Kewaskum will hire full time fire chief, dissolves volunteer fire company

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Almost a year after realizing that something needed to be done about the Village of Kewaskum volunteer fire department's lack of volunteers, the Kewaskum Village Board voted unanimously to hire a full time fire chief to oversee department operations. The individual, who is yet to be chosen will start January 3, 2006.

At that same meeting the board also reviewed a preliminary budget for the fire department that reflects an increase of over 31 percent from 2005. That incline can be attributed to the cost of the full time chief and water and fuel costs to the department.

Village officials have set the chief's salary at $68,546. Kewaskum Rescue Squad revenues will pay 20 percent of the hired chief's salary. Village administrator, Dan Schmidt told the board the position would be advertised immediately upon their approval.

In late October of 2004 the officers of the Kewaskum Fire Company met in a special meeting with the village board making a plea for assistance. "It's scary when my pager goes off, I wonder if I'll have enough guys responding," stated Fire Chief Mark Groeschel at that meeting. At one-time, years ago, there was actually a waiting list to be a member of the department.

In order to begin the process of hiring a paid fire chief the board took favorable action on an ordinance dissolving the Kewaskum Fire Company, a non-profit corporation as of December 31, 2005 and creating the Kewaskum Fire Department to take over on January 1, 2006. The ordinance states that all individuals holding positions with the fire company will take over those same positions with the fire department.

The individual to be hired as chief of the department would be responsible for day-to-day administration, supervision and management of the Kewaskum Fire Department. The chief would plan, organize, direct and review all major activities of the Department, including fire suppression and prevention, emergency medical services, fire education, fire safety and inspections, support services, community development and emergency government coordination.

In order to help with the cost of hiring such an individual the Village has applied for a SAFER grant offered by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. The purpose of the SAFER grant is to award grants directly to volunteer, combination, and career fire departments to help the departments increase their cadre of firefighters. Ultimately, the goal is for SAFER grantees to enhance their ability to attain 24-hour staffing and thus assuring their communities have adequate protection from fire and fire-related hazards. The SAFER grants have two activities that will help grantees attain this goal: 1) hiring of firefighters and 2) recruitment and retention of volunteer firefighters.

Kewaskum is going after the hiring of firefighters grant that involves a five-year grant to assist fire departments in paying a portion of the salaries of newly hired firefighters. These newly hired positions must be in addition to authorized and funded active firefighter positions. The grant requires the awardee (Village of Kewaskum) to match an increasing proportion of the salary over a

Special events planned for Thursday's Indians vs Cougars matchup

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

The Kewaskum Indians football team is preparing for one of the biggest games in Kewaskum High School football history and also one of the biggest games in the state. As luck would have it they face one of their biggest rivals, the Campbellsport Cougars on Thursday, October 20 for a 7 pm match up on Indian home turf.

The Indians will attempt to paralyze the Cougars and claim the Division 3 Conference title as their own. The Indians are presently 8-0 while the Cougars are 7-1. It has been announced by the Associated Press that Kewaskum is ranked number two in the state for Division 3.

Crowds of over 2,000 are expected for the game Thursday night.

Kewaskum High School principal Christine Horbas says students will be sending a few smoke signals in the form of window paintings and yard signs. Students are making yard signs for Thursday to "welcome" the Cougars, such as "We go Cougar tipping" or "Send those kittens to their litter box"

Kewaskum will have their own tailgating party starting at 5:30 p.m.

The Kewaskum Booster Club will open the concession stand at 5 pm. In addition to serving food they will be selling Indian spirit wear for purchase.

The Cougars are planning a pep party of their own. Starting at 5 pm Cougar fans will meet everyone at the CHS parking lot to decorate cars, vans, trucks and busses. A rally will be held at 6 pm and a parade through Campbellsport with numerous Cougar fans embarking on a convoy to Kewaskum at 6:15

Highway H 80 unit development moves forward despite angry neighbors

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

After many hours of many meetings residents of the Old Glory Heights subdivision lost their battle against the Village Plan Commission and village board Tuesday night. Residents there were trying to lobby both bodies against letting Kettle View Drive proceed through their backyards.

Developer Gary Gavin presented a total of five concept plans to the Plan Commission for approval of his proposed Planned Unit Development (PUD) of the Regal Ware property, located at 4144 Hwy H, west of Kiwanis Park. Gavin is in the process of annexing the land from the Town of Kewaskum to the Village. The crux of the situation was the continuation of Kettle View Drive going north through the new development. Kettle View Drive has been on Washington County's 40-year road plan and the county stated they were against allowing any other access point.

Village Engineer Ken Ward stated that the road needed to go through, because according to village ordinances, they could not allow any other access but one at the current intersection of Kettle View and County Road H.

Village Attorney Gerald Kiefer and Building Inspector Gordon Hoffmann also stated they agreed with Ward.

Halfway through the meeting the commissioners stated they needed to think ahead 20 years down the road and what impact moving the road would have on traffic flow.

"Part of my fear is that if we make a mistake and don't do this right, in 30 years someone will look at Kettle View Drive and wonder how it could have been messed up," the Village President told the residents.

Neighbors also praised Gavin for working with them to find solutions that preserve their property and privacy.

After the long discussion the plan commission sent it to the village board with a favorable recommendation.

During their meeting following the plan commission, the village board approved Gavin's initial plan from two months ago.

NUKM-CRG delivers 2,021 recall signatures to district

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

On Monday, the Northern Unit Kettle Moraine Citizens for Responsible Government met their deadline to turn in signatures to start a recall election against long standing school board member Neal Weare. The group has stated they have turned in 2021 signatures. This is 141 more than the required 1,880 signatures.

Bruce Braidigan stated Monday, "We had no difficulty finding people to sign the recall petition, and the only obstacle that we faced was finding enough people to help circulate petitions. What we found while talking to the people of the Kewaskum School District was that they are angry with the way that school board members are handling the finances of the school district."

Braidigan also stated that an overwhelming number of people are angry with School Board Clerk, Jeanne Goeden for the way that she is conducting herself and the affairs of the District. "There will likely be a recall of Jeanne Goeden sometime next spring," he said.

