main Street, which had been owned for the past 11 years by Wendi Dreher.

The Jungs are currently remodeling the building and plan to be ready for business in October.

"I'm real excited about it,"

Chris Jung said last week, explaining she has been commuting from her home in the Town of Scott to work in Waukesha and decided, "It was time for a change."

"My husband has lived their calendars. It will mark here his entire life," Chris Jung, a native of New Berlin, said. "We have a small farm out here ... a gentlemen's farm."

It was actually Steve Jung who coaxed his wife into opening a candy business.

"My husband said to me, You're pretty good at this. We could ..." Chris Jung said, explaining how the idea evolved from her making

Search for Woelfel Continues

By Judy Steffes

KEWASKUM- More than 26 volunteers searched a swampy area near Highway 28 this past Sunday looking for Steven Woelfel. The 38-yearold Fredonia man has been missing since June 7th.

During the most recent search Woelfel's family and members of the Washington County Sheriff's Department were joined by The Great Lakes Search and Rescue Canine Unit.

The group, which included 14 dogs and their handlers, used the search as a training exercise. Dogs included three Bloodhounds, a Doberman, some German Shepherds, Belgian Shepherds and Labradors.

Brace Charged

plex at Gensmer, would find out about the affair.

Brace decided the best way to make sure Sarah would not find out about this was to kill Gensmer. She died of "a stab would to the heart," but also was stabbed in three other areas and had her throat slit.

Brace was represented by Attorney Michele Westerlund, who asked the bond be less than the $750,000 requested because Brace is facing a three-year jail sentence which comes from a prior conviction for physical abuse of a child. Originally he was sentenced to four years in jail for the offense but was released from jail after serving 11 months of the sentence.

"There's really no danger to the public here," Westerlund said, but Judge English didn't agree, and set bond at the amount requested by District Attorney Thomas Storm.

A preliminary hearing was set for Brace August 20th at 2 p.m.

Following the court proceedings, Storm met privately with Gensmer's mother, Betty, who left the courthouse without making a statement.

Betty Gensmer contacted Fond du Lac Sheriff's Department officials on the evening of June 30th, after hearing a description of a young but missed a turn in the road woman found dead on the New Fane property. She and her son identified Brace as the young man who came to their home on June 29th and the man Katie left with at approximately 11 p.m. that evening.

Betty Gensmer and several other family members sat together in the front two rows of the court room. A couple people hugged Betty Gensmer, and others cried as Brace entered the room.

Following his private meeting with Betty Gensmer, Storm answered questions about the possible motive for the murder and about Brace's confession, which contained statements that he intended to kill himself after murdering Gensmer.

Also included in the confession were chilling details about the actual murder, comments made by Gensmer in the final minutes of her life and what Brace did with her body after he was certain she had expired. He also admitted to having sexual intercourse with Gensmer on his brother's bed sometime around 11 p.m., before the two went to the Wal-Mart in West Bend.

Gensmer then accompanied Brace to the Wal-Mart between midnight and 12:30 a.m. on the morning of the 30th. There Brace purchased duck tape, hose and a pack of gum, using a personal check to buy the items.

When asked what they were to be used for Brace said he planned to kill himself after murdering Gensmer. "My intentions were of harming myself um, I was gonna sit in my car with the hose hooked up to my exhaust running into my window and I would have died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Brace later abandoned his plans to kill himself.

Brace first planned to kill Gensmer near Mauthe Lake and ended up at New Fane. After the murder, he went to his cousin's home, sometime around 4 a.m. and later drove to Chippewa Falls where he said one of his friends, Carla Paulsrude lives. He said neither Rose nor Paulsrude knew about his plans to murder Gensmer, but he did admit to spending the night with Paulsrude and having sex with her before returning to West Bend and eventually securing site 543 in the Mauthe Lake Campground.

When asked by reporters if Brace was showing any re-

Jung also admits to having "a saber tooth, sweet tooth ... that means really big," and she's hoping the response from the community and surrounding areas will be along those same lines.

The Jungs son attends Holy Trinity Catholic School, so the couple was aware the building across the street was for sale, and after some deliberation, they decided to make their dream a reality.

In addition to the remodeling work, Jung has already begun contracting with certain companies for specialty items she plans to carry. She said she will have chocolate-covered raspberries and chocolate-covered huckleberries, along with jams and syrups. She hopes to purchase a machine so she will be able to sell honey-roasted nuts, and she will offer Door County cherries.

Among the items she will personally make are fudge, turtles, caramels and truffles.

There will be carmel apples, candied apples, and,

Jung said, "Next summer, I hope to be offering slushies and Italian ices."

"I'm trying to have a variety," Jung said, indicating there will be plenty of options to satisfy the tastes of children, including rock candy, hard candies and the little imitation bears, worms, etc. in sweet and also sour flavors.

To follow the tree theme, Jung said she will offer an item called the "Skunks Tail" which is a pastry with chocolate striping.

"Everything will be tree or outdoor related," Jung said.

cut the inside of the 800-900 square foot building in half, with one half designed to be the cooking area and the other for display and packaging.

"I'm going to have a showcase in the front window," Jung said. As if the sight of tasty candy will not be enough, there will also be the aroma of Jung's fudge and caramels that will act as magnets for those walking down the street in front of her store.

And yes, Jung will cater to the needs of dieters. "We will have low-fat, no-sugar and low-carb candies," she said, adding she will be happy to order other items customers request.

Jung did not announce what the store hours will be, but she did say the Candy Tree will be open at least six days a week, maybe seven. "I'm not sure about Sunday because many of the other businesses in the community are not open then.

People are going to be able to purchase specially packaged gifts of candy and nuts, according to Jung, who said she plans to set up a web site within the first couple of months so people can see what she can do for weddings or parties.

"We will be able to make Right now, the plan is to party trays, or if there is a wedding and the people need 200 chocolate-covered strawberries, we'll be able to do that," Jung said, indicating she will wear a variety of hats in the business, including "cook, chief bottle washer and cleaner."

> When asked if she saw the movie Chocolat and is trying to duplicate the candy-making efforts of actress Juliette Binoche in the show, Jung said, "I can only hope."

In addition to the store opening in October, Jung said she will have a booth in the craft tent at Kettle Kountry Kolors on the weekend of Oct. 8-9-10.

LeMahieu Announces Endorsement for Grothmann

Representative Daniel

LeMahieu (R-Oostburg) recently announced his endorsement Glenn Grothmann in his bid for State the Senate 20th District seat currently held by Mary Panzer.

LeMahieu represents the 59th Assembly District, one of the three districts making up the 20th Senate District.

"Glenn will make the informed, wise, and yes, difficult choices that still need to be made to protect the unborn, to control spending and to bring jobs to the 20th Senate District," said LeMahieu.

"I have known Glenn for 11 years. Most of those years I was in county government. As a county board supervisor and board chairman I always found Glenn working for and supportive of local government.

