Work begins on Kohlsville bridge replacement

Work has begun on replacing the Kohlsville bridge and its approaches on County Road W in the Town of Wayne. The project of which 80% is being paid through federal funds, is scheduled to be completed in mid-October according to Washington County Highway Commissioner Ken Pesch. The existing bridge was built in 1924 and has a single span over the river. It was constructed with steel girders and a concrete deck supported on vertical concrete abutments. The bridge was in poor condition when last inspected and there was a failure of the deck in the summer of 2002. The replacement will be a single span pre-cast, pre-stressed concrete girder bridge supported on concrete abutments. The proposed structure will be 66 feet long and have a clear width of 30 feet. Tubular steel railing will be used on each side of the bridge. The Kohlsville River will be relocated about 25 feet north of its existing location to facilitate construction of the fill slopes for the new abutments. The approach roadway will provide for one 12-foot lane of traffic in each direction and six-foot shoulders. Beyond the shoulder, curb and gutter will be provided south of the bridge and will approximately match the existing curb. The price tag for the new bridge is $463,083.

Kewaskum, state students ahead in ACT scores

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Kewaskum High School juniors and seniors continue to shine among other Wisconsin students who took the ACT college admissions test. Kewaskum students actually were ahead of the state-wide average.

For the sixth straight year, with 69 percent of 2005 graduates taking the test, Wisconsin's composite score on the ACT college admissions test held at 22.2. Kewaskum's student scores actually went up .2 and squeaked through to beat the state average by a score of 22.3.

The state missed first place among the 25 states where the ACT is the predominant college admissions test by one-tenth of a point.

2005 ACT Composite Scores

Nearly 60 percent of all Wisconsin students took a core curriculum compared to about 56 percent nationally. Wisconsin students who pursued rigorous pre-college coursework averaged two points higher than those who took less than a core curriculum.

Wisconsin students far out-distanced their national peers in the ACT analysis of college readiness. ACT, in collaboration with postsecondary institutions, has established benchmark scores on ACT subject area tests that indicate readiness for college-level coursework. Students who score at or above the benchmark have a 50 percent chance of earning a B-grade or about a 75 percent chance of earning a C-grade on college-level coursework.

Seventy-six percent of Wisconsin students earned a benchmark score of 18 on the English test compared to 68 percent nationally. In mathematics, 52 percent of state students scored a 22 or better compared with 41 percent nationally, meaning these students are ready to take college algebra. Sixty percent of Wisconsin students earned a benchmark score of 21 in reading, a new benchmark this year, compared with 51 percent nationally. For science, 36 percent of state students earned a benchmark score of 24 compared to 26 percent nationally, showing likely success in college biology.

On subject area tests, Wisconsin scores fluctuated with English at 21.5, the same as the previous year, and science up one-tenth of a point from 2004 to 22.3. The reading score was 22.4, down one-tenth of point from the previous year to the same level it was in 2003.

The score on the mathematics test also dropped one-tenth of a point to 22.0.

"This past year 90 KHS students took the test. I am pleased because we are ahead of the state and national averages," stated KHS Principal Christine Horbas.

The ACT is scored on a scale of 1 to 36. Nationwide 1.2 million public and private school students took the test at some time during their high school career. In Wisconsin, about 55 percent of students who took the ACT also took the optional writing test, first offered in February. Nationally, about 36 percent of students took the writing test. Writing scores were reported to students and to colleges and universities specified by students for admissions purposes. Writing scores will be part of ACT's national report next year.

NUKM CRG will attempt to recall Weare

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

The newly formed Northern Unit Kettle Moraine Citizens for Responsible Government (NUKM CRG) have decided they will begin petitioning to recall school board member Neal Weare. Some citizens questioned the motives for just handpicking Weare.

Speaking on behalf of her father, Chelsea Weare thought the group was going after blood. She further stated that the group should go after all the eligible board members and ask the new members to resign. Weare himself was not in attendance for the start of the meeting but came at the meeting's end after a previous commitment.

The members of NUKM CRG didn't agree. Bruce Braidigan, chairman of the NUKM CRG, stated it was nothing personal against Weare. The other two they considered, are up for re-election in spring and it would not make sense to start a recall effort against them when they will face re-election so soon.

Later when asked, "Why just Neal?" Braidigan stated, "It was decided to focus on one school board member for recall. Calling more than one member makes it very difficult to get the results that we want. Our goal is to work on the elections coming up in April to find candidates to run against Dickman and Steiner."

Speculative numbers show the citizens will need to gather between 1,500-2,000 signatures in order to force Weare to face the voters again.

Tony Baldus asked about what will happen to Jean Goeden, school board clerk, who is alleged to have broken Wisconsin Open Meeting Law. Orville Seymer, of the Milwaukee based Citizens for Responsible Government, stated more then likely "she will receive a slap on the wrists" possibly a small fine, and may have to attend classes on the open meeting law.

David Goeden thought the group should focus their energy on putting good candidates on the ballot in spring. He was not well received, as when the vote came down to recall Weare, he was only one of four who voted against the recall.

In closing the meeting Weare stated he thought this was a personal attack and at the very least, the group should also consider Tammy Weyer who was also a part of the vote for Graczyk's departure, if that was why they were recalling him.

On Saturday morning, the group met to distribute flyers to school district residents announcing the recall. The Statesman was unable to obtain a copy of one of the flyers.

The energy which makes a child hard to manage is the energy which afterwards makes him a manager.

Highway 28 project postponed until 2010

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

The Kewaskum Village board received a bit of unsettling news recently. The Wisconsin Department of Transportation has once again postponed the reconstruction of STH 28.

The project was originally scheduled for 2006 but was pushed ahead to 2008.

The Village took action to respond to the D.O.T. unfavorably, but requested that routine maintenance continue to be done until such time as the project can move forward.

Newlywed game back!

The Newlywed Game will once again be at Kettle Kountry Kolors! We had so much fun last year, we're doing it again! Last year, six couples competed in the competition, which works similar to the Newlywed Game that you can sometimes catch on TV. The game, due to Kettle Kountry being a family festival, wasn't as risqué as the TV show, and it will be the same this year.

The Friends of Kewaskum are looking for couples in two categories. - almost married to married five years, and married six years plus. Couples may either nominate themselves or be nominated by someone who wants to see you in the spotlight. Don't be scared - we promise not to make it too embarrassing!

Nominations will be $1. Please fill out the form below. All nominations will remain top secret! After the initial nominations, which will close Monday, September 12, we will be asking for pictures and a brief history of the couple. We will then have open voting for the finalists, eventually ending up with a total of eight couples.