According to initial estimates, from Washington County's Election Coordinator, Melissa Burnside the special recall election will cost taxpayers roughly $2,500.

Weare is now in the process of reviewing and inspecting the signatures for validity. He has until Thursday, October 27 to complete the process. After that the district has another five days to dispute the signatures and the petitioners may respond to any disputes by Weare during that time. Weare then has three days to respond.

If there are no disputes the election could be held on the sixth Tuesday after the signatures are received.

Weare says he is working on going through the signatures but it is a tedious process and wishes he was given more time.

"So far I've found a few duplicate signatures, and a few questionable things," he stated.

Weare says he's also been surprised by some of the signatures of people he counted on as supporters. "I've talked with them and have come to find out they were given false information," he said

NUKM-CRG started the recall this summer after the contract buy-out of former superintendent of schools Wayne Graczyk for $113,000.

Q. Why do retirees count pennies?

A. They are the only ones who have the time.

Modern Woodmen members address family issues

Local Modern Woodmen of America families gathered on August 24, 2005 to learn more about the local newspaper business. The program, which was held at River Hill Park, Kewaskum, featured speaker Andrew Kuehl. Kuehl gave everyone a family history of the newspaper and changes in the newspaper business. Kewaskum Modern Woodmen Camp 2233 would like to thank him for sharing his knowledge of the newspaper business.

This presentation was one of many Family Life Programs Modern Woodmen camps (chapters) present nationwide, which provide the organization's members with information about health, safety, parenting and other family-related issues.

"American families face many issues today," says Jeff

Jaeger, local Modern Woodmen camp secretary. "By presenting this program, our goal was to help local Modern Woodmen families tackle one of these issues, while promoting strong family relationships."

Founded in 1883 as a fraternal benefit society, today Modern Woodmen of America offers financial services and fraternal member benefits to individuals and families throughout the United States. The organization's Kewaskum camp provides a number of volunteer service and social activities for local members.

Q. What's the biggest gripe of retirees?

A. There is not enough time to get everything done.

'Good showing' at Kewaskum Fire Department's Open House

Kewaskum Firefighter, Adam Jung assists young attendees with goodies given out by the firefighters at the open house they held Thursday, October 13. The open house was in honor of Fire Prevention Week. Firefighters helped children tour fire equipment and gave them the opportunity to "put out a fire" with a real fire hose. Fire chief Mark Groeschel stated that he was pleased with the attendance at the open house.

four-year period; in the fifth year of the grant, the awardee must absorb the entire cost of any positions awarded as a result of the grant.

Schmidt said the Village applied for the grant in June of 2005. He concluded that the grant is set up that the village has to have the money upfront for the hire and is then reimbursed by the grant money. If the village is not awarded the grant nothing will change, as the money is already budgeted for.

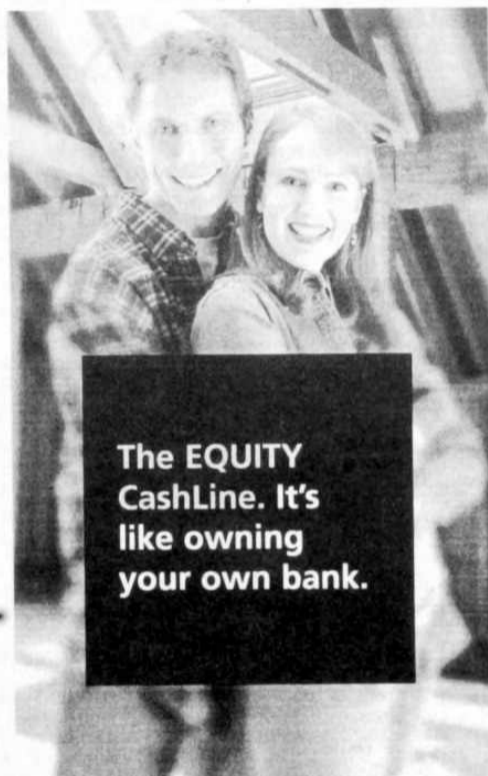

At the December 13, 2005 Village Board meeting the board will take action on hiring the chief as recommended by the Police and Fire Commission.

In his budget presentation, Groeschel indicated that by the end of the year, the department would be placing an order for a new ambulance. He did not have cost estimates, but he did indicate that the department would be trading in the 1993 Ford Med Tech Ambulance.

School year safety

Soon witches, goblins, and super-heroes will be descending on neighborhoods across Washington County and America. Halloween should be filled with surprise and enjoyment for the entire family, and following some common sense practices we can keep Halloween events safe and fun. Safety concerns need to be on the minds of all residents of Washington County each and every day. By following some simple safety tips, you can ensure that Halloween will be an enjoyable experience for the entire family.

If at all possible, encourage your children to trick-or-treat while it is still daylight. When children trick-or-treat at night, remember to keep your children visible by dressing them in light-colored costumes and apply reflective tape whenever possible to increase their visibility to others. Be sure the costume fits properly and does not interfere with the child's ability to walk. Make sure children can see through face masks, or consider using make-up instead of a mask. Masks can obstruct a child's vision, making it difficult for them to see potential hazards as they make their way through the neighborhood.

As parents, our children's safety is our primary responsibility. Be sure your children are accompanied by a responsible adult who has a flashlight. Flashlights with brightly-colored and decorated globes can serve as a warning to motorists that children are present. Plan a route that uses well-lighted streets with little traffic and follow all traffic and safety rules.

Remind children to cross the street only at street corners or traffic-controlled intersections, look in both directions prior to crossing, and never dart out into the street from behind parked cars. Many churches and community groups have special activities and programs for children, as an alternative to trick-or-treating.

No matter where your children trick-or-treat, the "goodies" collected need to be checked before being eaten. Parents should give and accept wrapped or packaged candy and examine all candy before allowing children to eat it. Check all treats at home in a well-lighted area, paying special attention to any item which appears to be tampered with or has been unwrapped. Homemade items should only be eaten if provided by trusted neighbors and friends; all others should be thrown away.

You can visit www.CandyUSA.org for information that you'll need to be sure your celebration is fun and safe.