LeMahieu

"Since serving with Glenn in the Assembly I've known him to search out the details in legislation that others overlooked, always protecting the rights of the citizens of Wisconsin. "Glenn is one of the most conservative members of the legislature. He is continually on the side of less spending and smaller government. But where Glenn stands out the most is his pro-life and family values stance. He has been > named Legislator of the Year by both Pro Life Wisconsin and Wisconsin Right to Life.

> 'We need another member in the Senate to promote these values in the legislature to make sure Wisconsin goes in the direction of preserving life, not destroying it.

Grothman

'The debate the next two months will be about the direction of the Republican Party in Wisconsin. That is a good debate and it is a debate that will be answered by the voters in the 20th Senate District."

Search Continues

handler," said Cramer who brought both 'live find dogs' and 'body recovery dogs' to Sunday's search.

"We try to bring a variety of dogs to the scene to help, she said. "Some of the dogs are evidence dogs that should hit on clothing, some of the dogs are also trained for weapons recovery."

During Sunday's effort the canine unit found several items including a bone, candy wrappers, a Gatorade bottle and a golf towel. Cramer said three of the things found were basically litter, however the bone was spotted by one of the handlers. "The handlers are taught to call in everything that they think needs to be checked by law enforcement," said Cramer. The bone was quickly identified as belonging to a large animal, either a cow or a deer.

Although searchers did not find Woelfel on Sunday, Cramer said the dogs do the best they can and they are a reliable resource. "We have over 100 successful body recoveries in the last ten years," she said. "If we're in the right area of the body we probably run about an 80 percent success rate," said Cramer whose dogs undergo an 18 month training pro- 7172. gram before they are able to search.

Headquarters for Sunday's search was based under a yellow and white tent in the parking lot of Johnson Bus, located just off Highway 28 across from the Hon-E-Kor golf course. Large, white maps were pinned to a picnic table, outlining the surrounding terrain of the course and the surrounding Kettle Moraine State Forest.

"This was a very difficult search area," said Cramer. "Because there was an extensive amount of flooding the area was extremely wet and there is very thick un-Several derbrush." searchers came back to the base camp with remnants of mud up to their waist. Volunteers also doused themselves in bug spray because of mosquitoes.

Cramer said, by the end of the day the dogs did 'hit on' a pond near the golf course. It is the same area searched recently by the Washington County Dive Team. Authorities say it will be up to the Woelfel family to decide if search efforts should continue.

Steven Woelfel's truck was found parked abandoned outside an apartment building near Highway 28 in Kewaskum. Family members say Woelfel suffers from depression, memory loss and high blood pressure. Anyone with information is being asked to call the Ozaukee County Sheriffs Department at 262-377-

