Work begins on Schmidt property in T. Kewaskum

Accompanied by five Washington County Sheriff's deputies Badger Wrecking of West Bend descended upon the Wilmer Schmidt property on STH 28 west to begin clean up of the land.

According to Captain Dale Schmidt, Wilmer Schmidt became hostile with deputies and was arrested for disorderly conduct. He was then taken off the property and transported to the jail. At press time his family was posting bond.

Shortly after taking office, Town of Kewaskum Chairman Ellis Kahn took steps to abate the longstanding issue of clean up on the property.

"It's long overdue. It's a shame the town had to step in," Kahn stated Wednesday morning as five dump trucks from A&W Iron and Metal worked to remove debris from the property.

Kahn stated he thought the clean up would cost around $17,000 and is being assessed to Schmidt's property.

At their meeting Monday evening, the town's planning commission heard an annexation request from Bill Butzlaff Jr. for a 54.38 acre parcel owned by his parents, Bill and Carol.

The Butzlaff's would like to sell the property to a residential developer and would like the zoning changed from Exclusive Agriculture to Residential zoning.

"Our goal in requesting this change is to be able to keep this property from being annexed to the village. The rezoning will make it beneficial for the purchaser to keep the land in the town," stated Butzlaff Jr.

Property owners surrounding the property were very vocal against the rezoning with many saying they did not want to lose the rural character of the town. The plan commission tabled any action pending a concept plan being brought to the next meeting in October.

Officials at Regal Ware in Kewaskum have stated they have plans to open an outlet store in their former factory at 201 Second Street, which once was home to an employee-only outlet store. The store will open October 1.

In 1999 Regal Ware closed their very popular public store on Fond du Lac Avenue in Kewaskum. That building was sold to the Village of Kewaskum and is now used as a community room.

The store will be open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2:30 to 4:40 pm and Saturdays from 8 am until noon.

Details were not made available to The Statesman although Regal Ware spokesperson Deb Ramthun stated a formal announcement will be made soon.

Village Board hears good and bad news on TID

Theresa man killed in Wayne crash Tuesday

Payne and Dolan did pavement work for Nature Haven Estates Friday. Nature Haven Subdivision being developed by Gary Gavin is part of the Village of Kewaskum's Tax Incremental District. The Kewaskum Village Board heard good news and bad news regarding the entire TID project at their meeting Monday.

The Kewaskum Village Board heard good news and bad news regarding the entire TID project at their meeting Monday.

Industrial Drive, a frontage road off of Badger Road that will service DACCO and Village Lakes Center has been approved by the DNR. The plan for the road ran a snag when officials realized that it ran through a patch of wetlands in the project.

Ward also indicated a $350,000 savings because of the wetlands discovery. He stated the savings was realized when the sizing of the storm sewer infrastructure was decreased, decreasing the total cost of installation of the infrastructure for the TID.

However, while working on the project two property owners on Prospect Drive had their wells run dry. Because testing on the wells was not done prior to the project Ward recommended the village pick up the tab for installing new wells for Harold Schladweiler and Kurt Schmidt.

Both property owners have been without water since July and the village has been making water arrangements with them since that time. The total cost of replacing the property owners' hand dug wells with machine drilled wells will cost $15,580.25. Work was to begin shortly on the project.

It was also realized the clay would need to be imported to line two storm water retention ponds within Village Lakes Center. The cost of importing the clay will cost $119,700.

The board also awarded a contract to Woleske Construction of Green Bay to install a forced main in TID number two on Fond du Lac Avenue. Woleske was the lowest bidder of $208,847. Two other bids were received.

In other village business, administrator Dan Schmidt announced he received word from the Wisconsin Department of Administration regarding the 2005 official population for the village. Official numbers show that 3,689 people reside in the village. This is an increase of 412 people since the 2000 census.

Numbers for statewide population indicate 5,580,000, an increase of 216,285 people.

A 29-year-old Theresa man was killed following a crash in the Town of Wayne on Tuesday, Sept. 20, 2005 at approximately 12:40 pm.

The Washington County Sheriff's Department responded to the crash scene on State Highway 28 west and Mullen Drive along with Kohlsville First Responders and Kewaskum EMS.

An investigation reveals that the eastbound motorcycle, driven by Jason Wenstrand, attempted to pass the tractor just as the tractor began to make a left turn. The tractor operator, Justin Krueger, 22, of the Town of Wayne, observed the motorcycle operator begin his pass, so he steered the tractor back into the eastbound lane. At that point, the motorcycle operator also moved to the eastbound lane, and struck the back of the manure spreader.

The motorcycle operator sustained severe head injuries and was transported to Synergy Health/St. Joseph's Hospital in the Town of Polk by Kewaskum EMS. According to hospital officials there he was later transferred to Froedtert Hospital in Milwaukee. Public relations staff at Froedtert were unable to confirm that Wenstrand was ever a patient there.

Wenstrand was not wearing a helmet. Excessive speed and alcohol do not appear to factor in the accident. The tractor operator was not injured.

Creation/Evolution What is the truth?

Have you ever pondered the complexity and beauty of life or the vastness of our universe and wondered how it all came to be?

A large percentage of people believe they were created but have only been exposed to the evidences for evolution. There is an extensive and rapidly growing body of evidence indicating that Creation is scientifically valid.

Several area youth groups, churches and local parents have organized a free public lecture entitled "Scientific Evidences for Creation" appropriate for students, educators and other members of the community, ages Middle School and up. Jay Seegert, cofounder and principal lecturer of the Creation Education Center located in Waukesha County, will be the speaker.

It will take place at the West Bend High School Auditorium, 1305 E. Decorah Road, on Thursday, September 22 from 7:00-8:30 PM, including a time for questions and answers.

Seegert, President of the Creation Science Society of Milwaukee and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Physics and an Associate of Science degree in Engineering Technology.

He has extensively researched and lectured on this and related subjects for 20 years. He has become a renowned speaker addressing churches, public and private schools from Elementary to High School levels, universities, public Creation Society meetings, private homes and men's conferences where over 3,000 attended.

This talk is sure to fascinate anyone who has simply looked at the stars to others who have contemplated the staggering complexity of even a single celled organism. This is a nondenominational event. Any questions concerning this event can be directed to Diane 262-335-1816 or Mary 262-334-2984.

National Guard's WB helicopters arrive in Gulf

By Capt. Jon Powers
New Jersey National Guard

(Naval Air Station Belle Chasse, La.) - Only one aircraft in the Army inventory can pluck a stranded person off a rooftop, and that's a helicopter.

Within two days of Hurricane Katrina's landfall in southern Louisiana, the Wisconsin Army National Guard's 832nd Medical Company and three West Bend-based UH-1 Huey helicopters responded to an urgent call for help.

Maj. Matthew Strub, the 832nd's commander, received an initial "warning order" to fly south on Aug. 31, then a final order to depart two days later. By the evening of Sept. 3, about 20 air crewmen had arrived at Naval Air Station Belle Chasse just south of New Orleans and were ready for missions with their hoist-capable helicopters the next morning.

"The first few days it looked like there were hundreds of helicopters in the air and we flew nonstop from dawn to dusk for three or four days," Strub said.

"When we saw the hurricane hit there was a lot of adrenaline," said Capt. Timothy Eaton, a helicopter pilot who deployed with the 832nd. "We have trained for this mission for years and we knew we were needed."

"Once we arrived, the devastation brought tears to our eyes, it was of Biblical proportions," Eaton added. Initially, the rescue effort centered on the search and rescue of stranded residents, but there was not much searching needed. Victims were everywhere, signaling for help from their rooftops or the elevated highways. "We trained our eyes to look for movement, white flags waving or people signaling," Eaton said.

