Kiwanis Turkey Shoot Sept. 11

By JUDY HARLOW
 STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
 jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Jim Dorn and the annual Kewaskum Kiwanis Turkey Shoot go back a long way. As a young boy, he came with dreams of shooting a turkey, and now he is the chairman of the event, which will be held for the 52nd consecutive year on Saturday, Sept. 11th at the New Fane Sportsman's Club.

"Matter of fact, I went there when there were live turkeys," Dorn said recently, recalling his trips to the Bar-N Ranch where the event was held for so many years.

"I went to my first one when I was about 13 or 14 ... And I got one (a turkey) on my first shot. Rich Reigle (a former Regal Ware executive) was working on the line next to me," he said.

Dorn and a lot of other young people from the community were able to take advantage of programs made available from the money generated from the event, and now he is more than happy to put in the effort so others will benefit.

"The proceeds go to support local youth activities," Dorn said, indicating these include the Boy Scouts, KEY Club, Student of the Month, and the annual scholarships given to a graduating senior.

There are other projects the Kiwanis Club has helped with in recent years, according to Dorn, who said one major project is the renovation of some of the buildings in the River Hill Park. He said the group offered financial support and manpower to the work on the hamburger stand which was completed in 2003. This year's project is remodeling the ice cream stand.

The turkey shoot will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sept. 11. The Sportsman's Club is located four miles north of Kewaskum on Hwy. G in the beautiful Kettle Moraine State Forest.

This is a family event, with a variety of activities to participate in, including a pistol range, trap shoot, basketball shoot, golf drive, bow and arrow, dart toss and BB gun shoot for kids.

The major draw is always the rifle shoot where a marksman can take home a frozen turkey by hitting a balloon with a single shot 22.

"They shoot from 80 yards away at a balloon," Dorn said, adding, "The guns are provided."

A year ago, "roughly 300" turkeys were won by participants, according to Dorn, who said, "A lot of young kids come out with parents and grandparents and shoot on the range or with the bow and arrow or BB gun."

One new event in recent years has been the paintball, Dorn said, reporting the participants shoot at a target covered which is covered with a tarp, so the paint doesn't splatter.

Advanced tickets are now on sale for $5. Tickets are available at Kuehl's Suds and Spirits, Kohn's Citgo, Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, Amerahn, West Bend Savings Bank, Dairy Queen, St. Francis Bank and Thiemer's Sip, Snip and from any of the 25 members of the Kiwanis Club. The tickets can be used at any event.

"We'll (Regal Ware) have our truck out there. We have for years," Dorn said about the semi load of cookware products, which normally sells out.

Refreshments will also be available at the event.

Senate candidates appear at forum

By JUDY STEFFES
SPECIAL TO THE STATESMAN

State Senator Mary Panzer and Senate candidate Glenn Grothman spoke to about 125 people at a candidates forum at Cedar Ridge Apartments in West Bend on Tuesday. Both lawmakers are vying for the 20th District State Senate seat. The forum at the Ridge was sponsored by AARP Wisconsin and the Coalition of Wisconsin Aging Groups.

During the forum, Panzer began by touting her experience in office saying she was a proven leader who helped elect other Republicans and take control of the Senate. Grothman stressed his conservative values and his efforts to watch out for taxpayers in Washington and Ozaukee Counties.

Both candidates presented similar views on questions posed by the five member panel. On the issue of taxes, both Panzer and Grothman agreed that raising any kind of taxes does not help solve budget problems. "Having you guys pay 6% or 7% or 8% sales tax under the excuse that it will cut your property tax is just not true," said Grothman about claims made in Madison that raising the sales tax will reduce the property tax. "Most of these increases will not cut your property tax and I will not vote for them," he said.

Panzer said rather than raising taxes, lawmakers have to focus on controlling their spending. "Revenue controls actually work," she said. "I believe we have to look at all levels of government and how we can provide an umbrella based on growth plus an index factor which for modest increases based on increases in population. Both Panzer and Grothman then stressed the need for a Constitutional Amendment and the passage of a Taxpayer Bill of Rights.

When questioned about increasing or maintaining transportation funds for the elderly, Panzer, lit into Governor Doyle and criticized him for raiding the state's transportation fund. "Because of what was done during the last budget we're going to have to go in and work extra hard to make sure the dollars are there for programs like this," she said adding she would recommend modest increases to help fund transportation programs for the elderly.

Grothman said in order to finance elderly transportation needs, the state has to stop using money for unnecessary road expansion projects. "What we have to do with the transportation fund, if we're not going to raise taxes, is slow down the amount of money we spend on roads." Grothman said unless we stop unnecessary road expansion, there won't be funding for elderly transit needs.

On other issues, Panzer said she would continue to support Senior Care.

Grothman said he would also not initiate any cuts to the program. The item the pair disagreed on was the Miller Park sales tax. Panzer said she voted for the 0.01% sales tax because she believes the jobs created through professional baseball help build a healthy economy. Grothman, who did not vote for the five county sales tax, said it was a horrible precedent because the legislature forced people in Washington and Ozaukee counties to pay for Milwaukee's problems.

Grothman and Panzer will appear in a live, on air debate on September 7th on AM 1470 WBKV Radio.

Kewaskum man appears confused at court appearance

By JUDY STEFFES

A Kewaskum man accused of shoplifting with his kids will undergo a mental evaluation. 39-year-old Richard Hofer appeared before Washington County judge David Resheske on Thursday.

During the appearance Hofer gave some "wacky answers" to the judge's questions. He appeared to be trembling and hyperventilating.

Hofer is facing multiple counts of theft, contributing to the delinquency of a child and obstructing an officer. Police say Hofer made off with about $2,500 worth of merchandise when he took his kids shopping at Walmart and Shopko in West Bend.

Hofer's attorney says his client was initially planning on pleading guilty by reason of mental disease, but when questioned by the judge he said "my company says yes" The attorney says his client has a history of mental health problems.

A decision on how to proceed with the case will be made at Hofer's next court appearance which is September 15th.

Library Ledger

By Steve Baker

What's going on at the library? I'm glad you asked. After the busiest summer in my short tenure here, it looks like the fall is going to be just as busy. On September 7th we're having a Fall Food Fare Recipe Swap. We thought it would be fun to see (and taste) what other people make for fall and winter gatherings, so we invite anyone who is interested to submit recipes to the library for compilation into a cookbook that will be available at the library. Anyone who is willing to make samples of their recipes to bring in on September 7th at 6:30 will get a free copy of the recipe booklet. We only have room to accommodate 36 people on September 7th, but we can accept as many recipes as you can give.

On September 13th, we are holding our first official Friends of the Library meeting. Sister Mary Ellen Paulson, the president of the Friends of Wisconsin Libraries, will be in attendance to talk about what a Friends group can accomplish. Also in September, we will be hosting free computer classes. For complete schedule and more information, please contact the library.

In October we are happy to host an evening of mystery and folklore with Wisconsin author Linda Godfrey. Ms. Godfrey is the author of several books on weird happenings in Wisconsin including UFOs, werewolves, and unsolved mysteries.

Also in October we will be holding our annual book sale. Last year we had great success by combining the book sale with a bake sale. So start thinking about what you'd like to make. The Book and Bake sale will be held during Kewaskum Kettle Kountry Kolors, October 8 and 9. It will be at the Annex Building rather than at the library. In addition to all of these things, we are hoping to have a pumpkin carving contest in late October and host some local authors and illustrators during Children's Book Week in November.

Please contact the library if you have any questions about any of these programs or if you would like to volunteer to help with any of our programs. The library phone number is 626-4312.

Tuyls earns award at State Fair

The Wisconsin State Fair Junior Poultry Show drew 116 youth exhibitors and 1,314 of the state's finest ducks, geese, chickens and pigeons.

