Indians tip Slinger 12-7, Waupun is next playoff foe

Chad Piwoni attempts to escape a pack of Owls in Tuesday's post-season game against Slinger. The Indians will advance to play Waupun at home on Saturday at 1 pm.

The first hurdle has been cleared. While it may not have been the best effort of the season, the unbeaten Kewaskum High football team (10-0) played well enough Tuesday night to escape with a 12-7 victory over Slinger, one of the final teams to make the Division 2 playoff field with its 4-5 record. "I knew it was going to be tough," KHS coach Jason Piittmann said after talking with his players at the end of the contest. Piittmann said he felt veteran Slinger coach Fred Spaeth had his team well prepared and made it difficult for the Indians to move the football. "Fred himself is worth eight to 10 points," Piittmann went on. "They did everything they could to disrupt what we had been doing the last four or five weeks." While the partisan Indian fans might have been expecting a romp, what they saw was a thrilling, hard-hitting game in which the visiting Owls didn't appear fazed by Kewaskum's glossy record. In fact, Slinger scored the first touchdown of the game to take a 7-3 lead with 2:20 left in the first quarter after Jon Olla's clutch 37-yard field goal put Kewaskum up 3-0. This was just the third time all season the Indians were behind in a game. Piitt-mann had to think a while about that fact, then recalled West Bend East had a lead on Kewaskum, and so did Sheboygan Falls. The Indians' opening drive ate up just under five minutes. It stalled on the SHS 21-yard line, and there was no hesitation by Piittmann, who called on Olla, and the kick was perfect. "That's a tough kick ... playoff game ... cold night," Piittmann said, praising Olla's effort and also citing Garrett Donath for his big kickoff return, which gave the Indians great field position at the Slinger 46. The Owls also got a good return from their big gun, Matt Bischoff, who brought the ball all the way back to the SHS 49-yard line. Mixing running and passing, coupled with an 14-yard option run by quarterback Kris Guerndt, Slinger was quickly knocking at the Indians' door. On the 11th play of the drive, Guerndt hit Ryan Perrault, who is only a freshman, with a 9-yard TD pass, and Jason Lennartz tacked on the PAT. Slinger decided they didn't want Donath to field any more kickoffs, so they tried a shorter version, which was taken by Mike Pfothenauer, who was tackled at the KHS 39. Slinger stopped Donath for short gain, and Donath didn't make much on second down, but Slinger was called for a face mask penalty, then Chad Piwoni connected with Stockhausen on the longest pass play of the night for the Indians. "Stock" rambled 33 yards to the Owls' 29 before behind stopped. Two plays later, Piwoni found Matt Parent for a 15-yard pass, and after Eric Ogi was stopped for no gain, Donath showed why he was the most exciting runner in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference. It looked like he was stopped in his tracks, but Donath spun out of the pile and darted 10 yards for a KHS score and

PC sends plan back for new gas station, approves daycare

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

The Village of Kewaskum Plan Commission told a developer who wants to build a gas station, fast food restaurant and car wash to go back to the drawing board Tuesday night, October 25.

Jason Luther of Spectrum Development was told his plan needed much revision before the Plan Commission could review it.

Spectrum Development plans to construct three buildings on a two-acre parcel at the intersection of USH 45 and Badger Road in the Village of Kewaskum Tax Incremental District.

The first building proposed is a 2,823 square foot car wash at the northwest corner of the property. At the northeast corner, along Highway 45, a 3,058 square foot gas station and convenience store with an attached 2,356 square foot full service McDonalds Restaurant is proposed.

The commissioners tabled discussion on the development but approved starting the conditional use permit process for the gas station and drive thru for the proposed McDonalds. Luther will meet with the village engineer and bring new plans to the plan commission.

Commissioners then acted favorably on a request by Wayne and Dodie Sargent of Campbellsport, to construct a daycare center between Dairy Queen and the Silver Platter Restaurant. The Sargents came before the plan commission about a year and a half ago but then held off on construction so they could develop better plans to serve the growing community.

Dodie Sargent, owner and administrator of Little Folks Schoolhouse in the Town of Wayne, says that when their new facility opens in the spring of 2006, they will be able to increase their enrollment by 50 students. Currently Little Folks Schoolhouse has a two-year waiting list for enrollees.

She says the building will be 4,800 square feet and will have a number of innovative features for the students including heated flooring throughout because much time is spent in small group and play activity on the floor.

The building will also have five different classrooms to accommodate the diverse age groups attending the center. Entrance to the building will come from Milan Drive with another access through the Dairy Queen parking lot.

Dodie also says she is excited to be able to offer a large indoor play area for days with inclement weather conditions. The outdoor play areas will be separated by age groups.

A meal program is also being offered giving parents the option to bring lunch or have it prepared in-house by the staff there.

"My staff and I are very excited to be opening a facility in Kewaskum to serve the growing community here," said Dodie.

The Sargents plan on keeping the Wayne facility open after the new Kewaskum building is open because they feel the need for both facilities exists.

A groundbreaking ceremony is planned for mid-November.

Due to the upcoming holidays the Plan Commission has adjusted their meeting schedule. Both meetings in November and December were cancelled and there will be a special meeting on Tuesday, December 6 at 7 pm.

At that meeting the commissioners will again look at the proposed development of the gas station on Badger Road. They also expect to see final plans from United Construction Group for Village Lakes Center.

As the annexation process moves along for the 80 acre Prost land, Village Administrator Dan Schmidt thought the commissioners would see a concept plan for the property at that meeting, as well as a proposal to annex the Volm property on County Road H that was recently purchased by Gary Gavin.

Village Board will look at 36% water fee increase

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

A public hearing is being held Monday, October 31 at 10:30 a.m. in the Village of Kewaskum Council room between the village and the public service commission. The village has filed an application with the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin to increase water rates.

Due to new DNR mandates and much needed upgrades to the water and sewer departments the increase is necessary. The village also cited increased operating expenses.

The last rate increase the village had was in 2002.

The total increase in water revenues requested is $156,004 which will result in an estimated overall rate increase of 36% over the water utility's present revenues. If the request is granted, the water bill for general service and public fire protection service for an average residential customer with a 5/8-inch meter who uses 13,000 gallons of water per quarter will increase from $55.90 to $76.08, or 36% overall.

Things looking great for Kewaskum library

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

The Kewaskum Village Board heard more favorable comments about the village's public library at a recent village board meeting. Village president Matt Heiser who sits on the Library Board reported usage and membership is up.

Currently, usage of the library is up by 13.5 percent over September 2004, Heiser said. Items checked out through the library totalled 3,526. Kewaskum's library had the highest increase of items checked out in the county for September.

Heiser concluded his report by saying new patrons are up by 25 percent.

Department of Public Works Director Jerry Gilles stated that curbside leaf pick up will begin soon. Currently the DPW is seeking a place for the leaves they pick up. Gilles said the leaves are great for compost piling or bedding for cattle.

If interested in the leaves, please contact Gilles at 262-626-4310.

Clarification

In an article that ran last week about the Village of Kewaskum hiring a full-time fire chief, the author was not clear on the salary the chief will receive.

It was stated the chief will receive a salary of $68,546. That figure is the salary including benefits. The actual salary of the fire chief will be $41,936.