Couples will then participate in the game being held at Kettle Kountry Kolors. The exact time and date will be announced at a later date. The festival is October 8 and 9, 2005. Please, if at all possible, include a phone number with the nomination so we may contact the winning couples. It promises to be a fun event with many surprises along the way - oh yeah almost forgot - and GREAT prizes too!

For more information, call 262-626-2626 or email kettlekountrykolors@yahoo.com.

Send in your nominations today with the form found on the bottom of this page.

Responsible budget passed

By Rep. Pat Strachota
59th Assembly District

After months of deliberation, on July 5th your state legislature passed a responsible budget bill. When voting on the budget I did my best to represent the desires of my constituents, which I obtained from numerous discussions with residents as well as through the results of a district wide survey.

I'd like to share key survey results, explain the "Legislative Budget" and highlight how Governor Doyle's use of veto power stripped out many of the provisions you wanted - and I fought for.

Key findings from my survey showed that citizens support a Taxpayers Bill of Rights, maintaining segregated funds for their acquired purpose, and maintain spending at the level of projected revenue. Respondents acknowledged the value of education, but were concerned about the strength of Wisconsin's economy and our ability to increase funding.

The Legislative Budget dramatically reduced the amount of borrowing by $600 million and transfers from segregated funds by $400 million to balance our budget and it cut the structural deficit in half.

The Legislative Budget also froze property taxes for three years. The "Governor's Budget" claims it will freeze property taxes for two years, but it exempts Tech Colleges and allows local governments to exempt their debt service, effectively opening the doors to spending increases through borrowing and mortgaging our future.

The Legislative Budget realistically funded the Medicaid program. However, the Governor vetoed $93.6 million from Medicaid and when the federal matching funds are subsequently lost, the cut skyrockets to $222 million, leaving the program deeply in the red for 2007.

The Legislative Budget included a three-year phase out of the tax on Social Security benefits starting in 2007 - the Governor vetoed the start until 2008 diverting all costs to a future budget.

Despite cries of under funding by some, the Legislative Budget increased spending on education by $372 million. The Governor's Budget increased that to $701 million, which was more than his original budget and far more than the Department of Public Instruction request of $327 million.

The Governor is able to increase this funding through his use of the veto power. He has bypassed the legislature and the legislative process and directed the Secretary of Administration, a gubernatorial appointee, to decide where $330 million of state money will be spent. Even more astonishing, the Governor created a new sentence that reads, "The Secretary of Administration may transfer moneys to any appropriation account or fund from the general fund." This in essence gives the Governor a blank check to spend your tax money as he wishes. These are unprecedented moves that should not go unnoticed or unchallenged.

In all, the budget as signed into law by Governor Doyle has 139 vetoes and significantly changes the intent of the Legislature. Just how can one person change so much? The Governor's line item veto is the most powerful in the nation and it places too much power in the hands of one person, Republican or Democrat. The time has come to put a lid on this before we have a governor who bypasses the legislative process completely.

Unfortunately, the only way to curtail this power is through court challenges or a change to the constitution. Courts historically have ruled in favor of past governors, so it is vitally important that they hear of the citizens' view of this veto power.

Efforts are underway to address the constitutionality of this veto power. However, unless there is an outcry from the public this effort will never even get off the ground. I urge my constituents to contact me and let me know their thoughts on this. Simply drop me a note or send me an email stating "Reduce the Governor's veto power" or "Maintain the Governor's veto power". Be sure to include your name and address.

The recent budget is one we will all learn to live with, and it has some good provisions. However, it clearly is not the one I, or you, endorsed. By shifting huge amounts of money around it mortgages our future through excessive transfers and borrowing and that is exactly what the citizens of this state do not want or need.

The highest apartment residence is the 92nd floor of the 100-story John Hancock Center in Chicago.

To the Editor:

Here I sit getting more confused by the day. I now read that an Interim Superintendent has been hired to replace Wayne Graczyk. You mean to tell me that we have no one from our staff of principals, assistant principals or other highly paid staff who could take over for a few months if needed. If an interim can do the job in two days a week why do we need a full-time superintendent.

What a wonderful staff we must have if that is the case. It amazes me how they can spend money and call it a savings. Again the school board went ahead and did something the community was unaware of and, like it or not, it's done and you pay for it!

I certainly hope you will remember all this come election time and do your duty at the polls.

Graczyk pay off -- $113,000.
Search program -- $8,000.
Interim supt. -- $44,000 - $73,000.
Total - $165,000 to $194,000.

Still no reason or no superintendent!

DAYS GONE BY

25 Years Ago

August 15, 1980

Senator Gaylord Nelson was a special guest at a meeting of the Washington County Central Labor Council at the Labor Hall in Kewaskum.

A Washington County girl, Jill Etta, of 5599 Beechnut Drive, West Bend, had the champion crossbred barrow at the Wisconsin State Fair. The 221 pound barrow was a crossbred Hampshire and Duroc. Last year her brother, Jon Etta, had the grand champion carcass at this show. Jon also had the grand champion hog at the Washington County Fair this year. The Ettas are five year winners at the Washington County Fair.

The Sixth Annual Early Farm Days held on the west side of River Hill Park, Saturday and Sunday, August 9 and 10, was well attended by people near and far. Over 500 admission buttons were sold.

Head Coach Mike Ffrick has a large squad of 54 candidates preparing for the Kewaskum Indians' first season in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference in 1980. For many years, Kewaskum has been a member of the Scenic Moraine Conference, which has been disbanded with the start of this school year. Members of this year's coaching staff are: Head Coach Mike Ffrick; assistant varsity coach, Perry Koth; head JV coach Pat Gasner; assistant JV coach John Nell; head freshman coach Jim Westphal; assistant freshman coach Dan Wangerin. The Indians have only six lettermen returning this year. They are: Randy Heberer, Perry Kempf, Brian Dreher, Steve Muench, Roger Gavin, and Dave Donath.

Polio has reached the epidemic stage in Kewaskum the past week with a total of eight active cases reported, five of them in the past few days. It is the worst epidemic of polio in the history of the village and has necessitated the restricting of all children to their own yards and the cancellation of all recreational activities. Dr.

R.G. Edwards, village health officer, himself is one of the victims of the disease. Dr. Edwards has been ill this week and his sickness has been diagnosed as a probable case of polio. Those stricken with polio are Frank Schoenbeck, 8, son of Mrs. Gladys Schoenbeck, village; Steven Frazier, 11, son of the Paul Fraziers, village; Sue Sengpiel, 8, daughter of the Ned Sengpiels, village; Mary Reindl, 11, daughter of the Gilbert Reindls, Town of Kewaskum; Joel Peterson, son of the L.N. Petersons, village; Artie Buss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art Buss, Sr., village, and Dr. Edwards. The eighth case was reported to be August Kirchner, son of the Andrew Kirchners, Kewaskum rural route, who will be a senior in the local high school this fall. However, his illness had not definitely been diagnosed as polio at the time the health officer became ill.

