Huge retail complex proposed for Kewaskum's south side

By Andrew Kuehl & Lana Kuehl
 akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

It appears area residents will finally get the retail growth they desired to make the community thrive very soon. The village's plan commission heard a proposal for a $30 million dollar commercial complex to be developed within the Tax Incremental District (TID) on the village's south side.

Rick Kozak, president of development and operations of the Sacramento, California based, United Construction Group addressed, in detail, their plans for Village Lake Center. That commercial complex could include national names like Walgreens, Jiffy Lube, Starbucks and 16 Plus.

Local developer Gary Gavin expressed his excitement for the project and the fact that things are coming together so early into the project. Gavin also shared his approval of the developers, and their desire to become a part of the community and fully cooperate with village officials.

Access to the development will come from USH 45, which is now the driveway to DACO. That road will be named Trading Post Drive and DACO will have their entrance off of it. Trading Post Drive will then lead into Village Lake Center. Two access points off Prospect Drive will be on each end of the complex as well as various internal roads.

The shopping center, which is set to house 60-80 tenants, is going to be centrally located in the development. Professional office suites on the west side will have the capacity to include 120 tenants featuring doctors, therapists, dentists, accountants, lawyers and chiropractors.

Also proposed on the south side of the complex is a 60-120-unit hotel and restaurant. Restaurants to be featured throughout the complex include a family pizzeria and a country western theme restaurant. An auto care facility featuring a car wash and oil change center will be on the north east side of the complex. Other possible retail units may include a sporting goods store, and dry cleaner.

"We took a look at Kewaskum and didn't want to bring in a typical shopping center with flat roofs. We kind of gave it a village effect," stated Kozak. "I want to keep as much green as we can. My boss loves grass and trees. His concept is to make it look nice. He doesn't want a typical shopping center. I've committed our architects to a minimum of 1,000 trees for this project," Kozak said.

United Construction Group along with Bullseye Construction Company has already opened an office in the village on Prospect Drive. They will be building a new office adjacent to Village Lake Center in the near future. Another plus to the complex is they will be doing all the managing and maintenance of Village Lake Center. This is the first time United Construction Group is managing one of the facilities they have built. Kozak stated they are committed to this because they have been disappointed with the results of developing, selling, and then coming back to a project to see it has deteriorated.

The one phase project will be built within three years. They will start with the shopping center in the middle and work their way out to the other buildings. Kozak stated Wednesday morning that his company already has people marketing the property to 2,500 to 3,500 prospective nationally known companies. He also stated he would like to see many local businesses move into the development as well.

Kozak stated his company has projected Kewaskum's population in 2010 to be between 8,000 - 10,000 people. He also thought Kewaskum would see a lot of their neighbors such as West Bend coming into the village for their shopping.

Gavin stated that the Kettle Moraine area is what drew United Construction Group to Kewaskum. He said the surrounding businesses like the ski hill, golf course and State Forest are things Kewaskum has had forever and people will continue to enjoy.

Village of Kewaskum gets ready to borrow $5 million for TID

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

The Kewaskum Village Board continues to move forward with a new industrial/commercial district on the village's southern limits. At a recent meeting, the board approved the issuance of $5,025,000 in bond anticipation notes and awarded two contracts for work in the new district.

Paul Thompson, the village's financial consultant, addressed the board about the issuance of the notes. He explained that a bond anticipation note is a note stating the village is anticipating borrowing $5,025,000 in a long-term bond that eventually will be issued. The village's bond anticipation note has a two-year maturity and a rate of four percent interest.

"This is used to allow the taxable investment to get built into the Tax Incremental District (TID) so that when we refinance these bond anticipation notes we'll know what the tax increment is going to be so that we can put the principle of interest to match up to the tax increments," stated Thompson.

Projects that will be done with the $5 million dollar note include the interest payments and general obligation type debt that encompasses streets, lighting, and storm sewer. Because water and sewer projects can be done with revenue bonds, the board will meet June sixth to discuss the remaining $2.7 million which funds the remaining dollars of the bids received.

Thompson compared the notes, to a construction loan. "Say, you go to the bank and want to build a house and borrow $125,000. As you make changes and get the house built, you find it comes in at $115,000. That lower amount is your mortgage. That is how this will work."

Village Engineer, Ken Ward, of Ruekert-Mielke addressed the board and gave a report on the opening of sealed bids for the TID project. "The bids both came in favorable, a little under the estimate," stated Ward. Phase one, the largest portion of the project was awarded to Super Excavators who bid $4,656,070. Work in phase one will be, primarily done along USH 45.

Work in phase two will consist of work along Prospect Drive. Heartland Construction was awarded the contract for phase two. Heartland's bid came in at $2,116,488.20.

Residents should start seeing work commence in phase one the first week of June.

Village's water well to get burst of new life

By Andrew Kuehl

The Village of Kewaskum will be breathing new life into one of their water wells. The Village Board recently voted in favor of spending up to $30,000 to update well number three. That well has been in service since 1984 and is located off Fond du Lac Avenue by the municipal garage.

After speaking with the village engineering firm, Department of Public Works Director Jerry Gilles stated, "We have a good chance to rehab this well and recover some of the lost production in the well."

The purpose of the project is to return the well back to its original functioning capacity. First, the pump in the well will be removed and rebuilt. After the pump is removed, a procedure called airbursting will be done to clean the calcified and oxidized material off the sides of the well. This will allow more water to be stored in the well and open up some of the mains to allow more water to flow into the well.

The well was last repaired in 1993, when a hole in the casing was fixed. The well's last cleaning was in 1996.

Marty Van Ells, of Municipal Well and Pump, who is contracted to do the work says by rehabbing the pump, it could actually pump more water than in the past.

Gilles stated that the well would be out of commission for three to four weeks but customers should notice no problems and emergency services would not be affected by the loss of the well. Village taxpayers could see a 10-year payback for the project. The project is scheduled to begin towards the middle of June and be completed by mid July.

Click It or Ticket seatbelt mobiliza-

The Washington County Sheriff's Department will be participating in the 2005 "Click It or Ticket" safety belt mobilization that began on May 23 and will run through June 4. This is part of a nationwide campaign to both educate and enforce seat belt laws in an effort to increase their usage. Statistics from the Bureau of Transportation Safety (BOTS) indicate that "traffic crashes are the leading cause of death for young people between the ages of two and 20." It is believed this figure can be reduced simply by buckling up. After all, it is the law.

Too often we experience the tragic consequences associated with motor vehicle collisions involving individuals not wearing their seat belts. Injuries and sometimes death could have simply been prevented or avoided if seat belts had been worked.

During this special enforcement period, Deputies on patrol are asked to adopt a zero tolerance policy towards unrestrained motor vehicle operators and occupants. It is felt that through aggressive enforcement efforts we can help make our roadways safer.

Make the right choice. Buckle up.

Harley-Davidson and the Armed Forces: An American Legend and American Heroes Ride Together

WEST BEND - Harley-Davidson motorcycles and the U.S. Armed Forces have had a long, intertwined relationship dating back to World War I when half of Harley's motorcycle production went to the U.S. military.

During World War II the company produced 90,000 military motorcycles and earned four silver service stars signifying exceptional performance in the production of war materials. After each war, U.S. veterans returned home to resume their normal lives and continued to ride motorcycles.

Harley-Davidson currently estimates that nearly 30 percent of its customers have served in the military and 14 percent of the company's U.S. workforce are veterans.

"The relationship Harley-Davidson has with the United States military is one based, I believe, on mutual admiration," said John M. Jordan, owner of West Bend Harley-Davidson in West Bend. "We appreciate the sacrifice these men and women make for our country and they appreciate everything that Harley stands for, which includes freedom and independence."

Vietnam veteran and Congressional Medal of Honor recipient Gary Wetzels says there's an obvious connection between veterans and Harley-Davidson.

"It's a good feeling. You get on your Harley; it's pride, it's American and it's freedom. I love the freedom I feel when riding."

Harley-Davidson has long been a supporter of veteran's issues, donating hundreds of thousands of dollars to the World War II Memorial and the Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Fund, and currently extends the product warranty coverage for military personnel deployed in the war in Iraq and Afghanistan.

"If their motorcycle is under warranty, Harley-Davidson will provide an extension equal to the number of days they were deployed. Since these brave young men and women have been unable to ride during their deployment, we think it's only fair to extend their factory warranty," Jordan said.

Harley-Davidson was also recently awarded the Secretary of Defense Employer Support Freedom award in honor of their commitment to employees who are members of the National Guard and Reserve. Upon mobilization, Harley employees receive frequent "care packages," pay differential, continued health and life insurance and 401(k) benefits.

"Harley-Davidson's exceptional support of their Reserve and National Guard employees during mobilization for the war against terrorism has set a standard for all employers to follow," said David Janes, chairman of the National Committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve, the organization that presented the award in conjunction with the Secretary of Defense.

Harley-Davidson also works with the U.S. Army in the Partnership for Youth Success (PayYS) program, which helps qualified soldier exiting the Army find possible employment at Harley-Davidson. Harold Scott, Harley-Davidson's vice president of human resources, testified before Congress last year in support of employment programs aimed at veterans.

Scott told the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs that supporting veterans is not only a moral imperative but makes good business sense.

"We know from experience that the better Harley-Davidson's employee population reflects our customer base, the more successful we will be as a company," Scott said. "The common bond of military service strengthens our employee's ability to relate to our customers and meet their needs."

To find out more about the Harley-Davidson-Armed Forces connection, contact John M. Jordan at 262-338-8761.

Brat Fry Benefit for Rahlf family May 30

Eric Rahlf, a 1996 graduate of Kewaskum High School, is currently serving in the Marine Corps. He is a staff sergeant with NCIS. His wife, Jennifer, is in need of surgery due to adhesion disease.

Eric and Jennifer have a daughter Haley. Eric is the son of Jim and Betty Rahlf of Kewaskum and the grandson of Novella Krause of Kewaskum.

An adhesion is a band of scar tissue that joins two separate internal body surfaces together. Adhesions usually occur between two serous membranes, which are close together. A serous membrane is a thin cover of body tissue over internal body organs and cavities. It allows organs to move freely inside the body. When these adhesions grow, they can attach themselves to major organs and restrict them. Additional information can be obtained at [\[hesions.de\]\(http://hesions.de\) or \[www.EndoGyn.com\]\(http://www.EndoGyn.com\).](http://www.ad- <div data-bbox=)

Jennifer has had seven surgeries since she was 12 years old. Four major and the other three were to remove adhesions. Since her hernia operation last year, new adhesions have developed and her doctors are unable and unwilling to operate again. This leaves her with the only other option of narcotic pain medicine which is not acceptable.

Therefore, they have opted to obtain services from Dr. Kruschinski of Germany. Dr. Kruschinski has a 97% success rate with his patients, the majority of whom come from the United States. This is a real chance for Jennifer to be pain-free and truly start living again.

The Rahlfs are doing everything they can to help their daughter-in-law reach the monetary goal of $15,000; which includes the flight, surgery, hospital and apartment stay for her and Eric for 14 days in Germany.

The family will be holding a brat fry as a fundraiser at Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, Kewaskum on Memorial Day, Monday, May 30. All proceeds will be used to defray their expenses. It is the family's hope that you will join them.

