Kewaskum's population expected to nearly double by 2007

By Andrew Kuehl

akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The Kewaskum Village Board approved the annexation of 190 acres at their meeting Monday night, January 23. The land is located in the southwest corner of the village. Board members also heard they can expect the village's population to nearly double by 2007.

During a public hearing on the annexation, town resident, Steven Spoerl indicated he was being forced into the annexation and because of this would have appreciated more communication on the issue from the village. He also thought that the developers should be responsible for the costs he will face by being forced into the village.

Village president, Mathew Heiser agreed that communication could have been better. He stated he would address that in future annexations.

Both developers were in attendance at the public hearing and each stated their intentions for the property. Gary Schneider stated the Prost property will include up to 80 single family homes, 80 duplex units and 20 five-family multi-family units.

Gary Gavin who is developing land adjacent to Old Glory Heights subdivision stated his plans call for planned unit development.

Village Administrator Dan Schmidt presented the board with a complete report of housing and lot statistics for 2005. In that report Schmidt highlighted each subdivision currently under development and how it affects Kewaskum's population numbers.

Currently, the village's official population is 3,689. Schmidt estimated by the time the newly annexed land is developed, Kewaskum's population could be 6,063.

He did not include figures for two large farm properties that are in the process of being annexed, namely the Reindl farm across from the newly annexed Prost farm and the Backhaus property behind the Amerahn Ballroom on the northern end of the village.

"In general, I think growth is a good thing, it deepens the tax base and brings in more potential customers to local businesses," stated Heiser after the meeting.

Schmidt also reported that in 2005 44 building permits were issued for single family homes, the highest in the village's history. Permits for duplex units were 18 and garages were eight.

Kathy Hospice holds dedication ceremony

Donors and those who helped bring the dream of a hospice to Washington County gathered inside the newly built Kathy Hospice on Tuesday evening, January 24 in the northwest corner of the St. Joseph's Hospital campus. Shown above, Ric Leitheiser, Board Chair of SynergyHealth Foundation reads from a dedication plaque to Kathy Komars. John Reiling outgoing CEO of SynergyHealth and St. Joseph's Hospital holds the plaque as Ron Komars, Kathy Komars' son, looks on. Leitheiser beamed proudly as he made opening remarks during the ceremony. Komars stated that he thought the number of small donors showed how important the hospice is to the county. "I want to thank everyone that contributed to help fulfill my dream of a hospice in Washington County dedicated to my wife, Kathy," stated Komars during the ceremony. The Kathy Hospice is a residential hospice, the first in Washington County. Please see additional information and a photo on page four of this edition.

Arraignment set in alleged child abuse case

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

Kewaskum man is accused of breaking son's legs and arm

KEWASKUM- A 32-year-old Kewaskum man accused of breaking his two-month-old son's legs and arm has been charged with physical abuse of a child. Jason Bozich made his second appearance in Washington County Court on Monday, January 23 and waived his right to a preliminary hearing.

Doctors at Children's Hospital in Milwaukee discovered the abuse on January 14.

Kewaskum Police were alerted to the situation after Bozich, his girlfriend and her mother took the child to a Hartford hospital, and were later referred to Children's Hospital in Milwaukee because of the extent of the injuries of the infant. Bozich told a social worker at Children's Hospital that while burping his son, holding him with one hand, the infant slipped from Bozich's hand and landed onto a bed or mattress on the floor of the apartment. He estimated the fall to be two or three feet.

Doctors at Children's Hospital stated that the child suffered two fractures in his legs and one fracture in his arm. The doctor further stated that the fractures were from severe torsion (twisting) combined with traction (pulling) such as a grab and twist to the extremity.

The criminal complaint showed that the examining doctor asserted, "Such a fall lacks the force or the bio-mechanics to cause any of the documented fractures which the child suffered. The fall as described by the father (Bozich) could not have caused the right femur (arm) fracture which would have required significant forces and rotational forces."

The doctor also stated that two of the fractures appeared to have occurred seven to 10 days prior to the initial examination. The third fracture was pinpointed to have occurred the same day the infant was brought to the hospital.

Bozich was arrested by Kewaskum Police on January 15 and is currently being held in the Washington County Jail. He is scheduled to appear in Washington County Court again on February 13 at 1:15 pm

Stradtman memorial will touch many lives at library

The number of lives he touched will never be known for certain, but former educator and library board member David Stradtman's contribution to the community has not ended despite his passing on December 10, 2005. Dozens and dozens of donations ended up in from all over the country for David's memorial, which he stipulated should go to the Kewaskum Public Library. His wife Irene presented the checks, totalling over $3000, to library director Steven Baker. The library board will discuss how the Stradtman Memorial can best be used by the library at the next board meeting--Monday, February 13, 2006.

Ron Komars, center, shows one of the eight hospice suites inside The Kathy Hospice before a dedication ceremony Tuesday evening, January 24. Counter-clockwise, Pat and Dan Watkins and Terri Burke listen to Komars as he describes the room and the special homey features of the whole building. The Kathy Hospice is named after Komars' wife Kathy who died of breast cancer in 2002. On February 6 The Kathy Hospice will start accepting patients, but on January 29th from noon to 4 pm, an open house will be held on site. The Kathy Hospice is located in the north west corner on the St. Joseph's Hospital Campus. Those interested in attending the open house should park in the south-west hospital parking lot and board the bus to the hospice. "I especially want to thank the many people who have contributed to The Kathy Hospice and made our dream come true," stated Komars during the dedication.

Kahn initiates office hours for town office Town of Kewaskum will accept applications for clerk position

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

T. KEWASKUM- Supervisors in the town of Kewaskum met Friday, January 20 to determine how to fill the vacant position left abruptly by former Clerk Sandra Stern. Stern resigned January 15 after a term and a half in office.

The town has decided that they will accept letters of intent for the position that pays $1,500. The individual would finish Stern's term that expires April of 2007 and if that individual chooses, they could run for a full term.

Town chairman Ellis Kahn

stated that the town has no intention of changing the position from elected to appointed. "That would have to get brought up at the annual meeting by a town resident. We as a board can't make that decision," he stated. From there, it would have to go to a town referendum.

Neighboring Town of Farmington has an appointed clerk while the towns of Auburn and Wayne are elected clerks.

Letters of intent for the clerk's position must be mailed or delivered to the town hall by February 9, 2006. At a special town board meeting on February 6, the supervisors will review the clerk's job description and revise it as necessary.

In the interim, town treasurer, Dan Stoffel has taken over the clerk duties. A copy of the required qualifications can be found on page 20 of this edition.

New office hours for the township

Chairman Kahn announced new office hours for the township at the last meeting of the town board. Kahn stated that he would open the office on Thursdays from 10 am until noon. The town's building inspector will also be available at that same time.

Fitness center, child care could be tenants Concept plan to be submitted Tuesday for Green & Gold

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

KEWASKUM- The old adage, "If you build it, they will come" must be true according to Bob Gannon of Kewaskum Green & Gold LLC. The company will present concept plans to the Village of Kewaskum Planning Commission Tuesday evening, January 31 at 7 pm.

In an interview Tuesday, Gannon alluded that a lot of interest is being shown in their plans to build a retail/professional building at the intersection of Fond du Lac Avenue and County Road H west.

Gannon stated that his company has already begun the annexation process to bring the town of Kewaskum property into the village. The property is the only island of the township in the village.

The building will be home to a new Cousins Sub shop as printed in last week's edition.

Gannon says he has also been contacted by a fitness center and a child care provider who are showing interest in opening businesses in the building.

In a press release that was issued in December the developers said they would be converting the existing 12,000 square foot manufacturing structure at 8898 Fond du Lac Avenue into a first class retail and professional space. They expect to have the building open its doors to customers sometime this coming spring.

Kewaskum Green & Gold is a partnership between Jim Kirsch, Brian Fisher and Gannon.

From dangerous to deadly, Town of Farmington intersection safety will be addressed in 2009

By Andrew Kuehl
Statesman Managing Editor
akuehl@kewaskumstatesman

T. FARMINGTON- Any local will tell you, look twice at the Highway 144 and H intersection. The intersection recently went from dangerous to deadly after a West Bend woman lost her life there in Washington County's first traffic fatality.

Local and state officials are doing what they can to warn drivers to use caution at the intersection. The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (DOT) says work will be done to improve the intersection in 2009.

On Tuesday, January 10, 2006 at 8:35 pm, Jodine Waldhart, 47, of West Bend, was tragically killed as a result of injuries she received from a driver failing to stop at that intersection. That driver collided with the vehicle she was riding in that was driven by her husband. She became Washington County's first fatality of 2006. Mrs. Waldhart left behind her husband and two sons.

A long list of crashes and injuries

"We are aware of the accidents that have occurred at the intersection of CTH H with STH 144 and have reviewed conditions at the intersection several times," said Ken Pesch, Washington County's Highway Commissioner.

According to Chris Quesnell, a Regional Traffic Safety Engineer for the DOT, two intersection related crashes were found through October 2005. One in April and the other in October. "Both crashes were right angle related, however, only the crash in October involved a vehicle failing to stop at the stop sign," he said. He went on to say that according to the October crash report there was heavy fog at the time of the crash.

Five intersection crashes occurred in 2004. Four of those crashes were right angle related and one was rear end related. None of the right angle crashes were due to a vehicle failing to stop at the STOP sign. They were related to vehicles failing to yield to traffic on Highway 144 after stopping at the stop sign. The one rear end crash was due to snow on the road. According to Quesnell.

Going back further, a crash analysis found one crash in 2001 and one in 2003 that were related to 'failure to stop'. Otherwise they were all related to 'failure to yield'. In addition, about 90% of those 'failure to yield' crashes occurred in the direction that the intersection skew forces the driver to turn their head more than 90 degrees. Accordingly, these crashes are more related to the skew.

