Rhoads claims third state title for KHS; three others place

Josh Kurtz paved the way with the school's very first title in 1992. Mike Farchione climbed the ultimate victory ladder eight years later. And now Scott Rhoads joins that elite group of Kewaskum High wrestlers who have won Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association (WIAA) state titles.

Saturday night in front of a crowd of over 13,500 at the Kohl Center in Madison, Rhoads, a junior, edged Jim Jones of Chetek/Prairie Farm 1-0 to claim the 145-pound title in Division 2. He finished the season with a glossy 37-3 record.

Rhoads escaped from Jones' hold in the third period for the only point scored in the six-minute match.

"He was really in control the whole tournament, never really in trouble," KHS Coach Dennis Aupperle said about his first state champion. "I am very proud of all these guys. They wrestled well. I am happy for all of them."

Most athletes have their share of butterflies in their first trip to the state competition, but Rhoads took the entire experience in stride and gave up just one point in his three matches in the two-day competition.

Starting off Friday afternoon with a bout against David Olson of Osceola, Rhoads needed 1:44 to score his first takedown and in the next two periods, he showed he was definitely the better man.

In the second period, Olson was able to ride him for a little over a minute, then Rhoads went to work, using a throw right to a nearfall for an 8-0 lead.

The third period saw Rhoads counter everything Olson tried, and the match ended at 8-0.

Fred Lane of Lodi stood between Rhoads and a trip to the finals, and again in Friday night's semifinals, the KHS athlete was up to the task. Lane tried to work a fireman's carry in the opening minute, but it was Rhoads scoring points off it when he caught Lane and muscled him to the mat for a five-point move.

Using a tight waist ride, Rhoads controlled Lane for the rest of the period, then chose the down position for the next two minutes and added more points to his total with an escape and a takedown.

Four vie for Dean's position at UWWC

A pool of 99 candidates was narrowed to four this week, as off-campus interviews were conducted with eight finalists vying for the position. According to Dr. Paul Price, Associate Professor of Geology & Geography, who is serving as chairperson of the search committee, the search for the top position of Dean and Campus Executive Officer at UW-Washington County is progressing on schedule.

The final four candidates have been approved by Interim Chancellor Margaret Cleek and include:

Craig Johnson, M. A. in Higher Education/ Organization and Administration from The University of Minnesota and a M.A. in Art History from Tulane University, New Orleans, LA. Johnson has also pursued doctoral studies at the University of Minnesota since 1996.

Johnson's name should be familiar to many, as he is currently Campus Administrator/Campus & Community Partner at Moraine Park Technical College in West Bend. Johnson led county-wide economic development planning activities with UW-Washington County and played a key role in establishing the inter-governmental agreement to establish the new Workforce Development Center. Johnson's prior positions include teaching Art Appreciation at Winona State University, Minnesota (1990-2000) and serving as a Visual Resources Curator at The Colorado College in Colorado Springs (1985-88).

Dr. Francis Hubbard, Ph.D. in English from the University of California, Berkeley. Hubbard is the Chair of the Department of Humanities at Georgia Perimeter College, Dunwoody, Ga. Prior to this, Hubbard was an Assistant Dean of the Graduate School at Marquette University in Milwaukee (1996-2001). Author of two books, How Writing Works and Theory of Action in Conrad, Hubbard taught English at UW-Milwaukee (1981-85), Cleveland State University (1985-87) and at Georgia Perimeter (1987-96) before becoming an academic administrator.

Dr. David Nixon, Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. Dr. Nixon is currently an Associate Professor and Department Head, in the Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University. Prior to this, he taught Political Science at Ohio University (1987-90) and at UW-Milwaukee (1986-87). Nixon has co-authored several publications, including Modern War and America's New Enemies in the Journal of Public Policy (2004) and is a voting member of the National Homeland Security Training Center Advisory Council.

Dr. William T. O'Hare - Ph.D. in Philosophy from Marquette University. He served as Dean of Arts and Science at St. Leo University in St. Leo, Florida from 2003 to 2004. O'Hare's supervisory background includes 8 years as Academic Vice President at the College of Great Falls, Montana (1985-93), and 9 years at Rockford College, Illinois (1993-2002). Prior to this, O'Hare taught Philosophy at Marquette University (1970-71), the College of St. Scholastica (1971-74) and at the College of Great Falls (1974-85).

According to Price, the committee is "very satisfied with the results and confident that the slate of candidates will yield a new dean." The next step will occur in the next three weeks, when each finalist is invited to the campus to tour the facilities and make a presentation. They will also have the opportunity to visit with faculty, administrative personnel and students. Chancellor Cleek also meets with each of the finalists in Madison before making her final recommendation to the Board of Regents. The Board of Regents will need to approve the recommendation (at their May meeting) to complete the process.

The Dean's position became available when Joel Rodney left UW-Washington County in February 2003 to serve as campus executive officer at Penn State York, a unit of Pennsylvania State University's Commonwealth College. Two prior searches to replace him failed to result in a successful appointment. Thomas has been serving as dean since Rodney's departure.

Modern Woodmen fundraiser a success

With the help of Modern Woodmen of America's Matching Funds Program, local members of the fraternal financial services organization helped raise funds for the Kewaskum fireworks through a dance.

The event, held on October 10, 2004, raised over $1,700, including over $850 matched by Modern Woodmen's home office. The money will be used for the fireworks in memory of Bob Stoltzmann.

Modern Woodmen members from Kewaskum are part of a nationwide network of camps (chapters) that help their communities through social, educational and volunteer activities.

"With the Matching Fund Program, we help carry out Modern Woodmen's mission to improve the quality of life for members and their communities," says Jeff Jaeger, Modern Woodmen camp secretary. "And thanks to the hard work of members nationwide, Modern Woodmen makes donations totaling more than $5 million annually," Jaeger adds.

Founded in 1883 as a fraternal benefit society, today Modern Woodmen of America offers financial services and fraternal benefits to individuals and families throughout the United States. The organization's Kewaskum camp provides a number of volunteer service and social activities for local members.

Campbellsport Clinic distributes roses in support of women

Individuals shopping at Klotz's Piggy Wiggly in Campbellsport received an unexpected surprise on February 22 as they were handed a red rose by Thomas Fabricius, MD, a board-certified family practice physician, or Patricia Hayes, PA-C, a physician assistant, with Agnesian HealthCare's Campbellsport Clinic.

The two local healthcare providers joined other Agnesian HealthCare employees and physicians in conducting its Red Rose Campaign, where a total of 3,000 red roses were given to area men at 12 different locations, including Klotz's Piggy Wiggly. The men were asked to share the roses and the message of women's heart care with their wife, mother, daughter or other important women in their life.

"Our goal is to educate women, of course, but to also educate men and get them to talk to their loved ones about the serious issue women face with heart disease," says Dr. Fabricius. "Often times, most women experience the symptoms of heart attacks such as shortness of breath or nausea and dismiss them as a fact of daily life. As a result, they ignore the symptoms and do not seek help, further damaging their heart."

The Red Rose campaign aimed to bring women's heart care education to the local community to continue education throughout the month of February. It added a different technique to heart care education during American Heart Month as it targeted primarily men, and secondarily the women that are important to them, rather than speaking to women directly.