The author apologizes for not being completely clear.

Johnson School Bus drivers recognized for safety

SS American docking at KHS November 4 & 5

Sue Roskopf

Chesty Pesch

Dawn Reksten

During National School Bus Safety Week - October 16-22, Johnson School Bus congratulates our school bus drivers who have achieved a year of safe driving. Drivers with at least 10 years of safe driving are inducted into the company's "Safety is No Accident" Driver Hall of Fame. The Hall of Fame recognizes an outstanding roster of Johnson School Bus Service drivers who have achieved a tremendous safety record.

We are extremely pleased that four Kewaskum drivers are new to this year's Driver Hall of Fame, having driven 10 accident-free years for Johnson Bus. They are Sue Roskopf, Norbie Gau, Dawn Reksten &

Chesty Pesch. They join five other Kewaskum drivers in the Safe Driver Hall of Fame. They are John Schmidt (29 years), Joe Sekeres Sr. (23 years), Irene Gnacinski (20 years), Howard Fischer (13 years) and Arne Abrahamsen (12 years). All together Kewaskum Hall of Fame drivers have over 137 years of safe school bus driving!

This is a special news bulletin from the musicians and actors of Kewaskum High School. It has come to our attention that the cruise liner "S.S. American" leaving from New York to England will be making a special stop in Kewaskum.

After miles of torturous travel along the Milwaukee River it will finally dock here on Thursday, November 3rd at 4:00 PM. At this time, the ship's show, "ANYTHING GOES", will be presented for all area senior citizens. This is an admission free performance and the cast is looking for a huge crowd at this event.

The ship's captain has been asked to remain in port through the weekend, so that many of you will be able to attend this performance.

Tickets are on sale right now at the high school's music department or you can call to reserve at 262-626-8427, ext. 4571. If you don't have time to get advanced reserved seating, tickets will be sold at the door both nights.

See you on either Friday, November 4th or Saturday, November 5th, 2005, or if you have the time, on both nights. This performance of "ANYTHING GOES" promises to be one of the best this season, with great acting, beautiful singing and tremendous dancing.

School Board authorizes annual cash flow borrowing, hears technology update

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum Board of Education authorized the short-term borrowing of $1,700,000 to assist with an annual cash flow deficit. Business Manager Paul Reichert says the district is facing a $3 million shortfall in the first months of the new fiscal year.

Addressing the Board of Education, Reichert said, "Each year the district borrows money on a short-term basis to meet its cash flow needs." He said the same amount was borrowed for the 2004-2005 school year.

"Borrowing on a short-term basis for cash flow needs is necessary because typically during the first five months of the fiscal year the district spends more than it receives in revenue," he said. This happens mainly because property taxes are not received until January and only 40% of the district's state aid is received prior to December 31.

Reichert estimated the district's expenditures would outweigh receivables by about $3,200,000. He said the fund balance is used during that time but it is necessary to also borrow to cover the expenditures.

The district received the funds from the loan on October 3. They will have the loan paid back by September 1, 2006.

Also at a recent meeting, the district's technology analyst, Jenny Rae, gave her first quarterly referendum update. To ensure the public is well informed about the technology upgrade purchases made with the district's referendum money, Rae will be making periodic reports to the board about technology purchases that have been made.

To date the technology department has spent a little less than half of the $262,000 allocated to upgrading technology equipment.

Rae presented each item to the board and members of the community in attendance. Items purchased thus far include:

A wireless laptop cart with 30 laptop computers has been purchased and is operational at KMS. Because the Middle School does not have the space to add a computer lab the district needed to go with the more costly option of laptops.

The benefit of having the wireless laptop cart is that the cart can be used between classrooms to provide students access to the school network and Internet. This will also save valuable classroom learning time by not having to have students switch classrooms. The total cost to the district was $65,000.

Texas Instruments, model 84 calculators have been purchased for the math department at the high school. A total of 30 calculators cost the district $4,000.

New computer desks have been received at KMS to replace desks there that were in poor condition. The 24 new desks cost $5,500.

In an attempt to make the check-in/check-out process more smoothly at the libraries at KMS and KHS, new book scanners were purchased and are up and running at a cost of $1,000.

A color laser printer has been added to the art and technology education departments at KMS. The printer cost $5,000.

A flatbed scanner was added to both computer labs at KMS and KHS. Both scanners cost $400.

In order to be able to implement these and future technology upgrades, the district's network also needed some upgrades. Equipment and wiring has been replaced at both the middle school and the high school. Rae indicated in earlier estimates that the end cost to this would be around $50,000. This includes wiring, switches, security, cabling and licensing.

Rae concluded her presentation by telling the board that staff at both KMS and KHS are receiving training on the new grade book program and the new equipment.

Kohlsville FD holds Open House

The Kohlsville Fire Department held their Open House on October 12th, during Fire Prevention week. The volunteer firemen presented a demonstration to approximately 50 children and their parents as to how quickly a chair in a house will burn if playing with matches or other flammable materials. The fire truck arrived on the scene and the fire was then extinguished quickly. Many questions from the children were then answered and it was a great learning experience for all in attendance. Thanks to all the volunteers at the Kohlsville Fire Department, Zuern's Lumber of Allenton for donating the materials for the fire demonstration and to all who attended the open house.

Volunteer Center's Wilcox returns from Gulf Coast

By Amy Swanson
Statesman Correspondent
aswanson@kewaskumstatesman

"I'm so tired," said Betsy Wilcox, who spent 10 days helping in the Hurricane devastated Louisiana on a call from the national Points of Light Foundation. "I am learning constantly. I am trying to be like a sponge and take in all kinds of first-hand quality information. It's raw. People here are very affected."

"This has impacted every aspect of life... even where you can get married. It's like you hit it where you least expect it. There is an impact on the community everywhere."

- The library, which typically serves 4,000 patrons a day, now serves 8,000.

- St Elizabeth Hospital, once a small local hospital has become a regional medical center servicing an entire region of evacuees.

- Banks now take care of anyone of any bank in New Orleans. They have hired additional security. Immediately following Hurricane Katrina, lobbies were closed and only drive-through service was available. Customers were limited to withdrawals of no more than $250, no matter who you are or where you came from.

"The emergency operation center had big issues to deal with, Wilcox said. "They had rumors that were coming out of the shelters that would make my curly hair go flat," Wilcox said.

The Fire Department split its obligations between volunteer and paid. "They were hit very hard for search and rescue...pulling double and triple shifts to service fires and search and rescues... These are people that are empty and lost and shell shocked."

A special radio station now exists offering news updates, forums, problem solving, critics and public service announcements from agencies offering services.

"I am bringing home first-hand knowledge about the widespread impact that a major event can have on every system that impacts our food, shelter, heat, medicine, available service and gas...things that we take for granted are dramatically stretched under these conditions. I've had a chance to see it firsthand. I know how to set up shelters."

"I've witnessed the critical role of churches in direct and immediate response. The very first people out of the box were the churches. The first spot on the road to get water, find shelter, or get a home cooked meal came from churches and they have not stepped back but gone into other service under Red Cross, Office of Emergency Preparedness... The churches really were out in front and made a difference."

"I have learned a great deal about progression of event response and when it's relief and when it becomes recovery and systems have to flex as time passes."