If we all follow these common sense suggestions, everyone can enjoy a safe and memorable Halloween.

Assembly Judiciary Committee Chairman Gundrum continued, "From the thought-provoking questions he asked at his first hearing today, it is clear he is going to be a valuable asset to the committee."

Prevention Network receives grant

The Prevention Network of Washington County recently received word that it has been awarded a grant from the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention in the amount of $100,000 per year for up to five years.

The Prevention Network of Washington County coordinates and supports community actions to prevent youth high-risk behaviors with a special emphasis on substance abuse.

Over 70 individuals are involved in assisting the Prevention Network to achieve its mission representing communities throughout Washington County.

The funding will assist in strengthening the network and implementing activities and programs designed to reduce youth use of alcohol, marijuana and tobacco. It will also address the inaccurate perceptions of youth and adults regarding the risks and harm of illegal substance use by youth.

Specifically, the grant will assist the Prevention Network in reducing risk factors such as easy access to alcohol and tobacco and community acceptance of substance abuse and increasing protective factors such as healthy beliefs and clear standards of behavior.

The Council on Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse of Washington County will serve as fiscal agent for the grant on behalf of the Prevention Network. United Way of Washington County and United Way of Greater Milwaukee are providing matching funding. For more information or to become involved in the Prevention Network please contact Ronna Corliss at 262-335-6888.

UWWC announces cast for Cavedweller

The University of Wisconsin-Washington County (UW-WC) is pleased to announce the cast for their fall theatre production, Cavedweller. Directed by Professor Brad Ford, the fall play will be performed at 7:30pm on Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5 and November 11 and 12 in the University Theatre. Based on the passionate 1998 best-selling novel by Dorothy Allison, Cavedweller is about an ex-rock singer called Delia Byrd and her three daughters who haltingly make their way through the figurative caves of the heart and head towards the light of day. Dubbing it a "chick flick for the stage," the New York Times likens its qualities to "Steel Magnolias and Fried Green Tomatoes."

According to Professor Brad Ford, the play's director, "It's not too often a new script comes along that features women's issues like spousal abuse, custody problems, career vs. motherhood. This play faces at all these issues in a dramatic yet warm and humorous manner and leaves the audience in the resolution with hope."

The story revolves around Delia Byrd (played by Sadie Hacker of West Bend) who portrays a 40-year old lead singer of a 60's rock group. Delia loses her ex-lover and father of her youngest teenage daughter, Cissy Pritchard (played by Stephanie Mayer of West Bend) to a motorcycle accident. She leaves Los Angeles and returns to hometown Georgia to try to regain custody of her older teenage daughters, Amanda and Dede (played by Cloe Albiero of West Bend and Christine Barclay of Jackson).

The story continues with Delia's reconciliation with the contrite Clint (played by Graham Killeen of West Bend); her wise-cracking friend Rosemary (played by Bethanie Roeglin of West Bend); and her potential romance with Deputy Emmet Tyler (played by T.J. Little of Shorewood).

As the years pass and scenes change, daughter Cissy learns something of the world's habits; as does her buddy Nolan Reitower (played by Kris Holly of West Bend), who develops a crush on the unsophisticated Dede. Daughter Amanda has her own crises, marrying the equally born-again Michael Graham (played by Shaun Kempf of West Bend).

Other characters include: Billy Tucker (played by Tyler Dieringer of Fredonia); Granddaddy Byrd (played by Clark Blomquist of West Bend); Waitress/Bartender (played by Natasha Nichols of Jackson); Louise Windsor (played by Kelly Campbell of Port Washington); Marcia Pearlman (played by Rachel Hodorff of West Bend); Nadine Reitower (played by Monica Kletti of Germantown); Gillian Wynchester (played by Melissa Scheibel of Saukville); and Mrs. Caidenhead (played by Julia Shaw of Kewaskum). Brittany Jacob of West Bend will serve as Assistant Director.

The characters in Cavedweller are never mere stereotypes. You will laugh at them and with them as you come to know and discover their vulnerability, which lies just below the surface. Over the course of five years, you will also see how they form a loving, caring, mixed-up family.

Tickets are $8 for adults and $6 for seniors (over 62) and children (under 18). Cavedweller does contain some adult language and mature themes and is not recommended for children. Admission for UW-WC students is free, with presentation of student id. For tickets and reservations, phone 262-335-5208.

The University of Wisconsin-Washington County is located at 400 University Drive in West Bend (off Hwy. 33). More information is available online at www.washington.uwc.edu.

Don't miss 'Anything Goes' Nov. 4 and 5

As the Kewaskum High School production gets closer, this writer is getting more and more confused. See, it's like this; Hope is to marry Sir Evelyn, Billy loves Hope, Moonface tries to help Billy win Hope over, along with the help of Reno. Mrs. Harcourt wants Hope to marry Sir Evelyn, and pushes for the wedding, while others on the liner all conspire to help Billy, including Bonnie. The show, of course, ends happily ever after, but you will have to go see it to find out who married who and what all happened on this cruise ship to England.

Now, the rest of this story will be revealed on Friday, November 4, and Saturday, November 5, 2005. The performances will begin at 7:30 PM.

Tickets can be obtained by personally stopping at the high school music office or by calling 626-8427, extension 4571. Cost of the tickets are the same as the past few years and all seats are reserved. You will be able to purchase $5.00 seats, which put you close to the stage, $4.00 seats which are about half way back from the stage but are still on the floor, and the $3.00 first come first seated bleachers.

Several activities will be part of the 1980 Kewaskum High School Homecoming preparations. This year the traditional homecoming at KHS will take on a new twist. Instead of just the football team receiving recognition, all fall sports will be sharing a representation. Included in Kewaskum's fall sports program are: football, girls' golf, tennis, boys' and girls' cross country, girls' volleyball and cheerleading. This means the homecoming court will consist of three juniors from the football team, four senior football players and one senior representative from each of the autumn sports, bringing the total number on the court to 13. This year's court includes seniors Randy Heberer, senior football representative and Mary Brenholt, senior tennis representative; Perry Kempf, senior football representative and Julann Zemlicka, senior cross country representative, Steve Muench, senior football representative, and Ann Stoffel; Doug Petsch, senior football representative and Joan Hanrahan; Rick Leitheiser, junior football representative and Amy Nigh; Pat Miller, junior football representative and Marjean Backhaus; Randy Westerman, junior football representative and Gina Luedtke; Craig Larsen, senior

A special thanks to Rev. Timothy Henning. Clarence will be sadly missed.