"I was surprised at the number of people who didn't want to leave, they were waving us off," said Staff Sgt. Eric Leukert, a helicopter crew chief. "They would be on their roofs and we'd lower a medic down to them with some food and water then move the helicopter off so the medic to talk to them," Leukert said.

The helicopters of the 832nd have been used in live hoist rescues year-round in all weather conditions. For more than two years, the unit provided medevac support to Fort Lewis, Wash., where the 832nd's Hueys flew rescue missions over the wilderness terrain of the Pacific Northwest. "We picked skiers and hikers off the mountains and gained a lot of experience in rescues," Strub said.

That experience proved to be a lifesaver for more than 130 New Orleans residents.

Among the many heart-breaking stories throughout the devastated city, Leukert will always remember one rescue in particular. "We hoisted up a woman in her bathrobe, she was crying, and that was all she had left at that time was that bathrobe," Leukert said. "Her house was almost totally under water."

Thanks to the efforts of the 832nd, that woman and more than 100 others like her have more than bathrobes: they have their lives, too.

Although most of the Wisconsin Guard's hurricane relief task force returned to Wisconsin late last week, the Guard's aviation mission continues with two UH-60 Black Hawks from Madison and West Bend's three UH-1 Huey helicopters and their crews who will remain in the region through the end of September.

Doyle approves almost $800k for Hartford airport

Governor Jim Doyle has approved a $782,984 project to assist with a land purchase and hangar area development at the Hartford Municipal Airport. The Governor's action releases $23,742 in state funds to help complete the project. The city of Hartford is also contributing $23,742, and the Federal Aviation Administration will provide the remaining $735,500.

The project will provide for basic grading, site development and taxiways to accommodate privately-funded hangar facilities, according to Karen Valley, Airport Project Manager with the Wisconsin Department of Transportation.

The land purchase will help preserve the runway approach area off the south end of the airport's 2,250-foot turf runway. Work on the project should be completed this fall.

Last year, Governor Doyle approved a $324,562 project at the Hartford Municipal Airport to assist with land acquisition, construction of a taxiway, and development of a new hangar site. Along with the turf airstrip, facilities at the airport include a 3,000-foot paved runway.

Modern Woodmen fundraiser for Knuths a success Receive degrees

Members of the West Bend camp 821 recently held a fundraiser to help Peggy and Dwain Knuth, who were injured in a motorcycle accident. The money raised will be used to off-set medical bills due to their accident.

The camp held an auction and a dance at the Eden Firemen's park on July 31, 2005. The auction and dance were professionally done. "There are many folks who need to be thanked for their efforts," said Modern Woodmen representative Jeff Jaeger. "And each and everyone of you knows who you are when you look into the mirror. We don't want to list anyone because there were many of you and we don't want to leave anyone out. The event was a community effort.

Everyone shared their love and talents to help a family member, a friend, or perhaps a community acquaintance."

The event raised $13,626.34. Modern Woodmen of America matched $2,500. The Knuth family received a check for $16,126.34. All too often in the rush of our daily lives we forget to say thank you. Square dancing for the young and young at heart Square dancing is for everybody! Join the crowd! It's fun set to music. That's a great description of square dancing.

The Kettle Moraine Squares will be celebrating its 24th anniversary as a club in November. The club caller, Gordy Ziemann, and cuer Mary Ann Ziemann, reside in Jackson. Most of the other members live in the West Bend area.

The club dances at St. John's Lutheran Church in West Bend on the first and third Fridays of each month. The first Friday, Gordy and Mary Ann do the calling and cueing. The third Friday other guest callers and cuers visit the club.

There are about 70 basic steps in mainstream (beginner) level. No matter where a square dancer travels he knows he can drop into a square dance and the calls will all be in English.

One hour of square dancing burns off 300 calories. In an average evening, you'll walk (shuffle) three to five miles.

Square dancing keeps your mind very active as you must think as the calls are given and move to the caller's cues.

The Kettle Moraine Squares invite you to come to a dance and watch anytime (first and third Friday) at 7:30 p.m. Questions may be directed to the Ziemanns at 262-677-3530 or the Laubensteins at 262-677-1041.

Entertainment taking shape for Kettle Kountry Kolors

The Friends of Kewaskum have begun planning their annual Kettle Kountry Kolors Family Festival for October 8 and 9. As the list of entertainers begins to grow, at the top of list is Copper Box, based in Oshkosh.

Copper Box is the master of "accordion-swamp-rock." Their music has a variety of root influences such as: Cajun, country, rock, polka, Zydeco, blues, and Tex-Mex, that is infused with "pure and raw" emotion. Copper Box's mission is to bring people together and to have a good time as they watch and listen to a band that loves to perform and make music. Perfect for the theme of the colorful annual fall festival held in Kewaskum's Riverhill Park.

Fronted by accordion ace, Danny Jerabek, Copper Box is one act you do not want to miss and cannot be found anywhere else! Copper box has taken popular music and diffused it with outside influences...allowing the music to be enriched and ultimately strengthened from its customary and all too often stagnant formula. Danny is joined by wife Michelle (Thull) Jerabek formerly of Kewaskum. Copper box will perform on Sunday from 1-3 pm on the entertainment gazebo in the park.

Also making an appearance for an hour show on Saturday will be The Inkwell Collective. Kewaskum Library Director, Steev Baker is an intricate part of the group that was formed in late 2003 as an experiment in musical chemistry. With drums, bass, electric guitar, acoustic guitar, cello, piano, violin, and viola, the Collective mixes folk, classical, and punk influences to create songs indicative of the constantly changing cultural landscape of pop music.

Many popular events such as the Children's Tent, Buckskinner Encampment and hayrides from Kettle Moraine Carriages will also be returning. Please watch area newspapers for more information.

These groups and others still being booked are being sponsored by area businesses such as Geidel's Piggly Wiggly. All sponsors will receive signage on the festival grounds and in advertising for the event. Contact Andrew Kuehl, entertainment coordinator at 262-370-0831 for more information.

PERSPECTIVES

A new start for Katrina victims

By Jack Kemp

Three cheers for Sen. Barack Obama, D-Ill., and Democratic party activist Donna Brazille, who are rising above politics to help the president in attempts to rebuild the Gulfport region of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. Both Obama and Brazille have made dramatic statements that reflect a common commitment for racial reconciliation and for waging war on poverty to restore hope to people and families in Biloxi, New Orleans and other cities and communities in the hurricane-ravaged region.

In the same spirit, former Secretary of Housing Henry Cisneros, Urban League President Marc Morial and I (among others) are helping lead a home-building effort to raise money to bring Habitat for Humanity into the relief and reconstruction campaign. We've enlisted the support of Warner Bros. Records, NBC, and Tim Blixseth, a lumber and resort entrepreneur, to raise money and challenge others to get involved in helping low-income families to get their shot at a dream of ownership.

I was thrilled to hear President Bush refer to Habitat as integral to his urban home-steading initiative. Our hope is that mayors and governors in the region will donate vacant properties where Habitat for Humanity volunteers can build homes that will house families, help communities expand the tax base and stabilize neighborhoods.

Too many Democrats blame the president as indifferent to the plight of the poor and the suffering in the region. Conversely, Republicans are accusing the president of reckless spending and allowing the federal government to grow in this crisis. Imagine what a dispossessed low-income family living in Houston's Astrodome might think of Republican conservatives who talk about not spending the money on necessary emergency relief, restoration and rebuilding the region. Abraham Lincoln faced the same criticism in 1862 when he passed the Homestead Act and the Republicans who voted against it said the act would cost money. Talk about penny-wise and pound-foolish politics.

Most of those who criticize the president's spending in this crisis are the same who recently voted for the pork-laden highway bill and the no-energy energy bill. This is the hypocrisy W.F. Buckley defined as "the tribute that vice pays to virtue."