"Immediately after a big event it is all hands doing everything you can do to help, but it's quite disorganized because you cannot even communicate," she said. Without landline or cell phone service available, the chaos quickly escalated. "Once AETEL set up phone service the chaos became organized response. The churches organized, then FEMA and Red Cross and help became more centralized and more far reaching."

"Volunteer management is absolutely vital in everything," Wilcox said. "Managing volunteers effectively to provide real relief is critical in an emergency response plan," she said.

"The cry for help for volunteers here is critical. Now that companies are back to work, the people who are still helping are unemployed, retired or stay-home parents. The crews that are coming in from other states are doing the big stuff like tearing down houses and debris removal, not the direct aid work that is still critically in need."

"There are no more replacement volunteers," Wilcox said. "The need is so great it feels too big."

Lessons learned help our own community be prepared. "I've learned a lot about the Volunteer Center. We are positioned in every community in the United States to link volunteers to community needs and we know volunteer management-- that is our mission in our community eyes and that's what we want to manage well because it benefits the community."

"When an incidence happens like this, the Volunteer Center becomes a central resource for community action and community response... The role of the Volunteer Center in this disaster response has been central. It has shown that we are the primary resource for getting and giving help in the community. I am proud to be here."

"It isn't our role to hamper any other first responding organization that is active. Our role is to manage the spontaneous volunteers that want to help. We are not getting in the way of emergency response. We take direction from those people. We coordinate the outpouring of volunteer presence that come to help."

Help continues to arrive. "It's astonishing, the number of states that are sending help, people and money," Wilcox said. "It's a steady stream of 18 wheelers, bumper to bumper; fire trucks, National Guard and military, construction equipment...smaller ones dragging bigger ones. It's a sea of small RV trailers at the fair grounds. People are here to help."

Wilcox became one of the family while on assignment down south. "I'm working hard to softening my northern accent...Volunteer Ascension and the Volunteer Center of Washington County are linked forever. We share everything from velocity to the systems to our sense of humor. I certainly will miss it here, but know for sure that I will be back."

Troublesome overpass to be redone in Lomira

After being hit numerous times by semi tractor trailers passing underneath it, the overpass above Highway 41 at Highway 67 will be redone by fall of 2006.

Currently the bridge is more than two feet shorter than current overpass standards. In addition to raising the height of the overpass plans call for widening Highway 67 to fourlanes at the interchange.

The project is scheduled to be let out to bid by Nov. 1. The project is estimated to cost around $6 million.

Campus Notes

MADISON -First year students at the University of Wisconsin Madison participated in A Day of Caring on Wednesday, August 31st as part of the University's orientation program, Wisconsin Welcome. The Day of Caring was a community service activity that aimed to introduce incoming first-year students to service and service learning opportunities at UW-Madison and familiarize participants with some of the local agencies that rely on the continued dedication and commitment of the university community.

Students participating in the event volunteered their time between 8am and 1 pm at different locations around Madison including St. Mary's Adult Day Health Center, Oakwood Village Retirement Communities, Troy Gardens, Ice Age Park & Trail, the Dane County Humane Society, Three Gaits, Inc., Porchlight, Inc., YWCA of Madison and Triangle Community Ministry, Inc.

Day of Caring endeavored to introduce new students to the rich history of civic engagement and volunteerism at UW-Madison in hopes that students will continue to volunteer their time. Many of incoming students have been actively engaged in volunteer service during their high school careers and are looking for a way to continue it in college. Day of Caring provided students with an opportunity to make these connections and form lasting friendships with like-minded volunteers.

Local student participants include: Ashley Mellenthin, Kewaskum and Raechel Gillis, Laura Burns and Cassie Delgado, all of West Bend.

MILWAUKEE -Kali Witte, a senior at Wisconsin Lutheran College, is a member of the women's golf team. Witte, daughter of John and Shary Witte of West Bend, is majoring in elementary education.

Wisconsin Lutheran is a liberal arts college located on the west side of Milwaukee.

Friends for Life benefit Nov. 5

Mary Toth, left and Ann Enright make preparations for the Friends for Life benefit dinner.

Friends for Life/Pregnancy Center would like to invite you to their benefit dinner on Saturday, November 5th at the Linden Inn. The evening will start at 5 p.m. and will include a delicious meal, silent auction, music by the Siegmann family, and a special guest speaker, Colleen Tronson. She will share her true story of a young woman's heartache as she had several abortions, and the lies that she believed brought her to those decisions.

Friends for Life, established in 1983, is a non-profit, pro-life pregnancy and abstinence education center serving women and teens in the West Bend and surrounding areas. They offer free of charge one-on-one confidential counseling, pregnancy testing, compassionate support during pregnancy, medical, financial and legal referrals, temporary housing, abstinence education and pre and post abortion counseling, and a 24 hour crisis hotline.

The evening will begin at 5 p.m. with a social hour and dinner will be served at 6. Dinner choices include prime rib, bacon wrapped chicken breast or lemon peppered whitefish. If you would like to attend this event and/or contribute to the silent auction, please contact Mary at 262-334-7638, or Sherry at 262-334-7638 on or before November 1st. Donations can be sent directly to Friends for Life, 410 Hawthorn Dr., West Bend, WI 53095. Your support is greatly appreciated!

'Santa's Workshop' theme for Kewaskum Christmas Parade Dec. 3

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

It's started.

Actually it started about a month ago, I saw them getting the trees ready at Hobby Lobby in West Bend on a shopping trip my dear wife dragged me on. I've given in and started playing Christmas music on iTunes.

At this rate, Christmas in July will soon be a reality! But, as retailers get ready for the holiday shopping season Kevin Stautz, here in Kewaskum, is getting ready for The Kewaskum Area Chamber of Commerce's Annual Christmas Parade. Mike Geidel, also of Kewaskum, assists Stautz.

Stautz says he and his "elves" are busy making plans for the event and have come up with "Santa's Workshop" as their theme. The parade will take place on December 3 at 5 pm and will proceed through downtown Kewaskum. Line-up will take place in back of Kewaskum High School like last year. "Not much has really changed from previous years," he said. He encouraged groups to pre-register, as they will be put in the parade lineup first. Lineup will begin promptly at 4 pm.

Walking units can meet inside the Kewaskum High School gym and will be let out to the route from the back of the building.

As in years past, monetary prizes will be awarded. For competition there will be two classes, with four prizes in each class. Class one will include civic organizations and businesses, top prize in that class will be $150, $100, $75 and $50 respectively. Class two will be youth and walking groups. The prize structure for class two is $100, $75, $50 and $25 respectively.

Stautz encourages the local business community to sponsor music on floats in the parade. Those interested in sponsoring a musical float can contact Stautz at 262-483-4421. The parade is entirely paid for by proceeds from the Chamber's annual golf outing.

Karen Heberer of the Kewaskum Chamber stated that Santa would be at the Kewaskum Municipal Building Annex during the day of the parade. She is unsure if the Chamber will again have a steak sandwich stand in the downtown parking lot.

