What's next for Kewaskum's Village Lake Center, commercial complex?

By Andrew Kuehl
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Last week, The Statesman was the first to bring its readers news of a $30 million commercial development dubbed, Village Lake Center coming to the village. After initial shock wore off, residents around the community were asking, "Is this for real?"

Just what is the next step for this development? Before any building occurs the developer and village are responsible for putting in sewer and water to the entire Tax Incremental District (TID). Recently the village acquired a little over $5 million in bond anticipation notes (See May 19 edition) for the project.

At their June 6th meeting the village will do some revenue bonding for the rest of the project. They will also review the concept plan for the commercial complex that the plan commission favorably sent to them. (See May 26th edition)

If the village board finds favor with the development a developer's agreement will be drafted and upon approval, a public hearing will be held for a conditional use permit for a commercial planned unit development (PUD). Village administrator Dan Schmidt did not know at what juncture that public hearing could be held.

The builders of the commercial complex are applying for three liquor licenses. William P. Melchiori, agent for Bullseye Construction LLC is the applicant. These applications will be reviewed at the June 20th Village Board meeting.

Also at that June 20th meeting, the village board will hold a public hearing for the issuance of a conditional use permit for the PUD that will be developed by United Construction Group and will consist of mainly duplex housing units. This will be in an area west of the proposed commercial complex. There will be 24 two-family units.

The Statesman will continue to cover any new developments in the proposed complex.

Motorcycle accident in Farmington

By Judy Steffes
Statesman Correspondent

A 34-year-old Random Lake man was critically injured in a motorcycle accident in the Town of Farmington.

Authorities say Todd Robertson was injured when he tried to pass a north-bound vehicle in a no passing zone. That vehicle then turned and hit the motorcycle.

The accident happened around 5:15 a.m. Tuesday afternoon on State Highway 144 near Scenic Road.

Washington County Sheriff's deputies say Robertson was not wearing a helmet. He was taken by Flight for Life Helicopter to Froedtert Memorial Hospital in Milwaukee.

Lt. Governor visits for Ice Age Trail improvements dedication

Key individuals unveil a plaque that will be erected as part of the improvements to the Ice Age Trail's Kewaskum segment. Left to right Rod Bartlow, former chair of the Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation, John Shank, president of the Board of Directors, Lt. Governor Barbara Lawton and Kris Krause vice president of environmental affairs for WE Energies.

Though the $8,000 worth of improvements to the Ice Age Trail in the Town of Kewaskum is complete, officials opted to wait to dedicate the trail until better weather. WE Energies stepped up to the plate two years ago and helped to provide a grant for a number of improvements

That grant helped to build a parking lot for users. The trail suffered numerous acts of vandalism and it's hoped that with the parking lot that will prohibit that. The segment of the trail is located on Ridge Road behind Sunburst Ski Hill.

Lt. Governor, Barbara Lawton was impressed with the amount of volunteer hours consumed by the group.

The Ice Age Park & Trail Foundation is a non-profit, volunteer and member-based organization headquartered in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Established in 1958, it now has over 5,000 members who support the Ice Age Trail. Volunteers are organized into 22 local chapters along the Ice Age Trail and membership in 40 states. Over 87,000 volunteer hours were logged by foundation members and volunteers.

Working cooperatively with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, National Park Service, many local governments, businesses and private landowners, the foundation staff and volunteers work to protect, promote, build and maintain the many segments of the Ice Age Trail — a thousand-mile national and state scenic trail located entirely in Wisconsin. The purpose of the Trail is to tell the story of the Ice Age and continental glaciation along a scenic footpath.

The mission of the Ice Age Park and Trail Foundation is to create, support and protect a thousand-mile foot trail tracing Ice Age formations across Wisconsin.

In Wisconsin the trail spans from St. Croix Falls to Door County.

The group has a hiking event planned on July 10 to explore the Milwaukee River Segment. The hike is 3.7-miles one way with a shuttle to HWY H.

Interested individuals should meet at the New Fane parking lot in the Northern Kettle Moraine State Forest. For more info. contact Craig Sanford, 262-820-0397.

*Line of credit offers a ten-year "draw period" and a minimum loan amount of $10,000. Monthly interest payments are calculated on the amount of funds borrowed not the full line of credit. MidAmerica's EQUITY CashLine has a variable rate. The Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is based on the Prime Rate published in the Money Rates section of the Wall Street Journal on the last publishing date of each calendar month. As of 05/03/05, Prime was 6.00% and the APR on EQUITY CashLine programs varied between 5.09% to 10.00%. Your rate and corresponding APR may be different than the advertised rate and depend on your loan amount, loan-to-value ratio, property type, occupancy and credit qualifications. Rates are subject to change at any time without notice and may be higher or lower than the current advertised rate. Lifetime Annual Percentage Rate is 75.34%. The minimum Annual Percentage Rate (floor) is 3.55%. An annual fee of $50 is charged after the first year. If the loan is closed within the first two years of the loan term, a $250 early closure fee will apply. Payments of interest only or minimum monthly payment will result in a final balloon payment. Approval fees apply to properties outside of our lending areas and may apply for properties with two-to-four units. Property title and/or flood insurance, if applicable, are required. Please consult with a tax advisor about the deductibility of interest. The introductory interest rate is 1% below the Prime Rate (currently 5.07% APR) for the first 90 days after the account is opened with an initial draw of $10,000 or more. During the introductory period, there will be no minimum interest rate. If you receive the introductory interest rate, on the 91st day after the account is opened, your rate will be determined as described above.

