No ribs for Kewaskum, feed on horizon

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Kewaskumites had their mouths watering for a new rib chain that was rumored to be coming to the village's new commercial development park. That rumor was squashed Tuesday afternoon. Instead, it's the pets of those Kewaskumites whose mouths may be watering as a new Purina feed mill will open.

Jim Schweitzer, of Famous Dave's America stated that his company will not approve a franchise to open in Kewaskum. He stated that the chain only builds in populations of 55,000 or more.

The Statesman did confirm that a Purina feed mill is opening in the park. Owner of Kettle Moraine Town and Country, Mike Kunkel stated Tuesday that plans for his Purina brand pet food store are progressing.

"We're waiting on some D.O.T. issues, but, we're moving forward," stated Kunkel

The feed store will be located on two acres next to Best Trailer. Kunkel plans to erect a 7,200 square foot building. The store will occupy 5,500 square feet.

"You have the animal, we'll have the feed," he said. Kunkel and his wife plan to break ground for the store in mid-July.

Kewaskum man charged after 814 grams of cocaine seized at his home

By Andrew Kuehl
Managing Editor

After two months of surveillance, the Washington County Multi-Jurisdictional Drug Unit and Sheriff's deputies made a major drug bust in the Village of Kewaskum. James Andaloro, 43, was arrested and charged this week after authorities seized 814 grams of cocaine and 30 grams of marijuana from his home in the Potawatomi Prairie subdivision.

James Andaloro

Kewaskum Police Chief, Dick Knoebel says this is the largest seizure he can recall in the village.

During the two months of undercover investigations Andaloro is alleged to have sold drugs in various places through out Washington County. A few of them at his home in the Village of Kewaskum.

Deputies say the drugs have a street value of up to $100,000. Andaloro is being held in the Washington County jail on $25,000 cash bond. While acting on the search warrant authorities also seized two handguns.

At his May 13 preliminary hearing, Andaloro was bound over for trial. He faces half dozen charges of manufacture/deliver cocaine, possession with intent to deliver cocaine, maintaining a drug trafficking place and possession of marijuana. If convicted he faces a maximum sentence of 179 years in prison.

A check of court records reveals that this is Andaloro's first drug related offense. Records from 2003 show he was a resident of Germantown, where one of the drug deals occurred.

Andaloro will be arraigned June 7th in Washington County Circuit Court.

Town of Kewaskum addresses numerous agenda items

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

In a meeting held Saturday, May 6 the Kewaskum Town board handled a multitude of administrative items. One of those major items was updating the town's computer system.

The town approved purchasing a new laptop for Town Clerk Sandy Stern. This will replace the laptop that is unusable. The laptop is being purchased locally at Alexssa in West Bend. Stern will now be more available to town business as she can take the laptop with her when she is not in the office.

Supervisor Ellen Detweiler will be investigating putting a purchase order (PO) system in place with the updated computer. She will report to the town board at a later meeting.

Two town bridges were also discussed. A bridge on Townline Drive is being looked at. Town officials would like to remove some of the layers of asphalt so the bridge can bear more weight. The town hopes to get grant money to assist in paying for this project.

They also looked at the bridge on County Line Drive. Detweiler stated because the bridge is very stable, just not wide enough, it is not eligible for grant funding, so the town will look at doing some maintenance on it.

The town is also investigating 15 properties in the town that are in violation of various town codes. The town's zoning administrator will be sending out letters to notify the property owners.

A problem of getting diesel fuel after hours for snowplow drivers has been fixed for the next snowplowing season. Previously the snowplow drivers were not able to fill up their trucks with fuel after 9 p.m. They have now applied for fuel credit cards for the trucks so they can fuel up after hours.

During their inspection of roads the chairman and supervisors noticed a number of road signs that were in need of repair. The purchasing of replacements was approved and they will be placed shortly.

Their last order of business was an update on the clean up of the Wilmer Schmidt property on State Road 28, west. Detweiler stated that she and supervisor Bill Butzlaff inspected the property and "did not see any progress."

Two previous town boards have been asking Schmidt to clean up his property. Progress was thought to have happened, but the supervisors were saddened to learn that that was only a dream and the condition may have worsened.

Schmidt has until July 13th before the board takes matters into their own hands and cleans it and charges Schmidt for the clean up. The supervisors have one more inspection before the July 13th deadline.

S.B to purchase new ovens for KHS, KMS, furniture

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

The Kewaskum School Board has approved spending $17,280 to replace two ovens purchased in 1991. They also approved furniture purchases at Farmington and Wayne Elementary Schools.

Kathy Robinson, Director of Food Services for the district stated in a memo "One of the (KHS) oven doors must be slammed to close and it will pop open while in use." She did indicate that past work was also done on the fan in the top oven.

At KMS, a new spark module and new gas solenoid valve costing $1,027.75 was installed this past year. With that money spent, the bottom oven still is not working.

Robinson stated that the money for the KHS oven was budgeted in the 2004-05 budget. The KMS oven will come from the food service's fund 50 balance.

Kessenich's Ltd was the lowest of the three bids received. That bid includes removal of the existing ovens and delivery/installation of the new ovens.

The new ovens should be in operation for the new school year.

Principal Janet Molebash came before the board and asked to take funds from the surplus in the transportation fund and purchase furniture for WES and FES. Total cost of the items is $11,458.02.

Items at WES include tables and chairs. At FES expenditures will include cafeteria tables, computer lab chairs, a tac/marker board for the gym and large student chairs. The items will be ready for the next school year.

Railroad work to close WIS 33 for one week

The Canadian National Railroad will close WIS 33 completely at the railroad crossing in Allenton starting May 23, announced the Wisconsin Department of Transportation.

WIS 33 has been closed to through traffic since April 18 for a $4.6 million reconstruction project on 2.5 miles of WIS 33 from WIS 175 to US 41. However, local traffic has been maintained until now. "The railroad is updating the crossing and signals, which will require the road to be closed to local traffic for one week," said Traci Gengler, project manager with the WisDOT. "Once the railroad project is completed, WIS 33 will again be open to local traffic."

Traffic will be detoured, using WIS 175 south to County K east to US 41 north to WIS 33. Church Street will remain open to traffic. The detour for WIS 175 uses new WIS 33 east to US 41 south to County K west to WIS 175.

Schoenhaar pleads not guilty to child assault charges

A jury took nearly three hours before finding Jason Van Buren guilty of assaulting his 12 year-old babysitter. The 26 year-old faces up to 67 years in prison. He will be sentenced July 7th.

Patrick Schoenhaar has pleaded not guilty to charges he molested four girls at a day care center in West Bend. The 20 year-old is facing four felony charges of first degree sexual assault of a child. Schoenhaar has a plea hearing set for May 27th before Judge Patrick Faragher.

WB man facing charges of domestic abuse and assault

West Bend Police took a 53 year-old man into custody after he allegedly threatened his estranged wife with a mallet. Police were called to the 400 block of Kilbourn where they say the man allegedly threatened his wife and his kids. He then forced the woman to have sex with him. He's being charged with first degree sexual assault and disorderly conduct.

FdL coach resigns amid investigation

Problems in Fond du Lac as an assistant coach at the high school has resigned after accusations surfaced that she was having physical contact with a 17 year-old student. Police say the 24 year-old woman admitted she had sexual contact with a female student. Charges have been forwarded to the county's DA. Police say the assistant coach is not a teacher in the district.

Sheriff's deputies begin tazer training

Twenty-two Washington County Sheriff's Deputies underwent tazer training Friday, May 20th. The deputies went through a Power Point presentation and then have some hands on training. Four deputies are already qualified to use tazers in the field.