The body of Pfc. Allen C. Mertes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mertes of Kewaskum, who was killed in action in Korea on November 4, 1950, was returned home for burial this week.

Sister Mary Edward, the former Donna Miller of Kewaskum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. "Pat" Miller, was one of a class of 20 Sisters invested in the Sisters of St. Francis of Assisi on August 12 in Milwaukee.

Kewaskum's new sewage treatment plant just south of the village was put into operation for the first time Tuesday. The incinerator has also been installed and work on it completed but it has not been tested yet. When all of the work on the sewage plant is finished the cost will run about $260,000.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Meyer, Campbellsport, August 11. Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Fredric Spoerl, Kewaskum, on August 13; to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard "Barney" Strobel (HAPPY BELATED BIRTHDAY SQUEAK!) on August 13, and to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones, Route 1, Kewaskum, on August 16.

With the paving of Main Street, the Chicago and Northwestern Railway will make extensive improvements on the Main Street crossing. The improvements to be made, according to word received by Station Agent Anthony P. Schaeffer from railroad officials are, the removal of the crossing gates, some of which have already been done; the switch on the west side of the main track will be straightened and as far south reaching the southern end of Roman Smith's new coal shed, or past to where the water tank used to be located; electric wig-wag signs will be erected to take the place of the old gates, and to make traveling doubly safe for traffic, and a man will be stationed at the crossing during the day only, to warn against approaching trains.

Joseph Brodzeller's barn in the Town of Addison was struck by lightning last week Friday and totally destroyed by fire.

The mill dam at Elmore broke out last Saturday morning. The heavy rains during the night caused a washout which wrecked the dam.

Work on the new church is going on very rapidly now. The brick work is expected to be finished in two weeks. The trusses which carry the roof were erected this week.

Passenger train No. 8, due here from the north at 8:40 a.m. was several hours late last Tuesday on account of the front truck under the tender leaving the track near Campbellsport.

Sixth grade orientation Aug. 29

Attention all incoming sixth grade Kewaskum Middle School students.

On Monday, August 29th from 6:30 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. we will be holding our annual orientation night. The night is planned for you and your parents to come and get ready for the upcoming year. Throughout the night we have a schedule that you will be following, so it is necessary for you to be here the entire evening starting at 6:30.

Your homeroom teacher will be doing many things with you, your parents, the other students in your homeroom, and their parents.

At the orientation you will meet your sixth grade house teachers, foreign language teacher, phy. ed./health teachers, and see your classrooms. You will learn about the sixth grade procedures as well as the school procedures. We will be looking over your schedule and helping you to understand it, and practicing your locker combination. There may even be time at the end to get started on setting your locker up.

You will also be informed about sixth grade camp and what you need to do to get ready for it. If you have any of the papers filled out from registration (camp or otherwise), please bring them along on this night as well. It is also an opportunity to meet the new students you will spend most of your sixth grade year with. This is a very important night for you and your parents because you can ask all the questions you have been wondering about. Can't wait to see you at KMS on the 29th!

Open House for seventh and eighth grade students is on Tuesday, August 30th from 5:00-7:00 p.m. This is a chance for students to bring their school materials to school and set up their locker and meet their teachers.

'Anything Goes' auditions at KHS

In case you missed it at registration, ALL students of Kewaskum High School are invited to try out for the KHS Music Department's production of "Anything Goes" on Thursday, September 1, from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m. Performance dates are November 4 and 5, 2005. Auditions will be held in the choir room (574). The doors to the back stairway will be open.

"Anything Goes", with a musical score by Cole Porter, takes place on board an ocean liner on its way from New York City to England. Billy and Hope have fallen in love but Hope's mother has promised her to an English gentleman. Billy tries to win her and her mother over during the short time on the ship, with the help of some lovable gangsters who are hiding out from the FBI. Some familiar songs from the show include "It's De-Lovely", "You're the Top", and "Friendship".

Students will be asked to read from the script of the musical and to sing a short song. A prepared piece of music is suggested but not necessary. The audition should take no more than five minutes. Any questions may be directed to David Bertelsen after August 26 at 626-8427 x4571.