To my Son, Jake

There is nothing I can do, to make him come back
There are no words I can say, that can replace his words you long to hear

There are no answer's I can give, that will satisfy your questions
There is not another soul I can introduce you to that will ever replace his
And, there is no love I can offer that will ever replace the love you shared

I can not promise your broken heart will ever be complete
I will not say it could have been worse
I will not deny it was a tragedy
I will not lie and tell you he will come back

He never really left

I do promise he hears you when you speak
I will say he loves you no matter the distance
I will not deny he is in a better place
And, I will not lie; he is waiting to greet you someday

He is in every step you take
He is in everything you do
He is the air you breathe
He is every beat of your heart

"He is like the wind. You can not see him...but you will always feel him"

Our opinion of people depends less upon what we see in them than in what they make us see in ourselves.
—Sarah Grand

In Memory of BRENDA OELHAFEN Who passed away Twenty years ago, October 23, 1985

"Remember Me"

To the living, I am gone,
To the sorrowful, I will never return,
To the angry, I was cheated,
But to the happy, I am at peace,
And to the faithful, I have never left.

I cannot speak, but I can listen,
I cannot be seen, but I can be heard.

Remember me in your hearts,
Your thoughts and your memories;
Of the times we cried,
The times we fought,
The times we laughed.

For if you always think of me,
I will never be gone from your side.

Forever in our hearts,
Your Family and Friends

Sledfest Tradition continues with Mid Cities Motorsports' new owners

Mid Cities Motorsports' indoor showroom has an excellent selection of bikes, snowmobiles, ATVs, clothing and numerous other parts and accessories

By Amy Swanson
Statesman Correspondent
aswanson@kewaskumstatesman

Fueling the success of Mid Cities Motorsports are the sportsmen who own it.

Two years ago, Scott Schneiberg and his brother-in-law, Mike Kruse jumped into the driver's seat and purchased Mid-Cities Motorsports from Mark Matenaer, who started the business in 1988.

"I was a customer here before and when the opportunity came up, I decided to dive in with both feet," Schneiberg said. "I always wanted to have my own business."

Schneiberg sold real estate for six years and admits although real estate is more lucrative; he is thrilled to be the new co-owner of Mid-Cities Motorsports.

Schneiberg said after they purchased Mid Cities Motorsports they did a lot of remodeling in their 16,000 square foot facility and upgraded the courses outside. Mid Cities sits on 8 acres of land just north of West Bend off of Hwy 45 on Friendly Drive. The new owners developed a moto cross track and an ATV obstacle course for customers to test-drive their vehicles.

Although Schneiberg said he does business a little differently than Matenaer, he and Matenaer remain close. "Mark still stops in here every week just to say hi." And, the new owners have continued Mid Cities tradition of Sledfest, which will be held on Saturday, Oct. 22 from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m.

In its eighth year, Sled Fest offers free fun for everyone.

"It's a big event," said Scott Schneiberg, co-owner of Mid-

Cities Motorsports. "It's our major snowmobile sale of the year and we have all the new Artic Cat and Polaris snowmobiles on display and for sale."

Sportsman, Chris Burandt will perform 70-foot jumps on a snowmobile along with Justin Hoyer who will perform 70-foot jumps on a dirt bike during three shows, 10 a.m. 12 p.m. and 2 p.m.

"The biggest thing we are promoting is our Play the Odds with Mid Cities. Anyone who buys a new or used snowmobile will have his or her name put in a box. On Feb. 25, we will pull a name out of the box and send the winner a check for their snowmobile," Schneiberg said. Odds are 1:300.

"Also, if you spend $100 or more in our parts store on accessories, your name will go into a drawing at the end of the day. The winner will get their choice of anything off of our clearance section. There are even snowmobile bibs and snowmobile jackets on clearance."

Schneiberg estimates close to 400 people will attend Sled Fest.

Sled Fest also features a swap meet, clothing and accessory sale with up to 70 percent off of retail prices. ATV's will also be on sale, he said.

"Our main idea is to get everyone going. It's our big kickoff of the year."

Mid-Cities also offers freestyle moto cross and snow cross. Schneiberg said they sell an average of 200 snowmobiles every year and close to 400 ATV's.

"Our big season is right now. It will come up pretty quick," he said. "We are looking forward to the cold and selling a lot of snowmobiles. We hope that everyone that comes here has an enjoyable experience when they make their purchase."

"We want everyone that comes here to have fun buying what they love to do."

REALTOR® Designation Awareness Month Encourages Success

The Washington Board of REALTORS® and the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS® (NAR) is pleased to announce the arrival of REALTOR® Designation Awareness Month. NAR established November as an important month in which to encourage its members to Keep It In The Family by starting, completing or continuing an official NAR-endorsed designation program through NAR or one of its affiliates.

An industry that moves as fast as real estate demands continuing education throughout one's career. Successful agents must keep current on issues, evolving technology, changing legalities, and many other central components of the business. NAR and its nine Institutes, Societies and Councils offer twenty advanced education designation and certification programs to help members remain up-to-date in such a dynamic environment. Although other designations exist, only these twenty carry an official NAR endorsement.

"NAR's advanced education designation and certification programs, tailored to virtually every real estate specialty, are the means necessary to take an agent to the next level. Beyond building skills, knowledge and productivity, these prestigious programs enhance the professional image of our members," said Cyndi Aulenbacher, Association Executive, Washington Board of REALTORS®

Today's market expects the highest level of expertise from each REALTOR®. In both their heightened proficiency and increased marketability, REALTORS® who pursue professional designations have a distinct competitive edge. An NAR 2005 Member Survey shows that REALTORS® without an NAR designation earned a median of $40,900, while those that indicated a designation earned a median of $82,900.

The NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS® strongly encourages its members to increase their professional image, marketability, productivity, and income through the pursuance of a designation or certification program. In November, as part of this initiative, the Washington Board of REALTORS® aims to raise awareness of the official NAR family of designation and certification programs and its benefits.

Not in Kansas Anymore

By Christine Wicker

Harper San Francisco c.2005 $24.95

So you got up this morning, plodded into the kitchen and grabbed a box of cereal (the one with the leprechaun on the box) and tossed it on the table. You ate breakfast, showered, and dressed, being sure to put on your lucky socks because it's going to be a big day. It's going to be a good day, too, because on your way to work, you hit all the stop lights right.

You're thinking that's a really good sign.

It also means you were touched by some sort of magical thinking three times. Three is an especially good number according to Christine Wicker, and in her new book "Not in Kansas Anymore," you'll find out how much magic swirls around you in your everyday life.

When Christine Wicker told her friends that she was embarking on a journey to learn about magic in America, most people told her to be careful, that depravity and evil would be the end result of that sort of journey. Others said that she would only meet weirdoes and nuts on the road to knowledge. Skeptical, Wicker went forward with her quest, armed with a pen, a notebook, and a journalists' curiosity.

So how where does a Southern-born former church-goer go to start learning about magic? She begins with a Vampires and Victims Ball, where she meets a few witches, some vamps and vampires and their "victims," and she notes that pretty much everything she needed to know was right there in the crowd. If only, she says, she had heeded that information.

Delving further, Wicker visited Salem, Massachusetts, where she participated in a witches' walk which ended up on a magical hill. She didn't feel any spirits there, but she did feel sore feet from standing too long in uncomfortable shoes. Later, she sought out a California woman who teaches good magic and helps make spells with hoodoo herbs and objects. She met two elves and a werewolf. She found a rootworker who took her to Zora Neale Hurston's grave, so they could get some dirt for powerful spells. She was shyly welcomed by people who give her the same sort of reception that they wish they'd gotten. In the process of her exploration, an ever-skeptical Wicker learns that magic has a place in everyone's life - even hers.

It might be easy to make fun of some of the people in "Not in Kansas Anymore," but author Christine Wicker doesn't do that. This book is written with respectful tongue in cheek, and Wicker gamely - although sometimes reluctantly, and with a big wink - goes along with nearly everything believers suggest to her. Parts of this book got a little dry, but Wicker's gentle humor and willingness to poke fun at herself make you forget about those dry sections.

If you've ever carried a lucky coin, worn the same shirt every Sunday during NFL season, or even believed that spirits guide your life, then you need to read this book. Conjure up some time, and you'll be spellbound.

Myths about Medicare Part D! Free Presentation at the C-sport Public Library

Myth #1: I have SeniorCare and I am very happy with it, so Medicare Part D doesn't affect me.

The reality is that the future of SeniorCare is shaky. SeniorCare was implemented as a demonstration project, which received a five-year waiver. The 5-year timespan will end in June 2007. Wisconsin decided to do this program to help seniors with their high prescription drugs before the Medicare Prescription Drug Improvement and Modernization Act of 2003 was signed into law. Though government will allow the existence of SeniorCare through June 2007, it is still unclear about whether financing for SeniorCare will exist beyond 12/31/05. Current SeniorCare enrollees should remain with SeniorCare until they receive notice that SeniorCare is ending OR they qualify for "Extra Help" and find that Medicare Part D will save them more money than SeniorCare.

Myth #2: I have prescription drug coverage through an employee group health plan, so Medicare Part D doesn't affect me.

Your employee group health plan will decide whether they will continue to offer prescription drug coverage through their plan and if so, they will tell you if that coverage will be "creditable" (meaning, just as good as or better than Part D coverage). Your plan could also bid to become a Part D provider. You will receive a letter from your employee group health plan informing you of the status of your current coverage.

Myth #3: I am on full Wisconsin Medicaid (the Forward card) and that covers all my drugs, so I don't need to worry about Part D.

As of December 31, 2005, Wisconsin Medicaid (the Forward card) will no longer be providing prescription drug coverage to Medicare eligible beneficiaries. You will automatically be enrolled in a Medicare Part D prescription drug plan. It will be up to you to research the plan that you have been enrolled in and ensure that it covers your particular prescriptions. You will be able to change to another plan if you don't think the one you are automatically enrolled in will work for you. MOST IMPORTANTLY - You will be required to have your co-payments with you at the time of drug purchase. Pharmacies will no longer be required to fill your prescriptions regardless of whether you have the co-payment money or not!

Myth #4: I have a Medicare supplement policy (Medigap plan) that includes prescription drug coverage. I pay enough for that policy, without having to pay a Medicare Part D premium too!

Any Medicare supplement policy that includes prescription drug coverage will need to decide, before December 31, 2005, if it will continue to offer this coverage or not. You will receive a letter from your insurer explaining what will happen with your policy and what your options are. If your policy chooses to discontinue coverage, then you may get a reduction in your premium. You would then be free to enroll in a Part D plan, if you chose to do so. Your policy may choose to retain coverage, deeming it "just as good as or better" than Medicare Part D (also called creditable coverage). However, if your policy chooses to retain coverage but deems that the coverage is NOT creditable coverage, then you can remain in the plan, but will pay a premium penalty of 1% per month if you decide to enroll in Medicare Part D at a later time.

Myth #5: I live on a fixed budget. I can hardly afford to pay my other insurance premiums. I could never afford to pay an additional $37 a month for a Medicare Part D plan!

This may be partially true. While most Medicare Part D plans are expected to have an average premium of $32.20 per month and annual out-of-pocket costs of $3,600 in addition to that premium, some people will get a huge break. The Social Security Administration is handling an "Extra Help" program, on behalf of Medicare, for qualified beneficiaries. You may receive an application for "Extra Help" in the mail, or can call your local Social Security office at 920-921-1435 or your Benefit Specialist, at 920-929-3521 to request one. This application will ask simple questions about your income and assets. If you qualify for the most "Extra Help," you would pay no monthly premium, no deductible, and have extremely low out-of-pocket costs. If you qualify for the least amount of "Extra Help" available, you would still pay the $32.20 monthly premium, but have much lower out-of-pocket costs. Qualifying for "Extra Help" will make the Part D plan accessible for thousands of Medicare beneficiaries.