Highlights of the show included a Showmanship Contest, which evaluated exhibitors on handling skills, attitude, and poultry knowledge offering over one thousand dollars in awards and prizes.

A writing contest, "The Pullet Surprise," drew 67 entries statewide. Winning poets and essay authors were awarded pairs of purebred poultry, incubators, brooders, cages, books and equip-

The Avian Quiz Bowl tested the abilities of four member teams to answer poultry related questions, while the Egg Demonstration Contest put young chefs to work creating eggs-tra-ordinary cuisine.

"Beauty and the Bird," an art contest focusing on domesticated birds as subject matter, provided colorful, imaginative art objects for walls and showcases.

Junior exhibitors enjoyed meetings, refreshments and social time with friends and family the day of the show.

Holy Trinity and St. Michaels to celebrate Catechetical Sunday

KEWASKUM - Catechetical Sunday will be marked in parishes nationwide during the weekend of September 18-19, 2004. This annual celebration recognizes those who share in the formal teaching ministry of the Catholic Church. This year's theme is Stewards of God's Gifts.

Currently, more than half a million catechists serve in the nation's 19,000 Catholic parishes, missions and schools. They are instrumental in introducing more than four million children and youth to the faith and tradition of the Church. In addition, these catechists provide opportunities for study, reflection, and faith enrichment to a large number of adult Catholics.

Holy Trinity and St. Michaels will observe Catechetical Sunday with a rite of commissioning for its 35 catechists. As part of these celebrations, parents and guardians will be blessed for the important role they play in handing on the faith to the next generation.

E.Coli found in water at Little Cedar Lake

Swimmers around Washington County are being told to avoid going into Little Cedar Lake after high levels of E.Coli were found in the water. Signs about the bacteria are posted at Ackermann's Grove Park.

Although the beach has not been closed, officials say swimmers should wait until more tests are done later in the week. Swimmers who have been in the water are not in any danger of sickness. If symptoms appear swimmers are urged to contact the Washington County Health Department.

Area hunters can apply for free deer hunting permits

Starting today, hunters and landowners across Washington County can apply for free deer hunting permits for Chronic Wasting Disease eradication zones. The C-W-D season starts September 18th and runs through the end of March.

The disease eradication zones are not anywhere in Washington or surrounding counties. However the permits are valid in eight counties around the state including Dane, Sauk and Columbia Counties.

Farmer killed in accident in Sheboygan

A fatal accident occurred Monday afternoon in Sheboygan. The crash happened when a farm tractor was hit by a semi truck.

Sheboygan County Sheriff's deputies say 75-year-old Walter Born of Waldo was pronounced dead at the scene.

The accident happened mid-afternoon when the southbound semi collided with the tractor. The crash shut down State Highway 57 near County Highway V.

The driver of the semi was not injured. The accident remains under investigation.

Roadwork begins on Highway 33 in W.B.

Construction has begun along Highway 33 in the Town of Trenton. Crews will be installing sanitary sewer and water main along the south side of the road from Trenton Road to Chopper Drive.

The road will remain open while work is in progress. The project should be completed by the end of October.

Fond du Lac Sheriff's squad involved in crash

A Fond du Lac Sheriff's squad was hit on Sunday while the deputy was trying to stop a vehicle for speeding.

The accident happened just before 6 p.m. as the deputy was south on Highway 26 near Highway T. Authorities say the deputy's squad was hit on the passenger side by a red Jeep.

Both vehicles needed to be towed from the scene and both drivers were treated for minor injuries. The State Patrol is investigating the accident.

Marian College receives grant to upgrade nursing resource center

Four years ago UW-Washington County received a $1.1 million gift to establish a four year nursing degree. The donation came from Curtis and Adele Curtis.

Now Marian College in Fond du Lac has received a $100,000 gift to be used to renovate and upgrade their college's nursing resource center. The president of the school says the donation came from an alumni of the St. Agnes School of Nursing.

West Bend Economic Dev. Committee presents ideas

While the city of West Bend looks for a developer for the hotel and convention center, officials say they want to renovate the covered pedestrian bridge. The Economic Development Committee says they consider the bridge vital to connecting the new hotel with the downtown.

Another suggestion came from Mike Husar who would like to open both ends of Main Street. Husar blames the large turnover in downtown retailers on the fact people can not easily find merchants on Main Street. Currently the north end of Main Street turnaround. Many jog up Cedar Street to get to 7th or head down Mill Street and then turn left onto Highway 33.

Finally, Jeanne's Collectibles is moving. Jeanne Mueller says she knew she would outgrow her store at 161 North Main, but not within nine months.

Mueller says she has no room for her growing stock of upscale women's clothing. Mueller says she wanted to stay closer to the retail end of Downtown but she thinks she'll get her share of traffic.

Mueller hopes to be in her new store at the corner of North Main and Cedar by mid-September. A "gift store" will be moving into her old site.

BY JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The sign in front of the building at 1421 Fond du Lac Avenue says "Exodus House, since 1977."

What could be written right below is Vicki Towell and Frank Ciesielczyk, at Exodus House since 1979.

Within the past six months both have passed 25-year milestones as dedicated employees at this transitional care facility, which aims to successfully treat men who are battling chemical dependencies.

The two found their way to Exodus House using entirely different paths.

Towell, who is a lifelong resident of the village, was simply looking for any kind of bookkeeping job after graduating from Kewaskum High School while she was studying at Moraine Park Technical College.

Ciesielczyk was in training at Kettle Moraine Hospital in Oconomowoc when he saw a posting and interviewed for the position.

"I was just remembering this was one heck of a late birthday present," Towell said, recalling how she acquired an interest in being a bookkeeper from a teacher Lois Weiland and from her mother, who for many years, did the same kind of work for Kohn Brothers Implement.

"This appeared as a blind ad," Towell said, and she applied. "I remember taking a tour at the end of the interview," and thinking, "That is going to be my office."

Towell, who lives in Kewaskum with her husband Bruce, began working on a part-time basis and continued her education with the financial backing of the facility. Just about the same time she finished school, her job was expanded to full time.

Ciesielczyk, who lives in West Bend with his wife Christine — their son, 21, lives in Madison and their daughter, 19, is attending UW-Washington County this fall pursuing a degree in art — can certainly relate to the clients at Exodus. "I am a recovering alcoholic," he said.

The two have formed a solid team as office manager (Towell) and director (Ciesielczyk), and both receive a great deal of personal satisfaction from the work they do.

Concerning what he likes best working at Exodus, Ciesielczyk said, "watching people turn their lives around from years of addiction to alcohol and other drugs."

"I do the same thing over and over, but it's never the same job ... probably because of the people," Towell chipped in, indicating she enjoys the variety the job offers and working with the people.

Ciesielczyk said what is especially rewarding is "people making positive changes in their lives," and adds, "It's a good feeling when alumni return to visit and share the positives in their lives."

Exodus House had a capacity to handle 20 clients, and, "Right now, we're running an average of 18," Towell said, explaining in the past the average utilization is 82 percent for the year, but, "This year we are at 91 percent." The average age of the residents is right around 30.

When asked if she works directly with clients, Towell said she is the afternoon driver at the facility, picking up the men to attend day programs offered in the County, and "If someone in the house needs a budge, I sit down and help them."

Towell points out Exodus attempts to provide counseling not just in the recovery process, but for life skills as well. "Here they learn to take care of themselves," she said.

And is she happy to work at Exodus House? "Yes, I wouldn't have stayed 25 years if I wasn't having a lot of fun around here," she said.

Ciesielczyk is also happy to have Towell as an employee, saying "Vicki is a team person, and our program would not be as good as it is without this attitude. She is a very reliable and trustworthy employee."