Friends of Kewaskum have already started their Christmas tree raffle. Tickets are $1 each or six for $5. Tickets can be purchased at The Statesman or The Candy Tree. The 7.5-foot artificial tree will be decorated to the parade theme and can be seen in the front window of The Statesman, 355 Main Street, Kewaskum. The winner will be drawn right after the parade and announced in The Statesman and on the Friends of Kewaskum website www.kettlecountrycolors.com. The group will also be serving food. More details will follow. Proceeds from both will be used to acquire a lumberjack show at Kettle Country Colors in 2006.

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will announce the parade Marshall in an upcoming edition of The Statesman.

At the bottom of this page please find an entry form for the parade. Entry forms can also be downloaded from the Chamber's website www.kewaskum.org

Kewaskum Juniors to host art/craft show at KMS

Be the lucky winner of this quilt featured at "A Kettle Country Christmas" art and craft show on Saturday, November 19 at the Kewaskum Middle School.

Members of the GFWC Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club cordially invite area residents to their 23rd annual fine art and craft show entitled, "A Kettle Country Christmas". The show will be held on Saturday, November 19th from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Kewaskum Middle School, 1676 Reigle Drive and will feature many unique, skilled artists and craftspeople from across central, eastern and southeastern Wisconsin.

Club members are actively working to once again make this an outstanding event for artists, craftspeople, club members and the viewing public. The ever-popular quilt raffle features a square-in-square with Irish chain queen size quilt in vivid blue and floral print on a light yellow background. A free quilt raffle ticket will be offered with a $1 per adult admission fee. The raffle drawing will be held during the show.

Junior members will once again feature a bake sale consisting of assorted cookies and other bakery goodies. A delicious luncheon featuring hot cheesy broccoli soup, hot ham sandwiches, hot dogs, chips, a large variety of desserts, coffee, soda and bottled water will be served by members of the Kewaskum High School Booster Club.

The Kewaskum Junior Woman's Club is in its 38th year of chartering with the largest volunteer woman's organization in the world, the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Areas of donations and service projects include the arts, conservation, education, home life, international affairs and public affairs.

Plan to join in this annual fund-raising show on Saturday, November 19th at the Kewaskum Middle School!

Dundee has again come in line with many other villages of the state, in that it got electric services last Friday night for the first time in many years, when the section of the line from Waucousta to Dundee was put in service. It is reported that when company representatives who promoted the line in Dundee talked to residents of the vicinity they were told that many years ago Dundee had a central power station in the mill there, a generator being connected to the water wheel at the mill and that a power line ran from the village to Campbellsport. Water power development at Dundee is one of the oldest in the state,

Kewaskum FFA Judging Teams Do Well at World Dairy Expo

On October 4, 2005 the Kewaskum FFA sent two judging teams to the World Dairy Expo in Madison. The two teams were a dairy products judging team and a dairy cattle judging team.

The dairy products team, consisting of Matt Lawrenz, Zach Rate, and Clayton Stoffel, placed fourth out of ninety-three teams from all over the Midwest. In addition, two of the team members placed exceptionally well individually, out of 271 participants Clayton Stoffel placed seventh and Zach Rate placed twenty-first. The dairy products team identified cheese samples and the cause and intensity of off flavors in milk. They also took a written exam, identified if several substances were real dairy products or if they were artificially made, and judged the amount of sediment on milking machine filters.

The dairy cattle judging team did well, too. The team, consisting of Jon Hawig, Adam Schladweiler, and Robert Weber, placed eighteenth out of 135 teams. The dairy cattle judging team judged two classes of Brown Swiss calves, a class of Guernsey calves, some Jersey two-year-olds, and answered several questions about the characteristics of the cattle.

Overall the Kewaskum FFA's judging teams did very well this year and improved over last year. They will hopefully continue to do well at future judging contests in the spring.

KCK to host Halloween party

All high school students are invited to a Halloween party. This is sponsored by Kewaskum Cares about Kids and will be held on Friday, October 28 from 7:00 to 11:00 p.m. at the Annex building in Kewaskum.

Admission will be free with a costume, $1.00 without.

Refreshments will be served, entertainment will be provided by a D.J. There will be prizes for the best costume and other prizes given away during the evening. Various other activities will take place as well. The Annex in Kewaskum (next to the coffee shop) will be appropriately decorated for the evening.

Kewaskum Cares About Kids is a group of adults and teens in the Kewaskum area who are interested in issues that affect teens in the Kewaskum Community. If there are questions on this event, please contact Linda Dymond at 335-6898.

YMCA Hosts Kids Day Out

On Thursday, October 27 and Friday, October 28, 2005 the Kettle Moraine YMCA will host their Kids Day Out program for 5 - 10 year olds. Kids can be dropped off at the Y after 6:30am and must be picked up by 6:00pm.

During the day kids will participate in activities such as arts and crafts, games, sports, open swim, and gym time. A morning and afternoon snack will be provided but kids should bring a bag lunch. With the kids out of school for Teachers' Convention these two days, this is a great opportunity for them to have fun and enjoy the day in a safe environment.

The cost per day for YMCA members is $24 and the cost for community participants is $29. The registration deadline is Friday October 14, 2005. To register, please stop in at the Kettle Moraine YMCA, 1111 W. Washington St. For more information call the Y at 262-334-3405.

Visitation at the funeral home was Tuesday from 10 until 11:45 a.m.

In lieu of flowers, memorials are appreciated.

HAROLD H. 'MIKE' PRAHL

Harold H. "Mike" Prahl, of the Town of Trenton, was welcomed home by his Lord on Monday, October 24, 2005, surrounded by his loving family at St. Luke's Medical Center of Milwaukee, at the age of 82 years.

Mike was born June 4, 1923 to Arthur and Lydia (nee Stauss) Prahl in Mequon. He was raised in the Village of Jackson, and graduated from West Bend High School. He married the love of his life and his best friend, Arvilla H. Pipkorn on August 24, 1946 at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Friestadt. After marriage, the couple lived in the Washington County area, residing in the Town of Trenton since 1963.

Mike was a dedicated manager of Boehlke Bottled Gas Company of Cedarburg for over 39, honorable years, retiring in 1988. He was a member of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Newburg, where he was also a past council member. Among his favorite pastimes, Mike loved woodworking and lawn care projects.

He will be deeply missed and forever in the hearts of his beloved wife and best friend, Arvilla H. (nee Pipkorn) Prahl; his cherished children, Larry and Linda Prahl of the Town of Trenton, Jerry and Barb Prahl of Newburg, Ken and Linda Prahl of the Town of Trenton, and Cindy and Jim Moser of the Town of Farmington; his treasured grandchildren, Sara, Nicola (Emilio) DeTorre, Rebecca, Heather, Ryan, Stacy (Paul) Grulke, Michael, and Mark; and six loving great-grandchildren. Mike will also be missed by nieces, nephews, other special relatives, and many dear friends. He was preceded in death by his parents, and one sister, Eleanor Kluever.

A Funeral Service in honor of Harold H. "Mike" Prahl will be held on Thursday, October 27, 2005 at 7:00 p.m. at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Newburg, with Pastor Jon Baumann officiating.

Visitation with family and friends will be held on Thursday, October 27, 2005 from 4:00 p.m. until the time of the service at 7:00 p.m. at the church only. Interment will take place at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, October 28, 2005 at Washington County Memorial Park of West Bend.