Outstanding volunteers honored Berlin Man killed at Michels' Kewaskum gravel pit

Each year beginning in April and running through the following March, the members of the Washington County Retired Educators Association keep logs of their volunteer hours. These volunteer logs are broken down into three categories - Education, Health and Other Community Service. The local association's total volunteer hours are then sent on to the Wisconsin Retired Educators Association in Middleton. For the year 2004-05, the Washington County Educators submitted a total of 4,419 volunteer hours for which the State organization estimates a value of $75,955.

At the local organization's April 19th meeting, two outstanding volunteers were recognized: Trudy Trapp who generously gives her time at Holy Angels School, the Cedar Community, the West Bend Memorial Library and the Washington County Historical Society and Joyce Albrecht, former Washington County Home Economist who is involved in many county organizations and fund drives, still has county fair responsibilities, has served as an officer in numerous organizations, and is active in her church.

A 57-year-old Berlin man was killed Monday morning, May 23, while working in a Michel's Materials gravel pit on Badger Road in the Town of Kewaskum.

The Washington County Sheriff's Department was notified at 6:54 a.m. and Kewaskum Rescue Squad was also dispatched to the scene at that time. The man was pronounced dead at the scene.

Washington County Sheriff Brian Rahn stated David Randal of Berlin was killed when a 700 pound sheet of steel fell on him. "The front end loader had a large chain that was being used to help pick up the steel," said Rahn.

He went on to say, "I believe there were four sheets of steel measuring five by ten feet. Two of the sheets had already been loaded onto the flatbed and workers were in the process of loading the third sheet when the incident took place."

Authorities said Randal was wearing his hard hat and it appears safety issues were in place. "When the steel started to tip it caught him and Randal ultimately ended up underneath that piece," said Rahn.

A preliminary report is expected within the next few days on the investigation. A team of mining safety experts are looking into the accident.

Rummage through Kewaskum this Saturday

Rummage sale weekend is almost here. Have you practiced your price fanagging skills? Got the trunk cleaned out yet? If not, better hop to it, The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring their annual village wide rummage sale this Saturday, May 28.

Even if rummage sales aren't your thing, you can still come for the food. Chamber officials are encouraging everyone to get involved. "You may set your own times and if you choose to include additional days to your sale, please do," stated Karen Heberer, Secretary of the Chamber.

The Statesman will have maps that will be distributed the day of the sale by advertisers in our rummage sale section, pages 23-25.

What would an event in Kewaskum be without the food? The Kewaskum Women's Club will be selling brats and burgers at Geidel's Piggly Wiggly. The Friends of Kewaskum will be selling food at their Fundraiser rummage sale in the alley between The Statesman and the Post Office. The Lions Club will be having a Brat Fry at the old Mike's Country Meat on Main St. and Peace UCC will also be having a Brat Fry at their church.

Village Lake Center

626-2942. United Construction Group's headquarters can be reached at 916-498-3640.

Gavin also addressed the board about a planned unit development (PUD) across the road from the Village Lake Center on the west side. That development will include 24 duplex condominium units, and seven single-family lots. This development is part of the new Nature Haven Estates being developed on the former Behnke property.

United Construction Group will be purchasing the entire PUD and managing the property. Gavin will be the developer of the property. "If they are going to build all these office complexes and businesses, they need places for people to live, so they've tied the two together by creating residential housing and the shopping center," stated Gavin.

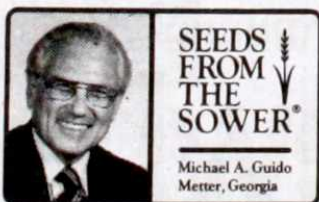

The concept plan was given an affirmative nod by the plan commission and will go before the village board on June 6. A public hearing for the PUD's conditional use permit will be held June 20.

After the meeting, village president Matt Heiser stated, "I am thrilled about this new commercial development. The scale of it is much bigger and more complex than I had envisioned. It's happening a lot faster than I anticipated." When asked if he thought this would hurt the existing businesses in Kewaskum, Heiser stated, "I think it will make the village a destination point for customers and help the existing village businesses."

"I think of the lift," he answered, "not the weight."

What an insight into life's burdens!

Think of your temptations as a stepping stone to make you triumph, not as a stumbling block to make you tumble.

County - Briefs -

By Judy Steffes

Man killed in accident in T. of West Bend

A West Bend man was killed in a one car accident Tuesday night, May 17 in Washington County. Sheriff's deputies say the accident happened around 10 p.m. at the intersection of Hwy. 33 and County Highway Z. One man was ejected from the vehicle after it hit a light pole. Another man from Slinger was injured. Authorities say both men were in their 20's. The accident remains under investigation.

FdL Man arrested for 14th OWI

A 52 year-old North Fond du Lac man has been charged with his 14th OWI. Mark Johnson made his initial appearance in court this week. Cash bail was set at $25,000. Conditions of his bail include absolute sobriety.

Crime drops 6.3% in county

Major crime dropped 6.3% in Washington County between 2003-2004. Statewide, violent crime, such as homicide, robbery and assault fell 5.8%. In neighboring Ozaukee County, violent crime dropped 15.5%. Authorities in Washington County say some crime increased to over 700 incidents in 2004. Most of that was because of one group who committed a number of burglaries and motor vehicle thefts. The community with the largest drop in the overall crime index was Germantown.

Demolition of Catholic Church in FdL delayed

St. Louis Catholic Church in Fond du Lac has been given a bit of a reprieve. The church was set to be raised for business development but the city has now put the project on hold. Early indications are that this is just a temporary delay. The parish manager says the 136 year-old church has significant structural problems but it also has historic significance. The twin spires are a very familiar part of the Fond du Lac skyline. A member of the city's Historical Commission says the delay may buy them time to try to convince developers to agree to new construction that would blend development with surrounding architecture.

The Archdiocese of Milwaukee must approve the plan before any building can take place. St. Louis Church is being sold as parishioners look to build a new church on the east side of the city.

Sheboygan man killed in accident

A 21 year-old Sheboygan man was killed in a three vehicle accident this week on State highway 28 near Adams County. Authorities say Nathan Mangels died after he crossed the center line on the Highway and side-swiped a pickup. Mangels then collided head on with another vehicle.

Mangels was a 2002 graduate of Sheboygan Lutheran High School and he was a junior at Concordia in Mequon.

West Bend Leadership graduates

Two people from Kewaskum were among the 18 graduates in this year's West Bend Leadership Program. Dave Lenz from Regal Ware and Tammy Weyer from the Kewaskum School Board were honored during a ceremonial luncheon at the Clairemont Inn in West Bend. The two completed the nine month course which is designed to seek out emerging leaders in the community.

Other graduates in the class of 2005 include Marcia Arndt from MPTC, Lois Evans and Jill Badzinski from the Daily News, Daniel Anhalt from UWWC, Denise Bonlender from the West Bend Clinic, Andrea Dassow from Synergy Health, Jennifer Feltz from the YMCA, Brian Gold from M&I Bank, Ruth Lansing from Ozaukee Bank, Tammy Matter from West Bend Mutual Insurance, David Shapley from the West Bend School District, Duane Farrand from the West Bend Police Department, Lisa Sandborn from Kieckhafer, Dietzler and Hauser, Jim Spaeth from Serigraph, Heidi Sykora from Kettle Moraine Oncology, and Kim Swisher from the West Bend Chamber.

Ric Leitheiser from M&I Bank in West Bend was also named this year's recipient of the Betty Pearson community leadership award. Leitheiser serves on a number of boards in the community including the Kewaskum Youth Scholarship Fund, The Boys and Girls Club, The Kettle Moraine YMCA, Cedar Community and he's also active in the development of the Kathy Hospice. Leitheiser is a 1991 graduate of the leadership program. Other recipients of the award include Nancie Heaps, Michael Bloedorn and John Duwell.

Red Lobster in FdL to become Best Buy

The old Red Lobster off of Hwy. 41 in Fond du Lac is going to be turned into a Best Buy. The music and electronics retailer should be open this fall. Best Buy will construct a new building on the north end of Pioneer Road and Johnson Street.

Best Buy operates more than 670 stores in the US and plans to open more than 70 new locations in North America this year.

Multiple accidents last weekend in county

There were quite a few accidents in Washington County last weekend including a fatal in the town of Erin. Deputies say 31 year-old Grant Harms of Oshkosh was killed Saturday after he lost control of his motorcycle along State Highway 176 near Holy Hill and hit a guardrail.

Also, there were two minor motorcycle accidents in the county. Adam Williquette, 19, broke his wrist and shattered his ankle when he crashed Saturday morning on County Highway NN in the Town of Trenton. Samuel Shaffer, 17, of Hubertus was treated for chest injuries after he crashed his motorcycle while trying to do a wheelie. That accident also happened Saturday afternoon off Hwy. 175.

Six-legged calf born near Oostburg

A calf born on a farm in the Sheboygan area has six legs. The Holstein bull was born Friday at the Quonset farm near Oostburg. Ben Hesselink, whose parents own the farm says the delivery was normal, but the calf is not. Two extra legs are coming out of the spine, kind of like wings. They've named the calf, Dr. Octopus, which was a character in the Spiderman movie. The legs on the animal's back measure about 18 inches. The family vet says this is the third calf with extra legs he's seen in the last 25 years. He calls it a genetic abnormality. He says the extra legs are called vestigial legs. The vet says the legs could be surgically removed. The animal will probably be raised for beef.

Explosive device detonated in Barton

West Bend police safely disposed of a detonator found in a home in Barton this week. Authorities say the device, which dated back to World War II was found in a home in the 1600 block of Barton Ave. Paul Ustruck said he got the device from an Estate Sale. Police called the Sheriff's Department bomb squad and they took care of it. No one was injured and no charges will be filed. The device was found around 10 a.m. Monday morning.

WB Common council to discuss Mayor Bade's ethics

West Bend Mayor Doug Bade will be in the spotlight this week, as the council's ethics committee sets boundaries on future decision making. Bade is a contractor and as Mayor he would vote on development issues in the city. He's already said he'll abstain from any votes on projects that would affect

In 1992 he became a full-time firefighter/EMT for West Bend.

He currently serves as Battalion Chief of EMS and Fire Prevention. Todd was instrumental in developing a pilot program to provide Advanced Life Support (ALS) care to patients. This led to the development of an Intercept Program with eight area fire departments and one private ambulance service.

The program provides two West Bend personnel to meet the other departments ambulance on scene or enroute to the hospital to provide ALS care. Todd is also very active in the community including involvement with the Washington County Heart Association, NOVA Services and St. Francis Cabrini Church.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of BARBARA COULTER, who passed away one year ago, May 27, 2004:

The Broken Chain

We little knew that morning,
That God was going to call your name.

In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose
you,

You did not go alone;
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you
home.

You left us peaceful memories,

Your love is still our guide;
And though we cannot see
you,

You are always at our side.

Our family chain is broken,
And nothing seems the same,
But as God calls us one by
one,

The chain will link again.

Lakeshore productions announces auditions for 'Beauty and the Beast'

Auditions have been announced for "Beauty and the Beast," the beloved family musical to be presented this summer by Lakeshore Productions, Inc. of Random Lake.

Auditions will be held on Wed., June 1, and Tues., June 2, at the Random Lake High School auditorium. Ages 8 through 12 are invited from 6-8 p.m., while adults (ages 13 and above) will audition from 7:30-10 p.m. Call backs (if needed) are scheduled for Fri., June 3, from 6-8 p.m.