Moving forward, improvements slated for 2009

Pesch said he thought a person missing the stop sign was not the problem. "The problem that I perceived when I last reviewed the accident history about a year ago is a little different than stopping too far out into STH 144. What I gathered from accident data was that most of the severe crashes were caused by drivers who stopped and then simply proceeded across STH 144 in front of either southbound or northbound vehicles," he said. He also stated that several of the drivers involved in accidents over the last decade or so were fairly young or inexperienced drivers. Those drivers misjudging the speed of motorists on STH 144 because of the angle of the intersection could also be to blame, Pesch thought.

Pesch stated that he is working with the State of Wisconsin DOT and that two years ago he applied for funds under a safety enhancement program to realign CTH H so that it intersected STH 144 at a right angle. Unfortunately, that proposed project was not funded.

Tom Heydel, in traffic operations for the DOT, and member of the Washington County Traffic Safety Commission stated money has been budgeted for the reconstruction of STH 144 from West Bend northerly to the Sheboygan County line. The major thrust of that project is to replace the deteriorating pavement. However, the current plans do include work on CTH H so that the two roads will intersect at an 80-degree angle when that project is completed. The project is currently scheduled for 2009.

At the request of Washington County Supervisor, Brian W. Bausch, from district 11 which encompasses the Town of Farmington, the County's Highway Committee discussed the level of safety at the intersection at its meeting Tuesday, January 17. As a result of that meeting, Pesch said he would be putting together a list of recommended improvements for the committee to consider at their next meeting on February 7. Those improvements could include installation of rumble strips on CTH H for either west bound and/or east bound traffic on CTH H approaching STH 144 or adding a second stop ahead sign.

Last Wednesday, January 18, Pesch said reflective strips were applied to the posts of the stop ahead and stop signs on CTH H. "The Highway Committee could choose to leave those in place or have them removed at its meeting on February 7" Pesch concluded.

COMMUNITY

Saturday, January 21st was the day to enjoy soup and the Kewaskum High School was the place to be. The KHS Student Council should be very proud of the work they put forth for another successful year of serving soup and helping abused families. Shown here at the Souper Soup Social are some of the student council members working the silent auction. From left are Alex Waranius, Tricia Timmers, Kyle Rieden, Nellie Baum and April Lettow. BELOW: Mr. and Mrs. George Steffens from Fond du Lac make the trip down to Kewaskum every year to enjoy the Souper Soup Social.

WEST BEND- United Way of Washington County announced raising $1,057,184 at a Campaign Celebration held at the KC Hall on Tuesday, January 10th. The amount raised during the 2005 campaign exceeded the $1,056,000 goal set at the beginning of the campaign.

"It is with a great deal of pride for all those who worked on our campaign and especially to those who contributed that I say thank you, without everyone's generosity, today's good news would not be possible," exclaimed Rick Larson, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer at West Bend Savings Bank. Larson was the United Way 2005 Campaign Chair.

Funds raised through the 2005 Campaign will support 46 health and human service programs to help improve the lives of Washington County residents. United Way's 22 Member Agencies work closely with United Way to offer community solutions to address community needs.

"Reaching out to people who had not previously given helped us reach our goal," according to Joe Calabrese, United Way Executive Director.

Dave Wietor, Vice President of Human Resources, Continental Properties Company,

Inc. and United Way President, complimented the work Larson had done. "When Rick Larson, our Campaign Chair, teed-up this year's campaign, we all knew the course was going to play difficult and the conditions were going to be challenging. Through the perseverance and dedication of our tour caliber volunteers and board, and the outstanding generosity of our County United Way fan base, the people in need of Washington County are the "true winners" in this year's event. Thank you to everyone!!"

Recently, Campbellsport Building Supply (CBS) and local area contractors gathered for their annual year end banquet. They gathered 1,383 non-perishable food items for the St. Matthew's food pantry in Campbellsport. An additional $370 cash was raised. Pictured are, left to right: Kris Ballard, of Custom Cabinetry, and Julie Korth and Wendy Falevsky of CBS with some of the items donated. They encourage you to support local contractors and your local community in 2006. To learn more about CBS or Custom Cabinetry visit their website at <http://www.furnishanddesign.com>.

Snow Golf Tournament at Long Lake Saturday

The Long Lake Fishing Club will once again be sponsoring their popular "Snow Golf Tournament" on Saturday, January 28.

This annual event has become a big hit with area golfers and promises to be a fun time for families and friends. The nine-hole course will be set up on Tittle Lake in front of Benson's Hide-a-Way.

Tee times can be scheduled from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and can be made by calling 920-533-4770. The cost for a foursome is $20 and an individual round may be played for $5.

Prizes will be awarded for first and second, male and female low scores and low team scores. Additional prizes will be given for the longest drive and longest putt.

Registration will be held and food and refreshments will be served inside Benson's Hide-a-Way.

If ice safety is a concern, please call Benson's at 920-533-8219 the morning of the event to check on conditions.

Candlelight Ski/Hike Feb. 4

Break your winter cabin fever by journeying to the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit for the annual Candlelight Ski/Hike on the Zillmer Trails. The Zillmer Trails are located off of Hwy SS between Hwy 67 and Hwy G near New Prospect. The ski/hike will be held snow or no snow on Saturday, February 4, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The brown loop at Zillmer will be lighted by the soft glow of candle luminaries. If there is snow, the trail will be packed and groomed for cross-country skiing. This is a perfect trail for the whole family to ski with no sharp curves or steep hills. There will also be plenty of room for those who want to hike by candlelight through the beautiful dark winter woods.

Join fellow skiers and hikers at a roaring campfire to share its warmth. To further chase away the chills, enjoy a cup of hot cider and some cookies provided by the Friends of the Kettle Moraine.

A State Park Vehicle Admission Sticker is required for this event. If you do not already have your 2006 State Park Vehicle Admission Sticker, you may purchase one that night. Annual stickers are $25.00 and a daily pass is $7.00 for state residents. For further information, contact the forest staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center at (920) 533-8322.

25 Years Ago

January 2, 1981

Gilford's Tap, Boltonville, was the scene of another robbery in the Kewaskum area. Friday night's robbery occurred just before midnight when a young masked man entered Gilford's and walked to the back of the bar. When proprietor Edna Gilford attempted to push him away, the robber displayed a handgun, opened the register, removed $50 and left the tavern. The area was searched but nothing was found. Thieves also broke into Degner's Station on Hwys. 84 and 144 in Boltonville late Friday or early Saturday. Police feel the two incidents may be connected.

On Sunday, December 7, at the 9 a.m. Mass at St. Matthias Parish, Town of Auburn, First Class Scout Shawn McKenna, son of Atty. and Mrs. Roger W. McKenna, received the Ad Altare Dei Emblem, one of the highest awards a Catholic Scout can receive.

A daughter, Jessica Jo, was born to Larry and Nadine Lendved, West Bend, on December 22. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Lendved, Kewaskum. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marchant, Campbellsport. Jessica has a three-year-old sister, Julie.

A daughter was also born to Allan and Judy Munson, Kewaskum, on December 24.

January 9, 1981

At the filing deadline Tuesday, School Board Clerk Richard Theusch said five people had submitted papers as candidates for the three school board seats which will be open in the April 7 election. The only incumbent to file is Mrs. Jean Goeden, St. Michaels, who will be seeking her third term. The second woman running is Mrs. Margaret McFadden, Kewaskum, a music teacher and mother of three. Newcomers to the school board race are Thomas Brigham, West Bend who moved into the Kewaskum School District in 1975; Ralph Horner, Jr., Town of Farmington, father of three who is employed at the Gehl Company, and Richard Schlice, Kewaskum, an employee of the West Bend Company who has five children. Incumbents James Oelhafen and Dr. Charles Ogi have not filed to run in the April 7 election.

Village Clerk Bill Martin stated Monday incumbent Kewaskum village board members Jeff Rohrer and David Nigh had filed nomination papers for the upcoming election, along with a new candidate, James Scott. Incumbent Village Board members Trustee Paul Blumer and President Gerald Stollenwerk submitted their papers last week, as well as a newcomer, Richard Schmidt.

A son, Kevin John, was born to Dale and Bonnie Amerling, Campbellsport, on December 29. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Amerling of Kewaskum, and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Straub, Campbellsport. A son was also born to Timothy and Mary Vrana, Kewaskum, on December 27. A son was born to Dana and Kathleen Kirchstein, Kewaskum, on December 25.

A daughter, Jolina Doreen, was born to Joseph and Doris Priesgen, on December 21.

The Marx IGA store on Main Street has been sold by John Marx to his son, Harold, who took over the business on January 1. Harold Marx has been assisting his father in the operation of the store for a number of years. John Marx was in the business for more than 50 years. For the past 44 years he owned and operated the store and before that was in business with his late father.

Sunday, January 1, was the date of change of ownership of the St. Kilian store and tavern, the former owner and operator, Orville Strachota, selling to Lambert Jacak, a well-liked and known resident near St. Kilian, who was previously engaged in farming. Orville Strachota will continue with his seed and wool business, which he operated along with the store and tavern since taking it over from his late father, Simon Strachota, in 1940. It is his plan to further expand the seed business and processing plant at St. Kilian, with the installation of additional cleaning and seed testing equipment in the near future. Strachota also operates a licensed and bonded seed warehouse in St. Kilian. In 1952 he had the only such licensed seed and bonded warehouse in Wisconsin approved to process and store seeds for the U.S. Government. In addition, Strachota also operates the St. Kilian cheese factory, which he reopened in the fall of 1951, having leased it until July 16, 1955, when he took over active operations of the plant. Present operations are at the rate of over one million pounds of cheese annually.