SCHOOL

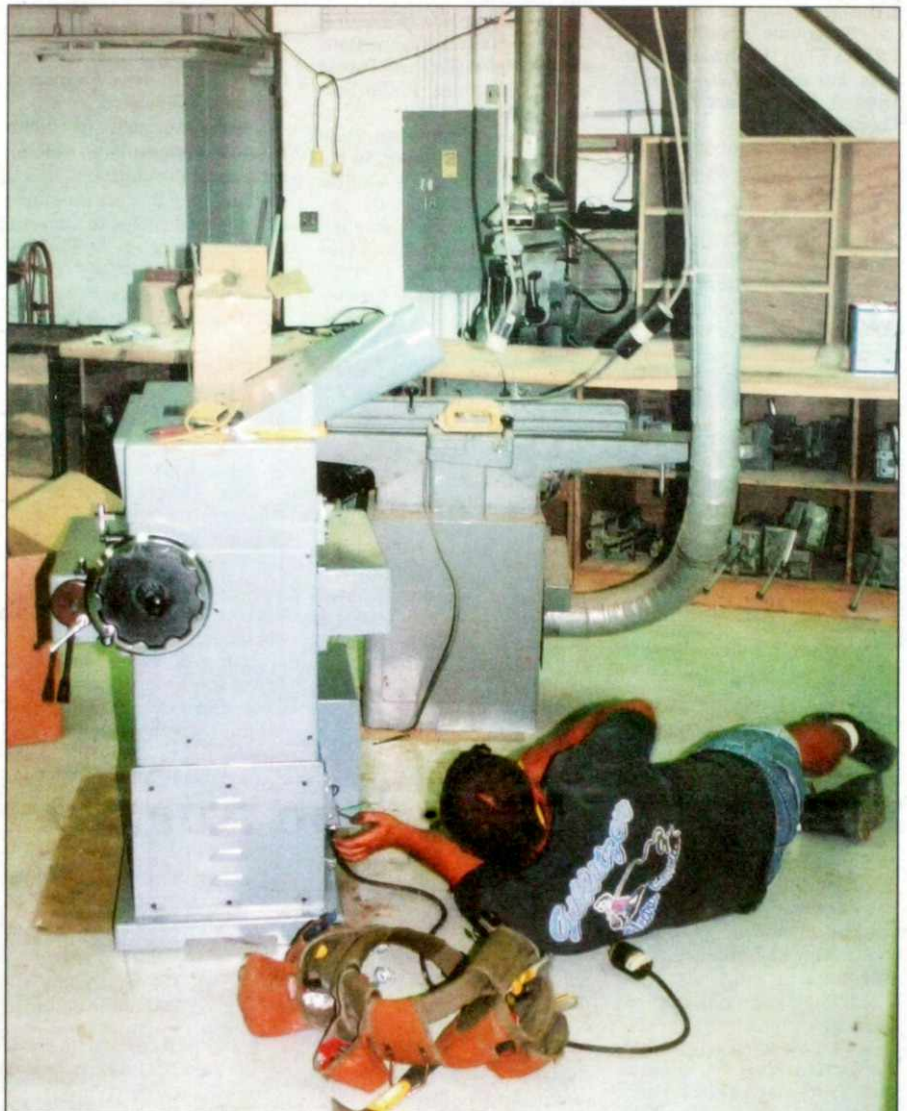

KHS woods, metal shop ranked 5th in the state

"I don't think there is another high school shop that has both woods and metals equipment in the surrounding area. The opportunity the kids in Kewaskum will have is unreal."

-Kevin Hein
KHS Tech Ed Instructor

Above is a view of a new radial arm saw. To brighten the classroom and to provide a more industrial feel for students, tool manufacturers have provided KHS with product banners to be hung in the room. A Bosch banner is one of almost 20 that now hang in the room. Other pieces of equipment include a Haas CNC mill machine, CNC lathe, Scotchman metal shear and a CNC plasma cutter. The Kewaskum School Board says they are hoping that this helps curb the Open Enrollment plague by attracting students to the district who are interested in this type of a career. Once the room is fully complete The Statesman will provide an in-depth article on the changes.

A worker from Gillitzer Electric works on powering one of two industrial planners in the newly equipped wood/metal shop at Kewaskum High School. Students at KHS will be welcomed with a more modern woodshop with some top of the line equipment. The room was also repainted. Equipping the shop was the largest acquisition in the high school's history. Kevin Hein, a teacher in the shop is almost certain that Kewaskum is in the state's top five schools for wood/metal shop classes and equipment. He stated, "It's nice to see Kewaskum having faith in their students and moving them forward." Hein stated he would like to see community members stop in to see the new shop. Money for the project was budgeted for two to five years and not borrowed or put on a referendum. Shown below is a view of the new manual metal lathes to the left and a new metal bandsaw to the right. According to Hein, Kewaskum has never had a metal bandsaw in their shop.

Bloody Mary

by J.A. Konrath

Hyperion c.2005 $22.95

Did you ever lose something that you didn't know you lost until it turns up in an unlikely place? Like, maybe your missing coffee cup turns up in the fridge because that's the place you set it when you reached for the milk this morning.

Lieutenant Jacqueline Daniels lost her handcuffs. They're eventually found in the most gruesome spot imaginable, but that's just the beginning. In "Bloody Mary" by J.A. Konrath, Jack has also lost her sense of security for her family.

Jacqueline Daniels has been on the Chicago police force for longer than she cares to remember. Being a cop is all Jack ever wanted to do, but lately, she's re-thinking that sentiment. The job destroyed her first marriage. She doesn't want it to destroy her chances at happiness with the man she's dating now.

It's been a scorcher in Chicago this summer, which only adds to Jack's frustration. The police station's air conditioner is on the blink, her partner is on a silly diet, and everyone is easily annoyed.

And then the arms are discovered.

They weren't attached to anyone when they were found, and they had no ID on them. No corpses in the morgue were missing appendages, and nobody was seen dropping the arms off at the county building. They were cleaned of all evidence. And they were wearing Lieutenant Daniels' handcuffs.

Now there's a murderer on the loose, and he has a most gory way of killing. He loves torture, he knows how to get rid of bodies in a very efficient way, and he knows way too much about the police department. Could the murderer be a cop? When the killer is found, he turns out to be someone that Jacqueline knows well. His killing spree may have a physical reason for happening and although he claims he has no recollection of the murders, he's not fooling everyone. Jack knows he's lying, and she tries to prove it. That's when the killer makes a repulsive promise: when he's released - and he knows he will be - he vows to kill Jack, her friends, and her family in the bloodiest way he can.

Ah, now this is the way a detective thriller should be written. Jacqueline Daniels is an over-the-top cop who's cheeky and smart, a little bit of Columbo and a little bit of Quincy mixed in with a dash of bravery and a touch of roll-her-eyes impatience. If you read author Konrath's first novel, "Whiskey Sour", you'll be glad to see that Konrath rounds Jack out with a little more personality in this novel, and you'll get to meet characters that were merely mentioned in the first book. My only complaint about this book is that the story ends too abruptly, setting you up for what most certainly will be another round of Jack Daniels.

Belly up to the bookstore and order yourself a "Bloody Mary", then take a big gulp. It's perfect for happy hour or any hour you want to read a good book.

of Campbellsport, Lloyd (fiancee Candy Hansen) Cribb of Eden and Kelly (Tom) Wagner of Campbellsport.

She is further survived by her mother, Florence Cherek of Milwaukee; her brothers, Richard Cherek of Milwaukee and James Cherek of Wausau; and a sister, Christine Cherek of Milwaukee. She is also survived by seven grandchildren; relatives; and friends.

She was preceded in death by her father, August Cherek; and one brother, Chester Cherek.

Services were held on Saturday, Aug. 6, 2005, at Wisconsin Memorial Park, 12325 W. Capital Dr., Brookfield, Wis., 53008.

ANNA K. GASSNER

Anna K. Gassner, 89, a resident of the Samaritan Home in West Bend, formerly of Ashford, died Sunday, Aug. 14, 2005, at St. Joseph's Hospital in West Bend.

She was born on July 27, 1916, in Straton, Colo., the daughter of the late Kilian and Katherine Hildmann Simon.

On Oct. 27, 1951, she married Robert H. Gassner at St. Martin's Catholic Church in Ashford. They farmed together in the Town of Leroy before moving to the Ashford area in 1955.

Anna was a member of St. Francis Cabrini Catholic Church in West Bend.

Survivors include her sons, Robert G. (Holly) of West Bend, Thomas (Joan) of West Bend and Daniel of Knoxville, Tenn.; her grandchildren, Crystal Gassner of Brownsville and Justin and Janel Gassner of West Bend; her brother, Linus (Florence) Simon of Campbellsport; nieces; nephews; and other relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Robert, on April 30, 1981; her son, Peter, on July 15, 1974; three brothers; and two sisters.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 17, 2005, at St. Francis Cabrini Catholic Church in West Bend. The Rev. Jeffrey Haines officiated, and burial was at St. Martin's Cemetery in Ashford on Thursday.