Beautiful Day to Play in the Park

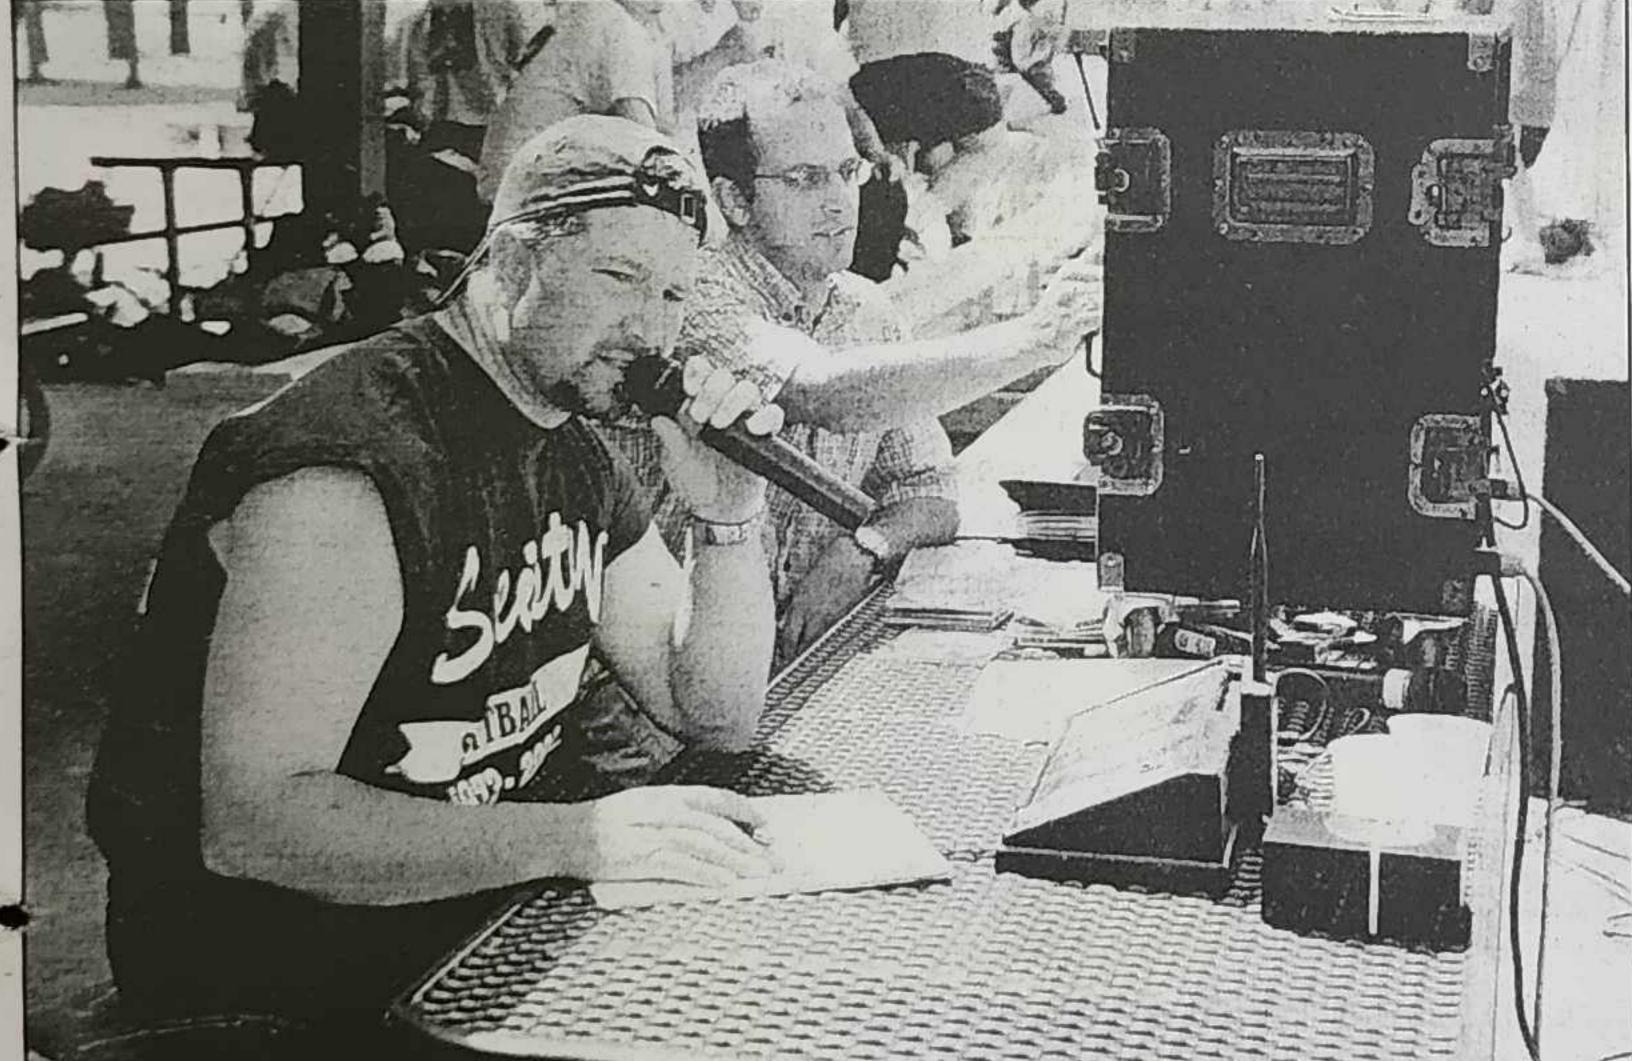

While his dad was playing in the Jeff Sabish Memorial Tournament, Taylor Hawkins participated in a Frisbee toss which was just one of the fun activities offered by the Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club in Saturday's Jungle Gym Jamboree.

"It's upper class here," Kevin Thull, left, said about food offered during the annual Jeff Sabish Memorial Softball Tournament this past Saturday. While burgers and brats were available for spectators and players, Thull offered tasty elk, pheasant and beef tenderloin for special workers. At right is Barry Wenzlaff, who won the home run tournament Friday night. He homered on four of his five tries in the finals, and those hits came off a tee, a new wrinkle in this year's event.

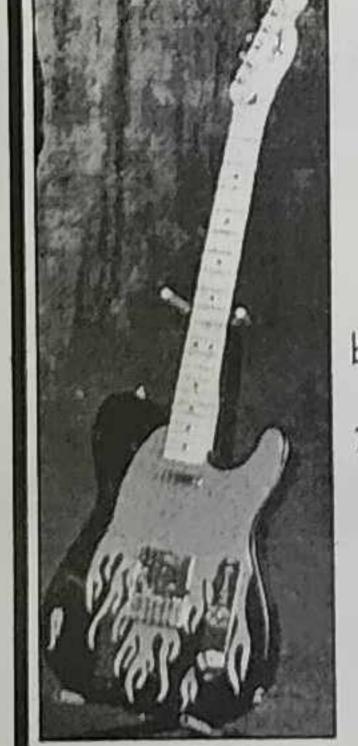

Two integral parts of the weekend tournament were announcer Ron Sturn, left, of West Bend and Kevin Kapp, who kept the music rolling between innings.

Sheriff's Department Holds Debriefing Session

Members of the Washington County Sheriff's Department attended a debriefing on President George Bush's "surprise" visit at the department Monday.

At that meeting, Sheriff Brian Rahn credited Sergeant Jeff Gonzalez and Sergeant Bruce Theusch with coordinating 'much' of the security and working with the secret service.

Rahn stated the department had over 20 deputies on overtime and the extra law enforcement cost taxpayers about $4,000. He further said that the county will not send a bill to the Republican Party as he thought it was an honor to host President Bush.

Officials say the motorcade route changed several times within the span of the two-day notification. Initially deputies were told to secure USH 41, as Bush would exit West Bend and make his way towards Fond du Lac. Later, Sheriff's department officials learned that Bush would make a stop in West Bend and then proceed down USH 45 through Kewaskum.

Milwaukee Bomb Squad Called to Richfield

The Milwaukee Bomb Squad was called out to Richfield late Saturday night around 10:30 p.m., after an improvised explosive device was tossed from a car.

Washington County Sheriffs Lieutenant Paul Buth said passers-by saw a flaming object thrown from a car near Highway 164 and Monches Road. When deputies arrived they found a small softball size device that was partially burned.

The Milwaukee Bomb Squad was called to dispose of the object, which ended up being "wrapped in a sock." No one was injured and authorities are still looking for the people responsible.