A fifth daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kilian Honeck, Jr., Kewaskum, on January 2.

January 13, 1956

Extensive damage was caused by an explosion at the new incinerator and sewage disposal plant at the south end of the village Monday morning. The blast is believed to have been caused by the accumulation of gases in the incinerator. The blast was so severe that windows and doors on all three floors of the building were blown out or damaged. The force of the explosion knocked men in the building off their feet but none of them were injured.

Schloemer, Stoltz & Merriam, West Bend law firm, has taken over the office and law practice of Bartelt & Bartelt at Kewaskum. Lyle Bartelt and Dave Bartelt, who practiced law and conducted an insurance and real estate business in Kewaskum for a number of years, have moved to Florida where they will be permanently located in business.

Willard "Bill" Bartelt of Kewaskum has purchased the Rainy Day insurance business from Bartelt & Bartelt and took over the business on January 1.

A group of local citizens, with the cooperation of all organized groups, will open and operate the Kewaskum theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights starting January 20. The theatre was closed temporarily in recent weeks after Mr. and Mrs. Paul Frazier discontinued its operations and moved to Milwaukee.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Flynn, Kewaskum, on January 10 and to Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Damon, Kewaskum, on January 5. Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Ebert, Route 2, Campbellsport on January 8; to Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Prost, Kewaskum, on January 5, and to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Zettler, Route 1, Kewaskum on January 4.

Burglars who attempted to rob the local post office early Tuesday morning were unsuccessful for reason that they were frightened away while at work to break into the rear window of the post office. Mrs. Edward E. Miller, who resides a short distance west, arose to care for her baby and in lighting the kitchen lights, the reflection could be seen at the rear of the post office where the burglars were at work trying to pry the window open and frightened them away.

Roman Smith, popular and well known ice dealer, last week completed the building of a new ice sawing machine.

A deal was closed last week whereby the A. L. Rosenheimer Realty firm sold the former Edward Ferber 120 acre farm in the Town of Auburn to Norbert Gatzke.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kleinschmidt of Kewaskum on December 14. A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kudek on December 22.

January 9, 1931

Some time Monday night burglars again entered the Dreher-Honeck Oil Station on East Main Street and stole a number of batteries, bulbs, tubes, silverware and an electric clock. All told the loot amounted to about $75. This is the third time within several months that this oil station has been robbed.

Roman Smith, local ice dealer, started to fill his large ice houses on Monday. The ice is about fourteen inches thick and as clear as a crystal.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Royal Neighbors, the following officers were installed: Oracle - Elsie Schleif; Vice Oracle - Emelia Mertes; Past Oracle - Florence B. Reinders; Chancellor - Mary Schultz; Recorder - Otilia Morgenroth; Receiver - Annie Becker; Marshall - Manilla Vyvyan; Inner Sentinel - Jennie Schlosser; Outer Sentinel - Magdalena Weddig; Manager - Katie Schaefer and Musician - Edna Romaine.

W.A. Coffmann, manager of the Threshers' Supply Company of Winnipeg, Canada, and A. C. Dallman of the Dallman-Cooper Supply Company of Fond du Lac, were in Kewaskum last Thursday to close contracts with Nic. Remmel for a number of his tank pumps.

L. Rosenheimer received a six horse power International gasoline engine on trucks this week which they now have on exhibition.

Lydia, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Guth, came near drowning last Saturday in the creek near her home. She was coasting down a hill with her sled and got on the ice which broke through. The water in the creek was not very deep and she managed to get out without any bad results.

January 13, 1906

Miss Lucy Hauser, who conducted a millinery store in the Joseph Schmidt building for the past three years, sold her business to Miss Lulu Miller last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schultz, living two miles south of Kewaskum, are rejoicing over the arrival of twin daughters, who were born one day last week.

A bouncing baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Ruplinger of St. Kilian last Saturday.

3/4 cup all-purpose flour
3/4 cup granulated sugar
1 tsp. ground cinnamon
3/4 tsp. chili powder
1/2 tsp. baking soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups sliced almonds
10 Tbsp (1 1/4 sticks)
unsalted butter, melted
1/4 cup half and half or whole milk
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1 tsp. pure vanilla extract
4 oz. fine-quality bittersweet chocolate, chopped

Preheat oven to 350°. Line baking sheet with a silicone baking mat or heavy duty aluminum foil buttered generously.

In large bowl, whisk together the oats, flour, sugar, cinnamon, chili powder, baking soda and salt. Stir in almonds.

Add butter, half and half (or milk), corn syrup and vanilla. Stir to combine.

Scoop heaping teaspoons of batter onto the prepared sheet at least 3 inches apart, six cookies per sheet. Bake one sheet at a time until the cookies are flat and browned around the edges, 7 to 9 min. Cool cookies on the sheet several minutes until firm enough to transfer to a cooling rack.

When all cookies are baked, melt the chocolate in a metal bowl set over a pan of simmering water. Use a very small tipped pastry bag or the tines of a fork, drizzle the chocolate in a zig zag pattern over the tops of the cookie.

KHS preschool graduates

The juniors and seniors in Mrs. Carol Martin's child development classes took a picture of their "graduates" last week. The 12-day session has the goal of helping to prepare the children for their future school experience while allowing the high schoolers to practice what they have been learning about children in the study of child development.

One of the favorite activities besides anything having to do with glue or paint, was the preschoolers' performance of "Hermie the Worm." There were also lots of smiles when they decorated graham cracker houses and played with the huge parachute provided by

The next preschool will be held in May for community three to five year olds and will fill fast. Please contact Mrs. Martin at 262-626-8427 if you wish to have an application sent to you when the Spring plans are finalized.

Krejcarek wins KMS Geographic Bee

Casie Krejcarek, above, won the Geographic Bee at Kewaskum Middle School, moving her one step closer to a $25,000 college scholarship.

Casie Krejcarek, a seventh grade student at Kewaskum Middle School, won the school-level competition of the National Geographic Bee on Wednesday, January 11th and a chance at a $25,000 college scholarship. The school-level Bee, at which students answered oral questions on geography, was the first round in the 18th annual National Geographic Bee. The Bee is sponsored by the National Geographic Society and JP Morgan Chase and Co., a leading global financial services firm with assets of $1.2 trillion and operations in more than 50 countries.

The school winners, including Casie, took a written test; up to 100 of the top scorers in each state will be eligible to compete in their State Bee March 31st. The National Geographic Society will provide an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington, D.C., for state champions and teacher-escorts to participate in the National Geographic Bee national championship on May 23 and 24. The first-place national winner will receive a $25,000 college scholarship and a lifetime membership in the Society.

"Jeopardy!" host Alex Trebek will moderate the national finals on May 24. The program will air on the National Geographic Channel, and afterward on public television stations, produced by Maryland Public Television. Check local listings for dates and times.

WILLIAM S. KRAMER

William S. Kramer went home to be with his Lord and Savior Jesus Christ early in the morning of January 20, 2006.

He was born on July 8, 1911 in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, the son of the late James and Alice (Smith) Kramer. He met and married Helen Unruh in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. They were married on March 2, 1940 and his beloved wife preceded him in death on April 17, 2004 after 64 years of marriage.

In 1943, the couple answered a call to go west to Montana as Rural Missionaries with the Rocky Mountain Faith Mission. They worked as church planters, taught Sunday Schools and held Vacation Bible Schools throughout Montana in small towns and villages that had no functioning fundamental churches.

In 1960, they moved to Simms, Montana where Bill took his first full-time pastorate and Helen found her calling as a Pastor's wife.

They moved to Cheyenne, Wyoming in 1964 where Bill was the Associate Pastor of a large church, then to a small church in Meeteetse, Wyoming in 1966. In 1969, they moved to Connecticut where they served in three churches before retiring in 1976.

They moved back to Wyoming, where they lived in Lander until moving to Wisconsin in 1984. In 1986, the Lord called them out of retirement, and Bill pastored a small country church in Goodrich, Wisconsin until Helen's health forced them to resign in 2000.

They then moved to Kewaskum, and lived there until moving to Manor Care Health Services in Fond du Lac in November 2002.

Survivors include three sons, James H. (Marlyn) Kramer of Georgetown, Texas, Ronald P. (Mary) Kramer of Lomira and William A. (Brenda) Kramer of Waterford, Connecticut; three daughters, Helen M. (Paul) Lamb of Casper, Wyoming, Mary Alice (Bob) Hammar of Georgetown, Texas and Elizabeth A. Cooper of Bruceston, Tennessee; 11 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren, other relatives and friends.

He was preceded in death by an infant son, Walter.

A memorial service will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, February 11, 2006 at Calvary Bible Church in Fond du Lac with Pastor Vern Smith officiating.

Memorials to Midwest Indian Mission in Crandon, Wisconsin are appreciated.

The Miller Funeral Home in Kewaskum is assisting the family. Additional information and guest book may be found at www.millermartinfh.com.

CLARA H. THEISEN

Clara H. Theisen (nee Marx), of West Bend passed away Tuesday, January 17, 2006 at Cedar Lake Health Care Center surrounded by her loving family, at the age of 87 years.

She was born on April 12, 1918, on the family homestead in the town of Barton, to the late Ida (nee Schiller) and Andrew Marx.

Following her marriage to Raymond J. Theisen on May 4, 1946 at St. Mary's Immaculate Conception Church in Barton, the couple settled in Barton. In 1950, their family moved to West Bend where she lived until 2001.

As a young adult, Clara worked for Norman Schowalter's family, the Enger Kress Company and the West Bend Aluminum Company. Later, after the death of her husband, she worked at the West Bend High School and Cedar Lake Home.