Strachota and Pridemore consider 19 year old drinking bill

Local Assembly Representatives Pat Strachota and Don Pridemore will be considering legislation to lower the drinking age for state military personnel on active duty. The measure would lower the minimum drinking age to 19 for active military personnel. The lower age would allow drinking at an establishment. It would not cover buying beer or liquor in a store. The current minimum drinking age is 21.

WB Mayor suggests purchasing land

There's a $26 million plan in the works to expand the West Bend Municipal Airport. Part of the expansion would destroy about 60 acres of wetlands. Mayor Doug Bade is suggesting the city buy nearly 400 acres along the north branch of the Milwaukee River to help replace those wetlands. The properties have not been identified and the cost has not been determined.

The wetlands would be destroyed to make room for a longer runway and rerouting part of Hwy. 33.

Catholic Church to be raised in FdL

St. Louis Church on North Macy Street in Fond du Lac is being purchased by a commercial retail developer. The congregation was told last week that it would be demolished. St. Patrick's church on East Follett Street is also being sold, however the buyer is interested in preserving the historic character of the property.

Kewaskum man facing charges after fight at St. Joe's

A Kewaskum man is facing charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest after he got into a fight with another man at the emergency room at St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend. Authorities say Curt Lewin allegedly pushed the father of his girlfriend up against the wall. When Police were called, Lewin allegedly took a swing at the officers.

C-sport in Guinness Book

Campbellsport has found their place in the Guinness Book of World Records for having the world's largest bratwurst. Last July, Loehr's Meat Market worked up a brat that measured more than 48 feet in length. The brat, made of 25 pounds of pork, was then placed on a flat-bed semi and with a police escort was paraded to Fireman's Park where it was grilled, measured and served. Joel Fleischman with the Campbellsport Chamber says the big brat helped celebrate the volunteer fire department's 100th Picnic and hopefully the record will bring more notoriety and business to Campbellsport.

25 Years Ago

May 16, 1980

Kewaskum Village President Gerald Stollenwerk proclaimed the week of May 10 through May 16, 1980 as Municipal Clerk's Week in recognition of their outstanding dedication and contributions to the communities they serve. In Kewaskum, this can pertain to only one person, a man who has served as Village Clerk-Treasurer for over 29 years under seven different Village Presidents and that man is William S. Martin.

Kewaskum School Board officers were re-elected, each on a unanimous ballot at Monday evening's meeting. President of the Board of Education remains John Tessar. The Clerk once again is Richard Theusch and Byron Gessner was once again chosen Treasurer.

The Rite of Confirmation will be administered to 18 young members of St. Lucas Congregation this coming Sunday, May 18. The Rev. *Line of credit offers a ten-year "draw period" and a maximum loan amount of $10,000. Monthly interest payments are calculated on the amount of funds borrowed not the full line of credit. MidAmerica's EQUITY CashLine has a variable rate. The Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is based on the Prime Rate published in the Money Rates section of the Wall Street Journal on the last publishing date of each calendar month. As of 05/03/05, Prime was 5.00% and the APR on EQUITY CashLine programs varied between 6.09% to 10.02%. Your rate and corresponding APR may be different than the advertised rate and depend on your loan amount, loan-to-value ratio, property type, occupancy and credit qualifications. Rates are subject to change at any time without notice and may be higher or lower than the current advertised rate. Lifetime Annual Percentage Rate is 25.34%. The minimum Annual Percentage Rate (floor) is 3.55%. An annual fee of $50 is charged after the first year. If the line is closed within the first two years of the loan term, a $250 early closure fee will apply. Payments of interest only or minimum monthly payment will result in a final balloon payment. Appraisal fees apply to properties outside of our lending areas and may apply for properties with two-to-four units. Property title and/or flood insurance, if applicable, are required. Please consult with a tax advisor about the deductibility of interest. The introductory interest rate is 1% below the Prime Rate (currently 5.07% APR) for the first 90 days after the account is opened with an initial draw of $10,000 or more. During the introductory period, there will be no minimum interest rate. If you receive the introductory interest rate, on the 91st day after the account is opened, your rate will be determined as described above.

Mishler has found treasured memories in Wisconsin sports

Todd Mishler, seated, visited the Kewaskum Public Library last Tuesday for a program and book signing. Shown with Mishler are Library Director Steven Baker and Shirl Curreri.

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Even though it is not among the most populated states, Wisconsin has a storied history, both in professional sports and at the other levels, including the collegiate and high school ranks.

Todd Mishler, a Wisconsin-born and Wisconsin-raised author, has touched on all these areas in his first three books, including Cold War, the 40+ years of the Packer-Viking Rivalry, the Greatest Moments in Wisconsin Sports and his latest effort, Baseball in Beertown, which hit book stores in March.

Mishler, who currently lives in Janesville where he does freelance writing, was in Kewaskum last Tuesday, introducing the book, which starts with the Braves and moves along to the Brewers and their history at County Stadium and now Miller Park.

"It's mostly divided by decades," Mishler said, reporting he talked with current baseball Commissioner Bud Selig, and former Brewers Don Money and Cecil Cooper for information.

In addition to the research and personal conversations with those associated with the Brewers, "We got some great pictures from the Brewers," Mishler said, indicating his book contains highlights of each decade, along with statistical information.

There is also an overview to introduce the book, which includes brief reports on an old Negro league in Milwaukee, the Milwaukee Chicks, a women's team that competed in 1944, and the minor league team that played at old Borchardt Field.

"One of my goals was just to tie these two eras together," Mishler said about the Braves and Brewers, indicating he went more in depth on a couple very special Braves, the late Warren Spahn and home run king Henry Aaron.

Along with highlights on players, there are many other interesting tidbits, like the fact the Braves never had a losing record in 13 seasons in Milwaukee. Mishler also traces the attendance trends of the two clubs.

Of course, the 1957 season received a great deal of attention when "Bushville," as Milwaukee was tabbed by members of the New York Yankee team, claimed the World Series title over those same Big Apple hotshots.

Baseball in Beertown is now available in the Kewaskum Library and at major bookstores in southeastern Wisconsin, as well as on the Internet.

Mishler was born in Antigo and raised in Elcho where he played football and baseball and started honing his writing skills.

"I think the real interest started in late grade school or middle school," he said. "It really took off in high school," prompting him to enroll at UW-Oshkosh, where he intended originally to go into journalism, radio broadcasting or even television broadcasting, until he had his first experience before a live camera.

Mishler found his way to the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern where he worked part-time as a student and from 1985 to the end of 2003, he worked for daily newspapers.

Mishler also intended to write a book on the Packer-Bear rivalry, but was beaten to the punch by Milwaukee Journal-Sentinel golf writer, Gary

After giving the idea some thought, he decided the Packer-Viking rivalry had plenty of special games, special player profiles and plenty of interest for a book.

"I ended up talking to eighty five or ninety people," Mishler said. "Fifty five to sixty were former players."

Among the Packers Mishler talked with were Jerry Kramer, Max McGee and Lynn Dickey, and Vikings Bill Brown and Mick Tingelhoff were also interviewed.

The Greatest Moments in Wisconsin Sports is quite interesting in that it spans athletics from high school to Olympic action and professional sports. Accomplishments of Marquette University coaches and athletes, and University of Wisconsin stars like Alan Ameche are included, but some of the real gems in the book are features on people like Archie Hahn, Ron Bontemps and the last living member of Reedsville's state high school basketball championship team.

Hahn was a sprinter from Wisconsin who competed in the Olympics, while Bontemps was one of the stars on the Beloit College team that qualified for the National Invitational Tournament (NIT) and lost to Seton Hall.