Director Chuck Krebs, professor of theatre arts at UW-Sheboygan for the past five years, says that "Beauty and the Beast" will offer many exciting parts for youth and adult. Besides the principal characters and townspeople there will be youths cast as the wind, flowers and rain, castle and servants, rose and puzzle, beast and wolves, and dinnerware.

"We will have many interesting parts for all ages," he said. "This is a great opportunity for anyone who always wanted to give community theatre a try." Adults are encouraged to bring their own up tempo song to the audition. Children will sing a familiar song like "Happy Birthday." The audition will include a simple dance routine that will be taught that evening.

A parent is required to accompany anyone auditioning who is between the ages of 8-12. Any potential conflicts with rehearsal dates must be listed on the information form to be filled out on audition night. Parents also will be asked to accompany youth to the first rehearsal night (Mon., June 20).

Krebs has been teaching at UW-Sheboygan for five years. The New York native holds a master of fine arts degree in directing, a master of arts in acting, and a bachelor of arts in scene design. Some of his recent shows in Sheboygan have included "A Chorus Line," "Evita," "Grease," "Chicago," "Cabaret," "Godspell," "Nunsense," "Oklahoma," "The Nerd," "The Foreigner" and "Romeo and Juliet." He authored the recent show "In the Mood 1940."

Kristine Foerster of Milwaukee, who choreographed several of the above shows, will be the choreographer. Deb Kosup-Kennedy of Manitowoc, who designed "Chicago," "Evita" and "Oklahoma," will be designing costumes.

"I am looking for several assistant directors and stage managers in addition to actors," Krebs says. The director discussed a few of the special effects to be included.

"The beast will be played by five guys collectively," he states. "The magic rose will be portrayed by a few young ballerinas. The show will be elegant and poetic."

"This is our 10th anniversary year, and we are thrilled to have Professor Krebs return as our director," states Edward Ritzer, president of the Lakeshore Productions Board of Directors.

"We have already had inquiries from a wide area, and it appears that many people from different areas want to get involved with our 2005 production."

"Beauty and the Beast" is one of the few fairy tales where the main characters actually get to know each other before falling in love. It conveys a dual message: "True love will prevail" and "True beauty is within." The first published version of the tale appeared in 1740.

Besides the title song, the music includes "No Matter What," "How Long Must This Go On?," "Be Our Guest," "If I Can't Love Her" and "Human Again." "Beauty and the Beast" will be presented on Thurs., Aug. 4, and Fri., Aug. 5, at 7:30 p.m.; on Sat., Aug. 6, at 2:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., and on Sun., Aug. 7, at 2:00 p.m.

Tickets will be available starting Fri., July 15, at Doegnitz Ace Hardware in Random Lake.

Krebs has condensed the rehearsal schedule (the first rehearsal is Mon., June 20). Rehearsals will run Monday through Thursday from 6-10 p.m., depending on the role (principle characters will also rehearse on Fridays). There will be some Saturday afternoon rehearsals starting mid-July. Much additional-help will be needed for many tasks ranging from sewing costumes to ticket sales and promotion.

"Everyone is welcome to audition, whether it's your first time or you are a stage veteran," Krebs says. "Our aim is to make the audition process fun and not intimidating."

For more information about the show or auditions, contact Krebs 920/208-7266 or ckrebs@uwc.edu, or Lakeshore board member Gary Feider 920/994-9244 or sounder@execpc.com.

Library Ledger

by Steven Baker

What's in a name? More than you might imagine, these days. Many of the authors and book characters you might remember as lining the library shelves are now lining up for sequels, new job descriptions, and modern reinterpretations.

This month, we have on our shelves no less than two "new" Sherlock Holmes novels, a memoir by Nancy Drew, the hitherto untold story of Mr. March (the father of the March sisters in Louisa May Alcott's Little Women), the further adventures of Jim (the runaway slave from Mark Twain's Huck Finn), and the Oscar-nominated biopic Finding Neverland, which details the relationships which inspired J.M. Barrie to write Peter Pan.

Looking at the past 20 years in publishing history, the astute reader will no doubt discover a bit of the post-modernist's love of tinkering with established canons. Jean Ryhs's dark novel Wide Sargasso Sea tells the story of Charlotte Bronte's "mad woman in the attic," from Jane Eyre. Katie Roiphe portrays the strange, obsessive behavior of Lewis Carroll in Still She Haunts Me. Alice Randall views Margaret Mitchell's epic Gone with the Wind through the eyes of a plantation slave in The Wind Done Gone. Of course, there is a built in audience and money to be made in resurrecting old characters and their authors; not every updated version of a classic character is a political polemic in the guise of a novel.

Witness the proliferation of literary detectives: everyone from Edgar Allen Poe and Ambrose Bierce to Jane Austen and Beatrix Potter have been recruited as the stars of their own cozy mysteries. Jasper Fforde tells of another kind of literary detective in his quirky Thursday Next series where he involves the Cheshire Cat, Edward Rochester, Miss Havisham, Hamlet (Prince of Denmark), and many other classic British book inhabitants in a succession of bizarre adventures in the Book World.

What does all of this literary borrowing mean? A lazy critic would decry the lack of fresh ideas in a publishing phenomena that lifts characters wholesale from their novels. But I think the reappearance of old protagonists fits perfectly into a popular culture that does not think twice about digitally placing dead actors into vacuum cleaner commercials, offering pop duets between deceased singers and their offspring, or creating software that recalls the spirited performance of classical pianists long in their graves.

Part homage, part nostalgia, part social commentary, much of American pop culture seeks to lull the consumer into a state of comfortable familiarity, then jar them awake and point them to ideas that are at once timeless and thoroughly modern. And if it takes the skill of contemporary authors like Joyce Carol Oates or Peter Straub to point us back to classic literature, what right do we have to complain? After all, that which we call a rose by any other word would smell as sweet.

Catholic Knights and The Catholic Knights of America announce intent to merge

Catholic Knights, the second largest Catholic fraternal benefit society in the United States, and The Catholic Knights of America, a Missouri-based fraternal benefit organization, are working toward a merger.

The boards of directors for both organizations have given their approval to move forward with a merger. However, before the merger can be finalized, representatives of the members of Catholic Knights and The Catholic Knights of America must vote, and the insurance commissioners in Wisconsin and Missouri must give their final approval. Member voting will be completed by the end of June.

The merger would increase Catholic Knights' membership by more than 11,000 individuals, and expand its services in seven additional states - Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, Ohio, West Virginia, and Texas. Currently, Catholic Knights is licensed to operate in California, Florida, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

"Our board of trustees recognizes the difficult challenges that smaller fraternal benefit societies face in their efforts to grow profitably within a constantly changing regulatory and business environment," said John Kenawell, The Catholic Knights of America president.

"With this merger, we will support our fellow Catholic fraternalists by combining The Catholic Knights of America's operations with ours, providing their members and branches the opportunity to continue all of the wonderful charitable outreach they do," said Dan Steininger, Catholic Knights president and CEO.

Catholic Knights has assets of $704 million, $2.9 billion of insurance in force, and had annual revenues of $97 million in 2004. It has more than 73,000 members.

The Catholic Knights of America holds almost $50 million in assets, $200 million of insurance in force, and had annual revenues of $9 million in 2004. The Catholic Knights of America has more than 11,000 members and is licensed to operate in 17 states.

Catholic Knights and The Catholic Knights of America have a shared history, with Catholic Knights tracing its beginnings to The Catholic Knights of America, formed in 1877. In January 1885, the Wisconsin branches separated from The Catholic Knights of America and formed Catholic Knights of Wisconsin, which later became Catholic Knights. The merger of the two organizations would reunite them after 120 years of separate operations.

As a not-for-profit, Catholic membership organization, Catholic Knights and its 133 branches put Catholic values into action by raising more than $1.8 million in 2004. These funds went to support Catholic parishes and schools, to help individuals in need and to support local communities. The Catholic Knights of America and its 26 active branches raised nearly $60,000 in 2004 to assist needy individuals or improve local communities where their members reside. ## Over $79,000 in scholarships awarded to UWWC students

The scholarships are awarded to students who have completed their first two years of college studies at UW-WC and are now transferring to other institutions to complete their education, as well as students who are completing a collaborative degree at the UW-WC campus through UW-Milwaukee.

New scholarships included the Kathleen and David C. Loomans Scholarship in the amount of $1,000. This scholarship is awarded to a full-time student majoring in education, with a minimum of 50 credits already earned. Also being awarded for the first time were four $2,000 Curtis A. and Adele C. Collins scholarships to senior-level nursing students. In addition, four junior-level UW-WC nursing students received a $1,000 Collins Scholarship.

Local UW-Washington County students receiving scholarships at Friday's ceremony included:

New freshman and continuing students were recognized and awarded additional scholarships at the Convocation Ceremony, which will be held September 22. The substantial scholarship opportunities at UW-Washington County reflect the tremendous community support of local residents, civic groups and area businesses. A guaranteed transfer program, the UW-M collaborative bachelor degree programs, as well as sizeable scholarship opportunities with other area universities have significantly increased the opportunities for students who begin their college education at the local campus.

UW-WC is one of 13 UW Colleges in the state. The campus has experienced steady growth in physical size, course offerings and enrollment since its inception in 1968.

REMEMBER OUR HEROES

Remember Me?

Hello...remember me? I'm your flag. Some folks call me Old Glory, others call me Stars and Stripes, the Ensign, or just...the flag. But whatever they call me, I am your flag. And as I proudly state, THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. I was wondering if I might talk it over with you. It's about you and me.

I remember some time ago (I think it was Memorial Day, or was it the 4th of July) when people lined up on both sides of the street to watch a parade. When your father saw me coming along, waving in the breeze, he took his hat off and held it against his left shoulder. His hand was directly over his heart. Remember?

And you, I remember you. Standing there as straight as a soldier. You didn't have a hat on but you gave the correct salute. They taught you in school to place your hand over your heart. Remember your little sister? Not to be outdone, she was saluting the same as you. I was proud, very proud, as I came down that street. Oh yes, there were some servicemen there, standing at attention, giving the military salute. Ladies as well as men, civilians as well as military, paid me respect...reverence.

Now if I sound a bit conceited...well...I have a right to. I respect the finest country in the world...THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA. More than once aggressive nations have tried to haul me down only to feel the fury of this loving country. Many of you had to go overseas to defend me. A lot more blood has been shed since those patriotic parades of long ago and I've had a few stars added since you were a boy, but I'm still the same old flag.

Dad is gone now, and the hometown has a new look. The last time I came down your street, I noticed that some of the old landmarks have given way to a number of new buildings and homes. Yes sir, the old town sure has changed. I guess I have too, cause I don't feel as proud as I did back then.

I see youngsters running and shouting through the streets, college boys and girls disrupting our campuses, people selling hot dogs and beer while our NATIONAL ANTHEM is played...he looked around, didn't see anyone else with his hat off...so he quickly put his back on.

Now I come down your street, you just stand there with your hands in your pockets. Occasionally you give me a small glance and then look away. When I think of all the places I've been...NORMANDY, GUADALCANAL, IWO JIMA, BATTLE OF THE BULGE, KOREA AND VIETNAM, AND THE PERSIAN GULF, I wonder what's happened? I'm still the same old flag.