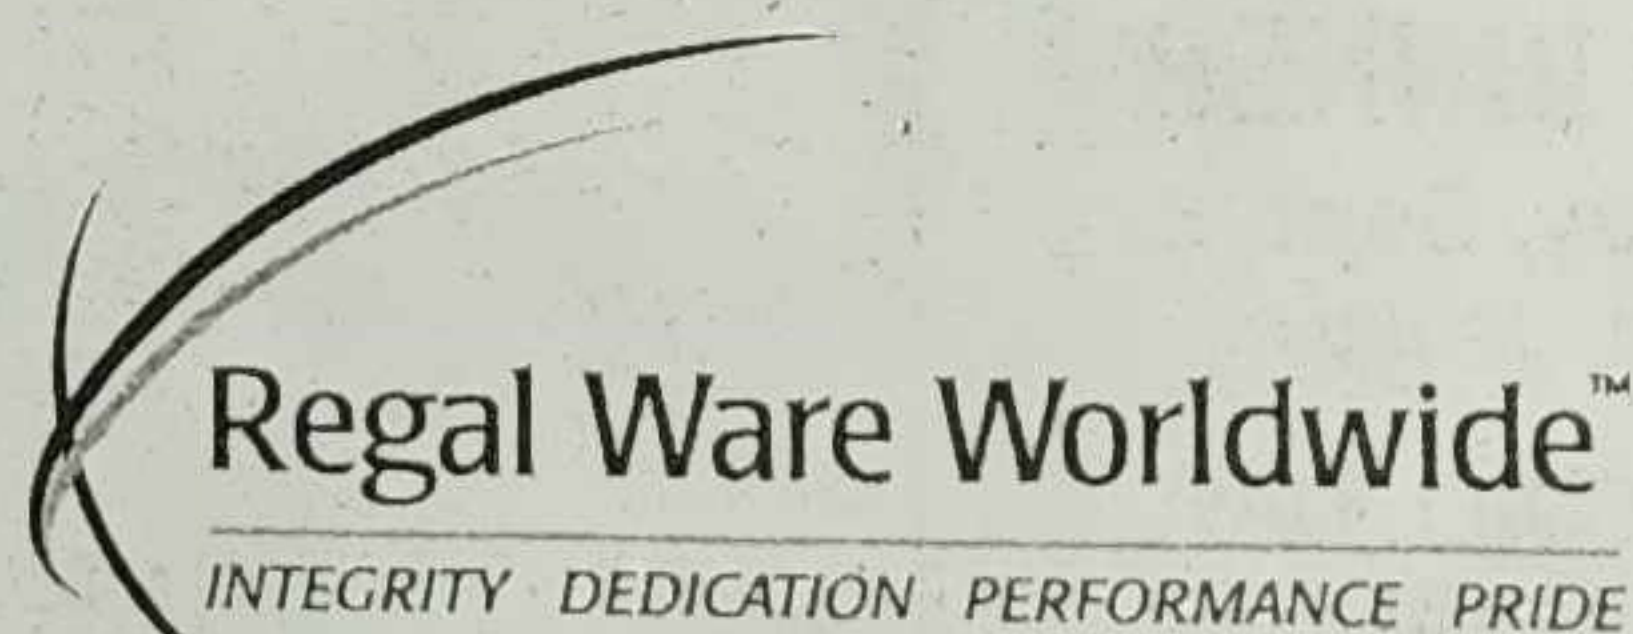

And about his time at Exodus? "The time I have spent in this field has been very rewarding, personally and professionally," Ciesielczyk said. "There will always be a soft spot in my heart for recovering addicts and alcoholics."

Auctions abundant at Holy Trinity's Social Fest

He may be a year older, but Barney Strobel proved Saturday night he still has the same old pizzaz when it comes to auctioneering. Strobel volunteered his services at the 10th annual Holy Trinity Social Fest. Among the more popular items auctioned off were classroom projects made by students at the school.

One at a time, Social Fest attendees who purchased keys for a chance at the diamond pendant would bring them up to see if they would open. Julaine Luedtke, left, watches as Jenny Schmitt's key fails to be the right one. After many anxious minutes without a winner, Roy Aycock came forward with what may have been the final key, and he was the winner.

Tons of fun at Fall Fun Day at Riveredge Nature Center

Summertime, and the livin' is...over? But the best season of all will be celebrated by Riveredge Nature Center in Newburg. Fall Fun Day on Sunday, September 19, will feature kids' activities, workshops for grownups, tales of Wisconsin rivers in song and story, and products and produce for purchase by area Earth-friendly farmers and vendors. That's just for starters.

Fall Fun Day, open to the public, will be held from noon to 5 p.m., rain or shine. Entrance fee for Riveredge members' children is $3; non-members' children will pay $4. And adults are free! Fall Fun Day is sponsored by Port Washington State Bank.

Children's activities include craft and nature adventures, face painting, making cupcakes, and more. Each child will receive a fall fun bag filled with things to help them participate in this celebration of the season.

Families will enjoy listening to a 3 p.m. performance of "Grandpa's River," songs and stories about Wisconsin rivers presented by Skip Jones. A masterful storyteller and musician, Jones's words and music create a message that reaches people's hearts as well as their ears.

Area farmers are special guests at Fall Fun Day, and they will feature produce and products for sale. A variety of food, prepared by these vendors, will be available for purchase. Included will be corn soup from United Nations, an Oneida tribe, using heritage maize handed down from generation to generation; caramel apples, apple cider and apples for sale; bison chili and meatballs; sorghum, honey and maple syrup; and emu jerky.

Demonstrations will include spinning, butter churning and pressing apples for cider. Short workshops will be given on Native food, school nutrition, the Slow Food movement and soap making.

Visitors to Fall Fun Day may also pick up a copy of the new Farm Fresh Atlas, a guide to finding and buying farm-fresh, sustainably raised food in East-Central Wisconsin.

Riveredge Nature Center will announce the finalists, one family and one individual, who will participate in the Center's Eco-Challenge. They will design their own nine-month program for making their lives more eco-friendly and reducing their "eco-footprint," the measure of their imposition on the natural environment while acquiring food, transportation, shelter, and goods and services.

The not so newlywed game

You still have 10 days to send in your nominations for couples that you would like to see participate in the Newlywed game...or Not So Newlywed Game. Nominations received this week were for two couples who have been married a few more than five years, but that's ok...we like them too!

Couples who were shown the love by anonymous voters were:

Lori and Harry Roecker
Joe and Debbie Backhaus

I know there are a LOT more couples around town then these two! So please keep sending in those nominations and dollars!

The only requirement is that you are part of a couple that is either almost married to married five years or married more than five years...that's not too tough. Don't be shy! It will be lots of fun...and as stated earlier it won't be TOO embarrassing!

To nominate your favorite couple, please fill out the form below. All nominations will remain top secret! After the initial nominations, which will close September 12, we will be asking for pictures and a brief history of the couple. We will then have open voting for the finalists, eventually ending up with a total of six couples.

Couples will then participate in the game being held at 4 p.m. on Saturday, October 9th at Kettle Kountry Kolors. It promises to be a fun event with many surprises along the way - oh yeah almost forgot - and GREAT prizes too!

For more information, call 262-626-2626 or email kettlekountrykolors@yahoo.com

Commercial communications gear to

Marines work on installing communications cable at Camp Taqaddum.

By Lance Cpl. Samuel Bard Valliere

CAMP TAQADDUM, Iraq (Aug. 26, 2004) -- Marines can rig a field communications network, including radio, phone and e-mail connectivity, in less than a day. They can then tear everything down, move to a different location and set it all back up quickly and efficiently.