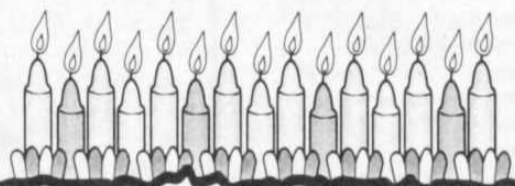

"At that point, the NIT was bigger than the NCAA (Tournament)," Mishler said.

"I really like doing the high school stuff," Mishler said, recalling how the Reedsville player said movie producers could have used his team for the movie Hoosiers because Reedsville had fewer students on the team in Hoosiers.

Any or all of these books would be perfect gifts for the avid sports fan in Wisconsin, maybe the perfect Fathers Day gift.

We have to live with ourselves, so we should be sure we're in good company.

Happy Birthday!

Truck Pull III at Campbellsport picnic

The Campbellsport Area Chamber of Commerce announces the 3rd annual truck pull (Truck Pull III) set for July 4th at the CFD fireman's park after the parade (registration at approx. 1:30pm)-- this year featuring Tom's Quality Millwork and Valley Hydro-Excavation as the major sponsors.

There are many other local sponsors of Truck Pull III. It is being promoted as Wisconsin's number one sporting event on July 4th. Businesses and groups are invited to enter a team in the competition, for fun or for the cash. Teams will attempt to pull Tom's Quality Millwork material on Campbellsport Building Supply's boom truck (approximate weight is 20 tons) a distance of 200'.

Men's Teams are made up of six members (five on the rope and one alternate/cheerleader). Women's teams will consist of 8 members. Entry fee is $100 per team*. All participants will receive a Truck Pull T-Shirt.

The first place men's team will receive $1000 ($750 in cash and $250 to their favorite non-profit organization), second place $250, and third place $100.

The winner of the first ever women's pull will receive $250. The first 15 men's teams and the first 5 women's teams to sign up will compete. All profits from the event will go to upgrading the fireman's park bathrooms and playground equipment.

Visit Culley's Bar and Grill on Main Street in Campbellsport or go to www.campbellsport.org for official rules and information or to register your team. Teams are limited, sign up today.

Due to the record crowds last year more bleachers will be on hand as well as a huge p.a. system to provide entertainment during the pull. A spirit stick award and $100 in cash will be given to the team with the most spirit. Challenge yourself and your friends or just get in it for fun. Just watching is great entertainment too; there is no fee to be in attendance. The large custom trophies are now on display at Culley's in Campbellsport.

The Truck pull is part of the Campbellsport Fire Dept's picnic and parade. No carry-ins will be allowed in the park. Food, beverages, and other entertainment are available at the park. There will be a fireworks display at dusk after the boom pull. For more information on the CFD's 101st picnic and parade go to www.campbellsport.org

To help with this event contact Joel Fleischman at 920-533-4412 or e-mail the event staff at campbellsport@care2.com.

Fish Fry to benefit Kathy's Hospice May 20th

On May 20th, 2005 Thrivent Financial for Lutherans and Synergy Health Foundation will be hosting their 4th Annual Fish Fry Event at the Washington County Fair Park located in Jackson and will be open to the public. This year the recipient will be The Kathy's Hospice, a 501-C3 non-profit organization. The Kathy's Hospice will be an eight-bed residential hospice home in Washington County. Specially trained staff and volunteers will allow for each individual the peace, compassion and dignity they deserve in their final days. Ron Komar's dream for this residential hospice setting will soon become a reality for Washington County and the surrounding areas.

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans and many other community volunteers will be assisting to make this Fish Fry Event just as successful as years past. There are many areas of interest planned for the event.

Some things planned include: a fish fry (chicken tenders will also be served); fishin' pond - kids make a donation of a quarter and fish for a prize; Create-a-Greeting - crafters young and old can create a personal greeting, poem, or artwork that will be one of many delivered to the hospice individuals to let them know the community really does care! Community childcare centers are already in the process of creating their works of art; and a silent auction - all monies raised from the donated items will go directly to the event.

In 2002 the community raised $14,000 for Samaritan Health Center, 2003 raised $7,000 for The Threshold Inc., and in 2004 raised $16,000 for the Albrecht Free Clinic. Funds supplemented by Thrivent Financial For Lutherans made this possible along with the great community support. We are firming up plans to improve the response to this year's Fish Fry Event and enlist your help for this worthwhile cause. Last year our attendance was 1350 and we are anticipating 1500-2000 in attendance this year. That is a lot of people to entertain with the Fishin' Pond, tempting their taste buds with the dinner, and peeking at the goodies in the Silent Auction. Thank you in advance for your consideration. Thousands flock to Shepherd of the Hills' open house

Over two thousand people visited Shepherd of the Hills Parish in Eden on Sunday, May 15. The parish recently had their church dedicated by Archbishop Timothy Dolan. Prior to building the new church, parishioners and Father Kevin Wester had the job of bringing four churches together to form Shepherd of the Hills. "We want all to feel welcome at Shepherd of the Hills. We had a number of new families join the parish. I'm very pleased," said Fr. Kevin. "We had a fantastic turn-out," he concluded. Edith Kreger, above left, is shown giving a tour of the Reconciliation Chapel. Kreger is pointing out the two stained glass windows removed from one of the four churches. Our Lady of Loretto is shown to the left. She is said to be an intercessor for sinners. St. John the Baptist is shown at right. He was chosen for that room to symbolize a call to conversion for sinners. The photo below is a view of attendees taking a break in the Sacred Grounds Coffee House. The coffee house is run by members of the parish's Life Teen program. The paintings on the wall are works by Don Kloetzke and Chic Wagner of the old churches. Shepherd of the Hills is located at W1562 County Road B just outside the village of Eden. The parish also offers an accredited K4-8 grade school.

Kearns, Rinzel selected to attend World Affairs Seminar

Mandy Kearns

Matthew Rinzel

The Kewaskum Lions Club is pleased to announce the selection of Mandy Kearns and Matthew Rinzel to attend the 29th World Affairs Seminar. The seminar will be held at the University of Wisconsin -

Whitewater, June 11-17, 2005. The World Affairs Seminar is a unique opportunity for high school students to be introduced to some of the most perplexing global issues and problems. Up to one-fifth of the seminar participants may be exchange students representing some 50 countries.

Last year's participants, Elizabeth Vogt, David Figge and Ashley Mellenthin, felt that the seminar was a great experience and that meeting people from all over the world and hearing their point of view on global issues was a unique experience.

Mandy is the daughter of Wendy Kearns and Matthew is the son of Joe and Cathy Rinzel.

The Kewaskum Lions hope that this experience will help our students reach peaceful solutions to conflicts now and in the future.

Campus Notes

EAU CLAIRE - The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta initiated 148 new members on April 23, during the annual scholastic Honors Week. New officers were elected from among the initiates: president Phuong Nguyen, Hanoi; vice president Heather Jenkins, Howards Grove; secretary Laura Speltz, Winona, Minn.; treasurer Sarah Bianchet, Duluth, Minn.

To be eligible for membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, a student must be registered for a course of study leading to a bachelor's degree and have earned a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.5.

The purpose of this honorary scholastic fraternity is to encourage and recognize superior scholastic achievement among students in their freshman year at UW-Eau Claire.

Local students include Michael Donath II, West Bend.

Donath was also initiated into Phi Eta Sigma. The fraternity's goals are to encourage and reward high scholastic achievement among freshmen at UW-Eau Claire.

It is not doing the thing we like, but liking the things we have to do that makes us happy.

New online data shows jump in attendance rates

MADISON - New data available through the Wisconsin Information Network for Successful Schools (WINSS) and School Performance Report (SPR) websites show a 94.6% statewide attendance rate, the highest it's been since the Department of Public Instruction started providing an on-line report card.