When the president alluded to the history of racial discrimination that for so long denied equality of opportunity and economic justice to people of color, he showed an understanding of the issue and compassion for people all too often neglected by the party of Lincoln in the past. There are appalling cases of historical racial discrimination in education, housing and employment that have contributed to the conditions we all saw on television in that tragic and historic catastrophe.

That's why the president said he wants to combat poverty through expanding entrepreneurship generally and minority enterprise in particular. He knows that an opportunity (or enterprise) zone for the whole region will attract capital and encourage investment in job-creating businesses in the "green-lined" area of Gulfport.

Further attacks on the president are coming for not raising taxes, and it is time for thoughtful Republicans in Congress to come to his defense. They need to point out that even at lower tax rates revenues have grown for two straight years more than 16 1/2 percent. And the capital gains tax is not a tax on the rich, it's a tax on the poor who want to get rich.

The deficit, while numerically large, is but 3 1/2 percent of our $11.9 trillion gross domestic product, which people conveniently ignore when talking about deficits. Growth at 3.5 percent to 4 percent is essential to keeping our revenues sufficient to meet this challenge, and this is no time for the Federal Reserve to be raising interest rates.

Instead of raising taxes, Congress should provide more juice to the opportunity zone by adding an exemption to capital gains taxes for people and businesses who invest in job-creating enterprises for people in the green-lined zone. As the president said, the people who suffered the most dislocation and distress must participate fully in the rebuilding and the job opportunities that will result from these policy prescriptions.

African-American leaders like Morial, Bruce Gordon of NAACP, Earl Graves of Black Enterprise Magazine and Andy Young, the former mayor of Atlanta, have all said access to capital is one of the most important social and economic goals for minority business development and job creation. Let's democratize capitalism as a tool to wage war on poverty, despair and racial discrimination.

- In Your Opinion -

A case of mistaken identity

I suppose it's only natural that when it was reported that a certain individual with the name of Jeff Fink was charged with possession of child pornography, people would assume it was me. After all, I was born, raised, and have lived in West Bend most of my life.

But as unlikely as it may seem, a quick check of the local phone book will confirm that there are two people with the name of Jeff Fink currently residing in West Bend.

I want to make it very clear that the Jeff Fink charged with this crime is another individual with the same name as me. I have never been charged or arrested for any crime whatsoever.

I was born in 1969, the son of Ron and Rosemary Fink. I graduated with the West Bend West class of 1988. In addition, I have lived on Sylvan Way for the past four years. These details of my identity do not match those of the person whose home was raided.

Sadly, this whole episode has been especially hard on my parents. Personally, I am also troubled by how so many people I thought knew me better have just assumed the worst without question.

I implore everyone to please allow me to reclaim my good name.

Dear Editor:

I have a question I would like an answer to.
In regards to the arson fire in the condo subdivision off Hwy. H, I would like to know why the unsightly debris has not been cleaned up? If they are not cleaning this mess because the investigation is on going and they do not want to disturb anything. Then why isn't there some type of fencing around the area. This is a sub-division in town with curious young children playing everywhere. There is jagged metal, nails and glass in the area. Is there no concern here or are they waiting for a lawsuit. Our town officials and police should have some concern on this matter.

Respectfully

Guy E. Harris

Dear Editor:

The Land Conservation Partnership of Washington County (LCPWC) sends kudos to the Washington County Board for approving a pilot program dedicating $100,000 per year to create buffer zones around Washington County parks.

Open space buffers around our wonderful county parks assure visitors will have a more enjoyable experience. It's good public policy. The LCPWC urges the County Board to take the next step by dedicating 1/3 of future sales tax revenues to the preservation of open space and farmland in accordance with adopted plans.

There are sound economic advantages to preserving prime, working farmland and open space, including:

1. The ag/food business contributes approximately $145 million dollars per year to our local economy.
2. The property remains on the tax rolls, but demands little of public services.
3. Farmers can invest in their business without fear that land will be lost to development.

4. Capital received for the purchase of the development rights puts cash in the hands of the farmer who can then re-invest in the business.

5. A new farmer can afford to buy the farm at ag prices without fear of losing land.

Preserving open space and farmland also provides wildlife habitat, replenishes our local groundwater, provides locally grown food for markets and preserves our rural heritage and scenic vistas.

Purchasing development rights is one successful method for accomplishing this goal. Selecting land based on strict criteria can guide the purchases strategically, so that the best farmland is protected while allowing for planned growth in our communities.

Washington County is poised to be a leader in this effort in Wisconsin. Many other counties throughout the nation have successfully launched similar farmland preservation programs, as well as 27 states and the United States Department of Agriculture.

We still have time to preserve what we value in our county. Let's take advantage of this opportunity.

Ken is a 17-year-old senior at Kewaskum High School and has one younger brother and two younger sisters here in Kewaskum. His summer in England was spent with the Michael Wall family in a rural area, on a dairy farm. He was not too enthusiastic about the English weather. He said it was cool and wet most of the time, but he didn't see any London fog. He was completely overwhelmed by his experiences but encourages any interested students to look into this type of exchange program.

A large barn, 46 by 100 feet, on the Albert Seefeld farm, located a short distance north of Campbellsport on Highway V, was totally destroyed by fire last Saturday evening. It is thought that the barn was set afire by some unknown person as neighbors saw a mysterious car speed away from the farm shortly after the barn burst into flames and authorities later discovered that the telephone wires leading to Seefeld's farm residence had been cut. Damage estimated at nearly $20,000 was caused by the fire.

The Frohne Sisters, nationally known radio singers, are making a big hit with the WTMJ audience of the Milwaukee Journal, from which station they broadcast every Thursday. During their vacation period they sang various songs at services at the Evangelical Peace Church here on Sundays.

Shown above are Elisa Schoofs as Reno Sweeney and Lindsey Krautkramer as Hope Harcourt.

On Friday, November 4, 2005, students from KHS will set sail on the S.S. American from New York to England. Just before departure newspaper cameramen are snapping pictures of celebrities.

Among them is beautiful American Heiress Hope Harcourt (Lindsay Krautkramer), her foppish fiancé Sir Evelyn Oakleigh (Randy Hestekin) and Hope's mother. Mrs. Wadsworth T. Harcourt (Mandy Kearns) may not be the beauty her daughter is, but she is slightly antique and therefore receives more attention from Sir Evelyn, obviously an admirer of fine old things.

Other travelers aboard are Bishop Dobson (Jeremy Parker), pompous Wall Street broker Elisha J. Whitney (Mason Smith), Reno Sweeney, an evangelist (Elisa Schoofs), with her bevy of not-so-angelic Angels (Katie Schoofs, Jamie Vogt, Kim Baker and Jackie McKee). Next is Billy Crocker (Kurtis Wetzel) a self-admitted "broken-down broker," an admirer of Hope Harcourt.

Does this sound like a fun-filled voyage or not? Keep reading the Statesman in the weeks to come for more information concerning this trip on the musical stage of KHS.

Mark these dates on your calendar, Friday, November 4 and Saturday, November 5, 2005. Don't miss this exciting trip of a lifetime.

MT. HOERB - FCWisconsin recently sponsored two Wisconsin Association of Agricultural Educators (WAAE) awards. Recipients were honored at the WAAE Summer Conference recently.

The criteria to win "Farm Business and Production Management Honored Instructor" are based on community involvement, innovation, years of agribusiness teaching experience and success in the field. This was the first year that two recipients were recognized. They were: David Wittek - Chippewa Valley Technical College and David Weiland - Fox Valley Technical College.