Sensenbrenner votes against funding for stem cell research

Congressman Jim Sensenbrenner voted against 50 other Republicans on a measure to spend federal funds on a new type of embryonic stem cell research. The GOP Representative from Menomonee Falls says the bill does not address the moral and ethical questions raised by the specter of destroying human life. Sensenbrenner says he feels the bill's passage is the first step toward the cloning of human embryos. The house passed the bill by a vote of 238-194. President Bush says he will veto the measure.

Traffic signals to return to Hwy. 33

It looks like the traffic signals near the Westwood Mall in West Bend will be reactivated. The city's engineering department conducted a traffic analysis study. They've determined it would be best to fix the signals which have been on the blink since last year.

City engineer Judy Neu is going to propose the signals be repaired and reactivated during a meeting next month with the Board of Public Works. Neu says she wants the signals fixed in such a way that they will not need to be tweaked when upgrades are made in the future.

Wild Goose trail extended half mile in FdL

The Wild Goose Trail in neighboring Dodge and Fond du Lac Counties is going to be extended. A stewardship grant is being used to pay for the half-mile trail expansion. The addition will include a bridge that will run over Hwy. 41 in Fond du Lac and end at Hickory Street. The near $400,000 project is expected to be completed in 2007.

Load limits in place for CTH P

Load limits on a bridge carrying CTH P over a branch of Cedar Creek, about a half-mile south of CTH PV became effective June 2.

The 85 year-old bridge on CTH P, which was US 45 before the West Bend bypass was constructed, has deteriorated and will be restricted to vehicles weighing less than eight tons. The aging bridge carries approximately 4,000 cars and trucks per day.

The county highway committee is pursuing every option to replace the deteriorating bridge as expeditiously as possible.

DAR chapter presents media award to WTKM radio

WEST BEND - The Joseph Marest Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution honored WTKM Radio for its community service Thursday, May 26, during the chapter's spring luncheon at the West Bend Country Club. Melanie Farrell, state and chapter chair of the Public Relations, Motion Picture, Radio and Television Committee, presented the Award for Excellence in Community Service to Larry Jay of WTKM, who accepted the award for the station.

Chapter Regent Carol Orth described the station's service to community through its connection with listeners: call-ins, newscasts serving a wide audience including the area farming community, and the area's longest running locally produced talk show, Open Line. "WTKM AM & FM is known as the "Polka Place," Southeastern Wisconsin's premier polka station and features many area bands and requests from listeners. The station gives priority to live remote broadcasts from polka events and ethnic festivals and emphasizes local news and talk as well as high school sports play-by-play," she said.

Luncheon guests included new State Vice Regent Julie Stuhlmacher and new State Chaplain Marie Schmidt, as well as members of the Fond du Lac and Port Washington DAR chapters. Special guest speaker was Colonel Frederick F. Murphy of Cudahy, a retired teacher, who appeared in Civil War uniform as a Union officer and provided an entertaining education on "Famous and Infamous People of the Civil War."

New chapter officers were installed by Marie Schmidt and include Rosanne Aman, regent; Barbara Oakley, vice regent; Adele Lenz, chaplain; Jean Linton, secretary, Melanie Farrell, treasurer; Carol Orth, registrar; and Mary Beth Winkowski, historian/librarian. The Joseph Marest Chapter also welcomed its newest member, Catherine Torielli, and recognized members who have reached milestones in their membership in the National Society. They include Rosanne Aman, a member for 25 years, Margaret Nielsen, a member for 60 years and founding member of the local chapter, Jean Myers, a member for 40 years, and Jean Schowalter, a member for 50 years.

Saturday is the big day for J.A.K.E.S. free fishing

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The first of June means a couple of annual events are on the horizon ... school is just about finished for the year and the J.A.K.E.S. Fishing Day is coming. In fact, it's coming up this weekend, Saturday, June 4th at the River Hill Park.

This is the 14th year of the event, according to one of the dedicated workers on the committee, Jim Schaub, who plans on helping at the event despite the fact he recently had shoulder surgery.

J.A.K.E.S. stands for Juniors Acquiring Knowledge, Ethics and Sportsmanship, according to Schaub, who enjoys seeing the fun all the children and their parents have fishing.

The event, which is sponsored by the Gateway Gobblers of the Turkey Federation, will run from 9 a.m. until noon, and Schaub said it is free. "Just bring your pole, bait and a comfortable chair," he said, adding, "We're doing lunch again at noon."

A number of major sponsors help make the fishing day possible. They include: Wings

Over Wisconsin, New Fane Sportsman's Club, Kettle Moraine Sportsman's Club, the Kewaskum Lions Club, the West Bend/Barton Sportsman's Club and the Kewaskum Kiwanis.

"These are the big donors," Schaub said, indicating there are a lot of local businesses and individuals who donate money or food for the lunch or offer their services. Included in this list are: Kohn's Citgo, Geidel's Piggly Wiggly, 7-up Bottling, L and R Trophy, which makes the trophies for the kids catching the largest bluegills, Woodcraft Signs (Andy Cochran), Kewaskum Mobil, Jim Schaub Home Improvements, Amoco/Strobel Oil, Shirley Giese, Wally Seibel, Jim and Marilyn Pierner.

As far as the number of fish that will be ready for catching, Schaub had good news. "Last year we put in 400 fish that cost $800," he said. "This year, we're spending $1,100 on fish" because they had some money left in their treasury.

Schaub is hoping to have between 150-200 register for the event. "Last year, it was down a little" perhaps because of all the rain in May, Schaub said, reporting, "We had 127 kids last year. The year before we had 215."

While the registration will begin at 9 a.m. sharp, children may begin fishing earlier than that, according to Schaub, who said the bluegills will be put in the river Saturday morning.