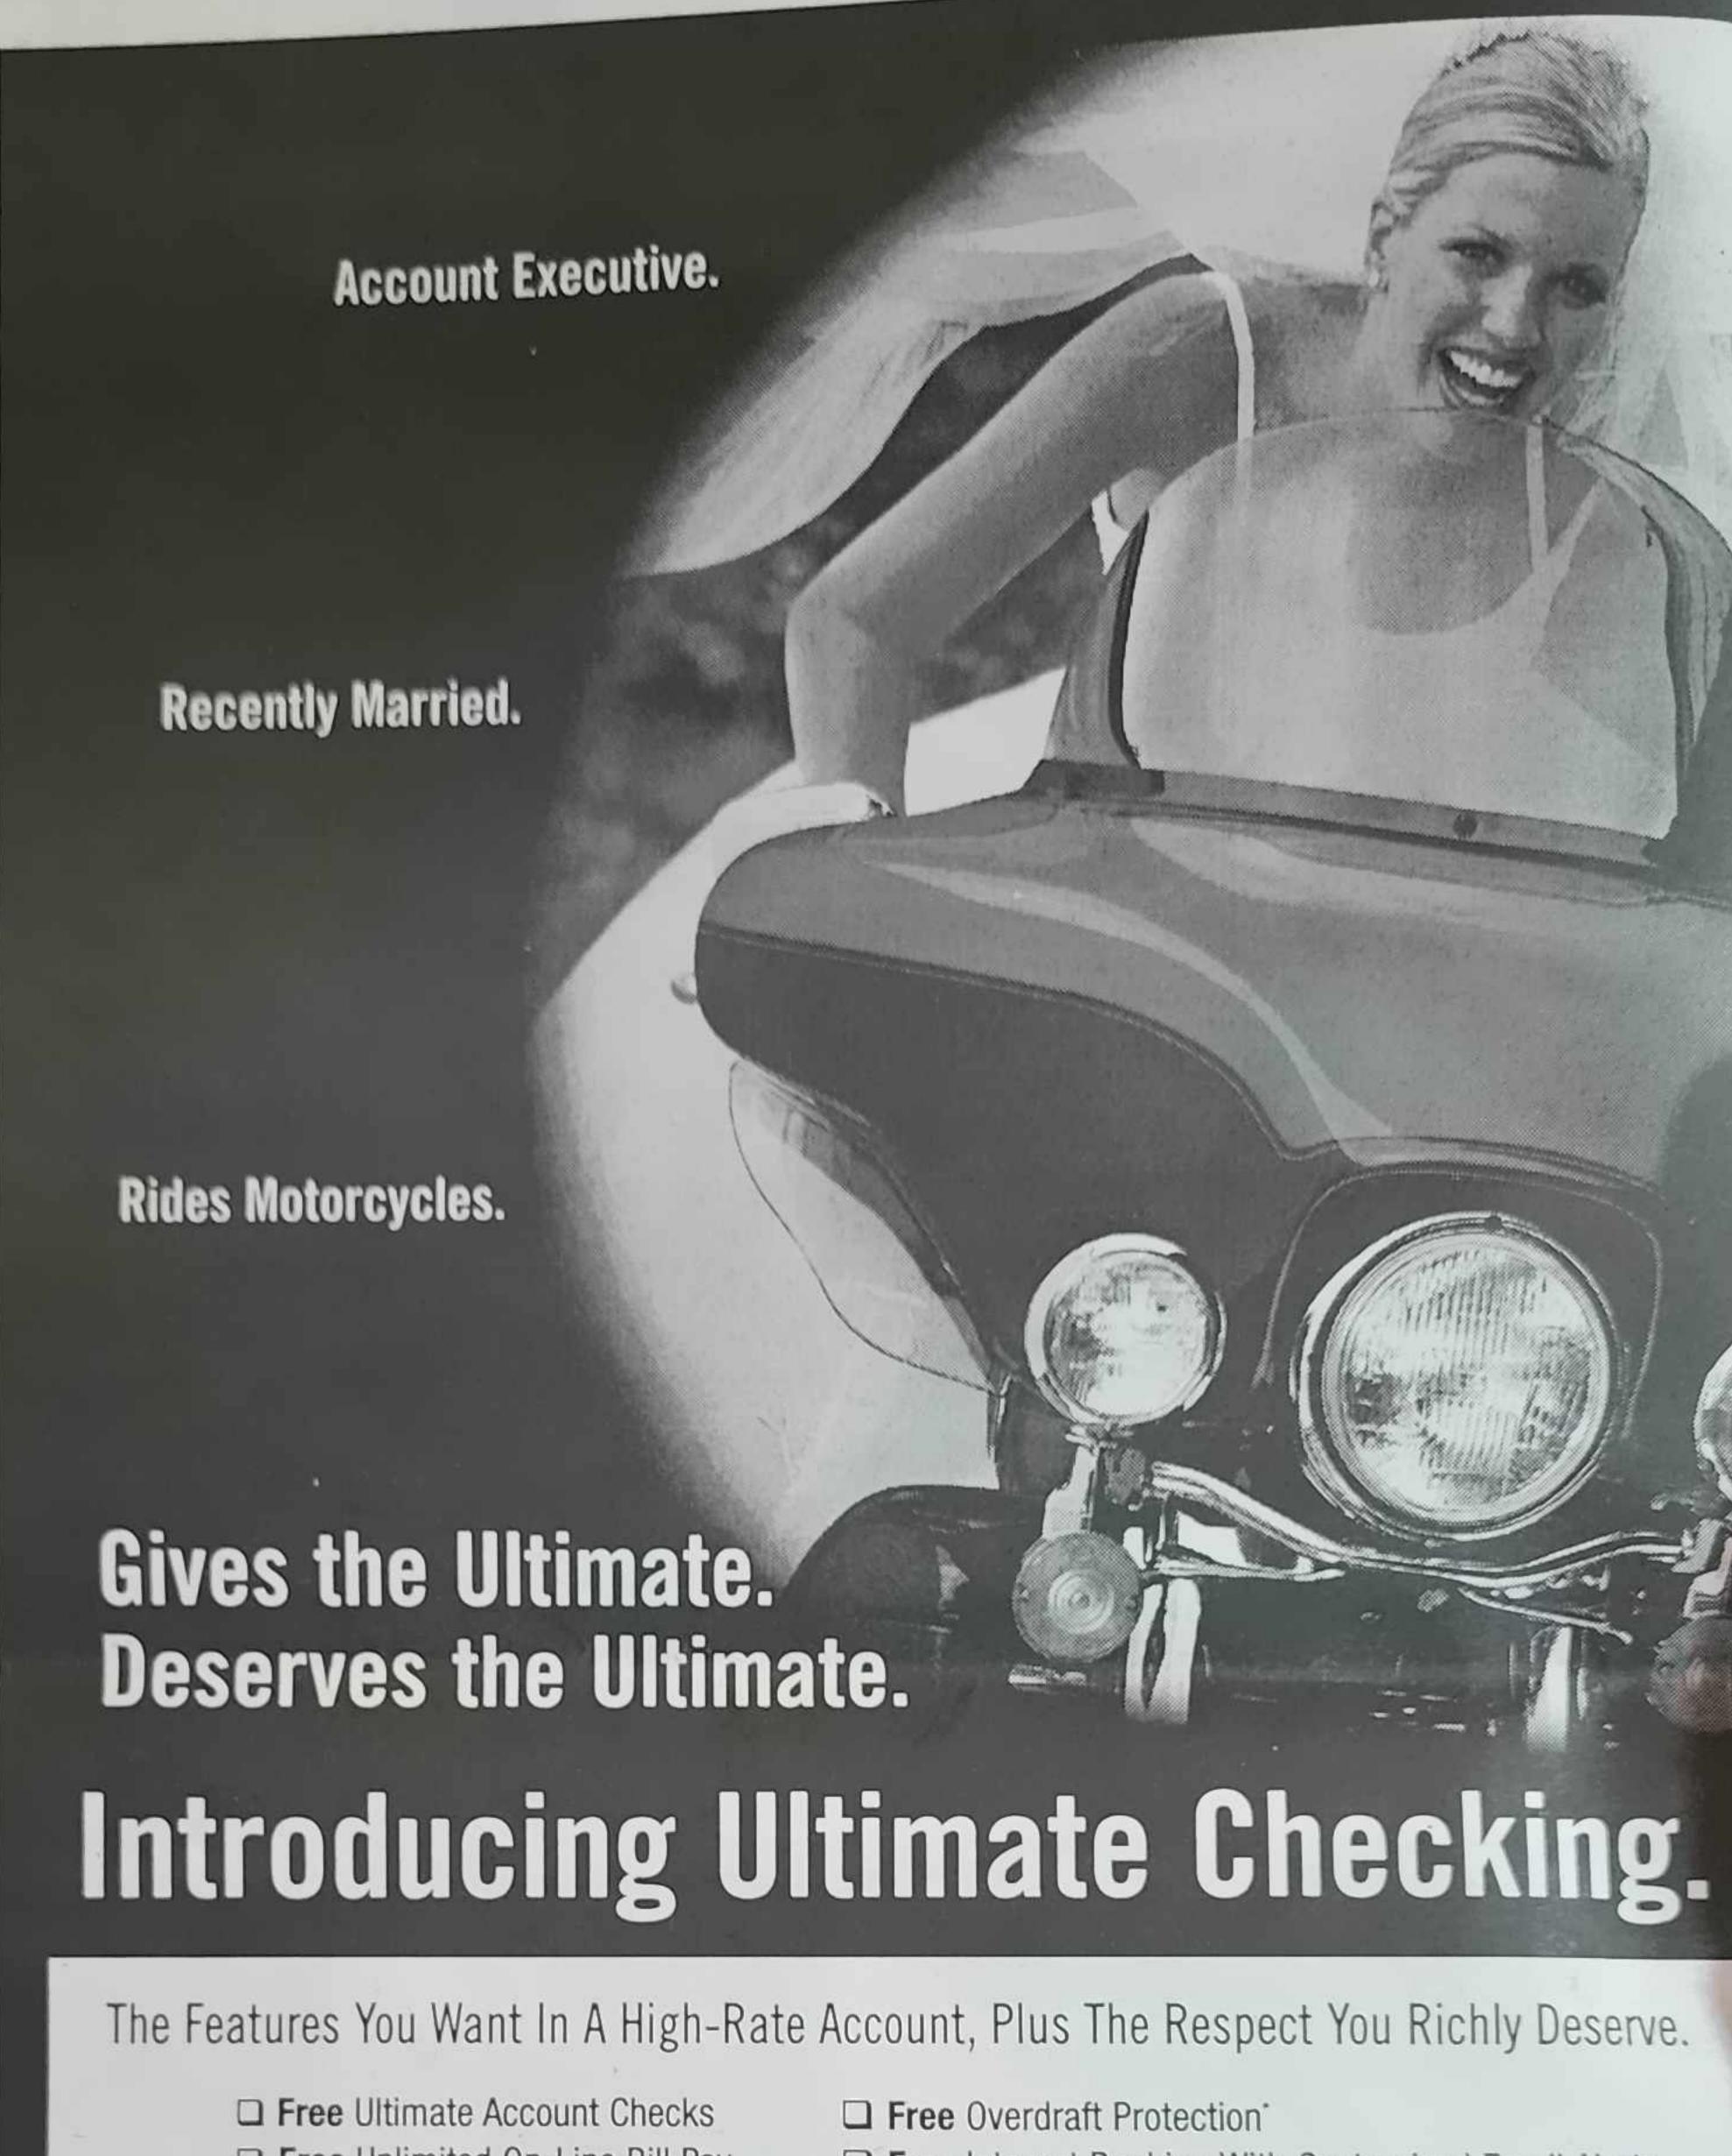

FDL Fair Sets New Attendance Record

It appears to be a record breaking year for the Fond du Lac County Fair this year. Their attendance reportedly came in near 80,000 people. Their previous record was 71,000.

Fair officials believe the tremendous turnout was because of the respite from recent weeks of bad weather. The fair also says their entertainment lineup-was a big draw. Fond du Lac also tried a "Fair Idol" event similar to that of American Idol.

Washington County's Fair started Tuesday.

Koresch Named to Ripon College's Hall of Fame

Sandra Secor Koresch

RIPON - Sandra Secor Koresch of Mukwonago, was recently inducted into Ripon College's Athletic Hall of Fame, which recognizes alumni and coaches who have distinguished themselves through participation in Ripon's athletic programs.

Koresch, a native of Kewaskum, was one of the first women at Ripon College to letter in four sports: softball, volleyball, basketball and track. She received All-Conference honors in softball as a junior and senior and was named second team All-Conference in both volleyball and

In 1988 and 1989, Koresch was a recipient of the college's Samuel N. Pickard Award, which recognizes upperclass students who have made the most significant contribution to Ripon College through scholarship, athletic achievement and personal character. She was a member of the chemistry honor society, Eka Francian, and received the undergraduate award in analytical chemistry.

"The greatest treasure I have taken from Ripon College is the people I have met here," said Koresch. She said her involvement in athletics facilitated many of those relationships, affording opportunities to meet many people in different situations.

Koresch, who graduated from Ripon with a bachelor's degree in chemistry in 1989, is a forensic scientist at the Wisconsin State Crime Lab.

Support the Community By Golfing in Chamber Outing

By Judy Harlow STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

With more traditional summer weather the past week, most Wisconsinites want to get outdoors and enjoy activities like softball, swimming, picnicking, camping and biking.

At least two Kewaskum residents, Mike Geidel and Aaron Laatsch, have their minds on golf and snow, however.

Golf and snow? How can they possibly be combined in the same sentence?