Myth #6: Americans are supposed to have freedom of choice. From what I hear in the media and what I receive in the mail, senior citizens are being forced to take Medicare Part D or go without prescription drug coverage.

Medicare Part D is a purely "voluntary" benefit. Depending on your current coverage situation, you may feel that you are being forced into a Part D plan, but you may have other options out there. While Part D is voluntary, keep in mind that you if you do not enroll now and go without comparable prescription coverage and then later decide to enroll in Part D, you will pay a premium penalty of 1% for each month that you could have been enrolled. However, if you do not enroll in Part D because you have been told by your current coverage that they have creditable coverage and then want to enroll later, you will NOT pay a penalty.

Clearly, there are still many myths surrounding the introduction of this new benefit offered by the Medicare program. If you have any questions at all about how this program may affect you, you can call Julie Sylvester, Benefit Specialist for Fond du Lac County at 920-929-3521. There will be an informational meeting on October 26, 2005 at 10:30 at the Campbellsport Public Library.

Local Runners Conquer 50K Trail Run

It was a perfect day for running: crisp temperature, light wind, no rain, and leaves dazzling in the sunshine. Several area runners took advantage of the day to conquer the Glacial Trail 50K. This running race was run on the Ice Age Trail starting and finishing in Greenbush on October 9.

Rev. Kurt Ziemann used the run as a statement of faith and a fundraiser for his church youth groups. "I finished the race, I ran the course... and I received my mug and finisher sweat-shirt. I'll take it. I'm thankful to God who gave me the strength to finish." Rev. Ziemann also raised over $1000 for his church youth groups slightly surpassing his goal. "Once again, I can only thank God for raising up tremendous support in the area for this event."

The course challenged the runners. The first goal was to stay on the right trail. Several 50 mile runners went off course in the darkness of the morning. This is easy to do as several trails intersect the Ice Age Trail. As the runners spread out, it became more difficult to stay on course and runners had to keep an eye out for the yellow markers throughout the course.

Several runners also fell on the trail. There are numerous rocks and roots on the course. As runners tired, they tended to drag their feet and fall. It was a common sight to see runners cross the line covered in dirt and with legs and knees scraped up. No serious injuries were reported, though.

Nearly a hundred runners entered the 50K. Local results included:

4th Male - Brian Seegert - 4:31 (Hartford)

6th Male - Rev. Kurt Ziemann - 4:38 (Random Lake)

7th Male - Joel Dziedzic - 4:40 (Hartford)

3rd Female - Linda Mehoke - 5:44 (Fredonia)

Other local finishers: Richard Johnston - 4:59 (West Bend); Tim Luft - 5:42 (West Bend); Al Schwark - 7:45 (Plymouth) and Dawn Schwark - 7:45 (Plymouth).

Indians dump Sheboygan Falls, Kiel to claim EWC title with 13-1 mark

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Make space on the championship wall in the Kewaskum High School Field House.

The Lady Indian volleyball players have added another Eastern Wisconsin Conference banner, their third in a row, by crushing visiting Sheboygan Falls in three straight games, 25-11, 25-16 and 25-14.

With the victory, the Indians improved to 12-1 in the EWC, a mark that was improved on Thursday night to 13-1 after they topped host Kiel, 25-15, 19-25, 25-12 and 25-13.

Tuesday's match didn't start out all that auspiciously, according to first-year head coach Renee Butschlick, but it ended with an exclamation point on the strength of some sizzling serving by three different Indians.

"We were very excited about this match," Butschlick said. "The match confirmed we are conference champs. We started to go into this match lightly, but we did turn it around to win in three."

What helped the Kewaskum team dominate the visiting Falcons was being able to run the offense and good digging. "Sheboygan Falls was not that difficult but we could not take them for granted," Butschlick said, then she beamed as she pointed out her serving stars.

"The one thing that allowed us to take a lead was the serving in each game," the new coach said. "Christina (DeGroot) served out the first match with nine jump serves, and four were aces."

Then in game No. 2, it was Marissa Dehler who starred at the serving line. She had a run of eight serves, according to Butschlick, who said Emily Sedgwick came up with a run of eight serves in the finale.

The attack leaders for KHS were DeGroot and Bekki Heberer, who both contributed seven kills in the effort. Becky Rodenkirch was just one back of that number as she chipped in with six.

Setter Katie Schroeder, the only senior on the team, was a perfect 21x21 on the night, and with solo blocking, it was Caytlin Sprinkman with four, DeGroot with three and Roden-kirch with two.

Against Kiel, Kewaskum had an impressive 15 aces led by DeGroot, who had seven and Heberer, who added five.

The spiking totals were also good for the Indians. Out of the 35 in the four games, DeGroot, a shoo-in for all-conference, put down an impressive 13, while Heberer, Rodenkirch and Dehler had seven, seven and six, respectively.

Again Schroeder was perfect, this time 35x35.

"The girls played their game but not as well as we all know they can play," Butschlick said. "The first game we had a little trouble hitting around the block. The second game, we had a big problem with serve reception," with Kelly Winkel serving 10 straight points.

After the loss, the Indians got more serious, regrouped and secured their 13th win.

"In the third game, Bekki Heberer had a run of 10 serves," Butschlick said.

After a match on Tuesday against Shorewood, the Lady Indians begin Division 2 tournament play.

KHS kickers pick up win no. 7; take 6th place in tourney

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Try as they might, the Kewaskum High soccer players could do no better than post a 1-2 record in the recent East Troy Invitational.

Distractions from Homecoming may have been a factor in the opening 2-1 loss to Westosha, a game coach Alex Hill said his team could have won. The Indians, especially senior forward Jason Jahnke, played superbly to post a 2-1 victory over Wisconsin in the second game, then they ran into a juggernaut, falling to powerful Burlington 5-0 in the finals.

"We played three Division 1 teams, and in the first two games, held our own, playing strong, smart soccer," Hill said. The opener could have been won with better finishing, although credit goes to the Westosha goalkeeper, who made some very impressive saves in the second half."