Along with Schaub, there are at least a dozen others who contribute their time to make the free fishing day a success. They include: Gary Panzer, Phil Enders (the club president), Dick Adeo, Giese, the Pierners, Earl Kleinke, Ralph Miller, Dennis Petermann, Jim Roe, Bill Schreiber, Scott Boedeker, Jim Deitsch, John Hoerchner, George Hollrith, Paul Sebo, Wally Seibel, Myles Rahn and Debbie Mantz.

There will be only prizes for the largest bluegills for each age group. "Then everyone's on the same playing field," Schaub said.

And by the way, there is free fishing for adults in Wisconsin on the weekend of June 4-5, so the parents are invited to wet a line and join in the fun with their children.

Registration will take place on the west side of the river at the shelter.

There's a Raccoon in the Garbage program June 11

The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit Summer Evening Events series continues with "There's a Raccoon in the Garbage!" This evening is sponsored by the Friends of the Kettle Moraine.

The program will be held on Saturday, June 11, from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off of Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

As humans develop more and more land, wildlife has had to adapt to live with people or move out. Some of the animals found living around our neighborhoods have adapted so well to the altered landscape that their populations have grown beyond expectations. Some have even become pests: raccoons rummaging in the garbage, geese messing the golf greens; deer eating garden plants, and bats hanging out in our attics.

Join Ricky Lien, Dept. of Natural Resources Urban Wildlife Specialist, as he explains why some animals are doing so well in our urban/suburban areas and why some populations have grown out of control. He will also share tips on how to deal with unwanted wildlife visitors and neighbors.

For further information or directions to the Ice Age Visitor Center, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The staff can be reached at (920) 533-8322. The center is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Marsh Mallow is a plant that grows in meadows and marshes of eastern Europe. It is now grown in the U.S. During famines, people have eaten its roots. The root was once used as an ingredient in the candy called marshmallow.

Little Folks supports child abuse prevention

Brian and Pat from Friends of Abused Families share artwork done by children in Brian's art therapy group.

The staff of Little Folks School House in Wayne works with children on a daily basis. One of their top priorities is keeping the little folks safe. During the month of April, being Child Abuse Prevention month, the teachers all wore a blue ribbon to support awareness. The teachers were recently given in-service training on Child Abuse and Neglect. Two staff members from Friends of Abused Families visited and did the training.

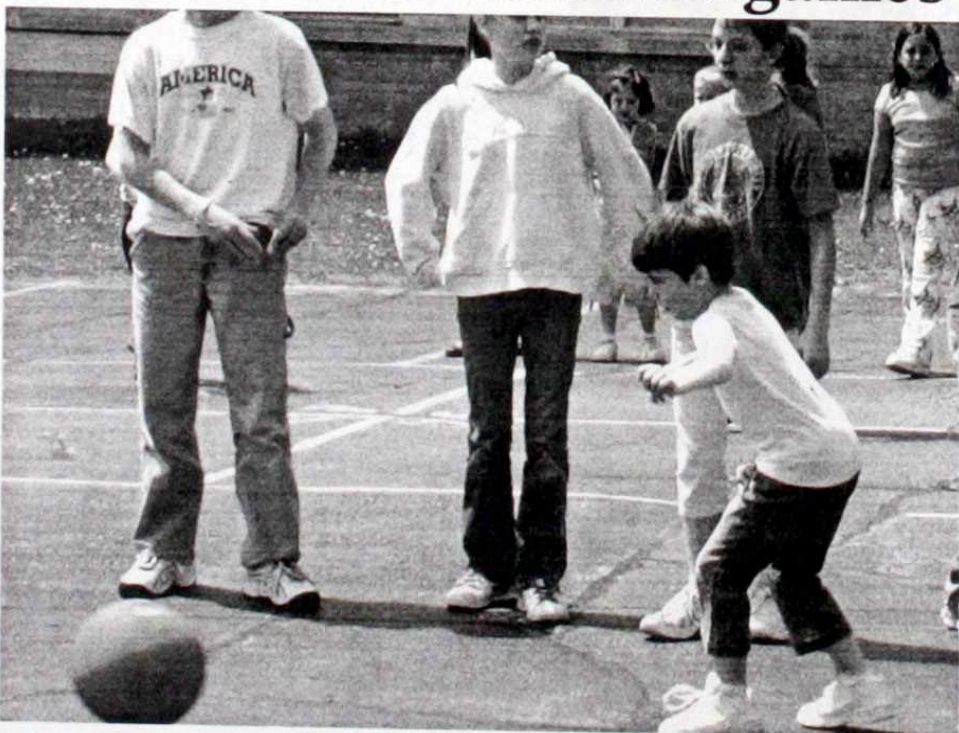

There are several forms of child abuse which include sexual, physical, and emotional abuse. The Little Folks teachers learned about the indicators of sexual abuse, how an abuser chooses his/her victim and the tricks commonly used. Because child care workers are mandated reporters of child abuse, they learned what exactly is reportable and how to report it. The presentation included statistics and a graphic video followed by questions and discussion.

The teachers are now armed with information to share with parents regarding safety tips and how they can minimize opportunities for offenders. The Little Folks School House plans on educating the children in safety during the month of June with help from the Washington County Sheriff's Department.

Friends of Abused Families offers free and confidential services including a 24-hour crisis line, women's support groups, crisis intervention counseling, emergency transportation and shelter. They also provide community education, legal advocacy, sexual assault programs, and children's programs. Friends of Abused Families can be reached at 262-334-5598. Their crisis number is 262-334-7298.

Holy Trinity students have afternoon of fun and games

On May 6, students at Holy Trinity School participated in an afternoon of fun and games. The students were split up into prides, which are groups of students of all different ages and grades. The students participated in kickball, dodgeball, four square, basketball, tag games such as mouse tail, which is a game where students try to grab another's tail which is attached to their pants, also a buffalo run which you run around and try not to get hit with balls. This school-wide event started at 1:15 and went until the end of the day. All prides had been given three activities to participate in for 20 minutes. Shown above is Nathan Seitz, with his pride in the background, playing kickball.