"Improving school attendance is an important step in boosting student achievement and closing the gap between students of color, economically disadvantaged students and their peers," said State Superintendent Elizabeth Burmaster. "Attending school regularly is vital to academic learning and future careers."

Attendance rates increased across all grades from the previous year, except grade 12 where it was unchanged. Elementary-level students tend to have the best attendance (95.7% for 2003-04). The statewide middle/junior high school attendance rate for 2003-04 was 94.8% and the high school attendance rate was 93.0%. Attendance rates increased across all racial and ethnic groups, with the largest gains for African-American, Hispanic, and Native American students.

"Students who attend school every day have the opportunity to learn from their teachers and fellow students," Burmaster said. "Regular school attendance and engaged learning provides the foundation for academic success that pays lifetime dividends."

Burmaster praised the work of the Alliance for Attendance in Milwaukee for its efforts to improve daily attendance. Through Burmaster's leadership, students, parents, and stakeholders throughout the Milwaukee community formed the Alliance for Attendance last year to develop strategies to reduce truancy. Students are considered truant if they are absent from school without an acceptable excuse for part or all of five or more days on which school is held during a semester. "The work of the Milwaukee Alliance for Attendance is gaining attention," she noted. "Observers from several school districts throughout the state have attended Milwaukee Alliance meetings to understand more about the common vision a community must share and the cooperative efforts must make to improve student attendance."

WINSS/SPR data report a truancy rate that has fluctuated over the past five years, with this year's rate lower than two years ago. Wisconsin's definition of truancy changed in 1998-99 making rates from previous years incomparable. Data also showed an increase in out-of-school suspensions, 6.9% in 2003-04 compared to 6.0% in 1999-00. The percentage of students expelled, 0.2%, best described as unchanged from five years ago. Other truancy, suspension and expulsion data from WINSS/SPR show:

- males and females are reported habitually truant at about the same rate, males are suspended at nearly double the rate of females, and males are expelled from school at triple the rate of females.

- the transitional grades of six and nine show spikes in the number of habitually truant students.

- high school has the highest rate of habitually truant students,

- white students, who comprise 79% of enrollment, make up 35% of reported habitual truants, 46% of out-of-school suspension, and 63% of expulsions.

- students of color, who comprise 21% of enrollment, make up 65% of reported habitual truants, 54% of out-of-school suspensions, and 37% of students who are expelled.

"No one group can solve the problem of poor school attendance truancy or disruptive behavior that results in suspension or expulsion," Burmaster said. "We must continue our efforts to work together to ensure that our schools are safe havens for our students, places where they feel welcome and focused on their own academic learning."

School districts are continuing to provide data for the state's on-line reporting system, which is being upgraded to comply with federal data reporting requirements under the No Child Left Behind law. Data on statewide testing for 2004-05 and dropout and graduation rates for 2003-04, tied to the Individual Student Records System, will be available on-line later this year.

Short height and speeches on behalf of the Democratic party earned President James Polk the nickname "Napoleon of the Stump."

Workshops at UWWC

Saavy consumers should mark their calendars now for two interesting and timely workshops being offered at UW-Washington County. The first workshop, "Let it be Your Choice" is a roadmap to creating Living Wills and Power of Health Care Attorney documents. It is sponsored by the Continuing Education Department at UW-Washington County and brings together health care professionals and an attorney from the area.

Participants will learn the difference between these approaches and how to put them in place. In addition, all of the necessary documentation and paperwork will be included. This workshop, scheduled for Tuesday, May 24 from 6pm to 7:30pm, will help put you and your loved ones at ease regarding what can be a painful decision.

Credit reports are the subject of the second workshop, which will be held on Wednesday, June 1st from 6-7:30p.m. at UW-Washington County. "It's Your Credit" is sponsored by UW-Washington County Continuing Education and Glacier Hills Credit Union. Recent federal law allows consumers to request a free credit report annually through an online service. "It's Your Credit" will answer questions such as:

How do I receive my free report? How do I interpret the report? How do I get my credit score? What does it mean? How do I fix mistakes that might appear in the report? How do I improve my credit rating? How do financial institutions use those reports and scores in determining loan eligibility?

The fee for each of these workshops is $5 each. To register, phone Dan Anhalt at UW-Washington County at 262-335-5218 or email: danhalt@uwc.edu. Participants can also register on the campus website at: http://washington.uwc.edu/community/continuing_ed.html. If space is available, reservations will also be accepted at the door.

He was born on Jan. 18, 1951, in Milwaukee, to Robert and Stella (nee Szocik) Herron.

Michael was employed as a machinist at USBF/Bradley-Woods in Milwaukee.

He married his soul mate and his best friend Donna Herron (nee Schultz) on Feb. 1, 1969, in Milwaukee.

Through Michael's humor, smiles, kind heart, and helping hand, he touched many lives in many ways.

Survivors include his loving wife, Donna of Eden; his dear children, Michael Herron Jr. of Mountain, Michelle (Matt) Chapman of Kewaskum, Danielle (Craig) Vollendorf of Rubicon and Jana Herron of West Bend; seven grandchildren, Amanda Herron, Steven, Brandon, and Ashley Chapman, Skylar and Rhayne Vollendorf, and Alexandria Herron; his loving mother, Stella Herron; two sisters, Cindy Herron and Robin (Dan) Walvoort; two brothers, Tom (Chris) Herron and Tim (Claire) Herron. He is further survived by many nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

Preceding him in death was his father, Robert Herron.

A celebration of Mike's life was held Tuesday, May 17, at the Amerahn, Highway 45, Kewaskum, from 2 until 6 pm.

In lieu of flowers, memorials to the family would be greatly appreciated.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of ELMER STANGE, who passed away five years ago, May 17, 2000:

God looked down on earth,
saw a tired gardener and lifted him up to rest.
Loving memories never die.
As years roll on, and days pass by.
Deep in our hearts a memory is kept.
Of one we loved and will never forget.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of LEONARD SARNOWSKI, who passed away five years ago, May 20, 2000:

We do not need a special day
To bring you to our minds.
The day we do not think of
you
Is impossible to find.
So many things to share with
you,
Never been left to say.
Some say time heals all sorrows,
but this we know is not true.
Because five years have passed,
And our hearts still ache for
you.

Forever loved and missed by your family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of LESTER EHNERT, who passed away eight years ago, May 14, 1987 and ESTHER EHNERT, two years ago, May 24, 2003:

Though their smiles are gone forever
And their hands we cannot touch
We have so many memories
Of the ones we loved so much.
Their memories are our keepsake
With which we never part.
God has them in his keeping
We have them in our hearts.

Haunted

by Chuck Palahniuk

Reading a Chuck Palahniuk novel is like eavesdropping at a cocktail party. You get snippets of thoughts, sometimes 15 different ideas, and your mind runs rampant because you're not really sure to which conversation to listen closest. Then, when you catch a voice that's saying something shocking and scandalous, you almost want to follow its owner around so you hear the rest of the story.

"Haunted" is definitely not you're your mother's murder mystery. Be aware that there is not one thing "PC" in this book, and parts may make you squirm. Some chapters ooze with creepiness, some will make you laugh, and some will definitely make you say "eeeeuuuuuuwww". Also be aware, if you've never read a Palahniuk novel, that nothing makes sense until you let the ending sink into your brain. Once you "get it", though, you'll be astounded at the plot of the entire book and how it pulled you in and didn't let you loose.

Palahniuk fans are not going to be disappointed with this book and new readers will become fans by the end of the first chapter. Pick up a copy of "Haunted" and let your imagination go.

hero in the screenplay. Each will do whatever it takes to be sure that royalties will be split among as few survivors as possible. Each of the eighteen has a story to tell, an entertaining tale, explaining why anyone would want to disappear for three months. As the food runs out and the ghosts descend on their imaginations, they begin to do whatever it takes to survive.