Visitation was from 4 p.m. until time of the service on Wednesday, Aug. 17, 2005, at the church.

Twohig Funeral Home, Campbellsport, served the family.

With child like faith I thought you would always be here
Then my world fell apart, the doctors said less than a year
We didn't talk about goodbyes, we didn't want to bring up the end

Slowly I watched your life fading, everyday was a little worse than the day before

I had to change my prayers to "God, Please don't make him suffer anymore"

Just as the circle of life has a beginning your circle now has an end

Losing you slowly becomes easier but my torn heart will never mend.

We miss you Dad, We miss you Grandpa

BUSINESS NEWS

Former Mayor Miller becomes part of West Bend Savings Bank

Michael R. (Mike) Miller, right, is welcomed by Ray Lipman, West Bend Savings Bank President and CEO, as the long-time mayor of West Bend starts in his new position as Government Banking Advisor for the Bank.

West Bend Savings Bank has announced that Michael R. (Mike) Miller, Mayor of West Bend for the past 18 years, has joined their executive staff as Government Banking Advisor. He will serve as the bank's emissary with local governments for their banking services. In that capacity he will be working closely with Sue Garman, Senior Vice President of Operations and Mark Holsapple, Senior Vice President of the Commercial Banking Division.

"The Here to Help Bank is proud to announce former Mayor Mike Miller will be heading up the Governmental Banking Services group," said West Bend Savings Bank President and CEO Ray Lipman in a statement released to the press. "Mike has so many years of experience working within local government; he knows the needs, the requirements, and the expectations of government banking. We expect he will be able to help us better understand how to work with government, how to create products and services that are unique to government, and how to interact with government so that there is absolutely no question about the relationship that exists."

Local banks have worked with local governments for a long time, but too often their relationship is strained by the not-quite-right fit of bank product offerings and customer government needs. The hope at West Bend Savings Bank is that Miller will be able to close that gap by helping the bank create and offer "government-appropriate" products.

West Bend Savings Bank is headquartered in West Bend and now has offices in four counties and the approximately 25 government jurisdictions within that area. "Every office has the opportunity to be of service to at least two or three government agencies, from city and county governments to local townships and school systems," stated senior vice president of operations Garman. "Finding and understanding their needs is just as unique a task as the process for retail or business banking. We expect Mike will be able to help us focus on this."

In June, the Public Policy Forum presented Miller with the Lifetime Achievement Award, at that groups 13th Annual Salute to local government awards presentation. At that time Miller was recognized as the longest-tenured mayor of the 25 mayors offices in Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Waukesha, Ozaukee and Washington counties.

"Mayor Miller" (now Banker Miller) will have his office at West Bend Savings Bank's Downtown office at 201 South 5th Ave. in West Bend, phone 262-334-5563. If you simply ask for "the Mayor" they'll know who you mean.

Submitted Photo

By John A. Scocos

As the Tet holiday began in Vietnam, every single combat-ready North Vietnamese and Viet Cong unit deployed for an all out offensive. The attack struck five of South Vietnam's six major cities, 36 of its 44 provincial capitals, and 50 key hamlets. Hue was overrun, the U.S. embassy in Saigon was assaulted, and the United States was caught completely by surprise.

Thirty years ago, the United States departed from Vietnam. But it was 37 years ago, amidst the chaos of the Tet Offensive, that the U.S. withdrawal became inevitable.

Realizing the tense political situation in the United States, the North Vietnamese leadership carefully planned, inserted, and built up supplies for their forces in the South throughout the winter of 1967 in order to attack on a grandiose scale the next year.

Three North Vietnamese divisions (numbering 25,000 men) assaulted Khe Sanh, a small, isolated U.S. Marine bastion near the Laotian border. Since it was so remote, yet relatively crucial to the United States, it served as the perfect decoy attack. The United States brought in waves of reinforcements, while intelligence reports warning of simultaneous enemy incursions into deep South Vietnam were obscured by the raging maelstrom at Khe Sanh.

Counting on a massive anti-American uprising by the South Vietnamese civilian population, the North Vietnamese troops struck everywhere at once, shocking the United States war effort.

Militarily, the significance of Tet was bitterly ironic. American and South Vietnamese military forces defeated the North Vietnamese everywhere. United States troops reacted rapidly and effectively to beat the enemy back. Aided by South Vietnamese troops and civilians, the communist forces were driven into the countryside with very heavy losses.

Tet became a catastrophic military failure for the North Vietnamese, costing them approximately 35,000 dead and 65,000 wounded. Combined United States and South Vietnamese losses were 4,000 (1,100 Americans dead). The defeat was so crippling that the North Vietnamese lost their ability to fight for several months - opening a window for a military counter attack by the South that could have been decisive, but never came. The Viet Cong, moreover, had been virtually eliminated by American and South Vietnamese action. From Tet to the end of the war, the North Vietnamese Army became the remaining opponent confronting American troops in Vietnam.

However, the goal of the North Vietnamese was not simply to win battles, but rather, to undermine the U.S. commitment to South Vietnam. It was a sophisticated plan to communicate to the U.S. public the false notion that support for North Vietnam was everywhere, and that its military reach was nationwide.

Tet was a vibrant political success for North Vietnam. Back at home in the United States, popular support for the war bottomed out. The bloody chaos of the Tet Offensive made the brutality of war visible to Americans at home. Reports from the front shocked Americans as they viewed the events in Southeast Asia on television.

To make matters worse, General William Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, attempted to launch major counterstrikes against the North Vietnamese. Westmoreland called for 200,000 more American soldiers following the Tet Offensive. The U.S. public became more skeptical of victory.

Public opinion turned against the war in Vietnam. The American will to fight had been damaged, possibly beyond repair.

As American veterans filtered back into society after experiencing the bloodbath that had been the Tet Offensive, they were greeted not by salutes and handshakes, but by anti-war signs, protests, and marches. For some, the American soldier, who had put his life on the line through the chaos of Tet, became the reason we were in Tet in the first place.

This should never happen again. Our soldiers are willing to endure any hardship to defeat any foe, and at a minimum, we have an obligation to honor them upon their return. That is why my department has created a new program in Wisconsin - "Mission: Welcome Home." When they come home, they need us to fight for them to ensure that their physical and mental wounds are treated, they are aided in reintegrating into our communities, and their sacrifice is honored.

This is the seventh in a series of 15 columns about the Vietnam War that will be published.

John A. Scocos is the Secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Veterans Affairs, which serves almost half a million Wisconsin veterans.

Former KHS residents fare well in triathlons

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Two graduates of Kewaskum High School, Amanda Schulist (class of 1999) and Jessica Schulist Stortz (1997) and their brother-in-law, Keith Stortz, teamed up on Sunday, August 7th to compete in the Ripon Medical College Triathlon.