The family would like to extend their sincere appreciation for memorials that are designated to either St. John's Building Fund (PO Box 86, Newburg, WI 53060) or to the charity of your choice, in lieu of flowers.

The Phillip Funeral Home of West Bend is assisting the family.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of THEODORE J. SCHOOFs would like to thank Cedar Community Hospice in West Bend, Miller Funeral Home, Kewaskum Floral, Father Edwin Kornath, our friends at Holy Trinity, family and friends who showed their support or helped in any way in the loss of our husband and dad. Thanks also to those who sent memorials, flowers and cards. Your kindness will never be forgotten.

Fr. Ed Kornath installed as pastor of St. Michael, Holy Trinity Parishes

Bishop Richard Sklba visited St. Michael Parish Saturday, October 22 to officially install Father Ed Kornath as pastor of St. Michael and Holy Trinity Parishes. ABOVE: Fr. Ed and Bishop Sklba sign official documents of record. RIGHT: Fr. Ed accepts both parish's financial records during a special installation ceremony. After mass and the ceremony a reception was held for Fr. Ed and parishioners in the church hall. Fr. Ed stated he is very thankful for the warm welcome he has received from both parishes and Fr. Bob Artmann of St. Michael Parish.

but no records are available locally to determine when the power was used to generate electricity or when this service was halted. This is the first time that any home in that village or vicinity had been lighted with electric current from a central station.

Beavers "planted" in Moon Lake two years ago have built a dam in the east branch of the Milwaukee River approximately a mile below the lake's outlet and as a result, the water level of Moon Lake is at least a foot higher than it would be at this time. While it appears that water ran over the crest of the New Fane dam a few days ago, it cannot be denied that the beavers held back water that ordinarily would have flowed to the mill, but orders from the conservation department must be awaited before steps can be taken toward destroying the dam. The beaver dam is located on the Frank Schultz farm about four miles northeast of Kewaskum, at a point where the stream is about 30 feet wide. It is constructed of small tree trunks, brush, mud and stones, and its resistance to the current is strengthened by the fact that the center is several feet upstream from the ends. The dam, practically three feet high and practically water tight, was constructed within nine days or less by a small colony of beavers.

PERSPECTIVES

- In Your Opinion -

Let's End Bilingual Education

By Senator Glenn Grothman
20th Senate District

Recent reports indicate that Wisconsin's foreign-born population has risen 31 percent in the first four years of this decade. The vast majority of this increase is Hispanic. It is vitally important for the culture of our country and our state that children of these immigrants become financially productive members of our economy as well as consider themselves as American citizens (if here legally).

Unfortunately, the state of Wisconsin still requires school districts to offer a program called bilingual education to students (if at least 10 children in that school speak a given language.) In bilingual education students take classes (math, science, etc.) in their native language. Children go through the majority of their school day without having to speak or hear English. Another method of dealing with children who don't speak English is through English as a second language or English immersion programs. In these programs children spend much or all of their class day learning in English.

For years advocates for immigrant children have stressed that English immersion programs will improve the test scores of immigrant children. Now results are coming in from around the country showing that children who are forced to learn English perform better on standardized tests.

In California when English immersion replaced bilingual education, test scores jumped in reading, math, and language arts. As Linda Chavez, president of the Center for Equal Opportunity (who will provide assistance to my initiative described below) says, "the best way for children to learn English is by speaking and hearing English, not by speaking and hearing Spanish."

There is also a social benefit to ending bilingual education. Since bilingual students have their own classes it discourages these students from commingling with other American students. By isolating these students, they may not feel "American." We already have a huge problem in this country with "minorities" being told to consider themselves as members of a disadvantaged class and implying they should spend their life with a chip on their shoulder. There was a time in the not-so-distant past that immigrants in this country were encouraged to be part of the melting pot and be proud to be Americans.

As Npid Thao of Madison, who was affected by Wisconsin's bilingual education mandate, says, "Some people might argue that this is okay because being among your own kind provides a comfort zone for bilingual students. It's not okay!"

Other states are standing up to the bilingual education lobby. In 1998 Proposition 227, called the "English for the Children" initiative, passed the state of California with 61 percent of the vote despite the fact special interest groups outspent proponents of the proposition 20 to 1. Two years later a stronger, similar initiative passed in Arizona 63 to 37 percent. Even in Wisconsin some parents rebel against having their children being put in bilingual classes. One superintendent of a large Wisconsin school district told me that while the Hispanic children of his district went primarily to bilingual classes, Hmong parents were insisting on sending their children to classes in English. Guess whose children will be doing better fifteen years from now?

So far Wisconsin is going in the opposite and wrong direction. In the past budget Governor Doyle actually proposed increasing funding for bilingual education by 9.4 percent this year and 9.0 percent next year. Sadly, left leaning Republicans were able to keep these huge increases in the budget.

I am introducing a bill to end Wisconsin's bilingual education mandate. This would save Wisconsin taxpayers over $9 million dollars a year. Some of this money would be directed at English immersion programs but most would be returned to the taxpayer. This will be an uphill fight. Education establishment types will not want to lose any money and will not want to admit they have been wrong since the current program was implemented in 1968. Even worse, some people want new immigrant groups to stay apart from the American mainstream and permanently consider themselves minorities. Fortunately, several Hispanic leaders have already contacted me and will assist me in my efforts. It's time Wisconsin caught up to Arizona and California in assisting the new wave of immigrants in becoming part of the American mainstream.

Letter to the Editor:

We would like to let the Village of Kewaskum residents know what will happen because of the decision of your Village Board regarding Old Glory Heights/Kettle View Drive.

You will lose most of the trees adjacent to Kiwanis Park south to Hwy H, when Kettle View Drive is extended north from Hwy. H and used as an access to a parking lot for the park and an entrance to the new development.

The developer presented alternate plans to the Board that would place Kettle View Drive slightly west and preserve the tree line. Instead, the Board stayed with a plan that has been on the books for 40 years. But, in 1999, the DNR came in and discovered that there were wetlands along the way, so Kettle View Drive will never be a main link between Hwys. H and 28 as originally planned.

Quoting Matt Heiser (Village President). "Part of my fear is that if we make a mistake and don't do this right, in 30 years someone will look at Kettle View Drive and wonder how it could have been messed up."

Residents of Kewaskum, take a few minutes and drive through Old Glory Heights, and take a look at the trees along Washington Ave., and see if you don't agree that the current plan will be "messing up" the beauty for the residents who live in the village at this time.

If you feel strongly about this, please speak up. Talk to your Village Board members, and let's stop this before it is too late.

Letter to the Editor,

I have a concern which I feel needs to be addressed. However, I must begin by stating my concern is not meant to call individual supervisors on the carpet but rather it is with the process in which all the supervisors have input. I have a great respect for each of them and understand the amount of responsibility placed in their hands.