During last year's invasion of Iraq, these skills contributed to the Marines' ability to keep their drive to Baghdad at a rocket's pace. But, with most of the Corps' units holding stable positions this year, gear designed for rapid set up, constant movement and short-term use has operated continuously, in one location, since the Marines' arrival.

Blazing desert heat, exposure to sand and dust, drastic temperature changes from day to night and constant use are taking their toll on the tactical communications gear that Marines use here. To take the strain off this equipment, the I Marine Expeditionary Force is making a switch to a "commercialized" system throughout its bases in Iraq.

The swap will allow I MEF Marines to take most of their gear back to the United States with them, while still leaving a communications network in place for units from the II MEF, which is scheduled to relieve them next spring.

Here, at the headquarters for the 1st Force Service Support Group, the Marines are replacing above-ground copper wiring with buried fiber-optic cable. They are also using the opportunity to hard-wire most of the units here into one base-wide network, which is expected to greatly improve the quality of contact between units.

The core of the new system is a multi-cable "spine," made up of lines for phones, e-mail and Internet, which winds through almost the entire camp.

To protect the expensive cables from damage, Marines from the Group's Communications Company have spent the last six months digging between 60 and 100 kilometers of ditches, to bury the cables, said Gunnery Sgt. Michael B. Sipple, the Group's data systems chief.

"It's a slow process. It just has to be done the right way," said Sgt. Brian P. O'Rourke, a 23-year-old native of Marinette, Wis., who is in-charge of the rotating 4- to 6-person crew that digs the ditches and lays the cable. "If it's done right the first time, we won't have to redo it."

While a small tractor with a big dirt-digging chainsaw, known as a "ditch witch," plows most of the longer trenches, the Marines have to do a lot of the remaining work, including digging loose sand out of the tractor-dug troughs, using nothing more than shovels and pick-axes, said Sipple, a 35-year-old resident of Silverton, Ore.

As the ditch diggers lay the new lines through other units' areas, they split them off, so that other Marines from the company can then connect them to junction boxes. This is how they add various units into the network.

Though a lot of work is necessary to set up the new system, the Marines say it will require less work to operate.

The new system is faster, more reliable and more redundant, cutting down on time required for repairs, said Sgt. Alfonso J. Cortes, who leads the teams making the junction box connections.

"One of these lines could get cut and data would still find its way to where it needs to go," said Cortes, a 25-year-old Los Angeles native. "It's going to make life a lot easier out here for us."

Making this switch to commercially purchased communications gear isn't cheap. Just one of the 10-kilometer spools of fiber-optic cable costs about $26,000 and the Marines have used three so far, said Chief Warrant Officer 2 Jay Shivers, the company's operations officer and a 35-year-old native of Pitman, N.J.

The total cost of the project here will carry a price tag of approximately $5 million, said Lt. Col. James B. Fritz, the Group's communications officer.

Even though the new system is expensive, the Marines are getting their money's worth, as it takes the stress off of the military gear and the Marines running it, said Fritz, a 45-year-old native of Peru, Ind.

"It will free up military equipment, and it will free up military personnel from running the communications on this base," Fritz said.

The Marines can then re-deploy to their original units and the gear can be sent back to the United States and refurbished before it burns out and replacements have to be bought.

The project officer at Marine Corps Systems Command is still in the process of procuring most of the larger equipment, including e-mail servers and switches. The Group is also having a prefabricated "telecommunications facility" built to house the new equipment.

"It will be easier for contractors to come in here and run it," said Fritz. "Eventually, that's our desire."

The Marine Corps will be taking the commercially purchased gear, except the buried cable, with it when it completes its mission in Iraq, said Fritz, adding that the cable can be used by whomever takes over the base when the Marines depart.

Fiscal Responsibility...

*"I've worked with Glenn in the state legislature and I know him to be hard-working, honest and dedicated to serving his constituents. He shared the social and fiscal conservative values of the 20th Senate District and I know he will continue to fight for the principles we share. ## LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The town of Farmington will be losing two thoughtful supervisors if Ike Roell and Gary Schreiber are recalled. The recent Farmington survey results showed the overwhelming majority voted that retaining the rural character of Farmington was a top priority. Evidently Roell and Schreiber took this into their consideration when voting for a two-acre lot minimum and thus offended some would-be developers.

Now they are threatened with a recall. Those wishing to recall them say they ignored the top vote even though it was not a majority of the total vote. I feel Roell and Schreiber voted to give a true picture of the real majority opinion by considering the greatest number of people's choices on the surveys.

Retaining the rural character of Farmington should be the top priority of all the members of the town board since that was the mandated response from the survey. But several members of our town government seemingly do not believe that our farmland heritage is threatened. The issue is wider than minimum lot sizes. We need to consider using more tools to preserve our agricultural heritage.

I am disappointed in those members of the Plan Commission who do not take their duty to vote with the largest bulk of the respondents. Let's retain Roell and Schreiber and thank them for the good representation.

Peg Cadigan

Letter to the Editor:

An open letter to the citizens of Kewaskum, the village board and members of the Kewaskum Fire department. My name is Jim Dietsberger, and I was a volunteer member of the Kewaskum Fire Department since 1999. The training and experience that I've received as a result of my time with the department has truly enriched my life.

On May 19, 2004 I came face to face with any parent's worst nightmare. My young son, Zach's foot was horribly mangled in a lawnmower accident. It is by the grace of God and the many hours of training, I was able to function in a manner I know saved my son's life. The training I received while with the department enabled me to get my son to the hospital without massive blood loss, and ultimately to the treatment that saved part of his foot.

Our family is recovering from this trauma and Zach is healing well. I can never repay the Kewaskum Fire Department for the gift that I was given as a result of the excellent training they give to volunteers.

I think it is important that the citizens of Kewaskum know how well trained and professional their Fire and Rescue squad is and how much confidence they can have in them in times of crisis.

Thank you from the bottom of our hearts to all the members of the Kewaskum Fire and Rescue Department, and all the medical professionals involved in Zach's care.

Sincerely,
Jim, Sarah, Zachary
and Dakota Dietsberger

Dear Editor:

As a long time member of the town of Farmington planning commission, I would like to inform your readers about an effort to oust two dedicated and thoughtful town supervisors who want to preserve Farmington's rural character and preserve farmland.

With a lack of a good comprehensive land use plan, out-of-the-area developers have found Farmington as an easy target and an easy place for land developments and subdivisions, but that was beginning to change.

Efforts of town supervisors Ike Roell and Gary Schreiber are helping to develop a master plan that would assist in guiding the town's decisions and encouraging the preservation of our rural character. They did base their decisions on the recent survey results received from town residences. The overwhelming majority want to see the rural character preserved.

A small group of individuals that are self motivated with their own financial gain or loss (in this case) are not happy with Roell and Schreiber's efforts and want to see them out. The group is circulating a petition to recall Roell and Schreiber from office in an effort to stop the master plan that Roell and Schreiber want adopted. The fact is that Roell and Schreiber carry the majority vote, and with them out of the way, the plan to preserve Farmington ends.

Roell and Schreiber's conservative views will preserve the rural character and help to keep the farmland in Farmington, and they have spoken for the majority.

If you are asked to sign a petition, please take the time to come to a plan commission or town meeting first and then YOU decide. You need to know just what commissioners and supervisors are really for preserving Farmington. I am sure you will end up thanking Roell and Schreiber for their hard work in representing the majority in helping to retain the rural character of Farmington.

Town board meets 7pm 1st Tuesday and Commission 8pm 4th Tuesday of each month.

Diana Susen

Dear Editor:

I would like to say a few words about the upcoming primary race between Glenn Grothman and Mary Panzer.

I have known Glenn for quite some time and he has always impressed me with his very conservative views and actions, which his Assembly voting record confirms.