"You could compete individually or as a relay team," Jessica Stortz said late last week, reporting the three of them combined to finish first in the mixed relay, and all of them did well in the event they participated in.

Jessica Stortz led off for the trio, taking care of the one-third mile swim in Green Lake.

"It was beautiful. The water was very clear ... easy to see," Stortz said, indicating her time was 10 minutes and 38 seconds (10:38), which was the seventh best time of all the women competing in the individual triathlon.

Keith Stortz, a native of Mayville where the other two now reside, took over the biking chores, and he did quite well.

"He had to bike 25 kilometers, which is about 16 miles ... from Green Lake into the city of Ripon, near Ripon College," Jessica Stortz said, reporting her brother-in-law's time of 45:23 was sixth among the 103 men competing in the event.

"The last event is a run, five kilometers or three miles on the Ripon College cross country course," Stortz said. Schulist was the runner for the trio, and she finished the race in 27:57, which was 15th out of 69 women.

"The run was tough. You have to go up a steep hill," Stortz said about her younger sister.

When the event was over, those in the relay competition added all their times together to determine final standings. "Team Schortz" as they called themselves, wound up with a total of 1:25.19, first in the mixed division.

The triathlon was held to raise funds for Ripon Medical College. Schulist, Jessica Stortz and Keith Stortz aren't finished racing for the summer. They were involved in a triathlon in Hartland on Sunday. The proceeds from this event help young children to attend Camp Whitcomb in Hartland, which is part of the Boys and Girls Clubs of America, according to Stortz.

The two women have been training since April for the two races. Last year, Jessica Stortz competed in the Danskin Triathlon in Illinois.

"On Sunday, Jessica Stortz completed the swim portion of the event in 12:25, which was ninth among the women, while Keith Stortz handled the bicycling again, covering the 22 miles in 1:02.27, an impressive third overall, and Schulist did well in the run, with her time of 26:42, 18th place.

"Team Schortz" finished fifth out of 23 mixed relay times behind a time of 2:23:16. This event was longer than the one in Ripon.

Dundee Daze 2005 wrap-up

John Michael Koerble
Vice-president
Long Lake Fishing Club

Have you noticed the haze that has been over the Kettle Moraine since early July? I am sure this is what has caused me to keep forgetting to send in this article or it could be as the name of our event states, and I was in a DAZE. Regardless of the reason, I finally got a round-to-it.

The Long Lake Fishing Club is fortunate to have so many faithful members who help out at our events. This year with the rummage and craft sale, Taste of the Kettle Moraine and the evening dance with Rocket 88, there was even more setup and take down work. With an all out effort, early Saturday morning everything was ready to welcome the public. The variety of items available from crafters was impressive for our first year, and I know will get better as we move forward. By noon, the Taste of the Kettle Moraine was in full swing in the Dundee Sportsman's Clubhouse. The food must have been great, because by the time I got around to eating it was almost all gone. We are so fortunate to have so many family run establishments in our area who know how to wet our whistles.

Club members manned the outdoor food area and served up tasty meats for Kewaskum Frozen Foods and Loehr's Meat Market, with beverages flowing freely. As afternoon turned to evening the crafters and rummagers packed up and the pavilion was made ready for the evening's entertainment. Rocket 88 once again put on an awesome show. It was great to see young and not so young out on the dance floor from beginning to end. What a great event held for a great community.

As a club, we are so pleased with the support we receive from the community and we are as eager to give our best back to it. Each year, new members join and others move on, but always there is the continued mission to preserve and enhance the opportunity for quality experiences on Long Lake.

If you would like to become a member of our club or become more involved in the functions of the club please pickup a copy of our quarterly club letter entitled "The Legend" available at Din's Mini Mart or drop us a line at Long Lake Fishing Club, Inc., PO Box 303, Campbellsport, WI 53010

State park camping fees increased Aug. 16

MADISON - Campers at Wisconsin State Parks and Forests will pay slightly higher camping fees beginning August 16, under fee increases that were approved as part of the recently approved state budget.

The budget increased the cost of state park campsites by $2 per night per site. As a result State Park and Class A State Forest campsites will cost $12 per night for residents and $14 per night for non-residents. Class B State Forest sites will cost $9 per night for residents and $11 per night for non-residents. Class B sites are those in forest campgrounds that do not provide additional amenities such as flush toilets and showers. Discounted rates are available when camping during the week at some locations.

This is the first across-the-board increase in camping fees for Wisconsin parks and forests since 1995, though fees to camp during the peak season at eight of the state's most popular parks were increased by $3 per night in 2004.

"Camping in state parks and forests continues to be a very good value and even with the increase, our rates are comparable to or lower than many other states," notes Bill Morrissey, director of the Wisconsin State Parks program.

"We never like having to raise fees for people to enjoy our parks and forests, but the cost of maintaining our facilities at the quality standards visitors expect from Wisconsin State Parks and Forests continues to increase, especially in the areas of increased fuel costs, and in keeping up drinking water, waste water and electrical facilities. These increased costs necessitated a fee increase."

Wisconsin State Parks and Forests offer more than 5,200 campsites at about 50 different state park, forest, recreational area, and state trail properties. Approximately 70 percent of the people who camp at state parks and forests are Wisconsin residents.

The fee increases will not apply to people who have already made reservations through the automated park reservation system to camp at state campsites after August 16. The campsite reservation fee will also increase 50 cents beginning Nov. 30 2005, bringing that fee to $10.

The budget also included an increase in the state park admission fee of $5 that will go into effect in January 2006. The new admission sticker will cost $25 for residents and $35 for nonresident. There is also a resident senior admission sticker for $10.

Skilled players are back; KHS gridgers prepare for first game

Every time Kewaskum High senior Garrett Donath gets his hands on the football this fall, he's guaranteed to draw a crowd.

Just take a look at the numbers Donath put up during his junior year when the Indians went 3-4 (fifth place) in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and 5-4 overall — 1,020 yards rushing, for just under a 6 yard per carry average, 16 receptions for another 173 yards, and six punt returns for 100 yards, including a 90-yard return in the win over Kettle Moraine Lutheran.

Donath scored 10 rushing TDs and had one touchdown catch.

The 6-foot Donath, who has beefed up to 185 pounds, is strong, fast and he loves the game. He is expected to be one of the premier performers in the EWC this fall.

That's just part of the good news for the Indians, who are coached by Jason Piittmann. The other half of the story is fullback Ross Stockhausen is back to lead block for Donath and to handle the punting chores and Chad Piwoni returns as the starting quarterback and has solid leadership skills, enough to match a strong passing arm. Plus, the Indians' receiving corps is well rounded, with flanker Eric Cain the threat to reel in the long bomb, Jeremy Gurholt, tall enough to out jump most opponents' defenders, and Matt Parrent, at 6-4 and 225 pounds, the sure-handed bruiser who can go across the middle and haul in third-down aerials, then drag defenders for plenty of after-the-catch yards.