What was exciting about the weekend of play was the one win gives the Indians seven for the season, tying the mark recorded in 2004 and for the most wins in a season by a KHS team.

Here is a capsule of highlights from each of the three games, along with comments by Hill:

vs. Westosha — after falling behind 2-0 at half-time, the Indians completely dominated play, according to Hill, who said Jahnke scored the goal.

"Alex Rauch and Jake Sabell played strong in mid, and (Austin) Flanders had a typically outstanding performance on defense. He has set such a high standard for himself this year by his performances that when he plays a great game, it's what we have come to expect from him," Hill said.

Jahnke was cited for delivering shots and crosses throughout the second half, but the Indians couldn't connect on the winning goal.

vs. Wisconsin Lutheran — "Two goals by Jahnke and another huge game by Flanders on

"D" held the Indians win their second game over a Division 1 team (the first was Kimberly)," Hill said, adding Rauch, Jacob Cochran and "Bud" Kattar played huge roles in the middle after Wisco scored in the first minutes and threatened right after that.

Saving tackles by Flanders and Paul Gaynor helped the Indians turn the momentum.

vs. Burlington — With five starters missing that game (in the battle for fifth place), fatigue and inexperience played a big part in the outcome, although the Indians only allowed one score in the first half.

Only Jahnke played all three matches. In the first two games, Hill said his team played some of its best soccer of the season, but Burlington was too strong for KHS.

Last Tuesday, the Indians hosted Plymouth and the unbeaten Panthers posted a 5-1 victory over Kewaskum.

"They have solid defense, quick transition through the middle and patience in front of the goal," Hill said about the Panthers, who were held scoreless by the Indians until the final 10 minutes of the first half and had to work hard to get those goals.

Flanders played great defense in the second half, with help from Ryan Wunsch and Mason Smith, "with Cochran playing his usual great game," Hill said.

With 14 minutes left, Jahnke "took a speculative but brilliant shot from 25 yards out that just dipped under the bar to make it 2-1," Hill said, adding, the Indians had several other good shots, including one by Rauch that formed the Panthers' keeper to dive full length to come up with the save. Jahnke also hit the crossbar on a free kick.

"This was a very good performance by us," Hill said. "Flanders was outstanding. (Keeper) Nate Kenworthy was outstanding, and Jahnke was outstanding. All over the field, the Indians showed their talent has developed over the season."

October 31 deadline to purchase sturgeon spearing licenses

OSHKOSH -- People who want to participate in the Lake Winnebago lake sturgeon spearing season in 2006 must buy their license by Oct. 31, 2005, unless they are military personnel home on leave or will be turning 14 years old between Nov. 1 and the last day of the 2006 spearing season.

"Anybody who wants to participate in the 2006 season needs to make sure they buy their license by Oct. 31, with a few exceptions," says Ron Bruch, a senior sturgeon biologist with the Department of Natural Resources based in Oshkosh.

There are three quick and convenient ways to buy the licenses, with revenues going to sustain and manage the Lake Winnebago lake sturgeon population, the world's largest remaining population of these magnificent, ancient fish.

Lake sturgeon spearing licenses can be purchased at any DNR Service Center or license sales location, by calling toll-free 1-877-WI LICENSE (1-877-945-4236), or over the Internet through the DNR Web site. Sturgeon spearing licenses cost $20 for residents and $65 for non-residents. There is an additional $3 service fee for telephone and internet transactions.

Spearers no longer need to also possess a valid fishing license, but only those 14 and older are eligible to spear sturgeon. By law, all revenues from spearing license sales are directed to fund only the Winnebago System sturgeon management program, instead of being included in the general fish and wildlife account.

The 2006 spearing season is set to open the second Saturday in February, or Feb. 11, 2006, and promises to begin another era in the 78-year-old tradition of spearing lake sturgeon on Lake Winnebago. Major regulation changes adopted Sept. 28 by the Natural Resources Board have been sent to the Legislature for review.

These changes are aimed at providing long-term management solutions to reduce the risk of overharvesting the world's largest remaining population of this vulnerable, gigantic fish, while still allowing broad participation in a unique spearing season, Bruch says. The changes include:

"Fast start" season 100 percent closure trigger. Beginning in 2006, DNR can close the spearing season at the end of a spearing day should any one of the three harvest caps -- for juvenile females, adult females or males -- be reached or exceeded.

"Slow Finish" season 90 percent closures. Beginning in 2006, the trigger for closing the spearing season is increased to 90 percent of the harvest cap. Under current rules, the season is closed 24 hours after the end of the spearing day when 80 percent of any one of the three harvest caps is reached or exceeded.

The recommendations would allow DNR to move quickly to protect the Lake Winnebago sturgeon in seasons where spearing conditions are ideal and harvest caps are reached quickly, while extending the season and spearing opportunities when water clarity and other spearing conditions are unfavorable and the risk of excessive harvest is low, Bruch says.

A third major change approved by the Natural Resources Board takes effect in 2007, with the start of a sturgeon spearing season on the Upriver Lakes (Lakes Butte des Mort, Winneconne or Poygan) that will be held every year and will be open to a limited number of spearers selected through a random drawing of people requesting upriver permits. From 1971 through 2005 the DNR conducted two day Upriver Lakes season every five years that was open to all permit holders.

The new regulations were developed over the past year by the Department of Natural Resources' Oshkosh area fisheries staff and the Winnebago Citizens Sturgeon Advisory Committee to protect vulnerable female lake sturgeon from the kind of overharvest that occurred in 2004. In that season, spearers exceeded the safe harvest level for adult females by 61 percent, a particular concern because females are the cornerstone of the lake sturgeon population and don't start spawning until they are 20 to 25 years old, and then spawn only every three to five years.

Indians run, pass their way to eighth straight victory

BY JUDY HARLOW

Members of the Kewaskum High football team had a couple reasons to celebrate Friday night.

First of all, the Indians rolled to a relatively easy 40-14 win over host Kiel to boost their record in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference to a perfect 6-0 and their overall mark to 8-0.