Well, Geidel and Laatsch are serving at cochairmen of the upcoming Kewaskum Chamber of Commerce golf outing, which is set for Saturday, July 31st at Hon-E-Kor Country Club. Proceeds from the event go toward the annual Kewaskum Christmas parade, complete with snow, Nativity scenes, floats, bands, Santa Claus and smiles on all the faces of all the children lining the village streets.

"It's going to be like a casino ... Las Vegas theme, with events on the course," Geidel said about the golf outing, stressing the emphasis is on fun not serious golf. Using a scramble format, golfers of all levels will be able to enjoy the 18-hole outing.

Special events, like long drives and the long putt on designated holes will be rewarded, along with the winners of the scramble in which the best drives, best iron shots and successful putts are used to determine a foursome's total.

Geidel said tee times have been reserved from 10 a.m. until noon, and it is his goal to have them all filled up.

"We've already got several foursomes signed up. It seems like everyone comes in at the end," Geidel said, hoping more will sign up before next Thursday and Friday, so he and Laatsch will have a definite idea of how much food to have ordered for the lunch and dinner that are included in the entry fee.

The cost for golf, lunch and a steak dinner is $30 for players who are members of Hon-E-Kor and $60 for nonmembers.

"We do have some singles signed up. We can match them up with others (to make a foursome)," Geidel said.

Entry blanks have been included in recent editions of the Kewaskum Statesman, and they can be dropped off with payment, either at Hon-E-Kor, West Bend Savings or Piggly Wiggly.

Geidel and Laatsch are hoping to raise enough money to secure several bands for the parade, which will be held this year on Sunday, Dec. 5th.

"It's such a popular event," Geidel said about having bands in the parade.

Geidel and Laatsch are being assisted by Joyce Kral, the secretary of the Chamber, Kevin Bartelt of West Bend Savings, and Jane Korth of Hon-E-Kor.

First Wisconsin State Fire Memorial Poker Ride July 31

ALLENTON - Final plans are being made for possibly one of the largest fund raisers undertaken to date to construct a memorial to those firefighters that have died in the line of duty and those that have served their communities unselfishly. This fund raiser will take place on July 31, 2004. Plans are almost complete according to Ron Naab, for the First Annual Wisconsin State Fire Memorial Poker Ride.