As part of Agnesian HealthCare's Red Rose Campaign, more than 30 employees and physicians, all wearing red, presented 3,000 roses to people in area communities to give to a woman they care about. Each rose featured an informative tag that included the following:

Outside front: Take care of your heart and you're taking care of everybody who's in it.

Inside: Heart disease is the #1 cause of death for women. Learn about it. If not for you, then for the people you love.

Heart disease is a greater risk to women than even breast cancer, but relatively few women know this. According to the American Heart Association, one in every three women dies of heart disease. In fact, heart disease kills one American woman nationwide every minute. However, only 13 percent of women consider heart disease to be their own greatest health risk.

"Learning preventive measures through education is the first key to heart-healthy living," says Hayes. "Agnesian HealthCare offers educational programs through its Health Resource Center in addition to providing skilled, caring professionals and the most advanced technology available in heart care."

Agnesian HealthCare's Campbellsport Clinic sees patients from newborns to seniors, women and men. Dr. Fabricius and Hayes diagnose and treat a variety of medical concerns, from prenatal care (up to seven months), ear infections and rashes, to diabetes and heart disease. The clinic is located at 328 N. Helena Street.

For more information or to schedule an appointment, call (920) 533-8361.

Fillmore firefighters take a gamble with Vegas Night fundraiser

The Fillmore Fire Department held another successful vegas night at the Fillmore Fire Station on Saturday, February 26. Karen May of the department stated "One family rented a big van that seats 15, and brought the whole family! They had so much fun they are planning on returning next year." May attributes much of the success due to community involvement. Some of that help came from WBKV radio personality, Bob Bonenfant whose shown above. Shown to the right, Fillmore firefighter, Jessi Spaeth models one of the many prizes donated by community, a tool belt.

Proposal fails to name football field after Mitchell

By CASSANDRA THOMPSON
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
cthompson@kewaskumstatesman.com

vote was in no way a sign of disrespect to the Mitchell family or to his dedicated service to the school district. Meisser wasn't sure of the timing for naming the football field.

"This is my last term serving on the board," said Meisser. She said the newly installed board should spearhead the football field naming. Another reason why she voted down the Mitchell proposal had much to do with economics as well. Meisser said Kewaskum school district might want to think about naming the football field after a sponsor who can donate funding to the school.

Goeden said many people throughout the community were involved in upkeep, maintenance and renovation of the football field. She wasn't sure if singling out Mitchell contribution's to the school was fair to others who volunteered their service.

In an e-mail, Goeden writes, "The Kewaskum Football Field is the work of many and should stay that way."

Goeden states in her e-mail that members of the Booster Club were responsible for renovating the practice field; they had solicited donations, had fundraisers and borrowed money to pay for the lights and concession stand.

Final walk through Sunday at Shepherd of the Hills Schools

By CASSANDRA THOMPSON
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
cthompson@kewaskumstatesman.com

An open house is scheduled for Sunday, March 5 to allow people to have a final walk through of the Shepherd of the Hills school campuses in Eden and Armstrong.

After its building committee raised nearly $5.5 million in funds, the Catholic students and parishioners of Shepherd of the Hills will move into their new facility.

The new church and school complex is located on Highway B, east of Eden. The new complex will house an 8-room classroom, sanctuary, offices and meeting rooms.

"The last week of classes in these building is March 24," said Shepherd of the Hills Principal Roselyn Baker. The school teaches students from kindergarten to the 8th grade. Baker said elementary students are divided up into two campuses. Kindergarten through 5th grade is located in Eden, and 6th to 8th grade is taught at the Armstrong campus.

The Shepherd of the Hills parish was created in Jan 2001 after the merger of four parishes. They are Saint Michael of Dotyville, Our Lady of Angels of Armstrong, Saint Mary's of Eden, and Saint Michael Mitchell located in Sheboygan County.

Sandra Gitter, administrative assistant for the Shepherd of the Hills parish, said the churches in Dotyville, Armstrong, and Eden will be razed by the new property owners. She said razing the churches was a condition of the sale.

"We felt it was the proper thing to do," said Gitter. She said the parishes were concerned about the type of business utilizing the property.

As for St. Michael Mitchell church building, the parish decided not to sell it. Gitter said the church, which is located in Sheboygan County, would be historically preserved.

"It will be kept as a chapel," said Gitter. "People can have weddings and use it for other special occasions."

Gitter said the new church is a blending of the new and the old architecture. Some significant architectural pieces were removed from the old historical churches and installed in the new church.

"The tabernacle was taken from Eden," said Gitter. "The marble altar is being used from Armstrong, and the stations from Eden are being used in the new Church."

Women's club annual Spring Fling salad luncheon March 19

The Kewaskum Women's Club will be having their Annual Spring Fling Salad Luncheon on Saturday, March 19th, 2005. The luncheon will be held in Holy Trinity Church Hall at 331 Main Street in Kewaskum (parking in rear of church - elevator accessible). Doors open at 11:30 with lunch at noon and entertainment at 1:15.

Tickets are $6.50 each and may be obtained from a member of by calling Rita at 262-626-2364 or Rosemary Keller at 262-626-4121. They will go fast so act now.

A delicious variety of homemade salads and desserts will be offered at the buffet table. There are many door prizes and a separate quality raffle. Entertainment will be provided by a singing group from Howards Grove.

Proceeds from the event will be used to benefit a scholarship fund, schools, community activities and charitable organizations.

Hope to see you there!

School board policy dictates that the memorials or dedications must have the approval of a seven-member school board. The school board vote was 5-2. School Board President Jean Goeden and School Board Clerk Mary Meisser cast the no votes.

Both Goeden and Meisser expressed some concern about naming the field after Mitchell because of a Mitchell Field in Milwaukee. School board policy advises the board to avoid confusion by not duplicating a name already in use in the area or region. Meisser said her opposing

Kewaskum woman cited for accident on Hwy. 33

Last Friday there was a bad accident on Highway 33 near Pick N Save north. Police say the accident happened just after 3 p.m. when a woman pulled out of the Westwood Mall and into oncoming traffic. A Grafton woman and a Kewaskum woman suffered minor injuries.

Police say Stephanie Ann Bartley, 22, of Kewaskum, was ticketed for failure to yield right of way.

Police have responded to a number of accidents at that intersection in the past few months as the traffic lights are operating in a flashing mode. The city is working to repair the problem. The lights at Highway B are operating in a red through green rotation and police advise motorists use that intersection during heavy traffic volume.

Home invasion case solved in Campbellsport

Kyle Gornjak, 21, of Lomira could face 62 years in jail if convicted on numerous home invasion charges. Gornjak has been charged with 26 home invasions in Fond du Lac and Dodge counties. He admitted to stealing money and prescription medication. Authorities do not believe he acted alone.

WB stores carrying caps and cap guns

Last month the West Bend Common Council passed a new ordinance banning fireworks including toy caps, snakes and fountains. The ordinance also bans the sale of the devices, however one of the dollar stores in West Bend is carrying caps and cap guns.

The owner of the store was to meet with the Mayor to discuss the issue. He also said he has a store in Hartford and would probably move the stock to that location since there is no ban on the products there.