Then came some other good news. Sheboygan Falls, the team the Indians beat in a thriller two weeks ago, had knocked off the previously unbeaten Campbellsport Cougars by a score of 16-0.

With the win and the Cougars' loss, the Indians have clinched at least a share of the EWC crown and they can win it outright if they can beat Campbellsport tonight (Thursday night) in Kewaskum.

"We came out with a good start in the first quarter and moved the ball well," KHS Coach Jason Piittmann said, referring to the fact his team scored two touchdowns in the first quarter. The first came on a 5-yard run by Garrett Donath and the next on a 1-yard plunge by Donath. Jon Olla was perfect on the two PATs, so the Indians were on top 14-0.

The lead expanded to 20-0 after the Indians added another TD near the midway point of the second quarter. Going to the air, quarterback Chad Piwoni found Jeremy Gurholt for a 12-yard scoring aerial.

The Indians weren't able to keep up the offensive pace for the remainder of the half, however.

"We bogged down, and then we allowed Kiel to move the ball too much," Piittmann went on.

The Raiders came flying back with a score. Sean Lorbecki carried the ball the last two yards and Brad Bubolz was good on the kick, so Kiel was back in the ball game at 20-7.

Not for long, however, when the third quarter started, Kewaskum really was pumped up, resulting in three TDs, starting with a 12-yard scoring pass from Piwoni to wingback Eric Cain.

That touchdown came with 9:33 left to go in the period, then 48 seconds later, Zach Wollner came up with the big play the Indians' needed from the defense. Wollner picked off an Evan Walsh pass and sprinted 22 yards for a touchdown, his second theft for a TD this season.

Olla made the first kick and missed the second, but a score of 33-7 looked a whole lot better than, and the clincher came with :45 left in the third quarter on another Piwoni TD pass, his third of the game. Eric Ogi was on the receiving end, and this pass covered 19 yards.

This was at least the third game in a row Ogi has caught a TD pass.

Piwoni wound up going 10x12 for 112 yards, while his Kiel counterpart was credited with 255 yards passing.

Piwoni threw to five different receivers, led by Don-ath, who hauled in three for 43 yards.

The ground game was responsible for close to 200 yards, with Donath carrying 18 times for 110 yards (6.1 yards per carry). With the 110, Donath has gone over the 1,000-yard mark for the second year in a row. He has rushed for 1,062 yards in 138 carries and currently has 16 touchdowns.

Ross Stockhausen rushed for 60 yards and turned in another excellent effort on defense and punting.

"The kids came out on a mission in the third quarter, stopping Kiel's first series and then scoring twice in the first three minutes and 15 seconds of the quarter," Piittmann said, reporting Kiel's last TD, an 85-yard pass from Walsh to Eric Hoefler, came when two Indian defenders slipped and fell.

About tonight's game against Campbellsport and the chance to win the lone EWC champs, for the first time since 1983, Piittmann said, "This is the opportunity the kids have worked hard for ... lifting weights in the off-season, running, etc."

Should Campbellsport win, the EWC race would finish in a three-way tie.

Game time is 7 p.m., and people better get there early because a large crowd is expected to watch these arch rivals square off.

Forest trail users urged to wear blaze orange during special hunting seasons

People who enjoy hiking, biking, horseback riding and winter sports in the Northern Unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest are reminded that they will share the area with gun deer hunters during the Zone T deer hunting seasons this year. The early season runs October 27 through 30. The late season runs from December 8 through the 11. Deer Management unit 69, which includes the entire Northern Unit, has been designated as Zone T because wildlife managers have projected that the traditional deer season framework has not reduced the deer population to within 20% of the target cover winter population goal.

"Trail users and other outdoor enthusiasts who spend time in the woods need to be aware of the hunting seasons and areas open to hunting," said forest superintendent Jerry Leiterman. "As is the practice for hunters, all forest users are urged to wear blaze orange clothing on forest land during the gun deer hunting seasons."

The Northern Unit of the Kettle Moraine State Forest encompasses approximately 30,000 acres and has 130 miles of hiking, biking, equestrian, ski and snowmobile trails. The extended gun deer seasons apply to the entire Northern Unit including the popular Zillmer, New Fane, Butler Lake, Greenbush, Parnell, Ice Age and Horse Trail systems. Campgrounds, picnic areas and other specific use areas are closed to hunting.

Leiterman noted that all of these areas have been open to gun deer hunting in the past; however, this is the first year that the Zone T season will be held before and after the traditional nine-day season that spans the week of Thanksgiving.

"We have never had a non-hunter injured in a hunting accident in the forest, and we are looking forward to another safe season this year," said Leiterman.

Undefeated Indians Ranked Second in Division Three

Containing East quarterback Jon Hess (7) was one of the major assignments for the Kewaskum High defense in Friday, September 26th's season-opener in West Bend. The Indians did quite well staying with Hess in the first half. J.J. Logan (No. 73) moves in for the tackle, holding Hess to a short run on this play in the second quarter. Kewaskum won the game 28-14.

After winning against Cedar Grove on September 2, 24-14, the Indians then took on Roncalli September 9. Kewaskum High football coach Jason Piittmann gave the reserves an opportunity to see plenty of action. Above, Dan Shea (20), a 175-pound junior running back, made the most of his chances to carry the ball, topping the 100-yard mark and scoring a TD. Providing the blocking was tight end Jon Wicklund (9). The final score of the Roncalli game was 28-0.

After beating Two Rivers, 38-7 and Plymouth, 35-7, the Indians dampened Homecoming festivities at Sheboygan Falls with a score of 26-14. During September 30's EWC showdown game between Kewaskum and Sheboygan Falls, Garrett Donath was used as a decoy several times because the Falcons were keying on him. On this scoring play in the fourth quarter, Donath (26) sneaks a peek back at Eric Ogi (21), who is en route to an 18 yard touchdown on an option counter play. After Sheboygan Falls, the Indians went on to a Homecoming victory against New Holstein, 40-14 and then had a 40-14 victory against Kiel this past Friday. The Indians will try for a 9-0 record against Campbellsport on Thursday (tonight) at 7 p.m. here.