The event will include cars, trucks, and motorcycles of ALL makes and models. The adventure will begin in Bob's Harley-Davidson in Fond du Lac on Saturday morning, July 31. Registration will take place from 8:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. and then there will be a presentation of colors immediately following. Riders will receive punch cards at registration to be marked at each stop along the ride and the "poker hand" to be drawn in Richfield.

The first stop will be at the Campbellsport Fire Department [Campbellsport is the current record holder for the largest sausage made in the world], which is celebrating its 100th anniversary. The motorcade will then travel just north of Mayville to the Kekoskee Fire Station. Traveling through Mayville as a parade, riders will head to the brand NEW Juneau Emergency Services Building.

After refueling the "tummy" and the gas tanks, the next destination will be Ashippun Fire Station, next door to TNT Rescue Tools. The ride will be completed at the final stop, Richfield Volunteer Fire Company Station One and Park.

Here the poker hands will. be drawn, various raffles will be held, a very meaningful memorial service and then a night of fun and games. The music will be provided by a great "rock-n-roll" band called the Badger Crew. Food and beverages will be available throughout the night.

The Wisconsin State Firefighters Memorial will be located in Wisconsin Rapids at the Ben Hanson Park. It will include a life-size bronze statue of two firefighters attempting to rescue a "downed" firefighter. Along with a Memorial Fire Bell, pavilion, memorial center, and "paver brick" walkways.

The entire memorial will afford those survivors and others an opportunity to meditate and reflect on those that have dedicated themselves to helping others.

For those that would rather not drive home that night, rooms have been blocked at a number of motels within an 8 mile radius. For a complete list and prices check the website or contact Ron Naab at 262/629-9749.

"For more information, please visit our website, www.wsfm.org, " said Terry Beine. Beine of the Hartford Fire Department, assistant chair of the Poker Ride Committee, stated, "There is information about the ride, the exhibits, and a pre-registration form is available at the website".

"We are pleased with all the support we have received," said Ron Naab. "For the $25.00 single rider fee and $40.00 two-up fee, riders will receive a ride pin, food tickets, a poker hand, raffle tickets, a special gift from Harley-Davidson, and have a chance to enjoy some entertaining sites of the area as well as hear some great music at the end of the day.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of MARY (BETTY) HOERIG, who passed away one year ago, July 19, 2003:

Our loved one is not gone away,

But rests in peaceful sleep. To awake upon another day, Her time with God to keep. Her life was long, her life was vast,

Her countenance was cheery;

To face each day and face each task,

But never did she weary. Now she rests in peaceful slumber,

Her tasks on earth are done; Among the angels she will number,

For her rich rewards are won

Deeply missed by the family.

If a man be gracious to strangers, it shows that he is a citizen of the world, and his heart is no island, cut off from other islands, but a continent that joins them.

We watched through all your suffering And often had to cry

For we knew that very soon We'd have to say good-bye When days are sad and lone-

And everything goes wrong We seem to hear you whisper Cheer up and carry on. Every time we see your picture

You seem to smile and say Don't cry. I'm in God's keep ing.

We'll all meet again someday.

Bitten

By: Pamela Nagami, M.D.

A few weeks ago, as I was standing in my closet, choosing what to wear, I noticed that something dropped down behind me from the ceiling. It was about 8 inches wide and weighed almost a pound and a half.

Or at least it looked to me like it did.

I was actually pretty proud of myself. I stepped back (or was that leapt back?) and very calmly screamed to my husband, who came and dispensed of the juicy creature. I know, I know. "Spiders are our friends".

Ticks, which the picture. And the mans, which mans, which around the mans, which around the mans, which mans, which mans the mans that around the mans that are mand the mand the mans that are mand the man that are mand the mans the

It's just that I'm one of those people who would rather go ten feet out of my way, than risk running into a possibly lurking spider. So you have to understand how really brave it was for me to read "Bitten" by Pamela Nagami, M.D. (c.2004, St. Martin's Press). "Bitten" is a factual book about all the creepy crawly things and more that can cause harm to you with their teeth.

Many of the creatures in "Bitten" are ones you'll probably never encounter, and this book will make you feel thankful for that. In the jungles of Peru, for example, there is a tiny fly that carries a germ that it injects when it bites, which causes facial ulcers and worse. There is the terrible tsetse fly, carrier of Sleeping Sickness. There's the Komodo dragon, with serrated teeth and deadly bacteria in its mouth. There's the stinging jellyfish, the most deadly ones found off the coast of Australia. There's the

A few weeks ago, as I was krait, a South Asian snake anding in my closet, choosthat can kill a human in less than 10 minutes.

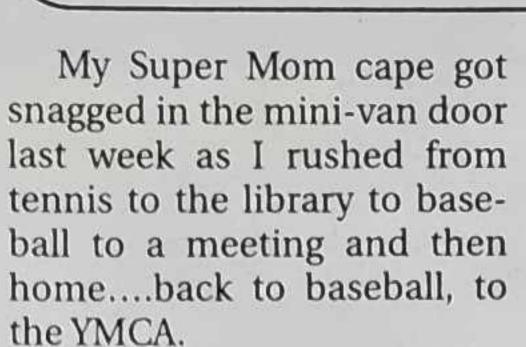

Then there are all the creatures with which you might actually come in contact. Like alligators, which have killed people. Snakes, which have killed people. Fire ants, which have killed people. Fire ants, which have killed people. Ticks, which... well, you get the picture.

And then there are humans, which are pretty common creatures, if you look around. You probably wouldn't think that people would be in a book like this, but the bite of a human can unleash some surprising and rather unsavory bacteria into your body. While reading "Bitten" is going to make you want to scratch, it's also fun, in a strange sort of way. Dr. Nagami obviously knows plenty about her subject, and her writing is far from clinical; in fact, she seems eager to tell you all about the things that can happen if you meet up with these critters. Along the way, you'll also learn a thing or two, like what you should do if you get bitten by a snake, why you shouldn't put your hand in a dark place you can't see, and why you should be very glad you weren't a human living in Australia twenty-five thousand years ago.

Pick up a copy of "Bitten", and then shake out your shoes before you put them on. Watch where you put your fingers. Be careful where you step or sit. There are things out there you don't want to meet.

Food for Thought

By Amy Swanson aswanson@kewaskumstatesman.com

The cape snag affected the rest of my Super Mom powers because my Super Dinner Idea laser button was busted and my patience level indicator was flashing red! I was running out of time and fuel to finish the rest of my day, which lately seems to be a common theme.

As soon as I walked in the door, I transformed myself into June Cleaver without the pearls. I scoured the cupboards for anything that I could throw together to call a casserole. I found noodles, tomatoes, ground meat, corn, cottage cheese and a shopping list from last year buried in the cupboard. I was well on my way to noodle surprise! "Time for dinner," I said about 8 p.m., just before my fading family dozed off to sleep. My 9 year-old emerged from his Game Boy coma just in time to protest the menu. "I'm not eating that!" He exclaimed. "Me neither," said his 6 year-old sidekick who only eats cold hot dogs and peanut butter.