As early as 4000 B.C., ancient people used crude pens consisting of hollow straws or reeds that supported a short column of liquid.

FES students get a lesson in ballooning

Retired U.W. Washington County professor and hot air balloonist, Gary Britton, spent some time at Farmington Elementary Friday, May 27. Britton, a resident of Slinger, has been ballooning for about 30 years. He owns Balloon Reflections, LLC. His visit to FES was arranged through the parents of Meg, Josh and Emma Borkowski. The PTO sponsored the event for the entire school. In the photo above, students watch as Britton demonstrates the size of his hot air balloon. Due to good, but not perfect weather, he was not able to blow up the balloon outside. In order to embark on a balloon adventure weather conditions must be perfect to ensure a safe ride. In the photo on the left Britton demonstrates the use of propane to heat the air in the balloon.

Spinning the Globe

by Ben Green

Remember how, when you were a kid, there was nothing like a brand-new pair of tennis shoes? Just slipping your toes inside made you sure that you could jump higher, run faster and play better.

Today, you're probably going to pay premium prices for "tennis" shoes, particularly if you want to play basketball in them. That's okay. Who doesn't want to jump higher, run faster and play better?

Once upon a time, there was a basketball team that played better than most, but the members weren't as famous as the guys you see in your newspaper. In "Spinning the Globe" by Ben Green (c.2005, Amistad / Harper Collins), you'll read about what could be the best basketball team ever to step on a court.

In the early part of the last century, the African American population of Chicago was booming. Entire families moved to a part of Chicago that many called Bronzeville. There, young boys learned to play basketball, and they learned it well.

The team was born on Chicago's South Side, despite that "Harlem" was part of their moniker. Harlem itself had nothing to do with the team's name; it only indicated the race of the players on the team, since New York's Harlem was then an important hub of African American culture.

During the first years of the Harlem Globetrotters, the team traveled from town to town, packed in a Model T with no heat. They sometimes played on consecutive evenings in venues 200 miles or more apart, making as little as $1.60 each, for a night's worth of entertaining.

And entertain they did. No one who watched a Globetrotters game could forget The Magic Circle, when the ball moved almost faster than the eye could follow. No one who heard "Sweet Georgia Brown" could forget to whom the theme belonged.

Through decades of delighting fans, though, not all was rosy within Globetrotters camp. Over the years, there was jealousy, womanizing, drugs and debt, and some players complained that the show had too much of a "minstrel" feel. What's more, fans and sports writers began to notice the same thing.

When you pick up this book, you might think that it's only about The Harlem Globetrotters, but that's not all you'll find inside. Author Ben Green dribbles a lot of history in with the Globetrotters' story, and his descriptions of small-town Depression-era America are so vivid that you almost feel like you were there last week. Green also re-creates a time when laws decreed that a white basketball fan could not sit in the same building as a black basketball fan while watching an all-black team play a game against an all-white team.

Be aware that there are stats and game descriptions which can become tedious if you're not much of a basketball fan, but the history that you'll read in this book makes it worth your time. If you've ever seen the Globetrotters in action, though, or if you're a basketball fan, then "Spinning the Globe" is a sure shot.

Wisconsin dealers earn 2005 TruBulk Soybean System Certification

GOLDEN VALLEY - Bulk seed delivery offers local growers a fast, accurate way to bring seed to the field. The innovation of the NK[®] Brand TruBulk[™] delivery system and its annual recertification program ensure local dealers provides quality seed for high germination and emphasize the importance of purchasing seed from a trained, knowledgeable source.

The TruBulk System itself incorporates cone-bottom storage bins and transports seed through a series of conveyor belts and letdown ladders to the grower's wagon. The NK Brand TruBulk system reduces physical risks - such as seed damage, contamination, variety mixtures and incorrect labeling of product - and creates less waste while allowing growers to fill planters more quickly.

"TruBulk soybean seed is the same high-quality product that growers can obtain in individually packaged bags, Convenience Paks or Q-Bit[®] containers of NK Brand seed," said Kurt Sieren, NK Brand soybean product manager. "The TruBulk system offers our customers a more convenient and efficient way to take seed directly to the field, saving valuable time for farmers during the hectic planting season."

Plus, dedicated dealers are required to pass a quality assurance site evaluation, as well as earn equipment and seed handling certification from NK Brand Seeds before using the industry-leading delivery system.

The annual certification training reviews information on required procedures and best management practices for the TruBulk system. The process demonstrates these dealers' commitment to ensuring consistent delivery of quality seed to their customers.

"In addition to updating their storage and handling facilities, these dealers make the investment to be a certified TruBulk facility because it saves their customers time and energy," Sieren said. "Dealers work hard to improve efficiency for growers, and providing convenient access to high-quality soybean seed is one way to serve them better."

Plus, some TruBulk dealers have on-site seed treaters, allowing growers to choose to add inoculants or seed treatment, such as ApronMaxx[®], as they pick up their seed. This way, growers can wait until planting to decide if seed treatment is needed, and worker exposure to those chemicals is greatly reduced.

New for 2005, NK Brand soybeans are also available with CruiserMaxx[®] Pak, which is a commercially applied promotional combination of two separately registered seed treatments, Cruiser insecticide and ApronMaxx brand fungicide. It protects the genetic yield potential and boosts profitability for NK Brand soybean growers by providing unmatched defense against a broad spectrum of early season insects and diseases.

There are more than 300 TruBulk locations in the United States, and the number of seed dealers installing the system continues to grow. Several new locations were added this year. For more information about NK Brand's TruBulk system, contact your local dealer or visit www.nk-us.com.