Clara was a member of Holy Angels parish for many years and was active in the Foresters and the Mission Circle.

Survivors include three children, Paul (Barb) Theisen of West Bend, Ann (Vince) Pelote of Sterling, MA, and Judy (Walt) Walker of Reedville, VA; four grandchildren, Amy (Keith) Gardner of West Bend, Adam (Annie) Theisen of Chicago, IL, Angela (Dan) Van Beek of West Bend, and Sarah Pelote of Sterling, MA; and two great-grandchildren, Nicholas and Alyssa Gardner of West Bend. She is further survived by her brother, Joe (Gertrude) Marx of Kewaskum; four sisters-in-law, Louise Marx of Barton, Mildred Theisen of St. Michaels, Mildred Theisen of Kewaskum, and Lucille Petri of West Bend; two brothers-in-law, Henry Goetz and George Schickert, both of West Bend; nieces, nephews, other relatives, and friends. Clara was preceded in death by her husband, Raymond, on March 17, 1961; an infant daughter, one brother, Edward Marx; and one sister, Helen Goetz.

A funeral service to honor the life of Clara was held on Saturday, January 21, 2006 at 12:00 p.m. at the Phillip Funeral Home Chapel, West Bend, with Father Jeffrey Haines officiating. Burial followed at Our Lady's Cemetery in Barton.

Visitation with family and friends was held on Saturday, January 21, 2006 at the Phillip Funeral Home Chapel from 10:00 a.m. until the time of the Funeral Service at 12:00 p.m.

In lieu of flowers, memorials are appreciated to Cedar Communities in honor of Clara (5595 Cty. Hwy. Z, West Bend, WI 53095).

The Phillip Funeral Home of West Bend assisted the family.

ANGELA BURCHARD DEWITT

Angela Burchard DeWitt, (nee Stamm), age 95, of West Bend, was called home to be with her Lord on Saturday, January 21, 2006 at home in the loving presence of her family.

She was born on October 14, 1910 in Madison to the late Peter and Mary (nee Schachte) Stamm. Angela was raised on her family's farm in Adams County, Wisconsin. She earned a B.S. degree in education from the University of Stevens Point. After her graduation she moved back to Adams County and became a teacher.

During her 37 years of teaching, her career led her to other teaching opportunities in Wood County and Washington County. She taught at Kewaskum Elementary School for 17 years. Angela loved her Lord and was a member of Emmaus Bible Church in downtown West Bend.

Angela is survived by her two loving children, Georgene and Gaylord DeWitt, both of West Bend; her two wonderful grandchildren, Carey and Jodi DeWitt, both of West Bend; a brother, Florian (Mary) Stamm of Mt. Horeb; a sister-in-law, Margaret Stamm of Madison; many nieces, nephews, other relatives and friends.

She was preceded in death by two sisters and four brothers.

A funeral service in honor of Angela was held on Tuesday, January 24, 2006 at 2:00 pm at Myrhum-Patten Funeral and Cremation Service of West Bend. Rev. James Taylor officiated and burial followed at Washington County Memorial Park in West Bend.

Visitation was at the funeral home on Tuesday from 12:00 pm until the time of service.

Memorials may be made to Emmaus Bible Church.

Online guest book and condolences may be found at www.myrhum-patten.com.

Visitation was at the Schmidt Funeral Home in West Bend on Monday from 4 p.m. until a prayer vigil at 7:30 p.m. and also Tuesday at the chapel only from 9 until 9:45 a.m.

The Schmidt Funeral Home served the family.

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of DESTA BUTT, who passed away two years ago, February 6, 2004:

Dear Mom,

Just a note to bring you up to date, for the past year:

We had two great-grandsons this year; James and Matthew, precious babies.

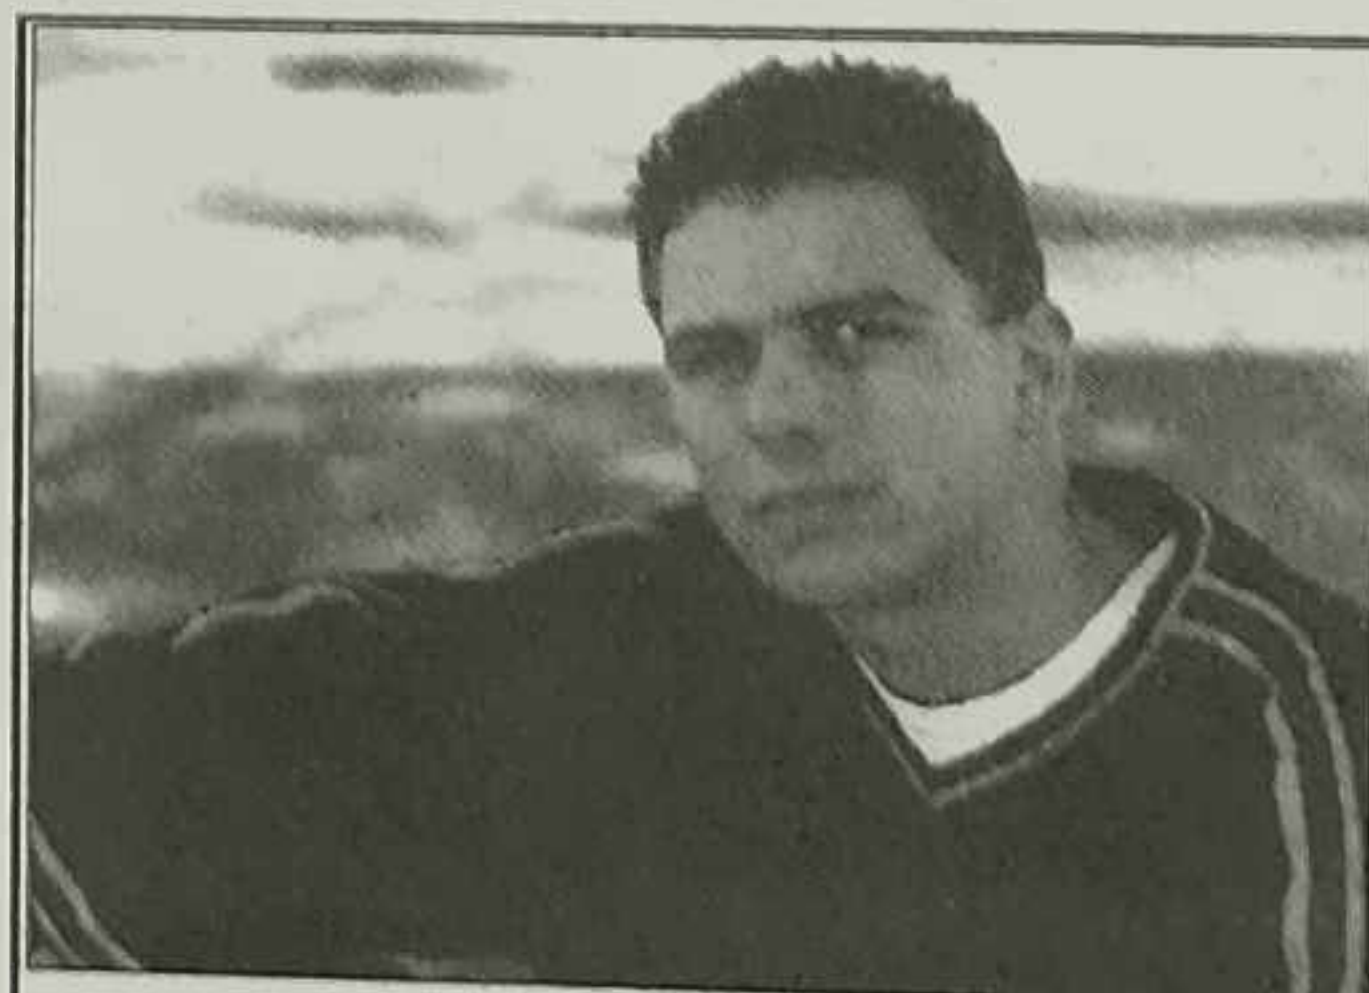

In July, I sold the tavern to two nice people, I'm sure you'd like.

The fishing at Shawano wasn't so good, but the bottom bass were fine.

All your tavern friends miss your Packer games and quarters.

The whole family misses you at our holiday gatherings, no one more than me.

Women's retreat to be held February 11

Sarah Reik will be the keynote speaker at the women's retreat sponsored by St. Lucas Lutheran Church.

Area women are invited to come and experience "God's Gift of Renewal," the theme for the 2006 Women's Retreat to be held Saturday, February 11, 2006 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at St. Lucas Lutheran School, 1410 Parkview Drive, Kewaskum. The retreat promises to be a day filled with fellowship, worship and speakers.

This year's retreat will feature five Christian women from different walks of life speaking on various topics. The keynote speaker for this year's event is Sarah Reik. Sarah's presentation will be "You Can't Go Back Again, But You Can Go Forward." Reik is a licensed professional counselor with Christian Family Counseling, a division of Wisconsin Lutheran Child and Family Service. She has an office in West Bend where she works with people of all ages struggling with a variety of individual, marriage and family issues. Sarah is also an adjunct professor of psychology at Wisconsin Lutheran College and teaches piano lessons for fun on the side. Sarah lives in Germantown with her husband, Dan, and her beagle puppy, Riley. Sarah and Dan are members at Christ the Lord Lutheran Church in Brookfield.

In addition to Sarah's presentation, each woman attending the retreat will also be able to choose two 45-minute sessions of her choice from the following topics:

Managing Time Without Feeling Guilty - Aimee Lau. Aimee Lau, a 2003 Wisconsin Lutheran College graduate, is currently attending the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee for her master's degree in communications. She serves as a teaching assistant for several on-line communication courses and plans to continue teaching at the college level after receiving her degree in August 2006. Aimee is a member of St. James Lutheran Church in Milwaukee and enjoys participating in both the senior and handbell choirs.