"It's a casserole," I said.
"Pretend it's something that you really like...and plug your nose if you don't like the smell."

After some tough negotiating, which cost me four baseball cards, we ate peacefully.

Then the Super-phone rang. I was sure it was a play-group or BUNKO emergency that needed my immediate attention. I asked my husband to take charge.

Two minutes into my conversation, my 2 year-old daughter streaks through the living room with her doll stroller, chasing after her 6 year-old brother. My 9 year-old returns and is at my side asking me to help him find socks, which usually live in his top drawer. I wave him in the direction to find socks. Within seconds he returns complaining that his brother must have hid all of his 10 pairs of socks. He sobs.

With the phone in one hand, I chase down the stroller bandit and her victim. I end the phone call and find my husband, who is supposed to be in charge of the chaos, while I fake an important phone call, is sitting down watching baseball...he will not get a baseball card.

Three pairs of pajamas on, teeth brushed, books read and 20 minutes convincing my boys that there aren't dinosaurs in the closet. Lights off.

Ahh, time for me.....to finish the dishes, pick up the house, do the laundry, iron (oops, I don't ever iron), fold clothes, pack tomorrows snack bag, library bag, gym bag...and mend my cape.

My husband and I collapse on the couch and brief each other on what lies ahead tomorrow. We check our planners; my 2 year-old daughter has illustrated my tomorrow page in lipstick.

Super Mom's superpowers are coming apart at the seams.

Village of Kewaskum NEWS NOTES

Change in Parking Restrictions at Kiwanis Park

The Village Board would like to announce a change in the parking policy for persons using Kiwanis Park. Currently, the parking policy does not allow cars or vehicles to park in park areas, with one exception. One vehicle is allowed to park at each ball diamond so that a coach can more easily unload and load sports equipment, and so that, in the event of an emergency, an injured player could be more quickly transported to the hospital. This week, the Village Board reviewed the parking policy and determined that, on balance, the need for pedestrian safety outweighs the coach's request for easy access to the ball diamonds. In addition, with the use of cell phones, emergency medical personnel can easily be contacted and there is no need for the coach's vehicle to be parked next to the ball diamond. Therefore, the Village Board approved a change in the parking policy which prohibits any vehicle from parking adjacent to the ball diamonds at any time. This change will take effect on July 23, 2004.

While we know this will not be a popular decision, the Village Board took this action to protect the safety of the pedestrians who visit the park and use the path to get to and from the ball diamonds. We apologize for any inconvenience this will create for any coach, player, or citizen who uses Kiwanis Park. However, the safety of park visitors is extremely important to us and we feel this change is necessary.

Young Mueller Finds Thrills on the Hills

Josh Mueller in a recent competition.

By Judy Harlow Statesman Correspondent jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

If he ever needs a motto, 13-year-old Josh Mueller might want to consider "Have No Fear" because he has been racing motorcycles up steep hills even before he spent his first day in kindergarten.

"I started doing this when I was four years old," said Mueller, who will be an eighth grader at Holy Trinity Catholic School this fall. He is hooked on hill climbing, and he is darn good at it, too.

"With the 80 cc (cubic centimeters), I won the title three times in a row," Mueller said last week, while eagerly preparing for Sunday's annual Sunburst Hill Climb sponsored by the Kettle Moraine Sport Riders.

After completing the triple, Mueller could have gone back to the same division and made an attempt at winning a fourh, or he could move up to a tougher division. He chose the latter and already is raising some eyebrows even though the poor weather Wisconsin experienced during the months of May and June have severely cut into the 2004 hill climb season.

"We've only had two (competitions) because of all the rain," Mueller said, indicating he finished fourth or fifth in the event held at Wisconsin Rapids, and, "I got sixth out of 15 in Bloomville" over a month ago. He is not sure about the current point standings because they haven't been posted.

While these earlier finishes aren't firsts or seconds, people have to remember Mueller just made the switch to the bigger biker, and he is going up against older, more experienced riders.

"I'm the youngest one in that class. All the others are like 30 (years old)," Mueller said, but in no way is he getting discouraged about going up against tougher competition. He is thriving on it.

Mueller and his dad spend their summers working on their motorcycles and competing in the District 16 races. "We go to Minnesota and all around," Mueller said, reporting at one of their stops, at Dickeyville, which is near Platteville, they face a real challenge.

"That's the biggest hill ...
It's 500 feet high." Mueller said, announcing there will be two races there later in August and September.

The hill at Sunburst is in the 300-foot range, according to Mueller, who said last year he managed to get to the top in a quick 10 seconds. That was with his 80 cc bike, and he was expecting to dip under 10 on Sunday because, "This one (bike) is a whole lot faster."

So what does young Mueller think about when he is sitting at the starting line? "I'm nervous ... not much," he said. "I just hope to get over."

The key to accomplishing that goal is to "stay straight," according to Mueller, who said it is also important to "have a good time."

Mueller is thankful for the support and advice he has received from other riders, especially his dad, Toby.

"Yeah, I got a lot of advice from my dad," Mueller said, reporting the elder Mueller currently holds the title in the Open Class.

Another common denominator among the Muellers is their interest in football.

Mueller was a pretty decent end for Kewaskum High School, and young Josh has already shown he has some Ahman Green type moves while playing the past two years on GridIron teams.

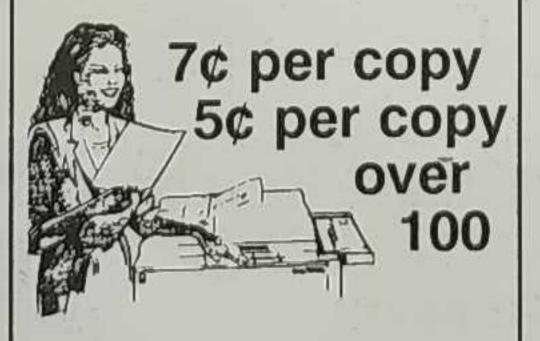

Mueller plays running back and linebacker, and he said, "We did good last year ... We were 9-1."

In one of his first games as a sixth grader, Mueller returned a kickoff for a touchdown, and he had quite a few TDs last fall, although he did not keep track how many.

"Everybody's pretty good on our team, and the line holds 'em back," Mueller said.

So the big question is which sport does Mueller like best? "Racing, I think," he said, and about his feelings for getting back into racing competition after the long layoff, he stated emphatically, "I'm excited."

Learning Experience
On Lake Michigan

Hello Friends,

Adversity is defined in Webster's Dictionary as "difficulty or misfortune." I recently made a friend who met adversity as a young teenager when he lost his eyesight and his left hand. I called Terry Green back in June. Terry lives in Pardeeville and runs his own machine shop. I have been looking for a wood splitter for quite some time and was told Terry was the man to talk to. During our first conversation on the phone, I ordered a wood splitter and was invited to fish with him on board his 21-foot Sylvan on Lake Michigan at Port Washington. I was told I could bring one person with me and chose my 14-year-old stepson Kevin, who until last week, had never fished on the Big Pond.