KHS will be well represented at state track meet this weekend

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

"La Crosse here we come" will be the cry of a dozen varsity track and field athletes at Kewaskum High School who came up with excellent efforts in last week's sectional meet and will move on to the WIAA State Meet Friday and Saturday.

"A lot of good efforts," KHS coach Jerry Gosa said Tuesday as he was awaiting the start of the day's classes. Good efforts that included KHS records.

Brown Deer won the boys' competition with 81 points. Host Whitewater was a distant second at 53, one point ahead of Grafton. Kewaskum piled up 41 points, which was good for seventh place, just a point out of sixth.

Lakeside Lutheran was outstanding in the girls competition, amassing a whopping 107 points. Again Whitewater placed second with 69, and Kewaskum's 36 points was good enough for eighth place.

The competition was extremely tough, according to Gosa, who said, "Obviously at this level, you've got to be at or near your best ... or more!"

Qualifying for state for the boys was Garrett Donath in the pole vault, Eric Nass in the 400, Luke Herriges in the high jump, and the boys 4x400 relay, which turned in the performance of the year in an effort to try to unseat a talented Grafton foursome. Grafton, which has three, sub-two minute half milers, prevailed but not by that much. The Blackhawks' time was 3:25.28, and the Indians were next at 3:25.49.

"They really ran well," Gosa said about Donath, Nick Bartley, Zack Van Wormer and Nass. "All four had their best splits ... basically everybody dropped approximately one-half second."

"That's a new record," Gosa said, indicating the group had run a 3:27.1 recently, which was the best ever prior to the sectional.

This is the group that placed eighth a year ago and they are geared up to reach the podium (top six) Saturday afternoon.

Nass had an excellent performance in the 400, taking second with a time of 50.58, just .09 behind Brown Deer's Dan Sellers (50.49).

"That's his official best ... it's also a school record," Gosa said about the senior Nass, who also jumped 41-10 in the triple jump, placing sixth, which was two spots from going to state.

VanWormer also ran an excellent 400, touring the one lap in 51.96 for fifth place, just missing a spot in the state competition.

Donath had a busy day and it was a profitable one. By clearing 13 feet (13-0) in the pole vault, he placed second and is on his way to a first state appearance in the event.

After a disappointing effort in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference Championships, Herriges rebounded nicely in the regional and now in the sectional. By clearing 6-2, he placed third and advances.

Gosa said Herriges jumped well and had no misses at the lower heights, helping him to take third over two others who also cleared 6-2.

Bartley had the toughest challenge of the day, running in the open 800 against the trio of Grafton stars, who came in with outstanding times of 1:56.10, 1:56.66 and 1:57.10.

Bartley, who still had to run in the relay, came in sixth place at 2:01.25.

Other KHS efforts included: 200 — Donath, did not qualify for the finals; high jump — Adam Schlosser, sixth, 6-0; pole vault — Scott Rhoads, tie for 10th, 10-6; long jump — Nass, eighth, 20-6.75; Jake Sabel, 17-7.5.

Amanda Donath had the unenviable task of having to run against Caitlin Dodge of Dominican, who turned in a 56.45 in winning the 400. Donath was next with a 58.32.

"She's (Dodge) the one who signed a Division 1 scholarship for Madison," Gosa said about Dodge. "She's in a class by herself."

At state, "Amanda will be chasing her, but I hope everyone else will be chasing Amanda," Gosa said, confident his runner is capable of taking second in La Crosse.

Donath also placed fourth in the 200 with her clocking of 26.37, so she advances in that event, and the third one is the 4x200 relay which used good handoffs and determination to finish third in 1:48.02. "For them, that's their fastest time of the year by two seconds," Gosa said of his foursome of Donath, Lindsay Keller, Katie Patterson and Jessie Butler.

Butler and Patterson have now been handing off to each other for four years of varsity competition in the sport, according to Gosa, who said it was unfortunate his 4x100 relay (Butler, Patterson, Keller and Kelly Uelmen) had an off day, taking ninth of 16th with a time of 52.57.

"It was a little disappointing ... you feel sorry for the kids," Gosa said.

Patterson, who was in three events in the sectional, cleared 9-6 again in the pole vault to take second place.

"She's on the verge of going higher," Gosa said about Patterson, who is somewhere in the middle of the pole vault field. (She will compete Saturday in the event.)

The other KHS individual qualifier is junior Sam Drose, who cleared 5-0 in the high jump, which was good for fourth place and a spot in the state field.

Other KHS finishes included: 100 — Butler, did not qualify for the finals; long jump — Donath, 12th, 15-8.25; shot put — Erika Brock, eighth, 32-8.50; pole vault — Crystal Treptow, sixth, 8-6; discus — Catherine Stoffel, 11th, 93-04.

Preliminaries in the running events and finals in specific field events, including the Division 2 boys pole vault and Division 2 high jump, will take place Friday. The meet begins at 10:30 a.m. Friday and Saturday.

"The Kettle Moraine Lutheran boys 4x100 just missed qualifying for state, placing fifth at 44.78. The anchor runner for the Chargers is Peter Odell from Kewaskum.

Odell and his brother, Jacob, were also part of the KML 4x200 relay which placed 11th in 1:36.26. Peter Odell also finished ninth in the high jump, clearing 5-10.

Golf's Newest Secret Weapon

(NAPS)—A longer tee could mean a longer drive. Experts have concluded that longer tees help to maximize the launch angle of the club head, which produces less backspin and leads to longer, straighter drives.