We All Need Forgiveness - Susan Bondow.

Susan Bondow holds an MSW degree and is currently serving as a minister at St. Peter Lutheran Church, Appleton. She and her husband Steve have three children and are expecting their first grandchild in July. Susan resides in Wautoma.

Seeing Things Through God's Eyes - Connie Jones.

Connie Jones was born and raised in Milwaukee, the only child to Edgar and Dorothea Jones. She was baptized and confirmed at Nazareth Lutheran Church. Connie attended Rufus King High School and later studied Exceptional Education at UW-Milwaukee, where she served as president of the UW's Religious Council, which coordinated various activities on campus. Following college, Connie was employed for two years by WTMJ-TV Channel 4. She then moved to Chicago, where she worked for NBC-TV Channel 5 for the next 36 1/2 years. In 1972, as a studio engineer, she became one of the first female technical engineers at WMAQ-TV. As such, she worked on many in-house productions in various capacities as a camera person, audio engineer, lighting director, Teleprompter operator, and videotape operator. In 1977, she received an Emmy for her camera work on the Chicago Air and Water Show, and in 1999 received the Claude D. Pepper Distinguished Service Award for helping job seekers in the Chicago area find meaningful employment.

Connie has spent much time at Cedar Community Health Care Center in West Bend. Her parents became residents there due to their failing health. Connie began reading to her parents and residents at Cedar Community and soon it became "Reading and Reminiscing with Connie." Connie moved back to settle in West Bend and found herself inspired to spend her retirement years helping older persons. She became a Stephen Minister for Cedar Community, teaching others to prepare for this ministry of listening, sitting and praying with older folks going through life crises. Connie worked as a Hospice volunteer, and later was part of the team that started a Hospice Bereavement Program to help families deal with the illnesses of their loved ones and then their death. In 2005, Connie Jones received the Faithful Servant Award for her volunteer activities.

Connie is also involved in her home church, St. Lucas Lutheran in Kewaskum, where she is a member of the Senior Choir, and heads up a program called "Caring Hearts," which reaches out to the elderly, lonely, ill and grieving members of St. Lucas. Her other interests include photography, reading, cooking, baking and enjoying many wonderful friendships.

All Grown Up With a Child-Like Faith - Barbara Kluever.

Barbara Schulz Kluever was locally born and raised in the Washington County area on a dairy farm. Barbara attended UW-Madison, acquiring an agricultural background. She has always had an interest in teaching and sharing. She is the Washington County Agricultural Ambassador, and speaks at different schools in the county. After college, she studied and worked abroad on European farms. Her experiences ranged from a vary remote farm in the Swiss Alps to a very modern swine operation in Germany.

She is a life-long member of Zion Ev. Lutheran Church and teaches seventh and eighth grade Sunday School classes there. Barbara's husband, Henry, is self-employed in the home improvement field. They have been married for 13 years and have three children, Matthew, 9, Elizabeth, 7, and Emily, 6. The children attend St. Lucas Lutheran School in Kewaskum. Barbara says she is a simple woman who seeks the Lord's purpose in her life.

The cost of this retreat is $15. This includes all presentations, a catered lunch and refreshments. Advance registration by February 4, 2006 is required. Contact Lynn Garvey at 262-626-4749 for registration forms and information.

Agnesian HealthCare celebrates opening of new clinic facility

Patricia Hayes, PA and Thomas Fabricius, MD in a room at the new Agnesian HealthCare clinic in Campbellsport.

Agnesian HealthCare showcased its new 5,700-square-foot, state-of-the-art clinic facility in Campbellsport, 350 E. Sheboygan Street, during an open house celebration on Monday, January 16.

"We're enthusiastic about sharing our new facility and invite everyone to experience our commitment to residents in Campbellsport and surrounding communities," says Bob Fale, Agnesian HealthCare president and chief executive officer.

The new facility houses family medicine physician Thomas Fabricius, MD, and Patricia Hayes, PA, physician assistant. The clinic offers enhanced medical imaging and laboratory services, as well as nine exam rooms, a spacious waiting room with a special children's area and expanded parking.

"This new beautiful facility will allow Fond du Lac Regional Clinic providers in Campbellsport to provide more complete healthcare services in a very efficient medical facility," says Dennis Yunk, senior vice president/clinic administrator, Agnesian HealthCare. "It offers more convenient access and will be available to more patients in the area so they do not need to travel elsewhere for these healthcare services."

To schedule an appointment at the Campbellsport Clinic, call (920) 533-8361.

St. Joseph's Hospital Receives NAFA Air Quality Award

SynergyHealth St. Joseph's Hospital has received a 2005 Clean Air Award from the National Air Filtration Association (NAFA). The NAFA Clean Air Award Program recognizes facilities and organizations that effectively utilize air filtration to maintain a clean and healthy indoor environment. The hospital's air filtration system was installed by Filtration Concepts, Inc., Lannon, Wisconsin.

St. Joseph's is the first hospital in Wisconsin to use High Energy Particulate Air (HEPA) filters in every air handling unit throughout the facility. While HEPA filters are commonly used in hospital operating rooms, St. Joseph's took the initiative one step further. "Patient safety was our number one priority during the planning and construction of the new St. Joseph's Hospital, and clean air and the quality of our air filtration system was one aspect of that focus," said Wayne Hass, director of plant operations. HEPA filters allow for a level of air cleanliness above and beyond that of standard filters, reducing the risk of infection for patients.

The new St. Joseph's Hospital, which opened in August 2005, was built using evidence-based design principles to improve patient safety and quality of care. SynergyHealth (www.synergyhealth.org) is a regional health system serving the greater Washington County community. St. Joseph's Hospital, West Bend Clinic and SynergyHealth Foundation are members of SynergyHealth.

Hershey

By Michael D'Antonio

Sim & Schuster $25.00 305 pages

If you're smart, you'll start looking now.

Don't wait until February 13th, your wallet in your hand and panic in your eyes, dashing all over town, looking for roses or daisies or anything to appease the person who's expecting a token of love on the Day for Lovers.

This year, why not enjoy a little chocolate for yourself on Valentine's Day. Read "Hershey" by Michael D'Antonio.

People who've never been to Hershey, Pennsylvania, are said to be startled when they get out of their cars or off the bus. The air is perfumed by the smell of cocoa. The street names, even the streetlights keep the theme of the main business in town.

Hershey's founder, Milton Snavely Hershey was born on September 13, 1857. His father, Henry, was a dreamer, always thinking about the next big thing that would make him rich. Milton's mother, Fanny, was the daughter of self-sufficient Menonites, and was, in later years, so deeply disappointed in Henry that she declared him dead even though he decidedly was not.

As a young man, Milton was apprenticed to a candy shop. There, he learned enough about the trade to open his own shop in New York City. Milton's aunt Mattie, who supported his ideas and businesses for most of her life, helped him find a shop that was fortuitously near the Centennial Exposition of 1876.

Despite that the business was prosperous for a time, it eventually failed, as did the next few ventures that Milton Hershey undertook.

Within a few years, however, and before he was 35 years old,

Milton Hershey was a wealthy man, having successfully started a caramel company. Although others were making caramels, Hershey had discovered a method for making buttery candies that were irresistible, and he was selling them overseas. But Hershey, like his father, had an eye for the next big thing. He realized that caramels would fade but chocolate would become a treat that people would prefer.

His visions would serve him in business, but Hershey's personal life was a sadder story. His beloved wife Kitty was ill with an incurable disease that might have had scandalous roots. Perhaps because of that, Hershey never had children.

Or did he? D'Antonio uncovered some interesting rumors that might hint otherwise. Did Milton Hershey take secrets with him when he died in 1945? I put a lot of stock in the power of persuasion after reading this book, because it's hard to hold it in your hand without wanting a chilled, crisp chocolate bar at your elbow. "Hershey" is part biography and part history, but what I found most interesting is author Michael D'Antonio's narrative on American culture in the earlier part of the nineteenth century. While the latter third of this book lapses into heavy biographical information and politics, small cultural details make the first parts a joy to read.

If you're looking for something different for yourself or your Valentine, get "Hershey". It's maybe not the sweetest thing to give, but it's a tasty treat and totally calorie-free.

NOTE: This book is neither licensed nor sponsored by the Hershey Company.

Story Hour at the State Forest

Story Hour at the Ice Age Center on Friday, January 6th was enjoyed by many area youngsters. Jackie Scharfenberg, DNR Educator from the Kettle Moraine State Forest Northern Unit reads the book "Snow Dance" to those in attendance.

Following the story, the kids took a nature walk outside. Shown here is Jackie Scharfenberg teaching the kids about the creatures that hide in the snow cover.

What does sustainable forestry mean for the Kettle Moraine State Forest?

The Kettle Moraine State Forest-Northern Unit's February Evening with Nature Series program is "What Does Sustainable Forestry Mean for the Kettle Moraine?" The program will be held on Thursday, February 9, from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Henry S. Reuss Ice Age Visitor Center. The Ice Age Visitor Center is located off of Hwy 67 half mile west of Dundee. The program is free, but donations are always gratefully accepted.