How can I expect to fly high and proud from buildings and homes when within them there is not thought, love or respect for me. Whatever happened to patriotism? Your patriotism? Have you forgotten what I stand for? Have you forgotten all the battlefields where men fought and died to keep this nation free? When you salute me, you salute them. Take a look at the Memorial Honor Roll sometime. Look at the names of those who never came back. Some of them were friends and relatives of yours...maybe even went to school with you. That's whom you're saluting...NOT ME!

Well, it won't be long before I come down your street again. So, when you see me, stand straight, and place your hand over your heart. Do this because I represent you. You'll see me wave back, my salute to you.

EDWARD CHRISTIE JR.

Edward A. Christie Jr., a senior international trade specialist for the U.S. Department of Commerce, died from complications of cancer Saturday at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, Michigan. He was 63.

Mr. Christie, a former resident of Kewaskum and Clawson, Michigan, lived in Livonia for the past five years.

Mr. Christie was born in Detroit on March 2, 1942. He graduated from the University of Detroit High School in 1960. He earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from John Carroll University near Cleveland in 1964.

He married Margaret Sweeney in 1965 and together they raised three children. They were divorced in 1997.

The family moved to Chicago, where Mr. Christie worked for Chicago & North Western Railroad before landing a job with Regal Ware Inc. -- a position that led to his extensive work with the overseas business community.

They subsequently moved to Orangeville, Ontario, where Mr. Christie headed the international sales department and helped Regal Ware, Inc., Kewaskum, become one of the first U.S. companies to successfully sell housewares to the Japanese.

He later took a position as head of the company's Canadian division and was wooed away from Regal by Supreme Aluminum Industries, Regal's Canadian competitor.

In the mid-1980s, the family returned to Michigan, where Mr. Christie started Trade Assistance Corp., a consulting firm. Soon, one of his biggest clients -- the U.S. government -- offered him a job. He worked as a Senior International Trade specialist for the U.S. Commerce Department for 15 years.

He was also a Commercial Service specialist for the worldwide automotive industry, assisting firms involved in operations in support of American automakers' manufacturing and sales abroad.

His assignments took him to more than 60 countries and in recent years, had been focusing on developing countries.

Mr. Christie also taught International business at University of Detroit Mercy, Madonna University and what is now Lawrence Technological University.

He was a board member of the International Visitor Council of Metropolitan Detroit.

He was also a member of the Worldwide Association of Jesuit Business Schools and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Ed was a very devoted father and grandfather. He enjoyed crossword puzzles and classical music. Ed owned a 1930 Buick and attended many classical car shows and parades. He was a member of the Buick Club of America.

He loved his job and loved his international adventures.

Mr. Christie is survived by two daughters, Jane Simmermon (Joel) and Kathleen Steensma (Richard), and one son, Edward Christie, III (Margaret), his loving companion, Mary Ann Beroff. He was the former husband of Margaret (nee Sweeney) and grandfather of Emily, Sarah, Francis, Rachel, Griffin, Anna and one on the way. He was the brother of Virginia Bronsing (the late Vincent), Barbara Mueller (Harold) and Juanita Stanford (Tom).

Visitation was on Tuesday from 2 to 8 p.m. at A.J. Desmond & Sons Funeral Home, Royal Oak, with a rosary at 7 p.m.

A funeral mass was held at 11 a.m. Thursday at St. Hugo of the Hills Stone Chapel, 2215 Opdyke Road, Bloomfield Hills. Visitation began at 10:30 a.m. Interment was in Glen Eden Cemetery in Livonia.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests memorial tributes to Manresa Retreat House, 1390 Quarton Rd., Bloomfield Hills, MI 48304.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of GERALDINE (GERI) GAVIN, who passed away 15 years ago, May 28, 1990:

The Broken Chain

We little knew that morning,
That God was going to call
your name.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose
you,
You did not go alone;
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you
home.

You left us peaceful memories,
Your love is still our guide;
And though we cannot see
you,
You are always at our side.

Our family chain is broken,
And nothing seems the same,
But as God calls us one by
one,
The chain will link again.

*Forever missed, but never forgotten
Mom and family*

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of AL-FRED "AL" KNEPPRATH, who passed away five years ago, May 25, 2000:

You Never Said Goodbye
You never said I'm leaving
You never said goodbye
You were gone before we knew it,
And only God knew why.

A million times we needed
you,
A million times we cried
If love alone could have saved you,
You never would have died.

In life we loved you dearly
In death we love you still
In our hearts you hold a place,
That no one could ever fill.

It broke our hearts to lose
you,
But you didn't go alone
For part of us went with you.
The day God took you home.

The Bookworm Sez by Terri Schlichenmeyer

Guitar by Tom Brooks

So, who would you say is the Greatest Guitar Player Ever? Clapton or Les Paul? How about Duane Eddy? Stevie Ray Vaughn, maybe, or Johnny Cash. Perhaps, when you think of great guitarists, a couple of Kings come to mind: B.B. and Elvis. Or maybe you consider yourself to be the best on air guitar.

It's okay. Playing air guitar is a worthy and noble pursuit.

Author Tim Brookes doesn't have to play air guitar because he has a real one, and in his new book "Guitar: An American Life" (c.2005, Grove Atlantic), he writes about his quest for the perfect instrument.

Tim Brookes and his Fylde guitar were the best of friends. More than 20 years ago, when Brookes lived in Great Britain, he gathered all the money he had and hitchhiked to London to buy the Fylde. He and the Fylde had played in coffeehouses and late-night gigs. They had been together through marriages, job-switching, and child-raising. Then, on a Sunday in August some years ago, after an otherwise uneventful flight to the United States, Brookes opened his guitar case and found the Fylde broken.

Brookes tried to fix the wounded guitar, but he knew he was an amateur in his repairs. Amazingly, after asking around, he learned that a luthier (a person who builds guitars) lived about fifteen miles up the road in the Green Mountains of Vermont. Brookes decided that it would be interesting to commission a new, custom-built guitar and watch it being made, step by step.

For over a year, Brookes watched luthier Rick Davis build the instrument. Brookes chose the wood (cherry on the back, spruce on the front), decided on the rosette (the fancy ring around the sound hole), and regretfully brushed away decisions for the inlays on the head and neck. As the seasons changed, Brookes watched as Davis changed boards and glue, varnish and sawdust into a work of art and a workable guitar.

"Guitar: An American Life" is a little bit like a song with two-part harmony. In addition to the story of his guitar, author Tim Brookes also examines the history of the guitar as an instrument and as an instrument of change. Brookes writes about Mexican and Hawaiian influence on guitar playing, and guitar-as-entertainment during the Depression. He shows how African Americans in the Jazz Age used the guitar to create a new kind of music, and he writes about the guitar's role in shaping rock & roll as we know it. I liked this book, but there were times that I wished Brookes had slowed down a little, tempered his enthusiasm, and reminded me about the terms he was using. While I appreciated his excitement very much, I occasionally had a hard time following along.

Aside from that, "Guitar: An American Life" was fun to read, and music lovers will find the history quite interesting. If you're a musician, though - particularly a guitar player - this book will truly strike a chord.

OPINIONS

Protecting your 'right to know'

By Peter D. Fox

Although you may be unaware of it right now, some public officials think you don't have enough to do in your lives and want to put you to work - keeping track of what your local governments are doing.

Saying they are only concerned about costs, these public officials and the organizations that represent them have gained the sympathy of state legislators who in turn have introduced several bills that put the burden on you, the taxpayer, to stay abreast of your local government activity.

It's true that the various proposals do not directly reduce the amount of public information legally available to citizens. But their end-result will be that fewer people are aware of government action because these bills would shift responsibilities: citizens would become detectives tracking down government decisions instead of governments reporting to the very people who vote them into office and pay the bills.

Why does the Wisconsin Newspaper Association oppose these bills? At first blush, you might think it is because weekly and daily newspapers make good money publishing public notices such as school board minutes, new city and village ordinances, competitive bids and other information that affect your everyday life.

Some legislators apparently believe the opposition of Wisconsin's 260 weekly and daily newspapers to changing public notice statutes is all about "the money." They are wrong.

The state Department of Administration sets the reimbursement rate for public notices published in newspapers. In fact, state law treats the publishing of public notices as something newspapers ought to do as a public service. "The general concept behind these rates is that since the law requires the notice to be published, this is a public service," DOA guidelines state. "Unlike discretionary advertising, the customer does not have a choice in whether or not to do it, the content, and frequently the newspaper. Therefore, the publisher is compensated only for the cost of getting the legal notice into the newspaper."

Recently the League of Municipalities, an association representing the governments of Wisconsin's 386 villages and 90 cities, reported that its members spend $2.033 million annually to publish public notices. That's a per capita expenditure of about 37 cents in Wisconsin. The point is, overall expenditures are not huge and newspapers aren't seeing a windfall.

The various proposals now before the Legislature either expect citizens to go to and search through government Web sites for information previously found in newspapers or simply require a short notice in a newspaper that a new municipal ordinance, rule or by-law has been created. Either way, the burden falls to the citizen to track down the government action on a Web site.

Government sites are a welcome resource for people who need them to seek out particular information. Generally, people don't "surf" them for the latest news.

There is no good reason to create new barriers between citizens and their local governments. The "ends" of greater burdens on the public resulting in less public awareness doesn't justify the "means" of minimal cost savings.

Wisconsin newspapers stand for the principle that government should serve the public, and that it is a fundamental responsibility of government to ensure proper notification to the public of its actions. We urge citizens to tell their legislators that moving public notices to government Web sites is poor public policy.

Peter D. Fox is executive director of the Wisconsin Newspaper Association

Pridemore calls two of Gov. Doyle's vetos 'tragic'

State Representative Don Pridemore considers Governor Doyle's veto of the Photo ID Bill a slap in the face to the honest voter. "The Governor is going to have a tough re-election next year, facing either Republican Scott Walker or Mark Green" Pridemore said. "Obviously the Governor is more concerned about keeping the fraudulent vote than he is about losing the honest ones."

The School Choice bill would raise the enrollment cap for some of the poorest kids in Milwaukee and allow more of them to attend a private school. "Poor parents should have the same freedoms that others have especially if the public school system is failing to educate their children."

The Photo ID Bill, which would require voters to show a picture ID before voting, provides a free ID for those who don't drive or can't afford to buy one. The bill also does not change the absentee voting process nor does it affect those voting from nursing homes.

Both the School Choice Cap Increase and the Photo ID bill received bi-partisan support in the legislature but was vetoed by the Governor late Friday. "It shows how out of touch Jim Doyle is with the people of this state and will be the start of his undoing." Pridemore went on to say that he believes the Governor's staff will be busy answering phone calls (608-266-1212) from unhappy voters this week.

NOTICE OF SMOKE TESTING PROGRAM

By order of the Department of Natural Resources, the Village of Kewaskum is commencing a comprehensive study of the sanitary sewer to identify and eliminate sources of clear water that may be entering into and overloading the sanitary sewer system. Clear water entering into the sanitary sewer system is not unique to the Village of Kewaskum. The study is being required as a condition of the WPDES permit issued by the Department of Natural Resources.

An early step in the study is testing to determine where clear water is entering the sanitary sewer system during heavy rains. The test that will be used is a "smoke test". The "smoke testing" program will be conducted on sanitary sewers throughout the Village. During the next few months, "smoke testing" will be occurring in your neighborhood. You do not have to be home during the testing period.

The "smoke testing" process has been endorsed by the Environmental Protection Agency and has been safely used by sewer service contractors and municipalities for more than 25 years. The "smoke" is not a true smoke. It is a mist containing a large percentage of atmospheric moisture that is highly visible at low concentrations. The mist is seeded by zinc chloride and other products such as free carbon. It will not stain, and will disappear rapidly without leaving a residual odor.