In 2007, the .5-cent county sales tax is scheduled to end. Our county supervisors are in the process of extending this sales tax without asking the county residents. I have a problem with not having a say about this tax. This is my money the county wants on top of our current property taxes. I feel that if the county needs to exceed the property taxes they already get then they should have the taxpayers vote on it through a referendum. I have heard many ideas on how this money is going to be spent. Some I like, some I do not. I know that referendums are time consuming, but I believe it is the price that must be paid if the county wants more of our money. By the way, a supervisor informed me, the county is having an advisory referendum question relating to this issue. I think it should be a binding referendum question asking if the voters of Washington County are willing to pay an additional sales tax after they tell us for what the money is needed.

you think on this issue. Contact me in Madison at 1-800-662-1227 or email me at Sen. Grothman@legis.state.wi.us

When addressing this with another county supervisor, they stated, "This is a tax that no one has to pay if they do not want to." After thinking about it, I could understand this statement. I live close to Fond du Lac County and could very easily drive north and pay 5% sales tax instead of our 5.6%. They have all the same stores and entertainment. But, as a Washington County resident, if I purchase anything requiring a title that has my Washington County address on it in another county, (i.e. car, motorcycle, or boat), I will pay the same tax as if I had purchased it in Washington County. This is an extra $100 on a $20,000 vehicle.

I know Dodge and Ozaukee counties have extra county sales tax. This does not bother me because I do not shop in those counties. I shop in my county and would like to continue to shop in my county. I have heard others say, "Look at all the taxes we raise from tourists and non-county residents," or "We already pay it, so what is the difference?" or "It is only a 1/2 penny on the dollar." Yes, it would be nice to have others (tourists) pay this tax when they visit our communities for a few days or weeks. The problem is I shop, eat, and live in this community 365 days a year, so that would add up to me paying this tax 365 days a year. Let's face reality. Paying this tax will not break me, or truly interfere with my purchasing power, but the process in which this is happening is chipping away my right to have a say and vote in my government. This is an issue of government of all the people, not the 30 county supervisors.

If the county has "projects" they want to do, then tell us up front what the "projects" are and how much it is going to cost. Then ask us to vote on it. Don't just tax us and then figure out what to do with the extra money. Believe it or not, it is our money.

Kieth A. Kriewaldt,
Town of Wayne - Supervisor

The Bookworm Sez

by Terri Schlichenmeyer
Adventures of a Continental Drifter

By Elliott Hester
St. Marin's Press c.2005 $23.95

Food for Thought

By Amy Swanson

You know what it's like: your friends come home from a long vacation where they've been somewhere interesting, and they drag out piles and stacks and albums full of photographs and postcards of places you've never been and people you'll never see. You try to muster some sort of excitement, but it's not easy to do when your idea of a vacation is painting the house.

Ah, but you've never met Elliott Hester. You won't have to pretend to be interested when you read his new book "Adventures of a Continental Drifter". You'll be too busy laughing to pretend.

Elliott Hester was an airline steward once upon a time, but in the wake of September 11, 2001, when Americans were canceling flying plans and airlines were cutting jobs, Hester saw the writing on the hangar wall. Maybe it was time to head out and explore those places that he had only wished he could see when he had been working for an airline. Maybe it was time to get away.

With a few articles of clothing, journals, and other minor personal items stuffed in a duffel bag, Hester started his journey in Argentina, where the first thing he says he noticed were the stares. Black people in Argentina are so much a minority that they're almost invisible, Hester says, and since he is African American, he was a curiosity. The stares weren't unfriendly; in fact, Hester says that he rarely hears racist comments on his travels.

From Argentina, Hester

traveled by cargo ship around French Polynesia where he met a man who ate only "fish, fish, fish" and hated it. He then flew to Australia where he spent time in a desolate underground town that proudly touts opal mining as its claim to fame. He flew to Brunei, Thailand, Singapore, and Indonesia, then to India where he got a vicious bout of "Delhi Belly".

In Northeast Africa, Hester learned that the South Side of Chicago, although it may have been rough, was a comparatively privileged place to grow up. He then flew to Eastern Africa, to Western Europe, and back home to Miami, only to dream of the next continental journey. When most people say they're going on vacation overseas, they mean Paris or London or Tokyo. Who ever thinks of checking out an almost-abandoned theme park in the tiny country of Brunei or hopping on a camel in Egypt? Elliott Hester did both, and it's a good thing, too, because "Adventures of a Continental Drifter" is one of the funniest adventure books I've read in awhile. Hester's stories prove that travel is still safe (although he has several close calls), but it requires common sense (of which he says he occasionally lacks) and plenty of intestinal fortitude - literally.

If you've ever longed to travel, but haven't, then pick up this book and dream of your own adventure. "Adventures of a Continental Drifter" is a whole lot cheaper than an around-the-world ticket and a whole lot more fun than an armful of someone else's travel albums.

I just discovered that for the past few days my husband has been using my toothbrush. I'm not sure what part of, "Honey, your new toothbrush is blue, mine is green," he didn't understand. Maybe he needs a refresher on colors. I needed to buy him a new toothbrush because our three-year old daughter was caught cleaning the shower with his old one. He thinks I was just trying to do something nice. He should know I don't work that way.

After 14 years of total wedded bliss, using my toothbrush wasn't a big deal to him. I think it's gross. I'm sorry, but some things shouldn't be shared - a toothbrush is one of those things, underwear is another.

Sharing is not one of my strong points. It's not my fault. I have an older sister - a perfect older sister. When we were kids we had to share a room, which I, of course, thought was really cool until she would get mad at me and split the room in half. She was always in charge of splitting the room and always got the door, I got the closet. Fair? I don't think so! Except it did give me more of a fashion edge. As adults that is obvious.

I always had to wear her old clothes, play with her old toys, ride her old bikes and date her old boyfriends... oops!

In high school she would raid my closet and borrow my clothes, leaving the unwanted pieces wrinkled up on the floor MIA for weeks at a time. Of course, she had to have the matching shoes too!

We also shared a bathroom. My mom still remembers our early morning battles for mirror space before school. Sometimes she can still hear us screaming at each other. There were never any injuries...just scars on the inside, I guess! It's still hard for me to use a double sink.

In return for borrowing my clothes, I would borrow my sister's old homework.

She is three years older than me and I figured the teacher would have forgotten her paper by now. My clever time-saving idea earned me a C - on the exact same paper where my perfect sister received an A+ ...She probably deserved a C - too, but since she was every teachers pet, her grade got bumped up.

Sharing her ID just was a bad idea altogether. There was no upside to that bright idea. I wish she wouldn't have suggested it.

In college, I decided to help my boyfriend - who would later become my husband for some reason - on an English paper. Love does crazy things to us all. When we received our grade for the paper he was given an A- and I was given a C+. I was just trying to help a guy who only attended class if it didn't interfere with his field house schedule. I knew that if he could pass the class, we could live happily ever after and even share each other's toothbrushes...or NOT!

US Youth Soccer American Cup winners

SPECIAL LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Congratulations to the Kewaskum freshmen football team for their unbeaten season in 2005. You deserve some recognition and a round of applause, too! You've given your fans and relatives a lot of excitement and thrills this season. You are a great bunch of young men and athletes. As a team you have gotten together and had great success.

Without all 34 (or whatever number it is) of you practicing and working together it could not have happened. You have great coaching and improved every game. Keep up the good work and you'll do great next season. Even though you have not gotten too much press we are all proud of what you have accomplished.

KHS boys settle in fifth spot in EW test; Gibson places ninth

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

Being close to fourth place was not much consolation for the Kewaskum High boys cross country team, which had hoped to finish in the upper division of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference this fall.