West Bend police pushed for the ordinance change as a way to improve safety and because the chief said the previous ordinance was unclear regarding what was legal and illegal to sell.

Changes coming to area roads

Washington County will be discussing some possible road projects. The county's traffic safety commission will look at putting in signals at the intersection of Highway 60 at Highway 45 and Tilly Lake Road in Jackson. Traffic has increased in that area because of the strip mall, Culvers, the bank and hotel.

Also a county resident asked that the county look at the intersection of Highway 164 and Q. The resident is concerned about traffic safety.

In Richfield, the town is looking at a $500,000 bill as they try to reduce the slope of a hill on Lakeview Road. It's east of Canadian National Railway. The state has ordered the road closed this December if the town does not rebuild the road's approach to the tracks. There have been three collisions at the crossing in the last 20 years.

State moves to protect Holy Hill

The Natural Resources Board has approved the acquisition of 120 acres in the Holy Hill woods for $1.45 million. The decision protects the land from development in Washington County.

In Waukesha County the Natural Resources Board has approved spending $1.1 million for land on the western shore of North Lake. The state wants to provide public access to the lake in the Town of Merton, although many local landowners are against the idea.

Lomira man facing assault charges

A 45 year-old Lomira man pleaded no contest in Dodge County court this week on charges related to an alleged assault of a 17 year-old girl.

David Schraufnagel, who is a former volunteer in the Mayville School District, says he did not have sex with the teen.

Schraufnagel is due back in court June 3rd. If convicted he faces up to 50 years in prison.

Washington County business updates

The new 50 States restaurant on Paradise Drive opened over the weekend. Next to open will be a new Wendy's which is set to be built in the lot next to Home Depot

The West Bend Chamber moved out of their old building at the Amity building on Friday and are now at their new location on the Northwest corner of Oak and Main.

Fair Park looking for wheelchairs

The Washington County Fair Park is asking for a little help. The fair is looking for people who would be willing to donate wheelchairs to the facility. The fair does have a few, but they need more for larger events. To contact the Fair Park with a donation, call 262-677-5060.

Mercury Marine plant in Cedarburg to be razed

The old Mercury Marine plant in Cedarburg will be razed later this month. The EPA approved the demolition. The plant is contaminated with PCB. Mercury Marine, out of Fond du Lac, operated an aluminum die-casting plant at the two acre site on Madison Avenue from 1951 to 1982. In 1976, the US banned the manufacture of PCB's and Mercury spent nearly $13 million trying to have contaminants removed from the former plant site.

Euwen finds Kewaskum to his liking

Phil Euwen

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

A yearlong visit to the United States has offered 17-year-old Phil Euwen opportunities that will stay with him for a lifetime.

Euwen has enjoyed a chance to play in the competitive sport he loves. He has seen American culture both in a big city and a small village. He has experienced American education, and by living with the Jason Piittmann family for six months, he even inherited an American sister, Anna.

Euwen came to the United States from Hamburg, which is located in the northern part of Germany and is described as a city state because it is large enough to have its own government within the larger county.

"I was first living in Hartford, but then I moved here," Euwen said Sunday night, explaining he found it difficult to find friends in the larger Hartford Union High School, so Jamie Piittmann, who teaches German there, volunteered their Kewaskum home for him to stay.

From all indications, the fit has been perfect for both parties. Euwen came to KHS and immediately found it to his liking.

"I think when you are an exchange student, it's better to live in a small community. You make more friends," he said, and what helped him early on was playing with the West Bend "Ice" high school hockey team because fellow KHS student, Ross Stockhausen, is one of the players on the team.

"I started playing (hockey) when I was nine," Euwen said, proud to add, "We are going to state in two weeks (weekend of March 12-13)."

"The team is pretty good. We finished second in the Fox Valley League ... we wanted to go for first, but it wasn't enough," Euwen said, indicating he is finally getting back to full strength after being sick for a couple weeks.

As a right wing on the team, which is coached by Al Haga, Euwen has scored two goals and added a couple of assists. Because of hockey he has been able to see some of the sites in Minneapolis and Indianapolis, as well as other cities in Wisconsin.

Euwen said Stockhausen is "very good. He played triple A (league) last year. Now he's playing with the Ice so he doesn't have to travel so much."

Euwen is an only child but indicated his parents urged him to study in America for the year. He applied with the EF Foundation to come to the United States, then he decided not to go, but in April, changed his mind again and because he had good references, he was accepted.

"I was kind of tired of the daily schedule in Hamburg," Euwen said, and, "I wanted to see how I can organize myself when I'm not with my parents."

At KHS, Euwen said he is enjoying classes like art, United States History, Creative Writing, Business Law.

"It's good for me to relax this year," he said, and oh yes, he is taking physical education from his host father, which doesn't mean any automatic good grade. In fact, Euwen found out the hard way students better study for physical education tests.

Euwen has participated in weekend activities with the students but wished there would be more dance clubs in the area, similar to the ones in Germany.

"At home, I go two times every weekend," he said, indicating he enjoys dancing and did go to the homecoming at Hartford and took a couple school dances at KHS, along with the Sadie dance.

And what about American food? Euwen's eyes lit up when he spoke about the prime rib dinner he had with the Piittmanns earlier in the day.

"He loves peanut butter," Jamie Piittmann said, and Euwen was quick to add there hasn't been much in the way of food he hasn't enjoyed, even going to McDonalds, which he did not do much of in Hamburg. It has become a traditional stop on the way home from hockey practices.

Euwen, who speaks fluent English, is happy he still has more hockey games to look forward to, and he is also excited about the fact his parents might be coming to the United States in June before he is scheduled to go back home. Several days of traveling are tentatively in the family's plans.

"We might want to go to Niagara Falls and into Canada," he said.

This side trip would enhance what Euwen has already experienced on his exchange stay in Wisconsin.

Rain gardens - a natural solution to storm runoff

The "An Evening with Nature Series" at the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit continues with "Rain Gardens - A Natural Solution to Storm Water Runoff." The program will be held on Thursday, March 10, from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off of Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

As the snow melts and the rain storms arrive, soil, fertilizers and chemicals will wash into our precious water ways. The large amount of melt and storm water can overload storm-water systems and may even cause flooding. What is the solution to these problems? Well, there is not one simple answer, but myriad of things that need to be done to protect our homes, lakes, rivers and ground water. One piece of the puzzle is rain gardens - natural solution to storm water runoff.

Rain gardens are a relatively new concept and are now even being required by new developments and subdivisions. These gardens are strategically planted with native plants and grasses that help capture storm water runoff allowing the water to seep slowly back into the ground and even filtering out many contaminants. They are also a way to help recharge our valuable ground water aquifers.

Roger Bannerman, a Dept. of Natural Resources Environmental Specialist, will describe exactly what a rain garden is. He will also explain the proper way to plant a rain garden, what native plants to use and what pitfalls to avoid. Please join us to learn more about this natural and beautiful solution to storm water runoff.

Cast announced for UWWC play

The University of Wisconsin-Washington County (UW-WC) is pleased to announce the cast for their spring theatre production, The Last Night of Ballyhoo. Directed by Professor Brad Ford, the spring play will be performed at 7:30pm on Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5 and March 11 and 12 in the University Theatre. The production won the 1997 Tony award for Best Play and captures the same heartfelt warmth as the Pulitzer Prize winning author, Alfred Uhry's earlier play, Driving Miss Daisy.