During the testing, "smoke" will be blown through the sanitary sewers from a manhole in the street. The "smoke" will then fill the sewer pipes and appear from any roof drains, catch basins, or house vent stacks connected to the sewer system. "Smoke" may also appear from cracks in the pavement above the sewer, from lawns, or around buildings that have foundation drains connected to the sewer.

It is possible that "smoke" may also appear in basements through unused floor drains, disconnected or faulty plumbing fixtures, or any direct opening to the building sewer lateral. To reduce the likelihood of "smoke" entering your home or business, pour a bucket of water down all floor drains, sinks or other plumbing fixtures. Pay particular attention to unused or abandoned plumbing fixtures, or open plumbing resulting from remodeling projects. The water will fill the plumbing trap and prevent the entry of the "smoke".

If "smoke" should appear in your building during the testing, open a window or door to dissipate the mist, and leave the area for the brief time it takes for the air to clear. Overexposure to the "smoke" can cause minimal irritation of the throat, or pose difficulties for persons with severe breathing problems such as emphysema. Such incidents rarely occur and can be alleviated by moving the affected person or persons into the fresh air. If you have any concerns about situations that could be affected by the "smoke testing", please call Jerry Gilles, Director of Public Works, at 262-626-4310 or Steve Zaleski with Ruekert/Mielke at 262-953-1090.

The smoke testing will be performed by the consulting engineering firm Ruekert & Mielke Inc. Crewmembers will have identification badges and will be driving a vehicle with Ruekert & Mielke signage.

In general the crews will be working from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. The Village will know on a day-to-day basis where the crews are testing. The day before a specific street is to be tested, signs will be placed in the terrace area of the street, indicating that the testing will be done the next day. A notice will also be placed on your doorknob reiterating some of the information in this notice. Signs and notices will be placed on Friday for testing to be done on Mondays.

If you have additional questions about the "smoke testing" program, please call either of the following:

Jerry Gilles Steven J. Zaleski
Director of Public Works Ruekert & Mielke, Inc.
Village of Kewaskum 262-953-1090

Thank you in advance for your patience and cooperation throughout the testing period.

Sincerely,

TYPE OF ALUMINUM: Aluminum cans generally used in the beverage industry.

TYPE OF TIN CANS: Tin cans generally used in the food industry.

PREPARATION: Simply drain and rinse. This is the most important aspect of a successful recycling program. Aluminum beverage containers and tin containers that are contaminated with liquid or food residue cannot be recycled. Place aluminum and tin containers in your dark green recycling bin or blue recycling bag. Flattening containers is not necessary but will save space in your recycling bin or bag. Place the bin or bag at the curb on the same day that your solid waste is to be collected. Pick up will be Wednesdays for both solid waste and recyclables. Multi-family dwellings of six or more, remember, your recycling pick up will be the 1st and 3rd Wednesday of each month.

RESOLUTION NO. 2005-13 RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE AND PROVIDING FOR THE SALE OF NOT TO EXCEED $5,025,000

Bond Anticipation Notes

WHEREAS, the Village Board of the Village of Kewaskum, Washington County, Wisconsin (the "Village") has heretofore adopted an initial resolution (the "Initial Resolution") authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds or promissory notes in an amount not to exceed $5,025,000 (the "Securities") for the public purpose of paying the cost of various public projects included in the Project Plan for Tax Incremental District No. 2 and costs of financing including a portion of the interest thereon (the "Project");

WHEREAS, the Village Board hereby finds and determines that the Project is within the Village's power to undertake and therefore serves a "public purpose" as that term is defined in Section 67.04(1)(b) of the Wisconsin Statutes;

WHEREAS, villages are authorized by the provisions of Chapter 67 of the Wisconsin Statutes to borrow money and issue general obligation bonds or promissory notes for such public purposes;

WHEREAS, by adoption of the Initial Resolution, the Village has authorized the issuance and sale of general obligation bonds or promissory notes (the "Securities") to provide permanent financing for the Project;

WHEREAS, the Securities have not yet been issued or sold; and,

WHEREAS, it is the finding of the Village Board that it is necessary, desirable and in the best interest of the Village to provide for the issuance and sale of bond anticipation notes pursuant to Section 67.12(1)(b), Wisconsin Statutes, in anticipation of receiving the proceeds from the issuance and sale of the Securities to provide interim financing to pay the cost of the Project and to sell such notes to Hutchinson, Shockey, Erley & Co., Milwaukee, Wisconsin, pursuant to the terms and conditions of its note purchase proposal.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Village Board of the Village that:

Section 1. General Obligation Bonds or Promissory Notes. The Village hereby declares its intention and covenants to issue general obligation bonds or promissory notes pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 67 of the Wisconsin Statutes, in an amount sufficient to retire any outstanding bond anticipation notes issued for the purpose of paying the cost of the Project (hereinafter, such bonds or notes shall be referred to as the "Securities"). The Village has heretofore authorized the issuance of the Securities pursuant to the Initial Resolution.

Section 2. Authorization of the Notes. For the purpose of paying the cost of the Project, there shall be borrowed pursuant to Section 67.12(1)(b) of the Wisconsin Statutes, the principal sum of FIVE MILLION TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($5,025,000) from Hutchinson, Shockey, Erley & Co., Milwaukee, Wisconsin (the "Purchaser") in accordance with the terms and conditions of its note purchase proposal (the "Proposal") attached hereto as Exhibit A and incorporated herein by this reference.

Section 3. Sale of the Notes. To evidence such indebtedness, the President and Village Clerk/Treasurer are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to make, execute, issue and sell to the Purchaser for, on behalf of and in the name of the Village, bond anticipation notes aggregating the principal amount of FIVE MILLION TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($5,025,000) (the "Notes") for the sum set forth on the Proposal, plus accrued interest to the date of delivery. Section 4. Terms of the Notes. The Notes shall be designated "Bond Anticipation Notes"; shall be dated June 1, 2005; shall be in the denomination of $5,000 or any integral multiple thereof; shall be numbered 1 and upward; shall bear interest at the rate and shall mature on June 1, 2007 as set forth on the schedule prepared by the Purchaser and attached hereto as Exhibit B (the "Schedule"). Interest is payable at maturity.

Section 5. Redemption Provisions. At the option of the Village, the Notes shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity on December 1, 2006 or on any date thereafter. Said Notes shall be redeemable as a whole or in part by lot, at the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of redemption.

Section 6. Form of the Notes. The Notes shall be issued in registered form and shall be executed and delivered in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit C and incorporated herein by this reference.

Section 7. Security. The Notes shall in no event be a general obligation of the Village and do not constitute an indebtedness of the Village nor a charge against its general credit or taxing power. No lien is created upon the Project or other property of the Village as a result of the issuance of the Notes. The Notes shall be payable from (a) any proceeds of the Notes set aside for payment of interest on the Notes as it becomes due, and (b) proceeds to be derived from the issuance and sale of the Securities, which proceeds are hereby declared to constitute a Special Trust Fund, hereby created and established, to be held by the Village Clerk/Treasurer and expended solely for the payment of the principal of and interest on the Notes. The Village hereby agrees that, in the event such monies are not sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the Notes when due, if necessary, the Village will pay such deficiency out of its tax levy or other available funds of the Village; provided, however, that such payment shall be subject to annual budgetary appropriations therefor; and provided further, that neither this Resolution nor any such payment shall be construed as constituting an obligation of the Village to make any such appropriation or any further payment.

Section 8. Covenants of the Village. The Village hereby covenants with the holders of the Notes as follows:

(a) It shall issue and sell the Securities as soon as practicable;

(b) It shall segregate the proceeds derived from the sale of the Securities into a Special Trust Fund created above and constituted as a special trust fund and shall permit such Special Trust Fund to be used for no purpose other than the payment of principal of and interest on the Notes until paid; and,

(c) It shall maintain a debt limit capacity such that the combined outstanding principal amount of general obligation bonds or notes or certificates of indebtedness of the Village and the $5,025,000 authorized for the issuance of the Securities shall at no time exceed the constitutional debt limit of the Village.

Section 9. Segregated Debt Service Fund Account. There is hereby established in the Village treasury a fund account separate and distinct from all other funds or accounts of the Village designated "Debt Service Fund Account for $5,025,000 Village of Kewaskum Bond Anticipation Notes, dated June 1, 2005", which fund account shall be used solely for the purpose of paying the principal of and interest on the Notes. There shall be deposited in said fund account (i) all accrued interest paid on the Notes at the time the Notes are delivered to the Purchaser; (ii) any proceeds of the Notes representing capitalized interests on the Notes and deposited in the Borrowed Money Fund (hereinafter created), as needed to pay the interest on the Notes when due; (iii) proceeds of the Securities (or other obligations of the Village issued to pay principal of or interest on the Notes) to the extent necessary to pay principal of or interest on the Notes; (iv) such other sums, including tax monies, as may be necessary at any time to pay principal of and interest on the Notes when due and which are appropriated by the Village Board for that purpose; and (v) surplus monies in the Borrowed Money Fund as specified in Section 10 hereof. Said Fund shall be used for the sole purpose of paying the principal of and interest on the Notes and shall be maintained for such purpose until such indebtedness is fully paid or otherwise extinguished, and shall at all times be invested in a manner that conforms with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and any applicable income tax regulations (the "Regulations").

Section 10. Segregated Borrowed Money Fund; Reimbursement. The proceeds of the Notes (the "Note Proceeds"), other than any premium and accrued interest which must be paid at the time of delivery of the Notes into the Debt Service Fund Account created above, shall be deposited into an account separate and distinct from all other funds and accounts and disbursed solely for the purposes for which borrowed or for the payment of the principal of and interest on the Notes. Said proceeds may be temporarily invested in legal investments in the manner set forth below.

The Village declares its reasonable expectation to reimburse itself from the Note Proceeds for expenditures relating to the Project which it pays from other funds of the Village prior to receipt of the Note Proceeds no more than 60 days prior to the date the Initial Resolution was adopted. The Village may also reimburse itself for preliminary expenditures relating to the Project (such as architectural, engineering, surveying, soil testing, costs of issuance and similar costs but not including land acquisition, site preparation and similar costs incident to the commencement of construction) which are in an amount which is less than 20% of the issue price of the Notes. This declaration and the Resolution of which it is a part, shall be publicly available in the official books, records or proceedings of the Village Board.

Section 11. Arbitrage Covenant. The Village shall not take any action with respect to the Note Proceeds which, if such action had been reasonably expected to have been taken, or had been deliberately and intentionally taken on the date of the delivery of and payment for the Notes (the "Closing"), would cause the Notes to be "arbitrage bonds" within the meaning of Section 148 of the Code and the Regulations.

The Note Proceeds may be temporarily invested in legal investments until needed, provided however, that the Village hereby covenants and agrees that so long as the Notes remain outstanding, monies on deposit in any fund or account created or maintained in connection with the Notes, whether such monies were derived from the Note Proceeds or from any other source, will not be used or invested in a manner which would cause the Notes to be "arbitrage bonds" within the meaning of the Code or Regulations. The Village covenants that it will not invest in any obligation if such investment would violate the "prohibited payment" requirement of Section 148 of the Code.