Parrent won first-team all EWC honors a year ago, while Donath was named to the second team backfield, both on offense and defense, and Piwoni opened enough of the coaches' eyes to land the second team quarterback berth in the balloting.

In addition, Stockhausen (punter) and Gurholt (split end) picked up enough votes to be among those given honorable mention.

This all adds up to a good feeling of success for the 2005 edition of the KHS grid team, and Piittmann is tickled not only with the quality of his player, but the quantity as well, because he says there are currently 19 seniors and 20 juniors out for the sport, meaning, "We've got more depth than we've had in recent years. This should allow us to be fresher in the fourth quarter of games."

"Offensively, we return a large majority of last year's starters," Piittmann went on. "Defensively we are building around a solid linebacker corps (seniors Jon Olla, Stockhausen and Jeff Thull). On special teams, we have our kickers (Stockhausen and Olla, who was on the soccer team his freshman and sophomore years), along with both long snappers.

Other letterwinners back include: Kevin Holub, Mitch Paulus, Kevin Schaeffer, Robert Weber, Josh Kelly, Bryan Daggett, Aaron Smith, Jake Turowski, Alex Waranius, and Derrick Engelman.

Weber was the team's starting center, while Jeff Thull started at offensive guard (and later fullback after Stockhausen was injured) and linebacker until he was suspended for an athletic code violation.

Sure tackler Zach Holm, who earned all-Eastern Wisconsin Conference honors as a defensive back, will definitely be missed, along with two other graduates, defensive end Alex Herriges and Adam Jung, a defensive tackle. Both were given honorable mention in the voting last fall.

Piittmann said there are some talented juniors pushing for starting roles, led by Eric Ogi, cornerback; Dan Shea, tailback and outside linebacker; Logan Staeger, tight end/defensive end; Turowski, offensive guard/defensive end; J.J. Logan, tackle; and Mike Pfothner, linebacker.

The Indians open at West Bend East on Friday, Aug. 26th, then take on tiny Cedar Grove, which made the playoffs last year, the following weekend. Kewaskum opens their EWC campaign on Sept. 9 when it entertains Roncalli.

Kewaskum will host a five-team scrimmage tomorrow (Friday) on the high school field, beginning at 5 p.m. The junior varsity players will scrimmage at the same time on the practice field behind the high school.

Piittmann said Sheboygan Falls will be the team to beat. "They have outstanding athletes, very sound and are well coached," he said, indicating New Holstein, which moved up to second place in 2004, "made great strides last year ... a dangerous team."

Piittmann lists Kewaskum, Campbellsport, defending champion Plymouth and Roncalli as four schools in the battle for the third through sixth spots.

"I think these four teams can be considered pretty even going into the season," Piittmann said. "The first couple of weeks will be interesting to see how things take shape. I would like to think we could be the front runner of this group, possibly challenging to get into the top two."

Piittmann concluded by saying, "I fully believe we can get back into the WIAA playoffs. Who knows, we could compete for the conference, but it will be tough to battle Sheboygan Falls for the title. However, if we stay healthy and the younger players step up like they are capable of doing, we could be in a good position entering the last week of the season against Campbellsport."

Athletics suffer setback in key RR game

BY JUDY HARLOW

For the first four innings, the situation looked very bright for the Kewaskum Athletics home talent baseball team.

The A's were not just leading first-place Oakfield in a key Rock River game at Kiwanis Park, they were shutting out the Oaks 4-0.

The roof caved in on the hosts, however, as the Oaks scored six runs with two outs in the top of the fifth and went on to post an 8-6 victory.

"Sort of a collapse," was the way Jim Ziegler, the A's spokesperson and ace pitcher, said Sunday night.

The loss dropped the Athletics' record to 10-8 in the RR, but they are still not out of the playoff picture. Slinger won on Sunday to take over sole possession of third place, and now the A's are clinging to the last spot, fourth place in the division, and tied with Rubicon.

Kewaskum scored two runs in the bottom of the first inning and added another two in the bottom of the third.

In the first, Jake Spaeth led off with a single, according to Ziegler, who said Cory Immel followed with a double, putting runners at second and third.

Steve Ketter followed with an RBI single, and when Jason Strobel hit into a double play, Immel came home.

In the third, it was Immel singling and then Ketter doubled, putting two aboard. After one out, Adam Sarauer delivered a clutch single, scoring both runners for a 4-2 lead.

At this point, Ziegler was throwing strikes and getting plenty of defensive support.

Until the fifth, "I had walked one ... (so I faced) one over the minimum," Ziegler said, indicating the fifth inning started off well enough as the first two Oaks made outs.

"Their first hit of the game came with two outs," Ziegler said, reporting that was followed with a walk, then three singles in a row and all right between short and third base. "No one could get to them," Ziegler said, indicating the score was 4-2 after the single, and the bases were still loaded ... but not for long.

Josh McDermott cleared the bases with a double, "then Keith Burdich doubled to get the last run of the inning," Ziegler said.

Kewaskum came back with a single run in the fifth when Ketter scampered home on Sarauer's single, and then the Oaks scored single runs in the sixth and eighth frames. Kyle Fischer drove in both runners with hits.

Kewaskum threatened in the night and did get one run after Oakfield made three consecutive errors, but Chris Morgan got the next two A's to strike out.

Morgan pitched the complete game win. Ziegler, who gave up nine hits, struck out seven and walked three, came out after eight innings. Nick Whitty finished up, striking out two batters and not giving up a single hit.

Spaeth, a graduate of Slinger High School, paced the A's offense with three hits.

"We had 12 hits as a team," a disappointed Jason Strobel, player/manager, said by cell phone after the game concluded. "Cory (Immel), (Steve) Ketter and (Adam) Sarauer each had two hits.

Kewaskum finishes up the regular season on Wednesday night when it travels to Brownsville for a 7:30 p.m. game. The A's would like nothing better than to finish up with three straight wins, including the game against Brownsville, then the finals of the Plymouth Tournament against Cedarburg tonight (Thursday) night and the finals of the SWABA (South-eastern Wisconsin Amateur Baseball Association) Tournament against Horicon at Horicon tomorrow night.

"We have to win to at least force a tie for the last playoff spot," Ziegler said.