The Indians had to settle for fifth place in the recent meet hosted by Manitowoc Roncalli. They scored 134 points, 22 points behind Two Rivers (112) for the fourth spot.

As expected, Kiel and Sheboygan Falls battled it out for the title, with Kiel coming away as champions, 45-53. Campbellsport wound up seventh in the competition, scoring 144 points.

"(I was) A little disappointed in the boys' final placing ... thought the team could have taken Two Rivers," veteran coach Dave Drexler said. "We didn't have the opportunity to compete against Two Rivers and Kiel during the season, and it is difficult sometimes comparing the results from other meets and other conditions."

Still, Drexler said he was pleased the boys had a good season and he was "very pleased" with Justin Clayton's efforts the final few meets.

"He has made tremendous improvement in his overall time."

As has been the case all season, junior Bob Gibson led the Indians, but his ninth place was a couple places away from earning him first-team all-EWC honors.

Gibson covered the five kilometer course in a time of 17 minutes and 52 seconds (17:52).

The overall winner of the race was John Wegner of Sheboygan Falls, who is having a sensational season. He hit the finish line in 16:53, and the course was tough, according to Drexler.

Jake Roelse of Sheboygan Falls finished third at 17:08, and sandwiched in between the two Falcons was Kiel's Jordan Truttschel, whose time was 17:01.

Zack Van Wormer placed 21st for the Indians, behind a time of 18:53. He was the only other KHS runner to break 19 minutes. Jon Hawig, who was slowed by illness recently, finished 31st in 19:09, then came Clayton at 19:11, good for 34th place.

Tyler McElhatton rounded out the KHS scorers. He was 39th in 19:38.

Campbellsport was led by Sam Gellings and Spenser Rodenkirch, 14th and 15th, respectively, both with identical times of 18:12.

The Plymouth girls were head and shoulders above all the other teams in the competition, coming in with an impressive 35 points. Sheboygan Falls was a distant second at 59. Kewaskum, with the bare minimum of runners and most of them very young, placed last with 242.

Campbellsport finished seventh at 199.

The individual winner was Amy Wildenberg of New Holstein. She had an outstanding time of 15:17 for the 4,000 meters.

Two of the Indians made the top-50, led by Tonya Jansen, who was 37th with a time of 18:29. Next came Kristin Vogt, who came in 48th at 19:32.

The other three KHS finishers were: Alissa Clapper, 21:05 (51st), Nicole Stern, 22:14 (52nd) and Crystal Trepow, 25:19 (54th).

"The girls' team looks promising for next year. The freshmen trip of Tonya Jansen, Kristin Vogt and Alissa Clapper have shown big improvement throughout the season," Drexler said.

Campbellsport was paced by Sara Immel and Cecilee Rodenkirch, who were 34th and 35th with respective times of 18:17 and 18:18.

Indians stumble at Whitefish Bay

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The anticipated rematch between the Kewaskum High volleyball team and powerhouse Waupun will not materialize ... at least not this season as the Lady Indians were knocked out of the Division 2 tournament by Whitefish Bay in a regional semifinal held in Whitefish Bay last Friday night.

Kewaskum was the third seed in the regional, while the Blue Dukes were selected as the second, and that is why the match was held there.

Game scores were 25-17, 25-17 and 25-19, all in the Blue Dukes' favor.

First-year head coach Renee Butschlick, who led the Indians to their third straight Eastern Wisconsin Conference crown, had an inkling something was wrong right away in the pre-game preparations.

"When the girls started to warm up, I knew it was going to be a tough game," Butschlick said. "Our hitting and serve receive in warmups were really off, and I hoped we could get over that once we were on the court."

Butschlick's hopes never materialized, however, at least not in Game 1.

"The first game we could not do anything to win a point. Our hitting was blocked or was dug up."

In the second game, "We started the same way as the first game," Butschlick said, reporting her team finally came alive in Game 3, but not enough to overcome the Blue Dukes' great serving, which was normally one of the Indians' strong suits this fall.

"We started to play our game, but Whitefish Bay's serving was unstoppable," Butschlick said.

The statistics showed the Indians were off their usual game. They only had four aces in the three games, including two by Marissa Dehler, one by Megan Rinzel and one by Lauren Larson.

In service reception, there were 10 errors, 10 out of 55 chances for only an 81.82 percent success rate.

Kewaskum still came up with 25 kills, led by Dehler's seven, and six each from Christina DeGroot and Bekki Heberer.

Setter Katie Schroeder was a perfect 23x23 in assists.

"We had a great season, and we hope to be just as strong for next year," Butschlick said. With Schroeder the lone senior on the squad, the Indians should be very strong again.

The Indians opened tournament play in grand style a week ago Tuesday, upending Shorewood in four games, 25-16, 25-9, 15-25 and 25-17.

"The girls really came out strong in the first two games," Butschlick said. In the second game, Marissa had a run of nine serves with one ace to give us the lead."

The Indians stumbled a bit in the fourth game, when they struggled to get the ball over the net. They shrugged off their loss, regrouped and put the Greyhounds away.

"The one thing that really kept us in that game was we had very few hitting errors, and we also had a lot of good defense in blocking and digging," Butschlick said.

The statistical leaders in this match included the following: aces — DeGroot with two; assists — Schroeder, 27 of 28 for a 96.30 success rate; and kills — Heberer with a team-high 11, followed by Becky Rodenkirch's 10, and eight by Dehler.

Sixth grade Gridrion team uses late score to improve to 6-1

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

It was bad enough the Gridrion teams all had to play in a cold rain last Saturday, and the outcomes weren't exactly what the coaches were looking for either, except for the sixth graders, the lone winners among the four squads.

Coach Joe Backhaus' charges nipped host Cedarburg 7-0, with the lone touchdown scored midway in the fourth quarter.

"Austin Goeman intercepted a pass. He got it down the field for us," Backhaus said, reporting several plays later, Eric Perkins scored on a short run. Perkins also added the extra point on a run.

"This was probably the toughest game we've had all season, obviously," Backhaus said, adding, "The defense kept us in it."

Backhaus declined to cite any individuals on the defensive unit.

With the win, the sixth graders improved their record to 6-1.

Earlier in the day, the eighth grade team came out on the short end of a 30-6 score, and it wasn't pretty, according to assistant coach Gil DeLaurier, spokesperson for the team in place of "Jonesy" Korth.

DeLaurier wasn't sure who scored for the A team, which has struggled much of the fall.

It was also a rough day for the seventh graders, who got overwhelmed by a speedy Cedarburg club, 42-13.

"It wasn't anything to remember," coach Tom Kudek said, reporting Cody Nuernberg scored one of his team's touchdowns, while Mike Schladweiler had the other. Schladweiler also tacked on the PAT on a run.

"Too many mistakes ... too many interceptions," Kudek went on, indicating his club might have had more size than Cedarburg, but the hosts were quick and used that quickness to their advantage on offense.

While both teams had to play in the less-than-ideal weather conditions, it probably hurt the Kewaskum team more, according to Kudek, who said, "it kind of ruined our plans for the day."

The seventh grade's record is now 3-3-1. "They were 6-0," Kudek said about Cedarburg, which improved to 7-0 with the victory.