The Village Clerk/Treasurer, or other officer of the Village charged with the responsibility for issuing the Notes, shall provide an appropriate certificate of the Village, for inclusion in the transcript of proceedings, setting forth the reasonable expectations of the Village regarding the amount and use of the Note Proceeds and the facts and estimates on which such expectations are based, all as of the Closing.

Section 12. Additional Tax Covenants; Two Year Expenditure Exemption from Rebate; Qualified Tax-Exempt Obligation Status. The Village hereby further covenants and agrees that it will take all necessary steps and perform all obligations required by the Code and Regulations (whether prior to or subsequent to the issuance of the Notes) to assure that the Notes are obligations described in Section 103(a) of the Code, the interest on which is excludable from gross income for federal income tax purposes, throughout their term. The Village further covenants that it will not take any action, omit to take any action or permit the taking or omission of any action within its control (including, without limitation, making or permitting any use of the proceeds of the Notes) if taking, permitting or omitting to take such action would cause any of the Notes to be an arbitrage bond or a private activity bond within the meaning of the Code or would otherwise cause interest on the Notes to be included in the gross income of the recipients thereof for federal income tax purposes. The Village Clerk/Treasurer or other officer of the Village charged with the responsibility of issuing the Notes, shall provide an appropriate certificate of the Village as of the Closing, for inclusion in the transcript of proceedings, certifying that it can and covenanting that it will comply with the provisions of the Code and Regulations.

Further, it is the intent of the Village to take all reasonable and lawful actions to comply with any new tax laws enacted so that the Notes will continue to be obligations described in Section 103(a) of the Code, the interest on which is excludable from gross income for federal income tax purposes throughout their term.

The Village covenants that it is a governmental unit with general taxing powers and that the Notes are not "private activity bonds" as defined in Section 141 of the Code.

In accordance with Section 148(f)(4)(C) of the Code, the Village covenants that at least 75% of the available construction proceeds of the Notes shall be used for construction expenditures with respect to property owned by the Village as provided in Section 148(f)(4)(C)(iv) of the Code. If at least 10% of the available construction proceeds of the Notes (including investment earnings thereon) are expended for the governmental purposes of the issue within six months of the Closing; at least 45% are expended for such purposes within one year; at least 75% are expended for such purposes within eighteen months; and 100% are expended for such purposes within two years, the Notes will qualify for the two year expenditure exception from the rebate requirements of the Code. If for any reason the Village did not qualify for the two year expenditure exemption from the rebate requirements of the Code, the Village covenants that it would take all necessary steps to comply with such requirements.

The Village Board hereby designates the Notes to be "qualified tax-exempt obligations" pursuant to the provisions of Section 265(b)(3) of the Code and in support of such designation, the Village Clerk/Treasurer or other officer of the Village charged with the responsibility for issuing the Notes, shall provide an appropriate certificate of the Village, all as of the Closing.

Section 13. Execution of the Notes. The Notes shall be prepared in typewritten or printed form, executed on behalf of the Village by the manual or facsimile signatures of the President and Village Clerk/Treasurer, authenticated, if required, by its Fiscal Agent, appointed herein, sealed with its official or corporate seal, if any, or a facsimile thereof and delivered to the Purchaser upon payment to the Village of the purchase price thereof, plus accrued interest to the date of delivery. In the event that either of the officers whose signatures appear on the Notes shall cease to be such officers before the delivery of the Notes, such signatures shall, nevertheless, be valid and sufficient for all purposes to the same extent as if they had remained in office until such delivery. The aforesaid officers are hereby authorized to do all acts and execute all documents as may be necessary and convenient to effectuate the Closing.

Section 14. Payment of the Notes; Fiscal Agent. The principal of and interest on the Notes shall be paid by Associated Trust Company, National Association, Green Bay, Wisconsin which is hereby appointed as the Village's registrar and fiscal agent pursuant to the provisions of Section 67.10(2), Wisconsin Statutes (the "Fiscal Agent"). The Fiscal Agent Agreement between the Village and the Fiscal Agent shall be substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit D and incorporated herein by this reference.

Section 15. Utilization of the Depository Trust Company Book-Entry-Only System. In order to make the Notes eligible for the services provided by The Depository Trust Company, New York, New York ("DTC"), the Village agrees to the applicable provisions set forth in the Blanket Issuer Letter of Representations previously executed on behalf of the Village and on file in the Village Clerk/Treasurer's office.

Section 16. Undertaking to Provide Continuing Disclosure. The Village hereby covenants and agrees, for the benefit of the holders of the Notes, to enter into a written undertaking (the "Undertaking") required by SEC Rule 15c2-12 promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Rule") to provide continuing disclosure of certain financial information and operating data upon request and timely notices of the occurrence of certain events in accordance with the Rule. This Undertaking shall be enforceable by the holders of the Notes or by the Purchaser on behalf of such holders (provided that the rights of the holders and the Purchaser to enforce the Undertaking shall be limited to a right to obtain specific performance of the obligations hereunder and any failure by the Village to comply with the provision of this Undertaking shall not be an event of default with respect to the Notes).

The Village Clerk/Treasurer, or other officer of the Village charged with the responsibility for issuing the Notes, shall provide a Continuing Disclosure Certificate for inclusion in the transcript of proceedings, setting forth the details and terms of the Village's Undertaking.

Section 17. Conflicting Resolutions; Severability; Effective Date. All prior resolutions, rules or other actions of the Village Board or any parts thereof in conflict with the provisions hereof shall be, and the same are, hereby rescinded insofar as the same may so conflict. In the event that any one or more provisions hereof shall for any reason be held to be illegal or invalid, such illegality or invalidity shall not affect any other provisions hereof. The foregoing shall take effect immediately upon adoption and approval in the manner provided by law.

A trout for Mr. Bear

The Rush River is one of the upper midwest's most respected trout fisheries.

Hello Friends,

The Rush River in Pierce County has a lot of brown trout in it. That's what I discovered for myself two years ago when I fished the Rush River for the first time, and again when I returned last year.

For this year's trip, I had one goal in mind. Last fall, I harvested a black bear with my bow, and I am currently having a half-mount completed of him. The bear will be angling out of a wall and walking on a log. So he doesn't get hungry, I want to catch a trout to put in his mouth. Besides having fun, my goal was to catch my bear a fish.

Sunday, May 15
High 62, Low 35

I don't get a chance to do much trout fishing, so I was pretty excited about this trip. My plan was to fish from around 5 p.m. until well after dark, sleep in the back of my truck, and then give it a good day on Monday. First, I got lost. Then, when I finally reached the Rush River where I planned on fishing, I strapped on a brand new pair of neoprene chest waders.

Until today, I have always worn cheap rubber waders. What a treat it was to wade in a quality boot. I caught a trout on my third cast with my Rapala. Then two casts in a row, I got snagged high up in the trees.

My plan was to wade upstream, catch fish (hopefully big fish), and when I reached the Honey Hole from Heaven, park myself there for the night and fish with crawlers. On my hike, I got to see a just-born hereford calf take its first steps as its mother nervously watched me. I noticed that the river is down about 18 inches from the last two times I fished it, and I caught four brown trout in the 10-inch range. The shoreline I was fishing from was either cattle pasture, forest or limestone ridges.

When I reached the Honey Hole from Heaven where I caught a 17-inch brown trout last year and several others over 12 inches, I switched to a crawler and made myself comfortable for the night. By dark, I had caught 10 trout, of which two were brookies and the other eight were browns. I didn't catch any monsters, and I felt the low water had something to do with that.

My honey hole is about 30 yards long, four feet deep and has limestone on one side and forest on the other.

On its top is a gentle rapids where I caught the brookies. With nary a care in the world, I waited to catch the right trout for my bear's mouth and watched a whole bunch of nature.

A muskrat swam by on the opposite shore. When it started swimming through a deadfall, there was a tremendous splash, and the muskrat vanished. Something definitely ate that rat. As I spent the next four hours straddling a deadfall dangling my feet in two feet of water, I kept trying to figure out what could have made such a huge splash and make a full-grown muskrat go bye-bye just like that.

To be perfectly honest, I fished until 11 p.m., which was well after dark. I actually had some scary thoughts about the whole subject. I reached my truck late in the evening, pulled out my sleeping bag and slept very well.

Monday, May 16
High 62, Low 36

I felt lazy this morning. So instead of immediately strapping on the chest waders and heading up river, I decided to fish from the shore next to the truck. I cooked myself a decent breakfast and relaxed by the river. I caught four brown trout, which I then released. None were in the 16-20 inch range that I want to put in my bear's mouth.

Last night, while watching the moon, I smelled something really nasty, and kept thinking that it couldn't be me. I'm only on day one of this trip. This morning while cooking breakfast, I discovered the stink. The flannel shirt I was wearing, which I last wore ice fishing, had a zip lock bag of dead minnows in its breast pocket. I keep that shirt in the garage, and several times this spring my wife has said that something smells in there. Since I am in charge of keeping the garage clean, that put me on the defensive, and I always told her she has been "smelling things."

Today I went exploring to a different stretch of river, and I was catching lots of fish until a solid rain began. At the same time, a crane fly hatch started. The Rush River literally came alive with brown trout on a feeding frenzy. No matter what I threw at them, they ignored it.

I will have to come up with a new plan for the bear's mouth. All else is well in my life.

Walleye fishing next!

Son fills in nicely; Anderson captures another HEK title

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

When Craig Anderson found out Bruce Henning, his usual partner, was not available for this year's Hon-E-Kor Bestball tournament, he had to go no farther than his own home to find a substitute.

Anderson, the coach of the West Bend West girls and boys golf team and longtime Hon-E-Kor member, asked his son Jeff to join him for the 21st annual event, and the younger Anderson, an eighth grader at Silverbrook Middle School, filled in quite admirably.

The father-son team shot back-to-back 68s for a 136 in the 36-hole event. They won by four shots over Jay Krueger, the coach of the West Bend East boys golf team, and his partner, Mike Flannery of Milwaukee and the team of Keith Gagnon and Jeff Klotz.

Krueger and Flannery started out with a 69 Saturday, and followed that up with a 71. The Gagnon/Klotz duo was the picture of consistency with two straight 70s for their 140.

Todd Rathkamp and Paul Koszarek were alone in fourth place at 143 (69-74), and there was a three-way tie for fifth between Dave Olds and Dan Gibson (73-74—147), Joe Doherty and Dan Ley (71-76—147) and Tom and Preston Dembowski (71-76—147).

The Andersons played as if they had done so before, helping each other out on the Red Nine Sunday, toward a 3-under-par 32, then coasting home on the White Nine with just one "hiccup," a bogey five on No. 13.

"That was our only bogey of the tournament," Craig Anderson said, offering lots of praise for his son's efforts.

"I thought he (Jeff) did a real nice job for the first time he played in this," Craig Anderson said. "He had two birdies on the front ... he played real well, in fact, he was even or 1-under (on the Red Nine) ... kinda kept us in it when I had a slow start (Sunday)."

Jeff Anderson also parred No. 10 when dad had a bogey, but then experience took over as Craig Anderson finished up the pars on No. 16, 17 and on 18 where he hit a 2-iron, 3-iron, 6-iron and a routine two-putt for the victory.

"I just wanted to keep it low (in the wind on 18). I knew we had a big lead," Craig Anderson said. "This is a tough golf course, especially with the wind we had today. Nos. 14, 17 and 18 were tough going back into the wind. I hit some good shots (on those holes)."