FCWisconsin also sponsored the "Ideas Unlimited" contest, in which WAAE members share ideas for both new and improvement of old methods used in their field. Winners include David Rizzardi - Kewaskum High School.

"FCWisconsin welcomes the opportunity to honor agricultural educators," said Frank Friar, FCWisconsin's state marketing committee chair and vice president of branch operations for Badgerland Farm Credit Services. "Supporting the next generation of agriculture in the state is one of FCWisconsin's core goals, and these instructors are an integral part of developing that generation. We are proud to recognize their hard work and accomplishments."

FCWisconsin, a collaborative effort of the four Farm Credit Associations serving Wisconsin, is committed to fostering a thriving rural economy by providing valuable resources and expertise to Wisconsin's rural infrastructure. Member associations include AgStar Financial Services, Badgerland Farm Credit Services, FCS Financial Services and GreenStone Farm Credit Services.

Small towns - big hearts

It all started as an idea, a thought, a what if and now it has become a huge collection drive for the victims of the hurricane. Local businesses, schools, community members and surrounding schools have been calling, volunteering, offering services, and giving, giving, giving. St. Matthew's School, Campbellsport, was looking for a way to help the people of the south and wanted students to feel a sense of ownership beyond a monetary offering.

Planning, making posters, t-shirts, and sorting basic needs have given the students an opportunity to help adults and children in a small rural area not much different than our town. This project has snowballed into something that has taken on its' own identity. Everytime someone hears about the drive, the come up with new ideas, resources, money, more names of businesses, products, etc.

The schools in Jackson, Mississippi are in need of desks. Recently, arrangements were made to have Perron Trucking deliver 400 desks, donated by St. Matt's, St. Mary Springs, and FACES, Fond du Lac Schools. Heus Manufacturing and Mr. and Mrs. John Zacherl and Mr. and Mrs. Amerling have graciously offered to pay for the shipping. The desks were on their way this past weekend.

Perron Trucking has donated a semi and driver for the next load which will leave Campbellsport on October 6. Dennis Lichtensteiger of International Paper has offered as many boxes as needed and the other churches in the area are collecting food, supplies, and money as well. Carol Ferber, United Church of Christ, is helping organize this effort. This has become a community-wide effort by many small towns in the area to reach out and help.

A list of desperately needed items are listed below. Donations may be dropped off at St. Matthews School, The Campbellsport fire house (Main Street), Wright Veterinary Services (Hwy. 67) and Erin Enterprises (Main Street). Checks may be made payable to St. Matthews School. The sooner they receive the supplies, the easier it will be to sort and pack.

Thank you for sharing with those less fortunate than ourselves.

Items needed:

Baby supplies: diapers, babyfood, blankets, bottles, formula.

Household goods: blankets, pillows, quilts, mattresses, air mattresses, mops and brooms.

Non-perishable foods: baked beans, green beans, pork and beans, tuna, spam, bottled water.

Toiletries: soap, shampoo, toothpaste, toothbrushes, hairbrushes, towels, toilet paper.

Miscellaneous: aspirin/pain reliever, all school supplies, all cleaning supplies, NEW underwear and socks.

An American aircraft carrier can reach over a fifth of a mile long and carry close to one hundred planes.

Awana Club at C-sport Alliance Church

September 28, 2005 marks the beginning of a new year of AWANA Clubs at the Campbellsport Alliance Church. AWANA meets weekly on Wednesday evenings from 6:30-8 p.m. An AWANA club meeting consists of three parts: games, achievements, and a Bible lesson time. Children entering kindergarten through sixth grade are invited to join. The Sparks program is for kindergartners through second grade and T&T is for third through sixth grade.

AWANA is an international, Bible-centered children's and youth ministry providing local churches with weekly clubs, programs, and training for students in preschool through high school. The acronym AWANA comes from the first letters of Approved Workmen Are Not Ashamed as taken from 2 Timothy 2:15.

AWANA began in 1950 as a youth program at the North Side Gospel Center in Chicago, Illinois. Today, more than 11,000 US churches run AWANA. There are clubs in all 50 states. AWANA can also be found in 3,300 churches in 109 other countries and six continents. These church-sponsored clubs are open to all youth and have children attending from many different faiths and churches.

Last year was the first year of AWANA at Campbellsport Alliance Church. It was enjoyed by over 40 children. If you would like your child to join in the fun, or if you have questions, please call the church office at 920-533-5123 or Pastor Doug Birr at 920-533-4516. The church is located at N1876 Hwy. V in Campbellsport.

Joe Swanson

Dave Lenz

Mike Reichert

Regal Ware products are available under a variety of brand names throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, Asia and Europe. Activities planned for Life Insurance Awareness Month

Forty-four percent of US households (48 million) say they need more life insurance coverage, according to LIMRA International's 2005 Life Insurance Ownership Study of household financial decision makers.

Perhaps the biggest barrier to people getting the coverage they say they need - 78% of Americans say they don't have a personal life insurance agent.

September marks the second-annual observance of Life Insurance Awareness Month, an opportunity to raise awareness and educate consumers about the importance of life insurance coverage and the professional financial services representatives trained to help them get the adequate financial protection they feel they need.

Led by the Life and Health Insurance Foundation for Education, more than 100 life insurance organizations and their representatives, including local Modern Woodmen of America agent Jeff Jaeger, will mark the occasion by providing information and activities regarding the role of life insurance in a sound financial plan.

"Life Insurance Awareness Month is a great time for people to evaluate their personal situation," says Jaeger. "There's a big gap between the coverage people have and what they feel they need. That's where an adviser's role comes in - to help people who have these concerns but aren't sure where to turn to determine their needs or how to meet those needs."

Modern Woodmen members and others can find life insurance information and online financial planning calculators at www.modern-woodmen.org. Or, they can contact Jaeger at 262-626-4139 about a free life insurance analysis.

Additionally, Jaeger will offer educational workshops on Life insurance, retirement planning and 401(k) rollovers.

Modern Woodmen representatives help more than 750,000 members meet quality-of-life needs for their families and communities through financial advice and products, and fraternal programs.

*MidAmerica's Equity CashLines have a variable rate. The introductory Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is based on an interest rate of 1% below the Prime Rate (current introductory Annual Percentage Rate is 5.58%) for the first 90 days after the account is opened with an initial draw of $10,000 or more. During the introductory period, there will be no minimum interest rate. If you receive the introductory interest rate, on the 91st day after the account is opened, your rate will be determined as described below. The Annual Percentage Rate is based on the Prime Rate published in the Money Rates section of the Wall Street Journal on the last publishing date of each calendar month. As of 8/10/05, the Annual Percentage Rate on Equity CashLine programs varied between 5.59% to 10.27%. Your rate and corresponding APR may be different than the advertised rate and depend on your approved loan amount, loan-to-value ratio, property type, occupancy and credit qualifications. Rates are subject to change at any time without notice and may be higher or lower than the current advertised rate. During the draw period, the maximum Annual Percentage Rate is 25.34% and the minimum Annual Percentage Rate is 3.55%. During the repayment period, the maximum Annual Percentage Rate is 25.00% and the minimum Annual Percentage Rate is 3.50%. An annual fee of $50 is charged after the first year. If the line is closed within the first two years of the loan term, an early closure fee of $350 will apply. During the draw period, payments of interest only will not reduce the loan balance. Appraisal fees apply to properties outside of our lending areas and may apply for properties with two-to-four units. Property, title and/or flood insurance, if applicable, is required. Please consult with a tax advisor about the deductibility of interest.

Educating public and professionals is an ongoing process for diggers hotline

WAUWATOSA, Wis. - The organizational goals of Diggers Hotline are simple: to increase worker and public safety, prevent damage to underground and overhead facilities, protect the environment, and to help ensure continuity of utility and communication services. Educating the people that benefit most from the free service isn't always as simple.