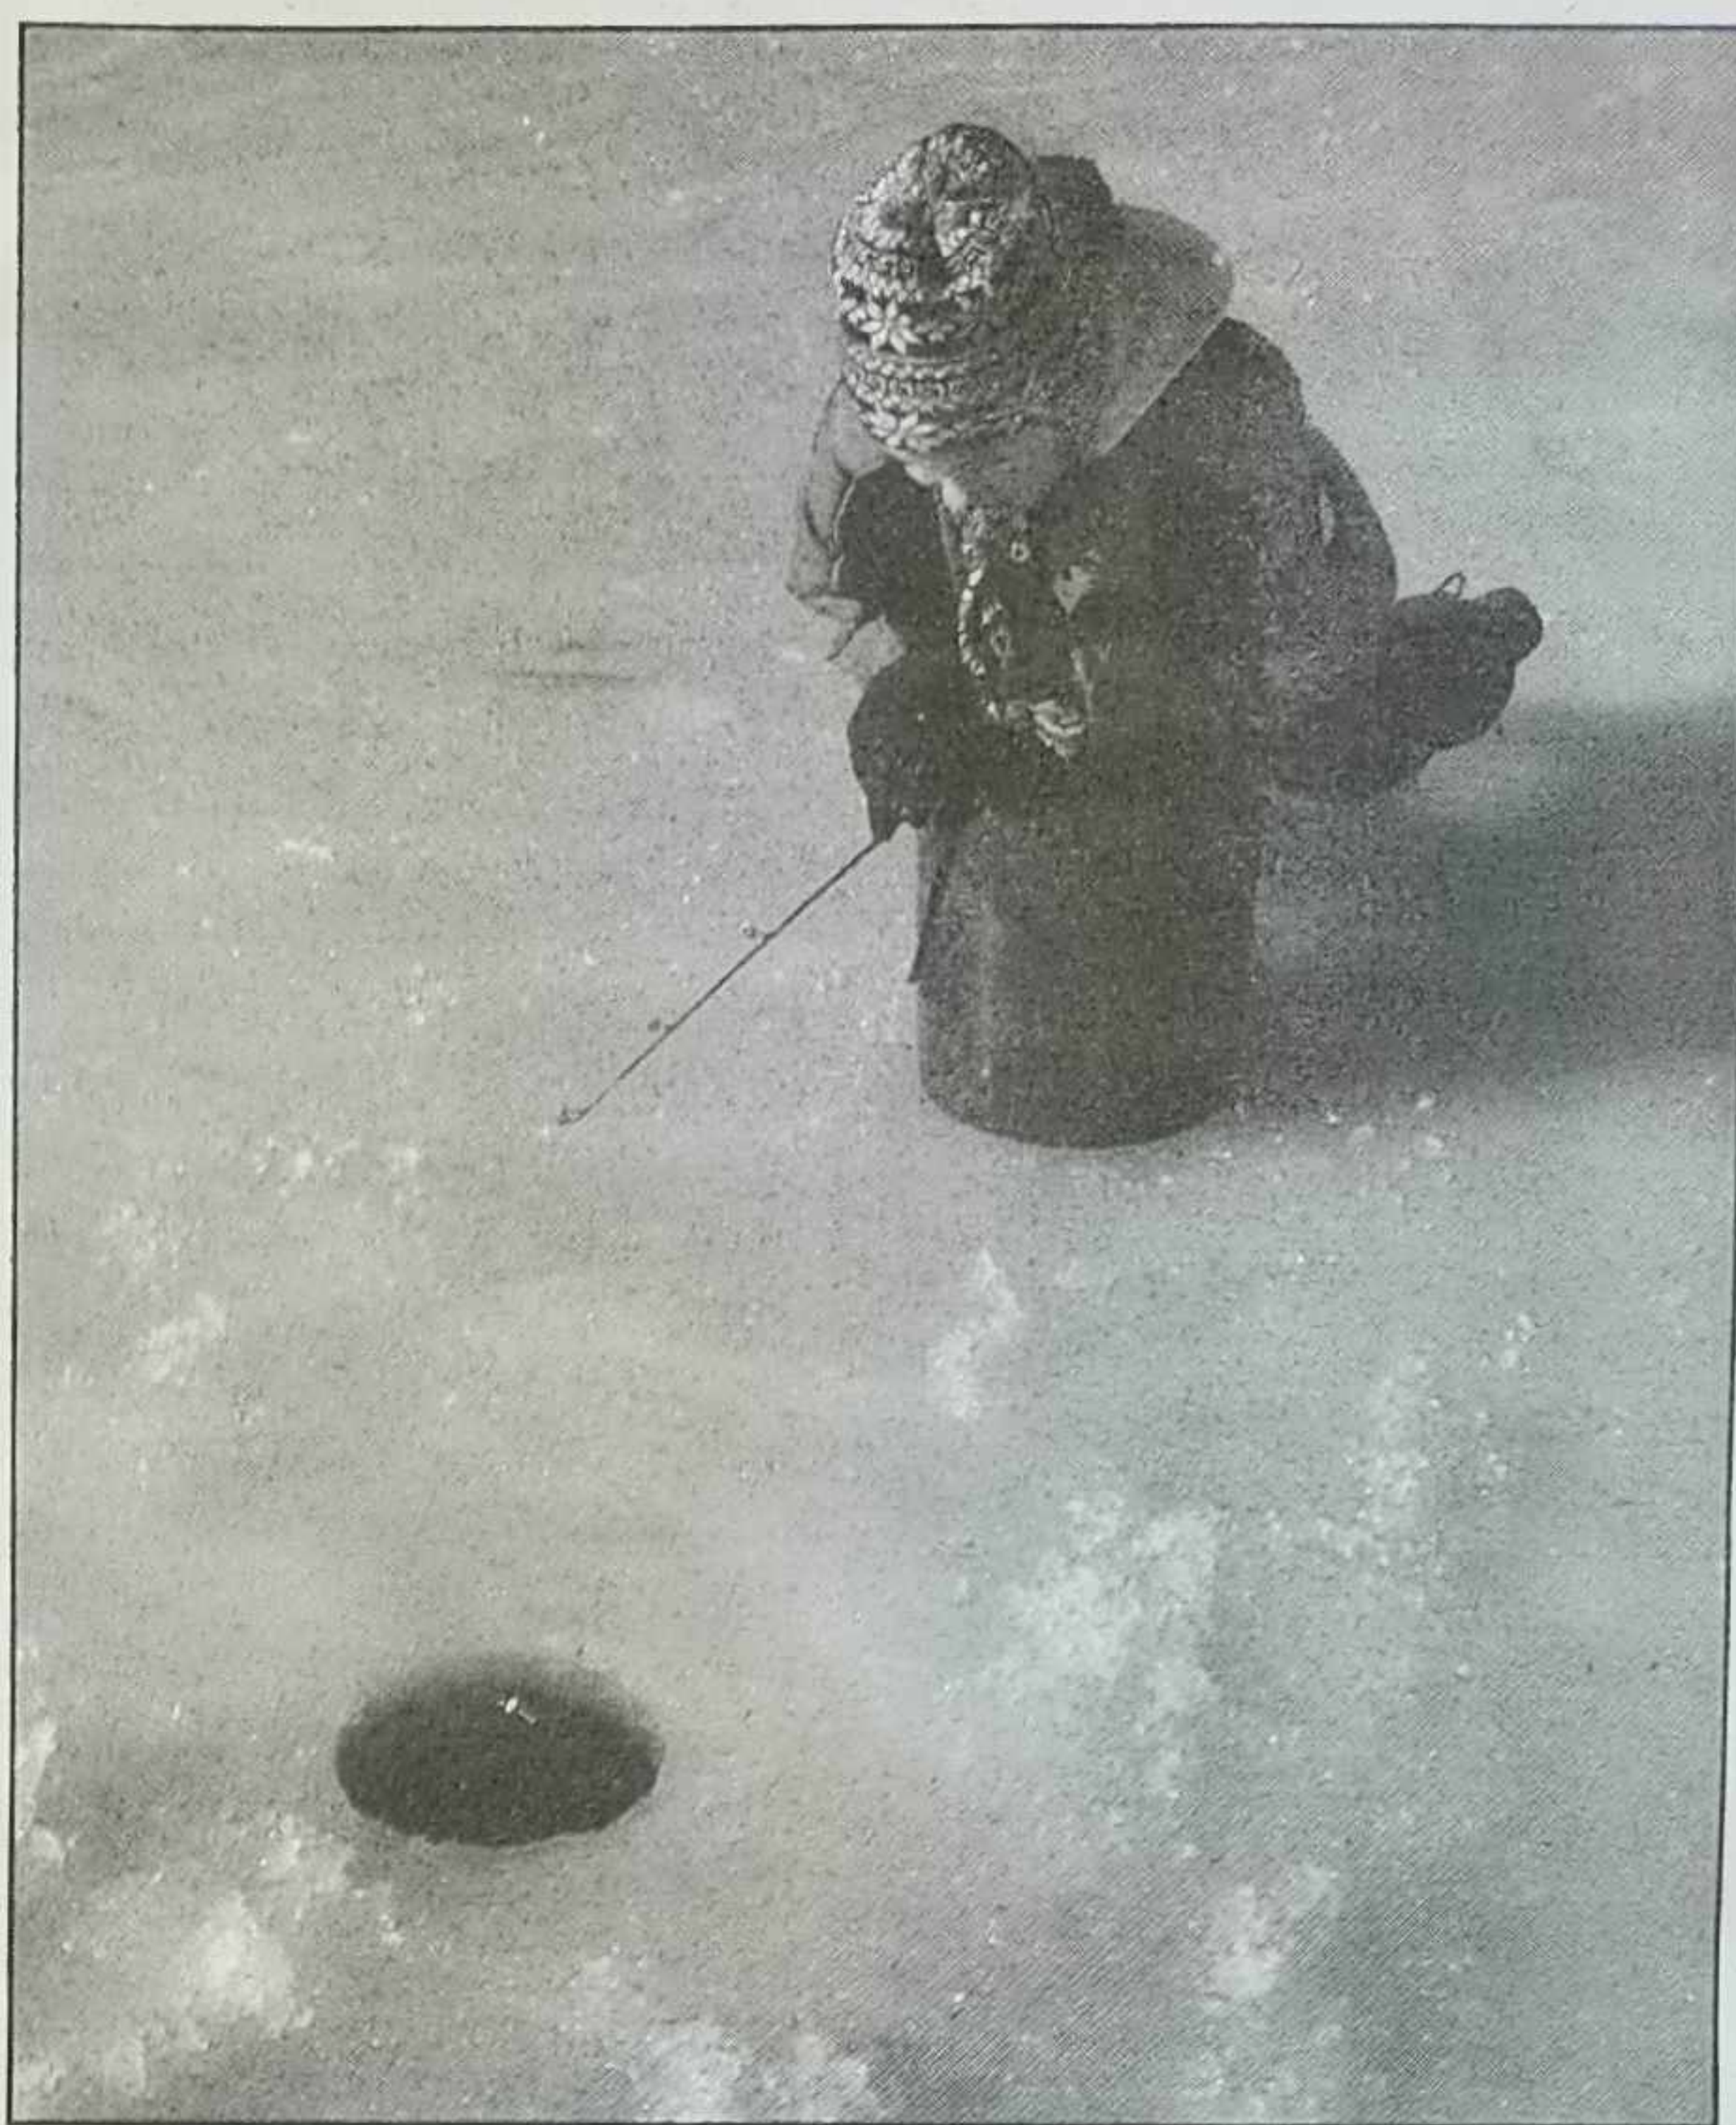

Today, there is an increasing demand for wood products harvested from forests that have received a sustainable forest certification. The demand for these products is being driven by every day consumers who want to do their part to help protect our precious resources. Currently, all Wisconsin State Forests are going through a certification process to ensure that they are being managed in a sustainable manner. But with certification comes responsibility of not only foresters and land managers, but also the people who use forests for a whole variety of reasons. Certification requires better inventories of the forest resources, updated forest plans, production of re-occurring forest products, and protection of land and water resources. Sustainable forest certification also includes a greater stakeholder involvement in making sound decisions about the future of our forests.

Join Tim Beyer, Dept. of Natural Resources forester, as he explains how Sustainable Forest Certification will impact the management of the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit. He will also explain how people can be involved with this process to ensure that the Northern Unit will be here and well managed for generations to come.

For further information or directions, please contact the staff at the Ice Age Visitor Center. The center is open Wednesday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and on Saturday and Sunday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The phone number at the center is 920-533-8322.

A Great Day on the Ice

Many new fishermen and women attended the Learn to Ice Fish program on Saturday, January 7 at Mauthe Lake. The program was sponsored by the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit. Many kids, like the young man shown above, got a chance to ice fish during the program. Photo by Jackie Scharfenberg

The Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit sponsored their first Learn to Ice Fish program on Saturday, January 7, at beautiful Mauthe Lake. Fifty-four people participated in the morning workshop. They learned about being safe on the ice and beating the cold of winter.

Six experienced ice anglers shared the basics of jigging for pan fish or using tip-ups for those big walleye and northern pike. After a brief run down of the fishing regulations, it was off to lure some of Mauthe Lake's finest fish out of the water. Everyone had a chance to bait a hook and practice jigging for those elusive bluegills. And elusive they were since no one caught a fish or even had a nibble. It was sunshine and smiles as people walked off the ice for everyone had a grand time trying out this great winter sport. Hopefully, next time the fish will be biting!

A very special thanks to HT Enterprises of Campbellsport who donated jig poles and jigs for all the participants. Also a huge thanks to those experienced anglers who shared their time and expertise. They were Don Scharfenberg from Oconomowoc, Mike Desterhoft from Parkview General Store, Charlie Benson and John Korberle from the Long Lake Fishing Club, Randy Link from the DNR Kettle Moraine Springs Fish Hatchery and Sarge Marking from Campbellsport.

Jackie Scharfenberg, forest naturalist, organizer of the event was wowed by the terrific turnout. She hopes this will become an annual event for the Kettle Moraine State Forest - Northern Unit and that more people will get out and enjoy the wonders of a Wisconsin winter.

Ogi, Rhoads, Olla, Turowski all take firsts

Indians take Waupun title

BY JUDY HARLOW
Statesman Correspondent
jharlow@kewaskumstatesman.com

The Kewaskum High wrestling team brought home two pieces of hardware in the past week.

After wrapping up the Eastern Wisconsin Conference title with their win over Campbellsport — yes, they still must beat Roncalli but should do that easily — the Indians claimed another team title in the annual Waupun Invitational.

Behind first-place finishes by Greg Ogi, Scott Rhoads, Jon Olla and Jake Turowski at 140, 152, 171 and 189 pounds, Kewaskum piled up 188 points, five ahead of runner-up Laconia. The host Warriors placed third with 175, followed by Mayville, which earned 144 points.

"Overall, everyone did a nice job," KHS coach Dennis Aupperle beamed, indicating this is the second year in a row his team has come home with the first place trophy at Waupun.

Rhoads improved to a glossy 27-1 with his three victories, including a pin in 4:49 over Matt Wagner of Mayville in the finals.

He received a bye in the first round and then pinned Brett Steffan of New Holstein in 2:52 to advance to the finals.

Rhoads is chomping at the bit to get going in the state series to see if he can become the first KHS athlete to win back-to-back Division 2 state championships.