The story revolves around the Freitags, a Jewish family living in 1939 Atlanta, who are much more concerned with who is going to Ballyhoo, the social event of the season, than they are with world events. The play's seven remarkable characters include T. J. Little of Milwaukee who portrays the part of bachelor Uncle Adolph. As if running the family owned Dixie Bedding Company isn't enough, Adolph holds the eccentric Ballyhoo-crazed household together. Living with him are his widowed sister, Beulah (Boo) Levy (played by Julie Woltring of West Bend) and his widowed sister-in-law, Reba (played by Bonnie Rapkin of West Bend). Boo is consumed with trying to find a respectable date to take her not-so-popular daughter, Lala (played by Stephanie Broughton of Fredonia) to Ballyhoo. Boo believes this may be Lala's last chance to find a good husband.

Tyler Dieringer of Fredonia portrays the part of Adolph's handsome young assistant, Joe Farkas, from New York City. Joe represents the other type of Jew, the type not welcome in the upper-crust German-Jewish society of Atlanta. "You smell like a rose and I smell like a salami," Joe observes in referring to Lala's beautiful cousin, Sunny (played by Jessica Jennings of Richfield). Joe becomes infatuated with Sunny, who is home on winter break from prestigious Wellesley College. Rounding out the cast is Chris Polster of West Bend, who has the role of Peachy Weil, a dignified, narrow-minded snob who takes Lala to Ballyhoo. Events take several unexpected turns as the family gets pulled apart, and then mended together again with plenty of gentle comedy, sweet romance and revelations along the way. The play provides a powerful universal metaphor for racism, while dealing specifically with Jewish culture.

Assisting Professor Ford are Sarrah AbuLughod of

Prayer Shawl Ministry at Trinity

Knitters and Crocheters at Trinity Lutherans, S7th and Elm in West Bend, have been busy fingers creating Prayer Shawls. The mission of the Prayer Shawl Ministry is the creation of loving prayer shawls for people needing the warm arms of concern wrapped around them.

The completed shawls are given to people who are ill, have suffered a loss or are in the midst of a life crisis. Each shawl is delivered to the recipient along with a card containing a special message such as this: "This prayer shawl was made especially for you with love and prayers. It is a gift from Trinity Lutheran Church. May you discover comfort and solace as you wear it. May it encircle you in God's love and peace, now and always."

Some members of the group meet at the church once a month to work on shawls, enjoy lively conversation and pray for recipients while others work at home including prayers and blessings as they knit or crochet

In 1998, Janet Bristow and Victoria Galo, two graduates of the 1997 Women's Leadership Institute at the Hartford Seminary in Hartford, Connecticut gave birth to the new ministry as a result of their experience in this program. Care and the love of knitting have been combined into a prayerful ministry that reaches out to those in need of comfort and solace. Many blessings are knit into every shawl. To learn more about the Prayer Shawl Ministry check out www.shawlministry.com.

None knitters or crocheters can get involved in the Ministry by requesting a shawl for a friend or a loved one you know who is in need and by donating yarn for the project. It cost approximately $15 to make each shawl. The suggested yarn is Lion Brand Homespun and about three skeins are needed.

The first eight shawls were blessed during Sunday Services and have been delivered to their recipients. The program continues to grow to reach out to those who are willing to share their time and talents to create shawls.

Soerens receives Starfish award

At the January meeting of the Kewaskum School Board, Ken Soerens, left, principal of Kewaskum Middle School received a Starfish award from board president Jean Goeden

At January's regular board meeting, the Kewaskum School Board presented another Starfish award to Ken Soerens.

There are many Kewaskum School District staff members who have given that extra "something" and has made a difference in our students lives. One of those special people is our own, Soerens, the Middle School Principal.

Soerens commutes every day from Cedar Grove, where he lives with his wife Donna of 26 years, and their daughters, Holly, 22 and Jenny, 19. Holly will graduate in spring with a degree in education. Following in Pop's footsteps!!!

In 1972, Soerens graduated from UW-Whitewater with a degree in education in the board field of social studies. His first teaching job was at the Tri-Catholic Consolidated Schools in Fredonia, Wisconsin. When the school closed in 1974, he received a call from the Kewaskum High School Principal Clark Pearson, asking him to take a Social Studies teaching position, only two days before school started. And the rest is history!

Ken has been instrumental in facilitating a two-hour, co-ed student Human Relations class. He did the "co-ed teaching" with the Home Economics teacher, Mrs. Froelich. Many of Kewaskum's professional women and men of today, are the "product" of this very intense study of "every-day life". Ken helped to mold many young people to become upstanding community members. He has made a difference.

During this time, he was the High School Student Council Advisor for four years, the Social Studies Department Chairman for 15 years and the assistant varsity football coach for eight years.

One of the many accomplishments, he is most proud of, is the 18 years of coaching the girls' basketball teams on the High School level. He was the first Kewaskum freshmen girls coach, moved to JV and later up to varsity. In 1982 he coached the team to a second place finish in the state tournament. He continues to make a difference.

As history would have it, in 1997, just two days before the start of school, the Middle School Principal left and the School Board asked him to serve as the interim principal. (He had an administrative license.) Two months later, the Board asked and approved his permanent status as the Middle School Principal.

Ken has also been a leader in the STAR program. (Students Taking Academic Responsibility). This project has been a success for over eight years and is available to the students who are having problems in certain subjects or studies.

Today, Soerens and his staff at the Kewaskum Middle School continue to make a difference in the lives of our most impressionable aged students, "those: Middle Schoolers".

With over 30 years of dedication to our Kewaskum School District, the Kewaskum School Board salutes Soerens with the Starfish Award. He indeed has made a difference in our schools. Congratulations.

Ballroom dance lessons at UWWC

Waltz or tango anyone? UW-Washington County will be offering an intermediate level course in ballroom dancing this spring. This six-week program is intended for dancers with some experience in waltz and tango and will be taught on Wednesday evenings, beginning March 30th. The one hour lessons begin at 8pm.

A six week offering for Swing and Salsa dancing also begins on March 30th. This program will be taught from 7:00pm-8:00pm. According to Dan Anhalt, Director of Continuing Education, "The response to the first offering of Ballroom Dancing this semester has been overwhelming. The intermediate class is being added in response to the demand."

The instructor for these programs is Mike Mattek. Mike is an instructor of ballroom and social dancing at various dance studios in the Milwaukee area, where he teaches Beginner, Bronze, and Silver-Level. Since there will be students with a wide range of abilities in the class, Mattek plans to use a multi-layered approach to teaching, giving brand new dancers the patterns that they need, while also helping more experienced dancers with their stylistics.

In addition to the dance instruction, Dr. Mattek will also provide some historical background for each dance, and inform participants of the different venues available to practice and "show off" their newly-developed dancing skills.

First teen style show, luncheon a big hit

The theme for the first Kewaskum Women's Club Teen Style Show and Luncheon was taken from the movie, Princess Diaries. With the help of Christine Horbas, principal of Kewaskum High School and Mary Koch, Family and Consumer Ed teacher, the young ladies in attendance were given the opportunity to interact socially with professional women of the community. It was their day to feel like a princess. The professional and casual fashions were on loan from Maurices of West Bend. Models included, left to right, Megan Dreher, Heather Parsons, Jordan Benike, Sara Beaster and Megan Dean.