Fishing Report: Big Cedar Lake

Bass fishing will be excellent next two months on B.C.L. As the water warms into the 70's, panfish and bass will move into the shallows to spawn. Once spawn is complete look for these fish to move to the deep weed edges and set up there summer locations.

I'm fortunate that I grew up at B.C.L. and have enjoyed a lifetime of fishing this body of water for bass and walleye. I tell fellow fisherman my best secret for these game fish is to keep your fishing simple.

I was just out last night with my daughters and friend Jace and we caught bass and pike. Simply casting small crank baits around the shallow waters of the islands and around piers. Lures in perch and blue pattern works the best every year. Small lures 2-3" long that run shallow will work thru June, fish fast by drifting with the wind and casting to the shallows. This technique will work mornings or evenings.

As summer moves into July, look for the bass and occasional pike to move to the deep weed edge. These weeds will grow down to 12-18' and that is the holding pattern all summer for bass and pike. Fish the deep weeds on the north side of the big island, deep weeds on the east side of the small island. Fish the deep weeds of the north bay and east shoreline. Again the key is to fish the deepest weeds. What to use? Without a doubt the best bait: Leeches. Everything that swims loves to eat leeches; bass, pike, walleyes, panfish, crappies you name it and it's been caught on a leech.

O.K., we know where to go and what to use, know how. Again keep it simple, a sinker and a hook is the most effective technique I know for these deep fish. Drag a lively leech along the deep weeds, be sure to keep contact with the bottom. Drag and hop the leech along working the deep weed edge is key to more and bigger bass. If you have kids along make it simpler yet, a slip bobber floating a leech along the deep weeds will produce loads of bass on any lake you fish.

Right now thru July is bass time on B.C.L. So take your kid fishing, the neighbor kid fishing and whomever else will fit in your boat. Keep things easy and simple and you will look like a hero.

Next month: Walleyes of B.C.L.

Ziebell and Johann lead Indians to third in EWC

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The teams from Roncalli and Kohler pretty much had the top spots in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference tennis race sewed up before they arrived at the conference tournament on May 20-21.

The two schools added more icing to their successful campaigns by winning all four singles titles and two of the three doubles titles. And who kept the Jets and Blue Bombers from the sweep? It was Kewaskum's No. 3 doubles team of Adam Ziebell and Craig Johann, who breezed to the top spot with easy two-set wins in all three of their matches.

"We were the only team besides Kohler and Roncalli to win a championship," KHS coach Dan Ross said proudly about the efforts of Ziebell and Johann and the fact the Indians wound up third overall in the eight-team EWC race.

Roncalli ended up with 75 points from the dual meets and tournament for first place, eight in front of Kohler's 67. Next came Kewaskum, which scored 25 dual meet points and 14 in the tournament for a total of 39. Plymouth and Two Rivers were tied for fourth at 31, then came Sheboygan Falls with 25, followed by Kewaunee and Chilton, which had 20 and 12, respectively.

"We took third in the tournament, which meant we finished third overall ... passed up Two Rivers, who we were tied with," Ross said.

In the first round, the Indian champions blasted a team from Kewaunee 6-0, 6-0, then in the semifinals they took care of Chris Lange and Nick Senovich of Sheboygan Falls 6-2, 6-1, putting them in the finals against John Wolff and Jeremy Green of Roncalli, the No. 1 seed.

This time, No. 2 was better than No. 1 by a score of 7-6 (7-5) and 6-2.

None of the other KHS teams made the finals.

Dan Parker, at No. 1 singles, and the No. 1 doubles team of Abe Foerster and Josh Bryant "suffered tough losses in the third and fourth place matches," according to Ross.

Parker won his first match 6-2, 7-6 (7-3) before losing to Andy Cope of Kohler 2-6, 1-6, sending him into the consolation match against Plymouth junior Matt Passini.

Passini had a little too much experience for Parker and won with two tiebreakers 5-7, 7-6 (7-1), 7-6 (7-2).

Foerster and Bryant started with a pretty good effort against a pair of Plymouth freshmen, winning 6-1, 7-5, but then they lost to Steve Anschutz and Chris Dent of Two Rivers 5-7, 4-6 and were unable to overcome Ryan McDonald and Andrew Waak of Roncalli in the battle for third place. The score of that match was 7-5, 7-6 (7-4) in the Jets' favor.

Sophomore Jacob Cochran also took fourth at No. 3 singles. In his consolation match, he lost to Casey Schmidt of Plymouth 5-7, 2-6.

Mitch Paulus lost in the first round at No. 1 singles, as did Travis Bryant at No. 2 singles.

Ross had figured his No. 2 doubles team of David Figge and John Carpenter would do well, but they made an early exit, losing to Brent Rortved and Regan Krupp of Plymouth, 6-7 (5-7), 2-6 in the first round.

Ross said their loss to Chilton in the final dual meet lost them a seed at No. 2.

"In a Division 2 subsectional at the Pleasant Valley Tennis Club on May 23, the Indians were fourth out of nine teams with Foerster and Bryant advancing at No. 1 doubles and Ziebell and Johann qualifying for sectionals at No. 3 doubles.

"Then they both lost at sectionals right away," coach Ross said, indicating both squads drew opponents from Greendale. In the case of Bryant and Foerster, they had to play the defending state champions, so, "We weren't expecting much there."

Still the two seniors had a solid year, finishing up 13-7, while Ziebell and Johann were 16-6.

As a team, the Indians wound up seventh out of 17.

Westphal gets second ace

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

It's always a treat to play the beautiful Lawsonia Links at Green Lake ... even more so when a golfer scores a hole-in-one there.

Jim Westphal, who retired from teaching and coaching at Kewaskum High School a year ago, experienced the thrill of an ace on the Woodlands 18 there recently. While playing in a foursome with Andy Gonring, Tom Ross and Dave Lyons on May 21, Westphal holed out his tee shot on the 167-yard No. 6 hole.