When asked if he was a bit nervous playing against men who were twice and three times his age, young Jeff answered no, and the grin on his face showed how pleased he was to help his dad.

"I birdied Red No. 2 and Red. No. 7 and also helped us win No. 10," Jeff Anderson said proudly.

"We had a good time," Craig Anderson said. "Next year he'll be in high school, so he won't be able to do this."

When asked about Henning, Anderson said he had another commitment over the weekend. "He had fun coming here. He may be back next year."

The win by Craig Anderson, also the defending club champion, was his third in a row and fifth in the last six years.

The winners of the First Flight were Pat Averill and Zack Bloom with a 73-72—145, and in second came Tom Cole and Zehren with 75-71—146.

In the Second Flight, Lou Santini and Tom Timblin combined for a 72-74—146 and a seven-shot lead over Tom Bartelt and Dick Wietor, who carded a 73-80—153.

The winners of the Third Flight were Buck Averill and Rick Averill with a 77-83—160. Three teams were tied for second, including Mike Smith and Ray Roskopf, 80-83—163; Mike Matenaer and Randy Rahlf, 81-82—163; and Chris Kerry and Rob Blair, 80-83—163.

Chuck Rondorf of West Bend provided plenty of excitement Saturday when he scored an ace on No. 7 Red.

There were similarities and differences in the two games played by the Kewaskum Athletics home talent baseball team last week.

The best similarity is the A's won both games, a 10-3 decision over host Juneau in Tri-County Nite league action, and a 3-1 victory over host Hartford on Sunday in a Rock River outing that went 11 innings before the outcome was determined.

The win over Juneau featured plenty of hitting and scoring by the A's, while the second win was a pitchers duel, eventually won by Jake Panzer who came in to pitch the final two innings for the A's.

Jim Zeigler started and was very sharp. He went a full nine innings, giving up just two hits, while striking out nine and walking just one. The lone run Hartford put on the board was unearned.

Kewaskum scored a single run in the fourth inning when one of the A's reached on an error, moved to third on Keith Heberer's hit and scored on a single by Panzer.

In the 11th, Cory Immel started the rally with a single, and after one out, player/manager Jason Strobel got a single, and Adam Sarauer delivered a clutch, RBI single. Then Bob Findlay followed with another single, putting the A's out front by a score of 3-1.

In the bottom of the 11th, Hartford got one runner aboard on a leadoff single, then Panzer put down the next three batters in order.

Against Juneau, it was Jeremy Schmidt picking up the win. In six innings, he struck out eight, walked four and gave up four hits. Of the three runs Juneau had, just one was earned.

Kewaskum's bats were red-hot in this game. The A's had 15 hits, with Heberer going 2x4, Josh Parrent 2x5 with two RBI, and Immel 2x5 with two RBI on a two-run homer in the ninth inning.

"It was relatively close up to that point. Then we scored five runs," Zeigler said in his report on the game.

Strobel also homered. His four-bagger came in the eighth inning, putting the score at 5-3 in the A's favor.

Adam Sarauer could have been tabbed as the "ignitor" in this game after he cleared the bases in the first inning with a big double.

With the two wins, Kewaskum is 4-3 overall, 2-2 in the RR and 2-1 in Tri-County action.

This weekend, Kewaskum hosts Waupun on Saturday and travels to Oshkosh Sunday. Both are Rock River League games.

Gosa, UW rowers are eager for NCAA challenge

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

A couple weeks ago, Bebe Bryans, the coach of the Wisconsin women's rowing team, made a change in personnel on the team's varsity eight boat, and the move paid off not only for the Badgers but for Kewaskum native Colleen Gosa as well.

As a result, the Badgers and Gosa are in Rancho Cordova, Calif., this weekend for the 2005 NCAA Division 1 Rowing Championships which will be held at the CSUS Aquatic Center.

Bryans moved Gosa up from the varsity second boat (junior varsity) and inserted her on the No. 1 lineup going into the Big Ten championship and then the following week for the regional meet in Tennessee. Ohio State won the Central Region competition with 366 points, but the Badgers were so impressive in taking second (324), they were among the seven teams selected to form the 12-team field.

This is the second year in a row Wisconsin has qualified for the NCAA's. Last season, the Badgers placed 11th in the field of 12. At that time, Gosa was on a two-person team, which did not figure in the scoring.

Jerry Gosa, the Kewaskum High track coach, said his daughter told him she kept pinching herself the last week, just to make sure it was real she was going to compete in the NCAA meet.

According to information on the UW web site, the NCAA began sponsoring women's rowing in 1997. Wisconsin qualified in 1997, meaning it has advanced to the big show three out of the nine times it has been held.

This is Bryans' first season with the Badgers, and the team joins three other Big Ten representatives, Michigan, Michigan State and Ohio State, in the NCAA competition. They are all representing the NCAA Central Region.

The winners from each of the five regions were automatic qualifiers, and the remaining seven teams were selected at-large.

In addition to the four Big Ten teams, the other eight which will compete in California are Brown, California, Harvard, Princeton, Southern California, Virginia, Washington and Yale.

Four at-large eights, including Stanford, Syracuse, Tennessee and UCLA, were also invited to compete.

Brown is the defending NCAA champion. In the 2004 competition, crews from Brown outdistanced Yale to capture their fourth national title in six years. The Bears tallied 70 points, while Yale was second with 59, and Michigan earned 52 to take third, just one point ahead of California.

The Wisconsin rowers left Sunday, May 22nd, for California. The races will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Indian golfers slip a bit but keep hold on second place

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

After bouncing around between the varsity and JV teams, it was good Chad Piwoni was playing for the Kewaskum High varsity golf team in Wednesday's final regular season mini-meet because the junior athlete was low man for the Indians.

Piwoni fired a 6-over-par 41 on the front nine at Quit Qui Oc Country club in Elkhart Lake, but the Indians had to settle for fourth place on a day when KHS Coach Glenn Eichstedt said "opportunity came knocking loud and clear," but his team did not capitalize.

The opportunity comment was made because Mike Born of Plymouth, currently sitting with the league's third best average, missed the meet with academic difficulties.

This would have been a good chance for the Indians to stop Plymouth's six-match run this season and a perfect conference record the past three seasons, but it turned out Campbellsport did the honors, after shooting a sizzling 163.

Roncalli finished second at 165, then came the Plymouth Panthers with a 169, a shot ahead of Kewaskum.

"Despite their finishes, Plymouth and Kewaskum remain solidly in first and second place in the conference," Eichstedt said, referring to the fact the Panthers now have nine points, while his team has 17 points.

Along with Piwoni's 41, sophomore Casey Sheel came in with a 43, then came Jason Jahnke at 43 and Luke Koch with a 44.

Jahnke's round was not one of his best this year, but he managed to keep pace with Tom Schwister of Plymouth in the battle for the EWC medal. Both golfers have 46 points, based on a format where the medalist in each mini-meet received 10 points, second receives nine points, third receives eight, etc.

The Indians and all other EWC teams will be back at Quit Qui Oc Saturday for the 18-hole EWC Tournament hosted by Plymouth.

The KHS JVs captured the title for the fourth year in a row, after Andy McDonald and Adam Lehnerz paced the young Indians to a 176 with their 39 and 43.

Eric Cain was next with a 45, and both Jeff Paulus and Ryan Nuernberg came in with 49s.

Kewaskum golfers second in EWC behind powerhouse Plymouth

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

It didn't matter that one of Plymouth's regulars missed the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Golf Tournament.

The Panthers certainly didn't need him as they easily won the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Meet Saturday on their home Quit Qui Oc Golf Course. They wound up with 318 strokes from their top four counters, and that total was 24 strokes ahead of Two Rivers, which jumped into second place with 342, four shots ahead of Kewaskum's 346.

Campbellsport placed fourth, one shot behind the Indians, and then came Roncalli and New Holstein, tied for fifth at 351, Kiel in seventh at 360, and Sheboygan Falls last at 365.

Using points from the tournament and the seven mini-meet, Plymouth claimed another EWC title with a near-perfect 11 points. Kewaskum, with steady play all season long, wound up second with 23 points. This was the best finish by the Indians in at least six years.

Two Rivers had 37 points but that was enough for third place, and then came Campbellsport and Roncalli in a tie for fourth at 43 points. There was also a tie for sixth between Kiel and New Holstein, which both ended up with 48 points, and Sheboygan Falls was far back at 71.

In the battle for the medal Saturday, it was Tom Schwister leading the pack with a 39-38-77, which is six over par. This was the icing on the cake for the Plymouth junior who was the top man on the all-EWC team with 66 points from his finishes in all conference competitions.

Tom Serketich, who shot a 79 Saturday, was second in the race for the conference medal. He had 51 points, one more point than Kewaskum junior Jason Jahnke, the only Indians to make the all-conference team.

Jahnke had been tied for the lead to win the season medal but slipped a little with his 85 Saturday. His nine hole scores were 45-40.

On the back nine, Jahnke started out with a par and two birdies to go 2-under but he bogeyed the next two holes and had a double bogey on No. 15 on his way to a 40.

One hole was very costly to Jahnke on the front nine. He took a nine on the No. 8 hole.

Kewaskum got a pair of 86s from seniors Josh Riebe (41-45) and Luke Koch (45-41), while junior Chad Piwoni came in at 89 (44-45).

No comments were available from coach Glenn Eichstedt on the competition.

Low for Campbellsport was Sam Mueller with a 42-37 - 79.

Season comes to an end for KHS fast-pitch team

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Kewaskum's ride in the Division 2 fast-pitch regional was a short one, but at least the Lady Indians came away with the satisfaction they played hard in their final game, a 6-2 loss to Kiel on May 20.

"It was a good game," KHS coach Jeff Gosse said Monday, reporting, "There were three questionable calls in the game ... there was a huge call in the first inning that just destroyed us."

Gosse explained his team had already scored once and had runners at second and third when Bekki Heberer hit a slow grounder to the shortstop. Tiffany Hedlund broke on the hit, according to Gosse, who said the shortstop pulled up as she went for the ball, then raised her arms, and the umpire "gave her the interference call without any contact being made."

What this meant is Hedlund was called out and Rachel Breese, who was nearing home plate, got sent back to third.

Winning pitcher Leah Feldman then proceeded to get the next batter to ground out, dashing the Indians' hopes of a big inning.

Kewaskum got just two hits off Feldman, one a long single to the gap in right-center field by Heberer, who drove in the Indians other run with it in the sixth inning.

Gosse said Amy Holm had drawn a walk to open the inning, and then Heberer came through with the big hit.

Marissa Dehler had Kewaskum's other hit, a single in the seventh. "She was forced out at second on the next play," Gosse said.

Breese pitched and took the loss. "She pitched a very good game," Gosse said, reporting Breese gave up seven hits, struck out four and walked just three. A couple of the Kiel runs came because of "misadventures in our outfield," according to the coach.

Amy Jaschob had two of the seven hits off Breese, including an RBI single in the bottom of the first. Kiel added a pair of runs in the second, one in the third and two more insurance runs in the fifth.

"She hit the ball real well for them," Gosse said about Kiel's multi-short athlete.

Feldman struck out nine, and Gosse was disappointed because "Six (of the Indians) went down looking ... I don't know if it was a case of nerves or ..."

Kewaskum ended the season with a mark of 2-19.

Kewaskum High senior pitcher Josh Meyer got bounced around pretty good in the first game of Saturday's annual Germantown Tournament, but Meyer and the Indians bounced back pretty well after the 10-2 loss to the hosts and eventually wound up as consolation winners.