If you've been watching TV or gone shopping lately, you know that the blockbuster movie this year probably will be the next Star Wars installment. I often wonder what kind of imagination it took to come up with stories like those.

So what kind of story would you tell, if you could? In "Haunted" by Chuck Palahniuk (c.2005, Doubleday), a group of strangers is forced together to create a masterpiece of horror and reality.

The ads were seen about town for about a week, tacked on bulletin boards, in coffee houses, and stuck in windows. "Writers Retreat", the ads said. "Abandon Your Life For Three Months. Just disappear." Eighteen people decide that three months is the perfect length of time to vanish. Three months is just long enough to run from the things they're fleeing.

They call one another by pseudonyms, and there's mistrust among them from the moment they're picked up by bus, taken to a long-abandoned theatre, and locked in, shut off from the rest of the world. Old Mr. Whittier, the wheelchair-bound director of the retreat assures everyone that there's food and water to last the duration; he and Mrs. Clark, his assistant, have seen to that. Everyone has come to work, he says. Oh, and there's a key, but only Whittier knows its whereabouts.

Eighteen people, strangers, all there to create a blockbuster film or a best-selling novel or Movie-of-the-Week. Each one wants to be the

The important thing to recognize is that it takes a team, and the team ought to get credit for the wins and the losses. Successes have many fathers, failures have none.

New owners hold grand opening this weekend Home-made cuisine continues at century old Campbellsport Inn

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

CAMPBELLSPORT- After spending the last few months working the kinks out and perfecting their endeavor, The Campbellsport Inn (formerly The Amber), The Rimmel family is ready to showcase their "Inn" to the entire Kettle Moraine as they hold their grand opening celebration this weekend.

When Scott Rimmel received word that his employers were transferring the Milwaukee based business to Pennsylvania, he decided not to relocate to another area.

It was then that Scott and his wife, Beth looked into purchasing their own restaurant. The Rimmels had over 20 years of experience in the restaurant business. Scott worked as a business manager for a food ingredients company, and he was a bartender for a number of years. Beth also worked in the food service industry, and she is the owner of a childcare business for 16 years.

In March 2005, the Rimmels became the new owners of the Campbellsport Inn. The Rimmels teamed up with Scott's mother, Jean, to buy the historic building from Lois and Dale Zingsheim.

Jean who has owned two restaurants in 30 years in the Grafton and Cedarburg area spoke highly of the location.

"We were looking for something nice looking, a real comfortable place," Jean said about the Campbellsport Inn. "The supper club's atmosphere caught our eye."

The Campbellsport Inn is a historical building that was once a hotel in the late 1880s. The Rimmels plan on having a grand opening in April. The restaurant features a full-service bar. Scott said the bar will offer an assortment of beers, 20 different wine varieties, mixed drinks and cocktails.

"We are putting together a wine cellar," Scott said. The Rimmels are working on the wine list so they can sell wine by the bottle for wine connoisseurs.

In the spring, customers will have the opportunity to try the food and wine tasting at the restaurant. Scott said they are working on finding a wine purveyor for the wine tasting.

As for the food menu items, Scott said dinners will see some positive changes. The Rimmels are adding pasta, steak, and vegetarian entrees to the menu. On Sundays, the restaurant will have family home-style dinners, such as pot roast. During certain days of the week, the restaurant will offer ethnic cuisines, such as Italian foods. The average meal price for lunch is $5 to $8, and the ticket cost for dinner is $8 to $14 per person.

The restaurant seats 80 people and it is an ideal spot for a small wedding party. The Campbellsport Inn has private rooms that accommodate 20-25 people and larger dining rooms for 50 to 60 people.

The grand opening will kick off Friday, May 20 with live music by Wayne and Deb Kannenburg. Wayne and Deb are an awesome duo from New Prospect.

Saturday night will be comedy night. A show, by reservation only will begin at 9:30 p.m..

Sunday will be family day with another Kettle Moraine favorite, Joey Minz. Minz will play from 1-5 p.m.

The icing on the cake for this celebration are a number of giveaways and dinner and drink special

The Campbellsport Inn is located on 139 W. Main St. For more information, call 920-533-8816.

Sixth Stocking of Lake Sturgeon Occurs in Milwaukee River

MILWAUKEE - On Wednesday, May 11, fisheries crews from the Department of Natural Resources stocked 99 yearling lake sturgeon into the Milwaukee River in Grafton. The stocking of the eight-to-nine inch fish occurred around 11:30 a.m. in Lime Kiln Park.

The stocking is further testimony of the resurrection of a river not long ago given up for dead, and for Wisconsin's lake sturgeon management program, which is 102 years old this year. Having protected and nurtured in Lake Winnebago what is now the world's largest lake sturgeon population, the program is focusing on restoring lake sturgeon in other parts of its original range in Wisconsin.

"This represents the continued stocking in a Lake Michigan tributary and is an important step in a multi-agency effort to help restore lake sturgeon to Lake Michigan," says Brad Eggold, DNR's Southern Lake Michigan fisheries team supervisor.

"It also signifies to a great extent the work that's been done in the Milwaukee River watershed to clean up pollution and to remove dams that blocked the fish's passage, most importantly the removal of the North Avenue Dam in 1997. That progress makes the return of sturgeon possible after more than 100 years."

The project is funded in part by a grant from the National Marine Fisheries Service and a contribution from the Milwaukee River Revitalization Council. Future lake sturgeon rehabilitation efforts in Lake Michigan will be guided by a lake-wide plan being developed by a task group of the Lake Michigan Committee.

That committee establishes broad fish community objectives for Lake Michigan and coordinates management activities of mutual interest among representatives from the Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois Departments of Natural Resources and the Chippewa-Ottawa Resource Authority.

Lake sturgeon can grow to 200 pounds and live 100 years. Female sturgeon don't start spawning until they are 20 to 25 years old, and males start at 10 years or so, so most of those working on the project will be retired if and when the fish start their spawning runs.

The yearling lake sturgeon being stocked in the Milwaukee River and a companion stocking set for the same week in the Manitowoc River, are being stocked at a larger size to greatly increase their chance of survival. These fish are from the same year-class of sturgeon that were stocked as fingerlings in the Milwaukee River in late 2004 and are over eight inches long and weigh one-tenth of a pound.

Getting to adulthood will be a challenge. DNR surveys of the river reveal good habitat for yearling fish, overwintering and spawning, but the lake sturgeon must first survive these initial months, and then subsequent years of eluding predators and finding sufficient food.

Even then, as the survivors begin their spawning runs, they'll still encounter some obstacles: namely, remaining dams on the Milwaukee River. Eggold hopes DNR can work with dam owners in coming years so they operate the dams or remove or change the structures to allow the fish to migrate.

But Eggold marvels at the possibility of returning an ancient fish species to a river that just 30 years ago was highly polluted and home only to carp and a handful of other hardy fish species.

The Department of Natural Resources requires all wastewater discharge to meet pollution limits. This rule and the investments made by these public and private dischargers, have greatly reduced pollution in the river from industry and municipal wastewater treatment plants.

State and local efforts to reduce polluted runoff from farms and urban areas also have helped. Finally, in 1997 the City of Milwaukee, DNR and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency spent $4.5 million to remove the 17-foot high, 350 foot wide North Avenue Dam and to reclaim habitat and improve conditions along the river. The removal of the structure, which was about three miles upstream of the Milwaukee River confluence with Lake Michigan, marked the first time since 1835 that that stretch of the river flowed freely.