While the three older teams were playing at Cedarburg, the fifth graders headed to Whitefish Bay for a game, which they lost 13-7.

Kewaskum's lone score came late in the contest on a long run by Nathan Krupp.

Coach Mark Walcheske was unavailable for comment on the game Sunday evening.

The youngest Indians are now 3-4 on the year. They conclude their season at Random Lake on Saturday, while the other teams are slated to host Brookfield Central. Times of the games may depend on the outcome of Kewaskum High's playoff game against Slinger, and the outcome of the Sheboygan Falls-Waupun game.

Indians tip Slinger from front

a 10-7 KHS lead after Olla's PAT.

The only other points scored in the game came early in the second quarter when the Slinger center snapped the ball over Lennartz's head, and he was knocked out of bounds in the end zone.

Piittmann said it was a typical defensive effort by the Indians. "We bent, but we didn't break," he said, referring specifically to the fact Slinger had the ball for all but three plays in the third quarter but kept the Owls from scoring.

Coming up especially big on defense were linebacker Pfothenhauer and defensive backs Ogi, Zach Wollner (seven tackles) and Donath. Pfothenhauer came up with two big hits in the fourth quarter when the Owls were threatening. That drive was halted when a pass on a fake punt was knocked down by Ogi.

Donath came up with a big interception with 1:53 left on the clock, then broke lose for a 10-yard run to burn up all the time except the last second.

Slinger's last pass attempt was then knocked down by Olla.

As the game ended, the announcer reported Waupun had defeated Sheboygan Falls 26-21, meaning Waupun will have to play at Kewaskum on Saturday at 1 p.m.

The availability of two key players is in doubt for this second round game. Both Ross Stockhausen (fullback, defensive end and punter) and Jeff Thull (guard/linebacker) were carted off the field after being injured in the fourth quarter. Stockhausen had a big ice pack on his ankle, while Thull injured his knee.

"The trainer is optimistic," Piittmann said. "You know those two are gamers."

Thank you from KHS principal Horbas

The Kewaskum High School would like to thank all those who attended the game last night. We are extremely proud of our team for achieving the conference title through an undefeated season. However, we are even more proud of the behavior and positive show of sportsmanship that all fans exhibited. We have a great student body and very supportive community. Thank you. Mrs. Horbas

Q. Why don't retirees mind being called Seniors?

A. The term comes with a 10% percent discount.

KHS principal, Christine Horbas, right hands the game ball from Thursday's matchup against the Cougars to a member of the KHS Cross Country team at the Campbellsport village limits before the game. The KHS Cross Country team then ran the ball to the Kewaskum football field.

The newspaper wager

As mentioned in last week's edition a friendly wager between The Campbellsport News and The Statesman was placed prior to the game between the Cougars and the Indians.

Had the Indians lost their game against the Cougars, The Statesman's Managing Editor, Andrew Kuehl, would have dressed as a Cougars cheerleader and collected food outside the Campbellsport News office for the Fond du Lac County Food Pantry.

With the Indians being victorious, Campbellsport News' Managing Editor, Andrea Hansen-Abler will be collecting food for the Washington County Food Pantry outside The Statesman donning an Indians football uniform. The collection will take place during the Kewaskum Christmas Parade on December 3.

Ogi has a big night, helping Indians gift wrap a perfect season

The Indian's Matt Parrent receives the ball in Thursday's game against the Cougars. Kewaskum won the game, 22-7. Parrent caught three passes for 96 yards during the game.

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

At last year's Kewaskum High football banquet, coach Jason Piittmann said the 2005 season was going to start the very next day.

Those were words of warning and of encouragement to the then junior and sophomore classes.

A good portion of the Indians took the words to heart, working hard in the weight room during the off-season. All that effort paid off for them this fall to the tune of a perfect 9-0 regular-season and sole possession of the Eastern Wisconsin Conference crown after a thrilling 22-7 victory over Campbellsport last Thursday evening.

"The kids really deserve this conference championship for all the hard work they put in during the off-season and staying focused week by week during the season to have the chance to set up a big game like this," Piittmann said after enjoying his first championship run as a head coach.

Many people like to think size is the most important factor in determining the strength of a football team, but the size of a player's heart may be a lot more important.

Take junior wingback/defensive back Eric Ogi as an example. The 150-pound Ogi, who only stands about 5-feet, 9 inches, came up with big plays down the stretch for the Indians, and he delivered two more right off the bat against the Cougars.

On Kewaskum's very first drive, it was the speedy and sure-handed Ogi gathering in a Chad Piwoni pass for 44 yards and a touchdown. The normally-reliable Jon Olla tacked on the extra point, and just 4:18 into the game, the Indians were already holding a 7-0 lead.

Ogi and Piwoni would hook up once more in the first quarter, the second time for a 28-yard aerial, and although Olla's kick was no good, the Indians had all the points they really needed to win the game.

Defenses took over in the second and third quarters, then Campbellsport got on the board with just over nine minutes remaining when Lance Schumacher found the end zone from four yards out. Mitch Tarras' kick split the uprights, and the margin was cut to six points, 13-7.

Here's where the Indians went to their bag of tricks and came up with a halfback option pass that netted them 69 yards. Garrett Donath was on the throwing end, and Matt Parrent the receiving end.

Parrent was stopped at the six, and it looked like the Indians would score again. Campbellsport's defense stiffened, however, and after three running plays netted five yards, the Cougars stopped Ross Stockhausen just short of the goal on fourth down.

Now it was the defense's turn to make something happen, and it did, stopping the Cougars and forcing them to punt from the end zone. When the CHS punter touched his foot to the end line, Kewaskum was awarded a safety, upping its lead to 15-7 and getting another chance with the football after a free kick.

Just a couple plays later, it was Ogi adding his third TD on a 34-yard run. Olla's kick was good, and Kewaskum fans began to sense victory was theirs.

"Although we didn't score on that drive (after the halfback option), it set up the safety which gave us momentum in the fourth quarter," Piittmann said.

Campbellsport went to the air in the final minutes but KHS picked off a pair of passes, snuffing out any comeback hopes.

"Turnovers were key in the game as Campbellsport lost a fumble and threw three interceptions," Piittmann said.

Even with 244 yards rushing, the Cougars couldn't overcome giving up the ball four times.

Campbellsport was intent on stopping senior running ace

Garrett Donath, and were fairly successful in that endeavor — Donath was held to 64 yards in 20 carries (3.2 yards per carry) — but the Indians showed they are far from being one-dimensional.

Piwoni, who had a few shaky games early in the year, was on target with the majority of his passes, with his two favorite receivers, Ogi and the tight end Parrent. Ogi wound up catching four passes for 98 yards (and added 39 yards on two rushes), while Parrent caught three passes for 96 yards.

Piwoni was seven of 11 in passing for 157 yards and Donath added the one pass for 69 yards.

"This game was played in an intense, playoff type atmosphere. It was a big advantage for us to get off to a good start offensively and get a lead," Piittmann said.

Now it's on to the playoffs for the Indians, who have drawn Slinger as their first opponent. That game was played on Tuesday night, with the winner set to face the winner of the Sheboygan Falls-Waupun game this Saturday at a site to be determined based on the survivors of Round 1.