Ms. Tiffany Kraus, freshman english teacher at KHS, showed the girls how to walk properly with the back straight and the shoulders back as Christine Horbas watches.

Kewaskum Women's Club members, Joyce Schleif, Joan Wszalek (treasurer), Jeanne Goeden (co-chair of the event) and Jane Siegel (president) prepared the "Snowman Soup."

LEFT: Another learning opportunity was a friendly competition of "how to set a proper place setting," with Mrs. Koch as the judge. Tocarra Timblin is pictured with mentor, Karen Breitzman of KB Lettering.

The Kewaskum Women's Club (KWC) Teen Style Show and Luncheon was a success. It was our first try at holding this event. With all the positive comments and a few tweaks in the program, we should be able to hold this luncheon again.

This was a chance for the freshmen girls to "feel like a princess" as in the movie, The Princess's Diaries. There was a style show, games of manners and proper etiquette, and a luncheon. The girls and their mentors seemed to have the most fun trying to correctly place the silverware and dishes for the "proper way to set a table" game. It was a challenge!

The KWC would like to thank the following mentors: Louise Martin, from Miller's Funeral Home, Chris Jung of The Candy Tree, Wendi Dreher of Hair on Main & Mary Kay products, Karen Breitzman from KB Lettering, Deb Strigenz, Rochelle Pennington, author "The Christmas Ship," and two antidote books and Tiffany Kraus KHS teacher.

These professional women took the time to come and be a part of this special event. The mentors talked about, attitudes, careers, schooling, and gave positive outlooks to our young princesses. We realized later our young ladies would like to have spent more time chatting with these professional women while enjoying their tea sandwiches and punch.

We would like to publicly thank those who helped sponsor this event. Chris Jung donated her specialty candies to each of our guests, Laurie from Kewaskum Floral graced our tables with centerpieces, and Balloons by Brenda gave us some balloons to complete the décor for the day. Master of Fashion Show Ceremonies, Wendi Dreher gave her, as always, "interesting" commenting regarding the fashions on loan from Maurices' of West Bend.

Most of all, we would like to thank Mrs. Horbas, Donna Gajewski, and Mary Koch (Kewaskum High School staff) for their help and support in organizing this event. The accomplishments and efforts of all these professional women are exactly what the KWC membership wanted these young girls to experience. With everyone's generous assistance, we were able to do just that.

IN MEMORY

In memory of Nancy Boegel, who passed away one year ago, March 2, 2004:

Sometimes we lay awake at night
And try to hide the tears
Thinking of the great memories
And all of the wonderful years

Longing for just one last wish
To give us one more thing
We'd ask for you to be here with us
To hold all the love you'd bring

We'd take upon ourselves your life
And all your aches and pains
We'd keep you in a special place
Where you could live again

The pain for us would not be pain
At least not for a while
For we'd be doing it for you
Just to see you smile

But this wish cannot be granted
Nobody can understand why
Some things that help us get through each day
To laugh, but still to cry

We look for you in these everyday things
And we know that we will find

That you are really not far away
But as close as the memory in our minds

We love you and miss you

Love

Still loved, still missed
Still very dear.

The Confessions of Max Tivoli

By: Andrew Sean Greer

I read once that, when asked, a seer refused to tell people when they would die, because she believed they would live their lives focused on that date and not on life itself. But what if you knew - without a doubt - that you would only live to age 70 and not beyond? In "The Confessions of Max Tivoli" by Andrew Sean Greer (c.2004, now in paperback from Picador), Max knows. He's known all his life.

When Max Tivoli was born in September, 1871, the midwife whispered to his parents that it might be better to let him die. Max was a wizened baby with liver-spotted arms and a pronounced nose. He looked like a miniature 70-year-old man.

Max's parents loved him, though. They were well-off enough to hire a tutor and a nurse, and Max thrived. When he was a toddler, a former maid noticed what no one else had seen: Max was getting younger.

Through his adolescence, Max grew to be a man, although his appearance said that he was well beyond youth; at age 16, Max looked to be decades older. Exterior aside, Max, at age 16, did what young men do - he fell in love.

She was 14 years old, her name was Alice Levy, and Max was smitten with her. Unfortunately, Alice saw an older man when she looked at Max. Alice's mother, though, saw a man her age, and she took Max as her lover. When Max tried to kiss Alice, Mrs. Levy was horrified, and she snatched Alice from Max's life.

Many years later, when Max appeared as old as he was (the balance being achieved), an accidental meeting reunited him with his beloved Alice. Max knew that she could never know his real identity, so he lied and told her that he was someone he was not. When she learned the truth, Alice left Max, but not before he gave her one final gift.

Now Max is an aging man in a child's body. He's masquerading as an orphan, and he's been "taken in" by the Widow Ramsey and her son, Sammy. Max knows that soon he will be a helpless infant with an old man's mind, and it sickens him. He's decided to end his life before he ages to babyhood. But first, Max pens his story, so he can tell Mrs. Ramsey and Sammy what he could never tell them in person.

Does this sound confusing to you? It's not. Max Tivoli is a wretched and sorrowful man who always tries to live by The Rule that his mother taught him: Always be what they think you are. That's something Max can't do, but in trying, he makes mistakes that plague him for the rest of his life. Author Greer has a wonderful, rhapsody-like way of using words, which will draw you into Max's life and his world.

If you're looking for a novel that's very different, pick up "The Confessions of Max Tivoli". It's an excellent choice for experienced readers of almost any age.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

If you have recently entered the Citgo gas station you have noticed the "No Smoking" sign on the doors. I frequently stop in the morning for a cup of coffee or cappuccino and have been sick to my stomach by the smell of cigarette smoke. I was to the point of not doing business there anymore.

I applaud you for taking a stand and giving your customers a "Smoke Free Environment." I will respectfully continue to give you my business. I would like to thank all the other businesses that can offer us (your customers) a clean breathing atmosphere.

Sincerely,

To the Editor:

The slogan of the Kewaskum School District heralds that we offer a school system "Where children come first!" I know from personal experience that this was once a truism here. A decade or so ago, my family chose to move here in large part because of the quality of the schools. Kewaskum wasn't the only possibility available to us, but it was the one that we felt was in our best interest.

Nowadays, with school choice, there are even more options available for the education-consumer. I am continually asked what Kewaskum offers as a competitive advantage over other schools? I once was able to confidently assert that it was our determined commitment to youth - but my response is not so assured today.

I recall that during the years that I served as Village President, I was once given the honor of helping dedicate the new elementary school here. At that time I spoke of how a school is not simply an edifice constructed of bricks and mortar, but rather that the true foundation of a school system is the combined efforts of teachers, staff, administration, board and the community itself all working together with a united purpose - namely the education of our children. Somehow I sense that we have lost a bit of that.

But it is not too late to reclaim our mission. Although we now live in an age where we choose that there be no child left behind; I want also to foster an environment wherein our children can actually forge ahead! It is not enough to maintain the status quo, we must excel! Only if we re-dedicate ourselves to that commitment will we be able to truly say that the Kewaskum School District is a place 'where children come first!'