The education process has included organizational participation in hundreds of professional excavator safety meetings across the state each year, full advertising campaigns, and numerous professional and consumer trade shows.

Throughout their ongoing efforts, they have encountered numerous misperceptions regarding their services. Since 1976, Diggers Hotline has helped thousands of homeowners and professionals avoid costly and potentially dangerous accidents, but here are a few facts about Diggers Hotline that you may not have known.

- Diggers Hotline is not responsible for marking the location of underground facilities.

Diggers Hotline receives calls from excavators, both homeowners and professionals, and then relays that information to the owners of underground equipment in that area. The underground facility owners such as cable, electric, sewer and water, and telephone companies are responsible for marking a proposed dig site once notified by Diggers Hotline.

- Diggers Hotline is a free service.

Each call or online locate request by a homeowner or professional excavator is free of charge.

- Contacting Diggers Hotline is required when doing ANY digging.

Anyone digging or excavating, no matter how big or small the job, is required by law to contact Diggers Hotline at least three working days in advance, according to Wisconsin State Statute 182.0175.

- Diggers Hotline is not a utility, part of a utility, or a state agency.

Diggers Hotline was established in 1976 as a not-for-profit organization. It was created to increase worker and public safety, prevent damage to underground and overhead facilities, protect the environment, and help ensure continuity of utility and communication services.

- Telephone is not the only way to contact Diggers Hotline.

The Email-A-Locate system is available for homeowners or professionals at www.DiggersHotline.com.

- A call to Diggers Hotline will not get private facilities marked.

Utilities are responsible for marking their own buried facilities located at job sites, not private facilities. Examples of private facilities would include an electric line to a detached garage or lamp, underground sprinkler systems, security systems, sewer or water laterals, and walkway lights connected by underground cables. These facilities are owned by the property owner and will not be marked by locators working for the utilities.

Wisconsin Statute 182.0175 requires all excavators — including homeowners and construction contractors — to call Diggers Hotline at least three working days before starting the work involved. Diggers Hotline processed about 700,000 incoming requests and made 3.2 million notifications to state facility owners in 2004.

Diggers Hotline, Wisconsin's one-call notification center, coordinates activities between excavators, and utilities such as phone, cable, gas, water, and electric. Diggers Hotline is an independent, not-for-profit organization, and is a free service for anyone doing excavation work in Wisconsin. Over 1,000 facility owners are currently members of Diggers Hotline.

For more information on Diggers Hotline, call 1-800-242-8511 or visit www.diggershotline.com.

The Monsters of Gramercy Park

By Danny Leigh

Bloomsburg c.2005 $23.95

When it comes to books, there's fiction and there's non-fiction. One is the result of a fertile mind. The other is reporting facts. You know how the true stuff came to be, because the author tells you. But did you ever wonder how those made-up stories are made up?

Sometimes, it's hard to tell the difference between truth and a lie. In "The Monsters of Gramercy Park" by Danny Leigh, the two are nearly indistinguishable.

Author Lizbeth Greene is tanking, as they say. While her first novel, based on her own abduction, was a hit, her latter novels have disappointed almost everyone. Now Lizbeth has writer's block and she's feeling fragile. She's plagued with accidents, she can barely stand to be around anybody, and someone keeps phoning at all hours at her Connecticut home. Then Lizbeth wakes up with the word "Squirrel" scrawled on the back of her hand. She wrote it there in the middle of the night, but she has no recollection of what it could possibly mean.

In the segregation unit of a Pennsylvania prison, Wilson Velez gets a note from his lawyer saying that God is dead. "God" was the nickname that Wilson gave to the judge who sentenced him to the harshest punishment possible: to be housed in Administrative Segregation, completely isolated from all human contact. Now the judge is gone and Wilson may be able to get out of Ad-Seg.

Years ago, Wilson was the founder of the Sacred Incan Royals, a vicious gang that dealt in bloodshed and drugs. Wilson had ruled the clca from Queens, and it boasted thousands of members and a wide reach; in fact, authorities claimed that Wilson ordered several deaths while he was in prison, using codes and letters. To protect others from him, he was sent to Ad-Seg in Pennsylvania. Now Wilson, who was known as Arzilla or "Squirrel", is fighting to be released into the main prison population.

When Lizbeth hears about Wilson and his nickname, she believes she was "meant" to make him her next book subject. She secures permission to interview Wilson, only to find a shadow of a once-powerful man. Wilson can barely speak and seems frail, but Lizbeth is intent on using him for her next bestseller.

Meanwhile, Wilson is intent on using Lizbeth to get out of Ad-Seg.

I hear a lot of people complaining that their favorite Authors of Creepiness don't write fast enough. From here on in, I'm sending them to this book. "The Monsters of Gramercy Park" is tight, unsettling and eerie, and you'll be slammed around in the story until you're not sure who's telling the truth. Author Danny Leigh then adds tiny little nuances that may or may not have much to do with what's going to happen, which only piles on the ominous feeling you get when you read this excellent book.

Pick up a copy of "The Monsters of Gramercy Park". Then keep repeating to yourself, "It's only a novel. It's only a novel. It's only a novel...."

Indians get blanked by Kohler; Kowalczyk, Feucht takes 1st in tourney

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Add Kohler to the mix for the Eastern Wisconsin Conference girls tennis title this weekend.

That is the prediction made by Kewaskum High Coach Dan Ross after his girls had little success against the Blue Bombers in a match held at Kohler on Thursday afternoon.

The Lady Indians were unable to come away with any victories in the 7-0 loss, this one coming two days after their match against Kiel was wiped out by rain with several matches still to be finished.

Kewaskum did perform well in the St. Francis Invitational held on Sept. 10th, especially Allison Kowalczyk and Ashley Feucht, who combined to play at No. 1 doubles and wound up as champions of the event.

"They (Kohler girls) are exceptional ... will be right in the race for conference champs," Ross said, indicating the best KHS performance came at No. 3 doubles where freshmen Kelsey Goetsch and Lauren Hughes lost by scores of 3-6 and 4-6 to Olivia Kellner and Carli Roberts.

Other than this twosome, none of the other Indians won more than one game in a match against the powerful Blue Bombers.

Ross said Ashley Corey played much better than the final score of her match reflected. "She really hit the ball well," the coach said.

Kewaskum 0, Kohler 7

Singles: No. 1 Allison Kowalczyk lost to Kaleigh Wenberg, 0-6, 0-6; 2. Ashley Feucht lost to Lindsey Dvorak 0-6, Injury default; No. 3 Karissa Dums lost to Ali Lick, 1-6, 0-6; 4. Ashley Corey lost to Kelly Suralile, 1-6, 1-6.

Doubles: 1. Kerri Winter/Emily Boden lost to Abby Dolloff/Rachel Saemann, 1-6, 0-6; 2. Marie Terlinden/Katie Gaynor lost to Keenan Wolf/Allison Holzgart, 0-6, 0-6; 3. Goetsch/Hughes lost to Kellner/Roberts, 3-6, 4-6.

Against Kiel, Dums lost her first set 3-6 but battled back with a 6-4 win over Stephanie Freis before the rains came.

Kowalczyk lost a tough 5-7 decision in her first set but still has a chance to come back. Feucht is down one set, while the No. 3 doubles match never got started.

No information was available on whether the meet would be completed before the EWC meet at the Sports Core in Kohler Friday and Saturday.

The best news came from the St. Francis Invitational where Kowalczyk and Feucht won all four of their matches against teams from the host school, Sussex Hamilton, Port Washington and Cudahy.

The coaches decided since there were five teams, 9-game pro sets scoring would be used with no ads.