I follow politics and since running for 59th Assembly District myself, I have noticed that some Republicans put on a good show but do not produce the conservative votes necessary to cut or curb our taxes. Just because there is Republican majority does not mean a conservative majority with the taxpayers getting the best deal.

Wisconsin has become a "Taxpayers Hell" because of our legislators who can't say "No" to the special interests.

What shocked me is when the very liberal Milwaukee Journal Sentinel on June 11, 2004 stated that Senator Mary Panzer twice blocked the Taxpayer Bill of Rights to side with government bureaucrats and the largest teacher's union instead of taxpayers. In contrast Glenn Grothman was named "Friend of the Taxpayer," an award from the national Americans For Tax Reform group.

If you are thinking of retiring in Wisconsin, better think again and check with an accountant or retirement planner. I did. If you are an average person with a modest pension and social security, your house paid for, they will tell you to "Get out of Wisconsin." The Bloomberg Report also cites Wisconsin as the worst state in the nation to retire in.

I really didn't plan on moving nor do I care to. Lets all try to fix the problems in Wisconsin. Vote for Glenn Grothman for State Senate on September 14.

Tommy Thompson

To the Editor:

As one of the many Grothman campaign volunteers participating in the Allenton Fireman's Parade August 22, I continue to be disappointed by the desperate negative tactics employed by the supporters of Grothman's September 14 primary opponent, Mary Panzer.

In the picnic area following the parade, I was confronted with Panzer's long-time boyfriend Todd Hunter and none other than John Torinus himself. While Hunter was contradicting a statement he had made (and others had witnessed) about Panzer's actions on TABOR at the Washington County Fair GOP booth, Torinus was yelling angrily, waving his arms about my face and calling me stupid. I expected more honesty and respect from two of Panzer's most vocal supporters.

I'm not the type of person to write letters to the editor, but I feel compelled to speak out so that readers are aware of the poor level of behavior from Panzer's supporters.

C.D. Kaczik

Dear Editor:

There is a stark contrast between the pro-life voting records of Glenn Grothman and Mary Panzer. "The Woman's Right to Know Act" that Glenn co-authored and was passed in 1996 insures that women entering Wisconsin's abortion clinics are given the information about fetal development and possible health risks so a woman can make a truly informed decision before an abortion. This law also allows a 24 hour reflection period so the woman has time to think about her alternatives. Mary Panzer voted against this legislation.

I personally have been counseling pregnant women considering abortion for 25 years. Women want to know the truth. And, I can emphatically say, I have never counseled a woman who regretted giving her baby life, but, there are many that have regretted their abortions.

In 1990, Mary had a chance to prove she was pro-life. Yet, she voted to keep abortion on demand legal in Wisconsin even if the U.S. Supreme Court overturned the infamous "Roe v. Wade" decision of 1973 which legalized abortion on demand throughout the entire nine months of pregnancy.

I have attended numerous pro-life rallies, fundraising functions etc. over the years to which both Mary and Glenn had been invited. Glenn attended most of them, and Mary, none of them.

Because abortion is a life and death issue it becomes a "qualifying/disqualifying" political issue. Glenn Grothman qualifies. Vote for him September 14th.

Ann Enright

Letter to the Editor:

It is easy to predict that Glenn Grothman will be a wonderful State Senator because he has been such an effective Representative in the Assembly. Glenn is great at responding promptly and completely to his constituents. He has had a lot of constituents because his district has been moved around somewhat. The side benefit of redistricting is that Glenn is very familiar with the entire 20th Senate District.

Before being elected to the Assembly in 1993 Glenn practiced law in Washington County. He has a B.B.A. from UW-Madison and a Juris Doctor degree (law degree) from the University of Wisconsin Law School. I had many cases and transactions with Attorney Glenn Grothman before he became a Representative in the Wisconsin legislature. I invariably found him to be very prepared and knowledgeable. Glenn was well respected as a practicing attorney. He earned the trust of his clients, of other attorneys and of the judiciary. His day to day professional experience as a lawyer in representing ordinary people in their personal and business affairs has been valuable to him and ultimately to his constituents.

Glenn Grothman is a person of principles. He cannot be bought. He thinks long and hard about the difficult issues of our time. He studies very hard. He is a serious reader. Glenn has been a resource person for other Wisconsin legislators. Glenn gets my vote.

Attorney James G. Poulos

Letter to the Editor:

Ouch! The primary election is fast approaching, which is Tuesday, September 14. I won't pretend in saying Glenn Grothman (R) will have no problem winning his vote for the Wisconsin Senate office over Mary Panzer (R).

All you conservatives please support Glenn and vote proudly for him. See you as...Mr. Senator, Mr. Grothman and good luck!

Suzanne Bingen

To the Editor:

It may have begun with TABOR, but one of the major issues of contention in the 20th State Senate District primary is abortion. It appears that Sen. Mary Panzer is attempting to confuse the voters about her position on that issue and give the false impression that her candidacy is supported by Wisconsin Right to Life.

Last week, the voters of the 20th State Senate District received a mailing from the Panzer campaign with the image of the hand of a tiny baby with the caption, "It's a Life...It's a Child...It's a Miracle. We at Wisconsin Right to Life were truly amazed to see this wording on a mailing from Sen. Panzer. In 1990, she voted to keep abortion on demand legal in Wisconsin even if the U. S. Supreme Court overturned the infamous Roe v. Wade decision which legalized abortion on demand throughout the entire nine months of pregnancy.

There have been numerous votes on issues related to abortion over the years but that 1990 vote was the only true "bottom line" vote on abortion ever taken in the state legislature. Only the most strident supporters of abortion on demand voted to keep it legal in Wisconsin and Sen. Panzer was one of them.

Senator Panzer also voted against Rep. Glenn Grothman's Woman's Right to Know Act that was enacted into law in 1996. The Grothman law insures that women entering Wisconsin's abortion clinics are given all the information they need to make a truly informed decision and provides for a 24 hour reflection period so the woman has time to think about the information she has been given. Only 5 out of 68 Republicans in the entire state legislature voted against the Grothman measure and Panzer was one of them.

We sincerely hope that the voters of the 20th State Senate District will look at how Sen. Panzer has actually voted and not just at the words that appear in a political mailing.

Sincerely,
Susan Armacost
Legislative/PAC Director

Dairyland Seed releases new soybean varieties

WEST BEND - Dairyland Seed recently announced the release of 16 new soybean varieties for the 2005 planting season. Each of these varieties can be seen at research tours and field days throughout the Midwest this fall. The descriptions of the new products include:

DSR-C900/RR - Maturity 009. Very early, attractive soybean variety with a tawny pubescence color featuring grain with a brown hilum inside a tan pod. Provides excellent yield results on all soils including soils with tough iron chlorosis conditions as well as soils challenged with phytophthora root rot. DSR-C900/RR exhibits very good phytophthora tolerance and moderate resistance to brown stem rot.

DSR-2501/RR (SCN) - Maturity 2.5. Our plant breeders made the decision to offer this new soybean variety based on the combination yield and "bred in" plant protection. This soybean variety offers you strong yield performance while delivering built in protection against cyst nematode concerns. Excellent phytophthora field tolerance protection.

DSR-2500/RR - Maturity 2.5. DSR-2500/RR has stacked herbicide tolerance to Roundup and STS herbicides to give you simple one-pass post-emergence tank mix option to control pesky weeds such as marestalk (horseweed), lambsquarters and wild buckwheat. A super strong yield leader. This light tawny variety features brown stem rot resistance and outstanding phytophthora field tolerance in addition to incorporating the 1K gene to give you additional protection. Very good iron chlorosis tolerance.