School-Board candidate;
John Kenworthy

Residents in Kewaskum
School District:

On February 24th, I had the opportunity to talk to a number of parents at the Farmington OPEN HOUSE and address their concerns about both the upcoming referendum and what we as a District and Board are doing to address the NEEDS of the District.

In May of 2004, we found that we were able to save money from transportation, utilities and open enrollment. This total was $129,118. These funds were transferred into three accounts as follows. Technology $47,560, Textbooks $27,526 and Maintenance $54,032. All the money went for much needed items in each area.

In October a combination of a small increase in the revenue limit and decreases in the budget for salaries and benefits provided us with an additional savings of $211,455. With these savings the Board approved transferring these funds into other accounts. We allocated an additional amount $41,000 for technology, increased the textbook budget by $30,000 for new math books at the elementary level and placed into the maintenance budget $133,455 to be used for the upgrade of NEW boilers at the High School.

Even with these savings, we find ourselves short of the money needed to address our ongoing issues. Hopefully we will continue to see savings every year. HOWEVER, even if we do, that will not put us on a cycle that is needed for the students. At the current rate, it will take us 10-15 years for our students to have the necessary books and technology that they will need to go onto school or join the workforce. We can't afford to continue down the path we are presently on.

The committee I chair, Finance-Transportation-Buildings and Grounds has the responsibility to work with our Administrators to ensure that your tax dollars are spent in the most fiscally responsible way possible. This Board is committed to giving ALL of our students the best education possible. With YOUR help and working together, I know we can do this.

On a motion by Trustee Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Trustee Thomas Piwoni and unanimously carried by voice vote the Board approved the minutes of the January 24, 2005 Village Board meetings as printed.

President Mathew Heiser opened the Public Hearing on the zoning of land included in the annexation of territory known as the 3-R's annexation included in Ordinance No. 2005-03. "An Ordinance to Annex Territory to the Village of Kewaskum, Wisconsin." The notice describes territory in the Town of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin. President Heiser asked the Administrator to describe said boundaries of annexation and the designated zoning. Attorney Gerald Kiefer, Andy Petersen and Christy Cramer from Ruckert & Mielke were present to assist with the discussion. No comments were brought forward. On a motion by Trustee Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Trustee Thomas Piwoni to close the Public Hearing. A few questions were then asked regarding the TID, project plan and need to grow. The motion and second were then withdrawn to address those questions and concerns.

A question was asked of the Fire Chief regarding servicing that area. It was noted that the area is currently being served by the Fire Department and that more than likely several of the buildings will have sprinklers and with the area being annexed it would have public water access and hydrants. The promotion of jobs in the community would hopefully provide additional personnel for daytime coverage of services.

Christy Cramer addressed questions regarding the proposed payoff of the debt and the timing of it. It was again noted the base of taxes collected remains untouched for all entities including the village. The town will receive five payments of the annual base amount of taxes as provided by law. General discussion on a number of topics occurred with the nine area residents of which two spoke with reservations regarding the proposed annexation and TID while the other seven were in general support of the annexation and TID.

On a motion by Trustee Kevin Scheunemann, seconded by Trustee Thomas Piwoni and carried by the majority roll call vote the Board closed the Public Hearing. Roll call vote was 4 "Aye" 0 "Nay" 2 "Absent."

Fisherees Are Fun

Hello Friends,

This past weekend I fished Wisconsin's deepest lake, Big Green, for the third time in my life. I accepted Randy Norton's invitation to come to the Walker Winter Fisheree and spend three days living in an ice shack with the hope of catching some fish.

Friday, February 18
High 27°, Low 10°

A total of 270 people entered the Walker Fisheree, which runs from 5 p.m. on Friday to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

Eligible fish species in the competition are lake trout, northern pike, walleye, bluegill, perch, striped bass and rock bass.

My golden retriever Ice would be the third member of our shack. Several of Randy's friends also came and went.

We fished over a rock cliff with water depths ranging from eight to 154 feet. After dark, we targeted walleye, and during the daylight hours we targeted lake trout and northern pike.

At 5 p.m. we each put out two tip ups that were baited with five-inch golden shiners, and then we started jiggling for fish in the shack. We also made our 7x12 foot home comfortable for the weekend by heating the shack with a wood/coal burning stove.

The jiggling was pretty slow, but I did manage to catch a rock bass that weighed just under three quarters of a pound. The tip up action was also pretty slow until midnight when we had three flags come up. Two flags were just minnows, but lucky for me, one flag had something else on it. As we approached the flag, the line was steadily being pulled off, and I could feel I had a fish on.

When all was said and done, I had iced a very chunky walleye just under 22 inches long. All night I had big fish visions going through my mind, which can keep a person awake much better than the strongest cup of coffee.

Saturday, February 19
High 35°, Low 26°

Today was an interesting day, but it wasn't because of all the fish we caught. Randy seems to know a lot of fun people, and they kept stopping by our camp to visit and fish. Jack Romskog and Skip Zander are two of Randy's closest hunting and fishing buddies, and they put on quite the comedy act when they are together.

Our ambitions today would be pointed toward northern pike and lake trout. Unfortunately, neither were very hungry for what we were offering. With word out that a heavy snowfall was expected, we hoped the approaching front would induce a feeding frenzy. But other than mud puppies, that frenzy never happened.

Jack caught a laker in the three-pound range, which gave us three fish in the livewell. Little did we know that we would not have another bite for the next 26 hours.

This afternoon, I cooked venison tenderloin and fried potatoes. Friends and family came and went. I met Jack's dad and another friend Mike Seering. Mike brought his 19-month-old niece, Sophie Berglund, along for the visit as well.

The prime time evening bite never happened, and shortly after dark, the wind switched to the east and began howling as the storm approached.

Sunday, February 20
High 35°, Low 32°

Wet snow blew into the cracks of our shanty last night and made for a sometimes chilly evening. This morning it was pretty nasty at times, with strong winds blowing snow that saturated our outer layer of clothing on contact.

Another one of Randy's friends, Drew Zeratsky, stopped by today. Drew has all of the high-tech equipment a lake trout fisherman could desire. He had trout approach his jig 34 times yesterday as he fished over 82 feet of water. He actually watched the trout on his Aqua View camera. None of the trout were hungry, but what was interesting is that not one of the trout showed up on Drew's Lowrance fish locator, even though he could see them perfectly well on the camera.

We broke camp close to 3 p.m., and we were at Walker's Tavern shortly after with a rock bass, walleye and lake trout to weigh. Jack's trout took sixth, my walleye weighed 4.24 pounds and missed the money ($160) by one ounce.

I was really impressed with how this tournament was run, especially with the length of time a person could fish. I hope to fish it again next year.

Need some sleep!

Inland game fish season closes March 6

MADISON - Beginning this year, anglers will have some additional time to fish for game fish before the game fish season closes at the end of the day Sunday, March 6.

Starting in 2005 and subsequent years, the inland game fishing season closes at the end of the day of the first Sunday in March. The pan-fish seasons remains open year-round as does the game fish season on select waters, as listed in the Guide to Wisconsin Hook and Line Fishing Regulations.