The junior-senior duo knocked off L. Krszale and A. Kropidowski of St. Francis 9-4, M. Morgan and K. Barrows of Port Washington, 9-3, Cudahy's team of J. Manthey and H. Cullen 9-5 and finished off the day with a 9-8 (7-5) decision over Brenda Litzka and Jessica Arrendo of Hamilton.

Ross was very pleased with the way these girls played together, and he praised Dums for giving her all.

"Karissa did a really nice job moving up to No. 1 (singles)," Ross said. "She didn't win any but came close to defeating the champion from Hamilton (Noel Kitzke), losing 7-9 after being up 7-6."

"All in all, it was a good day," Ross said. "It was nice to have some success."

Not a good day for KHS spikers

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Stepping out of the comfort level of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, the Kewaskum High girls volleyball team found out it has a long way to go before being able to stand toe to toe with the powers in southeastern Wisconsin.

The Lady Indians won just one match at Saturday's Waupun Invitational, a 25-23, 25-23 decision over Appleton Xavier.

In their first match, KHS lost 17-25, 9-25 to Division 1 Fond du Lac, and new coach Renee Butschlick said it was a matter of not playing up to potential. "We could not keep the ball in play and could not dig the the ball up," she said.

KHS had just six kills, two by Marissa Dehler and two by Christina DeGroot.

The win over Xavier came next, with the kill total climbing to 12, including four by Bekki Heberer. Heberer also claimed three of the Indians' seven aces.

Then came the big match against Division 2 power, Waupun. The Indians were no match for the defending Division 2 state champs, losing 13-25 and 12-25. DeGroot came up with six kills, but the Indians had too many reception errors.

"The girls just came off a high after playing Xavier and were ready to dig and block," according to Butschlick, who said, "We started off with hitting and digging but we could not hold it. We got stuck in service receive and could not stop their serve."

In the final match of the day between the fourth-place pool teams, Kewaskum lost to New Berlin Eisenhower 24-26 and 23-25.

"We were ahead in both games all the way through and at the end, when we needed to finish the game, we just could not," Butschlick said. "We just had a bad day and need to work hard this week at practice, so we can stay positive and focus on staying undefeated in conference."

KHS had 13 kills, four by Dehler and three each from Becky Rodenkirch and Heberer.

On Thursday, the Indians were the dominant team, going 4-0 in the first EWC quad, beating Sheboygan Falls 25-15, 25-20 and 25-19, topping Campbellsport in the thrilling five-game match, 25-19, 25-13, 24-26, 22-25 and 15-13 and blasting New Holstein, 25-13, 24-10 and 25-17.

Highlights of these matches are as follows: vs. Sheboygan Falls — DeGroot had three of the Indians' seven aces, kill leaders were Dehler (7), Heberer (6) and Rodenkirch (5) and assists, 39, with one error.

KHS vs. Campbellsport — 10 aces, including four by DeGroot and three by Dehler, assists 137 by Katie Schroeder, who committed three errors; kills, Heberer (17), DeGroot (16) and Dehler (8).

KHS vs. New Holstein — aces seven, including three by Heberer; assists, Schroeder 43 of 43; kills, Heberer 11, and Rodenkirch seven.

"We had more blocks and some great digs," Butschlick said.

Fall wild turkey season opens Oct. 1

MADISON — Wisconsin's 2005 fall wild turkey hunting season will open on Oct. 1, with 85,400 permits issued for the 40-day season that runs through Nov. 9. The last of the permit notifications were sent out to successful applicants in the mail last week.

A total of 93,128 applicants applied for fall turkey permits this year, an increase from 90,839 applicants in 2004, according to Andrea Mezera, upland wildlife ecologist for the Department of Natural Resources.

"There were more than 81,800 hunters who received a single permit, and approximately 3,500 who received two permits," Mezera says. "This is an increase of about 6,500 permits over the 2004 fall permit levels, which resulted in 10,362 birds being harvested for a 13.1 percent success rate."

State wildlife officials say hunters should be able to look forward to an excellent fall season, with good turkey production reported this year and the state's wild turkey population now extending well into the northern part of the state. Expansion is occurring in part due to statewide mild winters, available habitat, and expanded habitat development and improvement. Revenue from the sale of the turkey stamps directly funds much of this habitat work.

Since most turkey hunting occurs on private land, Mezera says, it is important for hunters to keep landowner relationships a high priority.

"Landowners in Wisconsin are usually willing to allow hunters to use their land as long as they ask politely for permission to do so," she says.

Fall turkey hunters need to be aware of special blaze orange clothing requirements in effect for ALL hunters when firearm deer seasons are occurring. All hunters hunting within a Zone T Management Area are required to wear at least 50 percent blaze orange during the antlerless only deer season Oct. 27-30. Hunters statewide are required to wear blaze orange during the youth firearm deer hunt on Saturday, Oct. 29. Hunters within the CWD - Herd Reduction Zone must also meet the 50 percent blaze orange requirements during the Oct. 27 - 30 firearm season. Additionally, hunters within the special CWD - Disease Eradication Zone Deer Management Units (DMUs) are required to wear 50 percent blaze orange starting Oct. 27 through the end of the turkey season. Please refer to the 2005 Deer Hunting Regulations for a complete list of all DMUs and the season type that applies to that unit.

There are special safety concerns that hunters need to pay special attention to when turkey hunting. Primarily, they need to be aware of other hunters in the field during this time, both turkey hunters and those pursuing other game. Turkey hunters should not stalk a turkey. A turkey hunter who tries stalking a calling turkey is often actually stalking another hunter. Turkey hunters who are wearing camouflage should let others know of their whereabouts by shouting out to them.

During the fall turkeys spend more than 90 percent of the daylight hours in hardwood habitats. Both brood flocks and adult male flocks make extensive use of areas dominated by oak and hickory. Turkey hunters should monitor the acorn crop in the area they hunt, as the success or failure of acorns will determine where turkeys will be feeding. In years of poor acorn production, turkeys spend proportionately more time in cornfields.

The earliest stopwatches were known as pulse watches. Made in the 1680s, they were used by doctors.

At the finish line, dad comes away as the winner

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

When next spring rolls around, Craig Anderson will be rooting for his son, Jeff, to do well in all his high school golf matches.

Young Anderson, a freshman, is expected to be a stand-out on dad's West Bend High boys golf team, but Saturday and Sunday at Hon-E-Kor Country Club, it was every man (or young man) for himself as the two battled the entire 36 holes to take home the annual Kettle Moraine Amateur title.

In the end, Craig Anderson's tournament experience might have been the difference. Finishing the final five holes (on the White Nine) in 2-under-par, he closed out with a 35 for a 71 and a total of 145, which was one shot ahead of the 15-year-old talent.

Jeff Anderson was the leader after Saturday's opening round, posting a 3-over-par on respective nine-hole scores of 36 and 37.

Dad was right on the younger Anderson's heels, firing a 35-39 for a first round 74.

Kewaskum's Jim Rohlinger, who struggled in the Men's Club Championship two weeks ago, was in the heat of the battle, with his 75. Then came Joe Doherty of West Bend. He was sitting in the fourth spot with a 76.

Both Andersons fired 1-over-par 36s on the Blue Nine Sunday, and Rohlinger was still close with his 38, setting the stage for a thrilling finish.

All three parred No. 10, then

Craig drew even with Jeff on No. 11 when he bogeyed and Jeff double bogeyed the hole. Young Jeff went right back ahead with a birdie on No. 12, and he used a par on the long 13th hole for a 2-shot margin.

The 165-yard, par 3 14th hole went a long way toward deciding the event. Craig took the only duce of the day on this hole, while Jeff had to settle for a bogey. Then Craig finished out the event, going 3-3-4-5 on the 15th to 18 holes, while his son went 4-3-4 and concluded the event with a par on No. 18 when he needed a birdie.