Menomonee Falls took the championship, winning by the 10-run over Germantown in the title game.

"We ended up 2-1," KHS coach Dave Donath said, reporting his Indians posted a 12-0 romp over Franklin and a 4-1 victory over Kettle Moraine Lutheran in their final two games.

Meyer gave up nine runs on eight hits, while hitting three batters and striking out just two in 42/3rds innings before Donath called on Jonathan Holt to finish up the game.

The Indians got six hits in Game 1, including a pair by sophomore Dan Shea, who went 2x3 with a double and an RBI.

Catcher Jon Olla added a double, and Meyer tripled and scored one run.

In the decision over Franklin, Jon Roskopf came up with a gem of a mound effort. In six innings of work, Roskopf gave up five hits, struck out four and walked only one Saber.

"A very nice job. He got ahead of the hitters," Donath said, lauding his junior right-hander.

Kewaskum bombarded four Franklin pitchers with an even dozen hits. Meyer went 3x5, Olla was 3x5 with two doubles, Ross Stockhausen went 2x5 with a double and 2 RBI, and Logan Staeger went 2x4 with a double and three runs batted in.

Kewaskum scored once in the first inning and added five more in the second for a commanding 6-0 lead.

Abe Foerster drove from Kohler, where he had been involved in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Tennis Tournament, and arrived in Germantown in time for Game

3 at 5 p.m. He, too, threw well, according to Donath, who said, "The only run he gave up came on a misjudged fly ball."

Foerster, a senior, struck out eight, walked just two and allowed just four hits by the Chargers, who scored their lone run in the fourth inning.

Kewaskum scored one run in the first and third innings and two more in the fifth. Stockhausen, Staeger and Garrett Donath all had RBIs for Kewaskum, which came up with eight hits. Stockhausen went 2x3, while Shea, who is starting the season at second base, was 2x4.

Paul Hoenecke, who lives in Kewaskum and plays for KML, started at third base and pitched one inning, the fifth. He gave up two runs on three hits, according to Donath.

"I'm pleasantly pleased," Donath said, indicating his team is a little thin at this point because several athletes are injured and some are currently involved in track and golf.

"It could be interesting when it comes together," the coach said.

Another realignment plan unveiled

Just when it appeared the Eastern Wisconsin Conference would be whittled down to seven teams beginning with the 2006-'07 season, the wizards at the WIAA have come up with another plan that will return Chilton to the league, also add Waupun and place Two Rivers with Conference X, along with schools near Green Bay and to the north of Green Bay.

"They really don't like the trip to Marinette, 100 miles away, they would have to make," Kewaskum Athletic Director Jason Piittmann said last week about the suggested move for Two Rivers. He had just received information on the latest plan, which is scheduled to be discussed today (Thursday) with Deb Hauser of the WIAA present, along with the current EWC athletic directors and principals.

In this proposal, Roncalli would be sent to the Packerland, and Piittmann has heard Roncalli officials are not excited about this idea because many of the schools in that league do not have as many sports as it currently has, plus many do not have freshmen programs as Roncalli does.

Waupun, which has bounced around from the Wisconsin Little Ten to the East Central Flyway, would come in as the No. 2 team as far as school enrollment is concerned. For placement in the 2,005 tournaments, Waupun had 779 students, which would be second only to Plymouth, which currently has 8769.

Kewaskum is third high at 659, which is eight fewer students that it had for the 2,004 tournament enrollment.

"It would be hard for us to complain about adding Waupun and Chilton to replace these two (Two Rivers and Roncalli)," Piittmann said. "It drops 20 miles, round trip, from our average road trip."

Piittmann went on, "In terms of enrollment, Waupun would be a good fit ... second largest with the projected trend to decline ... as are most schools in our league. Chilton wanted out of the EWC due to size discrepancies in the past, so I'm not sure what their feelings are about this newest proposal."

Chilton was a member of the EWC until several years ago when it became a member of the Olympian Conference.

Tennis team ends regular season convincingly

Things couldn't have worked out better for the Kewaskum High boys tennis team in its final Eastern Wisconsin Conference match at Chilton last Monday.

The Indians claimed all four singles spots to win 6-1 and finish the season with a 25-24 win-loss mark in EWC play.

"We finished third in the conference ... before the tournament anyway," KHS Coach Dan Ross said.

When asked if the meet was a breeze for the Indians, Ross said that was not the case. "They (matches) were close actually."

Ross went on, "We had three left on the court, Nos. 1 and 3 singles and No. 2 doubles," and needed to win two of them to get above .500.

Mitch Paulus' match ended first at No. 1 doubles, and he eked out a 6-4, 0-6, 7-6 (7-4) win in a tiebreaker.

"He (Paulus) was down 5-3 (in the third set) and came back and won it," the coach said, reporting the No. 2 doubles team, comprised of David Figge and John Carpenter were expected to win but didn't.

"They lost, which surprised me," Ross said about the 5-7, 7-6 (9-7), 4-6 decision. but his disappointment was quickly tempered. "Then I found out Chilton's No. 2 team (Justin Munsch and Patrick Meyer) is unbeaten," he said.

Sophomore Jacob Cochran came through with the sixth win, when he defeated junior Doug Schuette 6-7, (4-7), 6-4, 6-

3. Travis Bryant and freshman Dan Parker had already won their singles matches and did so in straight sets.

Kewaskum 6, Chilton 1. Singles: 1. Paulus def. Jared Stroobants 6-4, 0-6, 7-6 (7-4); 2. Travis Bryant def. Mike Berth 6-1, 6-2; 3. Cochran def. Schuette 6-7 (4-7), 6-4, 6-3; 4. Dan Parker def. Tony Propson 6-3, 6-3.

Doubles: 1. Abe Foerster/Josh Bryant def. Reid Wettstein/Bill Stroobants 6-7 (2-7), 6-3, 6-1; 2. Figge/Carpenter def. Munsch/Meyer 5-7, 7-6 (9-7) 4-6; 3. Craig Johann/Adam Ziebell def. Justin Lecher/Spencer Karls 6-0, 6-4.

A report on the EWC Tournament and the WIAA Division 2 sub-sectional will be included in next week's Statesman.

EWC Conference outing not the best for Indian track teams

Senior standout Eric Nass had several good efforts in last week's Eastern Wisconsin Conference Track Meet, but he didn't get the win he wanted in the 400-meter dash. Above, Nass comes out of the blocks in the race. He led for a while but eventually finished second in 52.10.

There's nothing a coach dislikes more than seeing his athletes miss opportunities to do well, and that's pretty much how Kewaskum High track coach Jerry Gosa felt Tuesday after the Eastern Wisconsin Conference meet hosted by Kiel.

He said they missed good chances at establishing bragging rights in the league.

The Kewaskum boys team finished fifth with 92 points, while the Lady Indians had to settle for sixth place at 81 points.

Plymouth was crowned as top dog in the boys' title race. The Panthers had 134 points, seven more than Two Rivers, which lost ace David Meissner in two events because of a severe hamstring injury. The Two Rivers girls came up big, scoring 135 points, way ahead of Sheboygan Falls (96), Kiel (96) and Plymouth (89.5), which staged quite a battle for the runner-up spot. Campbellsport was next with 84, then came Kewaskum.

"I told them (track athletes) this definitely wasn't their finest meet of the year," Gosa said several days after the meet. "We probably should have been second or third, both for the boys and the girls."

The Indian boys had one lone first place, coming in the 4x400-meter relay, and they won the event with Zach Holm substituting for Nick Bartley, who, Gosa said, was held out of the meet because of a slight hamstring pull.

The other runners were Garrett Donath, Zach VanWormer and Eric Nass.

Kewaskum's time of 3:33.90 was two full seconds ahead of Kiel, but over five seconds slower than their best time of the season.

Not to worry, Kiel's asphalt track slowed just about every athlete in the meet, and the Indians still brought home gold.

"Anytime you can run an alternate and still win, that's pretty good," Gosa said, adding, "Zach was thrilled to come home with a gold medal."

There were plenty of seconds by the Indians, including one by Donath in the pole vault, which was held on Wednesday at New Holstein.

Donath and Cody Steinhauer of Two Rivers both cleared 12 feet, 6 inches (12-6), and Steinhauer got the nod because of fewer misses.

Luke Herriges placed second in the high jump, but his effort of 5-10 was disappointing, considering he had consistently been jumping 6-0 and even 6-2.

Herriges and teammate Adam Schlosser had been aiming for a 1-2 finish but wound up second and fourth (5-10).

Donath also placed second in the 100 (11.50), and Nass finished second in three events, the 400 (52.10), triple jump (39-4.75) and the long jump (19-1).

Gosa was hoping Nass would be able to win the 400, which was one of the feature races with three excellent runners having chances to claim the top spot. Meissner went down early in the race, and Nass was in the lead at the halfway mark, before Mitch Adams of Plymouth put on the jets and shot into the lead for good. His time was 51 seconds flat.

VanWormer also picked up points for the Indians in this event with his fifth place (54.20).

"I would have liked to see him place higher," Gosa said, referring to the fact Van Wormer had run as low as 51.90.

Gosa was also figuring on two solid places from Bob Gibson in the distance races, but, "He is nursing a sore hip. He went out and struggled."

In the 1,600, Gibson's finished 10th (5:00.7) and in the 3,200, he ran a 10:56.30, good for eighth.

"Where would a 10:24 (Gibson's recent best time) put him ... third," Gosa said on how a few things did not go right for his team.

Other top-six finishes included: 200 — Donath, third in 24.0; 110 high hurdles — Scott Rhoads, fifth in 17.30; and the 4x100 relay — Chad Hackbarth, Justis Clayton, Jake Sabel and Ross Stockhausen, third in 47.60.

"That was nice to have those kids to place third," Gosa said.

The KHS girls garnered four first places and there was no letdown by senior Amanda Donath, who won the 400 with a time of 61.10. 1.8 seconds ahead of the next runner.

Donath figured in one of the relay wins, leading off the 4x200 which came in first with a clocking of 1:53.20. The other runners were Lindsay Keller, Katie Patterson and Jessi Butler.

Patterson, who wound up with three first places, was part of the 4x100 relay (first in 52.70) along with Butler, Keller and freshman anchor Kelly Uelmen.

Two of the best events for the Lady Indians were the 200 and the pole vault, which netted the team 18 points on the first by Patterson, who cleared 9-6, and the second by Crystal Treptow, who successfully reached 9-0.

"This has traditionally been a good event for us," Gosa said, reporting both girls had personal bests. Treptow, who struggled to clear 6-0 last year, has shown marked improvement while Patterson has been one of the team's stars all season. "We'll miss her like crazy next year," the coach said.

In the 200, Donath was second at 27.70, .5 out of first place, with Keller third at 28.3, and Uelmen sixth in 29.2. That added up to 17 points.

"Lindsay ran very well," Gosa said. "Anytime you get three places in an event, you pick up a lot of points."

Butler was fifth fastest in the 100 with a time of 13.70.

What hurt Kewaskum Tuesday was the absence of Sam Droese, who was favored to win the high jump and help the 4x400 relay. She was out with a bit of a neck problem.

In the weights, Erika Brock picked up a fifth at 31-5.25, and the Indians got two places in the discus, a sixth by Claire Spang at 88-6 and a seventh by Brock (86-9).