The change in season closure date was approved during the 2003 annual Department of Natural Resources Spring Rule Hearings and subsequently by the Natural Resources Board, along with a slate of other fishing regulation changes.

According to Patrick Schmalz, DNR regulations and warmwater fisheries specialist, the new closure date will give anglers additional days of fishing for game fish most years. Schmalz says the change was spurred by angler and business interests. The later closure date had been proposed as a Conservation Congress resolution and question at the Conservation Congress portion of the spring hearings, and then forwarded as a regulation proposal by the DNR in 2003.

"Anglers from across the state expressed their desire to end the game fish season on a Sunday and starting this year, they will gain additional days of fishing on most waters," said Schmalz.

Indians lose more than a game in Manitowoc; Parrent suffers broken leg

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Just when it looked like the Kewaskum High boys basketball team was going to make a successful stretch run Friday night against host Manitowoc Roncalli, bad things started to happen to the Indians.

First, sophomore Matt Parrent, the team's high scorer and leading rebounder, went down with a leg injury, and a couple minutes later, 6-foot-6 junior Paul Gaynor also sustained an injury.

With those two out, the Jets managed to regain some momentum, hit a couple of key baskets and escape with a 64-56 victory over the Indians. Roncalli wound up with a 12-2 record to capture the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title, while the Indians were 1-13 in conference play and 2-18.

"Despite our record, we went into this game believing the EWC champions could be beaten on their home floor by attacking inside," KHS Coach Glenn Eichstedt said. "For the most part that proved to be true until our legs gave out."

Eichstedt went on to report the score was 54-50 in the Jets' favor with four minutes to play when Parrent was injured.

"Matt was taken by ambulance to an area hospital for X-rays on his broken fibula (just above his left ankle), whereas Paul suffered a knee strain," the coach said. Gaynor left the contest with two minutes to go and the Indians only down by two, 58-56.

"We were unable to score after those two serious setbacks and eventually lost," Eichstedt said.

Parrent had scored 14 points and hauled down 13 rebounds in what turned out to be his last game of the 2004-05 season, while Gaynor left with his statistics highlighted by eight rebounds and six points.

Senior forward Todd Warnecke had another solid game, scoring 14 points to go with seven rebounds.

Two of Kewaskum's guards, senior Brad Benike and Eric Cain, who has become a steady contributor in the final three or four games, both helped out with nine points and were responsible for the team's three three-point goals.

"Despite too many turnovers, especially late in both halves, we made a game of it by connecting on 21 of 37 field goal attempts and nailing all 11 of our free throws," Eichstedt said, adding, "Unfortunately, Zach Wollner was the only nonstarter to contribute to our total."

Wollner chipped in with four points and grabbed an equal number of rebounds.

Kewaskum was down by just two points at half, 30-28 and by six at the end of the third quarter, 46-40.

"Roncalli continues to move the ball well, but the Indians forced them into many ill-advised and missed shots on goal," Eichstedt said.

"Yet the Jets made seven out of 19 three-point attempts, to maintain their slight advantage."

Leading the Jets with a game-high 19 points was Greg Schrimpf, who popped in three of his team's long range bombs.

According to the coach, both teams missed opportunities to establish control, neither was able to maintain any momentum.

"Roncalli benefitted from a few more putbacks than we did," the coach said.

Along with Parrent and Gaynor, the Indians had previously lost guard Casey Scheel with a knee injury.

"These young men deserve better for keeping their faith and spirit throughout these past two difficult seasons. Kewaskum should be proud. I know I am," Eichstedt concluded.

Kewaskum was at Mayville Tuesday night for the opening round of play in the Division 2 regional tournament.

Roncalli: 16-14-16-18 -64

Kewaskum: 13-15-12-16 -56
Kewaskum: Gaynor 6, Benike 9, Wollner 4, Cain 9, Warnecke 14, Parrent 14. 3-point goals — Benike (2), Cain. FTs — 11x11. Fouls — 19. Fouled out — Warnecke.

Roncalli: Netzel 8, Wettstein 5, Schrimpf 19, Ahola 10, Lewis 10, Pozorski 8, MacDonald 4. 3-point goal — Schrimpf (3), Ahola (2), Lewis (2). Fts — 15x21. Fouls — 18.

Rhoads takes time to enjoy his title

By JUDY HARLOW
STATESMAN CORRESPONDENT
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Less than 24 hours after winning his first state championship, Kewaskum High School junior Scott Rhoads switched roles from wrestler to spectator.

While 685 kindergartners through eighth graders were battling for titles at Sunday's annual Wildcat Tournament in West Bend, Rhoads was accepting congratulations from Kewaskum, West Bend and Slinger parents and athletes who knew him and heard about his successful efforts in the Kohl Center Friday and Saturday.

The culmination of the Division 2 tournament for Rhoads was a 1-0 victory over Jim Jones of Chetek/Prairie Farm in the finals at 145 pounds.

The lone point of the match came early in the third period, and Rhoads was confident he would get it and win.

"I knew I could. I was planning the whole match like that," Rhoads said, reporting Jones had the choice in the second period and chose the down position.

"I rode him out the whole period...I couldn't let him get away," Rhoads said, knowing immediately he would select the down position for the final period and not wasting any time to score the point.

"I sat out...kind of a hip heist. I got away in the first 10 seconds," Rhoads said, indicating he was afraid he might be warned for stalling near the end of the period, but then, "With about 20 seconds left, I got his leg and nearly took him down. That basically wrapped up the match."

Rhoads said it took a few minutes for the realization to sink in. "It took a little while to hit me," Rhoads said. "It's unbelievable. I didn't expect to make it that far...Dennis (Aupperle, the KHS coach) was so happy!"

Rhoads had just three losses this season, including one to Justin Schmitt from Campbellsport (when Rhoads went up one weight class to help the team out), the state champion at 152 pounds and another in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference finals to Tony Cresco of Plymouth in a very defensive match.

"I didn't think of the losses. I was just thinking about what I had to do at state," he said.

So is Rhoads planning to take off a little time from athletics? Not really. "Track starts in a week. I should be in good shape," he said, and while wrestling remains number one in his book, adds, "I will still do my best."

Rhoads said he also plans to return to baseball this summer after passing on the sport a year ago.

And what about the Advanced School of Wrestling program he and teammate Nick Bartley took part in last year in Madison? "I'll probably participate the fall season," Rhoads said, because the only thing better than having one state title would be adding a second.

Rhoads

Near the end of the period, Lane used a roll for an escape and what turned out to be the only point scored off Rhoads.

Again riding was no problem for Rhoads, who used his aggressiveness wisely in keeping Lane in check.

When the final seconds ticked off, Rhoads flung his arms in the air, delighted with the accomplishment of reaching the finals.

But more was in store, and Rhoads plans to savor the title, at least for a little while.

Rhoads wasn't the only Indian to place in the competition. Sophomore Eric Ogi finished 2-2 at 135 pounds to finish fourth, while Nick Bartley (145 pounds) and Noah Olla (171 pounds) both placed sixth in their weight classes.

Ogi locked up in a high-scoring battle with Denmark's Bobby Leitermann in his first match. After being down 0-5 midway in the first period, he got back in the match with a five-point reversal and nearfall to jump out front 7-5 at the end of the first period.