Today, 30 species of fish have been documented in the Milwaukee River, including the Greater redhorse, a state threatened species, and under suitable flow conditions, trout and salmon have migrated about 30-miles upstream to the Village of Grafton and Cedarburg on Cedar Creek.

2005 Gateway Gobblers turkey hunt held

The Gateway Gobblers, Kewaskum Chapter of NWTF, held their 3rd Annual Youth Turkey Hunt on April 9th and 10th, 2005. A total of 17 youths and first hunters took part in this year's hunt. The participants hunted from about 6:00am to 10:00am on the 9th and 10th. Of the 17 hunters nine harvested their first wild turkey. All of the youth hunters were assigned with a mentor who scouted hunting areas and then called for the youth on the hunt days. The hunt took place on private property in Fond du lac, Sheboygan and Washington Co. The Gateway Gobblers would like to thank local businesses that made donations to the program: Loehr's Meats, Jim's Ceramic Tile, Jim Schaub Construction, Creative Builders and the New Fane Sportsman's Club. A thank-you also goes out to the private property owners who opened up their property to this year's youth hunters. A 2006 Youth Hunt is being planned.

Think before you burn

The cottonville fire easily jumped roads and consumed just about everything that was in its path.

Hello Friends,

I was planting raspberries with my 4-year-old daughter Selina when I noticed smoke from what I found out later was the Cottonville Fire in northern Adams County.

Within minutes I heard the 1,000 horse power Dromader fire fighting aircraft piloted by Scott Thomas start its engines at the DNR ranger station in Necedah.

Scott flew directly over Selina and me with a 550-gallon load of Silv-ex, ready to make his first dump on the fast-spreading fire.

I compiled this story over the next five days as I spoke with Thomas, Fire Incident Commander Steve Courtney and property owners in the worst disaster I have ever written about.

Days after the fire was extinguished, but not declared out, I tracked the Cottonville fire which consumed 3,410 acres of jack pine, red pine and oak forest.

Thirteen permanent homes were destroyed, 17 seasonal homes, 60 miscellaneous buildings, thousands of acres of forest land and countless numbers of wildlife and pets.

How did the fire start? I personally observed the situation days later when I met Brian Schmidt, who has a seasonal home about 50 yards from where the fire started. Brian met his new neighbor when he was up for the second turkey season. Brian had nothing but good to say about the southeast Wisconsin man who had just purchased his property and soon planned on moving a camper to it.

The camper came the same week as the fire. I could put myself in the man's shoes as he enjoyed his new property and thought about all the pleasant experiences that would come in the future.

Unfortunately, those pleasant experiences were permanently extinguished when he lit a fire around a fire pit early on a hot, dry, windy afternoon to make the fire pit area safer. The surrounding area is made up of young jack pines, and the ground cover at the time was last year's dried out grass.

With no running water, starting a fire before the 6 p.m. time set by state law during the fire season was a recipe for disaster. With a strong south wind, the fire burned under but did not consume the camper and began a northward trek.

Some time after that, Scott got the message. While talking on the radio with ground crews, he dropped his load of Silv-ex between the fire and a large crew of bulldozers that were clearing a break line. The Silv-ex and bulldozers actually did the job, but because of the extremely dry conditions, the fire created its own weather system. That system included winds and changed from a northerly direction to northeasterly and literally went around the line.

Because the extreme heat pre-heated the jack and red pines, the fire burned so hot that the smoke plume quickly reached 10,000 feet. The plume sent burning branches into the air that ignited spot fires a quarter mile away.

After speaking with Scott, who wanted me to make sure that all of the hundreds of people who fought this fire received credit for their hard work, I heard stories from him of personally saving houses with the fire retardant he was dropping and watching the houses he could not save burn.

I also observed that the houses that had dense forest close to them were the ones that were most difficult to save.

Brian expressed fear that people would think he started the fire as his land is so close to his neighbor who did start the fire. He was very concerned about future repercussions.

Everything about the Cottonville Fire is bad news for the people of Big Flats. In most cases, homeowner's insurance, unless previously stated, will not cover the lost forest land. Several property owners did not even have their structures insured.

The pine forests that cover central Wisconsin are a prime environment for this type of disaster. Anyone living in these forests, including myself, has to view the Cottonville Fire as a learning experience. Always remember to have a burning permit and to follow the rules on it, as well as the rule of common sense.

Pray for the victims!

KHS tennis players come up with big effort at Fox Valley

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Kewaskum High boys tennis team had one more first place than Green Bay East, but that still wasn't enough for the Indians to win the title in Saturday's four-team Fox Valley Lutheran tournament held in Appleton.

Green Bay East, behind wins by its top three singles places and places from everyone else except No. 2 doubles, wound up with 17.5 points. Kewaskum, which swept the doubles competitions and got a title from Dan Parker at No. 4 singles, piled up 17 points. The host Fox Valley team was next with 11, then came Chilton with 6.

"The No. 2 doubles are playing their best tennis of the year," KHS Coach Dan Ross said about John Carpenter and David Figge. "They dominated the competition."

Carpenter and Figge erased the pair from Fox Valley Lutheran in the first round by scores of 6-2, 6-1 and they didn't have much trouble disposing of Patrick Meyer and Justin Munsch in the finals. The score in that match was 6-1, 6-4.

Ross said his No. 1 doubles team, comprised of Josh Bryant and Abe Foerster, "struggled in their first match but won and beat a very good Green Bay East team for the championship."

In the first round, the KHS pair outlasted Chilton's Bill Stroobants and Reid Wetstein 6-4, 6-7 (5-7), 10-6, then lost to East's twosome — no names were available — 5-7 in the first set before coming alive and winning the second set 6-4 before winning a 10-8 match tiebreaker for the third set.

Adam Ziebell and Craig Johann didn't have much trouble getting to the finals, winning 6-2, 6-1 over Green Bay East. In the finals, they posted a 7-6 (7-3), 6-1 victory over Trent Paffenroth and Anthony Zunker from Fox Valley to claim the No. 3 doubles crown.

Ross has been pleased with the toughness shown by Parker in recent matches, and Saturday was no exception. He coasted to a 6-1, 6-2 win over Fox Valley's Karl Krueger in the opening match, then showed some of that determination to finish first.

Against the Green Bay entry, Parker easily won the first set 6-1, but in a complete turnaround lost the second 2-6, before regrouping and winning the tiebreaker 10-5.

Mitch Paulus has drawn tough competition all season and did again Saturday but was able to score a point for getting third place by defeating Tung Nguyen of Fox Valley Lutheran 2-6, 6-1 and 10-5 in the consolation round.

The Indians will be involved in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Tournament this Friday and Saturday at the Sports Core in Kohler. Plymouth is serving as host team for the event.

Kewaskum will compete in a Division 2 sub-sectional at the Pleasant Valley Tennis Club in Jackson on Monday, starting at 9:30 a.m.

Hon-E-Kor Bestball kicks off competitive golf season

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The 21st Hon-E-Kor Bestball will take place this Saturday and Sunday at Hon-E-Kor Country Club with a field of between 35 and 40 teams competing for the four titles.

Craig Anderson and Bruce Henning are the defending champions in the Championship Flight, but as of Monday Anderson was still working on who he would have as a partner since Henning is not available to play with him this weekend.

Anderson, the coach of the West Bend West High boys golf team, won the title in 2003 and '04. Going back a couple more years, he held the title four of the last five years.

There were 11 teams listed in the Championship Flight, including top challengers, Joe Doherty and Dan Ley.

A pair of Jims, Jim Rohlinger and Jim "Jonesy" Korth, could be listed as contenders along with the father-son team of Tom and Preston Dembowiak, who play out of West Bend Country Club.