Friday, July 9 High 82, Low 53

I have to admit that for the last couple of weeks I was pretty curious as to the learning experience Kevin and I would have. Since our first phone conversation, I have talked with several people who know Terry, and everyone has the same type of comments. He is an independent man, a heck of a fisherman, and a top-notch machinist. This morning, Kevin and I met Terry and one of his fishing partners, John "Coss" Cossman, of Montello. Coss is a job scheduler at Robbins Manufacturing in Fall River, and like Terry, addicted to fishing on the Big Pond. Last year Terry made 34 trips. Both Terry and Coss are members of the Ozaukee County Great Lakes Sport Fishing Club and have been doing very well in fishing tournaments.

If you have ever fished for salmon before on the Great Lakes, you are well aware of how much work and knowledge is required to set lines so you can actually fish. Downriggers, Dipsy Divers, and Yellow Birds are tools used to either put your lure away from the boat or at different depths. Today, the magic depths would be 50 to 62 feet below water with our spoons and flies set at 38 to 45 feet. Close your eyes and imagine setting eight rods on the back of a 21-foot boat. Six of the rods require a 12-pound ball, all include depth counters, and you are missing your left hand. Terry did not want me to make a big deal out of what he is up against, and it didn't take long for me to realize what a smooth operator he is.

There are certain common sense rules on the boat. Don't leave anything laying around on the floor and number all of the rods. When a rod trips, signalling a fish strike, often times action is required to move other poles if it appears that the fish might become tangled with the other lines. This can cause a major time consuming mess with this method of fishing. Kevin was given the go-ahead for the first fish of the day and was fighting a screamer when another rod tripped and I began a battle with what turned out to be a four-pound king. Kevin's screamer was taking him all over the boat and it was a lot of fun to listen to him fight a truly big fish. It was a work of art to watch Coss and Terry as they pulled lines. In the end, Kevin's screamer got away, but we were all well aware it was going to be a good day. Our hosts proved to be real gentlemen and ended up giving Kevin most of the action on this day. Kevin's first fish was a 15-pound king and his next was a 16-pounder. Both gave the kid a run for his money, but he had two excellent teachers who gave him good advice. Some advice included keeping his rod up and working a fish to tire it out. On this day, the magic spoon was a silver Pro King, with a green ladder back design.

Last weekend, Terry and Coss were in a tournament and took first place in the brown trout division and third in the coho category. On several occasions they have limited out and also done well in other tournaments. At day's end, Kevin had landed four fish and the rest of us had one a piece. I watched Terry tie a fisherman's knot with his teeth and the stub of his left arm faster than I can with two hands and normal eyesight. Kevin and I made two new friends, took home 30 pounds of fillets, and the boy had a genuine quality experience. He decided that some day he needs to live in . salmon country so he can fish them regularly. Most importantly, don't let adversity get you down!

Thanks Terry and Coss!

Indians Close EWC Play with Loss

By Judy Harlow STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Lots of smaller rallies by the Campbellsport High baseball team added up to more than the two big ones by Kewaskum Saturday afternoon, allowing the Cougars to claim an 11-8 victory over the Indians in the final Eastern Wisconsin Conference outing for both teams.

Everyone was ready to play in Kewaskum, but after the CHS bus and the umpires arrived, it was discovered the Kiwanis Park diamond was not ready, so both teams headed up to Campbellsport where the game went on.

Kewaskum scored three runs in the bottom of the third to take a 3-2 lead, but the Cougars used three runs in the fourth, two more in the fifth, another three in the sixth and a single run in the seventh for their 11 tallies.

Kewaskum was stuck on the three until the bottom of the seventh when five Indians crossed the plate, and the bases were loaded with two outs when Casey Scheel came up to the plate.

Like the famous poem about Casey at the bat, Scheel went down on strikes, but according to KHS Coach Dave Donath, the called third strike was "very controversial.

"From the coach's box at third base, the pitch looked to be at least six inches outside," Donath said, but, as in all baseball games, the umpire had the final word, and the Indians had to settle for a 9-12 mark in the EW.

Josh Meyer took the loss for the Indians, going 4 and 1/3 innings before being replaced by Brandon Prom. Meyer gave up five runs on six hits, with one strikeout and a pair of walks.

Prom yielded the other six runs on eight hits. He fanned one and gave one free pass to first base.

Picking up the win was Trevor Schill, who only pitched four innings, according to Donath. Schill gave up three runs on four hits, striking out two and walking two.

Nick Whitty went the rest of the way for the Cougars. He did well in the fifth and sixth but probably would like to forget the seventh when he gave up four singles.

Garret Donath opened the inning with a single, then there were two outs and should have been a third on a throwing error. With new life, Tim Trott drew a walk, then Jon Olla, Matt Parrent (2 RBI) and Prom came through with back-to-back-to back singles for the five runs. Scheel represented the winning run at the plate but could not come up with the hit the Indians needed.

In the third, Shea led off with a hit and moved to second on a wild pitch. Tim Trott struck out but reached base when the catcher dropped the third strike, then Olla singled in Shea, Parrent singled home Trott and Olla scored when Prom grounded out.

Cameron Salter was one of the Cougar heroes. He touched all the bases in the fourth inning, with a 2-run homer, and he wound up going 3x5.

"I believe that was his 10th (homer) for the season (in EW play)," Donath said. "For a sophomore, he's a pretty good hitter."

Owen Gellings had four hits in five trips to the plate, and Schill chipped in with three hits.

Kewaskum picked up a win Thursday night when Sheboygan Falls decided to forfeit. The Falcons had already played four games during the week and were scheduled to open WIAA regional tournament play Friday night.

The Indians, who are 10-13 overall, received a bye in the first round. They will host the winner of the Oostburg vs. Cedar Grove/Belgium game at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday. Donath said he hadn't been notified which team won.

Olla lands first-team berth

When the Eastern Wisconsin Conference coaches gathered on Saturday, July 17th, the business at hand was selecting the all-conference squad.

KHS Coach Dave Donath announced sophomore Jon Olla was selected as the league's first-team catcher. Olla batted a hefty .418 in the 21 EW games, with five doubles and one triple. He had 17 RBI, according to Donath, who reported senior Tim Trott was selected to the second team.

Trott batted .411, Donath said, noting the outfielder smashed three triples and had 14 RBI.

Trott started off in the No. 9 position in the batting order, but, "He's been batting in the No. 2 hole spot," Donath said.

Receiving honorable mention in the balloting was senior Brandon Prom, who batted .283.

"It wasn't his hitting that got him on," Donath said. "There were a few games when he turned in some great defense ... He did it with his glove, and he pitched a little."

Plymouth and Kiel shared the EW title. Both went 17-4 on the season. While no one announced the final standings, Donath figured his team finished fifth in the league.