1973 golfers honored at Athletic Scramble

There was a reunion on the first tee at Hon-E-Kor Country Club on Saturday, August 6th, for the sixth annual Kewaskum High Athletic Scramble. Members of the class of 1973 were honored at the golf outing and dinner. They were a perfect 11-0 in dual meets that year and set team and individual records in the Scenic Moraine Conference Tournament. Team members from left are: Jeff Koth, Tom Hensler, Jim Gaffke and Scott Koth, with their coach Joe Harlow. Chuck McClain, who played No. 3 on the team, passed away several years ago, and alternate Steve Spoerl was unable to attend the outing.

Every coach who has ever blown a whistle to run a drill in practice, every coach who has ever stood on the sideline on Friday night for a big game against an arch rival or watched one of his relay teams pull off a perfect handoff should experience a magical season like the one Joe Harlow had the pleasure of living through in the spring of 1973.

The major players on this outstanding Kewaskum High golf team included Jeff Koth, Jim Gaffke, Chuck McClain, Tom Hensler, Scott Koth, with Steve Spoerl providing excellent backup.

It was a rare combination of good athletes with strong academic credentials, solid work ethics and great team chemistry... all these things added up to a perfect 11-0 season, an individual and team record that became frozen in time when the Scenic Moraine Conference was disbanded in the late 1970s... and a couple that will be difficult to better whatever league the Indians are competing in.

Four of the six starters were present recently and were honored during the sixth annual Kewaskum High Scramble, an event held at Hon-E-Kor Country Club to raise funds for athletic programs at the school.

Chuck McClain passed away several years ago and Spoerl was unable to attend the festivities. The others came from near Indianapolis, suburban Chicago and Kewaskum, to relive their perfect year which was climaxed when Jeff Koth fired a 3-under-par 69 in the Scenic Moraine Conference meet won by the Indians with a sizzling, record 305 strokes, 29 strokes ahead of runner-up Pewaukee.

The Indians had a monopoly on all-conference honors that season, with Jeff Koth first, Gaffke second and McClain unofficially in the fourth spot.

Gaffke also provided an individual record that year, posting a course record 4-under par-32 during a practice round on a night when the Indians were scheduled to play at Slinger's Scenic View.

The meet was postponed because of a light rain and fog in the area, but the Indians decided to practice at HEK, with Gaffke using an eagle 3 on the fifth hole toward the 32.

Each of the starters was the team or meet medalist at least once during the '73 season. All of them played nearly every day during the summer of 1972 to prepare for their historical run. In addition to playing from 18 to 36 holes with Hensler, McClain would hit 150-200 drives a day no matter how hot it was that summer.

Kewaskum also placed second in the WIAA regional at Sheboygan Riverdale — in those days all the teams were in one division — to earn a berth in the sectional. Unfortunately, rain pelted the South Hills course before the tournament, which probably should have been postponed because of the conditions on the course.

Instead, the rules were altered, and players from several other teams took advantage of those rules... really breaking the rules of golf, during the tournament.

Several of the Indians told Harlow they just couldn't play that way, and it resulted in a fifth place finish in the event, with the top two teams, Fond du Lac and Sheboygan North, advancing to the state tournament.

There was lots of chatter about the '73 season at the KHS Scramble, all the fun the golfers had together that season and how they still enjoy the game of golf.

Jeff Koth is currently the pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church near Waukegan, Illinois, and his brother Scott is an accountant in a suburb of Chicago.

Hensler is a metallurgist, working for Rolls Royce in Indianapolis, while Gaffke is a tool and die operator in West Bend.

This year's scramble drew 108 players, which is a new record for the event. The exact amount raised has still not been finalized by current KHS boys golf coach Glenn Eichstedt and Dennis Butz, who do much of the work on organizing the event.

One interesting tidbit from this year's outing was one foursome was made up completely by former Kewaskum High quarterbacks. Augie Bilgo played with his two sons, Doug and Jim, and his son-in-law Mike Doherty. All four were excellent quarterbacks for the Indians.

Korth plays well but other KHS golfers struggle in

BY JUDY HARLOW

KEWASKUM — One of the veteran returnees played well, but the other three starters struggled in the opening match of the year for the Kewaskum High golf team.

Senior Kate Korth led the field of 12 in Friday's match played at Hon-E-Kor Country Club. Korth's 42 was three shots ahead, but on the back nine she had three sevens on her card toward a 51, while the Nos. 1 players from Hartford and Sheboygan shot ahead of her.

Korth wound up third at 93, while Christine Blau's 45-46-91 was low for the day, one shot ahead of the 45-47-92 by Andrea Liebelt of Sheboygan.

In the team competition, Sheboygan, which is made up of players from both North and South High Schools, was an easy winner. Sheboygan ended up with a 387, with Hartford next at 419, and Kewaskum far back at 491.

Nicole Rimmel, Kewaskum's other experienced player, shot a 51 on the Red Nine, then skied on White with a 59 for a 110. Renee Wetzel came in with a 122, and Jordan Benike struggled on the White Nine and carded a 166 for the 18 holes.

A total of 10 girls, including four letterwinners, reported for the first golf practice last week. The returning letterwinners included seniors Katelyn Korth, who holds three varsity letters, Nicole Rimmel, who has lettered for the last two seasons, and Ericka Norem and Renee Wetzel, who both lettered last fall. They are both juniors.

Korth and Rimmel were sectional qualifiers in 2004. Korth also earned second team all-Wisconsin Little Ten honors by virtue of her scoring average throughout the season, while Rimmel was on the third team.

"Last year, we finished seventh in the Little Ten with a very young team," KHS coach Carol Martin said. "We hope to improve on that record this year with experience from all of the returning players and the addition of two newcomers who have some nice athletic ability."

Martin was referring to seniors April Lettow and Corin Groth, who are out for the sport for the first time.

"Even though they are new to the game of golf, they (Lettow and Groth) had a good week of practice their first week," Martin went on, noting Korth played in several junior tournaments this summer so she is coming in this year ready for competition.

Others out for the squad include: juniors Chelsea Wear and Brittany Tock, sophomore Jordan Benike and freshman Andrea Norem.

Martin is assisted by Jim Westphal.

Martin tabs Oconomowoc as the top contender in the WLT this fall, mainly because of the two Johnson girls who are returning. Abbey Johnson was No. 1 in the WLT a year ago, and Ana Johnson, who spent last fall at the Nike Golf School in Florida, is back this year.

West Bend West, second in the conference standings in 2004, could challenge Oconomowoc, according to Martin, who said coach Craig Anderson had four underclassmen last season.

And Hartford's hopes rest on the leadership and play of Christine Blau. "She is healthy this year and has a nice game," Martin said.

The first WLT match will be hosted by Beaver Dam on Monday. Normally the Little Ten allows each team to have six varsity players, and the team score is determined by the low four. If Kewaskum uses six on the varsity, it will only have four players left for the junior varsity competitions.