"He definitely made me work for it," Craig Anderson said, reporting Jeff had a 10-foot birdie try on No. 18 that just slid by the hole.

"He (Jeff) played real well. He just had one error ... hit the ball over No. 11 on his second shot," the champion said.

With the win, Craig Anderson posted another sweep at Hon-E-Kor this year, winning the HEK Bestball with Jeff, and taking the Men's Club Championship.

In the last four years, he has won four club titles, four KMA's and three bestballs.

Rohlinger concluded Sunday's round with a fine 73 for a 148, giving him third place, and then came Doherty (76-80) at 156 and David Olds, 82-75-157.

Others in the Championship Flight were: 6. (tie) Jay Krueger, 85-74-159 and Mark Hafenbreadl, 81-78-159; 8. 8th (tie) Ethan Geidel, 84-77-161 and Joe Volesky, 84-77-161; 10. (tie) John Haag, 83-79-172 and Jeff Klotz, 81-81-162.

The winner of the First Flight was Rob Bertram, who combined rounds of 78 and 76 for a 154, and a one-shot victory over Larry Sterr (71-84-155).

Taking third was Mike Herrick at 161, and Dan Gibbon placed fourth with a 162.

In the Second Flight, just one stroke separated the champion, Dick Wietor, from the runner-up, Jim Volesky. Wietor was very consistent, evidenced by his 81-80 for a 161. Volesky's cards showed an 82 on the first day and an 80 on the second for a 162.

Carey Wolf placed third at (89-79) 168. Tom Larsen was next at 169, and there was a tie for fifth at 171 between Lou Santini and Whitey Cross.

The champion of the Third Flight was Manny Alvarado, whose rounds of 93 and 88 gave him a 181, a shot ahead of Butch Ritzman's 95-87-182.

Placing third and fourth were Gary Currier and Chuck Rondorf with respective scores of 189 and 191.

Tom Timblin was unable to crack the top five in the Second Flight but he provided plenty of excitement and experienced the thrill of a golfer's lifetime Saturday when he scored an ace in the tournament.

After playing the first four holes on the Blue Nine in 1-over-par, Timblin holed out his tee shot on the 155-yard (from the White Tees).

It was Timblin's first ace at Hon-E-Kor after starting to play there during his high school days.

Timblin's daughter, Courtney, is on the women's golf team at UW-Stevens Point.

Gibson and company take fifth at Ripon

With Bobby Gibson turning in an excellent top-10 effort, the Kewaskum High cross country team climbed to fifth place in the annual Kris Grenning Invitational held on the Ripon College Campus last Saturday.

Kewaskum finished with 123 points from its top five runners — in cross country low scores are the goal and are based on the finishes of the individual runners.

Wisconsin Lutheran was far and away the best team in the meet, coming in with 24 points. Baraboo settled in second at 52. There were 12 boys teams in the competition.

David Pede of Wisco was running all by himself when he hit the finish line in an excellent time of 16 minutes and 28 seconds (16:28) for the five kilometer event. Teammate Ben Garbe was next, 33 seconds back at 17:01.

Gibson easily dipped under 18 minutes, covering the course in 17:42, while the Indians' No. 2 runner, Zack VanWormer came in 16th at 18:22.

The other three counters were Jon Hawig, 24th in 19:07; Tyler McElhatton, 28th, 19:16; and Adam Janz, 47th, 20:22.

"The boys pulled together nicely as a team and met their goal for the meet, beating Lomira," KHS Coach Dave Drexler said. "The boys also all ran personal bests," and four of them won medals.

As far as the girls, this was the first time they have had enough runners to count as a team. The Lady Indians placed 10th out of 13 teams, with 329 points.

"I think it had an overall effect on their (girls) effort and determination," Drexler said about finally having a full team.

The Wisconsin Lutheran girls also captured the first-place trophy, and the Lady Vikings were even more dominant than their male counterparts, scoring a near perfect 18 points. Mayville was a distant second at 74.

Kewaskum was led by Tonya Janssen in 52nd place at 19:36, and six places back was newcomer Kristin Vogt at 19:50.

"I was very happy with the effort and the times," Drexler said.

Korth starting to play some fine golf

The latest Wisconsin Little Ten meet did not go well for the Kewaskum high golf team, but senior Kate Korth had a fine outing on the Watertown Country Club course, settling in the no. 3 spot overall with a 43, her lowest competitive round of the season.

The Indians were dead last on Thursday with a score of 231, slipping to fifth place in the conference because Beaver Dam finished two spots ahead of them in fifth.

West Bend West claimed first place with a 196, with Hartford three shots back at 199. Then came Oconomowoc, 200; the host Goslings, 208; Beaver Dam, 212; West Bend East, 219, and then the Indians.

West, Cooney and Hartford are all tied for first place with 10 points.

"Kate parred two holes and hit some great drives," Martin said. "The short game prevented her from scoring even lower."

Abby Johnson of Oconomowoc captured the medal with a nifty 41, then came Christine Blau of Hartford, who continued her good year with a 42. Korth was next.

The Indians other senior, Nicole Rimmel, carded a 51 after a shaky start, which included an eight and a seven on the opening holes.

Corin Groth and April Lettow were the other two counters at 64 and 70.

In an invitational held on Sept. 12, the Indians wound up 13th overall out of 16 teams.

The Lady Indians had a score of 422, counting the low four 18-hole rounds.

Notre Dame was the winner, nipping the combined Sheboygan North-South team by one shot.

Playing at the Town and Country Golf Course, Korth "warmed up" on the second nine to post an 89. After an average round of 49, she came back with a sizzling 5-over-par 40.

"Her round included five pars after she found her tempo," Martin said, reporting Nicole Rimmel dropped to the 40s on the back nine to post her lowest round of the year.

Rimmel started off with a 55, then cut nine strokes off that mark for a 46 and a 101.

The other KHS counters were Renee Wetzel, who carded a 56-55-111, and the newcomer Lettow, who showed good improvement with her 66-55-121.

The meet medalist was Waukesha's Michelle Pascavis, who came in with a 10-over par 81, one shot ahead of three other players. It took a score of 85 to make the top ten.

Three Gridiron teams poll up big scores

Good blocking helped open some mighty big holes for the running backs in Saturday's Gridiron game between the Kewaskum fifth grade team and St. Francis. Above, the diminutive Ethan Vetter (44) sprints for some big yards on one of the Indians' scoring drives.

The fifth grade team won again last Saturday, and this time it had plenty of company in Gridiron football action held on the Kewaskum High football field.

The youngest Indians (2-0) scored on the first offensive play of the game and never looked back in a 31-0 rout of St. Francis. Kewaskum's eighth graders (1-1), who went back to basics in their drills last week, also posted a big win, a 32-0 shutout over Brown Deer, while the sixth graders picked up their first win, an impressive 33-0 decision over Brown Deer.

Only the seventh graders (0-1-1) were defeated, and their 24-12 loss was an improvement over last year's game against the same team when they only managed two points.

"Everyone contributed to the success of today's game," coach Mark Walcheske said about his fifth graders. "There were excellent performances all the way around."

Nathan Krupp ripped off a 60-yard run on the first play and ended up with two other touchdowns. Unfortunately, he also fumbled twice.

The other TD was scored by quarterback Hunter Flanders, and there was two safeties, and an extra point on a pass from Jared Sargent to Krupp.

Walcheske cited Sawyer Buck for an interception and a sack, adding the offensive line was "awesome, hitting to make things happen." He also indicated assistant coach Corey Wiedmeyer had an excellent offensive game plan.

"We got back on track in a nice way," coach Joe Backhaus said about the sixth graders, reporting Eric Perkins scored a couple touchdowns, Sam Olla added one, and he was not certain who had the other TD.