DSR-2701/RRCX (CystX® GOLD) - Maturity 2.7. Dairyland's team of soybean plant breeders proudly brings forward this new CystX® technology to you to specifically combat cyst nematode. The CystX® Gold level of protection is the highest level of protection recognized by Purdue University. Target your severely infested cyst nematode acres with this new DSR-2701/RRCX soybean variety to protect your yield. Excellent phytophthora field tolerance protection.

DSR-2800/RR - Maturity 2.8. DSR-2800/RR is stacked for tolerance to both Roundup and STS. This product offers you an additional simple one-pass post-emergence tank mix weed control option that can tackle pesky weeds such as marestalk (horseweed), lambsquarters and wild buckwheat. Tremendous offensive yield firepower gives this new soybean variety the decisive edge when selecting the right product for your farm. DSR-2800/RR has a beautiful plant appearance that incorporates excellent phytophthora field tolerance protection.

DSR-2801/RR (SCN) - Maturity 2.8. Previously known as DST-2346/RR this new soybean variety gives you yield in field conditions that are stressed with problems like charcoal rot, brown stem rot, phytophthora root rot as well as cyst nematodes. Widely adapted across all soil types let the new DSR-2801/RR soybean variety confront the complex environments that you have on your farm to deliver a winning yield. Position this soybean variety in its recommended maturity zone.

DSR-2900, Maturity 2.9. Brought to you because of its sheer yield power, this new soybean variety delivers the answer for the non-GMO grain market. Known as DST-2344, the new DSR-2900 is versatile across soil types and aggressive when it comes to yield. In some markets DSR-2900 may qualify for additional non-GMO premiums. Light tawny plant with excellent standability.

DSR-2901/RRHP (SCN-HP) - Maturity 2.9. A beautiful tawny plant with excellent standability, this variety has an HP designation behind it to reflect a different breeding approach to address and ensure yield protection in those cyst nematode soils that contain Races 1, 3 and 5. Targeted to replace DST-3148/RR, our plant breeders have used the Peking (HP) parental source of resistance to provide a solution for farms with this Race 1, 3 and 5 cyst nematode challenge.

DSR-3000/RR - Maturity 3.0. DSR-3000/RR is stacked for tolerance to both Roundup and STS herbicides. This product offers you an additional simple one-pass post-emergence tank mix weed control option that can tackle pesky weeds such as marestalk (horseweed), lambsquarters and wild buckwheat. Hot, new soybean variety with exceptional yield strength! Exceptional phytophthora field protection in the form of excellent tolerance as well as 1K specific resistance. Provides resistance to brown stem rot as well. An attractive, light tawny plant that is a workhorse across all soil types and a racehorse for yield!

DSR-3002/RR (SCN) - Maturity 3.0. This soybean variety carries a strong disease and cyst nematode package and is a complimentary companion with Dairyland's DSR-301/RR and DSR-326/RR. Diversify your farm's soybean acres with a different genetic background that provides strength in the form of phytophthora field tolerance protection and 1K gene resistance, brown stem rot resistance and cyst nematode resistance.

DSR-3100 - Maturity 3.2. The best yielding conventional soybean line we know of in this maturity! Featuring the best tolerance rating for phytophthora of all the new Dairyland soybean varieties offered, you will want to manage this variety for maximum yields. Is believed to be one of the highest yielding varieties ever developed. In some markets DSR-3100 may qualify you for additional non-GMO premiums.

DSR-3500/RR (SCN) - Maturity 3.5. An extremely consistent, high yielding soybean variety that shines when harvest time arrives. A cyst resistant product offering that delivers terrific phytophthora protection in the form of strong tolerance and specific 1K gene resistance. This light tawny plant is widely adaptable across all soil types and gives you a definite yield advantage.

DSR-3501/RR - Maturity 3.5. Super high yielding soybean variety we had to make available to your farm. Strong yield potential from a gray plant type that shines at harvest. Strong phytophthora root rot tolerance. Strong yield capacity in light, medium and heavy soil types.

DSR-3600/RR - Maturity 3.6. Awesome yield strength in a beautiful light tawny plant. This soybean variety has been developed by the Dairyland Seed soybean plant breeder team with one goal in mind...industry-leading grain yields for a 3.6 maturity soybean variety that is Roundup Ready. DSR-3600/RR has demonstrated consistent, high-ranking yield marks throughout our research trials.

DSR-3800/RR (SCN) - Maturity 3.8. Eye-appealing tawny appearance in a new cyst resistant soybean variety with strong yields. A promising new variety with superior levels of cyst resistance that also delivers a strong phytophthora

Village Board Meeting Minutes

Village of Kewaskum
Plan Commission
Special Meeting
August 16, 2004
7:00 p.m.

The Plan Commission of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin met in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 204 First Street.

The special meeting was opened with a Moment of Silence and pledge of Allegiance.

Chairperson Mathew Heiser called the meeting to order. Member Andrew Kuehl asked to be excused and was absent. It was noted that Leeann Butschlick has indicated she was resigning because of relocating outside of the village. Members present were Andy Pesch, Richard Schmidt, Frank Beesten and Theodore Meilahn. A quorum was present.

Richard Schmidt noted that he would like it reflected in the minutes of July 27, 2004 that he voted against any adjustment to the open space fee for Woodland Creek I (James Wessing). On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Theodore Meilahn and carried by the majority voice vote the Plan Commission approved the minutes as adjusted and printed for July 27, 2004.

The CSM's for Thomas Timblin have been resubmitted for final review on August 9, 2004 at 3:00 p.m. and then sent to the Village Engineers. The recommendations of the Village Engineer regarding the CSM's were reviewed with the Plan Commission as follows:

- 1) The need for the wetland delineation map to be provided to the village engineers.
- 2) Noting that accessory type buildings could end up in the floodplain by setback if permitting met requirements.
- 3) County may have a review issue with the division of land, but that is up to the developer.
- 4) Discussion on the FEMA submittal and the need for the Zoning Ordinance Map Amendment.
- 5) Major point of concern is the lack of width at the bridge on Pleasantwood Drive. It was noted to be 80, but they want to give an easement. The easement would work, but needs to be renamed as a Municipal Road/Utility Easement.
- 6) Major point of concern is deed restrictions and ownership of Outlot 1 to be on the CSM and addressed within the Developer's Agreement.
- 7) Noting the lack of an easement or delineated vision corner on the NE corner of the intersection of Pleasantwood Drive and Timblin Drive.

On a motion by Andy Pesch, seconded by Theodore Meilahn and unanimously carried by voice the Commission recommended the approval of the 3 CSM's as reviewed conditionally with the two noted changes as recommended by the Village Engineers.

On a motion by Richard Schmidt, seconded by Andy Pesch Meilahn and unanimously carried by voice vote the Commission recommended approval of Ordinance No. 2004-06 An Ordinance to Amend the Zoning Map as it pertains to the floodplain delineation on the aforementioned CSM's.

On a motion by Andy Pesch seconded by Richard Schmidt and carried by the majority roll call vote, the Commission adjourned the meeting. Roll call vote was 5 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent".

ONE DOLLAR BILL

The Bald Eagle was selected as a symbol for victory for two reasons: First, he is not afraid of a storm; he is strong, and he is smart enough to soar above it. Secondly, he wears no material crown. We had just broken from the King of England. Also, notice the shield is unsupported. This country can now stand on its own. At the top of that shield you have a white bar signifying congress, a unifying factor. We were coming together as one nation. In the Eagle's beak you will read, "E PLURIBUS UNUM", meaning, "one nation from many people."

STATESMAN SPORTS

With win in finale, KHS kickers take seventh

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Although badly outclassed in their first match, the members of the Kewaskum High boys soccer team kept battling in the Washington County Tournament over the weekend and finished on a high note, taking seventh place with a 4-3 victory over Living Waters.