"I hit a 5-iron," Westphal said. When asked if he and the other golfers in his group saw the ball go in the cup, "Westphal said, "No, there's a big bunker right in front ... the pin was right behind it. I heard it (the pin) rattle. Andy and I both heard it so I thought it had a chance."

When they reached the green, the foursome found the ball in the cup.

This was Westphal's second ace. The other one came several years ago at Quit Qui Oc in Elkhart Lake.

"That one was a little more fun because it came with $5,000," Westphal said, declining to talk about the score he shot at Lawsonia. "Like the day of the first ace, I wasn't playing particularly well."

MADISON - Visitors will have free access to any Wisconsin state park, forest, recreation area or trail on Sunday, June 5 as the state celebrates Wisconsin State Parks Open House Day.

Because Sunday is also part of Free Fishing Weekend in Wisconsin, several parks are featuring fish-related activities and two parks have scheduled special events.

"Open house day kicks off the summer season of fun at Wisconsin State Parks and Trails and we invite residents and visitors to spend the day at their favorite park, or perhaps visit a state park they've never been to before," says Bill Morrissey, director of Wisconsin State Parks.

Mill Bluff State Park near Camp Douglas will hold an "Art in the Park" event with art displays and demonstrations of "life in the Middle Ages" by the Society for Creative Anachronism and medieval artisans demonstrating and re-enacting life in the time between the years 476 and 1453. The Richard Bong State Recreation Area near Kansasville will hold a Family Nature Fair with games, live animals, T-shirt printing, art and nature booths. During Wisconsin State Parks Open House Day, vehicle admission fees and state trail pass fees are waived for people who visit and enjoy the various outdoor activities available at more than 90 state parks, forests, trails and recreation areas.

Free fishing weekend June 4 - 5

MADISON - Resident and nonresident anglers of all ages can fish without a fishing license on June 4-5, as Wisconsin celebrates Free Fishing Weekend.

They also can join in dozens of special fishing events, many of them at state parks, over the weekend, or enjoy touring one of the state's fish hatcheries on June 4, also marked as fish hatchery open house day.

Trout stamps are not needed during the two days, however, all other fishing regulations such as length and limits apply.

"Many of us spend so much time cheering for our kids from the sidelines - Free Fishing Weekend offers us the chance to jump in and actually participate with them," says Theresa Stabo, the Department of Natural Resources' aquatic resources educator and the mother of two teenagers. "You can fish for free, and people will be offering instruction to get you started. So get out and enjoy Wisconsin's lakes and streams!"

People who don't have their own fishing equipment can borrow basic equipment from one of DNR's 42 tackle loaner sites, most of which are located at state parks, forests and recreation areas. Many are offering introductory fishing clinics on Sunday, June 5, when admission to state parks is free. People may also call (608) 266-2272 for a listing of sites with loaner equipment.

Novice anglers, people who haven't fished for some time, or anglers looking for a new water can visit www.fishingwisconsin.org to view the 2005 Fishing Report, or click on "where to fish" to find lists of waters to try for certain fish species or fishing experiences.

Wisconsin offers some of the country's best fishing and 48 percent of the state's residents take advantage of the opportunity, although not necessarily every year. Nonresident anglers spend more days fishing in Wisconsin than any other state but Florida.

Wisconsin has 15,081 lakes, more than 40,000 miles of perennially flowing streams, including 10,000 miles of trout streams, 260 miles of the Mississippi River, and portions of Lake Michigan and Lake Superior. About 90 percent of Wisconsin's waters support naturally, self-sustaining fish populations; DNR hatchery personnel give a helping hand to the rest.

State fish hatcheries raise and stock up to 50 million days-old fish, or fry, and about 12 million larger fish. Every year, anglers catch about 69 million fish, keeping 31 million of them and releasing about 38 million to challenge anglers on another day. Panfish are the most frequently caught fish, followed by walleye and largemouth bass.

Sparks is among the top discus throwers in the U.S.A.

After finishing among the leaders in the Mideast Regional, former Kewaskum High standout Charlie Sparks is on his way to the NCAA Division 1 Track and Field Meet which will be held in Sacramento, California June 9-11.

"Yeah, I got fifth ... I qualified for nationals," Sparks said Monday evening from Terre Haute, Indiana, the home of Indiana State University — it is a member of the Missouri Valley Conference — where Sparks is a junior athletically and a senior academically.

The regional competition was held in Bloomington, Indiana, and specifically the discus competition was held Friday, May 27th, with Sparks launching his best effort of 181 feet and 6 inches (181-6) on his third of six attempts.

When asked if this was his best effort of the year, Sparks said it was "a 7 inch P.R. (personal record) from several weeks earlier."

The winner at Bloomington was Edis Elkasevic of Auburn, who came up with a toss of 188-05 on his second try after fouling on the first. He had one more legal throw, then fouled, and passed twice since the 188-05 was nearly three feet better than the runner-up.

Sparks, who graduated from Kewaskum High in 2001, said qualifying for the nationals works something like advancing to the state meet in high school in that there are automatic qualifiers and extras that move on, if their efforts are good enough.

The top five from each of the four regionals automatically move on, then, "There will be some extra qualifiers if they place among the top eight (overall), but it's unlikely," Sparks said.

Sparks, who is majoring in construction management with a minor in business administration, credits his new weight coach at ISU with his added length in the event this year. "My technique has come a long way" this year, Sparks said, noting, "From last year, I added 15 feet so far."

The "so far" comment was a strong indicator Sparks still has his eyes on topping the 181-foot mark.