"He moved up to wrestle either the kid from Waupun (Justin Kitzman), who is ranked in state or the Mayville kid, who is OK too," Aupperle said. "Scott looked very focused."

Turowski is another of the Indian athletes with his sights on a trip to Madison for the state meet. After earning a berth in the Division 2 tournament two years ago, he missed a return trip by one victory in 2005 and does not want that to happen again this February.

In the finals Saturday, Turowski decisioned James McCormick (no school given) by a score of 7-2. Earlier he had a 17-3 major decision, followed by a 3-0 decision over Craig Sheskey of Laconia.

With his three wins at Waupun, Turowski is 23-5, and Aupperle said he bounced back nicely from the loss at Campbellsport.

Ogi is starting to peak for the EWC Tournament and the tournament series. He had three pins on Saturday, including the one over Bill Wulff of Waupun in the finals, and with those three wins he is 21-4 on the year.

No one lasted into the third period against Ogi. He needed just 2:39 to end the match against Wulff, prompting Aupperle to say, "He looks good ... wrestled a solid tournament."

Aupperle was very pleased to see Olla reach the top rung of the victory stand. He needs to continue to do well so the Indians can win the EWC Tournament and the regional, so they could qualify for the team sectional.

In the finals Saturday, Olla downed Jeff Ladwig of Laconia 8-7 in overtime. Before that, he pinned Keerin Pinch of Waupun in a brief 29 seconds, then picked up an injury default in the semis. He is currently 19-9.

"He (Olla) looked good all around," Aupperle said, indicating it was a big turnaround from Thursday when he was a little "flat."

There were lots of points contributed by four other Indians who took thirds, including Andrew Haugen at 103, Jon Hawig at 130, Dan Shileny, the hero of the meet against Campbellsport, at 160, and P.J. Krueger at 215. Haugen and Krueger are both freshmen, so taking thirds were good accomplishments for them.

"Andrew did a nice job at 103," Aupperle said. Haugen had to wrestle four times to get the third. His last match was a 15-3 major decision over Mayville's Nathan Stephenson.

"He's starting to come around," the coach said, reporting Haugen is now 13-8.

Krueger had three pins on the day, including a quickie over Matt Moore of Waupun in 2:44 to pick up his third place and improve his record to 21-8.

Krueger's lone loss was a 8-5 decision to Kyle Rozek of Laconia, and Aupperle said, "He had him (Rozek) on his back for a bit but ran out of time."

Shileny (20-8) also had to wrestle a fourth match, winding up the day with a 4-0 win. "Dan wrestled a good tournament. The kid from Columbus (Coughlin, who he was pinned by in 3:11) is a solid kid. He bounced back from that loss and finished strong," Aupperle said.

Hawig went 3-1 to take a third. His final match was against Jason Doe (no school given), and he won 7-6.

"He is better than his record (12-15)," Aupperle said about the senior Hawig, who had two pins on the day.

Stephan Kattar picked up a fourth placed at 112, while Mason Smith was fifth at 135.

Aupperle held Jake Sabel out of action in order to give his injury more time to heal.

After wrestling Roncalli on Tuesday, Jan. 24, the Indians are off until Feb. 4th when they host the EWC Tournament. That day the first matches will get underway at 10 a.m.

Lady Indians keep trying but are still far from victory

The long, winless season might be starting to wear on the young members of the Kewaskum High girls basketball team.

The Lady Indians were defeated by Roncalli Friday night 53-12 in an Eastern Wisconsin Conference game, and coach Dave Kraft said he could see the losses are starting to take a toll.

"More and more, they are getting frustrated early in the game," Kraft said, indicating what happens then is the girls go away from playing as a team, which compounds their problems.

"Defensively we played them (Jets) a little bit better," Kraft said, pointing out the score of the first game was 76-8 so the Indians allowed 23 fewer points.

Trying to get anything going offensively was a very different story. "Offensively, we only had two baskets the whole game," Kraft said, reporting Alyssa Jung had the first one in the second quarter, while Kelsey Goetsch hit the other in the third quarter.

"We shot the ball very poorly," Kraft went on. "We were two of 30 for the game."

Taylor Long paced Kewaskum with four points. "All were free throws," Kraft said, noting the Jets took an 18-1 lead after the first quarter and were up 30-5 at the break.

Roncalli was led by Jessie Tomaszewski and Kristi Knoblauch. They both contributed 10 points.