The Indians drew Germantown for Friday's opener and could not handle the Warhawks' potent offense, although Alex Hill, one of the team's co-coaches, was pleased with "the way we matched them for eight to ten minutes at a time."

"But overall, they were just too strong for us," Hill went on about the 6-0 defeat, explaining the eventual champions have 16 seniors on their roster, and, "We started two."

Saturday morning, the Indians stayed with host Kettle

Moraine Lutheran — all the games were played in Jackson — before falling 3-1.

"Jason Jahnke scored a great goal for us," Hill said, reporting midway in the first period (halves were 35:00), the Indians broke through the middle, with Noah Olla passing the ball to Jahnke, who waited until the goalie committed, and then "chipped the ball over him."

That made the score 2-1 in the Chargers' favor, and Hill said, "We had chances to bring it back to 2-2" but couldn't convert. Olla had a header that was just off target, and Justin Brockmann had another good shot that missed the mark.

That put the Indians up against Living Water in the game to determine seventh place, and Hill said the situation certainly did not look promising early. "We started very tired ... We had a very tough game against KML," he said, reporting Living Waters scored the first goal before the Indians got in gear.

Jahnke and Brockman put KHS in the lead by intermission, however, and Brockman got his second goal in the second half. Living Water came back to tie the score at 3-3, Hill said, reporting Olla scored the game-winner with "no more than five or six minutes left."

Center back Austin Flanders and keeper Nate Kenworthy were instrumental in making sure the Living Waters team would not tie the score again.

Flanders played well from his center back position, according to Hill, who said, "Kenworthy had a couple good saves in the last five minutes. It was a panicky last five minutes for us," more than likely because of the team's lack of experience.

The Indians, 1-2, have two matches this week, at Kiel on Tuesday and at home on Thursday (4:30 p.m.) vs. New Holstein.

CC boys have great chance for big season

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The highlight of the 2003 Kewaskum High School cross country season was Josh Meyer qualifying for the Division 2 state meet in Wisconsin Rapids, where he placed 64th after turning in a time of 17 minutes and 21 seconds (17:21, a personal best) for the 5,000 meter race.

Look for a lot more highlights in 2004 because Meyer is back for his senior season, and he had plenty of teammates who could make the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title race a lot more exciting for the Indians than it has been in recent years.

"The boys' team looks solid this year," veteran KHS Coach Dave Drexler said. "We did not lose any to graduation and the group began pulling together very well last year, finishing the season strong. After a successful track season and a short break from training, they are ready for the season."

As far as what Meyer can do this season, Drexler said, "He definitely has a good chance to get back to state ... I think he has the potential of a top 25 (finish)."

Drexler said in addition to Meyer, sophomore Bob Gibson could turn some heads this fall. "With a year of experience and a good base of training, he is ready to defend his spot in the lineup," the coach said, indicating juniors Jon Hawig, Adam Janz, Zack Van Wormer and Adam Wagner fill out the starting roster.

Other returning letter winners include senior Michael Neumann, and junior Justis Clayton. Newcomers are junior Jeff Paulus and sophomore Tristin Wright. Two freshmen have reported for the sport. They are Dan Justman and Chris Larson.

Currently there are just three out for the girls' team, according to Drexler, who said sophomore letter winner Nicole Stern will be strong.

"Nicole is the leader for the girls. She is coming off a good season and is determined to better her times this year," Drexler said, reporting the other two runners are senior Katie Uelman and sophomore Crystal Treptow.

"I am hoping to recruit some more (girls) once classes begin," Drexler said.

As far as which team will be strong in the EW, Drexler points to Kiel in the girls' race and possibly Two Rivers will be the top challenger for the boys' title. The KHS boys finished fifth in the EW last fall with Meyer leading the way, taking seventh, giving him all-conference honors. The boys were also fifth in the sectional meet. The girls were last in conference.

KHS spikers look plenty strong

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Looking at the lineup of the Kewaskum High girls volleyball team might be a little deceptive this year.

Just because the Lady Indians only have three senior starters doesn't mean they will be weak. What it does indicate is the talent level of the sophomores and one freshman is so high, they can compete on par with the older, more experienced players.

So other coaches in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference better consider Kewaskum as a strong bet to challenge for another EW title.

Coach Dave Rizzardi, starting his 25th year as head coach, is pretty well convinced seniors Danielle De Groot and Amanda Magnus, two of the returning letter winners, will be his starters at the all around spots, with veteran Briana Bastian the middle hitter.

"The only junior starting is Katie Schroeder," Rizzardi said, reporting sophomores Bekki Heberer and Bry Timblin are ready for the big show at middle hitter and weakside hitter, respectively.

Then there's the question of who will replace Beth Boedeker and Jill Wittmann, the team's two regular setters in 2003.

"We have one freshman who will be starting," Rizzardi said, reporting Christina De Groot has proven herself in the preseason workouts and will see a lot of varsity action. "She and Katie are our setters."

Rizzardi said Wittmann, Boedeker and Megan Butler "were three very important pieces of last year's team," but he is quick to add, "We do have a pretty good group returning."

Rizzardi explained there are several major changes in high school volleyball this fall, the first being "Everything is rally scoring," meaning "There is a point on every ball" instead of a team having to be serving to earn points.

To win a game, a team must score 25 points and be ahead by two, except in the fifth and final game (should a match go that far) which is won by the team reaching 15 points first (and being ahead by two).

In the EW, winning three of five games is mandatory, but Rizzardi said the two schools can play an additional game to give the reserves the opportunity to play.

Schools hosting tournaments may determine their own scoring requirements, according to Rizzardi.

The other change is the addition of a libero, who is a player who is allowed to enter the game at any time in the back row without it being counted as a substitute. This person will wear a uniform of contrasting colors than the others on the team.

Rizzardi said sophomore Marissa Dehler will be the Indians' libero. The libero is not allowed to serve and must leave the game for at least one play after she moves up to the front row.

And what kind of player did Rizzardi look for at this spot? "A quick defensive person who probably is a good passer. She's the one you want to handle the first pass," the coach said, convinced Dehler can play this spot.

Others on the team include juniors Leanne Kison and Robbi Bode.

"So really we're young, but we show experience because of their play," Rizzardi said. "Most of these kids ... They love volleyball!"

Rizzardi will be assisted by Kelly Marquardt (fourth year) at the JV level and Heather Noworatzky (second year) at the freshman level.

Indians barely work up sweat in opener

In Tuesday's season-opener, the Indians dominated visiting Slinger 25-11, 25-9 and 25-7.

"We showed a lot of organization for six days (of practice)," Rizzardi said, adding, "Slinger is a little short on returning players, so they weren't as strong as they have been. They lost 11 seniors."

"I think Bekki Heberer led us in kills," Rizzardi said, indicating there weren't very many other statistics to report on.

Meyer is leader of pack of over 125

Kewaskum High's Josh Meyer truly was the leader of the pack in the Kettle Moraine Lutheran Cross Country Invitational held on Aug. 26th.

The lanky, talented senior finished first out of over 125 runners in the event, helping the Indians to a sixth-place finish in the event.

Meyer was clocked in 18 minutes, 16.18 seconds (18:16.18) for the 5,000 meter event on a day when, because of the heat and humidity, it would have been a lot more fun swimming.

"I told the boys' team we had to make a statement at this meet if we expect to have a winning season," KHS Coach Dave Drexler said. "I feel the team did just that."

Kewaskum wound up with 155 points, one point out of the fifth spot claimed by Lomira. Sheboygan Lutheran claimed the title with 77 points and Wisconsin Lutheran took second with 118.