The tournament includes 18 holes of play on Saturday and 18 on Sunday. It is divided into four flights based on the total handicaps of the two players.

One player who will definitely be thought about this weekend during the event is the late Kevin Youngberg, who succumbed to cancer the past winter after a valiant battle against the dreaded disease. Youngberg, a long-time member at Hon-E-Kor, had a passion for the game of golf and enjoyed competing in the tournaments at the club.

Applications to sponsor deer hunt for disabled due June 1

MADISON -- Landowners interested in sponsoring a gun deer hunt for hunters with disabilities have until June 1, 2005 to enroll their property in the Deer Hunts for Persons with Disabilities program. This year's hunt will take place Oct. 1 through 9. Sponsor applications are available at all DNR service centers, or on the Internet at <http://dnr.wi.gov/org/land/wildlife/hunt/deer/disap.htm>.

The Deer Hunts for Persons with Disabilities program was established in 1990 to offer people with physical or visual disabilities an opportunity to hunt deer when temperatures are mild and mobility outdoors is less of a problem. Gun deer hunts for people with disabilities are usually conducted on private lands. Sponsor and hunter participation has steadily increased since the program's inception. According to Brad Koele, DNR assistant deer ecologist, in 2004 approximately 70 sponsors enrolled more than 30,000 acres of land for the hunt.

"With the continued support and generosity of sponsors and landowners, we hope to make more land available to disabled hunters in 2005," Koele said.

Hunters with Class A or C disabled hunting permits who are interested in participating in this hunt may request a list of 2005 hunts including location and the name of the hunt sponsor from a DNR service center after July 1. Since sponsors must provide the DNR with a list of hunters including the hunter's disabled permit number by Sept. 1, hunters are encouraged to make their arrangements as soon as possible. Disabled hunters have until Sept. 1 to contact sponsors for the Oct. 1 - 9 hunt.

Hunters must have a Class A or C disabled permit and a regular gun deer license to participate. The bag limit is one deer of either sex plus additional antlerless deer per permit. If bonus antlerless deer permits are available in the unit where the hunt is located, they may be used to bag additional antlerless deer. Hunters will also be allowed to fill their free Zone T antlerless permits (received with the purchase of their deer-related license) in 2005 Zone T units during this time period.

Softball team comes up short in pair of games

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Never in all his dreams did Jeff Gosse think his Kewaskum High girls fast-pitch softball team would have just one win at this point in the season, but that's exactly what the Indians have on their record after losing back-to-back 9-1 and 14-6 decisions to Oostburg and Campbellsport last week.

With the two losses — the one to Campbellsport was an Eastern Wisconsin Conference game — the Indians fell to 1-9 in the EWC and 1-17 overall.

Against Campbellsport, the Indians hit the ball hard against ace Kristen Muench, but most of the line drivers were caught.

"We were up 4-0," Gosse said, reporting his team got off to a big start in the first inning when Rachel Breese singled, Tiffany Hedlund walked, Amy Holm got hit by a pitch, then one run was plated when Bekki Heberer's grounder was muffed by the CHS first baseman.

Up next, Tiffany Trott hit a long fly ball that was dropped, and the bases were cleared. "You could go either way on it (Trott's hit). I called it an error because the fielder touched the ball," Gosse said.

"We had lots of other base runners," Gosse went on, but base hits were scarce. Other than Breese's single, the only other KHS hit was a single by Courtney Uttech in the top of the sixth.

Breese took the loss, giving up 10 hits.

"The bottom of their order hit very well," Gosse said. "The first game we played against them, it was the top of the order, but this time Rachel did a nice job. She took the bat right out of their hands... but we had dropped fly balls and infielders going to the wrong places" (which erased the Indians' early lead). It's very frustrating, especially at this point in the season.

Sarah Glass was a tough out for Breese. "She (Glass) went 3x3. She just crushed the ball... she had a double and a home run, a grand slam actually," the KHS coach said.

* The Lady Indians only got one hit off Schouten in Monday's final non-conference game. She walked five and struck out six.

The lone hit was a single by Heberer, and it came after Marissa Dehler had scored the Indians' only run in the third inning, drawing a walk, stealing second and third and then coming home on a passed ball.

Breese started for Kewaskum but only went one inning, according to Gosse, who said when it started to rain he took her out.

"She walked the first four," Gosse said, noting April Lettow came in and did pretty well, except for giving up 10 walks. Lettow also had four strikeouts.

"I think they only had four hits (off Breese and Lettow)," Gosse said.

The Flying Dutchmen scored two runs in the first inning, one in the third and four more in the fourth.

"We played a lot of young kids. We played a lot of JVs," Gosse said. "We had fun."

Kewaskum was scheduled to play at Sheboygan Falls on Thursday, but that game was postponed because of rain. "We want to make it up," Gosse said. No date has been set for that game, but the Indians will play a makeup double header against Kiel on Friday and open WIAA Division 2 tournament play at Kiel on Thursday at 4:30 p.m.

A's bats go cold after first inning, fall to Hustisford

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

It was kind of a transition week for the Kewaskum Athletics home talent baseball team.

The high school players have moved on to begin practice for their season (which will begin for the Kewaskum High team on Saturday at the annual Germantown Tournament), and now the college players are starting to move back home and start playing.

With the personnel changes, the A's were a little bit out of sync Sunday, resulting in an 8-1 loss to Hustisford in a Rock River League game played at Kiwanis Park.

The hosts scored their lone run in the bottom of the first inning, according to player/manager Jason Strobel, who said, "Jake Spaeth led off with a triple and Cory Immel followed with a double."

The A's were stymied after that, failing to score any more runs and only coming up with six hits the rest of the way.

When asked if his team left runners stranded in scoring position, Strobel answered, "A couple of times, yeah," including that first inning when there were runners at second and third with no outs.

After Immel's RBI hit, Strobel struck out, Adam Sarauer hit a grounder to the pitcher, and Brendan Banten struck out. End of a possible big scoring threat.

Andy Steffen got the win for Hustisford, scattering eight hits, while striking out six and walking only two.

Steve Ketter and Cory Immel both had two hits for Kewaskum, which fell to 1-2 in the RR and 2-3 overall.

"We struggled a little bit hitting," Strobel said, reporting Jim Zeigler started for the A's and went five innings, giving up eight hits and issuing two free passes to first base.

Four of the runs off Zeigler were unearned, according to Strobel, who said he called on Kenny Immel to finish up the last four innings. Immel gave up four runs, and two of them were unearned.

Still, Hustisford was hitting well, evidenced by the fact it had a dozen hits.

Concerning the defense, Strobel admitted it was a bit shaky. "We had a lot of errors. We had six of them," he said.

Strobel had hoped Ty Schill of Campbellsport would be joining the team soon, but Schill, a talented shortstop, and his Madison Area Technical College (MATC) team are on their way to play in the second level of the junior college tournament. Should MATC win a tournament it will host this weekend, the team will qualify for the junior college World Series.

The A's were scheduled to play at Hartford on Saturday, but that game was cancelled. Kewaskum played in a Tri-County Nite league game Wednesday (May 18) in Juneau, and on Sunday they travel to Hartford.

KHS golfers stay firmly in 2nd place behind Plymouth

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

With two Eastern Wisconsin Conference meets remaining, the Plymouth High golf team is in the driver's seat to add another title to its long list of accomplishments in the sport.

The Panthers won their fifth straight EWC meet last Monday on the back nine at the Badger Creek Golf Course near New Holstein, and this win was the most convincing of all... by 13 strokes.

Two days later, the Panthers eked out a 1-shot victory, No. 6 in a row, over Kewaskum and Campbellsport in a match hosted by Two Rivers at the National Course in the Fox Hills complex.