The score was 9-9 after two periods, then Ogi showed superb conditioning the last two minutes and posted a 14-9 decision over his senior opponent.

In the semis, Ogi got taken down twice in the first period and was only able to get one point back on an escape as he found himself down 4-1.

Kendall Vogel, the eventual runner-up of Pioneer Westfield, was not able to get away from Ogi in the second period, but he countered all of Ogi's moves in the third and caught Ogi in a switch for a nearfall in the third. The final score was 7-1.

In the battle for third place, Ogi, who ended the year at 35-8, lost a 4-1 decision to Nick Ziegler of Lodi, a senior who came into the tournament at 43-0.

"It will be fun to watch Eric the next two years," Aupperle said.

Olla got a bye in the first round, then lost a 14-5 decision to Nate Clements of West Salem/Bangor. Normally Olla is much taller than his opponents and used the edge in leverage, but Clements was the same height and negated Olla's normal style of wrestling.

Olla fell behind 5-0 before gaining a nearfall in the second period. Clements came back with a reversal and after Olla escaped, he gave up a takedown, so the score was 9-3 after two periods.

Olla continued to work hard until the end but was unable to make up the deficit.

On Saturday, Olla defeated Karl Damrath of Chetek Prairie 9-4 to get a chance at fifth place but lost that bout to Adam Bonikowski of Freedom 14-4, thus ending his year at 30-6.

Because Bartley placed second in the sectional finals, he had to wrestle in a preliminary match Friday morning. He had no problems getting past Kevin Haupt of Lodi.

Bartley, who finished third at state last year, quickly took a 2-0 lead with a takedown and then using a stack for a nearfall, was up 4-0 after the first period.

He reversed Haupt in the second period, and after working out of a cradle in the third period, added another reversal for an 8-3 win.

Then the KHS junior ran into an old nemesis, Zac Enderby of Luxemburg-Casco, who had pinned him twice this year. No pin this time, but following a scoreless first period, Enderby, whose team scored the most points of any of the classes in the tournament (149), managed to break free from Bartley's grasp with :37 seconds in the second period for a 1-0 lead.

Enderby used tight waist-arm bar combination for a nearfall in the third period in chalking up a 4-0 win.

Bartley (37-6) came back Saturday morning with a convincing 7-2 victory over Casey Bode of Prairie du Chien, then lost a 5-1 decision to Trevin Hines of Ellsworth to end up sixth.

"Nick had a tough weight class, two state champions in it," Aupperle said.

Zach Holm ran into a buzzsaw in the first period, getting pinned by Les Cornette of Seymour in 2:39.

Cornette reportedly has a lot of experience in freestyle wrestling and likes throws. He caught Holm in one in the first period, and the KHS senior held off the pin try for nearly 1:45 but could not get out of Cornette's pin hold in the second.

"At least my last match was in the state tournament," a philosophical Holm said afterward.

The loss ended his tournament experience. He finished the year at 32-7.

Aupperle said Olla provided a lot of leadership this year. "All the guys looked up to him and Zach," he said.

Powerful Plymouth takes over in second half

Trying to get back in the game against Plymouth last Tuesday, the Kewaskum High girls basketball team went to full court defensive pressure. Smothering Panther reserve Vanessa Hellestad were Jacque Kwaterski (23), left, and Bry Timblin (21). The Panthers won the game 60-36, ending the Indians' season.

After grabbing a rebound in the second half, Rachel Breese is engulfed by several players in last week's regional contest against powerful Plymouth.

PLYMOUTH — It would have taken a magnificent effort for the Kewaskum High girls basketball team to upset No. 1-seeded Plymouth (17-4) in the first round of the Division 2 regional tournament here Tuesday night.

The Lady Indians came up with a good one, so even though they lost 60-36, they bowed out with the knowledge they gave a good effort.

"They played well," KHS Coach Jeff Gosse said about his players. "Plymouth is so much bigger. They just wore us down ... And they are well coached."

Lindsay Keller, one of five seniors playing her final game for KHS, said, "We always play right to the end ... We show up with everything we've got."

The Indians fell behind 21-10 after the first quarter, still they weren't throwing in the towel. They scrapped and hustled to outscore the Panthers 10-8 in the second quarter, cutting the margin to nine points and were looking at a chance to cut the deficit to just seven after a steal, but a layup by Bry Timblin would not fall.

A second try to cut into the Plymouth lead rolled off the rim, then, using an effective press, the hosts went on a little 6-0 run behind baskets by Jessica Tayloe, Alicia West and Kassie Benicke to a more comfortable 27-12 lead.

Once again, the Indians fired back, with Keller's successive baseline drive and a three-point bomb by Jacque Kwaterski, putting the score at 29-19.

Keller, who was all over the court, came up with a big steal and quickly passed the ball to Kwaterski, who was fouled attempting to shoot. She made the first free throw, missed the second, to chip the deficit to under double digits again.

The score was frozen at 29-20 going into intermission, but the Panthers got hot early in the third period when they started pulling away.

The Benicke girls, Kallie and Kassie, both had hands in the scoring. Kallie hit a quick basket from the right baseline, and her sister followed with two free throws for a 33-20 advantage which was boosted to 41-22 in a matter of minutes.

The Indians were having trouble handling 6-1 sophomore center Kellie Colson, who scored back-to-back baskets and two free throws near the end of the period.

Colson was one of three Panthers to score in double figures. She wound up with 10 points, three behind West, who had all 13 of hers in the first three quarters. Kassie Benicke added 10, and Kallie Benicke was just one point back.

For Kewaskum, it was Keller with an even dozen and Katie Kurer with seven.

"She played a good game tonight. She was healthy tonight," Gosse said about Keller, and adding, "It would have been nice had she been healthy Thursday (against Campbellsport)."

Gosse was also pleased with the performance of the junior Kwaterski, who added five points and hustled on defense. "This is the second good game in a row she's had. She gave us a nice spurt."

Keller and Kurer played four years on the varsity team, so understandably this was an emotional game for both of them.

"I can't even really describe it," Keller said about her feelings after the contest. "I'm happy and sad ... just a mix of emotions right now."

Concerning her feelings about the season being over, Kurer said, "It really was (sad) because it's the last time we will be playing together, but it was more sad on Senior Night.

Breese, Thelen, and Amanda Zimdars came up through the ranks together, according to Kurer, who said, "I've been playing with them since sixth grade." Keller joined the group in eighth grade, she said.

Kurer went on, "It was a shame we lost, but I thought we played really well."

Plymouth won its second game on Thursday night, then got upset by 12-11 Grafton on Saturday by a score of 51-48.

Plymouth: 21-8-14-17-60; Kewaskum: 10-10-6-10-36.

Kewaskum: Timblin 4, Kwaterski 5, Kurer 7, Thelen 2, Long I, Keller 12, Breese 5. 3-point goals — Kurer, Breese. FTs — 8x10. Fouls — 15.

Plymouth: Vollbrecht 5, West 13, Hollestad 2, Evans 5, Kal Benicke 9, Tayloe 2, Krueger 2, Kass Benicke 10, Colson 10. 3-point goals — West, Kass Benicke (2). FTs — 13x17. Fouls — 11.