The Jets usually employ tight, full court defense, but Kraft said they pulled it off in the second quarter. "So far, the coaches (in the EWC) have been pretty good about it," Kraft said, indicating generally they are not trying to pile up the score on Kewaskum, which has just seven varsity players, including just one junior and one senior.

With the loss, the Indians' EWC record fell to 0-8. Overall, they are 0-13. Kewaskum travels to Plymouth on Friday night.

Indians throw a scare into second place Campbellsport

When Kewaskum High's Matt Parrent (middle) sees an opening, he will definitely try to drive to the basket, which he did successfully several times in the second half against Campbellsport. On one play, Campbellsport's 6-4 senior Darnell Williams (44) tries to impede Parrent's progress while teammate Austin Sarauer (24) gets a hand on the ball.

On paper, the Campbellsport-Kewaskum boys basketball might have looked like a mismatch, but the Cougars, currently No. 2 in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference standings, had all they could handle from the Indians last Tuesday night.

By scoring the final three points in a four-minute overtime, Campbellsport escaped with a 66-63 victory over the Indians, who are just 1-6 in the EWC and 1-9 overall, both deceptive records considering how many close games they have lost and how much better they have played in recent weeks.

"It was one of those momentum games when everything went our way, then everything went their way," KHS Coach Glenn Eichstedt said afterward, obviously disappointed his Indians didn't come away with the "W" after the good effort they put in.

Campbellsport had plenty of momentum in the first half when it built up a 34-26 lead and stretched the margin to 40-26 early in the third quarter after Darnell Williams, the Cougars' 6-foot-4 center, connected on a short jumper from the baseline.

At this point Eichstedt had seen enough, watching the Cougars reel off the first six points of the second half. He called a time out to try to settle his players down a bit and to challenge them to reduce the number of errors they were making.

And oh how the Indians responded. Paul Gaynor started the rally when he worked his way inside for an easy hoop, and after the Cougars were whistled for traveling, the Kewaskum players flew down the court, eventually getting the ball to Austin Flanders, who banked in a 3-pointer, making the score 40-31.

That started a run dominated by the Indians, who climbed to within two points, 42-40, on a steal and then an easy lay up by Matt Parent with :58 left in the period.

Campbellsport came back with a bucket by Nick Whitty and a 3-point play by Mitch Tarras (45-40), but the Indians answered with a clutch jumper behind the arc by Zach Wollner with :05 left, putting the score at 45-43 in Campbellsport's favor. There were eight minutes left in regulation, but it turned into 12 electrifying minutes of action.

Kewaskum tied the score at 45-45 when Flanders fouled trying a 3-pointer and made two of his four free throws (one of the Cougars entered the lane too early, giving Flanders an extra try on the first miss.)

Along came sharpshooter Whitty again, canning a trey with 4:45 to go, and the Cougars managed to stay out front from three to five points until the last two minutes of regulation.

With just under two minutes to go, Casey Scheel drew a foul and swished both ends of a double bonus, making the score 55-52, then Wollner hit his third 3-pointer of the game to knot the score at 55-55 with 1:27 left.

Kewaskum fans were going crazy, and the cheers mounted after Tarras lost the ball, and it was picked up by Scheel. Wollner wound up with the ball and found Parrent open underneath the basket for an easy two points, and the Indians were in the lead.

Now it was Campbellsport with the jitters, but a time-out by coach Dominic Weisse, set up some strategy for the last 44 seconds. Whitty was fouled with :32 to play, and he made both ends of a bonus to tie the game again.

The Cougars played some solid defense in the closing seconds. As a result, Kewaskum was unable to get a good look at the basket. Parrent got off a desperation three at the buzzer. It bounced high off the rim and fell harmlessly to the floor.

Overtime ... here's where the Campbellsport team had just enough composure to secure the win. Whitty, who had a game-high 28, hit two free throws and a pair of baskets, scoring six of Campbellsport's nine points in the extra period.

The third basket came when Tony Simpson rebounded a miss by a teammate and canned a 10-footer. He was the unsung hero for the Cougars with his 11 points, including nine in the second half.

"He (Simpson) had probably scored four points all season, and he had 11 tonight," Eichstedt said, then checked Simpson's average and found out it was one point per game.

"We were sagging off him and trying to pinch on Whitty," the coach went on, "We didn't want him (Whitty) to take threes" and he wound up with only two, but, "He's still pretty good putting up and taking the 10-footers."

Parrent had a very strong game, scoring 26 points, 17 after the break and four of Kewaskum's six points in the extra period.

Eichstedt wanted him to get the final shot but the screen was set up a little early and about four feet too deep and by the time Parrent got the ball from Scheel on the left wing, he had no chance to set up and the shot was off the mark.

"If this is the second best team in the conference, we shouldn't be shying away from anybody," Eichstedt said. "We're getting better."

Shileny's decision stages Kewaskum's comeback victory

Sharing was OK, but winning solo Eastern Wisconsin Conference title is priceless

Jake Sabel in his match against Kenton Stevens of Campbellsport brought the Indians to 26-28 with a 7-2 decision.

Dan Shileny's win against Todd Rosenthal brought Kewaskum back from a two-point deficit to win the meet and the EWC title.

This is turning out to be quite a successful sports year at Kewaskum High School.

Already Indian teams had captured the Eastern Wisconsin Conference football and volleyball titles, and last Thursday the KHS wrestling team locked up the dual wrestling meet wrestling title with a dramatic 29-28 victory over arch rival Campbellsport.

Dan Shileny's 9-2 win over Todd Rosenthal at 160 pounds erased a 28-26 deficit and turned it into the history-making team victory. Kewaskum has fielded a wrestling team since 1965, and not once in the 40 previous years has it won a conference title outright.

Kewaskum is currently 6-0 in EWC action, with only Manitowoc Roncalli, the smallest school in the league, standing in its way of adding another championship banner to the wall in the school's gym.

Last year, the Indians wound up in a tie with Plymouth and Campbellsport, and again, the race went right down to the wire with Kewaskum defeating Campbellsport on a decision in the final bout.

The new hero, Shileny, took a quick lead and never looked back against Rosenthal.

"Dan knew what he had to do and went out there and got it done. He was in control the whole time," KHS coach Dennis Aupperle said. "All the work he has put in with Scott (Rhoads) and Nick (Bartley)

... those three running to Advance (Camp in Madison) all summer and fall really shows."

Looking past the obvious, there were a couple other unsung heroes, namely Nathan Seitz at 119 and Bryan Theisen at 275. Both lost but refused to be pinned, thus saving valuable points for the Indians, who won seven matches, the same number as the Cougars.

"Yes, the Theisen and Seitz matches were very big," Aupperle said. "They both did a nice job. We talked with everyone about the importance of giving up three (points) instead of six in the matches that we lost. They both did what they had to do."

Seitz, a freshman, lost a 5-0 decision to Derek Sippel, while Theisen, who was giving up at least 60 pounds to CHS' Chad Maske, lost 6-0.

After the draw, the meet started at 171 pounds where Louie Braatz took care of Jon Olla 6-1 to take a 3-0 lead.

Then the Cougars got a big win from Bill Mayer over Jake Turowski, which Aupperle figured would be a key bout. Mayer escaped with a 5-4 decision.

"Jacob was in on some nice shots in the first period, but they were all at the edge and they went off the mat," Aupperle said. "Then I think he got a little frustrated and lost his focus a little. He can beat that kid. He just needs to wrestle a full six minutes with him. He will need to beat him. They are going to meet a lot throughout the rest of the year."

P.J. Krueger got Kewaskum on the scoreboard with his 6-4 win, but after Theisen was defeated, the score was 9-3 in the Cougars' favor.

The point difference was wiped out thanks to a technical fall by Andrew Haugen at 103 and a forfeit win by Stephan Kattar at 112, making the score 14-9.

"Andrew Haugen did a great job at 103," his coach said.

Campbellsport regained the lead with Sippel's win and the forfeit by KHS at 125 (14-18) and surged farther ahead when Spenser Rodenkirch pinned Jon Hawig (14-24) in 4:47 after Hawig had been nursing a 2-0 lead over the Cougar who has previous state experience.

Campbellsport also won the match at 135, taking a 28-14 advantage.

Kewaskum still had its power wrestlers coming up, and they did not disappoint the home crowd. Eric Ogi outpointed Derek Hafermann 6-2 to cut the margin to 11 points, then Scott Rhoads needed just a little over three minutes to pin Sam Immel, and Jake Sabel was convincing in his 7-2 decision over Kenton Stevens, putting the score at 26-28 and setting the stage for Shileny to be the man of the hour.

"I thought the guys wrestled well," Aupperle said. "We should be in the driver's seat (to win the outright title)."

While there was a lot of excitement Thursday, there was also disappointment as Aupperle also has learned Bartley, a two-time Division 2 state place winner, has been ruled out for the season. His knee did not respond adequately to therapy. Sabel, who is having a solid season, will finish out the season as the starter at 152.

Kewaskum 29, Campbellsport 28
171 Braatz, C, def. Olla 6-1; 189 Mayer, C, def. Turowski, 5-4; 215 Krueger, K, dec. Brett Galligan, 6-4; 275 Maske, C, def. Theisen 6-0; 103 Haugen, K, won by tech fall over Bryan Kohlmann; 112 Kattar, K, won by forfeit; 119 Sippel, C, def. Seitz, 5-0; 125 James Stukenberg, C, won by forfeit; 130 Rodenkirch, C, pinned Hawig, 4:47; 135 Billy Sulicz, C, won by major decision over Maske Smith, 10-1; 140 Ogi, K, dec. Hafermann, 6-2; 145 Rhoads, K, pinned Immel, 3:10; 151 Sabel, K, dec. Stevens, 7-2; 160 Shileny def. Rosenthal, 9-2.