The score was 6-0 at half, then the Indians exploded for 27 points.

"It was rare Brown Deer crossed the 50-yard line," Backhaus said, praising his team's defense, especially the play of linebacker Kenny Giggstead, who "made a lot of good tackles."

Ryan Ogi had his hand in both of the seventh grade touchdowns. First he caught a pass from Cody Nuernberg, covering about 20 yards, and the second TD came on a pass from Austin Luedtke.

Coach Tom Kudek said the special team's play was not up to par, and, "Our defense wasn't holding 'em."

There were no standouts in the line or on defense, according to Kudek.

In the eighth grade game, the first TD was scored by quarterback Cody Lemke, according to coach "Jonesy"

Korth, who said, "We passed the next two, long passes to Mike Eggert."

Another score came on a short burst by D.J. Ermer, and Scott Steldt II got into the act, scoring a TD.

"Cody Enright played a real good game offensively and defensively," Korth said, indicating, "We came off the ball a lot better" in this game, and, "The handoffs were a lot crisper."

Center Mathew Toles drew praise, along with reserve quarterbacks Steven Kudek and Cal Bowe. Ryan Gibson played well at defensive tackle.

This week, the fifth graders are at Sussex Hamilton, while the other three teams play at Cedar Grove.

Not perfect but still a convincing victory

The numbers continue to climb.

Senior halfback Garrett Donath has pushed his season touchdown mark to 11, and he currently has 716 yards rushing for the year.

The best numbers of all, however, are 4 and 0, the mark the Kewaskum High football team has after shellacking host Two Rivers 38-7 Friday night. The win also gives the Indians a 2-0 mark in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference and some momentum going into the tougher part of their schedule.

Despite the fact his team scored the first two times it had the ball — Jon Olla opened with a 25-yard field goal and then Donath found paydirt from four yards out after a nice march — KHS Coach Jason Piittmann found some flaws in the performance.

"We played sluggish in the first half," Piittmann said.

Kewaskum added a third TD before the break, with quarterback Chad Piwoni picking up the final 21 yards on an option run. Olla added his second PAT, putting the Indians in the drivers seat with a 21-0 lead.

"We came out in the third quarter and executed much better," Piittmann said, much better as in adding two more offensive touchdowns and a defensive score.

Donath got his second and third touchdowns of the night, one on a six-yard jaunt and the next one five yards longer.

Donath's final TD was set up by a nifty 48-yard pass from Piwoni to flanker Eric Cain.

Senior Zach Wollner got into the act when he picked off a Raider pass and dashed 25 yards into the end zone.

Two Rivers, which had been shut out by Sheboygan Falls last weekend, 62-0, finally got on the board late in the fourth quarter when Chris Koehler returned a Ross Stockhausen punt 80 yards.

The punt was fielded by sophomore Noah Timm, who ran to his left, then handed off to Koehler, who scampered down the right sideline and into the KHS end zone.

Two Rivers was held to just 73 yards rushing and 38 yards passing by the stout Indian defense.

Piittmann was not available Sunday night for comments on individual efforts by the defensive players.

Kewaskum topped the 300-yard mark in offense once again, with Donath gaining 147 yards in 20 carries, Piwoni credited with 38 yards rushing and Stockhausen adding 20 yards in five carries.

Piwoni completed four of nine pass attempts. Donath caught a pair of passes for 36 yards and Eric Ogi gathered one in and turned on the jets for a 36 yard reception.

"(In the second half), We reduced the number of mental mistakes and penalties, but the Two Rivers schemes gave us some problems at times," Piittmann said.

In other EWC games played Friday night, Campbellsport (2-0) stayed perfect with a 6-0 decision over defending champion Plymouth (1-1); Sheboygan Falls (2-0) spanked Kiel (0-2) 49-7; and New Holstein (1-1) overpowered Roncalli (0-2) 33-6.

Kewaskum will entertain Plymouth tomorrow night. Game time is 7 p.m.

Kewaskum struggles vs. Plymouth after besting Cougars

BY JUDY HARLOW

After four recent days which produced three victories, the Kewaskum High boys soccer team ran into a stone wall last Thursday when it drew the difficult task of facing perennial powerhouse Plymouth.

"They proved too strong for us," KHS coach Alex Hill said about the game against the Panthers. The Indians were down 3-0 at half and the final score ended at 5-0.

"The Panthers started right out of the gate, with two shots inside the first minute," according to Hill, who said the hosts scored at 12:54 of the first half.

While the KHS defense, led by another big performance by senior Austin Flanders, "worked hard and played tough," they just did not have an answer to all the skillful offensive moves by the Panthers, Hill said.

The backbreaker was probably the third goal, which came just minutes before the end of the first half.

Goalie Nate Kenworthy wound up with 15 saves, while

"Bud" Kattar continued to play well for the Indians in the second half on defense, helping the Indians to finally produce a little offensive spark. The Indians got off two shots in the latter part of the game, but Plymouth showed why it is atop the standings in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference at 6-0.

With the loss, the Indians dropped to 2-4 in the EW and 5-7 overall.

Paul Gaynor and Jason Jahnke both received yellow cards in the second half, according to Hill, who said Gaynor committed a series of fouls in quick succession, while Jahnke got sent to the sideline after "showing dissent to the center ref in a moment of frustration."

"It wasn't our best night of the year, and they'll need to improve both on defense and offense if they want to set a new record win total for the season," Hill said.

Monday's game against Campbellsport was a lot more rewarding for the Indians, who spotted the Cougars an early goal, then settled down to score twice before the half and went on to a 3-1 victory.

Dylan Kenworthy (assist by Alex Rauch) drew the Indians even with the Cougars, then Jahnke, the Indians' scoring machine, put them out front with a well placed assist by Frank Cole, who scored the final goal unassisted.

"It was a good performance, rather than a great performance.. a job well done to get our first conference win of the season," Hill said, praising Nate Kenworthy for his good effort in goal (12 saves) and citing Jahnke and Jake Sabel for their work on offense.

Hill said Campbellsport is greatly improved and didn't give up. "It's always nice to win at home, especially on a night when we didn't play our best soccer," he said, adding, "A come-from-behind win is always a good feeling."

Volleyball run continues

Once a power in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference, the Two Rivers girls volleyball team no longer has Kewaskum's number.

In fact, the case is just the opposite now as it's the Indians who are feared. They showed their strength again last Tuesday. Behind solid setting and a potent offense, the Indians derailed the Raiders in three straight games, 25-18, 25-18 and 25-17 to easily win their first home match.

"We had a great game. The girls were intense from the start," first-year head coach Renee Butschlick said. "I knew the girls were going to play tough because they had a great warmup."

It did take a little while for the Lady Indians to get going, however. "We started off a little rocky in the first game," Butschlick said, indicating the ignitor turned out to be Lauren Larson, who "came in and had a run of serves for us to gain the lead and kept the lead the whole game."

The next two games, the girls stayed on top of their game," Butschlick went on. "The girls kept the passing to Katie, and Katie was able to run out quick offense." In blocking, the two key players were Schroeder and Beck Rodenkirch, according to the new coach, who said, "Katie Schroeder had seven touches on blocks and Becky Rodenkirch had six touches on blocks."

The team did have a few more service errors than usual, eight, but they also recorded 10 aces, including four by Larson, three by Bekki Heberer and two by Marissa Dehler.

Schroeder was a perfect 69 of 69 in assists, and a four-some of starters led the spiking parade, led by Dehler who put down eight. Rodenkirch was next with six, followed by Heberer and Caytlin Sprinkman with four each.

Tonight (Thursday) the Lady Indians travel to Plymouth to battle with the Lady Panthers.