"At the meet, I'll be right in the middle (of the field)," Sparks said, indicating he expects there will be 24-25 competing. He reported none of the athletes in any of the four regionals eclipsed the 200-foot mark, but one athlete had a throw of 199.

"What I'm looking to do is break the school record of 185 feet. If I beat that, chances are I will be an All-American ... I made academic All-American this year," Sparks said.

While in high school, Sparks won the Division 2 discus title his junior year and finished second as a senior. He and the other ISU qualifiers are leaving for California on Monday.

Sparks' parents, Karen and Ben, are going to watch the competition. "They're booking their flights right now," Sparks said.

After completion of the meet, Sparks plans to return to Kewaskum. He has a position working for the C.G. Schmidt Construction Company in Milwaukee for the summer.

Third place good enough for KHS golfers to advance

After the host Howards Grove team took a seven stroke lead in the first nine holes of last week's Division 2 golf regional at the Town and County Golf Course, Kewaskum Coach Glenn Eichstedt said the focus of the event turned from winning the title to finishing high enough so the Indians would move on to sectional play.

Mission accomplished! The Indians finished third, taking the final spot, with 335 strokes and advanced to the New Berlin Hills sectional on Tuesday.

Howards Grove easily won the meet with a 322 total, led by senior Adam Hall who fired a 2-over-par 74. Campbellsport, which had an up and down season, was on its up cycle and took second away from Kewaskum by a single shot with a 334.

Eichstedt said his team came into the meet with the second best scoring average out of the 10 teams, and he figured they would need to score in the low 160s or high 150s to challenge Howards Grove.

Kewaskum went out with a 168, then lowered that total by one shot for a 167 on the back and its total. Leading the way was junior Jason Jahnke. Jahnke, who made the all-Eastern Wisconsin Conference team, shot an 81 on nines of 43 and 38.

"We exhibited great consistency by tallying a 167 on the (Riverwoods) back nine," Eichstedt said.

Senior Luke Koch posted a 40-43-83, then came senior Adam Lehnerz with a 42-42-84. Lehnerz and sophomore Casey Scheel had rotated playing the No. 5 spot and took the opportunity to help the team when he drew the varsity position for the regional.

Junior Chad Pivoni rounded out the scoring with his 87. Campbellsport was led by junior Austin Luchow, who came in with an 80, and Matt Cooley, who carded an 83.

The top two teams in the sectional and top three individuals not from those teams will advance to the WIAA State Tournament on Monday and Tuesday, June 6-7 at the University Ridge Golf Course near Madison.

"We are looking forward to competing with the best in Division 2," Eichstedt said. Kettle Moraine Lutheran finished eighth at 352, and freshman Paul Hoenecke, who is from Kewaskum and goes to KML, carded a 46-46-92 in the event.

Team scores from the Howards Grove Regional: 1. Howards Grove 322, 2. Campbellsport 334, 3. Kewaskum 335, 4. Grafton 341, 5. Brown Deer 342, 6. Kiel 345, 7. New Holstein 346, 8. Kettle Moraine Lutheran 352, 9. Sheboygan Falls 357, 10. Random Lake 372.

Indians get two wins before dropping EW opener to Plymouth

The Kewaskum High baseball team went 2-1 last week, but undoubtedly coach Dave Donath would trade the two wins for the one the Indians lost because the 8-7 defeat to Plymouth Friday night was the Eastern Wisconsin Conference opener.

On Tuesday, Kewaskum blasted Howards Grove 15-1, and two days later, it used a four-run inning to get past Oostburg 4-1.

Kewaskum never had the lead against the host Plymouth Panthers and once again, senior chucker Josh Meyer did not last the full seven innings.

"He (Meyer) was wild again ... couldn't get ahead of the hitters," Donath said. "You can't keep flirting with that."

"We were down 5-0," Donath said over the Memorial Day weekend, reporting his team rallied to tie the score at 7-7 in the top of the seventh, and, "Then we gave it away."

Meyer gave up six runs in 3 and 1/3 innings, then Abe Foerster took over for 2 and 1/3 innings. John Holt took the loss when he came on in relief in the bottom of the seventh.

Donath said there was a walk, stolen base and another walk, and eventually the bases were loaded with no outs. The coach signaled for the infield and outfield to move in for a possible play at the plate, and it worked for a while, as the next hitter lofted a ball to right field, which was caught by Logan Staeger. Staeger rifled the ball home in time to get the Panther on third, who tagged up and was attempting to score.

Now there were two outs, but, "We couldn't get the third out," Donath said, reporting Plymouth's No. 4 hitter "got a base hit up the middle."

"We had 12 hits ... I'm sure we outhit them," Donath said, reporting Meyer went 3x4, and contributed a big 2-run double in the top of the seventh.

Sophomore Dan Shea also came up with a clutch, 2-run double in the top of the sixth, according to the coach.

The game against Howards Grove only went five innings before it was called because of the 10-run "mercy rule."

Foerster pitched three innings, then Holt took over and got the win after pitching the next two.

"Casey Scheel's bases-loaded triple was the big hit in the third inning when we scored a whole pile of runs," Donath said.

Against Oostburg, it was junior Jon Roskopf looking sharp on the mound, striking out eight and giving up just three hits to the Flying Dutchmen.

"In the fifth inning, we scored four," Donath said, reporting Abe Foerster started with a single, was bunted to second and moved to third on Roskopf's hit.

Donath inserted Bill Otten as a courtesy runner for Roskopf. After he stole second, there was a wild throw to third, allowing Foerster to come home, and after Nate Steiner drew a walk, Meyer doubled in another run, and Jon Olla followed with a 2-run double.

Kewaskum, 0-1 in the EW and 4-2 overall, hosts Kiel on Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. and travels to Sheboygan Falls on Friday. Both are conference games.