Drexler beamed about Meyer's effort, especially considering he had an 18-second cushion between himself and the runner-up. "Josh is very focused and fired up about the season," he said.

Drexler went on that his next two finishers, sophomore Bob Gibson (17th, 19:31.66) and Zack Van Wormer (29th, 20:18.72) "struggled with the heat and humidity, as did most of the other runners, but their conditioning carried them through. Overall, the team is pretty solid and will get more so as the season progresses."

Other KHS counters were Jonathan Hawig, in 51st place at 21:14.78 and Adam Wagner, 57th with a time of 21:32.75.

With only three girls out for the sport, the KHS did not have enough for a complete team. Nicole Stern was the best of the Indian trio, placing 84th in 21:17.56 for 4,000 meters.

"Nicole is running strong and is motivated to move up. She lost a shoe during the race (in the mud) and after stopping to put it back on, still finished well," Drexler said.

Crystal Treptow and Katie Uelman were far back in the pack, 113th and 116th, respectively, with times of 24:02.78 and 24:23.76.

There was no question who the standouts were in Friday's football game between Kewaskum and West Bend East. Garrett Donath of Kewaskum rushed for 208 yards and Nathan Dahl gained 288 yards for the Suns. Above, Dahl (34) hangs on as Donath (26) rips off a 9-yard run in the first quarter of the game, which was won by the Indians 27-12.

There are teams that will go an entire football season without having a running back top the 100-yard mark, but Friday night, in the season-opener non-conference between host Kewaskum and West Bend East, spectators got to see a pair of backs rush for a combined 496 yards.

Yes, you read it correctly. Two backs, Nathan Dahl of East and Kewaskum's Garrett Donath, rushed the equivalent of just under five football fields.

Dahl left the field with a whopping 288 yards and two touchdowns, but Donath was more than happy to give up the individual rushing honor because his 208 yards and three touchdowns helped the Indians to an impressive 27-12 victory.

"He's a heck of a running back. I pray to God, we don't see another one like him this year," KHS Coach Jason Piittmann said afterward about Dahl, indicating one of the problems in giving up 195 yards to him in the first half was, "We were overpursuing ... All he was doing was looking for cutback lanes."

And he was finding them.

Dahl rushed for 62 of East's 65 yards in a drive midway in the second quarter for the first touchdown of the game. The kick attempt failed, so East led 6-0.

Not for long, however, as Donath ripped off a 64-yard TD on the first play after the kickoff. For the first couple of seconds, it looked like the 175-pound junior was going to get pushed out of bounds after gaining 10 yards, but somehow he stayed in play, broke a couple of tackles and showed good speed in running past the final defenders.

After Jon Olla booted the ball through the uprights, it was the Indians on top 7-6.

East threatened just before half but was stopped inside the 10-yard line when a third down pass fell incomplete, and then KHS defender Eric Nass knocked down a fourth down pass.

Remember that name Nass, because he has some offensive skills, too, and he showed them midway in the third quarter when he returned a punt 15 yards to the East 35-yard line, and one play later, sprinted 14 yards on a counter play for the Indians' second score. Olla missed the PAT, but the score was 13-6 in Kewaskum's favor.

East answered with a 54-yard scoring drive which started after Dahl zigged and zagged 32 yards on the kickoff return, giving the Suns great field position at the East 46-yard line.

After picking up three first downs, Dahl found the end zone from 18 yards out on the first play of the fourth quarter.

East Coach Tony Michels called Dahl's number for the two-point conversion try, but the entire middle of the KHS line stuffed him a yard short of the goal line.

From then on, the momentum was owned by Donath and the Indians. In the fourth quarter, Donath rushed for 98 of his yards (in seven carries), scoring one 11 yard TD (with 9:38 remaining), and then treating the crowd to a nifty cutback run to the right that wound up as a 36 yard score, icing the victory with 3:56 to go in the game.

Quarterback Chad Piwon's bootleg run on the two-point conversion try was very important for the Indians, who had lost to the Suns last year by a score of 27-13.

Piittmann was beaming about Donath's effort and the blocking of fullback Ross Stockhausen.

"I'll tell you what. Garrett is a gamer," Piittmann said, reporting he played nearly every down. "That's it, kick-offs and punts ... the only time he came off the field."

Piittmann was pleased with the way his defense adjusted to Dahl in the second half. He said people may overuse the "bend but don't break" adage about defensive play, but added, "I'll take that any day of the week ... Dahl had tons of yards, but they only crossed the goal line two times."

"Our kids had something to prove tonight. They came out and did a heck of a job," the coach said.

Among the linemen who drew praise were center Robert Weber who was making his first varsity start, guard/defensive end Alex Herriges, Jeff Thull, and defensive end Brett Zimdars.

"Jeff Thull did a nice job," Piittmann said, about his senior linebacker who had 16 tackles.

Piittmann pointed to Herriges as a great example of a kid who worked hard in the off season and earned himself a starting position. On Coach Dave Rizzardi got just the results he was looking for Saturday in the annual Kewaskum Volleyball Invitational.

His Lady Indians played well together, resulting in a successful defense of their 2003 title.

Kewaskum wound up with a 9-1 record, with fellow Eastern Wisconsin Conference member Sheboygan Falls second at 7-3. Then came Howards Grove and Fox Valley Lutheran with identical 6-4 marks, Dodgefield in fifth at 2-8 and Grafton last at 0-10.

The Indians beat Dodgefield 25-14, 25-20, topped Grafton 25-16 and 25-11, knocked off Howards Grove 25-11, 25-11, then took care of Fox Valley 25-19, 25-19 before securing the title with a 25-23, 23-25 competition with Falls.

"It was kind of exciting," Rizzardi said about the final match, indicating Falls was really "fired up," but the Indians were up to the challenge. Had the Falcons won the first game, they would have had a chance to finish in a tie with the Indians and win the title based on head-to-head competition.

"I think right now our sweeps to the right, he was the pulling guard leading the play, according to Piittmann, who praised Thull for a big sack on Jon Hess in the second quarter and Zimdars for another big sack.

When asked about how big this win is, Piittmann said, "Any win, especially the first one, is a big one."

The Indians are at Kettle Moraine Lutheran Saturday at 1 p.m.

The Indian junior varsity opened with a 27-0 shutout victory over East on Thursday. KHS scoring came via: a 14 yard pass reception by Jon Wicklund, a -yard run by Dan Shea, a quarterback sneak by starters are getting used to each other," Rizzardi said Sunday night, indicating what he likes best about them is, "They don't quit. They don't get down on each other."

Rizzardi said after clinching the title with the win in Game 1 vs. Falls, he put in a new lineup and, "I was pleased with the subs who got a chance to play in that game."

For the day, serving was certainly a plus, especially from three starters, Danielle De Groot, Katie Schneider and Christina De Groot. Danielle De Groot was a perfect 38 of 38 from the serving line, Schneider went 42x42 and the younger De Groot was 35x35.

"This is just outstanding," Rizzardi said about the serving, reporting the kill totals were "very even," with Danielle De Groot successfully spiking 19 of 39 tries, Christina De Groot 15 of 41 and Briana Bastian added 14 kills.

"The only thing we need to work on is blocking," the veteran coach said, and with a week off until the next match (home vs. Roncalli on Sept. 9th), the girls will have plenty of time to work on this area.

Casey Scheel and a 75-yard punt return by Eric Ogi. Logan Staeger kicked three PATs.

Other Eastern Wisconsin Conference scores: Campbellsport 22, Fox Valley Lutheran 19; Port Washington 28, Plymouth 21; Sheboygan Falls 41, Luxemburg Casco 0; Kewaunee 41, Kiel 0.

In 1964, golfer Norman Manley achieved consecutive holes-in-one on a course in Saugus, Calif.—and both holes were par-4s.