The only team still with a shot at the EWC crown — and it would be a long shot at this point — is Kewaskum, which finished second at 169 at Badger Creek.

The two scores were pretty impressive, considering the windy and rainy conditions the players were facing.

Plymouth's Tom Schwister captured the medal with a

1-over-par 37. The Panthers' Dave Serketchich and Luke Koch of Kewaskum were tied for second with 39s.

KHS also received a pair of solid 41s from Jason Jahnke and Josh Riebe, but Chad Piwoni and Casey Scheel both struggled, finishing with 48s for the final Indian score.

"We had not scored well previously at the New Holstein venue," KHS Coach Glenn Eichstedt said. "Therefore we headed into Monday's match with a little trepidation and much uncertainty about the course and playing conditions.

Eichstedt was pleased with the end result. "Collectively we pulled together to finish in second place once again.

* On the National Course, the Indians won second place over Campbellsport because its fifth score, a 46 by Andy McDonald, was better than the 51 by Drew Lichtensteiger.

High winds challenged the golfers, thus no one broke 40 on this day. Austin Luckow of Campbellsport captured the medal with a 4-over par 40 on the front nine.

"Juniors Jason Jahnke and Chad Piwoni both aided their status in the conference by recording the third and fourth lowest scores," Eichstedt said about their respective totals of 42 and 43. The other KHS counters were Luke Koch with a 44 and Josh Riebe at 46.

The Indians JVs (184) came away as winners, on the strength of a 43 by Eric Cain, who claimed the medal with that score. Casey Scheel was a shot back at 44.

The Indians are at Quit Qui Oc on Wednesday, then competed in the EWC Tournament on Saturday on the same course.

EWC Meet at New Holstein: 1. Plymouth 156, 2. Kewaskum 169; 3. New Holstein 171; 4. Kiel 175, 5. Two Rivers 177, 6. Campbellsport 182, 7. Roncalli 184, 8. Sheboygan Falls 192.

EWC Meet at Two Rivers: 1. Plymouth 174, 2. Kewaskum 175, 3. Campbellsport 175, 4. Two Rivers 184, 5. Roncalli 187, 6. Kiel 189, 7. New Holstein 194, 8. Sheboygan Falls 195.

Current standings: 1. Plymouth 6 points, 2. Kewaskum 13, 3. Two Rivers 27, 4. (tie) Kiel 28 and Roncalli 28, 6. New Holstein 33, 7. Campbellsport 34, 8. Sheboygan Falls 47.

There's not much quantity but plenty of quality on this year's Kewaskum High girls track team. Among the 16 girls out for the team, which won the Alzheimer Invitational at Pewaukee and placed fourth in the rugged VanderPan Invitational are: Row 1 (left to right) — Kristina Steidt, Liz Potter, Kelly Uelmen, Alyssa Jung, Catrina Tarr; Row 2 — Claire Spang, Lindsay Keller, Katie Patterson, Jessi Butler, Amanda Donath; Row 3 — Erika Brock, Sam Droese, Nicole Stern, Casey Anderson, Crystal Treptow, Catherine Stoffel.

When does two and four add up to one? When a plaque for the overall winner is awarded in a coed high school track meet.

It happened recently in the 35th annual Vanderpan Invitational at Sheboygan Falls, and Kewaskum High girls and boys track coach Jerry Gosa was proud to accept the plaque, signifying the Indians had the highest point total.

Kewaskum wound up with 236 points to beat Plymouth's 228.5.

The Indian boys finished second overall, scoring 137 points, with only Eastern Wisconsin Conference foe Plymouth ahead of them with 156.5. Third with 118 was Oostburg.

The girls scored 99 points to wind up fourth behind Howards Grover (130), Sheboygan North (127) and Sheboygan Falls (118).

Kewaskum's boys posted six first places, and it was the usual standouts contributing the winning efforts, led by Nick Bartley, Eric Nass and Garrett Donath.

Bartley set a KHS record in the 800 meter run, completing the two circuits in 2 minutes and .6 seconds (2:00.6), breaking his old mark of 2:001.5.

The talented junior was also part of the victorious 4x400 relay, along with Zach VanWormer, Nass and Donath. They were red hot, winning with a time of 3:27.1, which is another Kewaskum record. They ran a 3:27.6 at the Washington County Outdoor Meet.

"The 4x400 relay is on a mission. They really go after it," Gosa said. Both our Nos. three and four runners (Van Wormer and Nass) are out there running with everyone chasing them."

Nass had a good day in the triple jump, flying 41 feet, 10 inches (41-10). He might have gone farther, but after a one-hour delay for rain and lightning, the long jump and triple jump finals were cancelled because of the fear some of the athletes might get injured.

Donath was involved in two wins, the relay and the pole vault where he cleared 12-0, and that effort came on a wet runway, making the conditions very difficult.

Once again, the high jump was a good event for the Indians, who picked up 18 points on the 1-2 effort by Luke Herriges and Adam Schlosser. Herriges' winning effort was 6-0, while Schlosser had to settle for 5-10 in quite difficult conditions.

Last season, the Indians had trouble scoring points in the weight events, but Ross Stockhausen has turned that trend around, and he won the shot with a toss of 44-4.5.

Nass and Plymouth's Adams put on quite a show in the 400. Adams edged out Nass, 50.15 to 50.53, and while he would understandably like to have won the race, Nass' time was another school record.

Since returning to action, junior Scott Rhoads has been a solid contributor. He scored points in three events, including a third in the 110 high hurdles (17.53), fifth in the 300 hurdles (45.39) and a sixth in the pole vault (11-0).

Gosa said there were two other highlights, including the eighth place in the 400 (55.6) by freshman Dan Dymond, giving the Indians three places in the event, including the second by Nass and a third by VanWormer with a season-best time of 52.0.

This was the first time Dymond competed in a varsity event.

The other highlight was Bob Gibson's fourth-place effort in the 3,200, with his season-best time of 10:24.

"Talk about a happy kid. You should have seen Bob Gibson after running the 3,200 ... big drop in a time of 18 seconds," Gosa said.

Other fourth places came in the following: long jump — Nass, 18-8.5; 1,600 — Gibson, 4:45.63; discus — Logan Staeger, 125-5; 800 — Holm, 2:03.46, a personal best; and the 200 — Donath, 23.83.

Kewaskum won two relays, the pole vault and the 400 where Amanda Donath continues to blister the track. Her time of 58.2 was a meet record, a KHS record, and it gets her closer to the best time in the state, which is currently held by a girl from Whitefish Bay Dominican.

Donath also placed second in the 200 with a time of 26.97 and helped the 4x200 relay to a win in 1:50.2. The other three runners are Lindsay Keller, Katie Patterson and Jessi Butler, who all contributed in other events.

Patterson won the pole vault (9-0) and was on the winning 4x100 relay, along with Butler, Keller and Kelly Uelmen, who were clocked in 51.8, their fastest time of the season.

Sam Droese went 5-2 for the second time in a row, to claim second in the high jump. Her effort in this meet and in a recent quad meet equaled the school record held by Jill Yearling (1979), Pam Osterbrink (1989) and Jolene Clark (2002).

"Sam also picked up big points by finishing third in the 400 (64.9)," Gosa said, reporting the junior athlete anchored the 4x400 relay to a third place finish (4:27.16).

KHS also got a second in the pole vault from Crystal Treptow (8-6) and a fourth from Erika Brock in the shot put (33-0).

Gosa was also happy with the double placing by freshman Liz Potter in the hurdle races. She was sixth in the 300s (53.2) and seventh in the 100s (18.5).

The Indians will be at a WIAA Division 2 regional meet at Grafton on Monday.
